As to his election manifesto, Sir course he could not indicate in advance what its chief planks were. As, how-ever, the Premier has taken a strong stand upon several important points of government, it is not difficult to forecast the leading features of the platform upon which Sir Charles Tupper will appeal to the electorate.

Without question there will be a sigpreferential trade within the Empire as an adjunct to the protective policy which has done so much to develop the industrial life of Canada. Not unlikely, also, the people will be asked to sustain the the equipment of the militia and strengthening the defences of Canada, in regard to which expenditure the opposition manifested a spirit of niggardliness.

tracting great attention. On the Manitoba school question the country may be asked to approve the policy of the government, which has given its pledge to maintain the constiutional gnarantees.

Sir Charles having completed his cabinet, at 1:30 this afternoon all the ministers were sworn in before the Governor-General with the exception of Colonel Tisdale, who will not arrive in the city until to-morrow. The new cabinet is constituted as follows:

Sir Charles Tupper, premier and secretary of state; Hon. G. E. Foster, finance; Hon. John Costigan, marine and fisheries; Hon. John Haggart, railways and canals; Hon. A. R. Angers, president of the council; Hon. W. B. Hon. E. G. Prior, inland revenue; Hon. A. Desjardins, public works; Hon. L. O. Taillon, postmaster-general; Hon. H. J. Macdonald, interior; Hon. It appears that Mr. Angers was asked by the Premier to take the Quebec leadership and he did so on the understanding that he would have the choice of his French Canadian colleagues in the cabinet. Mr. Angers has secured Premier Taillon and Hon. Mr. Desjardins. These three are from Quebec, together with Hon. J. J. Ross, who although wearing a Scottish name is a French Canadian with a

Sir Adolphe Caron says he knows nothing of the report that in a few months he is likely to be appointed High Commissioner. He will contest Rimouski and do his utmost to aid in securing a new lease of power to the Conservatives. Sir Charles Tupper has given assurances to Hon. Messrs. Wood and Prior that at the coming session, should the party be in office, a bill will be introduced abolishing the controllerships and restoring the name of ministers. The two controllers will take precedence over five of their colleagues.

the workings, and this was done on the day of the catastrophe. The fact that the overseer's son is amongst the lost proves that there was no danger to be naturally apprehended. When the government inspector visited the mine three weeks before, there was no suspicion of fire damp, and it is surmised that the dreadful explosion was caused by some sudden inflow of gas in the course of breaking down the coal. Mr. Mc-Dougall, the mineral manager of the company owning the colliery, when interviewed, said that the men were engaged in breaking down the pillars left standing after the coal crosscuts had been taken out. The pillars were only being removed in quantities of from 300 to 400 tons a week. The main work was being done in another part of the property. As the pillars were removed at the back of the drive the ground was recollect hearing previously of any danger from fire damp. He stated too that every precaution had always been taken at the mine, and a large electric light plant was kept.

Meline replied that it was impossible for the ministry to discuss the question of revision at this time, but that the matter would come before the chamber of deputies in due season. The Premier then asked the chamber for a vote of confidence. He declared that harmony between the chamber of deputies and the senate is necessary to the proper conduct of the government.
At the same time he added that the government is ready to ask the right of universal suffrage. The government's programme, M. Meline said, was based upon the known wishes of the country.

After some discussion Premier Meline accepted a motion affirming the preponderance of universal suffrage and approving the government's statement. The first part of the motion was adopted by a unanimous vote, and the second part was adopted by a vote of 241 ayes to 196 nays. The motion, as a whole, was then adopted, the vote standing 299 ayes to 256 noes. The chamber then adjourned until May 26.

The can now runs through a cooling cylinder and receives its bottom from a press which punches out discs for heads and bottoms. The bottom meets the can at the header, as it is called, one disc at a time, dropping into place just as the can comes along. The bottom is pressed on the can, i passes along into a chute and is carried away ready to be filled. The machine has spaces for thirty-eight cans, and as already stated sixty-five cans a minute is the capacity. The machine turns out round cans, but by changing the shape of the horn any other shape may be made, cheapness and quickness being the two great advantages of the method.

SHIPWRECKED AND FROZEN.

When the steamship Danube sailed for the North on her last trip she carried a passenger from Rivers Inlet to Fort impson who had as full an experience of shipwreck as ever man survived. Sam Harris, who is well known here, started North from Fort Simpson in company with another fisherman, who went by the name of Steamboat Harry, a little over a month ago. They were bound for one of the Northern canneries in expecwhen the little vessel was overtaken by a gale. The snow descended first, and the sea rising rapidly gave the fishermen no alternative but to enter the inlet—a dangerous task under the circumstances.
