An Aged Man Dashed to Death Near Oakville.

Fatal Runaway Accident-Bowmanville Man Dies Suddenly in a Doctor's Office.

Oakville, Ont., Oct. 6 .-- John Ion, a farmer, 70 years of age, who resided about a mile from this place, was struck and instantly killed by a westbound G. T. R. express on Wednesday. Mr. Ion was crossing the bridge on his way home, walking along the track, when he was run down by the train. He was hurled a distance of twenty feet. Mr. Ion was an ex-town councilor, and prominent in local Methodist circles.

DIED AT THE DOCTOR'S.

Bowmanville, Oct. 6.-Samuel Borden, one of the oldest citizens of the town, passed away very suddenly on Wednesday. He entered the office of Drs. Beith and McLaughlin about 11 o'clock, and complained of having a pain in his side. Dr. McLaughlin left him to procure some medicine, and on returning found him dying, and within a very short time he breathed his last. Deceased was warden of the united counties of Northumberland and Durham for one year. He was town assessor for many years, and at the time of his death was secretary-treasurer of the public school board. BURNED TO DEATH.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 6 .- On Saturday a blaze wiped out the central block of hotels in Cascade City. The Club Hotel, Britannic Hotel, Grand Central and Railroad Headquarters Hotel, Francis and Miln's and the Montana Hotels were destroyed. Arvall was burned to death while trying to save the Montana Hotel. Loss estimated at $25,000.

FATAL RUNAWAY. Chatham, Ont., Oct. 6 .- On Tuesday night John E. Brooke, one of Chatham's wealthlest citizens, was thrown from his carriage and received a severe concussion of the brain, from which he died without regaining consciousness. Deceased was born in To-ronto in 1821. He was a member of Christ Church, prominent in Masonic circles, and a Liberal. His wife and three children survive him.

CUT HIS THROAT. Stratford, Oct. 6.—George Jackson, bartender at the G. T. R. refreshment rooms, attempted suicide by cutting his throat with a razor. He has been suffering from melancholia for some time past. While the throat is badly. cut the jugular vein was missed, and it is thought likely he will recover.

A Premature Alarm The Health

Strong Efforts Being Made to Maintain Peace.

While Preparations for a Possisible War Are Being Pushed.

President Steyn, of the Orange Free Make an Attack, But Will Defend Their Rights.

London, Friday, Oct. 6 .- While there is no diminution of the flood of dispatches from South Africa recording, with almost tiresome iteration, the military preparations and movements of all kinds, with accurate and inaccurate rumors and speculations, the real situation remains unchanged. It is evident that strong efforts are still being made to preserve peace simultaneously with determined energy to be prepared for any emergency. It is expected that 5.000 reserves will be called out tomorrow, and that all army corps will be mobilized on the 15th or 20th of the month. In the meantime conflict, but is rather inclined to give room for the play of peace negotiations. A dispatch from Newcastle, Natal, filed this morning, says: "Telegraphic communication with Charlestown is open. The British command at Sanspruit was reinforced yesterday, but no general advance is expected." information is important, as it contra-it is interesting to note that neither dicts the alarmist dispatch of the Daily Telegraph. Nothing new has developed as to the Transvaal situation. The Daily Telegraph's dispatch announcing that the Boers had invaded Natal and seized Laing's Neck is without foundation. The British position was considerably strengthened by the arrival of Indian reinforcements of about 2,500 cavalry, British advanced camps and lines of state. against the risk of a sudden dash The British across the frontiers. authorities seemingly no longer fear the massing of the Boer force along the border, and, as a matter of fact, it has been provided that the Boers shall not make a sudden invasion in the territory. The Natal authorities are rather pleased with this, because, they argue, the tension of waiting will tell severely on the Boers' discipline, and, moreover, they will soon exhaust what little forage there is near the what little forage there is near the border and be compelled to fall back on their base because in view of the on their base, because in view of the ineffective commissariat they are unwilling to advance into Natal, leaving behind them a foliageless veldt. WORKING FOR PEACE. Advices from Cape Town received last night, assert that both Mr. J. F. Hoffmeyer, the Afrikander leader Cape Colony, and ex-Chief Justice Kotze, have expressed the opinion that the imperial government acted in the interest of peace in demanding the suppressal of the Transvaal agency in Brussels and the recall of Dr. Leyds, the European representative. Sir Alfred Milner, British high commissioner, has already reported in this sense to Mr. Chamberlain. Peace meetings held at Halifax and Birmingham were scenes of much disturbance. At the Birmingham meeting a crowd of jingoes invaded the hall, cheering Mr. Chamberlain and singing "Rule Brittania," and the orators had to be content to shout their speeches into the reporters' ears.

meeting ended abruptly without any resolution being passes. Sir George Otto Trevelyan, speaking et Halifax, Yorkshire, said he believed Mr. Chamberlain had made a terrible mistake in rejecting President Kruger's offer of five years' franchise, but thought that war might yet be avoided, if a mediator was sent to the FALSE ALARM. A dispatch has been received at Newcastle, Natal, from the government, stating that there is no immediate cause of alarm. This has the effect of arresting the panic. The Times publishes the following from Pietermaritzburg: The statements emanating from Ladysmith and Newcastle that the Boers have crossed the frontier are without foundation. The British military authorities in Natal do not expect the Boers to cross the border at present, unless their leaders lose control of the men. A Mafeking dispatch says: The burghers have been strictly enjoined not to cross the western frontler or to interfere with civilians, but to resist the passage of an armed force. Advices from Bloemfontein say the Orange Free State Government still professes hopes of peace. An enthusiastic meeting of Irishmen was held last evening in Kimberley, at which resolutions were unanimously adopted, expressing disapproval of the conduct of Irishmen who sympathized with the Boers and with the course of the Irish parliamentary party in extending sympathy and support to the Transvaal in the present crisis.

A dispatch to the Times from Lobatsi, near Mafeking, says it is a remarkable fact that the natives there declare they will not fight for the Transvaal, but will in preference cross the border, because the Boers are too severe, and are always punishing them. MILITARY ACTIVITY.

A dispatch from Johannesburg reports that Kaffirs are raiding the busiplaces and houses in the East Rand. The whites fired on them. A special force of police has been dispatched to dispose of the raiders.

As a natural result of the panic there s considered lawlessness. The regular distribution of letters has ceased. Stories of outrages committed by the Boer upon refugees from the Transcontinue to pour in. A conflict vaal occurred at Kroonstadt, where a ueputation from a trainload of 200 refugees attempted to obtain provisions, but were driven out by Boers, armed with blacksnakes.

The Standard and Diggers' News, a Boer organ, publishes the following from Johannesburg: It is expected side shows anxiety to precipitate a that 20,000 burghers from the Transvaal and the Orange Free State will be on their respective borders this tilities be protracted, there is much fear that the Zulus, Matabeles and Basutos will rise against the whites and that massacres and disasters will follow. The Zulu chiefs have been summoning their tribesmen from the rand for weeks past.

PRESIDENT STEYN'S STATEMENT already reported. Bloemfontein, Oct. 6. - President Steyn, addressing a commando in Mar-ket Square; on Thursday congratulated the burghers on the rapidity with which they had responded to one call. He said the Orange Free State did not intend to make an attack, but that it would fiercely defend its cherished rights. The enemy was strong, but if that enemy crossed the border it would be to meet all of which will be promptly sent to with a determined resistance. OFF SANDY HOOK. New York, Oct. 6.—The wind at Sandy Hook, inside which the Columbia, the Shamrock and their tenders were anchored, was blowing 23 miles an hour this morning, and seemed likely to increase. The fog was thick, and a heavy rain was falling. The cup defender and her tender, the St. Michael, were taken in tow by a tug about 9 o'clock, and headed for the upper bay to a more secure anchorage. The Shamrock, the Erin and their tenders, it was said, would remain at their moorings. The general weather forecast from Washington says: The storm, which was central near Tampa Florida, Thursday morning, has moved northeastward to a position off east coast of Virginia, where a barometer reading of 29.56 inches was reported at Norfolk. During the next 24 hours the storm will pass rapidly northeastward, with high northeast (shifting to north and northeast winds) along the New England coast. The rain area, which has covered the east gulf and middle and south Atlantic States, will extend over New England. and rain will be followed by cooler, clearing weather in all districts south of New York. The winds attending the disturbance have not been specially dangerous along the South Atlantic coast, although some damage by winds are reported in low-lying districts near the mouth of the Mississippi River. The indications are, however, that strong gales will prevail all today and tonight along the Atlantic coast from Breakwater northward. Storm signals are displayed from Hatteras to Cape

Cod section. RACE AGAIN TOMORROW.

A statement regarding yesterday's drifting match, and also dealing with tomorrow's contest, is posted in the New York Yacht Club today. Concerning tomorrow it says: "The same race Yacht Club and the New York Yacht Club being very positive on this point, that an incompleted race shall be proceeded with until it is finished. There can be no change in this, nor can the other rule be changed, which fixes the days for the racing-Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays." No lost days can be made up for by running a race on Monday, Wednesday or Friday. Admiral Dewey may be at tomorrow's race. If not, he will see one of the later races. DEMAND FOR HORSES.

Ottawa, Oct. 6 .- The report that Great Britain has begun to buy horses and mules for South Africa has had an effect on the local horse market. There is now an active demand for sound horses between 5 and 9 years of age. This demand cannot be well met in Ottawa district owing to scarcity. Good prices are offered for animals meeting the requirements. Wm. Harrilocal horse dealer, says that large shipments from Montreal are being made regularly. Most of this stock comes from the west. The British agents in Montreal are severe in their examinations, and no stock except the best is accepted.

A Number of Important Resolutions-Next Convention Will Be at Avimer.

The fifth annual convention of the Woman's Missionary Society, which began in this city Tuesday, closed yesterday afternoon. In the morning, after devotions and routine exercise, the report of the temperance committee was heard, when the following resolutions were carried, and ordered to be sent to the minister of militia, Hon. F. W. Borden: "Resolved, That we sorrowfully deplore the recent flagrant violations at the London and other camps, of the military law prohibiting the sale of intoxicants at the canteens of summer encampments."

Further resolved, "That we respectfully protest against the military sanction of the sale of liquors at schools of instruction and mounted police bar-

The programme, which had been specially arranged for the children, included "The Happy Hamburger," by Rockzch; "The Poet and Peasant," by Suppe; Mascagni's "Cavalleria Rusticana"; the "Carmen Fantasia," of Bizet; a selection from "Lohengria": "The Corona-New Officers of the Woman's tion from "Lohengrin": "The Coronation March," from "Le Prophet"; a flute solo by Mr. Redfern, and a cornet solo by Mr. C. Knight.

The audience in the evening was of even greater proportions than that of the afternoon. As the band filed in and was followed by their veteran and was followed by their veteran master, they were greeted by round after round of applause. The programme commenced by "The Maple Leaf" being played, as in the afternoon, both the band and the people standing. Then followed the "Zampa Overture," a selection from "Tannhauser." and the "Patrol March." of hauser," and the "Patrol March," of Caryll, which so pleased the audience that in response to the prolonged applause the band played "Hannah's Promenade." Then came Godfrey "Reminiscences of Ireland," into which was introduced many of the old Irish airs. Mr. C. Knight was called back after his cornet solo, and rendered "Alice, Where Art Thou," as happened also in regard to Mr. Redfern's flute solo, and Mr. Stuart Campbell's comic bassoon solo. But it was in Godfrey's "Nautical Fantasia", that the popular faney was touched most. It describes a visit of the British fleet to America. In it are embodied "Hearts of Oak," "Jack's Diversions," "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," "Red. Race Failed.

Mrs. Burns gave notice of motion Skillful Handling and Good Points of Both Boats Developed-The Yachts Close Together When the Race Was Called Off.

New York, Oct. 6.-Again yesterday he sea refused the Shamrock and the Columbia a field of conflict; again the multitudes that went out to watch the contest for the international yachting championship of the world returned disappointed, and not a little disgusted. The question of the supremacy of the two great yachts is still as much a question as before the yachts met, as yesterday's contest was in respects more of a fluke than that of A further resolution from the temperance committee, as follows, was adopted: We, the London Confernever blew more than six most of the time less than three, and part of the time not a breath of air was stirring. After sailing four hours and fortythree minutes, the yachts having covered only twelve miles of the course to the outer mark, the regatta com-mittee declared the race off, as it was manifestly impossible with the breeze then blowing for the fleet racers to round the stake boat before the time limit expired, much less to get back home again. During the time in which the yachts were at it, the wind, which carried them before it over the line, had hauled around until, at the finish, they were beating into its teeth. While the wind held astern, the Columbia steadily outfooted her rival, until she was fully haif a mile ahead, but in the shifting, baffling winds that followed during the last three hours, with the great single-stickers tacking and beating and jibbing to catch every streak of wind, with fortune helping one about as much as the other, the Shamrock gradually worked her way up until, when the race was declared off, the two boats were about on even termsthe Shamrock, perhaps, half a length ahead, but so close was the Yankee that Captain Barr could have thrown a biscuit to the foreigner from over the

> The only lesson learned by the nautical sharps from yesterday's trial of the abilities of the two boats is that in light weather conditions the Columbia is the superior in running and reaching, and the Shamrock better in beating. There has yet been no indication of what either boat can do in a sweeping wholesale breeze. THE WIND-UP.

The positions of the yachts at 3:39, when the Columbia tacked to port, were: The Columbia about an eighth of a mile on the Shamrock's lee bow, both heading about east-southeast, the wind having canted to about south-southeast. This last tack of the Columbia was about the most interesting feacross the Shamrock's bow or not; latter being on the starboard tack, had the right of way. It took just 80 seconds to decide which bow was ahead. The Columbia was forced about by the Shamrock at 3:41:30. She tacked close under the green boat's lee bow, and two minutes later, the signal being read from the committee boat, declaring the race off, both yachts wore around, hauled down their staysails, and headed for home, the great excursion fleet preceding them.

Thus ended another unsatisfactory attempt to finish the thirty-mile race within the time limit. Nothing more was proven regarding the merits Almost all the sufferings that women simply known that both yachts are indure can be traced to irregularities good drifters, with the balance a trifle in favor of the Columbia.

AN IMPOSTOR

Adventists' Sene actor, Capt. Norman, Gave Away $400,000 That He Did Not Have.

Battle Creek, Mich., Oct. 5 .- Last fall Capt. William Norman, an alleged millionaire Englishman from Australia became converted to Seventh Day Adventism here, and created a great sensation by donating $400,000 and a ship to the denomination for missionary purposes. He was engaged to marry a prominent Adventist lady from Ohio, and made himself very conspicuous. He has now left the country and forgot to pay his great bequest, to say nothing of other amounts below $100,-

The Adventists announce this morning that they have ascertained the man is an imposter and adventurer.

Other Fairs. AT TILSONBURG.

At the Dereham and South Oxford Union Exhibition, on Wednesday, the entries in live stock were greater than for many years, especially in horses, cattle and sheep. Some well-bred and fine looking cattle were shown. In the ladies' department there were many attractive exhibits. In apples the display was excellent; roots, vegetables and grains were up to the average in all classes. The farmers' trot or pace brought out three starters, and there was a keen contest. It took four heats to decide the race. Heslop Alaska won first money: D. Oatman, second and L. H. Sirkan third. The trick bicycle rider was a pleasing feature. Although the weather was threatening, both days were fine, and the attendance was quite ·satisfactory.

AT STRATFORD. The fall show of the North Perth Agricultural Society was held Wednesday The weather was threatening all day but little rain fell, and the attendance was very fair. The inside exhibits were very good, though not so numer-ous as usual. The show of cattle, sheep and hogs was very fine, and that of horses above the average.

HOWARD BRANCH The Howard Branch Agricultural Society held their annual fall fair at Ridgetown on Thursday. The weather was perfect and the crowd large. The show of fancy articles, fine arts, fruits, etc., was an excellent one, while the exhibit of horses, cattle, swine and chickens was a record-breaker. The exhibition continues today, with a large number of special attractions. BROOKE AND ALVINSTON. The greatest fair in the history of the Brooke and Alvinston Agricultural Society was held Friday. An immense crowd of people visited the fair, and every person was delighted with the exhibition. In nearly every department the exhibit exceeded any previous year, both in quantity and quality. The show of live stock was extra good, and in the fancy and fine arts departments the exhibition eclipsed anything ever held here before. The weather was excellent and the crowd appreciative. The usual number of gamblers and shell workers were on hand, but two of the leaders being locked up early in the day, the balance were afraid to do any Kidney Pains All Gone. What Did It? Doan's Kidney Pills.

How Do You Know? A Kingston Man Says So.

Mr. W. J. Pappa, 112 Barrie St., Kingston, Ont., writes as follows: "Having been troubled with kidney disease for Sudhoff and O'Connor; Grey, Leever years, and not having received any permanent relief until I used Doan's Kidney Pills, I take great pleasure in letting others similarly afflicted know of the wonderful curative properties possessed by Doan's Pills. Before taking them I was troubled at night by having to rise, but can now sleep, and do not feel weary in the morning. I hope that this may induce other sufferers from kidney or urinary troubles to give Doan's Kidney Pills a faithful trial, for I know that no other remedy could have acted so well as they did in my case."

Doan's Kidney Phis are the only sure cure for Backache, Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Dropsy, and all Kidney and Urinary troubles. Price 50c., all druggists. The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont. Ask for Doan's and refuse all others.

WITH CHARITY God Work Accomplished by the Women's Christian Association.

Extending Over a Quarter of a Century -The Annual Meeting-Gratitying Reports-A New President.

For the past quarter of a century the Women's Christian Association of this city has carried on charitable works of constantly increasing importance. The Aged People's Home, the Home for Incurables and the Woman's Refuge and Infants' Home are all conducted by the association, which, in many other ways, makes brighter and happier the lives of indigent and unfortunate citizens. The 25th annual meeting of the association was held yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the Young Wemen's Christian Association. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Robert Reid, sen., the chair was taken by Mrs. J. A. Murray, second vice-president. Among the others present were: Mesdames Perrin, Kent, Gibson, St. John Hyttenrauch, Ward, Hopkins, Mitchell, Merchant, Cox, Ingram, Meek, Winnett, Cline and Jackson; Misses Fraser, Lougheed, Boyle, Hopkirk, Kennedy, Robinson and Mc-Kellar.

The secretary, Mrs. M. M. Pattullo, presented an excellent report, pointing out that additional room was much needed in the Home for Incurables. Many who had applied for admission had been reluctantly turned away. To the Woman's Refuge and Infants' Home 21 adults and 17 infants have been admitted during the year, and 9 adults and 15 infants remain. At the Aged People's Home 101 aged people have been cared for, 10 deaths have occurred, 8 were discharged, 5 left and 78 remain-42 men and 35 women. In the Home for Incurables, on Oct. 1, 1898, there were 20 patients. During the year 9 more have been admitted; 4 deaths took place, 2 have been discharged and 23 remain. The relief committee have, as usual been indefa-

Mrs. Murray was added to the visiting committee of the board of officers of the Women's Refuge and Infants' Home, and Mrs. Davis' name taken from the list of members of the supply committee. The visiting committee of the homes for aged people and incurables was altered by making Mrs. Merchant con-vener, and adding the name of Mrs. Gardiner to the list of members. Mesdames Winnett and Mitchell became members of the supply committee; Misses Fraser and Lougheed and Mesdames St. John Hyttenrauch and Robinson became members of the devo-tional committee, and Miss Boyle's membership of this committee ceased; Mesdames Hopkirk, Winnett and Hunt became members of the purchase committee, Mrs. Davis of the improvement committee, and Mrs. Robinson of the visiting and relief committee.

LIFE IN GERMANY

Children Paid a Cent an Hour-Long Work Hours for Adults.

When the emperor the other day said on visiting his new estate in Cadinen, "The pigsties are better than the la-borer's cottages," the remark was borer's greedily seized upon by the Liberal press in Germany. Now, however, the Berlin Tageblatt publishes a statement from which it appears that the condition of the sewage farms under the administration of the model city of Berlin are so deplorable that the Berliners have every reason to be mindful of the saying: "Cast out first the beam out of thine own eye." The laborer's wages are for the most part Children receive for six hours' work 3 pence; men get, besides field produce, only £2 4s 10d a month; women receive 7½ pence a day. The working hours are exceedingly long, from 3:30 in the morning to 8:30 at night. The dwellings are frightful. In some rooms four or five married couples sleep together. There is mostly only one bed for two persons, and sometimes it has to hold three.—London Daily News.

HOMESICKNESS

Considerations Which Operate to the Promotion of Nostalgia.

There is a malady which boasts of a learned appeliation compounded of two great words, but which is better known by a homlier and far more expressive name in the vernacular, and yet, atthough this binominal disorder is described in the dictionaries as "a vehement desire * * affecting the physical health," it has not been assigned a place in the "Nomenclature of Diseases," for which the Royal College of Physicians of London is responsible. The fact, too, that home-sickness is impervious to drugs, is nevertheless in the highest degree amenable to treatment, might credibly seem to still further justify its Inclusion in the official glossary of the 1,053 natural shocks which flesh is heir to. With regard to the etiology of this unqualified complaint there still remains several points requiring elucidation, albeit in its genesis no bacillus is concerned, nor for its adequate diagnosis is there any need of either microscope or test tube. Shortly stated, the essential factor in the production of nostalgia is an invironment differing from that amid which the affected persons pass his or her early days. When this is the case some intangible influence is generated, which reacts upon the victim, but, just as happens, in many official maladies, there must be innate receptivity or preparedness of soil on the part of the individual who succumbs. This receptive state is favored by at least three separate things-race, edu-cation and temperament; but of these predisposing causes the last possesses less power than either of the other. Caeteris paribus, phlegmatic subjects are more likely to experience homesickness than their sanguine compeers. A tendency to despond without suffi-cient cause undoubtedly subserves toward nostalgia, but ardent, enthusiastic people, who continually look for-ward—who never are, but always to be-have the advantage, if advantage it be, of remaining immune. Education, or rather the want of it, is more potent than temperament, the trend of civilization, which is equivalent to education, being distinctly in the direction of cosmopolitanism. The deeper the ignorance the ruder the conditions of life under which a hu-man being exists, the greater the probability when exposed to its influence of his acquiring nostaglia. If an islander from Terra Del Fuego, for instance, were to be transported to the comparative paradise of the Gilbert Islands, in the Pacific Ocean, which have been described as "a cluster of pearls hung upon the equator," he would very likely bewail his hard lot, and pine for his own inclement and inhomitable wilderness. inhospitable wilderness; and if in like manner a Pacific Gilbertian were to be promoted to, say, Pall Mall-which, without wishing to speak disrespectfully of the equator, we maintain to be the more desirable abode of the two -he also would no doubt soon break his heart longing for the delights of his sweltering hut in Micronesia.

But of the three predisponents' race it is which is the strongest and most inconsequential. Anglo-Saxons and their Celtic brethren yary their manners and customs while abroad to a less extent probably then people of less extent probably than people of any other nationality, and yet, in spite of this, they make the best colonists. There is no human being in existence Total disbursements......$10,584 38 who can appreciate the charm of a Balance on hand 9,016 75 home more exquisitely that the Celtic-Anglo-Saxon, and yet he is to be met with in every corner of the world. He loves his own native place beyond words, but he can endure enforced expatriation without giving in to nostalgia. The fact is he recognizes the futility of kicking against the pricks, and so makes his mind up to sacrifice a portion of his life, or even, if the worst comes to the worst, the whole of it. For nostalgies we must turn to some other tribe. When all is said they remain a narrow-minded crew, whose mental processes run in grooves. They may call their failing by the high-sounding name of patriot-tom, but such it is not. Nostalgia is the cat's complaint, a purely selfish disorder, whereas love of country can flourish anywhere and takes no account of self. And so, after all, our masters in medicine are perfectly right. Nostalgia is righteously excluded from a list of shocks that Anglo-Saxon flesh is heir to.

HOME THEY BROUGHT HER WARRIOR DEAD.

Home they brought her warrior dead; She nor swooned nor uttered cry; All her maidens watching, said, "She must weep or she will die."

Then they praised him, soft and low, Called him worthy to be loved, Truest friend and noblest foe; Yet she neither spoke nor moved.

Stole a maiden from her place Lightly to the warrior stept, Took the face-cloth from the face; Yes she neither moved nor wept.

Rose a nurse of ninety years, Set his child upon her knee-Like summer tempest came the tears-"Sweet, my child. I live for thee." -Alfred Lord Tennyson.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills Cure Her of Weakness and Reart Trouble and Make Her Feel Like a New Woman. The people of St. Anthony, Kent county, N. B., have lately been inquir-ing of Mrs. Clara J. Dupay, of that place, how she came to have such good health after suffering so long from weakness of the heart that she was scarcely able to get around. So that all might know how she was cured she gave the following statement for publication: "I had been troubled with palpitation of the hart and weakness for some time, till at last I could hardly drag myself about. I heard of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills curing so many people that I thought I would try them. I must say that they did me good from the outset and have so improved my health in every way that I feel like a new woman.

"I do not know what I would have done had it not been for Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which cured me when I was in a serious condition.' If one were to canvass almost any of the towns or cities of the Maritime Provinces he would find many cases of cures made by these wonderful pills. They are indicated in such cases as palpitation, weak or irregular pulse, smothering, dizzy or fainting spells, paralysis, nervousness, sleeplessness, pale and sallow complexion, weakness, lack of vitality and female complaints. It is a spectacular second great transcontinental line, which it is intended shall, in the first instance, have its eastern terminus at Fort William. There is also the Southeastern Railway, which will link the system with Winnipeg. West of Winnipeg, 120 miles from that city on the line of the Manitoba and Northwestern Railway, is the town of Gladstone, the temporary terminus in another link in this line, which is known as the Canadian Northern. The intention. is, at an early day, to connect the Canadian Northern with the other lines referred to, east of Winnipeg, by a link from Gladstone to Winnipeg. But at present running powers are enjoyed over the Manitoba and Northwestern to Fortage la Prairie, and the C. P. R. to Winnipeg. This railway, which many people know best as the Mackenzie and Mann line, is now built to Swan River, 220 miles north of Gladstone, and 350 miles northwest of Winnipeg. It has a spur to Lake Winnipegosis, the second largest lake in the province, and already it has developed quite a traffic in fish, the quality of which is so good that it is eagerly purchased by merchants in Winnipeg and in many leading trading centers in the Western and Central States. Another branch of 25 miles is being constructed to the Gilbert Plains -a very productive farming section, The intention is to continue this railway to Red Deer-not very far from the conjunction of that stream with the northwestern end of Lake Winnipegosis. There the line will branch off north and west. The northern branch will make straight for the best harbor in Hudson's Bay, and the western branch will be carried by way of Prince Albert and Edmonton to an easy pass in the Rockies and then through British Columbia to the sea, possibly to Bute Inlet. This is a very ambitious project, but in the hands of able and experienced men, and with Canada growing as she is bound to grow, it can be accomplished. It may not be generally known that Mr. William Mackenzie, the head of the great firm of railway builders, is an enthusiastic believer in the Hudson's Bay route, not as a substitute for the routes already existing, or for the new transcontinental line they are now building, as an auxiliary. Both he and his associated capitalists know that the agricultural and mineral resources of the West-especially the letter-are such as to encourage the duce the municipal representation. Many men are beginning to understand that occasional exercise, periods of rest, and total relaxation from mental and nervous strain, are imperatively needful. Mr. Gladstone was an instance of the value of physical exercise combined with intense mental activity, as Cornelius Vanderbilt and Charles A. Both found out too late the mistake they had made, and, though their wealth commanded the less true of Canada than of the Unitlingered mere physical wrecks death put a premature ending to hves that, if properly ordered, might have lasted to the Psalmist's limit.

GREATEST YEAR FOR CANADA

In the Exports of Cheese and Butter to Great Britain.

Canadian Merchants Too Backward-Mr. Fisher's Work Telling.

Ottawa, Sept. 30.-In the course ais speech in Toronto recently Mr. Foster, in his character of official opposition expert undertook to produce figures to show the relative progress Canada had made in various directions during the eighteen years of Conserva-tive Government prior to June, 1898, and during the three years which have elapsed since. Among other items in a table of percentages, which was fearfully and wonderfully constructed, appeared cheese, the export of which Foster assured his applauding audience, had decreased during the ter period, while it had increased under the fostering care of a Conservative government 2,800 per cent. The ac-curacy of the latter half of this statement may be judged by a reference to the Dominion year-book which records the fact that, whereas in 1878 cheese exports amounted to about $4,000,000, in 1896 they were less than $14,000,000 an increase of less than 350 per cent in eighteen years instead of 2,800 per cent. As to the "decrease" since change of government—the figures for the year just closed are over $21,000,-000 as against the $14,000,000 for 1896, an increase of over 50 per cent. The year just closed is THE BIGGEST AND MOST PROM-ISING in the history of the cheese trade, but the increase in the exportation of butter to Great Britain is far greater even than that. In 1878 the total quantity of butter exported was but 13,006,-626 pounds; in 1896 it had dropped to 5,889,241 pounds, or a genuine, not imaginary, decrease of about 70 per cent; while for the current year about 20,000,000 pounds will be shipped to the British markets. Of course, August is the great shipping month, when more than 50 per cent is sent out; for the month of August, 1897, the shipment was 10,888 cwts.; in August of last year the shipments had grown to 15,736 ewts.; but in August, 1899, the unpreedented total of 60,957 cwts, reached, an average of about 100 tons There can be no question about a day. these figures, for they are prepared by the British Board of Trade, and no suspicion of partiality towards anyone can therefore exist. The butter and cheese trade of Great Britain is worth looking after, for last year she imported 340,000,000 pounds of the former, of which Canada supplied less than 10,000,000 pounds; while she required 251,000,000 pounds of cheese, shoulder, and peremptorily demanded, Mr. Fisher, the minister, the Canadian dairyman has now the knowledge which enables him to produce the article which the British market require and the facilities for placing it upon that market in prime condition. There is no question that 80 per cent of the is directly traceable to this cause.

A FOOLISH PRACTICE. The publication of the report of Mr.

Canada's commercial agent in trade between this continent and Australia, to make public a statement respecting the action of Canadian exporters, which, if correct, is scarcely o their credit. He says: "Canada will never get her full credit for commercial enterprise until her own merchants help to boom the Dominion along. They do not always do so-in fact, many of them seem to be reluctant to let Australians, or other buyers for aversion to sightseers. that matter, know that they are getting Canadian goods. In the course of business I have came across sev eral instances of bad judgment and lack of patriotism on the part of Can-adian merchants. One of them, a large exporter of cottons, insisted upon sending a large cargo of his goods to Australia via New York, because he feared the Australians would not, as he had been told, purchase any United States cottons. He made a successful venture, and, of course, he has had to continue to tell his customers that he is selling Yankee goods. Another gentleman who owns a large wood-working establishment in Ontario does the same thing.' Canadians, these!

WOMEN IN EGYPT

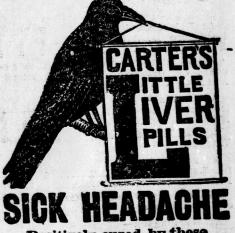

Materrially Benefited by the Movement for Better Education of Girls.

The author of "Present Day Egypt, Mr. Frederic B. Penfield, has some thing to say of woman's position in Egypt, in an article in the October Century, entitled "In Fascinating Caire." Woman's position in the Egyptian capital is materially benefited by the movement looking toward the education of native girls. Twenty years ago native ladies regarded education as the learning of sufficient French or Italian to read novels or follow the plot of the opera. The last few years has developed a desire among the upper-class women to have their daughters educated with as much care as boys are, and an important adjunct to the household consequently, is the European governess, most often English. A sister of the khedive, the Princess Khadija, is an active agent in improving the educatiional status of poor girls.

Most women visitors in Cairo are curious to see the interior of a harem. But this, as Europeans understand it, no longer exists in Europe. Every mative house, however, has its harem diviset apart for women, as the salamilk is for men-nothing more. In this department reside the wife or wives and children of the master, with the addition, perhaps, of his mother. In this case, her rule is probably abso-lute. It is she who chooses instructresses for the children, orders the affairs of the household, and even prescribes the fabrics, fashions and ornaments of the women, who are simply the wives of his excellency the pasha. It is mother-in-law rule, literally. The windows of the harem usually overlook a courtyard or rear street, and are screened with mush-rabeah lattices, penetrable only by the gaze of a person within. To minister to the wants of the women's divisions, a small army of servants shiny black "slaves" from Nubia and Berber, and possibly, a fair Circassian or two, imported from Conimproved condition of the trade today stantinople is essential. "Slavery of this sort is scarcely bondage. It is the law of Egypt that manumission can be had for the asking, with little circum-locution or delay. These servitors are locution or delay. These servitors are kindly treated, value their home, and Australia, has led a gentleman who is shrink from any movement toward extensively interested in the carrying legal freedom. Except to the master and sons of the house, the harem is closed to all men, but women friends come and go freely. The tall, highcheek-boned black men guarding the entrance to the harem, in these pro-gressive days in Egypt possessing no suggestion of the houri scene of the stage, are trained from childhood to keep unauthorized persons from in-

"I feel as though my life began only last week," said Miss Edythe Hyman, to an Advertiser reporter, who called at the family residence in South London, yesterday. Miss Hyman was speaking of her experiences after the wreck of

And continued: "I was so hungry when we got to the lighthouse that when they gave me a bowl of soup and told me I might have it all, I burst out crying. I had taken just a sip from the bowl and was about to pass it on, as we had been used to do on the rock. I never felt so rich in my life as when they said I might have all that soup. Nothing ever tasted half so delicious.

'If you want to try a man's real character," said Miss Hyman, sagely, "have him cast ashore on a barren rock with a lot of helpless women and children, and not enough provisions to go round. I suffered a great deal during that awful week, but I learned some very useful lessons. I learned that all the gentlemen were not among the first-class passengers, and all the first cabin passengers were not gentlemen. The unselfishness, considerate, kindness and readiness to help others shown by the ship's officers, and even by members of the crew, put many of the socalled gentlemen to shame. Some of the latter were so ridiculous. Mr. Westerton, of the 'Sign of the Cross' Company, gravely suggested the second night we were on the rock that we all be carefully divided into first, second and third cabin passengers, and kept separate. The same gentleman carried Boo-Boo, western creamery, 17c to 24c; western factory, 14c to 16½c; June creamery, 19c to 22c; imitation creamery, 14½c to a lap-dog belonging to one of the lady members of the theatrical company, from the rock to the lighthouse, when half-fainting women were struggling along with babes in their arms. "In fact, the cattle compartment, where we slept, with one blanket to every three people, was colder than it was on the rock. One night the captain brought down a number of the passengers, and let them walk around among us as we lay there. We were one of the sights of the ship. I think what exasperated us most was to hear the dinner-bell, and to know that the passengers were eat-ing comfortably, while we were halffamished. The crew of the Montfort were very good. The first morning they gave up their fish breakfast for us, and helped us every way they could.

Tom Lewis, of London, in the Witness Box

At Berlin-The North Waterloo Election Trial in Progress.

Berlin, Oct. 6.-At the North Waterloo election trial yesterday, the principal witness in the morning was Tom Lewis, of London. The witness said he was present during the election, and "I know John Shiedel: we were out in the township together, calling meetings. I know Bossard; met him first at his hotel. Never gave him any money, nor to any of the rest who swore I did. Bossard was never at my rooms in the Walper House. Mr. Macpherson opened argument on the agency of Lewis and Bossard. That Bossard was an agent is evident from the fact that he was a delegate to the convention, and by a standing vote thereat, pledged to support the nominee of the Reform party. As to Lewis, it is acknowledged that he have become a household word in Amwas sent to the riding for the express purpose of assisting in the election, and was under orders from Vance and Smith. Mr. Aylesworth submitted that the fact of Bossard's license only having been extended three months accounted for the part he took in behalf of the Reform candidate. He disclaimed agency of Bossard. The man was heretofore allied with the opposite party. His conduct showed throughout that he was no friend of the party other than being at the convention. It had not been established that he was an agent of the Reform party. This part of the case now awaits de-The double-crossed ballots were then taken up. There was some sharp cross-firing between counsel respecting the admissibility and legality of calling and examining witnesses as to how they had voted, and what marks they put on ballots. Mr. Aylesworth was strongly of the opinion that this was not permissible.

The judges, however, allowed Mr. Macpherson to call his witnesses. There were some 27 ballots crossed, and each voter, as he took the stand, swore he only made one cross, and that was opposite to Dr. Lackner's (the Conservative candidate) name.

Mr. Aylesworth refused to cross-examine any of these witnesses. A majority of the ballots, so double-crossed, were in poll 3, where Wildfong was deputy returning officer. At a previous stage of the trouble, Allan R. Shantz had sworn that Wildfong had taken him up to Lewis' room in the Walper House, where Lewis instructed him in the act of double-crossing and ballot-switching, by putting lead under the thumb-nail.

DINNER PILL-Many persons suffer excruciating agony after par-taking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healing nutriment, it becomes a poison to the system. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and convey the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with indigestion,

THE IDOL OF THE TURF.

The Most Popular Jockey in America and England Recommends Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

No jockey has ever appealed so strongly to public favor as Tod Sloan. He has achieved more than his most noted predecessors ever attempted and stands in a class by himself.

Not satisfied with his successes in his native country, he went to Engnot only in this country and England, but in every section of the globe where racing has found favor.

When Tod Sloan first went to England

land his temerity was openly laughed at, but the little American played skittles with his English rivals, and his victories made all England gasp. Having the stamp of royal approval, society both at home and abroad "lionize" him, and he is feted and petted to an extent that would turn an ordinary mortal's head.

The great jockey was in such mand socially and dined and wined to such an extent that it was feared his health would give way. Too much society and the nervous strain of racing told on him.

A two weeks' trip to America made him acquainted with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and their remarkably re-storative effects on a depleted digestive apparatus, and he recommended them in unstinted terms to a friend, saying: "Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the best thing I know of for keeping the stomach in condition and appetite in good repair."
Thousands of former dyspeptics can vouch for the truth of Tod Sloan's words, as "Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets" erica, and few families are without them. One or two taken after meals keep the stomach sweet by causing prompt and healthy digestion of the food.

Perfectly healthy people use them after heavy dinners to keep their good health and to make sure that no ill effects will follow an unusually hearty meal.

Your druggist will tell you, or your doctor either, that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are composed only of digestive ferments, Asceptic Pepsin, Hydrastis, fruit acids, etc., and for the strong stomach as well as the most delicate constitute a safeguard against indigestion and stomach troubles.

LATE LOCAL ITEMS

-Rev. Canon and Mrs. RIchardson left for Chicago this morning. -Mr. G. C. Jones, superintendent of the middle division of the G. T. R., was in the city today. -Evangelist Dwight L. Moody is announced to speak in Massey Hall, To-ronto, on the 5th of November.

-Edward Fox, of Toronto, and John Mulligan, of Westminster, committed for insanity, were taken from the county jail to the asylum today. -Miss Clara Wilson and Miss Mary Fitzpatrick, who were passengers on the Scotsman, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Walters, 208 Piccadilly street. -Mr. and Mrs. Harry May, of Clarence street, returned home on Tuesday, after spending the summer visiting relatives in Old London and Devonshire, England:

-Rev. Thomas Wilson delivered his illustrated lecture on "Thirty Years With South Sea Cannibals" in the Presbyterian Church, Hyde Park, last evening, before a good audience.

-The Victoria Hospital will be entirely completed in a week or ten days. The workmen are now engaged on the finishing touches to the grounds and the interior of a few of the buildings. MRS. WM. JONES DEAD.

Mrs. Jones, wife of Mr. Wm. Jones, an employe of the McClary Manufacturing Company died yesterday at her late residence, 621 Elias street, aged 63 years. She had been ailing for some years, with an internal trouble. funeral will take place from the residence of her brother-in-law, Mr. John Cameron, at Ailsa Craig, on Sunday afternoon, to Nairn Cemetery.

"TOM NOGGINS." An erroneous rumor gained ground today to the effect that Thomas Kennedy, or, as he is more generally known, "Tom Noggins," had died in the general hospital from a wound, caused by being struck on the head by a stone thrown at him while he was walking along the street. Upon investigation it was learned that Tom was on Piccadilly street, where he became the butt of several boys' brutality, and a rock was thrown at him, which cut a gash in his head, that required several stitches to close. He was given medical attendance at the general hospital. Tom, who came from Tipperary to London away back in the fifties, is a harmless old soul, who would annoy no one, and the fact that he could b treated in such a manner on a public street is certainly a matter that should not be overlooked by the police.

FUNERAL OF JAMES ANDERSON. The funeral of the late James Anderson, of Westminster, occurred on Thursday afternoon to the Pond Mills cemetery. The general esteem in which he was held was evidenced by the immense concourse of people present from various parts of the country, the cortege being over a mile in length. Many Masonic friends were present from Nilestown, Belmont, Dorchester, London and elsewhere, the solemn ritual of the fraternity being read by Bro. W. Bennett, of London. The bearers were Bros. Joseph Potts, James A. James, John Durand, Joseph Wilson, James McMillan and John Agar. Rev. Wm. Quance, pastor of the Belmont Methodist circuit, conducted impressively the service of that church, of which deceased was a member, re-ferring appropriately to his many worthy traits of character. market clerk, got up at 2 o'clock Thursday morning to get some medicine for her husband, who has been ill for some time. On going into the dining-room she found the door leading to the kitchen open and the kitchen window also open. She closed the door and the window and went back to her room. In the morning she found the door and the window open again, and across the floor were the tracks of muddy boots. A thief had evidently been hiding in the house, when Mrs. Wilson closed the window at 2 o'clock and had later made his escape. Nothing has been missed from the house.

A DRIVE OF 1,000 · MILES

From Utica, N. Y., to Missouri in a Prairie Schooner-London Reached.

A prairie schooner passed along Dundas street about noon today, sheltering A. E. Hurlburt and his wife, son and daughter, en route from New York State to South Central Missouri. The party started on their odd journey three weeks ago, and have traveled 400 miles. Prior to that they resided on a farm twelve miles east of Utica, N. Y., but they were dissatisfied with their lot, and hearing that Oregon county, Mo., was a good fruit country, Mr. Hurlburt made up his mind to strike for the El Dorado. To the substantial farm wagon was added a semi-circular cover of canvas, a stock of provisions, a gasoline stove and food for the horses. The distance to be covered was nearly 1,000 miles, and it required a good deal of pluck to start on such a journey. But pluck is a characteristic of the family. The son William, was at the battle of San Juan, and has in other ways proved that he does not lack courage. "We did not want to sacrifice the horses," said the head of the party, cheerfully, "and we wanted to see the country, so we struck out this way. It's pretty cool at nights, but not too He expected to reach Sarnia tomorrow evening. In Tennessee county, Mich., are friends of the family, and the travelers will pay them a visit.

and today's indications apparently show a willingness on the part of the British Government to continue to utilize diplomacy. A well defined conviction is prevalent that the foreign office is trying to discover a way out of the impasse which has been created by admitted mistakes and miscalculations, and it is evident that peace advocates and peace counsels are gaining ground, although Mr. Chamberlain's refusal to seize the chance given him by the petition of 58 members of the Cape House of Assembly to point out, in his reply, that the Boers still have an oportunity of accepting Great Britain's previous offer, so long as her new proposals remain unformulated, seems to show a personal determination on the part of the secretary of state for the colonies. not to yield an lota in the interest of peace. Police Court Notes.

At the police court this morning Wm. Boyle, a union bus driver, was charged with crying "scab" at a street car on the night of Sept. 25. Constable Egelton was the complainant. Three witnesses who were on the bus at the time swore that the defendant did not ery "scab," but that a passenger inside the bus did. Boyle was discharged.

William Rogers, Charles Richards, Bert O'Rourke and Louis Stephens, four youths, were charged with using insulting language to Charles Nichols in West London recently. The prisoners were discharged with a warning. James Ward, who keeps a store on the Hamilton road, and has a shopkeepers' license, was fined $50 for allowing liquor to be consumed on his premises.

Charles Greene, who was charged with stealing a bicycle from John W. Cunningham, was found not guilty. Charles Cox, who collected some money for J. Courcey some time ago, and failed to turn it over, was discharged, having paid a large part of the money back.

A VOYAGE TO

Perilous Predicament of a Lady Aeronaut-Marvelous Escape From a Terrible Death.

Danbury, Conn., Oct. 6 .- One of the features at the Danbury fair yesterday was a balloon ascension by Miss Laura Hasbrook, a young woman from Newark, Del. She made the ascension, clinging to a trapeze, which swung from a parachute attched to the balloon. She expected to cut the parachute from the balloon at a height of a thousand feet, but was unable to use her knife. She was carried to the Spence Churchill, son of the late Lord has been passed, making some import- height of a mile, and then the balloon drifted toward Danbury, two miles away, with the helpless woman appearing a mere speck to the observers. As it passed over the city the balloon dropped a considerable distance, and half the populace rushed into the streets, expecting to see the woman fall. $200 will be accepted in lieu of work. Men in wagons and on bicycles followIf work or money is not forthcoming ed the balloon across the city. At Prospect street it collapsed at a height of 500 feet, and fell rapidly, carrying the woman with it. Suddenly a gust of wind swept the balloon toward a tree. The parachute rcess caught in the branches, holding it fast. The woman clung to the ropes until she was res-cued by means of ladders. Then she lost consciousness.

Strike Notes.

A Winnipeg dispatch says that the C. P. R. machinists' strike situation is still the same. Some of the kindred ed has been the number of sales closed, unions will probably strike in sympathy unless the men's demands are acceded to.

The chief machine shop of the C. P. R. in Toronto district is at Toronto Junction, but the bulk of the men do not belong to the union, and have no relations with the machinists west of Fort William now on strike. They state that their wages are too low, but Superintendent Leonard says there is no danger of a strike in his district.

SERIOUS RAILWAY COLLISION. Saratoga, N. Y., Oct. 6.-A serious accident took place on the Delaware and Hudson Railroad near Putnam station, on Lake Champlain, yesterday. A special excursion train, en route from Saratoga to Au Sable chasm, and containing over 200 delegates from all parts of the state for the New York State Christian Endeavor Union, collided with a freight train. The locomotives of both trains were hurled into the ditch, and several cars of both trains were derailed and wrecked. While no one was killed, several were badly injured.

Montreal, Que., Oct. 6 .- Nine badlysmashed freight cars are scattered over the embankment immediately west of the G. T. R. bridge at Ste. Anne de Bellevue, yesterday. The Grand Trunk Railway Company is double-tracking the line between Ste. Anne and Vaudreuil, and the derailment took place from the newly-laid truck.

-Thirty or forty judgment summonses were issued at the division court today. The Spray Motor Company, city, vs. Walker & Reeder, of Florence, an action to recover costs for a number of machines sold, was settled. Judgment was given for the plaintiffs for the amount of $36. The Strange Metamorphosis.

"Yes, you, sir, and let your companions regard you with the contempt and abhorrence you so richly merit;" Here, neediess to say, the whole school glared at poor Coggs with as much virtuous indignation as they could summon up at such short notice; for contempt is very infectious when communicated from high quarters.

"So, Coggs," said the doctor, with a slow and withering scorn, "so you thought to defy me; to smuggle compressed illness and concentrated un-healthiness into this school with im-punity? You flattered yourself that, after I had once confiscated your contraband poisons, you would hear no more of it! You deceived yourself, sir! I tell you, once for all, that I will not allow you to contaminate your innocent schoolmates with your gifts of surreptitious sweetmeats; they shall not be perverted with your pernicious peppermints, sir; you shall not de-prave them by the subtle and insidious jujube, er by the cheap but cloying Turkish Delight! I will not expose myself or them to the inroads of disease invited here by a hypocritical in-mate of my walls. The traitor shall have his reward!"

All of which simply meant that the doctor, having once had a small boy taken seriously ill from the effects of overeating himself, was naturally anxious to avoid such an inconvenience for the future. "Thanks to the fearless honesty of a youth," continued the doctor, "who, in an eccentric manner certainly, but with, I do not doubt, the best of motives, opened my eyes to the fell evil. I am unable to cope with it at its birth. Richard Bultitude, I take this occasion of publicly thanking and commending you; your conduct was noble!"

Mr. Bultitude was too angry and disappointed to speak. He had thought his path was going to be made smooth, and now, all this ridiculous fuss was being made about a few peppermint lozenges. He wished he had never mentioned them. It was not the last time he breathed that wish. "As for you, Coggs," said the doctor, suddenly producing a little brown cane, "I shall make a public example of you."

stared idiotically and protested, but after a short and painful scene was sent off to his bedroom, yelping

"One more word," said the doctor, now almost calm again. "I know that you all think with me in your horror of the treachery I have just exposed. I know that you would scorn to par-ticipate in it." (A thrill and murmur expressive of intense horror and scorn, went round the benches.) "You are anxious to prove that you do so beyond a doubt." (Again a murmur of assent.) "I give you all that opportunity. I have implicit trust and confidence in you let every boarder go down into the box room and fetch up his playbox, just as it is, and open it here before me.

There was a general fall of jaws at this very unexpected conclusion; but, contriving to overcome their dismay, they went outside and down through the play ground into the box-roam, Paul among the rest, and, amid universal confusion, every one opened his box, and, with a consideration especially laudable in heedless boyhood, thoughtfully and carefully removed from it all such dainties as might be calculated to shock or pain their pre-

Mr. Builtitude found a key which was labeled "play-box," and began to open a box which bore Dick's initials cut upon the lid; without any apprehensions, however, for he had given too strict orders to his daughter, to fear that any luxuries would be concealed

But no sooner had he raised the lid than he staggered back with disgust. It was crammed with cakes, butter-scotch, hardbake, pots of jam, and even a bottle of ginger wine—enough to compromise a chameleon!

He set himself to pitch them all out as soon as possible with feverish haste, but Tipping was too quick for him. "Hallo!" he cried; "Oh, I say, you fellows, come here! Just look at this! Here's this impudent young beggar, who sneaked of poor old Coggs for sucking jujubes, and very nearly got us all into a jolly good row, with his own box full all the time; butter-scotch, if you please, and jam, and ginger-wine! You'll just put 'em all back again, you young humbug!"

"Do you use those words to me, and you have a gain, you have a words to me, and you have a gain and a gain a gain and a gain a

"Are you going to put that tuck back?" said Typing impatiently.
"No, sir, I'm not. Don't interfere with what you're not expected to understand!"
"Well if you won't," rold Fire to.

'Well, if you won't," said Tipping, easily, "I suppose we must. Biddle-comb, kindly knock him down, and sit on his head while I fill his play-box for him.

This was neatly and quickly done. Biddlecomb tripped Mr. Bultitude up and sat firmly on him, while Tipping carefully replaced the good things in Dick's box, after which he locked it, and courteously returned the key. "As the box is heavy," he said, with a wicked wink, "I'll carry it up for you myself," which he did, Paul following, more dead than alive, and too shaken even to expostulate. "Bultitude's box was rather too heavy for him, sir," he explained, as he came in: and Dr. Grimstone, who had quite recovered his equanimity, smiled indulgently, and remarked that he "liked to see the strong assisting." the weak.

All the boxes had by this time been brought up, and were ranged upon the tables, while the doctor went round, making an almost formal inspection, like a custom house officer searching compatriots, and becoming milder and milder as box after gox opened to reveal a fair and innocent interior.

Paul's turn was coming very near, and his heart seemed to shrivel like a burst bladder. He fumbled with his key, and tried hard to lose it. It was terrible to have one's self to apply the match which is to blow one to the If-if-the idea was almost too horrible-but if he, a blameless and respectable city merchant, were actually to find himself served like the miserable Coggs!

At last the doctor actually stood by him. "Well, my boy," he said, not unkindly, "I'm not afraid of anything wrong here at any rate." Mr. Bultitude, who had the best reassons for not sharing his confidence, made no inarticulate sounds, and pretended to have a difficulty in turning

"Eh? Come, open the box," said he doctor with an altered manner. "What are you fumbling at it for in thisthis highly suspicious manner? I'll open it myself." He took the key and opened the lid, when the cakes and wine stood revealed in all their damning profusion. The doctor stepped back dramatically. "Hardbake!" he gasped; "wine, pots of strawberry jam! Oh, Bultitude, this is well-vastly well, indeed! So I have nourished one more viper in my bosom, have I? A crawling reptile, which curries favor by denouncing the very crime it conceals in its playbox! Oh, this is black duplicity! Bultitude, I was not prepared for this!"

"I-I swear I never put them in!" protested the unhappy Paul. "Inever touch such things; they would bring on my gout in half an hour. It's ridiculous to punish me. I never knew they were there!"

"Then why were you so. anxious to doctor. "No, sir, you re too ingenious; your guilt is clear. Go to your dormitory, and wait there till I come to you!" avoid opening the box?" rejoined the

"What do you want up here?"

"I wish I could go away," said Paul dolefully; "but I'm—hum—I'm sent up here, too," he explained, with some natural embarrassment.

"What!" cried Coggs, slipping off his bed and staring wildly: "you don't you stand up to me or not?"

"I don't understand you," said Paul. "Don't come so near. Keep off you young demon, will you!" he cried presently, as Coggs, exasperated by all his wrongs, was rushing at him with an evident hostile intent. "There, don't be annoyed, my good boy," he pleaded, catching up a chair as a bulwark. "It was a misunderstanding. I wish you no harm. There, my dear young friend. Don't!"

Mrs. M. F. Long, of Le Loup, Franklin Ca., Kans., writes: "Words cannot express how grateful I am for your kind advice and good medicines. I have been in poor health more or less all my life. In the past nine years grew worse, and two years ago I was so poorly could hardly drag around. I consulted a specialist, and he said I had ulceration and that an operation would have to be performed. This did not seem necessary to me, so time went by, and I at last wrote to Dr. Pierce asking advice. I bought two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' two of the 'Discovery' and two vials of the 'Pellets' as advised. When commencing I weighed 119% pounds, and after taking one bottle of each I was like a new woman, In one month I gained eight pounds. After taking two bottles each of the medicines named, I began to look like a woman and not like a wasted skeleton. That weary tired feeling all left me, and it did seem as though life was worth living."

THE PHYSICIANS

Preaches the Doctrine of Physical Care as Part of Christianity.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.-In this discourse Dr. Talmage gives prescriptions for the prolongation of life, and preaches the gospei of physical health. He said in part: "Though the mistake of its friends, religion has been chiefly associated with sick-beds and graveyards. The whole subject, to many people, is odorous with chlorine and carbolic acid. There are people who cannot pronounce the word religion without hearing in it the clipping chisel of the tombstone cutter. It is high time that this thing were changed, and that religion instead of being represented as a hearse to carry out the dead, should be represented as a chariot in which the living are to triumph.

Religion, so far from subtracting from one's vitality, is a glorious addition. It is sanative, curative, hygi-The fact is that men and women die too soon. It is high time that religion joined the hand of medical science in attempting to improve human iongevity. Adam lived nine hundred and thirty years. Methuselah lived nine hundred and sixty-nine As late in the history of the world as Vespasian, there were, at one time in his empire, forty-five people one hundred and thirty-five years old. So far down as the sixteenth century, Peter Zartan died at one hundred and that religion will ever take the race back to antediluvan longevity, but I corners slightly torn, but the music is creased creased. NOT A WHIMSICALITY. Religion has only just touched our world. Give it full power for a few centuries, and who can tell what will be the strength of man, and the beauty of woman, and the longevity of all? My design is to show that practical religion is the friend of long life. I prove it, first, from the fact that it makes the care of your health a positive Christian duty. Whether we shall keep early or late hours, whether we shall take food digestible or indigestible, whether there shall be thorough or incomplete mastication, are questions very often deferred to the realm of whimscicality; but the Christian man lifts this whole problem of health into the accountable and the divine. He says: "God has given me this body, and he has called it the temple of the Holy Ghost, and to deface its altars, or mar its walls, or crumble its pillars, is a God-defying sacrilege." Just as long as you refer this whole subject of physical health to the realm of whimsicality or to the pastry cook, or to the butcher, or to the baker, or to the apothecary, or to the clothier, you are not acting like a Christian. Take care of all your physical forces-nervous, muscular, bone, brain, cellular tissue-for all you must be brought to judgment. Smoking you nervous system into fidgets, burning out the coating of your stomach with wine logwooded and strychnined, walking with thin shoes to make your feet look delicate, pinched at the waist until you are

which you think came from God, when they came from your own folly! A PROTEST AGAINST SIN.

nigh cut in two, and neither part worth anything, groaning about sick head-ache and palpitation of the heart,

Again: I remark that practical religion is a friend of longevity in the fact that it is a protest against dissipations. which injure and destroy the health. Bad men and women live a very short life. Their sins kill them. I know hundreds of good old men, but I do not know half a dozen bad old men. Why? They do not get old. Lord Byron died at Missolonghi at 36 years of age, himself his own Mazeppa, his unbridled passions the horse dashed with him into the desert. Edgar A. Poe died at Baltimore at 38 years of age. The black raven that alighted on the bust above his door was delirium tremens

Only this and nothing more Napoleon Bonaparte lived only just beyond mid-life, then died at St. Helena, and one of his doctors said that his disease was induced by excessive snuffing. The hero of Austerlitz, the man who by one step of his foot in the center of Europe shook the earth, killed by a snuff box! How many people we have known who have not lived out half their days because of their dissipations and indulgences! Now, practical religion is a protest against all lissipations of any kind.

There are aged people who would have been dead 25 years ago but for the defenses and the equipolse of religion. You have no more natural resistance than hundreds of people who lie in the cemeteries today, slain by their own vices. The doctors made their case as kind and pleasant as they could, and it was called congestion of the brain, or something else, but the snakes and the blue flies that seemed to crawl over the pillow in the sight of the delirious patent showed what was the matter with him. You the aged Christian man, walked along by that unhappy one until you came to the golden pillar of a Christian life. You went to the right; he went to the eft. That is all the difference between you. If this religion is a protest against all forms of dissipation, then it is an illustrious friend of longevity. Again: Religion is a friend of longevity in the fact that it takes the worry out of our temporalities. It is not work that kills men, it is worry. When a that kills men, it is worry. When a man becomes a genuine Christian he makes over to God not only his affections, but his family, his business, his soul—everything. Industrious he will be, but never worrying, because God is managing his affairs. How can he worry about business when in answer to his prayers God tells him when to buy, and when to sell; and if he gain, that is best, and if he lose, that is best.

THE PERFECT PEACE. Suppose a man is all the time worried about his reputation? One man says he lies, another says he is stupid. another says he is dishonest, and half a dozen printing establishments attack him, and he is in a great state of excitement and worry and fume, and cannot sleep; but religion comes to him and says: "Man! God is on your side; he will take care of your reputation; if God be for you, who can be against you?" How much should that man worry about his reputation? Not much. Take the tonic, the inspiration, the longevity of this truth. Religion is sunshine; that is healthy. Religion is fresh air and pure water; they are healthy. Ask all the doctors and they will tell you that a quiet conscience and pleasant anticipations are hygienic. I offer you perfect peace now and will have eternal life.

Forty-two years ago the first village improvement society-now known as the Laurel Hill Association-was organized in Stockbridge, Mass. Its annual meeting is of interest not only to Berkshire county, but to many villages throughout the country which owe their own beauty to its example. Much of the good done is possible any where, such as the care of roadsides boxes for refuse, paths with seats at good view-points, and planting of trees where the original growth has been s'acrificed. Massachusetts was the first state to appoint a board of trustees for public reservations. found the best parts of seashore, riverbanks, and mountain-tops already in private possession, to the exclusion of public enjoyment. Acquisition by the state, when possible, is slow and costly. Could private wealth build better memorials than those in Stockbridge? The great thing for this country Dr. Hale considers "the preservation, enlargement and improvement of its forests.' The destruction of forests is daily less necessary, as our export of their products becomes relatively less important. "Its forests have made America," from the sassafras and planks which paid the English creditors of the Pilgrims, "to the New Hampshire staff which carried the admiral's flag in Santigo Bay." England, which has only thirty-seven varieties of native trees, while Massachusetts alone has one hundred and forty varieties, is introducing American trees into Epping Forest. This great pleasure-forest near London gives a revenue of over two million dollars. Massachusetts receives nothing for her woodlands. "In America there is as yet no successful public school of forestry. At Baltimore, on an estate larger than the district of Columbia, George Vanderbilt is nobly creating a school of forestry which may be useful to his country. While great wealth in private possession can splendidly help the state, Dr. Hale strongly urges that "the state omnipotent and ever-living," shall invest public surplus "in forests, in making forests where now are deserts, and in planting prairie." London's Free Library Will Remain Closed on That Day.

Deputations Wait on the Board of Management in Opposition to the Idea-Librarian Blackwell's Report.

A deputation from the Ministerial and Clerical (Anglican) Associations. and the London branch of the Lord's Day Alliance, attended the regular meeting of the Free Library Board last night, and laid their objections to the Sunday opening of the library before the members. The board decided that the library should not be opened on Sundays. Rev. J. H. Moorhouse represented the Clerical Association, and, with Ald. Greenlees, appeared on behalf of the alliance. Rev. Dr. Smith represented the Ministerial Association. and Mr. Hugh Wallace appeared as a citizen. Members of the board present: Messrs. Talbot Macbeth (chairman), James Egan, Henry Macklin, R. H. Dig-nan, J. C. Judd and A. O. Jeffery, and Librarian Blackwell.

The first speaker, Ald. Greenlees, presented the resolution passed by the Lord's Day Alliance at a recent meeting, and said that the alliance thought it would not be fair to the employes of the library to keep them at work on Sundays. The opening of the library on Sunday might lead to other forms of Sabbath-breaking. He had reason to believe that no other public library in Ontario was open on Sundays.

Rev. J. H. Moorhouse stated that the Rev. Dr. Smith represented the Min-isterial Association. "I want you to understand," he said, "that the asso-ciation is just as deeply interested as any other body of citizens can be in the welfare of the library. The library will best subserve the interests of the public by carrying out the plan upon which is now being operated. The Ministerial Association failed to see how the opening of the library on Sun-days will conduce to the moral and religious welfare of the community." It would be unwise to open it, inasmuch as no other public library in the province was opened. A very large proportion of the citizens would deprecate any move in this direction.

Mr. Hugh Wallace desired to enter a protest against the Sunday opening. He hoped the board would not be the first in Canada to introduce such a system. Macbeth explained that, although the question had been discussed, it was never proposed that books should be circulated on Sunday or the reading rooms open during the hours of divine service. The board merely spoke of having the reading room open from 1 to 7 p.m. There were a large number of papers and magazines which could not be secured on a week day by men who have to work from early morning until 5 or 6 in the evening, and it was urged by some that the room might be opened for their benefit. Only one assistant would be required, consequently the amount of Sunday labor would be reduced to a minimum. Ald. Greenlees, in reply to Mr. Mac-beth, said the alliance would look upon the opening of the reading room alone as the thin end of the wedge. He would object on every ground to the opening of any part of the library.

Dr. Smith thought that there was not workingman in the city who could not avail himself of the use of the li-brary on week days if he was so dis-posed. It was wise to leave well en-

A resolution from the W. C. T. U. strongly opposing the Sunday opening idea was read by Librarian Blackwell; also a letter from Mr. Robert Reid, a member of the board, who was unable to attend the meeting. Mr. Reid protested against the opening as a viola-tion of the municipal law and a breach of faith with the taxpayers, who understood when they voted for the by-law that the library should not be opened on Sundays. In the event of the board deciding to open the library, he would resign.

It was moved by Mr. Egan that the "board place itself on record as opposed to Sunday opening of the library." Mr. Macklin seconded and the motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Jeffery did not think there was any direct demand for Sunday opening. Mr. Macbeth was strongly in favor of opening the library on Sunday, but at present he thought such a move in London would be injurious to the library.

The question of opening the library on holidays was also briefly discussed. It was decided to close the buildings on Thanksgiving Day. The bylaws will be amended at the next meeting to pro-vide for the closing of the library on all holidays.

Action was deferred on the matter of extending the library. 1.133; miscellaneous, 1,569, and magazines, 1,004, making a total of 8,069 or daily average of 244 books and 35 magazines, or a total of 279. Compared with the same weeks of last the adult fiction circulation showed a decrease of 300 and juvenile of 200, while the miscellaneous increased 300. The receipts for September amounted to $237 97, which included the government grant of $200 for 1899. The fines averaged 82 cents per day. Fiftynine cards were issued, making a total of 7,132 to date. The government grant is $12 50 less than in 1898, the decrease being due to growth in the number of libraries in Ontario.

Board of Works Not Now Dis-pesed Of.

The board of works changed front on Contractor Howie's claim for damages at the regular meeting last night, and decided to recommend the council to take no action. Their previous recommendation was that he be paid $500. A large grist of routine business was brought before the board. The members present were: Ald. Douglass (chairman), McPhillips, Wilkey, Parnell and Reed, City Engineer Graydon and Acting Secretary Tambling. Mr. William Robinson, on behalf of residents on the north and south sides of Simcoe street, between Maitland and William streets, protested against the laying of mosaic tile walks. The residents were unanimously in favor of ordinary cement walks, he said. The council has put through a bylaw for a mosaic walk, and the order has been given to the contractors; how-ever, the work will be stopped and the residents asked to prepare a new peti-

The council will be recommended to take over London Lane, which is only 28 feet wide. The city solicitor's opinion on the matter will also be submitted to the council. Chairman Douglass and the city engineer will get a report from the medical health officer regarding proposed sewers petitioned for by Mr. W. H. Smith, and by Messrs. A. E. and W. Ladell. These petitions were referred to the committee by the board. A petition from F. J. Lowe and others for an addition to the Front street beakwater was refused.

The city engineer said the work was not needed. Ald. Garratt added that there were no funds, anyway. The city engineer was instructed to report at the next meeting on Contractor Wade's account for the construction of 200 feet of sewer on South

The statement from Mr. William Howie, jun., declaring his loss to date, as a result of the council's decision not to lay plank walks this season, to be $1,110, was read, together with Mr. S. J. Ald. McPhillips moved that the committee's former action recommending the payment of $500, be reaffirmed. Ald. Wilkey said Mr. Howie should have sold his lumber at an advanced price. Ald. Wilkey—It was a hard job to get a cedar scantling in the city last The engineer stated that no instructions relative to the purchase of the lumber had been given Mr. Howie by the department. The contract was for laying all the plank walks the city required, and Mr. Howie had done work worth $800 or $900. Ald. Parnell's motion carried. A petition for a cement walk on Bruce street, between Cynthia street and lot 56, was referred to the assessment commissioner to advertise. Ald. Wilkey objected to the laying of any more cement walks this fall. He feared the effect of frost. The committee did not share his fear.

The board decided not to furnish Squire Patrick some land tile which he considered they should supply him. Mrs. Sarah Henry, of Regent street, asked damages for injuries received through an alleged defective sidewalk. Referred to the engineer and Ald. Garratt to report.

The petition of W. D. Buckle, et al., for sewers on Waterloo street, Pall Mall to Grosvenor; on St. James street, Waterloo street to Hellmuth avenue, and on Hellmuth avenue, was reported by the assessment commissioner as insufficiently signed.

Ald. McPhillips urged that the flagstone pavement on the west side of Talbot street, south of Dundas street, be repaired. A recommendation to have the work done will be sent to the council. "There is no money for it," said the engineer.
