

45TH. YEAR. NO. 19516

THE ADVERTISER, LONDON, ONTARIO, FRIDAY NOVEMBER 20, 1908—TEN PAGES

A SERIOUS SMALLPOX OUTBREAK IN TOWNSHIP OF DORCHESTER

Between Twelve and Fifteen Cases Are Reported by Dr. Banghart—Eight Cases in the Greatrix Family Alone—Two Cases Near London.

A very serious outbreak of smallpox is reported from Dorchester Township, between Dorchester Station and Thamesford. There are not less than eight cases in one family, named Greatrix.

Dr. Banghart, of Dorchester, estimates that there must be between twelve and fifteen cases in the neighborhood.

The disease first made its appearance some time ago, but was of a very mild type.

Thought It Was Chickenpox. It passed as chickenpox, and no particular attention was paid to it. Some of the younger members of the Greatrix family were exposed to it. Last week the whole family were taken down with it. The cases are all mild, with the exception of that of Mrs. Greatrix and the youngest child, a little girl of 3 years, who are in quite a serious condition from the disease.

Neighborhood Exposed. Practically the whole neighborhood has been exposed to the disease, and it is more than probable that it will spread.

Quarantined.

Dr. Percy Banghart, of Dorchester, the medical health officer, was notified, and diagnosed the cases as smallpox. He has placed the home under quarantine, and has taken every precaution to stamp out the disease.

Constant watch is being kept to prevent further contagion, and every case in the slightest degree suspicious is being watched very closely.

Cases Near London.

On all sides of London smallpox has made its appearance. There are two cases on the outskirts of the city, one on the north and the other on the south side.

The board of health is taking every precaution to prevent a spread of the disease in London.

Dr. Hodgetts, provincial medical health officer, has been notified, and it is understood he will send experts to Dorchester to investigate the conditions prevailing.

Building Permits Aggregate $37,380 29 Issued Thus Far This Month

Seven Were Handed Out Thursday Afternoon and This Morning.

Building is certainly booming in London if the number of building permits issued by City Engineer Graydon is any criterion. The month is now just two-thirds past and he has already issued 29 permits. The aggregate cost of the buildings to be erected amounts to $37,380. The major portion of the buildings are dwellings, only one or two stores being in the number, and they are quite small stores.

This month is likely to prove a record month in building permits.

The Permits.

Seven permits were issued yesterday afternoon and this morning. They are as follows: William Smith, 1½-story frame residence on Victoria street; John Wilkey, 1½-story brick-veneer residence on Princess avenue; A. V. Johnston, 1-story frame on Pegler street; 1-story frame on Briscoe street; and three 1-story brick-veneer residences on Carfrae Crescent.

Charged With Cruelty to a Horse

In the police court this morning Melville MacLeod appeared to answer to a charge of cruelty to animals preferred against him by P. C. Clark.

In the witness-box the officer testified that he had seen MacLeod driving about the streets, and pulling, slashing and whipping a horse, and had taken his name. MacLeod's father was present in court and stated that the animal was a three-year-old which had won numerous prizes, and had been given by him to the boy to break in. "I think there is no doubt that you ill-used this animal," said Magistrate Love "and in future I would recommend you to be more gentle. I will let you go this time, but the officer was perfectly justified in reporting you."

Mr. MacLeod, son, started an argument, and would not keep quiet when told. He was removed by the sergeant in charge of the court.

Case Adjourned.

The case of Jacob Fox, charged with being drunk and with assaulting Geo. Exley, was adjourned until Monday. George Stryker, charged with stealing a fur coat from John Dillon, was remanded to jail for a week for sentence after pleading guilty to stealing the coat.

John Penicott, for being drunk, was fined $5.

Nellie Abbott, charged with being disorderly, has been in jail a week, and was allowed to go.

William Pate, an Indian lister, was fined $10 and $2 costs for being drunk.

The case of C. Summers, charged by Inspector Weir with not sending his child to school, was adjourned for a week.

grange, Ill., today, and killed. Three of the seven men met death instantly, and the other four died soon afterwards. There were ten men on the hand car. The others escaped with slight injuries.

RECEPTION AT HURON COLLEGE

Class of 1911 Entertained Large Number of Guests Last Night.

Huron College presented a gay appearance last night when the arts and divinity students of the class of '11 held a reception, at which about one hundred and fifty students and their friends were present. For weeks the freshmen have been busily engaged in getting ready for the reception, and the college was transformed last night with its decorations of flags and bunting.

The early part of the evening was spent in playing observation games, the prizes being won by Mr. Stewart, Miss Thompson and Mr. Powell.

The address by the chairman of the class of '11, P. J. Law, followed, and in it Mr. Law spoke most hopefully of the future of the Western University and Huron College. A programme, including the freshmen's song, a piano solo by Mr. Charles Percy, a solo by Miss Mona Fitzgerald, a recitation by Mr. A. S. H. Cree, a solo by Mr. P. J. Law, songs by Messrs. Percy, Ehlbers, Cardigan and Law, a programme by Miss Mona Fitzgerald was rendered in Convocation Hall, and was thoroughly appreciated. The evening was brought to a close by the serving of light refreshments by the young ladies of '11. The patronesses of the reception were Mrs. Williams, Mrs. James and Mrs. Waller.

POLICE FOUND A LITTLE WANDERER

Taken to the Station Said His Name Was "Jimmie."

P. C. Clark found a little 3-year-old boy wandering about on Dundas street this morning shortly before 10 o'clock. He was taken to the station and beyond the information that his name was "Jimmie," nothing could be gained. The little fellow had a great time at the police station with some picture postcards and an apple, and was there about half an hour before his mother came and got him.

DRAGON'S TAIL DUST

Causes Death of a Chinese Gambler of Denver, Col.

Denver, Nov. 20.—Chinatown here is in the throes of its first Highblinder war brought on by a fight between owners of gambling houses for the exclusive right to operate fan tan tables and lotteries. The death yesterday of Yee Long, a gambler, is ascribed to the battle of the tables. The body of Yee was found in an alley in the Chinese quarter. That he died of poison was made evident by his contorted face and twisted limbs, and a note in Chinese found in his blouse. The note reads: "They are here from San Francisco. Soon I must go to my fathers. Whether by the broad-bladed axe or by dust of the dragon's tail, it matters not. I know I go. I commend my spirit to Buddha, the all wise and merciful." A searching examination of the body failed to reveal any marks of violence. It is believed that "by dust of the dragon's tail" Yee referred to some potent Oriental poison.

MR. WILLIAM BROOKS DIED IN TORONTO

Was a Well-Known Former Resident of This City.

The death occurred in Toronto on Wednesday last of William Brooks, a well-known former Londoner. Mr. Brooks was 86 years old, and came to this country from Devonshire in 1853. He settled first at Thorold, and afterward moved to Eastwood, coming to London 42 years ago. For some years he was employed in Burrows' mill, in East London, and was afterwards appointed foreman in the Miller refinery. For a few years Mr. Brooks was crossing watchman on the Grand Trunk at Adelaide, but retired twenty years ago, and had been living with relatives in different parts of the country. The remains were brought to this city this morning, and the funeral took place from D. A. Stewart's undertaking parlors to Mount Pleasant Cemetery this afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Baird, of the Hyatt Avenue Methodist Church. The pall-bearers were six nephews and sons-in-law of deceased.

Mr. Brooks is survived by the following daughters: Mrs. P. Neil and Mrs. J. Wright, of Winnipeg; Mrs. H. Bell, Sarnia; Mrs. J. Goudie, Toronto, to whom he was married; Mrs. J. Pfeister, Syracuse, and Mrs. Charles Rogers, of Hill street, East London.

He was for many years prominent among the newspapermen of Toronto. He edited the News, and was subsequently editor of the Saturday Night, where his writings signed "Don" were widely read. Mr. Sheppard is a former Londoner.

SHOT HIMSELF IN HOSPITAL

Suicide of Mounted Police Sergeant at Regina.

Regina, Sask., Nov. 19.—Staff-Sergeant Bates, of the Mounted Police, committed suicide this morning by shooting himself. He was orderly sergeant in the hospital and had just called the doctor to replace the night man. When the night man went into his sleeping quarters, he found Bates' body on the floor in a pool of blood. Col's revolver had been placed in his mouth and the bullet went through the crown of his head and into the ceiling. Despondency is given as the cause of the act. Bates joined the force 23 years ago. He went through the rebellion of 1885 and the South African campaign.

GREAT BRITAIN A TRAITOR TO THE WHITE MAN'S CAUSE

According to the Kaiser Whose Suppressed Century Interview Is Out—Says Germany and U. S. Will Settle the Eastern Question.

New York, Nov. 20.—The American this (Friday) morning prints the following:

London, Nov. 19.—Here is exactly what Emperor William said on world politics to Dr. William Bayard Hale, the distinguished clergyman, traveller and writer, on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern, at Bergen, Norway, on July 19.

Dr. Hale was seeking an article for the Century Magazine, which article, in view of the earthquake created throughout Germany by an interview subsequently given by the Emperor to a diplomat, for the London Daily Telegraph, has been suppressed at the request of the German Government.

The Emperor talked to Dr. Hale for several hours. He was bitter against England and full of "the yellow peril." He declared England a traitor to the white man's cause. He predicted that she would immediately lose some of her colonies through her treaty with Japan.

The invitation to the American fleet of battleships to visit New Zealand and Australia was intended to serve notice on England that those colonies were with the white man and not with the renegade mother country. The British colonies would show by the ardor of their reception that they understood the situation.

Japan Fomenting Hindu Revolt.

The Emperor declared that Japan is even now fomenting insurrection in India. This insurrection might break

Military Camp May Come Back Again But Will Likely Be Held at Coves

'Tis Said Department at Ottawa Has Been Petitioned Regarding the Matter.

According to statements made by several officers connected with the Twenty-sixth Regiment, the camp next year will be held in London, several petitions to that effect having been sent to the department. It is not likely, however, that the camp will be held on Carling's Heights as formerly, as there is not enough room there for the purpose.

A suggestion has been made that it be held at the Cove just near the ranges.

There is sufficient land there for the purpose, and it could, with the expenditure of little money, be made sanitary and healthful.

It is understood that the matter is under advisement in the department, and an announcement will be made shortly.

The Place of University Education In National Life of the Dominion

Principal Falconer's Brilliant Address to the Canadian Club at Noon Today.

The inaugural luncheon of the Canadian Club was held at noon today, with Principal Falconer, of the University of Toronto, as the guest of honor. He delivered a very strong address on "The Place of University Education in National Life." The address was growing rapidly in Canada. Attention had been attracted to this country never before. Canada was the theme of discussion at the meeting of the New York Chamber of Commerce last evening, at which several distinguished Canadians spoke. The great question could be doubled. The people of Canada was, "What would contribute to the development of the country?"

President Lawson.

Mr. Frank Lawson, president of the club, presided. He felt that this year had been the banner season for the club, as the executive and membership had taken hold with more enthusiasm than formerly. He was pleased to introduce Principal Falconer, who would delight the members of the club with his address.

Principal Falconer.

Principal Falconer expressed his pleasure at speaking to the Canadian Club of London. It was always a pleasure to talk to such clubs. They were a distinct manifestation of national life, and one of the best omens for the future, as they showed that the businessmen of the country were taking time to discuss the great problems pertaining to national life, to which they so largely contributed.

The Subject.

His theme was "The Place of University Education in National Life." The sense of nationhood was growing rapidly in Canada. Attention had been attracted to this country never before. Canada was the theme of discussion at the meeting of the New York Chamber of Commerce last evening, at which several distinguished Canadians spoke. The great question could be doubled. The people of Canada was, "What would contribute to the development of the country?"

The Commercial Side.

There was no danger that the commercial side of Canadian life would not be developed properly. Commerce was growing rapidly. There was no danger from this side of the question, except perhaps the danger that the "com-

Reorganization for Canadian Oil Co. Meeting Called for November 28

If Negotiations Are Successful Name of Concern Will Be Changed.

The shareholders of the Canadian Oil Company have been notified to attend a meeting to be held in Toronto on Nov. 28 to ratify a reorganization of the company, which has just been arranged by the board of directors. If the reorganization is ratified the company will hereafter be known as the Canadian Oil Companies, Limited.

The question of reorganization has been under consideration since the last annual meeting held in the Temple building, where a good deal of criticism was indulged in by shareholders, who were dissatisfied because dividends were not forthcoming. While negotiations were under way last week looking towards a complete reorganization two writs were issued, which brought the matter to a speedy conclusion. The sums for which suit was entered were secured by the company and an agreement has been reached with the National Refining Company of Cleveland by which they will subscribe for stock to the value of $150,000 if the present directors subscribe for $200,000. This was done after Mr. E. R. C. Clarkson, of Toronto, made an inspection of the company's affairs and found the company on a good financial basis.

The Negotiations.

The negotiations have been carried on by Mr. G. Lomplicht, of Cleveland, the head of the National Refining Company, who has been instrumental of Oil Company.

THE FIELD TRIALS.

Ruthven, Nov. 20.—The international field trials were concluded at Ruthven today, with the all-ages stakes, in which the winners were as follows: G. O. Smith's lemon and white English setter dog, Puyrell Fly, first; W. J. Baughne's black, white and tan English setter, Fairland Don, second; Dr. Campbell's black, white and tan English setter dog, third.

late in putting one or two large oil concerns in the United States on a solid financial basis. For the National Refining Company it was said last night they could find a market for all the new company's output, and by making some changes in the refining works at Petrolia at a small outlay the output could be doubled. The position of the shareholders more secure, and it was said last night that the common stock could shortly be depended upon to go to par, and that an 8 per cent dividend on the preference stock is in sight.

The Organization.

The Canadian Oil Company was organized some six years ago, with a capital stock of $2,000,000. Mr. W. S. Calvert, M. P., of Stratford, is the president. Mr. John Kerr, Petrolia, treasurer, and Mr. W. P. Bull, Toronto, secretary. The other directors are: Messrs. J. J. Main, Toronto; T. H. Hamilton, Toronto; W. J. Lovering, Toronto; R. Cox, Ottawa; W. D. Todd, N. W. Jamieson and W. J. Neaston, of Warren, Penn.; S. Dymont, Barrie; James Playfair, Midland, and Senator Choquette, Quebec.

The company's head office is at 123 Bay street, Toronto, with works at 2½ Strachan avenue, and branches at Montreal, Winnipeg, St. John, Hamilton, Petrolia, Vancouver, Halifax and Calgary. The general manager is Mr. T. H. Hamilton.

The Canadian Oil Company was originally the Grant-Hamilton Oil Works, of Toronto. Mr. Grant is still in business in Toronto, and Mr. Hamilton is the manager of the Canadian

TWENTY WORKMEN MEET DEATH BY EXPLOSION OF A GAS MAIN

Accident in the Streets of Brooklyn Takes Terrible Toll in Human Lives—One Man Roasted Alive Attempting a Rescue.

New York, Nov. 20.—More than twenty persons are believed to have lost their lives as a result of the explosion of a gas main at Gold and Fore streets, Brooklyn, today.

New York, Nov. 20.—Twenty were killed by the explosion of a gas main in an excavation at Gold and Front streets, Brooklyn, today.

The explosion tore the street to pieces for rods on either side, and the twenty men who were working in an excavation for a big sewer pipe, were buried by the debris, which fell in upon them and smothered or burned them to death in the fire that followed.

Samuel Trout, who lived near the scene, lost his life in attempting to save a woman who was passing through Gold street at the time of the explosion, and fell into the trench. Trout was caught by the flames from the blazing gas main and roasted alive. The woman was dragged out of the trench, and saved by a boy.

Child Killed by a Fall From a Chair Peculiar Death of Harriet Durdin

Father Was Also Injured While at Work the Same Night.

Harriet Minerva Durdin, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Durdin, died at her parents home, No. 1 Dreaney avenue, last night as a result of a sad accident which happened the night before.

The little girl was playing about the house and had climbed up on a chair. In some manner she lost her balance and fell. The distance was only about 18 inches, but she was taken very ill, and Dr. MacLaren, who was called, discovered that she was suffering from concussion of the brain. She never rallied and died last night.

Mr. Durdin, while cleaning a lamp on his engine in the G. T. R. yards on Wednesday evening, cut his wrist so badly that 14 stitches were required and he will be laid up for some time. Mr. and Mrs. Durdin have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in their bereavement.

The funeral of the little girl will be held on Saturday afternoon at Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Glencoe Votes To Own Its Lights

Glencoe, Nov. 20.—Glencoe voted on Monday last to provide for a municipally-owned power plant, and it carried by a vote of 125 to 67, practically a two-thirds vote. The day was very stormy, or a much larger vote would have been polled.

This means that the plant owned by Mr. Gordon will be put out of business. His contract with the village and private consumers expired last March, but since that time he has been supplying light at the old rates, but with no contracts.

When it was learned that the vote for a municipally-owned plant had carried, Mr. Gordon shut down his plant, cutting the town out of light.

This caused not a little inconvenience, and as it will be some time before the new plant can be installed, conditions will not improve in the meantime.

The Glencoe Council will hurry the work of installing the new plant.

Foot Caught, Was Run Down By Car

Hamilton, Nov. 19.—Violet Norton, the twelve-year-old daughter of Edward Norton, Flamboro street, Dundas, was run over by a Hamilton and Dundas car in Dundas about 5 o'clock this evening and received injuries from which she died at her home about 10 o'clock tonight. Miss Norton was crossing the tracks near the canal when her foot caught in the frog. She tried to pull it out, but without success, and though she called for help, no person was near. Shortly after her foot was caught she heard the car approaching. She tried to try and attract the motorman's attention, and threw her body to one side, but the spot was unlighted and he could not hear her cries over the noise made by the car. The first he knew of the accident was after the car wheels had passed over her leg. This was terrible, rushed near the knee. She was taken home, where Dr. Ryckert was called. He first thought she should be brought to the city hospital for treatment, but she was too weak from loss of blood and shock, and rapidly declined. Dr. Ryckert will open an inquest tomorrow morning at Dundas.

The Trade Returns Are Significant

Ottawa, Nov. 19.—Trade returns for October show an increase of $2,602,074 in exports of domestic products, and a decrease of $5,221,515 for consumption, as compared with October of last year. The total value of domestic exports for the month was $28,299,212, as compared with $23,697,148 for the same month last year. Exports of agriculture products increased by about four millions, while exports of the mine and of animals and their products each fell off about one million. Total imports, exclusive of coin and bullion, were $26,262,985, as compared with $31,484,500 for October, 1907.

For the first seven months of the present fiscal year the imports entered for home consumption totalled $162,908,292, a decrease of $59,726,936, as compared with the same period of 1907. During the seven months the value of $7,212,812, as compared with $1,396,375 last year. Exports of domestic products for the seven months totalled $136,408,263, a decrease of $12,862,525. The total trade for the seven months was $318,406,985, a decrease of $73,216,434.

Grand Trunk Made a Freight Record

The Grand Trunk made a new record last night in the freight handled between London and Toronto. For the first time in the history of the company traffic was so heavy that train No. 418, the fast way freight, had to be sent through in three sections.

Altogether there were 118 cars. The first train took 40 cars, and the other two 39 cars each. The trains were made up of 40 cars of live stock, and the remainder were perishable goods that had to be handled with all speed.

Traffic continues very heavy in this district, and repeated orders for more cars are being sent out.

JAMES SERGEANT BROKE A LEG

Accident to a Well-Known East London Carpenter.

Mr. James Sergeant, of 590 King street, fell from the roof of a cottage which he was shingling at 383 Adelaide street, at 11 o'clock this morning, breaking his left leg.

Mr. Sergeant had been engaged with a number of other men on the roof, and was about to descend for a supply of nails when he slipped, falling a distance of about twelve feet. He was removed to his home, which is but a short distance away, and Dr. Cline was called and reduced the fracture. He will be confined to his home for some time as the fracture is a bad one.

Death Chamber Crowded by Watchers and Demise Was Followed by Pandemonium.

Peking, Nov. 19.—Prince Ching was present at the palace both yesterday and today. The Forbidden City is crowded all day long with officials of various degree and throngs of mourners, and notable in the gathering is the Dai Lai Lama of Tibet, and all his disciples. Tomorrow morning at ten o'clock there will be a service of Tibetan prayers before the coffin of their late majesty, the Tibetans will officiate. The foreign board denies emphatically and without qualification the rumors that either of their majesties was poisoned, and declare that death was due to natural causes.

The Emperor made a speech less than one hour before his death. He passed away during a period of the greatest excitement and confusion. His native physicians had been temporarily dismissed under the impression that there was no change in the condition of his majesty, and that he might live for some time. There was a sudden turn for the worse, however, and they were quickly recalled. They at once gave orders, in accordance with the custom the imperial family observed for centuries past, that the Emperor be dressed for death, and the imperial yellow flag be spread over the road leading from the winter palace to the Forbidden City.

At the same time an imperial conveyance was made ready to convey the Dowager Empress to the death chamber.

The last illness of the Dowager Empress dated from Nov. 1, and on this day the court was terrified by an outbreak of uncontrolled temper from her majesty.

Saw a Ghost.

On Nov. 12 she suffered a paralytic stroke on being informed of the precarious condition of the Emperor. On Nov. 13, Prince Ching returned from her mausoleum in the Eastern Hills, whither she had sent him to make a religious offering in the hope of propitiating the ghost that in her dreams had beckoned her to follow him out to these hills.

An official of high standing said today that the Empress had died of apoplexy, and that she was able to talk and did talk, up to within a few hours of passing away. Both her majesties awaited the coming of the grim reaper clad in their official robes and surrounded by hundreds of court officials and followers. It was a barbarous exhibition of the soulless and inhuman formality and etiquette of the court.

Watched Dowager Die.

The members of the grand council, in a testamentary statement written expressly for her majesty, have drawn a pitiful picture of her last sufferings. This account reveals the feelings of an eye-witness who stood awe-stricken in the crowd at a prescribed distance from the bedside of the dying woman, in sorrowful contemplation of her majesty lying upon her couch and awaiting the coming of death.

On the night of Nov. 13 the Dowager Empress called the members of the grand council together and talked with them for some time. She was lying prone, but fully dressed. After one hour's consultation the councillors were dismissed, but they were told to return at 2 o'clock in the morning with the edicts prepared to announce the succession to the throne. It is reported that her majesty was able to signify her assent to these particular edicts, but immediately after having done this she declared:

"I can hear no more," and relapsed into unconsciousness.

The Emperor and the Dowager Empress were dead or moribund when the regency edicts were issued.

The Eunuchs Fled.

As soon as it was actually known throughout the palace that their majesties were dead a condition of panic ensued. The widow of Tung Chi attempted to commit suicide because she perceived she would not be made dowager empress. There was an outbreak of walling and general pandemonium such as accompanied the giving of the order that their majesties should be clad in their imperial robes for death. Many of the palace eunuchs fled, carrying with them such valuables as they could lay their hands on. The Dowager Empress Yehonala was one of the few who kept their presence of mind. She ordered that the gates be guarded and gave other instructions for the maintenance and restoration of order. Today the eunuchs have returned and have been reinstated. Except for the continuance of funeral obsequies and observances, conditions at the palace are normal.

Pu Yi, the baby emperor, has been taken from his family and is sedulously cared for within the palace precincts. He is popularly reported as crying day and night for his old nurse.

DEATH ESTABLISHED.

Toronto, Nov. 19.—Chief Justice Meredith decided this morning that the presumption of the death of Sidney F. Pilgrim, who at one time was a soda water manufacturer in Hamilton, is established. Pilgrim was last heard of in Baltimore many years ago. The Federal Life Insurance Company was therefore ordered to pay over to his wife Stella insurance of $1,000, and to his son, Charles Orville, $200. The company, which has made the application, will receive costs.

Skin Diseases.

A diseased or disfigured skin will always leave its stamp on the mind of the individual. Many people suffering from disfiguring skin diseases avoid society and lose all pride in their personal appearance. When the skin breaks out in eruptions and sores it is due entirely to an impure condition of the blood.

In all such cases Burdock Blood Bitters will quickly purify the blood and drive all the impurities out of the system.

ITCHING RASH CURED.

Mrs. J. J. Magee, Jr., Kinnmount, Ont., writes: "In the spring of 1908 I was troubled with a Rash that broke out all over me. It was the worst on my face and head, had a dry, scaly top, and when I would get warm it would become very itchy. I tried the doctor's medicine but it did me no good, so I then got one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and before it was all used the Rash was entirely gone."

SORES ON FACE.

Mrs. Harvey Barkhouse, Gold River, N.S., writes: "I was greatly troubled with Sores on my face and finally became so bad I had to go to the doctor about it, but he could do nothing to help me."

"I thought about Burdock Blood Bitters and decided to try a bottle. I cannot recommend B.B.B. enough, as I had not taken all the bottle before my face was cured."

Mayor of Cleveland Financially Down, But Not Yet Out.

Cleveland, Nov. 19.—Mayor Tom L. Johnson, who for years has been credited with possessing a large fortune, today announced that he had lost everything and would be compelled to give up his beautiful home in Euclid avenue and move into smaller and less expensive quarters. His fortune was wrecked, the mayor declared, by his devotion to the affairs of the estate of his dead brother, Albert, who was heavily interested in traction properties in the east. After Albert's death, a question was put to him whether he should resign his office as mayor and take up the management of Albert's estate.

LABOR DEFEATS RADICAL MOVE

Resolution to Disobey the U. S. Court Orders Turned Down By Federation.

Denver, Col., Nov. 19.—The entire session of the American Federation of Labor convention today was given over to consideration of the report of the committee on the president's report. Two sections called for prolonged debate and a vote was reached on only one that referring to litigation harassing labor. The report of the committee recommending that injunctions be disregarded was defeated on roll call, 1,127 to 3,576, and modification of the report was adopted.

CASE OF BLACKMAIL

Prominent Burford Township Man Receives Threatening Letters.

Brantford, Nov. 18.—The local police have been asked to investigate a case of blackmail at Burford village, Brant County, where a prominent resident has recently received two threatening letters.

The first demanded $2,000, declaring if the money was not deposited in a certain spot his barns would be burned. The second threatened him with death.

SILVERWARE FOR NELSON MONTEITH

A Presentation to Former Minister of Agriculture From His Colleagues.

Toronto, Nov. 19.—The Hon. Nelson Monteth was badly wanted at the Parliament Buildings this morning, but he did not appear. A costly cabinet of table silverware was awaiting him, and everybody was ready for an informal presentation. Still he came not.

The cabinet bears a plate inscribed with the following:

"Hon. Nelson Monteth, from the staff, Ontario Department of Agriculture and Ontario Agricultural College, Oct. 6, 1908."

The date is that of his resignation of the portfolio of agriculture, and the gift was indicated by the inscription, comes from the civil servants in the department and the staff of the O. A. C.

In keeping with Mr. Monteth's dislike for fuss and feathers the presentation was made in a very informal manner.

GETS $800 FOR ROOM

Surrenders It After Occupancy of Three Score Years.

Toronto, Nov. 20.—After occupying her room in the old homestead at Burlington for more than the span of life, Rebecca Bastedo has accepted the offer of the National Trust Company, executors of the estate of her brother, and for the sum of $800 will give up possession of her little domain. Chief Justice Sir William Meredith has ratified the settlement, and the executors will now be able to sell the house.

Time has laid its silencing touch upon the head of Miss Rebecca Bastedo since the days when her father was a sturdy farmer and she a child playing in the orchard round the old homestead. She is now 78 years of age. Her father died in February, 1865, and while he left the homestead to his son, James, it was with the provision that during her life Rebecca was to have undisputed possession of the room in the north corner of the house, upstairs. The son James died in 1904. His executors have since been trying to sell the house, but have been unable to do so as long as Miss Bastedo kept her room.

ENGLISHMAN FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER

He Will Hang on Jan. 20 for Brutal Attack on Three Women.

Kenora, Nov. 19.—The sentence of death has been passed upon George F. Johnson, a young Englishman, yesterday found guilty of murdering Mrs. Ackerman, the sister of his landlady. He will hang on Jan. 20.

Johnson was in arrears with his board bill, and apparently did not like the way he was treated, so on July 28 last he attacked Mrs. Humphreys, the housekeeper, with a heavy hammer, knocking her unconscious and terribly injured Mrs. Ackerman, who ran to the rescue of her sister. Later Mrs. Ackerman died from her injuries. Johnson also went down and attacked the mother of the other two women.

The prisoner denied any recollection of his offence. Probably he was under the influence of liquor. The jury, however, took only twenty minutes to bring in their verdict of wilful murder, and Judge Britton then put on the black cap, and imposed the death sentence.

Mrs. C. Bloxham, of this city, has been called to Brantford on account of the sudden illness of her sister, Mrs. Waldron and her two children, who are in the John H. Stratford Hospital.

THE POWER LINE BEGUN.

The turning of the first sod of the Niagara power line is undoubtedly "an important event in the history of the province," as a score of newspapers and speakers have said. A project of such magnitude, involving the extension of public ownership and control into a new field, is necessarily important, no matter what the result may be. It is a great experiment, and those who pretend to be cocksure of its success are reasoning from their hopes and not from ascertained conditions.

The Advertiser has discussed the question with scores of manufacturers, merchants and businessmen. A number of them claim that the scheme is impracticable, but they decline to publish their opinions, for political and other reasons. In fact, some of Mr. Beck's leading supporters in this city say that they have no faith in the undertaking. The attitude of the business community as a whole is one of doubt and perplexity. Probably the majority of people argue that the benefits promised are so substantial that in the hope of securing them they should be willing to take a risk.

It is a pity the hydro-electric commission could not have proceeded in a regular and businesslike way. Because of its irregular methods the municipalities have been urged, and have consented, to petition the Legislature to validate contracts which have never been sanctioned by the ratepayers, thus brushing aside legal difficulties. It is a bad principle, but evidently the Government has decided to see the hydro-electric commission through, and it may now be taken for granted that the work will proceed.

Considering the enormous financial obligations they have assumed, the ratepayers of London and other municipalities in the same boat may well pray for the success of the enterprise. If disaster follows, they will have a moral claim for redress upon the Government which has urged them into this policy and which should have assumed some responsibility.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND
"CLAIMS."

The peculiar feature of the provincial campaign in Prince Edward Island, which has just closed, was that local issues were lost sight of, both parties relying for votes on their promises of demands upon the Dominion. In this respect the Opposition was apparently prepared to go much further than the Government. Premier Hazard contented himself with pledging to press vigorously for a settlement of the province's claims against the Federal Government, including its share of the Halifax fishery award; to urge for the establishment in the province of a Dominion model farm and to press for an amendment to the B. N. A. act, "restoring this province to its original representation in the House of Commons."

The "claims against Canada" which the Opposition leader, Mr. Matheson, promised, if elected, to press on the Dominion Government are:

- "1. The cost of the Prince Edward Island Railway, amounting to $3,144,000 with interest since 1873.
- "2. Damages for non-fulfillment of the terms of union respecting continuous communication between this island and the mainland.
- "3. Fair transportation rates.
- "4. Our share of the fishery award. Thorough revision of laws relating to our fisheries and the protection of the rights of our fishermen.
- "5. Compensation in respect of the public lands of Canada which have been transferred to the larger provinces without any consideration for the interest of this province therein.
- "6. An equivalent for the increased subsidies granted the larger provinces to meet the increased cost of education, public works and agriculture.
- "7. The payment of the subsidies upon an assumed population of at least 150,000 as was done in the case of British Columbia, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta in as much as the failure of this province to attain that population is owing to the default of the Dominion.
- "8. Restoration of original representation in the Federal Parliament.
- "9. The Tunnel."

The only really new "demand" in this list is that calling for "compensation in respect of the public lands," which is as refreshing as it is new. On the question of representation in the House of Commons both parties appear to be agreed. The last census showed a falling off in the province's population, necessitating a reduction of its representation at Ottawa from six to four members. Were the unit of representation restored to the old figure, the membership of the House of Commons would be increased from 221, as at present, to 332; so that with six members in such a House the representation of the province would be re-actively unchanged. If, however, by the "restoration of the original representation" is meant the establishment of two units, one for the Maritime Provinces and the other for the rest of the Dominion, the claimants might just as well drop their claim at once, as it is too much to expect that the rest of the Dominion would consent to a constitutional change which would give a vote down by the sea greater power than one in the more rapidly growing sections of Canada.

"Better terms," is always a popular cry in the eastern provinces, but at this distance it looks as though at least one party leader in Prince Edward Island is making himself ridiculous.

THE HOSPITAL RATES.

The conference between the city and county representatives yesterday on the hospital question brought out some interesting information. The claim was made by the city men that the cost of maintaining a county patient was $1.35 per day, toward which the county contributed 75 cents and the Government 20 cents. On this showing the city has been out of pocket 40 cents per day for each county patient, and in some cases more, as the Government bounty is limited to 120 days for each patient, whereas one county patient was in the hospital over 300 days.

The county representatives disputed the figures as to the cost of maintenance, and tried to show that the city men were tangled in their bookkeeping. An adjournment was made so that in the meantime exact information may be obtained.

Victoria Hospital has become a very expensive institution, and its managers should make every effort, consistent with efficiency, to lighten a burden which the ratepayers feel has increased out of proportion to the benefits derived by this community. It is a public duty to provide hospital treatment for city patients who cannot afford to pay for it, but citizens of London should not be called upon to contribute to the cost of caring for non-residents. The city must insist on a higher rate for county patients in the public wards, if it can be shown that the figures furnished by the Hospital Trust are correct, and in the rates for private rooms the trust ought also to discriminate in favor of residents. A physician tells The Advertiser that there ought to be a minimum rate of $2 per day for paying patients from outside the city. Under present circumstances, city patients are often unable to get admission because of the presence of non-residents in the hospital, who enjoy the same privileges as citizens.

"Doctors disagree" is a proverb. The Bradford Medical Association is urging the erection of a consumption hospital for local use. In this city the Medical Association is opposed to such a course. In the meantime something ought to be done for the consumptives.

Dr. Falconer, the distinguished president of Toronto University, is a welcome visitor to the city today. He is one of the big men given to the public life of the country by the Maritime Provinces, for the position he now holds makes him a public figure.

The Canadian iron and steel industry has gone into the markets of the world and underbid old-established firms in Germany and Great Britain. It has plainly passed the "infant industry" stage, and can get along with less aid.

For years there was a popular fiction that John D. Rockefeller had offered his fortune for a new stomach. The oil king does testify that he has had always a good stomach, and is in excellent shape at 70, thanks to a careful diet and plenty of fresh air. He is not open to the reproach of the cynic who said: "We over-eat and we under-breathe, and then we go to the hospital to have our pocketbooks cut out."

SOME SCOTTISH JOKES.

(W. E. Curtis, in Chicago Record-Herald.)
A minister approached his congregation for falling asleep, and emphasized his remarks by calling attention to the fact that Jimmy, "the natural," had always remained awake throughout the sermon.
"An' I had na been an idiot, I wud have been asleep, too," was Jimmy's unexpected comment.
Wilson, the poet, better known as "Christopher North," is the author of many of the wittiest things now current in Scotland, and many things he did not say are attributed to him. One morning after a "gran' night," with a group of his cronies and an abundance of "whisky" and wit, he awoke with a throat like a linekin, and called out for the landlady of the little inn on the shore of Loch Lomond, where he was spending his holidays.
"Betty, guid dame, I'm unco' dry. Fetch in the loch."

A Dundee minister was caught in a shower Sunday morning, and consulted with an unsympathetic sexton as to whether he'd better not delay the service a little while until he got dry. "Just get up and besein preaching, and you'll soon be dry enough," was the unkind reply.

An enterprising commercial traveller attempted to bribe a country merchant in Scotland with a box of cigars.
"No, na," said the merchant, shaking his head gravely, "I canna tak' 'em; I naer dae business thaway."
"Nonsense," said the drummer; "but if you have any conscientious scruples you may pay me a shilling for the box."
"Weel, weel," said the honest shopman, "I'll tak' two boxes."

"If you feel inclined to sleep in church take a pinch of snuff," said the minister to a member of his congregation.

"Wad it no be better to put the snuff into the sermon?"

There's an abiding prejudice in Scotland against "paper moonshiners"—those who read their sermons from manuscript—and a critic once summed up his objections to a certain sermon as follows: "First it was read; second, it wasna weel read; and, third, it was no worth reading."

A visitor at an insane asylum asked if the clock was right.
"If it war, dae you think it wad be here?" retorted a patient.

MONEY IN WHEAT.

(Ottawa Journal.)
James J. Hill makes the prediction that all the wheat grown in the United States will be needed for home consumption within a few years. If his prophecy has any basis of truth, a similar condition might rule in Canada some years hence. That might suggest to the man who is accustomed to look ahead and nowhere else the advisability of placing all his investments in wheat lands.

THE CHORISTERS' COMPLAINT.

(Montreal Herald.)
The Sheffield choir did not get away without speaking its mind about our defects, as well as about our good qualities. They gave us credit for the fine crowds that turned out to hear them, for the appreciation of good singing shown by audiences and press, and then they said what they thought of our lack of common hospitality as applied to the human beings who composed the choir. They did not come over here, they said, to make money. Their good singing was but a vehicle for seeing Canada, getting into the touch with Canadians, and sensing the Canadian atmosphere. Nobody seems to have dreamt of that, they say. So they were bundled out of their ship to the concert hall, from the hall to the special train, from the train to a hotel, from the hotel to the hall, and so forward until they were turned out of the train and into the ship again. They were compelled to herd seven or eight in a room in some places. They were served with evening dinners which they could not take lest their singing be spoiled, and left without supper when they came home hungry. They saw no Canadians except in the mass at the concerts, saving those few who broke through the arrangements and spoke up without leaving (probably most of them from Sheffield). And all this hurt the feelings of the Sheffield choir, and they can't be blamed for feeling that way about it.

POPULATION AND RACE.

(New York American.)
The white race numbers 600,000,000; the yellow, 700,000,000; the black, 25,000,000; the brown, or Malayan, 35,000,000; and the red, or American Indian stock, in North and South America, 15,000,000.

THE FEMININE SLAT.

(Cleveland Plaindealer.)
I've never seen a girl who looked like those queer French creations; I mean the girl who's laced and hooked in fashion illustrations.
She's such a weak and pallid thing, inclined to peak and dwindle; I'd never put a wedding ring on such a human spindle.

NO CHANCE FOR A MIRACLE.

(London Globe.)
One day Dr. Norman McLeod, who was a large and healthy man, and one of his burly elders went to pay a visit to a certain Mrs. MacLaren of the congregation, who lived in the Scotch hills. She was a frugal woman, but determined that they should have the best in the house. So she piled the table with jellies and jam and preserves and shortbread, and they partook unsparingly. After the meal the elder said to her: "Mrs. MacLaren, were you at the Kirk on Sunday?" "Oh, aye," she said. "And what did you think of the treatment of the miracle?" (the sermon had been on the loaves and fishes). "I thought it was good," said Mrs. MacLaren. "And what is your idea on the subject, Mrs. MacLaren?" asked the minister.
"Losh," said their hostess, suddenly: "I'm thinkin' that if you and the elder had bin in the congregation there wadna bin twelve baskets of fragments for the disciples to gather up!"

MOST WONDERFUL OF ALL

(Punch.)

WHEN HE SAT DOWN.

(Youth's Companion.)
"How was your speech received at the club?" asked one of Chumley's friends.
"Why, they congratulated me very heartily. In fact, one of the members came to me and told me that when I sat down he had said to himself it was the best thing I had ever done."

ADVICE FOR THE EARL.

(Tit-Bits.)
The Earl of Aberdeen is one of the kindest-hearted of men, with a great sense of his responsibility as a landlord. He makes a point of knowing, as far as possible, what is taking place on his estate. As he owns some 58,000 acres, this is no light task. On one occasion some years since he was walking in a remote country district, and stopped at a cottage garden to watch an old man digging. "Is this good soil?" asked the peasant. "Aye," responded the peasant. "What is your next crop to be?" The old man leaned on his spade, looked severely at his questioner, and remarked: "You don't know nothin' about crops. You just hire a nice little bit of ground and try workin' it! You'll have summat better to do than to come worthin' busy folk."

DUNWOODIE—RYAN

Komoka Young Lady Becomes Bride of Gentleman From Clare, Mich.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. Edward Ryan, 134 John street, Sarnia, on Wednesday, Nov. 18, at high noon, when Miss Bessie M. Ryan, of Komoka, and Mr. Lee E. Dunwoodie, of Clare, Mich., were united in marriage by Rev. Dr. Nixon, of Hyde Park.
The bride, who looked charming in a gown of pointed d'espirt, over white tulle, entered the parlor, leaning on the arm of her father, to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Edward Ryan. The bride and groom were unattended.
After the ceremony a choice repast was partaken of. The happy couple left mid showers of rice and good wishes for Toronto, and other eastern points. The bride's travelling suit was of navy blue broadcloth, with hat to match. Owing to the recent death of the bride's brother, only the immediate relatives were present. Mr. and Mrs. Dunwoodie will reside in Clare, Mich.

CAUSES OF RAILWAY WRECKS

Employees Should Rest During Periods of Recreation.

New York, Nov. 19.—At the eighteenth annual meeting of the New York and New England Association of Railway Surgeons, Dr. R. W. Corwin, of Pueblo, Col., told of a young engineer who through jealousy neglected his work, with the result that his train was wrecked. He told of another engineer who while worrying over the fact that the night before he had gambled away his pay check, backed his train into an excursion train.
The speaker denied that railroads overwork their men by deliberate choice, and that it would be decidedly false economy for them to do so.

"Sometimes drink is mistaken for brain fog and overwork," said he. "The public has a right to demand from railway systems that employees be given sufficient rest, but that does not go far enough. The employees should take rest during the time allotted to them. The employee who uses his recreation for gambling, drinking and smoking to excess is no more fit for work than the man who has been on duty eighteen or twenty hours."

Change of the signal systems now in use by railroads was advocated in a paper by Prof. George M. Stratton, of the University of California.

"One hundred persons may be killed in an accident due to color blindness on the part of the engineer," declared the professor, "and it is a time that a change for greater safety be made. The examination of all employees should be mercifully conducted."

The United States navy system of signalling by night lights was urged for adoption by Prof. Stratton.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin."

The Grand will have tomorrow, matinee and night, Downie's mammoth production of the immortal American Drama, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," the most correct and expensive scenic production of the late Harriet Beecher Stowe's everlasting legacy to posterity ever seen in America. No such amount of money as Manager Downie has spent on this play this season has ever before been expended on this neglected and much-abused drama. Children will be admitted to any seat at the matinee for 15 cents.

Cook Stock Company.

The coming of the Carl W. Cook Stock Company for one week's engagement at the Grand, beginning on Monday, promises to be a treat to the patrons of popular-priced attractions. The plays are up-to-date, clean and clear, full of laughs and excitement, and never a dull moment from the rise till the fall of the curtain. The specialties are new and novel, among them the dainty comedienne, Miss Edith La Nora, the "Dresden Doll," the marvelous Vade, whose magic act is without equal, and others, all next week.

Bennett's Big Bill.

Tomorrow's matinee will be the final drawing for the beautiful sheath gown which the Bennett Theatre management are giving away to the woman holding the lucky coupon. The bill this week is very fine and consists of some of the very best known acts in vaudeville. The balance of the bill are making decided hits in this city.

Chauncey Olcott.

It must be a source of great satisfaction to Chauncey Olcott, the Irish singer and actor, who appeared at the Grand last night, to observe the great success of his play, "Ragged Robin," which was written by his wife, Rita Olcott, in collaboration with that now famous writer, Rida Johnson Young.
Truly, the play is a success. It has deviated far from the "Brutal Saxon," had landlaid paths of the usual run-of-the-mill Irish drama, and follows a line at once new and pleasing. It is staged magnificently, is bright with witty dialogue, beautiful in sentiment, and portrayed in a manner which bespeaks are from every angle.

In brief, Ragged Robin is the son of a father who has been married twice. His father's second wife has a son, Martin, who serves as the villain of the play. One day Robin is wrestling with his own brother, and the brother is killed. Martin, to oust Robin from the home and secure his father's property, tells the old gentleman that Robin maliciously killed his brother. Robin is driven from home, Martin, in response, takes his place in the family, and a young lady of the district, Miss Margaret, whose father's estates adjoin those of Martin's stepfather.

Just at this time Robin wanders around, and Margaret falls in love with him. It is the 16th of May, and both seal their fate unknowingly by drinking from the "loaves and fishes." But Margaret's father insists upon her marrying Martin, and she does as he orders. Her heart is broken, and her married life very unhappy. Robin goes away, and is able to clear himself of the charge of killing his brother. He returns to Innishannon, to find that Martin is dead, leaving Margaret free to marry him. He also finds Margaret and her father in dire poverty, owing to the machinations of the late Martin, and Robin is able to rescue both from a life of misery and want.

Mr. Olcott was, as usual, very satisfying in his part. As the suffering Robin, compelled to lead a wanderer's life, he was splendid. His singing once

AN ADDRESS FOR MISS M'NAMARA

Who Recently Resigned From Position of Secretary of P. O. H. Board.

Miss McNamara, who recently resigned the position of secretary of the board of the Protestant Orphans' Home, was presented with an address, a beautiful amethyst and pearl necklace, and a pearl brooch yesterday afternoon by the board in appreciation of her faithful services. The presentation was made on behalf of the ladies by Mr. J. H. Flock at the home of Mrs. G. W. Robinson, Sydenham street. Mr. Flock read the address and made the presentation, and in a brief speech assured Miss McNamara how deeply the board appreciated her services. Miss McNamara replied briefly, thanking the members of the board for their kind remembrance of her.

Good Cough Medicine for Children. The season for coughs and colds is now at hand, and too much care cannot be used to protect the children. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when he has a cold. The quicker you cure his cold the less the risk. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the sole reliance of many mothers, and a few of them who have tried it are willing to use any other. Mrs. F. F. Starcher, of Ripley, W. Va., says: "I have never used anything other than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for my children, and it has always given good satisfaction. This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic, and may be given as confidently to a child as to an adult."

THE AMETHYST CROSS

By Fergus Hume

"Even though she wants him to marry a woman he cares nothing for," "George does care for me," cried Maud, a deep flush overspreading her face, even to the roots of her sandy hair. "I admit that when he was engaged to you he would not look at me. But now that you have thrown him over so cruelly he has turned to me for consolation."

"I don't believe it," said Leslie quickly. "You must, you shall," snapped Miss Ellis very much in earnest. "Look here, this sort of thing won't do."

"What sort of thing?" "This enmity you have towards me. You don't know why you are behaving so exasperatingly."

Miss Ellis put up her lorgnette with an air of triumph. "You have stated the case accurately, save for one remark," she declared. "I can tell you, Walker, and I shall do so unless he marries me. But I did not lure him into a trap. I merely took advantage of circumstances."

"Which you knew existed."

"What do you mean by that?"

"What I say," retorted Leslie, keeping her eyes on Maud's face. "You appointed that place and that hour of meeting in order to implicate George in a robbery which you knew was about to take place."

Miss Ellis sprang to her feet with a white face, and trembling hands. "You go too far," she said, in a quivering voice. "Why should I? What should I?—Oh!" she stamped. "Your remarks are infamous!"

"They are true!" "It's a lie! They are not true! I had no idea that my uncle's strong-room was to be robbed of these jewels on that night and at that hour. If I had known I should have prevented the robbery."

"Mr. Tait would not have thanked you for doing so," replied Leslie meaningly. "Are you mad?" gasped Maud, and her face became a dull brick-red.

"No," answered Leslie dryly. "I am merely well-informed."

"Informed of what?" Miss Ellis moistened her dry lips. "That Mr. Tait wanted money to tide over a financial crisis, and arranged to have the jewels stolen, so that he could sell them secretly."

"It's a lie—a lie!" cried Maud again, and the perspiration broke out on her quivering face. "My uncle is a wealthy man, everyone knows that. If he wanted money he could have sold the jewels openly—they were his own."

"You forget the insurance at Lloyd's."

Maud dropped on to the sofa as though she had been shot. "The insurance?" "Yes, Mr. Tait insured those jewels."

Let urine stand for twenty-four hours and if at the end of that time there are deposits of a brick dust variety, or if the water becomes smoky and cloudy you may be sure the kidneys are deranged.

Another very marked symptom of kidney disease is pain in the small of the back.

The letter quoted below tells how these symptoms were overcome and kidney disease cured by Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Because of their direct and combined action on both liver and bowels these pills cure the most complicated cases.

Capt. W. Smith, a veteran of the Crimean war, living at Bevelstoke, B. C., writes:—"I can testify that for years I was a sufferer from chronic kidney disease, which was the verdict after the doctor examined me and analyzed my urine. As his medicine did me no good I bought a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and was benefited so much that I kept on taking them until I can say that I am perfectly cured, which the doctor certifies."

One pill a dose, 25 cents a box. At all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

WHY AM I ILL?

HOW TO TELL.

Does every cold affect your back, and cause a feeling of chilliness, followed by disturbance of the kidney action.

Does the use of spirits, tea or beer excite the kidneys? Are you easily worried and annoyed over trifles? Are the feet and hands cold? Circulation bad? Do the feet and legs swell? Is there puffiness under the eyes? Do you have rheumatism, poor eyesight, headaches and backaches? Is there gravel or any unnatural action of the kidneys?

If you have any of the above symptoms your kidneys are either weak or diseased, and these symptoms are warnings of more serious troubles to follow; Bright's Disease, Diabetes or Dropsy.

Whatever you do, whatever you think your disease is, look well to your kidneys at the first sign of anything wrong. Give them just the aid they require in Doan's Kidney Pills, the Great Quaker Kidney Medicine, and see how well and fit you feel after even a few doses.

Mrs. O. Warren, Radisson, Sask., writes: "I was troubled with very severe pain in my back for years. I tried everything I could think of but they did me no good. A friend told me about Doan's Kidney Pills and after taking two boxes, I have not been troubled since."

In ordering specify "Doan's."

For something like twenty thousand pounds, and so had them stolen. Certainly he could have sold them openly, as you say, but they would have got only half the money he required."

"Half the money?" Maud gasped again, and suddenly looked double her age.

"Of course, twenty thousand pounds that is. By insuring the jewels and by having them stolen, he will gain twenty thousand independent of the secret sale which he has arranged along with the thieves."

"You dare to—accuse—my—oh," Maud jumped up fiercely and stamped angrily. "It is ridiculous. What proof have you of this ridiculous tale?"

"I have absolute proof," said Leslie, quietly, and rising in her turn. "Mr. Canning, the Shadow, who watched me at my father's request, found out that I was, and if necessary he can prove the truth of what he found out. And he will at my request if you do not promise to leave George alone, and to swear that you will not accuse him of a crime of which—as you knew all the time—he is innocent."

But Maud heard only half of this speech. "Canning, The Shadow?" she muttered. "Do you mean Captain Sargent's valet?"

"Yes, I nursed him through an illness, and he has shown his gratitude to me by discovering my uncle's plot, and proving your knowledge of it. I can prove what I say with Canning's assistance, and I shall do so, unless you promise to do as I have asked you."

Maud buttoned up her jacket with trembling hands, and moved towards the door hastily. "You are talking rubbish," she muttered in a thick voice. "I refuse to talk of the matter. It is too silly. But," she faced round, "I shall tell my uncle, and he shall have you put in jail."

"I will be in jail himself," retorted Leslie, perfectly calm, "as soon as you leave this house, I shall arrange with Mr. Canning to go to the police and state what he told me."

"You would not dare!" "Yes, I would, unless you swear not to accuse George and promise to leave him to me. I said that before. I say so again, and for the last time."

"It's a—Maud was about to say that it was a lie for the third time, but the word died away on her lips. Whether she was cognizant of the plot to steal the jewels, Leslie could not say, as she made no remark on this point; but her very silence showed that she was in the business. Leslie's attitude left no alternative, but to make terms, since if she left the house there was danger that her uncle might be arrested. "If I do what you ask, will you hold your tongue?" she demanded faintly.

"Then you admit that what I say is true?" countered Miss Hale. "No," almost shouted Miss Ellis, "I do not. Still, my sticks, however wrongly thrown, and I do not want my uncle to suffer through me. As to Canning, oh, my uncle will deal with him, I promise you. Not a word. I agree to all you ask. I must, I shall not accuse George. I shall leave him to you and"—she leaned forward with a snarl, "I shall bring misery on you at the eleventh hour."

"I defy you," retorted Leslie, with scorn. "Very good," Maud smiled in an evil way. "You shall see who wins the dangerous game you are playing. I will broke off abruptly and left in haste."

CHAPTER XIII.
Mrs. Walker's Visit.

The meeting of the two girls who loved George seemed destined to end abruptly. On the first occasion Leslie had broken short the interview at Henry, and on the second Maud had hastened away from Rose Cottage. Leslie wondered that she had not remained to talk further, and was rather anxious when she remembered that Maud had left with a threat on her lips. Miss Ellis was clever and cunning and reckless, and one way or another might do much harm. Not that Leslie saw any chance of her doing any since she knew too much for Leslie's peace of mind. Without doubt what Canning had discovered was true, else Maud would not have surrendered so easily. Leslie thought until she grew weary about the matter, and especially how Canning could have discovered the truth so speedily. She would have asked him point-blank in spite of his prohibition, but that he was in London. And as yet he had not written to tell where he was hiding.

However, as things stood, there was no doubt that Maud would keep her promise, and that George was safe. On the day after the stockbroker's niece had paid her visit, Leslie wrote a long letter to Walker, and detailed all that Canning had discovered, and also narrated its effect on Maud Ellis. Further, she gave George to understand how she had been compelled to write the letter of dismissal, and ended up with a fond wish that her lover should

It was formerly customary for the habitual drinker to take the pledge regularly, sometimes once a year, and sometimes in every fit of remorse that followed his debauches, and then break it. But now it is gradually dawning on the world that pledges do not stop drunkenness. When a man takes a pledge voluntarily, he expects to keep it. Every man who expects to keep his word, and every broken pledge costs the drunkard many a heartache. But he cannot help it. He fights as long as he can, then succumbs to the craving. The nervous system of the habitual drinker is diseased and he must have treatment that will cure this condition.
Orrine is sold under a positive guarantee to cure the drink habit, or the money will be refunded. No other treatment for the liquor habit is sold under such a liberal guarantee.
Orrine is prepared in two forms: No. 1, a powder, perfectly tasteless and colorless, which can be given secretly in any food or drink. Orrine No. 2 is in pill form, for those who wish to be cured of the habit, and it should be taken by everyone who swears off.
No matter which form of Orrine is used the guarantee is the same. The price of Orrine is $1 per box, mailed in plain sealed wrapper upon receipt of price. Write for free booklet "How to Cure Drunkenness" (mailed in plain sealed envelope), by "The Orrine Company" Washington, D. C. Orrine is sold by C. PROF. BARNES' CLOSING LECTURE

A Brilliant Address on Subject of Individualism and Collectivism.

Under the caption, "Individualism and Collectivism," the final lecture of a series on world civilization was delivered by Prof. Earl Barnes under the auspices of the London Froebel Society, in St. Andrew's Hall, last night, before a large audience.

A Wonderful Period.
Going back to the previous lectures, the speaker showed how the date, 1870, had been the threshold of a new era—the industrial regime. The United States were free, but were faced by the conception of individualism of state right, and it took the civil war, with its seal of a million lives, to point the folly of this standpoint, and bring in the era of federalism, the subordination of the individual good, to the good of the nation at large.

France, deluged with blood in revolution after revolution, is brought face to face with realities, and out of the darkness and desolation of the Franco-Prussian war awoke to a new life. Italy, after years of internecine warfare and petty rivalry, becomes a great nation. Prussia, a mass of petty principalities, united by a common danger, finds strength in unity and became a mighty empire. A united Germany, a united France, forced a crisis in England. The hand was writing on the wall. Germany was becoming a great world power, and gradually centralizing the world's industries.

Germany and England.
The political issues fall into the background, and industrial issues come to the fore. England is highly centralized and marked by a paucity of industrial resources. What is the remedy? An educated proletariat, and so the Forester bill is passed in 1870, providing for the education of the masses, because it is seen that England's destiny is bound up with industrial advancement, with education the means to the end. No one wanted state education; it was forced upon all by the signs of the times.

In the United States.
In the United States the labor groups are inaugurated. Socialism takes new life as a doctrine of humanity, as a hope of life. Consolidated industries arise, great personalities are incidental, political issues are relegated to the background.

We are facing in the industrial world the same crisis that the political world was facing in 1648. Shall the individual be subordinated to the interests of the group, or shall the individual be supreme—the question of individualism vs. collectivism?

Collectivism.
What are the forces tending toward collectivism? A deep-seated feeling of helplessness in the hearts of men, a face of the enormous problems confronting them. A feeling that tends towards an almost fatalistic belief in a national destiny. Federalistic government, immigration, protection—are they a good thing? The people do not know, but one thing is inevitable. It is the feeling of uncertainty, and an unthinking belief in some unknown yet manifest destiny that makes it futile to strive against the trend of life. All this malis towards collectivism. Still more strongly does the nature of industry itself. The growth of the factory, unknown a hundred years ago, springs into life with the invention of the spinning jenny and stationary engine. They transform the industrial situation; it becomes highly centralized. The individual workman, as drawn in, becomes a specialist, even having a definite post in a great series of operation that goes to make the finished product. He is no more a complete producer. Great buildings, surrounded by cottages, reside in the town where the people become more and more a part of a great industrial machine. High specialization causes atrophy; a man only uses part of himself, and the remainder dies. Individualism is depreciated.

A Great Centre.
The great aggregation necessary to propagate a great industry, necessitates a great centralized distributing centre, and the great city arises. The individual becomes a part of a great organism. His surroundings are necessary to his existence. Each man is following intellectually and spiritually in the footsteps of his predecessor. He becomes an important factor in a communistic group.

Philosophy of Life.
Still farther is the collective principle engendered by our philosophy of life. Under whatever name we choose to call it, evolution is the dominant note. The process of growth dominates the world. We are a link in a great chain, the creation of all that lies behind. Nothing could be more paralyzing than this belief that we are knit into the warp and woof of the past, were important pieces in some great game. This is the subordination of the individual which gives rise to trusts and all the consolidated industries that are beating out the initiative impulse in mankind.

Individualism.
Opposed to the vitating influences of collectivism stands individualism, and the first great force in its favor is the rise of colonial power. On the frontiers of life issues are direct. A man is a man, or nothing. A man's wife is a help or a hindrance, one or the other. It is only under collectivism that she may become merely an ornament.

A man must supply his own needs, must depend on himself. The best men turn to the frontiers, and these returning leave the whole. The man of action, the man equal to any emergency, is the force in which the vitality and hope of the old world must depend.

Growth of Cities.
The growth of the cities, too, while tending in many ways to collectivism, may also tend in the other direction. The English peasant shows subservience to the masters of the soil—they were his masters. But he drifts to the city. He gains his freedom. He has no master but himself. He must make his own life, win or lose on the basis of his own ability, and so the call of the city is a call of freedom, of individualism.

Fluctuation of Population.
The fluctuation of population, too, tends to make man count as an individual, rather than the unit of a mass, because of this same spirit of freedom. Education has taught man to think for himself and believe in his own opinion, and so counteract the centralizing influences. The independent selfhood, which has been developed and fostered by the state schools, is the hope of the future.

A New Epoch.
We are in the first period of a great new epoch. We are too near the canvas to get a true perspective. What is the bearing of history upon the question? Each great epoch has been dominated by some fundamental impression and influence, but its lessons are in a great defile, powerless to aid in the face of the fact that for the first time in the world's history all the people have a voice. This is a factor whose ultimate influence we are unable to estimate.

Purpose of Life.
With the dawning consciousness of the power and purpose of life itself we may be able to break up the dominating principle of industrialism which we have so over-developed and over-accentuated in the past. A man is mightier than the thing he makes. They must serve his need, and when they cease to do that they cease to be a factor in his life. We must hold our own in the industrial world is the cry. But why? We must keep up the industrial output. But again, why? Man's work is only significant as it affects himself, and we are tending to think it significant in itself. Might we not shift the focus, bring in every great ideal of the past, and instead of pointing to our great factories that are over-producing—give all the people an appreciation of the good and the beautiful, by bringing in all the splendid art and spiritual uplift of the middle ages; all the ideals and dreams of the renaissance, and all the grand thoughts of Luther and Calvin and Zwengli.

Make the Time.
"But we haven't time," we say, and we never will have time till we have the idea, and to engender that idea has been the purpose of these lectures. When we have learned to judge correctly these man-made organizations, we will learn to see that there must be a goal beyond to make the struggle worth the while, and it is this something more than makes the growth of humanity significant, that makes the history of the world a living actuality.

Vote of Thanks.
At the close of the lecture a very hearty vote of thanks was moved by Mr. Radcliffe, and seconded by Rev. Mr. Inkster, and amid a great deal of enthusiasm the vote was finally presented to Prof. Barnes by the chairman, Rev. Dr. Ross.

In replying Professor Barnes spoke very highly of the work of the Froebel Society of this city, under whose auspices these lectures were held, and of the generosity of the trustees of St. Andrew's Church in granting the use of their beautiful hall.

CHRIST ERECTED A MONUMENT
To Mary—Sermon by Mr. C. Jeff McCombe.

Toronto University having been closed, owing to the death of Prof. Bain, the registrar, Mr. C. Jeff McCombe, who is a student there, returned to this city last evening, and preached at the revival services being held at the Colborne Street Methodist Church.

"She hath done what she could," was his text, taken from Mark, xiv., 3. He said that although he had travelled through England, Ireland, the United States and Canada during the past year, he had never seen a monument erected to a woman. Women have solved church and state matters, and have followed soldiers into battle, and when the general returned home first-class, they went third-class, and were met probably by a few relatives at the station.

Christ has, however, erected a great monument to the memory of Mary, which will stand for all time. "She hath done what she could," Mary's impassioned love led her to pour the precious ointment on the head of Christ.

"This old world is dying for love," he said, "God is love, and I come nearer to him in proportion as I love my fellow-man. God is the source of love and there is no love apart from him. If men and women would open the sluice-gates and allow Christ's love and power and wisdom to fill their beings, then they would be perfect. Obey the promptings of your own heart, for although intellect is good, your heart's promptings are better."

"The greatest scientists of all times are those who had cold intellects, but who possessed big hearts, and behind Christianity is the big heart of Christ. The names of many great men have appeared in the death columns, but that is the farthest they ever got in this world. Christ raises them up as he did when he said of Mary, 'She hath done what she could.'"

"Obey the promptings of your own heart, and work that you may say with Nelson, 'Thank God, I have done my duty.'"

Boxing, Hockey,

BY FEDERATIONSome Rot Handed New Yorkers
By a Misguided Correspondent.

New York, Nov. 19.—According to advice received in athletic circles here the Canadian A. A. U. is on its last legs, and probabilities are that before many more months the Federation, which is allied with the American A. U. and antagonistic to the C. A. A. U., will be the ruling body in the Dominion, in fact as well as in name.

Longboat's Defection.

According to the story told here Longboat's expressed determination to openly become a professional has taken all the wind out of the Canadian A. A. U.'s sails. His disbarment from competition in amateur athletics by the American organization was one of the principal causes of the break between the two national bodies and the subsequent organization of the Federation and its alliance with the A. A. U. of the United States.

Sick of Bargain.

Most of the athletes who cast their lot with the C. A. A. U. are sick of their bargain, so it is said, and want to get back into the fold. This, at any rate, is the view taken by a delegate from the Federation who attended the annual meeting of the union here recently. The Federation is rapidly absorbing all the really high class track and field men across the border, while the C. A. A. U. is losing its members.

Indoor Meet.

This makes it certain that Canada will be strongly represented at the indoor championship meeting of the A. A. U. at Madison Square Garden one week from next Monday and Tuesday. There are any number of good men across the border, and it is certain that they will make their presence felt. Bobby Kerr is shifty enough to make any of the good ones hustle. If he is at his best, and it is said he is going as well now as he ever did, he will surely be in the first flight at the final.

All Clap-Trap.

It was only today that President Merrick, discussing the Federation, remarked that there wasn't any such body. With the rugby and the new hockey league out of reach of the Federation as this fall's work, with 600 clubs and more affiliated with the C. A. A. U., as against lacrosse and pro. hockey only for the Federation, the ghost story retailed above does not seem to have any foundation except in the brain of the misguided youth.

CLEAN HOCKEY AMATEURS

Eastern Branch of C. A. A. U. Will Give New League Coat of White-wash.

Toronto, Nov. 19.—President J. G. Merrick, of the C. A. A. U., today said that the new amateur hockey league embracing Montreal, Victoria, Ottawa, Cliffside and Toronto A. A. C. would go through the same process that the Big Four Rugby Union did a year ago. Men who have ever received any money for sport of any kind will, of course, be barred, but those whose offense has been playing with and against professionals will be pardoned this once and for all on condition that they will not transgress again.

A query from Ottawa asks whether men who have played with and against pros, in teams for a prize are pros. It is the old Federation matter again, and the reply will be easy.

O. H. A. Executive.

The O. H. A. executive will hold its last meeting for the year in the Telegram Building tomorrow afternoon.

All the old business will be cleared up and the new executive given a clean slate.

The Victoria put in their application to play senior O. H. A. with Secretary Hewitt this morning.

The T. A. A. C. will be represented in the O. H. A. and in the Interprovincial, notwithstanding the rumor from Montreal that they were a doubtful quantity for the latter body.

LONGBOAT WILL BE A BUSY MAN

Toronto, Nov. 19.—Tom Flanagan has seven races on tap for Tom Longboat, but none of them are against men of particular calibre. Most of them are relay affairs. The itinerary:

Nov. 23.—Niagara Falls, 5-mile, against a relay.

Nov. 26.—Fall River, Mass., 10 miles, 3-man relay.

Nov. 26.—Taunton, Mass., 10 miles, relay, against three men.

Dec. 4.—Philadelphia, distance, unsettled.

Dec. 5.—Princeton, distance, unsettled.

Dec. 5.—Collingwood.

His latest challengers are Frank Killaly, of Boston, who was beaten here by Alf. Shrubbs, and Black Hawk, the Indian from Carlisle School.

Negotiations for a race at Winnipeg with John D. Marsh are already under way.

FOUR HOCKEY TEAMS
IN EAST END LEAGUE

A meeting of the East End Amateur Hockey League was held Wednesday night in the Jubilee Rink. There are now four teams in the league, and there was a question of admitting another team, but no decision was reached on this point.

MURPHY LOSES
TO M'FARLANDPackey Has Edge in Tame Six-
Round Bout in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Nov. 19.—Packey McFarland, lightweight champion aspirant, outboxed Tommy Murphy, of New York, in a six-round bout before the National A. C., last night, but that was about all. The requirements of the law prevented Referee McGuigan announcing a decision, but the Chicago man was entitled to the verdict, although his margin of superiority was none too large.

Murphy took the rough spots calmly, drove home wicked lefts and rights to the body, and was as strong as McFarland at the close. In the fourth he fought McFarland to a standstill and in the fifth mixed up so vigorously with Packey that the latter had to hold. The sixth was another savage round, with the honors even. Packey tried to gain a decisive victory, but Tommy always came back strong.

Packey Is Fast.

McFarland showed he was a cool, fast boxer who keeps his opponent on the jump at all times. He also has an excellent defence and has a balanced head to meet emergencies. When he saw his punches were not wearing Murphy he shifted to scientific tactics, and his quick-wittedness gave him the upper hand.

The New Yorker received the worst punishment in the third. Packey smothered him with lefts and a varied attack of stiff right uppercuts. A right swing to the jaw staggered Murphy, and it looked like the finish soon. Murphy clinched and rasped Packey's stomach and kidneys at close quarters. In a rally he slipped a right and left to the jaw which made the Chicagoan cover up. Pot Kennedy shouted to Packey to end the bout. Rushing demoniacally, he clipped Murphy's jaw with solid rights and lefts. Murphy reeled about the ring, then steadied and drove rights and lefts to the body. He tried for the jaw, but was wild, and the round ended in McFarland's favor.

Fierce Exchanges.

In the fifth he led lefts, but Packey was soon on top with jabs. Shifting a right to the jaw the Chicago boy again shook up Murphy. Tommy came back strong and landed two rights and lefts to McFarland's head. While clinched he pounded Packey's kidneys.

A fierce exchange started the sixth. Packey worked Murphy to a corner and used both hands with effect, but Tommy responded and continued to play for the body, which he hammered with both hands when Packey came close. Sticking out a left Packey danced around Tommy and started the New Yorker's nose bleeding. Both were tired and the swapping of punches lessened. Packey continued to poke a left and Murphy got in a right to the jaw.

The bout ended with Murphy landing a right and left to Packey's head. Both were in good shape at the close. Murphy's nose was bruised, but McFarland was unscathed.

SWEET MARIE FIRST IN FIELD TRIAL DERBY

Ruthven, Nov. 19.—The great event of the international field trials was the running of the Derby, which was finished today noon with the following results: Charles Sheldon's Sweet Marie first; Charles Sheldon's Spot second; John Carr's Dora Boy third. The first two are setters, and the third pointer. A large number of lovers of the sport from both sides of the border followed the contest with intense interest, and a good quantity of birds were found. The running of the all-age stake starts this afternoon to be continued all day tomorrow.

ST. THOMAS KICKERS WOULD ENTER ASSN.

St. Thomas, Nov. 19.—A large number of football enthusiasts met at the Columbia parlors here to consider the football situation. It was decided to apply for admission into the Western Football Association. It was also decided to try to get some games with any London team to be played in either city. The following officers were elected: President, Capt. Dowler; vice-president, J. D. Lamont; secretary, A. Secar; treasurer, R. Goody; captain, C. Lendie; executive committee, W. Japp, D. Wheeler and E. Farman.

INTER-CITY BOWLING
AT NATIONAL TONIGHT

The return match between West and Bell, of this city, and Capps and Sutherland, of Toronto, will be played at the National alleys tonight. William Bell, who has been sick ever since the match in Toronto, will not be able to play, and William Karrys will take his place. The London boys are down 239 pins, but despite that, feel sure of winning tonight's best bowling match ever seen in Canada. Karrys is a new man at the game, but he is a good one, and will undoubtedly hold his end up.

The Toronto team is running a special train, which will arrive about 8 o'clock. With it is expected about 200 spectators. Manager Foley has added upwards of 500 seats to the alley, from all of which the game can be easily seen, and it is hoped that every one of them will be filled. It will be a game worth watching.

The average number of horses killed in Spanish bullfights every year exceeds 5,000, while from 1,000 to 1,200 bulls are sacrificed.

LONGBOAT AND DORANDO.

Toronto, Nov. 19.—Tom Longboat will go to Madison Square Garden, New York, on Nov. 25, the night Dorando Pietro, the Italian who won and lost the Olympic Marathon, runs J. J. Hayes, the American who lost and won that great event, and will challenge the winner.

If the victor is Dorando, the Italian and the Indian will run in Toronto.

If it is Hayes, the chances are not bright, for Hayes does not like Big Chief's game a little bit.

The chances are, however, that the Italian will be the conqueror, in which case Torontonians will have a chance to see the plucky Italian.

Dorando will be here. Tom Flanagan says, win or lose. He may not run Longboat right off the reel, but may be first pitted against a local runner who has beaten Longboat under ten miles. If he wins this shorter race he will then be given a chance to meet Longboat at any distance. If he loses the race between himself and Longboat will be made the full Olympic distance of 26 miles, 185 yards.

Tom Flanagan is negotiating with Black Hawk, the Carlisle Indian, and Frank Kinnally, the Boston pro., for races with Longboat hammer and mallet.

"How about Fred Meadows?" he was asked.

"I don't think we could afford to let Meadows after Meadows' Quebec stunt," he said. "The public might not like it."

If Dorando and Longboat meet here, it will likely be on Riverdale Rink's banked track, which is the best in the city. The Armories, of course, are not available.

How Coverpoint Sees It

John D. Rockefeller's story of the Standard Oil Company's development reads like a chapter from the life of that great hockey developer, Hon. Cully Robertson, who, with his father, founded and developed and coddled the O. H. A.

Some of the students in the Varsity-Queen's game actually used their heads to good advantage, which, indeed, proves the value of the higher education.

The "higher lifers" are in control of the racing situation in New York, but up to date there has not been a lessening in the number of divorces nor a reducing in the number of daily horrors from that vicinity.

Dave Nicol, the jockey, will spend the winter with his folks in Chicago getting ready for the spring campaign. It is not true that he will take exercises to develop his arms.

Dorando, the Italian runner, has arrived in New York, and through many columns of newspaper stuff has said that if his legs and lungs had held out a little longer there would have been a different tale. T. Longboat says the same.

The Canadian National Breeding Bureau is sending some fine thoroughbred stallions throughout Canada. The latest addition to the breeding ranks is Sea Horse II, an Australian horse of good breeding.

Now that a man has committed suicide with a safety razor, it would be just as well to point out that even the soul kiss has its dangers. Ask Davey Tope, of the Hamilton Tigers.

A number of Canadian curlers will probably go to Scotland this winter to imbibe the aroma of the heather, both varieties, and brush up their accent. It will be a brave night in Edinburgh Town, when they come frae the game wi' sang and lawfear.

The annual yachting worry is with us, and the Toronto sailors are giving themselves and their friends several different brands of chills and fever. They do not seem to know what they want nor why they want it, and may withdraw from the annual races.

SOME VIEWS OF MANY SPORTS

One sometimes sees streaks of the dog in the manager's spirit in American sport. Dorando, the Italian runner, has been excluded from the use of the Columbia University gymnasium for training purposes. The rule which keeps it for the exclusive use of its own undergraduate body is to be rigidly enforced in this case.

Toronto World: The Eastern League and American Association have been excluded from the domination on one side of the two co-called big leagues and the out-voting on the other hand of their representatives by the owners of two-by-four clubs in the smaller leagues.

President Slee, of the Ontario Rugby Football Union, admits that it was not necessary to protest McCrimmon of the T. A. A. C., who was expected to play on Saturday against the Hamilton Tigers. Section 7 of the regulations reads: "No player shall be eligible to play for a club competing for a final championship game who has not taken part in at least one championship game with the club in the union of which his team is a representative."

The Ottawa hockey club has decided to invite the Toronto professional hockey club to apply for entry to the Eastern Canadian Hockey League, and will support their application.

Dorando seems to be that unusual thing, a good loser. "Hayes beat me fairly and squarely," he said. "I don't feel as if I had been the victim of a wrong decision. It wasn't the first time that I have lost a race, and although my heart was set on returning to my home in Capri the Marathon champion, I want to say that the best man won."

Neither Hayes nor Dorando are big men—both would find it difficult to tip the scales at 125 pounds; but both are in fine trim, and it ought to be a grand race. The Italian realizes the mistakes that cost him the Marathon, and is not going to be caught napping again. It is an even chance which will win.

All interests seem to be centering in the Tiger-T. A. A. C. game on Saturday. If Leo McCrimmon is permitted to play, and the Tigers say they will raise no objection, the game ought to be more or

When sailing time comes, however, there may be a different tale.

It is reported that the anti-racing people of Toronto will bring Governor Hughes, of New York, to Massey Hall to lecture. Well, if the governor will only pull the American gangs of race-track followers back across the line the rest of us can worry along with our racing all right. It is the bunches of Yankee sports that collect at Fort Erie and Windsor that are causing all the trouble. They put the sport of kings on the eternal scout in the United States, and it looks as if they will kill it here if care is not exercised.

It is probably not true that the Toronto Telegram and the Orange Sentinel will ask that "green" Tuesday be cut out of the programme at the Woodbine next spring.

They had races in Dufferin avenue yesterday with oats as the prizes. The horses are, therefore, supposed to be amateurs, and in proof of it one might say that the performances were beastly amateurish.

Bill Karrys and Bill West will take on Capps and Sutherland at the National Alleys this evening. This should be some game, as the local trundlers can roll a few. The Toronto contingent will come down on a special train.

Merkle, whose celebrated play made the Chicago Cubs winners of the National League race, will become a lawyer. It looks as if brains do not count for much. Wait!

The Eastern League and Western Association will probably come back with the other major league clubs just as soon as the time for drawing a schedule approaches.

The Hamilton Tigers are $2,000 behind on the season it is reported. No diamond ear-rings and things for the boys this year, and consequently there will not be a stain on the reputation as amateurs.

The Hamilton sporting editors are beginning to apologize, and all is peaceful along the Gore.

COVERPOINT.

less even. McCrimmon, while he cannot knock Simpson, is yet a very fine punt, and will make himself felt.

Despite the best efforts of the club, it seems unlikely that the T. A. A. C. will be a serious factor in the Canadian Rugby championship. The real struggle will be when the Yellow and Black run up against the Inter-Collegiate.

Roy Brown is booked to manage the Brampton team; also it is announced that he has signed to play defense with Edmonton. Roy is going to have a busy season.

Harry Smith has the doubtful honor of being ruled out four times in the evening's game at Pittsburgh. That is the sort of game that is making Pittsburgh famous—or infamous.

THE BUGLERS WIN
FROM THE MEDICALS

One of the best games ever witnessed in the Armories was played last night, when the Army Medicals met the Buglers. The game was very close and interesting throughout, though the Buglers had always a shade the advantage. Orr, who officiated in the kind words for the general captain. Cheers for the Buglers and the King brought a pleasant evening to an enthusiastic close.

The final score was: Buglers 6, A. M. C. 4. Both sides were supported by crowds of rooters, who used their lungs without reserve in cheering their own particular heroes. The teams:

Young Folks Give Entertainment in Ingersoll—Women's Institute.

Thamesford, Nov. 19.—Mr. Thos. Hogg, who has lately returned from a trip to Galashiels, Scotland, was taken very ill on Thursday and the doctors pronounced his ailment to be pneumonia. Hogg is now entertained of his recovery.

The young people of St. Andrew's Church drove to Ingersoll on Monday evening and gave an hour's entertainment in St. Paul's Church. After the programme they were entertained by the Ingersoll young people and came home well satisfied that an exchange of talent was beneficial.

TAFT AND THE TARIFF

President-Elect Intimates That the Revision Will Be Thorough.

Hot Springs, Va., Nov. 19.—That President-Elect Wm. H. Taft entertains a vigorous determination that the forthcoming revision of the tariff shall be thorough, made in good faith and in accordance with the pledge of the party, is daily evidenced in the earnestness with which Judge Taft talks of this subject with his political callers. It would be incorrect to say that Judge Taft has decided upon any course in connection with the organization of the next House of Representatives. Neither has he yet decided that any action on his part is necessary.

The importance of the whole matter is that he is giving the subject serious consideration, the determination of which might lead him either to immediate aggressive constructive action or bring to him assurances that the natural order of events regarding the House organization will include a harmonious working agreement between the White House and Capitol.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS. TORONTO. Toronto, Nov. 19.—As already intimated in previous reports, receipts have mounted up for this week to record heights. For two days the market has been over 200 cars or over, and these following unusually heavy receipts in the earlier part of the week. The result has been to overtake the market with a lot of poor stuff which is weak and prices of from 20c to 30c, except for choice butcher cattle, which are still scarce.

The total run for two days, yesterday and today, was 135 cars, with 2,500 head of cattle, 3,800 sheep, 1,300 hogs and 120 calves.

Popular Clerk of the Crown Honored by St. George's Society.

At a well-attended meeting of St. George's Society, held in the rooms in the Albion Block last night, Mr. E. Weld was presented with a past president's jewel in recognition of his services for the society.

The presentation was made by President Joseph Sanders, who also made a short speech, in which he complimented Mr. Weld on the work he has done. Mr. Weld made a suitable reply. Some discussion took place in regard to relieving the poor among the English people who have been coming to London. The general opinion was that there is not any more needy cases in the city now than at any time previous, and it was decided to make the customary grant of $100 for Christmas cheer. A committee was appointed to make the distribution.

In an address yesterday afternoon to the students of the Normal School on "Teachers and Teaching," Professor Earl Barnes advocated his hearers to follow these four general rules: To obtain a thorough knowledge of psychology, a thorough knowledge of children, and as much general knowledge as possible to have a definite aim in view always, and to cultivate the power to form public opinion. These four rules, he said, were invaluable to any teacher.

A Splendid Concert.

The Auditorium was well filled last evening, when the concert which the mothers' committee gave to enable the boys to furnish the boys' room, was given, and proved to be one of the most enjoyable musical affairs of the season. Death of Angus Murray.

Angus Murray, one of the old settlers of Dunwich, passed peacefully away on Wednesday at his home near Cowal, having reached the age of 91 years. Mr. Murray, who was born in Scotland, came here nearly 60 years ago, settling in Dunwich. For many years he followed sailing on the great lakes, and in spite of his age, he was vigorous until his fatal illness, taking more than passing interest in current events. He was a life-long Liberal in politics, and a member of Chalmers Church.

Besides his aged wife, he is survived by two sons and four daughters. Arch, on the homestead; Hugh, in the west; Mrs. D. McPhedran, Mrs. J. P. McMillan, and Mrs. Duncan Urquhart, Dunwich, and Mrs. Leverington, West Lorne. The funeral was held to the Murray cemetery, Ekfrid, and was largely attended. The services were conducted by Rev. D. McKay, the bearers being Wm. Carroll, Alex. McLachlan, John McNabb, D. C. Campbell, John Fletcher and D. A. McNabb.

CANADIAN CLUB FINANCES RIGHT

New Members Are Coming In and the Treasury Is Filling Up Now.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Canadian Club held yesterday afternoon, the finances of the club were reported to be in splendid condition.

Mr. Jared Vining, chairman of the membership committee, reported that 200 members at $2 each had been obtained, and also ten life memberships at $20 each. This places the club in a position to do excellent work during the season.

Mr. F. W. C. McCutcheon, chairman of the literary committee, reported that arrangements were being made for the annual banquet of the club to be held in February. A number of very prominent speakers are being communicated with, and acceptances are expected daily.

Mr. Thomas Augustus Daly, of Philadelphia, the well-known poet and writer, will address the club on Dec. 4. Other speakers will address the club from time to time, although no definite dates have been set.

Mr. Frank Lawson, president of the club, occupied the chair and there was a good attendance of the members of the club executive.

NO EFFECT HERE.

Toronto, Nov. 20.—Toronto cattle-dealers say the tie-up in New York State will have little or no effect on the Canadian trade. "There are fewer cattle shipped from here to Buffalo now than ever before," said Mr. J. B. Hay, the Grand Trunk shipping agent. "Only a carload or two every week goes through to Buffalo, and they are principally canners." Three carloads of cattle from Paisley, Ont., were returned to the Union stock yards this morning. They had been intended to go through Buffalo but were turned back at the border line.

Bishop Williams will hold confirmation in the St. John's English Church, Alvinston, for a class of five boys on Sunday next.
