CANADIANS TAKE VILLAGES

Damery and Parvillers, on Road to Roye and Only a Few Thousand Yards From the Town, Are Taken by Currie's Men, Who Also Put Eight German Divisions Completely Out of Business and Crush Three Counter-Attacks Near Chaunles.

Canadians Take Two Villages

LONDON, Aug. 15.—The Canadians have taken the Villages of Damery and Parvillers, a short distance northwest of Roye, according to Field Marshal Haig's official communication issued this evening. The British line southeast of Proyart, just south of the Somme, has been advanced a short distance.

BRITISH DRIVE THE GERMANS BACK OVER THE ANCRE RIVER

Four Towns Captured and Enemy is Forced to Readjust Line Between Somme and Arras—French Clearing the Lassigny District.

The fighting on the Somme-Oise battlefield still continues at a minor character compared with that of the early part of the week, when the Germans reinforced their line and stopped the eastward sweep of the allied forces.

Nevertheless the British and French again have been able to gain ground on two important sectors—the British a short distance northwest of Roye, where they took the villages of Damery and Parvillers, and the French on the southern wing of the battlefield, where they have captured two farms in the process of clearing the hilly and wooded district around Lassigny of the enemy.

More Towns Given Up.—North of the Somme, between Albert and Arras, the Germans are continuing to fall back, and the British are keeping in close contact with them. Thus far the Germans have definitely given up the towns of Beaumont-Hamel, Serre, Bueuquo, and Puisseux-aux-Monts, and at several points have crossed the Ancre River, with the British following closely on their trail. No official explanation has yet been advanced of the retrograde movement of the Germans over this front, but it is not at all unlikely that the operations on the Somme front and the harassing tactics which the British recently have employed made the enemy desirous of establishing himself on new ground eastward, with the Ancre River a barrier between him and his foes. At any rate the Hebuterne salient has virtually been obliterated by the retirement of the Germans, and seemingly they will now be compelled to make a readjustment of their line between the Somme and Arras.

Probably realizing the seriousness of the situation as it affects the central powers with defeats on the western front and their military positions in the other theatres, none too secure, with the feeling in Russia daily growing more intense against the Bolshevik and German rule and with the spectre of the more than a million Americans already in France and more millions of them soon to be in readiness for overseas duty, important conferences are in progress at German headquarters. The German and Austrian emperors and their suites, and Field Marshal von Hindenburg and General Ludendorff are the main conferees.

Situation in Russia.—The situation in Russia again is looming large. The Soviet leaders having fled from Moscow, the Bolshevik capital, to Kronstadt, the Soviet troops now are declared to have begun the evacuation of Moscow. American troops have begun to disembark at Vladivostok to aid the Czechoslovak army in its campaign in Siberia; an allied force is chasing the enemy more than a hundred miles south of Archangel on the railroad. Further allied troops have made a landing southwest of Archangel and are endeavoring to cut off the retreat of the Soviets, while British troops have arrived at Baku in the Caucasus on the Caspian Sea to assist the Armenians in defending this important seaport against the Turks, to whom it was given by the Brest-Litovsk Treaty in the attempt made by the Teutonic allies to dismember Russia.

MOTHER AND SON DROWN AT BEACH

Wife and Child of Ernest Neal Missing Since Tuesday.

HAD BEEN IN WADING Left Home for Outing, Without Saying Where They Were Going.

A drowning fatality was brought to light yesterday when residents of Balm Beach discovered the bodies of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Neal, 30, 1122A College street, and her son, Ernest Sylvester Neal, six, floating in the water off the beach. The body of the boy was found by Arthur Crawford of Beech avenue, and Elmer Russell, 302 Lake Front, who were paddling. The body was picked up by the life-saving crew at 2.30, while the mother's body was not located until 5.30.

Both the woman and the child had their shoes and stockings off and to all appearances had been in wading. One theory advanced by the authorities is that the boy had probably got out beyond his depth and that his mother in attempting to rescue him had also slipped into deeper water.

When spoken to early this morning at the city morgue after the identification, Mrs. Neal said: "They left home on the Tuesday for a little outing. I did not know where they were going as I was at work, but as they had been in the habit of doing this I did not think anything of it."

Mr. Neal has been in Canada seven years, coming here from England. He stated that his wife had been in poor health lately, but did not seem to contribute to the accident. "I have lost everything," he added.

CANADIANS SMASH UP THREE ENEMY ATTACKS

Eight German Divisions Suffer Tremendous Losses in Baffled Attempt to Break Dominion Line—Currie's Troops, Well Rested, Prepare for Further Offensive Operations.

With the Canadian Army in the Field, Aug. 14, 9 a.m., via London, Aug. 15.—Except for the continual boom of the artillery and night bombing from the air, the Canadian front has been quiet for the past 24 hours. The Boche got more than he bargained for when he made his recent counter-attacks against the top of our sector. No form of fighting is so expensive as an unsuccessful counter-attack. He put over three of these and his losses are correspondingly great. Besides the four enemy divisions we put out of action, on the opening day, some eight more divisions have been identified as having been thrown into the line against us, without avail. The Canadian force, one of the brightest swords in the armory of the allies, is ready for anything and everything. It is at full strength with troops well rested, whose sole desire is to let loose again on the Hun. After nearly four years of hard fighting this eager spirit is rare and remarkable. The scarred veterans of St. Julien are just as keen as young soldiers.

Total Advance.—Starting from the point farthest back, the extreme top of the advance the enemy had made on Amiens, the Canadian force advanced at Haller to the most easterly points now held by the allies, a total depth of twenty thousand yards.

Many wonderful stories remain to be told about the work of brigades and units on that famous Thursday of last week, but none more fitting to the imagination than that of the Canadian motor machine gun troops and cyclists acting along the Roye road, who did much to demoralize the enemy's resistance. The command included a number of armored cars. They received general assistance from the cavalry, which entered our front line on the north and passed thru dismally to the southeast. Part of this force had fought over the same ground last March and April, when the Canadian motor machine guns and cyclists were thrown in to help stem the German tide. The record of their deeds in those desperate days, when every inch of ground had to be contested at all costs, is known to the world. In a few hours last Thursday they overran the line of their heroic retreat and passed far beyond.

Two Nights on Road.—"We had some damn good sport up there the other day, some real honey," remarked an old soldier who had been thru both. "What are they in a hole, when we got to get at them again?"

The force had been on the road for two nights and went immediately into action. They were at it night and day until they got their first real rest in a week on Sunday. The Amiens-Roye road traverses a difficult country, bisected by ravines and bordered by woods offering excellent positions for machine gun nests. One of these held a part of the force up some time, but finally a tank came up, shot down the enemy and rode right over their stronghold. A motorcycle scout ahead of an armored car to scout, rode right thru the village, still held by the Boche, steering with one hand and with the other emptying his automatic into the asounded enemy. Seeing the car behind they surrendered. Again a part of our cavalry rode into an open village and returned with 600 prisoners.

Adventure of Lorry.—An extraordinary incident is related of a ration lorry which by mistake ran right thru our lines, on the Roye road, into those of the enemy and only pulled up when stopped by a German sentinel. Him they bayoneted and threw into the lorry and after him three Fritzles who had surrendered. But it was too good to last. The Boche came back with bombs and put the lorry out of action. Our men, however, tho' all wounded, succeeded in making good their escape, thru the twilight, and in the evening they advanced again and recaptured the lorry. The motor machine gunners have a new mascot in a fine Dachshund female dog they took from a dugout, where she refused to leave the body of her master, an officer. Just now she is suffering from shell shock and whines at every explosion, but the unit means to take her back to Canada. These people, like the infantry farther north, are full of praise for the work of the Y.M.C.A.

"Tell the people of Canada that they kept some of us on our feet with their hot drinks when we had no sleep for nights for days," said a sergeant. The motor cyclists especially are delighted, for it was the first time they have had to do with any fighting, the real capacity for which they were organized. There is only one thought among them—all the Somme.

Taking of Staff Officers.—London, Aug. 15.—It not often falls to the lot of a soldier to capture the staff officers, but one proud Canadian now at Orpington sits on side of his bed not badly blighted and with justifiable pride tells how he and a bunch of about 20 Canadians captured three captains, one colonel and a general, whom they surprised in a dugout, reading fairy tales of German forests and forgetting that there was a war on. It was a Winnipeg gang that got them. One of the three advanced scouts told the story in cheerful bits, while his companions in the surrounding beds

Five Billion Dollars

Subscriptions for National War Bonds in Britain Reach Stupendous Total By Regular Investments.

London, Aug. 15.—The chancellor of the exchequer, Rt. Hon. Bonar Law, in a statement issued today, announced that the subscriptions for national war bonds had reached the stupendous figure of one thousand million pounds sterling ($5,000,000,000). Hitherto the world's record was held by the great war loan of 1917, yielding £948,459,000. "Most remarkable is the fact," he says, "that the great result was achieved by regular, continuous, week-by-week, investment; consequently we avoided the dislocation of the money market and the upheaval of credit which after a great loan render it impossible for the government to issue another loan for many months. It may therefore fairly be stated that the success of the national war bond issue is a unique achievement. Undoubtedly the excellent result achieved will serve as a stimulus to fresh endeavors. We need £25,000,000 ($125,000,000) weekly, and rely therefor on the patriotism and sense of duty of our people. We know now that the financial efforts of the country will not only be sustained but surpassed, and that we shall be able to finance the war thru to victory."

Handling the Sheaves! The farmers of Ontario had a great time yesterday teaming in the grain from the fields. And if the good weather continues, they will be at it for another fortnight. A lot of spring wheat is already in the barns. Oats seem to show the heaviest yield. On a lot of farms the wagons go back for another team grain is to have more wagons than teams and more pitchfork men than teamsters. No sheaf is handled less than three times and some of them five before they are piled ready for the threshing later on. And every time it is handled it drops some of its grain. The grain that looks away is more than the taxes.

ATTRACTIVE FURS. It is very close on fur time now, and according to authorities there will be a heavy rise in prices all round after the season sets in. The W. & D. Dinsen Co., 140 Yonge street, are now showing handsome neck pieces in White Fox, Taupe Fox, Lucille Fox, and rare specimens of Seal Coatee in Hudson Seal trimmed with Chinohilla Grey Squirrel—Australian Opossum, Pitch Cape, and various new styles of short fur Capes and many novelties for early fall wear that should interest those looking for furs. The new Fur Coat models are also shown by the Dinsen Co.

DO GERMANS INTEND TO WITHDRAW AGAIN?

Another Strategic Movement May Be Coming, Judging by Enemy Activity.

With the British Army in France, Aug. 15.—There have been no further striking developments today in the situation on the new Somme battlefield or immediately north of it, where the Germans have been evacuating advanced posts in a manner somewhat similar to that preceding their withdrawal last year to the Hindenburg line.

The enemy seems to be in some force along the new front south of the Somme, where he has been driven by the allied armies. His principal force seems to be between Chaunles and Roye. The mystery still to be solved on the new battlefield and the region northward is: Do the Germans intend making another "strategic withdrawal"?

TAKE ALL HIGH GROUND. French Work Down North and East Sides of Massif.

London, Aug. 15.—The French have captured all the high ground on the Lassigny Massif, and are working down the north and eastern sides so that a further retirement of the enemy in that sector is probable, according to advices received here this afternoon.

TWO ENEMY CITIES BOMBED BY BRITISH

Thionville and Offenburg Made Targets for Royal Air Force—Heavy Fighting.

London, Aug. 15.—The air ministry tonight issued the following communication: In addition to the operations carried out on the 13th inst., an attack was made on Thionville. Two hostile machines were destroyed in the course of the fighting and three of our machines failed to return.

Our airplanes were active again during the night of 13th-14th against aerodromes and railways. Observation was too difficult to see the results. All our machines returned safely. On the afternoon of the 14th our machines successfully attacked the stations and sidings at Offenburg (Baden). Direct hits were obtained on the railway. Heavy fighting took place in which two enemy airplanes were destroyed and two other enemy machines were driven down out of control. All our machines returned safely. Night operations were carried out on the 14th-15th against a hostile aerodrome, blast furnaces, railway sidings and various ground targets. All our machines returned safely.

BAKU MARCH MADE AMID DIFFICULTIES

London, Aug. 15.—The British advance thru Persia from Bagdad to Baku was accomplished under the greatest difficulties. In the mountainous sections they were resisted by a few groups of tribesmen, but they quickly overcame this opposition. The British force crossed the Persian frontier and reached Enzelli, on the Caspian Sea, by the way of Hamadan.

LETTERS BY AIRPLANE DELIVERED IN OTTAWA

Ottawa, Aug. 15.—Two letters were received by the militia department by aerial mail from Toronto this afternoon. The letters, which were despatched by officers in the school of aeronautics at Toronto to officers in the militia department, were posted at 9 a.m. today in Toronto. They were received by the militia department at 4.30 p.m. by the regular mail delivery. The mail airplane left Toronto at 10 a.m. and reached the Rockcliffe ranges, Ottawa, at 2.45 p.m. A stop was made at Deseronto.

BRITISH AIR FORCES CAUSE GREAT DAMAGE

German Commanders Are Worried Over Situation, and Order Immediate Protective Steps.

With the British Armies in France, Aug. 15.—The British artillery continues pounding the enemy from his front line to the back waters of the Somme, and intense aerial bombing is being continued day and night. Chaunles and other rear targets have been repeatedly bombed. A direct hit was secured on a train at a station near Chaunles. Many fires have been caused by bombs. So vigorous have the British air forces become in their operations that the German commanders are reported to be worried over the situation.

One of the commanders has just issued an order to his troops in which he says that recently "bloody losses" have been caused by aircraft raiding billets and camps. He orders that immediate protective steps be taken, such as complete alarm signals, and the building of underground shelters of sufficient size to accommodate troops in large numbers.

HUNDRED-MILE GAIN BELOW ARCHANGEL

Allied Expeditionary Force Drives Back Bolsheviki—Attempt to Intercept Retreat.

London, Aug. 15.—The allied Archangel Expeditionary Force has reached Fabreshkaia, 100 miles south of Archangel on the railroad toward Volodga. It is announced here, Bolshevik forces, on retiring, are declared to have committed every form of atrocity upon the civilian population. Fairly determined resistance to the allied advance was offered by the Bolsheviki and the progress of the expeditionary force was delayed. Allied forces have been landed along the shore of Onega Bay, 100 miles southwest of Archangel, for the purpose of intercepting Bolsheviki forces retiring from Archangel, it is learned here.

TWENTY-SIX BOMBS FELL ON FRANKFORT

Basel Hears Reports of Many Casualties Infructuous Damage Sustained.

Geneva, Aug. 15.—An official despatch received here from Frankfort, Germany, says that Monday morning at nine o'clock that city was attacked by 12 enemy aviators, who dropped twenty-six bombs, killing 12 persons and injuring five others. Reports from Basel, however, assert that the casualties were far more numerous. These say that a bomb fell in the crowded Kaiserstrasse, killing many persons and stopping the street cars; that another fell in the middle of the large station and several in the vicinity, while two more fell in the barracks and still another near Goethe's house, which was undamaged. The Basel despatch says the aerial attack has increased the panic reigning in the Rhine towns.

GERMANS WITHDRAW ON NINE-MILE FRONT

Enemy Evacuates Section of Flanders Salient Near Merville.

London, Aug. 15.—The Germans have withdrawn one to two miles on a nine-mile front, at the western edge of the Flanders salient, according to information received here this afternoon.

BRITISH GAIN BAKU FROM MESOPOTAMIA

Objective of Force is Territory of Don Cossacks in South Russia.

London, Aug. 15.—A British force from northwestern Persia has reached the Caspian Sea and taken over a part of the defences of Baku. Whether the allies will be able to hold Baku permanently, in view of the difficulties of transporting supplies, is too early to predict. However, if the British can hold their position a short time longer, which is the important oil fields of the Baku district.

It appears from the meagre information at hand in London that the British detachment voyaged by steamer from Enzelli, Persia, to Baku, demonstrating that the allied hold on the Caspian Sea already is fairly established. The naval forces now undoubtedly will endeavor to make secure their communications, and once this task is accomplished, there will be hardly a possibility of the central powers gaining possession of the Baku oil fields. The brief advices received here indicated that the Russian general Dukachoff was commanding at Baku.

More less fortunate in their prowess, the not seriously wounded, called bearing remarks, plainly inspired. "Officers' horses; we made a rush for them and got a fine bag."

His souvenir after all was only a little hair comb used, he thinks, on a general's spiked moustache.

Rushed up Hundred Cars. Resuming history, he said that the Germans brought up a hundred motor lorries loaded with soldiers, but "we just turned" captured machine guns on them.

The sergeant did not believe that he heard more than three guns fired that first day by the Germans. He said that the Canadian barrage was the finest thing which he has seen put up. There were some Jocks helping the Canadians, too. The Canadian lorries have got the German tanks beaten to a frazzle.

Two Hospitals Taken. "I only know," he said, "that we would have had a much harder time if it had not been for them. We captured two of their hospitals, adopted them for dressing stations, and a whole train load of ammunition. Their infantry hadn't bayonets or even rifles loaded, so they struck at us with rifle butts."

"This is the second time the wounded were once gassed for luck," he said. A corporal from Regina said that every sunken road was full of Germans. They were beginning to come back," he said. He had a watch, belt, and cigar case. "You have always got to get a few souvenirs," he said. He could speak authoritatively as being thru Ypres, Festubert, Givenchy, Passchendaele and Amiens.

Fritz Hates Bayonets. "I tell you one thing," he said, "Fritz will fight till you get right up to him, but when it starts that you mean business, he starts to undress, taking off his equipment, elevating his hands, offering every sort of bribe as long as you promise not to kill him. Here's an instance," and he fished in his Red Cross comfort, hanging on the bedside, producing a small purse containing a dirty five mark bill and a handful of pathetic little pennies, which a German had offered in exchange for his life.

With the purse was thrown in a broken string of prayer beads. The sergeant gave him the benefit of the doubt.

With regard to the German dislike of close quarters, he said, "In one machine gun nest they could have wiped us all out if they had seen us coming, but we got right on top of them first and they caved in with a 'kammerad'."

Three Million Americans In France by June Next Year

Washington, Aug. 15.—Four million American soldiers can defeat the German army is the belief of General March, chief of staff, and present plans of the war department call for more than that number under arms next summer, with 3,000,000 of them, or eighty divisions, in France by June 30. These and other important facts concerning the nation's effort in the war, as given to the senate military committee by General March, Secretary Baker and Chief of Staff General Crowder, were revealed today by Chairman Chamberlain in presenting to the senate the administration man-power bill extending the conscription act to include all men between the ages of 15 and 45 years.

WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

In Picardy yesterday the Canadians on the allied right centre went into action again and captured Damery and Farvillers, two villages lying a short distance northwest of Roye. These gains, if they hold them, bring their lines dangerously close to Roye, and they also weaken the Chaulnes-Roye line of German defense. As the Germans had massed large forces in this region and had used no fewer than eight divisions in three counter-attacks which the Canadians crushed, Sir Arthur Currie probably took advantage of the consequent German disorganization to launch his victorious attack. Farvillers, one of two villages carried, stands on the direct road from Rosieres to Roye, and its reduction would mean a German retirement of a mile. The only other important action was on the allied right wing, about ten miles or so to the southeast. Here the French made a further advance of unstated depth between the Oise and the Bazis Rivers, and also made an advance up the Oise from Ribecourt, capturing two farms, named the Attiche and the Monnelle.

In the region south of the Somme the British in local operations also moved forward a short distance at a point southeast of Froyat; and in Flanders, which has been unnoticed in the past few days, the Germans have just slipped away from a strip of ground nine miles long and two miles deep. The territory thus abandoned by the enemy lies near the apex of the Flanders of Lys salient, for the Germans in their retirement evacuated the Village of Vieux-Berquin, three miles north of Merville. The most reasonable explanation for this enemy action is that he is finding the salient too sharp and deep and is flattening its contour to cut his losses from the constant erosion of British artillery fire.

Some correspondents of the press at French headquarters telegraph that the allies have finished the battle begun last week in Picardy and that if they resume the fighting, it will be in the nature of a second battle. This statement again shows that war is a series of alternatives. The allies base each new operation on the preceding. The Germans may have stripped some section of their front rather bare of troops to save the army of Von Hutler and Marshal Foch, on the other hand, this fact may choose to shift his next attack to the weakest point in the German line on the principle that a chain is no stronger than its weakest link. The continuance of the Canadians, who are shock troops, in the line of battle, leads to the supposition, however, that the allies are aiming at perseverance in their attacks on the Somme front. The German conduct of placing a specialist on retreats in command in Picardy and their withdrawals north of Albert are inclining some of the sanguine war reviewers to think that they are meditating a gen-

The Siberian field force will be outfitted here.

REPULED IN ALBANIA. Paris, Aug. 15.—A French official communication says: "Army of the east: On Aug. 14 there was moderate artillery activity on the whole of the front. To the west of Porcecuc the enemy attempted a new attack, which was repulsed. British aviators have bombed enemy bivouacs to the north of Gjevgelje."

Plowing and Crop Failure. The farmers of the Canadian west are discussing the partial failure of their wheat crop. One expert writing in the Grain Growers' Guide, after careful study of the situation, is in a pessimistic mood. Some who summer-fallowed their land and others who fall-plowed, compared with those who had worked the land the year before. But if there is anything that pays, here in Ontario, is to those who plow the year before and work over again in spring. Now is the time for the Ontario farmer to think about fall plowing. We are not so pushed for time as in the west.

ENEMY TAKES TROOPS FROM LINE OF VESLE. Pressure of Allies Makes Germans Retire One or Two Divisions. With the American Army on the Vesle, Aug. 15.—The sustained pressure here by the French and Americans on the line between Soissons and Fismes appeared today to be having the expected result. Information from behind the German front, obtained by observers, indicated the withdrawal of one, or two enemy divisions. In addition, the counter-attacks of the Germans have been notably reduced of late. Moreover, the enemy's reply to the American guns, which have never ceased their punishment, has been appreciably less prompt, and the falling off in the enemy's aerial activities has been especially notable.

With the British Army in France, Aug. 15.—General interest in the situation along the Picardy battlefield has shifted to the northward, where it is confirmed that the Germans are evacuating some of their forward positions. British patrols crossed the Ancre at Authuille and Aveluy, north of Albert, last night, and went some distance before they were fired upon.

With the American Army on the Vesle, Aug. 15.—The sustained pressure here by the French and Americans on the line between Soissons and Fismes appeared today to be having the expected result. Information from behind the German front, obtained by observers, indicated the withdrawal of one, or two enemy divisions. In addition, the counter-attacks of the Germans have been notably reduced of late. Moreover, the enemy's reply to the American guns, which have never ceased their punishment, has been appreciably less prompt, and the falling off in the enemy's aerial activities has been especially notable.

CASTING THEIR EYES TOWARDS LEASIDE

Toronto Railway Company Sees a Good Customer in the New Town.

Leaside, with its big munition plant, Canadian Northern Railway yards and shops, and Royal Air Force, has not escaped the eye of the manager of the Toronto Railway Company. Mr. Fleming is keeping in touch with the development of Toronto's new neighbor. He sees a new customer in sight.

"Your paper has kept me well informed about what is going on up there," he told a reporter for The World yesterday. "It is remarkable the progress that has been made the last few months. The town has decidedly got-off to a good start with the establishment of a modern railway layout, and a munition plant which it is reported will employ some $900 hands."

"What about a street railway service to Leaside," he was asked. "You can say that the Toronto Railway Company is always looking towards the future," Mr. Fleming answered. "Any proposition put forward looking to a street car line to Leaside will be considered. We will be only too pleased to sit in on any proposition that may be made."

Mr. Fleming only repeats what everybody else says as to the necessity of a car line to the new town. The munition plant, with its thousands of hands, finds the lack of a service a great drawback in filling the orders on hand for the British and United States governments, and the 2000 men at the aviation camp would be the day when they could get a car to the city. Besides these there are the hundreds of workers employed in building operations up there, the town authorities themselves and the Canadian Northern—all pulling for street cars.

The Toronto City Hall is expected to wake up shortly to a realization of what is going on at its northeast door.

CLAIMS TO BE ARMENIAN.

Before Chief Justice Falconbridge yesterday at Osogood Hall in the case of Horsrov Avardian, who declares that he is an Armenian and so should not be detained in khaki, was enlarged for one week so that proof that he is not a naturalized British subject may be furnished to the military authorities.

PRISONER MUST APOLOGIZE.

Provided that he appear in a month's time and apologize to the court and pay the costs. Chief Justice Falconbridge yesterday at Osogood Hall suspended the attachment order, and ordered that Richard Kruse be released. Kruse has been in Goddard jail for alleged contempt of court in not having removed buildings on Mill street, Edmondville Village, Huron County. It was stipulated that the apology must be approved by the plaintiff in the case of Jones v. Tucker-Smith.

LIEUT. R. G. WICKSON WOUNDED

Lieut. R. Grayson Wickson is listed as having been wounded on Aug. 1. He left Toronto as a private in the 35th Battalion in 1916. The following month he was shell-shocked. While recovering in England he was raised to commissioned rank. He is a graduate of Parkdale Collegiate.

HABES CORPUS WRIT APPLICATION REFUSED

Chief Justice Falconbridge yesterday at Osogood Hall dismissed the application of H. J. MacDonald for a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of Meyer Cooper, who claims that he is a Russian and so is not liable under the M. S. A. He was granted exemption at a tribunal, but was ordered to serve by Judge Winchester, and notice of appeal was given by Cooper to Justice Duff at Ottawa, but no other action was taken until the military authorities were served with notice of writ of habeas corpus.

Mr. MacDonald was of the opinion that as Cooper was not a British subject he did not come under the ruling of the M. S. A., but A. J. Thomson, military representative, quoted section 5, sub-section 6 of the M. S. A.: "No proceedings authorized or pending before any tribunal, by means of an injunction, prohibition, mandamus, certiorari, habeas corpus, etc., shall be enjoined, restrained, stayed, removed, or subjected to review."

GASOLINE EXPLOSION.

A gasoline explosion on the premises of the Motor Repair Shop, 305 Kingston road, was the cause of a fire early yesterday morning which destroyed the building to the extent of $800, and did damage to the contents to the extent of $200. Two motor cars were damaged to the extent of $1450. The building was the property of the Wildmer Hawke estate.

LIEUT. TENNANT A CASUALTY.

Lieut. W. C. Tennant, who was formerly with the Canadian General Electric, is reported wounded. He is a son of Mrs. B. Tennant, formerly of 34 Royal street, Toronto, but now of Vancouver.

WILLS PROBATED

The sum of $295 in the bank made up the estate of David Cowie of Toronto, who died in Buffalo, July last. The Imperial Trust Co. has applied for administration. One brother in New York, one in Aberdeen, Scotland, and another in Chicago, will share equally.

Eugenio Passonelli, who died intestate in Toronto on June 16, 1918, left $950 in two bank accounts. Mrs. Mary Passonelli, widow, has nominated Joseph Gynter to administer the estate which will be divided between the widow, daughter, two sons, and an unborn child.

Mrs. Jane Edwards, who died at Schomberg, May 28, last, left an estate valued at $1050, consisting of household goods valued at $200, and a house at Schomberg, valued at $750. By a will made in October last, Annie Louise Edwards, daughter, will inherit the whole of the estate.

ASSESSMENT REDUCED.

The Wm. Harris Company appealed to the court of revision against the assessment of $7500 an acre on its property on Coxwell avenue. The land, it was claimed, was not suited for industrial purposes owing to lack of railway facilities. For subdivision purposes it was only worth $10 to $12 a foot. A reduction to $4500 an acre was made.

HEAT CAUSES DEATH.

Mrs. Mary Ouston died very suddenly yesterday morning at her home, 104 Borden street. It is thought that the heat of the previous day was the cause of the sudden call. She had been a resident of Toronto for 37 years. She is survived by her husband, six sons, and a daughter. The funeral will take place on Friday. Interment at St. James' Cemetery.

LATE LIEUT. D. B. GIBSON BURIED IN TORONTO

The funeral of the late Flight-Lieut. Donald B. Gibson, who died in England on July 3, took place in Toronto yesterday afternoon from the residence of Sir John Aird, 38 Madison avenue. Full military honors were paid. A company of Royal Air Force cadets attended the funeral, and a number of R.A.F. officers acted as pall-bearers. The service at the residence was conducted by Dr. Munro, Major Rev. T. Crawford Brown, chaplain of the air force, officiated during the service at the grave in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

The late Flight-Lieut. Gibson, the son of Alfred E. Gibson, was born in Toronto 25 years ago. Previous to going overseas he was employed on the staff of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. He was a graduate of the University of Toronto. His death, which occurred at Leeds, England, was due to stomach trouble. When taken ill, he had just completed his training preparatory to leaving for France.

SCHOOL BUILDING PROGRESS.

The temporary structure that is being erected on the site for the new John Ross Robertson school is nearing completion and will be used while the new school is being built. The 12-room annex to the Queen Alexandra school and the new household science room, the manual training room and the seven new classrooms which are being added to the Perth avenue school are now well under way. This work was commenced about a month ago and the walls are now partly up.

CITY ISSUES A WRIT.

A writ has been issued against Samuel Soloway and Gerson Soloway by the City of Toronto to restrain the defendants from using a building at 50 Lakeview avenue as a stable.

From the U. S. Papers

Looking for the Goat. Wichita, Kas. Star: Fritz is beginning to make the crown prince the goat. That's the first preliminary to bouncing the whole Hohenzollern outfit.

Leaves Dirty Trail Everywhere. New York Tribune: No nation ever carried the unscrupulous policy of debasement alike of enemies and of friends as far as Germany has done. She leaves a dirty trail everywhere; whatever she touches she defouls. Yet there are those among us, there are those even in England, France and Italy, who continue to play, wittingly or unwittingly, the German game. To them this thing is not intolerable.

Reaping the Whirlwind. New York World: Having sown the wind Lenin and Trotsky are reaping before the whirlwind.

Women Workers in Britain. New York Herald: It is said that 1,500,000 women have replaced men in British industries as a result of the war. In government establishments not including controlled establishments engaged in munitions work more than a third of the total number of employees are women, and in more than a fourth of the total. These figures refer only to the women directly replacing men. The effect upon the social life of England is remarkable.

WOUNDED SECOND TIME.

Lieut. Wilfred M. Smith, son of T. M. Smith, 103 Ivy avenue, is reported wounded. He went overseas with the contingent from the 49th Highlanders in the first year of the war, was wounded in June of 1916, and recommended for a commission which he received in 1917. His father is a veteran of the South African War.

From the Canadian Press

A Good Example. Grain Growers' Guide, Winnipeg, of Aug. 7: Waste and duplication are steadily being reduced to a minimum and the United States Government is saving enormous amounts in labor, material and time by the co-ordination of her great railroad system. Unquestionably similar saving will follow government operation of the telegraph system. The Canadian Government should follow the example of the American Government and take over the railroads and telegraphs of Canada.

Will They Get Their Due? Ottawa Journal: It will be an everlasting pity if Lenin and Trotsky manage to get out of Russia, instead of getting what the unfortunate Nicholas got.

The Horrors of War. Hamilton Herald: The war-poet who made Joffre rhyme with offer did not reach the limit. The newspaper-jester who remarked "Pop goes the Vesler" has him beaten several kilometers.

Feeding the Prisoners. Hamilton Spectator: What gathering in those tens of thousands of prisoners, the allies should see to it that they earn their keep. Canadian wheat is not grown to allow them to eat the bread of idleness.

Our Golden Harvest.

Hamilton Spectator: What would not the hungry enemy give at this present moment in exchange for the golden wheat-fields of the western prairie! The Dominion is one of the most favored spots in the world today, and we should never be unmindful of our benefits.

SUNDAY MEETING MAY BE ILLEGAL

Point Will Be Cleared Up Before Varley Speaks at Labor Temple.

COUNCIL MAKES GRANT

Some Opposition to Assisting Labor Education Movement by University.

At last night's meeting of the Toronto District Trades and Labor Council the question arose as to the legality of a meeting to be held at the Labor Temple Sunday afternoon in the interest of Mr. Varley, being addressed by the candidate for the Labor Temple Sunday afternoon in the interest of Mr. Varley's campaign would be held at the Labor Temple Sunday afternoon.

Make Educational Grant. The question of granting $100 for the Workers Educational Association, carried another lengthy discussion. Delegate Richards pointed out the construction of the present committee on the association. He stated that three of the members represented the University of Toronto, thru the trade movement of Toronto and two other outside organizations.

The matter of affiliating with the university drew forth many protests. Delegate Connor stating that it was a disgrace that in the past the University of Toronto has contributed so little to the educational life of the country. "Spend your money for educational classes among your own ranks and don't be misled by any university," he said.

The motion was carried that $100 be paid to the association. Give Account of Strike. Delegate J. W. Bruce, grand organizer of the United Steamfitters and Plumbers, gave an account of the strike at the Police shipyard. He stated that the Dominion shipyard was hampered in its work by the employees' association. The men were out for 65 cents an hour, time and a half overtime, double time on Sunday and recognition of the union. They were willing to work all the day, although the general working hours in the city was eight. Before the men went out they were getting 20 cents an hour. The Dominion shipyard, he pointed out, had agreed to these conditions.

The meeting placed itself on record as being in sympathy with the men and their cause as advocated by Mr. Bruce.

Officers Elected. The following officers were installed into office and obligated: A. Conn, president; James Ralph, financial secretary; J. A. Stevenson, recording secretary; W. J. Storey, president; F. C. Cribben, J. Young, James Scott, and R. J. Cox, executive committee; W. Brown, James Scott, and James Simpson, trustees; W. Stephenson, sergeant-at-arms; A. Wilson, tyler.

Allowance for Delegates. Considerable discussion took place over that portion of the report of the executive that advised that each delegate attending the forthcoming convention at Quebec be allowed $140. Delegate Hopkins was of the opinion that if the council had so much money to spare it might be spent to better advantage. No wonder the president points the finger of scorn at labor," he said. "I suggest that $100 for each delegate be sufficient."

The recommendation was carried that each delegate be allowed $140. Gomers Cannot Come. A letter was read by Mr. A. Stevenson, secretary, from S. Gomers, president of the American Federation of Labor, expressing his regrets at his inability to visit Toronto on Labor Day.

The matter of the street car shortage between the hours of six and seven on the mornings of holidays on the street railway, the civic line, and the suburban lines was brought up, and it was decided that the municipal committee take the matter up with the board of control.

NEWS OF LABOR

BLACKSMITHS HOLD OUT FOR HIGHER WAGE SCALE

Blacksmiths and blacksmiths' helpers are still firm in their decision to fight for the schedule recently drawn up by the union and accepted by all but one or two shops in Toronto.

W. L. Fowlston, general vice-president of the International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths and Helpers, stated yesterday afternoon that the firm had considered a minimum wage of 75 cents an hour and a maximum of $0 cents. They had also considered a graduating scale of wages. The union had opposed this method of payment and had adopted the "straight" maximum-minimum scale.

The minimum, he said, was scheduled at 70 cents and the maximum at a dollar an hour. The reason for the apparently exorbitant maximum was the heavy and warm nature of the work.

A. H. McMenamy, general organizer for the Associated Society of Engineers, stated that the men were not desirous of holding up important work. The fact was that one or two of the firms still stood out for the former scale which was less than the demands of the men by more than 20 cents an hour. These two firms, he said, were keeping all the men out of work, and responsibility rested upon them for any delay in contracts.

W. L. MOODIE ELECTED FIRE FIGHTERS' PRESIDENT

W. L. Moodie has been elected president of the Toronto local of the International Association of Fire Fighters. Mr. Moodie stated yesterday that the association was affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. The society has a membership of more than 20,000. It fixes its own assessments and does not sanction strikes. No outside will be allowed into the meetings of the association to tell the members what to do, said the Toronto president.

VETERANS DIFFER ABOUT OFFICERS

Do Not Agree as to Having Members in Employ of Government.

Opinion is not unanimous among members of the G.W.V.A. as to the advisability of having returned soldiers' heads of organizations dealing with the welfare of returned soldiers. W. J. Carmichael, a member of Riverdale Branch, is of the opinion that any affiliation with the government detracts from the value of a returned man's services for his comrades. He pointed to the cases of returned men from Ottawa, who had been mentioned as a member of that association. Every clergyman who received a letter of commendation in England was also mentioned as a member. He was glad the effort had been made for it answered the question, "What is the use of a returned man?" "It did its best, but alas, without success," said Dr. Cody. "Germany stands doubly dyed with guilt. The people of England were not prepared. In the past the enemy had a big share of the world's industry because of its great scientific education. This was notable in regard to the making of dyes. 'Why should we allow this mighty weapon of education to be used against our own people?' "We are entering upon a new era, the application of science to industry, and the place of a returned man is in the schools."

Problems to Solve. Touching upon the school system, Hon. Dr. Cody said the body was to be called into session to discuss the educational department was referred to in this connection.

School attendance was mentioned as one of the problems to be faced. Another was the need for more secondary schools of a specialized character. If there was anything the Labor party should be interested in it was this problem, he said.

"We must give the boys and girls the best education we possibly can. The meeting closed with the singing of the national anthem and cheers for the king and the candidate."

ANNOUNCEMENT SOON OF SIBERIAN OFFICERS

Officers who will staff the infantry and machine gun companies going to Siberia from Toronto district, are to be appointed within the next two or three days by the officer commanding Toronto military district, the appointees, however, being probably subject to the approval of General Emsley, the commander of the new western expeditionary force.

The complete establishment of the expeditionary machine gun corps to total 12 all ranks, which will mobilize from all parts of the Dominion at Toronto, was announced last night, as follows: Commander—To be a major; second in command, a captain; a lieutenant to head each machine gun section, of which there will be four, each with four guns. Headquarters of the machine gun corps will consist of sergeant-major, Co.-Q.M.S., transport sergeant and two subalterns, 3 sergeants, 3 signallers, 16 privates, 3 drivers, 1 storeman 2 cooks and 2 batmen.

Each machine gun section will also have two subalterns, 3 sergeants, 3 corporals, 2 batmen, 16 privates and 5 drivers.

FOR CASUALTY SECTION.

It is understood that Capt. Leslie Mills, who recently returned from the front, will be attached to the casualty section of the Toronto district depot for special duty. He is a son of a well-known Toronto family, and was with the 74th Battalion from Toronto, and was both wounded and gassed.

GIVE THE CHILD BEST EDUCATION

Hon. Dr. Cody Addresses Supporters in Playter's Hall, on Policy.

WAR SHOWS NECESSITY CANADA MUST OCCUPY FOREMOST PLACE IN ALL ACTIVITIES.

Hon. Dr. Cody, minister of education and candidate in the Northeast Toronto by-election, gave his audience in Playter's Hall, corner of Broadview and Danforth avenues, last night an outline of his plans for the department of which he has been chosen head. In one of the most comprehensive addresses he has given since the campaign commenced, he touched upon almost every phase of education as it affects the people of Ontario.

Received With Cheers. Hon. Dr. Cody's address, which was received with cheers, was not altogether amiable to have this one because it gave an opportunity to voice sentiments which would not otherwise be heard, he said. "The war had taught many valuable lessons among them being the importance of education. Canadians would have a wider outlook in world politics in the future, as a result of the war. The war has shown the heroic souls of brave Canadians who but a few years ago were but children playing at war. These boys had come from the schools of this province, a tribute indeed to them. The war had taught them the importance of training children properly. It was showing the tremendous value of education."

That Peace Mission. Hon. Dr. Cody said he did not understand what was meant when asked at the meeting in Masonic Hall if he was a member of a peace society. He explained that he was not a member of any such organization, but that he was a member of a peace society. He pointed to the cases of returned men from Ottawa, who had been mentioned as a member of that association. Every clergyman who received a letter of commendation in England was also mentioned as a member. He was glad the effort had been made for it answered the question, "What is the use of a returned man?" "It did its best, but alas, without success," said Dr. Cody. "Germany stands doubly dyed with guilt. The people of England were not prepared. In the past the enemy had a big share of the world's industry because of its great scientific education. LITTLE INTEREST IN BY-ELECTION

Only Two Dozen People at Last Night's Meeting in Masonic Hall.

Little interest is evidently being taken in the by-election in the Toronto district, as only two dozen people were present at the meeting held last night in the Masonic Hall on Balmora avenue. The speakers of the evening only repeated what has been said again and again at the previous meetings and with which the reading public is so familiar.

Tom Foster, member for East York in the federal parliament, after distributing a whole collection of verbal abuse to the government, and the candidate as a member of that government, dealt very briefly with the alien question, repeating his proposal to tax all aliens in the country for the benefit of the soldiers' dependents. He saw visions of serious trouble if the present government did not do something to relieve the situation of the near future. The recent riots would be only child's play to what might come if the present government were allowed to continue. He said that the next time it would not be the small Greek restaurants who would suffer, but larger local industries and business with a possible serious loss of life. He did not by any means favor violence, but he said that if the government were being allowed to continue, it would be a matter of life and death. He said that the next time it would not be the small Greek restaurants who would suffer, but larger local industries and business with a possible serious loss of life. He did not by any means favor violence, but he said that if the government were being allowed to continue, it would be a matter of life and death.

Miss Constance Boulton had believed, and still did believe, in Union government in spite of the criticisms of brilliant arm chair critics. Less of that criticism would somewhat offset German propaganda, said Miss Boulton. She strongly appealed to the women for their support for Hon. Mr. Henry, upon whom she also bestowed a great deal of praise. The women would show by their vote that they did not intend to be asked to vote for irresponsible parties, irresponsible insofar as they were not supported by any recognized party or organization. They would never consent to be asked to vote for any but the very highest type of men.

Hon. George S. Henry, who was the chief speaker at the meeting, was very brief in his remarks. He wished he could do all the great things the previous speakers had promised for him. He would like to cut the high cost of living by half but he could not do it. He wished to do anything of the kind, in spite of all his good will. He believed it was a question of life and death. The minister of agriculture should come from a metropolitan riding. It was wrong to say that agriculture had been neglected. The interests of the farmer were being neglected. He was all too closely bound together, property for one meant prosperity for the others. He concluded by showing that the close co-operation that should exist, between agriculture and education in this province.

HENRY O'HARA DIES IN EIGHTY-SIXTH YEAR

The death occurred yesterday morning of Henry O'Hara, vice-president of the Colonial Investment and Loan Corporation and president of the O'Hara Stock Exchange. The late Mr. O'Hara, who was one of the most prominent business men in Toronto, was in his 86th year, and was born in the town of Newry, Ireland. He came to this country when a young man and settled in Toronto in 1850. He organized and became managing director of the Temperance and Loan Corporation, and later he organized and became managing director of the O'Hara Stock Exchange. He was a prominent Congregationalist, and was chairman of the mission of the Sons of Temperance, and in 1881 was elected grand worthy patriarch for the Province of Ontario. For many years he was a member of the board of the Y.M.C.A., and also served as president of the Irish Protestant Benevolent Society in 1896. He was a member of the House of Industry and held this position until the condition of his health made it impossible for him to continue. He was survived by three daughters, Mrs. C. J. Copp, Toronto; Mrs. Robert W. Carr, Edgar, Ontario; and Miss Marion O'Hara, Toronto, and two sons, W. J. O'Hara, London, England, and Seymour B. O'Hara of the firm of H. O'Hara and Company.

DOROTHY DIX'S TALKS THE FAMILY HUMORIST

BY DOROTHY DIX The World's Highest Paid Woman Writer. No one will deny that humor is the salt that savors life. There are so many things over which we must either laugh or cry, and it is so much better for us individually, and so much pleasanter for us to guffaw instead of howl. Especially is this true of family life. Humor is the oil upon the troubled waters of domesticity. So far as the happiness of a household is concerned, it is better when the husband's affections and keeping him strong in the belief that he has married the Right One. It is a funny bone that it does to have a Grecian profile. Lucky is the man who, when he stumbles off the straight and narrow path for an inch or two, once in a blue moon, has a wife who laughs at him instead of being a rounder, and applies ice cloths to his aching brow. Instead of one who sees nothing grotesque or amusing in a staid old plow horse lurching up his heels occasionally and trying to jump the fence. Lucky is the wife possessing a husband who finds amusement and who laughs at her on the first of the month for not being able to put out the little flame of fancy that might have grown into great passion. For we cannot lose those wretched farmwives in line on the street, for valuable as humor is in the family with us, we want only those who laugh at us. (Copyright, 1918.)

HOUSING PROBLEM BEFORE HEALTH BOARD

Body Takes Credit for Stirring Up Activity, and Awaits Results. The Toronto Board of Health at its meeting yesterday afternoon added its contribution to the discussion in connection with the housing problem, but beyond a general discussion nothing was done.

There are too many committees and sub-committees dealing with this question of the housing problem, as far as he was concerned, the board should take no further action now that activity had been stirred up. The board may say it over, he said, but I am done with it. This board took the first steps and if we waited for the co-operation of the other bodies we would just get reports and nothing but reports.

Shortage is Acute. Dr. Hastings said that so far as 5,000 houses being required in the city that was a conservative estimate. The shortage was acute. Ald. Cowan: Commissioner Bradshaw wants proof that the city needs 5,000 houses. Dr. Hastings: That can easily be done. I would also suggest that this problem be considered at a meeting of the city council so that suggestions may be received.

It was decided to ask Dr. Hastings to bring in a report to ascertain the prevalence of consumption in the city. It was reported that there are a great many more cases than are reported.

HEARTS OF THE WORLD TO STAY ANOTHER WEEK

On account of the many persons who have been unable to see D. W. Griffith's supreme triumph, "Hearts of the World," because of crowded houses, this picture will be shown at the Allen Theatre for one more week commencing Saturday, and the four weeks' record run of this marvellous production will come to a close at that house on Friday August 23.

"Hearts of the World" has been produced by Mr. Griffith to present to the people of the allied nations the great work which the allied armies are performing on the western battlefield. It also goes further than that and shows the unbearable conditions existing in the French and Belgian towns now under the iron heel of the savage Hun. Mr. Griffith selected a peaceful French village and has woven a charming love story about it. The beginning of the war sees the separation of the two lovers, the capture of the village, the retreat of the army and the destruction and misery which the Hun spread through the town. But the courageous French push back the Germans, restore the village, and rejoice of the inhabitants. The story is one which cannot fail to inspire one with the peace of final victory of the allied armies which is not too far off.

Like brides adorned for the altar the procession of eight young postulants entered the chapel, their rich white gowns, flowing veils and wreaths of orange blossoms being typical of the habit of the community in which they were about to enter. Following at the train of each walked a tiny "angel" dressed like her principal in white, the pretty hair of the children being crowned with smilax and white blossoms. At the gate of the sanctuary the ceremony of reception by the family of the community which they wish to become members of the community was performed, the officiating centre aisle to exchange their apparel the notes of the organ and a solo voice in the music of the hymn "Go Ye Forth O Zion's Daughters" adorned the eyes of many lovers whose hearts being moist with tears as they realized that this was the last time they would see their loved ones in the familiar habitments which fashion is wont to appraise, but which the young women willingly exchanged for the simple black and white habit of the Sisters of St. Joseph.

Sermon on the Life. A sermon on the life upon which the new members were about to enter was preached by Rev. J. McLaughlin, who had also conducted the retreat which had just closed. Special music was sung by the Sisters' choir during the mass. The Sisters who were to make their first and final vows advanced to the altar railing, where their promises were received by the officiating priest.

After the religious ceremonies a reception was held, breakfast being served to the relatives and intimates of the Sisters. Special groups were also busy offering congratulations to four of the Sisters who were celebrating their silver jubilee and a Mother of Mercy, who was the recipient of many good wishes on attaining her diamond jubilee, which marked the sixtieth year of service and good work in different phases of the work of her order.

Names of Sisters. Those who took their final vows were: Sister M. Catharine, Sister M. Felix, Sister M. Rosario, Sister M. Mary Ann, Sister M. Michael, Sister M. St. Patrick, Sister M. Cordis, Sister M. St. Francis Regis, Sister M. Dominica, Sister M. Audrey, Sister M. Philomena, Sister M. St. Luke, Sister M. St. Gerard.

FINAL VOWS TAKEN BY SEVEN SISTERS

Six Also Take First Vows, and Eight Postulants Are Received. St. Joseph's Convent, St. Alban's street, was at fever yesterday, when the Feast of the Assumption and the closing of the annual "retreat" were marked by the reception into the community of eight young postulants and the taking of first vows by six sisters and final vows by seven others, who had put in the required number of years as members of the sisterhood.

The ceremonies of the day opened with mass in the beautiful and spacious chapel, where the altars were adorned with many wax tapers and a profusion of flowers. Friends from many points were among the congregation which filled the chapel to overflowing. Rev. T. Sullivan, chorist, was celebrant of the mass and a number of local and visiting clergy were in the sanctuary.

Like brides adorned for the altar the procession of eight young postulants entered the chapel, their rich white gowns, flowing veils and wreaths of orange blossoms being typical of the habit of the community in which they were about to enter. Following at the train of each walked a tiny "angel" dressed like her principal in white, the pretty hair of the children being crowned with smilax and white blossoms. At the gate of the sanctuary the ceremony of reception by the family of the community which they wish to become members of the community was performed, the officiating centre aisle to exchange their apparel the notes of the organ and a solo voice in the music of the hymn "Go Ye Forth O Zion's Daughters" adorned the eyes of many lovers whose hearts being moist with tears as they realized that this was the last time they would see their loved ones in the familiar habitments which fashion is wont to appraise, but which the young women willingly exchanged for the simple black and white habit of the Sisters of St. Joseph.

Sermon on the Life. A sermon on the life upon which the new members were about to enter was preached by Rev. J. McLaughlin, who had also conducted the retreat which had just closed. Special music was sung by the Sisters' choir during the mass. The Sisters who were to make their first and final vows advanced to the altar railing, where their promises were received by the officiating priest.

After the religious ceremonies a reception was held, breakfast being served to the relatives and intimates of the Sisters. Special groups were also busy offering congratulations to four of the Sisters who were celebrating their silver jubilee and a Mother of Mercy, who was the recipient of many good wishes on attaining her diamond jubilee, which marked the sixtieth year of service and good work in different phases of the work of her order.

Names of Sisters. Those who took their final vows were: Sister M. Catharine, Sister M. Felix, Sister M. Rosario, Sister M. Mary Ann, Sister M. Michael, Sister M. St. Patrick, Sister M. FRIDAY MORNING, AUGUST 16.

Mr. Irish Sees No Issue.

Hon. Dr. Cody may well pray to be saved from his friends. He did not come into the Ontario Government as a politician, but he finds himself the centre of a political struggle.

Mr. Mark Irish, for example, is reported to have complained at a recent meeting that Dr. Cody was being "forced to fight to obtain a seat in the legislature, instead of attending to the business of his great office."

Mr. Irish does not seriously suggest that the age-long principle of meeting the election after appointment to office is to be abandoned? Mr. Irish may retort, of course, that there was an understanding with the Liberal party that elections would not be contested.

The Liberal party is apparently keeping to its bargain, and Maj. Kirkpatrick, who spoke at the same meeting as Mr. Irish, and described himself as a "Grit," which is understood to be a species of Liberal, supported Dr. Cody.

Mr. Irish, and probably the government also, overlooked the Labor party. The Labor party is the biggest party in the country, but has usually distributed its forces between the two "outs and ins," beguiled by promises and hopes of being recognized without demanding recognition.

The Labor party in Britain and elsewhere has come to great power. Labor members in Britain are placed in all respects on a level with other parties, and share the responsibilities of the cabinet and the honors of office.

The action appears to be a clever counter-stroke, timed to the occasion, in connection with the reported unrest in Bulgaria. That nation has to a certain extent been the plaything of the great war.

The Turks and the Bulgars have an acute disension between them over boundaries, and it is the Bulgarians who thought the allies would help them to rob Turkey of her loyalty in the war.

Neither Bulgaria, nor Turkey, nor the Jugo-Slav countries can be permitted to be the prizes over which Germany can march into Asia. That idea must be given up by the Kaiser, and perhaps Germany will give up the Kaiser along with it.

Russia is not without interest in all this, and a regenerate Russia could not conceivably be hostile to the allied aims. The Bolsheviks, in spite of their name, are far from being a majority, and they have been most impractical in their pretence of governing, so that now the mass of the people are ready to disown them.

In the Murmansk district the people are hailing the French and British with confidence. In far eastern Siberia the allied troops are also favorably received, and are there joining now released from bondage.

These formidable forces, Lenin and Trotsky, ally Ulanoff and Bronstein, have fled from Petrograd and their supporters have fled from Moscow, which now appears to be in the hands of forces friendly to the allies.

All this has a bearing on the Bulgarian situation, for Bulgaria acted very treacherously to Russia, considering what Russia did for Bulgaria in 1877. Germany has been acting on the theory that she has conquered and will be ultimately victorious, both in the east and in the west.

The recognition of the Jugo-Slav nation by Britain is a direct repudiation of that theory. Nor does the United States accept the theory of an ultimately victorious Germany. The landing of United States troops at

CHAPTER XI

When Ruth asked Brian for the dollar for Mrs. Murphy, she added: "You better give me a little more; she's coming, up to do the dishes."

"Oh, I guess twenty-five cents will be enough for her. There aren't many."

Brian counted out twenty-five cents and added it to the dollar, then handed it to Ruth. Had she thought he would give her more, she would have been placed where she would have to borrow from Mrs. Murphy again, she was disappointed.

"Oh, how funny!" said Ruth, after a pause, "don't you think we'd better sit down together and plan to use your salary to the best advantage, like the young couple in the story?"

"Very well, perhaps it will be the best way."

It was late when they finished. Ruth had no money to speak when Brian told her what he earned. Why, she had paid more for a gown than his entire monthly salary.

"But dear, we haven't counted a penny for outings or theatres," she said when, finally, they got up to retire.

"No, I guess we'll have to do without those for a while. We'll go to the movies occasionally, and if we do go to the theatre we will each pay for our own ticket."

"Oh, how funny!" said Ruth, laughing hysterically. Not that she really thought it funny, but that it seemed so utterly incongruous.

"How long do you think it will be, Brian, before you can earn more?" she asked soberly, the next morning at breakfast.

"No, dear, but I've been thinking you see, our clothes will soon be shabby and out of style. We will have to get along without the second-hand clothes on what you earn now."

"Don't cross bridges until you come to them. I don't see but we are pretty well off now. We can't buy any more clothes, we'll be able to have them."

Ruth bit her lip, and said no more. And not even Brian's compliment brought a smile to her face.

Brian really meant what he said. He didn't see it but that they were pretty well off. He never had been accustomed to luxury, and the neat, simply-furnished rooms, with the dainty muslin curtains at the windows and soft-toned rug rugs on the floor, the comfortable chairs, big table—which after dinner was cleared away, they used as a reading table—seemed to him all that was necessary for comfort.

Brian thought a great deal of that bit of comfort. Had he not, perhaps he might have been more successful in business way. But "Mamma's" was always on his lips. Never was he in a hurry to accomplish anything; another day was coming, he would do it then.

He had a very optimistic nature, and a way of impressing people who did not know him, fostering in them the belief in the accomplishment of great things. But Mrs. Clayborne had seen the weakness in his character and had feared for Ruth's happiness because of it.

Had Brian been, or had Mrs. Clayborne thought him, more stable, she would not so much have minded his poverty, and she would have assisted him and Ruth until such time as they could get along alone. But she sensed his weakness, and felt sure that sooner or later Ruth would wake up to the sort of man she had married, and come back home. Not that Mrs. Clayborne thought Brian a bad man, she didn't. And he wasn't. But she did not think he was more successful in business way. He was, he always would be, a financial failure—so she thought. And so, after a month or two of life in New York, had Ruth begun to think.

Brian thought a great deal of that bit of comfort. Had he not, perhaps he might have been more successful in business way. But "Mamma's" was always on his lips. Never was he in a hurry to accomplish anything; another day was coming, he would do it then.

He had a very optimistic nature, and a way of impressing people who did not know him, fostering in them the belief in the accomplishment of great things. But Mrs. Clayborne had seen the weakness in his character and had feared for Ruth's happiness because of it.

Had Brian been, or had Mrs. Clayborne thought him, more stable, she would not so much have minded his poverty, and she would have assisted him and Ruth until such time as they could get along alone. But she sensed his weakness, and felt sure that sooner or later Ruth would wake up to the sort of man she had married, and come back home. Not that Mrs. Clayborne thought Brian a bad man, she didn't. And he wasn't. But she did not think he was more successful in business way. He was, he always would be, a financial failure—so she thought. And so, after a month or two of life in New York, had Ruth begun to think.

Have a friend tell you how poorly you look

Few Pacifists in Canada.

London Advertiser: Canada has had few cackling pacifists. There is no public man of note who would support such a movement; there is no newspaper which has suggested or permitted the intimation of an inconclusive peace.

We have no Lord Lansdowne, even though we have no Lloyd George. We do not want the first-named and we shall have to get along without the second.

The long-haired men and short-haired women usually associated with the peace-at-any-price movement have been strangely missing.

We have had our bitter quarrels over methods of making war and our arduous dodges in public life, but since the outbreak of the war, on the occasion of his being awarded the Military Cross, the official despatch said that "no work was too dangerous for him."

CONTENTMENT.

Content? Now, who'd be that today?

With so much we upon the way?

With bloody kaiser still enthroned,

Their vicious crimes yet unatoned?

Who'd be content in days like these,

With vanda thus across the seas,

As yet unchanged for deeds of dread,

O'er which the Devil hange his head?

May God forbid that I shall find,

Contentment suited to my mind,

But rather grant me an increase

Of hatred for ignoble peace.

FOUR TIMES WOUNDED.

Capt. Ernest Hanbury Minns, D.C.M., M.C., commander of "B" Company, 3rd Battalion, is again reported wounded.

This being the fourth time since the outbreak of the war. On the occasion of his being awarded the Military Cross, the official despatch said that "no work was too dangerous for him."

Victory Bonds Should Not Be Tax Exempt.

(From The Halifax Herald, Aug. 13.)

The principles that govern the issue of the next Victory Loan were doubtless settled long ago. One much-discussed point is whether this loan is to be free of income tax. Public opinion, as voiced by the press, and especially by business men, is that it should not.

Why do investors seek their bonds? Because they are admirable securities and are free from income tax. What will be the result if another $200,000,000 or $300,000,000 bonds free from income tax are placed on the market?

That every holder of industrial and municipal bonds will want to sell and purchase bonds that are free from taxation. Cities and towns will have to pay seven per cent, for money, and industrial, eight to ten per cent. This will be more apparent in the future, when the income tax will be assessed and collected.

JOHN CATTO & SON TORONTO

CODY ILL-ADVISED, SPEAKERS DECLARE

Meeting in Interests of Soldier-Labor Candidate at Aura Lee Hall.

A meeting on behalf of William Varley, soldier-labor candidate for North-east Toronto, was held last night at Aura Lee Hall, Avenue road. W. F. Singer, chairman, upon opening the meeting, said that Mr. Varley had put up a clean, honorable fight as a labor candidate and that labor men were needed in the legislature. He said that Dr. Cody had done excellent work in the church and was needed there.

James H. Ballantyne, speaking on behalf of Mr. Varley, expressed the opinion that when the vote was taken Monday there would be little doubt as to which way the election would go. He went on to say that the labor party had been charged with running the country into debt. "A few dollars spent now in assisting for the nation's welfare, the labor party is working, I believe a great mistake has been made by Dr. Cody by mixing politics with his ecclesiastical duties." He referred to what the Ontario Government was doing for the soldiers. "It is like the Union government, doing nothing."

The Candidate Speaks. Mr. Varley dwelt chiefly on the statements that had been made by the opposition party. He said that the statements were false and misrepresented. He went on to say that the Ontario Government was just now getting into the habit of giving a full account of itself. "The United States has swept aside everything for labor organizations and government, nothing has been done. I want to make a final appeal to you as one who can look after the nation's welfare."

Mrs. W. F. Singer, Toronto, vice-president of the women's branch of the International Association of Machinists, expressed the opinion that the returned soldiers had been shamefully dishonored and ought to have a returned soldier to represent them.

Says It Is Not Principles. Rev. H. Robertson, Toronto, said it was not principle for Dr. Cody to be working for the labor party. He said that he was not a member of the labor party and that he was not a member of the labor party.

Alan Studholme Speaks. Alan Studholme, M.L.A., Hamilton, related experiences that he had had in New Zealand and the poverty that was in evidence there till the labor men were able to improve conditions. "If you had had the experience I have had you would not go to the church for a leader." He referred to child labor and the crime that was being committed by having them work in factories while their fathers were overseas.

NO FOODSTUFFS FOUND WASTED ON STEAMER

Ottawa, Aug. 15.—An investigation of complaints that foodstuffs from the steamer, Siberian Prince, were wasted when that vessel was wrecked near Halingford, has been made by the department of customs at the request of the Canada Food Board.

It was alleged that a Canadian customs officer would not permit food from the deck of the ship to be taken away for feeding pigs, but ordered that it should be shoveled overboard. It was also said that slings of flour which had fallen overboard were not permitted to be picked up for cattle feed by the country people in the neighborhood. The complainant told of having heard some awful stories of wild waste of food material.

The customs collector reports that the naval authorities who were in charge found it necessary to jetison part of the steamer's cargo, consisting of cigars, tobacco, lumber, etc., in order to lighten the vessel, but that no flour was thrown overboard. The collector adds that the charges are absolutely without foundation.

CANADIANS OPPOSE MARINE PROPOSALS

Representatives of the Dominion Do Not Side With American Delegates.

IMPROVE NAVIGATION

Parcelling Out of St. Lawrence River to Private Parties is Bad Business.

Kingston, Aug. 15.—Francis King of this city, counsel for the Dominion Marine Association, has returned from Atlantic City, where he represented the association before the international joint waterways commission which had before it two applications for approval of plans. The first proposal contemplates a new dam in and increased withdrawal of water thru the little river near Waddington, N.Y., with certain remedial or compensating works to protect navigation in the rapid part of the main channel of the St. Lawrence and the Morrisburg Canal and the second contemplates the complete damming of the south branch of the river south of Long Sault, Island and the dredging of the approach to the power canal to Massena, with the advantage of establishing navigation to Massena and also greatly increasing the power available for the output of aluminum.

The Dominion Marine Association is opposed at present to both proposals in view partly of the prejudicial effect upon the navigability of the river and because of the anticipated damage to the parcelling out of the St. Lawrence waters to private corporations in a manner which is fast putting the river beyond control of the government, and will certainly materially prejudice any future general scheme designed to improve navigation and develop power as a national or international undertaking. Pending further investigation the Dominion Government has withheld its approval, and in the Waddington case has filed pleadings in opposition to the proposal.

Large Buildings Could Save. J. H. Annett, president of the present time, said that the present time should be heated. "The parliament building should be heated," said Mr. Annett. "The parliament building should be heated," said Mr. Annett. "The parliament building should be heated," said Mr. Annett.

If the council accedes to the wishes of the subcommittee the good roads system of these three counties will be improved and anticipated the original work contemplated.

The questions of joining the Eastern Ontario Good Roads Association recently formed at Ottawa, and the sending of delegates to the meeting to be held at the capital during Ottawa fair week will also come up at the council meeting.

Danforth COUNCILS ASKED TO GATHER IN FUEL

Danforth Ratepayers Are Wrathful Over Action of York Township Council.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Danforth Ratepayers' Association, held in Guelph Avenue Methodist Church last evening, the coal situation and the action of the York Township council in the matter of securing supplies of fuel for the residents of the township was discussed at considerable length.

D. McCarthy, secretary, stated that the York Township Council were unable to bring about any improvement in the coal situation, and suggested that the residents of the township should petition the council to take up the question of winter fuel supply at their meeting on Saturday.

The people of New Toronto and Mimico turned out en masse yesterday to enjoy the gay times promised by the organizers of the garden party which was held under the auspices of the local branch of the Soldiers' Comforts Association. The party was held on the property of Geo. E. James, Third street, and was a huge success. There was a regular Midway, with coconut shies at three for a nickel, which was in charge of Harry Lawrence. The wheel of fortune, with C. W. Conn, E. E. Buglies, Miss Rice, Miss Prentice and Wm. Boyer attending it, was very largely patronized, and was the greatest drawing card until the dancing commenced.

The dancing on the floor which was specially laid for the occasion, and for the popular entertainment, and at a nickel a dance paid very well. There were also one-step, two-step, and the old-time lancers.

The New Toronto Band was in attendance in the early part of the evening, and again demonstrated its ability. The dancers performed to the music of the piano violin and Kettledrum.

Altogether, it was one of the most successful fetes ever held in the township, and the management is to be congratulated on the arrangements made for the occasion. The affair was given by the Soldiers' Comforts Association within a very short time.

Secretary Lacey read a letter from Mayor Church regarding the late riots in the city, expressing his regrets that some returned men should have been arrested so badly by the police. He promised an investigation.

The mayor paid a high compliment to the G.W.V.A. for their attitude in the recent disturbances. Another question taken up at the meeting was the complaint of the board of health that they could not get the amount of $35, after discharge on April 1. Complaints that returned men were receiving fair pay for their services were given the preference in the matter of employment.

DANFORTH RESIDENTS WANT ROAD IMPROVED

The attention of the York Township Council has been called to the dangerous condition of the roadway at the intersection of Waddington and Everett avenues.

It is claimed by the residents that this portion of the district is dangerous for vehicles and that an Eaton delivery wagon was almost upset into the ravine a short time ago owing to the state of the road. The Globe and Mail Company has stated that the road is in a very bad state of repair, and that it is not safe to travel on it.

Davis, Harcourt avenue, struck a motor car which was stalled on the track at the corner of Danforth and Greenwood avenues. The motor car, which was being driven by a man named Foster, was damaged. The motor car was carrying a passenger. The motor car was damaged to the extent of $100. No injuries resulted.

WEST TORONTO MAN BORROWS FULL OUTFIT

With one man's horse and another man's buggy, still different parties supplying the harness and the oats (unknowingly), Angus Ellis, of West Toronto, proved quite a gay Lothario. But Angus had to tell all about it. It is the county police court yesterday, and Magistrate Brunton also got out of him the story of similar escapades in Brampton. The outfit for $20 and thereby brought down on his head a severe reprimand from the magistrate, who expressed the opinion that he ought to be in jail. Foster makes restitution and Ellis goes to work, the magistrate suspending sentence as he felt the fault rested more with those who had the early training. Ellis than with the lad himself.

Alex. Besara of New Toronto was charged with having liquor hidden under the floor of his house. Alex thought it belonged to a man from Oshawa, containing any ownership. Altho his council, J. W. Broudy, waxed so eloquent in his defense that he was complimented by the magistrate, still a fine of $200 and costs or a month in jail was inflicted.

Six boys in ages ranging from 14 to 18 appeared before Magistrate Clay in the afternoon when they were charged with the property of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company near Leaside. Another boy but did not put in an appearance. The boys said they did not know who he was as they had just met him near Leaside and he joined them. He was a returned soldier. The boys were fined $3 each.

Ravener died in full, but Gordon Harris lacked 50 cents of the desired amount and was told to bring it in when he could. The other three, Charlie Rame, Gordon Reid and Peter Miller, did not have their money and were told to bring it to the magistrate let them go as they promised to hand the money in when they were paid by their employers.
