CITY SCHOOLS WILL CLOSE TOMORROW

Graduating Class in High School Numbers 64--- Girls Capture all the Places on the Honor List--- Interesting Programmes.

The closing exercises in the various city schools will take place tomorrow morning and the scholars will then be free for their summer vacation. At the High School a very interesting programme will be given in the exhibition hall commencing about 10.30 o'clock. The graduating class this year numbers sixty-four and a rather peculiar feature is that out of that number not one of the boys secured a place on the honor roll. The sixteen honor graduates are all girls and the following is the list in order of merit: Dora Jones, Harriett Jordan, Hazel Holder, Greta Robinson, Hazel Cookson, Joyce Wishart, Katherine Murdoch, Edith Willis, Helen Waters, Helen Hannah, Grace Magee, Constance Reed, Royce Carter, Rita Bell, Nellie Van Wart.

METHODIST CONFERENCE FINISHING UP BUSINESS

Many Interesting Reports Presented This Morning---District Officials Chosen---Plea for More Publicity for Methodist Church.

Moncton, June 23.—(Special).—District officers were elected and numerous committee reports received at this morning's session of the N. B. and P. E. I. conference, and with the end of the sessions in view a large volume of business was transacted. Greetings to the conference from Rev. R. A. Armstrong, Quebec, and Rev. J. J. Weddall, were read. The report of work submitted by Rev. Neil McKuplin was of an encouraging nature. After making allowances for deaths, etc., there is an increase of 65 members as the result of the transference of a number of members from another conference. The report recommended more general practice of private prayer services, the employment of laymen more generally and co-operation between pastors in evangelistic work. The parsonage aid fund report submitted by Rev. S. Howard, showed an income of $233.53 and a payment to the board of trustees of Courtenay Bay parsonage of $232.20, leaving a balance of $1.33. Permission was asked and given to station James F. Rowley instead of sending him to college. A resolution of appreciation of the services of Rev. W. H. Spurge, who after more than twenty years in this conference is being transferred to the Bay of Quinte conference was unanimously passed. The Children's Fund report was submitted by Rev. Geo. A. Steele, recommended that a rebate of $25 be allowed to the Home.

HON. JAMES S. SHERMAN TAKEN SUDDENLY ILL

Republican Candidate for Vice-President is Seriously Ill in a Cleveland Hospital---Mrs. Sherman Summoned to His Side.

Utica, N. Y., June 23.—Word was sent to the family of Hon. James S. Sherman in this city this morning that the Republican candidate for the vice-presidency had been compelled to go to a hospital in Cleveland, Ohio, and that Dr. Phinney, of Baltimore, who attended Mr. Sherman during an attack of the same trouble in Washington last year, had been summoned by special train. Mrs. Sherman and one of her sons left for Cleveland by the first train. The news received here is very disappointing and it is said that Mr. Sherman is in a serious condition. Extensive arrangements had been made to give him a great reception on his return this evening. Cleveland, O., June 23.—James S. Sherman, the Republican vice-presidential candidate, who has been ill here for the past two or three days, was taken with severe chill at 4.30 o'clock this morning. Physicians were immediately called and found that Mr. Sherman was suffering from gall stones. It was decided to remove Mr. Sherman from his home at ex-Governor Herrick to a hospital at once and it is possible that an operation will be performed during the day. At 9 o'clock, it was stated that Mr. Sherman was resting very comfortably and that his temperature had fallen to normal. Early this morning the temperature of the patient was 102 but later fell back to normal.

AND THE HEIRESS AUTOMOBILE MEN CONTINUED TO SEW ARE FINED $500 AND COSTS

New York Woman Who Learns That She Has Been Left $400,000 by her Aunt in Austria Shows no Surprise.

New York, June 23.—Mrs. Yetta Beizer continued to sew yesterday despite the news that she had fallen heir to $400,000 in Austria. She was working on a linen suit which her son, Isadore, is to wear at a concert in which he will appear as a violin soloist. The suit was well under way when she received a letter telling of the fortune. She read the letter, called her husband and told him about it, then she kept on sewing. Mrs. Beizer is the wife of Max Beizer, proprietor of a haberdashery at No. 128 Broome street, and they live over the store. When the letter came last week telling his wife that her aunt had left her a fortune, Moses Beizer, a distant relative of Mrs. Beizer, wrote to inform her that she was the heir of her aunt, Sarah Langenberger, of Wola, Galicia, Austria. Mrs. Beizer's mother came to this country many years ago, leaving the child with her husband or some years, after joining her mother here the girl married and had all but forgotten her aunt when the letter telling of her good fortune came last week. "We are not getting excited about this," said Mrs. Beizer yesterday, "but we are going over to Austria as soon as school No. 34, where our boy attends, closes, and I can sell out the business. We have both worked hard, and we have made a little money, and I suppose we will keep on working. My wife lived with this aunt for years, but has not seen her for nearly twenty years. "We will stay abroad only long enough to get the money. After living in America for twenty years no man could go back there and make it his home; and besides we have a boy who is born an American."

MONTREAL STOCKS

Montreal, June 23 (Special).—Stocks were dull to-day but steady. Nova Scotia Steel was better at 44 and Dominion Steel, ptd., at 44 and bonds at 73 were practically unchanged. Toronto Ry. was a shade easier Tuesday, but at 104 1/2. Canadian N. S. and lower than at close yesterday, selling fractionally better at 125 1/2.

MR. BRYCE AT DULUTH

Duluth, Minn., June 23.—James Bryce, aviator of Great Britain in the United States, in a speech to the Commercial Club banquet given in his honor last night, said that he and the United States are destined by the Almighty to be friends. You have many settlers in the United States from Canada, and in Canada we have many from the United States. It is my privilege to prevent any misunderstanding or friction between the two countries.

Joint Session of Canada and U. S. Will Be Held in Toronto Today.

Toronto, Ont., June 23.—(Special).—The joint session of the deep waterways commission of Canada and the United States will be held at the King Edward Hotel today. The object of the meeting is to limit the boundaries between the two countries through the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence river. No witnesses will be examined, and it is probable that the work will be completed in a day or two.

FEW MARITIME PROVINCE BOATS FLYING YANKEE FLAG

Hardly More Than a Dozen of Them are Plying Along the Coast Under U. S. Colors

Boston, June 22.—Considering how deep and easy of construction and access to the coasting vessels of the Maritime Provinces, Yankee ship-owners have acquired a remarkably smaller number of them. Indeed, hardly more than a dozen are to be found plying up and down the coast under United States colors. The typical St. John wood boat is not a thing of beauty, but she is a good carrier. Many an impetuous skipper has "saved his bacon" with one of those ungainly craft. The old Bat of Calais, formerly the Mary Todd, built in 1874 at Wickham, N. B., is as heavily as the next one, but has carried in her time enough lumber to Boston to fill every wharf on Atlantic Avenue. Three of "bluenose" build are of the Bath fleet, and in the lumber trade under United States colors. The typical formerly the Seraphin, built at Bear River, N. S., in 1888; the S. H. Sawyer, originally the Emma U., built at Digby, N. B., in 1881; and the Thomas B. Reed, built at the Battle at Newcastle, N. B., in 1882. The Ellen M. Baxter,

POLICE MAGISTRATE DISMISSES CASE AGAINST THOMAS H. DOBSON

Police Force Severely Censured for "Misconception of Their Duty" in Requesting Citizens to Move

Thomas H. Dobson, arrested last evening by Patrolman Steves for refusing to "move on" when told to do so on Charlotte street, was discharged by Judge Ritchie this morning in the police court. The case has attracted no little interest in view of the fact that there have been many complaints against the "move on" order. In discharging Mr. Dobson Judge Ritchie severely censured the police for what he termed misconception of the law, and spoke of complaints he had heard of people who were in no way obstructing the sidewalk being unreasonably "moved along" by the police. He had always been willing to instruct the police but there seemed to be some mistaken ideas as to his position. Daniel Mullin, K.C., who with Edmond S. Ritchie appeared for the defence, said that the chief for "lack of judgment," and said that by law he was responsible for Mr. Dobson's arrest. "Patrolman Steves sworn, told of the arrest and what led up to it. He was on between 7 and 8 o'clock he saw the defendant and two others standing near him near the fountain. All were standing on the curb stone. He spoke to all and asked them to "please move along." Turning about he saw them still there and again requested them to "please move along." Defendant said in reply, "I am a citizen of St. John not a perfect right to stand on the street," and witness replied, "according to law I think not." The defendant then said that he would not move on and witness said that he would take him to King street east if he did not and the reply was "go ahead and take me," and he was arrested at once. Steves did not notice Mr. Dobson talking to the others near him. Cross-examined by Mr. Ritchie the patrolman said that he placed his hand on Mr. Dobson who told him that it was not necessary. Mr. Ritchie, "Did you not notice the chief going through the square?" "Witness: "Yes, sir." Mr. Ritchie: "Did the defendant say to you if you had better not speak to the chief before arresting him?" "Witness: "Yes, and I asked the chief if it was lawful to arrest a man for standing on the sidewalk and he said, 'if he refused to move on, lock him up.'" He told of placing the defendant in a cell. Nothing had been said to him about bail, but he heard Patrolman McNamee and defendant discussing it and former said that he would have to wait till the chief returned. To Mr. Mullin witness said the Salvation Army were on the opposite corner. Thomas H. Dobson, the defendant, swore he was passing along the north side of Charlotte street from Princess when near the fountain, he met A. G. Baker, a friend, and "we had hardly started the conversation," said Mr. Dobson, "when the officers came along, and said please move on. He remarked to the patrolman that as a citizen of St. John he thought he had a right to stand on the sidewalk." He then told of the arrest which was effected as told by Steves. He told the patrolman that he "needed" collar" him and he would walk along, and told of meeting the chief and walking ahead

A BIG BRIDGEWAS DECISION IN A WRECKED AT PECULIAR CASE

Canal Bank, Burke and 200 Foot Swing Broke Was Wrecked—Traffic Tied up.

Canal, Ont., June 23 (Special).—The canal bank burst here this morning and as a result the two hundred foot swing bridge of the Ontario and New York railway which crossed the canal, it wrecked and there is a gap of 75 feet in the canal bank. Traffic will be tied up for some time and as there are many boats on the canal bank which use water power these will be closed down. An immense crowd gathered to witness the wrecking of the pier of the bridge and it fell a twisted mass. The loss will be heavy.

IMPROVEMENTS ON THE I. C. R.

The I. C. R. has started paving the entrance to the freight shed near the elevator street. The plan is to pave from the sidewalk back 25 feet, but the board of works is trying to induce the railway authorities to carry the work right to the shed. The Wall street bridge which has been under construction for the past 18 months is now complete and will be opened, however, to make a foot bridge for pedestrians. The Stanley street bridge is closed for traffic only a small walk being available for foot passengers.

YESTERDAY'S FIRE AT THREE RIVERS

Damage Estimated at $2,000,000—Merchants Will do Business Under Canvas.

Three Rivers, Que., June 23 (Special).—The loss by yesterday's fire is now estimated at $2,000,000. The merchants and house-croppers and householders will probably suffer to the extent of about a million and a quarter. At a meeting of citizens today it was suggested to do business under canvas. One man named Harold McBeaver was killed in Market Place to-day by a falling wall of Brantford's Hotel. He leaves a widow and seven children. There is a scarcity of food and supplies have been asked for from Montreal.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

RELIABLE NEWS. Ottawa, June 23 (Special).—The Times newspaper's special correspondent made a careful and thorough canvass of the whole situation at the capital today, and had interviews with leaders and representatives of both political parties. While there was some slight difference of opinion, it may be said, without fear of excess, that the political situation are still talking.

WANTS A FLAG RAISING

Mr. Peter Binks says that if the upper shelves and lower from the flag-staff on Haymarket Square are not ready for business soon he will attach a flag to a kite and send it up to the peak. Mr. Binks wants to know how much longer this flagstaff job is to last. His British blood is beginning to boil.

FORESTRY IN CHINA

China's first school of forestry will shortly be opened at Mukden. The Chinese empire is usually pointed out as the worst example among modern nations of forest destruction. The goods which are periodically poured down from the denuded mountains are destructive beyond comparison with any other region in the world, although the country is well adapted to the growing of trees.

(Continued) "For the last eighteen years you have dwelt under the roof of Lord Ravenspur. You have passed as his ward, and understand that he has taken the greatest care of you. This much goes to his credit. But that he behaved like a scoundrel at the outset I am prepared to prove. And it is not because you would not have parted all these years, and you would have had a better chance of making the acquaintance of your most unhappy mother."

There was a premonitory ring in the speech which Vera did not like at all. She was in a lonely part of the grounds, and that, in case of need, assistance was a long way off. She began to wish that she had been more prudent. After all, the whole thing might be a plot against her happiness, a scheme into which she had fallen without asking herself a single question. These doubts became something like certainties when the stranger strode past her and cut off all means of retreat.

"You are wasting my time," he said, "and time is precious to-night. It is only a matter of half an hour altogether, and then you will be back with your friends once more. If I were not anxious for your welfare do you suppose I should be here at all?"

"But what does it matter? You have made up your mind by this time whether you are coming with me or not. You know perfectly well from the letter in your possession, that I am a messenger from your mother. I have a cab outside the lane, and I can take you to her at once. I pledge you my word that you shall be back in half an hour."

"I am already aware of that," the stranger replied. "I suppose you received the Countess's letter? But you must have done so, otherwise you would not be here. You are prepared."

"If one feels dull and spiritless, in the spring or early summer, they call it 'Spring Fever.' But there is no fever usually. It is the after effect of our winter habits. The nerves are mostly at fault. They, worn-out nerves leave us languid, listless, and without spirit or ambition. A few doses of Dr. Shoop's Restorative will absolutely and quickly change all of these depressing symptoms. The Restorative of course won't bring you back to full health in a day or two, but it will do enough in 48 hours to satisfy you that the remedy is reaching that 'tired spot.' Druggists everywhere are advising its use as a splendid and prompt general tonic. It gives more vim and more spirit to the system than any other known nerve or constitutional tonic. It sharpens a failing appetite, aids digestion, frees sluggish livers and kidneys, and brings new life, strength and emotion. Test it a few days and be convinced. Sold by all druggists."

PROMINENT TORONTO MAN FOUND DEAD Toronto, June 22 (Special).—J. T. Johnston, who retired as manager of the Toronto Type Foundry recently, because of ill health, was found dead at his home, Sussex avenue this afternoon. Friends called about 2 o'clock and entered the house when they found the doors locked. Lights were burning and this would indicate the death had come Sunday night.

STAMPS RUIN HER VOICE

Norfolk, Conn.—The case of Miss Myra Silvernale, assistant to the postmaster of Norfolk, is interesting the physicians of St. Luke's Hospital. When she attempts to stamp letters, her tongue and lips swell, her throat becomes ulcerated, and she loses her voice. Specialists say it is a case of poisoning. Many people unconsciously poison themselves. The bowels, kidneys, and skin should rid the system of waste matter. If one of these organs is weak, this waste stays in the body, poisons the blood, and is the chief cause of headaches. "I was a sufferer from frightful headaches for over two years. Sometimes I was unable to work for days at a time, says Mr. Bert Cornell, of Taylorville, Ont. "A short time ago I was advised to try 'Fruit-Lives.' Immediately the headaches were easier and in a week they left me for good." "Fruit-Lives" are sold by all dealers—50c a box—$ for $2.50.

AUTO SPOKE WENT THROUGH HIS NECK

S. O. Winter Instantly Killed While Speeding in Automobile at Fullerton, Cal. Fullerton, Calif., June 20.—While going at a terrific rate of speed on a trial trip in an automobile, S. O. Winter, aged 35, was instantly killed yesterday two miles north of town by the overturning of his machine. It is believed that Minter fainted from heart failure, as he was subjected to such attacks. His machine left the road while going down a slight incline, turned sharply to the left and came some distance, it overturned and one of the spokes entered Minter's neck, coming out on the other side. Four ribs were also broken. Minter came here from Syracuse, N. Y.

CANADA TO FLOAT SHORT TIME LOAN

Montreal, June 22.—A special London cable says: "It is understood that the Bank of Montreal is arranging to issue on Wednesday the proposal of a new Canadian government loan for five millions sterling, 3 1/2 per cent. at par. The special feature of the loan is made due in 1912. The city of Saskatoon issue of $100,000, 5 per cent. debentures made last week at 101 by the Bank of Montreal, has been covered by subscriptions."

YARMOUTH MAN RESCUED AT SEA IN NICK OF TIME

Charlottetown, P. E. I., June 22.—Captain Russell, of the schooner Dictator, arrived at Yarmouth, N. S., yesterday, bringing the Yarmouth man who was rescued at sea by the French schooner the Dictator. The man, who was named John A. McDonald, of Yarmouth, and was rescued by the Dictator on June 19. He had been adrift for three days and two nights. After his rescue he was taken to the Dictator and was cared for by Capt. Russell with great difficulty.

TORNADO YARN UNTRUE

Paris, June 22.—Special despatches received here from Madrid say that nothing is known there of the reported tornado which was said to have ravaged several of the provinces. These reports are not to be relied upon and the official news agency makes specific denials of them while they lack confirmation in a larger paper.

SEVEN MEN EXECUTED

Houston, Tex., June 22.—Frank Williams, Jerry Evans, Will Johnson, Moses Spellman, Cleveland Williams and Will Manuel, all negroes, were taken from the jail at Hempill last night and hanged to a tree, and Frank Williams, who attempted to escape, was shot to death. They were being held for the killing of Hugh Dean (white) two weeks ago. The mob was precipitated by the murder of Akron Johnson, Saturday, who was killed by a negro, who confessed that he was going to commit the crime. The negro who killed Johnson is still in jail.

RUSSIAN RIOTERS SENTENCED

St. Petersburg, June 22.—Sentences were handed down today in the case of the participants in the Jewish massacre of 1905 at Bialystok when eleven Christians and eighty-two Jews were wounded. One of the prisoners was sentenced to three years penal servitude, thirteen to two years, and five to one year. Sixteen were acquitted.

A FINE SEAT SALE FOR SAILOR'S SWEETHEART

Big Advance Sale for Amateur Production Tomorrow Night—Good Seats Left Yet. The seat sale for "A Sailor's Sweetheart" and "Caprice," which will be presented by The H. Bird and the St. John Dramatic Club on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at the Opera House, opened to the public this morning. The demand for subscriptions has been phenomenal and the few good seats left for tomorrow and Friday, when "A Sailor's Sweetheart" will fill the bill. A final rehearsal of "A Sailor's Sweetheart" with full chorus will be given in the Assembly rooms of Keith's Theatre this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

LAST NIGHT'S WATER TEST AT NICKEL THEATRE TODAY

Pursuing its policy of catering directly to the people of St. John, with street scenes of local interest, the Nickel today at noon show photographs of the spectacular water-throwing exhibition under the supervision of Chief John Kerr of the fire department and Engineer F. A. Harbour of Boston. Immense crowds saw the wonderful display of water pressure with which St. John is now turning the tallest buildings without the aid of pumping apparatus. As eight streams were turned on at once the sight was a most impressive one. The Nickel's photograph did not miss a bit of it. This will be in addition to the specially fine show of animated pictures—the cute little pussycat in play, the amorous husband who was detected by a moving picture machine, and the mystic-magician Lucky Jim's case, and narrated by His Mother-in-Law, a Pathe screen. Last night's big summer crowd of muslin ladies and panama-hatted men were delighted with the show. Mr. Cairns' new love song was fine and Miss Wren has a number that just suits the season.

AT THE PRINCESS

Despite the hot weather last evening large crowds attended the show at the Princess and the excellent programme allowed all to enjoy the excellent programme in comfort. The house, which has lately been renovated now represents a very attractive appearance. To add to all the other attractions the management have just purchased a Powers picture machine, which is acknowledged by all moving picture men to be the best on the market. The leading film today is a revelation in the art of motion photography and should be seen by all. It is called, "Held for Ransom" and tells the story of a beautiful young woman who was captured by highwaymen and held for ransom. Her father, who was very fond of her, was about driven to distraction and was on the verge of paying the large sum of money demanded when the young lady's lover arrived on the scene and ordered the messenger of the brigands to be taken. He then declared his intention of rescuing his lady love, and called on his friends to follow him. After a hot chase they overtake the bandits who, seeing that they were about to be taken, throw the young lady over a precipice. Luckily she escaped without serious injury and was soon rescued by her lover from her precarious position.

REDUCTION IN INSURANCE RATES MAY BE EXPECTED

Underwriters Well Satisfied With Public Test of Water Service Last Night—Eight Streams Thrown Over Tallest Buildings in Market Square.

That the water power now available for fire protection is such that the increase in insurance of twenty-five cents should be at once removed was taken by many to be the result of the demonstration last evening when a test was made on Market Square and eight streams of water were sent into the air simultaneously to a height of about 100 feet.

BRITISH LIBERALS ARE BEATEN AGAIN

Bye-Election Yesterday Turned Liberal Majority of 3,500 Into a Unionist Victory.

London, June 22.—A bye-election was held Saturday for a member of the House of Commons, for the Pursey district, Yorkshire, West Riding, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of K. Whites, Liberal.

HEART STILL GAMMY.

New York, June 22.—The recent of the majority election of 1905 nears its close.

REDUCING THE POLICY.

If the old member does not feel as if he can afford the new rates he may still pay the former rate, but the amount of his policy will be proportionately reduced.

ANOTHER ALTERNATIVE.

Supposing the member does not care to accept either of the two above propositions, he has yet another alternative. He may from month to month borrow the difference between the old rate and the new. He will be charged at a rate of four per cent for this loan, and it will be in the nature of a loan on his policy.

LOWER THE RATES

The extension of the waterworks system to Loch Lomond has proved very expensive, but it has done what was promised. At Market Square last evening eight streams were simultaneously sent in to the air to a height greater than that of the highest buildings. It is now possible to do without fire engines more than could formerly be done with their aid. It is very gratifying to know, since the cost was so great, that the result of the extension to Loch Lomond is so satisfactory.

The secretary of the board of fire underwriters has expressed his belief that the promised reduction in fire insurance rates will soon be made. It was understood that the extension was undertaken, and since the tests of the new service have proved satisfactory the rates should come down without delay. St. John has added to its other advantages a gratuitous supply of the best water, under high pressure. There is still some work to be done, replacing old pipes here and there about the city, but the effect of the new pressure has been less destructive in this direction than had been feared.

BRITISH POLITICS

The by-election for the Pudsey district of Yorkshire on Saturday last resulted in another defeat for the government party. A Liberal majority of 3,022 at the general elections gave place to a Unionist majority of 113 on Saturday, in a three-cornered contest. There was a Labor candidate in the field, but he only secured 1,291 votes, compared with 5,441 for the Unionist and 5,331 for the Liberal. The London press regards the result as another victory for tariff reform. The London Standard's report from Leeds showed that throughout the contest the rival claims of free trade and tariff reform were especially prominent. The record of the recent by-elections is practically all against the government. The new premier has been unable to convince the people that he is any more capable than his predecessor, and the force of foreign competition is felt with increasing keenness in the industrial centres. As the London Post says, "The rapid growth of the essential policy of union may bring a change of government sooner than expected."

IMPRISONING CHILDREN

There was a very interesting discussion in committee recently of the Children Bill, before the British parliament. The committee was opposed to imprisonment for any long period of time of young boys as a punishment, even in a reformatory. The following report of the discussion is interesting, and worthy of attention on the part of those having to do with juvenile offenders. "Mr. Herbert Samuel moved that where a youthful offender or child is under the supervision of the managers of a reformatory school it should not be lawful for the parent to exercise any parental right or power in such a manner as to interfere with the control of the manager over the offender or child. The amendment was accepted. "On Clause 67, which gives power to reformatory managers to send to court for a sentence of imprisonment up to three months a boy who has wilfully broken the rules of the reformatory provided he is not less than 14 years of age. Mr. Tennant moved that the age be raised to 16. "Mr. Samuel said that he wished he could accept the amendment because the government were most anxious to abolish imprisonment of children in all cases, and he quite agreed that it was a most undesirable form of punishment in cases of boys and girls under the age of 14. In this case, however, the offender was not an ordinary offender, but one who had already been before the court, and whose offence had been so grave that he had been sent to reformatory. Having been guilty of a serious breach, the managers had no other alternative but to send him to prison. In the future, when they had abolished imprisonment of children under 14, and practically abolished it under age 16, there would be a larger number of boys sent to a reformatory. This power of imprisonment would be a weapon in reserve in the hands of the managers, enabling them to get discipline in the institution. "Mr. Leif Jones said that reformatory institutions were not always very well managed, and he believed that this imprisonment power would be used where the management was not so efficient as in other places. "Mr. Acland Allen pointed out that the influence of a boy returned to the school from prison would be bad on the other boys, and said that to send a boy to prison for three months would do him no good, but probably make him a model worse than he was before. It would be better to send the boy to prison for two or three years under the Borstal system. "Ultimately Mr. Samuel accepted the amendment."

BLUEJACKETS WANTED

A London cable states that there is a serious shortage of men to man reserve vessels for the naval manoeuvres. The situation is interesting. We quote:—"Arrangements are now being made for the mobilization of the Devonport Division of the Home Fleet to take part in the forthcoming naval manoeuvres. It has been discovered, however, that there will be a serious shortage of men when the nucleus crews have been completed to full strength and the special reserve ships are to be commissioned. The commander of the Royal Naval Barracks has furnished returns of the available strength under his command to the Admiralty, from which it seems clear that the necessary returns of the available strength of the light cruiser division. This force consists of the Gibraltar, carrying a nominal complement of 389 officers and men; the Aeolus, with 272 officers and men; the St. George, with 339 officers and men; and the Sirius, with 272 officers and men. Imperative orders have been received that these ships are to be got to sea somehow, for the Admiralty are manifestly apprehensive that the revelation of the serious shortage would call forth hostile criticism. But the Devonport authorities are terribly puzzled as to how the problem is to be met. One expedient already been decided upon. The Gibraltar was to have taken on the crew of the Doris to form a relief complement to the Challenger, on the Australian station. This ship is overdue for relief, and has been waiting some weeks at Colombo. Now, the Gibraltar is to go through the manoeuvres with the relief crew on board, instead of a mobilized crew. This means that she has no crew at all, and is being worked by the complement of another ship. Meanwhile, this procedure is inflicting a hardship on the time-expired men who are waiting to come home."

ROOSEVELT ON TAFT

It is interesting to know what President Roosevelt thinks of the man who will probably succeed him in office. Immediately upon receiving news of the nomination of Secretary Taft for the presidency, President Roosevelt said: "I feel that the country is indeed to be congratulated upon the nomination of Mr. Taft. I have known him intimately for many years and I have a peculiar feeling for him because throughout that time we have worked for the same object with the same purposes and ideals. I do not believe there can be found in the whole country a man so well fitted to be president. He is not only absolutely fearless, absolutely disinterested and upright, but he has the widest acquaintance with the nation's needs without and within and the broadest sympathies with all our citizens. He would be as emphatically a president of the plain people as Lincoln, yet not Lincoln himself would be freer from the least taint of demagoguery, the least tendency to arouse or appeal to class hatred of any kind. He has a peculiar and intimate knowledge of and sympathy with the needs of all our people—the farmer, the wage-worker, of the business man, of the property owner. No matter what a man's occupation or social position, no matter what his creed, his color or the section of the country from which he comes, if he is an honest, hard-working man who tries to do his duty toward his country, no matter what his position, he can rest assured that he will have in Mr. Taft the most upright of representatives and the most fearless of champions. Mr. Taft stands pre-eminently for the broad principles of American citizenship which lie at the foundation of our national well-being."

Mr. Tennant moved that the age be raised to 16. "Mr. Samuel said that he wished he could accept the amendment because the government were most anxious to abolish imprisonment of children in all cases, and he quite agreed that it was a most undesirable form of punishment in cases of boys and girls under the age of 14. Mr. Chamberlain's love of the orchid is well known, and at one time of his political career some years ago his fondness for this flower was responsible for an amusing incident in the course of a public meeting. An old man pushed his way through the crowd and demanded to see the speaker. "That's him," was answered. "I think I shall have a word with the speaker." "Well, if that's Chamberlain, I think he's a little out of his mind," exclaimed the old fellow, in a disappointed tone. "They told me he was a little out of his mind in 'butter' but he ain't nothin' more than a 'tater blossom, after all!"

MAUD WILL GO TO MANCHESTER. Canadian Dancer Will Do the Living Statuary Act There When She is Ready. (London Standard.) Thousands of people in London, drawn from every class of society, and including the highest in the land, have during the past few months witnessed the wonderful dancing of Miss Maud Allan; but, if the Manchester Committee, who have been so long in the attitude which it is stated to have taken up, the probability is that the audience in Manchester will not be afforded a similar opportunity. The manager of the Palace Theatre of Varieties at Manchester wished, it appears, to arrange for a series of performances of the "Living Statuary" act by Miss Allan, but the Manchester Committee, who have been so long in the attitude which it is stated to have taken up, the probability is that the audience in Manchester will not be afforded a similar opportunity.

FOLLOWS DIVORCE WITH MARRIAGE. Providence, June 22.—Millionaire Warren R. Fales, who, after a most sensational divorce case, was freed from his estranged wife a week ago, is rumored to have wed the pretty housekeeper, suggested to wed the pretty housekeeper, Mrs. Minnie Fitz, who figured quite prominently in the divorce case. This will be Mr. Fales' third plunge into the matrimonial sea, for his first wife divorced him years ago when his two children were small. In 1891 he married Catherine Howard, one of the most popular members of Edna May's London company, and it was considered a love match pure and simple. It wasn't, however, for the couple soon separated, and the recent sensational suit was the result. In that suit Fales' wife accused Mrs. Fitz, the housekeeper, of being responsible for her husband's attempt to get a divorce. She also asserted that Fales was getting the divorce for the very purpose of marrying his pretty housekeeper. When the decree was granted Fales his wife cried bitterly, and declared that he could now marry "her," meaning Mrs. Fitz. Six months must elapse before the divorce becomes operative, and Mrs. Fales' intense bringing the case again into court before that time is up. Her attorney, Thomas E. Farrell, says that an important witness was spirited away by Fales during the last trial, and that new evidence will be submitted to keep Mr. Fales from getting his divorce made absolute.

Taft is the Wall Street Favorite for President

(G. S. Roche & Co.'s Letter.) The nomination made on this time of the superior fitness of Mr. Taft for the office of president will impress itself more and more upon the minds of thinking people in the United States. We probably have never had a candidate so thoroughly equipped by education, by experience, by temperament, and by born ability to the knowledge of government, without egotism or selfishness. He is full of aggressive industry, but rash and ill-considered action or speech is unthinkable in him. Deliberation is the essence of his make-up. Good for public life, certainly, in a long and distinguished career, has never shown the least taint of and is of such unbounded good nature that difficulties which would have been the very worst of his kindly feeling. He is a man whose full of such royal qualities as only good rulers are made of. That out of the setting cautions of self-seeking politics such a candidate should have been drawn and nominated, is a matter of wonder and congratulation to the people of the United States, and is another proof of the French philosopher's observation that "God takes care of children, God and the American Nation."

The End of the World is Set for Next October

Shiloh, Mo., June 22.—"Elijah" Frank W. Sandford, founder of the Holy Ghost and United Society, is ill and despondent at his quarters in the Holy Land, and a cablegram from Sandford to his wife, Mrs. Sandford, who is in St. John, N. B., has been received from him asking for aid. Mrs. Sandford also is reporting as in feeble health. "Elijah" Charles E. Holland, who is in charge at Shiloh, is preparing to sail on the yacht Kingdom with money and supplies to relieve them. It was announced in the chapel this week that a message had been received from Mr. Sandford saying that the world would come to an end in October. Holland is now negotiating with a New York yacht club for two discarded vessels to be used to transport the colony to Jerusalem before October. On orders from Sandford all the Shilohites, men, women and children, are learning to swim. The men, in charge of Elder Tupper, take a plunge every day, and are learning to swim. In charge of Elder Hatch, take their bath in the Androsogitri river each day at 10:30.

Whiskers and Tomb Stocked with Drink Win Woman's Heart

Waterbury, June 23.—Doting on his whiskers carved so beautifully on his own monument, an enthusiastic hero of many heart affairs and female soldiers of fortune, has written a love note to Phinias Gardner Wright, of Putnam, Conn. He is a bachelor worth $250,000, and though eighty years old, is hale and hearty. Recently he erected his own tomb costing $40,000 and has turned it into a butler's pantry, full of liquors and cigars. He said today: "In the far beyond I shall not be lonely. I shall have sweet memories of the pleasant hours I have spent here." His fair woods saw his homopoe writes in the stars and declared she knew he was her soul mate. For his love she already has abandoned two physicians, three lawyers, a brewer, a judge and a clergyman. She wrote to Wright: "We should be friends. I am sure from your homopoe that we would have much in common. For our mutual welfare we should know each other better. I am inclined to pass idly the whistled humor of your life and the apparent lightness with which you treat the measureless beyond and accept you in all your grotesque eccentricities. Your masterful adjustment of your whiskers proves you are a man beyond the baneful influence of the brutal customs of the age and a perfect master of detail. The letter was signed "Miss Nora Quay."

AN OPEN-AIR PULPIT, FIRST OF ITS KIND, PROVES A SUCCESS

Street in front of Baptist Church in New York Crowded—Sermons in All Languages.

New York, June 22.—New York's first permanent open-air pulpit was dedicated last night in front of the Second Avenue Baptist Church, at No. 166 Second Avenue. It was placed on the steps of the church, and sermons will be delivered from it every Sunday night during the summer. It was at the suggestion of the Rev. Dr. R. F. Pierce, pastor of the church, that the pulpit was installed. Dr. Pierce conceived the idea from his recent travels abroad, where open-air pulpits are much in use. The dedications last night was attended by several of the leading Baptist ministers of the city, all of whom expressed the hope that the idea would be taken up by other churches. "I want to reach the masses," said Dr. Pierce. "This is a very thickly congested district, and it is easier to attract people if you speak to them out of doors on the hot nights. We are going to have sermons in all languages, so that all the nationalities of the neighborhood can be reached." The street in front of the church was packed with people attracted by the novelty of the institution. Last night the services were in English, and Dr. Pierce accompanied the sermons by sketches of his own on a blackboard.

GETTING THE MINES READY

Development Work Has Been Pushed at the Winter Port Coal Mines in Preparation for a Bigger Output. A great deal of interest has centered in the Winter Port Coal Mines recently. The possibilities in connection with the development there resulting from the close cooperation with the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, are very great, but the announcement that the C. P. R. is also coming into the coal field shows that the great railway companies after a thorough examination by their engineers and experts have satisfied themselves in regard to the great possibilities for development of these mines.

MARINE NOTES

Battle liner Cunara arrived at Savannah Sunday from Pernambuco for Hamburg. Battle liner Plata was at Liverpool for Manchester Canal and Buenos Aires. WOMAN'S HEAD FOUND IN LOCOMOTIVE TENDER

Railroad Coroners Make Search But Discover no Trace of the Body. Cleveland, June 22.—All the coroners along the Pennsylvania Railroad between here and Columbus are stirred up over the finding of a woman's head in the tender of a freight locomotive on that line at Hudson this afternoon. Every effort has been made to locate the remainder of the woman's body and to identify her, but without success. Whether the woman was murdered and her body distributed about on freight trains, or whether she was struck and killed by the freight train is not known. All the coroners were notified and they searched the railroad tracks in their various jurisdictions, but no more of the woman's body has been found. A sale of costume cloths has been inaugurated in Manchester, Robertson, Allison's, Limited, dry goods department, and is going on merrily. THE BANANA KING IS DEAD IN BOSTON

Capt. Lorenzo Dow Baker was the First Man to Introduce Yellow Bananas to the United States--Story of His Life.

Boston, June 22.-Capt. Lorenzo Dow Baker, founder of the fruit trade between this country and the island of Jamaica, died of heart failure at the Park House, this city, at 8:25 o'clock last night.

Capt. Baker started last winter for South America to inspect water works which he owned there. On the way he was taken ill with pneumonia and set ashore at Jamaica. He stayed at Kingston all winter, but a week ago, at the request of his daughter, returned to this city. He was 68 years old.

A life more thrilling, enterprising and romantic than Capt. Baker's can hardly be imagined. Beginning as a young man at Baker Bay at 10, he left the calling of his ancestors and created a business which rejuvenated and made to flourish a barren country oppressed by poverty.

Capt. Baker was born in the old town of Weymouth, Cape Cod, on March 15, 1840. One of his earliest desires was to own a fishing ship, and, at 10 years, he was apprenticed to a fishing captain sailing to the Banks from Boston.

He followed the fishing smacks for 20 years. Then a peculiar happening changed his fortunes and set him on the road to distinction and wealth. In the year 1870 there was a considerable exodus of gold hunters from this country to South America. The adventurers engaged Capt. Baker and his boat to take them to inspect water works to take them to the island of Jamaica.

Such a trip consumed much time. At first Capt. Baker came home to Boston with his ship light-a business which the country had never known. He looked about to find some produce or goods which he could load in South America and sell at a profit in his own country.

And it was this search that finally led him to Jamaica. A friend suggested that he go there for a load of bamboo, which he sold in this country at little gain. But he saw what Jamaica was like, saw the possibilities there, and though he came home to spend another year on the banks, he was determined to return to Jamaica at the first opportunity.

In 1870 the common yellow banana was seldom seen on the market in Boston. The short red, Cuban stock. Even these were a luxury, scarce and expensive. It was taken up by Capt. Baker who went to Jamaica in that year he found the big, yellow banana growing wild. They could be shipped to Boston at a little expense and would sell at a good mark. It was the chance of a lifetime, and he caught it at once.

Due to his experience in handling the fruit, the first few shipments rotted at sea. But Baker persisted and soon had the banana picking the green fruit, selling it to him at 25 cents a bunch-bunches which brought $2.50 and 83 in the Boston market after a journey of only 11 days.

At that time the chief industry of Jamaica was the sugar trade. The island was covered by cane plantations. But, some years before, England had removed the duty from sugar and forced the cane growers to compete with the beet sugar of Germany and other countries. Under this influence, planter after planter failed, the farms were going to waste, and the whole island was held by mortgages, many of them being foreclosed.

Capt. Baker revealed to the discouraged planters the possibilities of banana cultivation. The barren farms were cleared of the rough cane stubble, and green banana plants were sprung up on one side of the island to the other. Capt. Baker was a constant guide and inspiration to the poverty-stricken farmers. It was not long until a little line of cottages the homes of Baker's men, appeared on the shore. The cottages were transformed in time into houses, and these increased in number and finally grew into Port Antonio.

The first ships that carried the fruit to the States were fishing smacks. These changed to larger sailing vessels, and these in time became steamships, and then larger steamships of greater tonnage and faster speed. In 20 years the island was changed from a barren waste to a veritable garden. And from the start Capt. Baker made first among the United Fruit Company and then the United Fruit Company, the greatest organization for the transportation of fruit in the world today. For several years Capt. Baker had been a director in the United Fruit Company.

Three years ago, on Capt. Baker's 68th birthday the English government officers on the island, in behalf of the people of Jamaica, presented a silver service of great cost to Capt. Baker as a token of appreciation for what he had done for the island.

In character he was typically a New Englander. Though a man of many talents, it is said he never saw the American flag without speaking of it or the memories it raised in his mind. He was a rigid Methodist in religion and built several chapels on the island. He was an American of the type that considers the right to vote a divine privilege. It was a characteristic of him that he would go miles out of his way and shape his business for the good of his country. He might be at Wellfleet at a town meeting or election day.

LATE LOCALS

The St. John schooner E. M. Roberts, Captain Grundmark, sailed today for Yonkers Island, with 400 tons hard coal spruce deals shipped by A. Cushing & Co.

Price Weber came to this city on the Boston train this morning, and the genial veteran, who looks as "young" as ever, is getting the glad hand from his many friends.

United States schooner Golden Ball, Captain Shanklin, arrived in port yesterday from Newark with 440 tons hard coal for Fredericton. 70 tons will be towed in lighters.

The funeral of Miss Annie Macdonald took place this afternoon from her parents' residence Millidge Lane, at 3 o'clock. Interment at Cedar Hill, service by the Plymouth Brethren.

The pulp business is booming at the Port of St. George, N.B. Recently the United States schooner Wavenock and Martha of Alton took away 10,342 bundles for Norway.

Thomas Eugene McAuliffe, the young son of Jere McAuliffe, who had his leg cut off in the I. C. R. train shed last evening and is now in the hospital, was reported as being somewhat improved today.

Italian bark Nostra Signora delle Grazie, Captain Podestie, cleared today for Genoa, Italy, with a cargo of deal. On the 8th of this month the bark anchor caught in the piling at the ballast wharf and damaged it considerably. The captain settled the claim put in by the government agent this morning.

Purser Thomas Wann, of the steamer Dalhousie now in port stated to the Times this morning that the government of Bermuda have barred the use of automobiles on that island, and that the government compensates the owners for their machines. The steamer brought two of them, which were purchased from the authorities there for Halifax parties.

BROKE HIS LEG

Owen Morse Injured on Market Square This Morning.

Owen Morse, an employe of Frank Ellett, proprietor of the Minnie Motor Works, Nelson street, met with a painful accident shortly before noon today. He was driving along Market square, behind some gasoline engines on a truck when one of his legs caught between the spokes of the wheel and was fractured. The injured man was taken into J. Johnston & Co.'s store on the South Wharf, and afterwards conveyed to the hospital in the ambulance. Dr. Malcolm, when asked as to the extent of the injury, said it was a simple fracture, both bones being broken. He is resting easily.

CAMP SUSSEX IS ACTIVE PLACE TODAY

Troops Pouring Into Kings County Town--Nearly 1500 Men Passed Through City Today--The Camp Arrangements.

Sussex, N. B., June 23--(Special)--Another half day of bustle and confusion commenced upon the arrival of the troops and Camp Sussex will take on the semblance of system and military precision necessary for all well ordered camps. The tents were all up by noon and the good work done by H. Company of regulars from the R. C. R. Fredericton and by the different advance parties is very noticeable.

On entering the grounds to the right are seen a number of tents of N. A. S. C. who have the care of the commissariat wagons and horses. Farther south are a group of tents where the men of the 10th, 12th and 19th Field Batteries will make their homes during the camp. The 12th Battery arrived early this morning, and is up to full strength. Between the artillery tents and the high knoll are pitched the tents of the regulars. On the main camping site on the ridge the tents of the 67th, 71st, 73rd and 74th are in position. The 73rd from Northumberland county arrived this morning under command of Col. McKenzie.

This regiment is said to be considerably below full strength, one company in particular having but 14 men. Between the infantry tents and the ridge are the staff and headquarters tents. Farther north on the hillside are eight khakhi colored tents, where the army medical corps are prepared to relieve suffering. The remainder of the A.S.C. have their quarters in the tents at the northern end of the field.

The grounds are a pretty sight with the green ridges dotted by white tents and the brightly clad militiamen moving back and forth. There will be no drill today, but on Wednesday the men will have to settle down to hard work.

Nearly 1,500 men and over a hundred horses passed through the city today on special trains en route to Camp Sussex. Like previous years there was no stop at the train shed and the usual uproar was conspicuous by its absence. As the trains arrived, they were sent right out to the island yard and after changing the locomotives and vans the journey to camp was resumed.

The authorities at Ottawa and the D.O. C. had complained about the detention at St. John in past years. It was necessary to re-bill the men and baggage here before the journey could be resumed and some two or three hours were occupied in this way, during which time the men scattered and the saloons were generally patronized with the result that many were left behind and some who became too boisterous were locked up.

Yesterday Superintendent L. R. Ross sent men out to McAdam where they boarded the trains and the re-billing was done en route here, thus doing away with the necessity of a long stop. Only a few minutes were occupied in changing the engines and the men had no opportunity to stray away. Only two or three got left out of the entire lot and they had jumped from a train as it passed the train shed.

Doubtless those on the trains who have been in the habit of getting off at the station and "vetting-up," were considerably disappointed, but Mr. Ross feels well satisfied with the working of the men plan and I.C.R. Policeman John Collins has had no trouble like other years in keeping the men in order.

The first special was from Edmundston and consisted of thirteen cars with 338 men and 20 horses of the 1st Field Company C. E. It arrived at 7:40 and left at 8:00.

The second train consisted of 21 cars with 170 men, 61 horses and 8 guns of the 4th Brigade C. F. A. It arrived at 9:35 and left at 10:07.

The third special was from Fredericton and had on board 215 men and 4 horses of the 7th Regiment. It arrived at 10:10 and left at 10:35. Attached to this train from here was a car with No. 8 Beaver Company A.M.C., in charge of Major T. D. Walker, and 4 carloads of horses.

The arriving noon had two cars attached, bearing 80 men of the 67th Regiment from St. Stephen, in charge of Col. J. D. Chipman.

CLOSING EXERCISES OF SCHOOL FOR DEAF

Interesting Exercises Will be Held at Lancaster Institution on Thursday.

The closing exercises of the School for Deaf, Lancaster, will be held on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. There will be no special programme, merely a review of the year's work. The annual closing of this institution has always proved to be full of interest. The splendid building and beautiful grounds at Lancaster attract a large number of well wishers. The school has been particularly fortunate in securing an excellent staff, and each succeeding closing shows the good results attained. It is believed that even a larger number than usual will be present on Thursday.
