Brighten up!

Sherwin-Williams Paints and Varnishes "The Real Brighten Up Stuff"

Spring brings a desire to brighten up things about the house, both inside and out. This is a wearisome task unless paint and varnish be used, and an uncertain task unless you use the best. The Sherwin-Williams Co. make a finish for every surface in your house—a piano or a chair—a floor or a picture frame. A little time and money spent this Spring on "Brighten Up" stuff will greatly lessen your work and add very much to the appearance of your house.

Come in and Talk the Matter Over!

J. SUTTON CLARK, - St. George, N. B.

Sharpeners Are Agreed.

Following the action of the granite cutters and manufacturers at their respective meetings yesterday afternoon in ratifying the agreement reached by their committees, the committees from the Tool Sharpeners' Branch and the Manufacturers' Association met last evening and after a three-hour and a half session reached an agreement upon a proposition that covers every detail, which they will submit to their respective bodies as soon as the material can be put together, which will be done by sub-committees as soon as possible. The agreement followed closely the granite cutters' settlement.

The agreement reached between the manufacturers and cutters yesterday, is to run three years, the scale to be $3.00 a day of eight hours the first year, $3.04 the second year and $3.10 the third year. The agreement includes weekly payments and a bill of prices for piece work. The Engineers' Union having effected an agreement with the manufacturers some days ago, there remain the Polishers' Union and the Lumpers, Boxers and Derricks' Union with which a settlement is still to be effected.

The Quarry Workers' Union is holding a meeting at Graniteville this afternoon at which action is to be taken on the proposition submitted to them on Monday by the Quarry Owners' Association. This meeting convened at 2 o'clock in the basement of St. Sylvester's church.

Verdict of credit due the conference of the two organizations, whose sagacity and faithfulness in the past has been largely responsible for the cutting of the Gordian knot. These men, as agents for their organization, worked long and diligently that justice might be done and that the industry might not suffer. Their task is a thankless one at best, for people are prone to criticize their apparent derelictions, forgetting the difficulties under which they labor. Yet these representatives have stood the brunt of this adverse criticism and have stood manfully to their task. So we say, give them credit, give them much credit, for paving the way to the present satisfactory status of the negotiations. Without their persistent and well directed efforts, Barre, Washington county and the entire granite industry of New England would be floundering about in chaos. This community certainly owes them a debt of gratitude. —Barre Times.

The Polar Dashes.

(From the Boston Transcript.) The starting gun for Captain Peary's next dash for the pole is advertised to go off on the 1st of next July. It is to be a two-year dash, as usual, one year to get started and one year to dash. Hope springs eternal in the human breast. It is especially inextinguishable in the bosom of the Arctic Explorer. Now what remains is that Wellman should announce his plans and name his present agent for the coming summer. The contrasted methods of these two explorers inclines to the favor of the two-year dash over the two-month over-head route. With Arctic exploration, as with the humble sleighing parties of the temperate zone, it is the longest way round that is the shortest way home.

It is reported that five thousand settlers from the United States are preparing to take up land in the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan through the efforts of one land company. A census of the population of three western provinces issued recently shows that nearly one-fourth of the population. The largest number of the foreign-born population in these three western provinces come from the United States, numbering 91,000, about 11.5 per cent. of the present population.

Montreal, April 2.—Ex-Secretary Shaw of the United States, who is here on private business, declared that the development in Canada during the next ten years will exceed that of any other country in the world's history. In the early days, he said, the United States were generous to the promoter and the railway builder and they got good results. He says that Western Canada will become strongly protectionist, and he advises the Dominion to legislate for Canada alone.

As regards his own country the Ex-Secretary said: For the first time in the history of the world there is today an English speaking community with both of its political organizations committed in a large measure to radicalism. In other words, there is no conservative leadership. England, he added, has had her radical party, yet at the same time, the party has had strong conservatism in the opposition to that radicalism, and the same can be said of Canada. So the United States in the past have radical parties yet at the same time, our radicalism has been strongly combated by conservatism. It is not so however, today were Democratic and Republican organizations are striving to see which can present the most radical policy to the electorate of Republic. Will we go over the precipice, or will we call a halt before it is too late. For these reasons therefore a large number of the most conservative men of the United States look upon the situation with a certain degree of apprehension.

Resting on the Ploks.

(From the Boston Herald.) Meanwhile the 250,000 bituminous coal miners are not making any serious disturbance, nor are they really on strike. They are simply resting on their picks, awaiting further developments. These may be amicable and mutually satisfactory or otherwise. All depends on the chances of agreement as to a permanent wage scale.

On Everybody's Lips!

(From Everybody's Magazine.) On the way to the office of his publisher one crisp fall morning, James Whitcomb Riley met an unusually large number of acquaintances who commented conventionally upon the fine weather. This unrelenting applause amused him. When greeted at the office with "Nice day" Mr. Riley, he smiled broadly: "Yes," he agreed. "Yes, I've heard it highly spoken of."

Three Planks.

(From the Toronto Mail and Empire.) Degenerates should not be permitted to enter Canada in any circumstances; foreigners who appear to be sound in mind and body should be deported when they commit a crime; and no foreigners, however worthy, who cannot intermarry with the British stock in this country are wanted. On these three planks a fairly effective immigration platform could be built.

The Grand Trunk Pacific

Montreal, April 3.—The General Manager of the Grand Trunk returned today from England. Mr. Hays was asked if there was any special significance in the resignation of Lord Charles Rothchild from the directorate of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

"None at all," he replied. "He resigned three months ago. His uncle, Leopold Rothchild died last July, and his nephew, Lord Charles, was the only one left of the original firm. His resignation from the G. T. P. directorate was simply that he might devote his attention to the work that fell on him owing to his uncle's death. His place on the G. T. P. directorate was taken by Mr. Glynn, of Glynn, Mills and Co., the banking firm. This is rather interesting, because it was that firm who were the first backers of the Grand Trunk. It was they who brought out the Grand Trunk prospectus."

Mr. Hays was asked as to the recent issue of G. T. P. bonds to the extent of ten millions, being reminded that, according to cables reports that issue fell rather flat.

He replied that it was a mistake to think that the issue was a failure in any way. "We don't issue the bonds ourselves," he added, "we sell them at a certain price, and the banker or whoever buys them brings them out and makes what he can on them. It makes no difference to us how he sells them, because we have already been paid the money on them. But as a matter of fact I may tell you that on the day these bonds were issued twelve millions worth of other bonds were also issued. Yet by the second or third day all the G. T. P. issue had been gobbled up."

"Then you have all the money you want now to carry on the G. T. P. project?"

"Yes, we are in good shape. We have all the money we want for two years so that you can see the support is all we would wish."

In Part Responsible

(From the New York Times.) The teachers and preachers, all and sundry, of anarchism, socialism, communism, won are just now with many voices and in many places sowing the seeds of discontent and implanting ideas subversive of law, of justice, and of order, are the real promoters of bombing and throwing. The Anarchists, the Socialists and the Communists dissent violently from any classification that thus lumps them together. But whether one of this brood of mischief-makers preaches his doctrine from a professor's chair in Columbia or from the platform of a Red Sunday school of socialism on the East side, whether he invites police interference by haranguing a street corner mob with exhortations to anarchistic violence, or expounds to a meeting of persons calling themselves philanthropist the bland but false and soulless doctrine of "benevolent" socialism, they are one if not in heart and purpose, at least one in the effects they produce and the fruits they bring forth.

Regarding Salvation Army immigrants the Victoria Colonist says:—"Only one man of the entire party of over 500 persons, men, women and children, who a few weeks ago, were brought into the province under the auspices of the Salvation Army, has proved to be unsatisfactory. This, surely is a splendid record, and on worthy of more than passing notice."

Mate Bram In Prison Kitchen.

Boston, Thomas Mead Bram, formerly mate of the Harrington, Me., barkentine Herbert Fuller, who was sentenced to life imprisonment by the Federal Court here for the murder of three persons on the vessel, is a model prisoner in the United States penal institution at Georgia. He was strongly in favor of the annexation of this city to the standard and Bram was employed in the prison hospital kitchen. He is stout and rugged and appears to be in good spirits.

Dr. Thompson, formerly of Manchester N. H., who was convicted of counterfeiting in this city is assistant on the prison medical staff. These prisoners were transferred from Massachusetts to Georgia in 1906.

Town Council

The meeting of the Town Council held Monday evening was very interesting, and quite a number of citizens were present, attracted no doubt, by the announcement that a committee from the school trustees would be present and advocate the erection of an annex to the present school building. Other matters of considerable moment to the residents were also dealt with.

The mayor and all the aldermen were present. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Mayor Lawrence said that a communication would be submitted to the attention of the meeting from the school board, that the matter was of considerable importance to the town. The cost of such a building would be slight in comparison to the immense benefits that would be derived from its erection.

Mr. J. Sutton Clark said it would cost $2000 to make the necessary changes, and he favored issuing debentures to cover the amount. He was opposed to using the town hall for school purposes, and felt it would give general satisfaction, as it was very important that every department should be under the direct supervision of the principal. He considered that prompt and decided action should be taken to remedy the present condition of affairs, as the school was overcrowded.

Dr. Alexander said the schools were overcrowded and the present arrangement was not satisfactory. The present room, that had been rented, was not adapted for school purposes. He strongly advocated building an annex, with two rooms, one to be used for manual training. He felt that the Council had the interests of the people at heart, and would not hesitate to carry out the recommendation of the school board. The cost was comparatively small, the town was in good financial condition, and every effort should be made to make the school as attractive as possible, and an annex built as soon as possible would be cheaper, more economical and much better in the long run.

Ald. Johnson personally regarded any move towards putting more debt on the town as very objectionable. It would be much better to use a room in the town hall, until the present school building was paid for. This year we must begin taking up the old debentures, making an additional tax of $600 per year for ten years, and this was about all the town could stand under present conditions. Better schools, not school-houses were required, try and get schools up to the standard and not mind the buildings.

Ald. Dewar said that in order to have good schools good accommodations should be provided. This was an inopportune time to deal with a matter of such importance, and this council, in its last meeting, should not deal with the matter, but should leave it for the new Council.

Ald. Bogue, who is a member of the school board, considered the present school accommodation as altogether inadequate, and thought if some of the aldermen would attend a meeting of the board, when the matter was under discussion, they would change their views. He was strongly in favor of the annex. Schools were not up to the standard and something should be done.

Ald. Goodiell thought some improvement in schools was necessary. If the rooms are overcrowded, make the necessary changes to improve conditions. He did not believe in carrying a debt along to do so, but assess one half of required amount this year and balance next and then the taxes would be no higher than last year. Ald. Grant was in favor of building the annex, it was a necessity and the Council should take action at once.

Ald. Craig felt sorry that we had a town hall and no use for it. He felt it could be used for school purposes, but if trustees say an annex is necessary, they are in a position to know what is required. He favored leaving the question to the new Council.

Ald. Gillmor would like to know how many more pupils attended school now than ten years ago. He could not see any reason why an annex should be built now. Don't saddle another debt on the town until present debt is wiped out, he would not vote for an appropriation of $2000 at the present time. If the schools were below the average it was not because they had one grade in another building, there were other reasons. Fix up a room in the town hall for primary class. Let the new Council settle the question.

Mayor Lawrence said there seemed to be some difference of opinion on this matter. It was felt by some that a room could be fitted up in the town hall to answer present conditions. The town was in good financial condition and it would not require any great increase in taxes to build an annex if Council decided to do so. He did not think it right for this Council, in its last meeting, to saddle a debt on the incoming board of $2000. Let it be dealt with by new board.

The committee addressed the Council strongly urging that action be taken. James O'Brien, Sec'y of the board, also addressed the Council, and said schools should be under one roof, as under conditions now existing satisfactory work could not be done.

Ald. Johnson, Craig, Bogue, Grant, Murphy, Goodiell, yes. Ald. Gillmor and Dewar, nay. Ald. Gillmor requested that the vote as given be recorded by the Secretary. Sewerage matters were discussed at some length, and it was moved that accounts against persons who had not paid sewerage entrance fee, be placed with police magistrate for collection. Carried. It was moved, by Ald. Gillmor, that the law in regard to building sewers in town be complied with in the future. The street committee were instructed to look after wharf repairs. Adjourned.

The liberal convention called for Apr 1 2nd has, at the request of the N. B. members, been postponed. The house is called to meet April 23rd which requires the members being present. A new date for Convention will be fixed and announced later.

Three divers passed through town on Tuesday en route to Boacbec to take rocks from Ed. Holt's weir.

Six Kisses a Day His Limit.

Six kisses a day are the limit for Ora M. Leedom of Chicago. He promised his wife that he would stay with her on that basis. They found him in Springfield, Ill., where he went seven weeks ago.
"It's a case of too much 'love dovey' business, said Leedom. 'My wife is a good woman and a fine housekeeper, but she's too strong on the love business to suit me.'
"Now, I'm not a chilly Guy, but I don't want a woman kissing me all the time. When I come home from work in the evening I like to sit down and read the paper. My wife would want me to hold hands and say foolish things."
"A few days before I jumped out of town some actress down in New York made a hit with a kiss that lasted forty-seven seconds. When my wife read about that in the paper she said she could beat it with one hand tied behind her back. I don't mind a little kiss now and then, but I draw the line at more than six a day."

The Candor of Science

The training of a scientific man is a training in what an illiterate lout would despise as weakness. It is a training in blabbing, in blurring things out, in telling just as plainly as possible and as soon as possible what he has found. To "keep shut" and bright-eyed, and to score advantages, that is the wisdom of the common stuff of humanity still. To science it is a crime.

Unhappy Marriages

The universal expectation of married people is that their married lives will always be happy ones. Deluded dreamers! They imagine that they are different from other people, and that when they enter the portal of matrimony, love, peace and prosperity will overtake their attendants. Such ones had better by far consider themselves the same as others, but form firm resolutions that will keep them from the dangerous coasts upon which so many have been wrecked and ruined. Unhappy marriages depend upon many causes. Previous to marriage, many try to appear more intellectual, more amiable, or more accommodating than they really are. Depend upon it, that love brought into existence by a moonlight stroll strengthened by deceit and fashionable displays, and finally consummated through the influence of intriguing friends, will fade in after life almost as fast as the flowers which compose the bridal wreath.

Strike May be Settled

Barre, Vt. April 7.—A compromise proposition made by the quarry owners to the quarry men is thought to afford some hope of an early settlement of the strike which began on the first of March, affecting between 4,000 and 5,000 men in Barre, Montpelier and neighboring places. The demand of the quarry workers as distinguished from the cutters was for 27 cents an hour in place of the former scale of 25 cents an hour. The quarry owners have not offered the men 26 cents an hour and a meeting of the quarry men will be held to consider the proposition and take action on it. There was a feeling among merchants and others interested in the strike situation here that the compromise probably would be accepted.

What Causes "Nerves"?

Most people say worry—they are wrong—the cause is in the blood which is thin, and lacks nutriment. To cure "Nerves" more blood, sinew and flesh are required. You get these quickly by taking Ferronone. No health bringer is so certain, no nerve strengthener more potent, no system tonic so well adapted to the wants of the run-down, nervous or sleepless. Let Ferronone build you up, let it fill you with vim, energy and surplus vigor. It has done this for thousands.

Rosy Cheeks

The Ambition of Every Woman

Hollow cheeks with dark lines, sallow complexion—how a woman hates them. But rosy cheeks, clear skin, bright eyes—give them to a woman and she is happy.
"In the blood is found the first sign of trouble."
It grows thin and watery, its color fades, and increasing pallor and sallowness give the outward evidence of the change within.
Soon the nerves weaken, the heart easily tires and palpitates, strength declines.
The delicate mechanism of the womanly functions is interfered with, and pleasures, activities and even duties are loaded down with the burden of declining health.
Why is it that women neglect the first warnings?
Usually she waits till she is ready to drop—often then it's too late.
These conditions are easily checked, easily cured at the beginning, but even when long established, Ferronone will remove the cause and cure the trouble.
Ferronone's action aids the three principal functions of the body—digestion, assimilation, elimination.
By strengthening digestion it forms an abundance of rich, red blood—this gives good color.
By perfecting assimilation, Ferronone supplies nutriment—this gives strength, vim, stability.
Elimination is assured because Ferronone quickens the actions of the liver, kidneys and bowels—this guarantees the maintenance of vigorous health.
Ferronone puts you on the right road—the one that leads to health.
Not a man, woman or child needing blood, vigor, endurance—not a person who is weak, nervous or sickly, not a person in ill-health who won't receive immediate help from Ferronone.
As a tonic and restorative, as a health-bringer and body-builder, Ferronone is unrivalled. It cures because it feeds and nourishes, because it contains the elements that build up and strengthen. Try it yourself—sold everywhere in 50c boxes.

Married in London

Montreal, April 5.—A cable says:—The wedding took place Saturday in the presence of a large number of members of the British aristocracy and other prominent socially and politically in London of Lady Ruby Elliott second daughter of the Earl of Minto, vicerey of India and formerly Governor-general of Canada, and the Countess of Minto, and Rowland Thomas Baring, Viscount Errington eldest son of Lord Cromer, of Cromer Hall, Norfolk, who is famous for his services as a diplomatist and administrator in Egypt. Unfortunately the Earl of Minto was unable to be present on account of the pressure of his duties in India, but Lady Minto arrived from India about three weeks ago to prepare for her daughter's wedding.
The marriage was solemnized in the church of St. Margaret's, Westminster, which has been the scene of many fashionable weddings. The bride wore a gown of soft white satin, made in Empire style. The deep high belt was closely embroidered with pearls and furnished with pearl tassels, and a shower of orange blossoms and buds fell down the front of the gown. She also wore a long real lace veil.
The bridesmaids were Ladies Eileen and Violet Elliott, sisters of the bride; Lady Dorothy Browne, daughter of Lord and Lady Kenmore, and cousin of both bride and bridegroom, Lady Evelyn Grey daughter of the governor general of Canada; Miss Mabel Elliott and Miss Margaret Davern, the last three cousins of the bride. The six bridesmaids were gowned in charming frocks of turquoise blue chiffon, made in the Romney style, with draped fichu knotted in front. Their hats were of pale blue tulle trimmed with ribbon work and pink roses. The best man was the Hon. Wyndham Baring, brother of the bridegroom.
The bride and bridegroom left to spend their honeymoon at Sutton Courtney, which has been lent them by Harry Lindsay. A large number of beautiful gifts were received from various parts of England, Ireland, India and Canada.

Plan Line to Connect St. Croix and Lepreau.

Calais, Me., April 3.—It is reported that a syndicate of moneyed men, some of whom live in the States and some in the provinces, has a scheme on foot for the construction in the near future of a railroad on the New Brunswick side of the harbor to join St. Croix, N. B., with the seacoast somewhere near Lepreau, N. B. Just what purpose the syndicate has in building this road seems to be uncertain, but apparently it is intended to be a sort of strategic short cut from St. Croix to a coast port that will die vic with St. John as a centre of commerce.
A prominent Calais man in speaking of the projected new road, said: "There's a lot of talk down our way about a new railway that's planned on the other side of the border from St. Croix, just across from Vanceboro, to a port somewhere near Lepreau. I don't know who is back of the movement, but from all I hear it looks as if there was something in it.

"It seems to me that the men who are interested in the position have found a harbor somewhere near Lepreau, which is deep and safe for the largest kind of vessels and where the shores are of such formation that it would be necessary to do but little wharf building because they are solid ledge and go off so abruptly that the ledges have only to be levelled off to become natural wharves. The rise and fall of the tide there is considerably less than it is at St. John and the harbor is better for that reason.
"You know the old Shore Line Railway runs along the coast from St. John to St. Stephen and it is only a few miles inland from Lepreau. The idea of the new road seems to be to cut across from St. Croix through New Brunswick, crossing both the Canadian Pacific and the Shore Line to reach the coast. The distance altogether is about 60 miles and the road would run through a richly timbered and watered country all the way.

"For my part, I cannot exactly see what there is in it for the new road, if one is to be built, with the Canadian Pacific now running down through that part of New Brunswick from McAdam to St. Stephen. But evidently the alleged promoters of the scheme have a strategic play in mind and think they can build from St. Croix having a junction there with the Canadian Pacific and right across the river from the Maine Central terminus at Vanceboro, to a good seaport they can get a good deal of the traffic which goes to St. John. To tell the truth, it looks to me like a good deal of a pipe dream, but folks down our way think there is something in it, and you never can tell."

Britain Distanced All Her Rivals

We are passing through a time of great prosperity not confined to the country, but of great world-wide prosperity. How did Great Britain come out of that time? With the lion's share. In two years the exports of France increased—France being a great protectionist country—by 27 millions, Germany's increased by 56 millions, those of the United States by 62 millions, and Britain decimated, her trade tumbling down, her factories closed, all the markets of the world, one by one, shut in her teeth—Britain increased her trade by 100 millions. We have increased our trade more than any rival, more than our next competitor, by nearly 40 millions. But that was not all. They must take into account our population. There were 60 millions in Germany, against 40 millions here, and 80 millions in the United States, operating in something like three million square miles, and here we had a little bit of an island. Supporting every man, woman and child of the population were selling goods to foreign countries, every Frenchman would have sold £5 13s worth, every American £4 12s 9d, but every Briton £9 8s 9d. And this was the country the goods of which were being concluded by tariff! They could not keep us out.—David Lloyd George at Albert Hall.

Optimism all Over the Dominion.

The tremendous amount of railway construction work to be completed before next winter will assist in making this a prosperous year, especially to the immigrants, who are pouring into the West in large numbers. It will mean the employment of thousands of laborers while skilled artisans should find plenty of employment in the many industries which are being opened up throughout that country. The demand for land-holders will be greater than ever, and already the farmers are making anxious inquiries at the different agencies as to the probable supply. Millions of dollars of capital will be brought into the Canadian West this year, and with the crop prospects the brightest on record there is every reason to anticipate good times. In Ontario and Quebec the business situation is most encouraging, and with the many public and private enterprises contemplated, a period is promised of unprecedented activity. In the Maritime Provinces favorable reports are being received, and the people down by the sea are repairing for a big year's business. The mining and fishing industries will be carried on with increased energy as large orders await delivery. All over Canada there is a feeling of optimism.—Montreal Witness.

HOW CANADA LOSES

Speaking of the loss the Dominion suffers by sending away its pulpwood to build up in the United States industrial centres which should be established here at home, the Pulp & Paper Magazine says:
"Once upon a time, a man settled on some forest land in Pontiac County, Quebec, far from other settlements. He grew a crop of potatoes, and in clearing the land for these he started a fire which destroyed 300,000,000 feet of pine. At present prices this pine would be worth $390,000 to the Government in stumpage fees, $1,800,000 in lumbermen's wages, and probably $1,200,000 in profit to the limit holder; although $3,290,000 of good money. The crop of potatoes amounted to five bushels, worth at the outside less than $5, and that country today is a desert worthless for any purpose whatever!
"Canada today is letting her life neighbor to the South get hundreds of thousands of cords of pulpwood at a price ranging from say five to eight dollars. These same cords of pulpwood, bring $30 to $50 in the shape of paper.
"The two great national wastes which these two facts, so pointedly exemplify are taking hold of the popular mind in a way that will make the campaign of education proceed at a rapid pace.
"And this it is certainly doing. The

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! It is a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, not turn heavy growths back to firm again. That is impossible, but I can now surely kill the pain and cause of this deplorable disease.
In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the best ingredients with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfect and dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism, but now, at last, it uniformly cures all curable cases of this horrid disease, found in Rheumatic blood, seems to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend movement in favor of restricting the export of pulpwood is growing in all hands—in the press, in Parliament and in popular estimation.

Shows Kindly Feeling

Montreal, March 31.—A Presbyterian church, partly built by Roman Catholic subscriptions, is a unique demonstration of the kindly feelings existing between the two creeds. The church is a new one at La Prairie, built to replace a smaller church that was pulled down, and it is not the only Protestant church in the district. It is proposed to hold day school in the church building, and when the Roman Catholic residents in the village heard that the new church was to be built they asked to be permitted to contribute.

Kiss Me Mamma, I Can't Go To Sleep.

The child was so sensitive—so like that little shrinking plant that curls at a breath, and shuts its heart from the light. The only beauties she possessed were an exceedingly transparent skin and the most mournful, large blue eyes.
I had been trained by a very stern, conscientious mother, but I was a hardy plant, rebounding after every shock; misfortune could not daunt, though discipline tamed, me, I fancied, alas, that I must go through the same routine with this delicate creature; so one day, when she had displeased me exceedingly by repeating an offense, I was determined to punish her severely.
I was very serious all day, and upon sending her to her little couch, I said: "Now, my daughter, to punish you, and show you how very, very naughty you have been, I shall not kiss you tonight."
She stood looking at me, astonishment personified, with her great mournful eyes wide open, I suppose she had forgotten her misconduct till then; and I left her with big tears dropping down her cheeks, and little red lips quivering.
Presently I was sent for. "O, mamma, you will kiss me; I can't go to sleep if you don't!" she sobbed, every tone of her voice trembling; and she held out her little hands.
Now came the struggle between love and what I falsely termed duty. My heart said, give her the kiss of peace; my stern nature urged me to persist in my correction; that I might impress the fault upon her mind. This was the way I had been trained, till I was a most submissive child; and I remembered how often I had thanked my mother since for her straightforward course.
I knelt by the bedside. "Mother can't kiss her Ellen," I whispered though every word choked me. Her hand touched mine; it was very hot, but I attributed it to her excitement. She turned her little quivering face to the wall; I blamed myself as the fragile form shook with half-suppressed sobs, and saying, mother hopes little Ellen will learn to mind her after this," left the room for the night. Alas! in my desire to be severe I forgot to be forgiving.
It must have been 12 o'clock when I was awakened by my nurse. Apprehensive, I ran eagerly to the child's chamber I had had a fearful dream.
Ellen did not know me. She was sitting up, crimsoned from the forehead to the throat; her eyes so bright that I almost drew back aghast at their glances.
From that night a raging fever burned up her life; and what think you was the incessant plaint that poured into my anguished heart? "O, kiss me, mamma, do kiss me; I can't go to sleep! You'll kiss your little Ellen, mamma, won't you? I can't go to sleep."

Holy little angel! she did go to sleep one gray morning, and she never woke again—never. Her hand was locked in mine, and all my veins grew icy with its gradual chill. Faintly the light faded out of the beautiful eyes; yes, whiter and whiter grew the tremulous lips. She never knew me; but with her last breath she whispered "I will be good mamma, if only you'll kiss me."
Kiss her? God knows how passionate, but unavailing were my kisses upon her cheek and lips after that fatal night. God knows how wild were my prayers that she might know if but only once, that I kissed her. God knows how I would have yielded up my very life, could I have asked forgiveness of that sweet child.
Well, grief is all unavailing now! She lies in her little tomb; there is a marble urn at her head, and a rosebud at her feet; there grew sweet summer flowers; there birds sing their matins and vespers; there the blue sky smiles down today; and there lies buried the freshness of my heart.—Family Friend.

Self Interest
The real estate firm of Solomon & O'Sullivan had lots for sale in a new suburban addition. O'Sullivan, young, enthusiastic and Irish, was writing the advertisement, the national eloquence flowing from his pen. He urged impending purchasers to seize the passing moment.
"Napoleon not only met opportunity; he created it!"
Mr. Solomon read this line in the advertisement slowly and carefully. "This fellow Napoleon," he said—"what's the use of advertising him with our money?"—"Lippincott's."

LAST HOUR CONVERSIONS

A young man by the name of Chester Gillette was electrocuted at Ashburn, N. Y., a few days ago for the murder of a girl, Grace Brown. Previous to his execution Gillette issued a lengthy exhortation to young men to live religious lives. We do not believe young men will be very deeply impressed by the exhortation considering whence it came. Gillette went to the chair professing faith and declaring he had found salvation. Perhaps he had. He made confession admitting that he had killed the girl. However, he persisted in his appeals to Governor Hughes for clemency on the ground that he was innocent of the crime. Through his attorneys and the aid of his mother he endeavored to persuade the Governor that new evidence tending to prove his innocence had been discovered. Every means known to the legal and criminal mind was adopted to escape punishment, while at the same time his confession was in the hands of his spiritual adviser, and he was professing Christianity. It seems to have been a case of "Have to." Lectures to young men to live a religious life are all right, but possibly young men will have their choice of lectures.

Eleventh hour conversions are a possibility but it becomes those who experience them under such circumstances to do but little in the way of exhortation. It takes a life to back a sermon.

WATER

Did we say water in connection with the duties of the incoming Town Council? Why not? We have put the cart before the horse in introducing sewerage before water. Now let us put the horse in its place.

There is an increasing demand for a water system and we should not allow the thought of a slight increase in taxes frighten us. Apart from the home comforts and aid to mechanical departments it would give, it may mean the salvation of our town. The "Bucket Brigade" has worked well when needed, but it has had its day, and as a town we may wake up to realize this when too late.

Few towns can be found where a water system can be introduced so easily and at so small a cost.

Fifty thousand dollars at the most would complete the system. This would mean but a small per capita tax to meet the interests and the income could be applied to principal.

To large property holders, the increase in tax would be largely met in the decrease in rates on insurance.

Let the new council consider this all important matter, call a public meeting, pass a vote to borrow and, let the opening of the spring see the beginning of operations on an up-to-date water system.

FIFTY-FIVE MILLION IN 40 YEARS.

The Monetary Times has been indulging itself in prophesying that in forty years the population of the Dominion will be 55,000,000 and it is stated that this is considered a conservative estimate. This is arrived at by reckoning on a 15 per cent natural increase every ten years and the probable rate of increase by immigration. Nothing could be more interesting than the growing interest in Canada as indicated by the immigration returns during the past forty years. In 1871, our immigrants numbered 37,773. Ten years later, this number was increased to 47,991, and in 1891 to 82,165. Then followed the period of world wide stress felt during the last decade of last century and in 1901 the number had fallen to 49,149. Since then there has been a continued and enormous, though not abnormal, increase from 49,000 in 1901, to 300,000 in 1907. All the indications point to this continuing for the next seven years, and that, instead of an average annual influx of less than 150,000 there will probably be very much more than 300,000. When one remembers that immigration to the North American continent exceeds one million and a half, it is not difficult to imagine that, with the increased interest aroused by Canada in the Old World year by year an increasingly larger share of this prodigious stream will empty on the shores of Canada. At the present rate of increase the time is already in sight when the annual immigration to Canada, will be one million souls, and the estimate of Monetary Times is more likely to be under, than over the mark.

PERSONAL

BY THE WAY

Election Tuesday, April 21st.

The Indian scalps his enemy, the pale face skins his friends.

Owing to the new styles in hats the ladies will need no parasols this summer.

The Canadian Pacific has discovered the value of a dead Chinese to be $3,000 so far as known, it has never killed an Indian.

Dr. Letelle of Paris announces his discovery of a new disease—"sporothricosis." Many will be ready to have it as soon as they know what it is.

Don't send your money away from home, and when you are hard up, ask your home merchant for months or years of credit; it is not fair.—Ex.

The best credential any city can have is the enthusiasm of its people. Show your confidence in the town by keeping your enthusiasm at high tide.—Exchange.

No less than 350 lives were lost in the North Atlantic last winter. It was a mild season ashore, but a remarkably violent period at sea. Old Boreas was often on the rampage.

A lady here influenced by the picture book catalogues, issued by some firms, ordered goods and they duly arrived. Inspection ended in the goods being promptly shipped back. She actually found she could do better in the local stores.

"You're a liar!" shouted a lawyer to his opponent in the course of a wordy wrangle over some minor matter that came up at a trial.

"And you're a thief!" was the sharp retort.

"When you gentlemen have sufficiently identified each other, we will proceed, calmly remarked the court.

With thousands of men employed on the Transcontinental Railway an enormous amount of money will be put in circulation. The coming summer promises to be one of the busiest in the history of Canada. The recent financial stringency is rapidly becoming a thing of the past, the business outlook being reported good all over the country.

The most absorbing question of the hour ought to be whom shall we elect for the next mayor of St. George? It is essential that the man who aspires to that honor, should be one of some substance in the town; free from political cabals, and with a mind of his own. He should be a man of honor and probity. It is hard to find a man who is willing to enter the race, but we believe that Mayor Lawrence, who has honorably filled the bill during his term of office, if properly supported may be induced to offer again.

Less interest than usual seem to be taken in the town elections. It is reported that several members of the present board will offer for re-election. Several have been mentioned as possible candidates but upon what authority Greetings does not know. It would appear that more interest on the part of our leading citizens is required, and the business of the town carried on with increased energy.

Hooligan in New York--The jolliest, funniest and most laughable of all comedies, "Hooligan in New York" will be the attraction at Cotta's Hall, St. George, N. B. It's funnier than a circus. That is what people say because there is something doing all the time from the rise to the fall of the curtain. The Company has been engaged with special care and a high class entertainment is promised. Hooligan and his dog, Flip, never fail to produce two and one half hours of laughter.

"Hooligan in New York," the new comedy drama which Jas. H. Browne will present at Cotta's Hall, St. George, N. B. is one of the greatest laugh producers of the day, besides telling a consistent story. There are fifteen people in the company and all the characters in the famous cartoons will be depicted in the production. Even Hooligan's dog, Flip, will be there and furnish his share of the fun. Flip has been in the hands of one of the greatest animal trainers in the world and is an acting canine of almost human intelligence.

The N. B. Southern Railway nearly claimed a life on Wednesday. Luther Cook was driving down the lake road and arrived at the crossing just as the St. John train came along. The outfit was struck by the train, and Cook, wagon and horse were thrown some distance into the ditch. The train was quickly stopped, and the train hands picked the man up. He was badly bruised and cut about the face. The horse was not injured. It was a most miraculous escape from death. The injured man was attended to by Dr. Alexander and it will some time before he recovers from the rics received.

The election in Inverness County, Cape Breton, has resulted in the overthrow of the Scott Act. The license law received 1,651 votes to the Scott Act's 547. Cape Breton County repealed the Scott Act last year. There seems to be a growing sentiment in favor of the Nova Scotia License Act and the reason is not far to seek. Satisfactory amendments to the license law are more easily obtainable than amendments to the Canada Temperance Act and further, the Nova Scotia License Law is virtually local prohibition in any county where strong temperance sentiment prevails.--Amherst News and Sentinel.

CORRESPONDENCE

Editor Granite Town Greetings

Sir--It is about time some action was taken in respect to the crowd of young boys who congregate nightly near the Chinese laundry. We have laws and a town Marshall, and when pedestrians, especially ladies and young girls, are made the objects of obscene and foul language from this crowd of loafers, it's about time the law was enforced. Persons are often compelled to use the middle of the street in order to get relief from these persons who block the sidewalk. If the parents of these boys have no control over them, the authorities should instruct the Marshall to take some action at once to remove this nuisance, which is becoming intolerable.

Help Men to be Sober

It is one part of the work of temperance reform to seek to advance the cause by legislation—to secure prohibitory enactments wherever their enforcement is practical and elsewhere to make restrictive legislation as severe and effective as possible for the limitation of the evils of the traffic. But the work of the temperance worker has another side which, though legitimate and highly important, is not perhaps regarded in that light as it should be. To close the saloon to a man who is addicted to the use of strong drink is good so far as it goes, but it needs to be supplemented with something which shall help him to overcome his appetite and arouse in him the ambition to lead a sober and useful life. The man who prefers drunkenness to sobriety will generally find the means of getting drunk under any form of temperance legislation. But there are many men, especially in our larger towns and cities, who could be helped out of the slough of drunkenness by the sympathy and encouragement which might be given them by those who are standing on firmer ground. A very encouraging evidence of this is found, we think, in the work which the Every Day Club of St. John is doing and has been doing for more than a year past. The work which is being done by the club deserves encouragement and we hope to see it placed on a permanent basis and its scope enlarged. The Baptist Times and Freeman of London notes the success which has attended an attempt to provide counter attractions to the public house in Middleborough, and thinks the experiment might be well imitated in other places. A few months ago a spacious hall was erected with glass roof and artistically tiled walls, furnished with an abundance of chairs and tables, and opened as a winter garden. The name is justified by a sufficiency of hanging and other plants to give the hall a festive and semi-rural appearance. A band plays every night, games are provided, and non-alcoholic refreshments are supplied at a nominal price. Smoking is permitted as a matter of course. The hall is open all day and is kept at a pleasant temperature in the winter by means of hot-water pipes. One penny is charged for admission. That such a place does act as an effective counter attraction to the public-house is proved by the fact that, since this winter garden was opened, three months ago, the daily attendance has been nearly 1,500 and on some occasions it has been too small to accommodate all who wished to enter.

That languid, lifeless feeling that comes with spring and early summer, can be quickly changed to a feeling of buoyancy and energy by the judicious use of Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

The Restorative is a genuine tonic to tired, rundown nerves, and but a few doses is needed to satisfy the user that Dr. Shoop's restorative is actually reaching that tired spot. The indoor life of winter nearly always leads to sluggish bowels and to sluggish circulation in general. The customary lack of exercise and outdoor air ties up the liver, stagnates the kidneys, and oft-times weakens the heart's action. Use Dr. Shoop's Restorative a few weeks and all will be changed. A few days test will tell you that you are using the right remedy. You will easily and surely note the change from day to day. Sold by All Dealers.

The Look of a Child

"I remember that the greatest lesson I have ever learned in my life," said the by-stander, "was pointed out to me by my little daughter. I had never been a drinking man; but some times after the theatre, I am ashamed to confess, that I came home many a night slightly the worse for wear and liquor. The habit grew on me, in spite of tearful entreaties from my wife. I took a bottle of whiskey home one afternoon. After dinner I made for the bottle, which I had left in my study, poured out a glass and raised it to my lips, when I caught a reflection in the polished woodwork of the wall. I turned quickly, and there was my little daughter standing in the doorway looking at me. I could never describe the expression on her face. If one might say it of a child, it was a commingling of reproach, pity and disgust. Probably she had overheard conversations between her mother and myself; perhaps it was instinct. I have not taken another drink from that day to this."—Home Herald.

Points to Ponder

The Kansas press is just now boasting of the superior moral condition of their state, and they have good reason for the boast, for 85 out of its 105 counties have not a single officially reported pauper, and 25 of these counties have no almshouses and 35 are without a criminal case on the docket. Something more than 20 years have passed since Kansas adopted prohibition. The present condition of that state is a splendid object lesson to the rest of the country; and yet you still hear the cry "Prohibition takes away the people's liberty, and you can't make people moral by law."—Home Herald.

The Protestant and Roman Catholic clergy of the city of Quebec united recently in a petition to the Provincial government to reduce the number of liquor selling licenses, in the city by one-third. There are now one hundred and fifty licensed groggeries.

The Gospel of Service

The cost, direct and indirect, of the liquor traffic in Canada is over $15,000,000 only enough to keep us in liquor for eight months. The nations exports are valued at $213,521,000, and for every dollar's worth of exports we spend seventy cents for liquor. The public schools of Canada cost, in 1904, $252,587. The liquor consumed cost six times as much Canada spent last year a little over $6,000,000 on her postal system and received good value. She spent over $150,000,000 on the liquor traffic and what did she get, 5,000 corpses, 16,532 prisoners, thousands of orphaned wives and mothers and children. If the money squandered in this awful curse were available, what could it not do? It would give a university education to every young man and woman in Canada, and pay all expenses. It would rent a comfortable cottage for each family in Canada—a million cottages, say about $12.50 per month. It would provide our national revenue each year and leave $70,000,000 for a rainy day. It would purchase a suit of clothes for every man, a dress for every woman, and all the clothes needed for every child from Cape Breton to Vancouver Island. All this and more could be done with the money squandered for intoxicating drink; but instead the traffic is permitted to plunder the country's bone and brawn and brain, murder the bread winners, brutalize and debauch the defenseless women and innocent children—why? Because the Christian manhood of Canada has not risen in its might to crush this awful foe.

When I am King

A story has been received with regard to the Prince of Wales that he once said; "When I am king I will make three laws: No one shall cut 'puppies' tails; there shall be no 'more gin in the country, and no body shall use bearing-reins, because they hurt the horses." In this determination is revealing the high-minded, sensitive youth, whose sympathies have been touched and whose indignation has been aroused by the cruelties practised upon dumb creatures, and whose disgust with gin and its manifestations is as yet untrammelled by the British prejudice, to which intoxicating drinks are sacrosanct. When I am king! How often has each of us used the phrase, assuming the potency of kingship as in the fairy tales, to be unrestrained for benign purposes. Kings, alas, have but limited power over fashions and appetites, however brutal the one or regarding the other. How many of us have wished to be all powerful physically, so that we could thrash ogres who insult women, ill-use children, and cruelly treat horses and all else; shoot at trapped pigeons or hunt tame deer, and so forth. It is good to have such aspirations, and to go on having them, rather than to suffer the disillusionment of the prince who said "The time is out of joint. O cursed spite! That ever I was born to 'set it right.'" Our very aspirations set the stream of thought in the right direction, even though it seems to move so slowly.

One Opinion

A measure has been introduced in the House of Commons, says the Sentinel Review of Woodstock, Ont., imposing a penalty of $5 per minute on all late passenger trains, except where physical impossibility can be proven. The late train is, of course, a great inconvenience, and if it could be brought in on time by an act of Parliament the travelling public would welcome such an act. But it is scarcely likely that trains are delayed just for the purpose of inconveniencing the public or to suit the convenience of the railways. If the truth were known it would probably be found that the railway companies are as anxious to have their trains running on time as are the people who travel. Indeed, many of the accidents that occur to railway trains are attributed to the anxiety of the companies to bring in their trains on time, and it has been seriously suggested more than once that the companies should be punished for such attempts when they are attended by danger. Between a proposal on the one hand to punish for not being on time, and a proposal on the other to punish for making extra efforts to be on time, the railway companies may be puzzled to know just what to do. One thing the companies might be expected to do for the convenience of the travelling public, and that is furnish some more reliable system of train reporting. Many of the reports furnished now appear to be largely guesses. Even the most considerate and best-natured man is liable to turn sour and cranky after he has waited for an hour and a half for a train that was reported twenty minutes late.

A Faithful Fox Hound

Mr. Woodworth, South Branch, Middle Stewiacke, has two fine dogs, one a fox hound that has eight wild cats scored to his credit already this season. This dog, many people in the Stewiacke Valley believe, is more entitled to wild cat bounty than some men whose names figured in Treasurer Crowe's wild cat bounty list, that the News published a short time ago. The first of the season this keen scented fox hound chased a wild cat to a plaster quarry, where he sought shelter in a fox hole. The fox dashed out and was seized by the hound and captured. Men filled the mouth of the quarry, but during the night the cat bored a hole through the soft rock and escaped.

A few days ago this same dog got on the scent of a wild cat and followed it through the woods, five miles to Witterberg. The owner followed with a gun, and a pretty rough tramp it was, but he came to his faithful hound with the cat properly "treed." One shot from Mr. Woodworth's rifle brought the sheep killer to the ground.

There is an animal that is honest in his wild cat record; such a dog like "Screech Owl," is worth paying a tax on.—Truro News.

Startling Statistics of Liquor Traffic

The ideals of greatness for a untry are like those by which we measure individuals. What is the measure of greatness in a man? When the disciples quarrelled over the question as to who should be greatest and appealed to Jesus they were told that service was the test of greatness. The greatest nation is the one that gives the greatest measure of service. Not by the size of a nation's army or its navy, but by its capacity for service, is its greatness revealed. I am not one who believes in part of the Divine plan one nation's prosperity can be built upon another's misfortune. I could not worship God as I do if that were so—and I cry shame on the doctrine of those who say that there must be an uneducated class for the thinkers and the educated to build their fortunes upon. Let us put behind education a conception of life that will make us all anxious to work for others, that will root up the heresy that it is more respectable to spend the money earned by someone else than it is to earn money for one's own needs.—Wm Jennings Bryan before Canadian Club Toronto.

From a Woman's Point of View.

Wouldn't a "butterfly party" be one of the daintiest forms of entertainment for young girls, especially an affair near Easter.

For this send out invitations on large square cards decorated with butterflies, asking the guest to meet little Miss butterfly? Have ready for each guest as she arrives a butterfly kimono in simple or expensive fabrics if desired, and a number of little Japanese fans to arrange in the hair.

Have the room decorated with rows of red Japanese lanterns, alternating with butterflies made of gauze and charmingly ornamented. If preferred, realistic butterflies can be made at home from bright colored crepe paper and clothespins. To construct these paint the clothespins black, pleat some bright yellow, scarlet, and silver crepe paper in the middle and draw through the painted clothespin.

So many wives complain of the monotony of marriage. They envy women who write, paint, or act, because they imagine all these callings spell infinite variety. But any life can become monotonous if people choose to allow it to be so.

Change and variety do not drop from the clouds on men and women, married or unmarried, says Woman's Life. The only way to get out of the "rut" for wife or bachelor maid alike is to cultivate interests and hobbies.

The girl who doesn't take care of her clothes is no wife for the poor man; she needs some one who can give her an unlimited dress allowance and a maid to look after her, says Home Chat.

There is another point. If it is too much trouble to take care of her clothes before, it will be too much trouble to take care of her house-keeping stores after marriage, with the result that a large part of their are wasted.

High heels are vanities to be left to small girls, or those of medium height. The tall one cannot afford them. She need not go to the other extreme and choose flat and shapeless kinds, for there are low heels built with the same curves as those which are high, equally graceful, and to be infinitely more becoming.

Three-quarter coats and caps should be passed by always. They emphasize height except with a very small woman, and her they cut off. A moderately short jacket is best for a tall figure.

Whatever may be the faults of the foibles of the so-called up to date woman, the new schemes devised by some of them to increase their incomes or the useful occupation of their time already attained large numbers, and some of the most successful ventures have been made by those who seemingly have no urgent reason for that sort of effort.

Without an Enemy

Heaven help the man who imagines he can dodge enemies by trying to please everybody. If such an individual ever succeeded, we should be glad of it—not that one should be going through the world trying to find beams to knock and thump his head against, disputing every man's opinion fighting and elbowing and crowding all who differ from him. That, again is another extreme. Other people have their opinions—so have you; don't fall into the error of supposing they will respect you more for turning your coat every day to match the color of theirs.

Wear your own clothes in spite of wind or weather. It costs the vacillating and irresolute ten times the trouble to shuffle and twist than it does honest, manly independence to stand its ground.

BIG BUTTER CONTEST National Buttermakers' Association Won as Usual by Users of DE LAVAL Cream Separators

On March 11th, 12th and 13th there was held at Minneapolis, Minn., the big annual butter scoring contest of the National Buttermakers' Association. 504 of the best buttermakers in the United States competed in this contest, which makes the results especially interesting and important. The first prize was won by J. C. Post, Hector, Minn., with a score of 98 p.c.; the second prize by E. O. Blomquist, Centre City, Minn., with a score of 97 1/2 p.c., and the third prize by G. P. Sauer, East Troy, Wis., with a score of 97 p.c. All three of these victorious buttermakers, of course, use De Laval cream separators. This contest, as has every similar contest held within the past sixteen years, shows a complete victory for butter made from De Laval separator cream. A clean sweep of all highest prizes was made by De Laval butter at the big National Dairy Show held in Chicago last October, as well as at sixteen of the more important state fairs of 1907. Going further back, De Laval made butter received the Grand Prize at the St. Louis World's Fair, as well as the Grand Prize at the Paris Exposition. Invariably in these big contests more than 90 p.c. of the contestants who receive a score of over 90 p.c. on their butter have been found to be De Laval users. In hundreds of such contests the world over during the past twenty years, the superiority of the De Laval Separator over all others for making fine butter has been conclusively proven. A postal card will bring our handsome new catalogue illustrating and describing the new 1908 improved De Laval machines in detail, and affording a complete education in the production of the finest quality cream for making prize winning butter.

Words and Proof.

Mrs. Callonby had been pensively silent for nearly an hour. Her husband, who was occupied with his papers, realized that she had been long silent when she spoke. She was quite calm about it. There was no tremor in her voice. She spoke deliberately and in accents of conviction. "James," she said, "you don't love me any more?"

Gallonby started. "Great Scott!" How you scared me!" he exclaimed. "You've been so still I'd forgotten you were in the room. What's that you were saying?"

"I said that you didn't love me," repeated Mrs. Callonby, in the same unemotional voice. "My dear," said Callonby, "I adore you. I'm simply crazy about you."

"You may make light of it," said his wife, but I know perfectly well that you don't. I'm not going to make any fuss about it, but I've been thinking seriously and I'm convinced that whatever love you had for me is dead."

"I'll put the paper right down and talk to you," said Callonby, contritely. "Tell me what you have been doing today. What time did the girl go out? Have you got Miss Broton to promise to teach the kindergarten? Tell me, quick. My girlish beauty has faded, said Mrs. Callonby, sadly, disregarding her husband's jocular manner. "Your beauty has got all the others faded, said Callonby. "It's in full blossom and splendor and dispensing its intoxicating sweetness all around. There's not a wilted petal on it. Somebody's been stringing you."

"That's all very well," said Mrs. Callonby. "But as a matter of fact, you hardly ever look at me now. You never notice what I have on or whether it's becoming, or anything. Nothing that you wear could be unbecoming, said Callonby. "The worst combination of color that was ever brought together would harmonize if you wore it. What would be garish and in bad taste on anybody else would become pleasantly bizarre on you and no fault in fitting could conceal your grace. Haven't I told you so often?"

"Yes, if I ask you and pin you down you generally say something foolish," said Mrs. Callonby. But you aren't really interested. James Callonby, you would notice another woman quick enough."

"Never!" declared Callonby, with emphasis. "All women are to me as shadows. I have eyes only for you. And as soon as you come home you stick your nose into my paper and there's no getting anything out of you for the rest of the evening. I'm not complaining. I suppose it's quite natural and what a woman has to expect, but there was a time when you didn't want to read when you were with me. You really seemed to enjoy my society."

"I should say so!" Her husband declared. "But not nearly as much as I enjoy it now. When you sit opposite to me, as you were doing a little while ago, I can't think of anything more delightful. When two people understand each other as we do speech is unnecessary. Our souls commune, as it were, in silence. I know exactly what you would say if you spoke, even while I am reading my paper. I feel your presence and it fills me with inexpressible joy and content."

"Especially if I don't talk." "My own, said Callonby, "your voice is music to my ear! When I am away from you I miss it more than you would suppose. Honest Mag!"

"You don't love me, anyway." "Didn't I confess my love only a few minutes ago? Don't be unreasonable, darling."

"Do you really?" "Honest to Moses." "You're just saying it because I ask you, said Mrs. Callonby. "It's got so that I never know whether you're telling me the truth or not."

"I always tell you the truth," Callonby said. "I haven't said a word this evening that wasn't as true as truth itself. Except once," he added. "I told you that you looked well in anything. In a sense that's true, but it did occur to me that your blue evening frock was getting a little tacky the other night. I think that perhaps you'd better get a new one. But, my dear, please don't be harder on me than you can help."

Mrs. Callonby clasped her hands.

"Do you mean it, Jim!" she cried, ecstatically. "And a hat to go with it!" Callonby's face fell a little. "Well, I suppose so, he said. His wife threw her arms around his neck and kissed him. "You're the dearest, kindest, sweetest thing in all the world," she said. "James, I will take every thing back that I said."

"Good!" said Callonby. "Now, are you going to let me read my paper?"—Chicago News.

Another Torpedo Boat Tragedy!

Portsmouth, Eng., April 3.—Thirty-six men, including Lieut. Middleton, the commander of the torpedo boat destroyer Tiger, lost their lives in the collision of the Isle of Wight last night between the vessel and the British cruiser Berwick. The vessels belong to the Portsmouth division of the British home fleet and were engaged in night manoeuvres in the channel while on their way to Portland. The night was dark and Berwick was steaming slowly, when the destroyer attempted to cross the cruiser's bow. She was caught amidship and cut in half with knife-like precision, sinking almost immediately. The deck crew, who were dressed in heavy oilskins and boots, went down with the vessel, not having time to flee themselves as fast until boats from other ships picked them up.

The collision occurred at 8.10 o'clock last night. The ships were manoeuvring without lights. It is believed that several of the men were killed by the impact. Tugs were dispatched to the scene of the disaster at daylight and divers will make an attempt to recover the bodies of the drowned men.

Potentialities of the Maritime Provinces

While we have been strangely blind to the attractions and possibilities of our Eastern Provinces, others at a distance are beginning to learn something of the advantages which these Provinces present to those seeking homes within our borders. The British periodical, Canada, published in London, which has been studying conditions there through a representative says: No better or more fertile arable lands for general or mixed farming exists in Canada. No better yields per acre on the average can be found in Canada for hay, oats, wheat, barley, flax, corn, etc., while in the vegetable and fruit lines the growths are rapid and yields good in every case. No better chances exist in Canada for the raising of horses, cattle, hogs, sheep, etc., and in fact there are sections in all three Provinces where sheep-raising could be made one of the most profitable enterprises that men with fair capital could engage in. I am now speaking of the farm advantages of the Maritime Provinces; but on the other hand the chances of lumbering, fishing and mining, are many, and in the matter of industrial, small though the population may be, the Maritime Provinces are making rapid strides along these lines, and it is by many confidently predicted that with their enormous quantity of coal, iron, water power and shipping advantages the Maritime Provinces are designed to be a great manufacturing centre.—Toronto Presbyterian.

NEW RIVER MILLS

(Too late for last issue)

Over two hundred clam-hoes dropped from as many hands on Thursday not to be raised again until the packers agree to give the price that has been paid all winter. The twenty cents drop per bbl. means a big difference to the men employed and they stand firm in one hand, never to lift a clam-hoe until the price be again raised. We all hope for a speedy settlement as the strike is effectively felt throwing so many out of work at this time of year.

wood could make her reflect great credit upon her builder. The engine which is a 5 horse power Mians of the single cylinder type was installed by Mr. O. B. Morse of Whitehead, Grand Manan. It is a very compact little machine and on the trial trip did its work exceedingly well, driving the heavy hull to windward against a strong S. W. breeze and sea at fully seven miles an hour. The engine is claimed to make 350 revolutions per minute with a seventeen inch propeller and will drive an ordinary boat about six knots but with the fine lines of this boat should make about eight. She is intended for fishing purposes and was built to the order of Capt. John MacWhinney of Macao Bay who was on board during the trials and expressed himself as being well satisfied.

Work at the iron areas by the percussion drill was stopped and the drill removed. It is understood the drill did not work as fast as was expected. A more rapid drill will likely be sent to take up the work as it is evident the D. I. & S. Co. intend to push development as fast as possible.

An Enterprising Youth

The late W. B. Proctor, the well-known soap millionaire, imputed a part of his success to his soap's popularity among children.

Mr. Proctor claims that habits of scrupulous cleanliness could be formed in children if, at first, they were paid to bathe. He had at the tip of his tongue a number of amusing anecdotes about the extraordinarily mercenary character of the small boy.

One of these anecdotes concerned a little chap who came to his mother one day for a nickel.

"Oh," said the lady, be industrious and earn your money. I am tired of always giving, giving to you."

The youngster departed in thoughtful silence. Thereafter for some time he did not make a single demand for cash.

His pleased mother discovered the reason for his obedience late one afternoon, when in a secluded part of the garden, she found her little son standing in the centre of an appreciative crowd of urchins.

Directly behind him, quite neatly printed on cardboard, and tacked to the arbor, was this announcement:

WILLIE JONES WILL EAT

1 small worm for 1 cent

1 large worm for 2 cents

1 butterfly for 2 cents

1 caterpillar for 3 cents

And the boy, his mother plainly saw, was doing a tremendous business.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.
