American After Stay in Frankfurt Tells of War-Time Conditions There; Huns Summon Fresh Troops

By Courier Leased Wire.
London, Feb. 15.—An Amsterdam despatch to the Times quotes an American, who has just arrived there from Frankfurt, where he had resided for eighteen months, as saying that the Germans have a great and surprising number of new troops. The despatch says that every German man of military age, who is not engaged in the munition industry has been ordered into the army with the result that the German troops are now more numerous than at the beginning of the war.

Finances Poor

According to the informant, the financial question was beginning to be serious, and while the next war loan might succeed, it would probably be the last successful one, as the people realize that matters cannot continue as at present.

Submarine Bluff

In reference to the submarine campaign, the American said that the stories current in Holland about the immense number of German submarines were German bluff, as he claimed to have information that there were not 200 of the under-seas craft available. Referring to the food situation, he said:

Revolt May Come

"The Allies have done pretty well but they are prepared for more hardships. The Germans can stand anything. I left Germany because the situation was growing too bad to be pleasant. Life in Frankfurt was very hard for the people. Any other population would rebel. There was a bitter feeling there against the higher authorities who were responsible for the war."

Germany Loose From Mooring of Civilization

Principal of Columbia University Denounces Militarism of Germany To-day; Kaiser a Madman Who Would Destroy Humanity

By Courier Leased Wire.
New York, Feb. 15.—Twenty-five hundred professors and students of Teachers' College, Columbia University, yesterday heard Dean James E. Russell, head of the school, a man steeped in learning of German universities and famous for his denunciations abroad in all phases of "German life," denounce Germany's emperor as a madman and his nation as "a neighbor broken loose from the moorings of civilization," says The Herald.

Dean Russell received the degree of doctor of philosophy from the University of Leipzig.

"This is not the time for propaganda nor the time to speak indignantly," he said. "It is the time for quiet thought and the time to measure our strength and possibilities."

No Respect for Militarism

"No one can accuse me of lack of sympathy for German education, service and efficiency. I have more friends in Germany than in England, France, Russia and Italy combined, and I have a deep sympathy for the German people. But I would never bring myself to respect the German military system. I myself have seen German officers prod women carrying babies, that they might pass on the sidewalk."

"It seems as though one of our neighbors has broken loose from the moorings of civilization and is destroying humanity under the leadership of a madman. A people numbering seven and one-half millions have been trampled upon, of whom hundreds of thousands must perish in a few weeks if it goes on. Millions of people on the eastern front have been subjected to similar treatment."

"God helping me, I am not willing to sacrifice that for which my forefathers fought and died, just to save my skin while I will not suffer that madman to go further, no matter what language he speaks."

FIXED FOOD PRICES SET FOR FRANCE

Food Ministry Stipulates Prices to be Paid for Milk, Butter, Cheese

NO CELEBRATION Of the Mardi Gras This Year, But Theatres Give Two Performances

By Courier Leased Wire.
Paris, Feb. 15.—The food ministry has decided that from February 19, maximum prices are to be fixed throughout France for milk, butter and cheese. In the Department of the Seine, including Paris, the price of milk must not exceed 10 cents for a litre—about a pint and three quarters. If bought in a shop, or eleven cents if delivered. The maximum price for butter vary from $1.12 to $1.34 per kilo—roughly two pounds. The only cheese prices fixed so far are canemuberle, from 13 cents to 26 cents the small box, and pont l'evre, at slightly higher prices. All prices must be conspicuously displayed in the shops concerned.

There will be no celebration of Mardi Gras next Tuesday, but all theatres will be permitted to give both morning and evening performances. The two-centre meal regulation, which applies to all hotels and restaurants goes into effect to-day.

Four anonymous letters have been received at the Chatham post-office during the past two days, in each of which threats have been made that the office will be blown up to-day.

Need for Action.

Washington, Feb. 15.—The Government began to-day to feel the insistent need for some sort of action upon to open a way for movement of shipping now held up in American ports by suspension of sailings on account of the German submarine campaign. Reports on the accumulating freight now are reaching officials regularly, and although the situation is not yet regarded as serious, it is apparent that American industries will be affected unless ocean shipping starts moving before long. At the present stage of development of the German-American situation, attention is centered on President Wilson by the growing belief that he will take no steps even to the furnishing of defensive armament to merchant ships, without first consulting Congress. Hourly interest is becoming keener as to whether the President will do this and when.

The sinking of the American schooner, Lyman M. Law, in the Mediterranean by an Austrian submarine, probably with warning, is regarded by officials here as illegal, in-

New York, Feb. 15.—A cablegram from F. W. McDonough, captain of the American schooner Lyman M. Law, which was sunk in the Mediterranean, was received to-day by the agents, the Maritime Transportation Company. The message reads:

"Law destroyed, Austrian submarine. Crew safe; Cagliari, Sardinia, F. W. McDonough."

SINKING OF AMERICAN SCHOONER LYMAN M. LAW COMBINED WITH THE LATEST AFFRONT ROUSES GREAT INDIGNATION AT WASHINGTON—CRISIS GROWS MORE GRAVE

By Courier Leased Wire.

Washington, Feb. 15.—Official word has been received here that Brand Whitlock, United States minister to Belgium, has been ordered by the German authorities to lower the American flag over the United States legation at Brussels.

While the news aroused deep feeling in official quarters and admittedly added to the tension of the situation with Germany, it appeared doubtful whether there was ground for taking action as Mr. Whitlock, while in Belgium has practically only represented the American relief work. The seat of the Belgian government now is at Havre, France.

Washington, Feb. 15.—While it still was indicated that the accumulation of violations of American rights might lead President Wilson to go before Congress at any time, it was stated to-day that he has made no definite plans for taking such a step immediately. When he will go before Congress, it was said, will depend entirely upon circumstances. The opinion grew among officials, however, that such a step would not be long deferred.

Nothing has been heard by the State department early to-day from Germany in reply to its inquiry as to the exact status of the Americans taken into Germany on the prize ship Yarrowdale. Likewise no news came from Ambassador Elkus at Constantinople about Americans in Turkey.

COLDEST WEATHER OF WAR DOES NOT HAMPER PRESSURE OF BRITISH FORCES

Gen. Haig Maintains Adroit Policy of Unceasing Bombardment Interspersed with Daily Raids on the Enemy Lines—Canadians Share in Forays

With the British Armies in France, via London, Feb. 15.—(By a staff correspondent of the Associated Press)—The past thirty hours have witnessed three of the British raids which are carried out daily and nightly with the object of making life unbearable to the Germans in the front line trenches. Two of the raids were conducted by the Canadians, who really invented the practice of trench raiding which has now spread throughout the British army. These raids, added to the steady progress by the British on both sides of the Aisne are evidence that the coldest weather of the war on this front has not stopped the constant worrying pressure that the British seek to exert upon the Germans. Old soldiers say that there is nothing quite so valuable as these minor operations for keeping the troops in fighting trim while nothing is so depressing and injurious to morale as the constant defensive winter opposite the British lines. In this respect the British are very unlike the French in their methods of winter warfare. General Haig's policy has been one of unceasing bombardment punctuated by daily raids and minor attacks, tactics which have brought in a constant stream of prisoners and inflicted a heavy toll of casualties on the Germans. The French on the other hand prefer lying quiet in their trenches for long periods and then attacking suddenly on a wide front in a sharp fierce combat. The British have not the same appreciation of the dramatic as the French, but believe implicitly in the efficacy of the steady grinding down process which they are carrying out. In their biggest raid the Canadians captured 47 prisoners of the Eleventh Bavarians, who only came into the lines yesterday. The Canadians remained in the German trenches for more than an hour and left them completely wrecked. Their most important work was probably the blowing in of four mine shafts by which they sealed in living tons, scores of Germans who were tunnelling toward the British lines. The Germans tried to cut off the Canadians with a double barrage fire and then attacked, but they only succeeded in inflicting a few casualties.

RUSSIAN AND GERMAN JOIN IN WOLF HUNT

During Encounter on the Polish Front, Wolves Attacked the Combatants

TWO SIDES UNITED In Suspending Hostilities and Joined Against the Marauders

Petrograd, Feb. 15.—A wolf hunt in which both Russian and German soldiers joined, is described in correspondence from the Polish front. Parties of Russian and German scouts met recently and were hotly engaged in a skirmish when a large pack of wolves dashed on the scene and attacked the wounded. Hostilities were at once suspended and Germans and Russians instinctively attacked the pack, killing about fifty of the wolves. After the hunt the soldiers separated, each party returning unmolested to its own trenches.

Wolves Dangerous.

Along some sectors of this front hungry wolves have been particularly bold this winter, constituting a real danger to outposts of both armies, and repeatedly the combatants have to send out hunting parties against the common enemy. While at this sort of work sniping is suspended by a sort of tacit agreement among opposing forces.

Arch-Hun Gives Utterance to Even Greater Hypocrisy Than Ever; Shadow of Crime Hanging Over Entente

By Courier Leased Wire.
Amsterdam, via London, Feb. 15.—The German newspapers print telegrams from Vienna describing a conversation between the German emperor and Dr. Hans Mueller, the "poet of royalty" at Hofburg. Dr. Mueller mentioned the emperor's letter to Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg supporting the peace offer of the Central Powers. The emperor replied:

"The letter had to be written. Now the entire world knows who is imposing further tortures on mankind. Is it already forgotten that the Entente protects the murderers of Archduke Francis Ferdinand? When I saw to-day the land steward of my late friend it was strongly impressed on me that from the beginning the shadow of crime has been hanging over our enemies."

"On our side are right and morality, and to make these triumph every clean weapon must be welcome to us. Look at the European neutrals. Read the Swedish reply. It is a document written as if for eternity. Now all neutrals know how they must estimate our strength and also our will for peace. For the first time, in a certain sense, the declared time, in a certain sense, is against the Anglo-Saxon world. Napoleon's continental blockade becomes a reality which hits England harder than anything heretofore."

Amsterdam, via London, Feb. 15.—The majority of the German troops recently concentrated on the eastern border of Holland now have disappeared from the front, according to reports received by The Handelsblad.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE LADIES' GOLF CLUB

The annual meeting of the ladies section of the Brantford Golf and Country Club was held in the Public Library Wednesday afternoon, 14th February. The President, Mrs. Yates presided.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

The Convenor of the Match Committee's report was as follows:

Match Committee Report
The Match Committee of the Brantford Ladies' Golf Club, for 1916, consisted of the following, Miss Schell, Convenor, Mrs. Leeming, Mrs. Neill, Mrs. Hewitt, Misses Gibson, E. Bunnell, Powell and Raymond.

Two members of the committee took charge of the play for two months of the golfing season, which opened in May and finished in October, when the trophies that had been donated and won, were presented.

Very little playing was done with outside clubs, for our club is agreed with others not to play matches away from home until the war is over. However, we did have a friendly game with Galt, motoring over one afternoon. Galt was able to arrange a return game.

We played once in Paris and the Paris ladies came here, being victorious both times, over our players.

On the whole, there was an average amount of golf played and of a very fair kind, but the unusual heat of last summer made the game almost prohibitive for days at a time.

Our President, Mrs. Yates, gave a silver cup for which the committee entered the name of every playing member. Miss Gibson was the winner and Miss Bennett won the runner up prize, given by Mrs. Leeming.

A great deal of friendly rivalry was shown in the playing for Mr. George Watt's prize, a silver vase, given for the best single score, throughout the season, Mrs. Leeming being the winner.

A putting and approaching prize of a silver candle stick was given by Mrs. Neill, for the best score for balls played from three distances. The score of eight was held by several and it looked as if this would have to be competed for, when Miss Gibson made the remarkable score of seven, thus winning out.

Miss Gibson gave a vase for the best score made on the putting oval; five players tied, played off and left two still a tie. This play of resulted in Mrs. Leeming winning with a score of 37.

There were several Field Days, and mixed foursomes. Entrances fees were charged, the proceeds being for the Red Cross. Also we had one or two games with the men players, one game of "Pool Golf" creating much interest and developing unknown skill with certain clubs. For instance, a drive across the gravel quarry with a putter, and a driver, skillfully manipulating a tricky putt.

It is to be regretted that no new players were added to the L.G.U., but we expect that some of our promising younger members will become interested in this very important branch of the golfing game as it creates and sustains interest and generally improves the game.

Secretary's Report
In reviewing the past season's events at the club, it is gratifying to note that although a sporting club, it has not been all "play" without the "pay," the latter usually being given to some patriotic organization and not one cent on prizes all year.

The opening tea was held on 13th May, the executive committee being the hostesses. The weather was ideal and there was a record attendance. A putting contest took place on the oval for prizes kindly donated by

COL. S. C. NEWBURN
A. A. G., 1st Division, who is said to be slated for important post of director of Canadian Militia Mobilization.

NEWS OF NORFOLK

James Robb, For Many Years Judge of Norfolk County, Passes Away DIED IN TORONTO

Better Farming Special Train Visited Simcoe Yesterday

Change of address, News items or requests for insertion of names on subscription list, should be sent to County Agency, Box 311, Simcoe, or phone 356-3. The Courier is delivered for 25 cents a month, strictly in advance, or may be obtained at Jackson's Drug Store at 2 cents a copy.

Simcoe, Feb. 15.—From our own correspondent—There died in Toronto yesterday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Holmstead, to whose home he had gone to pass the winter, James Robb, County Judge of Norfolk from 1890 to 1914. News of his death was received here with sincere regret. Judge Robb was the fifth judge of Norfolk county. His predecessors were William Salmon, 1845-1868, William Mercer Wilson, 1868-1875, Thomas Robinson Mahon, 1875-1885, and Robert Thompson Livingstone, 1885-1890.

Judge Robb, previous to his appointment, was connected with the law firm of Tisdale and Livingstone. He married a daughter of Judge Salmon, who predeceased him several years, without issue. The funeral will be held on Friday, interment taking place here at 10 a.m. on Friday. Judge Robb was a man of fine instincts and somewhat of a retiring disposition. He was superannuated on account of failing health, but continued to take a very active interest in public matters and questions of the day. He felt keenly his retirement, remarking on one occasion that the thought made him feel as if he was no longer of any service in anyway.

He leaves a very fine residential property here, the disposition of which has not been learned.

Scientific Farming.

Yesterday brought out the modern farmer. The Better Farming special train was here, in charge of Director J. W. Clark and a liberal staff of demonstrators—one of the "better" features, Poultry, Market Gardening, Household Conveniences (with a lady demonstrator) Fungus diseases, weeds, getting out of condition both with regard to spraying and pruning, and there was pronounced evidence of decline in the industry here. He urged better concerted effort to keep up the standard.

Apple Grafting in Norfolk Decent.

While lecturing in the town hall in the evening, Mr. W. F. Kidd, of the Department of Agriculture Fruit Branch, remarked that Norfolk orchards were getting out of condition both with regard to spraying and pruning, and there was pronounced evidence of decline in the industry here. He urged better concerted effort to keep up the standard.

W. A. McCubbin, M.A., gave an interesting address on "Potato Diseases," and stuck well to his subject. He got through with some 20 diseases, urged a careful selection and treatment of all stock for planting, and insisted that plants afflicted by "Mosaic," "curly leaf," or "leaf roll," should be pulled up while yet green from any patch from which seed potatoes are to be produced.

Wonderful Pork Production

Duncan Anderson, of the live stock branch, Ottawa, was exceedingly interesting. He traced the history of the development of pork export from Canada. It took 8 years, 1896-1904, to educate the Canadian farmer to produce the bacon hog instead of the fat hog, and at the latter date the annual export netted 15 million dollars. This gradually decreased a million a year, till in 1914 the net was sent Billions. The Danes took the trade and controlled the British market at the outbreak of the war. In 1915 we sent over 11 millions worth, and last year 25 million dollars worth. The Danes are supplying Germany.

How to Hold the Market

The speaker claimed that Canada can now hold the British market by (a) producing the proper bacon hog, York, tamworth and improved Birk, and by giving the packers a regular and even supply. He claimed that Poland-China, Duroc-Jersey and Goodhull were types entirely unsuited for the export trade.

Cherry Valley Farmers' Club Hears Lectures

About forty members of the Cherry Valley Farmers' Club assembled in the School House last evening and listened to P. J. Carey, of Toronto, Dominion Expert Fruit Demonstrator, in a timely address on co-operative marketing and the advantages of the Farmers' Club, after which R. R. Waddle, Dominion Fruit Inspector, discussed the "General Care of Young Orchards and Varieties."

Town Council in Session

The town fathers spent three hours last night in committee of the whole formulating the general policy for the various departments for the year. Informally it was decided (a) to use a lighter oil for street lighting, (b) to remove dead and objectionable trees by the corporation employees during spare time and

Cent on Having Order

The management in charge of the Y. M. C. A. campaign have announced that there will be no room for children under 15 at this evening's mass meeting. This is the second enjoiner. On Saturday hand bills were passed round by the I. O. O. E. advising children unaccompanied by their parents to forget about the function at the Armories. So many public meetings during the past two years have been disorderly in the extreme that failure on the part of the authorities to eject the offenders, the entire youth of the town has to suffer and it looks as if the innocent youth will of necessity be compelled to discipline their unruly cotems.

If the announcement is carried out the adult attendance this evening will be grateful in the enjoyment of one orderly public meeting. It is possible, however, that in the past the offenders were not all of tender years.

The remains of Mrs. M. Partridge, who was burned to death in Hamilton were brought here to-night and taken to her home on Chapel St. While putting coal in a stove, some clothing which was hanging above the stove fell and caught fire, Mrs. Partridge in rescuing these, set her own clothes on fire and was so badly burned that she died in a few hours. She was 80 years old. The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon from her late residence on Chapel St. to Woodhouse Methodist cemetery.

R. N. McFarlane was elected president of the Kingston Conservative Association.

THE SITUATION.

If there is one thing which marks the British character more than any other it is persistent doggedness, and this trait Haig's men on the Somme front are exhibiting in a notable manner. Yesterday they added to their previous daily achievement by taking a strong enemy point southeast of Grandcourt, and making a big raid northeast of Arras when the defences of the foe were penetrated to a depth of two hundred and fifty yards.
 Heavy fighting has been resumed on the Rumanian front, with admitted reverses to the Russian forces. On the Balkan front also the Huns attacked the Italian lines and carried some ground only to lose most of it again in counter attacks.
 The increased submarine activity resulted in the destruction yesterday of eight British vessels. The list includes two trawlers and the total tonnage lost was 15,000. It seems to be the general opinion that the new menace is not going to achieve what was expected. It is reported that on Tuesday last more vessels arrived and departed from British ports than on any previous day in six months.
 An American ship, the Lyman M. Law, has also been sent to the bottom, but Washington has not yet made up its mind as to whether this is the "over" act.

THE MILITIA ACT.

The opinion is steadily gaining ground in practically all sections that the Militia Act will have to be invoked if Canada is to make up her promised total of 500,000 men and make good the losses sustained at the front.
 The Courier has for some time voiced the view that some definite action should be taken in this regard and each day still further brings home the truth of it.
 Appeals at recruiting meetings these days are falling upon deaf ears, or more properly speaking, ears which should hear them are not there, and the whole situation has become more or less of a dead lock.
 It is not right, and never has been right, that some families should give sons to the cause and others none at all. The crisis is not ended by any means and steps should be taken to make those eligibles who will not offer, also bear their fair share of the fighting.

A YEAR TOO SOON

A German named Rathenau, who had charge of the official organization of industrial establishments in the Hun empire before the war, wrote a letter in the "Berliner Lokal Anzeiger" last November, which has just seen the light of day through the medium of a translation sent to the New York Tribune. Here is an extract from the document:
 "We began the war a year too soon. When we have secured a German peace we must begin at once reorganization upon a broader and firmer basis than ever before. Establishments that produce raw materials essential to the army must not only continue their work, but enter into it upon lines of increased energy, forming thus the kernel of economic Germany in preparing in an economic sense for the next war. We must carefully calculate in advance, in view of the lessons learned in this war, what our country lacks in raw material and secure immense reserves to remain unused until a day in the future. We must organize as genuine an industrial mobilization as we had a military mobilization. Every technician or semi-technician enrolled or not in the list of mobilized, must be empowered through official credentials to take charge and direction of a given establishment upon the second day following a new declaration of war. Every establishment manufacturing for commercial purposes must be mobilized also and understand officially that upon the third day after declaration of war their entire abilities are to be devoted to serving the army upon demand.
 "It must also be determined in advance just what quantities and sort of essentials such establishments can furnish the army in a given time. Each establishment also should be required to furnish a detailed list of workmen who can be dispensed with, these alone to be mobilized in the military sense.
 "We must finally establish some definite commercial understanding with nations outside Europe that will offer them advantages to be duly specified in detail whereby these nations, as neutrals, will find it to their direct disadvantage commercially to trade or sell munitions during war to either ourselves or our enemies. We can afford to offer such conditions ourselves. And, finally, when the next war comes, it must not be a year too soon."

Without doubt, this man voices the innate feelings of the Prussian outfit, and the fact adds still further to the wisdom of the Allies in their determination to deliver a crushing defeat to the Teuton hordes which will last not only for the present, but will also constitute a guarantee for generations to come. There can be no pandering or half measures with such a foe, and the Hun wings will have to be clipped right back of the ears.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

First thing Uncle Sam knows he'll stub his toe hurrying to get into the war.
 Of all the sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest are these "an empty bin."

Haig's men seem to have caught the nibbling habit first inaugurated by Joffre.

Old Sol is commencing to warm to his work as an earnest of the approaching gladsome summer time.

It is not so very long ago that those who hoped for an Imperial trade preference within the Empire were dubbed, in certain quarters, as idle dreamers. The war among other things has brought the plan into the realm of practical politics and the London Times is of the opinion that "public opinion and the pressure of events have already settled the issue in advance." It is coming all right.

Mr. Lanctot, Liberal member for LaPrairie, during the recent session of the Dominion House, used this language, according to the Hansard report:—

"I wish to register my protest against the ruinous methods employed by this government in connection with the expenditures of the war as far as Canada is concerned. We have been asked in the past to contribute several million dollars which we have done graciously. We are now facing a new demand for $500,000,000. This is going too far altogether.
 "I furthermore protest against the sending overseas of any more Canadian soldiers. . . . We have at the present time in a round figure probably 325,000 men overseas. This number I consider to be quite sufficient.
 "It seems to me that when Canada sent overseas 50,000 or 75,000 or even 100,000 soldiers at $1.00 per day, we should have stopped at that."

Complaints of non-delivery of The Courier in Paris, should be telephoned to Norman Flahiff, phone 15, who has been appointed The Courier Agent.

Paris, Feb. 15th.—The communists were shocked yesterday afternoon when they heard of the deplorable accident which had befallen Mrs. George Johnson, Walnut Street. It appears that she had been fixing the stove shortly after dinner and carried the ashes out doors in the pan. In doing that she noticed her apron on fire, and being unable to beat out the blaze which had by this time extended to her dress, ran screaming to her next door neighbor, Mrs. Silverthorne. By this time the poor woman was a mass of flames. Mrs. Silverthorne and a male boarder had their hands badly burned tearing the remnants from her body. Medical aid was at once summoned, and Mrs. Johnson was found to be badly burned from her knees to her head, her chest and hands being penetrated to the bone. Practically only her corsets were left and these had to be cut off, which will show how badly she is suffering. The Doctor holds but little hope for her recovery. Mrs. Johnson is still at the home of Mrs. Silverthorne, as her condition was too serious to have her removed.
 Arrangements are being made to have Ven. Archdeacon Cody, of Toronto, address the Patriotic meeting which is to be held in the Presbyterian church, Monday evening. Failing Archdeacon Cody, Rev. Fotheringham of Grace Church, Brantford, will give an address. Rev. Mr. Woodside of Brantford as well as other prominent men will also be here to speak. It is to be hoped that the

TRANQUILITY MEETING

Editor Courier
 Sir: I note in your issue of Wednesday re Red Cross Meeting at "Tranquility." I do not wish to keep up the controversy further than to say I am prepared why shake any statement made in my previous letter. It was not my intention to give a wrong impression nor am I responsible for any wrong views that may have been taken from anything I said or wrote. I am not acquainted with the community, neither do I know how many men have enlisted nor how many eligibles are left. I did say that there were about 33 young men in the audience but did not know how many were either prepared or able or willing to go. If the people of "Tranquility" should object to anyone speaking on behalf of their King and Country, I am told that one of the young men who took part in the meeting said he would raise if there was any speaking on recruiting. If that is so, why should any man refuse if his conscience is clear. Mr. Dundas says, "that consent was freely given and that the chairman was asked more than once and again from the audience and only after getting the consent of the meeting was the speaker allowed to say anything." The writer states the truth, however, about zero weather outside and the temperature inside was very much below zero as far as recruiting was concerned.
 As for bullyingragging I am not quite sure as to what that word means, not being able to find it in the dictionary. If he means bullying, which is to abuse grossly, I would like to ask Mr. Dundas to prove that I made any gross statements. As to "funny stories," it is very unfortunate that after two and a half years of war we should regard recruiting as a joke. As to "comparisons," Mr. Dundas says, "There weren't any" except from some boys in the corner. I venture to say that the boys in the corner would make one of the finest looking sections in the 215th Battalion, if a tactful, responsible speaker could induce them to do the khaki. Then there was the interruption from some ladies, which, as in this territory for the past seven weeks, the pulling power of the locomotives on the Grand Trunk has decreased over fifty per cent. The joke is that the second letter criticizing the community.
 Mr. Dundas speaks about the scarcity of men for farm work. Only recently there appeared in the paper a statement from one of the writers that this is the second letter with 500 applications for work and 400 of them were from farmers' sons.
 In the Expositor of Tuesday, re recruiting in Paris. We were informed that the majority of single men who are working on munitions are from the surrounding towns and villages, mostly farmers' sons. As to sneering at young men entertaining an audience with jokes, etc., if he can do the khaki, wouldn't it be a better policy to sneer at such rather than interrupting him as he is getting on his feet. As to getting substitutes to take the place of young men on the farm, is there not at least one case in this community where a farmer's son went west probably to get into the army and was replaced by an older man who was not eligible and when the young man returned the older man was dismissed. Now, Sir, I am accused of being zealous in a worthy cause and also of accusing others of a lack of interest in the great need of the hour, is not this at least something to be proud of.
 In conclusion let me say that my only reason for writing this letter is to confirm all that I have previously said and that I am prepared to stand by any statements that I have made, and as nothing further can be gained by reply to any further statements I will conclude.

citizens will turn out in large numbers.
 Last evening the Maple Leaf Patriotic Club entertained the members of the 215th Battalion. An enjoyable evening was spent in music, cards and dancing. A sumptuous lunch was served by the young ladies, to which all the boys did ample justice.
 $250 damage was done in the Arlington kitchen, through the explosion of the water front in the range. Fortunately no one was in the kitchen at the time, or else serious results might have happened.
 Lance-Corp. Barrowcliffe who was wounded some time ago at the front returned to town this week.

Railways Strive to Improve Coal Trouble

Big Drive to Take Place at Bridgeburg to Relieve Congestion; Plenty of Coal to Be Had If It Can Be Transported

Bridgeburg, Feb. 15.—Railway officials to-day started the big coal drive in the local terminal with a vim. They concentrated their efforts on a particular section of the terminal, with the result that a considerable amount of coal was moved. The quantity was the largest that has left here since last fall. Just as soon as solid trains were made up engines were in readiness to haul them away. Most of the consignments were exclusively coal trains, with odd cars of coal sand-washed into ordinary freight trains also. Every available section of the terminal was put into service. The officials announced that Sir Harry Drayton, the Chairman of the Dominion Railway Commission, had urged that they stretch a point in order to break up the congested condition of the terminal. With a continuance of the warm sunshine they hope to be able to clear up the congested situation considerably within the next ten days.

Railwaymen Convinced of Need
 The railway officials have been warned by Sir Harry Drayton that radical measures will be employed by the Dominion Railway Commissioners if they fail to remedy the situation. The railway men are convinced that the congestion has become a real menace to life and property. The conditions of the terminal on the Canadian side of the Niagara frontier shows the existing congestion to be the worst that has been experienced since the Grand Trunk and C. P. R. lost control of the situation last fall. Yards are blocked, deliveries are belated, business houses in every part of Ontario are sustaining repeated losses, and the people in general are being subjected to artificial prices for this much needed commodity.

Cold Weather's Effect.
 The failure of the Canadian railways to keep open their yards has rendered the consumers almost helpless. In the severe cold weather, such as in this territory for the past seven weeks, the pulling power of the locomotives on the Grand Trunk has decreased over fifty per cent. The joke is that the second letter criticizing the community.
 Mr. Dundas speaks about the scarcity of men for farm work. Only recently there appeared in the paper a statement from one of the writers that this is the second letter with 500 applications for work and 400 of them were from farmers' sons.
 In the Expositor of Tuesday, re recruiting in Paris. We were informed that the majority of single men who are working on munitions are from the surrounding towns and villages, mostly farmers' sons. Now, Sir, I am accused of being zealous in a worthy cause and also of accusing others of a lack of interest in the great need of the hour, is not this at least something to be proud of.

I. HEWITSON

Motive Power Crippled.
 The railway officials claim that this is not the only problem that they are called upon to face. They admit that never before was the locomotive power of the Grand Trunk in such a wretched condition. This is particularly handicapped by the large number of engines which have been chipped. The one in khaki and call him "irresponsible." Again as to getting substitutes to take the place of young men on the farm, is there not at least one case in this community where a farmer's son went west probably to get into the army and was replaced by an older man who was not eligible and when the young man returned the older man was dismissed. Now, Sir, I am accused of being zealous in a worthy cause and also of accusing others of a lack of interest in the great need of the hour, is not this at least something to be proud of.

I. HEWITSON

Perplexing Tangle of Cars.
 There are in the terminals here and at Black Rock and Welland, as well as along the sidings extending from here to Welland, about ten thousand cars of coal, which the railways have been unable to move out of the tangled thousands of freight cars. These cars have to be moved. The task is one of gigantic proportions. The railway officials secretly know at which end of the terminals to start. Instructions have been issued to the superintendents at the local terminals to prevent trespassers, mostly coal agents, who have been camping in the yards in an effort to locate cars consigned to customers, from entering the yards. The officials say the present does not help the situation, because of their eagerness to bribe railway yardmen in an effort to get their cars shunted to sidings. They have been very generous in handing out money, which the officials have concluded has had a demoralizing effect upon employees.
Drastic Action Threatened
 The Canadian officials say they are anxious to get the coal moving, because the American railways have been warned by the Public Service Commission of Buffalo that drastic action will be instituted if operating officials do not speedily resort to a shaking-up process in the Buffalo terminals, which are clogged up to a much greater extent than those on the Canadian side of the border. Besides several thousand cars of coal in consigned to the yards, which are in the Buffalo terminals, there are three thousand loaded freight cars which the Canadian railways are unable to handle. They have been there for weeks. With thousands of coal cars within their grasp, the situation in Buffalo is even worse than in Toronto. The cars are there, but it is another matter to get them out.
Situation Worst in Thirty Years
 Mr. J. Maguire of the Queen City Coal & Coke Co., with headquarters in Buffalo who handles several thousand cars of coal annually for Canadian manufacturers and coal dealers, frankly admitted that during his 30 years in the business, the existing condition was the most serious that he had ever witnessed. Mr. Maguire declared that the end of the coal trouble was not in sight. He predicted that even after the terminals on both sides of the border had been partly cleared, a continuance of the

RENT FREE CAMPAIGN

Private Tutt, of the 215th Battalion and his assistants who have in charge the campaign to secure monthly subscriptions towards securing houses and flats for the families of married men who enlist during the month of February, has been successful after the conclusion of the Patriotic Fund Campaign, during which no efforts were made to approach citizens in order not to indirectly conflict with the Fund campaigns. The endeavour to secure funds for this scheme, fostered by Pte. Tutt has met with good success and at the end of February the results will be divided, and the allotments made.

HOUSE OF REFUGE

HOCKEY.

The signallers of the 215th battalion throughout the winter have displayed a great interest in sports and at the present time there are many activities in this regard, especially in hockey. Last night they met and defeated the C.I.C. class of Wellington Street Sunday School by four goals to three, at the Alfred St. rink. To-night the victors of last night's game will journey to Paris where they will play with a team chosen from the Penman factory there, on whose line-up there are several players who figured on the junior O.H.A. team here this year. The soldiers have a speedy aggregation however, and promise to give the Paris boys a battle royal.

HIGH SCHOOL CLUB

The regular weekly meeting of the High School Club was held in the Y. M. C. A., Tuesday night, at which there was a splendid attendance. Several important matters were discussed, and it was decided to hold the annual sleigh-ride of the club on Tuesday night, February 20th. The members are also to assist in the "Clean Language" campaign. A feature of the meeting was a brief address by Mr. Chris. Cook, of the Board of Directors of the "Y," whose talk was based on congratulation of the success being experienced by the club. The hostesses for the evening were Mesdames Chris. Cook, D. Williamson, J. F. Schultz, Joseph Rudy, and Miss Britton. A very acceptable addition to the sumptuous supper provided by the ladies was a donation of fourteen pies, the gift of Frank Whittaker.

MAYOR ON THE COAL QUESTION

Hopes for Relief, But Sees No Necessity of Further Curtailment of Passenger Service

The following telegram has been received by Mayor Bowly from the Toronto Daily News, in regard to the coal situation:

In view of the serious coal situation, are you in favor of a further curtailment of passenger train service until full shortage is relieved. Please write reply.

TORONTO NEWS. To which he has replied:— Brantford, Feb. 12, 1917. The News, Toronto.

The pressure must instantly be relieved, so that coal may be obtained in this cold country. I observe by the press that Sir Henry Dwyton says that it has been accomplished by the assistance of locomotives from the American Railways. If that be so, there would seem no necessity for further action.

J. W. BOWLBY, Mayor of Brantford.

TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL MEETS

Considers Once More Street Railway Question—Other Business Transacted

Street railway matters were once more before the trades and labor council at its meeting last night, when representatives from the employees of the railway as well as a number of the members of the council spoke upon the subject. On motion of Messrs. Keen and Kye, the council will send to the City Council a request that that body ask the Board of Railway Commissioners to reconsider their decision as to an immediate increase in salaries for the employees. Messrs. Noble and Gould were appointed to confer with Mr. Felix Consovitich on the question of sending a delegation of foreigners of the city to the council for an airing of their grievances.

The council went on record as expressing its approval of the resolution to be introduced to the City Council on Monday night by Aid. Symons favoring a democratization of the present system of police commission administration.

An acknowledgment was received from Premier Borden of the resolution forwarded from the Trades and Labor Council calling upon the government of the country to resign. A vote of thanks was passed to the Knights of Pythias for the use of their hall last week.

The council recommended the introduction of industrial and social literature into the public library.

Extend Terms of Aldermen

City Clerk J. Albert Pay, of St. Catharines, has notified city clerk H. F. Leonard that the city council of that city intend to make application at the forthcoming session of the Legislature to establish municipal coal yards, bakery, etc., and to extend the time of aldermen from one year to three years. The committee in charge of the bill desire the cooperation of Brantford, which they say has experienced the same difficulties as met with by them. It was thought that by joining forces the two cities would obtain a better hearing from the Hon. L. B. Lucas, attorney General.

BULLET FELL FROM POUCH

Which was Responsible for Death of Pte. Jones at St. Catharines SERGEANT FROST Is Exonerated From Blame By the Military Court

Niagara Falls, Ont., Feb. 14.—Coroner E. T. Kellam's jury, which last night inquired into the death of Pte. John W. Jones, killed by the accidental discharge on Saturday of a machine gun while it was being demonstrated to a class of soldiers of the Frontier Guard, found that the projectile which struck Jones had fallen out of Frost's bullet pouch.

Sergt. Frost in his evidence said that he had taken off the bullet pouch so as to have better freedom, and laid it on the table beside the machine gun, and that it was possible for a live shell to have fallen out, in which case the live shell was probably picked up by mistake for a dummy. The jury made the suggestion that the pouch belt be laid on the table.

The military court which investigated the matter exonerated the Sergeant, it is understood. Jones not having any relatives here and the authorities being unable to locate any in England, it was decided to bury him here, and the funeral took place with full military honors.

HUMANITARIAN?

By Courier Leased Wire. Mexico City, Feb. 15.—The Mexican papers reiterate to-day that Gen. Carranza's note to neutral nations was based on purely humanitarian grounds, and was neither pro-German nor directed against the United States. The editorials say that it is unlikely that Mexico would risk the hostility of a neighbor in favor of the doubtful friendship of a nation that is far away.

CUBAN SITUATION

By Courier Leased Wire. Havana, Feb. 15.—Latest reports from Las Villas show that the Conservatives have a large majority in the re-election. Three rebels and two troops were killed in a fight between insurgents under Balderme Acosta and forces under Col. Carillo. At Manguaray, rebels under Joaquin Gomez were dispersed by troops who captured arms and horses.

SERIOUS BLAZE AT VERITY PLANT

Fire in Cupola Rooms There Last Night Did Considerable Damage

The most difficult of access, and dangerous fire with which the local firemen have had to deal for over a year, occurred at the factory of the Verity Frow Company last night. An alarm was received at five minutes to eight, to which the East End department and the motor truck from the central station responded. On arriving on the scene, the fire fighters found that the blaze was located in the cupola rooms adjoining the main foundry building. The flames had become lodged in between the galvanized iron ceiling and the wooden flooring above on the first storey, and on the second floor between the galvanized iron ceiling and the gravel roof. The intense heat and the acid smoke at first prevented the firemen from entering the structure, but by the application of five lines of hose, they were gradually enabled to work their way in, and get the fire under control. The fight was discouraging, for no sooner were the flames under control in one place, than they leaped forth in another. Chief Lewis and his men labored hard to prevent the fire from becoming a general conflagration and enveloping the foundry and other departments of the factory. Finally the trouble was placed under control at 12 o'clock, although the building itself was practically a wreck. The majority of the firemen returned, a few remaining on guard to prevent another outbreak, but they also returned at half past two this morning. The damage, which was considerable, owing to the total destruction of the cupola building, has not yet been estimated. General Manager and Vice-President W. J. Verity stated to the Courier this morning, however, that the entire loss was covered by insurance, and that work would be resumed in about a week.

NAMES WANTED BY COL. WILLIAMS

Chief Recruiting Officer of District Writes to Lt.-Col. Snider for Lists

Lt.-Col. George H. Williams, chief recruiting officer for Military Division number two, has written Lt.-Col. H. E. Snider, of the 215th battalion, asking him to forward a list of the eligibles in this recruiting area. He wishes to tabulate the number of this division, showing each county, and where possible, each township. He would also like to know what organizations have been in charge of the work and the officials who have directed it.

The Brant County Recruiting League, and the 215th battalion will be represented at a meeting to be held in Simcoe tonight in connection with a campaign in progress there with the object of raising funds to carry on Y. M. C. A. work overseas. Mr. W. G. Raymond will be present and will deliver an address while it is expected that Captain S. E. McKegney will also speak. The brass band of the battalion will be in attendance to enliven the proceedings.

Captain Conover, who has charge of bayonet fighting and physical drill for this military division was here this morning interviewing Lt.-Col. Snider regarding more commendable accommodation for the teaching of this drill.

Private H. E. Harris of the 215th battalion has been transferred to the divisional signal company, Ottawa.

In this morning's orders the transfer of Pte. P. E. Wilson from the 223rd battalion, C. E. F., to the 215th battalion, C. E. F., was announced.

Private C. D. Dowman has been discharged from the unit as medically unfit.

A supply of coal was received at the armories yesterday afternoon, and the men were therefore able to occupy their quarters at the barracks again last night.

Alterations are being made to the canteen at the Armories, a wire netting being erected, enclosing the dispensary of eatables.

OFFICIAL REPORT Tells of the Annihilation of the I. O. O. F. Tenants

(Exclusive to The Courier) Brantford, Feb. 15.—A sweeping victory for the forces of The Courier over the enemy is recorded in an official statement issued at the war office here to-day. During the battle, which was of soot and heat and of exceeding fierceness, the enemy entrenchment lines were pierced on four occasions and the encounter terminated in a crushing defeat for the marauding Expositors, upon whom very heavy losses were inflicted. The text of the official statement follows:

"A violent engagement took place last evening on the Alfred Street front when our forces met and repelled with their subsequent strong marauding party of the enemy. The engagement commenced at the hour of six o'clock in the evening, and endured until the night, during which time our troops were four times successful in penetrating the enemy lines. Though the two forces were numerically equal, the superiority of the morale of our men was so marked that victory was assured from the outset of the battle.

"The first penetration of the enemy lines was made by General A. Donohue, who shortly after the commencement of the engagement succeeded in entering their trenches by means of a corner attack. A small detachment of the enemy soon afterward succeeded for the moment in entering our lines, but a vigorous counter-offensive launched by our troops compelled them to evacuate hastily. Their subsequent attacks failed to gain another foothold. Skirmishing continued in front of both our trenches and those of the enemy, and two more successful attacks upon the enemy lines were delivered in the early stages of the battle by Gen. McGowan and Gen. Donohue, offensives being launched in quick succession.

Gen. McGowan was also successful for a second time in penetrating the enemy defence in the latter part of the engagement, and in taking the fourth line of entrenchments, bringing the battle to a victorious close for our troops and leaving the enemy so badly shattered that few are expected to survive the encounter.

NOTES OF THE GAME

And it was some game. Who said hockey? Once again, The Courier, "Supreme in Everything." Are they satisfied? If not, they should be.

Upon mature deliberation, the promoters of the Expositor club have decided to postpone application for entry to the N.H.A. Two out of three. Eight goals to six. And we are ready for another game at any time.

Partridge made a bird of a goal-keeper, and let only one strange egg into his nest.

Donohue and Shaw received the only penalties of the game, being accorded a five minutes' rest cure simultaneously in the second half.

The many friends and acquaintances of Wilcott D. Reeves of The Expositor, will be pleased to learn that he escaped with his life after discharging the duties of referee.

Pittman's shorthand availed The Expositor nothing.

Wes Downey wore out his stick in the first five minutes of the game, and had to return to the base depot for reinforcements.

Once again it is re-iterated—it was SOME GAME.

BOWLING

Zion and Verity bowling teams met on the Y. M. C. A. alley last night, the former winning all three games and incidentally shattering the league record for three games. Every man on the Zion team was over the 500 mark—it was the best score ever turned in by a four-man team on the Y. M. C. A. alleys. Bob Hope was the leader, but only surpassed the other members of the team by having a few pins to start with. Joe Van Iderstein worked hard for the Verity team to no avail. The scores:

716 662 707—2085 Splits and Strikes: Joe Van Iderstein—"Gosh, you fellows are bowling some."

Frank Kingdon had hard luck, if splits counted as strikes, Frank would have had some score. Beatty and McCaw bowled consistently throughout.

Jim Douglas and Bob Hope were the only bowlers over 200 for a single.

Zion seems to have a strange hold on the second series. Somebody suggested that all the teams attend Zion church.

TAKEN BY CUSTOMS

(Associated Press) London, Feb. 15.—A half-dozen large American department stores could be stocked with the great mass of merchandise now in possession of the English custom officers. The goods have been seized under the blockade at sea, and in part under the British customs laws as being of suspected enemy origin. The articles include almost everything from pins to pianos. The bulk of the goods came from Scandinavian ports and were consigned to nearly every country outside the British Empire.

HEROIC GENERALS OF BRITISH ARMY

Names of Divisional Commanders Who Did Great Work on the Somme

IN THE DESPATCHES

Sir Hubert Gough and Sir Henry Rawlinson Fine Soldiers

The names of two divisional commanders stand out pre-eminently in Field Marshal Haig's recent despatch—General Sir Hubert Gough and General Sir Henry Rawlinson. Their job was to hold the Hume along the whole Somme front, to harass them and give them, and give them no rest or respite, anywhere, leaving General Haig free to push home his main attacks. How well they succeeded let Sir Douglas say: "Their thorough knowledge of their profession," he writes, "and their cool and sound judgement, tact and determination, proved fully equal to every call on them. They entirely justified their selection for such responsible commands."

Served Under Kitchener: Of the two men General Sir Henry Rawlinson is probably the best known by name to the man on the street. "Sennacherib" Rawlinson they call in the Army—a nickname reminiscent of his Egyptian days, when his father, Sir Henry Creswick Rawlinson, the well-known traveller and Oriental scholar, unearthed the burial place of that famous Assyrian monarch.

Like so many commanders who have won fame in the present world war, Rawlinson is a "Kitchener's man." He served under him in Egypt, in South Africa, and elsewhere, and "K. of K." trusted him and believed in him implicitly.

General Rawlinson began his army career in the King's Royal Rifles in 1884, afterwards exchanging into the Coldstream Guards. His first job in the present war was in connection with the evacuation of Antwerp, when Lord Kitchener sent him out from London at a few hours' notice to take command of the force of the Belgian army from that city.

Later he fought under French at Ypres, and he commanded the Fourth Army corps at the stubborn but indecisive battle of Neuve Chapelle.

General Gough: General Sir Hubert de la Poer Gough, K.C.B., to give him his full name, is one of the "Fighting Goughs" of Wiltshire, a family that has bred soldiers for the Empire for many generations.

His father, Sir Charles Gough gained his V.C. during the Indian Mutiny for saving the life of his own brother, also a V.C. man, and Sir Hubert's younger brother, Colonel John Gough, won his in Somaliland some years back. This constitutes a record. No other family can claim three of its members have been recipients of the coveted order. Born forty-five years ago General Gough was gazetted from Sandhurst to the 16th Lancers in 1889. He first saw active service in the Tihrah campaign eight years later, earning a medal and two clasps. He was in the South African war, and he was in the thick of the fighting outside Ladysmith, where he was severely wounded. He was awarded for his services out there the Queen's medal with five clasps, representing "in all seven engagements. He was also given a step up in rank, which had the effect of making him, at thirty-seven, the youngest colonel in the British Army.

For the rest, General Gough is very good looking—an inheritance, probably from his mother, who, before her marriage was Miss de la Poer, a noted Irish beauty. He is quick, alert, agile, a splendid horseman and keen on all manner of outdoor sports.

ANOTHER WAR LOAN IS COMING

Third Issue to be Floated Probably Early Next Month

Ottawa, Feb. 15.—Another Canadian war loan, the third to be issued in the Dominion, will be floated probably early in March. In view of the exchange situation between Canada and the United States, which is at present adverse to this country, it is regarded as likely that the securities of the new loan will be made payable both in Canada and New York.

No information as to the amount, terms or price of the new issue can, however, be given at present, as these details will not be settled until immediately before the loan is floated and will be determined largely by the conditions which then prevail.

Last week Sir Thomas White conferred with the Executive Committee of the Canadian Bond-dealers' Association with regard to the projected loan and yesterday he discussed the subject with members of the Canadian Bankers' Association, who represented nearly all the chartered banks of the country. The Finance Minister, it is understood, has been assured that he will have the co-operation, in the flotation of the new securities, of the bond-dealers and brokers, whose activity contributed materially to the success of the last domestic loan of $100,000,000.

FEARFUL WARNING FROM GERMAN SPY

Says Deadly Bacteria Bombs and Blinding Vapor Rays are at Germany's Call

New York, Feb. 15.—Dr. Arringard Karl Graves, self-styled foreign German spy, who was arrested last November on the charge of trying to blackmail the Countess von Bernstorff out of $3,000 for some stolen letters, and some of whose radical prophecies regarding the European conflict have from time to time come true, professed last night to reveal sensational international developments which, he said, his "secret knowledge" made him aware were to be expected within the next few weeks.

The "master spy" and author of such books as "The Secrets of the German War Office" violently denounced Count von Bernstorff, asserting that the charges against himself were trumped up, and that he knew whereof he spoke when he asserted some weeks ago that his would never have the court hearing set for next month, for the reason that then neither Count nor Countess von Bernstorff would be in this country.

"I am determined to have vindication in the eyes of the American people," he exclaimed excitedly as he paced about in his home at 6 West Sixty-ninth Street. "My lawyer, John J. Halligan will bring suit against Count von Bernstorff for $200,000 for malicious prosecution, and we shall attach his property. I believe that under the law we can attach the embassy itself, and if so we shall do so."

"I am aware of Count von Bernstorff's plans," he continued. "He intends to go with his band of trained intriguers into Mexico and to repeat on a larger scale the performance he was guilty of here."

"I am aware," the doctor added sarcastically, "that within five weeks, perhaps less, there will be a change of attitude on the part of Russia, or Italy, or both. I know that on Dec. 15 last there was held in Copenhagen a world-important conference between German and Russian envoys."

"Germany's campaign is to be pushed at once to extremes of inhumanity that the American people as yet do not dream of. I know, for instance, that they have perfected horror-dealing disease bombs, which they are prepared now to launch at the enemy lines from distances of several miles each freighted with its sickening load of bacteria."

"Even further are they going. In the last few months they are getting scientists to work on the perfecting of a mysterious potent vapor ray that is about to be seen flashing into the eyes of the enemy. Every single man who blinks into them, or is in the light of one of these rays will stagger back blind—and his sight gone forever."

"Once more I want to warn the American people and the authorities about the German ships lying at anchor in our waters. Dr. Graves now says 'war' as he has taken out his first citizenship papers. More than a year ago I told that the German ship lying in Gravesend Bay, loaded with 4,000 tons of dynamite, was there for a sinister purpose. That dynamite has disappeared now. Watch out for its reappearance on the other German ships or in other works of destruction."

Dr. Graves apparently referred to the steamer Madresburg, which anchored near Fort Wadsworth and Hamilton, shortly after the war started with 600,000 pounds, not 4,000 tons, of dynamite aboard in November, 1915. Fire Commissioner Adamson learned that the dynamite had been purchased by the du Pont Powder Company and was to be landed at Communipaw, N.J. That was the last publicly heard of it.

"Count von Bernstorff," declared Dr. Graves, reverting to denunciation of the Ambassador, "has $4,000,000 in gold at his call in banks in New York and Philadelphia. What is he going to do with it? Are the American people going to let him get away with it?"

The St. Thomas Hydro Electric Commission announces that during the past year the surplus of earnings over expenses was $13,458.35.

"The number of locomotives under repair here is not abnormal for this time of year," said G. T. R. Superintendent R. H. Fish, of Stratford.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She Mixed Sulphur with It to Restore Color, Gloss, Youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though is troublesome. An easier way is to get a 50 cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

White wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

FIGHTING BISHOP WITH THE BRITISH

Body of Over 1,000 Carriers Raised by Militant Churchman in Zanzibar

London, Feb. 14.—The British Empire has developed a "Fighting Bishop." This fact was brought out by a letter from Robert Webb to The Yorkshire Post in which he eulogizes the work of the Zanzibar Carrier Corps and its Major, the Right Rev. F. Weston, Bishop of Zanzibar. In the East African campaign Bishop Weston's name figured among those mentioned by Lieutenant-General Smuts for meritorious service in the field. This modern fighting Bishop not only raised a body of more than 1,000 carriers, but also superintended the work on the march as they bore supplies from the coast to the front. He accomplished a task which seemed insurmountable. He cheered his men up when they were gloomy and inspired them with such courage and perseverance that on one occasion they were off the march for forty-eight hours with only two night one-half meals or for redistribution of loads. "But for the Bishop's courage," says

Hon. G. Howard Ferguson is also setting an example to the rest of the members by getting legislation down early. The minister has given notice of the introduction of this week of his land settlement bill for soldiers, and his fire prevention act to protect the forests of Northern Ontario. Both bills conform with the outline given some time ago.

Mr. Webb, "and his power of inspiration, our troops would have fared badly owing to the lack of food, and they may well be grateful for the help so ungrudgingly given by the Bishop and those lay members of his staff who were able to be with him.

TIMELY ADVICE ON EGG QUESTION

Authority on That Subject Tells of Good Money to be Made in Egg Production

GLEAM INFORMATION On That Subject is the Advice of N. C. Campbell, B. S. A.

"There certainly is good money in producing eggs at the high-level prices now ruling on the retail markets," announces N. C. Campbell, B.S.A.

"Even if feed prices are at high levels, the experienced poultry keeper—at least, the one with a medium or small flock, for which he has various scraps and waste products—can net a very handsome profit indeed. "I have dealt at considerable length in these columns with the matter of feeding hens for big egg production. There is always more to be said on this point, and perhaps my readers will find the following advice, as given out by Mr. George Robertson, Assistant Poultry Husbandman at the Ottawa Experimental Farm, to be particularly valuable just now: "The pullets should be fed heavily for egg production, and the hens—the brooders—fed on light ration. Feed the pullets mixed grain morning and evening. This should be buried in a deep litter to make them

THE SLUGGARD. I heard the sluggard say, when he was young and fair, "This is too fine a day, for labor, I declare. Beside a babbling brook in comfort I'll recline, and read a helpful book, and make its message mine. The reapers reap their grain, the farmers bale their hay; and work no doubt seems sane to people built that way. But better is a dream than any kind of toil; so by the babbling stream I'll read up Whist on the hoyle." I heard the sluggard say, when age had made him blue, "All through the weary day I wander for

THE PIN K BOAT

Once upon a time, just as the sun was setting, a beautiful little fairy who'd been dancing in the fairy forest, saw a fairy lake and on the lake a boat. A pink boat! Think of it. And it was such a strange looking boat that the fairy spread her rainbow wings and flew to the deck of it to look it over.

Now the sails of the boat were as soft and pink as flower petals. They smelled like flower petals and the fairy was so delighted that she sat down upon the pink deck, sniffing the perfumed sails.

"Oh, dear!" she sighed. "If only I could go a-sailing in this lovely, lovely boat!"

And that minute the boat began to float away upon the bosom of the fairy lake.

Now the little fairy, having wings, knew very well that she could fly away whenever she chose and so she stayed upon the magic boat, floating, floating, floating along, and not caring at all where she floated as long as the wind through the pink sails smelled so sweet and the motion of the boat was so smooth and delightful.

Thus, after a time the boat floated into a creek and came after much sailing to a forest of crystal trees. Queer elves in pointed crystal caps peeped out from behind the tree trunks at the pink boat and the fairy, and, still pleased, she sailed on and on, never guessing what would happen.

For all this time that flower-boat had been shrinking. Just as sure as you're alive and I'm alive, it had been shrinking and the fairy with it.

It shrank to half its size, it shrank to quarter, and then by that time the stream was running through pink fields full of sweet peas just the color of the boat.

Now, just as a wharf made of a seashell came in sight, a fairy stepped out and waved her wand and the boat flew away on the wind like a blossom, carrying the fairy inside with it.

"Oh," she cried, "where am I? Where am I?"

"Why," said the boat, "I'm only a sweet pea blossom. That's all. The only thing that made me big was the magic of the river. And you're shrunken, too. You're not even so big as a bumblebee! If you want to grow big again, you'll have to swim down the river. That's what I do. Then you'll grow and grow."

And the little fairy did.

LOW LIGHTS. Nothing Makes a Room So Unhomelike as High Lights.

Of all the things that make a room unhomelike and unattractive there is nothing, in my mind, so bad as a high placed light—especially an unshaded one.

Of course the strain on the eyes in reading or working by such a light is tremendous but I'm attacking the practice from another angle to-day.

As you pass down the street some night notice the glimpses of rooms you get.

Some impress you as homelike, some as dismal.

How were they lighted? Nine times out of ten, you will find that the homelike rooms were lighted by a low light on a stand or table, throwing a pleasant, concentrated light on the family circle.

A Low Light is almost as symbolical of home as the open fireplace.

A woman said to me the other day, "There's something the matter with that front room of mine. It isn't cheerful and inviting."

I visualized the room and knew in a minute—it has a chandelier light.

Sometimes when I catch glimpses of rooms that might be made homelike by a low light I feel as if I must go in and tell their owners.

But so far, as doubtless you'll be glad to know, I never have.

AN INVASION (Associated Press) London, Feb. 15.—England is experiencing in a limited sense an invasion of Oriental servants, Chinese and Japanese are landing here in greater numbers than usual, and are taking the places of the native servants who have joined the colors, gone in for munition making or back to the farm where such good wages are now being paid. The Orientals are said to be proving popular because they make themselves more generally useful and seem never to tire of work.

GIRL'S DRESS. By Anabel Worthington.

For the sum total of excellence in a dress for a girl of from six to twelve years of age, look at the little frock illustrated. It gives every evidence that the designers do not depart one jot from the straight line effect whether planning a dress for a fashion follower of the doll age or one who has greater cares.

In the back the dress is perfectly plain, with its fulness adjusted by the arrangement of a belt. It is a matter of choice whether you use the belt over the front panel or tack the belt onto the side fronts, leaving the panel free, as shown by the smaller and lower view of the dress.

The cut of the collar indicates that collars mean very much this season; it has a frill of lace following the edge, but this detail may be omitted. The frill cuff on a rather loose sleeve tells its own story. The frock has left side closing, but the right side has the button and loop decoration also.

How are your eyes?

This is a most important question for the young or the old of either sex, and the sooner it is considered the better. If you are troubled with faulty vision, with black spots or floating specks before the eyes, it will be to your advantage and safety to have the deflection attended to without delay. We are professional opticians, and can examine your eyes correctly and prescribe for you the right kind of glasses. The wrong kind will injure you.
