WHAT A NEW RECRUIT SEES HIS FIRST DAY IN CAMP

Graphic Pen Picture of a Day From "Reveille" to "Lights Out" With the Citizen Soldiers Under Canvas—The Enormous Amount of Work Done in Two Short Weeks.

It is just about two weeks ago today since by a seemingly magic transformation the peaceful quiet of a pretty little town of Sussex was suddenly changed into a bustling military encampment overflowing with life, bustle and animation, its streets and public lanes alive with recruits, its otherwise slumbering air awake and ringing with the shouts of command, its peaceful townpeople looking in wonder at the mysterious ease and promptness with which the work was accomplished.

At 7 o'clock he scrambles out in time for breakfast and with his plate and cup in hand makes for the mess tent and receives his ration of bacon and coffee. He is summoned to breakfast by the bugle and in fact this call is the first one he learns—the "cook-house" call, and once he has mastered it never forgets it.

Just a line about the sergeant's mess of the "police-slingers" might not be out of place here. Through the efforts of a few of the sergeants this mess was made about the best non-com's on the grounds, the victuals were always served promptly and cleanly by a staff of competent waiters and the meals cooked in the most up-to-date fashion "just as good as mother used to make."

After breakfast the recruit has a couple of hours to while away and wander about the encampment taking in the sights. Everything is so interesting to him that he wanders down to the Service Corps lines where the men at work baking the bread for the thousand and one that will work on one oven and each has his own distinctive duty to perform.

During the past two weeks a wonderful amount of work has been accomplished by the men under canvas, and a considerable improvement in the appearance of the men and their equipment. Their drill also has changed for the better.

So far as the weather man was concerned it might be said that that individual had a strong dislike for military men and their manoeuvres. Out of the two weeks in camp only two were what might be styled "fine days," that is, there was no rain, hail, thunder and lightning.

For a recruit in camp, however, the time must have passed very enjoyably, and all too quickly, for he was seeing something doing all the time, and as a rule something out of the ordinary.

First of all he is rudely awakened at a seemingly unearthing hour by the heavy boom of a gun peering forth on the hill morning air like a clap of thunder, and the "rooky" is somewhat surprised at hearing so many bugles heralding the approach of dawn in a melodious manner from different corners of the field and the squeaking of the pipes from the hospital.

Not only are the summer months the vacation time of the school children, the clerks, the policeman and firemen, but clergymen and people everywhere live as a rule take their holidays during this season of the year. At some time or other during the months of June, July, August and September, practically all the St. John churches are without their regular pastors for a few weeks. Some of the clergymen seek rest in the quiet country districts while others go abroad to larger cities to visit friends or in some manner get relaxation from the cares of church work.

Several of the churches have arranged to amalgamate their services while the pastors are away. Queen Square Methodist and German street Baptist churches will unite for four Sundays of the month of August to enable the pastors of both churches to have a month's holidays at the same time. The services will be held alternately in the two churches on alternate Sundays. Rev. Dr. G. O. Gates, former pastor of German street church, will conduct the services on two of the Sundays.

St. Stephens and St. Andrews Presbyterian churches are uniting for the summer months. Rev. David Long is now away on his vacation and Rev. Gordon Dickie is conducting the united services. Rev. Mr. Dickie will leave early in August and Rev. Mr. Lang will then assume charge. Rev. Mr. Dickie will spend his vacation in Nova Scotia.

HOW ST. JOHN INVESTORS LOSE MILLIONS IN UNPAID SECURITIES

Golden Nugget, Little Ellen and Olive, a Trio of Mines Which Never Paid—The Story of a Thrilling Trip to the Klondike Taken by Two St. John Men.

Despite the fact that, in every article in this series, the writer has stated as plainly as his knowledge of the English language will permit, that the publication is not actuated by any desire to prejudice investors against mining investments generally, considerable objection has been made to them on that very ground.

This mine was first introduced in St. John about 1891. A prominent member of the Conservative party, an ex-cabinet minister and a man who was generally regarded as one of the ablest financiers in Canada, was the president of the company, which exploited that mine. He had a relative in St. John, a man well known and highly esteemed in this community, who at that time held a lucrative and important position in the government service, but which he has since relinquished.

The Little Ellen mine was a most romantic proposition and will go down to credit as having been one of the best, if not the best, of the St. John business men said, as far as known, never found. This mine was said to be located in Nevada or Colorado.

This week the story of three of the smaller propositions will be told—the Olive mine, the Little Ellen and the Golden Nugget. The first of these to claim attention is the Olive proposition, which was located in the province of Ontario, and which, though not on the same scale as some of the larger mines, is an expensive proposition for many of those who were taken in by it.

Henry Braithwaite, Veteran Guide Has a Thrilling Experience. Frederick, N. B., July 10.—(Special)—Henry Braithwaite, the veteran guide, who returned yesterday from the Miramichi woods, tells of a thrilling experience he had with a bear a few days ago. He had caught the animal in a trap, and noticing that the animal was clearly wrapped around the stump, he boldly advanced, intending to dispatch it with an axe.

FELIX TOOK THE CAKES. Yesterday afternoon Felix Hollan, an old stager in police annals entered the grocery store of Capt. David Tufts on King street, went inside, and ordering two pounds of fancy bread thrust his hands into the pocket of his coat and obtained the wherewithal to pay for the cakes. The parcel containing the cakes was passed to him and with the storekeeper in close pursuit he decamped. Sergeant Jacob Ross on turning a corner into King street espied Hollan fleeing toward him with his hands flourishing his hands frantically some distance in the rear, but nevertheless in the running.

WHERE THEY MADE "COBALT RED EYE" Cobalt, July 12.—(Special)—Police discovered the remains of an illicit still in the fire ruins yesterday. The still was located on the Halseyville road and was completely equipped with vats, worms, etc. There was a very tall chimney to carry the fumes high in the air. From the stuff found there, it is supposed whiskey was made of spruce boughs and supplied in quantities to owners of "blind pigs" in the vicinity, which were numerous. That kind of spirit is most villainous and poisonous in its effects.

ST. JOHN MAN'S FRIENDS MURDERED IN IRELAND

David Hill, Guest of Policeman John Collins, Hears of Slaughter of Couple Whom he Knew Well—Mr. and Mrs. Holt, Old Acquaintances Killed in Their Cottage

A copy of "The Mid-Ulster Mail," published in Cookstown, County Tyrone, Ireland, June 18, was received a few days ago by David Hill, who is stopping with I. C. R. Policeman John Collins, on Paradise Row. The paper contains a lengthy account of a terrible tragedy that took place in the townland of High Cross, on the Sunday previous, when two old age pensioners, William Holt and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Margaret Holt, were brutally murdered and their cottage burned.

Mr. Hill, whose home is in County Tyrone, knew the aged couple very well, and they were among the last people to bid him good-by when he came here from a few months ago. Needless to say, he says the account of their tragic death came as a great shock to Mr. Hill, who could scarcely credit the story had it not been so. The account of the murder, the finding of the bodies in the burned cottage and the details of the affair as brought out at the coroner's inquest, occupy almost an entire page of the paper, and several cuts of the ruins and photos of the victims are published.

Rev. James Gray, minister of the Congregational church at Donaghly, spoke very highly of the deceased couple, who were members of his congregation. He said of the old woman showing him a copy of his visits, two sovereigns which she said she had kept since her husband's death, and which were to be used for her funeral when she died. A few days before the murder Mrs. Holt had consulted him with reference to putting a headstone over her husband's grave and asked what it would probably cost. He had told her about £8, but she had told him she only had about £2 or £7 at that time, but she would have more in a few weeks, as she and her brother-in-law received 8 shillings a week from the old age pension fund.

Two tramps were arrested on suspicion of having had a hand in the murder, but as their was nothing to connect them with the case, they were allowed to go. So far as known the murderer is still at large.

TURKISH WRESTLER BEATEN. Portland, Ore., July 10.—John Berg last night defeated Yusuff, a Turkish wrestler, taking the first and third falls in 59.15 seconds and one minute. Yusuff took the second fall in one minute and 33 seconds on a trip and half Nelson. The bout was stopped twice by the police because of rough tactics by both men.

DEADLY ARTILLERY. A faint squawk irritated the inmates of the Telegraph building last evening. They were unable to locate it. The mystery was solved this morning when the Standard announced that in the course of the day at St. Martins last evening "Dr. MacRae delivered several shots at the Telegraph and Times."

WOULDN'T SIT DOWN. Speaking confidentially to the Times new reporter this morning, a member of the government, who stood painfully but declined to take a chair, said that while he believed the Hazen Highway act was the best yet, he would privately recommend that a clause be added providing large, soft cushions for all who use the highway.

CANT FIND THE EVIDENCE. St. Martins, July 10.—(Special)—The people rose this morning expecting that they would be able to discover some evidence that there was a government at Fredericton working for the benefit of the people. Up to 11 a. m. the search had proved unsuccessful. There isn't a thing in St. Martins to show for it.

CZAR OF ALL THE RUSSIAS

Writer Contrasts Czar With Kaiser Wilhelm

In an article in the London Express, a writer signing himself "A Russian Diplomat," gives a view at close range of the Czar of All the Russias. Contrasting him with Kaiser Wilhelm, the writer says:

To the world the Kaiser's personality is familiar. There are two kinds of men who may occupy thrones and be happy. The first are the tactful, admirably informed, kind hearted diplomats, of whom King Edward is the typical example. The second are the masterful, determined, able men, stubborn, tireless, with unobscured self-confidence. Alexander III, the Czar's father, was such a man. The Kaiser is another.

A WOMANLY WOMAN.

This conventional conception holds good everywhere except in the instance of the librarian of the National City Bank of New York. Miss Florence Spencer—that is her name—despite her stately height, is young—she is in the early twenties—and very attractive. Those large dark eyes look as if they read Shelley and Tennyson and Swinburne instead of Adam Smith and Ricardo and John Stuart Mill; read periodicals of polite literature, instead of the Economist and the Financial Chronicle; read the literary and music and drama columns, instead of the financial pages of the daily newspaper. Talk with the young lady and you will convince you to the contrary. I assure you that she is an encyclopaedia of financial information. You will also notice that in having selected herself in economical literature she has not sacrificed a single womanly attribute nor lost any of the charms of refined femininity.

THIS WOMAN IS A CLEVER FINANCIER

There have been great stateswomen. Women of today are among the most ardent students of practical science. Business women of eminence throughout the world are many. The heads of the largest mercantile establishments in Paris, Berlin, as well as of one in Chicago, are women. But women as financiers have never been distinguished.

ROYAL FAILURES.

Cleopatra was a failure in strictly money matters. Queen Elizabeth left financial affairs to her ministers. Maria Theresa was utterly lost in the intricacies of finance. Catherine of Russia knew the value of a soldier far better than the worth of a rouble. Marie Antoinette—Maria Theresa's daughter—when told that there were no francs in the royal treasury, asked, naively, "Then why don't you make some?"

Save in the purely journalistic case of Ida Tarbell, finance for women has never been a dismal scene. They have never ing to excel his neighbor in keeping his horse and equipment in splendid condition. The heavy artillery also drill on the lower field, and they may be seen at any hour when drill is on working their guns and ranging them on an imaginary foe.

The work of the signallers comes in for its share of interest also and is usually watched with attention by a good many. After Captain MacMillan, D.A.A.G., for signalling, had inspected the men at Sussex, he said that they were away ahead of those of any camp he had yet examined.

On Thursday afternoon a chain of stations, with transmitters, was established from the camp to Sussex bridge, and a large number of messages successfully sent through. The signallers were of material assistance in the technical manoeuvres on Field Day, being stationed on a commanding hill and signalling into headquarters what was transpiring outside.

If the recruit now visits the tent of the sub-target gun he will have everything explained to him by Serjt. Major Edwards in charge of the gun. Under the instruction he will probably find himself popping at the targets for an indefinite period and taking careful aim to make "bull-eyes" each shot.

After dinner the new man has no work to do until two o'clock, when he goes on parade and remains there until four after which he is through for the day.

For the next hour he strolls about, becoming familiar with the different places and objects on the grounds, and at five o'clock the "cook-house" call is once more sounded and he goes to mess. At 6.30 some exciting "cocky" is usually created by a number of the men. The regiment appointed to furnish the guard and picket, marches down to the front of the staff lines, accompanied by the band, and are there inspected by the brigade serjt. major and put through a short drill, after which the guard is marched off to the guard-tent and the old guard relieved. In the evening the "cocky" is at liberty to wander as he pleases—to do almost as he likes. A game of baseball is usually a diverting pastime while the light is good, after which a bonfire and singing prove very fascinating.

At 9.30 the boom of a cannon somewhere near at hand reminds the recruit that "fire-post" has sounded and he has only half an hour or so before retiring. Once again the music of a band suddenly resounds through the camp, so that it might be said that the man awake in the morning to the sound of music and sleep in the evening "rapped in soft Lydian airs." "Last post" is at 10 o'clock, and "lights out" at 10.15 follow in quick succession and the day's work is over. And so his two weeks under canvas proceed fleetingly by, and at last he arrives at the barracks for his home.

"AN INOFFENSIVE SKIT"

This is how London newspapers refer to George Bernard Shaw's prohibited playlet.

London, July 10.—Bernard Shaw's prohibited playlet "Press Cuttings," was produced privately at a matinee at the Court Theatre, yesterday.

The morning newspapers express their opinion at an utter loss why the censor put a ban upon such an inoffensive skit.

The play is clever and amusing, one act being a burlesque of current political topics, especially the suffrage agitation.

PLUNGED FROM TRAIN WHILE SLEEP WALKING

Ravenna, Neb., July 10.—While walking in her sleep Miss Lillian Campbell, daughter of President Campbell of the Prisco System, leaped from the rear platform of her father's private car, attached to a Chicago Burlington and Quincy flyer, as the train was speeding over the prairie west of Ravenna.

Bandaged unconscious by the fall, the girl finally recovered, and succeeded in flagging a freight, on which she rode to the next station, where she was found by a medical attendant, who had been sent to search for her. She was practically unhurt.

Summer Reductions in Costumes and Wash Dresses

Final Closing Out Sale of Special Suits

A condition of our adding a department of suits and dresses, was that under no circumstances should goods be carried over beyond the regular season. We have heretofore discounted very liberally any lines that required closing out, but have now reached the season when we must be prepared to accept the inevitable. It is now brought to bear profitably. Fortunately the number of costumes we find it necessary to reduce below the cost of making alone is not over a dozen, but the price paring principle is now brought to bear to produce the results aimed at—to close out everything that is not absolutely staple.

The suits now on sale are here because they were high priced. If you were fortunate enough to find it convenient to wait for this record money saving chance, it comes times you'll not forget us the next time you want your money's worth.

Mr. A. Good Fellow on Fight Talk

A funny thing, this fight talk, ain't it, Bo?" questioned Mr. A. Good Fellow of the bachelor friend who had dropped in to help him peruse the Sunday papers, "and the more I think about it the more ridiculous it gets.

"No, I don't mean the jawing and wind-milling the pug themselves indulge in before they engage their daintily bandaged paws in the padded mitts and get busy before the motion-picture machine. Not that old exchange of the retort courteous. That's to be expected—any way, the public would feel that they weren't getting their money's worth without such a literary, however, much they may deary it.

"What I had in mind is the hot air passed out by the wise guys, who, once they are anchored by a sold bottle-er—been in a friendly racketeer are certain they could kick Jeffries and Johnson about as well as they could a bottle-er of their caste. What they don't know about the pugilistic game ain't worth knowing! Most of them side with the bottle-er with gloves on, and the only thing that kept them out of the heavyweight championship class was their natural aversion to inflicting suffering on any living thing!

"Amen! this Jeffries-Johnson exchange of pleasantries they give ush to us. Most of them side with the bottle-er, says one, the jolly fat man in the corner 'he'll whitewash him a beautiful crime, natural finish! Take it from me, there never was a more blatant, gaseous, sounding-brass and tinkling-cymbals hot air four-flasher than the Black Noise Johnson! Talk about old Jeff being over weight and sprung in the wind and fat to knock even a punching bag off its feet, why—why, if I'd take six months away from the office I could train down myself and put the moke away for the count!" And then the impassioned supporter of superfluous obesity becomes more laud and more reckless, and soon has Jeffries passing up the chance to stow the Hon. Jack away and giving him the same ring without even taking off his boots, to me, is that our fat friend can't run 20 yards after a street car, but what he's puffing and blowing like a porpoise.

"Just about this time the tall, cadaverous chap with the sunken chest and the enaciated hands comes across with something like this: 'Aw, you fellows give me a pain! Just because a has-been hasn't an inflated link of talk about what he's done in the past and what he's going to do, and sends up a few rockets about the 'coler line'—well, you straggle way fall to earth and beseech him not to kick the dirt. He's got you bluffed to a frazzle—and you fall to it. What's the matter with you yaps? Talk about your come-on, you're the prize bunch, alright! Why, poor old Jeff is an out-and-out has-beener, and hasn't one chance out of a thousand of ever again being an underdog! He's been living on the fat of the land and treading the wine press alone and in the company of other good fellows, and couldn't catch his own breath in a two-foot ring! If I got inside the ropes with him—presuming, of course, I knew how to outbox him—the only thing I'd be afraid of would be that he'd fall

THE BY-ELECTION

The Liberals of St. John county must not be deceived by any attempts to cajole them with assurances that the by-election has no special significance and that therefore they should give Mr. Hazen a supporter. Mr. Hazen has too many supporters in the house now, and the people have too few independent representatives.

Mr. Hazen's sudden interest in trade with Cuba, after his conference with Mr. P. E. Williams, is the subject of general mirth in business circles. The provincial secretary does not appear to have known that the federal government had sent a commissioner to Cuba, and that St. John men have been vigorously promoting increased trade with the island.

Mr. Hazen's consistency has been shown in another direction by legislating Mr. McMullin out of office because he was twenty years of age and the next day appointing Major Howe, sheriff of York county who was seventy-three years of age.

THE TIMES WASHINGTON LETTER

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)
Washington, D. C., July 1—1909. The senate has finally concluded its consideration of the tariff schedules in committee of the whole. The end came more suddenly than could have been anticipated a few days ago and was doubtless greatly facilitated by the heat. For nine days the temperature in the senate chamber ranged close to 88 degrees, and this in conjunction with intense humidity, has proved a powerful deterrent to superfluous oratory. A number of senators who have had occasion to call on the president have complained bitterly of the discomfort occasioned them by the heat and have offered their sympathy, but has lain back in his chair and shouted with glee, telling them that he hoped the thermometer would go at least ten degrees higher as they had been wasting time shamefully and he was anxious to sign a tariff bill and get away to his summer home at Beverly, on the north shore of Massachusetts. After the committee amendments, all of which were promptly voted down, Senator Tillman of South Carolina offered a number of individual amendments, all of which were promptly voted down. "That the present occupants of pews may hold the same until the expiration of the term of their lease, but not beyond the new committee of this intention. "That after May 1, 1910, no pews shall be rented."

RIVER COMMISSION GOES OVER UNTIL JULY 30th

Several Witnesses Examined Yesterday—American Counsel Claims Enquiry Should Be Confined to Main River Only, But Ruling is Against Him
At the session of the St. John River Commission yesterday afternoon there was an argument between counsel as to the scope of the commission, Hon. Mr. Fellows contending that they had no authority to consider conditions of the tributaries of the St. John river. On the other hand the Canadian counsel, Mr. Gregory and the American counsel, Mr. Murray, contending that the authority of the commissioners was ample to do so.

Ontario Fifty Years Hence

Sir J. P. Whitney casts the commercial horoscope of Ontario fifty years hence, by turning backward to the Ontario of 1859 when the population of the Province was but a million and a quarter. He believes that the resources of the Province will insure its first place in the Dominion for many years to come. This is the fourth of the important series of articles on the future of the Dominion. It is published in the July 15th issue of Collier's.

ABRITRATORS FAR APART

IN EFFORT TO MAKE AWARD
It has just been learned that the arbitrators in the dispute between the International Railway and the New Brunswick Land & Railway Company have so far found it impossible to reach an agreement and that there is a tremendous difference in the figures of the low man and the high man. Senator Costigan, who was arbitrator for the International Railway, assessed the damages at $90,000, but Hon. Charles E. Oak of Bangor, member of the board for the N. B. Land & Railway Company, held out for $90,000. So far they have not been able to effect a compromise, and they will meet again in this city next week.

PRESENCE OF SOLDIERS QUIETS STRIKING MINERS AT GLACE BAY

At Present the Mining Town Resembles a Western Mining Camp, With Everyone Armed to the Teeth—Coal Company Increased its Output Yesterday.

Glance Bay, N. S., July 9.—Everything is quiet at Glace Bay, so far as outward appearances indicate, but there are a hundred little frictions not brought to the notice of the public. These combined, make the situation look less bright than it might otherwise appear, but there is no cause for disturbance in Glace Bay. The soldiers are here, but up to a late hour this evening no arrangements have been made for their distribution. The majority of the military men are at the collieries doing patrol duty and those with those in camp, are having some of their picnic equipment. If you happen to see a man with a protrusion on his hip, you need not jump at the conclusion that he has a flask of liquor in his hip pocket. More than likely it is a seven shooter, for all the available revolvers in the town have been bought up. Not only have the small arms been at purchase, but the large consignments of Enfield rifles, condemned by the government and sent to Glace Bay a few months ago to be sold at private sale, have all been purchased. People are evidently feeling secure on account of the knowledge that they are well protected personally. The employees of the coal company all carry firearms. The police, numbering nearly 1,000, have the little instruments in their pockets, and lastly the militia is here with all sorts and conditions of shooting irons, ranging in size from revolvers to machine guns.

Besides the trouble between the coal company and some of its employees, another well defined struggle is taking place and each side is playing its cards with the skill and caution of generals. The town of Glace Bay, as represented by its town council, is ranged against the Dominion Coal Company, and the fight is bitter even though it is conducted chiefly in the form of correspondence and diplomatic interviews between the heads of the two big corporations. The citizens are intensely interested in the fight, for the town is considered as a sort of Joan of Arc come to the assistance of the United Mine Workers.

The output today, according to figures furnished by the coal company, was in the neighborhood of 3,200 tons. Of this, 1,500 tons was raised at Dominion No. 1. The 3,400 tons shipped yesterday was taken in part from the bank heading. All the coal was raised today, so the output is said to be 400 tons better than that of yesterday. While the coal company and the strikers differ widely on the number of men employed at No. 1, the first claiming there is 630 for today and the strikers claiming 25, the small figure of 630 has not been seriously questioned. An output of 1,500 tons could only be produced by a gang of workmen numbering at least 500 under present conditions.

One fact struck your reporter forcibly as he passed No. 2, was the presence of a large supply of coal in the bankhead at the mine. How much was there, nobody appeared to know, but it must be in the vicinity of 200,000 tons. At the beginning of the shipping season, the company had banked at Nos. 1 and 2 and at the International, 200,000 tons. Its policy is against using its banked coal to any great extent under normal conditions, so it must still have a great deal left to draw upon.

The Dominion Coal Company occupies exactly the same position in regard to recognition of the U. M. W. as it did at the beginning. Tonight General Manager Duggan told your correspondent that the company absolutely refused to consider any proposition involving recognition of the U. M. W. The company claims that this is the only question in dispute. Every indication points to a preparedness on the part of the company to stand long strike and it is pretty certain that no advance for a settlement of the difficulty will come from its side.

The coal company has a strike clause in all its contracts, preventing any loss to it by reason of failure on its part to carry out contracts in case of strikes.

Discussing the strike situation from the Provincial Workmen's Association standpoint, John Moffatt, grand secretary of the organization, who was seen at the Provincial Workmen's Association strong-hold, Dominion No. 1, this afternoon, gave your correspondent the following interview.

"The backbone of the strike is broken, and I feel confident that the U. M. W. of America will eventually be badly beaten. It will only be a short time until the company will remove enough coal to satisfy the demands, without using that which they have banked. No doubt there will be friction with the U. M. W. until they drop out of the fight, which will surely come. From now on conditions will steadily improve. No. 3 will likely start tomorrow, and by Monday we hope to have the average output from this colliery. We had 650 men at work in No. 1 today, which is about the average number and tomorrow I look to see more men coming into every colliery."

A number of U. M. W. men joined the ranks of the P. W. A. and are taking up their old positions. "More men will go to work at Caledonia tomorrow. Reserve is working with the same staff as yesterday, and the force at Emery is slightly increased. Nos. 12 and 14 are good and Bridgport is considerably better than at any time since the strike commenced."

A determined effort is being made to have the soldiers returned to Halifax, and tomorrow something definite is likely to transpire. The conference today between the coal company and the strikers, will be asked to give his reasons before General Drury. Today 100 or more U. M. W. men and others were out with petitions for secured up to 10 o'clock tonight, when the papers were gathered in and sent to the acting minister of militia.

A strike was declared this morning in the Inverness mines, owned by MacKenzie & Mann. Out of a total 350 miners employed, 204 men went into the pit to work. Small numbers were turned back by the U. M. W. pickets. The night picket of the P. W. A. of over 100 men is still on duty, and at least half of these miners will go down to work in the mine at 4 o'clock. Everything is quiet. The mayor of the town has taken all necessary precautions, and has appointed a number of special constables.

The Glace Bay Gazette publishes a story of the discovery of an attempt to blow up the International mine. A bomb, the paper says, was constructed and placed in the mine, it consisted of twelve pounds of powder covered carefully with stones and rubbish to which a fuse was attached. When found, this fuse was burning and had not been discovered in a few moments the powder would have been sent off and an explosion occurred which would have carried death and destruction to all in the mine.

Investigation shows that the manager of the mines, Mr. McNeil, states that twelve pounds of building flammis powder was found in the mine near a wooden pick house, four hundred feet from the bottom of the shaft. An unlighted stick used by miners was found in the middle of the powder. The powder was slightly covered with battie cloth and some sticks of wood. Had it been ignited the great damage to the mine would have been the destruction of the wooden tool house. Mine officials say that an explosion with disastrous results to the mine could not have taken place. The most serious aspect of the incident had been in tended would have been possible danger to the workmen in the mine.

Ontario Fifty Years Hence

Sir J. P. Whitney casts the commercial horoscope of Ontario fifty years hence, by turning backward to the Ontario of 1859, when the population of the Province was only about a million and a quarter. He believes that the resources of the Province will insure it first place in the Dominion for many years to come. This is the fourth of the important series of articles on the future of the Dominion. It is published in the July 17th issue of Collier's.

HURLED TO DEATH DURING AUTO RACE

A Double Fatality in Montreal Yesterday Witnessed By Large Crowd—Two Men Killed When Auto Struck Fence.

Montreal, July 9.—A double fatality occurred in the running of the fifth event on the programme of the first day's racing of the automobile club of Canada this afternoon.

Rushing through the back stretch at a rate of close to a mile a minute, a sixty-horse power Stearns car plunged, right through the outer fence and hurled C. K. Batchelder, of Newport (Vt.), and James Twomey, of the city, to almost instant death.

Batchelder was driving the car and Twomey occupied the seat to his left and was acting as his mechanic. Batchelder died while being carried to the ambulance, while Twomey passed away a few minutes after, being removed to the Royal Victoria hospital.

Batchelder's body presented a gruesome sight as he was impaled by a huge splinter of the fence through which the car dashed madly. The moment the car struck, the two men were hurled from their seats high in the air, and fell almost directly below the spot where the car left the track. A burst time in thought to have led to the momentary loss of control which was attended with such horrible results.

The eighth lap of the race, which was for gasoline stock cars, for ten miles, and which drew the largest field of the afternoon, six cars, had been completed by the time the accident occurred. Batchelder in his sixty-horse power car was speeding through the back stretch. At the far turn he apparently lost control of his machine, and the few persons who were standing near the spot state that the car came on the outside and evidently trying to overtake one of those in front, was seen to wobble and then dash toward the outside fence. In a fraction of a second it had plunged through the fence, breaking it for a distance of twenty-five feet like tinder wood, then hurling through the air over the embankment that runs down steeply in the outside of the track and landing nearly 40 yards away. At the racing speed at which the cars were traveling there was practically no chance of the driver making a recovery or averting an accident.

A pathetic feature in Batchelder's death and that of his companion Twomey, was that up to a short time before the fatal race started it was unknown whether their car would be permitted to start. The card for the race was filled and the organizers of the races told them that their entry could not be accepted. It was accepted, however, at the last moment and Batchelder and Twomey started on the mad rush, which ended in their deaths. The car was owned by Lora Hale, well known here and in Ottawa, and was familiar on the streets of the city. Batchelder and Twomey worked on the car all last night fitting it up for the race. When the car was examined after the accident it was found that the front axle was broken, although it is more than probable that this break occurred after, rather than before the smash.

When overhauled take a glass of iced "Galada" Tea. It will prove most refreshing. As delightful as a dip in the sea.

GIRL SAVED FROM A TERRIBLE DEATH

Sadie Foster, of Millidgeville Road, Badly Burned—Neighbors Threw Her in Brook and Saved Life.

With clothing ablaze as she rushed out of the house, Sadie Foster, the thirteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Foster, of Millidgeville Road, was caught up by neighbors yesterday and thrown into a brook nearby and saved from a terrible death.

The thrilling occurrence took place about 12:30 o'clock. Those who witnessed it are not likely to forget it. How the fire started is uncertain. It is believed from what can be learned that the girl and young brother were in the kitchen and in reaching over the stove in some manner her apron caught fire.

Seeing that she was on fire the girl was beside herself with fear. She evidently had run about the room before going out of doors, for when she appeared in the door way leading to the yard she was a mass of flames. Seeing her predicament neighbors caught her up and fairly threw her into the brook. The water extinguished the flames at once and the child was taken to the house by Dr. Mayes Case hurriedly sent for. In the meantime the water soaked clothes, still steaming, were taken off her.

On the doctor's arrival he found the girl horribly burned. Both arms to the elbows, the stomach and both limbs to the knees were severely burned. She retained consciousness however, throughout. Besides the intense suffering resulting from the burns the shock has left her in a serious state. The burns are believed to be quite deep. The hair is almost burned from the head.

Sadie is the only girl in the family of four children. She has two brothers younger and one older. Dr. Case stated last night that the girl was resting last night fairly comfortably.

WHAT GREAT BRITAIN HAS DONE FOR INDIA

(Toronto Mail and Empire.)

After living thirty years in India, an American missionary, Rev. J. P. Jones, writes on the subject of British rule to the Boston Transcript. His article is a criticism of the English, and how timely it is we may gather from Mr. Jones' surmise that the assassination of Col. Wylie "may be regarded by Americans with a certain degree of complacency at least." "We do not believe that the returned missionary is correct on this point, or that any American, outside of a penitentiary or an asylum, would view with complacency the murder of an English officer by a crazy native. At the same time, Mr. Bryan, we remember, denounced British rule in India, his idea being to stir up Democratic sentiment against Imperialism generally. Mr. Roosevelt, on the contrary, rather went out of his way to praise the administration of the Indian Empire. Mr. Jones' testimony is more calculated to convince than the opinions of either of his more distinguished fellow-countrymen, in view of his long experience.

A LAND OF POVERTY.

The tendency of the superficial examiner to criticize British rule for the poverty of India is noted by Mr. Jones; but India has always been a land of poverty. At present the average annual income is only $10 per capita, and millions fall below the average, and dwell on the borderland of want. Nevertheless, the poverty was greater before the coming of the English. The luxuries of thirty years ago have become the necessities of today. Crops bring better prices, and as ninety per cent of the people are connected with agriculture, the benefit is widespread. He quotes Sir Mahadeo Rao, one of the few great statesmen that India has produced, to the effect that his country's poverty is self-inflicted, self-created, or self-accepted, and therefore avoidable. "Would not any country be poverty stricken that had $2,000,000,000 of hoarded money buried in the ground. If this vast sum were to be restored to circulation and to the promotion of industry it would exert a magical effect. Add to this the further enormous wealth that is annually converted into jewels, even among the common people; the senseless waste of money upon marriage and other feasts; the willing maintenance of an army of 5,500,000 religious ascetics, and the Hindu's insane passion for litigation, and three-fourths of India's poverty will be understood.

FAMINE AND IRRIGATION.

Great Britain has been blamed by pin-headed critics for the Indian famine, whereas, ever since the continents settled down into their present shape there have been famines in India, primarily caused by an unfavorable condition of the atmosphere in the mountains of Africa. If the famines are had today, what must they have been before Britain poured her millions into relief work, built a regular system of railways for the purpose of rushing supplies into isolated, stricken districts? At another point Mr. Jones says:—"We must also emphasize the incomparable irrigation works of India. It surpasses all other lands in this particular. By the Chenab irrigation scheme, in the Punjab, two and one half million acres of waste land, without an inhabitant, have been recently transformed into a fertile garden with two hundred thousand inhabitants. In the district in which the writer lives in South India, the Periar irrigation scheme, completed a decade and a half ago, feeds four hundred thousand people, and has made the district which was dependent in the past upon other districts for its food to be more than self-sufficient.

BABY'S GREAT DANGER

DURING HOT WEATHER.

More children die during the hot weather than at any other time of the year. Diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera infantum, and stomach troubles come without warning, and when a medicine is not at hand to give prompt relief, the delay may prove fatal to the child. Baby's Own Tablets to the child. Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in every home where there are children during the hot weather months. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent deadly summer complaints, cure them if they come unexpectedly. Mrs. O. Moore, St. Titus, Que., says:—"My baby suffered from a severe attack of cholera infantum, but after giving him Baby's Own Tablets the trouble disappeared, and he regained health splendidly." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PROVES NERVILINE CURES CHRONIC SCIATICA

Solem Statement of a Well Known Newark Merchant Establishes That Sciatica Can be Cured Quickly.

It was four years ago I first was attacked by sciatica. The pains came and went, and at first were not severe. I took no precautions against relapse and the conditions grew permanent. Severe grinding pains like points of steel being forced through my flesh, affected my left side. I became almost a cripple, and on a damp or stormy day was afraid to leave the house.

"NERVILINE" was recommended and I rubbed on lots of it. In a week I improved, and by persevering with the Nerviline rubbing and taking it every night, twenty drops in hot sweetened water, I finally got the disease under control. In eight weeks I was cured. I have never since felt a twinge or an ache, and for those affected with Neuritis, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, or any other muscular ailment, I can conscientiously recommend "NERVILINE."

For fifty years Nerviline has been a standard household remedy all over America. Many doctors and druggists use it in their own families because it is the best, strongest, most penetrating liniment made.

Beware of the unscrupulous dealer that endeavors, because of the extra profit on an inferior article, to induce you to take anything in place of NERVILINE. Large size bottles at all druggists.

A considerable sum is yet needed to carry on the supervised playground as long as the club aims to do it.

PLAYGROUND IS POPULAR SPOT

Centennial School Play Ground
Now in Full Swing, is Attracting Hundreds of Children Daily.

The Centennial school playground is now in full swing and is attracting hundreds of children daily. Yesterday afternoon the grounds contained over five hundred of both sexes although the little girls predominated. They were all enjoying themselves hugely, evidently rejoicing at possessing a playground where they were immune from outside interference and the constant danger of accidents that lurk on the streets. Therefore the playground which is almost central in location is a haven of refuge for the children where they can play to their heart's content without fear of restriction and under the watchful eyes of competent persons. There is no opportunity for the boys to over-rule the girls and a rowdy is not tolerated.

The entrance to the grounds is from Waterloo St., opposite the junction of Cliff street. At the morning opening-hour a large number of the children are eagerly awaiting the announcement that the grounds are available for play. A marquee is an effective protection against the heat when, on a hot day, it is desired to sit under the canvas and view the bustling scene from a cool spot. Benches are located under the marquee and at various sections of the grounds.

Prominent among the attractions is the slide which is a prime favorite and seldom out of use. The tier of swings and the teeters add to the enjoyment of the little ones and by many, as a source of attraction is made.

The sand pile and the blocks afford untold delight to the youngsters who they form miniature homes with the blocks and build subways and caves in the loamy sand.

The boys and girls with good voices are privileged to exercise their vocal abilities accompanied by Mrs. D. P. Chisholm at the piano. Miss Nina Robinson and Miss Buchanan instruct the children to master the intricacies of the blocks and several of the playground children. The girls play feminine games akin to ring-a-rosy, etc., and the boys derive the pleasure of slinging a ball around an adjoining lot.

The basketball apparatus which was situated on the section of the playground on Richmond street, last year, has not yet been installed but it is probable that, under the supervision of Thomas Hill, janitor of Centennial school, the boys and girls can again participate in this sport the asphalt pavement. Yesterday was a great day for the children and today will be another.

It is a singular fact that no refractory spirits have manifested their presence at the playground although nobody who is within the school age is placed under the ban. It is evident that the boys are grateful for the endeavors to provide them with pure enjoyment.

WILL HONOR HIS MEMORY

Artillery Men Will Unveil Monument to Gunner Frederick Harvey on Sunday in Fernhill Cemetery

The memory of Gunner Frederick Harvey, of No. 1 battery, 3rd Regiment Canadian artillery, who was killed by falling off a train, while going to Petawawa Camp with his comrades last year, will be perpetuated by the officers and men of the battery by the erection of a handsome monument over his grave at Fernhill cemetery. It is the spirit of true comradeship that prompts the action of the battery. With recollection of him that was with them last year, it was decided the larger portion of the prize money this year should be put aside for the purpose of indicating their reverence of his memory. It was finally decided that the little mound that marks his resting place in Fernhill be marked by a monument that is fitting to a Canadian soldier. Accordingly an order was placed with James S. Seaton, and he has since completed a beautiful, large grey granite monument. The style of the monument is out of the ordinary, and is one that would attract attention. It is polished and will have chiseled at the top, a gun, under which will be a suitable inscription. The unveiling will take place at Fernhill on Sunday next and the ceremony will be a unique one. The battery will march to the cemetery with the other units of the militia, where the service will be conducted by the regiment's chaplain, Ven. Archdeacon Raymond.

SUNDAY'S PARADE AND TEMPERANCE OPEN AIR MEETING

The temperance mass meeting at the Every Day Club playgrounds tomorrow afternoon, if the day is fine, will doubtless attract an immense crowd. It will begin at 4 o'clock sharp.

The members of the Junior Temple of H. and T. will parade from the Temple Hall, Main street, headed by the Every Day Club fife and drum band. La Four Section of Carleton will join in this parade, which will leave the Temple Hall not later than 3:30 o'clock.

At the grounds, facing the large grand stand, a platform will be erected this evening for the speakers, orchestra and choir. The speaker of the day will be Rev. Dr. Hoban, of the University of Chicago. The committee of arrangements includes Rev. Messrs. Tyus, Colbee and Anthony, who are members of the club. The music by choir, orchestra and congregation, singing and playing familiar hymns, will be a special feature. The event will give the citizens generally an opportunity to see the club playgrounds well as enjoy an exceptionally interesting meeting. Prof. Hoban is a brilliant speaker.
