SHOCKING FATALITY AT EAST COLDSTREAM

Skull Fractured When Thrown From a Pung, Young Woman Dies
in a few Hours

A shocking accident occurred at East Coldstream on Saturday night which resulted in the death of Miss Elva Greer, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Greer.

Miss Greer was driving homeward after nightfall and when the horse and pung arrived at the door her friends were alarmed to find that the girl was missing. They hastily set out in search and found the unconscious body lying in the road. It was seen at once that the skull was badly fractured and blood was gushing from the nose, mouth and ears. She was taken to the home and Dr. Macintosh was called from Hartland. Despite all aid she remained unconscious until Sunday afternoon when she died.

Just how the accident happened or the exact nature of the mishap will never be known, but it is presumed that the horse took fright or shied and threw her to the hard, frozen roadway.

The unfortunate young woman was about 22 years of age and besides her parents she is survived by four brothers: Edmund, Russell, Ercel and a younger one, and three sisters: Mrs. Arthur Lund, Alma and Elsie. She was a much liked young woman and her tragic death will be mourned by a large circle of friends.

The funeral was held at Mount Pleasant on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Bell, pastor of the Coldstream group of churches preaching the sermon. Never was there so large an attendance at any funeral in the vicinity. The bereft family have the deep sympathy of all the people who have heard of the disaster.

THE POTATO SITUATION IN AROOSTOOK

A much better feeling in the potato market has followed the announcement, which was briefly noted in last week's Star-Herald, of a ten million bushels reduction in the Government potato crop estimate. More inquiries are being received, and there has been an advance in price, apparently not so much on account of conditions based on an increased demand for potatoes for consumption, as in response in sentiment to the cheering news contained in the latest estimate issued. The news of the ten million shortage over the previous month helped the morale of the buyers and growers, which was rather demoralized before this ray of hope appeared.

At the time of writing it is understood that Montserrat are quoted at about $2.50, with some sales made as high as $2.60. The conditions of the roads do not favor hauling, and the weather for the most of the past week has been too cold. But the most of the lack of activity in moving the spuds is probably due to the waiting disposition of the farmers, who, in view of the report naturally enough expect to get later on rather better prices, which are due them if they are to come out whole, meet their obligations and have anything worth while left. —Frederic Isle Star-Herald. [Immediately following the above "ray of hope" a big rush to market has caused a worse slump than before.]

MOTOR CARS FOR BRANCH LINE PASSENGER TRAFFIC

The demand for more frequent service on branch lines where passenger traffic is not heavy is something the railways have long had to contend with. The heavy expense of running frequent trains to accommodate a limited number of passengers on branch lines has given railway men much food for thought. The Canadian National Railway, on its Brockville & Westport Division has for some time been experimenting with motor driven trucks instead of the regular engine and heavy train of passenger coaches. The Canadian National Railway has adopted equipment much like a motor bus which runs on the regular railway tracks. It is operated by a single man, gives a frequent service and so far appears to be extremely successful. If continued use proves satisfactory, the plan will be adopted on other branch lines of the Government Roads.

Without further information on the matter it would seem that this scheme would work well and accommodate many people if tried out on the C. N. R. between Centerville and Fredericton, and on the C. P. R. between Aroostook and Woodstock. Storms of winter might frequently delay, derail or submerge the bus, yet by far the greater part of the time the track is clear and the scheme should work out all right.

A. A. RIDEOUT DIED YESTERDAY MORNING

Only Two Weeks Ill, Young, Business Man of Hartland is Called Away

At nine o'clock yesterday morning Arlington A. Rideout died at his residence at the corner of Main and Queen streets after an illness of a little over two weeks. On Dec. 25 he came home from Woodstock and complained of illness but was not considered in a serious condition for several days thereafter when his symptoms indicated typhoid, but which on further development proved septical meningitis. He was unconscious for several days, but his family were unaware of his grave condition until only a day or two before his death, which came as a shock to his friends and the whole community.

Mr. Rideout was born at Peel in March, 1889, the son of the late Frank Rideout. He is survived by his wife, a daughter of the late James Pearson of Upper Brighton, his mother, eight brothers and two sisters. The brothers are Clarence, Wilbur and Wilfred in the Canadian west, Clyde, Clifford and Aubrey at Hartland, Reuben and Fred at Peel, while Dalton was killed in action in France. The sisters are Mrs. C. W. Manser of Woodstock and Miss Pauline of Peel.

The deceased was an ambitious and energetic young business man and had been engaged in handling produce for several years. He was a good friend and always of cheerful, optimistic disposition, at all times ready to render help where it was needed and an enthusiast in every progressive movement. He was a member of the Baptist congregation and Sunday school and of Brighton Lodge, K. of P.

The funeral will be held at the United Baptist church tomorrow—Friday—at 2:30 p.m., when his pastor, Rev. E. A. Triffin will preach a sermon.

The Knights of Pythias will conduct the service at the grave.

During the funeral hour, from 2 until 2 o'clock, stores and offices will suspend business with the public as a mark of respect to the deceased and of sympathy with the bereaved family.

CARNIVAL WAS A BIG SUCCESS

Large Number of Costumes Made Merry and Delightful Big Crowd of Spectators

The carnival on Friday evening was a decidedly successful affair. The weather was delightful, not too cold, and there was a bright young moon. The ice was in prime condition and the waiting rooms were comfortably warm. There was a good attendance of spectators and a satisfactory number of costumes.

The prize winners were Miss Lydia Baker, representing Canada, William Taylor, as an Indian Chief, and Chas. Thistle as Aunt Jemima.

Among other costumes were: Alvin Baker, Richardson; James LaVigne, negro; Creighton Baker, Turk; William Ward, Colonel Band Master; Frank McAdam and Walter Baker, King Klor-Klan; Gerald Hammond, Arthur Shaw, Alex. Miller, Douglas Currie, Cleves; Miss Hazel Campbell, Band Master; Walter Morgan, Elizabethan Courtier; Miss Jean Miller, Scotch Lassie; Aubrey Baker, Bowery Tough; Miss Sam Tullin, Miss Canada; Miss Clara Nixon, Mrs. Keith, Gray Queen; C. N. Stearns, Military Officer; Miss Jennie Boyer, Indian girl; Gordon Leakey, Fencer; Kenneth Irvine, Charles Chaplin; Vernon Shuman, Miss Jane; Miss Mildred Peoples, Red Riding Hood; Miss Alice Ward, Cow Girl; Miss Ruth Boyer, Miss Margaret Green, Comic.

There were a number of other costumes whose names were not available.

SUDDEN DEATH OF ALEX. BELL

The sudden death of Alexander Bell occurred at his residence at Waterbury on Dec. 29. Deceased was born at Bellville in March, 1838. He leaves to mourn, his wife, nine children, seven grand-children, two nephews and a host of relatives and friends.

Funeral services conducted by Rev. C. N. Barton was held at Waterbury church on Dec. 31.

NEW COUNCIL ELECTED UNOPPOSED

Ex. Mayor Keith and Citizens' Ticket
Withdrew Just as Poll Opened

A few hours before nominations for the town election closed a number of citizens felt the urge of civic honor and organized a new-hum device to save the town from ruin.

Friends of Mayor Kelly urged him to again become a candidate and three of his former Council expressed a willingness to come back. These were Aldermen Haggaman, Bluffield and DeWitt. The other members of this ticket were W. B. Nixon, G. Murray McLeod and H. B. Nixon. Ex-Mayor W. D. Keith yielded to the importunities of a number of his friends and headed what they called the "citizens' ticket." On this were E. C. Morgan, F. A. Allen, who were members of a former board, Rex L. York, Dr. Belyon, Arthur Dickinson and C. W. McQuinn.

All day on Saturday a great deal of interest was manifested throughout the town, indeed, as many as fifteen delinquent tax-payers settled the score with the town treasurer in order that they might have a right to cast a ballot on Monday.

Monday morning the town was surcharged with an excitement not known since December 6, and everything was in readiness for the auspicious event. Polling clerks were engaged and at their post, booths were arranged, ballots printed and the town hall as well as the town itself was all set up. But the feet of the citizens' ticket succumbed to the frost and they withdrew their nominations. The Progressive ticket, headed by Mayor Kelley, found itself elected.

In another column of this issue is a communication, in itself a masterpiece of ingenuity, which is intended to convey to the taxpayers the exact reason why the citizens' ticket withdrew, which withdrawal, it is stated, took place at the "earliest opportunity." Some of the taxpayers will be satisfied with this explanation, while there are others—out, a few—who believe that the ticket would have staged in the morning if the result of a rather hurried census showed encouragement.

PRODUCE PRICES

On Friday potatoes advanced to $2 a barrel but the markets were speedily swamped so that in two days there was absolutely no sale. There already have been shipped this season as many carloads as were shipped the whole of last season, and the country is still full of potatoes. Dealers have been hit harder by the slump than the farmers, as most of them have thousands of barrels for which they paid the farmers as high as $3. Some potatoes are being held that were bought at $4. The big markets are still loaded down with the stock that was rushed in last September and October, at which time many dealers bought largely on speculation.

Today local dealers are paying $1.50 for cabbages and $1.75 for mountains. They are firm at $2.25 and cabbages 45 cents. Butter, 25 cents; eggs, 40 cents.

The Observer of this week ten years ago quotes potatoes, $1.10; but, $2.00; cabbages, 35 cents; butter, 20 cents; eggs, 25 cents. Farmers can contrast themselves by looking backward a few years.

SATURDAY MORNING FIRE

About 10 o'clock on Saturday morning an alarm was rung for fire in Prince's Street market at the foot of Maple street. The fire originated from an overloaded stove pipe and was extinguished with little damage by fire. Water damage and the heavy removal of stock and fixtures caused the greater loss. Mr. Price was able to remove business within a brief time.

LOCAL VITAL STATISTICS

H. K. Dickinson, local sanitary inspector reports that during the year just closed, 1921, there were in Hartland town 9 deaths, 3 marriages and 50 births. Therefore the ratio for town and parish are 27 deaths, 28 marriages and 70 births. It will be noted with satisfaction that the natural increase in population is very substantial, exceeding the deaths by 40.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Ballou, Carleton Place, Ontario, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Velma Barbara, to Ralph Franklin Satter, of Perth, the marriage to take place in the near future.

WHY THERE WAS NO TOWN ELECTION

An Explanation Set Forth by E. B. Hagerman, Mayor, and the Citizens' Ticket.

Mr. Editor: We the undersigned, not being entirely satisfied with the result shown by the so-called Progressive Council during the year 1922, and especially with the financial statement submitted by Alderman R. B. Hagerman as chairman of the Finance Committee, and feeling with all the majority that we could improve upon the result shown, our nomination papers were filed as required by law before 6 o'clock in the afternoon on Friday last.

After the mail was distributed on Saturday afternoon we had the pleasure of perusing a manifesto issued by the Progressive Council, copies of which are now in the hands of the more prominent newspapers and distributors residing within the Town limits.

By reference to this manifesto it will be seen that the Progressive Council, if elected, pledged themselves to carry on the business of the Town during 1923 on an assessment of not more than $2000, out of which they further pledged themselves to set aside $2000 as a sinking fund for the Town debt. As a balanced budget is an Alderman Hagerman they also pledged themselves that there would be no over-expenditures in any department of the Town service.

Having perused this statement, and considering from our surprise, we did some figuring on our own account to see where the $2000 assessment would be applied, and we are giving these figures for the benefit of the taxpayers.

First of all, out of this $2000 the Progressive Council must set aside $2000 for a sinking fund as pledged by them in their manifesto. Then they must pay the Town share of the County Tax for 1922, which according to Alderman Hagerman's report is still unpaid and amounts to $2500, and practically the same Council Tax will have to be paid in 1922, making a total for County purposes of $2000. In 1922 the present Council expended $2500 for salaries, and it is safe to assume that an additional reduction can be made in 1922. They also expended $250 for interest, and as this is a fixed charge the same amount will have to be paid in 1922. In addition nearly $200 was allowed for discount on taxes and adjustments in 1922, and practically the same amount would be payable in 1922 as the rate of discount is fixed by law and allowed to every taxpayer who pays his taxes within a certain time. Then as shown by the last Council meeting, there are at least $500 in unpaid miscellaneous bills, which of course will be paid out of the 1922 assessment, and the assessments for making up the assessment are entitled to receive $200 as fixed by resolution of the Town Council. In 1922 the Progressive Council paid out over $200 for miscellaneous expenses, so that if they can make $200 over this item in 1922 they are doing very well indeed. These fixed charges, practically uncontrollable by the Council, and which must be paid, total, as we figure it, $8250, leaving a balance of $200 with which to carry on the business of the Town for the year, including the carrying for the post, whom we have with us already, street and roads, fire protection, water service, lighting, heat and light for the Council Chamber wherein the Progressive Council sit, credit all for the new engine, which Alderman Hagerman said was a credit deal, extending the water-mains to the southern end of High Street at Charles Bradley's and from the old water-mains to W. P. McMillan, extending the present sewer from the old water-mains, and other trifling services, too trivial to mention.

Now, Mr. Editor, it is quite inconceivable that the Progressive Council will not carry out their promise absolutely and to the letter, and when we consider what they are going to do on $200 we are lost in silent admiration of the financial genius displayed.

Quite frankly we admit that it is beyond us and as these benefits are to be conferred upon the Town in 1923 for the trifling sum of $200, as taxpayers ourselves, and having the interest of the other taxpayers at heart, we could not consistently do anything to disturb so startling and generous a program. If our entire budget had been elected, and we had assessed for more than $2000, we would never be able to get away from the charge that the Progressive Council could run the whole show for $200.

Therefore, we did the only logical and consistent thing—withdraw our nomination at the earliest opportunity, and disposed with an election in order that there might not be the slightest possibility of any single one of these financial whorls being depicted of the opportunity of showing how to "take nothing from nothing and have something left." We admit again that we cannot run the Town on $200 per year, but we have made absolutely certain that the only seven men in Town who can do so will have a perfectly free hand in demonstrating how the trick is turned.

Thinking the many taxpayers who assured us of their support, assuring you that we could not possibly have the heart to stand in the way of such a clever Government during the coming year, and that we will all watch with a great deal of interest the unfolding of the Progressive Financial Platform during 1922, we remain,

Yours truly,
W. D. KIMBLE,
and the Citizens' Ticket.

TOWN FINANCES

Mr. Editor: After having submitted our annual financial statement to the annual business meeting of the Town, it may be well to draw the attention of the citizens how the 1922 budget was expended. As I pointed out at the annual meeting, it is not possible to handle the finances properly from year to year with the present system of funds, seeing that there may be an overdraft or surplus in the different departments, and when such occurs, same should be carried forward to the next year. This can only be done properly by the double entry system. However, in order to have it clearly understood how our budget was expended, we take the trouble to go into the matter of each department and have prepared a statement showing in detail what expenditures occurred.

RECEIPTS
Assessment	$30,293.20
Licenses, etc.	222.75
Total	$30,515.95
Overdraft	407.52
	$30,923.47
EXPENDITURES
Discount	$ 228.42
Roads	2,698.27
Water	2,346.83
County	1,400.00
Salaries	1,275.00
Salaries	1,142.78
Miscellaneous	644.75
Interest	505.00
Removers	100.00
Post	132.42
Total	$30,943.47

It will be noticed that none of the receipts or expenditures in the above statement have anything to do with the year 1923, but concern 1922 entirely. When the public considers what improvements have been made during the past year and the money saved the Town by the careful expenditure of their money, we think there should be few regrets.

It has been rumored that there was a very heavy over-expenditure during 1922, but as their mindless opinion can constitute this statement when even he takes the time to look into the facts. It is rather an unflattering and unauthoritative position, to be handling the affairs of the Town when the people do not have the opportunity of expressing their desires by their ballots and electing those who best express their wishes. My personal opinion is that this is the most satisfactory way to all concerned and I think I did my part to bring it about with others, but without the desired results.

Yours respectfully,
R. B. HAGERMAN
Chairman Fin. Comm. 1921.

Nervous Breakdown

The extreme depression and discouragement which comes over one at times is the most alarming symptom of nervous exhaustion.

This letter is a message of hope to all who find themselves in this unfortunate condition.

Mrs. Geo. T. Tingley, Allist, N.B., writes:

"For years I was in a very nervous, run-down condition, was much depressed in spirit and suffered a great deal at times. The last time would not let me out at times I felt as though I certainly would go crazy. I consulted different doctors to no effect."

"A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and I can truly testify today to the great benefit received. There was a marked change before I had finished the second box and when I had used a dozen boxes my nerves were thoroughly restored and I was able to live. I shall owe the rest of my life to the benefit of this medicine. I continue, feeling sure that it will give to all of us the quick and sure relief which it gives me."

Prosperity of Canada Depends on Immigration

Lord Shaughnessy Declares Restrictions Must be Removed

The urgent necessity of removing the immigration laws of Canada all restrictive restrictions which are hampering the entry into Canada of good settlers for the farm lands and forests of the Dominion was presented in no uncertain terms by Lord Shaughnessy, Chairman of the C.P.R., speaking before the Junior Bar Association of Montreal at the Reform Club.

"The natural feeling that grew out of the war," said his Lordship, "encouraged the placing of restrictions on immigration that have been most disastrous in their results. We must have these restrictions removed. We must have settlers from all over the world, not artisans, but men who will go out on to our lands and our forests and fisheries and help to develop these resources, and there must be an insistent demand on Parliament to pass legislation that will open the doors to them."

His Lordship further pointed to the need of making good Canadian citizens of these immigrants, and to foster throughout the Dominion the spirit of Canadian citizenship. Mutual understanding and neighborliness between Canadians at opposite extremities of the Dominion must be promoted by every possible means.

Win by Work Only. Alluding to the fact that the members of the Junior Bar were on the threshold of their profession, he pointed out to them the high road to success. Not by luck or by special grace, but by hard work, devotion to the profession, and strict observance of the ethics and dignity of the Bar would they achieve the objects they were aiming at.

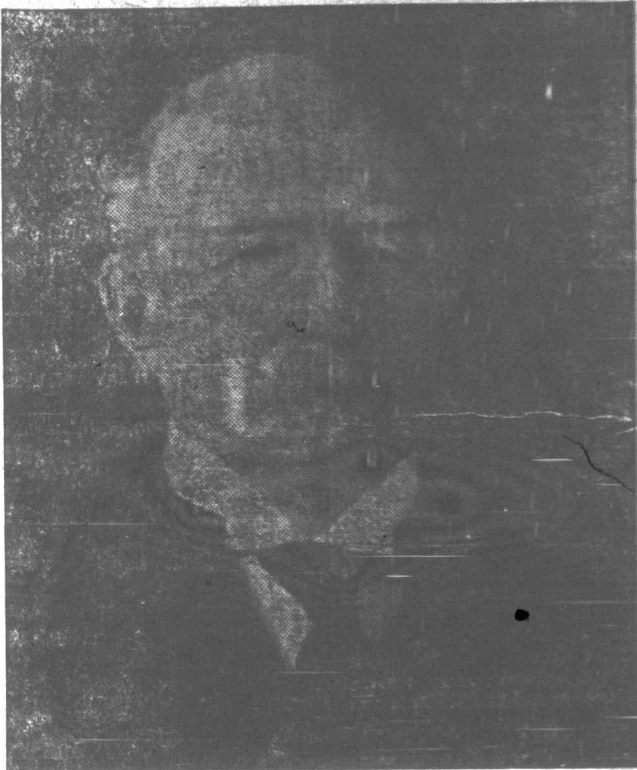

Lord Shaughnessy recounted in humorous fashion how in his early youth he had consecrated himself to the legal profession, and had studied law assiduously in his spare time for many years, but just as he was on the verge of entering a legal office to gain the necessary experience prior to embarking in that profession, promotion and advancement in commercial life came to him so rapidly that he decided to remain in the commercial career in which such remarkable prosperity had been his happy lot.

Expressing his admiration for lawyers in general, his Lordship explained how important they were on the staff of a railway organization, not only for their legal abilities, but also because their particular training rendered them specially able to extend valuable help to the operating staff in the working out of practical operating problems. "I do not think we can have any better evidence of the fact that a thoroughly capable lawyer can fill any other position, than in the case of my successor, Mr. Beatty, who was our chief counsel for many years, was my confidant in connection with everything involving questions of policy, but besides that in dealing with road questions, and every variety of questions that came before a railway commission, and in dealing with officers and men of the railway he acquired a knowledge of the railway business that has made him not only the very excellent lawyer that he has been for many years, but a most capable railway executive, one of the best possible."

Dropping again into his anecdotal style, Lord Shaughnessy kept his audience for some time in continuous laughter with a series of humorous incidents drawn from his own lengthy experience, tending to show that no detail in connection with any legal dispute was to be neglected, that counsel should look at every conceivable aspect of his case for possible ammunition.

They would accomplish nothing through luck, or through special favor, he told them, becoming serious once more. "Success will come by good hard work, and devotion to your profession. It must be a matter of constant study in order to keep abreast with the law and if you are to be prepared for the emergencies that arise in trial of cases you must pursue rather a broad course of reading. I have no doubt that we have amongst us here tonight a great many who are not only to be leaders in the bar, but most prominent men on the bench. The important matters for consideration are devotion to the profession, constant study, and due regard for the reputation and the dignity of the Bar."

Like a Manly Man. "I like a manly but a considerate man, an independent, but a dependable man, a man of honor and integrity, but he must not be too free from the ordinary human frailties and foibles. I have no special regard for the tin angel, because too frequently it is only tin foil and when that is rubbed off there is a rather objectionable dark substance underneath."

They might sometimes have difficulty with a judge who declined to agree with their interpretation of the law. But they should be consoled with the thought that next week His Lordship might deal in the same way with their antagonist. They might sometimes get their own back on the Court, as did the lawyer in a slander case who asked witness to repeat in court the language defendant used regarding plaintiff. Witness declined, saying it was "so abominable, it should not be repeated in the presence of any decent person."

"In that case," said the lawyer, "probably you will be good enough to whisper it in the ear of the judge."

The members of the Junior Bar had, however, other and very important duties, apart from those incumbent on them as members of the legal profession.

"You young men of the coming generation have a duty to perform, as we all have in this generation, to your country, to do everything in your power to make Canada what it should be, one great, happy unit."

"We are peculiarly constituted, with our long stretch of territory from Nova Scotia to Vancouver, and indeed to the Yukon. It is exceedingly difficult to build up neighborly relations between the different sections of the country. It should be our endeavor to do that. True, we have had federation now for fifty years or over and we have come through it quite comfortably and happily. I think the fact we have done so is a great tribute to the wisdom and foresight of the men who framed the British North America Act."

"But conditions are constantly changing in the country and if we are to prevent misunderstandings we must always be alive to anticipate events which may lead to these misunderstandings. If we are conscientious in endeavoring to preach the gospel of understanding and goodwill we shall succeed in achieving the highest ideals of the fathers of confederation."

West vs. East. "It is quite clear that the farmers, the agriculturists of the Prairie provinces cannot on occasions see eye to eye with the manufacturers of the east. It is equally clear that British Columbia three thousand miles away cannot form any very correct conception at times of the ideals of the Province of Quebec. It can only be done by interchange of views, by the exercise of the greatest possible tolerance on the part of everybody. In the years between 1902 and 1912, the years of our maximum prosperity, there is no doubt that every part of the country participated alike in that prosperity. There was no difference. The farmer in Manitoba or Saskatchewan, or Alberta, or the timber men in British Columbia, the people of Quebec, Ontario and the eastern provinces all participated in the prosperity and they will again. When we have passed the present unfavorable condition of things they will participate again, but in the meantime we may have a time when parts of the country will feel that others are prospering at their expense. We must endeavor by every possible process to correct that impression."

"The foundation stones of our prosperity are our lands, our mines, forests and fisheries. These must be developed as rapidly as circumstances will permit, if we are to make the best of our opportunities in the next few years and to meet the burdens which are laid upon us. We cannot do that without immigration. The natural growth of population will not be sufficient to meet the demand."

Must Have Settlers. "We must have immigration. We have had very little since 1914. On the contrary, I am afraid we have lost somewhat. Then, after the war the natural feeling that grew out of the war encouraged the placing of restrictions on immigration that have been most disastrous in their results. We must have these restrictions removed. We must have settlers from all over the world, not artisans, but men who will go out on to our land and our forests and fisheries and help to develop these resources and there must be an insistent demand on Parliament to pass legislation that will open the doors to them to a reasonable extent and will permit them to come in."

"Then there is the need to see that they become good citizens. They must be encouraged or if necessary compelled to become good Canadian citizens, although I prefer the former method if possible. They should be taught that the interests of their children and of their children's children are in Canada."

"We should endeavor to spread through the country the feeling of such ardent fervor in citizenship that every citizen, whether British born or naturalized, when he spoke of home, would mean Canada and no other country in the world."

"Now, gentlemen," Lord Shaughnessy concluded, "I will only say this further, that I wish everyone of you a Merry Christmas, and many years of successful, noble, and as prayers alone will not furnish a living, quite profitable career in your chosen profession."

CAROLS AS PART OF THE CHRISTMAS SERVICE

THE origin of the Christmas carol is uncertain. It is probably as old as Christianity. Indeed, Bishop Taylor in his "Great Exemplar" remarks that the first carol in the hymn of the angels to the shepherds to the plains of Bethlehem:

"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

In the Fifteenth century carols were widely used throughout Europe. In fact, the first pieces printed by the very first printers were carols. In one of the oldest collections appears "The Boar's Head," which used to be sung as that old dish was carried to the table during the Christmas revelry:

The Boar's Head in hand I bring
With garlands gay and birds singing:
I pray you sit to help me sing
"God with us in conviva!"

"The Boar's Head" represents one of the convivial carols or "jolly chansons," which had their place at the feasts, dances and other gay festivities of the Christmas season.

In Shakespeare's time bards of itinerant singers used to wander about the streets and make their carols a pretext for getting money.

During the Eighteenth century carols declined greatly, and many of the quaint old customs which had marked Christmas—festivals for centuries became obsolete.

Carols still exist in parts of England.

In Wales it has been preserved to a still greater extent, while Ireland, too, has her Christmas caroling in time-honored style. France has its "Noels," and in Italy Christmas carols have been sung since the time of St. Francis of Assisi, who discovered the power of sacred song in the vernacular.

In churches all over the world many of the delightful old carols are now a part of the Christmas service.

Good Remedy, You.

At Christmas the children of a certain provincial school tried to collect money by going from house to house singing carols and snatches of hymns. Many complaints reached the rectors' ears of bands of youngsters scampering through the first verse of "White Shepherds Watched," and then violently ringing the doorbell. So he instituted inquiries on the next occasion he visited the school.

"Why is it," he asked, "instead of singing the hymn in a respectful way, you scamper through one verse and then ring the bell?"

Silence reigned for a short time. Then a shrill voice from a small boy at the back of the room was heard in explanation:

"Please, sir, it's 'cause they always lets the dog loose at the second verse."

THREE BROOKS NEWS

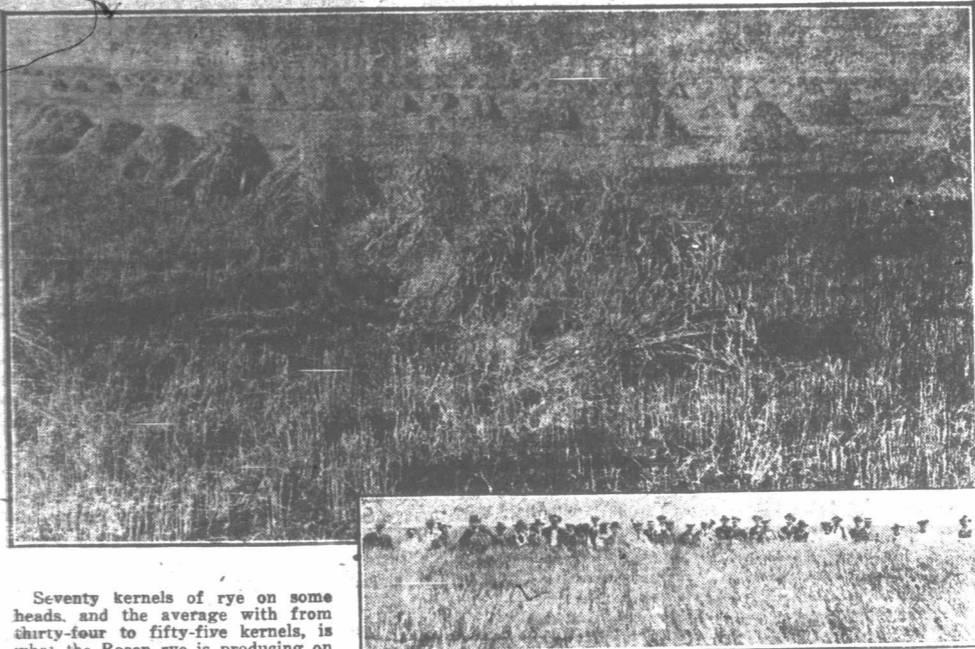

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Kearney, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Mason and family, Miss Lena Jones and brothers, Miss Evangeline Edgar, Miss McGinn, Miss Jones and Flora Jones drove to Colwell River on New Year's day to visit Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon Cox. All enjoyed a delightful afternoon and evening. At six o'clock they all partook of a beautiful supper served by Mrs. Kelley, Mrs. Mason and Mrs. Cox. The rest of the evening was spent in singing which was enjoyed by all, arriving back home at 10.30, regretting they could not have stayed longer with such lovely people as Mr. and Mrs. Cox, also Master Percy.

Rye Growing in Alberta

Seventy kernels of rye on some heads, and the average with from thirty-four to fifty-five kernels, is what the Rosen rye is producing on the Noble Farms in Southern Alberta. The heads are seven inches long, with the grain bursting through the chaff, and look more like winter wheat than the coarser grain.

Just what the yield will be is still more or less of a surmise, which can only be verified after the crop is threshed. From appearances, however, thirty bushels to the acre seems to be a conservative estimate over the whole area planted. In some fields, fifty bushels appear to be nearer the mark.

In all, some 2,500 acres were seeded to this crop. Allowing thirty bushels to be the yield, 69,000 bushels will be harvested. At the present market price of $1.40 per bushel, this crop alone has a cash value of almost one hundred thousand dollars.

The growing of winter rye in Southern Alberta is more or less of recent origin, but it is rapidly becoming one of the staple crops on lands that cannot be irrigated. It produces heavily when conditions are not suited to big crops of spring wheat, and will minimize the danger of soil drifting.

Farming thirty thousand acres in all, have always been among the pioneers of better farming methods. They have been experimenting with various kinds of rye for some time, and last fall obtained enough of this Rosen rye to seed two thousand acres. It is claimed that this variety will outyield the ordinary kinds two to one. Whether this be true or not, the yield was sufficiently promising to persuade Mr. Noble to make it his biggest crop this season.

He has now some twelve thousand acres in summerfallow, and eight thousand acres of this will be sown down to Rosen Rye. Naturally, this considerably reduces the area left to be seeded to wheat and other spring crops, but Mr. Noble considers he will not lose anything by the change. He has found that rye is a more sure crop, and given conditions that would produce a fifteen or twenty bushel yield of wheat, will produce twice as heavily. The biggest advantage, though, is that all the Noble eggs will not be in one basket. If conditions are not favourable for a big wheat crop, then the chances are that the rye will make up the deficiency. It is the basis of mixed farming applied to the grain grower.

In the past there has always been a mad rush once spring opens up, to get the grain in the ground in time. It is no easy matter to seed ten or twelve thousand acres to wheat within the short period at the farmer's disposal. By putting half the acreage into fall-sown crops such as rye, the spring seeding is cut in two and more time is allowed for summerfallowing before the heaviest rains come. Mr. Noble believes that the secret of his success is proper summerfallowing and he maintains that "The summerfallowing plows should be going during seeding time if at all possible, then the work will be done by June 1, and every bit of winter moisture as well as what may be received during the summer, will be conserved. That is why winter rye is going to catch on in Southern Alberta—it will lighten the spring work and make for better summerfallowing, besides spreading the harvest season out more in the summer."

Mr. Noble's opinion carries weight, too, for he has always had the crops to back up his convictions. In 1915 he made a world's record for a thousand acre field by threshing 54,000 bushels of wheat, or an average of fifty-four bushels per acre. In 1920 the value of his crops was close upon one million dollars. Starting with a half section of 320 acres, he has gradually extended his holdings until they now total 33,090 acres, of which, 23,659 are in cultivation—a practical demonstration of the value of scientific farming.

A Playground in Quebec

PAUGAN FALLS IN THE GATINEAU DISTRICT

Canada bids fair to become in the near future the playground of the world! Ours is pre-eminently a country of natural resources—industrial ambitions, notwithstanding!—and not the least among these are our park areas, vast tracts of land that are not suitable for agricultural operations, not required for manufacturing purposes, not needed for populous settlements.

Such a region is that one called "the Gattineau," 15,000 square miles of mountainous grandeur that rival the Catskills for scenery, Olympus for atmosphere, and then which there is no more alluring field for sportsmen this side of the happy hunting ground. The Gattineau district is a natural park, accessible and already half opened, with a railway and a motor road, which though far from perfect at the time of writing is used by an increasing number of tourists.

The country offers a life as strenuous as the pioneer demands, or as restful as the jaded urbanite dreams of, but despairs of obtaining. Canada is gradually awakening to the commercial value of her park areas, her playgrounds; to the fact that she has something that older countries—countries settled before the need for "national lungs" was recognized—lack. She is beginning to realize that an increasing increase in motor traffic necessitates the providing of some objective for tourist travel, and that the more attractive the objective, the greater the number of tourists. Tourists represent revenue, and a very satisfactory type of revenue, for in enjoying and benefiting by a sojourn in one of our playgrounds, they leave the scenery undiminished in grandeur, and they take away nothing that impoverishes the country. So keenly are many cities competing for this tourist traffic, that they provide camps for motorists and vie with one another in offering attractions that may induce a brief sojourn, at least, within the municipality.

The Gattineau is like a hen waiting to lay golden eggs and needing only a little bit of corn in front of her to get the machinery in operation.

The corn in this case stands for adequate accommodation. The absence of hotels has been for the lovers of the Gattineau one of its principal charms. There has been no danger from invading hordes capable of despoiling its vast multitude with jam hotel and shacks, and building picture houses to shut out the glory of the sky. Chateau, Klugmann, Farm Point, and Blue Sea Lake (where the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire elected to spend their summer), are almost as a closed Paradise to any save those who have cottages. Yet, although all of these places are undoubtedly beautiful and desirable by reason of their very exclusiveness, they do not comprise even half of the Gattineau.

The vicinity of Paugan Falls can scarcely be equalled as a hotel site. Paugan is an Indian word meaning "pipe," and is descriptive of the shape of the Falls. While there may not be mentioned in the same breath with Niagara or similar places, yet they have their own peculiar charm; the approach, the setting, the coloring of the surrounding hills, the indescribable atmosphere of romance that pervades the district. Over the Paugan, a rainbow arch spans the two chasms on many days and when clouds threaten Old Sol with death, the prismatic colors flash into a shimmering mist. Below the Paugan Falls the Gattineau river grows calm and forms not only a safe lake for boating, but an ideal swimming pool, bordered as it is for a half a mile with a stretch of amber sand.—N.M.
