It has been heard said that on account of the higher tax rate for dogs in the country farmers are quietly losing their bow-wows in the towns to save funeral expenses of the critters. Farm help is scarce and costly, you know.

Some of our citizens keep so minute a record of their neighbors' goings and comings, that one might think they had mistaken themselves for the recording angel. The only difference seems to be that they never drop a tear on the record and blot it out.

Our readers' attention is called to the Annual Report of the Industrial Mortgage & Savings Company, which report appears in this issue. The 1921 motor licenses markers, which have just been issued by the Department of Highways, are not meeting with the approval of the local and county police, who claim that the black numbers on the yellow background are not as easily discerned at a distance as the blue and blackers in vogue last year, and there is a possibility that a formal protest against the use of the markers may be sent to the department. Officers complain of being unable to read the numbers on the plates after dark, the light causing the figures to jumble. County constables claim that the new numbers will encourage much speeding this year as soon as motorists realize that they will be practically immune from detection. The new markers are almost identical with those used by the State of Michigan last year, and it is reported that the state authorities found them very unsatisfactory.

This is a practical demonstration of the saying that every man ought to have his name printed on his envelopes," said a postmaster pointing to three or four letters held for postage. Any man is likely to put a letter in the post office without mailing it. With a card on the corner of the envelope, we can stamp it and collect the postage when the writer comes in. We don't know who dropped those letters into the box, and must hold them till we write the persons addressed, and they send us the postage. That is the rule of the post office department.

HOCKEY

Watford 6—Sarnia 5

The boys demonstrated very clearly on Wednesday night what they can do with the rubber on a good piece of ice, when they put it over Sarnia in the first round of N.H.L. to the sweet refrain of 6-5. Incidentally it might be mentioned for the benefit of "Red" Wilson and his "big city" aggregation that after making the boast all winter of never being beaten on their own ice, the "small town dubs" step out of the "pill box" onto their own big "Arena" and chalk the score up 3-1 in the first period. Second period 5-3 still in favor of the locals. The period scores are a true illustration of the game, simply showing that Watford had them played off their feet throughout the centre game.

"Curly" Auld, the old war-horse, and "Penny" Bruce, the centre midget, were the main features. Centre plays the return round here this (Friday) evening. Surely our good victory on their ice will assure us of the biggest house of fans we've ever had, as this will without doubt be the super-game of the season. Game starts at 8.15.

WATFORD 9—STRATHROY 8

Just when Strathroy thought they had the lead, the game over and put away on ice, our boys made one of the most sensational finishes seen here for some time. The score was 7-3 in favor of Strathroy within five minutes of full time when Spence Bruce started the fireworks playing hockey that would beat any team. The Bruce, Irwin, Greer trio ran in four goals in five minutes turning the score. In the overtime Watford scored twice and Strathroy once, giving the boys of the "Pill Box" rink the game. Bruce was the star of the evening with Irwin and Greer close seconds.

Mennish of Strathroy was the Referee. The line up:—

Watford
Goalkeepers goal Strathroy
Dobson defence Cameron
Millar defence McAndless
Irwin wing McDode
Greer wing Brown
Bruce centre McKillop

WATFORD 13—SARNIA 5

Sarnia Wanderers, champions of the city league of Sarnia were no match for the homebrews. They were fast skaters but didn't combine well. On the other hand Watford forward line gave a good exhibition of playing combination. Time and time again they went down the ice two abreast and a third heading for our goal. Bruce and Irwin were again outstanding in the stick-handling and lightning plays. Fred Rogers handled the game in his usual impartial manner. The regular local line up was used.

Now that the syrup season is here those run runners in Essex should pay their attention to sap-running. It may not be as lucrative but is a more honorable way of making money.

Paderewski finds it harder to create harmony in Poland than he does on a piano keyboard.

Evidently Chinese hens do not receive union wages. According to Hon. Dr. Tolmie the Chinese egg is a cheaply produced low grade product.

The Yankees now want to buy the West Indies, but Great Britain has no intention of letting their holdings there go. "What we have we'll hold."

Boys will continue to leave the farm as long as agricultural papers and farmers themselves continue bitterly to decry their own calling, says the Orillia Packet.

The man who makes a suggestion for the betterment of the business in which he is employed, even if he is dead wrong, is worth two of the chap who does as he is told and plays safe.

Teaching the young "how to make a living" rather than "how to live," is the curse of popular modern education. Materialism in education, as in every other phase of human life, can have but one result. It makes for materialism and develops a people without a sense of appreciation for the spiritual beauty of life.

Woodstock Sentinel-Review:—Mrs. Ralph Smith of Vancouver declined the honor of the Speakership of the British Columbia Legislature. Had she accepted it she would have been the first woman to hold such a position in any Parliamentary body. But under our Parliamentary system the Speaker does not speak, or speaks only when it is necessary to give a ruling. Perhaps Mrs. Smith saw the point.

We read the other day of a farmer's wife who is supporting a native preacher in India on the title of her egg money. Did it ever strike you that ten tithers can support a preacher and keep him as well as they themselves live, and if the Lord only had the money the church people put into automobiles there would be no difficulty in financing missions. We wonder if any of our readers are putting more money into their autos than into their religion.

Those who think that flying is not much more risky than travelling on a railway train will be interested in the figures of the English Air Ministry for a period of eight months in 1919. The conclusion of the investigators is that had the same rate of accident, journey for journey, been maintained in railway travel, 28,000 engineers would have been killed and 280,000 injured, and that 105,000 passengers would have been killed and more than a million injured.

Child welfare matters are receiving more attention each year in the Old Country. By an amendment to the Employment of Children Act, 1920, County Councils can now pass and are passing bylaws forbidding the employment of boys under 14 after school for more than two hours or on Saturdays for any period which does not give them five hours of continuous rest and recreation. They cannot be employed for more than five hours or before 8 a.m. or after 7 p.m. No child under 12 years of age can be employed. There are also a number of prohibited employments at which boys under 14 cannot be employed at all.

When the budget is brought down, Sir Henry Drayton should modify the provisions of the Income Tax Act in regard to penalties for non-compliance with the law. In the early days of the measure the Government was severely criticized for laxness in enforcement. To meet this criticism the law was so amended last session of Parliament to make every man his own tax collector and to provide for the most drastic penalties. The penalties in many cases are absurdly heavy and cannot be enforced. If they are enforced to the letter of the law, many an innocent man will find himself either forced to pay enormous fines or subject to months in jail. No effort has yet been made by the Government to make public the nature of the new act or to inform taxpayers of the changes in the law. The Government has a responsibility on this score it cannot shirk.

Man commonly thinks of himself as being body, intellect and spirit, and we might be led by much that we hear and read to believe that these were three distinct entities existing in the one man. The truth is, man is a unit. Experience is a process and no one can form any conception of himself as a body only, a spirit only or an intellect-only. These are only different phases of the one life and these phases are so interdependent that no one side can possibly be developed apart from the others. In fact, one might say that the physical is fundamental to the intellectual and moral development. It follows that the exercise and development of the body are as essential as the exercise and development of the intellectual and spiritual. Hence, gymnasiums, skating rinks and other means of physical culture for our boys and girls are as important as our schools and churches.

Henry Ford, in an interview last week, said, he believed cities would eventually disappear as industrial centres. All manufacture, agriculture and transportation could work for greater mutual advantage if grouped in small communities. Mr. Ford is planning to get a large part of his manufacture away from great cities. He is already putting into operation a plan to set up small industries with motor car production in smaller towns and even villages, where farmers, now unemployed through the winter months could use the time to their own profit. Mr. Ford foresees the day when both horses and cows are done away with. Milk will be produced from the same cereals the cow eats, and will be superior to the natural article and much cleaner. A scientific food will take the place of beef, while small motor engines will replace horses on the farm. "The cow" he said "is the crudest machine in the world." Mr. Ford has already built a factory to manufacture valves in a town of 1,500 inhabitants and will extend the scheme in other directions. This flavor of the "Me and God" talk of the ex-Kaiser.

THE COUNTRY TOWN

An exchange says:—As a result of a survey of social conditions in the Middle Western States, the conclusion is reached that the country town is rapidly dying. The survey was made in the states of Minnesota, South Dakota, Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Illinois and Wisconsin, and the conclusions reached was that "Almost everywhere the country town is either actually losing its population or barely holding its own. Instead of being the capital, as it were, of the surrounding farming district, leading in business enterprise, education and progress, almost everywhere the country town is outclassed by the farmers."

According to this survey the country town merchant conducts his business by time worn methods and as a result the mail order house has largely taken his business from him. It is pointed out that leadership in the small towns is lacking, that there is nothing to develop leadership and no satisfactory opportunity is afforded the young people, and as a result they go elsewhere. In one community 90 per cent. of the young people went to the city. Great pride

WATFORD'S NEW RINK AS PROPOSED

This is the proposed new Watford Skating Rink. Note the modern design and steel construction. This is a real rink—one that will put Watford in the front row among Ontario towns, and will give the citizens of Watford a pleasure place to be justly proud of. This rink will cost $8,000; of which $6,500 is already subscribed. Every citizen, young or old, should be a booster for this fine new building. Is your name on the subscription list?

is taken in schools but in every town there were from one to five dead churches. Signs of establishing a community church were apparent in some of the towns.

On the other hand it is pointed out that the farmer is wide awake and progressive as long as he remains on the farm.

Co-operative enterprises are springing up everywhere, including stores, mills, elevators and enterprises of a similar nature. Farmers receive their inspiration, from National and State Departments of Agriculture, from agricultural colleges and from farm papers. In the country there are agricultural agents, women demonstrators and other agencies which tend to put the farming community on its metal. "There is nothing like this for the country town—no organization for improvement." In concluding the survey, the report says, "The two great needs for the farm are better equipped homes and good roads." This survey might be written about Ontario towns and Ontario farms.

Census reports in both Canada and the United States show that the country village and small country town have decreased in population as the farming community has decreased. On the other hand where there is a progressive and growing population the towns in that vicinity are growing and prosperous. The lesson to be learned from the survey is that the country town and the farm community have much in common, and that only as the rural districts prosper can the country town hope to thrive. In addition to that there is the lesson that progressive steps are needed by country merchants to keep pace with the modern business methods adopted by the city merchants and manufacturers.

EATING OUR FORESTS

The Chicago Tribune publishes a full-page advertisement in various United States newspapers extolling its own enterprise in the Province of Ontario. The information is of special interest to Ontario people.

"Into The Tribune's great mill at Thorold, Ontario, go hundreds of thousands of electric horsepower from Niagara Falls, millions of gallons of water from the Welland Canal, trainloads of coal, shiploads of logs, cars of sulphur and limestone and clay—and out of the mill streams paper at the rate of 600 to 1,000 feet per minute from each of five machines.

"The sheets delivered from the various machines range from 160 to 187 inches wide. This means that the product is the equivalent of a strip of paper one foot wide and five miles long every sixty seconds.

"To produce the newsprint used in an average issue of The Sunday Tribune our paper mill consumes: "Fifty-four acres of timber. "Twenty-one tons of sulphur. "Six hundred and sixty-five tons of coal. "Sixty-three thousand electric h.p. "Eighteen million two hundred thousand gallons of water. "This great mill represents an investment of millions of dollars, and employs 650 men."

This is excellent publicity for Ontario's natural resources and industrial development, but it prompts the question, How long can the Province continue to keep pulp and paper mills in operation and United States newspapers supplied with paper unless its pulpwood growth is replenished? If one edition of a Sunday newspaper eats up 54 acres of Ontario timber, how soon will all the newspapers printed on Ontario-made paper eat up all the timber?

In Quebec some of the pulp and paper companies are planting a tree for every tree cut down, the Government having made an offer of free planting stock to all holders of timber licenses, with the privilege of deducting the cost of planting from the current annual stumpage dues as an incentive to reforestation. How many trees is The Chicago Tribune replanting in Ontario, assuming that it owns timber limits to keep its mills supplied, or the other paper-makers or timber licensees who are denuding the forests of the Province? It is profitable to certain interests for the moment to furnish the wood and make the pulp and newsprint for the Sunday papers across the line, but the Province will be lost, if an efficient policy of reforestation is not adopted soon and carried out with vigor.—Globe.

Internal parasites in the shape of worms in the stomach and bowels of children sap their vitality and retard physical development. They keep the child in a constant state of unrest and, if not attended to, endanger life. The child can be spared much suffering and the mother much anxiety by using a reliable worm remedy such as Miller's Worm Powders, which are sure death to worms.

Internally and Externally it is good.—The crowning property of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is that it can be used internally for many complaints as well as externally. For sore throat, croup, whooping cough, pains in the chest, colic and many kindred ailments it has curative qualities that are unsurpassed. A bottle of it costs so little and there is no loss in always having it at hand.

The U. F. O. intend opening a branch store in Petrolea. Unduly increased rates for railway travel, and the carrying of freight will drive a larger share of the traffic to the highways year by year. The makers of motor vehicles have no reason to quarrel with the railways and their employees concerning their endeavors to charge all the traffic will stand—and a little more.

James Bowley, one of Strathroy's oldest and most highly esteemed citizens, passed away Monday evening, 7th inst. at the remarkable age of 92 years and 4 days. Deceased had been in failing health for some time, and the accident which he suffered last week, when he fractured his leg no doubt hastened the end. Mr. Bowley was born in Brighton, England, and came to Strathroy in 1857, residing there continuously until his death—a period of 64 years. For many years he followed his profession as a contractor, erecting a large number of the brick buildings in town and country.

The death occurred at the family residence, Lake Road East, Bosanquet, on Sunday, Feb. 6th, of Emma Sophrina Bell beloved wife of Frank Dew, aged 36 years and 9 months and 6 days. Deceased had been ill for ten days with pluro-pneumonia. She was born in Bosanquet and was a daughter of the late Alva Bell. In January 1917 she was married to Frank Dew, who survives. She is also survived by her mother, six brothers and one sister, viz. Torrance, Cleveland and Thomas of Bosanquet, John of Forest, Charles and Albert of Sedgewick, Alberta; Mrs. Will Ellerker of Warwick. The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon to Beechwood cemetery and the services were conducted by Rev. Doolittle. The bearers were S. Burr, Geo. Buchanan, F. Clark, Lorne Vivian, Geo. Lougheed and Colin Johnson.

31st Annual Meeting of Shareholders of The Industrial Mortgage and Savings Co.

The 31st Annual Meeting of the Shareholders of the Industrial Mortgage and Savings Co., was held in the Board Room of the Company, at 2 p.m., Tuesday, February 15th, 1921.

Among those present were: Jno. McFarlane, Alex. Chalmers, Byrn Stephens, D. N. Sinclair, William McDonlad, Robert Jardine, Robert McNaughton, Rev. Dr. Morrison, M. McGugan, W. G. Willoughby, B. Rooney, Arthur W. Armson, Wm. Armstrong, W. T. Goodison, John Cowan, G. R. Shirley, Wm. H. Farr, W. G. Hall, John Anderson, Thos. Paul, W. G. Moorhouse, J. H. Crookard, Capt. R. D. Foote, James Wilson, Capt. Colin McLachlan, Alex. Fulton, Donald McDonald.

After the reading of the minutes of the last annual meeting and the adoption of the same, Mr. John Cowan, K.C., President, moved the adoption of the Directors' Report which was seconded by Mr. W. G. Willoughby. In speaking to the motion the president pointed out many of the gratifying features of the Financial Report. The assets were now over two and three-quarter millions of dollars, being an increase of $169,000 over last year. In these assets are included Govt. Municipal Bonds and cash representing over 25 per cent of the total investments of the company, or over 80 per cent of the total amount on deposits. These are all liquid securities and show the strong financial position of the company. During the year the shareholders were paid 8 per cent. dividend on the paid-up capital and a bonus of 1 per cent, $1665 was written off furniture and fixtures and $20,000 carried to Rest Fund. This reserve amounted now to $420,000 being over 66 per cent. of the Paid-up Capital.

The public confidence was manifested in a marked degree by the increase in Debentures and Deposits of over $140,000. He also stated that the Directors had decided to increase the minimum rate of interest on deposits from 3 to 3½ per cent. and were prepared to pay special rates on large sums of money left for a fixed period of time.

Notwithstanding the pessimistic statements heard on every side regarding hard times ahead he looked with hope and confidence to the year 1921 being a year of great expansion for the company and asked for the hearty co-operation of all to make it such.

After Mr. W. T. Goodison, Rev. Dr. John Morrison, and Mr. J. H. Anderson had expressed their gratification at the results achieved the motion was unanimously adopted.

The retiring directors were re-elected and T. F. Towers and Henry Conn were appointed auditors for the ensuing year.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board, John Cowan, K.C., was appointed president, W. G. Willoughby, 1st Vice, and John McFarlane, 2nd Vice President.

The marriage took place quietly at St. James' church manse, Forest, when Florence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wright of Thedford, was married to Mr. Roland Walton, youngest son of Mrs. Ellen Walton, of Toronto, formerly of Forest. The Rev. H. D. A. C. Edwards, an ex-mayor of Petrolia died Thursday last of pneumonia in his seventy-sixth year. He was a native of Scotland, and came to Petrolia 47 years ago as an actuary representing an accounting firm in London, Eng., interested in Canadian oil fields. He launched out into oil production for himself and settled in Petrolia. He was active in municipal affairs, particularly during the installation of the Petrolia waterworks system.

Believing that clean, legitimate recreation is an essential factor in the development of a well-rounded life, and recognizing the justice in the claim of our young people that the community offers at the present time no opportunity for the carrying on of winter athletics, the Ministerial Association of Glencoe heartily endorses the present effort toward the erection of a rink in the village, and commends the project as one which would seem likely to prove a helpful moral influence.

Mr. and Mrs. Blake Cohoe, of Woodslee, were terribly bereaved on Tuesday evening when their little daughter, Julia, succumbed to the effects of terrible burns she sustained when she set fire to her clothing with a match. While it is not definitely known just how the accident happened, as the mother was out of the room at the time, it is reasonably supposed that the child in the absence of the mother, climbed up on the sideboard, and procuring a match, in her innocence, lit it, and terrified when her clothing caught, ran out of the house, when fanned by the wind the flames soon enveloped her body, burning it so badly that death soon mercifully relieved her of her sufferings.

We read the other day of a farmer's wife who is supporting a native preacher in India on the title of her egg money. Did it ever strike you that ten tithers can support a preacher and keep him as well as they themselves live. And if the Lord only had the money the church people put into automobiles there would be no difficulty in financing missions. We wonder if any of our readers are putting more money into their autos than into their religion.

DID YOU

Did you ever stop to think my friend Of the hunters who roamed the plains?

Of the savage brave whose crimson blood,

The sod of the prairie stains?

Did you ever stand by a lonely grave,

Where an Indian Chief was laid?

Did you see the grass wave round his head,

And think of the wars he had waged?

Did you ever hear of the battlefield,

Won in glorious days of old?

No history tells, no minstrel sings,

Of the redskinned warrior bold.

Why should we not remember them now,

These brothers of long ago.

Their voices cry from their prairie bed,

For a reverence we fail to show.

The settlers plow goes over their heads,

And the sighing wind complains,

As the cattle graze o'er the lowly bed,

Gone are the fires that burned at night,

And there fearless builders too;

Ye chased from the plains the feeding herds,

From your rifle the wild birds flew.

Yet ye who have wronged the Indian so,

Call him treacherous, vain and untrue.

My worthy friend of a nobler race,

What does the red man owe you?

The Epworth League held a successful social evening last Thursday. The church was tastefully decorated for the occasion. A good program was given and a tasty luncheon served.

The Valentine and Birthday social given by the W. M. S. was a decided success. A very pleasing program of solos, quartettes, contests and addresses was given. A feature of special interest was a three story Birthday Cake decorated with forty colored candles, it being the fortieth anniversary of the W. M. S. in Canada. Our Hon. President, Mrs. Jas. Richardson, came forward and cut the cake. Each person present received a piece of the Birthday Cake besides the regular luncheon. Some of the young folks are still wondering who got the ring.

The Women's Institute held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Gilbert Dowling, about twenty-three members being present. Mrs. F. Hull gave a most excellent paper on "Our Canadian Authors and Their Works." Canada may certainly be proud of her sons and daughters talent. The Institute travelling library has arrived and the books are all in readiness to be given out to the members on Wednesday afternoons and Friday evenings by the librarian, Miss M. Barnes.

WINTER HARD ON BABY

The winter season is a hard one on the baby. He is more or less confined to stuffy, badly ventilated rooms. It is so often stormy that the mother does not get him out in the fresh air as often as she should. He catches colds which rack his little system; his stomach and bowels get out of order and he becomes peevish and cross. To guard against this the mother should keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house. They regulate the stomach and bowels and break up colds. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

RICH, RED BLOOD

MEANS HEALTH

Pale Cheeks and Bloodless Lips Are a Danger Signal.

To be pale is no longer the fashion; to be languid is an affliction. Today the most winsome girl is the one with the pink tinge of health in her cheeks, lips naturally red, and eyes sparkling with life. Add to this a quick, active step and everyone can tell the girl whose veins are full of the pure, rich blood of health. How different she appears from her ailing sisters, whose aching limbs and weak backs make them pale and dejected. Anaemia is the cause of so much suffering among women and girls that it cannot be too widely known that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have transformed thousands of delicate anaemic invalids into happy, healthy women. These pills help to put rich, red blood into the veins, and this blood reaches every part of the body, giving strength, rosy cheeks and brightness in place of weakness, prostrating headaches and a wretched state of half-health. Miss Edna E. Weaver, R. R. No. 1, Chippewa, Ont., says: "I was very nervous and troubled with pains in the side. I tried different medicines but without any benefit until I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Under the use of this medicine I gained strength, had better appetite, slept better and the pain in my side disappeared. My health has since remained excellent and I advise any one troubled with anaemia, or weakness, to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial."

Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for anaemia, rheumatism, neuralgia and nervousness. Build up your blood and note how the purer and richer blood fights your battles against disease. Take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a tonic if you are not in the best physical condition and cultivate a resistance that with the observance of the ordinary rules of health will keep you well and strong. Get a box from the nearest drug store and begin the treatment now, or send to The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and the pills will be sent you postpaid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50.

Who wishes to utter a complaint about the weather? It's ideal. Miss Parker has resumed her school duties after two weeks absence. Road work is now being done, making a great improvement in the roads. Mr. and Mrs. A. Randall are moving to their home in Wyoming this week. Peter J. McEwen, who has been ill with scarlet fever, is making rapid progress towards recovery.

Miss Parker, teacher at the local school, was called to her home at Kerwood to attend the funeral of her niece.

The meeting of the U. F. O. held in the Orange Hall was well attended and many topics of interest were up for discussion. The organization has rented the hall for a year.

Considerable interest is being taken all through this district in connection with the sugar beet situation. Growers are now receiving their additional checks at $2.95 per ton. Many farmers are carefully considering whether or not they will grow as large an acreage of beets as formerly owing to prices and the situation in regard to securing help.

Wanstead Beet Growers' Association held a meeting to protest against the price paid for sugar beets by the Dominion Sugar Company and to raise necessary funds to have legal investigation of what they claim to be their rights. The sugar company has paid farmers at the rate of $10.95 as the average price for sugar for months of October, November December and January, and the growers claim these prices were not justified on account of the high price at which sugar was until recently selling.

A very fine set of dies has just been received. They will stamp out the wire cloth, form the tin rims and finish up complete the bowls for 5 1/2 inch kitchen strainers. These dies were made at the Rockford plant and it is our intention to make four or five sets, but in other sizes, in our own machine shop.

In order to insure as nearly one hundred per cent. accuracy as possible in keeping record of hours, thus avoiding the unpleasantness of shortages and overages in the pay envelopes we are installing an attendance board. One half of this Board is called the "Out" section and the other the "In" section. When Dick or Maude come in they take their ticket from the "Out" pocket and place it in the "In" pocket and as these tickets are stamped with exact time of arrival and going out the exact hours are thus recorded.

At this time, a friend advised me to try 'Fruit-a-tives' and I did so. After taking two boxes of 'Fruit-a-tives', I was greatly relieved; and gradually this marvelous fruit medicine made me completely well. My digestion and general health are splendid—all of which I owe to 'Fruit-a-tives'."

SCHOOLDAYS SIXTY YEARS AGO

(By JAMES CRAIG.)

Seeing in one of Ruth Cameron's Side-talk letters in the London Free Press where she was enumerating the requirements of the modern pupil, and wondering where it was all going to stop at. Aside from an arm-load of books, there is floor space, air space, light, temperature and ventilation. All has to be looked after, and with the regular inspector and school board there is a staff of nurses and doctors who are making a living by inspecting and prescribing for their physical and dental ailments. There is certainly subject for wonder.

Now with the permission of the editor and the reading public, I will try to describe the conditions and systems of the public school which I attended some sixty years ago.

Well do I remember the first day I started to school. It was the summer of 1853 or 54. My mother brought me to the school room and introduced me to the teacher.

The teacher was a Mrs. Atkinson, the mother of the famous Atkinson brothers, and a bright lot of youngsters they were, all except Tom, who was the dull boy of the flock. Four of them became criminal lawyers, the youngest James Joseph, being able to plead in three languages.

The school section was a union, the second and fourth concessions south, of Warwick, were combined. There were a lot of children in those days in this section, but not many of them got to school at the same time. In the winter the small ones could not attend on account of bad roads and insufficient clothing. During the summer the big boys were kept at home to help on the farm. In fact, we were kept often on very simple reasons. I remember our teacher asking me, "Did I stay at home yesterday to watch the cat from eating the tongs." I remember two brothers who were sent to school week about, what they learned one week they forgot the next. In those days education was not so important as now, not many branches being taught. We were taught the three "R's," and well thrashed, the latter branch, generally a blue beech, seemed as important as the others.

Our school was situated on 27 sideroad halfway between the two concessions. It was about 20x30 feet in space, probably ten feet high to the eave. The roof was covered with clap boards about thirty inches long laid on stout poles at a slope sufficient to run the water off, but the wind and snow came in quite freely. The walls were built of round logs chinked on the inside with split basswood, on the outside plastered with mud. There were beams about six feet apart but no loft till later. In the fall of the second season there came a load of lumber. I think it was sawn at a mill situated on Brown's creek, on the farm owned at present by Dan Kelly. After some days the big boys volunteered to place it and soon they had the loft complete. There was no stairway required. The door was made of rough boards with a hole through which we poked our finger to lift the wooden latch when we came in. The floor was of basswood slabs, very rough and so open that the squirrels and chipmunks came up by times and skipped about looking for crumbs. You may be sure we paid more attention to them than we did to our lessons. A pair of peewees also came in and built their nest against a roof pole. The teacher warned us not to meddle with them, but afterward remarked "Those birds are going to be a nuisance." There were two windows on each side and directly under the windows were the writing desks, they were of the same material as the floor, the widest slabs being chosen. Each desk or platform was set upon four feet and sloped slightly inward. They were very uneven till one day Mr. Cline came with his adz and jack plane and levelled down the lumps. He made a vast improvement, he also bored holes to receive the ink bottles. Our ink was made from boiled soft maple bark with a little gunpowder added to the liquid. It was good but sometimes got frozen and burst the bottles. Our seats were of split basswood logs with feet placed in the round side, the flat side up, two on each side of the stove, they were about fourteen feet long, two of them being pushed back to the writing desks when we used that piece of furniture. The stove was a large box affair with the pipe going straight up through the roof, there was the raised picture of the head and shoulders of Jacques Cartier on each side of it.

One day the second season, Mr. Thomas Clark with another man came and made a window in the east end directly behind the teacher, and a rough desk was brought for the teacher, he had quite a time keeping it from joggling on the uneven floor. There were neither maps nor blackboards. I have seen the teacher pointing out imaginary hemispheres and continents on the north wall where there was nothing but round logs with the bark on. Our third teacher had a peculiar method of making us study, when school called and we had taken our seats the command came "Study out" when every pupil in the room started at the top of their voice to rehearse their own lesson for the morning. You can imagine what a racket and medley they made, that went on for thirty minutes when we got the word "Silence, Fourth class places," the fourth class marched out and set their toes to a crack in the floor, "Read". The head pupil started to read, should the reader make a mistake the correct word was snapped out by two or three of the others and up went as many hands to further make known who was first, whereon the teacher would decide who was worthy of promotion and send that one above the one who made the mistake. The teacher set the head lines in our copy books at the noon hour if it was not too cold we wrote a few lines after dinner.

Some of the teachers opened the school with the Lord's Prayer and the ten commandments was recited once a week. We were punished for swearing and black-guarding and tobacco was strictly prohibited.

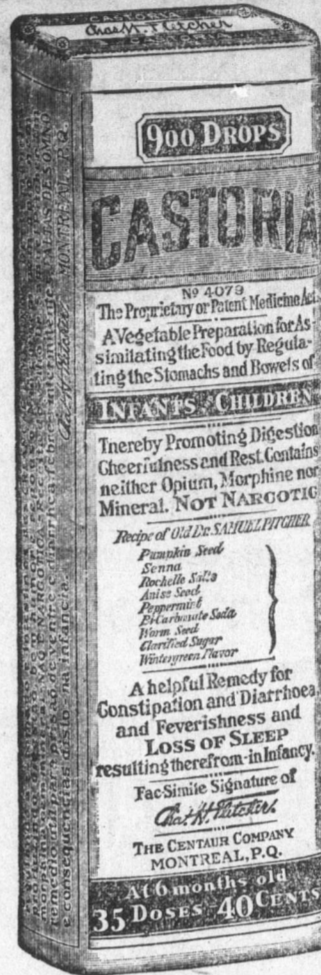

Our play ground was unlimited. In winter we played jail going on the road allowance. In summer we roamed in the woods after getting so far away that we were out of hearing of the school call, the teacher called school by rapping on the side of the door with a stick and shouting out "School." The first two or three teachers did not possess a watch. Few of us had ever seen a watch at that time. Our second pedagogue, a Mr. McKartney, borrowed an old sun dial that was lying around our house, it was made of a piece of oak plank, eight square with a circle and a diagram of figures from nine to three, a thin piece of triangle wood was placed so its shadow would fall on the figures, the boys called it "Methusalem's clock," when the sun was shining it marked the hours on the diagram fairly well.

Our holidays were few and short. To begin with, we had but every other Saturday, with two weeks at mid-summer, the Christmas week and Easter Monday and perhaps the 24th of May. Our second teacher boarded round the section, two weeks at one place and more according to the number of scholars going. We had to behave ourselves proper while we had the eyes of both the teacher and our parents on us. The teachers salaries those days was about sixteen or seventeen dollars a month. G. W. Ross, M.P., Middlesex grand inspector, taught his first school at fifteen a month with board deducted.

At first school and land tax was collected separate, school tax was levied on those who had children of school age, vacant land and families without children were exempt.

The trustees were appointed two on one line with one on the other, alternate, the odd one had to cross the bush on foot or horse-back when business was transacted.

I have spun out this history too long now and if it escapes the W.P.B. I will be only too thankful and ringoff by saying that the count of fingers on one hand would number all that is left of us that went to that Pioneer School.

ABLE TO DO HER WORK

After Long Suffering Mrs. Peasey Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto, Ont.—"I suffered with irregular menstruation, was weak and run down, could not eat and had headaches. The worst symptoms were dragging down pains, so bad I sometimes thought I would go crazy and I seemed to be smothering. I was in this condition for two or three years and could not seem to work. I tried all kinds of medicines and had been treated by physicians but received no benefit. I found one of your booklets and felt inclined to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I received the best results from it and now I keep house and go out to work and am like a new woman. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound to my friends and if these facts will help some poor woman use them as you please."—Mrs. J. F. PEASEY, 357 King St., Toronto, Ontario.

(Bad Axe, Mich., Tribune)
On Wednesday, Feb. 16, about four o'clock p.m., at the residence in Bad Axe, Mrs. Leonard R. Thomas quietly closed her eyes to enter into her eternal rest.

Agnes A. James was born Nov. 7, 1850, at Warwick, Ont. There she spent her girlhood and there, Feb. 8, 1871, she was united in marriage with Leonard R. Thomas. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas continued to live in Warwick, where they had many friends for over seven years, coming to Huron county, Michigan, in 1878, where they settled on a farm in Meade township. After about 21 years the family came to live in Bad Axe, where they have made their home since 1899. Six children, three boys and three girls, were born to them and remain with Mr. Thomas to mourn the loss of a devoted wife and mother. The children are: Mrs. John Logan, of Meade; Charles R. of Pinnebog; Mrs. Alex. Graham, of Bad Axe; Archie L., of Harbor Beach; William R., of Port Huron; and Mrs. F. L. Wright, of Bad Axe. Four brothers, William and Robert, Warwick, Dr. Thomas and Dr. Samuel; San Francisco, and three sisters, Mrs. Giffin, London, Mrs. Ellis, Toronto, and Mrs. W. G. Hall, Warwick, also survive her.

On February 8th they quietly observed their golden wedding anniversary, on which occasion they were handsomely remembered by the family and friends. Mrs. Thomas was too ill, however, to permit of any elaborate celebration.

Mrs. Thomas was a most earnest and active member of the Presbyterian church and during her residence in Bad Axe until illness came was an unwearying worker, especially in calling upon all who needed her friendship and assistance. She was a devoted home-loving wife and a mother who did not spare herself in ministering to her children.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas are well known in Huron county, Mr. Thomas having served long as supervisor and having represented Huron county in the state legislature. They have many friends and Mrs. Thomas leaves behind her a host who have known and appreciated her as a woman, a neighbor, a friend and a gracious worker in the vineyard of her Master.

"There hath she passed from the earth and its toiling, sweetly remembered by what she hath done."

The funeral was held from the Presbyterian church, of Bad Axe, and was conducted by her pastor, the Rev. Robert Brown. Deceased was laid to rest in beautiful Colfax cemetery.

James McMillan, a resident of Westminster township for 75 years, died at his home there on Feb. 5th. Mr. McMillan, who was in his 80th year, was born near Toronto. He was treasurer of the township of Westminster for 29 years.

W. J. Johnston's drug and stationery store, Glencoe, was broken into Friday night and about $50 worth of ebony and ivory goods stolen, in addition to a small amount of cash which had been left in the cash register. Provincial Officer Arthur Palmer is working on the case.

It is rumored that only a couple of the Essex county Dominion Canners factories will be open for business during 1920, owing to the depression in the canning business. It is not likely that the catsup factories will remain closed as their product has moved more rapidly than the canned goods.

Mrs. D. M. Gray, the first teacher at Kimball, one of the early pioneer settlements of Lambton county, was buried at Bridgen. The late Mrs. Gray has been a resident of this county for almost seventy years. Her husband, two sisters and one brother, Mrs. Ellis, Bridgen, Mrs. Beggs, Port Lambton, and Samuel Harkness of Sarnia survive.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Sarah Bullick, wife of George Stillwell, who passed away one year ago, Feb. 29, 1920.
One year has passed,
Since that sad day,
That our dear Mother passed away,
Forget her, no, we never will,
As time goes on we love her still.
—Daughter and Family,
In loving memory of Nellie Myers, who died one year ago today, Feb. 9th, 1920.
Sad and sudden was the call,
Of her so dearly loved by all.
Our loss is great, we'll not complain,
But trust in God to meet again.
Sometime, somewhere, our eyes will see,
The one we loved so well.
Sometime our hands will clasp in hers
And we'll never say farewell.
—Her loving cousin, Lucy Muxlow.

History May Yet Decide

That Bethmann-Hollweg

Ranked as a Good German

WHEN the world arrives at the stage in which it can understand that Germans are not all of one kind but that there may be good Germans and bad Germans, it will probably assign von Bethmann-Hollweg to the former class. At the beginning of the war he loomed out as a monster, but later on when he retired from office it became known that he had not suited the junkers. From the time that Bismarck was dismissed until the revolution in 1918, no Imperial Chancellor could retain office once the Junker class lost confidence in him. Bethmann's peace overtures in 1916 probably did not originate with him any more than the German military policy of the months immediately preceding the outbreak of war. He was being used by the military clique which would have been quite ready to make peace almost at any time after 1915 if the existing military boundaries were to be taken as the basis for the permanent adjustment of national frontiers. It was the refusal of the Allies to regard the strategic position as it existed after the first battle of the Marne as anything but temporary which wrecked the efforts of the Germans to bring about a victory by negotiation. The Chancellor, however, must be credited with having for a long time resisted the plans of Tirpitz for unrestricted submarine warfare. Eventually he yielded, but much against his will.

Without design, von Bethmann-Hollweg did perhaps more than any other European statesman to clearly define the issues of the war. Within a few days after the invasion of Belgium, he admitted in the Reichstag that Belgium had suffered a wrong. He frankly declared that Germany's action with regard to her little neighbor, whose neutrality she had guaranteed, was prompted by "military necessity." Previous to this official statement there had been frequent German claims that Belgium had really taken a hostile attitude toward her by entering into a secret treaty with Britain and France. It had been alleged, too, that what really precipitated the war was the action of some French aviators in flying over German territory. The Imperial Chancellor brushed aside these allegations and thereafter German propagandists had to make use of other material. Like his master he was shocked when he discovered that Britain meant to enter the war. He could not conceive that for a "mere scrap of paper," an obligation that had been so frequently violated in the past, the British Empire would keep faith with Belgium. Both Chancellor and Kaiser would have sacrificed much, almost anything except their plan against France and Russia, to have had Britain remain neutral. They even went so far as to promise that France's European territory would not be taken if Britain stood aside. The Chancellors who succeeded von Bethmann-Hollweg were, in comparison, mediocrities. His death on New Year's Day is to be regretted, as he might in course of time have given much useful information regarding the fateful summer months of 1914.

Capt. Tom Wallace, M. P., for West York, died of pneumonia in a Toronto hospital on Sunday. He was a son of the late Hon. N. Clarke Wallace and was 41 years of age. He represented the riding in the Federal House.
