Miramichi Advance. TWO SCOTCH STORIES WHICH POURTRAY AS MANY NATIONAL CHARACTERISTICS.

The Russian Face Bath. A foolish idea to think that one can get rid of wrinkles by filling them with face powder or even by examining the whole face. It is a much better practice to give the face a Russian bath every night.

The Whisk as a Dishwasher. The woman who can find any way of making dishwashing, if not a pleasant task, at least not a disagreeable one than it is now, should be canonized by her grateful sisters.

A Good Summer Drink. Talking about tea, it may not be generally known that it is one of the best drinks for hot weather, either hot or cold. It is invaluable for getting hard and chapped after dishwashing.

One Way Out of It. Travellers--Can you have this hat changed to meet? Hatter--All our business is done on a cash basis.

The Rural New Yorker asserts, as the result of careful observation, that the colorless corn plants one frequently sees in a field recently planted never mature.

General News and Notes. For Cuts, Burns, Sores, or Wounds, Victoria Carbolic Salve is the best.

A Tooth-brush--A dog fight. A Wonderful Fish Producer. This is the title given to Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil.

Quincy Cured. GENTLEMEN--I used to be troubled with a urinary complaint every winter.

ABSURDITIES OF DRESS. Spike-Tailed Coats, Ping Hats and Baggy Trousers have exercised vastly more judgment in the matter of wearing apparel than do the moderns.

Correct Style in Walking. There is just as much of a set style in gait as there is in gowns, if you belong to the fashionable younger set.

German Syrup

Here is an incident from the South Mississippi, written in April, 1890, just after the Gripe epidemic visited that country. "I am a farmer, one of those who have to rise early and work late. At the beginning of last winter I was on a trip to the City of Vicksburg, Miss. where I got well drenched in a shower of rain. I went home and was soon after seized with a dry, hacking cough. This grew worse every day, until I had to seek relief. I consulted Dr. Dixon who has since died, and he told me to get a bottle of Bosche's German Syrup. Meantime my cough grew worse and worse and the Gripe came along and I thought that also very severe. My condition then compelled me to do something. I got two bottles of German Syrup, I began using them, and before taking much of the second bottle I was entirely clear of the Cough that had hung to me so long, the Gripe, and all its bad effects. I felt tip-top and knew that that was ever since."

CHATHAM, N. B., NOVEMBER 24, 1892.

Premier Blair.

The result of the election in Queens County is one of many proofs of the faith of Premier Blair in the ultimate triumph of the right. When he advised the Lieutenant Governor to dissolve the General Assembly of the province, after his government had practically accomplished the reforms which constituted the leading features of the platform upon which he defeated the former administration, he had good reason to believe that the province would sustain him. The result of the election proved him right. When he advised the Lieutenant Governor to dissolve the General Assembly of the province, after his government had practically accomplished the reforms which constituted the leading features of the platform upon which he defeated the former administration, he had good reason to believe that the province would sustain him.

What a platform and what a cause our Ontario friends in Northumberland were laboring to support last month! We hope the people of this county, generally, will make a mental note of the matter as it is now developed, in order that so many of them as were deluded into voting for the opposition candidates on 22nd October may not be similarly misled when the time comes for them to make up their minds as to the question as to the men amongst them whose counsel are safest in such matters, and resolve to trust them and their judgment, rather than those of the little coterie of amateur politicians who spend so much of their time whining over their old mistakes and nursing their wrath over old defeats, that they are incapable of comprehending and appreciating political situations which, like all other elements that go to make up the government of a free state, are deserving of constant change.

C. P. R. and I. C. R.

The Halifax Chronicle, which is the leading organ of the Liberal party in Nova Scotia, does not agree with Mr. St. John Telegraph and Toronto Globe in their advocacy of transferring the Intercolonial Railway to the Canadian Pacific Company. After discussing the I. C. R. and attributing it to the evils of political management the Chronicle proceeds to say: "Just at this point the advocates of C. P. R. claims get in his work and propose the transfer of the I. C. R. to that corporation as a cure for vicious political management. Such an argument would be far-fetched if it were not for the transfer of the canal and all public works from government control to that of private corporations. All these are more or less subject to political influences. Yet no one would advocate the transfer of these works to a railway company, which, every one can readily see, might not hold water. No doubt the C. P. R. could operate the I. C. R. on purely business principles; yet would it be fair to transfer to it all the public works, and judging from past experience they would see their end in the transfer of the canal and all public works from government control to that of private corporations. All these are more or less subject to political influences. Yet no one would advocate the transfer of these works to a railway company, which, every one can readily see, might not hold water.

Honors to Hon. John Costigan.

The dinner given to Hon. John Costigan, at the Victoria Hotel, St. John, on Thursday evening last, was in every sense a splendid and well-deserved tribute to the guest of the occasion, as a distinguished native of New Brunswick as well as a public man. It was non-political. In the course of his speech in acknowledgment of the toast in his honor, Mr. Costigan referred in commendatory terms to those who mar the harmony which should exist between citizens of all creeds, by introducing sectarian issues into our political campaigns. His experience had taught him that good Christians, of Protestant and Catholic faith alike, made equally good citizens. After stating that he had been asked (by the Globe) to state the position of the government on the Manitoba case, Mr. Costigan said: "A committee of the executive council has been appointed to hear the case that has been proposed by the minority in Manitoba. The very fact of the government having appointed a committee for that purpose ought to show that until the case has been submitted and reported upon no minister would be as much to declare the policy of the government in advance."

The St. John Election.

The bye-election of a member of the House of Commons for St. John, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of C. N. Skinner, Esq., came off on Tuesday. The candidates were Mr. Geo. Robertson, a prominent merchant and president of the Board of Trade, and Mr. John A. Chesley, a manufacturer of heavy iron work. Mr. Robertson was the regular nominee of the conservative convention, and was backed by all the influence of the Sun and the conservative organization, or what is known as "the machine." Mr. Chesley, however, had those behind him who are tired of "the machine" and the boss. His candidature was belittled by the Sun and almost everybody outside expected his defeat, but he was elected by about three hundred majority. Meantime, we "rise to remark" that it has been a great fortnight for Mr. Blair and his friends.

Cooling Off.

It is interesting, just now, to observe how the Sun and other papers that have been running the religious cry against Mr. Blair, are only "quietly sobbing." Their trouble is that Blair is elected, and Mr. Chesley also, and the Sun is dazed over the situation, for its managers believed that while they were working the sectarian racket in Queens they could make it all right in St. John by beslobbering Mr. Costigan, but they were mistaken.

Blindly Led.

Our opposition friends in Northumberland are hardly to be congratulated on the company they are in, or that they are so misled.

to an Orange member of the house; and that it failed to materialize to the honor of the Government. It is not actively endeavoring to change a law, the most ardent advocates for a change in the law failed to carry out their resolutions when nothing stood in the way of their doing so. It is contrary to the principles of British justice to first out Mr. Blair's official head and then try to change a law.

The Bathurst School Matters.

The facts respecting the Bathurst schools, which have been so much discussed by Rev. A. F. Thomson, not only in the Orange organization (of which he became a member not very long ago for the purpose of agitating the question) but also in the press and before the governing bodies of the Presbyterian Church in New Brunswick, are gradually being developed. As the process goes on, fair-minded people are wondering that a clergyman of any of the churches could so far forget the claims of truth and Christian charity as Mr. Thomson has done in the matter. To use the phrasing of one of the reverend "brethren" brethren, the time and place restrain us from characterizing Mr. Thomson's misrepresentations as they deserve, but we must give some of the many things that are being published on the subject and leave him to the judgment of the people of the province, who appear to hold him in marred contempt because of his persistent refusal to get up sectarian strife amongst them.

We give up a good deal of space to the discussion of this question, because it has been so misrepresented by more than one designing mischief-maker from whom a fair-minded person might reasonably expect to receive the truth. The Protestant laymen have had their prejudices stirred up against their Roman Catholic neighbors, under the belief that the latter have not, in good faith, accepted the concessions granted them by the King-Edwards government. They have observed the conditions of compromise made, in both their letter and spirit. It may not be known to their own or other churches, or to the laymen who are their members, that they have had their minds poisoned on this subject. Mr. Thomson has a threat, several years ago, to work Mr. Blair's political party to say.

The Protestant laymen have had their prejudices stirred up against their Roman Catholic neighbors, under the belief that the latter have not, in good faith, accepted the concessions granted them by the King-Edwards government.

Trusted. The Bathurst school matters have been so much discussed by Rev. A. F. Thomson, not only in the Orange organization (of which he became a member not very long ago for the purpose of agitating the question) but also in the press and before the governing bodies of the Presbyterian Church in New Brunswick, are gradually being developed. As the process goes on, fair-minded people are wondering that a clergyman of any of the churches could so far forget the claims of truth and Christian charity as Mr. Thomson has done in the matter.

We give up a good deal of space to the discussion of this question, because it has been so misrepresented by more than one designing mischief-maker from whom a fair-minded person might reasonably expect to receive the truth. The Protestant laymen have had their prejudices stirred up against their Roman Catholic neighbors, under the belief that the latter have not, in good faith, accepted the concessions granted them by the King-Edwards government.

at the instance of two members of the school board who were Protestants belonging to Mr. Thomson's congregation. The Bathurst people have arranged, however, to discontinue the Superior school for the Grammar school, and the person who has been appointed as teacher of the Superior school in Bathurst village will be the teacher of the Superior school which is to be established in Bathurst town to take the place of the Grammar school.

The action in regard to the abolition of these schools was taken without the slightest reference to religious matters or WITHOUT ANY PRE-ARRANGEMENT, and was simply done to the satisfaction of the majority of the school board who were Protestants of the same persuasion who were attended by such a small number of pupils.

The Bathurst school "difficult" never has been in the hands of the majority of Protestants there, and has been founded by one man, Mr. Thomson, whose actions in regard to it have been disapproved by leading members of his own congregation.

There never has been any change in the regulations made for the benefit of Bathurst in 1875, and in the school there are worked under precisely the same rules as those of St. John, Fredericton and other communities where there is enough population to maintain more than one school.

It appears to be only necessary that such men as the rev. Thomson should be induced to step themselves in their true character anywhere, in order to have those who meet them size them up properly. Mr. Thomson's partner, Pitts, encouraged him to believe that he should only go to Queenstown and put the finishing touches on the work of that erratic legislator of that County. The rev. gentleman's malignity towards the hated Blair, and his inordinate self-conceit, together with his propensities, induced him to leave his "parish" charge and become a political missionary, but when he reached the field, which he was induced to believe was white for the harvest, he was informed, in a friendly way, that he was a middle and had better get back to Bathurst Village or betake himself to any other place where he would be out of the way of the Queen County opposition, who had made up their minds that they didn't want him, just as soon as they saw him. It was well-known that Mr. Sturgeon had expressed the opinion that "Thomson" was a much better ally outside of Queenstown than in it" together with the good reason he met with at Chatham, was the reason, no doubt, for the contemptuous opinion the rev. gentleman expressed concerning the good looking but otherwise "no good" leader of the opposition. Then, when he managed to secure interviews with Mr. King and Mr. Blaney, he is said to have acted as if he believed they were all together as true blue orangemen in solemn and secret councils, but he ought to have known that the whole village had staid him up, and that "Thomson" whose leg was suffering to be "piled" after being "passed around" for a few days he came to the conclusion that "brother Pitts" had misled him, and that he had better go home—and he went.

The Son of Tuesday contains a letter from Mr. Thomson, indicating that he thought his interviews with Messrs. King, Blaney and other gentlemen he sought to convert to his political and religious views, had made his visit of last week to Queen County, were all "confidential." He is very angry over the results of his mistakes and makes sundry references to his supposed confidence on that occasion, and then turns upon his neighbors in Bathurst and even upon this community. In fact, it is evident that he was entirely unprepared for a continuation of the negativeness of the fact that he was everywhere received for years. He left his flock in the Village, which has been scattered, and largely disgraced by his conduct, expecting to have a man named Seymour Gould, who is now found in a ditch alongside the track at the St. George street crossing, Moncton, just after the Truro freight had passed. Both legs were cut off, one at the knee and the other just below. Gould was removed to his home and died at midnight. An inquest was held on Monday, and a verdict returned that deceased was run over while jumping from a moving train, as it appeared that he had stolen a ride from Paissea Junction. The authorities were exonerated from all responsibility.

CHATHAM AROUND—From the election returns for Hants County, Minnesota, published in the Minneapolis Tribune, we observe that young W. A. Kerr, son of Wm. Kerr, Esq., of Chatham, has been elected by a handsome majority to the position of county commissioner. He ran on the republican ticket and polled 19,765 votes to 16,854 polled by his opponent. Kerr seems to be a favorite with the democrats as well as republicans, as the returns show that he ran ahead of his ticket. In one democratic district having nearly six hundred votes he captured nearly five hundred of them—not bad for a republican.

A CLEAR PROPERTY—The residence of the late John W. Nicholson, Esq., situated on Mecklenburg street, was offered for sale by W. A. Lockhart at Chubb's corner to-day. Notwithstanding the heavy rain, quite a large number of persons were present. Mr. Lockhart gave a description of the property. He said the gas and other fixtures went with the house, and announced that a clerk of the late Mr. Nicholson told him the property cost $35,000, and then asked what was offered. The starting bid of $3,000 was made. Bidding continued until it reached $8,000—at which it was knocked down to Mr. W. H. Thorne—Globe of 19th.

THE LAW MILLS in and near Campbell town have been closed for the season, writes a correspondent of the Journal of Commerce. The output, which was nearly all cedar shingles, was largely, in fact more than was profitable, as the market has been very dull since August. Looking back over the season that has just closed the correspondent is able to say that the town has shown considerable growth, notwithstanding the dimmishal from the I. C. R. in the spring. More men were employed there during the summer than in any previous year. Quite a number of small cottages have been planned and are now in course of erection. The river is still open, but ice is running and navigation has practically closed for the year. Millmen have large crews of laborers in the woods cutting for next year's operations.

The Bass Question. A short time since it was officially announced that the prohibition of Bass fishing on the Northwest Miramichi was extended for a further term of three years. It now turns out that this announcement was a mistake perpetrated by a clerk in the fishery department during the absence of the Minister. Upon Mr. Adams calling the acting minister's attention to the matter, that gentleman promptly rectified the error, and fishermen are now as free as the fish as formerly, according to the fishery regulations. The smallest fishing favor of the department is thankfully received by the fishermen of our river—Advocate.

It is understood that bass fishing is to be allowed after Dec. 1st and we are very glad to hear of it. The general public, however, will be puzzled over the Advocate's statement that a gentleman who was present at a meeting held a few minutes ago saw five bushes of fish on and bundled ready for market. At this rate only $2,000 would be done in ten hours, which millions here claim would be pretty good bunching.

Mackenzie's New Medical Hall.

There is, perhaps, no business in which we depend so much upon the skill and experience of the dealer as well as upon his character as that of the druggist, provided he has the facilities for displaying his skill. Mr. Mackenzie, recognizing this, and whose old premises proved inadequate for his large dispensing business, determined to seek a new stand, which he found in this property owned by H. Hocken, Esq., opposite the Bowser House. Mr. Hocken at once began the erection of a large two-story brick and stone building, 52 ft. x 56 ft., one-half of which Mr. Mackenzie has secured, and is now occupying, the old stand being closed. It has a handsome plate glass front and side windows. The fixtures in the store, however, are the greatest feature of the premises. The shelving and drawers, which extend along each wall, and the dispensing counter in the rear of the store are all solid oak, and present a handsome appearance. A large plate glass mirror 34 feet stands in the centre of the dispensing counter, while on each side of it are small colored glass divisions. The fixtures are all of birch, cut in strips 1/4 in. wide, and added considerably to the general effect.

Back of the main store is the store room and laboratory and also private office. Beneath the whole premises is a good cellar and work room and also the hot air furnace which heats the store.

The fixtures were made by The Oxford Furniture Company of Oxford, New Ontario, and are certainly a fine piece of work.

The whole establishment, which is lighted by electricity, presents a beautiful appearance, and reflects credit on the proprietor's good taste. With the increased facilities which the new store affords, Mr. Mackenzie will be better enabled than ever to keep up the reliable reputation his establishment has for being a safe and reliable place to obtain drugs and medicines.

The mail order department is largely increasing in importance, orders coming in every day from Quebec and Nova Scotia, not only for articles of Mr. Mackenzie's own special manufacture, but for prescriptions as well.

The dispensing department is under the personal supervision of the proprietor and Mr. Charles Dickison, who is quite popular as a courteous and obliging drug clerk.

Resolutions of Sympathy.

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God in His infinite wisdom and providence to remove from our midst a dear and beloved brother, John Campbell;

Resolved, That this Court express its great sorrow in the death of our brother, and its faithful adherence to the principles of our noble order, and further

Resolved, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the sorrowing widow and orphans and commend them to the merciful arms of our Heavenly Father in His boundless love and mercy.

A CLEAR PROPERTY—The residence of the late John W. Nicholson, Esq., situated on Mecklenburg street, was offered for sale by W. A. Lockhart at Chubb's corner to-day. Notwithstanding the heavy rain, quite a large number of persons were present. Mr. Lockhart gave a description of the property. He said the gas and other fixtures went with the house, and announced that a clerk of the late Mr. Nicholson told him the property cost $35,000, and then asked what was offered. The starting bid of $3,000 was made. Bidding continued until it reached $8,000—at which it was knocked down to Mr. W. H. Thorne—Globe of 19th.

THE LAW MILLS in and near Campbell town have been closed for the season, writes a correspondent of the Journal of Commerce. The output, which was nearly all cedar shingles, was largely, in fact more than was profitable, as the market has been very dull since August. Looking back over the season that has just closed the correspondent is able to say that the town has shown considerable growth, notwithstanding the dimmishal from the I. C. R. in the spring. More men were employed there during the summer than in any previous year. Quite a number of small cottages have been planned and are now in course of erection. The river is still open, but ice is running and navigation has practically closed for the year. Millmen have large crews of laborers in the woods cutting for next year's operations.

The Bass Question. A short time since it was officially announced that the prohibition of Bass fishing on the Northwest Miramichi was extended for a further term of three years. It now turns out that this announcement was a mistake perpetrated by a clerk in the fishery department during the absence of the Minister. Upon Mr. Adams calling the acting minister's attention to the matter, that gentleman promptly rectified the error, and fishermen are now as free as the fish as formerly, according to the fishery regulations. The smallest fishing favor of the department is thankfully received by the fishermen of our river—Advocate.

It is understood that bass fishing is to be allowed after Dec. 1st and we are very glad to hear of it. The general public, however, will be puzzled over the Advocate's statement that a gentleman who was present at a meeting held a few minutes ago saw five bushes of fish on and bundled ready for market. At this rate only $2,000 would be done in ten hours, which millions here claim would be pretty good bunching.

Mackenzie's New Medical Hall.

There is, perhaps, no business in which we depend so much upon the skill and experience of the dealer as well as upon his character as that of the druggist, provided he has the facilities for displaying his skill. Mr. Mackenzie, recognizing this, and whose old premises proved inadequate for his large dispensing business, determined to seek a new stand, which he found in this property owned by H. Hocken, Esq., opposite the Bowser House. Mr. Hocken at once began the erection of a large two-story brick and stone building, 52 ft. x 56 ft., one-half of which Mr. Mackenzie has secured, and is now occupying, the old stand being closed. It has a handsome plate glass front and side windows. The fixtures in the store, however, are the greatest feature of the premises. The shelving and drawers, which extend along each wall, and the dispensing counter in the rear of the store are all solid oak, and present a handsome appearance. A large plate glass mirror 34 feet stands in the centre of the dispensing counter, while on each side of it are small colored glass divisions. The fixtures are all of birch, cut in strips 1/4 in. wide, and added considerably to the general effect.

Back of the main store is the store room and laboratory and also private office. Beneath the whole premises is a good cellar and work room and also the hot air furnace which heats the store.

The fixtures were made by The Oxford Furniture Company of Oxford, New Ontario, and are certainly a fine piece of work.

The whole establishment, which is lighted by electricity, presents a beautiful appearance, and reflects credit on the proprietor's good taste. With the increased facilities which the new store affords, Mr. Mackenzie will be better enabled than ever to keep up the reliable reputation his establishment has for being a safe and reliable place to obtain drugs and medicines.

The mail order department is largely increasing in importance, orders coming in every day from Quebec and Nova Scotia, not only for articles of Mr. Mackenzie's own special manufacture, but for prescriptions as well.

The dispensing department is under the personal supervision of the proprietor and Mr. Charles Dickison, who is quite popular as a courteous and obliging drug clerk.

Resolutions of Sympathy.

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God in His infinite wisdom and providence to remove from our midst a dear and beloved brother, John Campbell;

Resolved, That this Court express its great sorrow in the death of our brother, and its faithful adherence to the principles of our noble order, and further

Resolved, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the sorrowing widow and orphans and commend them to the merciful arms of our Heavenly Father in His boundless love and mercy.

At the Costigan Banquet.

The gentlemen present at the Costigan dinner at St. John last Thursday evening passed through here on Friday, by special train. They are making a general inspection of the road and bridges, and intend to be well prepared for the coming winter—Sun.

STOCKING ACCIDENT—On Saturday evening about dark a man named Seymour Gould, who is now found in a ditch alongside the track at the St. George street crossing, Moncton, just after the Truro freight had passed. Both legs were cut off, one at the knee and the other just below. Gould was removed to his home and died at midnight. An inquest was held on Monday, and a verdict returned that deceased was run over while jumping from a moving train, as it appeared that he had stolen a ride from Paissea Junction. The authorities were exonerated from all responsibility.

CHATHAM AROUND—From the election returns for Hants County, Minnesota, published in the Minneapolis Tribune, we observe that young W. A. Kerr, son of Wm. Kerr, Esq., of Chatham, has been elected by a handsome majority to the position of county commissioner. He ran on the republican ticket and polled 19,765 votes to 16,854 polled by his opponent. Kerr seems to be a favorite with the democrats as well as republicans, as the returns show that he ran ahead of his ticket. In one democratic district having nearly six hundred votes he captured nearly five hundred of them—not bad for a republican.

INSIDE THE LINES.

Nobody knew just why a fort had been put in that place. There was no chance for fighting anything except mosquitoes, yet there was a long line of fortifications, and an entrenchment guarded the little town from which all the men had gone away.

An one night somebody done kill 'im an tuk all he had. Since that time his gosh done walk dis Towhead. Only jes' yesterday Unc' Jake lowed he done seen dat ole gosh and he lowed he gwine come yer no mo'! I ain' had much pinion er Unc' Jake lately, but I jes' about as nigh dat ole boat as I keers to go.

For one hour it would do her more good than medicine, I will wait at the side gate for him, and he shall leave before daylight. There were a few more hurried questions and replies, and then Will was climbing the hill to a still more difficult interview. A night pass was not an easy thing for which to ask his father, but he could not leave the fort without it.

Miramichi Advance. Seventeenth Year of Publication! The publisher made an important change in the terms on which the paper is furnished to Subscribers.

1st. Strict adherence to the system of cash in advance for all subscriptions. 2nd. The reduction of the price of the paper to One Dollar a Year!

It is to be particularly understood that all outstanding subscription accounts due after November 6th, 1890, are to be settled on the old terms, viz, $2 per year, the advertised credit rate.

I have made the foregoing changes in the business of the ADVANCE for two reasons. The first is because many patrons who have been given credit, have abused the privilege to such an extent as to make the business of publishing the paper a non-paying one.
