Fighting at Manila Trusses!

Spanish Troops, 3,000 Strong, Attack the American Lines.

Their Repeated Charges Repulsed With Heavy Loss to the Dons.

The Enemy Loses 200 Killed and 300 Wounded.

American Casualties 11 Killed and 44 Wounded.

The Attack Was Made in the Night and the Battle Raged for an Hour.

It is Believed at Washington That Spain's Reply is Not an Unqualified Acceptance of the American Terms—Hobson's Gallantry Proved Again—War Notes.

London, Aug. 9.—A dispatch from Hong Kong says the German steamer Petrarch, which left Manila on Aug. 6, has arrived here, and reports that the Spanish forces attacked the American camp at Manila on the night of July 31. The Spaniards were over 3,000 strong. They charged the American lines several times. The American fire broke the Spanish center, and they retreated. The Spanish forces made a second charge on the Americans, but again retreated to the bushes, keeping up an incessant fire on the road. Eleven Americans were killed and 37 wounded. The Spanish losses are reported to be great. The rebels remain neutral.

San Francisco, Aug. 9.—A special to the Examiner from Manila dated July 31, via Hong Kong, says: "A heavy engagement took place between the Americans and Spaniards tonight at Malate. The Spaniards made an attack, attempting to turn our right. After an hour's fighting they were repulsed. The troops engaged were the First, Second, Third, and Fourth Regiments of the Philippine volunteers, Ninth Pennsylvania, First battalion Third artillery regulars, and Battery A, Utah. Our losses were nine killed and 44 wounded. The Spanish loss was 200 killed and 300 wounded. Our volunteers made a glorious defense against upwards of 3,000 of an attacking force. The battle raged for three hours."

Hong Kong, Aug. 9.—Advices just received from Manila show that a severe engagement between the Spaniards and Americans, near Manila. The latter were victorious, and had 11 men killed and 37 wounded.

CONFIRMED.

The German steamer Petrarch, which left Manila on Aug. 6, arrived here today and brought the first news of an engagement between the Spaniards and Americans near Manila. During the engagement the insurgent forces remained neutral. The attack was made on the American camp near Cavite and Manila during the night of July 31. The Spaniards who numbered over 3,000 men made several desperate charges, but each time they were repulsed. The fire of the American troops drove them back and finally broke the Spanish center and the enemy retreated. The Spaniards made a second attack and were again repulsed and retreated into the bush, keeping up an incessant fire on the roads leading to Manila, over which they apparently expected the American troops to advance. Some estimates place the Spanish loss at over 300 men killed and wounded.

The American loss was 11 killed and 37 wounded.

NEWS FROM MERRITT.

Washington, Aug. 9.—Gen. Merritt has cabled the war department a dispatch containing the news of the report of the battle at Manila.

U. S. REINFORCEMENTS.

San Francisco, Aug. 9.—A special to the Call from Cavite, dated Aug. 6, says: "The three transports, which sailed from San Francisco with Gen. Merritt arrived today. The monitor Monterey also arrived."

SPAIN'S REPLY.

Washington, Aug. 9.—The concluding portion of the Spanish reply was received during last evening, but it was deciphered as a whole and gone over by the ambassador. No effort was made to communicate it to the United States Government beyond a note to Secretary Day advising him that the document had been received, but not disclosing its contents.

There is complete reticence in all quarters as to the text of the reply, but there is reason to believe it is not an unqualified acceptance of the American terms, but is framed on the theory of accepting the essentials and trusting to a hoped-for conciliatory spirit on the part of this government to moderate to some extent features which the Spanish government seem to regard as unessential.

Secretary Day joined the president at 2:30 this morning, at which hour he said that it did not seem probable and the Spanish answer to the American peace demand would be presented before the meeting of the cabinet at 11 o'clock. This view was borne out more strongly by the fact that at the time stated Ambassador Cambon and his secretaries had not arrived after last night's late work.

Washington, Aug. 9.—The Spanish answer to the American peace conditions will be presented to the Government of the United States some time today, probably this afternoon.

EFFECT ON STOCKS.

London, Aug. 9.—There was heaviness in the London market this morning, attributed to a belief that the Spanish reply to the United States was less favorable to peace than had been expected, and also to uneasiness over Anglo-Russian relations.

The weakness in London was reflected in the New York stock market by a general decline.

WHAT IS SAID IN MADRID.

Madrid, Aug. 9.—It is said that as soon as the American reply is received the Spanish government will nominate peace commissioners. El Liberal says the government received an offer from England to mediate. This offer was favorably regarded, but was not accepted.

El Liberal remarks further: "The presence of a large British squadron near Gibraltar is clear evidence of an understanding, if not an alliance, between England and the United States."

FORWARD.

Ponce, Porto Rico, Aug. 9.—Via St. Thomas, D. W. L.—A general advance of the American force has begun.

HOBSON'S GALLANTRY.

New York, Aug. 9.—Lieut. Hobson was the hero of Long Beach, where he went as the guest of Lavyr Edward J. Gavegan, of this city. His reception was such as to test the modesty of any hero, but the lieutenant bore himself with graceful composure, until Miss Arnold, of St. Louis, the prettiest girl at the hotel, ran up to him and cried impulsively:

"May I kiss you?"

Blushing at her temerity, she turned eloquent eyes on the lieutenant, and her parted lips, like twin roses, whispered sweet invitation.

Who could resist. Not the lieutenant, gallant man that he is. So, blushing almost as deep as the beautiful woman before him, he replied, "I would be very proud to comply."

Another tribute was paid to the heroism of Lieut. Richmond Pearson Hobson, when, in the ball room at the Grand Hotel, he was presented with a magnificent sword, the gift of the patrons and several of the cottagers. There were 500 persons in the ball room and Rev. George Haworth made the presentation speech.

THE CUBANS RESTIVE.

New York, Aug. 9.—Advices from Santiago say Gomez proposes to continue his guerrilla warfare regardless of any armistice between the United States and Spain.

Gen. Calixto Garcia and his 1,200 Cubans have stopped drawing rations and Garcia has left the province in high dudgeon because the United States authorities refused to permit him to take up the reins of government of the province. The last heard of him he was west of Holguin, proceeding towards Neuvas, in the Province of Puerto Principe.

WAR NOTES.

The London correspondent of the New York Evening Post says, regarding the United States and the Monroe policy: "Unless he acts up to this obligation, the Philippines are certain to become the cockpit of Europe."

One of the first business enterprises to follow the acquisition of Porto Rico is the building of a new cable connecting that island with the United States.

Gen. Shafter says: "The statement that I ordered or recommended the withdrawal of the army from Santiago is absolutely untrue."

The Merritt-Chapman Wrecking Company has informed the navy department that the wreckers have succeeded in floating the Spanish cruiser Maria Teresa, and are about to start her under her own steam for Norfolk.

The Potomac has recovered $10,000 from the Infanta Maria Teresa which was driven ashore at the time Admiral Cervera attempted to escape from Santiago.

A small steamer, the Wing-Food, 76 tons, belonging to an American firm, Messrs. Jackson & Evans, of Cavite, left Hong-Kong on July 2 for Manila. It is now supposed that she is lost with all on board. The crew were Chinese.

PRIEST VS. PRIEST.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 9.—Rev. Father Parady, of Dromery, a new parish in the district of Nipissing, has taken action for damages to the amount of $6,000 against Rev. Father Langlois, parish priest of Verrier, Ont., for defamation of character. It is alleged that the defendant interfered in the plaintiff's affairs by slandering him in the pulpit. It is probable that the matter will not be continued in the civil courts, but will be settled by the bishop of Nipissing.

Stockwell's Dye Works.

Citizens generally, and West Enders in particular, will be interested in learning that a branch of Stockwell's Dye Works has been opened at 201 Dundas street, one door east of Reid's Crystal Hall, thus affording from its central location, greater convenience to a large number of their patrons. This old established house leads the van in dyeing and cleaning, the latest and most approved methods being used in all departments. Now is a good time to be sorting up your light and faded clothing to be dyed some dark shade suitable for fall and winter wear. Stockwell's, in this way, save to the citizens of London thousands of dollars annually. If you are at all skeptical of results give them a small trial order. Nos. 201 and 259 Dundas street. Phone 601.

We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. J. D. TWENTY PERSONS DROWNED.
Lisbon, Aug. 9.—During the departure of Dr. Campos Sales, president of Brazil, by the Trans-Atlantic liner Thames for America (probably Buenos Ayres), two steamships came colliding, swamping two small boats. It is feared that no fewer than twenty persons were drowned.

LORD ELGIN'S SUCCESSOR.
London, Aug. 9.—The Evening News says it learns positively that Mr. Geo. N. Curzon, the parliamentary secretary for the foreign office, has accepted the viceroyalty of India, in succession to the Earl of Elgin. The Indian office informs the Associated Press that it is unable to definitely confirm the report, but the indications point to Mr. Curzon's appointment as viceroy of India.

THREE LADIES MURDERED BY THIEVES.

London, Aug. 9.—The Vienna correspondent of the Daily News says: From St. Petersburg it is reported that a band of thieves entered the residence of Princess Chuklova near Simferopol, capital of the government of Taurida, in the Crimea, foully murdering the princess and two lady companions, strangling them in their sleep, and after pillaging the house of valuables, decamped.

DIVORCED.

London, Aug. 9.—In the divorce division of the high court of justice today, Ester Weel Temple, of Binghamton, N. Y., secured a decree nisi in her suit against Wm. Runciman, the alleged baronet, who, under the name of "Sir Grenville Temple" married an English actress named Agnes Ingilville, while his first wife, Esther Weel, whom he had married in Binghamton, N. Y., was still living. Runciman is undergoing a sentence of five years penal servitude for bigamy, imposed upon him June 22, for marrying Miss Ingilville.

IS DUCHE DEAD?

London, Aug. 9.—In the probate, divorce and admiralty division of the high court of justice today, Sir Francis Henry Juenne, president of the court, granted an application of Mrs. Anna Maria Druce, for an order empowering her to open the grave and inspect the coffin which it is alleged contained the remains of the man buried as Thomas Charles Druce, who, the applicant asserts, was in fact and in law the fifth Duke of Portland. During the evidence Mrs. Hamilton, one of the witnesses, adhered firmly to the statement that she had seen and spoken to Thomas Charles Druce after his alleged death.

"HONORABLES" BY MISTAKE.

London, Aug. 9.—For the last twelve months a certain section of society have been making a habit of using the titular prefix of "Honorable." About last August an announcement was made that the Queen had been pleased to grant the title of "Honorable" to all the children of the legal life of peers, together with precedence immediately after the younger children of hereditary barons and before all baronets. The furious uproar that followed among the baronets has not subsided yet. The agitation of the aristocracy was the formation of a society with the gorgeously grandiloquent name of "The Honorable Society of the Baronetage." The society has passed through much tribulation and man, vicissitudes, but is still in existence, trying to persuade itself that it is flourishing. Whether this be so or not, the news which will shortly reach them will be unpalatable, for they have lost in their attempt to maintain the ancient privileges of their order, the children of the law lords have won, and in future will walk in front.

THE "SILLY SEASON"

in London Delayed by the Hooley Developments.

Mr. J. W. Ford cables to the N. Y. Tribune as follows:
"The real barrier against the opening of the silly season is not the negotiation of peace terms, nor Russian intrigue, nor stagnant politics, but Hooley; he testifies once a week, and then for seven days there are denials, disclaimers, and explanations from peers of the realm and leaders of fashion."

Raw from Her Toes to Her Knees

DR. CHASE MAKES A WONDERFUL CURE

Mrs. Knight, 17 Hanover Place, Toronto, makes the following statement:

"My mother, Mrs. Wright, who lives at Norval, near Doncaster, suffered a summer and winter with Eczema in her feet. She could not walk, and very seldom got any sleep. It became so bad that she was perfectly raw from the toes to the knees. After trying every available remedy without receiving any benefit, and almost hopeless of relief, she was advised to try Dr. Chase's Ointment. She has altogether used 8 boxes since commencing, but with the happiest results for she is now completely cured. There is but one scar on one of her feet, a memento of her fearful suffering condition. Any person desiring further testimony in this case is at liberty to communicate with Mrs. Wright at her address, Norval P.O."

Mrs. Knight says after such a grand success, is it any wonder we recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment?

ion. His last recital was rounded out with a penny-dreadful story of attempted bribery and subornation of perjury by a man in a cab, which seemed to discredit this testimony as highly imaginative; but the Daily Chronicle has found the cabman, and corroborated Hooley's statement. The legal processes by which this bankrupt promoter is allowed to make the most serious charges against well-known men without their having any real resource for self-defense except writing letters to newspapers, are hardly to be understood. One duke has resigned his peerage, two earls have offered to turn over the gratuities received from Hooley to the registrar, and another earl is seriously ill; but the shareholders, who have been dazzled by the great names, and lost their money, do not appear to have any real redress under the English law.

Hooley himself was undoubtedly duped by greedy agents and traffickers in fashionable acquaintances, who pretended to distribute plunder from stock-promoting, but in reality kept it themselves. Whatever happens to Hooley and his earls, the outcome of this Panama of smart London, there will be no end of moralizing. Already journals like Vanity Fair treat Hooleyism as one of the many signs of social deterioration, and explain how common it is for smart people to receive commissions for chaperoning girls in direct advance their station, or for introducing nobodies into exclusive sets, or for arranging marriages between heiresses and sons of peers. Hooley may become the Luther of a social Reformation if he persists in nailing his theses to the doors of the bankruptcy court.

NURSES NEEDED

An Army Doctor Tells of the Suffering in the Hospitals.

One of the Sad Phases of "Grim Visaged War"

Detroit, Aug. 8.—Dr. Andrew P. Biddle has written from Camp Thomas, Chickamauga to a relative in this city under date of July 31, and the following are some extracts from his letter: "The amount of sickness is increasing to an alarming extent. In my command, my own orderly, who by the way comes from Flat Rock, is down with the fever, as are my stable-servant and ten other men. My secretary has the measles, and my cook is sick. The fever is a low, lingering one, not a typhoid, and the measles are virulent. Everything is done to fight the fever, and we labor all day to prevent sickness, but it is so wet when the sun comes out it is so muggy, and these nights a regular fog lies over the earth. I trust that either the weather will clear or that we shall move, whether it be through peace or otherwise. The temper of the troops has been sorely tried by their remaining here, and their disappointment at not forming a part of the expeditionary forces to Porto Rico is great."

There is much work here for us physicians and we sorely need more help. I am pleased to state that so far I have enjoyed excellent health, and pray that may be spared the fever. Everybody is very thin here, the natives even, but your heart would melt to touch could you visit a division hospital filled to overflowing with poor, emaciated, delirious men whose only sin has been an excess of patriotism. Accustomed to this I am to the sight of suffering, a streak of excessive sadness always remains with me after visiting the wards. Much criticism is heaped upon the medical men, but they are not to blame for the shortcoming of tentage, of supplies, of help. We do not want petty and very few druggists, but what we want are cooks and nurses in the true sense of the word—trained, experienced nurses. How I would long to turn the training school of Harper or Grace Hospitals upon this hospital. What a revolution it would create! What lives it would save!

'T WAS A RATTLER

But the Man Who Picked It Up Thought It Was a Tie Strap.

Saline, Mich., Aug. 9.—Last night Alfred Daniels, a farmer, who lives two miles north of this village, stooped to pick up what he supposed to be a tie strap lying in the road. It sprang and fanged him on the hand and then he discovered that he had been bitten by a rattlesnake. The snake was over two feet long, two inches in diameter, and had fourteen rattles. Mr. Daniels now lies in a critical condition.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Hamilton, Aug. 8.—Hamilton took both games from London today, and stepped up into first place again in the Canadian League race. Three games were to have been played, one in the morning and two in the afternoon, it being Civic Holiday here, but rain fell in heavy showers all through the day, causing a loss of four or five hundred dollars to the local management, as there were only about 600 people present in the morning and 800 in the afternoon. Hamilton just managed to win the morning game through an error of London. In the second, and in the third, Hamilton made a single, Carey's after two men were out in the ninth, but the afternoon game was a tie. Three hours of steady rain made the grounds heavy, and hitting was rather dead, but Hamilton managed to win in the fourth and seventh, and in each of these two innings an error helped out the Hamiltons. Bradford was a puzzle to the Londoners. Five hits were made off him, but in no inning was more than one made. After two men were out, a base on balls, an error by Hagerty and a hit by Meara gave London a run in the second, and in the third a hit by Mohler, an error by Phillips, an error by Bradford, and a sacrifice by Carey, resulting in a run for Hamilton. Schall and McKevitt got singles, Conwell a double, and Bradford a three-bagger in the fourth, and in the seventh Elton made a single, Congalton a sacrifice, Phillips a single, Schall a double, McKevitt a sacrifice, and Keenan an error, and thus were Hamilton's six runs made. Both teams played gentlemanly ball and showed the greatest respect for Empire England, whose work was highly satisfactory. The scores:

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Hamilton, Aug. 8.—Hamilton took both games from London today, and stepped up into first place again in the Canadian League race. Three games were to have been played, one in the morning and two in the afternoon, it being Civic Holiday here, but rain fell in heavy showers all through the day, causing a loss of four or five hundred dollars to the local management, as there were only about 600 people present in the morning and 800 in the afternoon. Hamilton just managed to win the morning game through an error of London. In the second, and in the third, Hamilton made a single, Carey's after two men were out in the ninth, but the afternoon game was a tie. Three hours of steady rain made the grounds heavy, and hitting was rather dead, but Hamilton managed to win in the fourth and seventh, and in each of these two innings an error helped out the Hamiltons. Bradford was a puzzle to the Londoners. Five hits were made off him, but in no inning was more than one made. After two men were out, a base on balls, an error by Hagerty and a hit by Meara gave London a run in the second, and in the third a hit by Mohler, an error by Phillips, an error by Bradford, and a sacrifice by Carey, resulting in a run for Hamilton. Schall and McKevitt got singles, Conwell a double, and Bradford a three-bagger in the fourth, and in the seventh Elton made a single, Congalton a sacrifice, Phillips a single, Schall a double, McKevitt a sacrifice, and Keenan an error, and thus were Hamilton's six runs made. Both teams played gentlemanly ball and showed the greatest respect for Empire England, whose work was highly satisfactory. The scores:

London Advertiser.

(ESTABLISHED BY JOHN CAMERON IN 1853.)

Managing Director John Cameron

London, Tuesday, Aug. 9, 1893.

An Unsensational Session.

We trust the worthy M. P. P.'s on either side of the Speaker's chair in the Ontario Legislature will not find it too grating on their sensibilities, when we say their proceedings in this August session excite little more than languid public interest. Whether it is because it is August, when attention is rather apt to flag; whether it is that the main issue—the strength of the Government—was decided by the election of Mr. Hardy's nominee for the Speakership; or whether the public instinctively realized that Mr. Whitney has struck the twelve-o'clock of his greatest strength—we cannot undertake to say.

There may be a little more or less of obstruction on the part of the Opposition; there may be a few more or a few less of amendments, to say nothing of amendments to amendments. Worthy souls new to the House, like the excellent Mr. Hoyte, may pour out in one exhausting oration all the pent-up political broodings of a lifetime. But the oratorical ships fold their sails idly on the still August air, without the advantage of any breath of public interest.

Our friends, the constables, can safely take an August nap, if they feel so inclined. Even the gentlemen of the Opposition do not deny that it was never intended by the Legislature to disfranchise the constables in and about polling booths. Nor will any Opposition member venture to vote against any resolution calculated to make the point clear. The only interest the Opposition ever had in the constable vote was this: they hoped that some of the protest-trial-judges might, possibly, take a view of the constable vote opposite to what the Legislature intended, and that this might work for the moment to the advantage of the Opposition.

Such hopes are now upset, as they ought to be. For the Opposition, in tiresome speeches, to needlessly prolong the session, will neither help the Opposition nor hurt the Government.

Canada's Attractions.

The attractions of Canada as a place of residence are being well advertised by the present Government at Ottawa. Recently, Mr. G. R. Lanedfield, the well-known photographer at the capital, made a pilgrimage through the country, securing a large number of views of Canadian scenery, to be used in making known the scenic attractions of Canada in England and the United States. The views, which have just been delivered to the general manager of the Government railway system, are the best yet prepared for the purpose, and are certain to prove of much value in directing the public attention of those countries to the Dominion. Canada is not only a beautiful place of residence, with a soil decidedly fruitful, but it has many attractions for the eye, which, artistically put upon paper, are sure to act as additional incentive to those disposed to look for a desirable place of abode permanently, or as tourists.

After-Thoughts.

While the excitement of actual warfare continued, the people of the United States, like the great and plucky people they are, focussed their thoughts and their determination on the foe. But now two out of the three Spanish fleets have been destroyed. Spain has sued for peace. The issue of the conflict is no longer in doubt. Sober, second thought begins to ask a hearing. It is beginning to be seen that if a signal victory has been won, new and steady responsibilities have been at the same moment strapped on the shoulders of the American people. The Advertiser believes these new and steady responsibilities will prove to be the very school the United States needs, and that nothing but good will be the final result. One of the strongest weekly newspapers of the United States is the New York Observer. This is how it impresses our able contemporary:

"But whatever be the quantity and quality of American life at the present time, it appears to the human eye probable that at the close of the present war vastly greater civic demands will be made upon us, and that opportunities of the broadest kind will open before the people. There is no prophesying as to what changes, national or international, events may bring. Our costly battleships are winning territory many times their price, and winning races, parties and policies, too. Years ago, before there ever was a Union Pacific Railway, one man, Senator Benton, dared to broach the subject of such an enterprise, and daring-ly hazarded the opinion that there should be carved out of the highest peak of the Rocky Mountains a statue of Columbus, with extended hand pointing toward the western sea, while beneath was cut out the inscription: 'There is the East! There is India!' The ships of Dewey have not reached India, but they have touched the Philippines, a result of which even the prophetic Benton could not have dreamed. The horizon of America, whether we like it or not, is enlarging. Great and novel problems are being fairly rolled upon us. We did not start out, indeed, after territory, nor could we in all charity be said to be so meek as to inherit all the earth. But in the providence of God these new domains, new to us at least, may be thrust upon us in such ways that they cannot be denied. It is entirely possible that soon Americans may be called up to 'go up' and view a far larger country, a broader vista of duty. We can no longer be provincials, we must be cosmopolitans. England has been used in this way by the Supreme Disposer of events. Her greed has been overruled to His glory. It may be that America is now become in some lines a compulsory competitor. If so, the rivalry should be a friendly one, not a mutually inimical contest. One thing is certain, that amid all national and international changes the Almighty Judge of all is weighing carefully every action or policy of every people. Those great eyes are upon us. As it was once true of Canaan, that 'there came men to search out the country,' so today the divine messengers are finding us out. God is always searching us, providentially, and by proxy. The nation that cannot stand these divine tests will fall out of the ranks of the advancing civilizations of the earth."

Again the Little Country Town.

The London Advertiser objects to the variation, by a lecturer, of the old saying, "God made the country, man made the town," so as to further read, "but the devil made the little country town." The Advertiser is correct, but it certainly does seem that the devil at times possesses the inhabitants of small country towns. Or is the unpleasant social condition which is so often found the natural result of the rule that small communities beget small minds?—Ottawa Journal.

All the communities in this country were once small, but we do not think small minds developed and consolidated the Dominion. In these days "the little country town" is harnessed to the world's activities by the press, by the diffusion of culture, by railway connection, and all the agencies of modern civilization. Its social and religious life is perhaps more intense than in larger communities, because it is more concentrated. In fact, townsfolk have just as broad an outlook as city folk if they choose the means which are always at hand. Good libraries, good newspapers and good churches are among the best instruments, and there are very few "little country towns" in Canada that do not or might not have them.

Now that work on the Normal School is about to begin it is in order for the Free Press to object to it on the ground of unseemly haste.

The Old Boys were enthusiastic over the beauty and hospitality of their old home. Their enjoyment was marred by only one incident. That was when they had to leave.

The American soldier in Cuba, who has read "Comus" will realize something more than poetry in those lines about mortals who "strive to keep a frail and feverish being."

The United States refuses to take over the Cuban debt. The President probably thinks the republic has assumed a sufficient obligation in taking over the Cuban people.

The English nobility has been tarnished in the bankruptcy and the divorce courts, and Hooley has now dragged it into the court of public opinion. The jury seems hostile.

The orator at the Bismarck memorial service at Berlin declared that the Iron Chancellor was the conscience of Germany. A French Chauvinist could say nothing worse of Germany than that.

The sultan declines to make good the American losses in the Armenian massacres, but avers that he intends buying some American guns. This is a touch of the Oriental diplomacy that unstrung the concert of Europe.

The London newspapers say that Canada has substituted advertising for protection as an engine of progress. The Liberal Government has certainly advertised Canada as never before. Its methods are infinitely superior to those of its predecessors. The chief foreign advertisement that Canada secured under the last administration was the McGreevy scandal.

The fakir Jernegan, who professed to have discovered a process for extracting gold from sea water, has disappeared with nearly a million dollars extracted from land fools. He was kind enough to leave the victims his secret, however. They found that the gold wrung out of the sea every night at Jernegan's "factory" on the coast of Maine was deposited there every day by a diver. Speculative insanity did not burst with the South Sea bubble.

"Let my death come from Spain," said Bacon, "for then it will be sure to be long in coming." The American Republic may well think this a very excellent piece of philosophy in the light of present events. No doubt Premier Hardy also finds it apposite. "Let my death come from Whitney," he can cheerfully say, "for then it will be sure to be long in coming."

Some Kansas farmers propose to take up a collection for Joseph Leiter at the rate of 1 cent a bushel on their wheat sales this year, as a token of gratitude to Joseph for raising the price of wheat this summer. Of course, Leiter cornered the market out of pure philanthropy. Had he seen a chance to make a few millions by hammering down the price, his sympathy for the farmers would have restrained him—oh yes! It is truly a beautiful illustration of human charity. There is some hope for the world yet.

Biographers lament that the world is producing no more great men, and will soon have none. Germany has no Bismarck, England no Gladstone, Italy no Cavour, France no Thiers, America no Lincoln. The general explanation is that universal education has produced a greater uniformity of character and attainments, and that as the masses have grown in stature the giants of old are not needed. "A general culture has spread itself and smoothed down all sharp individual traits," as Emerson put it.

Mr. W. J. Bryan first denounced the policy of imperialism, but now says he will reserve opinion. He is perplexed in the extreme. Cuba and Porto Rico are cheap money countries. That suits Bryan. But now this fellow Aguinaldo has decorated himself with a gold whistle and other auriferous paraphernalia, which stamps him as a gold-bug. That doesn't suit Bryan. The free silver apostle will probably compromise by declaring for the annexation of Cuba and Porto Rico, and for the exclusion of the yellow Philippines and their yellow metal barbarism.

It is reported that the ex-Empress Eugenie is very low. Her death would remove the most conspicuous relic of French royalty and one of the most interesting and pathetic historical figures of the century. In her misfortune she has found much consolation in the friendship of Queen Victoria—a friendship that began early in life, and was cemented with magnificent ceremonies at Paris and London during the period of the Crimean war. Eugenie is, or was, a woman of many brilliant qualities, but had she possessed more of the strong common sense and other homely virtues of Victoria, her lot might have been happier. She lost the affections of her people, and hastened her own downfall by prompting Napoleon to a disastrous policy.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

DOESN'T CRAVE THE LAW. Ernest Terah Hooley would not stand much chance of acquittal if he were to be tried by his peers.—Ottawa Journal.

CAN ALWAYS CRY. What will the London Free Press do for a cry against the Ontario Government now that it is no longer in doubt about that Normal School site?—Hamilton Times.

A POOR REWARD. When Richard Croker learned that Admiral Sampson got only $10,000 prize money, his contempt for war as compared with practical politics was no doubt greatly aggravated.—Washington Star.

TARIFF LAW AN ANACHRONISM. In the rapid march of commercial events, the Dingley tariff, so far as protection is concerned, has already become an anachronism, while its failure as a revenue measure is almost universally acknowledged.—Philadelphia Record.

SHOULD APOLOGIZE. And after all it was the Imperial Government that ordered the departure of Dubose and Carranza from Canada. There is now an opportunity for those journals who criticised Sir Wilfrid for sending the Spaniards away to apologize.—St. Thomas Journal.

THE ARMED TRAMP. Another tramp has been flourishing a revolver near Ingersoll. The success of a murderous peg-leg at London has emboldened the fraternity. The law should be so amended as to send any vagrants down for five years found carrying a shooting-iron. No one in that "profession" carries it for a lawful purpose.—Paris Transcript.

A DESERVED HONOR.

The election of Hon. A. Evanturel to the Speakership of the Legislative Assembly of Ontario is a great honor to our worthy patriot. By his energy, his perfect tact, and his great talents, the member for Prescott commands the esteem and consideration of the political parties of our sister province. Mr.

Whitney joined with Mr. Hardy in eulogizing Hon. Mr. Evanturel, and all the leading journals of Ontario are unanimous in approving the choice of the assembly—La Patrie, Montreal.

UNIVERSITY SENATE ELECTIONS. Hon. David Mills, minister of justice, has been urged to stand for the Senate at the elections this fall by a large number of Varsity graduates, and will likely consent. The minister was always a warm friend of the students, and one of the most extremely popular professors who ever lectured at Varsity. Varsity men will no doubt place him at the head of the polls.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

THE PLEBISCITE. In four of the provinces there have already been popular votes on the liquor question. These provinces are Ontario, Nova Scotia, Manitoba and Prince Edward Island, and in each a majority of votes was cast for prohibition. The vote in Manitoba was taken in July, 1892, and the majority was 10,922. Prince Edward Island in 1892, majority, 4,195; Nova Scotia in 1894, majority, 31,401; Ontario in 1894, majority, 91,740. Thus the total majority in favor of a prohibitory law in these four provinces, according to the votes in their different elections, was 128,258. In these elections many voted for prohibition, who, although favoring such legislation, were not prepared to co-operate with the cause of temperance in enforcing such legislation. To pass a prohibitory law on the strength of such votes would be much more injurious to the cause of temperance than an adverse majority at the polls. It is clearly then the duty of the electors of this Dominion to vote for such legislation as they are prepared to assist in carrying out, and not for the enactment of a law which, because they think it might result in good, while they themselves are not willing to lend their aid in making it effective.—Seaford Express.

LIGHT AND SHADE.

MET HIS MATCH. "That cornet player has moved out of the lower flat." "What was the trouble?" "He complained of our baby."

THE HAYLOFT. Through all the pleasant meadow side The grass grew shoulder high. Till the shining scythes went far and wide, And cut it down to dry.

These green and sweetly smelling crops They led in wagons home! And they piled them here in mountain tops For mountaineers to roam. Here is Mount Clear, Mount Rusty Nail, Mount Eagle and Mount High; The mice that in these mountains dwell, No happier than I. O, what a joy to clamber there, O, what a place for play, With the sweet, the dim, the dusty air. The happy hills of hay! —Robert Louis Stevenson.

ALL RIGHT FOR THE ICEBERG. Nervous Passenger—Captain, what would be the result if the steamer should strike an iceberg while we are plunging through this fog? Captain of Steamship—The iceberg would move right along, madam, just as if nothing had happened.—Chicago Tribune.

HURRY AND DISPATCH. No two things differ more than hurry and dispatch. Hurry is the mark of a weak mind, dispatch of a strong one. A weak man in office, like a squirrel in a cage, is laboring perpetually, but to no purpose, and in constant motion without getting on a jot. Like a turnstile, he is in everybody's way, but stops nobody. He takes a great deal, but says very little; looks into everything, but sees into nothing; and has a hundred irons in the fire, but few of the hot, and with these few he only burns his fingers.—Church Standard, Philadelphia.

LANGUAGE. My husband is plain-spoken; he calls a spade a spade. "So does mine; but I must decline to repeat what he calls the lawn mower."

THE owl's eyes have no muscles by which they can be moved, but extraordinary flexibility in the muscles of the neck enables the owl to move his head with incredible rapidity in any direction.

BABY COVERED WITH SORES & SCALES
Could Not Tell What She Looked Like. Got Worse with Doctor's Medicine. Could Not Sleep From Intense Itching.
CURED IN ONE MONTH BY CUTICURA

When my baby was four months old her skin broke out, and I thought it was ringworm. I took her to a doctor and he said it was Eczema. He gave me medicine to give her, but she got worse all the time, and you could not tell what she looked like, her little face and hands were covered with sores and large scales. It got under her little finger nails. She was the worst looking sight I ever saw. I heard of CUTICURA REMEDY, so I thought I would try them. Before I tried sleep I itched so. After I gave her CUTICURA REMEDY, I saw a change in a week. It commenced to dry all up and she would sleep all night, and when it was drying up the skin all cracked open, so then I got CUTICURA Ointment and CUTICURA SOAP, and in one month she had not one sore on her face, and I don't think it is any more than justice to let you know what it has done for my baby. She now has five months old and has got beautiful skin. She doesn't even have a pimple of any kind, and she is as fat as pudding.

LOST A FOOT.

W. D. Woods, a C. P. R. conductor on a work train at Mission City, B. C., lost a foot on Wednesday. He was walking along the side of the moving train, when he slipped, and putting his foot to brace himself, he got it under the wheels. The injured man is a native of Toronto, where his parents now reside. He played on the Ontario championship lacrosse team in that city for several years. He went to Vancouver in 1888, and entered at once into the service of the C. P. R. as brakeman, and sometimes as baggage-man. He was some time ago promoted to be conductor. Mr. Woods has many friends between Toronto and Windsor and is well known among railroad men in this city.

OLD BOYS GONE HOME.

The majority of the London Old Boys took the C. P. R. train for Toronto last evening. At the depot the greatest enthusiasm prevailed. While the crowd waited for the train, all that was left of the Royal Foresters' Trumpet Band and Queen's Own Bugle Band entertained the people with bugle and snare drum. Before the train pulled out Mayor Wilson made another speech. He said he was glad the Old Boys came, glad to know that they had a good time, and pleased to see them again. Cheers were given for the London Old Boys in Toronto and other places, for President Joe Davis, and the members of the train, all comfortably fitted. The company was complimented by the O. B. officers on the splendid accommodation provided.

HOSPITAL EQUIPMENT

Tenders for Electric Wiring To Be Called a Second Time.

First Specifications Considered Too Elaborate—Promoters of the Children's Pavilion May Commence Work—Tenders for Heating and Ventilating and for a Power Plant Called.

The hospital building committee decided last night to call for new tenders for the electric wiring of the new hospital. Five tenders were received on specifications prepared by Mr. W. T. Huyette, of Detroit, but were considered too high, and in consequence, the specifications will be made less elaborate. Huyette's purpose was to have a plant that would not only meet the present requirements of the Fire Underwriters' Association, the rules of which are frequently amended, but what would do for some time to come. The specifications were also prepared so that there would be less expense in the event the city installed a lighting plant in the building. Considerable conduit, a number of switches and other electrical instruments on switchboards, which are part of the generating plant, were the stumbling blocks. These can be left out, it was claimed, and yet all the demands of the underwriters be met.

On motion of Ald. Jolly, the specifications will be revised and new tenders called to be in Thursday.

The architect recommended metallic lathing for the contagious diseases pavilion. The contract called for ordinary lath, and the difference in cost would be $175. Metallic makes a much better key, he said.

He was anxious to keep to the contract. The chairman said that when away he noticed metallic lathing was being used in all the hospitals under construction which the deputation had visited.

The promoters of the children's pavilion will be allowed to commence work on the building in the understanding that they assume all liability.

Mr. Huyette presented plans and specifications of a direct steam heating plant, with mechanical ventilation, for the hospital. The plant will include two generators and engines, and cost about $3,000, for lighting and power purposes. The saving in the cost of lighting would pay for the machinery in a few years. The idea was to furnish light for the other public buildings, such as the city hall and the free library.

Mr. J. Chambers, city, presented plans for a system which he was prepared to guarantee to give satisfaction. He agreed that if his system was chosen, and he secured the contract, he was to be allowed nothing for the plans. If the system of Mr. Huyette was preferred he was to receive nothing, but in the event of his plans being approved and the contract going to another firm, he was to receive $50.

Ald. Jolly moved that tenders on both plans be called, and the motion carried.

The tenders are to be separate for the heating and ventilating, and for the power plant.

All the members were present.

Who Is Touring New Zealand—First Impressions of the Island.

Mr. Will H. Salmon, M. A., of London, who is at present making a tour of the Australian colonies in the interests of the Australasian Student Christian Union, writes from New Zealand in an interesting and instructive manner.

Readers of The Advertiser who follow these articles will do well to keep a map of the country at hand for reference, so as to locate the places named.

From Sydney, the capital of New South Wales, to Auckland, the northernmost city in New Zealand, is a journey across an angry sea of about four and a half days. There is a line of weekly steamers, besides the San Francisco boats once a month. Once in a while a fair passage may be secured, but as a rule, travelers, with the exception of "old salts," are obliged to make a rough and tumble journey, with many enforced hours of idleness, may lie in a cabin gazing out on such rising and falling walls of water as one reads about the stylized sea, and leaping from wave to wave, and sharks pursuing frightened porpoises, and the stately albatross sailing through the air, as without apparent effort, it keeps pace for days with the vessel.

The approach to New Zealand reveals a landscape rugged and broken, with mountains and extinct volcanoes, but charming with its wealth and variety of evergreen foliage, which few countries can claim to excel. Shakespeare had some place in mind when he wrote in "The Winter's Tale."

"The climate's delicate the air most sweet. Fertile the soil."

In climate, as also in shape and latitude, it resembles Italy more than any other country. The mean annual temperature of the different seasons for the whole colony is, in spring 55 degrees, in summer 63 degrees, in autumn 57 degrees, and in winter 48 degrees. The country consists of the North Island, the Middle Island, commonly called the South Island, and Stewart Island, a thousand square miles at the lower extremity. The total length is about one thousand miles, and the breadth varies about one hundred and fifty miles. As the colony becomes better known, and facilities for travel develop, there is bound to be an increasing tourist traffic, for here is scenery comparable to that of Switzerland for the traveler; thermal springs and healing waters for the invalid; hundreds of varieties of flora and fauna for the botanist; fine specimens of strange birds for the ornithologist; legends, tales and race conditions for the ethnologist; trout fishing, deer stalking, pheasant and rabbit shooting for the ordinary hunter. There are no poisonous reptiles to be found, and one may sleep in the open air with perfect immunity.

Captain Cook first landed and explored the islands in 1769; and in 1840 they were officially made part of the British Empire. The population numbers over 700,000, of whom about 50,000 are Maoris. More than half the population are under 21 years of age. Twofifths were born in New Zealand, and not 1-50 are foreigners. There are about 13,000 churches and 500 school rooms used for worship, the Anglican and Presbyterian denominations leading in numbers and influence.

(To Be Continued.)

A DINNER PILL. — Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food packed off like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment, it becomes a poison to the system. Dr. Zarn's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretory and excretory organs, and purify the blood. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with indigestion.

DYSPEPTIC'S HOPE

Is Founded on Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, Which Never Fail Him.

They Are the Only Medicine on Earth That Can Remove the Cause of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Etc.—They Are Sure.

If a mad dog were chasing you, and it seemed impossible, you would be deeply grateful to anyone who showed you a secure hiding-place.

It would be easy to gauge the value of the good thing you had done you. He saved your life.

When the Demon Indigestion is in pursuit of a man, there is only one way of escaping.

These paragraphs point out clearly that way. There can be no other way of getting clear.

Take Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and you will soon be free from every sign of indigestion and its evil effects.

This result is accomplished in the only way possible. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets remove the cause of the trouble.

They act on the food in the stomach immediately, reducing it to liquid form, digesting it, and thus banish that distressing sensation of overfulness which is caused by the accumulation of undigested food in the stomach.

No assistance is required from the stomach by Tablets. It is resting all the time Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are being used.

Besides this, Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets contain certain ingredients that tone and strengthen the stomach, enabling it to digest the food taken into it.

No other medicine on earth but Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets can digest food.

Therefore, no other medicine on earth but Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure indigestion.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are the Dyspeptic's only hope. On them he can rely with absolute and perfect confidence.
