CRUSHED TO DEATH

Tragic Death in Newcastle
of Mr Robert McMurray

CARS WERE DEFECTIVE

Instantly Killed While Between Two Cars Only
Fastened By a Chain

Newcastle was startled on Monday when the tragic death of Mr. Robert McMurray, one of the town's best known citizens, was announced. Mr. McMurray was crushed to death between two box cars in the I. C. R. yard here at 12.15 o'clock, while he was engaged in shunting. This makes the second fatal accident which has occurred in the railway yard here within a month. Mr. McMurray was a brakeman on the Indian-town train. It seems it is the custom of this train to engage in shunting here at noon. On Monday there were two empty box cars fastened together by a chain, there being no draw bar on one. It was the intention of the shunter to pull the cars into the repair shop. Mr. McMurray gave driver King, of the shunter a signal to back down, and for some unknown reason stepped between the two cars. Apparently before he had inspected if the engine had reached the cars. There was the usual thud and two cars came together and Mr. McMurray was crushed to death between them. As far as can be learned no one saw the accident, but a moment or two afterwards Driver King discovered Mr. McMurray's body on the track. Death had evidently been instantaneous. The body was only slightly disfigured. Dr. Pedolin was called and later Coronor Desmond viewed the remains and ordered an inquest for one o'clock to-day.

ROWDYISM

A Disgraceful Scene Enacted
on Thursday

ONE MAN INJURED

Thrust His Arm Through a Window and Nearly Bled
To Death

What was a disgraceful scene and afterwards resulted in a bad accident, happened at the I. C. R. depot on Thursday last, when two or three fellows under the influence of liquor, came from one of the nearest saloons to the station.

One of them acted in a very disorderly manner, after breaking the windows in the dispatchers office he went to the general waiting room, drove everybody out, and thrust his hand through the glass of the ticket window, inflicting a severe wound in his right arm. After considerable loss of blood he fell to the floor and nearly bled to death before a doctor arrived. He was taken to the hospital where it was thought for some time he would not live.

The public waiting room at the station for a while was in a disgraceful condition. All this might have been prevented had there been a policeman there to take charge of these fellows, as we have the services of a good policeman but it is impossible for him to be on duty in the daytime after being there all night.

Mr. McMurray was a native of Kent county and leaves a wife and a large family in Newcastle.

MILL ACCIDENTS.

Two Men Injured Recently
in Mills.

BOTH DOING WELL.

George Reid and Fred
Carr are the Unfortunate Persons.

Last Friday a serious accident occurred at the Champlain Mill, Mission Point. A young man, Fred Carr, in some way came in contact with a chain scraper and was carried around the driving sprocket. His right leg was badly lacerated, leaving the bone bare below the knee. He was taken to the hospital. Dr Lunan is attending him. Amputation will not be necessary.

Another accident occurred at Shive's Athol Mill on Monday, when Mr Geo Reid was struck in the leg by a deal which was thrown from the edge. The force of the blow knocked him a distance of 25 feet. His leg was broken and was terribly bruised, so much so that it is doubtful if the member can be saved. Up to the present, however, the patient has been doing fairly well.

Fell Beneath Cars.

Sackville, Aug. 17.—A young man named George Wood of Amherst was badly hurt early this morning while attempting to board a train of empty cars bound for Amherst. Wood was under the influence of liquor at the time and in attempting to grasp the car railing fell between the platform and the cars; the wheels passed over both arms. He was taken to his home in Amherst. It is not considered possible to save either arm. Wood is a young man, 21 years of age. His mother keeps the Dominion House at Amherst.

TOWN COUNCIL.

Regular Meeting Held
Last Evening.

RESERVOIR BEING BUILT.

Work Progressing Favorably
and Completion Expected
About 1st of October.

A regular meeting of Town Council was held last evening with Mayor Murray and Couns Ferguson, Murray, Vautour, McDonald, Taylor and Adams in attendance.

A communication from Jas O. Fichette was read asking for a reduction of taxes as he was not a resident of the town.—Referred to Assessment Com.

A petition from John McLean, Wm Currie, Jas Dewar, Alex J. Arsenault and A. E. Alexander for the extension of the sewer on McMillan Ave. was referred to Water and Sewerage Com.

Coun McDonald submitted report on accounts for labor and supplies amounting to $107.79, recommending payment.

—Report Adopted.
Coun Murray, from Electric Light Com., reported, recommending payment of account for supplies $1952.08.—Adopted.

Coun Taylor, from Water and Sewerage Com., reported, recommending payment of labor accounts amounting to $26.33.—Adopted.

Coun Adams from Finance Com., recommended payment of accounts amounting to $13.00.—Adopted.

The Mayor read report of the By-law Com. as follows:

To the Town Council of the Town of Campbellton,
Gentlemen: Your Com. to whom was referred the application of Aime LaCasse for an extension of the hours for keeping open a billiard room, beg leave of our own motion to submit the following amendment to the by-law governing billiard tables, etc., and recommend that the same do now pass and become law:

Be it enacted by the Town Council, of the Town of Campbellton, as follows: Chapter 4, Sec. 4 of "A By-law to license and regulate bowling alleys and billiard tables" is hereby amended by striking out the word "ten" in the second and fifth lines thereof and substituting therefor the word "eleven".

Wm Murray } By-law
D. Murray } Com.

Coun Adams as the other member of the Com. refused to sign the report. The motion was carried, however, Coun Adams voting nay.

Coun Taylor reported that plans and specifications for the new reservoir had been received from Engineer Holt and that a large number of men have been at work making excavations and clearing away the dam. It is expected from present indications that the new reservoir will be completed about the first of October.

Coun Adams submitted a form of pay sheet to record the work done in the different departments and amounts for same, and after considerable discussion it was adopted by the Council. Hereafter this new system will be in vogue in all money-spending departments of the town.

There was also some discussion in regard to a record book for the Water and Sewerage departments in which the names of all persons having water or sewerage services, with the number of taps, etc., will be kept for reference. The matter was left with the Committee.

Events has secured a magnificent line of calendars for 1905 which will be printed up to order. Our representative, Mr. P. S. Martin, will call on you in the course of a few days and show samples. Kindly reserve your orders. A calendar besides being a useful and pretty Christmas or New Year gift is an advertisement that will certainly bring results.

RAILWAY ACCIDENTS

Watson Gross of Moncton
Killed on Picnic Train

A BRAKEMAN INJURED

John Gardiner Has One Leg
Cut Off and the Other Crushed

(Moncton Transcript)

Death in its most sudden and awful form descended in the midst of the merry-makers en route to attend the I. C. R. employees' picnic at Pt. du Chene this morning.

Watson Gross, aged 17 years, of Moncton, son of I. C. R. Driver Warren Gross, resident of Weldon Street, a passenger on the excursion train was the victim of a terrible fate while en route to the picnic. The lad was standing on the platform while the train was about a mile east of the Souadoc River bridge, on one of the cars of the swiftly moving train with one foot on the platform of the front car, and the other, on the other car.

Suddenly beneath his feet a yawning gap appeared. A defective "knuckle" on the coupler of one of the cars had caused a breakaway and down he crashed falling across the track directly in front of the wheels of the rear portion of the train. Directly the train broke away, the air-brakes came into play, but not in time to bring the train to a standstill. The wheels struck young Gross near the shoulder, severing his arm, leg and mangle him horribly. Death was instantaneous.

The body was tenderly conveyed into one of the cars, and the train was immediately coupled together and proceeded into Shediac. Coroner Smith was notified and given charge of the remains and immediately ordered them to be brought back to Moncton. The lad's father, was, at the time of the accident at the throttle of his train No. 23, the way freight from Truro to Moncton. A driver was sent out from Truro to relieve Mr. Gross, so that he could proceed to Moncton by the first train.

In charge of the train on which the terrible accident occurred was Con. J. S. Nickerson and Driver Snider.

This is a second warning to excursionists and especially to parents who are taking children to excursions. Only a few days ago, another fatality was narrowly avoided on a Moncton-bound excursion train. The terrible death of young Gross today should be pregnant with warning to all.

Watson Gross, the victim of the accident, was a bright youth and greatly beloved by all who knew him. At the time of his death he was in the employ of the Canadian

BOARD OF TRADE

A Movement on Foot for Organization

MEET TO-MORROW NIGHT

Citizens Should Not Fail To
Be Present and Help
Movement Along

A meeting is called for to-morrow night at 8 o'clock in the Murray hall (over Storey's barber shop) for the purpose of organizing a board of trade for the town. At last the citizens seem to have awakened to the need of this organization in our town and are getting quite enthused with the idea. There is no doubt but that Campbellton should have had a Board of Trade long e'er this, but it is not too late even now. There are many matters of considerable importance to the business community which can be best dealt with by a body of this kind and we hope to see a large representation of our business men at the meeting to-morrow night and thorough organization effected.

Express Co. The unfortunate young man Gross received terrible injuries in his fall beneath the cars. The air brakes brought the train to a standstill within two or three car lengths, but in that distance fearful injuries were inflicted to the poor fellow's head and limbs. His skull was almost completely broken in, and he was cut up about the face. One arm was broken and the other (the right) was twisted out of its socket. Both legs were also badly crushed. He had only recently come from the Hospital after having a critical operation performed for appendicitis.

JOHN GARDNER FALLS BETWEEN CARS

Shortly after the train despatchers had received word of the unfortunate death of Warren Gross on No. 1 picnic train, a despatch came stating that another accident had occurred on the same train at Painssec Jct., when the empty cars were being brought to Moncton to take over the second train.

At Painssec Jct., some shunting was being done, and brakeman Gardiner was in charge of the work.

He was stepping from one car to the other, and in precisely the same manner as in the previous accident, the cars parted and he fell in between them. One of his legs was severed, and he was badly bruised about the head and face.

The train was hurriedly brought to Moncton and Dr. Botsford telephoned for, and he met the train on its arrival here.

The State of Affairs at Port Arthur Said to Be Serious

Mukden, Aug. 17.—The Japanese have occupied Tsiaif Hill on the Russian extreme left.

A small force of Japanese infantry occupied Dapindu Pass on August 15th. The Russian outposts retired.

Tokio, Aug. 17, to a m.—The Commander of the army at Port Arthur reports that Major Yamada, a member of his staff, was despatched under a flag of truce to the outposts of the Russians where he delivered to a Russian staff officer the offer of the Emperor of Japan granting the removal of non-combatants. He also demanded the surrender of Port Arthur.

An answer is expected to-day.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 17.—Russia has agreed to the disarmament of the Russian cruiser, Askold, now at Shang hai.

The admiralty here does not confirm the reported arrival of the Russian cruisers Diana and Pallada at Vladivostok. A despatch received this morning from Viceroy Alexieff, who is at Vladivostok, makes no mention of those two warships.

Chefoo, Aug. 17.—A striking incident of the naval engagement of Aug 10th was the surrounding of the battleship Retvizan by Japanese torpedo boats, the other Russian boats having gone to the assistance of the Czarvitch which was then hard pressed. The Retvizan desperately attempted to break through the line, and tried to ram a cruiser, which approached, but she was fairly blown out of her course by a hail of shells from the cruisers, which now began participating in the fight. Every officer of the Czarvitch was either killed or wounded.

London Aug. 17.—A despatch to the Central News from Tokio says that a big oil warehouse at Port Arthur is blazing furiously and that the position of the besieged is such that the Japanese are urging them to surrender.

Very Remarkable Cure of Diarrhoea.

"About six years ago for the first time in my life I had a sudden and severe attack of diarrhoea," says Mrs.
Alice Miller, of Morgan, Texas. "I got temporary relief, but it came back again and again, and for six long years
I have suffered more misery and agony than I can tell. It was worse than death. My husband spent hundreds of dollars for physicians' prescriptions and treatment without avail. Finally we moved to Basque county, our present home, and one day I happened to see an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with a testimonial of a man who had been cured by it. The case was so similar to my own that I concluded to try the remedy. The result was wonderful. I could hardly realize that I was well again, or believe it could be so after having suffered so long, but that one bottle of medicine, costing but a few cents, cured me." For sale

PORT DANIEL

Aug 10th.—One of the most successful bazars and concerts we have ever had the pleasure of attending on the Gaspé Coast was held at Port Daniel on the 2nd, 3rd and 4th of August.
The results of both undertakings reflect great credits on the Port Daniel people. The bazaar was made attractive by a display of pretty and useful articles at reasonable prices, it is to be regretted that "reasonable prices" cannot be more frequently applied to such a case in general do not care to give the exorbitant prices often asked at bazars simply because they are in aid of some good cause. On Thursday evening a good programme was presented and ably carried through. Mr. W. A. MacPherson presided as chairman for the evening, the hall was crowded to overflowing despite the fact that the evening was intensely hot. The sentiments of the audience were testified by the hearty manner in which applause was given. At the close of the entertainment refreshments were partaken of and the crowd dispersed.

The proceeds are to go towards improving the appearance of the cemetery
A new fence is to be erected and other improvements made. The object is a good one, and the example one worthy of following.

Too many of our burying places are

UNERRING JUSTICE.

The books say well, my brothers, each man's life
The outcome of his former living is:
The bygone wrongs bring forth sorrows
and woes
The bygone right breeds bliss.

To be not bound; the soul of things is sweet.

The heart of being is celestial rest.
Stronger than woe is will; that which was good.

Doth pass to better—best.

What hath been bringeth what shall be and is Woe—better—last for first and first for last.

The angels in the heavens of goodness reap
Fruits of a holy past.

—Sir Edwin Arnold.

SILCHESTER'S MYSTERY.

Remains of Some of the Old Roman Houses
Are Missing.

The excavations carried out during the last fourteen years by the Society of Antiquaries on the site of the ancient Romano-British City of Silchester ("Calleva Atrahatum") have revealed some very curious circumstances which have yet to be explained. The city is surrounded by a large wall nearly two miles in length, overhung with trees and overgrown with creeping plants, enclosing an area of 100 acres. Outside runs a deep fosse and large moat. This mound—sections of which have been taken—is composed solely of earth soil, while the fosse or ditch has been dug out of the gravel soil which is found a foot or under the ground all over the country in and around Silchester, and of which one would suppose the mound to be made, since the surface soil would not have been sufficient by itself.

The question is, why was the mound made solely of earth soil, and where did this earth come from?

The only explanation is that the mound is composed of all the earth removed from the surface when the foundations of the houses and streets were being formed and laid out; but

A QUESTION FOR CHRISTIANS.

"Does not the attitude of the great outside masses towards the church find its explanation, in considerable measure, in the attitude of the churches toward them? A merely dogmatic, creedal, and ceremonial Christianity—if that which is merely dogmatic, creedal, and ceremonial can be called Christianity—is little better than a stone in the way of progress."

The Examiner, a Baptist publication of New York, gives voice to the above observation in answering the question, "Do churches need converting?" It is a timely and sensible question answered in a timely, sensible manner. There are people, wearied, perplexed, troubled about the common needs of life, and sad hearted over prospects daily before them and they want a Christianity with a heart and a hand in it—a brother's heart and a brother's hand. More humanitarianism and less dogmatism is the demand. Or rather dogmatism should be dogmatism with its sleeves rolled up for work, and its back bent to carry burdens. Even the exceptionally good men need to be vigilant and ready for practical adjustments of their attitude to the demands of the homes in which they live. Facts about us are changing daily. Doors of opportunity opening wide and more numerous, demand change in us with all these changes in conditions about us. New adjustments will be demanded while the world is changing towards that day when He whose right it is shall reign over all. The problem of the hour is to discover, if possible, where readjustment to duties is needed or change of attitude towards men and causes is required.

THE AMERICAN CAMPAIGN

The people of the United States are now in the throes of three months political battle and it may fairly be assumed that the most of them would be glad to see it terminate in three weeks or less. The preliminary contests in both parties were of an unusually prolonged and definite character so that when the two conventions had finished their work the vast majority of the intelligent voters of the country had made up their minds and would have been glad to dispense with a long period of party missionary work and campaign oratory. In the United States as elsewhere the money interests play an important part in the maneuverings of political parties. The rank and file of the Roosevelt administration, then again the New York Sun, which is said to be the mouthpiece of J. Pierpont Morgan and other leading capitalists, after considerable hesitancy has come out flat footed for Roosevelt. On the other hand one of the members of the Democratic National executive is August Belmont, one of the most prominent financiers in the republic. Then there is also on the committee State Senator Patrick McCarron of New York who is said to draw a yearly salary of $20,000 from Standard Oil interests. So it will be seen that the money interests are not entirely devoted to either one party or the other. It is asserted, however, that the Democrats will have by far the largest campaign fund. Yet independent opinion is almost unanimous that Roosevelt will be returned. At all events it is a contest that none of us will sleep over.

ETIQUETTE THAT PAYS.

"Those who know themselves and their position; who have been reared under a true sense of what noblesse oblige means; who never violate a law of etiquette, simply because they know to other and could not, if they would; those are the ones who unbend most easily and are the first to show that gracious kindness we call politeness in voice and greeting."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Yes, indeed! It is the time leaders of our business life as well as "smart" society who are the least haughty and reserved. The grande dame by birth, breeding and association, knows like the gentleman born and bred just when, how and upon whom to bestow her pleasant smile of recognition. She is not afraid as are those less familiar with proper social usages, that she might commit a social solecism and do the wrong thing. It is this woman who speaks the kindest to the weary shopgirl; it is she to whom the laboring man lifts his apology of a hat as she thanks him for some small favor such as the holding open of a door for her. It was such a woman who heard the retort coming from the sweeper of a street crossing once when she thanked him for lifting her over the deep mud—"I fear I was very heavy," she said sweetly. "No indeed, mmm. I do be need to carry'n' bar'l's o' sugar," said he.

BAR POLITICS HERE.

The President has taken the proper stand in publicly rebuking the Federal district attorneys and marshals in Alabama who have attempted to remove subordinates for political reasons. He justly says that "of all offices of the Government those of the Department of Justice should be kept free from any suspicion of improper action on partisan or factional grounds."—New York Evening Post.

Of late the Conservative party of Canada has raised a great hubbub over the discovery of politics in the operation of the Department of Militia. In our opinion the Conservatives have overlooked a far more important department in their search for partisanship in the administration of public affairs. We have reference of course to the Department of Justice. Sir Wilfrid Laurier might with credit to himself and to his party at the whole of the Dominion follow the example of the President of the United States and bar politics from the Department of Justice.

THE POACHING EVIL.

The Newcastle Advocate in its last issue devotes considerable space to the prevalence of poachers in the County of Northumberland. According to the Advocate the evil has become intolerable along the waters of the Mersey and holders of fishing privileges threaten to relinquish their claims in disgust. Fortunately poaching has not become so bad as that in the County of Restigouche but it is nevertheless carried on in no small degree. And in our opinion a determined effort should be made to stop it before it reaches an intolerable stage which it surely will unless nipped hard and fast in the bud. As the Advocate observes:—"Men who are poachers one season are wardens the following season and so on."

RIVER STEAMBOATS.

Within the past few weeks there have been three steamboat accidents on the Miramichi. Fortunately they were all of a minor nature. But they might have been serious—very serious indeed. As we contemplate these mishaps we wonder what precautions have been taken here in New Brunswick to prevent a catastrophe of the kind which happened in New York the other day and startled the whole world. And we cannot help but conclude that the General Slocum disaster has not been an object lesson here and that every day hundreds of human lives are in jeopardy while entrusted to the care of a river mariner whose vessel is not properly equipped with life saving appliances.

WELL DONE, COUNCIL.

We must heartily congratulate the Town Council on its action in regard to the pay roll. At last night's meeting they decided that from henceforth they would have some sort of system for paying the town's employees, particularly the laborers in the Water and Sewerage and Street Departments. This is as it should be and the wonder is that such a system was not brought into force long ago. Herefore the Manager of the Water Works and Sewerage systems was practically paying the men out of his own pocket week by week, trusting to the carefulness or accuracy of the Town's Council and officials to be reimbursed when accounts were passed at a regular meeting. The Manager simply had to do this in order to keep the work going on as the council only met once a month and the men absolutely refused to work unless paid by the week or fortnight.

By the new system the men will be paid every week by the Town Treasurer from a pay roll certified by the Manager and Chairman of the different departments. These pay rolls will be presented to the Town Council for satisfaction after which they will be returned to the Treasurer to be held as a voucher. This seems more in keeping with proper business methods, besides being a saving of time and work. We understand that to Manager Williams is due the credit of the form of pay sheet adopted at last night's meeting, which while simple is complete in every detail.

AN HONEST THIEF.

A thief has stolen a Congressman's collection of campaign speeches. We would like a photograph of the jury that would convict him.

A long suffering Canadian public would be deeply grateful if some person dishonestly inclined would steal all the campaign literature with which the Country is about to be flooded. To use a paradox we might call such a person an "honest thief" after all.

Wedding at New Carlisle.

A very pretty wedding took place Monday, the 15th inst, at 4 o'clock p. m., in St. Andrews Episcopal Church, when Miss Martha Flowers, one of New Carlisle's prettiest girls was united in marriage to Mr. Herbert Bebee. The nuptial service was performed by the Rev. E. K. Wilson. As the bride party entered a very pretty march was played by Miss E. Morrison. The bride who was given away by her brother, looked charming, gowned in pearl duchess satin with veil, and orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white bridal roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Nellie Flowers, who looked very pretty in white mull over silk and wore large picture hat with ostrich plume and carried a pink bouquet.

Immediately after the ceremony the guests repaired to the bride's home, where a reception was held. Among the guests were Mrs. W. G. Elliott, Mrs. J. Grant, of Montreal, and Mrs. Albert Kipping of Toronto. The bride's father, Mr. Richard Flowers, of British Columbia, brother of the bride. After the large company of guests had taken of refreshments they drove to the groom's home, one of the most beautiful residences in New Carlisle, a gift to the groom from his father, where a pleasant evening was spent.

The bride received many useful and costly presents. We all join in wishing them a long and happy life. Mrs. Bebee will be at home the first and last Thursday of each month.

TWO COMPOSERS.

Rosini was an Easy Worker, While Meyerbeer was a Striver.

Giuseppe Meyerbeer went at everything ferociously. The work of composing made him restless, excitable and caused him many sleepless nights. This condition was always worst in the spring of the year. He did his best work when the wind howled, the rain poured down in torrents and humanity generally sought refuge indoors. During such natural upheavals the great composer was in his element. Deluged with ideas, his fingers charmed from the piano the rarest and most wonderful melodies.

Compared to Meyerbeer, Rosini was an easy worker and always ready with his pen. Some of his most charming compositions originated under the most commonplace circumstances. One day while the composer was still abed entertaining a few friends the poet Totale brought him the words to the celebrated prayer song in "Moses." Rosini read the text, and the poet, fearing some sarcastic remarks on the part of the former, said, "It took me an hour to write these verses."

"An hour to write such verses?" cried Rosini. "I'll set them to music in a quarter of an hour."

He asked for pen and paper, and in ten minutes, while his friends chafed at the author, the great maestro wrote that inimitable prayer song in his opera, "Moses."

One Cent Claims Against Uncle Sam.

There have been several one cent claims against the United States government. One was by the Southern Pacific, which submitted a bill of $5.29 for hauling government freight. It was a bond aided road, only part of its bills against the government being paid in cash, the rest going to the railroad's credit on the bonds. In this case its credit was $5.28 and its cash a cent. Another government obligation of a single cent was in favor of a chemical company which for some unexplained reason agreed in a public competition to supply 10,000 pounds of ethyl ether for a cent. The offer was accepted. There were nine signatures, one that of a rear admiral, on the paper relating to the establishment of this claim, and the warrant for payment had to be signed by several persons.

A Gormandizer.

Some years ago the late Marquis of Queensberry made a bet of 1,000 guineas that he would produce a man who would eat more at a meal than any Sir John Lade could find.

The bet being accepted, the time was appointed, but his lordship not being able to attend the exhibition he wrote to his agent to know the result and presently received the following note:

My Lord—I have not time to state particulars, but merely to acquaint your grace that your man beat his antagonist by a pig and an apple pie.

Too Unanimous.

"Talk about men being lords of creation! Why, I can twist that husband of mine around my little finger."

"Yes, I suppose so. He's rather small, isn't he, and quite slender?"

"Small and slender? He isn't any such thing. There's enough of him, let me tell you, to make a million such husbands as yours."

First Case of See Serpent.

Adam hastily made an inscription in his diary.

"I want it to go on record," he explained, "that we had the first case of see serpent ever known."

Feeling he had the bulge on the rest of humanity, he strutted about with a satisfied air.

Uncle Terry

CHARLES CLARK MUNN

Copyright, 1900, by LEE & SHEPARD

CHAPTER I.

"It's going to be a nasty night," said Uncle Terry, coming in from the shed and dumping an armful of wood in the box behind the kitchen stove, "and the combers is just a-bump-in' over White Horse ledge, an' the spray's flyin' halfway up the light-house."

"The Lord-a-massy help any poor soul that goes ashore tonight!" responded a portly, white haired woman beside the stove as a monster wave made the little dwelling tremble.

"Better have some warm, Silas," said the woman, taking the steaming kettle from the stove and following him. "It's more comfortin'."

When he had washed and combed his nearly gray locks and beard at a small mirror he stood for a moment beside the stove. His weather beaten face that evinced character, so pronounced were its features, wore a smile, and his deep set gray eyes emitted a twinkle.

"Supper 'most ready, Lissy?" he asked, eyeing a pot on the stove that gave out an appetizing odor. "I'm hungry 'nough to eat a mule with the harness on."

"'Twill be in a minit," was the reply. "Better go into 'tother room where Terry's settin' the table."

Uncle Terry obeyed, and, finding a bright fire burning there, stood back to it, smiling affectionately at a young girl busy beside the table. She had an oval face, a rather thin and delicate nose, small, sweet mouth and eyes that were big, blue and appealing. A wealth of light hair was coiled on the back of her head, and her form was full and rounded.

"It's blowing hard tonight, father, isn't it?" she observed. "I can feel the waves shake the house." Then, not waiting for an answer, she stepped to a closet and, bringing a short gray coat and felt slippers, pushed an armchair to the fire and, placing the slippers beside it, held the coat ready for him to put it on.

"You might as well be comfortable," she added. "You haven't got to go out again, have you?"

The man seated himself and, drawing off his wet boots and putting on his slippers, opened his hands toward the blaze and observed, "You and Lissy's bound to cosset me, so durnty I won't stir out 'cept the sun shines."

Silas Terry, or Uncle Terry, as everybody on Southport island called him, was and for thirty years had been the keeper of the Cape light, situated on the outermost point of the island. To this he added the daily duty of mail carrier to the head of the island, eight miles distant, and there connecting by a small steamer plying between the Maine coast islands and a shore port. He also, in common with other of the islanders, tilled a little land and kept a few traps set for lobsters. He was an honest, kind hearted and fairly well read man whose odd sayings and quaint phrases were proverbial. With his wife, whom everybody called Aunt Lissy, and adopted daughter Telly, he lived in a neat white house close to the Cape light, and, as he put it, "his latch-string was always out."

Uncle Terry had a history, and not the least interesting episode in it was the entrance into his life of this same fair and blue eyed girl. Perhaps his own graphic description will best tell the tale:

"It was 'bout the last of March, more than eighteen year ago an' durin' one of the worst blizzards I ever recollect since I kep' the light, that one mornin' I spied a vessel hard an' fast on White Horse ledge, 'bout half a mile off the pint. It had been snowin' some an' froze on the windows o' the light, so mebbe she didn't see it 'fore she fetched up all standin'." The seas were pound-in her like great guns, an' in her riggin' I could see the poor devil half hid in snow an' ice. That wa'n't no hope for 'em, for no dory could 'a' lived a moment in that awful gale, an' that wa'n't no lifeboat here. Lissy an' me made haste to build a fire on the pint to show the poor critters we had feelin' for 'em, an' then we just stood an' waited an' watched for 'em to go down. It might 'a' been an hour—there's no tellin'—when I saw a big bundle tossin' light an' comin' ashore. I ran over to the cove where I kep' my boat an' grabbed a piece o' rope an' boat hook an' made ready. The Lord must 'a' steered that bundle, for it kep' workin' along, headin' for a bit o' beach just by the pint. I had a rope round my waist, an' Lissy held on to the end, an' when the bundle struck I made fast with the boat hook an' the next moment er tumbled me end over, bundle an' all, up on to the sand. I grabbed at it an' 'fore the next one come had it high an' dry out o' the way.

"It's allus been a puzzle to me just why I did it, for I was wet through an' most froze, an' what I pulled out looked like a feather bed fied round with a cord, but I cut with my knife an' cut the cords, an' 'thar in the middle o' two feather beds was a box an' in the box a baby alive an' squallin'."

"I didn't stop to take the rope off my waist, but grabbed the box an' ran for the house, with Lissy after me. We had a fire in the stove, an' Lissy warmed a blanket an' wrapped the poor thing up an' hold it over the stove an' kissed it an' took on just as wimmin will. When I see it was safe I cut for the pint, thinkin' to wave my hat an' show 'em we had saved the baby, but a squall o' snow had struck in, an' when it let up the vessel was gone. That was bits o' wreck com' ashore, pieces o' spars, a boat all stove in, the like an' a wooden shoe. In the box the baby was in two little blankets, an' tied in a bit o' cloth two rings an' a lock of two pictures in it, an' a paper was pinned to the baby's clothes with furrin writin' on it. It said the baby's name was Eteleka Peterson an', 'To God I commend my child,' an' signed, 'A Despairin' Mother.' From bits o' the wreck we learned the vessel was from Stockholm an' named 'Peterson'."

"The paper was such a heart techin' appeal, an' we'd just buried our only child, a six-year-old gal, we was glad to adopt this 'un an' bring her up. In the course o' time I made a report o' the wreck to the lighthouse board an' that we had saved one life, a gal baby, an' give all the facts. Nothin' ever came on 't, though, an' we was glad that was that. We kep' the little gal, an' she wa'n't long in growin' into our feelin's, an' the older she grewed the more we thought o' her."

Of course the history of Uncle Terry's protegee was known to every resident of the island, and as she grew into girlhood and attended school at the Cape, as the little village of these shops, and there are only 350 in the whole country, Stockholm, with a population of 300,000, having only twenty-two.

had floated ashore. How many times she had looked at those two pictured faces, one a reflection of her own; how many tears she had shed in secret over them, and how, year after year, she wondered if ever in her life some relative would be known to her, no one, not even her foster parents, ever knew. Neither did they know how many times she had tried to imagine the moment when her despairing mother, with death near and with prayers and tears, had cast her adrift, hoping that the one little life most dear to that mother might be saved. The fatal reef where those parents had gone down also held for her a weird fascination, and at times the voice of the ocean seemed like the despairing cries of mortals. One picture, and it was her best, was a view of the wreck, as near as Uncle Terry could describe it, with human forms clinging to the ice clad rigging and tempestuous seas leaping over them. The subject held an uncanny influence over her, and she had spent months on the picture. But this shadow of her life she kept carefully guarded from all.

NEW CARLISLE.

(Too late for last issue.)

In our last letter of three weeks ago we referred to the fact that the S. S. Admiral did not call at New Carlisle and we must now call attention to the fact that she has not called here for 4 or 5 weeks.

We were glad to see in one of your issues a statement that Mr. Marcell was calling the attention of the government to the matter. And also note with great pleasure the fact that $10,000 has been voted to extend the New Carlisle wharf with the right to spend $10,000 more.

This of course will increase our wharf accommodation next year. At the present time we are perfectly aware that on the west side of the wharf at very low tides there is not a great deal of water owing to the sand having accumulated there. But we see very little difference if any as compared with last year and last season the Restigouche seldom if ever missed a trip and she drew much more water than the Admiral. And no one will dispute the fact that there is enough water for the Admiral even at lowest tides on the east side of the wharf and across the end.

I challenge anyone to show any good reason why the Admiral could not call here either at the sides or across the end of the wharf at each of her trips this season. We can of course send out all west bound freight by railroad and the railroad management has, we believe, the hearty support of every business man of New Carlisle. But when we see people hauling east bound freights to Paspébiac simply because we understand the captain of the Admiral does not wish to call here, we demand that a remedy be found. Has the captain inherited any Divine right by which he can run a boat subsidized by Government and only calling when and where it suits him?

Let us at least have the facts of the case looked into and if there is any good and sufficient reason why a boat drawing nine feet of water cannot call at our wharf we will of course have to put up with the inconvenience.

A Well Known Albany Man
Recommends Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.
About eighteen months ago Mr. W. S. Manning, of Albany, N. Y., widely known in trade circles as the representative of the Albany Chemical Co., was suffering from a protracted attack of diarrhoea. FLAT LANDS

(Too late for last issue.)

What has happened to our correspondence? We haven't noticed any items from our busy little village for some time. Wake up, boys!

For some time past base ball was the prevailing topic of conversation in this community, but we don't hear so much about it now. Guess our boys have reached the stage of perfection.

Miss Mary Murray who has been training for nurse in the Keene Hospital, N. H. has returned home for a short vacation.

Mrs. Gilker of New Carlisle who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. S. Ryan, has returned home.

Miss E. Dickie of Pt. La Nim is at The Elms, the guest of Miss L. Gillis.

We regret to note that Rev. E. H. Ramsey is soon to leave us. He will be very much missed by all members of his congregation.

We are pleased to see Mr. Gordon Greenhields in our midst once more after a short trip to Dalhousie.

What might have been a very serious accident occurred here on Monday while a number of our young folk were crossing the Restigouche. The canoe gave a lurch, and one of our brave young men in trying to save a hair ribbon belonging to one of the party, got a severe wetting. The young ladies were very much alarmed but think that much praise is due him for his gallant efforts.

Mr. Stafford McNeil has been working in Quebec is once more in our midst.

Mr. Chas. Duff paid us a flying visit last week.

Black Cape

(Too late for last issue.)

Hay making is now brisk in our little village but it is rather poor. New potatoes are now in the market but are sorry to say they are rather small.

Mr. McWhirter left here on Saturday last for Campbellton on business.

Mr. William Cers has made a fine improvement on his house by giving it a coat of paint.

Mrs. Ed. Steel has returned from New Carlisle where she has spent the last two weeks visiting friends.

We are glad to hear that Mr. Marcell is going to visit his county shortly. He has been successful in this county in the past four years.

A government steamer was in New Richmond on Saturday last for a few hours.

Admiral Togo Sends in Report on Recent Engagement

Tokio, Aug. 12.—Admiral Togo has reported as follows:

On Aug. 10th our combined fleets attacked the enemy's fleet near Guan Rock. The Russian vessels were emerging from Port Arthur trying to go south. We pursued the enemy to the eastward.

Severe fighting lasted from 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon until sundown.

Toward the close the enemy's fire weakened remarkably. His formation became confused and then his ships scattered.

The Russian cruisers Askold and Novik and several torpedo boat destroyers fled to the southward. Other of the enemy's ships retreated separately toward Port Arthur. We pursued them and it appears that we inflicted considerable damage.

We found life buoys and other articles belonging to the Russian battleship Czarévitch floating at sea. The Czarévitch probably was sunk.

We have received no reports from the torpedo boats and the torpedo boat destroyers which were engaged in the attack on the ships of the enemy.

The Russian vessels, with the exception of the Askold, the Novik, the Czarévitch and the Cruiser Pallada appear to have returned to Port Arthur. Our damage was slight. Our fighting power has not been impaired.

Windsor Salt Cheese
is prepared especially for cheese making — dissolves evenly, stays in the curd, takes less to properly season the cheese, and makes a smooth, rich, first-quality cheese that keeps perfectly.

"Setting" is one of the most important parts of cheese-making. Do it right with WINDSOR SALT.

Chee Foo, Aug. 13th.—A late report from Tsingchow says that the Russian warships still there are the battleship Czarévitch, the protected cruisers Pallada and Novik and three torpedo boat destroyers.

The Czarévitch, which is badly damaged, is being repaired with German assistance it is alleged.

A report has also been received here to the effect that Admiral Witthoft was killed in the naval battle off Round Island last Wednesday.

A strong detachment of Japanese warships is reported to have sailed south for the purpose of intercepting the Vladivostok fleet which it is believed has not yet effected a junction with the vessels reported to have been purchased by Russia from the Argentine Government.

Shanghai, Aug. 12.—The Russian protected cruiser Askold arrived at Woosung to-day with her fifth funnel gone close to the deck, all the funnels riddled with shell holes, one gun on the port side dismounted and several large shell holes above the waterline. One Lieutenant and eleven men had been killed and fifty men wounded.

Washington, Aug. 12.—The Japanese legation has received a revised list of casualties on the Japanese side from the battle of Ching-jiu March 28 up to and including the battle of Yangtselling Aug. 1, showing the total estimated casualties to be 12,035.

The largest losses resulted from the battles of Kinchou and Nanshan when 33 officers and 716 men were killed and 3,455 men wounded.

Killed—Officers 54, men 1,500 wounded, officers 96, men 3,350, to which are added the estimated casualties for some of the engagements amounting to 4,066, making the grand total of 12,035.

Vladivostok Squadron
Founded
Tokio Aug. 14, 4 p. m.—Vice-Admiral Kamimura encountered the Russian Vladivostok squadron at dawn to-day north of Tsu Island in the Strait of Korea and attacked the enemy at once. The Russian cruiser Kurik was sunk and the cruiser Rossia and Gromobol fled to the northward having sustained serious damage.

Vice-Admiral Kamimura cables the navy department that the injuries inflicted upon his vessels were slight.

The fate of the crew of the Rurik is not known. It is presumed that many of them were killed or drowned. The strength of the fleet under Vice-Admiral Kamimura is not known, but it is presumed that he had the Adsuma, Idsumo, Iwate, Takashio and other light cruisers.

Tokio is joyous over the news as it gives Japan mastery of the sea and restores commerce.

CZAR'S BABY HAILED AS A MASCOT

Little Alexis Is Going to Whack the Japs in Short Order

St. Petersburg, Aug. 13th.—With all the newspapers this morning hail the advent of an heir to the throne with congratulatory editorials. They characterize the action of the Russian fleet at Port Arthur in breaking through the Japanese cordon as a great success, a fitting accompaniment to the birth of the child who will some time rule all the Russians and whose coming marks a turn in the tide of war which henceforth will roll on to ultimate and certain victory.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 13th.—This morning's bulletin from Alexandra villa at Petershoff announces that the condition of the Empress and the heir appears to be very satisfactory.

St. Petersburg Aug. 13th.—The news of the death of the Rear Admiral Witthoft and the failure of the Port Arthur squadron to break through the Japanese fleet was not known this morning when the brilliant array of officers and diplomats assembled in the magnificent Kasan Cathedral to attend the Te Deum in honor of the birth of the heir apparent, Alexis. The stately edifice adorned with military and naval trophies, colors, eagles and keys of captured fortresses, was filled with ambassadors, generals, admirals and court and government functionaries. The Grand Duke Alexis, wearing the resplendent uniform of a high admiral occupied the chief place as the god father selected by the emperor on his first born son and as a compliment to the much tried navy. The metropolitan read to the congregation the manifesto announcing the birth and then the whole assembly bended knee as the prelate invoked God's blessing on the future emperor. Veteran Warriors were standing with emotion and many persons wept and prayed audibly: "May the Almighty send him many years of happiness." The congregation dispersed amid the sounds of bells ringing from all the churches. Similar services were held throughout the empire: the priest in each case reading out the manifesto announcing the birth of the heir apparent.

Pneumonia is Filling the Hospitals.

Every day we hear of someone being taken with pneumonia. The only preventive is to get strong and keep your body healthy. Take Ferrozone which makes the rich red kind of blood that nourishes and stimulates the entire system. I was all run down and an apt subject for pneumonia, writes A. B. Charters of Burlington, when I tried Ferrozone. I didn't believe it was possible for Ferrozone to build me up so quickly. In a few days my appetite improved, color came into my cheeks and I felt stronger. I gained eight pounds and regained my old time vigor through using Ferrozone. Try Ferrozone! It assures health. Price 50c.

Bathurst Village Bridge
Nearing Completion.

BATHURST PERSONALS.

Events Weekly Budget
From the Gloucester
County Seat.

Mr. H. White, proprietor of the White House, has greatly improved his hotel premises by building a large and substantial wharf along the water line. The work of construction has been under the supervision of Mr. Samuel LeBlanc.

We are delighted to notice that the Contractor, Mr. Smythe, is rapidly progressing with the repairs to the Village bridge, which is already taking on a finished appearance showing that the work is being creditably done.

Mr. A. J. Webster, Manager of the Caraqueet Railway, has returned from Toronto. We understand that the new Company intend to make immediate repairs to the road bed and also to equip the road with all the necessary rolling stock required for an up-to-date service.

Miss Gertie Baldwin was visiting in Grand Anse last week, the guest of Miss Flora Dumas.

Miss Jennie Cowan, of Pokemouche, who has been visiting Miss Gertie Leakey, returned to her home this morning.

Miss Wheeler, of Newcastle, has been visiting at Bathurst the guest of Mrs. P. J. Burns.

Mr. Eddie Melanson, another of our popular and promising young men, left on the Maritime Express Monday night for Montreal to take a position with the Canadian Locomotive and Machine Co. His many friends who regret his departure wish Eddie speedy promotion in his new occupation.

Miss Gussie Kelly, who has been spending some time with friends in Bathurst, returned to her home in Chatham on Saturday morning last.

The Electric Light and Power Co. were obliged to change the location of their dam on the Teteagouche River in order to get a good bottom. The present site is one mile further up the river and is pronounced to be a very desirable location. The mistake, however, in not finding the proper site at the commencement has certainly proved a costly disappointment to the promoters of the enterprise who share the sympathy of our town's people.

Mr. F. G. Foster, of Fredericton, was visiting friends in Bathurst last week.

A schooner of molasses consigned to J. H. Harris, of Moncton, was landed at Sumner & Co's wharf last week, having been previously sold to the different merchants of town and Village.

Wedding at Bathurst.

FRASER-BURNS.

(Special to Events.)

An event of very pleasing importance to a large circle of friends and acquaintances took place in the Catholic Presbytery on Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 17th, when Mr. Thos. Fraser of Halifax was united in marriage to Miss Helen Burns of this place. The nuptial knot was tied by the Rev. Father Martin, Parish Priest, in the presence of Mrs. Jas. P. Byrne, who acted as matron of honor. The bride, who was unattended, presented a charming appearance attired in a traveling costume of blue etamine goods with hat to match, and carrying a shower bouquet of American beauty roses, with maiden's hair fern.

After the ceremony the bridal party entered a carriage and were driven to the family residence of the bride, where after an informal reception a light luncheon was served at which the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present. The dining hall and tables presented a very beautiful effect from shades of pale green, pink and white, relieved at intervals by flowers and smilax which added much in lending a vision of enchantment to the scene.

The gifts of the bride were numerous, costly and beautiful and included a set of mink furs from the groom.

The happy couple who left by the Ocean Limited to spend their honeymoon in Montreal, were given a good send off by their friends who showered them with profusely rice and wishes of "Bon Voyage."

Mr. and Mrs. Fraser will spend Sunday at Bathurst, returning from Montreal by the Ocean Limited on Saturday.

ALCOHOL KILLED THIS RED MAN

Indian Procured Bottle, From Effect of Which He and His Wife Died

Rogersville Aug. 12.—Joseph Ginnish, an Indian, camped about a mile from Rogersville Station with his wife and family procured three bottles of alcohol on Tuesday morning, 9th inst., from the effects of drinking which his wife died before medical aid could be summoned. It is said the man's death is only the matter of a little time. It was a very sad sight. The Indian woman died outside the little hut they occupied while her husband lay stupified. There was also a boy 6 months old, and three other small children. The woman died Wednesday morning and lay out until last night when they buried her. She lay on the ground as she died until last evening when the body was put in a coffin and buried. It is said to be known from whom the liquor was obtained and the case should call for thorough investigation.—Advocate.

MONKEY AND PARROT.

What Did the Man Do With the Switch From the Tree?

"If you will step into the pantry and get me some cake I will give you this fine gold watch to wear," said the parrot to the monkey, holding up a beautiful watch for the monkey to admire. So the monkey ran into the house and into the pantry and got cake covered with sugar and gave it to the parrot.

GAVE THE CAKE TO THE PARROT.

not, for he felt that it would be a very grand thing indeed to have a watch to wear.

He placed the chain about his neck and walked up and down the garden, feeling very proud of his new possession. He liked to hear it tick, he liked to see the little hand go bobbing around, and he liked to wind the stem of the watch when it ran down.

While he was thus enjoying himself who should come along but his master. "Oh, ho!" sang out the man. "Se you are the young rascal who stole my fine watch that my wife gave me for a Christmas present?"

He grabbed poor monkey by the back of the neck and took the watch from him. Then the man broke a little switch from a tree, and what do you suppose he did with it? All the bad little boys and girls know, and I shall not tell the good ones.—Exchange.

A BEAR HUNT.

Do You Think the Man With the Knife Got the Big Grizzly?

When papa puts his pipe away an' takes me on his knee I know he's got a story that he wants to tell to me. I put my arms round his neck an' hug him tight an' good. Fer that's his pay. He wants it first. That's always understood. It's always 'bout a little boy jest 'sactly big ez me who's got a pony, got a dog, a gun an' things, you see, who kills some Injuns on the plains an' goes an' traps an' hunts, who shoots big bears an' butterflies an' never misses once. He goes out in the woods alone an' travels through the day an' builds a fire up ev'ry night to keep the wolves away, then in the morning takes his gun an' finds a grizzly's den an' chases bears fer miles an' miles, a-shootin' now an' then. At last he gets one up a tree an' walks around an' 'round an' shoots his powder all away, an' then the bear comes down. So next the fellow takes his knife without a bit o' fear—an' then I get so sleepy that's 'bout all I ever hear. Then in the morning I wake an' find myself in bed I git to wonderin' if the bear is 'live or if he's dead. I look around fer daddy, but can't see him anywhere. An' so I holter mighty loud, "Pop, did he git the bear?"—Exchange.

Walked Up Alive.

A very interesting bird is one which follows the trade of a plasterer—the hornbill.

It makes its home in faroff Africa, and this home is in the trunk of a hollow tree. You see, monkeys run wild in this country, and there is nothing they like better than hornbill eggs for breakfast, so in order to save the lives of her young the mother hornbill consents to—what do you think? To be walked up alive!

She and her mate select a suitable tree and work together, plastering up with mud any opening there may be in the trunk. Having made it small enough to only just admit the passage of her body, the mother hornbill goes in, and her mate continues plastering until there is only a little round hole left, enough for him to put in the tip of his beak. Through this he passes in food to the mother while she is hatching her eggs and rearing her babies; nor do the latter get out into the light and air until they have donned their first suit of feathers. Then the door of the nursery is broken down, and the family begins to enjoy free life again.

About Marmosets.

Marmosets are too expensive and too delicate to make very good pets for children, but they are the cunningest little things in the world. Probably you have seen them in the animal stores. They are very, very small monkeys, you know, and come from South America. As to disposition, they are both gentle, tame and intelligent. As you know, they are only the size of squirrels, but their faces are owl-like and wise.

That Was Different.

When naughty Jim pulled Jenny's braid Woe State laughed (the jolly maid); "Oh, what a naughty thing to do! Tee-hee, tee-hee, tee-hee!"

But when Jim twined at Sue's own curl She cried (the innocent girl); "Oh, what a naughty thing to do! Boo-hoo, boo-hoo, boo-hoo!"

"No Place At Home"

I met him on the street corner—a bright, black-eyed lad of perhaps fourteen summers. I had seen him there evening after evening, and wondered whether there was no one who knew the temptations he encountered.

I made friends with him and won his confidence. Then I questioned him kindly in regard to his spending so much time in the street.

"I know," he said, looking up at me in such a frank, winning way that I could not help thinking what a noble man he might make, "the street is not the best place, for a boy, but you see there's no place for me at home."

"How is that?" I asked. I was surprised and pained at the answer.

"Well, I have two grown up sisters, and they entertain company in the parlour every evening. They give me to understand that I am 'a third party,' and not wanted. Then, papa is always tired and he dozes in the sitting room and does not like to be disturbed. Its pretty lonesome, you see, so I come here. It was not always so," he went on, "before grandma died I always went up to her room and had a jolly time. Grandma always liked boys."

There was a quiver in the voice now that told of a sorrow that had not been healed.

"But your mother?" I suggested. "Oh, mamma!—she is only a reformer, and has no time to spend with me. She is always visiting the prisons and the work houses trying to reform the men, or writing articles on how to save the boys."

"And her own boy in danger?" "Yes, I am not half as good as I was before grandma died. I am getting rough, I am afraid. There does not seem to be anyone to take an interest in me, so it does not much matter."

It was hard, bitter truth; and yet I knew that this was not the only boy that needed a wise gentle hand to guide him through the dangerous period.

Oh mothers! are you blind, that you cannot see the danger of your own, but looks for that of others?

Make home the brightest spot on earth for your children. Take an interest in their sports; make yourself young for their sakes, and then you can feel you have done your whole duty.

I think the saddest most hopeless thing I ever heard from a boy's lips was that sentence "There is no place for me at home," God forgive that mother and open her eyes before it is too late, and help other mothers to heed the warning!

How is it mothers? Are your boys in danger? Think over this ponder over it, pray over it.

JACQUET RIVER

Rev. Father Purcell of this place went to Campbellton last week to meet the representation of the Pope in this country. His Excellency Arch-Bishop Sheerdt. Father Purcell returned on Friday accompanied by his friend Rev. Father Campbell of Barnaby River.

Both Rev. Gentlemen speak highly of the kindness and amiability of His Excellency. Father Campbell was for some years a pupil of His Excellency in the famous College of the Propaganda at Rome.

At the regular meeting of St. Gabriel's Roman Catholic Temperance Society held on the evening of Aug. 7th, it was moved by Spiritual Director Rev. W. F. Purcell, seconded by Treasurer A. J. Melanson and unanimously adopted:—

Whereas it has pleased Almighty God to remove from this life our brother Stephen Firlotte,—

Resolved that we the members of this society desire to express our sincere sympathy and condolence to his father our vice-president and to his brother Peter Firlotte jr also a member of our society and to the other members of the family. Further Resolved that this society attend in a body the funeral of our late brother and that this resolution be spread on the minutes of this meeting and published in the Campbellton Events.
