What Became of Italian Law and Order League,

Which Was to Stop Italians Carrying Weapons?

Mr. P. L. Scarrone Suggests a Remedy For the Evil.

The shooting affair, which occurred last Monday night, resulting in Joe Loretto, now in jail, being charged with shooting with intent, has again aroused the oft-repeated question, "Do most of the foreigners in the city carry concealed weapons?"

At the time the Greco brothers were in jail, Chief Justice Sir William Mulock wrote to Mr. P. L. Scarrone, who, at that time was the court interpreter, asking him to use his efforts to establish a society among the Italians, for the propagation of law and order, and to discourage the carrying of weapons.

Some prominent citizens addressed the meetings in English, which was interpreted to them by Mr. Scarrone.

Mr. Scarrone is of the opinion that there is a solution to the dangerous weapons problem. His idea is that the Canadian Government or the city should appoint an intelligent English-speaking Italian, who immediately on the arrival of foreigners in the city, should secure a report and at once have them instructed in the requirements of Canadian law, particularly with regard to the carrying of weapons of any kind.

Speaking of the Sicilians, Mr. Scarrone said that in Sicily, every man carries a revolver or knife and they would not think of going out for a few minutes' walk without being armed.

Latest Grocers' Picnic Idea Meets With Favor.

The suggestion made by President Hoodless, of the Greater Hamilton Association, that the grocers' picnic be held alternately in Hamilton, London and Brantford, meets with the approval of the officers of the Forest City Association.

Edward J. Ryan, president, discussing the proposition, said: "The idea is a good one, and meets with my approval. I will certainly agree to a proposition that will bring such a number of visitors to the city once in three years. We will do our part if the others will do theirs. I will get in touch with the promoter, and then I will bring it before the association. I think the idea is all right."

Purse Presented to Rev. A. B. Higginson by Ascension.

A purse containing $265 was presented to Rev. A. B. Higginson yesterday, being a testimonial from his many friends of the Church of the Ascension on his leaving the parish, to assume the more important duties of rector of Georgetown.

The church wardens, Messrs. James Henderson and Fred Smye, along with Messrs. H. E. McLaren, Alfred Powis, Adam Brown and the rector, Rev. Canon Wade, went to Mr. Higginson's residence, Charlton avenue in the afternoon, taking Mr. Higginson completely by surprise.

Mr. Higginson, in replying, said he was completely surprised and greatly touched by their kindness to him and his wife and for the most generous gift. He would never forget the happy days he had spent in the parish and returned his heartfelt thanks for their good wishes.

FOR BENEFIT OF FRUIT MEN

And Accommodation of the Beach Residents.

Radial Company Replies to the City's Notification

And Asks That the City Reconsider Its Decision.

Replying to the notice served by Mayor McLaren this week on the Radial Railway Company, ordering it to stop running freight cars on King street east, Traction Manager Coleman today wrote a letter to Acting Mayor Allan, explaining the situation, and asking that the city reconsider its decision.

The letter from Mr. Coleman is as follows: "We are in receipt of your letter of the 16th inst., with regard to running of freight cars, and would say that we agree with you that this company has no right to carry freight or run freight cars on King street east. The reason for this has been done in the past are because the company has wished to accommodate the thousands of residents of the city of Hamilton who are living at the Beach, and as far as carrying fruit is concerned, because it desires to do everything possible to encourage the fruit industry in and around Hamilton. We wish to say, however, that the carriage of fruit is of no particular value or profit to us, and were this the only question involved, the company would be benefited if the practice was discontinued."

"For the present accommodation of our Beach patrons we could use a passenger car from which the seats had been removed to carry the package freight to and from Burlington and the Beach, and regarding the matter of fruit expressed on this road to Wagstaffs, Winona, and other factories, we would be pleased to receive any suggestions, which, if adopted, would protect the interests of the citizens of Hamilton, and, at the same time not hamper this important industry. In consideration of these interests, we respectfully ask you to reconsider your notification and, if after reconsidering the same you still desire us not to carry the freight and freight cars over King street east, we will, of course, desist. Meanwhile, impending your final decision, we trust we may be allowed to carry these commodities over the King street east route."

THE MAN IN OVERALLS

That letter of Mr. Lancelley touched a sympathetic chord in the hearts of most Times readers last evening.

Are we asked to help provide a public park at the Beach for the people of Ontario?

T. J. Stewart as Mayor of Hamilton again! More trouble, more quarrelling, more hot water, and peace and quietness gone. Surely not.

Where are all the mad dogs coming from? Ancaster and Binbrook? So the hotel men put up the dough for those weekly Con. Club hops, did they? Why didn't they inform the police?

Now if Hamilton had a poor farm it could set a lot of those tramps to work.

Perhaps Jim Livingston imagines that we pay our chauffeur with the money we steal out of the baby's bank.

Still, I have an idea that Mayor McLaren is good for another term, even if some of the grafters feel sore.

You have only to read Mr. Sealey's speech to the fruit growers to find out that he is a well posted man.

"Where did the money come from?" That's easy. The hotel men had to hand it out. Was this done with President John Milne's connivance?

With $2,500 a year as member for West Hamilton and $2,000 as Mayor of Hamilton, Mr. T. J. Stewart would need two carriages in which to drive around. Then what is it? General manager of the Hydro-Electric Commission with $5,000 a year in sight that he is after?

In granting liquor licenses, do the commissioners take into consideration the amount the hotel men give up for campaign and other purposes? What inducements do the ward heeled offer them in lieu of the subscriptions they pay over? These are questions the public would like answered, Mr. Callaghan.

Perhaps Col. Hendrie wouldn't object to a controllership. Then Mr. Barker and Mr. Stuehlmoe might be induced to take something too. There's no use in letting Mr. Stewart run off with everything.

But the Grimby Independent is not so hanged independent that it won't take a drink.

The hotel men must be easy to let a gang like that bleed them. Dozens of men have been sent down for less than that. Blackmail pure and simple.

This white slavery business must be stamped out in Hamilton. Use the lash.

DOESN'T LOOK THE PART.

Irvine's Criminal Record Does Not Show In Face.

John Street of Guelph Sent Down For 18 Months.

Another Round Up, But Alleged Vags Fared Well.

Whitey Irving, with a 30-year criminal record, and some very marked lines about his face, yet rather intelligent looking, and not one who would be taken for a hardened criminal, appeared in the dock at Magistrate Jell's court this morning, charged with assault and attempted robbery, and was remanded for a week, without being arraigned or asked to plead.

Stephen Lotich, 408 Hughson street north, while in a state of semi-drunkenness last night, ran at Mrs. Catharine Kotarin, his boarding lady, with a knife, she said. He complained about the tea in his can first, and said it was only water; then threatened her, and afterwards chased her out of the room with a knife that he was using at his meal. Prisoner said he remembered nothing of the matter.

After the evidence his worship was of the opinion that there was not sufficient evidence to prove he had any intention to stab, so he was discharged.

For ill treating his horse Hugh Larder, 152 Emerald street north, was fined $10. For stealing a watch and chain from a man at Mountain View Park last Saturday Joseph Street, of Guelph, goes to the Central Prison for eighteen months. The case was reported in the Times last Monday, but Street got his sentence this morning at police court.

Early last evening P. C's, Brown and Ince were called to 190 Wellington street north, as there were cries of "Murder!" there. They reported that it was merely Maurice Udvin, under the influence of spirits, and beating his wife as a pastime. He appeared this morning for being drunk, and pleaded not guilty. He said his wife beat him with a broom handle.

"She is insane, and more to be pitied than blamed," said Udvin. "A man ought to be an acrobat to dodge her blows." Udvin then informed his worship that in a recent altercation she inflicted such a wound on his forehead that Dr. Anderson sewed something less than fifty stitches in. It was a tomato sauce bottle, said William.

"Serve you right," chipped in Chief Smith.

Mrs. Udvin, a superior looking woman, when she gave evidence soon dispelled the idea of insanity, and informed his worship that hubby was already on the (Continued on Page 12.)

Opera House Fire.

Brantford, Ont., Aug. 20.—Fire broke out at 7 o'clock this morning in upper part of the stage of the Grand Opera House here and threatened to prove a serious conflagration. The flames spread quickly to the scenery, which was destroyed. When the fire department arrived a hot blaze was in progress, but the fire was confined to the stage, which was gutted. The main body of the house was untouched. The damage will be about $1,000, covered by insurance. The origin is unknown.

MOSTLY ALL CARRY ARMS.

Railroad Yardmen and Brakemen Protection Against Tramps.

The Grievous revolver incident in the Police Court yesterday revealed the fact that almost all railroad yardmen, and many brakemen carry revolvers. Their object is evidently to protect themselves against tramps, who frequent the yards, many of whom are dangerous characters, if the slightest provocation is given them, and they consider it a provocation to be told to leave the railroad property.

The tramps infest the yards and steal whatever they can from the cars, and for convenience as well. During the summer months the number of hoboes is very large, and of recent years has increased alarmingly in spite of the stringent measures adopted to suppress them. The audacity of many of them is astounding, and as they go in pairs or bunches, the train crews are powerless to act, as the tramps themselves are quite often armed with loaded revolvers. Hamilton is a mecca for the itinerant on account of being so near the border. They do not alight in the station yard, but some distance outside, where the trains are compelled to slow down.

The magistrate, yesterday, expressed himself strongly about the practice of carrying loaded weapons, stating that it is contrary to law, and those who do so are liable to prosecution.

The vags that have been infesting the East Flamboro district are mostly inveterate railroad hoboes.

WHO IS HE?

Hamilton Man Turned Over to Canadian Police at Detroit.

Windsor, Ont., Aug. 20.—After being fined in Detroit for drawing a revolver at the home of an aunt, with whom he was staying, William Parks, of Hamilton, Ont., was turned over to the Windsor police, to be sent back to Hamilton for trial on a serious charge laid by a young girl.

Parks drew a revolver during a squabble over a letter from Hamilton, which he accused his aunt of opening. The letter contained the information that Parks is wanted by the Hamilton police.

The local police stated this afternoon that they had no word of the Detroit arrest, and are not looking for anybody named William Parks.

At the Church of the Ascension the marriage was solemnized of Miss Ethel May, second daughter of the late J. A. Creighton, of Brussels, and Mr. C. C. Sherriff, of Winnipeg. Canon Wade officiated. The bride was beautifully gowned in mauve silk and looked charming. The happy couple left on the 5.40 train for their future home in Winnipeg.

Mr. Thomas Wilson, who went to Pittsburg on Sunday to attend the funeral of his brother-in-law, Mr. Wm. Bailey, formerly of this city, returned home last evening.

A quiet wedding took place at All Saints' Church, Niagara Falls South, on Saturday, August 14th, when Adelaide Louise, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Moss Ingersoll Olmstead, was married to Mr. Frederick Arthur Bickford, second son of the late Mr. Henry Bickford, of Dundas. The Rev. Rural Dean Bevan, rector, performed the ceremony. The bride was given away by her father, the bridesmaid being Miss Lottie Bickford, sister of the bridegroom, while Mr. F. McMillan, of Toronto, was best man. The guests numbered the immediate relatives and friends of both parties; only, and the Messrs. Roginald and Alfred Olmstead, nephews of the bride, were the ushers. Mr. and Mrs. Bickford left for a trip to the Thousand Islands, Montreal and Quebec, and on their return they will go to Gowanda, where they will reside for the present.

STAMP OUT THE DISEASE.

May Use New Smallpox Hospital For Scarlet Fever.

Special Committee Begins Work On Water Rates.

Rubber in Water Pipes Prevents Electrolysis.

In an effort to check the scarlet fever epidemic before the re-opening of the schools next month it is likely that the new smallpox hospital in West Hamilton will be thrown open for scarlet fever cases, which it is impossible to accommodate at the City Hospital on account of the crowded condition of the fever wards there. Dr. Roberts, Medical Health Officer, made the suggestion to Mayor McLaren before his Worship went away and members of the Board of Health think well of it. Fully a dozen new cases have been reported in the city this week and, as they are in the far east end, the doctor believes the disease is spreading from Crown Point. While there is no need for alarm Dr. Roberts says that if the epidemic continues unabated in that section it may be necessary to close Barton street school, although he would not think of advising that with the present number of cases.

The Fire and Water sub-committee, which is dealing with the revision of the waterworks by-law, decided, last night, that it was such a big question that it would be best to meet once a week until it was taken up clause by clause. The session last night was merely preliminary. Ald. Morris presided. The other members of the committee are Ald. Lees and Mills, all temperance men, so that it is not likely the liquor interests, which are charged with having a hand in blocking the by-law in the past, will have much weight to bring to bear on the City Engineer's department showing that big users get water as low as 2 cents a thousand gallons, while householders pay as high as 60 cents a thousand was presented and Ald. Morris said it was certainly time something was done to correct this unjust discrimination. Mr. Macallum pointed out that the per capita consumption during the very hot weather was about 120 gallons while ordinarily it should amount to about 30 gallons. The ratepayers pay on the basis of 120 gallons when it should be only 30.

City Engineer Macallum is well pleased with the success of the experiment conducted by covering the water pipe on Birge street, where much trouble has been caused by electrolysis, with rubber tubing. He had a sample of the pipe in his office today. The part that was not covered was badly pitted while the part that was covered was as good as the day it was put in the ground. The engineer does not think there will be so much trouble in that vicinity now that the Street Railway Company has its new tracks down.

The city is being urged to continue Charlton avenue through from Wellington street. Years ago when the city was trying to provide work for unemployed men it placed a gang at work grading this road allowance. Mr. Macallum drove over it yesterday. He is not very enthusiastic about the idea of opening it up. It would require an immense amount of money, he says, to build retaining walls and grade it.

This afternoon representatives of Fenton Township Council will confer with a Board of Works sub-committee regarding the scheme to build a six-foot cement sidewalk on the south side of Barton street between Sherman avenue and Trolley street. It will cost $2,952. The city will likely insist on building it, and on the walk being six feet wide, although the township people would be satisfied with four feet. Some of the aldermen are opposed to the walk being built at present, as they say it is only a short time before the water works will be taken into the city, and the people will use the walk will have to pay the same as those in the city.

The Fire and Water Committee yesterday afternoon made an inspection of the three reservoirs, the high level pumping station and the new water works system on the mountain. The position of this has been ordered, and Mr. Macallum says that about all that remains to put the system in operation is to install the motor.

James Boyd was granted a permit today for a brick store on Barton street, between Sherman avenue and Lundy street, to cost $1,700.

Building permits were issued today to John Atkinson for a brick addition to 226 George street, to cost $400, and to E. J. Buscombe for a brick house on Bay street, between Main and Jackson, for Thomas Hopkins, $2,200.

QUILTINGS.

The Trade Name for Such Fabrics as Piques and Vestings.

Among the finest and most distinctive varieties of textile fabrics are the cloths technically known as "quiltings," which, however, have nothing to do with bed quilts, but include such fabrics as piques, diamonds, matings and materials for gentlemen's waistcoats.

ed as trade secrets, says the London Illustrated News. They represent the finest achievements in cotton cloth.

The extreme delicacy of their manufacture may be gathered from the fact that down even to twenty-five years ago they were still largely made on the hand looms, the work being done in the mills, but given out to the workers in their own homes. By constant experiment and after many failures a quilting loom was constructed which could be driven by power, though its production was only slightly faster than the hand loom. During the last twenty years great improvements have been introduced, especially at Bury, England, which claims to be the centre for the making of quilts.

The Aero Club of Berlin has been giving its attention to the question of guiding lights for the use of aeroplanes at night. It suggests a combination of letters in vivid colors, which will be clearly seen at a distance in the dark and which will be placed at the top of elevated structures.

Love Finds the Way

To dispel that curiosity he left the spot suddenly and quickly.

But he could not get the dreadful old house from his mind. It haunted his waking and sleeping hours, until at last he owned himself conquered by the morbid desire, and found himself walking round the square and loitering before the house again. For days he made it a practice, half unconsciously, to walk the moss-grown pavement before the house, and to ponder over the years of his early life, and gradually and surely grew on his morbid mind the longing—at last not to be resisted—to see the dismantled rooms once more.

He knew the windows by heart; they were for the most part boarded up. The green stain upon the stone steps was unbroken, the dust upon the door and the lintel showed that it had not been entered for years.

"It is empty," he said to himself, one day. "Could I enter without attracting attention?"

But even as he touched the door and found that it was fast and tightly locked, some one passed on the other side of the way, and he was compelled to acknowledge that an entry by the front would attract attention and excite suspicion. Then there flashed upon him the memory of the other entrance.

But where was that and how could he find it?

This problem to be solved gave almost a purpose to his life, and with a faint shadow of color and energy he started next morning on a tour of inspection through the courts whose mouths and outlets were that of the spot.

But time, the destroyer, had been; also, time, the builder, and many of the courts had been removed and filled up with new shops and dwelling houses. He almost despaired of finding the court he had remembered, when one day he chanced to hit upon it.

A new shop at the corner of its entrance in the great thoroughfare had altered it from him, and several alterations within it had confused it in his mind, but a small feature of it served to place its identity beyond doubt. In a dark corner of the arch, which served as its entrance, was a carved stone head, more battered than ever, and Clarence Clifford knew that he had found the court he sought.

And now another fear seized him. Should he succeed in finding the old house through which the entrance to the vaults was made?

Very carefully, and taking every precaution to avoid suspicion, he made his inquiries, and at last discovered that a poor family occupied part of a house which had only been done up and made habitable for their occupancy. Clarence Clifford knocked at the door and applied for apartments.

The woman told him that she had only a part of the place—two rooms—and that the rest was uninhabitable. "Why?" said he.

"Rats," said she, concisely. "Indeed!" he said: "how is that? Are there any?"

"Severals," she explained, "run at the back, and that's where they come from. You can see the rooms, if you like."

With an excitement that he could scarcely keep from his manner, he followed the woman into the tumble-down place.

The two rooms she occupied were furnished, the remainder were boarded up and delivered up to the rats and dust.

How to take these rooms, which he perceived instantly, without exciting suspicions, was a matter for careful consideration.

He hit upon a bright plan.

"Well," he said, "I am willing to take the rooms, had as they are, for they will just suit my purpose. I want a quiet place where I can try some experiments in chemistry, and these will suit me."

The woman nodded.

"They ain't fit to live in," she said, sullenly.

"No," he said, "I don't want to live in them."

"And the rats 'ud eat up everything as is put in here."

"They are welcome," he said, "if they can devour bottles."

He then applied a strong temptation in the shape of an offer of a high rent, and the woman, after a long and vain negotiation, closed on the bargain.

But with the discovery came a fresh impetus to the curiosity. He had decided not to make a venture that night and tried to gain some sleep, but he could not close his eyes, and fell to pacing the room. The longing to be within the old house was rapidly growing into a disease.

The following day he purchased a few bottles of chemicals and placed them in a box. In another he packed a box of matches, a small quantity of brandy, a bunch of skeleton keys and a small coil of wire rope.

Remembering the rats and determined to prepare for difficulties in the shape of barriers, he concealed a revolver and a small crowbar beneath his coat and carrying his boxes made his way to the house in the court.

To avert suspicion, and give an air of reality to his assertion he spent an hour or two in melting some metal and burning some chemicals, then lighting his dark lantern and locking the door of communication with the other part of the passage, he commenced his search for a monotonous trick-trick from the roof; at intervals a brood of rats crossed his path, and once an enormous fellow stopped and seemed inclined to dispute his passage, but the light daunted him, and Clarence Clifford, his longing unabated, went more quickly, but still carefully, on.

Presently he came to the steps which led to the iron-cased, spring-locked door of the house in the square, and at the first damp stone at the bottom of the flight he paused and wiped the perspiration, that, even in the damp atmosphere, covered his brow.

Turning his lantern on either side, he saw that here the damp had given way in places, and that the higher the stairs went the dryer were the walls.

In one or two places he fancied that the green deposit had been pushed off by passing some sleeve or a cloak, but the steps showed so little sign of late foot pressure that he felt convinced no human being had passed that way for years, perhaps since the day of the tragedy, and with a sigh he adjusted his lantern and ascended the steps.

Before him, just as he remembered it, stood the iron door, thick with rust, and without the slightest indication of the spring which alone could open it.

As he looked upon it a peculiar feeling came over him, a feeling that was like a positive assurance; he fancied that in a dream, or by some other phenomenal way, had been conveyed to him that behind that door lay his future, that the sheet of rust-eaten iron barred his way to happiness.

He sighed and almost groaned at the fantasy, remembering that his happiness was buried in the grave; but the feeling had settled down upon his heart and soul, and he would, if only to assist himself if it stood before the door.

Waking suddenly from the reverie which this fancy had produced, he set down the lantern and commenced feeling for the spring. Aware that the sense of touch is intensified if the other senses are at rest, he closed his eyes and gave up his mind to the search.

But though he went over every inch of the iron plating with careful pressure, the door stood as grimly immovable as ever.

He wiped his hand and paused to think.

Now that this obstacle had arisen his desire was whetted and augmented.

Coming what would, if only by breaking down the door, or cutting his way through it, he would enter the house.

He felt in his pockets, hoping haply to find something that would help him, but could find nothing but the keys—which, as there was no keyhole, were utterly useless—and the thin, wire rope which he had brought to assist him in his descent or ascent that might be necessary.

An idea struck him.

Taking a length of the wire, he held it tightly in each hand, and drew it along the surface of the door from the top to the bottom.

Repeating his experiment once or twice, he cleared off the thick coating of rust which had, no doubt, prevented him from discovering the spring, and set to work with his fingers once more.

This time successfully; the rust removed, the light, even pressure of the hand could not fail to find the slight indentation that marked the position of the mechanism, and with something that was like a smothered cry he stood back and gazed at the heavy door opening slowly before him.

But with the sensation of triumph came one of surprise.

The air that rushed out was rather cool and offensive, but seemed that of an ordinary, occupied dwelling house.

Could it be possible that the house was inhabited? With extreme caution he knelt down, grasped his revolver, and darkening his lantern, peered into the room.

He could see nothing for a few moments, but presently slight flicker as if from a firelight seemed to flicker on the air. His heart beat fast and he drew back.

He could not think, he could only stand with the revolver in one hand and the lantern in the other, staring and striving for some means of doing this work at the lowest possible cost, thus placing us in a position to supply these goods at manufacturers' prices.

haps; he could see the prisoner's face. Stealing on tiptoe, he passed the chair and stood in front of her.

At the moment he did so the flame fell and the room was dark.

He had left his lantern behind the screen, and rather than chance awaking her, he folded his arms and waited.

The flames flickered up again, he turned his eyes upon the sleeping face, and with a soul that froze within him, saw that it was—Lillian Melville!

Five minutes passed and he crouched by the antique grate, his eyes fixed like death upon the beautiful face, his lips apart and the breath coming through them in gasps—five minutes that seemed an eternity, and he was dreaming still!

Another minute, and when he did not awake and find himself in his solitary room, struggling consciousness came groping back and told him that he was awake and that the dawn was not ghostly but hers—Lillian Melville's, whom he had seen carried to the tomb.

He rose with his eyes still fixed upon her, and with a trembling hand wiped the cold beads of perspiration from his brow. He drew near, then fell back. He stretched out his hand and, awe-stricken, snatched it back.

He longed to touch, to awake her, and dared not for fear she should prove a ghost or some phantom of his diseased brain.

What floods of emotion swept over his soul in those moments cannot be told. (To be Continued.)

THE HAMILTON TIMES

FRIDAY, AUG. 20, 1909.

UNJUST BURDENS.

When Engineer Macallum took up the question of metering the water as a remedy for waste and to enable the city to charge for its water service on some equitable basis, a pronounced effort was made in certain quarters to discourage him in his work of reform.

Now, the Times would not deal ungenerously toward any Hamilton institution; very far from it. But justice should be regarded before generosity; and the householders have been, in the matter of water rates, treated most unjustly.

Table with 3 columns: Gals., Rate, Paid. Rows include 3,085,400, 5,000,000, 1,828,000, 1,500,000.

It has frequently been estimated—Engineer Macallum has reached somewhat a similar conclusion—that the average private householder pays 50 to 60 cents a thousand gallons for the water he uses.

of these things, or will take no notice of them, is surely a dream. Where is the leader of the Opposition? Where, we must sorrowfully ask, is the voice of the Provincial press?

The Power Validating Acts, however, go very far beyond this, for while the Act passed in 1908 merely validated the by-laws, and so might be supported by the precedents cited, this was found not to effect what was desired, and the drastic Act of 1909 was put through, again as a Government measure.

To warn the people of the danger of this sort of legislation and to guard against encroachment upon their rights and liberties is a task of the first importance. Professor Smith does well to lend his great influence and ability to this work.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

But who furnishes the real men with firewater?

Greeves will find that $25 lesson cheap if it results in making him less free with pistols.

Perhaps the Parks Board may have time to take notice of the tussock moth pest next year!

When the Beach Kings find that their exchequer cannot bear the strain of furnishing parks for the Beach, it will be soon enough to ask the city ratepayers to purchase them.

The protest against the unnecessary and unscientific mangling of shade trees is timely. The Parks Board or the Board of Works should supervise the work of pruning.

The Civic Union of New York city is now petitioning to have the Playgrounds Commission, recently appointed by Mayor McEllan, made a permanent body.

Who were the Tories "not in official positions" who went to milk the license-holders to pay for Tory blow-outs? How in the world did they ever get the idea that they would "let down" after Whitney's pledges?

The suspension of sentence on Irvine to enable him to be brought to this city for trial on the Porteous charge is hardly to be accepted as an indication that the Brantford authorities hold him blameless.

The Canadian Bank of Commerce estimate of the wheat crop of the three Prairie Provinces is 113,979,236 bushels; oats, 157,237,750; barley, 24,324,648.

Notwithstanding the great decline in the price of wheat and flour, the Toronto bakers have decided not to reduce the price of bread. This will probably give an impetus to the movement for the repeal of the McNaught legislation of last session which led to the "3c. bun."

There is a slight increase in the street railway earnings this quarter over the same quarter of last year, but we are away behind the cock-and-bull estimates of the gain which were so diligently used by T. J. Stewart and his clique to defeat the plan for a greater street railway service in Hamilton.

Attorney-General Foy was prompt to recognize the force of the contention of Mr. Geo. S. Kerr, K. C., and to admit that the Hydro Act did not empower the Commission to force arbitration of "essentials" for the transmission line; but had been privileged to read that column of argument by the learned chief justice of the Hamilton Herald in which that legal authority demonstrates to his own entire satisfaction that the contrary is the fact, he would doubtless have given a different decision. Always get a good lawyer when you need one; don't go for Toronto dubs, even if they are in office.

But history will record that both New England (New Zealand?) and Australia were ready to make it Dreadnoughts without waiting to be asked, which will be everlasting to their credit.—Spectator.

Nonsense! It will record that a few light-headed ones unauthoritatively made such a proposal, but that there was a lot of wrangling over it afterward, and the scheme fell through and the cash offer was withdrawn.

E. F. Yokum, chairman of the executive committee of the Rock Island Company, in a speech to the Farmers' Union of Oklahoma, the other day, pointed out that farm products are a better defence to the United States than warships.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean very pertinently says: "Equality of all men before the law is a worthy and possible aim of human endeavor. Equality of men in ability to perform the tasks of a particular occupation is something that has never existed and never will."

The Manitoba Government has at length discovered that the Bell Telephone Company system of management is immensely preferable to that which succeeded it in Manitoba. It is now announced that the Bell system is to be introduced, and that which the Government had adopted is to be abolished.

The question of a union of the Maritime Provinces has been receiving some attention by the Maritime Board of Trade which met yesterday at Charlotte-town, P. E. I. It is felt that such a union would place the Maritime Provinces in a more favorable position as to influence in the councils of the Dominion and by abolishing some unnecessary legislative machinery would tend to great economy.

A Toronto hotel keeper charged with selling cigars on Sunday in contravention of the Lord's Day Act, sets up the defence that the provisions of the act do not apply to hotel keepers; that he must carry on his business every day of the week, and that the sale of cigars is a part of that business.

The engineers, it was pointed out, have fortunately been able to allay the fears of farmers as to the element of risk involved in the stringing of high potential wires over barns and out-buildings, and not to now anticipate the time when they will be able to use power from the Government line to lighten farm labor.—Hamilton Herald.

The writer of that paragraph probably thought that it was practicable to climb up the nearest tower, hook a wire on to the 110,000-volt transmission line, and presto! the farmer would be ready to run his threshing machine, fanning mill, straw-cutter, churn or sewing machine by "white coal" from Niagara. So simple and easy, isn't it?

The Toronto Wild seems to believe that repetition of a falsehood must give it, to the public, the appearance of truth, and it devotes half a column of editorial space to reiterating its false assertions as to the difficulties encountered in building the farmers to obtain right of way for the transmission line through their properties. It admits the tender of $60 for these 30-year rights, and the subsequent increase of the offer to $850. But it wishes to make it appear that the Times and the Law Journal state what is not true in denying that the Hydro Act empowers the Commission to arbitrate these easements under the Public Works Act. After hearing Mr. Kerr, however, Hon. Mr. Foy was so impressed with that contention that attempts to scare the farmers into parting with their property rights for a trifle were abandoned, and voluntary arbitration was proposed. He saw the point.

Contrast the Dhangara case with the Tlaw case, and you have perhaps a sufficient reason why there were early a thousand murders in New York last year compared with less than a tenth of that number in the city of London of double the population.

SONS OF REST. (Dundas Banner.) As a good many gentlemen, who are honorary members of the Anti-Work Association are enjoying their favorite pastime in the townships adjoining the city of Hamilton, it would be well for the rural citizens to sharpen the teeth of their dogs and train them to vicious habits for a time. They might also keep their doors securely locked and keep in at night, for Chief Twiss can't always be around to give them instructions how to behave when in the country.

ALL THE DIFFERENCE. (Tit-Bits.) "For my part, I don't see any more harm in a game of cards than in a game of chess."

WHEN TO SELL WHEAT. (Toronto Globe.) Mr. Robert Meighen's interview, published on Thursday, in which the milling company president enjoined the Ontario farmers to "hold their wheat," aroused instant discussion at the Board of Trade.

Realities in most business fields for women are not such smooth sailing; in fact fields less so than in nursing as a profession.

Success in nursing depends upon "making good" not with one employer, but with an ever changing supply of them. The nurse must please the doctor, not easy at the best, and less so when a different school is at every case.

Dotting mothers must be handled with gloves. Friends must be made with the small boy of the house, or he will make your life miserable.

The desertion of their wives by men is coming to be a matter that managers of charities in the large cities of the United States have to take into consideration among the causes of the distress they are called on to relieve.

Another element to be reckoned with is the aunt or mother-in-law who knows it all. She may have never nursed a case of sickness in her life, but she is long on theory, nor is she backward about expressing them to any member of the invalid's family who will listen.

If you are thinking of being a nurse have a son searching talk with yourself. Be sure, too, that your answers are as if you had kissed the Bible. Ask yourself: Am I going into the work for money only, or have I an inherent love of relieving misery and a keen zest for being around sick people?

Am I delicate? There may be nothing wrong enough with you to bar you from the physical examination that all would-be nurses must take, but you know, as no doctor knows, the tendencies of your people? If you are nervous by nature, have tubercular traits in your family history, or have an inheritance of weak heart or brain, keep out of professional nursing.

Nursing under the most favorable circumstances is an arduous life, a strain on every nerve. Only those women can meet it with justice to themselves who have no lurking ill to fight. You can't not be a good nurse and be half sick most of the time. A delicate appearance also works against you in case getting.

Am I unduly sensitive and sympathetic? Such a nature suffers needlessly in a sickroom. True, you will become hardened by years, but the hardening process wears. You put yourself "not wisely but too well" into your work. Sympathy is delightful to the patient, but death to the nurse.

Am I afraid of work? If your habit before entering a hospital has been to do only what you have to do, be sure you will hate nursing and you will not be loved by the families with whom you have to deal. The shirker never shines in a less amiable light than in the sick room. The girl lazy by nature would better look farther in profession seeking. Dead snips and cinches are not profitable in that line.

Am I a mischief maker? Perhaps you know it, or perhaps you only find that hitherto you have constantly gotten into trouble with your tongue. Unless you can swear reform keep out of nursing. The possibilities for your refractory art are too strong, when you live from house to house.

Am I wholly minded? The girl who is never quite sure what she wants to do has no business in the sick room, where quick decision is at a premium. Training may improve for your refractory art, but it is hard to eradicate.

Am I able to say "No"? If you cannot you will be in constant turmoil. You will not be able to stand up for your own rest and recreation rights; and plausible patients can cozen you to your and their undoing.

Am I patient? You would better be if you have aspirations to be a nurse. If you find yourself slapping your small brother on slight provocation, or given to snappy answers to repeated questions, be sure that yours is not the disposition for a life limited by a round of sick rooms.

Have I the innate common sense that forbids "talking shop"? There are nurses—unfortunately far too many—whose conversation has a horrid disease details tone that is both maddening and disgusting to the inoffensive families who must listen to it, and often, forgetting to the patient. It is all too easy to talk of the things that interest us most, if you think you cannot refrain from this go in for something as a life work that furnishes more agreeable table talk.

Above all, am I tactful? A successful nurse must have tact. It is impossible, if you have an unfortunate propensity for saying and doing the wrong thing, you may earn your twenty-five per cent, but you will probably have your patient in hysterics, the servants at loggerheads, and your employers counting the days until they get you out of the house.

NEW WARRANT FOR RUSSELL. Detective Rogers in Cleveland on Extradition Case.

Toronto, Aug. 20.—Inspector Joseph Rogers, of the Provincial detective force, has gone to Cleveland, Ohio, in regard to the extradition of W. Lockhart Russell, who is wanted here to answer to charges of fraud in connection with the flotation of mining companies. On his last visit to Cleveland Detective Rogers found that in the absence of the judge who granted the warrant for Russell's arrest nothing could be done toward the extradition of the man, who had, in fact, been released on bail. It is said that new papers have now been secured; that a new warrant will be issued, and that proceedings will be pressed forward as vigorously as possible.

LORD STRATHCONA. Winnipeg Preparing to Honor Canada's High Commissioner.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 19.—Arrangements for giving a royal reception to Lord Strathcona upon his arrival here next Tuesday are proceeding apace, and the welcome will be the most cordial demonstration of appreciation by the west of what his lordship has done for this country.

Addresses will be presented to him, and civil and military honors will be accorded to him. He will also be asked to accept the presidency of the Canadian International Exposition and Selkirk Centennial.

"Gaustrak"

A dramatization of Geo. Barr McCutcheon's novel by Geo. D. Baker, will be seen for the first time in Hamilton at the Grand to-morrow afternoon and evening. The play comes here well recommended, and as the company is said to be a very capable one, and the play perfectly staged, good performances may be looked for. The book has been widely read, and many are familiar with the captivating story. It deals with the adventures of a daring American and a princess, and unfolds a narrative of "A Love Behind a Throne." It takes five acts to tell the story of the play, which is said to follow the book closely. There has been an unusually good demand for seats, and, judging from the interest, "Gaustrak" is sure to attract two large audiences.

"PAID IN FULL"

THEATRICAL MAN SUICIDES

New York, Aug. 20.—Lewis Bishop Hall, stage manager of Frederic Thompson's first "Polly of the Circus" Company, committed suicide by inhaling gas some time early yesterday in his apartment. Mr. Hall was in the neighborhood of 30 years of age, was successful as a stage manager, and had many friends. The only reason his friends can give for his wish to die was that his work compelled him and his young actress wife to be separated so much.

"THE GUARDIAN" NEXT WEEK

The Summers Stock Company will produce next week at Mountain Theatre "The Guardian," a comedy-drama in four acts, that is said to be one of the best plays that can be secured. The usual excellent performance will no doubt be given.

Mackay & Co. announce in this issue news of remarkable buying chances commencing sharp at 8.30 to-morrow morning, and every woman should visit this busy store, and share in the many bargains on sale, in many cases at less than half regular, for example, the great Saturday sale of 10 dozen New York tatted shirt waists, regular $1.50, going at 50c each; long silk gloves, elbow length, all colors, worth regular $1.25, sale price only 39c pair; 300 yards of new Paris veiling, in both plain net and chenille spot effects, worth regular 25c, sale price 10c yard, and the great sale of Valenciennes laces and insertions continued, worth regular 15c, sale price Saturday 5c yard, and visit the dress goods section and view the finest display of new autumn materials ever displayed in Hamilton; and don't overlook the sale of pure silk finished Henrietta, all colors and black, going at only 39c yard.

LUMBERMEN'S PICNIC.

At a well-attended meeting last night of all the different committees in connection with the big lumber dealers' picnic, to be held at Victoria Park, Niagara Falls, to-morrow, everything was reported satisfactory. The management has made arrangements with the T. H. & B. Railway to have twelve of their new coaches, including a baggage car. Free tea, milk, hot and cold water will be supplied on the grounds to ticket-holders. On the train free peaches, apples, peanuts and bananas will be provided; also the free drawing, for which every excursionist will have a coupon ticket. The prizes cost $50. A beautiful souvenir will be presented to every one who attends. Besides all these are over $200 worth of prizes to be given away on the grounds. Train will leave the T. H. & B. station at 8.15 a. m., stopping at Victoria avenue and Wentworth street, and will leave Niagara Falls at 7.30, stopping at Wentworth street on the return trip. Tickets good going Aug. 21 and returning Aug. 22 and 23. If you want to have a good time, go with the lumbermen to-morrow. All it costs is railroad fare.

MADE TO WEAR.

Every garment advertised at a cut price in our August clearing sale is genuine Right House quality and made to wear. We do not wish to be known as the "cheapest store in town," for that would make it necessary to sacrifice something that has taken sixty-six years to thoroughly impress upon the public memory—that is, Right House quality. When we advertise wash dresses, blouses, outing suits, wash skirts, lace coats, etc., at reduced prices, it means that you get garments that are well and strongly made from good quality materials, garments that will wear till you will admit that you have your money's worth and more. We want every customer who bought garments or goods at the Right House in 1909 to come again for her 1910 supplies, and the only way we see to accomplish this is to never forget that quality must come first. Remember the sale of Japanese matting now going on at the Right House, at worth-while reductions.

WANT TO STRIKE.

Chicago Street Car Employees May Walk Out.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—The street car wages crisis of two weeks ago had been supposedly settled by agreement on a graduated wage scale entered between the officials of the union and the companies, but the employees of the west and north side lines have now refused to ratify the agreement. Their action of last night was a complete surprise. Many of the younger conductors and motormen clamored for a strike, but President William Quinlan, of the local union, held them in check, and on leaving the hall, telegraphed to W. D. Mahon, president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, to come here at once and make an effort to avert a walk-out.

Two points in the agreement were objected to by the men, viz: That new men would not reach the maximum scale of thirty cents an hour during the lifetime of the agreement, and also the length of the agreement, which runs for three and a half years.

Using Cheap Auto Tags.

Toronto, Aug. 20.—Reports have reached the Provincial Secretary's Department that license tags which were issued for use on motor cycles have been transferred to automobiles. This is against the law, and officers are now looking for persons who use the $3 tags on machines which require those costing one dollar more. Offences of this kind may be punished by a fine of $50 and costs.

BRANTFORD NOTES.

Found Dead in Bed—School Principal Challenges Investigation.

Brantford, Aug. 19.—Daniel A. House, aged 75, was found dead in bed by his daughter this morning. He died of heart failure during the night.

Principal Gaunt, of the Paris public school, who was dismissed by the Paris Board of Education, is out with an open letter in the press, in which he calls for a public meeting at which his case may be discussed, and the Minister of Education left to decide the issue. He alleges that he was dismissed without reason or a chance of defence, and that his records are good.

The Separate School Board has decided to erect a new school to replace one of the two separate schools which are located here.

LAI'D LOW BY HIS FRIEND.

Joseph Lamacro Empties Revolver into Body of Rosia Palmino.

Men Evidently Had Been Companions—Murderer is Caught.

Murderer Says His Victim is a Black Hand Man.

Buffalo, Aug. 20.—Rosia Palmino, of Niagara Falls, was shot five times and mortally wounded by Joseph Lamacro, a young Italian, of 152 Canal street, on the platform of the Black Rock station of the New York Central at 4.45 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Palmino is dying at the Riverside Hospital and Lamacro is held at the Austin street station on an open charge.

The shooting was deliberate and done in the presence of a crowd at the station. It caused the wildest excitement. After finishing his bloody deed Lamacro fled down the high embankment on Niagara street, with half a dozen excited men in hot pursuit. He was easily caught after a short chase.

The two men had boarded the train at the Terrace station. They had been visiting at Niagara Falls every day for a week and were apparently the best of friends. According to the statement of Lamacro made to the police after the shooting, he had gone to the Terrace station shortly after 4 o'clock in the afternoon to board his train. When he got there he found Palmino waiting. They had been shooting craps, he said, in a Niagara Falls resort the day before and he had been very successful, winning much money. So when he saw Palmino yesterday at the station, the latter stepped up to him, he said, and wanted him to buy him a pair of shoes.

"I will not buy you a pair of shoes," Lamacro claims he told Palmino, "but I will let you take a few dollars."

To this Palmino is alleged to have turned up his nose, and without further talk Lamacro says he boarded the train. Lamacro says he was next surprised as the train sped on to find that he had boarded a Lockport train instead of one for Niagara Falls. He decided to get off at Black Rock and wait for a Falls train. As he alighted from the platform, he says, he was again surprised to see Palmino follow him.

Witnesses do not agree with Lamacro in that he got off the train first. The police are also of the belief that Palmino alighted first and that Lamacro followed.

The two men had barely left the train platform when Lamacro whipped out a shining revolver and fired five shots in quick succession at Palmino. The first shot entered the latter's breast and he staggered and fell as he received four more shots through the small of the back, another in the groin and one in each hip.

No sooner had he emptied his revolver than Lamacro fled down the embankment, and Palmino rolled over, moaning inaudibly.

Dr. George W. Sayles, of Amherst street, bandaged the dying man's wounds to stop the flow of blood. He was then rushed to the hospital, but the surgeons did not operate, as they said the man would die before daylight. Palmino, although fairly riddled with the shot of a 38-calibre revolver, showed remarkable vitality and was conscious most of the time.

Palmino, however, would make no statement to the police. Inspector Martin visited him and asked him why his friend had shot him, but he was mum to all inquiries and the only thing he would say was, "I want to die."

The police were at a loss last night to assign any motive whatever for the crime. Lamacro, in his statement, did not throw any light on the movements of the pair in the last few days, except to say that they had been shooting craps at Niagara Falls and that Palmino was a Black Hand man, who had threatened his life. He told Sergeant O'Brien that Palmino had thrashed him in a Niagara Falls saloon last Tuesday after one of their dice games, and that, fearing for his life, he had come back to Buffalo last Wednesday and bought a revolver. When Lamacro was searched at the station house he had seventeen dollars on him and two watches. The revolver was that of Palmino, a Harrington & Richardson type, 38-calibre, with five chambers. All were empty.

Herman Hopt, an operator in the New York Central, saw the shooting, as well as the train crew, and all will make statements to the police at the finish of their run this morning.

Lamacro is 22 years old and unmarried. He tended a bar for his father, Giuneppe Lamacro, at the Canal street place. Palmino was 35 years old and unmarried. He lived at 145 Lemon street, Niagara Falls.

MARINE UNION.

PROVINCES DOWN BY THE SEA MAY BECOME ONE.

St. John Board Withdraws—St. John's Complain is That the Board Devotes Too Much Attention to Local Matters.

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Aug. 19.—There was quite a breeze in the Maritime Board of Trade meeting this morning when Mr. J. N. Harvey, of the St. John delegation, announced that the St. John board had decided, after careful consideration, to withdraw from the Maritime board, on the ground that while the latter was splendid theoretically, it was actually a failure; it devoted too much attention to local matters not of interest to the Maritime Provinces. He referred to the differences that had occurred at the Halifax meeting over the resolution regarding the route of the G.T.P.

Mr. A. M. Bell contended that the board had accomplished a great deal in the difference between Halifax and St. John the latter had the wrong end of the argument.

President Snowball characterized the action of St. John as disgraceful. He warmly defended the work and influence of the board.

Mr. Edgett, of Moncton; Senator Rorr, Mayor McLean, Port Hood; J. T. Hawke, Moncton; Hance Logan, and others strongly criticized St. John's action. The last speaker said if the St. John board insisted, it would mean disintegration. As the St. John delegates were absent at the opening of the meeting, they should give notice of withdrawal next year.

The closing hours of the session were enlivened by a debate on Maritime union, opened by W. H. Edgett, of Moncton, who contended that union would stimulate the development of the resources of the provinces, improve provincial credit, bring about an annual saving of $150,000 a year by the abolition of two legislatures, and make way for uniform judiciary and uniform action in agricultural immigration, railway taxation, crown lands, and other matters. It would mean larger ambitions and the obliteration of sectional jealousy. The resolutions were opposed by Mr. Johnson, of Halifax, who said Nova Scotia excelled all the other provinces in resources and education, and had nothing to gain by a union. When the nation is great, the identity of a province will be the strength of the white country.

Senator Ross thought a committee should be appointed to deal with the question and report at the next meeting.

Mr. J. T. Hawke, Moncton, considered the question purely academic, but favored it as giving us greater influence in the Federal Parliament.

Messrs. D. A. Morrison, Amherst, and Payseant, Halifax, supported the resolution.

The strongest argument was made by Mr. Hance J. Logan, ex-M.P., of Amherst, an enthusiastic pro-unionist, who claimed that union would give us a better position and influence to get the tunnel, a more favorable readjustment of the subsidies, and prevent a further decrease in representation, and bring other benefits.

The Maritime union resolution passed, also a resolution requesting the government to nominate a committee from each province to name the conditions of union.

She—You look well, Bertie. He—Yes, don't know; I'm so strong I can't roll a cigarette without breaking the papah!—New York Evening Telegram.

THE HOUSEKEEPER

To Simply Laundering—Take a bar of any good laundry soap, cut and boil in one gallon of water until all dissolved, then add scant half cupful of kerosene. Let all come to a boil. Then fill a tub two-thirds full of cold water, pour in the mixture, put in all your white wash and let stand over night. In the morning ring out and scald and rinse in the usual way. You will find your wash clean and of snowy whiteness, with little labor.

To Remove Spots From Wood—To remove white spots from polished wood make a soft paste of solid oil and salt. Apply with soft cloth and rub briskly. White spots of years' standing can be so removed, and if the finish is not injured, no trace of spot is left—the white stain is out in any case.

Faded Pink Garments—The most faded and washed out pink garment can be made like new by putting a handful of red crepe paper in the rinsing water. It will be a beautiful peach pink. The same is true with lavender, only use purple crepe paper. It always colors evenly and can be dipped quickly into starch afterwards. I have worn a pink linen dress four years, and with the necessary alterations it is like a new dress to-day.

To Clean Gutta Percha—To clean gutta percha, rub it with a mixture of soap and powdered charcoal, and polish it with a dry cloth.

Take Stains from Bottles—Make a good sud of naphtha and soft water. Let it stand in the vessel fifteen or twenty minutes; all stains will be removed.

Keeping Silver Bright—If a liberal sprinkling of baking soda is added to the boiling water in which silver cutlery is immersed, it will come out clean and bright; also use a little soda and alcohol to remove dark or persistent stains on silver. This is better than the mineral compounds, as soda is soluble, and, therefore, requires less work to gain good results.

DEATH OF REV. JOHN COOK.

Formerly Priest of Catholic Parish at Woodstock.

Woodstock, Aug. 19.—The death took place in Woodstock Hospital this afternoon of Rev. John Cook, formerly priest of the local Catholic parish. Father Cook, who was about fifty years of age, entered the priesthood when young, and had charge of parishes in several places, including St. Thomas, Seaford and Stratford. He also worked in St. Columbus parish, Ont., and Fort Wayne, Ind. He came to Woodstock ten years ago, and was in charge of St. Mary's parish for eight years.

Two years ago, in consequence of his declining to obey the Bishop and remove to another parish, he was deposed from the priesthood. Since that time he has lived retired in Woodstock, maintaining cordial relations with his Church. His illness extended over a considerable period, but he was taken to the hospital only a few days ago.

SHOT WELL AT TORONTO.

Hamilton Men Well Up In City of Toronto Match.

Collegiate Boys Get a Prize In Cadet Match.

Question of Sights Discussed at Kickers' Meeting.

Long branch Rifle Ranges, Aug. 20.—In spite of ideal weather for shooting, the scores in the O.R.A. matches yesterday were not good, taken as a whole. In none of the matches did the scores come up to those of 1908. Sergt. F. H. Morris, the popular Bislew man, of the 40th Regt., Bowmanville, won the first prize in the All-Comers' Aggregate match—an O.R.A. silver medal and $12 cash—with a score of 256. This match includes the highest aggregate scores in the Canadian Club match, shot off Tuesday; the first stage of the City of Toronto match, also shot off Tuesday; the Bankers' and Macdonald matches, shot off Wednesday, and the Duke of Cornwall and York match yesterday. The second prize of $10 went to Lieut. J. Solter, 6th D.C.O.R., a comparatively "dark horse," with a score of 254. The second stage of the City of Toronto match was finished in the afternoon. Capt. C. R. Crowe, of the 30th Regt., Guelph, won, with a total score of 110, thus capturing the city's gold medal and $25, the first prize. Last year a score of 116 won the match and 99 was the lowest score in the prize list. This year one score of 63 got in, but this man did not shoot in the second stage. The next highest was 75, and the next 88, two remarkable jumps. Capt. R. A. Robertson, of the 13th Regt., Hamilton, got second place with 109. Pte. P. Armstrong, 13th Regt., who won the Canadian Club match on Tuesday, got sixth place.

The Duke of Cornwall and York match was the only complete match shot off yesterday. Pte. A. Wilson, of the 43rd D.C.O.R., Ottawa, won first place with a score of 67. Besides the silver medal, he wins $25. Sergt. F. E. Morris, of the 46th Regt., an old Bislew man from Bowmanville, won second place.

The shooting in this match was not up to that of last year. In 1908 a score of 68, made by Major W. C. King, of the 46th Regt., won, and the major was in 69th place with a score of 56. Scores of 53 got in the regular prize list this year. Sergt. D. McCalley, of the Sydney Army Medical Corps, who won the 60 guinea cup at Bislew, managed to get a $3 prize at 65th place with a score of 56.

Quartermaster-Sergt. Davidson, 48th Highlanders, wanted concrete butts at the 800-yard ranges.

Pte. W. H. Moore, of the 77th Regiment, moved that the rear aperture sights, the Birmingham Small Arms Company's peep-sight, such as were allowed at the Bislew matches, be authorized at the present matches. This sight is declared by experts to be the best manufactured. It was explained, however, by the authorities that this sight could not be obtained by the ordinary riflemen in Canada.

Major Alex. Elliott, of the 12th Regiment, who is an expert optician, said that the majority of the men shooting at the ranges had defective sight in some manner. The rear aperture sight, he declared, would put all marksmen on the same basis.

This will also be considered at the next regular annual meeting of the association and will probably be brought up at the semi-annual meeting of the I. V. R. A. at Ottawa.

FUNNY BIGAMY CASE

MRS. MINNIE PINK, OF TORONTO, GETS THIRTY DAYS.

She Had Two Husbands—Her Lawyer Says That She is Victim of Scheme Worked by Two Men.

Toronto, Aug. 20.—"This appears to have been a most extraordinary affair all round," said Colonel Denison yesterday after hearing the evidence in the case of Minnie Pink and George Thomas Stead, both of whom were charged with bigamy. The magistrate convicted the woman and sent her to jail for thirty days, but the man elected to go to a jury, and was committed for trial.

According to the stories told in court, Mrs. Minnie Pink was separated from her husband, who lived in the city. She met Stead, who came from Walkerton, and they got drunk together a couple of times. The man asked the woman to marry him, and Mrs. Charlton, who keeps house for Mrs. Pink, heard about it. She told the man that Mr. Pink was alive. "If you get married you will be putting your foot in it," she said to the man.

Stead asked Mrs. Pink if Mrs. Charlton had stated a fact, and she replied in the affirmative. "I don't care; let us get married anyway," said Stead. "I'm on," said the woman. Mrs. Pink had been drinking during the night, and was in a reckless state of mind. Early in the morning she turned on the gas and attempted to commit suicide, but Mrs. Charlton saved her life. Stead brought two flasks of whiskey, and they drank together for some time. Then the man supplied pills to sober the women, and they went away to be married. A few days after the ceremony Stead went back to Walkerton.

"I believe that the whole thing is a scheme put up by this man and the woman's husband to get power over her," declared Mr. Curry, counsel for Mrs. Pink.

Mr. T. C. Robinette objected to these statements, which were intended to injure his client.

Mr. Curry produced several letters written by Pink and Stead. In one of them the former said he was willing that his wife should have two husbands. Another letter was signed by both men. It ordered the woman to leave the city for all time, or the law would be set in motion against her. Mrs. Pink added that Stead had asked her for money.

Two Mothers' Babies Held Captives For $25,000 by Desperate Convict.

Grace, aged 2 1/2, and Tommie, aged 4, the kidnapped St. Louis children. If they were yours, wouldn't you pay $25,000 for their safe return?

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 20.—Two heart-broken women in this city whose children are being held by kidnapers for a $25,000 ransom have appealed to 100,000 American mothers for aid in finding little Grace and Tommie, missing since Aug. 2, in one of the most remarkable of all the blackhand outrages in America.

While the mothers are weeping in their homes, police have sent pictures of the stolen children broadcast in the hope that mothers all over the country will aid in the search.

The tots are children of two brothers, both named Pietro Viviano, the richest Italians in St. Louis. For years they have lived in terror of blackmailers. Twice the Viviano macaroni factory has been dynamited.

FONSO'S WHISKERS WON'T VISIT MARS.

Wears Them on the Side—His Wife Hardly Knew Him.

London, Aug. 20.—A San Sebastian despatch says that King Alfonso has paid a brief visit there, coming from Madrid in order to see the Queen and the royal children.

His majesty's appearance caused a mild shock among the members of the court who remained in San Sebastian when the King went to Madrid. During his absence his majesty has grown side whiskers, like those worn by his father, Alfonso XII.

In fact, he looks like a different person altogether. While the whiskers appeared, most of his hair has disappeared, being now cut very short.

Publisher of "Free Speech" in Trouble in Moncton.

St. John, N. B., Aug. 19.—Braze McDougall, publisher of a paper called Free Speech, in Moncton, was arrested there to-day, on a charge of criminal libel, laid by Patrolman Lucas, of the St. John police force, and was brought to this city to-night.

Free Speech has been publishing disgusting matter about young ladies of high repute, prominent citizens, adherents and members of Government, and the Attorney-General's Department decided that something must be done. Accused to-day comes in consequence.

When Detective Killen arrived to-night with McDougall, he was met by a large crowd of enraged citizens, and the police, fearing the man might come in for rough handling, sent a squad of extra men to help the regular force at the depot. McDougall was hurried into a cell and taken to a cell.

Crazy Mother Chops Off Heads of Her Children.

East Grand Forks, Minn., Aug. 20.—Mrs. Anton Straus, mother of six children, residing at Tabor, ten miles north-east of this city, killed her one-year-old daughter and three-year-old son yesterday by chopping off their heads. She then ran to the nearest neighbor to borrow a gun to shoot her other four children, who were working with their father in the field. The woman was released from the State Asylum three months ago.

FOUR KILLED.

Three Young Women and Man In Automobile Accident.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 20.—Three young women and one man, the driver of the automobile, met death, and two young women narrowly escaped a similar fate here last night when a large touring car, going at a high speed, crashed through the railing of the long trestle over the tide flats.

All the members of the party were from Vancouver, B. C., except the driver of the car, who was a Seattle man.

The tide was at flood when the automobile crashed through the rail and the victims were hurled into several feet of water.

Miss Mary Paul, a sister of one of the dead, and Miss Kate Hiseock were rescued by a boatman, who heard their cries and found them clinging to the wrecked car. All but the young women are said to belong to prominent families in Vancouver.

WASN'T DEAD.

New Yorker Puts His Wife the Ananias Club.

Fools Undertakers and Busy Neighbors by Being Still Alive.

New York, Aug. 20.—After his wife, Catherine, had stuck her head out of the window and announced in an emphatic manner that he had committed suicide by drowning himself in the bath tub in their apartments on the sixth floor of 730 Tinton avenue, the Bronx, yesterday afternoon, Hugo Freyenhagen was ungalant enough to put her in the Ananias Club by appearing and entering a general denial to all the allegations in her complaint.

When Mrs. Freyenhagen made her announcement and followed it up by rushing into the street and giving the details of the horrible affair everybody was disposed to take her word for it. And everybody got busy. One man telephoned for the police, and set all the suicide machinery in motion; another notified several physicians, and still another notified the newspapers. Half a dozen undertakers heard about it, and shattered all spring records, getting to the scene. While waiting for the officials they sat on the front stoop and figured out just how they could afford to bury Hugo at a profit.

Coroner Schwannecke, Captain Place and three policemen from the Morrisania station, three physicians and half a dozen reporters got to the house about the same time. In this order they filed slowly up the stairs, the six undertakers bringing up the rear.

All was hushed in the presence of three hundred pounds of death. Coroner Schwannecke sunk his knuckles in the door of the Freyenhagen flat, and Mrs. Freyenhagen opened it.

"Where's your dead husband?" asked the coroner.

"Here's her husband right here, but he's not a dead one," answered a gruff voice, as six feet of Freyenhagen appeared at the opening.

"Didn't you commit suicide?" asked Captain Place.

"I did not," said Freyenhagen.

"But your wife said your drowned yourself in a bathtub," suggested a reporter.

"Me drown!" roared Freyenhagen. "I'm the best swimmer in the Bronx. Come in till I show you my junk."

Whereupon Freyenhagen led the mob into his parlor and draped himself with his medals for their edification. The undertakers refused to give up even then. One offered to bury him and throw in a band of music for $50. But Freyenhagen was obdurate and decided to stick around a little longer.

In explanation of his wife's false alarm, he said, he had fallen while in the bathroom, and she had jumped to the conclusion that he had killed himself.

METERED WATER.

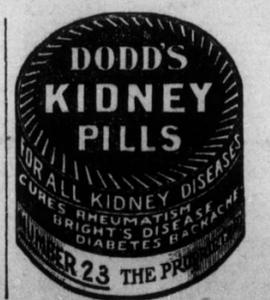

(Rochester Herald.)

But there never was any question of the propriety of a measured water service. A flat rate is productive of vast waste, and no city can afford to encourage waste in these times. This city has gone through the contest between meters and flat rates and the meters won. Everybody has been better off by the adoption of the meter system. People get what they pay for, and there is no question of one man getting more than another. Anybody can be extravagant in the use of water, but he has to pay for his extravagance quarterly. Families of equal size find that their bills for water differ. Some are half as large as others. But there is a suspicion that some people do not wash as frequently as others.

"For over nine years I suffered with chronic constipation and during this time I had to take an injection of warm water once every 24 hours before I could have an action on my bowels. HAMILTON MARE WON FIRST RACE AT WINDSOR.

Dorothy Webb Romps Home at 20 to 1--- Harry Richeson Wins at 60 to 1.

IT WAS VASTLY improved sport that resulted from the changed track conditions, and the large attendance present at Windsor yesterday afternoon were furnished splendid entertainment. Most of the winners were accorded liberal support and their victories greeted with prolonged applause.

J. MacKenzie horses, will ship the racers to Toronto at the close of this meeting and await the opening of the Woodbine track. Direct has had one of his front legs badly filled, and it is thought that the rest will be beneficial to him. Louis Reil, in the MacKenzie string, has been sold at private terms to J. Clay.

The finish in the handicap for young colts was a routine one. Gallant Pirate, Woolgate and Paul Davis finishing heads apart in the order named. The Wainwright colt put up a sparkling effort, but his victory was solely due to the energetic handling that Kennedy gave him. Woolgate was seemingly beat, but his rider contributed to his defeat by steering a wide course into the stretch when he had the race well in hand. Paul Davis was also a victim of poor handling, and he can do much better. A driving finish, in which the winner's margin at the end was only a nose, came with the running of the fifth race, when Melissa and Anna F. Daley engaged in a stretch duel. This pair separated from the others in the last quarter and measured their strides on even terms for almost the last furlong. Melissa gaining the verdict in the last stride. Martin Doyle, showing an improved performance, despite bad handling, took third place.

Second race—Filles and mares; three-year-olds and up; 5 1/2 furlongs—Woolgate, 107 (G. Burns), 6 to 5, 1 to 2; 1; (Kennedy), 4 to 1; (Hasty), 12 to 1; 5 to 1; 2 to 1; 2; Loyd Maid, 106 (Meatry), 4 to 1; 6 to 5, 3 to 5, 3. Time—1:09 1/5. Grace Dixon, Ed. G. Starover also ran.

Another mysterious case of taking a horse from the stable and returning him exhausted was reported to-day by Trainer Dave Henry. The victim in this case was Dr. Waldo Briggs, who was regarded to start in the fifth race. The colt during his absence had been subjected to rough treatment. His plates were nearly worn off, and his heels badly bruised. There can be no doubt that he was taken from the stable according to Trainer Henry, as he alleges that the colt was mud stained from his nose to his heels. An extra force of detectives and night watchmen have been constantly patrolling the grounds and stables in search of anyone who may be opening stable doors to allow the horses freedom, but they saw nothing unusual during the night, and don't give the story regarding Dr. Waldo Briggs much credence.

Fourth race—Handicap; two-year-olds; 5 1/2 furlongs—Gallant Pirate, 113 (Kennedy), 4 to 1; 5 to 2; 5 to 1; 1; Woolgate, 106 (Howard), 9 to 2; 6 to 5; 1 to 2; 2; Paul Davis, 112 (G. Burns), 4 to 5; 2 to 5, out, 3. Time—1:09 1/5. Grace Dixon, Ed. G. Starover also ran.

COMMENT AND GOSSIP

Bobby White left Boston this morning, and will arrive in Hamilton either tonight or to-morrow morning. The final arrangements for the reception banquet at the Grand House have been made, and accommodation has been provided for two or three hundred guests. The sale of tickets, so far, has been large, and it is expected that the Grand dining hall will be taxed to the limit to host all Bobby's admirers.

CANADIAN DRIVER KILLED IN RACE.

Wilfrid Bourque and His Mechanician Pinned Beneath Car.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 20.—Two lives were lost and two records broken during the inauguration of the Indianapolis motor speedway yesterday. William A. Bourque, driver of the Knox car in the 250-mile-race, and Harry Holcomb, his mechanic, were killed in the frenzied carnal of speed. Barney Oldfield, driving a high powered Reaz car, covered a mile in 45 1/10, breaking De Palma's mark of 51, and Louis Chevrolet, in a Buick, negotiated ten miles in the marvellous time of 8:50 4/10, cutting Oldfield's time of 9:12. Both of these are new American track records.

Cobourg Horse Show Has Attained Great Proportions.

Cobourg, Aug. 19.—Since its very modest inception in 1905 up to the present time, every citizen of Cobourg has been proud of the summer horse show, but no one outside of the committee expected anything quite so successful as this year's show. It has assumed mammoth proportions. Every year the committee provides additional accommodation. A new grand stand was built this year and additional stabling accommodation provided by a new horse barn.

BOWLING

J. S. Willison's rink easily won the final game for the Walker trophy yesterday afternoon at the Dominion bowling tournament at 1:50, fourteen ends being played by 15 to 6, fourteen ends being played. It is the first time Mr. Willison has been fortunate enough to win this coveted prize, although he has always been prominent in the competition and has been successful in carrying off the big trophies at other tournaments. The game, however, was not without its interest, for the Canadian Club players were popular. So far as the game was concerned the result was never in doubt at the sixth end. Rennie scored in only four ends, getting the shot on the first and second ends, three on the tenth and third on the eleventh. Rennie himself Hastings was in splendid form, and, in fact, Willison was ably supported by all his players. Willison probably never appeared to better advantage. After the game President Peary presented the trophy to the Canada rink, Mr. Willison accepting on behalf of his club.

LEAFS TRIMMED ROYALS YESTERDAY AT TORONTO.

Buffalo Lost to Rochester by One Run in Ten Innings--Skeeters Beat Grays.

AT TORONTO YESTERDAY the Leafs had little trouble defeating Montreal in the closing game of the series, driving Smith to the barn in the third while Keele, who replaced him, received worse treatment, the fireworks ending 12 to 4 in favor of the Kelleys. Lee was shoved in by Manager Kelley, and this time made good, as he would have done on Tuesday if the team had been hitting the same as they were yesterday, when they banged the sphere for no less than fourteen safeties, including a homer by the south-paw twirler. Smith, who started for the Royals, didn't have a thing, while Keele, who relieved him, had a choice selection, but the Leafs were hitting, and nothing could stop them.

The scores were: 7-6 and 2-1, the last game requiring ten innings before the issues were settled. In both contests New York had to make uphill fights to win, the visitors taking the lead almost from the start. At Philadelphia—New York broke even with Philadelphia in a double-header yesterday afternoon. The second game was a pitcher's battle between Moore and Mathewson. From the Scrap Heap ago, in the New York American, says: It's mighty hard to determine which of the two is indulging the most in the merry game of bluff, Jack Johnson or Jim Jeffries. In the stories sent out to the coast, Johnson is quoted by a prominent Chicago fistic chronicler as saying: "Oh, that's all right, my five thousand is up with the New York Evening Journal." The question of forfeits had come up. Sam Berger stated, and rightly, that Jeffries' money was in the hands of a New Yorker. That money is up, for the writer said it handed over—five one thousand dollar bills. We, in New York here, had supposed that Johnson had placed his money with a Chicago paper. When Johnson said that his $5,000 was up at the New York Journal office—if he really said such a thing—he was fooling nobody. He did post that amount at one time, and left it up for a certain number of days for Jeffries to cover. He stipulated that in case Jeffries cared not for the issue, the first man who covered it with a like amount could have a chance at the title. Little Willie Britt walked in late one night and handed the writer five one thousand dollar bills. That money was covered then and there, and on the following day Johnson agreed to meet Ketchel and the money he had posted was accepted as a side bet. It was the understanding that the money should be sent to Uncle Bill Naughton, sporting editor of the San Francisco Examiner. It was sent, and Naughton has it. It was further agreed that Naughton should pay over to the remaining boxer the entire amount in case either ducked the issue. On several occasions Johnson has announced that he has $5,000 posted here in New York. He hasn't. That money is to be fought for, and it doesn't go for any Jeffries forfeit or for any other purpose. It is to be battled for as a side bet in the contest of October 12. So if Johnson is correctly quoted, he is laboring under a delusion that the five thousand dollars he posted here goes for anything he might suggest. It was sent, and if Johnson fails to come across with the money in the Jeffries case, he will be accused of all the fly-by-night tactics they're now laying at the door of James Jackson Jeffries himself.

CRICKET

There are several changes in the Canadian eleven which will meet the American team in the international match in Montreal next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday on the M. A. A. grounds. The men who find themselves unable to get away are Bell, Wookey and Reid, of Rosedale, and Norman Seagram, of Toronto. Their inability to play necessitated the selection of two others besides the original list of thirteen. They are Tom Seagram, Hamilton, and Johnston, Ottawa. Johnston participated in the inter-provincial game. Seagram is a medium pace bowler, with a difficult off-break ball. The team will naturally be somewhat weaker than was expected. The American eleven, however, is far from being the strongest the Philadelphians can place in the field. Only three or four are really first class men. The teams will be: United States—J. L. Evans, R. Patton,

Lightning Struck Steamer.

Vera Cruz, Aug. 19.—The steamship Talasco, plying in the Mexican coast trade, was struck by lightning as it arrived close to port yesterday, and had its mast carried away and the vessel set on fire. After a hard fight the flames were subdued. A peculiar coincidence is that its sister ship had the same experience on its first trip into this port. Wigwag—Hello! Guzzler. I see you are up with the lark this morning. Guzzler—You bet your life, and I've been keeping the lark up all night.

TOUCHED HIS HONOR.

Tried Suicide Because His Sister Said He Would Elope.

When Ciro Aglione, former royal car-bineer with four years' service against Italian smugglers and bandits in his credit, was arraigned in the Myrtle avenue court this morning on a charge of attempted suicide, a romantic story of his love for pretty Rosina Craniglio unfolded.

A slip of paper addressed on one side to his sister, Maria Piermonte, and on the other side to his sister, Maria Piermonte, was found in his pocket. The letter also, the police say, upbraided his sister for nagging him and for circulating a report that he and Rosina were going to elope.

When he was arraigned before Magistrate Naumer, Aglione told how he came of a good family in Italy and for four years had served with credit as a car-bineer and had been in this country only nine months. Though he could speak little English, his Italian was excellent and he seemed to be well educated.

Upon his telling Magistrate Naumer that he loved the girl, the latter allowed him to go free, saying he should have another chance. The magistrate told Aglione's sister to go home and encourage the love affair and not try to put the pair of lovers out, as Aglione said she had threatened.

Rosina was not in court, Aglione trying to protect her all he could. Finally, after the judge had talked to them at some length, Aglione and his sister were sent home.—Brooklyn Citizen.

A MILLIONAIRE FACTORY. Hawaii Turning Out Men of Millions by the Score.

There are probably more self-made millionaires residing in Honolulu than in any city twice its size in the mainland. According to Van Norden's Magazine, there are scores of millionaires made and in the making of Hawaii.

Men of moderate means last spring became by far men of great wealth after the sugar crop had been marketed. Small planters of pineapples of a few seasons ago are men of high finance today, expending hundreds of thousands of dollars annually advertising their output that was not worth a tenth of that sum all told ten years ago.

The men of Hawaii who have created opportunities for themselves create opportunities for others. Alexander Young, the many time millionaire of Honolulu, came to Hawaii a poor man, worked hard, helped organize and conduct the Honolulu Iron Works, which now makes sugar machinery to be shipped to every quarter of the globe, retired to mhard labor and built as his monument a hotel that is equal to any amusement hotel in London or New York and with a roof garden more spacious than any on the continent. He is content that he has lost a million maintaining this public palace, for it is a credit to Alexander Young and to Honolulu. Its building sets a new pace and the business city of wood was practically rebuilt in stone and marble.

Even when he is perfectly healthy the dwarf may feel that he isn't long for this world.

REID SILENT.

U. S. Ambassador Would Not Discuss His Reappointment.

New York, Aug. 20.—Whitelaw Reid, United States Ambassador to Great Britain, arrived to-day on the steamer Mauretania from Liverpool and Queens-town. Asked by a reporter whether or not it was probable that he would continue at his present post, he said: "It would be manifestly improper for me to discuss the question of the Ambassadorship. That is a matter on which the information for the public should be given out at Washington, and I will leave it to the Washington authorities to tell whatever they deem fit in regard to the affair."

Brampton, Ont., Aug. 20.—Dick Harriott, a well known photographer, died suddenly this morning in front of the Queen's Hotel here. How to Preserve Peaches, Pears or Plums.

(By an Expert.)

MRS. ALICE G. KIRK.

The same principles apply in canning the large as the small fruits. Keep cleanliness, yes, surgical cleanliness, and sterilization in mind. Do not attempt too many at once; be sure you have your fruit jars before your fruit is ready and waiting for them. Buy good fruit if you have to buy less of it; it is cheaper in the end and much more satisfactory.

When canning peaches, pears or plums, have the jars sterilizing in the steam cooker which you have filled with cold water. Boil 10 minutes. While they are sterilizing pour the fruit by putting them a few at a time into a wire basket or colander and plunging them for a minute into boiling water. Cut the peaches or pears in halves, peel and throw at once into cold water. It will require about one pint of syrup for each quart, and this may be a thin or heavy syrup, boiled at least five minutes. Fill the sterilized jars with the fruit, cover to overflowing with the boiling syrup, fasten the sterilized covers on and set back in the steam cooker for 15 or 20 minutes if the peaches are hard. Set in a water bath of 200 degrees, making better time than other branches of the service. The Gigs averaged forty miles a day, and the endurance test is considered a most satisfactory one by Capt. R. W. Leonard, the inventor.

SPASM ON MARKET.

New York, Aug. 20.—Another spasm of liquidation came over the stock market in the first hour to-day on enormous dealings. Prices of the more active issues, such as the Harriman stocks, Reading, Illinois Central, Excited on the national decline. Low prices of the morning effected losses ranging from 5 to 15 points below the high level of last Monday morning.

FORTY MILE A DAY.

St. Catharines, Ont., Aug. 20.—The Leonard Gigs Infantry returned yesterday by train from Petawawa. They left here three weeks ago, and made a record in traversing the distance of 320 miles, making better time than other branches of the service. The Gigs averaged forty miles a day, and the endurance test is considered a most satisfactory one by Capt. R. W. Leonard, the inventor.

FOREIGN RAILWAY PLATFORMS.

As a Rule Only Passengers Are Allowed on Them.

It is much harder for non-travellers to get onto the platform of a railway station in England than it is in this country. Even at the small stations one cannot pass freely from the waiting room to the platform. The same restriction is practised on the continent.

Some of the British railways are now considering the advisability of issuing platform tickets, says the Queen. Such a system is followed in Germany, where the friends of travellers can procure these tickets for about two cents each from an automatic machine. So far the idea is not regarded with favor in England.

LIVE STOCK.

The railways reported 98 carloads of live stock at the city yards for Wednesday and Thursday, consisting of 1,566 cattle, 1,350 hogs, 1,885 sheep and lambs, and 205 calves.

There were more of the better class of butchers reported, probably 100 good to choice, but the bulk of the cattle on sale during the two years were of the common to medium class, with a lot of inferior eastern cattle that sold at the lowest quotations of the season, as will be seen by the many sales given below.

Exporters—George Rowntree reported exports at $5 and $5.80; export bulls at $4 to $5. Butchers—George Rowntree bought for the Harris Abattoir Co. 550 cattle, butchers' heifers and steers, at $2.20 to $5.75; bulls and cows at $1.50 to $5 per cwt.

Milkers and Springers—A liberal supply of milkers and springers met a fair market. Forward springers were selling the best, $30 to $35; $25 to $30; best steers, $20 to $25; $15 to $20; but the bulk of the best sold from $10 to $15 each.

Stocks and Feeders—H. Murby reports little doing in this line this week, and consequently prices were off, especially of the lighter kind. Good $30 to 1,000 lbs. steers are scarce, with prices firm. Mr. Murby bought about 100 $30 to 1,000 lb., $3.25 to $3.90; best steers, $3.00 to $3.75; $2.50 to $3.25; medium light stock steers, $2.50 to $2.75; common light stockers, $2.10 to $2.40.

Veal Calves—A moderate supply of veal calves sold at steady prices from $3 to $8 per cwt. Sheep and Lambs—Receipts were large, which caused prices to be easy at following quotations: Sheep, $3.50 to $3.75 for ewes; rams, $2 to $2.50; lambs, $6.25 to $6.12 1/2.

Hogs—Mr. Harris quotes hogs steady at $7.90 for select, fed and watered, and $7.65 f. o. b. cars at country points. In some instances choice lots sold up to $8, fed and watered at the market.

Our people are convinced of the great value of eucalyptus and are planting them up and down the avenues and in the cemetery, and will soon plant them in forest form."

In California some species of eucalyptus show greatest development in low places where rain water stands and in swamps, river bottoms, etc., though they will endure drought, according to a bulletin of the University of California. The durability of the wood, according to other authorities, is due to an oil with which it is impregnated and which is extracted for commercial purposes.—Florida Times-Union.

The Times soft ball team defeated the Stanley Mills team yesterday by a score of 8 to 6 at Victoria Park in a close and exciting exhibition. The defeat was the first one suffered by the losers all summer, and the win for the Times makes it 9 victories and 4 losses as their record.

The big feature of yesterday's contest was the interest shown by the fair sex, their applause for the good plays being unlimited. The game attracted some five hundred spectators, as it was considered the first play-off of the different leagues for the city soft ball championship.

Both the teams are champs of the Newspaper League trophy and the Stanley Mills came through the Dry Goods League without a loss.

The losers' pitcher was Wilson, of Station 26 team, and the Times played Brampton of the Spectator team. The

Smithville

Mr. C. J. McKinnon, who has been spending his holidays at home, returned to Smithville on Saturday.

Another old resident, Mr. W. W. Telfer, passed over to join the silent majority on Friday last, in his 70th year. Deceased had resided in South Grimsby for a great many years, and was a man of sterling character, a firm friend and a kind neighbor. He leaves a place in the community which it will be hard to fill. In his illness of nearly a year, which he bore with Christian fortitude, he was kindly and lovingly attended by his daughters, who did everything that could be done to make him comfortable and his end easy. The members of Ivy Lodge, No. 115, Beamsville, of which deceased was one of the oldest members, had charge of the funeral, and read their beautiful service at the house and grave. He leaves three daughters, Mrs. R. Patterson, of South Grimsby; Mrs. E. E. Moore, of Grimsby village, and Miss Jennie, at home, and two sons, Robert W., of Grimsby, and Walter, of Tennessee, his wife having predeceased him a year. Mr. Jackson, of Beamsville, had charge of the religious services.

Rev. J. D. Edgar, of Hawksville, had charge of the services in the Presbyterian Church here on Sabbath last, and preached two good sermons.

Public school reopened on Monday last with a good attendance. Success is assured as Mr. C. McKinnon is principal and Miss Gore assistant.

Mr. J. S. Brewer, of Caistor, was before Justices Marton and Griffin on Thursday, charged with violating the Lord's Day Act. A number of witnesses gave evidence as to seeing him in the field hoeing corn and potatoes on the Lord's day, when they were going to church. He was fined $5 and costs. The fine was paid.

Rev. W. S. Wright, B. A., of St. Ann's, will preach in the Presbyterian Church here on Sabbath next at 11 a. m. and 7.30 p. m.

Some of the farmers are busy preparing the ground for the winter wheat, and it is working nicely after the recent rain.

PRETTY THINGS FOR BABY.

Here are three new things for the baby's use. First, there's a pretty little round skull-cap-shaped bonnet, made of natural tussac braid, edged with loops of ribbon ending in fluffy bows behind the ears.

And there's a new style sack in white challis or cashmere, bound around all edges with inch-wide silk ribbon, featherstitched on. The sack is cut in two pieces, joined in the centre of the back and seamed under the arm, kimono fashion.

And last, there's a new-fangled combination of doll baby and rattle, which will please the youngster every time. It is made by gluing a small unbreakable doll's head on a round wooden stick about five inches long. Below the head the stick is padded to formulate a body, and a pretty waist is made for it of ribbon and lace. The same ribbon is wound around the stick tightly, and ends in a loop large enough to slip over baby's wrist.

All these things are home-made, and are very easily fashioned by loving hands. They are very simple as well as pretty, and make dainty gifts.

OLD MAN DEAD.

Sandwich, Ont., Aug. 19.—John Hanley, 82 years of age, and one of the oldest citizens of Sandwich South, is dead, senility being the cause of death. Mr. Hanley lived in Sandwich South all his life, and was an authority on matters concerning the town.

REARING THE DAIRY CALF.

The Hot Weather a Trying Time for Calves—Keep Them Growing.

(From the Canadian Farm.)

The hot weather period is the most trying season in the life of the young calf. It should not be so if it were properly looked after. But, as a rule, the young calf is very much neglected at this season. It is left a prey to flies, the heat of the sun, and soon becomes stunted, its hair rough, and its general appearance unattractive. The symmetry of outline present when a week or two old has gone away of a rotundity of body, familiarly known as "pot bellied." When a calf reaches this condition it might better be turned to other purposes than the dairy. The value of the calf is depreciated one-half when it becomes stunted in growth, and no matter how good its ancestry may be, it cannot reach the development that it would have had, had proper feed and care been extended to it every day of its growth.

CAN CALVES BE RAISED WITHOUT MILK?

There are more calves of this stunted character in the country than many imagine. The whole factory and the supplying of whole milk to cities and towns are some of the factors contributing to this end. Where the whole milk is diverted from the farm it is difficult to raise calves properly. Good calves have been raised, without milk, except for the first two weeks. Some experiments conducted at the Pennsylvania Experiment Station a few years ago showed that this could be done. In these experiments a good substitute was found in a mixture containing wheat flour, ground nut meal, linseed meal and dried blood. But what may be done at an experiment station may not always be practiced on the average farm. Milk is the natural food for the calf, and it should have it in some form during four to six months of its life, depending largely upon the vitality and vigor possessed by the calf at birth. It is true with the calf as with other young, that its future depends in a very large degree upon the care and feeding of the dam before the calf is born. But that is another story, and not pertinent to the question at issue—that of feeding and caring for the calf during the hot weather and afterwards.

SKIM-MILK FOR CALVES.

Premising that the calf being raised this season have had proper care and feeding up to the present, we have reached a period when they are from three to four months old. At this age they should still be receiving some skim-milk daily. And we might point out just here that skim-milk is a better food for the calf intended for the dairy than whole milk. It should have whole milk for a couple of weeks. Then a gradual change to skim-milk should be effected so that when three or four weeks old it should not be receiving any whole milk. Skim-milk is rich in protein, which will develop muscle, bone and sinew, thus laying the foundation for a strong, healthy, vigorous animal. But skim-milk alone is not sufficient. Some linseed meal should be supplied, about a cupful to each feed. The jelly is simply made by stirring ground flax seed or linseed meal into a pot of boiling water, until a jelly-like consistency is reached.

The same authority summarizes calf feeding as follows:

"Colostrum to a newly-dropped calf (albuminoid ratio 1.05) and afterwards ordinary milk (ratio 1.33), 1½ to 2 gallons daily; gradually substitute linseed cake meal and barley meal mixed, or 'calf meal' up to 2 lbs. for a portion of the milk; also replace milk with buttermilk or whey; wean at 4 to 6 months. Place hay or forage within reach as soon as it chews the cud. Care must be taken to keep the food rich in bone and flesh formers."

GOOD SHORT STORIES

WHY HE WAS BASHFUL.

(Kansas City Journal.)

A Hutchinson girl declares this story is true. She was visiting at a small Kansas town recently, and while there her hostess gave a party in her honor and invited the pick of the whole countryside. Among the guests was a boy who had been to Topeka, so she had heard.

She had some acquaintances in Topeka and tried to draw him out, inquiring: "How did you like Topeka?"

The young fellow blushed and looked down before he murmured: "Oh, pretty well."

"Do you know many people there?" she continued, trying to get him interested, and attributing his reticence to bashfulness.

"Why, not many," he said, tugging at his collar, as if it were strangling him.

"I suppose you went to the park while you were there?" she asked.

"No," he replied. "I did not attend any of the affairs at the park."

She talked about other things, and later, when an opportunity came, she asked the hostess why that boy had been so reticent about talking of Topeka. The hostess threw up her hands.

"We simply had to invite him," she replied. "He belongs to a good family. As a matter of fact, he has just returned from Topeka, where he has been in the reform school!"

MAKING ROOM FOR HIM.

(Cleveland Leader.)

Dr. Edward Everett Hale was a foe to long sermons. He used to tell a story of a long-winded preacher and the minor prophets.

"This preacher," so Dr. Hale would begin, "once preached over an hour on the four great prophets, and then, when his exhausted congregation thought he had through, he took a long breath, turned a fresh page and, leaning over the pulpit, said:

"We now come to the more complex question of the minor prophets. First let us assign to them their proper order. Where, brethren, shall we place Hosea?"

"An irascible old gentleman in a black pew robe, took his hat and stick and said as he departed:

"Place him here, if you want to. I'm going!"

COCKNEY TALK.

An Englishman who had grown tired of his tight little island came to this country to teach school. One day while rehearsing a class of boys in spelling the word "saloon" was given out. The first boy missed it, likewise the second and the third. The fourth boy, spelling it correctly, was asked to go to the blackboard and write it so that all could see how it was spelled. Pointing to the word, the teacher said:

"This is the way you spell it. Easy, isn't it? Just a hee, a hay, a hell, two hoos and a hen."

In writing the word the boy had placed the letters conspicuously far apart. This peculiar did not escape the observing eye of the master and he asked:

"Why did you write it that way? Why didn't you place the hay nearer the hell?"

"Coz I's afraid it would burn up!" blurted out the irrepressible youngster. The next word missed was "Venice." It was spelled with two n's.

"What would you say if I told you there was but one hen in Venice?" asked the pedagogue as he surveyed the class critically above the rim of his glasses.

"I should say the price of eggs would be pretty high," came the answer from the boy who stood at the foot of the class.—Housekeeper.

Sandwich, Ont., Aug. 19.—Every available policeman and county constable was called out yesterday afternoon to quell a riot by a gang of fifty Italians employed on the town's sewer job, who went on strike for a change from a ten-hour to a nine-hour day. When their demand was not granted, the men threatened bodily harm to a few who decided to return to work. The presence of the police prevented a clash, and most of the men went to work later.

SHELLEY FOND OF FIREARMS.

STORY OF A BOY'S HOLD-UP TOLD AT THE INQUEST.

The Aged Widow of Michael Hall Reveals Her Story of the Tragedy—Murder Charge Will Probably be Dropped—No Evidence to Show Intent.

Simcoe, Aug. 19.—"He reached up his hand and tried to speak, but could not speak. Then he died. I was afraid I'd get shot and went inside the house. Just as I went to pull down the blind a shot came through the window, and I sat watching till someone came along to help me."

Such was the pathetic story of the ending of thirty years of married life which was told by the widow of Michael Hall at the adjourned inquest today. Mr. W. E. Kelly, K.C., watched the proceedings on behalf of Emory Shelley, the fifteen-year-old boy, who lies in jail on a charge of murdering the old man.

At the outset Mr. Kelly asked permission to cross-examine the witnesses. Without desiring to call attention to what he considered irregularities in connection with the case, he reminded the coroner of the fact that the young boy had lay in jail under a serious charge, and therefore it was desirable that his interests should be considered. Mr. Kelly's request was readily granted, but in the majority of instances he did not exercise the privilege.

So far as the elucidations of the manner of Michael Hall's death was concerned, practically nothing was added to what is already known. It came out in the evidence, however, that young Shelley had on more than one occasion made demonstrations with firearms. The most important piece of evidence touched in his character, was that given by Walter Pierce, a Port Dover farmer, who had employed the boy for some time. So far as his work was concerned he had no complaint to make, but in consequence of his improper conduct he had been obliged to discharge him.

"He threatened to fill me up with lead if I told his mother about it, so I promised that I would not tell," said Mr. Pierce. "But I told him I could not keep him."

Ruth Wilson also told how a year ago the boy had flourished a revolver at her, and a comical hold-up story was told by George Arms, fifteen years old. Dr. Edward Meek, who made the post-mortem, produced a section of bone taken from the deceased's skull, which had been penetrated by the bullet. The hole made was slightly larger than the actual size of a .22 calibre bullet. A human skull was also produced by the doctor in explaining the position of the wound. The bullet must have been the cause of death.

Dr. Murdoch McKinnon said the bullet was just touching the brain and meshed in amongst a network of capillaries.

MRS. HALL'S STATEMENT.

Mrs. Charlotte Hall, the dead man's widow, herself 17 years of age, repeated the story she had previously told as to the shooting. She could not think of any reason for enmity existing between her husband and young Shelley. It was true that a year ago there had been a little quarrel, and Michael had called him a liar. That had, however, all been patched up, and the boy had helped at a "wood bee" they held before Christmas. She had heard shooting on Sunday morning, but took no notice of it, although her husband had said that "it was too bad that boy should be shooting about on Sunday." Then she went to the barn from which the shooting was first supposed to have been done, and, passing her half blind and crippled husband on her return, told him that if she would come in she would read to him. A few seconds later he lay dying in her arms, unable to speak, and four other shots rattled into the house. Reverting to Shelley, she said that only a week ago when she was hoeing potatoes he had come up and talked to her in a most friendly manner.

The cross-examination by Mr. Kelly showed that the old man had had some liking for litigation, and on one occasion, Mrs. Hall said, a young man named Kerr had obtained a dollar by representing himself as "Mr. Kelly, the lawyer," and offering to start a case.

THE BOY'S MOTHER.

Mrs. Schaver, Shelley's mother, repeated the statements made by her to the newspapermen with regard to her son's denial of any knowledge of the cause of Hall's death. When the boy heard of it he wanted her to go over to the old man's place with him, but she refused. She had forbidden him to go shooting, but he persisted, and when she heard what had taken place she had been afraid that the boy would be blamed for the tragedy. She admitted having shot her second husband in the leg, but it was brought out in cross-examination that she had been acquitted on the ground that her action had been justifiable. Evidence as to the neighborhood was given by the boy's brother, Frank Shelley, his uncle, Richard Teft, and two neighbors.

George Arms, aged 15 years, told of the hold-up by young Shelley. As he was going to school with two other boys, Ray North and Austin Rush, both younger than he, Shelley had pulled a rifle and commanded them to "Halt; hands up; money or your brains." They held up their hands and he came up to them.

As the littlest boy was crying, he told them he was only fooling, and they told him to shoot with. On another occasion prior to this Emory Shelley had thrown "pain extermiator" in his eyes, and on the next night he gave another boy a similar dose.

The inquest was adjourned until tomorrow morning, when Inspector Greer will give evidence as to the range of the rifle and the penetrating power of bullets. Shelley will come up for preliminary hearing to-morrow, but the proceedings will only be formal and a remand will be made.

Crown Attorney Slaght stated today that so far nothing had come out which would tend to show that Shelley had intentionally killed Hall, and the murder charge will in all probability be dropped.

Strikers Fired 800 Shots at Night—Police Kept Quiet.

Pittsburg, Aug. 19.—Mounted and using their hickory riot clubs, members of the Pennsylvania State constabulary are to-day keeping strikers on the move in the Pressed Steel Car Co. strike zone at McKees Rocks. It is estimated over 800 shots were fired last night and early to-day by strikers and sympathizers, who had gathered on the O'Donovan bridge, near the works. During the firing the troopers and other police remained inside the mill, orders having been issued to take no action unless the strikers attempted an entrance to the plant.

The constabulary was out on the streets this forenoon, however, compelling the strikers to keep moving. Troopers took possession of the O'Donovan bridge, and efforts of the strikers to congregate at any point were met with galloping horses and riot sticks.

Strike leaders to-day explained the shooting and disorders. They are of the opinion that the workmen are being held in the mills against their wishes. The shooting, they say, was for the purpose of bringing the constabulary from the plant to the bridge, and give the new men an opportunity to escape from the works. The troopers stayed inside.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 19.—An interesting situation developed to-day in connection with the now famous plumbers' picketing case. The masters secured judgment for $3,000, with a $1,000 added for costs. The case is now in appeal and comes before the Imperial Privy Council this fall.

In the meantime, however, no stay of proceedings has been granted, and the masters, on proceeding to collect the amount of the judgment, found nothing to collect. Accordingly their counsel went before Judge McEalick to-day, applied for, and was granted the appointment of an interim receiver to receive and hold all dues payable to the local union to satisfy the judgment.

In other words, the members of the union will be required to hand over their dues each month to a representative of the court, who will in turn hand them over to the master plumbers. The members of the union state to-night that they will hereafter refuse to pay any dues, and are determined that nothing will be collected from them.

WORTH LITTLE.

Island in Dispute Between Canada and the United States.

Campobello Island, N. B., Aug. 19.—A conclusion is likely to be reached in the lengthy dispute existing since 1783 between Great Britain and the United States over the international boundary of the United States and Canada, as a result of the personal investigation concluded to-day by Mr. James Bryce, British Ambassador.

Mr. Bryce arrived here yesterday, accompanied by Sir John Hanbury Williams, secretary to the Governor-General of Canada; Mr. Joseph Pope, Deputy Minister of Foreign Affairs for Canada, and Dr. W. F. King, Dominion astronomer.

Immediately upon their arrival Ambassador Bryce and his party sailed into the bay in a motorboat and thoroughly explored the disputed territory. "Pope's Folly Island," which is directly on the line of demarcation, as well as the middle ground, and a shoal in Lubec Narrows. Later they visited the historic mansion of Admiral Owen, who was granted Campobello Island, together with the islet known as Pope's Folly prior to the American revolution. The Owen title figures largely in the dispute.

The ambassador and the Canadian officials again explored the international boundary line. Ambassador Bryce did not wish to be interviewed as to the probable result of his visit and investigation, but it is generally known that the question will be submitted to arbitration. The territory itself is hardly worth a song, but the question of whether the steamship channel is British or American and fishery rights are involved.

The contention of the United States is that the old eastern channel, long ago abandoned, is the boundary; the Canadian side claiming that the eastern channel, which is close to Campobello, never was the channel, and that the present course through the narrows is the line of demarcation.

COUNTERFEITERS.

Ten Thousand of Their Plants in United States and Canada.

Detroit, Aug. 19.—That there are 10,000 plants in the United States and Canada capable of turning out counterfeit money at almost a minute's notice was the astonishing statement made here today by Capt. John E. Wilkie, chief of the United States secret service. Chief Wilkie came to Detroit to-day on an inspection trip and declares his visit has no special significance. "There is no more counterfeiting than usual going on," added Mr. Wilkie. "These criminals lately have been more active in the east than in the west, and it is there they

SHACKLETON HELPED

British Government Grants $100,000 to Antarctic Explorer.

London, Aug. 19.—In the House of Commons to-day Prime Minister Asquith announced that the Government would recommend that Parliament grant to Lieut. E. H. Shackleton, the Antarctic explorer, the sum of $100,000 towards the expense of his recent expedition.

The proposal is equivalent to a grant, and the lieutenant now finds himself out of the financial woods. When he returned from his expedition he was $215,000 in debt, and when his friends had done all they could for him he was still out of pocket $70,000. As it was supposed the government would decline to make him a grant, the only way he could make up the deficit was by writing a book and making an American lecture tour.

Public opinion made itself very plainly felt on his behalf in Great Britain, and if the Government ever intended to ignore him, it has changed its mind.

THE WHEAT CALL.

Thousands of Harvesters and Families Go West.

Toronto, Aug. 20.—Ontario and the East are once more paying their annual toll to the western wheat fields. This year the call was for 20,000 harvesters, and the army which set out yesterday from Toronto and vicinity will satisfy more than a quarter of that need. Four special C. P. R. trains of sixteen cars each set out during the day, with a contingent of 2,500. An additional 1,500 from Goderich, Teeswater and Owen Sound went through West Toronto, and 300 more were taken on the G. T. R. via Chicago.

FRONTENAC GIRL MISSING.

Was Last Seen Near Cemetery at Beaver Lake.

Kingston, Aug. 19.—Miss E. E. Woodcock, of Beaver Lake, has been missing since Aug. 12. She is aged 35 years, and a daughter of Christopher Woodcock. On Thursday night at 11 o'clock F. Campsall says he saw the young woman standing near the cemetery. During the night neighbors claim they heard cries. The young woman was not distressed or suffering any affliction, and her absence is a source of anxiety.

OLD PLAINS STAGE COACH STILL HUMPS ITSELF.

Here is a photograph just taken of the Deadwood coach of historic memory, it runs between Leff and Dickinson, N.D., much like the old Deadwood coach did. Dickinson is a small station on a railroad, but Leff is completely shut out from the world except for the coach. When picture was taken the coach was ready to start on its regular trip. The town of Leff is in the background. Two mules are leaders and the other four steeds are horses, of course.

ARONOCO SUNK.

DISASTER IN FAIR WEATHER OFF HALIFAX HARBOR.

Turned on Her Beam Ends and Went Down—Only the Five Men on Deck Were Able to Save Themselves.

Halifax, Aug. 19.—Eleven men were carried down in the wreck of the Gloucester schooner Aronoco, which capsized twenty-five miles off Sable, near Halifax, yesterday morning. The names of the lost are: William Meuse, Tusket; William Vanenburg, Argyle; Stephen DeLong, Tusket; Toward Whitehouse, Argyle; Bernard Crowe, Argyle; William Vanenburg, Argyle; William Hadden, Argyle; Charles Shaw, Argyle; John Meuse, Del Brook; Peter Walsh, and John Walsh, Placentia, Newfoundland.

The Aronoco was six years old, and was built at Essex, Mass. She was a fast sailer and a good sea boat. She left Gloucester, Mass., on Aug. 3, and called at Argyle, N. S., where two men were shipped. On Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock the wind was southeast, blowing a fair breeze. When the 6 o'clock watch was called, and when Stillman Hubbard, James Shaw, James Vanenburg, and Ernest Stanley went on deck, Captain Larkin was at the wheel. The first watch was still on deck, and had not gone below. The jib-sheet was off too far, and the captain brought the vessel up into the wind, and she was hauled to windward and caught in the anchor stock. She paid off and commenced going down, turning on her beam ends. When half full of water the Aronoco went down very rapidly, and in three minutes no part of her was to be seen.

Five dories went down with her, and all the survivors, five in number, got into two dories. Both dories rowed to windward to try and pick up some of the other men who were below at the time of the disaster, but saw nobody. They picked up three pairs of oars for each dory, and seats and buckets, and everything was made ready to head for land, which they reached late last night.

They landed this morning, one at Chester Iron Bound, and the other at Little Tanook, reaching Lunenburg at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The captain is overwhelmed by the loss of the ship and so many of his crew, who went down without a chance for their lives. The accident is one of the most peculiar in the history of marine disasters.

MR. FISHER AT CALGARY.

Says the Government Cannot Do Too Much for the West.

Calgary, Aug. 19.—Hon. Sydney Fisher was the guest of the Canadian Club at noon, and addressed a meeting in the Empire Theatre after holding a reception this evening. The speeches of the Minister of Agriculture were full of optimism, which his trip through the wheat fields of the three Provinces has inspired. He said he would take back to his colleagues the statement that they could not do too much for the interests of the west, because out here were the best Canadians in Canada. He was sure that the aid which was needed for the west would be forthcoming.

Too Many Restrictions in Germany on Immigration.

French, Dutch, Danes and Belgians Prefer Home.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 20.—Hon. Frank Oliver, Minister of the Interior, returned to-day from a trip to Great Britain and the continent, where he has been for the past two months looking into immigration questions.

HON. FRANK OLIVER.

as reasonably satisfied with the present and the prospective immigration situation. "While there has been some reduction in the number of arrivals in Canada from Britain, I do not think that there has been a falling off in the number of what we term 'desirables,' the restraints which we have imposed upon persons entering Canada have had the effect of largely eliminating the immigration of people from London who would not benefit either themselves or Canada by coming here, but I think that the men who are able to make their way under Canadian conditions are coming in as large numbers as ever.

Indian list. "The trouble is whiskey, your worship."

"Why don't you leave him?" "I will if he will provide for the children and myself. I would like to have him put away where he would have to let the drink alone."

The magistrate informed her that he would put him on the Indian list, and something would be done for her.

All the way around is the drag net being circled to catch the vags. The official trio were on the job again yesterday, and five were lined up this morning.

William Hildreth, 141 Walnut street south, was given a bad name by the police, who said he had loudly voiced around the city his intentions of giving the police all that was coming to them if arrested. The prisoner took the stand and was effusive to a degree in his plea for a chance.

The magistrate told him he would give him one more chance so that he could not blame him (the magistrate) for blighting his life.

Alex. Myers came from Charleston, South Carolina, but the police took him up last night in a spirit of kindness, because the boy looked sick.

P. C. Cameron spoke kindly on the boy's behalf, so the Magistrate discharged him.

Two of Hogtown's citizens, W. Carrie and W. Price, the officers said, have been loafing around the city for some time at the expense of the British people understand Canada pretty well. The people in the rural districts and villages understand that in Canada there is opportunity for a man to make as good a living at least as at home, and that there is the added advantage of an opportunity for the industrious man to acquire a property of his own. It is the free land which is practically every part of the United Empire. The financial, industrial and commercial men are showing greater interest in Canada, and they have come to the realization that Canada offers advantages for them and they are keen to make use of them.

In commenting on the character of the immigration now arriving in Canada Hon. Mr. Oliver said that when the boat landed at Quebec he walked out with the four hundred odd immigrants which the ship carried. "They were a fine class of people," said Mr. Oliver, "and no one could have distinguished them by appearance from the first cabin passengers. I may say that I did not have this impression of the ship load with whom I returned three years ago."

As soon as he can get away Mr. Oliver will leave for Western Canada.

WANT TO BE SEPARATED.

Movement to Get Incorporation for East Hamilton.

Residents Want Section 8 Constituted a Village.

North Side People Working Hard for Annexation.

Crown Point people and the residents of that section of Barton township lying immediately east of the city and north of Cannon street were never so much interested in anything as they are in the present annexation movement. Their petitions are out and are being largely signed. The promoters say that when the matter is again brought before the Railway and Municipal Board in September there will not be a flaw in their case.

And now the south side people, those living between Cannon street and the mountain, immediately east of the city, and to whose effort the defeat of the recent annexation movement is attributed, they objecting to being included in the scheme, are organizing, not to oppose the Crown Point movement, but to secure incorporation as a village. The first meeting was held last evening, when the situation was carefully considered. The south side people do not wish to stand in the way of those north of Cannon street. They recognize the position they are in, and agree with them that annexation is the only remedy for their corporate ills. But they are as strongly opposed now as they were two or three months ago to being included in the annexation scheme.

Their present proposition is to have all that territory known as school section No. 8 incorporated into a village, which will have its own council and manage its own affairs. They will have the necessary petition drawn up and signed for presentation to the Municipal Board as soon as that body is ready to take the question up.

TORONTO SUICIDE.

Alfred E. Brown Blew His Brains Out During the Night.

Toronto, Aug. 20.—Sometime during the night at a rooming house at 32 Jarvis street, Alfred E. Brown put the barrel of a bulldog 38-calibre revolver in his mouth and blew his brains out. The body was found this morning by another roomer at the same house, lying across the bed fully dressed. Nothing is known about the man, but everything seems to indicate he was a lumberman, miner or prospector. Brown came to the rooming house on July 31st. Accounts of three different banks in Ottawa, Parry Sound and Toronto total $1,484 and $190 cash were found among his effects.

LEFT TO DROWN.

Montreal, Que., Aug. 20.—Aime Germain, son of a barge captain, of Yamaska, a deaf mute, was engaged in loading grain when he fell into the water. His cries were heard by the other workers. Not recognizing them as for help, no attention was paid to them till it was too late.

BOY DROWNED.

Troquois, Ont., Aug. 20.—Allan Shaver, 12 years old, son of Mr. Alex. Shaver, of Troquois, was drowned yesterday while bathing in the river. Whether he took a cramp or strangled, his companions did not know. His heart was still beating when he was pulled out of the water, but before medical aid was secured life was extinct.

BLOWN THROUGH WINDOW.

As a result of the blasting operations in the west end one day last week a stone weighing between five and six pounds was blown through the window of Mr. Webber's residence on Hess street. The stone broke the bay window, bounced upon the table and split it, throwing a large vase to the floor. The vase, which was a very valuable hand-painted one, was not broken. Luckily Mrs. Webber was in the kitchen at the time. Mr. Webber is keeping the stone as a memento.

BURIED ALIVE.

New York, Aug. 20.—John Morano, a laborer, was buried alive to-day by a cave-in on the sewer in course of construction in Sterling Place, Brooklyn. Two other Italians were caught under the falling earth, but were not seriously injured. Several tons of earth fell on Morano and another man to death before he could be dug out.

ALL SETTLED.

Tokyo, Aug. 20.—The memorandum signed at Mukden, Manchuria, August 19th, by representatives of the Japanese and Chinese Governments practically closes the Antung-Mukden controversy. According to the terms of this understanding China agrees to afford Japan every assistance in the reconstruction of the Antung-Mukden railroad, and withdraws all her objections.

JOY OF REMEMBRANCES.

Homey Hints for Blessing Every Day Living. (Rebecca Harding Davis in September St. Nicholas.)

There are probably to-day millions of worthy young folks in this country who are beginning their lives with the honest intention to "get on" in business and in society, to do the best they can for themselves and the world. They are earnest American boys and girls with the American zeal for progress, and the honorable principles which make progress worth while.

But is this all that is necessary? Is "getting on" to be the only object in their training for this life, and the life to come? A devout old clergyman of New England, in old age, said to his wife: "Ah, my dear, the times in our life that I like best to remember now are the days when we went camping and fishing together in the woods. We learned to know each other in those dear old frolics."

Whoever we may be, we cannot afford to leave such frolics out of our lives. An idle day in the woods will bring us no money, but it may be, will leave with us a new thought of happiness.

There are things, too, which should belong to us, not as breadwinners, but as human beings, which we are apt to neglect in fitting up our homes and designing our lives.

One of the most important, perhaps, is music. No house should be without an instrument of some kind, if it be only a cheap accordion. We may never become skilled performers; but music is the natural voice of a human soul, and it does not need a costly grand piano or Stradivarius for its expression.

The girls and boys of a family never may be great musicians, but they should have their piano or violin. However tuneless, it will give them relief from ill humor and wretchedness, and perhaps sometimes, as it did to Carlyle, "lead them to the edge of the Infinite, and bid them look down into that."

No home, too, should be without its animal inmates—cats, dogs or birds. The life of every girl and boy is unconsciously made deeper and broader by contact with these mysterious dumb brothers of ours. Without it no man is as human and tender at middle age as he would have been if he had had their love and companionship in his childhood.

Another uplifting factor in the life of a family, though one which earns not a penny, is the habit of keeping anniversaries. Crowd as many into the year as it will hold, and fill them with significance and joy. Let the birthday of no great man and no member of the household be forgotten. Nothing helps more to lift our lives to higher levels than the story of great men and women. A boy or girl is made stronger and happier for life because in one home his or her birth is celebrated every year as a gift direct from God; and the old grandmother finds her last years less lonely when loving hearts still thank God that long ago she was born into the world.

Horse Spectacles. The business of one well known firm of opticians in England consists largely in the manufacture of horse spectacles. The object of the spectacles is to promote high stepping. They are made of stiff leather, entirely enclosing the eyes of the horse, and the glasses used are deep concave and large in size. The ground seems to the horse to be raised, and he steps high, thinking he is going up hill or has to step over some article.

The system of spectacles is generally adopted while the horse is young, and its effect on his step and action is said to be remarkable. It has been discovered that the cause of a horse's shy is, as a rule, short sight, and it is now suggested that the sight of all horses should be tested like that of children.—Dundee Advertiser.

Ghee is used in India as is butter in America and European countries, and, in fact, is butter, so prepared that it never grows stale, instances being known of its preservation for as long as two hundred years. In preparing ghee butter is boiled until all the watery particles and curds have been thrown off by repeated skimming. When the liquor is clear oil it is poured into a vessel to cool. When cooled it is in granulated form, and will keep for years without becoming rancid or of bad color. Ghee has been found in deserted castles, where it must have been left more than two centuries ago.—Popular Mechanics
