TO ONTARIO PEOPLE.

REQUESTS MADE IN WILL OF A BROOKLYN BROKER.

Residents of Coldwater, Streetsville and Peterboro' Among the Beneficiaries—Terms of the Will.

New York, Aug. 6.—There was filed for probate in Brooklyn the will and codicil of James McCormick, the well-known stock broker, who died on July 30. His estate is very large, but its exact value is unknown. The will is dated April 22, 1899, and its execution was witnessed by Cornelius Doremus, Theron L. Carman, Mr. McCormick's lawyer, and Elizabeth Lefevre. The codicil was executed on July 26, 1902, and was witnessed by Charles O'Sullivan, Ernest C. Bergen and Mr. Carman. The executors and trustees are Henry B. Whippley of Brooklyn and Ralph Dunn of Manhattan. Mr. McCormick's personal friend and his chief legatee, Mr. Dunn was not related to the dead broker. Mr. McCormick owned a large farm known as Clyfields, near Coldwater, Ontario, Canada. He leaves lot 18 and one-half of lot 19, of this farm, in trust for the benefit of his cousin, Charles Drew, now 20 years old, who lives in the Northwest Territories. The young man may occupy the land, or receive the income until he attains the age of 30 years. If he is then unmarried he is to receive it absolutely. If he is married he is to have a life estate, with remainder to his children. The testator leaves one-half of lot 19 and the whole of lot 20, of the farm to his cousin, William Noble Rutledge Ryan, son of Noble Ryan of Coldwater, subject to the payment of $1,000 within four years to the beneficiary's sister, Katie Ryan, and $500 each, within two years to Nellie Rutledge of Streetsville and Nellie Harlow Brown of Peterboro', Ont. The farming implements, animals, etc., are to be divided equally between Charles Drew and W. N. Ryan. The testator also makes these bequests:—Dr. Harry Rutledge, Streetsville, Ont., $1,000; Florence Ryde, Petrolia, Ont., $1,000; a diamond ring, single stone, to William N. Ryan; an English watch, gold chain and a sapphire and two diamond rings to Ralph Dunn.

FIREMEN'S CONVENTION.

Business Disposed of—All Ready for To-day's Contests.

Trenton, Aug. 5.—The second day's proceedings of the fifty-eighth annual convention of the Provincial Firemen's Association concluded at a quarter to eleven o'clock. The Mayor and the Aldermen of Port Huron were not the auspices of the association. This morning the visiting firemen accepted the invitation of Mr. R. Weddell, General Manager of Gilmour & Company, Limited, to inspect the extensive works of the company here, and were much pleased with all they saw. The finances of Trenton's first fire chief. The session held in the Town Hall this afternoon was an important one, much as the place of the next annual convention was selected and the officers of the association for the ensuing year were elected. Niagara Falls and Milton were both anxious to secure the next convention, but the vote was taken and it was decided in favor of the latter place. The election of officers resulted in the re-election of those who have filled the respective offices during the past year by acclamation, and with enthusiasm, the result being as follows:—President, C. W. Smith, Trenton; Vice-Presidents, J. A. Vanderveer, Niagara Falls, and S. Moffatt, Merritt; Secretary, W. Armstrong, Milton; Treasurer, Wm. Miller, Smith's Falls.

The report of the special committee appointed to strike the standing committees was adopted. Reports from the Committee on Topics, the Secretary, the Treasurer and the Auditing Committee were also received and adopted. The convention, which was held in a hall in Trenton, was a very successful one, and was much enjoyed by all who attended. Several amendments to the constitution were discussed, and a couple of changes made. The special committee appointed to report on the President's address recommended its adoption, and a hearty vote of thanks was also carried expressive of the association's appreciation of the hospitality shown the delegates. The reply to it in fitting terms by Councillor O'Rourke and Chief Smith.

This evening the delegates enjoyed a sail on the Bay of Quinte to Twelve O'clock Point, the steamer Varuna, orchestra, several fire companies arrived this evening, and more are expected at midnight.

The Trenton Board of Education held a special meeting to-night and appointed A. R. Girard, B.A., a graduate of McMaster University, Toronto, third assistant on the teaching staff of the Trenton High School.

STORMED THE COURT.

Pierce Riot at L'Orion, France—Troops Charged the Crowds.

Paris, Aug. 5.—A despatch to The Petit Journal from L'Orion, Province of Morbihan, says that yesterday afternoon a striker implicated in Sunday's riot at Hennebont was tried and sentenced to a term of two months' imprisonment. A crowd gathered outside, protesting loudly. The attitude of the mob became so hostile towards the gendarmes that the latter sought refuge in the court. The mob stormed the Court House, and broke many windows. Subsequently a number of strikers stormed the building, and owing to the fact that the maritime prefect was absent the troops that were asked for failed to arrive. The judges were compelled to remain in court. Finally the horse artillery arrived, and after charging the mob several times succeeded in releasing both judges and gendarmes.

CITIZENS OF PORT HURON

VISIT THE MAPLE CITY

Annual Excursion of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association—Mayor's Address of Welcome—The Day's Doings.

The Port Huron excursion, which has been the talk of the city for the past few days, arrived in the city this morning about half-past ten o'clock. Unfortunately the excursion was not as huge a success as was expected, either by the citizens of Chatham or the Port Huron managers of the excursion. Both are very much disappointed. There were, however, four other excursions out of Port Huron to-day, one to Detroit, and others to Tashmoo Park, Sing Island, where yacht races are being held and another to Smith's Creek. Considering these excursions, the crowd which came to Chatham is a good one and the visitors may be assured that the citizens of Chatham will look after their amusement as well as if a larger number had come.

The first train came in about nine o'clock. This was the Pierce regular. The members of the city council and the reception committee were at the station to welcome the guests. There were not many from Port Huron on this train, but the Lorraine Band came in from Port Lambton, where they are summering. This band is composed of a clever lot of musicians and they are to-day the guests of Mr. Whitebread. They were accompanied by their wives and families. They paraded down King street, and later on went to Tecumseh Park.

Shortly after this the local excursionist band arrived at the station and played a number of selections to relieve the monotonous wait for the train. Both bands were applauded by the crowd which had gathered to welcome the visitors to the Maple City.

The second train with the excursionists—about 500 in number—on board, arrived about a quarter to eleven o'clock. The Mayor and the Aldermen of Port Huron were not the auspices of the association. This morning the visiting firemen accepted the invitation of Mr. R. Weddell, General Manager of Gilmour & Company, Limited, to inspect the extensive works of the company here, and were much pleased with all they saw. The finances of Trenton's first fire chief.

WILL MEET THE NEW ROAD.

TEMISKAMING RAILWAY TO JOIN GRAND TRUNK.

Government Will Have Surveys Made at Once—Juncture Will be Affected Above New Liskeard.

Toronto, Aug. 6.—The Ontario Government has determined that as soon as the rails of the proposed Grand Trunk Pacific Railway cross Ontario, the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway shall be ready to connect with the new transcontinental road, and to do business for this Province. With this object in view the route from New Liskeard northerly will be at once surveyed, and the location of the road decided upon. Immediately the point at which the Grand Trunk Pacific will cross this proposed northern extension is decided upon, the Temiskaming & Northern will be laid to that spot, and a junction made with the transcontinental.

The work on the line from North Bay to New Liskeard has been so rapidly pushed ahead that it will be completed several months before the date fixed by contract expires. This expedition will be to the great benefit of the district. The new transcontinental line will probably run about 70 or 80 miles north of New Liskeard, but whatever the distance may be, the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway will be extended to meet it. It is understood that the recent visits of the Hon. Mr. Latchford, Minister of Public Works, and Mr. A. W. Campbell, his assistant, to this district have been in connection with the extension which, when carried out, will give Ontario almost 1,000 miles of Government constructed and owned railway, connecting with a Dominion constructed and owned railway, running from Moncton to Winnipeg.

SEVEN HUNDRED DROWNED.

Great Loss of Life in Floods at Chefoo, China.

Berlin, Aug. 6.—A despatch received here says 700 persons were drowned in the disastrous floods which occurred at Chefoo, China, July 27. The bridges within the city and many houses, with their occupants, were swept away in the torrent. Two thousand of the inhabitants are left without means of subsistence.

FISH DROWNED HIM.

Sportsman Pulled Overboard by Big Trout.

Rochester, N.Y., Aug. 6.—Lucien P. Wagner, a business man of Penn Yan, was drowned in Keuka Lake yesterday by a monster lake trout. Wagner and Jerome Lee were trouting, the latter rowing, when Wagner hooked the fish. Lee went to his assistance, but before he could seize the line Wagner was dragged head first out of the boat. The line became entangled about Wagner, and although he struggled desperately, he was pulled under the water and did not rise again. Attempts to find the body have failed. Lee says he got a glimpse of the fish as it pulled Wagner from the boat. He describes it as the largest trout he ever saw, and there are many big ones in Keuka Lake.

CITY SECURES

$500 FORFEIT

Forest City Paving Company Unable to Proceed With Their Contract

Work Let to Another Firm and Will be Proceeded With at Once.

City offers expanded last evening to the extent of $500, which is the forfeit put up by the Forest City Paving Co. in case they did not carry out their agreement. The City Council, at a special meeting last evening, decided on such a course through the report brought in by Chairman E. A. Mounter of the Board of Works.

Mayor McKeough opened the meeting by telling the cause of its being called, and asked Ald. Mounter to read his report. Here it is:—

Ald. E. A. Mounter reported as follows for the Board of Works:—Re the contract for asphalt block pavement on King St. and Robinson Ave., the Forest City Paving Co. having peatedly refused to sign a contract or do the pavement work on King St. and Robinson Ave. (for which their tender was accepted by this Council) and E. U. Hole having to-day refused to sign any contract with the city of Chatham unless the Ontario Asphalt Block Co. first sign a contract sent to that Co. by him, but stated that he would sign Chatham contract if the other Co. would sign his, and your committee having received a proposition from C. W. Cadwell, of Windsor, to take the contract and do the work according to plans and specifications for the sum of $257 per yard for the pavement and 49c. per lineal foot for the curb and gutter; we recommend that the $500 deposited with their tender by the Forest City Paving Co. be finally forfeited to reduce the increased cost of said King street and Robinson Ave. pavement, and that the offer of C. W. Cadwell to take the contract at $257 per yard for the pavement and 49c. per foot for the curb and gutter be accepted, and that he be awarded the contract.

E. A. MOUNTER.

Ald. Scullard—Are the specifications just the same to Mr. Cadwell as were in the Forest City contract?

Ald. Mounter—Yes. Mr. Cadwell just takes over the other people's contract with the exception of the price.

Mayor McKeough—The sureties are O. E. Fleming and John Davis, of Windsor.

The report of the Chairman of the Board of Works was adopted unanimously.

Ald. Mounter moved that the Mayor be empowered to sign the contract with Mr. Cadwell on behalf of the city. The motion carried.

Ald. Mounter said that Mr. Cadwell was also willing to take over the contract for Luttrell St., and moved that it be given to him. This motion carried.

The members of the Council present were, Mayor McKeough, and Alds. McCoig, Mounter, Robinson, Piggott, Martin, Marshall and Edmondson.

Ontario Appointments.

The following appointments have been made by the Ontario Government:—Dr. John Hoskin, L.L.D., K. C., as deputy official guardian during the absence or illness of the official guardian, Mr. F. W. Harcourt. Mr. Frederick Bagcker has been appointed fishery overseer for South Bay, South River and Lake Nipissing. D. A. McTavish of Tavistock and Finlay McIntyre, Martintown, Glenagarry, have been appointed issuers of marriage licenses.

S. STEPHENSON - Proprietor.

THE NEW POPE

There will be no end of "copy" made about the new pope within the next few days, points out the Detroit Tribune. The correspondents at Rome will fill the columns of their papers with statements of his policy, and the heavy writers of the European capitals will tell the world the effects that are to be expected from a new attitude of the papacy toward the world. People can rest assured, however, that the papacy will continue to be very much what it was before, and that Pius X. will not greatly differ from Pius IX. and Leo XIII., so far, at least, as his official course is concerned. The choice of the saintly Cardinal Sarto to be Leo's successor is a new evidence that the church, as organized and governed in our day, seeks holiness and piety before all other qualifications in her supreme head. It is interesting, if not significant, that the conclave sought a pope outside the number who dwell constantly in Rome, one who was not connected directly with the official class, a bishop in direct charge of a diocese, who was almost wholly occupied with the care of souls. It is peculiar, too, that the chosen candidate was Patriarch of Venice, a church which long remained in communion with the Greek rite after the latter had broken with Rome, and was one of the last strongholds of the eastern empire in Italy. The difference remains only as a tradition, and is now traced by scholars only in some slight peculiarities of local ritual, all essentials having been long ago fully harmonized, and the Roman authority having been fully established and accepted.

If one may judge by the portraits of Pius X., is another Pope Bella, as the Italians loved to call the handsome Pius IX. His handsome face indicates mental capacity of a high order, compared with great benevolence and benignity. He has spent his life in active administrative and religious work, and has little to do with politics or government. From this it is already assumed that his course as pope will be one of conciliation and peace with Italy, if not of entire reconciliation. It must be remembered, however, that the majority of his advisers will be inclined to go very slowly in making changes, and that he will be apt to yield somewhat to their advice. Departing from the precedent set by Leo XIII., who, when elected, confined himself within the announcement of Pius X.'s election was made openly to the people, as formerly, and his first benediction was given to the crowd with similar publicity. Even this publicity is a concession which may have its significance.

Precisely what occurred in the Conclave which led to this compromise, for such it evidently was, may never be known. The history of those events in the past has rarely been written by those who participated in them, as the cardinals are pledged to secrecy, but it will be fairly assumed that the stronger parties mutually checked one another, and were compelled at last to seek harmony in a choice which had not been anticipated and which excited no strong antagonisms. This solution is as common in conclaves as in our own political conventions, but does not disturb the faith of good Catholics, who hold that it is one of the many ways in which Divine inspiration works upon stubborn human materials. Much will be known as to the future when the new pope makes it known whether he is going to continue immured in the Vatican or to venture forth in the open air of the Eternal City.

CANADA'S REAL RULER.

Toronto Telegram.

And down at Ottawa the open question is whether the seat of government is on Parliament Hill or in Charles M. Hays' private car.

THIS IS REAL GAUZY.

The Paper Mill.

Some interesting hints and suggestions concerning the American tariff come from Canada. One of the principal papers of the Dominion believes that the present tariff law is to come up for revision presently, and that in such revision provision will be made for the free admission of Canadian wood pulp, in order to promote the preservation of the forests of this country. Undoubtedly the wish is father to the thought. Certainly it would be a great thing for Canada if her wood pulp could be sold in this country free of tariff tax, but we have not yet quite come to the necessity of such a change in our fiscal policy.

The GRAND PROMOTER

His Landlady Calls and Makes a Collection.

MAJOR CROFOOT, grand promoter of all sorts and conditions of schemes and enterprises to better his financial condition, entered his office the other morning, leaving the door open behind him. He had scarcely hung up his hat when a woman stood before him. Like a flash of lightning he recognized his old time landlady—the old time when she used to do up his shirts and trust him for pay—and he realized that she had hunted him down at last and meant to collect a bill of about $5. One thrill shot through him, and then he was as cool as ice.

"Madam, were you looking for the photographer or the corset maker?" he queried.

"No, sir," she replied; "I am looking for Major Crofoot, and I have found him at last. Don't you remember me?"

"Really, now—why, really?"

"Don't you remember me?"

"Is it—can it be—is it possible that you are Mrs. Stubbins?"

"I am Mrs. Stubbins. I am the woman you beat out of $4.80 for doing your laundry. I have been on your trail over a year, and I have run you to earth at last. I want my money."

"Well, well, well!" exclaimed the major as he held out his hand for a shake. "Mrs. Stubbins, I am thrice glad to see you. Only yesterday I sent out to Dakota to try and find where you were located. You don't know how often I have thought of you and your kindness to me. For months and months you were like a mother to me. And have you just come on from the west?"

"Barney" she answered as she drew herself up and pointed a finger at him. "I am no longer a trusting, confiding landlady, but I have gone on the stage and got my eyes opened. I am no longer Mrs. Nancy Stubbins, but Miss Rosalie Cathcart. Catfish, come down with the shekels or I will make it torrid for thee."

"And so you have gone on the stage? By George, what a coincidence—what a coincidence! I have a three act play right here in my desk and was wondering where I could find a woman to take the leading part. You have just the right figure—you look the part—your fortune is made. Right here, without going any further, I offer you $100 per week to take the role. As I remarked before, what a coincidence!"

"Mercurio, thinkest not to deceive me with honeyed speech," artfully replied and here. Canst thou not realize—dost thou not see—that I am no longer the humble landlady of the washboard and the station, but an actress who has traveled and met up with the Artful Dodger? With one hand I grasp thy coat collar and with the other thy luxuriant locks, and prithee, Mercurio—

"And what do you want?"

"My oof, thou man of tricks."

"You shall have it this afternoon."

"Talk not to me of time, Mercurio, but place the ducats in my hand without delay."

"And you'd sacrifice an engagement at $150 per to get $4.80?" he indignantly demanded as Mrs. Stubbins held him with an iron grip.

"I wouldst, Mercurio, and therefore let us waste no more time. Shouldst I clutch my other hand in thy locks thou mayst be numbered with the bald-heads."

The major paid. It took the last cent he had, but he handed it over and heaved a sigh of relief as Mrs. Stubbins loosened her clutch.

"Tis well," she said as she counted the sum. "Tis well, Mercurio, and now I go hence to my playfellows and tell them that the Artful Dodger is happy no more. Farewell—again farewell."

The major stood and looked after her with rueful countenance. When the echo of her footsteps had died away he said to himself:

"Mercurio was a blamed fool, and I am ditto."

SHOT A GALLICIAN.

Fatal Row Between Railway Laborers and a Timekeeper.

Erwood, N.W.T., Aug. 5.—A startling report has been brought here. It stated that a timekeeper named VanAlstyne employed in a Canadian Northern construction camp, 60 miles west of here, had shot and killed a man.

It was learned later that a gang of Gallician laborers last Friday evening wanted their time checks, which were refused by VanAlstyne. The laborers assumed a threatening attitude, and VanAlstyne, becoming alarmed for his safety, drew a revolver and in self-defence fired into the crowd, the bullet entering the body of one of the men who died a few hours afterwards. VanAlstyne left camp and the police have not been able to apprehend him.

There are some people who always discover a mistake when it is really too late to rectify it.

That Dodd's Dyspepsia-Tablets Will Cure Indigestion or Dyspepsia of Any Stage or Standing.

"I had Dyspepsia for over nine years. I tried the best doctors in the place and never got relief. I had to starve myself from eating. No tongue can tell what I suffered."

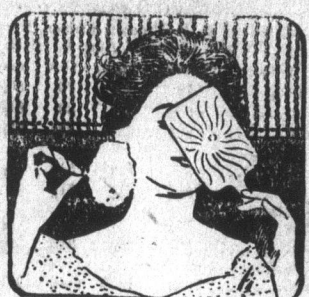

"I bought six boxes of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Before I had finished taking them I could eat most anything and sleep comfortably, which I never expected to do in this world."

This is the statement of Mrs. James Bradley, of Smith's Cove, Digby Co., N.S. It is but one of thousands that prove beyond a doubt that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure Indigestion and Dyspepsia of any stage or standing. Proof like this is worth more than all the theory in the world.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets not only relieve. They cure to stay cured.

Minard's Liniment Cures Diphtheria.

The powder puff may help to hide the ravages of time but it avails little to hide the ravages of disease. When the face is disfigured by eruptions, the treatment must go below the surface to the blood, which is corrupt and impure.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures disgusting eruptions which are caused by impure blood. It cures scurfy sores, erysipelas, boils, pimples, eczema, salt-rheum and other eruptive diseases which impure blood breeds and feeds.

"I was troubled with eczema from the crown of my head to the sole of my foot," writes Mrs. Ella Quick, of Cass City, Tuscola Co., Mich. "I could not walk at times nor wear my shoes. Thought there was no help for me—till a doctor said there was none. I went to see friends at Christmas time and there heard of the good that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery had done for them, and was advised to try it at once. For fear that I might neglect it, I made me promise that I would take it. I had been using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for some time, and I look at the good that it has done for me. I have a complete cure. It was slow, but sure. I was taking the medicine about eight months."

"I would say to all who read this," writes Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery before wasting time and money.

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the least profit possible by the sale of less efficient medicines. He gains; you lose. Therefore accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cleanse the clogged system from accumulated impurities.

THE SUEZ CANAL

An Increase in Traffic for the Past Year—Figures From a Parliamentary Return.

According to a Parliamentary return just issued in London, the net tonnage passing through the Suez Canal for the past year shows an increase of 424,578 tons as compared with that of 1901, and of 1,510,261 tons as compared with that of 1900. The transit receipts in 1902 amounted to 103,720,020l., and were higher than in any previous year since the opening of the canal, showing an increase of 3,333,623l., as compared with those of 1901. The British Suez Canal Directors remark that no special reason can be assigned for the increase in the trade through the canal except that the economical situation of India has recently improved, and that there has been an increased activity in the trade with the East. The number of vessels which passed through the canal was 3,441 in 1900, 3,699 in 1901, and 3,708 in 1902, of which 1,935 in 1900, 2,075 in 1901, and 2,165 in 1902 carried the British flag. There was an increase last year as compared with 1901 in the tonnage of British vessels which amounted to 5,605,421 tons in 1900, 5,252,819 tons in 1901, and 6,772,811 tons in 1902. During the same period the tonnage of German vessels fluctuated from 1,496,391 tons in 1900, to 1,762,624 in 1901, and 1,707,322 tons in 1902. Of 2,738 merchant vessels and vessels in ballast, of a net tonnage of 8,061,483 tons, passing through the canal in 1902, 1,906 ships of a net tonnage of 5,648,490 tons were British being 69.7 per cent. of the number and fully 72.5 per cent. of the tonnage; 822 or 12.2 per cent., were German vessels whose tonnage was 13.3 per cent. of the whole; France, Holland, Austria-Hungary, and Russia, combined, furnishing a total of 13.2 per cent. of the vessels and 11.5 per cent. of the tonnage of the carrying trade to the East through the Suez Canal. In the ten years 1891-1900, the annual net tonnage ranged from 8,698,777 tons to 9,738,152 tons, and the transit receipts from $8,422,101l. to 90,623,608l. The average of the net tonnage was 8,588,947 tons, and of the transit receipts 80,006,013l., while in 1902 the net tonnage amounted to 11,248,413 tons, and the transit receipts to 103,720,020l. The mean net tonnage per vessel, which in 1881 was only 1,517 tons, rose from 2,067 tons in 1891 to 2,830 tons in 1900, to 2,926 tons in 1901, and to 3,034 tons in 1902.

During last year the canal was used thirty-nine times by steamers exceeding 150 meters (492 feet) in length, or more than 18 meters (59 feet) in breadth. The number of troops carried through the canal during last year amounted to 89,946, as against 136,514 in 1901, being a decrease of 51,568. There was an increase on 6,528 British, 272 American, and 130 Portuguese, against a decrease of 21,597 Russian, 17,677 German, 13,433 Turkish, 6,743 French, 600 Italian, 245 Japanese, and 176 Dutch troops, as compared with 1901. The number of civilian passengers amounted to 98,213 in 1902, as against 92,046 in the preceding year, being an increase of 6,167, while the number of pilgrims, emigrants, and convicts was 40,499 in 1902, as compared with 41,661 in 1901, or a decrease of 1,162. In the year 1870, 26,758 civil and military passengers were carried through the canal; in 1880 the number rose to 93,600, in 1890 to 161,352, and in 1902 to 223,775, as against 270,221 in 1901.

GRACE BEFORE MEAT.

Devotions of a Scotch Farmer Who Thought Well of Himself.

An old Ayrshire farmer used regularly to deliver himself of the following quaint effusion as a grace before meat:

"Tak' all yer bonnets, honest men! Are they a' off? Oh, Lord, weel out o' the paplets o' the land—pluck them out as we do the thistle frae oot o' the grund. Pour doon a shoover o' whittles upo' the loons that wear the lawn sleeves, for they eat up the fat an' the lean o' the land an' winna let a pulr body like me gang his ain way. Dig a muckle dike atween us an' hell, but a far muckler ane atween us an' the wild Irish. Oh, grant that the gray mare bakka the tether nor the wind blaw doon the haystacks. Grant that we may keep the broon coo, the crumlie 'o' an' Bowdie, an', oh, preserve us frae witches an' warlocks an' beasts wi' lang nebs that gang in among the heather. Grant a' gude things an' gude hairts to a' honest folk an' a' men present an' I, my ainself, wha am as muckle as one sax o' them. Shoer doon a blessing on a' honest men that wear blue bonnets, sic like as Abraham, Isaac an' Jacob were in the holy land o' Canaan. Gie to ourselves an' to the freen o' Scotland weal an' fortune till endure a' the ills an' onco's o' this life, an' as what we've gotten is a oor ain it's naebody's business. Grant a blessing on the present favor. Amen!"

When Water Was Avoided.

Until comparatively recent times there was a medical prejudice against drinking water. Sir William Vaughan in his "Natural and Artificial Directions For Health" declared that water "ought seldom to be drunk." Another doctor admitted that it might be beneficial for children, but not for men.

"except some odd, abstemious one among a thousand per chance, degenerate and of a dogmatic nature, for dogs of nature do abhor wine." Indeed, the recommendation of water as a beverage was supposed to be the sign of the quack. Even Wesley in his "Primitive Physic" wrote of it with caution: "Drink only water if it agrees with your stomach; if not, good, clear small beer."

DIDN'T WORK

Local Hebrew Endeavored to Emulate the Good Samaritan with Disastrous Results.

Samuel Kovinski is in trouble again and all because he played the good Samaritan. At least that is the way he put it to the Chief of Police. Sam says that his Bible tells him that when he finds one lying out he should take him in, wash him, and give him shelter and food. Samuel thinks that he misunderstood the good book, and that the passage referred to doesn't mean drunks, and he points to his own case to prove his assertions.

The other night Sam and his chum when returning home found a third Hebrew named Nelson in a glorious state of hilarity sleeping on the C. P. R. Park on William street. The two good Samaritans picked Nelson up and dragged him to their home. He was too far gone in the realms of pleasure and weak knees to navigate. They left him to sleep off the effects of Joe Seagram's influence in the barn. Nelson, however, got tangled in his clothes and was like to choke to death when Sam took off the vest that was doing the damage and hung it up. Thereupon Nelson's wallet fell out and the good Samaritan picked it up, counted the money, which totalled $27 and kept it safely. When Nelson recovered his equanimity, he went to get his pocket book, but when Sam tendered the wallet the owner refused it, claiming that it contained $50 when separated from him. This worried Samuel, and, as he didn't want the pocketbook and the money and both are now locked up in the safe at the police station.

Kovinski cannot account for the shrinkage, but he thinks he will let drunks alone in the future.

QUEBEC CONSERVATIVES.

Some Other Notables Who Will Attend the Island Picnic.
Toronto, Aug. 6.—The gathering of Conservatives at the Queen's Hotel last evening indicated a good deal of interest in the Conservative picnic at the Island on Wednesday next. Hackett, former Minister of Public Works, respectively, of Quebec, would be present. Hon. R. P. Roblin, Premier of Manitoba, sent a formal letter of acceptance.

The Grounds, Decoration and Reception Committees reported that after visiting the Island it had been decided not to reserve seats. Circulars have been sent out to the editors of Conservative papers in the Province especially inviting them to be present, and a luncheon will be tendered the journalists on Wednesday, between 1 and 2 o'clock, at McConkey's. Accommodation will be provided for 400 guests, but tickets must be secured by Monday from either Messrs. E. King Dods or A. W. Wright. Souvenir buttons bearing the pictures of the leaders of the Dominion and Ontario Oppositions will be issued.

A SUNDAY IN PRISON

600 FELONS IN KINGSTON PENITENTIARY AT DIVINE SERVICE.

The Atmosphere of the Prison Apparent Everywhere—Scenes in the Chapel. The Sexes Kept Separate—Surprise for Convict Colony—Tears and Heavy Sighs in Evidence—Tender-Hearted Warden.

A chapel crowded with felons! Five hundred murderers, thieves and a variety of criminals at worship! This was the unique spectacle the writer witnessed in Kingston Penitentiary on a recent Sunday. The atmosphere of the prison was everywhere in the striped convicts, armed guards and barred windows. As the long line of the church the church the big doors clanged shut. The guards, the warden, three Salvation Army officials and the writer were locked in the room with the prisoners. Probably no minister ever addressed a harder, more reckless and altogether desperate congregation. Withal it was an attentive audience, and the services were decidedly impressive.

G. C. Porter in Toronto Sunday World.

The stained glass of the window and decorative art hid the stone and steel. No particular stretch of the imagination was required to feel the religious spirit of the occasion when the sweet-toned organ was vibrating and the fine voices of the criminal chorus were heard. A score of stalwart convicts represented the choir. Many trained vocalists were there. An old felon, in glasses—a murderer and a life man—led, and the organist, also of the penal colony, handled his instrument with the skill of a professional musician.

The room was probably one and fifty by one hundred feet in the clear. The ceiling was high. The three windows on each side shed a soft light through the colored decorations. At the north end an ample pulpit stands. In the niche formed by each window, seated on a high chair, overlooking all, was an armed guard. No weapons showed, but every man present knew that beneath the smart jacket were concealed heavy revolvers which would spring out at the slightest sign of insubordination. Just without on the high walls overlooking the prison chapel were guards with magazine rifles. Over each window are beautifully-executed mottoes—the work of some artist who had earned a term in the institution. There seemed a touch of irony in the first: "The truth shall make you free." With a suggestion of the old Mosaic doctrine was the second: "It is no man, evil for evil." Then the artist got personal and inscribed the warning of the Decalog: "Thou shalt not bear false witness." Getting back to first principles, and probably writing the only sentence familiar to most of those present, he inscribed the homely commandment, "Honor thy father and thy mother."

In one corner a thin partition had been erected for the accommodation of the 15 women convicts. A slit twenty inches wide, running around, too high to allow a view of either side, yet sufficient to permit the full service to be heard, was the only opening. The sexes don't mingle here. Attendance at religious service is compulsory. Long lines of low wooden benches received the worshippers. As they marched in, the lockstep, which criminals dislike so thoroughly, was not required. The convicts say after a long term in prison they become so accustomed to the shuffle of the lockstep that they unconsciously give their bodies the swinging motion after regaining their liberty. This aids to identify them with their prison life, which they hope to forget.

The regular chaplain was not present and Warden Platt announced that Major Archibald of the Salvation Army, Toronto, would conduct the service.

The Salvation Army service was a surprise and apparently a very pleasant one for the convict colony. As the young woman with the poke bonnet marched into the pulpit with her guitar every prisoner looked the interest he felt. Their emotion was soon aroused, and they displayed it with a freedom scarcely expected of men charged with the commission of every crime on the calendar.

The 103rd psalm was read and the choir rendered "Nearer my God to Thee." The old murderer was leading with a magnificent soprano. Then Major Archibald told the story of the healing of the sick man in the pool by the market place in Jerusalem. He explained St. John's version of Christ's generosity as applied in this instance, how the old decrepit had been always pushed back by the stronger in the throng as the waters were disturbed and the moment arrived for the sick man to plunge into its healing depth and be made whole. The Salvation Army minister drew a picture of hope from this miracle for the wretched criminals around him. Continuing, the speaker referred to his work among the outcasts of other prisons, how an old Wreck had come to him one day in Toronto and said: "Brother Archibald, I was in that prison—one of the convicts—when you talked to us a year ago. I felt the spirit of the Lord suddenly pierce my soul. My confinement was made lighter at once. Now I am on the right road. I want you to pray for me. I know what the joy of living is, and I was converted in prison." Concluding, he explained the generous spirit of Jesus Christ that covered all men and all conditions. It was a comforting word picture, and the big crowd of old felons were strangely silent as the sermon was concluded.

A number drew their striped sleeves across their eyes, and there were heavy sighs as the deep-toned organ pealed forth. I glanced at the stern-looking warden. There was a great big tear trickling down his right cheek. He did not appear embarrassed by his emotion. On the front bench I observed a curious-looking wreck of a man. Possibly sixty, as grey as a rat, with thin, effeminate features and enormous blue eyes, he seemed to drink in every word and the spirit of the speaker. His limbs were crossed, exposing the splintered stump of a wooden leg, worn and battered in contact with the steel and iron of his cell. A guard afterwards remarked to the writer that the old fellow was a desperate character, serving years for murder and unprovoked crime.

The silence was broken by the choir responding to Major Archibald's invitation to sing "Rock of Ages." Then the young woman in the blue uniform and red girdle of the Army rendered a simple, homely air, accompanying herself on the guitar. Her voice blended sweetly with the alto of her assistant and the deep bass of Major Archibald. Every guard and the men looked up with pleasure. There was no applause, but the pleading looks were more eloquent than hand-clapping. Understanding the mute invitation, the song was repeated. Then the Salvation trio went inside the enclosure for a few words with the women prisoners, while the organist continued a prelude. Returning, the audience arose and all joined in the Doxology. A sign from the chief guard and the men took up their march, back to the cells, being joined on route by those from the little Catholic chapel, for all inmates are given their choice of religious exercise here. The majority are Protestants.

With the exception of the two meals the inmates come out of their cells to get on Sunday, and the trip to the chapel, they remain in their cells. They may occupy themselves as they please so that they maintain absolute quiet. A voice raised in any way except to summon the guard brings down upon the luckless one a forfeiture of good marks, library privileges or other favors incident to good behavior.

A MARKED CENT.

The Odd Way It Came Back to the Man Who Lost It.

Take an ordinary copper cent piece, stamp it with a private mark, put it into circulation, and what are the chances that you will ever see it again? There is one man who says that he tried the trick and succeeded at it. He is a business man who refuses to allow his name to be used in print about the story, but he tells the tale to many of his friends and he vouches for its truth.

In 1894, he says, he found a cent piece, dated 1893, in the restaurant of the Lafayette hotel. He pocketed it for luck and as a memento of a jolly little dinner scratched his initials on it just over the feathered head, while on the cheek he added those of the hotel. Until 1896 he treasured the coin, then drew it out of his pocket with a handful of other change and before he realized it the cent piece had gone the mysterious way of all money.

A year ago he chanced, being of a curious turn of mind, to fall into conversation one evening with a professional beggar at Broad and Chestnut streets. He upbraided the man for getting so much money for nothing.

"Oh," said the beggar, "I don't get so much. That's all I've got in the last hour." And he held up a cent piece.

At that moment the electric light fell upon the coin, and the business man, to his amazement, caught sight of the letters "H. L." on the cheek of the face. He took the coin and examined it more closely. Sure enough, there were his own initials just above the feathers where he had placed them a half dozen years before.

At once his prejudice against begging vanished.

"I'll give you a dollar for that coin!" he cried.

The beggar grew wary at this eagerness and demanded $5. Needless to say, he got it and also of course the cent piece has never since left the business man's watch chain, which it now adorns.

Singers' High Salaries.

Heinrich Corried, who has had so much difficulty in arranging the salaries of his artists that he declares their engagement to be the most difficult part of the work of putting on grand opera, has an explanation for the origin of the exorbitant prices demanded by foreign singers when America is mentioned to them. A number of years ago he was in Europe engaging artists for his comic opera company. He offered a certain singer $200 a week to come with him to America. The singer had been used to getting about a third of that sum and was on the point of accepting when he was approached by Anton Seidl and asked his price. He at once demanded $300 and finally compromised on $250. When he came to read the contract he found that, after the American fashion, he had been signed for $250 a performance and not for that amount per week. Fearing that Mr. Seidl might change his mind and try to break the contract, he took the first boat for New York and was on the ground two months before the opening of the season.

Girls in Turkey.

In a recent book on his native country an intelligent Turk writes: "Formerly girls in Turkey were not allowed to learn the mystery of calligraphy. We have had some excellent postesses in days gone by but none of them could write; they dictated their inspirations. The common explanation given of this traditional prohibition—for it is a custom rather than a rule—was that if girls once learned writing they might have indulged in talismanic pastimes and eventually have become witches. As a matter of fact, the real reason was quite different. There was a fear, perhaps not ill founded, that, having once learned to write, they might hasten to make use of the accomplishment by composing love letters to young men with whom they could not otherwise communicate, for the strict seclusion of females cuts off all intercourse between young people of opposite sexes almost as soon as they have ceased to be infants."

The Unconquered Boers.

A party of unconquered Boers has just arrived in Batavia, traveling to a Dutch colony under the auspices of a Boer relief fund committee. The government has assigned an abandoned estate for them to settle upon as small cultivators.

These Boers will be utilized for experimental purposes. There is much distress among the lower class of Europeans and Eurasians in Java. Many of them seek grants of land on easy terms, on which they could start cultivation in a small way. As most of them have no experience in farming, the government hesitates to put them on the land from fear of failure. The Boers, as practical colonists and farmers, are expected to show how to cultivate the land and make money out of it.

Meanwhile the dominant British faction in South Africa talk of filling the mines with Chinese coolies.

A Siberian Horror.

As is well known, political prisoners in Russia and Siberia are treated with a rigor and cruelty unknown in any European country except Turkey. The mental sufferings undergone by prisoners who are sentenced to the latter form of punishment are so terrible that they do not infrequently go mad or lay violent hands on themselves. One of the most terrible cases of this kind recently occurred in the prison fortress of Tomsk, in Siberia, where, according to the St. Petersburg Life, one of the political prisoners, finding existence intolerable, killed himself by drenching his clothes with petroleum and then setting himself on fire before the warders could come to his assistance.

THE HOME DOCTOR.

To strengthen a weak throat gargle daily with salt and water for several months.

A paroxysm of coughing may often be arrested by taking a teaspoonful of glycerin in a little hot milk.

For local application to boils and carbuncles the best thing is water almost hot enough to scald (applied frequently with a small cloth). It must be hot.

Onions should be extensively used in the diet, as they are excellent for the nerves. They are also useful for coughs, colds, influenza, insomnia, constipation and for stimulating the appetite.

For relieving hoarseness try the following mixture: To the white of an egg add the juice of one lemon and a teaspoonful of sugar and take a teaspoonful at frequent intervals until the voice is cleared.

If you cut your finger, don't tie a rag around it. Let water run on the finger till it feels numb with cold, and then sprinkle a little salt on the place. It will ache for a minute, but the bleeding stops at once, and the pain is only momentary.

An Aid to Grace.

Every woman would like to be graceful, but very few women are by nature as graceful as they might be if they would take a little trouble in the matter. English women, as a rule, are far behind French and Italian ladies in grace of bearing, and the reason probably is that their bodies are not so carefully trained.

In Spain and Italy women of the higher class are generally expert swordswomen, for they esteem fencing as one of the best possible athletic exercises, valuable alike for giving strength and grace to the body and alertness to the mind. Young girls, therefore, are taught to fence as carefully as their brothers and as accurately, and there are many schools where ladies practice not only with the foil, but with the broadsword.

In America a few women of the "smart set" and a number of the younger actresses delight in fencing, but this form of athletics is by no means as popular as it deserves to be among the girls, and yet those few who take it up not only derive great physical benefit from it, but find it a most fascinating and exhilarating exercise.

Bubble Blowing For Beauty.

Physical culturists say that blowing bubbles is the most entertaining way of doing the deep breathing exercise now so widely recommended to improve health and figure, and also that the practice, if adhered to, will round out hollowed cheeks and improve the contour of the scrawny or too chubby throat. To blow bubbles seriously take a clay pipe, dip it in soapy water and blow as large a bubble as you can while seated. This must be done slowly and gradually or the bubble will burst. Then stand and do the same exercise when it has become quite easy. Now lie flat on your back on the floor, with shoulders well back and chin as high as possible, and blow your bubbles in this position. Another exercise is to lie flat on your face on a small square table, with feet extended and head and shoulders well back, then blow your bubbles. In both the last exercises it is well to first blow the bubble slowly and then blow after bubble as quickly as possible.

How to Boil Ham.

It is not nearly so easy as it looks to boil ham in such a manner as to retain its juiciness and good flavor, and yet there are a few things more delicious than plain boiled ham when properly cooked. After selecting a ham, we will say, in the case of a small family, one weighing seven pounds, it should be soaked in cold water for twenty-four hours. This will reduce the extreme saltiness disagreeable to some palates. Next dry with a towel, put it in a pot, cover with cold water and boil steadily for three hours. Remove, take off the upper skin and dredge while hot with sifted bread crumbs, decorating the shank, if you choose, with a paper ruffe. Then lay the ham in a roasting pan and brown in a slow oven, which should take about twenty minutes. Garnish with parsley and serve.

Eye Brows and Lashes.

If one's eye brows and lashes are thin and short or inclined to fall out a simple treatment, if kept up, will have remarkable and gratifying results. Every night and morning gently pull, in a sort of pinching process, the brows, following their line as though shaping them into the penciled form; brush them with a soft brush and repeat the very gentle pinching process. This stimulates the circulation and strengthens the roots. Do the same with the lashes, pulling them very carefully, of course, from the lid, not from the lashes themselves. About once a month clip the tiny ends, and every night before going to bed apply a little vaseline on both brows and lashes. The growth will be stimulated and results noticed within a short time.

Women Who Wear Trousers.

At Kew gardens, in London, a small, intelligent, capable and scientific gardener of practical women gardeners is employed. They labor in the potting sheds, wield the pruning shears, study fertilizers and wear trousers. In summer their nether bifurcated garments are of dark blue linen or brown, as each wearer prefers. They have adopted long breeches strapped close to the leg below the knees and about the ankles to permit unimpeded stepping in and out among close set plants. A blue smocked frock loosely gathered in by a broad belt at the waist forms the remainder of their very sensible uniform. The public when visiting the famous gardens easily catches a glimpse of them.

Catarrh kills thousands through colds, bronchitis, pneumonia and consumption, and Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder cures all of them when other prescriptions have failed. It will relieve colds and catarrh and cure headache in ten minutes.

FRED H. HELB, JR., the well known distiller of Railroad, York Co., Pa., states:—"I have had catarrh of the head and stomach for two years in the worst form. I tried all the medicines I ever heard of, but without relief. I used two bottles of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder. It cured me entirely, I am now a well man."

In thirty minutes Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart will add strength to that organ. Feeding the body by a full supply of blood it fills life with the old time vigor.

Sold by Messrs. Gunn and McLaren, Druggists, Chatham.

LOSS OF APPETITE.

Is commonly gradual; one dish after another is set aside till few remain. These are not eaten with much relish, and are often so light as not to afford much nourishment.

Loss of appetite is one of the first indications that the system is running down, and there is nothing else so good for it as Hood's Sarsaparilla—the best of all tonics.

Accept no substitute for Hood's.

LACROSSE

THREE GOOD GAMES.

Capt. Frank Babcock, acting Secretary-Treasurer of the lacrosse club, has arranged the big Detroit-Chatham game, to come off in Chatham on Thursday, Aug. 18, at three o'clock sharp. The first game with Wallaceburg in the Gray cup series, will take place in Wallaceburg on Friday, Aug. 22. These are dates to keep in mind. This means to get out and practice. The boys can have their holidays after these dates.

The return game with Wallaceburg will be played here on Monday, Aug. 25. These three big games will wind up the present lacrosse season. Hagley and Ross have decided not to make their holidays until after these games.

CRICKET.

CHATHAM WINS EASY VICTORY.
By some good batting yesterday on the part of Reg. Richardson, W. B. Miller, F. Dennis and S. A. Mercer, Chatham easily defeated the Detroit Cricket Club on Tecumseh park, by a score of 143 to 47. R. Richardson was first in to bat and held his wickets well, doing some pretty steady batting and totalling up a score of 49 runs. Some more than the visitors had made before he was bowled by Pat Davis. Play started in the morning at 11:30 o'clock with a slight rain falling, which made the ball very greasy. The cricket was in favor of the bowlers, and the visitors could do nothing with the bowling of Richardson and Miller. Richardson was in especial good trim, taking four wickets for 15 runs.

The Detroiters did not have a full team with them and two or three Chatham boys played for them. Roger Matheson made their best score, 10 runs. Young Harry Gordon, who also played for them, did nice batting and got three of the Detroiters themselves. B. B. Ridgley got nine runs, and out.

The locals, too, had a number of the second eleven on. Kenny Nicholls, Miller and Northwood of the Seniors did not play.

FLEETS IN MIMIC WAR.

MANY BATTLESHIPS AND CRUISERS ENGAGED.

British Naval Manoeuvres of More Than Usual Interest This Year—Defence and Attack.

London, Aug. 5.—War was declared between the home fleet, under the command of Admiral Wilson, and the Mediterranean fleet, commanded by Admiral Domville. The annual British naval manoeuvres thus commenced are regarded as the most interesting yet devised by the Admiralty. Altogether, twenty-six battleships and forty-three cruisers will be engaged in a presumed contest for the command of the sea between two maritime countries. The opposing fleets are represented by the letters B and X, the former being the home fleet, which is divided into two squadrons, one at Berehaven, Ireland, commanded by Admiral Wilson, and the other at Madeira, under Lord Charles Beresford.

The problem set for the home fleet is to effect a junction of forces at sea, while on Admiral Domville, in command of the X fleet, concentrated at Lagos, Portugal, is imposed the task of finding either Admiral Wilson's or Lord Charles Beresford's squadron before they are able to effect a junction.

TUG OWNERS FINED.

For Saving a United States Lumber Scow From Fire.

Port Turon, Aug. 6.—That the strict application of coastwise laws is sometimes accompanied by injustice was disclosed in a glaring manner by the imposition of a $376 fine at the Port Turon Customs House on James Reid of Sarnia, the well-known lake wrecking master. During the burning of Jenks, Taylor, Howard & Co.'s lumber yard and mill a week ago Saturday night one of Reid's tugs came over to assist in salvage work, and towed a scow laden with lumber to Sarnia for safety. After the fire the scow was returned to this side, but, owing to the circumstances of the case, the captain did not think it necessary to report the arrival and clearance, as required by the regulations. Some person reported the alleged infraction to special treasury agent Bailey, and the owners of the offending craft were called before Collector of Customs Avery. A fine amounting to the full value of the lumber aboard the scow was exacted, according to the inflexible rules of the department, though the violation was claimed to have been simply a technical one. Mr. Reid was told that his redress was in appealing to the department to have the fine remitted.

HONORS FOR IRISHMEN.

The King Shows His Appreciation of Their Recent Services.

London, Aug. 5.—A long list of honors, conferred by the King in connection with the royal visit to Ireland is published. Sir John Chas. Ready Colomb, M.P., and Thomas Andrews, Chairman of the County Down Council, have been made Privy Counsellors, and Sir Daniel Dixon, Lord Mayor of Belfast, and Edward Fitzgerald, Lord Mayor of Cork, have been created Baronets. Other honors are distributed to the officials of the principal towns visited during the royal tour.

LOY CHARGES DISMISSED.

Committee Report Adopted by 65 Majority in the House.

Ottawa, Aug. 5.—The debate on the report of the Privileges and Elections Committee on the Loy investigation lasted until 10 o'clock last night, when the report was adopted by a majority of 65, the largest majority of this Parliament. Mr. Loy, on entering the House, from which he had been absent during the investigation, was given an ovation by the Liberal members. The Judges' superannuation resolution occupied the balance of the day. The debate on the Grand Trunk Pacific resolution was postponed at Mr. Borden's request until Tuesday next.

On the motion for the third reading of the Grand Trunk Pacific bill Mr. Fowler moved that the bill be referred back to the Committee of the Whole, in order to amend it in accordance with his notice of motion by providing that if the Grand Trunk Railway acquires any of the corporate stock of the company the Grand Trunk shall pay for such stock its par value in cash.

A WHITE MAN LYNCHED.

Confesses to the Murder of a Little Girl.
Asotin, Wash., Aug. 6.—Despite the efforts of Sheriff Richards of Asotin County, father of the victim, who had sworn in twenty-five deputies to guard him, William Hamilton, a well-to-do farmer, the self-confessed murderer of little Mabel Richards, was forcibly taken from the Asotin County jail shortly after midnight, and lynched by a mob of 1,000 men, which had been congregating all Tuesday from all parts of Asotin County. He was hanged from a telegraph pole on the main street of the town.

Miss Booth's Return.

Toronto, August 6.—Commissioner Eva Booth of the Salvation Army arrived home yesterday from Dawson City. During her trip through the west and far north, she visited all the army posts and was received with enthusiasm everywhere.

THE POPE'S OFFICERS.

His Holiness Confirms Several Appointments.

Rome, August 6.—Yesterday the Pope, Pius X., confirmed in their posts as Secret Chamberlains Mgrs. Zichy, Scapinelli, Misciatelli and Sanz De Samperio and confirmed the Marquis of Serlupi as Master of the Horse, and Monsignor Silli as Dean of the Grooms. He appointed Mgr. Galli Secretary of Latin Letters, to replace Mgr. Tarozzi, who is ill, and also Mgr. Sardi as Secretary for Briefs to the Princes, to replace Mgr. Volpini, who recently died. He also confirmed Cardinal Oreglia as Camerlengo. Cardinal Oreglia will probably be Secretary of State. Monsignor Constantini is made Secret Almoner, and C. M. Cavazzi private carver.

Pope Pius has received Prince Massimo, the head of the Papal section of the Roman aristocracy, who was accompanied by his daughter-in-law, Princess Beatrice, the daughter of Don Carlos. The Pontiff seemed specially glad to see her, saying: "We are from the same town. Your father is my friend, and I have not forgotten his amiability in coming to see me off at the station when I left for the Conclave, little imagining that I should never see my beloved canals again. I hope your royal father will soon come to our court."

The Pope, yielding to the pressure exercised by the foreign Cardinals, who are desirous of returning to their respective countries as soon as possible, has decided that his coronation shall take place next Sunday.

A few anecdotes show what manner of man is Pius X. His position as Patriarch of Venice brought him from $2,000 to $2,400 a year, which did not go far when he had paid the bills for all of his numerous charities. So when he was called suddenly to leave Venice often found himself without money. Once when he had come to Rome he was without a cent, and did not know where to turn. He was finally obliged to borrow $400 from a bank and was uneasy until the debt was paid. He has a nephew, John Baptist Sarto, who, although related to him, is only the Archpriest of the small village of Pessagno, the birthplace of Canova.

THREE YEARS FOR HALL.

The Aurora Burglar Sent to Kingston Penitentiary.

Toronto, Aug. 6.—Thomas Hall, the young Englishman who was shot in an Aurora store while attempting to rob the place, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Morson to three years in the Kingston Penitentiary.

Hall's home is in Liverpool, Eng. He came here last spring ostensibly to look for work. After working for a month for Ringling Bros.' circus, Hall took to the road as a tramp and finally made his way to Aurora, where on the night of his arrival he broke into two stores. At the first he carried off some goods. The second place he broke into was Warner's grocery, but while he was at the burglar, Mr. Warner heard him from his room above and descending quietly with a revolver, both fired at the burglar. Three shots took effect, one in Hall's jaw and two in his arm. It was feared the first shot had killed him, but the bullet wound in the jaw, but to the surprise of the physicians he recovered quickly.

HOSTILITIES COMMENCED.

Pierce Fighting Reported in Monastir Vilayet.

Sofia, Aug. 5.—The Macedonian Committee announced that a revolution was proclaimed in the Vilayet of Monastir last Sunday in conformance with the decision of the Central Revolutionary Committee. The committee state that all the revolutionary forces in the districts of Monastir, Razlog, Odrin, Debrlo, Kreshtero, Porotichka, Krachero, Porlin, Serin, Kavari and Demirhisar simultaneously commenced hostilities. A telegraphic communication has been out in the districts mentioned. The announcement has not been confirmed owing to lack of communication.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

A large party from Erieau sailed to Government Park yesterday. The sail over was made in about an hour but the return was not quite so rapid.

In the early part of the afternoon a strong south wind was blowing, which quieted down later to so light a breeze that sailing was drifting. The three yachts that carried the party over arrived home something after eight in the evening. During the cruise Jim Park caught three fine fish trolling from Shamrock III. The Velma, sailed by Miss Jessie Harper, had on board Judge Houston, Miss Susie Taylor, Miss Bell Smith and Harold Williamson, of Chatham; Miss Bea Wall, of Cleveland; Miss Grace Pedlar, of Oshawa, and Will Greary, of St. Thomas. The Cheliah, sailed by Jack Northwood, carried Mrs. J. M. Northwood, of Chatham; Miss Johnston, of St. Louis; Miss VonGuntun and Dr. Cook, of Blenheim.
