SAYS PACT A MOCKERY

Both major parties began their last day of campaigning by asserting confidence in the election of their candidates.

"Cox and Roosevelt will win," declared George White, Democratic National chairman.

Will H. Hays, leader of the Republican forces, translated his expectations into figures, expressing the conviction that Harding will have no less than 368—probably 395—electoral votes out of the possible 531. The number required to elect is 266.

Interest in the last day of the campaign centres in the final desperate attempt to bring 'over the "doubtful" states with large electoral votes to deliver, or to save United States senators in other doubtful states where the electoral vote is not large enough to be indispensable. The salient example of states in the first category is Ohio, homestate of the two principal candidates, with 24 votes, while the outstanding tase of the second class is Nevada; with only three.

The attack met with apparent approval from all sections, but Herr Daumig, leader of the new communists, prophesying a coming revolution and the overthrow of capitalism, declared that his party desired revision by other means. It wanted revision with the cooperation of international proletariats and with the expropriation of all machinery of production as quickly and thoroughly as possible.

Under the covering note, the Germans, said Dr. Schiffer, had not only the moral but documentary right to demand revisions of the treaty.

Interruptions At Meetings Indicate That People of West Are Not in Accord With Government's Policy-Meighen Believed To Have Made a Mistake in Taking Calder

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—Reports of the meetings of Premier Meighen and Hon. J. A. Calder are creating very real interest at the capital, especially that part of the reports which dea! with heckling and interruptions, may be taken as giving some indication of the trend of public thought on political federal issues and questions of the day. They at least make it apparent that the public is doing a lot of thinking for itself, and is not in a mood to accept the "ipse dixit" of any public men on any issue which he may expound.

The prime minister has had to be on the alert throughout and has discovered that interruptions are not confined to the keen minds of parliamentary men. The reception which Mr. Calder is receiving has caused considerable uneasiness in Government circles here. At Winnipeg, at Moose Jaw, and other places, the president of the privy council has been the subject of repeated heckling, and on one occasion such heckling rendered it very difficult for him to proceed in any conservative manner with his address. He has been forced to the defensive throughout, and at the coast, it is stated, he was constrained to threaten to receive the chairman to close the meeting.

Testimony as to "conversion" for old party affinities appears to have aroused nothing but sardonic laughter.

In the meantime former colleagues of Mr. Calder in the persons of Alphonse Turgeon, attorney-general for Saskatchewan, and others have been taking a prominent part on the platform of Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Opposition, whose meetings throughout the west have been singularly free so far from interruptions. It is also stated that Premier Martin was present at the round table conference held at Regina

Mr. Calder has, it is felt here, irrevocably tied himself up to the Meighen party by his speeches at Winnipeg and Moose Jaw, reports of his intended deflection therefrom to the contrary. There now remain but four Liberal Unionists in the cabinet, namely: Hon. Messrs. Calder, Slfton, Ballantyne and Guthrie. There is a feeling in some quarters that the premier made a mistake in taking Mr. Calder along

Havana, Cuba, Nov. 1.-Cuba voted oday for a new president and the outcome was awaited with considerable apprehension. The end of the campaign, regarded as the most bitter since the island gained the right to govern its own affairs, found old party lines broken, with a right-about shift in leadership. Platform issues apparently were forgotten in the fight for contro of the Government by Jose Nig Gomez, Liberal nominee, and Dr. fredo Zayas, candidate of the old Co servative, or coalition party. Gomez is a former president of Cuba and Zayas served under him as vice-president. Vice-presidential candidates were Miguel Arrango, Liberal, and Francisco 'arrillo Coalition. Zayas, founder of the Liberal faction, broke away from it this year and part-ed company with Gomez, backed by the Menocal administration. Soldiers were on duty in all the prov-inces when the first voters reached the polls. Under orders from President Menocal, they were to deal fearlessly with outlaw bands, which were report-ed to be active in some districts. Fear of trouble was somewhat allayed by ap-peals from both candidates to their followers to keep the peace and not provoke a clash with the opposition.
All indications pointed to a heavy vote, with each side claiming victory. Many leaders doubted whether the result would be known tonight.

Trunk to learn whether they will sell or lease property for the purpose of the bridge.

There are 22 railroad tracks at this point, making the project a complicated one. A bridge 450 feet long will be required to cross them. It would be built in four spans of 111 feet and, according to City Engineer Brazier, would cost $35,000. Ald. Watkinson points out that an expenditure of $25,000 can be authorized by the council without delay as a vote is not required on sums of this amount. If this is done, he is confident that he can raise the remainder of the funds from other sources.

In addition to the actual cost of the bridge, there would be the expense of opening the street and securing a right of-way.

He emphasized the need of a national health policy. If we are to have a 100 per cent efficient Canada we must have a grade "A" healthy nation of citizens, declared the speaker. He also drew attention to the problems of immigration and emigration, and deplored the fact that such an enormous number of our best young men emigrated to the states. Manson, who preached at both services, addressed a social gathering of young people at the close of the evening services. In his talk, he said that the young people of Canada must deepen their lives as well as broaden it. To bring this about it was necessary that they do more thinking and read good literature.

MRS. JOSEPH GIBSON OF INGERSOLL DIES

Wife of Postmaster Succumbs to Attack of Paralysis.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ingersoll, Oct. 31.-Mrs. Gibson, wife of Postmaster Joseph Gibson, died this morning at the family residence, Wellington street south. Her illness, due to a stroke of paralysis, was of only ten days' duration, and her death came as a shock to citizens as a whole, from the time she was stricken her condition had been serious and so slight had been the improvement at intervals that very little hope of recovery had been en-tertained. She took a serious turn Sat-little hope of recovery had been entertained. She took a serious turn Saturday night, and the end came early this morning.

Mrs. Gibson, whose maiden name was Jennette Buchanan, was born in Woodstock, March 17, 1842. A charming personality won her the love and affection of all with whom she came in contact. She seemingly grew old mentally and physically and her broad sympathies, kindly manner and buoyancy of spirit exerted a wonderful influence in the home and in the community, from their boyhood days she caught the spirit of her six sons, and no chum was ever so close to them. She was a devout member of the Methodist Church and a valued member of the Ladies' Aid, the W. C. T. U., and during the war of the Ingersoll Red Cross Society. Besides her husband, she is survived by one daughter, Miss Maude, at home, and six sons, as follows: Edwin, Aylmer, Samuel, deputy postmaster, Ingersoll; William, Chicago; Lieut.-Col. Thomas, Carl and J. Garfield of Toronto.

At the earnest request of the Canadian Red Cross, Mr. Herbert Hoover, director-general of relief for Europe on behalf of the Allied nations, came to Canada to launch the appeal on behalf of the British Empire War Relief Fund. That fund is being raised throughout the British Empire to combat disease and distress in Europe. The Canadian Red Cross, through all its provincial divisions, will make the appropriate applications.

vincial divisions, will make the appeal in armistice week.

Mr. Hoover, who is recognized as the best authority in the world upon European conditions, spoke with the quiet conviction of one whose message was sufficient in itself. In commencing he said he felt some embarrassment lest his presence in Canada might be misinterpreted as urging the Canadian people to further sacrifice. He said he realized that the sacrifice of the Canadian people, individual by individual, had been far in excess of that of his own people, but he said he knew that the charity of the Canadian heart was inexhaustible, and he felt there would be no resentment there would be no resentment against his coming to discuss with them the problem that confronts the western hemisphere towards the hungry children in its track, and upon their well-being must depend the upbuilding of Europe. There are literally millions of children in these countries sunk so low in desti-tution that they cannot be absorbed. They must receive extraordinary as-

They must receive extraordinary assistance.

*$3 Saves a Child.

"We have found by experience that the cost of caring for a waif child is approximately $3 a month; that of the supplies that are required by imports about $1 is needed, and therefore the dollar that we provide together with local support practically preserves the life of one child. It is not much of a sum—$1 per month per child—and although the calls may be very considerable upon your people and upon ours, we still have something after we have cared for our children and our neighbor's children.

A World Problem.

"Our present problem over the forthcoming winter appears to be about 3,500,000 to 4,000,000 children. We feel that if we could find among all the nations $4,000,000 per month, we could solve this problem. Surely it is not much for a whole world to find. It is a heavy burden for charity, but it is so appealing in its necessity that I have no doubt that charity will find it. These children are the obligation of every man and woman in the western hemisphere, for we have suffered less, but beyond this they are a charge on the heart of the entire world. If we are to preserve the foundations for the future stability of Europe, if we are to keep open the love for humanity, our duty is clear before us to keep open the love for humanity, our duty is clear before us

CONTROVERSY OVER AGRICULTURAL REP.

Warden and Reeve of Perth County Differ Over Appointment.

Stratford, Oct. 29.—G. H. Gustar of the Ontario Division of the Navy League is making an effort to revive the local branch. Stratford, he says, has fallen sadly behind in its navy league efforts. The refusal of the department of agriculture to place the course of lectures in agriculture at the disposal of Perth farmers because there is no county representative of agriculture, has resulted in a controversy over the appointment of such an official. Warden J. M. McCallum declares that the county is losing each year by not having such an official, while Reeve Armstrong of Ellice, who is a leader of those opposed to the idea, claims that such officials are not doing much good work in other counties. "I don't want one," he said.

In Alberta there are three school rooms (i. e. three teachers) in the country to one in the city. In Saskatchewan there are four to one, in Manitoba there are 2,000 country school teachers to 1,500 city teachers. In Ontario the number of teachers in towns and cities is more than twice that of teachers in the country.

Not only this, however, in the foreign districts of Alberta there are 70 or 80 children in each school section. In the English-speaking districts the attendance is about one-half that number. In many of the country schools of Ontario so few children attend that we are forced to close or consolidate the schools.

It is generally recognized that a very sick man cannot exercise good judgment. It is for this reason that a sick doctor seldom attempts to treat himself. People readily make allowances for, or discount or even reject the opinions or actions of their public servants when these representatives are known to be seriously ill. But the impairment of judgment by comparatively slight illness is usually not considered though it is still true that a sound mind requires a sound body.

XLIV.—Selling Clothes

A large woman with a florid countenance came forward, smiling suavely.

"Good morning, miss. What can I do for you?"

I deposited my bundle on the counter.

"I—I wanted to sell you something. Just a few odd things—" I was as bashful as a schoolgiri. I did not like my mission.

She opened the parcel with long-practiced fingers. The suave smile did not leave her face as she examined the contents.

"H"m. Georgette gown. Worn quite a lot, isn't it? Stuff rather thin, Quite pretty. Let's see what this is. She jerked the pink blouse into view. She jerked the pink blouse into view. "Crepe-de-chine. A bit faded. Style "Crepe-de-chine."

"How we man dean the stage!" I told myself, annoyed at my carelessness.

So I returned to my hotel, brushed out my hair, washed my face, powdered it' carefully, added a touch of rouge on each cheek, fixed my hat at the newest angle, and set forth with gourage toward a Jewish agency.

I assumed a pert manner I was far from feeling. For pertness pays, when to be hunting in things theatrical. The timid, shrinking violet literally goes to the wall.

Therefore I swept into the waiting circle at the agency, like the Queen of Sheba, demanded to see the head of the concern, and actually found myself within The Presence in a short space of time.

He was small and broad and fat and ugly, with an oily countenance, and createst my stage. He was small and broad and lat and ugly, with an oily countenance, and pudgy hands whereon glittered several jeweled rings.

A large cigar rolled from one corner of his loose mouth to the other.

He sat back in his swivel chair, and eyes my points as though I were a race-horse.

This did not disconcert me. I had expected it expected it.

"Play principal boy, eh? Got a good figger, m'dear! Nice legs, and all that sort of thing." He leered unpleasantly at me. "What about your voice, eh sort of thing." He leered unpleasantly at me. "What about your voice, eh "Light soprano."
"Humph! Not strong?"
"Sufficiently. And quite well trained. He nodded, sucking the end of the black cigar in a ruminative fashion.
Then he said:
"Any experience?"

Any experience The way experience?

It was my turn to nod.

"I've played before. Off and on, for a couple of years." I did not add that my performances had been merely amateur. And I was thankful that he made no further inquiries on that I knew.

Near Herald Square I saw a girl who

Like most romantic girls, the stage attracted me. It seemed so easy to sing a few simple little songs, dance airly and look bewitching.

And so I hied me to the agents.

I shook my head.
"Impossible!"
Nothing would make me give way to this Shylock. I stretched out my hand, this Shylock. I stretched out my hand, and swept the things together, jerking the paper round them. In half a minute I had left the shop.

The next place was less successful, and the next, and next.
I was growing tired, too. Yes—and discouraged.

I was growing the fashionable on tour! That meant I couldn't save a penny! Also, I was nearing the fashionable neighborhoods. I did not want to enter haunts where I might meet people that knew.

A miserable nifteen dollars a week—on tour! That meant I couldn't save a penn!

And my heart sank down—down—down!

I dashed up a side street to avoid recognition.

At last I found a clothes-shop where the dealer offered me the princely sum of twelve and a half dollars.

And I accepted it. I was so tired that I would have accepted anything to get rid of my parcel.

"Now I must decide on a career," I told myself.

Like most romantic girls, the stage attracted me. It seemed so easy to sing a few simple little songs, dances. I were but little happy if I could Around the Grate Fire.

M.-O. Goes On Record As Opposed To Lasker Plan - Split Schedule Discussed, But No Action Taken - Battle Creek Promise Big Stadium For Next Season.

DETROIT. Oct. 31.—Going on record at the directors' meeting here today as opposed to the Lasker plan for re-organization of baseball, the Michigan-Ontario League decided to operate next season without any change of the cirsident George H. Maines presentof his annual report, after conferring with President Ban Johnson of the american League, President Heydler of the National League, and other asseball dignitaries at Chicago. The baseball dignitaries at Chicago. The Mint League occupies a very prominent place in minor league circles, and was the first organization to offer to the National Association its assistance in the effort to rehabilitate the game, other than the proposed Lasker plan. The matter of splitting the schedule next season was briefly discussed and will be taken up again in January. It is proposed to give the winning team of each half $1,000 of league funds. Alternative plans were discussed.

The Battle Creek Club announced that it is prepared to build a modern stadium. Jacob Weick-genant informed the directors that the Battle Creek Club will dispose of its franchise if the league advocates such action. There is no inclination to oust this club, but its management was given permission to negotiate with several prospective buyers before the annual meeting in January. The Michigan members of the circuit asked for a showdown as to the attitude of Ontario clubs regarding continuance of the league as an intrenational circuit. The Michiganders have been given to understand by a section of the Ontario press that the continuance of the relationship existing since the organization of the league was no longer desired. The Ontario section assured the Michigan men that they were desirous of proceeding as in 1919 and 1920. President Geo. H. Maines, Judge Clement, president of the Saginaw Club, and Secretary-Treasurer Frederick Wilson will represent the league at the annual meeting of the National Association in Kansas City, Nov. 8, 9 and 10.

PETROLEA, Oct. 31.—Art. Wilson and his green and white-stockinged crew were trimmed in their own backyard this afternoon, when Harding and Company of Sarnia, grabbing off a bucky touchdown in the first quarter, held their lead throughout. With the score standing 11 to 1 against them the Hard Oils staged a furious attack in the final period and brought the final score 11 to 9 in the fastest game that has been played in the Western Ontario district for years. Both teams were about as evenly matched as one could wish for, though Wilson backed the winners up the Wilson backed the winners up the field in the punting exchanges. Backs Good.

Both back divisions pulled off some pretty long passing plays, and in the first quarter Petrolea gained almost 70 yards on a series of on-side kicks. Barnes, scooping up a sose ball, went over the line for Sarnia's first touchdown. Harding converted over the line for Sarnia's first touch-down. Harding converted. Harding also dropped a pretty one between the bars, kicked out in touch and forced Wilson to rouge. Petrolea scored their points when Currie went around the end for 15 yards for a touchdown, a convert by Wilson, who booted one to the deadline and forced Sarnia to rouge twice. Harding, Parrott and Fitzgibbons starred for Sarnia, with rouge twice. Harding, Parrott and Fitzgibbons starred for Sarnia, with Wilson, Currie, F. Varsity's victory Saturday gives Western another chance for group honors, as it makes a loud tie of the Intercollegiate group. Varsity's victory was generally expected by Western men, and especially by Coach Brock, although considering that St. Mikes held Western here to a tie and beat them badly in Toronto after Western had handed out a severe whaling to the Blue and White, the dope didn't look any too good. However, it happened and it will certainly add zest to the clash here next Saturday when Varsity appears here for the first time this season. appears here for the first time this season.

This week will see the Western grid crew put through a real gruelling. They'll be told that they've got to beat the Blue and White, and the fact that it's true shouldn't take any of the force away from the remark. TORONTO, Oct. 30.—Varsity II. N. O. H. L. Still Keeps O. H. A.

created a three-cornered tie in the Intermediate Intercollegiate Union by winning from St. Michaels at Varsity Stadium Saturday morning, 16-3. St. Michael's lilliputians were no match for the Varsity giants and were meeting of the Northern Ontario outplayed both on the line and backoutplayed, both on the line and backfield. St. Mikes were same enough, but decided to remain in affiliation with it was just another case of a good "little team" against a good "big team." To make matters worse, St. Mikes hadn't anything that looked like a kicker, while Snyder for Varsity looked like a million dollars. He booted them high and far with a twist to the ball that made it hard to handle. Snyder and Patterson were hard to bring down, and pulled off several long runs. Munro was the bast ground gainer, for St. Mikes, hitting the heavy Varsity line for big gains. Labelle and Sheehy did the back field werk, but their catching was none too good.

The 2,981 total rolled up by the former Western Ontario League team against St. Thomas last week constituted a record for local alleys. In the last two games, the locals rolled 1,001 and 1,017, and to George Karrys, the local captain, went the high score of the might at 688.

This rolling on Friday night brought and finished a week of better scores all down through the leagues. Every circuit is fast settling down to a good roll the bast ground gainer, for St. Mikes, hitting the heavy Varsity line for big gains. Labelle and Sheehy did the back field werk, but their catching was none too good.

16--O Shows It Was Practice Game For Montrealers, Who Try New Plays.

MONTREAL, Oct. 31.—McGill defeated Queens in an Intercollegiate Rugby Union match yesterday by 16 to 0. The game was almost a walkover for McGill, who regarded it largely as a practice game in which Coach Shaughnessy could rehearse a few new trick plays and give his reserves a try out. Queens tried hard all the time, but were easily out-manoeuvred at every stage. While as a whole the McGill team showed pronounced superiority, the best individual exhibition of the afternoon was given by McKelvey of the Presbyterian combination. He played for the most part on Queens wing line, and frequently plunged and ran round the ends for good gains.

30.—Esperanto, the American schooner, demonstrated her superiority in every point of sailing in moderate weather over the Canadian challenger Delawana by defeating her by upwards of 20 minutes in the first race for the instructional schooner race here today. The second race will be sailed Monday, but it is freely admitted by all who followed today's contest that the Canadian boat will have but little show unless distinctly different weather conditions prevail.

At 11:50 both boats were still heading seaward on starboard tack, and were estimated to be six miles to lee of inner automatic buoy. Range-finders on Tyrian placed Esperanto a mile to windward and Delawana a half-mile further on the tack. There was quite a lop, and the Canadian schooner seemed to ride it more easily than her rival, which appeared to be somewhat down by the head.

At 12:25 the Delawana came about and headed for the inner automatic buoy, estimated to be seven miles to windward. Esperanto still kept to her starboard tack, and was expected to come about at any minute. On the long tack the vessel sailed fully ten miles to sea from the eastern shore, so watchers in the committee boat said, from steamer Tyrian, which was holding a straight course for the inner automatic buoy.

4 Buttons adds Another Year of Service from Stanfield's Adjustable Sleepers and Combinations.

Because of its remarkable quality, Stanfield's Underwear for men, women and children has always been good for an extra year of wear. But the children were growing out of Stanfield's Combinations long before they were wearing their way out of them. So we designed Stanfield's ADJUSTABLE Combinations and Sleepers, that grow with the children and always fit.

Four buttons, sewed to vertical tapes on the waist, hold upper and lower parts snugly together as one garment. Simply moving these buttons down, little by little, adjusts the garment to allow for at least two years' average growth, and to fit comfortably all the time. Made in 3 sizes : 2 to 4 years— 4 to 6 years— and 6 to 8 years.

McGruther, who was riding a bicycle beside a moving van, in which he was transferring his household effects from Waterloo to Lancaster street, Kitchener, was knocked down from behind by a motor car driven by Russel Hahn of Heidelberg. Hahn is being held on a charge of manslaughter.

The second accident was the most unusual and tragic, Mrs. Edward Ludwig and her husband were knocked down from behind, when a riderless motorcycle, with a side car, jumped from the pavement onto the sidewalk, crashing into the couple killing Mrs. Ludwig almost instantaneously and seriously injuring her husband.

The cause of the accident was a crash between two motorcycles about a block east of where the other fatality occurred. William Schaefer, who was riding the motorcycle which killed Mrs. Ludwig, was knocked from his machine by a motorcycle driven by Walter Heiser, as a result of the latter trying to pass Schaefer's machine and crashing into it as he was about to pass. Schaefer was thrown from his machine and the motorcycle going at high speed continued riderless, dashing west on King street for about 300 yards, when it leaped suddenly to the sidewalk, bowling over Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig. The cycle kept on its wild career along the sidewalk and was finally stopped, when it crashed into the new office building of the Kaufman Rubber Company at present under construction.

YOUNG WINGHAM MAN MISSING SINCE THURSDAY

wingham, Oct. 31.—Considerable mystery surrounds the disappearance from his home at Lower Wingham of Joe Doig, a young married man, aged 30. About 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon he called at the office of a local physical clan, but did not wait to see the doctor, but nothing has been seen or heard of him since, and his wife and friends are much worried over his disappearance. He is described as: Age 30 years, height about 5 feet 6 inches, weight about 5 feet 6 inches, weight about 140 lbs, fair complexion, blue eyes, light moustache. The coffin, draped with an Irish Republican flag, rested on a catafalque covered with a pail and a skull and crossbones on either side, such as is used at the obsequies of high churchmen.

The cathedral was filled and thousands of persons were massed in the adjacent streets. As the clergy were filing away from the graveside after the body had been lowered, six men, who were admitted within the circle formed by the vounteers, took positions over the grave and fired a revolver salute of three volleys and silently withdrews.

When repeating his Vancouver statement with regard to soldiers placed on the land, the premier was interrupted, and he remarked that some of the soldiers had succeeded better than his critics.

Its popularity was naturally with the Puritans and for that reason it was scarcely a favorite in England during the days when that rigorous sect was regarded with hatred and contempt. The Scotch were more fond of Hope than the English in early days, and there are innumerable instances of the name in the literature and ballad lore of that nation. It was not sufficiently picturesque to appeal to the colorful Irish ear, so Hope's only other migration was toward America, where she found a hearty welcome.

Over 900 Thefts.

More than 900 thefts of liquor have been reported to the border police during the last eight months. At first the thefts were such that their genuineness was often questioned, but during the last two months no small private stock of liquor has been safe, the police say. The majority of thefts in the last two months have been genuine, and reduced to the thieves, the officers say.

THE ROYAL ENGLISH OPERA COM-PANY PRESENTS "THE MIKADO" AT THE GRAND TONIGHT.

AT THE GRAND TONIGHT.

The Royal English Opera Company will open its four-day engagement in London at the Grand tonight, with the famous Gilbert and Sullivan opera, "The Mikado," as the initial offering. The Hamilton Spectator in reviewing the performance in Hamilton recently says: "Very enjoyable indeed was the performance of The Mikado, given at the Grand last evening by the Royal English Opera Company. This particular opera of the Gilbert and Sullivan ring is a perennial favorite, and its familiar music never loses its power to charm. The company that presented The Mikado' was a capable one, the cast including several of the favorites who were in the Gallo Company last year, including petite Hana Shimozumi, Jefferson De Angelis, J. Humbird Duffy, Miss Marie Morgan, Sam A. Burton and Edward Quinn. Max Bendix conducted the augmented orchestra, the playing of which was not the least stractive Edward Quinn. Max Bendix conducted the augmented orchestra, the playing of which was not the least attractive feature of an admirable performance." Tomorrow night the company will offer "The Chimes of Normandy."

JACK O'LANTERN" COMES TO THE GRAND NEXT FRIDAY AND SAT-URDAY WITH SATURDAY MAT-INEE.

Charles Dillingham will present his most pretentious musical comedy, "Jack O'Lantern," with Doyle and Dixon and a supporting company of one hundred at the Grand Opera House Friday and Saturday, Nov. 5 and 6, with popular Saturday matinee at 2:15 p.m.

"Jack O'Lantern," which ran for one solid year at the Globe Theatre, New York, Mr. Dillingham's own Broadway playhouse, was written by Anne Caldwell and R. H. Burnside, with music by Ivan Caryll, three of the most conspicuous names associated with the present theatre in this country. Mr. Burnside, director-general of the New York Hippodrome, staged the performance. The names associated with this offer ng—Dillingham, Caldwell, Burnside and Caryll—guarantee playgoers of this city an entertainment combining all the Caryll—guarantee playgoers of this city an entertainment combining all the elements of modern stagecraft, done with the indifference to financial cost so apparent in all the Dillingham productions, and yet with the good taste and judgment of men and women of fined sensibilities. For fifteen years Dillingham and his collaborators have produced the best musical comedies of their day and time, and this play is said to excel in every essential any other play ever turned out by that office.

Messrs. Doyle and Dixon, the principals, have been playing under the Dillingham banner for the last four or five years. Their last engagement was in "The Canary," a very popular success of last season. The management has given the comedians and unique dancers a supporting company that is both numerous and imposing in the realm of stardom in the theatre. Bessie Franklin, Joseph Robinson, Marie Callahan, Charles Silber, Ethel Laurence, Frank Herbert, Mark Freeman, Charles George, Lucie Lorraine, Elve Magnus, Eilleen Christie and Tom Brown's clown band are some of the other principals, who will interpret parts in "Jack O'Lantern." Seat sale opens tomorrow, 2 a.m. Mail orders now.

THE WANDERER" COMES TO THE GRAND NEXT MONDAY FOR THREE DAYS. At the Grand Opera House, Monday Tuesday and Wednesday, November 8, 9 and 10, the ancient parable of the Prodigal Son will form the theme of a Biblical play of wide and popular appeal. But this time the Prodigal will be found the central figure in one of cate the senses by a vivid and most lavish investiture of scenery and costumes.

David Belasco who staged "The Wanderer," gave wide play to his rich imagination and artistry in this second act which for shear magnificance and of the week.

agination and artistry in this second act which for sheer magnificence and bewildering array of all the feminine charms that have led man to his destruction since time began, has never had a parallel in the history of American theatricals. Prominent in the original cast to be seen here are Frederick Lewis, Mabel Griffith, Dwight Dana, Charlotte Wynters, Fred Mosley, Charles Cline, Margaret Bryn, John Dougherty and others. A special carload of sheep, goats and dogs will be a big feature. Seat sale Thursday next. Mail orders now.

THE LONDON ADVERTISER, LONDON, ONTARIO, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1920.

Discussion At Meeting Saturday Revealed Attempt of Gas Company To Compel Payment of Higher Prices For Natural Gas Despite Agreements Already in Effect— Possibility of New Agree ment Killed by Company's Threat, Declared One Speaker.

In answer to an inquiry point blank from one of the villagers whether the gas would be shut off Monday, Mr. Estlin declared that it would not. Mr. Bartlett wanted a time limit set in which the committee of villagers and disclaim, trying to make out that all the existing agreements relative to the situation were made between the municipalities and Mr. Barons of the Belmont Gas-Light Company, which is the distributing company.

Scraps of Paper?

With apparently some point the municipalities contend that if what they regarded as perfectly good and binding agreements can be treated as "scraps of paper," then the agreement under which the Southern Gas Company runs its mains through Middlesex and Elgin Counties should also be treated as a "scrap of paper," and the municipalities could at least force the complex to the villagers.

"I think you are perfectly right," when the meeting began to settle down to facts and figures, Mr. Sweet asked whether the company could be expected to supply gas at less than the franchise rate, which is 45 cents. General Discussion.

Facts brought out in the conference appeared to be that the Southern Ontario Gas Company had been selling gas at 25 cents to Mr. Barons, who had been retailing it at 35 cents and 45 cents, summer and winter prices respectively, although his contract or agreement entitled him to charge 5 agreement entitled him to charge 5 cents more. These were net prices, counting the discount for payment before certain dates. The gross prices vere 5 cents more.

cents.

Trustee John Dawes of Belmont Village then pointedly asked if the gas company could carry it 100 miles for 25 cents, why should it insist upon Mr. Barons charging 30 cents to carry it only five miles further. This question was not answered.

Agreed Under Threat.

"They are agreeing to pay it under threat of having it cut off," said Mr. Shaw.

Commissioner Estlin, suggesting the desirability of all parties getting together and arriving at an amicable agreement, Mr. Shaw declared that this might have at one time been possible, but the threat of the gas company to cut off the supply at the edge of winter unless the consumers would pay but the consumers into a hostile mood. The same thing was being done in the village of Dorchester. The gas company had men going around and irightening the women by telling them that the gas would be shut off unless they paid the higher rates.

"We feel that our agreement should hold good," said W. H. Faulds. "If it won't, we should know, so that we will The gas company had dictated to Mr. Based on the committee well keep in touch won't, we should know, so that we will The gas company had dictated to Mr. Based on the committee well keep in touch with Many Agreements, as police village, the agreements offecting the case are entered into by the three townships of Westminster.
