A young man named McCormick, of Fort Fairfield, Me., Sunday, killed his father. Every effort to find the body has proved fruitless.

Mr. Albert Smith, after a lengthy illness died at his residence at Dorchester on July 1st. He was sixty-one years of age.

For trapping has been quite lively the past season, more so than for years, but the prices are on the whole low. Mr. Wm. Deak, of Rockville, N. H., has shipped about $200 worth of fur.

The Kelley motor company which has been perfecting its apparatus to generate power from nothing for nearly a century is now said to be building a locomotive of 500 horse power, with which it proposes in August next, to draw a train of Pullman palace cars from Philadelphia to New York.

A Kentucky widow eloped the week after her husband was killed. She is out of the way the neighbors talk. It is the opinion of the Boston Post that she should have a good deal of consideration in waiting till she was dead.

The Hartford (Conn.) Times says that it has been found that worn-out and partly decayed logs make the better and more profitable plan, and within a few years piano firms have sent agents through Connecticut to find fallen and partly decayed logs, and such timber has been sold at good prices after the owners had considered it entirely useless.

A supplementary report of the Department of Marine and Fisheries has just been issued, in which it is stated that the total value of the fishery products of Canada in the previous year was estimated to be $15,817,185.44. The value in the previous year was $15,096,928.76, exclusive of the catch in Manitoba and of the other North-West Territories, of which there are no returns.

PERSONAL.—Prof. John Macoun the justly celebrated pioneer explorer and descriptive writer of the North-West, now lives in London, Ont. He is making a thorough botanical survey of the North-West, and a complete history of the native flora of our Country will be published. Prof. Macoun has expressed himself as well pleased with the appearance of Nova Scotia, and may be interesting specimens of the flora of the province in his botanical list. They visit Granville, the North Mountain, and the Shawangunk Mountains.

CHURCH MATRONS TO DEPART.—Mr. Xavier Lottmann, of St. Pierre, River du St. Charles, met with a very heavy loss under peculiar circumstances. He had 39 fat oxen which he found difficult to keep closed up in the field, and he had to sell them at a very low price. The animals were such that the air quickly became suffocating and they were gradually smothered to death. It was necessary to force an entrance many times to get the oxen out of the field. The whole lot only weighed 25,000 lbs. and these have all died since.—Montreal Witness.

DEATH OF FROBER.—Amherst folk had a breach of promise suit on the 21st inst. The plaintiff, Miss Sophia Nelson was the plaintiff, and A. B. Battie was the defendant. The suit was tried before Judge Thomson, and the only question was how much money should be paid to the plaintiff. Miss Nelson, who is 19 years of age, quite pleasing in appearance, and has a modest fortune in court. According to the report, she is a most lovely girl, who is a master mariner, while at Wallace with his vessel, the schooner "Hull" in the month of 1881. He was introduced to her in a shop. After having met her on two subsequent occasions, she became engaged to him. He was kind in his breast that during the journey, he proposed to her to marry. She consented her parents, and accepted him, on the condition that he should pay her $1000 in cash, and another $1000 in bonds, and married her, whereupon Solomon Nelson felt much aggrieved and brought action. The jury awarded her $1,000.

—We copy from the Vermont Herald a report of the meeting of the Methodist district conference, the following in reference to the debate on the basis of Union—

Intense interest was manifested in the debate, by clergy and lay, large numbers of whom were present during the discussion. So profoundly was the subject treated with a view of the importance of the subject, that the request of the President for special prayer for divine guidance was responded to in every heart. The President, Rev. W. C. Brown, then led the earnest exposition, which was followed by Rev. John Lathrop, who moved the following resolution:

As the subject of Methodist Union, now prominently before the church and country, is of such importance, and the demands of our people and our country, demand our deliberate and prayerful consideration and decision, we, the several conferences, guided by the best available data, and in the most judicious manner, and after full consideration, have met and formulated a basis of Union, which, though including some undesirable features, nevertheless conserves the most essential principles of our denominational policy, and has been framed in the spirit of mutual concession, and for the sake of manifest and preponderating advantages.

As we have reason to believe that the results of Annual Conference reserves all the consideration, and that in matters of vital practical importance may lead to desired modification.

As the members of our official Quarterly Meetings from whom we should be reluctant to find ourselves at any serious divergence, by a large majority vote, and an almost unprecedented unanimity of action, have believed and accepted the proposed basis.

At the present time seems to be no opportunity for union—possibly now or never—and delay might lead to disastrous results.

As we regard the measure to be especially desirable upon economical grounds, most of all for the consolidation and furtherance of North-West missionary enterprise.

Therefore resolved, that this Conference of Nova Scotia accept the proposed basis of Union, and express the hope that this great movement shall be brought to its successful and harmonious consummation, one that shall secure the fullest confidence and co-operation of both the ministry and laity of our Church.

The mover of the above resolution addressed the Conference in a speech of considerable length, emphasizing the main points and giving reasons which to his mind should lead to the acceptance of the basis. He was followed by Rev. J. B. Sorden, who moved the following amendment, presented by Rev. Thomas Rogers.

Whereas, the basis of Union as presented to us for consideration is exceedingly incomplete and fragmentary in its character, leaving the Church practically in many important points without any Constitution whatever, and especially in relation to the Annual Conference, the rights and privileges formerly enjoyed.

And as the adoption of the basis as now presented is likely to lead to serious and permanent injury to our Church, and as the multiplied legal and constitutional questions involved, render it doubtful whether the course contemplated by the basis would secure union of any kind, and as the basis does not even recognize such less than an adequate provision for the financial difficulties which it would create.

And as we believe it possible and are extremely desirous that such a basis should be formulated as will not only secure the union of Methodism, but also conserve the highest interests, without which organic union is worth nothing.

Therefore resolved, That we respectfully request the General Conference of our Church, whenever it may meet, to take the necessary steps to secure a full revision of the basis with a view to the modification of its objectionable features, and the securing of the protection by the different Churches of our undoubted constitutional grounds.

The above amendment was moved by Rev. Jas. Taylor, seconded by Rev. Jos. Gates. Whereupon, the question should, according to the constitution, come before the Annual Conference only after it has been previously approved by the General Conference.

Therefore resolved, That we postpone further consideration of the matter until the General Conference of the following year, at an early stage in the debate, and the discussion centered upon the amendment.

The discussion was characterized by marked ability on both sides, and the admiration of the large and intelligent crowd of spectators whose interest never flagged from the first. Some of the speeches would have done credit to any disinterested assembly in the world, showing, as they did, accurate knowledge of historical facts with a profound conviction of the importance of the subject. At a few minutes past 3 o'clock, p. m., the vote of amendment was put, and lost by a majority of three. It stood as follows:—yeas 31, nays 107. The original motion was carried—yeas 134, nays 31. The Conference by this vote has formally accepted the basis of Union.
