DEATH CLAIMS A CLEVER MAN

Mr. Robt. Park I. P. S. Was One of the City's Most Respected Residents

He Displayed Wonderful
Energy and Patience
During His Illness

The Grim Reaper added to his harvest yesterday by removing, with terrible suddenness, from his sphere of activity, one of the best known and most genuinely loved citizens of the County of Kent in the person of Robert Park, Inspector of Public Schools for West Kent and Chatham.

His death came as a shock to the whole community. As the news of the sad event which occurred at mid-day, spread through the city, in many homes there was felt a genuine regret at the loss of one whose chief efforts had been to sweeten the lives of all with whom he came in contact, for throughout the whole district there was no child or teacher who had not learned to feel the kindness of his disposition and to enjoy the influence of his cheery optimism.

When Inspector Park was taken ill during the Departmental examinations at the Collegiate Institute, it was thought that a few days rest was all that was necessary to effect a recovery. He attended to the clerical duties of his office, and completed the work of the Entrance and Leaving examinations. No one dreamed of the serious outcome until a week ago, when symptoms of Bright's disease appeared. The fatal malady developed very rapidly and Mr. Park was informed of his danger. Up till Friday he directed all the many duties which fall on the Inspector at this season of the year, and left no detail of the year's work incomplete.

The career of the late Inspector was a remarkable one. Born in 1852 at Liverpool, Nova Scotia, he came to Kent County with his parents when a child. With no facilities for education, he left the farm and learned the trade of an iron moulder, becoming a first class mechanic. In this capacity he visited Scotland, England and the United States, and thus by personal experience gained that knowledge of men and affairs which became so characteristic of him. Believing that a different occupation was better suited to his literary tastes, Mr. Park studied for a teacher's certificate and commenced teaching school in Chatham Township. As he taught he studied and unaided secured every grade of standing under the control of the Ontario Department of Education. From rural schools he went to Maripath Public School, where his success gained for him the English mastership of Chatham Collegiate Institute. But again he turned towards the children whom he loved so well and accepted the principalship of Goderich Model school, where he gained a Provincial reputation.

Twelve years ago he was appointed to the Inspectorship of West Kent, and seven years later owing to his universal popularity and marked ability was selected as Inspector of the Public Schools of Chatham in succession to the late Rev. Dr. McColl. During his regime, progress has been the watchword. The schools under his charge have improved by leaps and bounds. Few districts can show such marked improvement in school premises. The school library movement originated in West Kent, and when the regulations for equipment came into force, West Kent was the first to be perfectly equipped. These but serve to show with what earnestness, decision and devotion to his work, Mr. Park attacked the difficult problems of his position and sought to secure for the children under his care, the most complete advantages obtainable under the Public School system. Nor did his interests and efforts stop there. Every teacher felt in the kindly Inspector a friend, and from time to time the presentations made to him showed that the bond of sympathy between them was a substantial one.

In his tastes Mr. Park was modest and unassuming. In all his official relations he was thoroughly systematic, unwaveringly honest and unfailingly independent. He was a wide reader and exceptionally well informed. But it is chiefly for his sound judgment and clear headed advice that he will be remembered as an Inspector. For this reason his opinion was frequently sought and always followed by the Board of Education as well as by the various School Boards throughout the Inspectorate.

In Masonic circles Mr. Park was most prominent. He was a member of Parthenon Lodge, No. 267, A. F. & A. M., Past Principal of Wellington Chapter, No. 46, R. A. M., and had just been elected Presiding Preceptor of Kent Preceptory, No. 4, Knight Templars. In every branch

ERIEAU AGAIN VISITED BY A SAD DROWNING FATALITY

Charles Cain, a Bright Ridgetown Youth Was Suddenly Taken With Cramps While Bathing—An Unfortunate Record of Deaths

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Erieau, Aug. 5.—Again the sombre Angel of Death has visited the foot of the Eau at Government Park—and the first fatality of the season was recorded Saturday.

The circumstances surrounding the tragedy are exceptionally easy. Charles Cain, a young man of 21 years, resident in Ridgetown, came down a week ago to spend his vacation camping at Government Park with Mr. Orendorf. He was on the threshold of manhood—rugged, athletic, healthy. "Charley" was popular with everyone and won a warm place in the hearts of fellow holiday makers. He was a trusted clerk at Craig's store at Ridgetown. He was the elder of two sons who were alike the support and comfort of their mother.

The fate which seemingly selects for itself the brightest marks decreed the holiday should prove his last. On Saturday afternoon, with other pleasure seekers, young Cain went for a swim. An excellent swimmer he was, and for some time he led the aquatic festivities. Then his comrades retired to the neighboring bathhouse at Wair's landing, the young man, calling that he would follow them soon, announced his intention of swimming from the old pier to the new—a distance of some one hundred yards.

When the first of his fellow-bathers re-appeared after retiring, Cain was nowhere to be seen. No sound had been heard, and for a few moments it was thought he might be somewhere in hiding. Then a dread suspicion came over the minds of his fellows and an outcry was raised.

Young Eastlake, a Ridgetown friend, hurriedly procured a neighboring boat and a search was commenced. A silent crowd hurriedly gathered and willing workers volunteered. For hours the weary search continued unavailing. Into the shadows of night, following sunset, efforts were unceasingly continued. Grappling hooks, fishing nets and lines were improvised for dragging, and young swimmers sought to render assistance. But night fell and still their efforts were unavailing.

Yesterday (Sunday) morning the search was renewed. Anxiety had now given place to the sadness of certainty and the work of dragging continued silently, scores of onlookers crowding the pier.

It was not, however, until 11:30 in the morning that the body was located by Mr. Michael Coagrove with a dragging hook, and raised. The young man had drowned in eight feet of water, just beyond the rushes, and about thirty feet from the end of the pier. The suspicion that, being an expert swimmer, he had been held by the treacherous subterranean weeds which have been the death of so many, was unfounded. The body lay in eight feet of clear water, untouched by the dank undergrowth. It was doubled up and the unfortunate young man's hands were crossed over his abdomen, indicating that he had been taken with a sudden cramp.

The remains were removed and the corner and undertaker at Ridgetown notified. Shortly after noon the latter reached the Park and the body was removed to the home of mourning.

It is a tragic and peculiar fact that for several seasons past this portion towards the foot of the Eau has been the scene of an annual drowning tragedy. Last year, Planef readers will remember, that near Gerundy Bay, Mr. Nicholl, near Shrewsbury, who was operating in a gasoline launch, lost his life. The previous year a talented Cleveland violinist, who had been leading an impromptu stringed orchestra of holidaymakers at the Park, lost his life at the same spot by the upsetting of his boat. And the fatal record is said to continue back for five years.

The present drowning marks the first fatality of the season on the Eau.

FELL OVER BRIDGE TOOK HIS CLOTHES

Train Falls Fifty feet Into The River Loire, France
—Passengers Drowned

Angers, France, Aug. 5.—Forty passengers in a third-class railroad car and the engineer of the train were drowned yesterday afternoon in a railroad accident, three miles south-east of this town.

The locomotive of a crowded local train jumped the track when entering the bridge over the River Loire at Les Penes-de-Co. The stone railing gave way, and the engine plunged into the river, 50 feet below, dragging down with it its tender and the baggage and third-class car.

Fortunately no other cars went into the water, as the coupling between the second and third cars broke.

The conductor and fireman were the only persons whose lives were saved. They escaped by swimming.

The third-class car was filled with passengers, but, although part of the roof was blown off by the confined air as it sank, not a single passenger extricated himself, and all were drowned like rats in a trap.

The engineer perished beneath the locomotive.

S. O. S. EXCURSION

The Sons of Scotland excursion to-morrow promises to be a very successful one. The boat will leave the Rankin dock at 7:45 in the morning, and will not leave Belle Isle until 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The excursionists thus have half an hour longer at Belle Isle than usual. The pipers and dancers will arrive from London at 9:30 to-night and will march to the tunes of the bag pipes from the station up town and through the principal streets of the city. Refreshments will be abundantly provided on the boat and an excellent time is assured.

MOTOR CARS COLLIDE.

Five Killed and Two Wounded During Auto Race.

Bordeaux, Aug. 5.—On account of accidents resulting from the efforts of the contestants to make speed, the Government has ordered that the Criterion Cup race come to an end. The cars had still 434 miles to go.

By the collision of two cars, five men were killed and two others mortally wounded. One of the cars was competing in the Criterion Cup race. It collided while running at full speed with a touring car. Among the men killed are the editors of two newspapers.

Ed McEachren is Victim of Peculiar Hold up—Three Men Suspected

Ed. McEachren, of the 4th concession, Dover, came into the city on Thursday to see the sights. Ed. went away from the city at an early hour the next morning, a sadder but a wiser young man. McEachren certainly fell among thieves, but there was no good Samaritan around afterwards to pour balm on his wounded feelings, so he had to trudge home in a pair of worn-out lawn tennis shoes and tell his troubles to his father.

It seems that McEachren was sitting in the Park Hotel Thursday night, when three young men called in and got in a conversation with him. They finally offered to escort him home, but the next thing McEachren knew he was in a box stall back of the hotel, and his three new acquaintances were busy searching his person for valuables. They found two dollars in one of his pockets, but that was all the ready money he had about him. The trio were evidently disappointed, but not being able to satisfy their cravings for the green, they decided to share McEachren's clothing among themselves. He had a fairly good pair of shoes on, so they took those off and replaced them with an old pair of lawn tennis rubbers which one of the gang was wearing. They took his belt and some other things, bade him good-bye and departed.

McEachren's father came into the city next day and reported the matter to the police. His son did not seem to have a very clear idea about who robbed him, but on a few clues given him Officer Pete Dezella started to work. The result was that after a few hours quiet work, he rounded up Charles, Fred and Walter Shaw, the three sons of the well-known Dr. "Foot" Shaw, who one time sold herbal medicines in Chatham.

The trio were brought up before Judge Houston Saturday afternoon, and remanded till Thursday, August 8th.

TWO MEN KILLED.

Automobile Ran Into Ditch Going at High Speed.

Middletown, N.Y., Aug. 5.—William J. Maxwell of Wurtsboro, and J. S. Fields of Port Jervis, were killed in an automobile accident at Ouddebackville late on Saturday. Mrs. J. C. Eglinger of Port Jervis was probably fatally injured and her three children were badly hurt. The automobile ran into a ditch while going at high speed, and turned bottomside up.

PICKED LEMON IN LOVE'S GARDEN

Milton Stephens Was Quite Happy Till First Husband
Appeared

Was Married to Already-Married Woman in Chatham, July Twelfth

Leamington, Aug. 5.—On July 12th among the crowd from Leamington who went to Chatham to celebrate were Milton Stevens and a young woman named Mrs. Garnet Wigle. She had been married about eight months before to Garnet Wigle, Kingsville, who had been arrested on a serious charge made by her and brought to Leamington. To avoid conviction and a long-term sentence he married her, the ceremony taking place in Police Magistrate Skirke's office. It is said that he immediately deserted her and has not lived with her or contributed to her support since.

She remained with his family for a time and then came to Leamington, where she met Milton Stevens, with the result that they were married in Chatham on July 12. When purchasing the license the woman gave her name as Boyer, her mother's name, and made the necessary declaration that she was a spinster. Of course, had the circumstances and the woman been known the license would have been refused. However, the two were married and were living happily when their newly-wedded bliss was jarred by husband No. 1 coming on the scene. He was so much ashamed of him that he did not make much of a fuss. He had a talk with his wife and a long one with Stevens. He got into communication with the chief of police and had the magistrates been in his office on Wednesday evening he would likely have made a charge against the woman. Mr. Nickerson, her father, threatened to take action against him for non-support, and this threat may have caused him to change his mind, for he went home to Kingsville by the late train and has not been seen here since.

It is not known what he will do or if he will do anything. It is supposed that if he prosecutes it is only out of spite for his arrest at the time of his marriage, for he cannot want the woman and probably would never have come near had he not heard of her bigamous marriage.—Windsor Record.

POLICE COURT

Edith Ladd, the young colored girl who pleaded guilty to stealing clothing belonging to Mary McGregor, was dismissed with a severe scolding and suspended sentence in the Police Court, this morning. The girl broke down and cried, and mingled her tears with fervid promises to be good henceforth.

Her father and brothers, who are farmers some distance out in the country, paid her fine, and took Edith back home with them.

Ike Morton, who lives on Wellington Street, was up this morning charged with ill-treating a horse he had hired from Barnes' Livery Stable. Humane Officer James McGregor laid the information and produced evidence to prove that the animal was covered with deep ridges when it was brought back to the stables. It had been beaten so hard that it was bleeding in several places. Dr. John Fringle, the veterinary surgeon who attended the horse, said that its back was fairly covered with ridges.

The case was remanded till Thursday, and the prisoner was released on $50 bail, which was put up by his employer, W. W. Scane.

During the progress of one of the cases this morning, a small dog, which had been running about in the auditorium of the Police Court, showed its utter disdain for the laws pertaining to contempt of court by giving vent to three sacrilegious yelps while the judge was busy handing down a decision.

"Who owns that dog?" thundered the Judge.

"No answer."

"Will the man who owns that dog please take it outside?" he asked a little later.

No one responded and the canine stood in the centre of the floor evidently wondering at the stillness that had suddenly come over everything.

"Officer Dezella will you please take that dog out and see that it is put to death," was the last resort of the Judge. It worked.

The big policeman had no sooner laid his hand on the little game leading to the auditorium than a young man who had been standing idly by at the time, sprang forward, grabbed the dog, and made his way to the open as fast as possible.

RAPS DOMINION SYSTEM.

Allan Studholme, M. P. P. for East Hamilton, the labor representative in the Provincial House who is now in Windsor on missionary work, expresses the opinion that the Ontario Government should exercise greater control in directing the tide of immigration that is being brought in by the Salvation Army and other organizations. The immigration question, which has been the subject of considerable comment in The Planet recently, is one of the important problems to be discussed at the coming meeting of the trades and labor congress for the Dominion at Winnipeg, and if the other delegates share his feeling in the matter, the probable result of the discussion will be in the framing of a strongly worded memorial demanding that each province adopt some definite system for controlling immigration.

"The present system," says Mr. Studholme in speaking of the methods employed by the Dominion Government, "is in reality nothing more than a dumping system, and in many cases people are enticed to Canada through entirely false representations. They are made to believe that there is work waiting for them, but when they arrive they find there is nothing for them to do where they expected to find employment, and they are simply dumped into the country, sometimes without any means of support whatever."

"The result is naturally to breed discontent, and as a further result the Canadian workingman suffers in many cases. Then men who are landed in the country begin to look for work in towns and cities, and in many cases the workingman who has been earning a fair wage finds himself displaced for a man who is willing to accept a smaller wage."

"The kind of immigrants we want are not artisans, but agricultural farmers and railway builders, and steps should be taken by the Government to direct the incoming tide in the proper channels. As an ideal arrangement the system in New Zealand is worth looking to. There the Government will even step in and take over land from owners of large tracts which are not under cultivation, turning it over to settlers who are allowed to pay the Government out of their annual returns. In Ontario it would not be necessary to do that, as the province already owns large tracts of land, but when such large sums of money are being expended to bring in new settlers, the Government should assume greater control."

A COUNTRY ROAD

By Jean Blewett.

Not this road, friend; this whim of mine
To turn my back on beach and pine
And running brooks that sing and shine,
The while your prospects you define,
And press your suit with ease.
I went this road another day,
A glowing, pulsing, perfect day,
The growing grasses laughed with me;
The young leaves quivered in their glee;
The ox-eyed daisies peeped to see
So glad a thing as I.

As I, a-trembling with sweet fear,
Because of one who lingered near,
Because he whispered in my ear
The very words I longed to hear;
Because—because he was so dear—
Not this road, friend, I pray.
Of this one spot my thought doth make
A garden rare for old sake's sake;
And should your foot crush fern or brake,
Or ox-eyed daisy, wide awake,
This worldly heart of mine would ache—
Not this road, friend, I pray.

NOTES FROM ERIEAU

Erieau, August 5.—Mrs. John Turner and Miss Lollie Turner were at Belvedere cottage Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Edna Bullis spent Sunday with friends at Erieau.

Dr. and Mrs. Herb. Fisher spent the week-end at the Bungalow.

Mrs. Arnold, of Grant street, is visiting friends on the bar.

Miss Helen Teskey came out on Saturday to spend a few days with Misses Mounter and Rutledge at the Bungalow.

Miss Tena McMillan and Miss Edith Ryan are staying with friends at Heather Bell.

Mrs. Roy Tobey was in town on Saturday.

Mrs. Frank Sharpe visited with friends at Centreville on Sunday.

Miss Ryan, of Fleur-de-Lis, spent Saturday in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Snook and family have taken one of the cottages of the old Terrace on the Eau shore for the month of August. They were joined on Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Saxe and son Carson, and Miss Sarah Jahnke, who will remain for a few days.

Mr. Bert Riddell is again an Erieau visitor.

Miss Annie Hackney, of Harvey street, is visiting Miss Lollie Turner at Belvedere.

Miss Jessie Houston, who has been at Toronto for the past two weeks, attending the meeting of the Departmental Board of Examiners, returned to the Eau to-day. She will remain for the balance of the season.

Mr. John Sheldon, of the Arlington Hotel, Ridgetown, joined his family at Waverly cottage Saturday evening.

Miss Grace Houston spent Sunday in town.

Miss Muriel Hoig and Miss Helen Paxton and Harold Paxton returned to their homes in Chatham to-day, after a pleasant holiday at Jubilee.

P. C. Dodson, who this year spent his holidays at the Eau, returned to duty on Saturday and reports a very pleasant holiday. This is Mr. Dodson's first vacation at the Eau, and he was at first dubious as to how he would enjoy it. Fortunately he came in for the best fishing of the season and several good catches rewarded his patience. The weather man, too, was kind and Mr. Dodson says that he never enjoyed a holiday more.

Mrs. Smith caught a four pound pike on Friday evening.

The trim yacht Baden-Powell was in commission for the first time Saturday evening, beautifully overhauled and brandishing a brand new name-plate. Mr. Wilfrid McKenzie was at the tiller and the old-time salts, Messrs. Archie and John Park and A. F. Falls, with little Evelyn and Beverly Park, formed the cruising party. The presence of the Park Bros. on the yacht meant the absence of the energetic little "trot foot" which the steam launch Ripple, with which the brothers are accustomed to herald their sailing friends.

MARKETS

There was a fine large market on Saturday morning, and there was a slight variation in prices. Raspberries jumped up to 20 cents a box, but there still seemed to be a big demand for the limited quantity which was offered for sale.

Butter was selling at 22 and 23 cents per pound, and eggs were commanding 16 cents. A quantity of apples were offered for sale at 30 cents per peck.

Makes the Bread
That Makes Us Strong

There's nothing like good homemade bread for children. Made of the right kind of flour—baked right—a loaf of bread contains all the food qualities of wheat, in their most appetizing and digestible form. Spring wheat flour is rich in nutriment—makes wonderfully wholesome bread, but not inviting in appearance. Fall wheat flour lacks nutrition, but makes bread that is white, light and tasteful.

Beaver Flour

is a blend of Manitoba Spring Wheat and Ontario Fall Wheat. It makes the whitest, lightest, most delicious bread, biscuits, cake and pastry—it makes the most nourishing and healthful bread—and it yields MORE bread to the barrel.

Try it—test it—any way you like. Beaver Flour proves its quality, by never disappointing.

FIRE SWEEPED THE TOWN

North Bay Enveloped in Flames During Fierce Gale.

Many Business Houses Wiped Out—Originated From Gasoline Explosion—Arrests Made During the Excitement—Loss Will Be Many Thousands—Firemen Worked Like Heroes.

North Bay, Aug. 3.—While a fierce gale of wind was raging yesterday, fire broke out at 10.30 in the tailor shop of T. H. Campbell, the second store of the Gilmour Block, and, spreading with rapidity, was not checked until 1 o'clock, when the Gilmour and Richardson blocks were smoldering heaps of debris.

The fire originated from gasoline used in cleaning garments, and Campbell was seriously burned.

The firemen worked heroically in blinding smoke and blistering heat, and succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to the Purvis Block, adjoining. They were helped by a fire wall, which checked the attack of the flames.

J. W. Richardson's large brick block, occupied by him entirely as a hardware store, was the first building to go.

Of the Gilmour Block, adjoining, only a few bricks remain of the front. The rapid spread of the flames prevented much salvage, and the stocks in the burned stores are almost a total loss.

One man was arrested for stealing while the fire was in progress, and another intoxicated individual was placed in the lock-up for safe keeping, having been rescued by the firemen for attempting to climb along a narrow ledge on the second story.

The Richardson Block was valued at $6,000, with $4,000 insurance, divided between the Liverpool, London & Globe Union and North British & Mercantile companies.

Richardson's hardware stock was valued at $25,000; insurance $14,300, divided between Guardian, Canadian, Sun, Commercial Union, Norwich Union, Home, Montreal, Canada, North British & Mercantile and Atlas companies. The stock is a total loss.

The Gilmour Block, owned by J. E. Gilmour, was valued at $6,000; insurance $3,000, in Monarch, London, Mutual and Standard companies; total loss.

T. H. Campbell carried insurance of $700 on household effects. Very little was saved.

J. W. Smith, druggist, carried a stock valued at $3,000; insurance $1,000; part of the stock was saved. T. H. Mulligan, clothing merchant, had stock valued at $5,000, and insurance of $3,000. Some of the stock was saved.

BREACH BLEW OFF.

Three Men Killed and Seven Injured on a French Warship.

Toulon, Aug. 3.—Three men were killed and seven others wounded by the explosion of a gun during target practice yesterday on board the French training ship Couronne.

The breach of a 100-millimetre gun was blown off. The recoiling mechanism of the gun failed to work, and the breach was shattered into a thousand pieces.

The chief gunner and two of the gun crew lost their lives. Of the seven men wounded, two are officers. Minister of Marine Thompson admitted yesterday that some of the large calibre shells used during the recent naval manoeuvres in the Mediterranean had exploded prematurely. He said the reason was that old black powder had been used. The present ammunition will be reloaded with mellinite, which explodes only on concussion.

Coal Field Found.

Prince Albert, Sask., Aug. 3.—The finding of coal in the Eagle Lake country has revived coal excitement here. Some years ago coal was discovered in Shellbrook and also in the Colleton districts. In Colleton loose coal can be shoveled up by the wagon load. No thorough effort has been made to exploit the field, but now that Eagle Lake coal district has been defined steps are being taken to explore Colleton.

Launch Goes Over Dam.

Ottumwa, Iowa, Aug. 3.—Five persons were drowned Thursday night by the capsizing of a launch in the Des Moines River. The boat became unmanageable in the strong current, due to the high water, and finally the engine broke down altogether. The boat then drifted over the dam and crashed into the rocks below.

Died at 104.

Detroit, Aug. 3.—At Alpena, Mich., yesterday, Mrs. Mary Krugilla, aged 104, the oldest woman in that section, died. She was born in Germany. Two daughters and 25 great-grandchildren survive. Her father lived to be 125.

Stole $600 Worth of Pigeons.

Kingston, Aug. 3.—The pigeon loft of Dr. J. G. Evans was looted Thursday night and over 100 fancy birds carried off. The loss is over $600. The birds were being made ready for exhibition purposes. The thieves took the best.

Judge Clement Resigns.

Windsor, Aug. 3.—Judge Clement has forwarded his resignation to the Minister of Justice, to take effect in September, when he will return to Berlin and become vice-president of the United Life Assurance Co.

Of Interest To Women.

To such women as are not seriously out of health, but who have exacting duties to perform, either in the way of household cares or in social duties and functions, which seriously tax their strength, as well as to nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proved a most valuable supporting tonic and invigorating nerve. By its timely use, much serious sickness and suffering may be avoided. The operating table and the surgeon's knife would be believed, seldom have to be employed if this most valuable woman's remedy were resorted to in good time. The "Favorite Prescription" has proven a great boon to expectant mothers by preparing the system for the coming of baby, thereby rendering childbirth safe, easy, and almost painless.

Bear in mind, please that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally averse, because of the unscrupulous use of their composition and harmless character, but is a medicine of known composition, a full list of all its ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol in its make-up. In this connection it may not be out of place to state that the "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, and sold through druggists, all the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended. A little book of these endorsements will be sent to any address, post-paid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card, or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. Easy to take as candy.

LONDON COLLAPSE.

Jury Finds It Due to Alterations Made in the Building.

London, Ont., Aug. 3.—That the said Wm. Thomas Tambling came to his death in the City of London in Brewster's store on the 16th day of July, 1907, by the east wall of what was known as the Crystal Hall building falling eastward on the said Brewster store, and destroying it, thus causing the death of said Wm. T. Tambling.

"And we further find from the evidence that the collapse of the said Crystal Hall building was caused by a portion of the middle wall of the ground floor of the said building giving way as a result of certain alterations that had recently been made in the said wall on the floor above."

The above was the verdict rendered by the jury enquiring into the cause of the recent disaster.

Wm. Murray, the architect who had charge of the changes, was recalled and gave evidence as to the strength and carrying power of the pillars which were placed in the building. Mr. Murray figured that it would have taken a weight of 300 tons to break down the columns. They were ten feet four inches long, five inches in diameter and of three quarter inch cast iron metal. They supported the double girders and were tied where they crossed.

Idleness, like industry, is catching.

WILL HUMBLE SULTAN

Two Great Squadrons Ordered to the Coast of Morocco.

France and Spain Will Act Together in Demanding the Head of Maelamin Pasha—Great Holy War Appears Imminent—Must Be An Accounting—French Premier on the Situation.

Paris, Aug. 3.—An extraordinary meeting of the Cabinet to discuss the Moroccan situation was held yesterday afternoon.

Foreign Minister Pichon expressed himself in favor of immediate energetic action by France to secure reparation for the murders of Europeans at Casablanca and to insure the safety of the Europeans still there. In so much as France and Spain are charged, by the Algeiras agreement, to act together in the matter of policing Casablanca, M. Pichon advocated, as a first step, proposing to Spain the immediate landing of French and Spanish troops at the scene of the massacre.

At the conclusion of the meeting it was announced that France and Spain had reached an agreement to concentrate the squadrons on the coast of Morocco.

The French newspapers, excepting the Socialist journals, are unanimous in demanding that the Government take decisive steps to enforce respect for France in Morocco.

Some newspapers express the opinion that Germany will not now stand in the way and think the time is ripe to abandon M. Delcasse's policy of "specific penetration," which they contend has served only to arouse the hatred of the Moors for the French, and march straight to Fes.

La Republique Francaise says that, unless the head of Maelamin Pasha, the governor of Casablanca, is obtained, a genuine holy war is likely to be precipitated, and that this would endanger Algeiras.

Vienna, Aug. 3.—M. Clemenceau, the French Premier, who is taking the cure at Carlsbad, has given out an interview on the Moroccan situation, in which he says that France will be guided by two main considerations in dealing with the situation arising from the Casablanca murders. First, she will, if possible, find a peaceable solution of the difficulty, and, secondly, she will only take action in agreement with the powers who took part in the Algeiras conference.

Danced With the King.

Bellefonte, Aug. 3.—Mrs. Margaret Helferly is dead at the age of 85. She was for 60 years resident in Bellefonte, and claimed to have danced with King Edward when he was in Canada 47 years ago.

FIERCE FIGHTING.

Japs and Koreans Lock in Deadly Conflict Near Seoul.

Seoul, Aug. 3.—Thursday a battalion of Korea soldiers, resenting disbandment, at a given signal attacked three mounted Japanese officers, who had arrived at Little West Gate Barracks to demand the surrender of their munitions.

Two of the Japanese officers escaped on horseback. The third one fell from his horse and escaped afoot when the firing began, and the Koreans sallied out of Little West Gate into the street, but were forced to retire under a Japanese fire from the tower gate.

Gen. Okasaki ordered out reinforcements, and the barracks and adjacent buildings were invested. There was continuous sniping and also fire from the Japanese machine guns.

The entrances to the Japanese section of the city have been under a heavy guard of gendarmes since midnight, and troops and machine guns are stationed in all the streets.

Gen. Okasaki believes that he has ample troops to control the situation. The other three Korean garrisons have not mutinied.

The invested quarter is adjacent to the consulate quarter, which is protected by a strong cordon of Japanese troops.

No man should consider himself unlucky who has as much as he started with.

Some men complain of hard times if every day doesn't bring a soft snap.

DISTRICT

KENT BRIDGE.

Mr. Orval Arnold, barrister, of Bracebridge, is spending a few days with his father, Mr. Fred. Arnold.

The improvements on the C. P. R. station are about completed, adding much to the appearance of the place. Mr. G. R. Langford and Mr. Andrew Shaw have returned from visiting the Dublin exhibition. They tell us they had a fine trip and enjoyed it very much.

This place will soon boast of having a brass band. A meeting was held last Friday evening to arrange for same.

The Sunday school gave a picnic in Mr. P. Arnold's grove for the Sunday school scholars, and everyone enjoyed themselves very much.

Six out of eight passed the entrance examinations in the school here, which speaks well for our teacher, Mr. Clifford Langford.

Mrs. (Dr.) McGregor and family left for home this week after spending a few months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Langford.

Mr. Wm. Richardson, of California, is spending a few days with relatives here.

Master Stafford and Bernard

Pesha are spending a few days with friends in Euphemia.

Harvesting is in full blast here now and farmers report good crops. Judging from the crowded stores our merchants had Saturday night, business must be good.

Mr. Egan starts for the Dublin exhibition in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Worth and their son Eddy have returned home after spending a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Worth, Sr.

Miss Eva Shaw is spending a few weeks in Ridgetown.

Mr. Lorne Blackburn was called to Detroit by telegram a few days ago on account of his brother's illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Polle and their daughter baby are spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Arnold.

Miss Vera Moorehouse, Irene and Wilfrid, are spending their holidays with friends in Merlin.

Master Floyd and Clara Hubbell have returned from a visit in Wallaceburg, looking hale and hearty.

Mr. J. L. Williams was elected school trustee, to take the place of the late Mr. E. H. Norton.

Fancy requires much; necessity but little.

No one gets more out of life than he puts into it.

NEW YORK TERROR

Atrocious Crimes Committed Against Many Women and Children—No Clue Yet

New York, Aug. 5.—The frequency and atrocity of crimes against women and children in New York in the past fortnight have brought about heroic measures.

Acting Police Commissioner O'Keefe issued orders Saturday directing every plain clothes officer on the force to lay aside all other work and devote himself entirely to efforts to bring to justice the perpetrators of these crimes. He ordered that house to house visits be made by all officers on regular beats and that parents be advised to keep their children under closer supervision. He also announced that he would ask the board of estimate and appropriation for an appropriation sufficient to add five hundred officers to the force.

The attacks on children recently have struck terror to the hearts of parents all over the city, and scores of cases of supposed attempts at assault have been reported to the police, which have no foundation, except in the fears of parents.

But notwithstanding the cases which have no foundation in fact, there have been enough actual cases of assault on children to cause the police as well as parents much worry.

The police arrested four brothers, Thomas, Louis, George and James Esposito, believing that they could throw some light on the murder of little Katie Fieschler, whose mutilated body was found in a cellar on First avenue. Later all but Louis were discharged. Louis, when confronted with evidence that he was seen to emerge from the cellar, admitted that he cut wood there the day Katie disappeared. He also admitted that he knew the child and often spoke to her. Anna Messner, Rippolone, a shoemaker, and Bonfanti, his assistant, are still held by the coroner.

The police are convinced that the murderer of the child is some one who was well-known in the neighborhood, and who knew the little girl.

An Italian by name of Maria Sallo was arrested and held on a charge of attempted assault on Anna Rogers, a young girl living in Brooklyn. The girl says as she was walking down the street Sallo seized her by the arm and tried to drag her into a vacant lot. Her screams brought a crowd, who attacked Sallo and were only prevented from seriously injuring him by a policeman, who drove them back with his revolver.

The body of the young woman found in an arway in East 90th street several days ago is still unidentified at the morgue.

Frank Powers, proprietor of a lunch room, was arrested in Yorkville court and held for further examination. Three young girls testified that he offered them money to walk in Central Park with him.

More Outrages.
New York, Aug. 5.—Another murderous assault was added last night to the police record of recent crimes against defenceless women and girls.

Last night's victim was Miss King Bulger, a woman of middle age, who was attacked in her apartments in the Bronx, cruelly beaten and left in a helpless state.

There was evidence that the woman had made a courageous fight. From what the police were able to learn from her, she was surprised by a smooth-faced stranger, perhaps of years of age. He was careless and wore an evening shirt and dark trousers. He escaped.

Just before Miss Bulger was assaulted, George Kestner, a Russian, charged with attempted assault upon an 8-year-old girl, was set upon by a crowd of men, and all but killed. The clothes were torn from his body and he was taken to a station house, wrapped in a blanket.

5,000 In Free Fight.
New York, Aug. 5.—The fighting element among the whites and blacks in the vicinity of 136th street and Fifth avenue lined up yesterday to settle a baseball dispute, and 50 persons required medical treatment, of whom two will die.

Probably 5,000 persons took part in the fight. Three hundred policemen dispersed the mob.

Charles Cain Drowns.
Ridgeway, Aug. 5.—Charles Cain, a clerk in the Craig store at this place, was drowned while bathing at Rondeau Park on Saturday, where he was spending his holidays. He was 20 years of age.

To Prosecute Combines.
Edmonton, Alta., Aug. 5.—The local Government of Alberta has decided to institute proceedings against the Lumber Dealers' Association for an alleged combine against trade.

Matchmaking

By FRANK H. SWEET

Copyrighted, 1907, by Homer Sprague.

Ensnared behind his flower boxes on the veranda, Tom Errett could look into the neighboring garden and watch her; for she, too, sought the cool and sweetness of her garden. On Tuesday evening she espied him. What man could resist that smile? There was a silent, perhaps unconscious, invitation in it that brought Tom to his feet and to the wall.

"Good evening, Mr. Errett," said the girl in white.

"Good evening, Miss Smith," answered
the man on the wall.

"You look altogether too comfortable. I think we shall have to follow suit and build a veranda."

"Don't use mine," was on his tongue's end, but he only responded,
"It is comfortable." Then the informality of the situation was too much for him. "Won't you come over and try it?" he pleaded.

"I'm afraid the wall is too much for me," she said, smiling demurely.

Tom was a man who never turned back, his hand once on the plow. He dropped quickly to the ground, on her side of the fence.

"I'm dreadfully lonely," was his apology.

On Wednesday she was not visible, and there was a void upon the earth.

On Thursday and Friday things resumed the new glamour. On Saturday the moon was a shadowy crescent above the tree tops. The stars were still veiled in mist; the air was odorless with the scent of mignonette and sweet peas. Tom, expectancy written in every feature, waited for the flutter of white amid the flowers, the sound of a voice which was like no other voice he had ever heard. At the first signal of her approach, he stepped boldly on to the wall.

"Special delivery, sir," said a servant's voice behind him. He opened the letter, conscious that her eyes were upon him. It was from the wife of a college friend inviting him to spend Sunday at their country place. He glanced at his watch. There was barely time to catch the last train. Then his eyes fell upon her.

"Answer, sir?"

"No—yes—wait a moment."

His eyes still sought hers.

"Can I help you?" she asked sweetly.

"Will you?" he flashed eagerly. "May I go to church with you tomorrow?"

The corners of her mouth drew together in a wise little smile, for Tom had not impressed her as being a churchman.

"Yes, but it's early mass."

Tom did not flinch.

"Thanks," he said quietly, and scribbling a few words, he handed them to the man.

To Mrs. Herndon Roberts, Holly House,
Columbia Heights, N. J.

Another engagement. Impossible to go awfully sorry. TOMAS ERRETT.

To Mrs. Herndon Roberts, Holly House,
Columbia Heights, N. J.

Your letter miscarried and came too late. Greatly disappointed. Will run up next Saturday if convenient to you.

AUGUSTA SMITH.

Herndon Roberts, returning from the Columbia links, found his wife staring at the two telegrams with disappointed eyes.

"Fate is against us," she groaned.

"Tom has another engagement—here's his wire, and another from Augusta says that my letter miscarried and reached her too late. I shall write them both special delivery now."

Going to her desk, Mrs. Roberts penned the following notes:

Dear Tom—Don't make any engagement for next Saturday or Sunday. If you have one, break it, do, Tom, dear. We are going to try the new links. I can't think of any stronger inducement. Take the 3:10
by way of the Cortlandt street ferry.
Hastily, but cordially yours.

AGNES ROBERTS.

My Dear Augusta—Can't understand my letter miscarrying, but I won't cry over spilled milk, although I was tempted to.
Delighted at the prospect of having you with us this coming Saturday. Take the 3:10 train by way of the Cortlandt street ferry. Always affectionately yours.

AGNES ROBERTS.

The gatekeeper at the ferry shut Tom from joining the hurrying crowd a dozen yards in advance.

"Sorry, sir, but you're too late," he said. "There'll be another boat in a few minutes."

Tom, suit case in hand, gazed helplessly at the closed gate.

"Too late to connect with the 3:10," he said. "This boat would have made it." But his tone was listless.

The official eye still regarded him coldly. "Sorry, sir," he repeated.

"Where were you bound for?"

"Columbia Heights."

"No more trains for the Heights today, sir."

"Where's the nearest telegraph office?" asked Tom, striving to hide the grim of delight which spread over his face as the man spoke.

He sent his telegram to the Roberts, jumped into a cab and drove home—elated. Disappointment awaiting him, however. The house next door was suspiciously quiet.

"Cook says they've gone away," ventured his man as Tom sat down to his solitary dinner. "Claret, sir?"

"For how long?" asked Tom faintly.

"All summer, sir. Miss Smith has went to the Hot Springs. Rheumatism terrible, sir."

"Hot Springs—rheumatism?" repeated Tom, regardless of his English in his excitement.

"I suppose, sir, that when folks gets old they feel a bit shaky, sir," the man explained.

"Old?" roared Tom. "What do you mean?"

"The cook said Miss Smith would be sixty-four come next September, sir."

"Of whom are you speaking, Jones?"

"My reference is to the maiden party, sir, Miss Smith, Mrs. Smith's sister-in-law."

Tom felt his face go white. He stared stonily at his plate.

"And she let me call her Miss Smith!" he murmured, a remark which,
if his man heard, he gravely ignored.

For a week Tom lingered about his veranda and garden, desolate and discontented, and when a summons came from Holly House on Friday morning he blessed the fates. Holly House, at least, would have no haunting memories of her presence. Mrs. Roberts' message ran:

Third call to Holly House. Will you come Saturday?

His reply was brief and expressive:
I will if I have to walk. TOM.

Having secured his seat half an hour before the train left, Tom was deep in his paper when the train boys began to cry their wares:

"Popular books of the day! Papers, magazines!"

"Give me Harpers," said a quiet voice from the seat behind.

Tom whirled.

"Mrs. Smith?" he cried.

"I thought you looked familiar," smilingly, "but backs are often deceiv-ing. Won't you join me?"

She made room at her side.

"How much of a ride do we have together?" asked Tom, having migrated.

"My stop is Columbia Heights."

"How nice," was her answer. "You can help me with my luggage."

"This is providential," he cried.

"Where do you stay?"

"Holly House."

"What?"

"Mrs. Herndon Roberts' place. I'm to be there over Sunday. I met her in Europe three years ago, soon after my husband's death."

Tom had opened his mouth to speak, but the transfiguration of his face at her last word was too great for speech.
The mouth closed without a sound. It was she who broke the silence.

"It is strange that they have never said anything to either of us about the other," she mused.

"Where were you last Saturday, Sunday, Monday?" demanded Tom.

"At Holly House. Were you asked?"

"I was. I missed my train."

"I was to have gone a week before,
but my invitation miscarried," she said.

"Do you remember the special delivery I received three weeks ago? I was standing on the wall talking to you when it came."

She nodded.

"It was an invitation from Mrs. Roberts," he said simply.

Then they looked at each other unsmilingly, for the situation had suddenly assumed prophetic significance.

"Do you know, I think they have been trying to bring us together," Tom announced presently. Her hand lay on the cushion beside him. He put his own over it firmly. "Shall we let them?" he whispered.

"It is too good a joke to spoil," she murmured, blushing exquisitely. "Do you think you can keep a straight face when we are introduced?"

"Columbia Heights!" yelled the conductor.

Beau Brummel.

Brummel went to prison for debt,
but came out again to resume his fopperies. His friends made him a small allowance of £120 per annum, equal at Cien to £300, but he could not be expected to live on such a pittance.

When he had not 4 francs in the world he would order boot polish at 5 francs a bottle from Paris and call the tradesman who supplied it "a scoundrel" for venturing to ask for his money. In the end his intellect gave way. He lost his memory and much of his little mind. He grew slovenly and careless, yet to the last clung to his eau de cologne and some other luxuries. Finally, his mind all gone, he was removed to a charity hospital,
being reduced to the utmost impoverishment and content to change his linen once a month instead of three times a day, as of old. Here he died under the care of sisters of charity on March 30, 1840. Thus ended the striking career of perhaps the most worthless fop whom history records, his death being a fitting termination to his useless life.

Mr. and Mrs. Robin.

Cock robin is a great nuisance when the nest is undergoing repairs or has to be rebuilt, for he everlastingly bothers the lady robin while she goes about her fine art of nest building.

Does he ever assist in the good work?
Not he. He will not soil his pretty bill with one bit of lint or moss, or anything necessary for the nest. After the little fellows are hatched he becomes a genuine old hen, and will hover about the nest while the lady is away for worms for her young. He may once in a while forget his lordliness and bring a worm for his lady, but as for food for his offspring, the fuzzy little fellows would starve were they to depend upon the father robin for food. He seldom bothers about the little ones' first flight attempts, and will sit perched handsily by while mamma tackles the delightful task.
But let danger approach the young or the mate, and lo and behold! Mr.
Robin becomes a genuine fighter, and will draw near to the jaws of death boldly and without hesitation.—London Telegraph.

"John, look at that yacht," said Mrs.
Stubbs, who was leaning over the rail.

"Just see how elegantly she tacks."

"What is the name?" queried Mr.
Stubbs from the steamer chair.

"Edith."

nine always tacks clumsily."—Hous-

BREAK LOCAL OPTION.

Original Method Adopted by Hotel
Man to Secure Many Votes.

Neepawa, Man., Aug. 3.—The little local option town of Neepawa is seething with excitement over an attempt at the revision of the voters' list to add 249 names to the list.

D. Hamilton, who has been proprietor of the hotel, presented the names stating that the hotel had been sold to a stock company of 249 persons resident in Winnipeg, who, he claimed, had purchased his hotel and block of land adjoining in shares of $100 each and were entitled to vote upon it. The names were entered, but the matter will be keenly contended before Judge Ryan on Monday.

As there are only 500 voters in Neepawa, the additional names could carry everything.

The temperance people claim that the names consist principally of hotel-keepers and bartenders of Winnipeg.
Citizens claim that the temperance issue, but a small matter in question, but that if these outsiders can vote they can rule the town from Winnipeg, defeat any bylaw, incur any expense, or elect any council or school board they desire.

How Paris Got Its Name.

The city of Paris owes its origin to the conquest of Gaul by Caesar.

When this Roman general on his path of conquest came to the present site of the French capital he found a swampy island in the river Seine, which was inhabited by a Gallic tribe called Parisii, who lived in huts made of rushes. Rather than be captured by the Romans, these people burned their rude city, which they called Lutetia, or "mud town," and the great Caesar, quick to appreciate the situation, built a temple to Jupiter and a wall around the island. The town soon sprang up about the temple and was named Parisii, after the ancient tribe. In later years this was shortened to Paris.

FUEL FAMINE.

Northwest Again Threatened With Shortage of Coal.

Cleveland, Aug. 3.—The northwest will suffer a more severe coal famine during the coming winter than the record-breaking one last year, which cost so many lives, according to local coal shippers.

It is declared that the inability of the railroads to supply the boats with enough coal and the great demand for ore, occasioned by the closing of the strike of ore handlers, will bring about a far-reaching shortage of fuel at the upper lakes. With good fortune the region out beyond the upper lakes will have from 3,000,000 to 5,000,000 tons of coal less than it will require, according to estimates.

Ohio shippers are rushing fuel to the upper lakes ports in every vessel they can charter. Since the opening of navigation shipments to the head of the lakes are considerably greater at this time than a year ago. A prominent mine owner said yesterday:

"There are now 100 big ore carriers up the lakes awaiting cargoes. They cannot get away till the ore reaches the docks, which means a delay of perhaps 10 days. Those huge vessels when they reach Ohio ports with ore are not going to take back coal."

"No vessel owner who is not under contract to carry coal will wait for a coal load, so the northwest probably, even with 12,000,000 tons of coal on the docks by Dec. 1, will experience another fuel famine before next spring."

CZAR AND KAISER.

Elaborate Preparations for Meeting
To-day in the Baltic.

Berlin, Aug. 3.—Emperor William of Germany and Emperor Nicholas of Russia are to meet to-day in the Baltic Sea off Swinemunde.

Emperor William will be on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern, and the Russian Emperor on his yacht, the Standart.

The German Baltic fleet will be present to give color to the occasion.

The German authorities are taking every precaution to ensure the safety of the Russian Emperor. A large number of marine policemen will be sent to-day from Stettin to Swinemunde to do guard duty on shore.

The Norddeutscher Allgemeine Zeitung publishes a welcome to Emperor Nicholas at the head of its columns yesterday evening. It announces that the Russian sovereign is coming for several days of friendly intercourse with Emperor William.

This meeting is pre-eminently personal in character, the paper says, it is dictated by no specific political purpose, and therefore there is no occasion for any one to view it with distrust or suspicion. In conclusion the paper says:

FLEET FOR PACIFIC.

First Official Announcement Made by Roosevelt's Secretary.

Oyster Bay, Aug. 2.—Secretary Loeb said yesterday that there had been no change in the plan to send the Atlantic battleship fleet to the Pacific Ocean, and the necessary preparations for the trip are now being made in the navy. Upon this completion and approval by the President, the voyage will be begun when the President gives the word.

This is the first direct announcement that the fleet is going to the Pacific.

No protest has been received at Washington from the Japanese Government against the plan to send the Atlantic battleship fleet to the Pacific and none is expected.

The fleet is to remain in American waters.

REGAINED NERVE AND VITAL ENERGY.

From Walton, P. O., Que., comes the following from Mr. Nazaire Benoit:—“If anyone had told me any remedy could build up my nervous system as well as I would not have believed them. Before using Ferrozine I was run down in nerve and vital energy, and in very weak health. I didn't get enough sleep at night, felt poorly in the day time. Ferrozine has filled me with energy and vim, increased my weight and made a new man of me.”

Hundreds tell the same story—Weak and dispirited, everything going wrong, unable to catch up. They took Ferrozine and all was changed to health and energy. Price per box 50c. at all dealers.

Cause of Unrest.

Chautauque, N.Y., Aug. 3.—Bishop Henry G. Potter, of the Protestant Episcopal Church of New York spoke on “The Church and Social Unrest” here yesterday.

The causes for the social unrest of the country, Bishop Potter said, are popular education, the industrial revolution and extravagance in expenditures.

He declared that there can be no more righteous arraignment of the church to-day than upon its indifference to the physical, mental and social needs of the working people.

The church should be related by profound sympathy to social problems, said Bishop Potter, and it is the duty of the church to create a more benign and fraternal atmosphere through the inspiration of individual members of a Christian ideal of sympathy, honor and social service.

EASY TO RETAIN HEALTH.

Most important of all is proper attention to the bowels. Avoid constipation, it's the health-killer of today. Harsh, gripping medicine is ruinous to the system. Best results follow a truly reliable remedy, like Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandarin and Bismuth, which not only relieve constiveness in one night, but cures the cause of the trouble and prevents its return. No distress or inconvenience attends the use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which are world famous for their mildness and efficiency. Sold everywhere, 25c. per box.

Was Criminally Negligent.

New York, Aug. 3.—A coroner's jury yesterday charged President Ralph Peters and General Superintendent Jno. C. McCrea of the Long Island Railroad with being responsible, through criminal negligence, for the death of Dr. Edward J. Gallagher and Miss Helen Madigan, who were killed by a train at a crossing.

You cannot make sweet butter in a foul, unclean churn. The stomach serves as a churn in which to agitate, work up, and disintegrate our food as it is being digested. If it be weak, sluggish and foul the result will be foul, sluggish liver and bad, impure blood.

The ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are just such as best serve to correct and cure all such derangements. It is up without a drop of alcohol in its composition; chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol. Now this glycerine is of itself a valuable medicine, instead of a deleterious dyspepsia agent like alcohol, especially in the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia and the various forms of indigestion.

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says of it: “In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. . . . It is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs.”

A thing is never overlooked that is thoroughly looked over.

TALKS ALL-RED LINE

Lord Strathcona Reaches Montreal and Expresses Views.

Canadian High Commissioner Says the Supreme Importance of the Project is a Cause of Necessary Delay—Britain Friendly to Canada—Favors Halifax as the Terminal on This Side.

Montreal, Aug. 3.—“Naturally I have to keep in daily touch with the Dominion, and I cannot see but what this present prosperity which we are now enjoying all over the country will continue for several years to come. This is, in fact, but a repetition of what took place in the United States after they had recovered from the effects of their civil war,” said Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, who reached the city yesterday morning, accompanied by his daughter, the Hon. Mrs. Howard.

Lord Strathcona compared the position of the Liberal party of England under William Ewart Gladstone, with its radically changed policy under Henry Campbell-Bannerman, and stated that, although they had not advanced so far as to adopt the preference policy, they were distinctly friendly to the colonies, and especially to the Dominion of Canada.

This, he thought, was clearly manifest, when they readily adhered to the idea of meeting the representative men of the colonies every four years for the purpose of discussing questions of importance to both the Motherland and the colonies, and also when they consented to the principle of what has been named the “all-red line.”

Speaking at length on this matter, Lord Strathcona declared that there was nothing to indicate any change of attitude on the part of the British Ministry since the day they gave their consent to this great project at the recent conference. The British Government, through the Colonial Secretary and other Ministers, accepted this project, which they no doubt realized would be of the greatest possible benefit to the Empire as a whole, and he believed that this admission would be carried into practical effect in due season.

He said, however, that the project was a very serious one, and one of supreme importance, consequently nothing could be done in haste and without a mature consideration of every phase of the question. While it was quite true that he had the greatest confidence in the project, it was a mistake to say that he had ever pronounced himself in favor of any particular British port. He, however, always favored Halifax as the Canadian terminal port, and when his lordship was asked if this remark meant all the year round his lordship replied, “Yes, all the year round, and then he went on to calculate the time that a fast railway train should take to make the run from Halifax to Montreal, and arrived at the conclusion that when the track and roadbeds of our railways are put in first-class condition, as they, of course, must be, to admit of such a service, the run will be easily made in from 15 to 16 hours.

“Yes,” he added, “the trip across the Atlantic will be made in four days, and from Halifax to the commercial capital of the Dominion in two-thirds of another day, making the route pre-eminently the fastest from the old to the new world.”

Outlook Unpromising.

London, Aug. 3.—(O.A.P.)—The London Daily Mail says the outlook for the all-red route is unpromising. No definite decision has been reached, but the Mail alleges that all departmental investigations show that economical stability could not be ensured for the scheme. Members of Parliament therefore are beginning to doubt if the scheme can be carried out.

Diver Suffocates.

Windsor, Aug. 3.—Marshall Townsend, a diver, was suffocated by the parting of his air hose while in twenty feet of water near Algona yesterday.

There was no warning of the accident, which was only discovered after Townsend had failed to respond to signals and had been hauled to the surface.

His features were horribly distorted, and showed that he must have suffered agonies before losing consciousness.

Worry and Suicides.

Woodstock, Aug. 3.—James Smith committed suicide on the farm of his brother William of Glandford Township, by hanging himself in the barn.

Despondency and worry over his physical condition is believed to be the cause. Smith came home from California a couple of years ago, and has since been in very poor health.

Dundas Cadets Win.

Ottawa, Aug. 3.—In the det series of competitions of the Canadian Military Rifle League, Dundas High School won first place, Guelph Cadet Battalion second, and Ottawa Public School third.

There were twelve entries for this, the first year, of a series for cadets. They shoot on their own ranges.

Suicide on Temagami.

Toronto, Aug. 3.—Aubrey White, Deputy Minister of Mines, received word yesterday that Wm. H. Moore of Brockport, N.Y., committed suicide a few days ago by shooting himself on island 994 in the Temagami lakes. He had been ill and accompanied by Dr. W. J. Bott had gone north. The body will be sent home.

Hospital Patient Escapes.

Edmonton, Alta., Aug. 3.—George E. Wood, while delirious in Misericordia Hospital, got out of a third-story window and walked along the stone cornice, a foot in width. He was finally coaxed back by a nurse, who tempted him with a bottle of whiskey.

Liberal's Easy Win.

London, Aug. 2.—The bye-election for a member of Parliament for the northwest division of Staffordshire has resulted in the return of Albert Stanley, Liberal candidate, with the substantial majority of 2,340 over the Unionist candidate.

The result indicates that the Unionists have little prospect of success at the polls except in constituencies where special conditions have caused a split in the Liberal Labor elements.

Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Do not make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably weaken your vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the “inside nerves.” Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me to-day for sample and free Book. Proper Lightning Protectors.

In an address to the Royal Engineers at Chatham, England, Alfred Hands said that too much importance is attached to the form and composition of lightning conductors and not enough to the fact that the efficiency depends almost entirely on the way the apparatus is attached and little on what it is made of. Lightning conductors in the hands of experts, he said, may be likened to drugs in the hands of doctors—they must be suited to the particular case. As to the relative value of iron and copper for conductors, there is but a trifling difference except that for conductors expected to last long iron is too perishable.

Latch Key Tenure in Village Near London.

Crownland is in Lincolnshire, five miles from the nearest railway station, and about eight miles northeast of Peterborough, at the confluence of the River Welland and the Catwater drain, less than 100 miles from London.

Crownland, as every one knows (although, perhaps, it is better known to our American cousin sightseers than to us), is world famous for the interesting remains of the west front of the once magnificent, old nitered Benedictine abbey founded in 714 by King Ethelwald in honor of the hermit St. Guthlac, and is also noted for possessing a Gothic “triangular” bridge.

Crownland boasts, however, another curious and extraordinary feature in the shape of a street of houses which, at least, was once believed to be several of them, in fact, now belong to nobody but the person who is fortunate enough to hold the key.

These are “keyhold tenures,” obtained on the “first come first served” principle, and can be held by whoever so long as the lives; and on his demise, providing he has no widow or family, the first person to cross the threshold becomes entitled to the house, and no power on earth—so far as the law is concerned—can force him to relinquish his hold; the owner for the time being, however, having no tangible hold over the property in the shape of a “script” or security of any kind, cannot will it to any one or sell it.

In Poorhouse Row.

This extraordinary state of affairs exists in Albion street, originally called Poorhouse row or Independence lane, and situated close to the ruins of the old abbey. It owes its origin to the fact, so the story goes, that it was left, among other lands, etc., in trust pro bono publico by some philanthropic person, evidently with a view to practically studying the welfare and improving the social conditions of the poorer ten laborers. The trustees and other persons who hold the administration of these various lands gave notice many years ago—beyond living memory, in fact—that a narrow piece of waste land, between forty and fifty feet in width, had been set aside for building purposes, and if any of the humble laborers wished to have a plot of land to erect a dwelling place upon it could simply be had for the asking; and many were the odd and fantastic story shanties that were erected there.

Houses Cost Little.

In this way the little piece of rough, water logged land eventually was transformed into the semblance of a street of some sixty or seventy rude habitations, most of which had been put up at a cost of a few pounds.

As a result of a dozen of the old houses are left that can still be claimed by this unique procedure, most of the tenements having been replaced by more modern buildings, and the occupants, being better educated, having under the enfranchisement laws, for a matter of $15 to $20, taken out freehold deeds, and have become fledged property owners, and, of course, they can will such properties to whomever they please, or even sell or mortgage them.

Many are the curious incidents that have happened on the death of a tenant of one of these lasty shanties. On one occasion, presumably when people were not so particular as they are now or the law troubled about such trifles, one sly old resident, whose strategy and sense of humor evidently were developed far above the average, on hearing that one of the occupants was about to quit this earthly plane, did not wait to “play the game” and obtain possession by crossing the threshold, but made his entry by way of the chimney, and, after watching his owner breathe his last breath, at that precise moment took possession of the house and key!

Caught After 25 Years.

“Murder will out” and “cheating never prospers” were never better illustrated than recently in an extraordinary case that came up recently in the Clerkenwell police court. Mr. John Edwards, now 48 years of age and prosperous, was charged with being a man who, as a clerk in his young days, twenty-five years ago, ran away with $2,400 intrusted to him by Mr. T. Bentley Westcott, a St. Pancras auctioneer.

Mr. Edwards is a builder, residing in Scarsdale road, Victoria park, Manchester. Detective Inspector Neil, who arrested him and brought him to London, gave evidence. He said he made himself known to Edwards and told him the bit of history that Mr. Westcott had a business at the time in Camden road, and that on July 1, 1882, his clerk was intrusted with several sums of money to pay into the National Bank, King's Cross, amounting to $2,500. The clerk paid in checks to a certain amount, but did not account for the first check. “You are the clerk, and you took the money,” the inspector concluded.

“That remains to be proved,” replied Mr. Edwards (according to the detective's evidence). On the way to the railway station he said: “I expected this about six weeks ago. I was told by the man who gave me a way that he had done it. He is a dirty scoundrel, after all I have done for him. I have given him money, and he has held this over my head. Because I would not give him more he has done this.” He referred also to a fellow clerk who absconded with him, and added, “but I don't like to speak of the dead.”

Mr. Westcott, who appeared in court as the prosecutor, heard the detective's evidence, and then told the magistrate that he had no vindictive feeling, but would like the case remanded.

A Pretty Coin.

There is not a prettier coin issued, says an English paper, than a freshly minted farthing, and the sixty odd Victorian farthings of consecutive years, perfect and lustrous, are greatly admired for their dainty diminutive portrayal in copper and bronze of Queen Victoria during her long reign.

Attorney-General Foy Directs Investigation of Trenton Voters' Lists.

Trenton, Aug. 2.—Attorney-General Foy stated yesterday that he had instructed the crown attorney of Hastings to take such steps as may be deemed necessary in regard to a complaint made to the Department of irregularities in the preparation of the voters' list.

It is alleged that the manhood franchise list of the list has been loaded up with 310 names that ought not to be there. These were written into the assessment roll by Peter Pomery, an occasional clerk, at the instance and from a marked voters' list furnished by Mr. G. W. Ostrom, ex-M.P.P., town clerk.

Mr. Ostrom admitted freely the irregularity of what he had done, but denied any intention of political or electoral dishonesty. A comparison of the inflated list with that of the previous year showed that every one of the 310 names improperly inserted had been approved by Judge Deroche at the revision of Dec. 8, 1906, and finally certified by him Feb. 5, 1907. Mr. Ostrom explained that this revision completed in February last, had left about 368 names in the manhood franchise part of the list.

No election had been held on this list and he inserted the 310 unauthorized names from it in the list for 1907, adding the 66 names in the assessment roll. He said further that, as the list was to be finally revised in the presence of representatives of both parties before the county judge, he thought it better to have it printed as near complete as possible; that it would entail less work and less printing to strike off a few not entitled to vote than to virtually reproduce the manhood franchise part by making large additions.

As to the copying of names from the voters' list to the assessment roll, Mr. Ostrom said it was for convenience in reference to the coming revision. In support of his plea of innocent intent, he pointed out that all the names improperly entered on the list printed and exposed in June last were certified to by the judge for the previous year's list in February of this year.

CAID'S LIFE.

Raisuli Plays That Trump Card in Demanding Negotiation.

Tangier, Aug. 2.—The Government troops under command of Caid Bouche have renewed operations against the lawless tribes. They surprised the village of Alkala, inhabited by Raisuli supporters, at daybreak and set it on fire. A brief fight ensued, in which many were killed and a large number of prisoners fell into Bouche's hands.

The commander of the troops offered a big reward to any one delivering over to him Raisuli, dead or alive. Raisuli's letter to the Sultan's Minister threatening to kill Caid MacLean and an urgent message sent to Bouche, acquainting him with the threat and advising suspension of hostilities, have so far had no deterrent effect on the commander of the Moroccan troops.

It is reported that Raisuli has formulated demands, indirectly involving the dilemma of either destroying the Government's authority or sacrificing Caid MacLean's life.

Raisuli refuses to treat with the Sultan, and insists that Great Britain compel the Moorish Government to accede to his terms and guarantee their execution.

The terms include a demand on the part of Raisuli that he be made governor of the northern tribes. Failing this, he threatens that he will kill Caid MacLean.

The Moors feel that the acceptance of the bandit's terms will lead to anarchy, thus affording an excuse for interference by France.

Nature's Cold Storage.

On the shores of Beech Hill pond at Otis, Me., there is what is known as a cold cellar. This is one of nature's wonders. It is a large room with walls of rocks in which is a most wonderful spring of water noted for its health giving properties and is so intensely cold in the warmest weather that it forms ice which has been taken from the cellar in July.

MR. WHITE IS QUITE PROUD

And Well He May Be After His Last Fat Man's Race

Mt. Clemens Leader Gives Graphic Account of the Grand Event

The Mt. Clemens Leader of August 2, contains the following account of the foot race, in which Chatham's famous fat man figured so prominently:

"An impromptu sporting event was pulled off at 8 o'clock this morning on Crocker boulevard that attracted more people than many heralded by posters and trumpets.

"At an early hour an unusual number of people were noticed crossing Macomb street bridge and it was soon rumored about that a foot race was to be run between two guests at the Sherman House to decide a wager. Others joined the crowd and soon several hundred people were lined up along the avenue opposite the ball park waiting the arrival of the contestants who soon appeared in special conveyances with their backers and stripped for the fray. They were J. W. White, barrister, of Chatham, Ont., also ex-champion amateur sprinter, of Canada, who tipped the beam at 200 pounds, and Tom Burgen, who sells liquor dealer, of Columbus, Ohio, ex-ball player and all-round athlete. A course of 65 yards was measured off and at the signal by Starter J. J. Jenkins, an oil magnate of Corns, Ohio, the old time sports were off like a shot. It was nip and tuck for the first half of the stretch, but in the last half White got the lead and passed the home stake fifteen feet ahead of his opponent.

"The judges were W. J. Watts, of Columbus, Ohio, and Charles Parsts, of Chicago. Considerable money was up in the race and it furnished much amusement for a large number of hotel guests.

"It is said that Mr. White, who is quite proud of his victories on the field of sport, was somewhat nettled by remarks claimed to have been made by Mr. Burgen that he was the only Simon pure ex-champion sprinter in the city and issued a challenge, which was immediately accepted by the latter."

of Masonry he took a deep interest and has held many important positions of honor and trust in the craft.

Mr. Park comes from a family of educators. His father was for many years a principal of one of the Maple City schools. His late brother Alexander was, up till his death, on the local staff. In 1877 he married Miss Mary Radley, a city teacher, and daughter of the late Dr. S. D. Radley. A son, Robert, is also a teacher. In addition to his widow, a family of five is left to mourn his loss. They are William E., on the staff of the News; Samuel F., druggist; Robert E., a teacher, and Mary and Georgia at school. The Planet joins with the citizens generally in an expression of sympathy with them in their sad bereavement.

The funeral will take place from his late residence, corner of Taylor and Grand avenues, Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, with Masonic honors. The service will be conducted by R. W. Bro. Rev. J. W. Hodgins, Past Grand Chaplain.

SUICIDE NEAR TORONTO?

Mysterious Message Received From Missing Man, Native of Erie.

Erie, Pa., Aug. 5.—Through the aid of the postoffice officials of Toronto, Canada, the local police officials have succeeded in clearing up the mystery of the disappearance of a prominent man.

It is now thought that John McCall committed suicide near Toronto, although no clue to his whereabouts was disclosed until Postmaster Sobel of the Erie postoffice received a card from Toronto, which bore these words, "Committed suicide; if you find it, send word to my mother that I am dead.—McCall, Erie, Pa."

This note was written on the back of a ticket of a Toronto theatre. The card was found on Toronto Island. McCall disappeared some time ago, and the police notified his parents yesterday of his death, although no foundation as to whether the body was found or not has been received.

Fatality at Cobalt.

Cobalt, Ont., Aug. 5.—Alexander McIsaac, a machine near Toronto, was killed Saturday morning by falling down the shaft.

He had just come to the top in the bucket with another employee, and it is supposed he slipped when stepping out of the bucket. He dropped 10 feet. When picked up by the foreman he spoke, but expired immediately after.

McIsaac came from Dartmouth, N.S., where his sister resides. His father and mother are also living, at Halifax. He was about 40 years of age, a widower, and belonged to the Cobalt Miners' Union. His son died last spring in Nova Scotia.
