MRS. M. PECK HAS GAINED 25 POUNDS

Nine Years of Trouble Ends And She is Well And Happy, Now

"I have gained twenty-five pounds since I commenced taking Tanlac, and the troubles that have been making life miserable for me for nine years have been completely overcome," said Mrs. Minnie Peck, who lives at 9874—82nd Ave., Edmonton, the other day.

"When I commenced taking Tanlac," continued Mrs. Peck, "I was so weak and run down that I was hardly able to get about. Everything I ate disagreed with me, and I would suffer for two or three hours after every meal on account of gas forming and bloating up. I would have severe cramping pains in the pit of my stomach. I was very nervous, so much that the slamming of a door would upset me terribly, and a good night's sleep was out of the question for me. I would actually get out of bed every morning feeling more tired and worn out than I did the night before. This condition just kept getting worse all the time until I got to where I was compelled to stay in bed most of the time."

"Then I decided to give Tanlac a trial, and it's the honest truth, I commenced to feel better before I had finished my first bottle of this wonderful medicine, and my condition just kept getting better until I am now as well as I ever was in my life. I never have a sign of stomach trouble now, and I have a fine appetite and eat just anything I want. I have gotten back all my strength and can easily do all my housework. My nerves are in perfect condition, and I sleep like a child every night. It is simply wonderful the way I have gained in weight, and in fact, I just feel fine all the time. Yes, Sir, Tanlac is a wonderful medicine and as long as I live I will never lose an opportunity to say a good word for it."

Tanlac is sold in Bridgetown by S. N. Weare, in Middleton, by Clifford A. Mumford, in Bear River by L. V. Harris.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS OF AGE

Mrs. Lois Caswell, a Former New Brunswick Lady, Reaches the Century Mark.

Our Granville Ferry correspondent writes: It is with pride and pleasure we can tell of having in our community a person who has reached the Century Mark. We refer to Mrs. Lois Caswell, a highly and esteemed lady, who reached her one hundredth birthday on Thursday, Jan. 20th, and celebrated the day in a manner befitting a much younger person.

Mrs. Caswell enjoys the best of health, both physically and mentally and has no need of glasses or canes.

Mrs. Caswell was born in Hopeville, Albert Co., N. B. as Miss Lois Edgett. Went to Boston, where she met and married Benjamin Caswell and lived there until his death, when their eldest son, Austin, was only 5, Edwin and a baby, Annie, 16 mos old.

She then came to St. John and cared for her family until her second son grew to manhood and became Chief Telegraph Operator for that city and Halifax.

Her oldest son married a Miss Halliday and lived in Hillsburn with whom she came to live after Edwin's death and with whose widow she now resides. She has 4 grand-children and 6 great-grand children.

During her birthday on Thursday, a few callers came in to see her and brought flowers, but in the evening the whole village, with few exceptions, came to offer congratulations. Taken wholly by surprise by the number of people arriving, and wondering how so many knew it to be her birthday, yet not for one moment did she show any signs of nervousness, but greeted each with a hearty handshake and a cheery word.

Mr. Weatherspoon was the leader. He began the evening by having the people sing the Doxology. Then in a few well chosen remarks he gave a brief sketch of the advance in civilization this dear old lady had witnessed during her life. Had lived under four sovereigns and was eight months younger than the late Queen Victoria. He then tendered her, on behalf of the citizens of the Ferry, a purse of $30, in gold and bank notes, for which she thanked him and all.

Mr. Penny then made a few remarks and Mr. Delap read letters of congratulations from former pastors, Revs. G. P. Raymond, N. A. McNeil and G. D. Hudson.

Refreshments were served and the Birthday Cake was passed to Grandma Caswell to cut and then each one received a generous share. About 9.30 all departed for their various homes, leaving her to the care of one who has watched over her during the preceding days and whom she is placing the utmost confidence and trust in as she travels the years that are left to her.

THE GRANVILLE BRIDGE

(Annapolis Spectator)

News was brought from Halifax last night by A. M. King, who had interviewed the Provincial Government in regard to the matter as well as by the proposed Allen's Creek arbitration that the contract for the superstructure and completion of the bridge to Granville has been let to the Maritime Bridge Co. of New Glasgow, the price it is understood being $192,000. This means that the steel will be immediately prepared to be put on as soon as the substructure is completed in the Spring, and Granville will be with us before the year is out. The arbitration is being considered by the engineers.

THE GRANVILLE FERRY

The Spectator says: The river has been running so full of heavy ice lately that the ferry service by occasional trips of a row boat has been both inconvenient and hazardous.

It is expected, however, that through the efforts of the town folks interested who appealed to the County Council at its recent session the steamer John Hancock will soon be repaired and put again upon the route until the completion of the bridge.

The W. M. A. S. of the Baptist church, will meet at the home of Mrs. Ralph Messenger, Tuesday evening Feb 3rd at 7.30.

A TONIC FOR THE NERVES

The Only Real Nerve Tonic is a Good Supply of Rich, Red Blood

"If people would only attend to their blood, instead of worrying themselves ill," said an eminent nerve specialist, "we doctors would not see our consulting rooms crowded with nervous wrecks. More people suffer from worry than anything else."

The sort of thing which the specialist spoke of is the nervous run-down condition caused by overwork and the many anxieties of to-day. Sufferers find themselves tired, morose, low-spirited and unable to keep their minds on anything. Any sudden noise hurts like a blow. They are full of groundless fears, and do not sleep well at night. Headaches, neuritis and other nerve pains are part of the misery, and it all comes from starved nerves.

Doctored the nerve with poisonous sedatives is a terrible mistake. The only real nerve tonic is a good supply of rich, red blood. Therefore to cure nervousness and run-down health Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be taken. These pills actually make new, rich blood, which strengthens the nerves, improves the appetite, gives new strength and spirits, and makes hitherto despondent people bright and cheerful. If you are at all "out of sorts" you should begin curing yourself to-day by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WEDDING BELLS

RICE-ROBBINS

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kelly, of Dorchester, Mass., was the scene of a happy event on Dec. 24th, when Miss Mildred Robbins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Albert Robbins, of Smith's Cove, N. S., and sister of Mrs. Kelly, was united in marriage to Mr. Reginald Rice, formerly of Bear River, but now of New York. Rev. W. J. Rutledge, Pastor of the South Boston Baptist Church, performed the ceremony. Miss Robbins for sometime was stenographer for the firm of Brandt & Henderson, Halifax.

Before leaving she was the recipient of valuable presents from the firm and employees. And was also given a shower party by her young friends. They have many friends in the Annapolis Valley, who wish them many happy years of wedded life.

PARADISE

Mrs. Wallace Saunders has been a recent guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Covert.

Mrs. F. W. Bishop left on Saturday for a trip to Massachusetts, where she will visit relatives.

Mrs. H. W. Longley spent the week end at the home of her mother, Mrs. Calnek in Granville.

Mr. R. S. Longley is spending a few days at home after his Mid-year examinations at Acadia University.

Rev. Mr. Brindley left for his field at Granville on Saturday. During his stay here he has made many friends who wish him every success as he resumes his regular duties.

On Saturday, Jan. 17th, the students of the advanced department of the Paradise School had a sleigh drive to Bridgetown. The dampness of the night did not lower the spirits of the party and all present enjoyed themselves greatly.

The special services which have been held during the past three weeks came to a close Friday night. Although the stormy cold weather has interfered with the attendance, yet those present have been helped very much by the able and inspiring addresses of Rev. Mr. Brindley who has been assisting our pastor, Rev. I. A. Corbett. During the closing nights a special interest has been shown by a number of young people.

It was due to these weather conditions that both vessels came into port, but it afterwards became moderate and Thursday proved an excellent fish day, but the weather did not clear sufficiently early for them to return to the grounds. They report fish somewhat scarce.

ANOTHER INDUSTRY

Berwick Evaporator Installs Canning Equipment

(Berwick Register)

The Berwick Evaporating Factory is this week adding to its equipment the machinery necessary for the perfecting of fruit canning. This equipment is being installed as rapidly as possible, it being, we understand, the intention of the management to adopt the canning process for the remainder of the season, in place of drying.

While there is evidence of a large quantity of apples still in the hands of the growers, the fruit as a consequence of early ripening, is not maintaining its usual firmness at this season, hence the decision to resort to canning which it is believed will result in a better finished product under existing conditions.

This factory which commenced operations early in September and has been running almost steadily since then, has had a decidedly busy season, being practically the only one of the Graham evaporators in the Valley remaining in operation at the present time.

Providing the proposed experiment proves successful and that fruit can be procured at fair prices, the factory will probably continue in operation until the first of March or thereabouts. This should be encouraging news to the people of Berwick as this important industry, with its large staff of employers, is becoming more and more appreciated as a valuable asset to our town and community.

COLONEL RAMSEY'S EXPERIENCES

Colonel C. W. P. Ramsey, C.M.G., who commanded the first Railway Construction Corps from Canada to France, and who previous to going overseas was engineer of construction in the Engineering Department of the Canadian Pacific, was responsible for the gigantic steam shovels, weighing 65 tons each, capable of eating up earth at the rate of 150 to 200 cubic yards an hour, and self-propelling extension track pile drivers, built at Angus Shops for the Canadian Government, which formed part of the equipment used by the famous Railway Construction Corps.

Col. Ramsey, in the course of a recent talk, said:

"Our work overseas was regarded as of considerable value to the combatant forces, and that work was largely due to the strong support we received from the first from the Canadian Pacific Railway. From the beginning of our organization to the time when we went overseas our work was aided in its entirety by the Canadian Pacific Railway, and they not only aided in our recruiting, but assisted in every way in the organization and equipment of the work. Further than that a very large percentage of the corps was supplied from the ranks of the C. P. R.

"For the 900 men we needed there was keen competition. No less than 3,000 men, all experienced railway men, applied, and we had to do much careful work selecting the best men we could get for the work.

"We went over in June, 1915, and on reaching the other side there was little delay. We had two months in Camp at Longmoor for training, after which we were sent over the Channel. It was found then that the greatest need for railway work at the front was in Belgium, and we were sent there.

"We did not know just what the work was, but we were all keen for it, and we jumped in as hard as we could, every man doing his share with a desire to do all that he could.

"Our first work was at Dixmude, where we started in building concrete structures with a vast amount of miscellaneous work. From this we proceeded to the building of ten miles of track, which was the first railway work done by the allied armies. The only previous railway was a wooden road, which was put down with wooden rails with the idea of keeping down the noise so as to avoid warning the enemy of what we were doing.

"Our first work put in constructing railways behind the British front, where we put in the first advance railway for war purposes they had. Later on the British war people put in a great railway organization, which operated with much success back of the British front.

"When we arrived the British had had a few railway men at work. But when the Canadians arrived the value of this work was at once seen, and the force grew very quickly, so that the railway corps grew to 4,000, and eventually to over 100,000.

"In February, 1916, shipments of box cars began to arrive from Canada and the first plant for the erection of these cars was supplied from the equipment of the Canadian Railway Corps and installed at Andruicq.

"At that time a monster ammunition dump had been collected there, but the Germans, by their air service, and other means of information, had learned about it. Then when we had 20,000 tons of munitions and high explosives collected there, the Germans came and bombed it. The results were not pleasant, but there were only 40 or 50 Canadian casualties.

"Later on I went to the Somme front. They had tried in that area to handle transport, but all their roads had failed. They were trying to get railways to various points until the Canadians arrived. Then we built the most advanced railway in France, only 1,200 yards behind our front lines, which was a great saving for our forces.

"In 1917 the Boche began his great retreat. It was evident that the retreat had been carefully planned long before, because anything that had not been carried away was blown up on a systematic plan. Further, they fixed time charges to blow up anything they could not get away with, in the hope that the charges later on would get the British troops, while other charges were so arranged that they would explode on the vibration of passing troops and material.

"During the summer of 1917 a large number of advanced railways had been established, and this called for severe work. Munitions had to be brought up under cover of night for the advanced troops in order to prepare for a surprise fire. But this was so well done that the November attack proved a success, 450 tanks being brought up in one night, and brought up so well that the enemy never knew they were there until the attack developed.

"However, the C. P. R. Canadian Overseas Corps did two or three things during their service overseas that more than justified their existence. They laid the first standard gauge railway back of the lines. At that time their strength was only 500 men. Following that they increased their strength, and during the war they laid 400 out of 2,000 miles of track laid back of our lines. Eventually they finished their work by laying the tracks in the Valenciennes and Mons region, which had very much to do with the success of the closing operations of the war.

Recollections of the Old Survey Days

During the summer of 1881, we were locating and running trail lines for the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway along Nonsbunsing Lake and down the Vase Creek towards Lake Nipissing. A Mr. Hegan was in charge of the party, that glutton for work, Mr. E. J. Duchesnay was transitman, and Emile Tetu leveller. At that time there was but one settler on Nonsbunsing Lake, and what fishing there was in it!

While we were camped along the lake we used a lumberman's red boat to take us to and from our work, when we invariably trawled with a hand line and common spoon.

I recollect while rowing to work one morning, Duchesnay trawled. I sat looking on. Suddenly there was a tremendous tug at the line. Uttering an exclamation Duchesnay began hauling it in, but it was no easy matter. "Twas evident he had hooked a big one. Fortunately, however, the line was a stout one and the fish securely caught. After a brief and desperate struggle on the part of the fish, he was brought alongside of the boat. The question then was, how to get him on board? for we had neither gaff nor landing-net. At his belt, Duchesnay carried a neat little 32 caliber Smith and Wesson revolver. A brilliant idea occurred to me.

"Shoot it, Mr. Duchesnay," I called out. Promptly acting on my suggestion, at a range of a couple of feet or so, he broke his back with a bullet, killing him immediately and a maskulane of thirty-two lbs. weight—weighed on our return to camp in the evening—was lifted into the boat without any trouble.

The following Sunday morning Duchesnay and I took a bark canoe and went trawling. We had but one line and took it turn about to fish and paddle. I do not recollect how many we caught, but I do remember that after fishing, for only a portion of the morning, we brought back to camp more black bass and doré than the whole party of about twenty-two healthy men could eat, before a good part of the catch went bad and had to be thrown away.

I do not know how many settlers may now be living about the lake, or how much fishing has been done since those days, but unless it has been much fished it should still well repay a visit of any enthusiastic disciples of the gentle art.

Recollect we had but one common, large red and silver spoon. How the fish must have swarmed in the lake, then. What sport might not expert fishermen have today, with rods and proper tackle? Where could they find finer camping grounds either, or lovelier wild scenery of lake and woods?

When we had left the lake a few miles with our survey we got into the undulating brulé country along The Vase Creek. What a paradise that country was for sportsmen, then, before its world old silence had been disturbed by the locomotive's whistle. Moose, bear, lynx abounded. Never a day passed that we did not see fresh tracks of them. The bear and lynx we never saw. What animals are more shy or wary? A moose occasionally we did.

One day, while running the line along a side hill, in the open brulé country, we saw six magnificent moose. But, of course, no rifle was ever carried on the line and we could only watch them trot away. What strides they took, with what ease they negotiated fallen timber!

It was about mid-summer, if I remember rightly, of that year 1881, somewhere along The Vase. We had gone out to work as usual, I was a rodman on that survey; that morning, however one of the chainmen, was laid off, for sickness or something, and I was told to fill his place.

As usual, that morning, Duchesnay set up his transit, and as usual the axemen lolled about, lighted their pipes, or gave a final touch with whetstones to their axes, while they waited for line. In a few moments the transit was in readiness and Duchesnay turned to me.

"Get a good stout four by four inch, four foot dry stake, like a hub-stake, blaze it like a hub-stake, and mark on it with red keel, in big letters, 'C.P.R. Station O.' From now on this line will be known as The Canadian Pacific Railway, not The Canada Central." He turned to the men. "All right, boys, stick up a picket and get line now."

Thus I had the distinction of making and driving in the first station stake marked, C.P.R. I think there is a station now somewhere about there, called Calender. F. H.

Salmon from British Columbia Fisheries

Unloading Salmon from Stows, Westminster, British Columbia.

There are salmon and salmon, but the finest specimens of this sporting fish come from the waters of British Columbia. There is a variety of salmon on the Atlantic coast which is highly prized as a delicacy, but the supply is very limited; the catch on the Pacific coast is about thirty times as large and also very fine in size and quality.

Salmon canning is one of the principal industries of British Columbia and the Fraser River catch is now almost looked upon with envy owing to the tremendous decrease of the salmon catch in the State of Washington, where the famous variety called "Sockeye" once abounded in Puget Sound in such enormous quantities.

It is now feared that unless the United States Government prohibit fishing in Puget Sound the salmon industry will suffer. To date the State of Washington has failed to accede to the Canadian proposals for a joint control of the Puget Sound and Fraser River fisheries, but the Dominion Government is again taking the matter up, proposing a joint protection for fifteen years.

The season for salmon fishing is short, being about 45 days in the Fraser River section and about 62 days, including Sundays, for the northern canners. The British Columbia catch runs about 1,500,000 cases of 45 pounds each a year.

There are five varieties—Sockeye, averaging 6 pounds, mature as in the fourth year; Quinnet, 3 1/2 to 30 pounds, sometimes reaching 100 pounds, maturing between the fourth and sixth year; Silver, 3 1/2 to 8 pounds, mature at three years; Pink, 3 to 6 pounds, mature at two years, and Chum, 10 to 12 pounds, mature at three to six years.

All these fish return once on maturity to spawn in the stream where they were hatched, and both sexes die after spawning. The main fisheries are the Fraser River, Skeena River, Naas River, Rivers Inlet and around Vancouver Island. The fish are caught in gill nets and seines and by trolling.

32 Hickory St., Ottawa, Ont. "I was for many years a victim of that terrible disease, Rheumatism. In 1918, I was laid up for four months with Rheumatism in the joints of the knees, hips and shoulders and was prevented from following my work, that of Electrician. I tried many remedies and was under the care of a physician; but nothing did me any good. Then I began to take 'Fruit-a-tives' and in a week I was easier, and in six weeks I was so well I went to work again. I look upon this fruit medicine, 'Fruit-a-tives', as simply marvellous in the cure of Rheumatism, and strongly advise everyone suffering with Rheumatism to give 'Fruit-a-tives' a trial."

Children Cry for Fletcher's CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. An Island Where Deer are Safe

Taking an Apple From the Fingers of a Visitor.
Listening to the Barking of Hounds on a Distant Island.
The deep music of a deerhound's voice came faintly down the wind. He was safe. He was on Hardy Island.
Hardy Island is the city of refuge to all the deer that know about it. Three years ago it was good hunting grounds. To-day it is taboo to men with guns, and bell pups, as the saying goes, if men with both guns and dogs appear. It is unlawful to hunt deer with dogs in British Columbia, but it is still done in certain districts, in spite of law. Two years ago, or perhaps slightly more than that, Mr. C. J. Leyland of England purchased Hardy Island, a gem of land situated just off Nelson Island at the mouth of Jervis Inlet. He bought it to experiment with British trees in the B.C. climate. There were 2,500 acres of rich lands and forests, and there was a good orchard. He placed a watchman, Tom Brazil, on the property and did no more toward development, preferring to wait the end of the war. Brazil, a lover of animals, caught two of the wild deer that frequently swam to the island from the other nearby lands. He tamed them. They in turn brought other wild ones. Many of them had been run to water by dogs and took refuge on Hardy Island. There, seeing how intimate the original tame pair were with the man who controlled the orchards where the luscious apples grew, the wild newcomers gradually grew intimate too. To-day a herd of thirty deer, most of them born in wildness, respond to the voice of Tom Brazil when he calls. Some of them will step forward from the herd when called by name. They have no fear at all of man, when on Hardy Island. Sometimes they swim to other parts of the coast, and range about a bit, but they come back, often fagged from some fierce run and swim. Tom Brazil's herd is becoming a by-word on the coast, but no dog and no man dare brave what might happen should he try to hunt on the island of refuge. So the deer are fat, are bringing new little lives into the world, and are adding to their numbers by recruit volunteers from the wild ranges where such safety is not known.—L. V. K.
