Predict an Early Dissolution of Parliament

And Anticipate Their Own Return to Place and Power.

Radicals Anxious for Prompt Action Against the House of Lords.

Mr. Gladstone Coming Back to Hawarden Wednesday.

Lord Rosebery's First Ecclesiastical Coal Miners' Strike.

LONDON, April 8 .- The political situation has taken an unexpected turn, and the Conservatives confidently predict that and spent the most of his time while there Parliament will be dissolved within the in endeavoring to evangelize the negroes. present month. The Tories may be over sanguine, but their prediction is by no means an extravagant one in view of the United States some years ago. present aspect of things. The Liberals themselves admit that a crisis may be precipitated any day, and after their experience of Thursday they no longer attempt to conceal their appreciation of their precarious hold upon Parliament. Of course, any further defeat will involve the resignation of the Minstry, and the Opposition are looking forward with feelings of the atmost confidence to the next appeal to the country, which they believe will result in the return of a Conservative majority. THURSDAY NIGHT'S SURPRISE.

The normal Government majority of 36 was reduced on Thursday night to 24 through the absence of some of the Parnellite members, who have recently been spending their time in Dublin quarreling Sovernment's lukewarmness toward the home rule question. Three Liberals were also absent and not paired. This would not have rendered the position so critical. but the successive divisions taken in the House that night show that the Liberal whips cannot with any degree of certainty rely upon their mon responding promptly, if at all, to their summons. From the 24 mentioned, the Government's majority dropped to 18 through absenteeism, then to 15, and was finally wiped out in the division on the East London Water Bill. The Liberals made a great outcry of dissension on the part of the McCarthyites, but this was disproved by an analysis of the votes, which disclosed the fact that THE M'CARTHYITES STOOD BY THEIR GUNS and that the dwindling majority was caused by the abstention of the Radicals from taking part in the division. The ratio of the vote of the McCarthyites exexceeded that of the Liberals. The discontent has so nearly reached the point of revolt that the Government is extremely unwilling to take the risk of seeking majority on Mr. James Henry Daiziel's motion to abolish the veto power of the House of Lords. Fearing to test the sense of the House on the question the Government have practically wiped out Mr. Dalziel's motion by the appropriation of the day set for it, consideration to discussion of the private members' bills and Government business. This change of the programme will be made on motion of Mr. John Mor-

A very large majority of the Liberal members are eager for immediate action grievances by arbitration, they ought to against the House of Lords and earnestly desire to obtain an expressive opinion on the subject on the part of such as will sup- "IF I SHOULD DIE TO-NIGHT." port the Government, but the Ministers are not so eager. Just now they are anxious Ben King, Poet and Humorist, Found for delay, and will make every effort to secure it. Last evening Sir William Har-court and Mr. John Morley were very active in canvassing the House in this matter and endeavored by private conversations to induce the irreconcilable Radical members to submit to the waiting policy of the Government and acquiesce in the shunting of Mr. Dalziel's motion until some more opportune time. Instead of meeting with any success in their campaign Messrs. Harcourt and Morley were met on all sides with the Radical ultimatum that time must be given to the anti-Lords motion and given in the very near future, too.

THE TORIES ON THE QUI VIVE. The Conservatives are watching their chances in the defection of the Radicals -a chance which they believe will not be long delayed. Their whips are active, energetic and untiring. The normal Conservative voting strength in the House has been considerably augmented by the attendance of members who are seldom seen in their seats, and besides this a full force of Unionists is on hand he Liberals on any division that may the Liberal party. It is possible, however, that some, or all of them, may receive assistance in carrying out their fight at a general election, but otherwise not one of them is a beneficiary of the Liberal fund. It is a matter well known to those who have had an opportunity to learn the facts that both the Parnellites and McCarthyites have absolutely clean personal and party records as regards their relations with the English parties, and no member of either of the English parties would dream of asserting otherwise. Mr. Gladstone will return to Hawarden on April II. The cataract on his eye has so far advanced toward the condition necessary for surgical treatment that the operation on it will probably be performed in May. Dr. Nettleship, the celebrated opthalmist, will visit him at Hawarden twice a week.

> THE PREMIER'S CANDIDATE FOR THE DERBY. Lord Rosebery's bay filly Ladas stands in an excellent position in the torecasts of the Derby, and his bay filly Orle is a candidate for victory in the Thousand Guineas and the Oaks and is heavily backed. His lordship's chestnut colt Ravelston, also entered in the Derby, has recently lost favor. Ladas is a favorite with many, and if she should win the Derby it would greatly enhance the Premier's popularity. The Social Purity Association is reported to be engaged in shadowing nightly the movements of a number of prominent members of the House of Commons, Cabinet officers and other distinguished personages, and their detectives have been among themselves and denouncing the instructed to keep a minute record of every. thing they discover bearing on the morals of the persons shadowed. This information is being gathered with a view to its use in the next general election. A minor society paper mentions Lord Rosebery as having recently taken a midnight saunter through the remote quarters of Islington and Camberwell, whicher he had gone to study the social undercurrents.

TO CHECKMATE FRANCE AND BELGIUM. An English African expedition is to be undertaken with a view of checkmating the designs of France and Belgium, who are aiming to obtain access to the Upper Nile. The English expedition is Upper Nile and will reach the objective point before any expedition from Uganda can get there. It is likely that before Commander Monteil's exgedition starts from Uganda, in May, the whole of Unyoro and Emin's province will have been brought 2,200 miles of the Commercial Cable Cominto the British sphere. The expedition will start from Lando, north of the from London on Wednesday with 500 equatorial province, and Colonel Colville, miles of the first section on board. The its commander, has been given the very principal portion of this is of a very heavy widest scope of action.

ANOTHER STRIKE IMPENDING. A renewal of the coal miners' strike is impending. The representatives of the miners on the conciliation board resent the action of President Shands in giving his take on board the second or deep sea seccasting vote against the demands of the men, fixing the minimum rate of wager, pected the cable will be completed July 1. regulating the selling prices and permitting them to inquire into profits of owners. For this action Mr. Shands is denounced as an aristocrat, humbug, too!, etc. The concensus of public opinion is that as the miners accepted the proposal to settle their abide by the decision of the arbitrators.

Dead in Bed After Reciting Ris Poem Thus Entitled.

Bowling Green, Ky., April 9.—The clerk of the Moorhead House found Ben King, the Michigan poet and humorist, dead in bed Saturday morning.

King appeared at the opera house last night with Opie Read, and retired apparently in the best of health. Death is supposed to have been caused by heart disease. King's joviality last night was even more marked than usual. There was an immense audience to hear him and Read, and the former never appeared to greater advantage, quite captivating his hearers.

Friday night at the supper given by the local press to Read and King, one of the party remarked that there were just thirteen at the table. Mr. King, professedly very much excited, but evidently in jest, jumped up and declared that he would not again seat himself until another guest was provided and the unlucky number broken. Another singular coincidence is found in the fact that on the same occasion he recited his poem entitled "If I Should Die To-Night."

York Is Business-Like - A Royal "Header"-The Belgian Mystery-Dectors Wanted in Russia.

London, April 9 .- An important discovery has just been made by M. de Morgan, director-general of the "Service des Antiquities Egyptiennes," in connection with the pyramid of Dashour.

Relying on a passage in Herodotus, M. de Morgan devoted all his energies to the study of this pyramid, which is situated at a distince of 36 kilometers from Cairo. It has been the object of various searches, but none of them has produced results which can be compared with the discovery of M. de Morgan. The inscriptions state that this is the treasure of the Princes Ousertesen II. and Ousertesen III. It consists of thirteen funerary chambers, the mummies of which have not yet been moved; of a breastplate in massive gold bearing the cartouche of Ousertesen II., the hieroglyphics of which are made of cornelian, lapis-lazuli and turquoise; a collection of small gold bivalve shell, with which the Egyptians loved to ador; themselves; of bracelets in gold set with stones, a scarabeus in amethyst, a tiger's paw in gold, a lotus ornamented with stones, a lion couchant after the fashion of the Sphinx, a gold and silver mirror, some pins a considerable quantity of pearls, amethysts and other precious stones.

Tiese treasures have been for the last tew days on exhibition at the museum at Ghiseh. M. de Morgan has at present only explored the north part of the pyramid of Daslour; the south part is still intact. He expects to find in the latter the royal chanber, where he will no doubt discover stillmoro extensive treasures.

ON TO WASHINGTON

Coxey's Crowd Pressing On Under Difficulties.

The Advance Guard Captured by Washington Police and Locked Up.

BROWNSVILLE, April 8 - Yesterday's terrible march through the mud and rain seemed to have little effect upon the battalion of 280 men under Coxey's lead as they started out this morning, but they were very tired on their arrival at Camp

Chicago here. This camp is only such in name as the town councils of Brownsville and Bridgeport, just adjoining, secured two halls in which to quarter the men. To-morrow the march into the mountains begins, the army reaching Uniontown by evening unless some trouble occur in the disorderly coke regions. Since the outbreak Saturday morning, there have been but two recruits added. A REPULSE. WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8 .- The advance guard of Coxey's army, 41 in number, got within two miles of Washington last evening and were taken in charge by the police and locked up. They came in on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in freight cars. ASSUMING A SERIOUS LOOK. The burlesque features of the Coxey tramp march on Washington disappear as accounts reach the capital that bodies of men called into existence by the Coxey manifesto are actually likely to arrive within the next few days, some of them having in fact already arrived. Whether the tramps to be turned loose here number hundreds or thousands, the anarchistic feature of the movement is recognized by the authorities and measures commensurate with the emergency will be taken. The efforts of the authorities will be directed to securing the leaders and giving them a dose of district law, leaving their misguided followers to be dealt with as leniently as circumstances may allow. THE CALIFORNIA BRANCH. SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, April 9 .- The industrial army, over 1,000 strong, reached Ogden ast night. As the Union Pacific declined to carry them except at full passenger rates, and the citizens of that place called upon Gov. West for protection, he sent 200 military and police to Ogden and they are new guarding the army, which is incamped near the depot.

St. Paul's Reopened.

Hundreds Are Turned Away at Each

Bishop Baldwin Preaches a Brilliant but Practical Sermon.

Interesting Reminiscences-The Church In Early Days-The Early Ministers of St. Paul's-Special Musical Services-Sermens by Principal Miller, city, and Bishop Sweatman, of Toronto.

The chimes of new St. Paul's rang out a merry and cheery welcome in the bright, clear air of yesterday morning to the vast thongs who were crowding to participate in the matin service of praise on the restoration of the cathedral. Scarcely had the bells stopped pealing when, led by the sweet-voiced choir of 70 voices, a congregation of nearly 2,000 people joined. heartily in the words:

We love the place. O God, Wherein thine honor dwells.

And so St. Paul's was reopened. It was impossible to get near the doors at church time in the morning, and hundreds were content to stand in the aisles inside, while the hallway leading into the synod hall held quite a small congregation. The scene was repeated in the afternoon and at night many were present before the verger opened the doors. At 6:30 the tide had turned, and hundreds upon hundreds turned away, finding it impossible even to get in. Pretty as the edifice looks from the interior in day light with the sun streaming through the cathedral windows, it is none the less pretty when viewed from the outside after dark, with the vast incandescent glow illuminating the place and showing up in oold relief every inch of the 4,000 feet of colored glass contained in the building.

The clergymen present were: Right Rev. M. S. Baldwin, D.D., Bishop of Huron; Right Rev. Lord Bishop Sweatman, Toronto; Dean Innes, Canon J. B. Richardson, Canon J. W. P. Smith, Canon Davis, city; Canon W. A. Young, Simcoe; Principal Miller, Huron College; Prof. Andras, Huron College; Rev. J. O. Crisp, curate; Rev. J. P. Cullen, Brantford; Rev. Jacobs, Sarnia; Rev. R. Hicks, Simcoe (formerly curate at St. Paul's), and Rev.

W. E. Scott, Ridgetown. The service was divided among the visiting clergy, and the sermon was preached by the Bishop of Huron, who chose as his text, II. Timothy, ii., 19: "Nevertheless, the foundations of God standeth sure, having this seal; the Lord knoweth them that are his. And let everyone that nameth the name of Christ depart from iniquity." HISTORICAL RESUME. The bishop, in beginning, referred to London's early history, beginning at the time when Gov. Simcoe first explored this section in 1793. In part, he said: "In 1812 war broke out between England and the United States, which further retarded progress and helped still more to put back settlement and immigration. From a book published in 1836 we learn that the township of London was settled in 1818, and the town was laid out in 1826 by the crown. The first house built in this place was in the fall of 1827. Turning now to that which most deep y interests us on the present occasion, the history of our own church, I might say that the first clergyman who ever ministered to the members of the Church of England in this locality was the Rev. E. N. Bosworth, who, as far back as 1829, was located here, and serving the few and scattered members of the flock. The remains of his widow are buried in St. Paul's Churchyard. In 1832 the Rev. Benjamiu Cronyn arrived on his way to Adelaide, to which he had been appointed by the then governor. After holding services here on the Sunday, a deputation from the congregation waited on him, begging him to remain with them as their ergyman, for they were at the time atterly without any spiritual guide. Consenting to this, he first conducted services in an old frame school house upon the court house square. In 1835 it was found necessary to erect a more commodious building, and upon the site of the present church a frame church erected, facing towards the south. It is thus described in a book published in 1836: 'The Episcopalian Church, if we except the spire, which is neatest churches in the Province.' It was destroyed by fire on Ash Wednesday, 1844. In 1856 this parish and that of St. Johns, London township, were created rectories, and Mr. Cronyn was appointed rector of them both by a patent from the crown. St. John's, London towship, he resigned in 1842, and that of St. Paul's in 1866. The foundation stone of the present building was laid with great ceremony-the military turning out in force and firing a salute of 24 guns—by the Rev. John Strong, bishop of Toronto, on St. John the Baptist Day, June 24, 1845. The architect employed was Mr. Thomas, of Toronto. The material-that is, the brickwork-was made and burned on the ground where the old frame church had stood. The edifice was completed and opened for divine service in 1846. On July 8, 1857, in this church the first Episcopalian election in Canada took place, when Dr. Cronvn was elected Bishop of Huron and proceeded to England for consecration by the Archbishop of Canterbury. He received the Queen's patent creating the Diocese of Huron and appointing him bishop thereof-probably the last patent over issued directly by the Crown of Great Britain to a colony possessing responsible government. On the resignation of the rectory of St. Paul's by the bishop in 1866 the Very Rev. Dean Helimuth was appointed to the vacant position. During his administration the old chancel was pulled down and a new one built. The organ was removed from the galleries and placed in the chancel and Bishop Cronyn Hall, so long used for diocesan and parochial purposes erected in being read by the present chancellor, Mr. V. Cronyn. "Before concluding this brief outline of the history of this parish I cannot but refer to the eminent services rendered to it by its first rector, George Benjamin Cronyn, the first bishop of this important diocese. It was with the blessing of God on his faithful labors that this parish during a long pastorate of 34 years was built up and made to occupy the prominent position that it does to day. Earnest and Dominion.

its present position. On July 19, 1871, the Very Rev. Dean Hellmuth was elected in this church coadjutor Bishop of Huron with the title Bishop of Northey. On the death of Bishop Cronyn, Sept. 2, 1871, Bishop

Hellmuth resigned the rectory of St.

Paul's, and in October of the same year the present esteemed rector, George

Mignon Innes, was appointed by the bishop to fill his place. It only remains to say that St. Paul's Church was consecrated as Able, calm and definite was his exposition of the Gospel. The benefits of his noble testimony remain as a permanent blessing to the church to-

The anthems sung at each service were fitting to the occasion, and rendered in a manner that reflected great credit on every individual member, and especially Mr. George B. Sippi, F.S.Sc., the organist and choir master.

At the Litany service in the afternoon the sermon was preached by Principal Miller, of Huron College. In the evening the Lord Bishop of Toronto delivered the sermon, taking his text from the singularly appropriate line: "The glory of the latter house shall be greater than the former, saith the Lord of Hosts"-Haggai, ii., 9. The address was thoughtful and scholarly, and in it the preacher referred to the splendor of the new building compared with old St. Paul's, with which he was at one time connected. His close and personal affection was intensified by the memories of many hallowed associations when he used to worship and mingle with the members. He wanted the congregation to shun modern innovations and take pattern by the grand old cathedrals of England, and in ritual and music to be like them. The Bishop of Huron received a kindly-worded acknowledgment of worth from the gitted speaker and Dean Innes was also feelingly referred to and his merits

DISASTER AT PETERSEURG.

Fifteen Men Killed by a Powder Explosion,

And Half as Many More Terribly Irjured.

Petersburg, Va., April 8.—Fully fifteen men were killed and half as many more wounded by an explosion of powder in the fireworks factory of Romain Bros., in this city, yesterday afternoon, a few minutes before 3 o'clock. Just prior to the explosion Mr. Charles N. Romain, the senior member of the firm, Mr. John Bland, the senior member of the tobacco manufacturing firm of Bland Bros. & Wright; Capt. James Tosh, a prominent citizen, and Chas. Bland, of the firm of Bland Bros., were engaged in conversation in the office of the fireworks concern. Fire was discovered in an outbuilding and these gentlemen went to the assistance of the employes and tried to extinguish it by throwing buckets of water on it.

An alarm had been turned in and just as Chief Engineer Farley, of the fire department, drove into the yard the explosion occurred. Messrs. John Bland and Charles Romain were killed instantly and their bodies horribly mangled. Both were members of the city council. Chief Engineer Farley was fatally injured and died in two hours. Capt. Tosh's body was burned almost beyond recognition. The other dead Perkins, William Tyler, John T. Harris, Red Graves and five others not identified. Among the wounded are Charles Short, John Wells and several Italians who will

The fire started in the building about 5 o'clock. An alarm was turned, in and soon afterward followed by a loud explosion. About fitteen minutes thereafter there was a second explosion. These explosions were distinctly heard for over a mile. The fire originated in the fireworks factory of C. N. Romain & Bro., where powder for whistle bombs was made. The flames were quickly communicated to the other buildings used for the manufacture of fireworks, and there were frequent small explosions. It was reported that there was a large quantity of powder stored-exactly where, no one appears to know-in these buildings, and kept the crowd from venturing too near the fire. On the opposite side of the street from the fireworks building, all of which were frame structures, was the trunk factory of Messrs. Romain Bros., and close by were the large brick tobacco factory of Bland Bros. & Wright and the old whisky distillery now unused. All these buildings, with stock and machinery, were burned to the ground, as also a large quantity of lumber. There were three explosions. The first was a small affair. 'As soon as it occured Messrs. Romain, Bland and Tosh rushed into the drying room, and there the second and fatal explosion occurred and they were killed. A number of girls employed in the fireworks factory escaped just before the second explosion.

In 1889 in Lake Erie the Americans caught 144,217,149 pounds, of which 10,189,427 pounds. 427 pounds were white fish, while during the same time the Canadians caught 18,928,-252 pounds, of which 697,893 pounds were white fish. In the same year the Americans employed in the Lake Erie fisheries 2,181; the Canadians 465. This inequality the fishermen claim is due to Canadian restrictions on the business.

Never bear more than one kind of trouble at a time. Some people bear three kinds-all they have had, all they have now, and all they expect to have. -[EDWARD EVERETT HALE.

London, Monday, April 9.

THE LONDON ADVERTISER, with its morn ing and evening editions, covers the ground. With one exception, it is THE ONLY EARLY MORNING DAILY IN ONTARIO, outside of To-

-Only those communications to which the vriters are willing to have their names appended in print will be published in these columns. Neither the writing nor the pubcation of anonymous letters can be justified.

-New fodder cheese is selling in Eastern Ontario at 101 to 11 cents. It is expected that the export business will begin in about a month.

-Mr. Andrew Laidlaw has been enterprising enough to turn his newspaper, the Galt Reformer, into a daily journal. The first number is bright and newsy, and gives evidence that the Daily Reformer has come to stay.

-Every Canadian product is low priced in the old world markets just now. They take what we have to sell if we supply cheaply enough, but not otherwise. Why should we impose heavy taxes for the benefit of a few upon the products we must receive in exchange?

-After the debate on the tariff juggle has been completed to-morrow night, or early Wednesday morning, the Finance Minister will proceed to revise the revision. He is plainly told by the organs of the "Protectionists" that in so far as he has made any changes that affects them he nust be prepared to crawl down the tree.

-The debt of the Dominion increases. According to the official returns, the total net debt of the country on 31st of March last was $240,189,703, against $237,613,602 at the same date last year. In 1878, when the Mackenzie Government went out of power, the total debt was $140,362,069, which, despite the greatly increased taxes paid every year, has since been increased by $100,000,000.

-The oil duties are still being canvassed in the Dominion Parliament, Mr. Davies, of Prince Edward Island, on Friday night produced an actual invoice of a cargo of kerosene oil imported into St. John, N. B., recently, and valued at $2,785, on which a duty of $4,972 was paid. It is probable that when the tariff is considered in committee a determined attempt will be made to secure a reduction of these duties. Invoices like those produced are hard nuts for the "protectionists" to crack.

-Under the new Dominion Insolvency Bill which is now before Parliament it is provided that farmers can avail themselves of its provisions. In their case, however, recourse to the law must be voluntary, and no demand for assignment can be made upon them. This is a following out of the English act. It is recognized that if the creditors of a farmer had the right to compel him to assign at will serious results might ensue, especially if the interference took place during a time when the crops required immediate attention.

-The Bishop of Manchester frankly acknowledges that the labor problem is preminently the question of the day. This is his apology for discussing the question of the "living wage." He accepts the claim that wages should be determined by the wants of the worker and holds that this view is sustained by Christian principles. "What the workers really mean by a living wage," comments the London Chronicle on this declaration, "is the living principle that wages shall govern contracts and not contracts wages." It was for this principle that the English miners struggled so bravely through the recent lockout. Governments an example to private individuals when that system prevails.

. - . FARMERS' TARIFF.

Toronto News.1 It has been asserted that the amended tariff is in the interest of the farmers. This assertion Col. O'Brien (Conservative) undertook to disprove in the Commons yester-his task. The member for Muskoka showed that the new duties on reapers, mowers and drain tiles are 20 per cent; on wagons, 25 per cent; on threshing machines, harness, nails and pumps 30 per cent; on horse spades and shovels, 35 per cent. These facts are a sledge-hammer blow to the theory that the new scale of taxation hose engaged in tilling the soil.

THE CAT OUT OF THE BAG. While in some parts of the Province the anti-Mowat missionaries are preaching that they have no sympathy with the men that they assisted to send to the House of Commons in Ottawa, and refuse to be in any sense responsible for their misdeeds. Mr. Marter, who is Mr. Meredith's new lieutenant, is less inclined to conceal the facts. While in Lambton recently, the man who is now out with Muskoka, and is roaming the Province in search of a seat, was candid enough to remark that "if the Conservatives had control of the Province they could greatly assist their friends in the Dominion House." This bold bid for a unity of forces will no doubt put independent electors on their guard. Such a combination has been tried before, and came nearly being successful at a time when the Brawling Brood of Bribers attempted to purchase with Dominion bills a majority in the Legislature. Their object then was, as now, the control and expenditure of the Ontario surplus, the seizure of Ontario's rich resources. The assistance these "Dominion House" friends looked for, and would get, is the right to manage Ontario's mineral, timber and other resources as they have managed those of the Dominion. Is it not notorious that at Ottawa the first care of the men in power is to help "friends" by granting them public property, practically at their own terms, whereas the rule of Sir Oliver Mowat and his Ministers is to dispose of no public property except by public tender. The contemplated grab game which Mr. Marter foreshadows would cost the Ontario taxpayers a pretty penny. Surely they have too

British land owners are beginning to look more to the masses than to the classes for relief from the unprofitable holding of large farms. While foreign wars impaired the producing capacity of their rivals, the British landlords took little stock in the small farmer class. They added farm to farm, and squeezed out the crofter with a relentlessness that caused much hardship at the time, though to this treatment Canada and other new countries owe many of their most energetic and successful pioneers. But for the amalgamating of the small farms, and the driving away of those whose ancestors had brought the soil into subjection. Canada would have been deprived of thousands of her best settlers. At this late day, when war rents are no longer possible, when good tenants for large farms no longer tumble over one another to pay the landlord his price, the landowners appear to realize their mistake. They are now as ready to cut up and sell out in small lots as they were to accumulate and amalgamate 40 or 50 years ago. Lord Ashburton will offer 8,000 acres in lots to suit tenants who desire to become freeholders and to pay for the land in lieu of rent; the Duke of Marlborough has followed suit; and the Earl of Westmorland has put the celebrated Apethorpe estate in Northampton on the market, "either as a whole or in lots to meet the convenience of purchasers." Under the altered conditions it may not be so difficult an operation to get the people back on the land as some

THE TWO VOTERS' LISTS. Everyone outside the small circle of violent anti-Mowat partisans locks upon the new Ontario manhood suffrage registration law as a most important, useful, time and money saving agency. We have always held that it was undesirable that the people should be put to the annual trouble and expense of the revision of the voters' lists when a contest generally takes place but once every four or five years. It is better to have the revision and all the other work incident to the election crowded into the campaign. This will be the case here in the Provincial elections after the revision now in progress. What an advance on the Dominion Franchise Act, which provides for an annual revision, with an enormous waste of time and money, but has only been enforced three times in the nine years it has been on the statute book. Despite the fact that hundreds of thousands of dollars of public money, and probably a greater amount of private funds have been spent on these revisions, no one of them has been finished close to an election, and most incomplete and cumbrous lists, with great possibilities of fraud, have been provided. The demand for a radical change is wide-

THE SAINTS AND THE CURFEW. St. Thomas city council have adopted the curfew bell law, and in future all young and municipal corporations could well set | children who are unattended by parents or guardians must be home at a reasonable giving out work by contract, so long as hour in the evening. The object of the law is a good one. Everybody knows that opportunity to run wild on the streets has been the beginning of the ruin of many a child. The home is the proper place for the young after nightfall, and for this purpose it should be rendered as cheerful as possible, and the child ought to be taught to day, and most thoroughly did he accomplish look to it and its surroundings for enjoyment rather than to street corner haunts. But if, as is unfortunately the case in some instances, children are neglected, the welfare of society demands that the community should take a hand, and aid in the removal blankets, 321 per cent; and on axes, scythes, of opportunities for juvenile wrong-doing. This is the object of the curfew bell, which every municipality afflicted by juvenile has been designed for the special benefit of | nighthawks may enact with positive benefit to all parties concerned

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

The question of the right of woman to vote, even under a restricted franchise, in the election of members for the Dominion Parliament, will be brought before the Dominion House of Commons during the

We fail to see why doubts as to their duty in regard to the question should be entertained by any reasonable man. Women, like men, are consumers of dutiable goods, and one of the chief labors of members of Parliament is to discuss and pass upon tariffs that add or take away from the legitimate earnings of women as well as of men, according as the taxes are levied for revenue only or are "protective" and imposed for the benefit of individuals. Women are also interested in all great moral and social reforms that from time to time, often with little result, occupy the attention of Parliament. What legitimate objection then can a member of Parliament raise to a woman having some voice in the making of the laws which she is compelled to obey, and which may be so constructed as either to increase her comfort or make her lot miserable.

Every Liberal member should vote in favor of a change so manifestly fair and in the interests of the reforms that Liberalism has set before it as worthy of achievement.

THE ENEMIES OF LABOR.

(Toronto Star, labor organ.) The Opposition in the Assembly is not only always found upon the side of corporations which ask legislation that the people oppose, but the Conservative members seem always to stubbornly and blindly oppose all measures the Government offers for the inprovement of the condition and government

For instance, here we find Mr. Meredith opposing the Government bill to provide councils of conciliation and arbitration, saying the bill embodies a dangerous principle in permitting ten men to put an employer to considerable loss and inconvenience in answering a charge which might be unfounded.

The contingency is very remote. The chances are ten to one that the men will be right. But because such an event might occur, are employes who have just complaint to be allowed no remedy? *And the Oppysition leader, when reminded that it is a necessary feature of legal proceedings that unfounded charges may be brought into court, adds that the cost of those proceedings is frequently a deterrant, while this bill provides no such deterrant. He carefully avoids to mention that the cost of legal proceedings frequently prevents just suits being prosecuted, and enables wealthy men and corporations to escape the consequences of wronging their employes. It is singular that while the Federal Conservatives have always championed the cause of the workingman, the same party in the Assembly is always found upon the Bacilli on Its Covers. INDIANAPOLIS, April 8 .- A child of Dr.J. N. Hurty was taken sick with diphtheria March 26 and the parents were so positive that the child had not been exposed to the disease that the father began an investiga-He learned that the child had brought a book home from the library ten days before and he took the book to the office to examine it. It was greasy aid dirty and when put under a glass the print of a child's teeth could be clearly seen on one of the covers. The doctor then begin an examination by using culture medicine and moistening the book with sterilized water at the place where the teeth marks were found. The sterilized platinum neede was then rubbed well around into the spet. The poison, if any, could thus be trarsferred from the book to the culture sol. Within 26 hours along the track of the needle in the culture tubes appeared the grayish white growth which characterizes diphtheria. This growth was, after proper straining, examined under the microsco carefully and exhaustively. The result of the examination was the detection of many of the true Klebsloffler diphtheria bacilli.

He then made cultures directly from the throat of his son and examined them side by side with the cultures made from the suspected book. As far as it was possible to determine by the most rigid study unler the microscope the two cultures were dentical. Dr. Hurty is positive that his son contracted the disease from the book, but the records of the public library, which show the complete circulation of the book since it was rebound in September last, do not seem to justify his conclusion. The book has been in nineteen separate families, and the health records do not show that a case of diphtheria occurred in any of the families or in the immediate vicinity ofany

THE ALERTS IN NEW ARRAY. The patrons of the Alerts will find their favorite nine clothed in a manner becoming their youth and beauty this season. The old red and black uniforms, which were enything but handsome, will be discarded for natty suits of blue, relieved by a dash of white here and there. The club's name will be worked in the latter color across the jerseys. In cold weather white sweaters will be worn. To meet the expense the club has printed books of tickets, which they are selling at a reasonable rate. This is a good chance for their friends to give them practical encouragement.

The Alerts are negotiating with a Detroit professional team for a game here on Dominion Day (July 2). CRICKET.

It was in all respects encouraging. The loan increase of $6,627,900-the largest in many months-means what indeed was evident before, that securities lately purchased in quantity have been guarded by capital, and very largely taken out of the market. Specie and legal tender holdings of the clearing house institutions have decreased $1,114,000, which suggests at any rate a decided check to the eastward flow of idle money. MUSIC AND THE DRAMA.

KEENE TO-MORROW NIGHT, Mr. Thomas W. Keene, now the foremost tragedian of the American stage, will be the attraction at the Grand to-morrow evening, on which occasion Mr. Keene will be seen as Shylock in the "Merchant of Venice." Twelve years service constantly engaged in portraying the leading char-acters in the Shakespearean dramas, certainly gives Mr. Keene a strong claim to popularity and consideration, and wide recognition by the most eminent American critics secures for him a place in the dramatic history of this country among the most illustrious of our tragic actors. He, from the night of his debut, has verified the most sanguine prophecies made by his admirers. He has overcome the natural opposition to all new exponents of classic roles, and the admirers of his originality and vigor have swelled from hundreds into the thousands in every city in this country.

BERING SEA.

The British Bill Creates Adverse Criticism.

After All, However, the Difference is Merely One of Form.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8. - The second reading in the House of Commons of the Bering Sea Bill, which exempts from forfeiture Canadian vessels which had already sailed caused astonishment in the State Department circle.

The exception in the bill, it is contended violates the agreement, and it is said the United States has already asked an explanation.

The matter came to the front in the Senate yesterday, when Mr. Hoare had read the dispatch from London giving the substance of the British regulations which relieve from responsibility any sailor who can prove his departure from port before the scheduled provisions were proposed. Mr. Hoar asked Mr. Morgan for information, saying that if this was true the situation was dangerous and the United States regulations would require remodeling. Mr. Morgan replied that he knew nothing definite.

London, April 8 .- In an interview on the Bering Sea question last evening Baron De Courcel, who presided over the tribunal of arbitration, said the difference between the English and American bills was merely one of form. He felt convinced that both Great Britain and the United States would persist in their intention of giving full effect to the award of the arbitrators.

MERELY A MATTER OF FORM.

Ambassador Bayard said to-day: "The fact is that the United States has passed a bill in accordance with the spirit of the arbitrators, whereas the English bill may be subject to amendment. The first idea was that the two bills were as similar as possible, but some of the Canadians doubtless are displeased."

George Ingram's Funeral.

George Ingram, one of the unfortunate victims of Friday's accident on the Grand Trunk, was buried in Woodland Cemetery yesterday afternoon. The funeral took place from his tather's residence, 1041 Francis street, and long before the hour appointed a ourfous throng gathered about the house and in the roadway. By the time the funeral started the number of rigs and spectators increased to such an extent that the roadway was almost impassable, and the number of these anxious to have a look at the remains of the deceased seemed almost interminable. LOST HIS WAY.

A Little Boy Found Dead Near Cwen Sound-Exhaustion

OWEN Sound, April 9 .- Word of a death under the most distressing circumstances in the township of Sullivan reached here Saturday. Willie, the 5-year-old son of Mr. the Chinese element. Gottfried Belich, strayed away from his home on the fifth concessions on Wednesday forencon. He and two younger brothers went to the adjoining bush shortly before noon. The younger ones returned home about 1 o'clock. Willie, it seems, thought the younger ones were on the wrong road and started home another way. After waiting a few minutes his father started out to search, but, not succeeding, the entire neighborhood was aroused. All that night the country was scoured, but without success. Late in the afternoon the body of the little fellow was found in a field eleven miles from home. He had toddled on and on until, exhausted, he fell, where death overtook him. The event has cast a sadness over the entire community.

IN A FIERY ASYSS.

A Deadly Blaze in a Milwaukee Theater.

The Roof Fell In-Firemen Perish-The Exact Number Not Yet Known.

MILWAUKEE, April 9 .- Fire early this morning destroyed the Davidson Theater and Davidson Hotel. A score of firemen fell through the roof. Nine are reported killed and as many more have been removed to the hospital.

Later-At 4:20 this morning flames were seen breaking out from the rear of the Davidson theater and hotel, a structure valued at $300,000. Immediately on the arrival of the firemen ladders were run up and men rushed up on the roof, six stories from the ground.

The following went down with the roof and were rescued. Lieut. Curran, of Company No. 1, probably fatally injured; Fred Marsh, foot crushed; Fred Schroeder; John Yoe, badly burned and back hurt. The building was used for a theater on the ground floor and rear while the portion above the ground floor to the front was utilized by the Hotel Davidson, with an annex standing to the north, which was not damaged. The burned portion of the hotel was well filled with guests, but they all made their escape without injury, though a panic prevailed. Many of them were in hastily made toilettes or in scarcely anything at all.

The fire originated apparently on the stage. The Liliputians were filling a two weeks' engagement at the house. The members of the insurance fire patrol company were covering up the seats of the parquet when suddenly a little light appeared in the roof above. They ran back just in time to escape the falling roof. They saw the struggling firemen and debris fall into the burning akyss.

THE AGONIZING CRIES of the men could be heard for a short space of time and then they died away as their vitality was overcome. There was no escape for the men who fell on the stage. They fell into a blezing pit and were covered by the debris of the roof.

The entire interior of the magnificent theater soon became a furnace. Just how many fell with the roof is not known, although John Yeo says he thinks there must have been twenty who went down.

of the Liliputians, and of Miner's Theater, New York, will be large. The manager of the company says the scenery and costumes were worth $25,000 and they were totally destroyed. The loss to the Davidson Theater Company will be heavy.

"Turn to the Right.

"Only to give you and the gentlemen vith you a little exercise," my companion answered, with grim humor, and in a severe tone strange in one so young-"than which nothing is more wholesome after a full meal. That, and a lesson in good manners. Maignan," he continued, raising his voice, "if this person has anything more to say. answer him. He is nearer your degree than

And leaving the man to slink away like a whipped dog-for the mean are ever the first to cringe-my friend turned from the window. Meeting my eyes as he went back to his seat, he laughed. "Well," he said, "what do you think?"

"That the ass in the lion's skin is very well till he meets the lion," I answered. He laughed again, and seemed pleased, as I doubt not he was. "Pooh, pooh!" he said. "It passed the time, and I think I am quits with the gentleman now. It I must be riding. Possibly our roads may lie for a while in the same direction, sir? And he looked at me irresolutely. I answered cautiously that I was going to the town of Rosny. "You are not from Paris?" he continued, still looking at me. 'No," I answered. "I am from the south. "From Blois, perhaps?"

I nodded. 'Ah!" he said, making no comment, which somewhat surprised me, all men at this time desiring news, and looking to Blois for it. "I am riding towards Rosny also. Let us be going."

But I noticed that as we got to horse, the man he called Maignan holding his stirrup with much formality, he turned and looked at me more than once with an expression in his eye which I could not interpret; so that, being in an enemy's country, where curiosity was a thing to be deprecated, I began to feel somewhat uneasy. However, as he presently gave way to a fit of laughter, and seemed to be digesting his late diversion at the inn, I thought no more of it, finding him excellent company and a man of surprising information.

Notwithstanding this my spirits began to flag as I approached Rosny; and on such occasions nothing is more trying than the 24 hours. well-meant rallying of a companion ignorant of our trouble, I felt rather relief than regret when he drew rein at four cross-roads a mile or so short of the town, and, announcing that here our paths separated, took a civil leave of me, and went his way with his servants. I dismounted at an inn at the extremity of the town, and, stopping only to arrange my dress and drink a cup of wine, asked the way to the Chateau, which was situate, I learned, no more than a third of a mile away. I went thither on foot by way of an avenue of trees leading up to a drawbridge and gateway. The former was down, but the gates were closed, and all the formalites of a fortress in time of war were observed on my admission, though the garrison appeared to consist only of two or three serving-men and as many foresters. I had leisure after sending in my name to observe that the house was old and partly ruinous, but of great strength, covered in places with ivy, and closely surrounded by woods. A staid-looking page came presently to me, and led me up a narrow staircase a parlor lighted by two windows, look-one into the courtyard, the other tos the town. Here a tall man was waitand came forward. Judge of my surprise when I recognized my acquaintance of the

I felt that his reputation had not belied him-that here was a great man; and reflecting with despair on the in-adequacy of the tale I had to tell him, I paused to consider in what terms I should begin. He soon put an end to this how-ever. "Come, sir," he said with impatience. "I have told you that you may speak out. You should have been here four days ago, as I take it. Now you are

"Tut, tut!" he rejoined frowning. "Is there any other lady in the question? Come, sir, speak out. Where have you left her? This is no affair of gallantry," he continued. the harshness of his demeanor disagreeably surprising me, "that you need beat about the bush. The king intrusted to you a lady, who, I have no hesitatation in telling you now, was in possession of certain State It is known that she escaped safely from Chize and arrived safely at Blois. Where is she?"

"I would to heaven I knew, sir!" I ex-claimed in despair, feeling the painfulness of my position increased a hundredfold by his manner. "I wish to God I did."
"What is this?" he cried in a raised "You do not know where she is?

You jest, M. de Marsac." "It were a sorry jest," I answered, summoning up a rueful smile. And on that, plunging desperately into the story which I have here set down, I narrated the difficulties under which I had raised my escort, the manner of which I came to be robbed of the gold token, how mademoiselle was trepanned, the lucky chance by which I found ner again, and the final disappointment. He listened, but listened throughout with no word of sympathy-rather with impatience, which grew at last into derisive incredulity. When I had done he asked me bluntly what I called myself.

Scarcely understanding what he meant I repeated my name. He answered, rudely and flatly, that it was impossible. "I do not believe it, sir!" he repeated, his brow dark. "You are not the man. You bring neither the lady nor the token, nor anything else by which I can test your story. Nay, sir, do not scowl at me," he continued sharply. "I am the mouthpiece of the King of Navarre, to whom this matter is of the highest importance. I cannot believe that the man whom he would choose would act so. This house you prate of in Blois, for instance, and the room with the two doors? What were you doing while mademoiselle was being re-

"I was engaged with the men of the house," I answered, striving to swallow the anger which all but choked me. "I did what I could. Had the door given way all would have been well."

He looked at me darkly. "That is fine talking!" he said with a sneer. Then he dropped his eyes and seemed for a moment to fall into a brown study, while I stood before him, confounded by this new view of the case, furious, yet not knowing how and upholstered before the rush.

"Come!" he said harshly, after two or three minutes of gloomy reflexion on his part and burning humiliation on mine, "is there anyone here who can identify you, or in any other way confirm your story, sir? Until I know how the matter stands I can do nothing."

I shook my head in sullen shame. I might protest against his brutality, and this judgment of me, but to what purpose while he sheltered himself behind his master? "Stay!" he said presently, with an abrupt gesture of remembrance. "I had nearly forgotten. I have some here who have been lately at the King of Navarre's

Court at St. Jean d'Angely. If you still maintain that you are the M. de Marsac to whom this commission was intrusted, you will doubtless have no objection to seeing them? On this I felt myself placed in a most cruel dilemma. If I refused to submit my case to the proposed ordeal, I stood an imposter confessed. If I consented to see these strangers, it was probable they would not recognize me, and possible that they might deny me in terms calculated to make my position even worse, if that might be hesitated; but, Rosny standing inexorable before me awaiting an answer, I finally consented.

"Good!" he said curtly. "This way if you please. They are here. The latch is tricky. Nay, sir, it is my house." (To be Continued.)

STOPPED THE FUNERAL. A Eusband Charged With Murdering His Wife-He Said It Was

Accidental. NEW YORK, April 8 .- On April 3 Dr. E. W. Thompson, of 302 East Broadway, sent a letter to the coroner's office saying that on the evening of the 1st Mrs. Beggs had been killed by falling and striking her temple against the corner of an iron sink at 71 Mangin street. The doctor went on to explain that the husband of the woman had told him she was sick and weak at the time. She got out of bed to get a drink of water in the kitchen, and slipped and fell against the sink. The woman died after remaining in a comatose condition for

After an investigation, showing that the woman had died of a fractured skull, a burial permit was granted. The funeral was set for Thursday. The rooms were filled with the relatives and friends of the dead woman when the deputy coroner, accompanied by several policemen, reached the house. There was great excitement, and several women became hysterical. Wm. Beggs, aged 21, husband of the dead woman, was arrested charged with her murder. The police claim to have evidence that he killed her with an axe.

CHICAGO, April 7. - In a lecture delivered last night Theodore Westmark, a young Scandinavian who made two explorations of the Congo State, in Central Africa, under the auspices of King Leopold II., of Belgium, accused Henry M. Stanley of having lunched on human flesh to satisfy a morbid curiosity. Mr. Westmark said that at Stanley Pool in 1884, Stanley, curious to know how human flesh would taste, sent his servant Duala to procure a chunk of the native material, but it proved tainted and Duala received a sound drubbing. A second foraging trip after flesh from a native proved more successful. It was fried in butter and served with sauce piquante and mixed pickles, but despite these condiments, Stanley pronounced the flesh to be

A Fine Addition to Her Vast Domain--Triumph for Rhodes.

CAPE Town, April 7 .- The annexation of Pondoland has been effected without firing a shot. The chiefs and people of the newly annexed country are quietly submitting. This is another triumph for the so-called imperial policy of the Hon. Ceeil Rhodes, the Premier of Cape Colony, and is a most important addition to the British domain in South Africa. For eight years past Pondoland has been under an alleged protectorate which was the cause of considerable friction. The country just annexed is described as being one of the most delightful regions in the world, though it has been the scene of considerable lawlessness and many fierce tribal fights. Pondoland has an area of about 3,900 square miles and a native population of about 200,000. The white population is very small.

STEAD'S BOOK.

News Companies Object to the Directory of Chicago's Besorts.

NEW YORK, April 8. - The American and Union news companies have refused to handle W. T. Stead's book, "If Christ Came to Chicago," and have notified their dealers to cancel all orders sent to the publishers in Chicago. "We have refused to sell the book," said the manager of the Union News Company, "because we do not think it proper. In the first place, the title of the book is decidedly objectionable. We look upon it as little short of blasphemous and good people in all parts of the country by thousands agree with us. It seems to us as if the title had been selected merely for the purpose of attracting attention and not because of any special aplication to the subject matter of the book. Another objection is that it not only gives the names of the keepers, but addresses of all the disreputable resorts in Chicago are given, making the volume, among other things, a directory of sin. To attempt to conceal it by a mass of other matter is merely beating about the bush. It is not proper reading to go into a family, and the reputation of the author does not palliate the offense in any way in our opinion. Again, we object to being parties to besmirching people who bappen to own houses in which dives are located. In Mr. Stead's book very many good people who are innocent of any real offense are held up to public gaze as owners of questionable houses. Many of them had their property in the hands of agents and knew nothing at all about the nature of their tenants. There is nothing to be gained by exposing them. We are opposed to any such method of proceeding."

The Debt Rolling Up. (Special to the ADVERTISER.)

OTTAWA, April 6 .- The revenue statement for the nine months of the fiscal year shows the income to be $11,000 more and expenditure $6,000 more. The expected tariff changes caused the revenue from spirits and tobacco, taken out of bond in the last few days before the budget speech, to swell by $500,000 in excess of previous years. The customs also shows an increase of $60,000 during the month. The net public debt is $240,189,000, an increase of $3,000,000 over last year.

My Life Saved—Nine Years a Dys-reptic and Sufferer of Liver Com-plaint—Three Bottles Royal Crown Remedy Effected a Complete Cure
-Now Twelve Years and no Symptom of Return of the Disease-Read for Yourself Mrs. James' Words:

London, Aug. 30, 1889.

It is not only a pleasure but a duty I owe to you and the suffering world that I add my testimony with the many you have already received. Royal Crown Remedy cannot be too highly praised; it has saved my life. For nine years I suffered extremely with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint and could not retain anything at all onmy stomach without excessive vomiting. Erysipelas set in, which confined me to my bed. Doctors could do me no good. I also tried many other plans with no success. I was induced by Mr. Issac Williams to try his medicine, which I did after much persuading. Three bottles completely cured me and for twelve years I had no symptons of return. Your medicine is worthy of praise. I advise all suffering humanity to try it for it is the best. It should be used until the cure is complete.

Christian Associations will be held in London, Eng., June 1 to 6, when it is expected that over 2,000 delegates will be present. On Wednesday, June 6, the Young Men's Christian Association will be 50 years old. The founder, Mr. George Williams, still lives to see the fruit of his labor. There are at present 5,158 associations scattered throughout the world, with a membership of 467,515-truly a vast army enlisted in definite work for young men. Tuesday, June 5, a special service will be held in St. Paul's Cathedral, conducted by the Lord Bishop of Ripon. The corporation of London intend giving the delegates a reception at Guildhall at a cost not to exceed $5,000. The meetings will be held in Royal Albert Hall and will be of worldwide interest. It is hoped that the agreesive Christian effort on behalf of young men throughout the world may be redoubled. It is more than likely that the local association will be represented and some suitable commemoration of the event will be held in this city. The men's popular meeting at Victoria Hall Sunday afternoon was attended by an audience of about 200, who listened to a magnificent address by Rev. J. W. Bell, B.D. of Hamilton, on "The Power of Unconscious Influence." The reverend gentleman pressed the truth on his hearers by means of many apt illustrations, told as only he can tell them, and closed with a tender appeal to the men present to get tuned by coming into touch with Jesus Christ, and so be able to influence their companions Godward. The Crusaders, composed of Messrs. H. H. and B. Rines, with Miss Jessie Rines, sang a number of selections in splendid voice, and added much to the power of the meeting. Their sweet voices told out the gospel story in a very effective way. The popularity of these meetings seems to be on the increase, notwithstanding the fine weather,
