AMERICAN TURF.

RACING AT LOUISVILLE.

LOUISVILLE, May 20.—The meeting of the Louisville Jockey Club continues to be as successful as it began, with the best of weather, and attendance almost equal to that of Monday. The track is in fine condition, and favorable for fast time, which was made more than once to-day.

FALLS CITY STAKES.

The first race was one of mile heats for three-year-olds that has not appeared in public prior to the 1st of January, 1875. The event was known as the Falls City Stakes, and brought out seven starters, viz, Cottrill's Ascension, Harding's Camargo, Williams & Owing's Worcester, Springfield & Clay's Warsaw, Barbour's Enfield and Withers and Bruce's Effie Moore. In the pools Ascension was a decided favorite. She set the pace in both heats, but was beaten in the stretch by Camargo, who won the first heat by a head in 1:42½, and the second by half a length in 1:43½, with Ascension second in each heat. Camargo was bred by General W. G. Harding at Belle Meade, Tenn., and is very promising.

LOUISVILLE CUP.

For the Louisville Cup, a dash of two miles and a quarter, the starters were Ballankee, Big Fellow, Astral, King Pynn, Excel, Georgio Bowman, Captain Hutchinson, and Whisper. In the pools Ballankee was a big favorite. At the start Astral took the lead, with Excel second, and King Pynn third, with the favorite laying close up to them. In this order they ran for a mile and a-half, when the favorite went to the front and won as he pleased by three lengths in 2:01½, with Big Fellow second and Captain Hutchinson third. Just at the end of the second mile Excel fell, throwing Billy Lakeland, fortunately without injury to either.

THE WINNER AND THE CUP.

Ballankee, by his performances at Nashville and here at Louisville, promises to be the "cup" horse of the year. His appearance on Eastern tracks will be looked for with much interest. Instead of putting up money, as is the case in most cup races, the Louisville Jockey Club put up a piece of silver in the shape of a punch-bowl, valued at $1,000. It was made by the Whiting Manufacturing Company of New York. It is of solid silver, and weighs 27½ ounces (troy), is 18 inches high and 22 wide. The bowl is round, with a diameter of 16 inches, and gold-lined. On either side, and forming the handles, are two heads in solid silver, modelled to look like Longfellow. There are two medallions of seven inches in diameter. The one in front has a central figure of a horse and jockey jumping a hurdle; on the opposite side is the simple inscription "Louisville Cup." The cup is highly ornamented, and is enclosed in a morocco case, lined inside with Nile-green satin.

MILE HEATS, THREE IN FIVE.

The mile-heat race, three in five, brought out a large field for such a race, viz: War Jig, Ravens, Harry Felter, Vautros, Port Leonard, Lee Greenfield, Fair Play and Kilburn. The race was a well-contested one, Ravens winning the first heat in 1:41½, with Fair Play second. After which War Jig had everything his own way, winning the second, third and fourth heats in 1:46, 1:47, 1:45, the fourth heat laying between Ravens and War Jig.

LOUISVILLE, May 21, 1875.—The fifth day's races of the Louisville Jockey Club were run in the mud. A drenching rain prevailed throughout the forenoon and during the contests, making the track exceedingly heavy. Notwithstanding the unfavorable weather, the attendance was large, the main attraction being the race for the Gentleman's Cup.

ST. THOMAS DRIVING PARK ASSOCIATION.

SPRING MEETING.

FIRST DAY.

Tuesday, May 18.

This Association inaugurated their third year's the first race, trotting, was a very fair sample of a maiden trial, all being green horses. There were 7 entries, of whom 5 started, one of them, Brown Billy, under protest. White-faced Jack, one of the original entries was withdrawn on account of his eligibility being questioned, and no one being found confident enough to stand sponsor for him; and Jim Dean was also scratched though not for any such reason. The time made on this race was very ordinary, but we may say that the winner showed a great turn of speed, and could doubtless have greatly improved his record if necessary. We think Tennyson has shown himself to be a most promising colt.

The second race, running, brought four horses to the front and proved a capital race. Protection, however, though hard pressed by Quickstep, was evidently master of the occasion from start to finish, and won with apparent ease. To our view this race was the most interesting of the day's sport.

The third and last race on this day's programme, was for horses that had never beaten 2:40, and was certainly a capital performance.

First Race—Trotting.—For horses that never entered for a purse or stake. Mile heats, 2 in 3, to harness. 1st horse, $50; 2nd $20, 3rd $10. Seven horses entered, of which the following started in the order named, the first mentioned being on the inside:—Brown Billy, Jim Anderson, Anna Dixon, Bessy Boddy and Tennyson. The results of three heats were as follows:—

Tennyson..... 1 2 1
Jim Anderson..... 3 1 2
Anna Dixon..... 3 3 3
3:15; 3:00; 3:01.

Second Race—Running.—Open to all. Dash of one and a half miles. Province bred horses allowed 7 lbs. 1st horse, $100; 2nd $50. Four entries, who left the starter in the following order.—Quickstep, Lady Blanche, Protection and General Custer.

Protection..... 1
Quickstep..... 2
Gen. Custer..... 0
Lady Blanche..... 0
2:53½.

Third Race—Trotting.—For horses that never beat 2:40. Mile heats, 3 in 5, to harness. 1st horse, $100, 2nd $50. Six horses came to the post in the following order.—Little Sam, Gen. Grant, J H Boyle, Jessie, Forest Maid, and Anne Wilkes. The following was the result of the several heats:—

Little Sam..... 3 1 1 1
J H Boyle..... 1 2 2 2
Gen Grant..... 4 3 3 3
Jessie..... 2 4 4 4
Time—2:41½, 2:40, 2:40½, 2:40½.

In the last heat of this race J H Boyle came in first, but on account of some serious running he was placed second and the heat awarded to Little Sam.

SECOND DAY.

St. Thomas, W. Tuesday, May 19.—The weather was really lovely this afternoon, and though the attendance was but moderate, and the Grand Stand nearly empty, there was a marked addition to yesterday's number of visitors. We are certainly of opinion that the Association would best consult their own interests and tend to secure a greater popularity for these meetings if the price of admission were reduced, and we are therefore glad to hear that they are taking this matter into

Protection, Alice Pool and Quickstep started in the position named, the former taking the inside place. At the first start Quickstep got a slight advantage, which was held till close in on the home stretch, when Protection passed and came in first. Owing to foul riding, however, this heat was declared void. On the second heat Protection came in a winner by about half a length, Alice Pool being some distance behind. Just at the time of weighing riders, however, a fraud was discovered, and Protection's jockey having been proved to have ridden short of weight his horse was disqualified, and most righteously so. The heats, therefore, show as follows:—

Alice Pool..... 2 2
Protection..... disq.
Time—1:53½.

This closed the legitimate business, as unfortunately, the other races on the programme had not filled.

RACING AT STRATHROY.

STRATHROY, May 24.—The principal attraction of the day was the races on the Driving Park, resulting as follows:—

First Race—Farmers' trot—won by Woodchuck in two straight heats.

Second Race—Farmers' half-mile running race—seven entries. Won by Sleepy Tom.

Green trot, best two in three. Entries, Bay George, Honest Joe, Little Billy, Busybody, Brigham Young, Kato Pratt, and Dexter.

Half-mile running race, open to all; entries, Grace Darling, Johnny Schmoker, Tempest, Alice Pool, and Lady Morgan. Won by Tempest, Alice Pool second.

RACING AT MITCHMORE PARK.

OTTAWA, May 24.—The races at Mitchmore Park were largely attended this afternoon, about 1,000 persons being present. The weather was delightful, and the course could not have possibly been in a better condition.

For the first race, the Cornelian stakes, open to all teams owned in the city of Ottawa, half-mile heats, there were five entries:—Bob Logic, Surprise, Beatrice, Sally, and Blue Bonnet. Blue Bonnet won the first by two lengths, Bob Logic the second. Bob Logic took the second heat easily, and also the third making him winner of the race.

There were three entries for the open steeple chase, King Tom, Jack in the Green, and Clip. The two former threw their riders, leaving Clip the winner.

Young Wagram, King Tom, Jack in the Green, Beatrice, and Sally entered for the steeple chase. Jack in the Green won by about half a length, Young Wagram was second.

RACING AT MOOSE PATH PARK.

St. John, N. B., May 24.—The Trotting race, best 3 in 5, mile heats, was won by Kitty O'jus. Time—2:52, 2:52, 2:52½.

The Gentleman's Race was taken by Gray Eagle in three straight heats. Time—3:06½, 3:06, 3:06.

For the Louisville Cup, a dash of two miles and a quarter, the starters were Ballankee, Big Fellow, Astral, King Pynn, Excel, Georgie Bowman, Captain Hutchinson, and Whisper. Just at the end of the second mile Excel fell, throwing Billy Lakeland, fortunately without injury to either.

THE WINNER AND THE CUP.

Ballankee, by his performances at Nashville and here at Louisville, promises to be the "cup" horse of the year. His appearance on Eastern tracks will be looked for with much interest. After which War Jig had everything his own way, winning the second, third and fourth heats in 1:46, 1:47, 1:45, the fourth heat laying between Havana and War Jig.

LOUISVILLE, May 21, 1875.—The fifth day's races of the Louisville Jockey Club were run in the mud. CANADIAN TURF.

ST. THOMAS DRIVING PARK ASSOCIATION.

SPRING MEETING.

FIRST DAY.

Tuesday, May 18.

This Association inaugurated their third year's proceedings under perhaps more favorable auspices than it has been previously their lot to enjoy. The entries with the exception of the fourth race in the programme, being fully up to the mark both in number and quality, and the weather, an all important item, being everything that could be wished. At one time there seemed to be a rain storm brewing, which doubtless had the affect of keeping many would-be spectators at home, but happily a shower of two or three minutes duration was the utmost inconvenience experienced.

On this day the judges were Messrs. Mussel man, Dr. Ellison, and W. L. Odell, and it is our pleasing duty to note, that their decisions were made on the pure merits and justice of each case, without fear or favor, and that any sort of doubtful or improper dealing was firmly discountenanced. Some difficulty was, as usual, found in securing an equal start for the competitors, but through the patience and care of the judges and starter this was in each case overcome, apparently in as satisfactory a manner to all concerned as to be expected in these cases.

The first race, trotting, was a very fair sample of a maiden trial, all being green horses. There were 7 entries, of whom 5 started, one of them, Brown Billy, under protest. White-faced Jack, one of the original entries was withdrawn on account of his eligibility being questioned, and no one being found confident enough to stand sponsor for him, and Jim Dean was also scratched though not for any such reason. The time made on this race was very ordinary, but we may say that the winner showed a great turn of speed, and could doubtless have greatly improved his record if necessary. We think Tomnyson has shown himself to be a most promising colt.

The second race, running, brought four horses to the front and proved a capital race. Protection, however, though hard pressed by Quickstep, was evidently master of the occasion from start to finish, and won with apparent ease. To our view this race was the most interesting of the day's sport.

The third and last race on this day's programme, was for horses that had never beaten 2:40, and was certainly a capital performance.

First Race—Trotting.—For horses that never entered for a purse or stake. Mile heats, 2 in 3, to harness. 1st horse, $50; 2nd $30, 3rd $10. Seven horses entered, of which the following started in the order named, the first mentioned being on the inside:—Brown Billy, Jim Anderson, Anna Dixon, Bessy Boddy and Tomnyson. The results of three heats were as follows:—
Tomnyson... 1 2 1
Jim Anderson... 2 1 2
Anna Dixon... 3 3 3

3:15; 3:00; 3:01.
Second Race—Running.—Open to all. Dash of one and a half miles. Province bred horses allowed 7 lbs. 1st horse $100; 2nd $50. Four entries, who left the starter in the following order:—Quickstep, Lady Blanch, Protection and General Caster.

Protection... 1
Quickstep... 2
Gen. Caster... 0
Lady Blanche... 0

2:53.
Third Race—Trotting.—For horses that never beat 2:40. Mile heats, 3 in 5, to harness. 1st horse, $100; 2nd $50. Six horses came to the post in the following order:—Little Sam, Gen. Grant, J H Boyle, Jessie, Forest Maid, and Annie Wilkes. The following was the result of the several heats:—

Little Sam... 3 1 1 1
J H Boyle... 1 2 2 2
Gen Grant... 4 3 3 3
Jessie... 2 4 4 4

Time—2:41, 2:40, 2:40, 2:40.
In the last heat of this race J H Boyle came in first, but on account of some serious running he was placed second and the heat awarded to Little Sam.

SECOND DAY.

ST. THOMAS, Wednesday, May 19.—The weather was really lovely this afternoon, and though the attendance was but moderate, and the Grand Stand nearly empty, there was a marked addition to yesterday's number of visitors. We are certainly of opinion that the Association would best consult their own interests and tend to secure a greater popularity for these meetings if the price of admission were reduced, and we are therefore glad to hear that they are taking this matter into their serious consideration. We are authorized to state that there will be another meeting on the 6th and 9th of June next, when hurdle races will be introduced.

We are able to prognosticate a successful season for the enterprising promoters, and not the less so from the evident fact that they have a desire solely to foster legitimate sport.

The following is a list of the days proceedings:
First Race—Trotting—Mile heats, 3 in 5, to harness. Open to all horses that have never beaten 2:30. 1st horse $100, 2nd 25. Lizzie D, Whitefaced Jack and Little Ethan started in the order named, Lizzie D having the inside place. The first resulted in a dead heat between Lizzie D and Little Ethan, Whitefaced Jack being distanced.
Little Ethan... 0 1 1 1
Lizzie D... 0 2 2 2
Whitefaced Jack... dis

Time—2:45, 2:40.
The above was a very one sided affair, Lizzie having apparently no chance from the start.
Second Race—Running—Mile heats, best 2 in 3, open to all. Provincial horses allowed 7 lbs. 1st horse $100, 2nd 50.

Protection, Alice Pool and Quickstep started in the position named, the former taking the inside place. At the first start Quickstep got a slight advantage, which was held till close up on the home stretch, when Protection passed and came in first. Owing to foul riding, however, this heat was declared void. On the second heat Protection came in a winner by about half a length, Alice Pool being some distance behind. Just at the time of weighing in, however, a fraud was discovered, and Protection's jockey having been proved to have ridden short of weight his horse was disqualified, and most righteously so. The heats, therefore, show as follows:—

Quickstep... 1 1
Alice Pool... 2 2
Protection... dis

Time—1:53.
This closed the legitimate business, as unfortunately, the other races on the programme had not filled.

RACING AT STRATHROY.

STRATHROY, May 24.—The principal attraction of the day was the races on the Driving Park, resulting as follows:—

First Race—Farmers' trot—won by Woodchuck in two straight heats.
Second Race—Farmers' half-mile running race—seven entries. Won by Sleepy Tom.
Green trot, best two in three. Entries, Bay George, Honest Joe, Little Billy, Busybody, Briglain Young, Kate Pratt, and Dexter.
Half-mile running race, open to all; entries, Grace Darling, Johnny Schmoker, Tempest, Alice Poole, and Lady Morgan. Won by Tempest, Alice Pool second.

RACING AT MITCHMORE PARK.

OTTAWA, May 24.—The races at Mitchmore Park were largely attended this afternoon, about 1,000 persons being present. The weather was delightful, and the course could not have possibly been in a better condition.

For the first race, the Corinthian stakes, open to all teams owned in the city of Ottawa, half-mile heats, there were five entries:—Bob Logic, Surprise, Beatrice, Sally, and Blue Bonnet. Blue Bonnet won the first by two lengths, Bob Logic the second. Bob Logic took the second heat easily, and also the third making him winner of the race.

There were three entries for the open steeple chase, King Tom, Jack in the Green, and Clip. The two former threw their riders, leaving Clip the winner.

Young Wagram, King Tom, Jack in the Green, Beatrice, and Sally entered for the scurry steeple chase. Jack in the Green won by about half a length. Young Wagram was second.

RACING AT MOOSE PATH PARK.

ST. JOHN, N. B., May 24.—The Trotting race, best 3 in 5, mile heats, was won by Kitty Clyde. Time—2:52, 2:52, 2:52.

The Gentleman's Race was taken by Gray Eagle in three straight heats. Time—3:09, 3:06, 3:06.

RACING AT PARK HILL.

PARK HILL, May 24.—The races here to-day were successful, about 700 people attending. The first race, running, was contested by Black Jack, Bay Jack, and Lady Bell. First heat, Lady Bell, in 2:05; second heat, ditto, in 2:10.

The second race, open trot, was run by Flora Temple, Snow Flake, Park Hill Boy, and Tecumseh Girl. First heat, Flora Temple, 3:15; second heat, Tecumseh Girl, 3:05, distancing the field.

The third race was running, half-mile heats, between Bay Jack and Lady Byron. Bay Jack won both heats in 1:03.

The fourth race was contested by Snow Flake, Park Hill Boy, Black Frank, and Flora Temple. First heat, Snow Flake, 3:18; second heat, ditto, 3:15.

The fifth and last race, a scrub for a made-up purse, mile dash, was run by Park Hill Boy, Flora Temple, and Black Frank. Won by Park Hill Boy in 3:05.

CLOSING OF ENTRIES.—Horsemen should bear in mind that the entries for the London Races will close on Monday 31st at 9:30 p.m., Medins, N. Y., on Saturday June 5th, and Lockport on Monday June 7th.

WON IN A CANTER.

In a cosy furnished room, the following morning, sat two gentlemen, each with a cigar in their mouth. These were Lord Noodle and Captain Slyfox.

"Do you mean," said his lordship, "that you actually proposed, and were accepted, to march on me?"

Yes, replied the Militaire. "Stole a march on you," proposed, was accepted; all four, you know, in love or war."

Ah, sighed his lordship. "Well I congratulate you, old boy. I had plenty of chances, but never took them; better luck next time."

"Come in," said the Captain, in answer to a knock at the door.

"Two men with the dog, sir," said the servant, showing in our gin-and-water acquaintances of the previous day.

"Ha, my friends," commenced the Captain; "glad to see you. Brought the dog all right I see."

"Yes sir," replied one. "This gentleman," pointing to Lord Noodle, "came after him too, but if he's yours I will get him another."

"Nice dog, isn't he Noodle?" said the Captain, holding up the little animal before the young nobleman, who was too much surprised to say a word.

"Beautiful little fellow; rather a carrotty colour though, some of the black," holding him up to the light.

"Skin carrotty, too—I say," and he turned round sharply on the two fellows, who looked anything but comfortable, "you are a couple of nice blackguards and idiots, are you not? Thought to humbug me, did you? Fancied yesterday when I saw him I did not know him, and that he was not dyed? You precious muffs, look here," and making his arms into a hoop, "Jump, Charlie," and away went the little fellow flying through.

"Thought to get £60 out of me, did you? My poor lads, there'll be such a getting upstairs for the next three months. Here, take them away," he said, as two blue-coated gentlemen made their appearance from an inner room.

"I'm sick of such scum. My friends," he continued, as they were leaving the room, uttering horrid oaths, "give up the dyeing trade, that is the advice of yours affectionately. Now, Noodle, some seltzer and hock, and I'm off, you know where."

Yes, there is no mistake; it is my own Charlie," said Lady Mary, covering her little pet with kisses. "Your name is Charlie too," turning to the Captain. "How strange I should call this little nigger Charlie. Oh, Charles, you heavies are such stripes. You good-natured old goose. You might have seen with half an eye if you had only looked, that I cared only for you. Poor Noodle, I am so sorry for him. But I have two strings to my bow all the same; two Charlies instead of one."

"There, Mary, is how Slyfox got his wife Lady Mary. Speak of you know who, and he is sure to appear; for there is his dog-cerrt coming up the avenue, and all the others will be here presently."

"Good bye, papa, mind you send home plenty of game;" and she glided from the room.

"Ha! ha!" laughed the gentleman, and rubbing his hands gleefully. "The little puss in love with the very man I had chosen for her. There is not one of them to be compared with my boy Charlie; how she coloured when I mentioned his name, but I must not let her know I have discovered her secret. No girl likes it till the proper time comes; then she has her poor mother's spirit. If I were to tease her about it, she would kick against the traces like a three-year old. But Charlie, sly dog, just as spoony upon her, as he is on him. I wonder when he will pop. Well, well, all in good time."

CHAPTER X.

CHARLIE COMES TO GRIEF.

The covers on the Linden estate were of great extent, well preserved and looked after. Their worthy owner was fond of all kinds of sport, from potting a tiger from his bedchamber, to a rat hunt, hunting he liked, though he was not so great an enthusiast as some are, two days a week he could manage, not more. He disliked going long distances to a meet, and were it not within twelve miles from the Hall seldom put in an appearance.

Shooting was his hobby, there he was always on his own estate, and never far from home. He liked his daughter, who often accompanied him hunting, but always met him on his shooting excursions.

His eye would light on the sawed drive his hunters, yacht, and denied himself nothing, yet he was a keen hand at accounts, and never exceeded his income.

It is no wonder then that mamma who had marriageable daughters, declared that Lord Verriest was "a dear good creature and greatly beloved."

Mr. Hill did not care for him, and although he was asked occasionally to dinner and to shoot, yet the owner of Linden Hall had been quite long enough in the county to have heard all about Verriest and his antecedents, for though the nobleman was a polished gentleman, yet nothing would have grieved him more than that his pet and only daughter should have fancied him, nor, indeed, would he ever have given his sanction to his Mary becoming Lady Verriest; that he would, if he got the chance, propose to his daughter one day, the old gentleman was quite certain of.

His five-and-thirty years sat well upon him, and his Lordship had quite satisfied himself on one point—that no girl with any taste would refuse him. His admiration of Mary was undiminished, it was therefore with no common satisfaction to Mr. Hill, that his daughter had that morning told him "his Lordship was a coxcomb," and that she would not have him for "fifty thousand a year," which was his income.

The worthy gentleman therefore welcomed the proprietor of the Moat with more than usual warmth on this morning, knowing he was safe.

Lord Lavendar was a nice fellow, and a good all round sportsman, a married man, with a nice wife who was a favorite with all—in fact they both were. A fine distinguished-looking man was his Lordship, and dotingly fond of all field sports, and with his fine means he followed it as it ought to be.

John Turbit Turtlefat, the only son of old Sir Turbit Turtlefat, was a fat, pasty-faced young man of some five or six-and-twenty; he, too, was a delightful creature with mamma. John would be rich, very rich, when old Sir Turbit shuffled off this mortal coil, which was not unlikely to happen at any moment, for he was fearfully given to over-eating and drinking himself. But John had a good allowance now, quite enough to keep a wife well, and was in every sense with some a "decided catch."

He set himself up as a young country gentleman, affected gaiters, knickerbockers, and shooting. He was a bad rider to hounds, and when he did he generally came to grief. Shooting was his forte, at least, so he said. All who had seen him admitted the fact that he was a good shooter but a devilish bad hitter, except in covers; there he generally managed to pot some unfortunate beater or keeper, their escapes from him had been numerous, it was therefore not to be wondered at that all gave him a pretty wide berth.

Major Bouncer Brag was another of the same kidney, a fine shooter but an indifferent hitter; but this he would not believe. There was nothing the Major could not, and had not done; a gentleman of his acquaintance once made a calculation—a moderate one—and had reckoned that the Major must have lived at least a hundred and eighty years, to have gone through and effected all he had. He too was an ardent admirer of Mary Hill, as well as young Turtlefat, but as neither had any chance, Mr Hill welcomed them cordially.

Captain Slyfox was a magnificent shot, as was Thornhill.

This was the party assembled for a day's cover shooting at Linden Hall. The beaters and keepers were waiting at the corner of a wood when the party made their appearance. "Here Martin," said his master, "how are you going to beat? place the gentlemen, will you? I leave all this," he said, turning to Lord Verriest, "to my keeper; but I am sure he will put you where you will have shooting."

Now Martin was a good and honest keeper, not one of those stuck-up, know-nothing sort of idiots we so often see. He knew his place, and did his duty by his master, who had a sixteen years' character with him; nor was he one of those who were always looking for tips.

"Well, sir, Lord Verriest will go to the top of the cover on the right, Captain Slyfox to the top of the cover on the left, and Lord Lavendar in the centre of it; I'll send men to show them." He determined he would have two good men at the head of the cover, for he knew Lord Verriest would miss many more than he killed, and that Lord Lavendar and the Captain would kill nearly all they shot at.

Mr. Thornhill, in the middle of the wood, he knows his place; the Major, Mr. Turtlefat and yourself in a line with the beaters." He put his master into a safe place, for he had a lively recollection of Messrs. Brag and Turtlefat—in a line with these two gentlemen and the beaters, he knew his master could come to no harm. Then commenced "Hill hi!" and beating of sticks against the trees and bushes, the shouts of—"Hare forward!"

"Well missed," roared Turtlefat. "I say, Major, why don't you have a gun to shoot round corners?"

At this, all the beaters gave a suppressed titter, and even Mr. Hill smiled.

"I wish you would keep your remarks to yourself, said the Major.

"Never mind, look out," interrupted their host, wishing to put an end to the war of words; "look out—hare up. Hark at the guns at the top of the wood—they are at it now, and so is Thornhill."

Many times and often did the Major and Turtlefat fire; but with very indifferent success, verifying their character of good shooters but bad hitters.

"Well, Charlie, what have you done?" asked the master, coming up with the rest to that gentleman who was ensconced behind an oak tree.

"Fourteen pheasants, nine hares, and about a dozen rabbits."

"By George! what sport you must have had," remarked Messrs. Brag and Turtlefat in one breath.

"Get to the top of the cover, sir," said the keeper to Charlie. "We must beat up to other gentlemen," and he commenced "Hill hi!" the beaters collecting the heap of slain which Thornhill had laid low.

"One of the finest shots in this country, sir," he remarked to his master, "kills his game clean—not many runners with him."

"Yes, Martin, he is a fine shot, a very fine shot, and a fine fellow too."

It is needless to add that the two other gentlemen, though they said nothing, did not agree in these encomiums.

On arriving at the top of the cover, they found Lord Lavender, Slyfox, and Mr. Thornhill had indeed done execution, but Verriest had killed comparatively few head.

"Can't shoot a bit, Hill, this morning," he said, "not in form at all; by George, I've missed twenty shots if I have one!"

"Never mind, Verriest, stomach out of order, or too much salmon for dinner, eh?" said the old gentleman laughed.

"No, Hill, no," returned his guest, "not that, but I cannot shoot to-day, that is all."

"We'll beat the cover again, sir," said Martin, "if you please; lots of birds, and fur-back—then we'll work the little spinny down to the hut for luncheon, and after that take the ninety-acre copse."

"Just as you like, Martin, I leave it all to you," returned his master.

Accordingly they beat the wood over again, and ran through the spinny to the hut where they were to lunch—he there game was all laid out on the turf.

"I wish Sir John had come," said the old gentleman to Thornhill. "We have had capital sport. I know he would have enjoyed it."

"He would indeed," returned Charlie, "but he could not come to-day." The fact was, Sir John had heard Brag and Turtlefat were to be of the party; and having had two or three narrow escapes in cover from these gentlemen, and having a little regard for his life, had made an excuse.

"Here comes Miss Mary with the luncheon, sir," remarked Martin, as he saw her coming down the ride, driving her pair of ponies beautifully and with skill, her little tiger sitting behind.

"Well, my pet, here we are," said her father; "glad you've come, we are all dreadfully hungry and fearfully thirsty."

Lovely did she look on that forenoon, the keen air had given her a color, her little coquettish fur-trimmed hat, her handsome jacket also fur-trimmed, all conducted to lend additional charms. There is nothing a man likes as much as a young, well-dressed, and beautiful woman. And Mary was this; and so all the gentlemen seemed to think.

"I see you have had good sport," she said, as her eyes ran along the heap of slain. "How is Lady Lavender?" giving her hand to his Lordship.

"I have half a mind not to speak to you, Captain Slyfox; you promised to drive Lady Mary over with you to spend the day with me—too bad of you."

"So I should, Miss Hill," answered the Captain, "only she is confined to her bed with a cold."

"Oh, I am so sorry. Good-morning, Lord Verriest," bowing only to that nobleman. "Good-morning, Major Brag and Mr. Turtlefat, I hope you have been shooting well to-day," but only bowing to them.

"Oh, Mr. Thornhill, I declare I had quite overlooked you." The color rose faintly to her cheeks as she said this, nevertheless she shook hands with him. "How is Sir John? Very unkind of him not to come. Martin, take the things out of the carriage. I suppose I must see it all laid properly. Papa does not understand it a bit; Mr. Thornhill, you must be butler, and when I see you all settled I shall go for a little drive, and come back again."

"I wish I were going for a drive with you," said Lord Verriest gallantly; "I've had capital sport, I've shot a bit to-day."

now and can tell me about it, and where you are going to finish the day?" all this she put in one breath.

"I should have done much better, Miss Hill," put in Turtlefat, "if Major Brag had not always shot across me, it unnerves me so."

"Well, come, I like that," returned the Major; "that is rather good, is it not, Hill? Who shot my pheasant, eh?"

"And who missed the hare?" retorted the other.

"Well, you know, Miss Hill," returned the Major, "every one misses now and then. I never can shoot near Turtlefat."

"Ah," said the young lady, "never mind, you will do better after luncheon."

Martin thought otherwise, for both gentlemen had not spared the bitter ale or sherry. And he very justly thought that if they had not shot well before luncheon, they were not likely to do so after.

"Papa," continued the young lady, seeing Lord Verriest preparing to address her, "you have been sleeping; I know you have; it is a horrid habit, Lord Lavender, is it not? But I must break him off it. I am sure you do not go to sleep in that way, Lord Lavender; or do you, Captain Slyfox; or do you, Mr. Thornhill?"

"Ah, my dear," said her father, "I am not so young as I was, and it is a bad habit, but my friends have forgiven me. Here, lads, put the baskets away in the carriage."

"Well, papa, good-by. I hope you will all have good sport; mind you do not shoot one another. And, Lord Lavender, I am just going home to drop these baskets, and then on to call on Lady Lavender; shall I find her at home?"

"Certain," said the gentleman. Bowing to them all, she entered her carriage and drove away.

The next cover they had to beat was a large one, and the guns were placed as before; there were good wide rides cut in it, and quarters were to be beaten at a time, for it was far too big to take all at once.

"You had better, sir," said Martin to Thornhill, "go up the ridges, well ahead of the guns."

"All right, Martin," and the young man walked briskly away.

"Mind, gentlemen," said the keeper, "no cross shots here; this is a different cover to the other. And mind Mr. Thornhill is ahead straight up the ridge; if you don't want to make cold meat of him, be careful."

"I'll bet you a sovereign, Turtlefat, I kill more than you this time," said the Major to that gentleman, for he was very irate at what had been said about him.

"Done," replied the other. "Make it five if you like."

The shooting commenced. Hares and birds up in all directions, and the firing was fast and furious. The old gentleman did not carry his gun, but merely walked stick in hand with the beaters.

"Cock pheasant ahead in the clump of bushes," cried one of the beaters; the bird rose, but before it got four feet from the ground both Brag and Turtlefat simultaneously fired at it. Then came such a cry of anguish as is seldom heard at a shooting party.

"By God! you've done it now," shouted the keeper, as he dashed away, followed by his master and a score of others. "Damned if they kin't potted Mr. Charles."

It was too true. Sitting on the grass was the unfortunate young man, deadly pale, with the blood gushing from his chest; he had torn off his coat and waistcoat, and the front of his shirt was literally dyed with crimson.

"My poor dear fellow," exclaimed the old gentleman, kneeling down beside him; "you are not much hurt—oh, tell you are not much hurt; to think that our day's shooting should have such an end. Lavender, my good friend, to that nobleman who had come up with the others, "run to the Hall and tell them to have a bed prepared; Slyfox, you I know will go to H—," naming a small village about a mile distant, "you will get there quicker than I can have a horse saddled for you. And Lord Verriest, you, I am sure, will do me the kindness to ride over to Sir John's and inform him of this wretched accident."

"Now, lads, quick with that hurdle," exclaimed Martin, as three or four of the beaters were seen bringing one along, "off with your coat and make as soft a bed as you can. Poor young gentleman, it's a bad job he's fainted, sir," to his master. "I told yer," continued he, scowling at Brag and Turtlefat, "to look out, I know'd what it would come to, for you've nearly made cold meat of me one, or twice, afore now."

"I did not do it," exclaimed the Major.

"Nor I!" said Turtlefat, his naturally white and pasty face looking many degrees paler.

"At any rate," returned the keeper, "it must have been one of yer."

Slowly the men wended their way towards the Hall. Not a word did the old gentleman intently at his face. "I have been very blind these last eight months, I know you now, you are—"

"For God's sake, Sir John, not a word now! yes, I am he you think. I will explain at a more fitting time; not a word of this, on your honor."

"On my honor," said Sir John, and he turned away.

The patient now gave some signs of consciousness, and smiled faintly, as he saw them standing beside his bed.

"My poor dear lad!" said Sir John, "you will be all right in a little while, your old nurse Grimes will be here almost immediately," and as he spoke she entered the room.

Not a word did she utter, but she was deathly pale, and trembling from head to foot; and as she gazed on the young man's features, who attempted to stretch out his hand towards her, burst into a flood of tears.

The old gentleman was looking out of the window, evidently expecting the arrival of his daughter.

"Mrs. Grimes," he said presently, but without turning round, "a word with you here."

As she came up to his side, he looked full upon her.

The instant the old woman's eyes fell on his features, she started violently, her deathlike face was now turned to vivid crimson.

"Why it is Mr.——"

"Hush! Grimes," said he, holding up his finger in warning manner; "not a word now, you are right, come to my study this evening when all is quiet; I must go for an instant to break this sad affair to my daughter, for here she comes," pointing to the pony-carriage which was seen approaching up the avenue.

"Mary, my darling," said he, drawing his daughter into a side room, and trying to look cheerful, "we have had a little accident; do not alarm yourself," noticing that she turned ghastly pale, "it will be all right—poor Thornhill has been shot by Brag or Turtlefat, we can not tell which it was of them."

"Is he dead, papa?" she faintly asked.

"No, dearest, no, but very much hurt. Doctor Wilson is with him, and Sir W—— has been telegraphed for."

"Oh! papa," she exclaimed, "why did you have those horrid men to shoot with you? I had a presentiment that something would happen, for both Major Brag and Mr. Turtlefat are always shooting some one." Her nerve here gave way and she sobbed violently. Raising her head she presently said,

"May I see him?" and throwing herself into her father's arms uttered in a piteous beseeching tone, "Oh, do let me see him, papa, do let me see him, that I may know he is not dead!"

CHAPTER XI.

OLD FRIENDS TURN UP.

"Pastern," said Shirkington Duffer to his valuable stud-groom, as that worthy entered the room where his two masters were seated over their wine after dinner, "I shall ride the new brown horse 'Blue-skin,' and the Captain 'Jack Sheppard,' to-morrow; the other two, 'Fake-away' and 'Nix-my-Dolly,' will be our second horses, take them on with the lads early, and mind the cart is ready at nine."

Now Mr. Pastern was not accustomed to be spoken to in this dictatorial manner, and determined to resent it accordingly.

"Surely, sir," said he, "you wouldn't think of taking out valuable 'osses only just come in."

"Why, what is the matter with them?" exclaimed both gentlemen in the same breath; "nothing wrong, I hope?"

"Why nothing as I know of," said Mr. Pastern, "but 'osses as comes into fresh stables wants to get accustomed to the water, the hay, the oats, and what not."

"And thereby giving them rest," said Shirkington, "putting fat on them; these horses have been hunted regularly up to to-day, are in tip-top condition, and so," said the gentleman, fortifying himself with a glass of wine, and for the battle he was going to wage, "mean to keep them so. Now look here, Pastern," continued Shirkington, and looking at his friend who nodded his head in approval, "the Captain said I do not intend to have any more humbug; hitherto you have been master, and we your men; this state of things will not do any longer, for I, that is, we, are resolved to have our own way—first fiddle you cannot play any more, Mr. Pastern, and if you do not like it, there is a very easy way of settling the matter."

"Just my opinion," said the Captain, nervously, lighting a fresh cigar; "it will not do any longer, Pastern, you will be man, head-man if you like, but only man," and the Captain gulped down his rising indignation with a glass of sherry; but as it happened to be whiskey which the gallant gentleman had

The pocket Hercules, George Seddons, the well-known prize-fighter, who had many friends in Ontario, especially in the vicinity of Hamilton, where some of his relatives reside, died in New York, on May 12th, from injuries supposed to have been received in a glove contest with Dan Dougherty about two weeks previously.

ONE FOR HAMILTON.—The portly O. Nowlan, Esq., ex-Alderman, &c., of Hamilton, brought from Brantford a thousand-dollar's worth of horseflesh in the shape of a three-year-old Clear Grit colt, which is now in his stable. The juvenile trotter has as yet had no handling, but it is said he can stop the ticker away down in the forties.

FINE HORSES.—At the Niagara Co., N. Y., Horse Show held last week, the stock of the Niagara County Breeding and Training Stables, Messrs. Lampkins & West, proprietors, came in for a large share of the popular commendation, especially the stallions, Country Gentleman and Scythian, and the brood mare Maggie Scott.

We see among the list of horses in training by Mr. John Coffee at Jerome Park the three year old colt by Panit, dam Long Nine, entered for the Canadian Derby.

A MARE CURED OF A BROKEN LEG.—A chestnut mare, 13 years old, heavy in foal, belonging to Mr. A. Gubner, Supervisor of New Utrecht, Long Island, broke off her hind leg about six weeks since. Veterinary Surgeon Ebenczer Waters of Brooklyn, was called in, undertook the case, placed the mare in slings, set the leg, and on Friday last the mare was turned out all right, and not a particle the worse for her accident.

victor, George Frederick being behind her; but the latter turned the tables on her in the Municipal Stakes, at Doucester, a month later. At the Newmarket Houghton meeting she scored her maiden triumph by winning the Home-bred Stakes from four opponents, having gradually run herself into condition throughout the summer. As a three-year-old she first gave evidence of her brilliant racing qualities by winning the One Thousand Guineas Stakes, at the Newmarket first spring meeting, from a field of eight runners, by half a length; the Epsom Oaks, by three lengths from ten opponents; the Coronation Stakes, at Ascot; was beaten a head by Trent (to whom she was giving 4 lbs. in weight), for the Great Yorkshire Stakes; and won the Doncaster St. Leger from twelve antagonists by a length and a half, and thus rivalling Formosa's great achievement of winning the triple honors of the One Thousand Guineas, Oaks and St. Leger. It was the notoriety attached to him as owner of the victorious Apology that involved him in controversial correspondence with his diocesan, the Bishop of London. The latter wrote him that his racing pursuits were not in accordance with his profession as a clergyman, and practically gave him the choice of quitting the turf or his living at Ashby-de-la-Lauce. Mr. King replied that he had inherited his horses, bred them with a view to improvement, ran them for sport, without ever betting upon them, and concluded by curtly referring the Bishop to his solicitor. Finally, however, Mr. King resigned his clerical profession, and his non de course bid fair to become still more famous, through his colt Holy Friar, by Hermit out of Thursday, who, last season, as a two-year-old, won six out of his seven engagements—the Zetland Stakes, at York spring meeting; Seaton Delaval Stakes, at Newcastle; Hardwicke Stakes, at Stockton; Prince of Wales and Gimcrack Stakes, at York August meeting; and a Two-Year-Old Sweepstakes, at Doncaster. His one solitary defeat was in the Middle Park Plate, at Newmarket, where he ran fourth and unplaced to Plebeian, Per Se, and Galopin. His brilliant public performances had caused him to be the favorite for the Blue Riband of the Turf all through the winter, but the death of his reverend owner, at an advanced age, just sixteen days before the race, disqualified Holy Friar for the Derby, as well as Apology for the Ascot Cup and Alexandra Plate.

NOTES FROM ILLINOIS.

WILL Co., Ill., May 10, '75. I'm afraid I shan't be able to send you a very formidable array of Notes, but as the boy said at a party when praising the butter, "very good what there is of 'em, and plenty of 'em such as they are."

Leaving the above as a preface (and it will probably be the only good thing I shall say,) I will proceed to business. The reports of guns have been heard in all directions this spring, and "honk, honk" of the wild geese has turned the eyes of a great many skyward, for the first and probably last time, till next Fall, in their lives.

Geese and ducks, especially the former, have been very plenty around here, but they seemed very shy, more so than usual, and I have heard of only three or four being shot. Snipe are very plenty also. Bertram's Tattler, "Tringa bartramia." The latter can be seen in any field in quite large flocks. They have a rather curious habit when they light of stretching their wings straight up over their backs until meet before they fold them, uttering at the same time a prolonged dismal whistle.

The winter has been a severe one, but neither quail or pinnated grouse seems to have suffered any, and I can confidently predict a first-rate season.

There is only one hunting dog in town, a pointer, and he belongs to an old German doctor, and has no training at all. Almost every one here has a gun, and if they were all brought out for inspection I believe all the different stages in the improvements on weapons, from the matchlock to the breech-loader would be represented. I will try and do better next time, and until then I bid you and your readers an affectionate adieu.

CHICAGO VS. ST. LOUIS REDS.

THE BEST GAME ON RECORD. Score 1 to 0. The first meeting between the Chicago Club and the Red Stockings of St. Louis, Mo., took place on the latter's grounds on Tuesday, May 11, and the occasion was one which will long live in the memory of the baseball fraternity, for the reason that the game was the finest ever played anywhere, the score at the close of the ninth innings standing 1 to 0 in favor of the Whites.

St. Louis — 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 — 0
First base on errors Chicago, 3; St. Louis, 5; Passed balls—Hastings 2, Flint 1. Umpire, Louis Schrader. Time, 1h, 35m.

HARTFORD VS. PHILADELPHIA.

On May 12, the above named clubs met for the first time this season on the grounds of the former club at Hartford, Conn., only about 800 spectators being in attendance, owing to the inclement state of the weather, the wind blowing a gale and light showers of rain falling at intervals during the game in the second innings, of which a suspension for about ten minutes was necessitated.

Philadelphia — 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 — 1
Runs earned, Hartford, 1; bases on errors, Hartford 6, Philadelphia 1. Umpire, Charles Daniels. Time, 1h 40m.

HARTFORD VS. ATLANTIC.

These clubs played their fourth game together on May 17, at Brooklyn, N. Y., and though the weather was fine the attendance was limited, an almost certain victory for the Hartfords being anticipated.

Hartford — 0 2 0 0 1 0 1 0 1 5
Atlantic — 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 — 0
First base by errors, Hartford 1, Atlantic 2. Runs earned, Hartford 1, Atlantic 0. Umpire, A. Martin. Time of game 1h 20.

BOSTON VS. ATHLETICS.

The second championship game between the Athletics and Boston was played on Monday afternoon, May 17, on the latter's grounds, in presence of about 1,500 spectators. Egler's careless base running in the first inning lost the only chance the Athletics had of making a run. McVey made a clean home-run in the eighth inning, hitting the ball over the left-field fence.

Boston 4 2 0 0 1 1 2 1 1 — 12
Runs earned, Boston, 7. First base on errors—Athletic, 1; Boston, 2. Umpire, Wm. McLean of the Rupert Club. Time, 1h 50m.

PHILADELPHIA VS. MUTUAL.

The Philadelphia Club nine met the Mutuals on May 14 for the first time this season, and, as a good game was anticipated, the attendance on the Union Ground, Brooklyn, was numerous. It was generally anticipated that the Mutuals would be sure victors, as they had a week's practice, and were therefore in better trim for play, though still weak in one position.

Philadelphia .. 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 — 1
First base by errors—Mutual, 3; Philadelphia, 7. Runs earned—Mutual 0; Philadelphia, 0. Umpire—Mr. Bomeiser of Philadelphia. Time, 1h 50m.

HARTFORD VS. ATHLETIC.

The above-named clubs played their first championship match together this season, on the grounds of the former club, May 13, in the presence of about 2,500 spectators. The game was hotly contested, brilliantly played, and close up to the ninth inning, when it became very exciting.

Bases on errors—Hartford, 5; Athletic, 3. Balls called—Cummings 9; McBride, 14. Struck out—Athletic 3. Umpire, William McLean. Scorers, Benj. Douglass and Al. Wright. Time, 2 hours.

MUTUAL VS. NEW HAVEN.

The New York Mutuals and the New Haven Club on May 11 treated the residents of the City of Elms to probably the finest exhibition of ball play they were ever fortunate enough to witness. The score at the end of the ninth inning was 1 to 1, and two more innings were required to decide the game, a bad error on the part of Geer giving the Mutuals another run, and thereby winning for them the game. The victors made three errors, and the loser eleven.

pitcher below the line of the hip." That is the rule in both the professional and amateur codes, and therefore all the umpire has to do is to watch the pitcher's arm when it passes the body. If it passes above the line, the pitcher must call "foul ball." If he does not, it is a legal delivery. This should be made a permanent rule of the game.

First base by errors, Athletic 4, Atlantic 3. Runs earned, Athletic 1, Atlantic 0. Umpire, Mr. A. Martin. Time of game, 1h 40m.

Of the general play on the Atlantic side there were but few exceptions to excellent fielding in every position, especially in the outfield, the catching of Knowlton from Clinton's paces being first-class. Indeed the nine as it now stands only needs good training together to make its mark in the coming struggle for the pennant. The Athletics played a model game, they supporting McBride's pitching in the best style of the art. Sutton's third-base play was the feature, but every position was well attended to. Sutton lacked judgment in running the bases, and committed a foul, and Kocap dropped a fly ball, these being the only errors in this entire game by the Athletics.

SEARCHER'S MILE IN 1:41 1/2

REMARKABLE TIME MADE AT LEXINGTON, KY. THE FASTEST MILE ON RECORD.

The Lexington (Ky.) Press, of Friday May 14, gives the following account of the remarkable time made at Lexington, by the horse Searcher, at the Association Course, of that city, already mentioned in our dispatches:—

"The first race on the programme was a selling race, mile heats, for a purse of $800, the race to be run under the following conditions: Horses to sell for $1,500, to carry proper weights; to sell for 1,000 allowed five pounds; to sell for 750, allowed seven pounds; to sell for 500, allowed ten pounds. The winner to be sold at auction immediately after the race, and any excess over the price at which he was entered to be sold to be given to the second horse. The entries for the race were as follows:—

James A. Grinstead's gg Light Coin, 3 years old, by Lightning, dam Sequa, by imported Eclipse. To be sold for $500.

A Keene Richard's ch f Misfortune, 4 years old, by Gilroy, dam Mishap, by imported The Knight of St. George. To be sold for $750.

Robinson, Morgan & Co.'s (J. B. Rhode's) bc Searcher, 8 years old, by Enquirer, dam by imported Bonnie Scotland. To be sold for $1,500.

Under the condition of the race Searcher carried 90 pounds, Misfortune 94 pounds, and Light Coin 77 pounds. Searcher was largely the favorite in the pools, selling for $105, while Misfortune brought 36, and Light Coin $20.

When all was in readiness for the race—the judges and timers in their places and the riders up—the horses made ready for the start. The favorite having gone on the stretch a piece, came down the line in a run.

As he passed the others, he jumped out in a run, and immediately the drum was tapped, and off they went. The favorite went at a terrific rate round the turn, leading Misfortune by several lengths, and leaving Light Coin far behind. He never slackened pace, but under a steady pull bore away past the first quarter pole and down the back stretch. His jockey being unable to check him in his mad career. The first half mile pole was passed in forty-eight and a half seconds. Going up the hill he increased his lead under a steady pull, and coming down the homestretch he seemed to slacken pace though running at a terrific rate. Observing this, the spectators shouted "Go on, go on!" The jockey looked back to see where the other horses were, while the crowd shouted, "Shut 'em out, shut 'em out." Then the jockey gave Searcher the rein, and he came on ahead gallantly, passing under the string just in time to shut out Misfortune, who was coming along gallantly under two whip and spur, and in another jump or two would have saved her distance. Light Coin was away back, loitering by the wayside.

Searcher made the mile in the unprecedented time of 1:41 1/2. The first half mile was made in 48 1/2 seconds, and the last half in 53 1/2 seconds. A difficulty now arose about the sale of Searcher. He was entered to be sold for $1,500, all in excess to go to the second horse. But the owner could not afford to sell a horse capable of making such a race. He claimed that, as there was no second horse, the money in excess should go to him; but others claimed that, as there was no second horse, the excess of the entered price should go to the association.

BILLIARDS.

The second and last of the exhibition matches between the Dion Brothers took place at Nordheimer's Hall, on Wednesday night, and was better attended than on Tuesday evening, the hall being almost entirely filled. The first game was the American four-ball, and was won easily in nine innings by Cyrille, who opened with the large score of 438, and gave every indication of being the game out. The play throughout was brilliant and the time, 57 minutes, short. The following is the score:—

Joseph—24 66 33 24 0 41 42 165 174—570.
Cyrille—438 0 36 51 147 9 0 30 80—750.
Winner's average, 63; loser's, 63.

This is followed by a three ball game, 250 points which was won by Joe in 27 innings, in about an hour, the score standing 250 to 106. Winner's average, 8 1-9; loser's, 3-13. Joe's best run were 33, 49, 31, 42; Cyrille's, 15, 20, 14, 10. A number of exhibition shots were then made, including some finger shots, which caused great applause.

A baseball match was played at Port Dover, May 14 by nine supporters of the Government against nine Oppositionists, and after a well-contested game, lasting nearly four hours, the result was in favour of the Government team by 16 runs.

John P. Bond, V. S., of this city has lately purchased a black gelding, 15 3/4 years, by Extra, dam by imp. Blackblock. Price not stated.

A MARE CURED OF A BROKEN LEG.—A chestnut mare, 13 years old, heavy in foal, belonging to Mr. A. Gubner, Supervisor of New Utrecht, Long Island, broke off her hind leg about six weeks since. Veterinary Surgeon Ebenezer Waters of Brooklyn, was called in, undertook the case, placed the mare in slings, set the leg, and on Friday last the mare was turned out all right, and not a particle the worse for her accident. This gives another proof of the folly and inhumanity of destroying an animal that has had the misfortune to break a limb. Many a valuable horse that is destroyed might be saved and a life of usefulness prolonged by following the example of our friend Gubner.

DEATH OF A REVEREND TURFMAN.

The death of the Rev. John King, Rector of Ashby-de-la-Launde, Lincolnshire, on Monday, May 10, is announced by cable telegraph. The connection of the deceased clergyman with the English racing turf has, during the past twelve months, brought his name prominently before the public. Some years ago, by the death of a relative, he came into possession of some famous high-bred broodmares, among them Manganese, by Irish Birdcatcher out of Moonbeam, and Mandragora, her daughter by Ratanplan. His racing colors were first registered in 1863, but it was not until ten years afterwards that his nom de course of "Mr. Launde" (derived from the village of which he was the rector) became generally known on the turf through his celebrated mare Apology, by Adventurer (a son of Newminster) out of Mandragora, bred and owned by himself. As a two-year-old Apology made her debut on the turf in the Ham Stakes, at Goodwood, in which she ran third to Atlantic and Regal. She next started in the Lambton Plate at the Stockton meeting, and was beaten a neck by De Campis, with four others behind her. Her next essay was equally unsuccessful, for Sir William Wallace beat her by a head only for the North of England Biennial Stakes, at York, the future Derby

Friar, by Herriot out of Thursday, was sent as a two-year-old, won six out of his seven engagements—the Zetland Stakes, at York spring meeting; Station Delaval Stakes, at Newcastle; Hardwicke Stakes, at Stockton; Prince of Wales and Gumerack Stakes, at York August meeting; and a Two-Year-Old Sweepstakes, at Doncaster. His one solitary defeat was in the Middle Park Plate, at Newmarket, where he ran fourth and unplaced to Flebeian, Per Se, and Galopin. His brilliant public performances had caused him to be the favorite for the Blue Riband of the Turf all through the winter, but the death of his reverend owner, at an advanced age, just sixteen days before the race, disqualified Holy Friar for the Derby, as well as Apology for the Ascot Cup and Alexandra Plate.

NOTES FROM ILLINOIS.

Will Co., Ill., May 10, 75.

I'm afraid I shan't be able to send you a very formidable array of Notes, but as the boy said at a party when praising the butter, "very good what there is of 'em, and plenty of 'em such as they are."

Leaving the above as a preface (and it will probably be the only good thing I shall say,) I will proceed to business.

The reports of guns have been heard in all directions this spring, and "honk, honk" of the wild geese has turned the eyes of a great many skyward, for the first and probably last time, till next Fall, in their lives.

Geese and ducks, especially the former, have been very plenty around here, but they seemed very shy, more so than usual, and I have heard of only three or four being shot.

Snipe are very plenty also. Bertram's Tattler, "Tringa bartramia." The latter can be seen in any field in quite large flocks.—They have a rather curious habit when they light of stretching their wings straight up over their backs until meet before they fold them, uttering at the same time a prolonged dismal whistle.

The winter has been a severe one, but neither quail or pinnated grouse seems to have suffered any, and I can confidently predict a first-rate season.

There is only one hunting dog in town, a pointer, and he belongs to an old German doctor, and has no training at all. Almost every one here has a gun, and if they were all brought out for inspection I believe all the different stages in the improvements on weapons, from the matchlock to the breech-loader would be represented. I will try and do better next time, and until then I bid you and your readers an affectionate adieu.

ALL SORTS.

BUFFALO CALEDONIAN SOCIETY.—At the last regular meeting of the Buffalo Caledonian Society it was unanimously agreed to hold the Annual Games on Tuesday, 20th of July, 1875. The grounds of the Buffalo Driving Park Association have been secured for that day.

Wm. Wagner, alias "Canada Bill," who was shot some time since at Port Huron by Jack Wright, is growing worse very rapidly, and the probabilities are that he will not last long. Wright's bail has been raised to $5,000.

A wholesale slaughter of ducks, geese and pigeons is going on in Dundas Marsh and in Burlington Bay.

A Kentucky coroner has purchased a silver ball; to be presented to the base ball nine that shall show the highest death rate at the close of the season.

A Lacrosse Club was organized at Perth on on Wednesday evening last. The following persons were elected officers for this season: Joseph Coombs, Captain; Edward McCormack, Secretary; Wm A. Meighen, Treasurer. It was decided to call the club the "Dufferin Lacrosse Club."

The $2,000 match between Captain Bogardus and Ira A. Paine, has been postponed by mutual consent until the 29th inst. This contest will be the event of the season, and is of the following conditions: 100 birds each, 30 yards rise, and Hurlingham rules to govern. It will be shot on the Prospect Park Fair Grounds, New York.

COSTLY GAMBOLES.—Some little excitement is going on in London about a vice which threatens to become a fashion in the highest circles of society. Ladies of high rank and great wealth, for lack of something better to do, have set the example of gambling at cards for large stakes, and in one or two apparently decorous drawing rooms of money of an appalling amount have changed owners. Scandal whispers that a nobleman of high rank has been obliged to sell estates which have been in the family for centuries in order to clear himself of the difficulties in which his wife had involved him by her passion for gambling. The Duches of Manchester is said to have lost £140,000 sterling.

The clubs played their first game together on May 17, at Brooklyn, N. Y., and though the weather was fine the attendance was limited, but almost certain victory for the Hartford team anticipated.

BOSTONS vs. ATHLETICS.

The second championship game between the Athletics and Bostons was played on Monday afternoon, May 17, on the latter's grounds, in presence of about 1,500 spectators. Egler's careless base running in the first inning lost the only chance the Athletics had of making a run. McVey made a clean home-run in the eighth in most hitting the ball over the left-field fence.

PHILADELPHIA vs. MUTUAL.

The Philadelphia Club nine met the Mutuals on May 14 for the first time this season, and, as a good game was anticipated, the attendance on the Union Ground, Brooklyn, was numerous. It was generally anticipated that the Mutuals would be sure victors, as they had a week's practice, and were therefore in better trim for play, though still weak in one position.

HARTFORD vs. ATHLETIC.

The above-named clubs played their first championship match together this season, on the grounds of the former club, May 13, in the presence of about 2,500 spectators. The game was hotly contested, brilliantly played, and close up to the ninth inning, when it became very exciting.

MUTUAL vs. NEW HAVEN.

The New York Mutuals and the New Haven Club on May 11 treated the residents of the City of Elms to probably the finest exhibition of ball-play they were ever fortunate enough to witness. The score at the end of the ninth inning was 1 to 1, and two more innings were required to decide the game, a bad error on the part of Geer giving the Mutuals another run, and thereby winning for them the game. The victors made three errors, and the losers eleven.

PHILADELPHIA vs. ATLANTIC.

The third match between these clubs took place at Brooklyn on May 13, on which occasion the Athletics kept down the score of their adversaries to a smaller figure than in the other two contests, the "Philles" not earning a single run, and only scoring four, while the Athletics only escaped a whitewash by a muff and bad throw of McGeary's.

ATHLETIC vs. ATLANTIC.

On May 11, the Athletics arrived in New York, and on that day played their first game with the Athletics. The contest proved to be unusually interesting, and as pretty a display of hitting as one sees in half-a-dozen championship matches. In regard to the pitching there was a slight difficulty at first, owing to a doubt being had as to the legality of the delivery, inasmuch as Clinton of the Athletics threw the ball in a plain underhand throw.—For the benefit of Umpires generally we would state that any delivery of the ball is legal, provided the arm which holds the ball when swung forward passes the body of the Richard's Morgan & Co. J. B. Levee, a 3 year old, by Gilroy, dam Mishap, by imported Bonnie Scotland. To be sold for $1,500.

Under the condition of the race Searcher carried 90 pounds, Mistertune 94 pounds, and Light Com 77 pounds. Searcher was largely the favorite in the pools, selling for $105, while Mistertune brought 50, and Light Com $20.

When all was in readiness for the race, the judges and timers in their places and the riders up—the horses made ready for the start. The favorite having gone into the stretch a piece, came down the line in a run. As he passed the others, he jumped out in a run, and immediately the drum was tapped and off they went. The favorite went at a terrific rate round the turn, leading Mistertune by several lengths, and leaving Light Com far behind. He never slackened pace, but under a steady pull bore away past the first quarter pole and down the back stretch, the jockey being unable to check him in his mad career. The first half mile pole was passed in forty-eight and a half seconds. Going up the hill he increased his speed under a steady pull, and coming down the homestretch he seemed to slacken pace, though running at a terrific rate. Observing this, the spectators shouted "Go on, go on." The jockey looked back to see where the other horses were, while the crowd roared, "Stop, stop, stop, shut em out." Then the jockey gave Searcher the rein, and he came on ahead gallantly, passing under the string just in time to shut out Mistertune, who was running along gallantly under the whip and spur, and in another jump or two would have saved her distance. Light Com was away back, but run by the way-side. He carried the mile in the record time of 1:41 1/2 seconds, and the rest of the race accordingly.

A difficulty now arose about the sale of Searcher. He was entered to be sold for $1,500, all in excess to go to the second horse. But the owner could not afford to sell a horse capable of making such a race. He claimed that, as there was no second horse, the money in excess should go to him, but others claimed that, as there was no second horse, the excess of the entered price should go to the association. Under this aspect of the case Mr. Rhodes protested against the sale of his horse. To settle the matter a meeting of the club was at once called, and it was decided that while the terms of the race and of the sale were a contract, still, as there was no second horse, according to the contract the association had no right to the money that would have otherwise gone to the second horse. Searcher was then put up for sale, and one person anxious to get possession of him raised the price up to $6,000, at which Mr. Robert W. Woolley bought in the horse for the owner, Mr. Rhodes. Searcher is a very fine bay colt, standing fifteen hands and two and a half inches high, with plenty of growth yet. He is very long in the body and has a wonderful stride when in action.

The time made, 1:41 1/2, is for one mile the fastest on record, the fastest previous to that being that made by Grey Legend at Saratoga last August, running against time in 1:42. Alan made a previously a quarter of a mile and slower. Mr. Rhodes, the owner of Searcher, has also the dam and a full brother and half sister to the now noted racer.

WOODSTOCK RACES—THE QUEEN'S PLATE, &c.

FINE WEATHER AND LARGE ATTENDANCE.

From our own Correspondent.

Woodstock, May 24, 1875.

With royal weather to assist the prestige attached to the Queen's Plate, it is not surprising that the beautiful town of Woodstock was honored with an extremely large assemblage on the opening day of its Spring Meeting, on the natal anniversary of our beloved Sovereign. The stands on Saturday, Sunday and Monday were loaded with spectators bound for the racing centre, and the hotels were crowded in every nook and corner, and it is astonishing where the crowd stopping over to-night will find places to rest their weary heads. Of course, the great subject of conversation was the Queen's Plate and the probable chances of the several entrants for royal honors. On Saturday evening the Gilroy colt and White's entry had the call, but very little financing was indulged in, either from the unwillingness of the turfites to invest or a disposition to wait for further developments. A subject for conversation on Sunday was the purchase and importation of a fresh race horse by that enthusiastic turfman Mr. John Forbes. But very little was known of his by a majority of either the ing the course, which was crowded with a large audience of veritable dead-heads, whose precepts will not allow them to encourage horse-racing, but whose contemptible hypocrisy will permit them to unblushingly steal a view of that for which honest and liberal citizens are willing and anxious to pay. Every species of vehicle known in this locality was brought into requisition as conveyances to the track, and all seemed to be doing a lively business. Upon arriving at the ground, the first thing that struck the spectator was the beautiful condition of the track proper—for the steep chase ground is made of the inner rail. Pool selling on the Plat was rather brisk at opening on the course, at the following rates:—White's entry, $40; Gilroy, $16; and the field $65. A short time before the start a change took place, when Katie P. advanced from the position of a fielder to favorite—Field, $40; Katie P. $25; Gilroy, $20. Just before unblanketing Katie was a hot favorite; Katie P. $40; White's entry, $25, and the field $40. From the reporter's stand at this time a magnificent view met the eye; the whole of the east side of the enclosure being filled with horses, carriages, and pedestrians—the fair ones turning out in numbers to vie with the sterner sex, while the beauty, grace and style, is something of which Woodstock should feel proud. There must have been from 8,000 to 10,000 people on the ground and grand stand, which is sufficient to show that the bone and sinew of our new Dominion have not yet imbibed very deeply of the Puritanical anti-racing draughts.

Upon the horses being called up a tedious delay took place in the start on account of a protest having been lodged against Katie P. as being ineligible on account of her alleged foreign breeding. Mr. Archie Fisher, her owner, was called into the Judges' stand and asked to substantiate the genuineness of his entry. This, it is presumed, he did to the best of his ability; but Mr. Frank Lowell, of Galt, who had a horse in the race, deposed he had sold the mare to Mr. F., and that he, Mr. L., had imported her from Kentucky. Of course, this settled all Katie P.'s chances of starting; but if, as currently reported, Mr. L. had sold the mare to Mr. F. as a Province-bred, Mr. L.'s conduct is deserving of the severest condemnation from every turfman in the country, and Associations should give such cuteness a wide berth. If Mr. Fisher was aware she was not of native origin, and attempted to "ring her in," to him the disgrace should be attached. The question, and a dirty one it is, is in the hands of Messrs. L. and F. for solution, and it devolves upon at least one of them to clear himself of any knowledge of this disgraceful affair. If the standard of the Turf is to be elevated in this country, the public look upon such leading dignitaries as the above to show clean hands; and other turfmen, to remove the stain, should demand that the transaction be sifted and the guilty one ostracised from their ranks.

This unlooked for episode caused quite a depression in the market attached to the contest. Of the twelve entries three were absentees—Little Nell, Octagon, and Katie P. Owing to the position of the reporters' stand, a good view of the start could not be obtained, the Judges' stand being in a direct line between the representatives of the press and the half-mile post. A moderate good start was effected, much better than the one at Hamilton last year in the same race; and passing the stand, the first half mile, Pilot, true to his title, was guide to the party, Sharpcatcher and Fisherwoman being dead beat at this early stage of this race. Around the turn and down the hill, Pilot kept his position, but on the back stretch Emma P. made play at and overhauled the leader, and at the termination of the first mile was over a length in advance of her company. Coming up the hill, it looked like as if the Plate would decorate the White mansion, but in turning the corner and swinging into the stretch an unexpected change took place, and being full of run at the finish. A wild cheer greeted Young Trumpeter, the rankest outsider probably that ever won a Queen's plate, on his return to the Judges' stand. Nobody appeared to be more disappointed at the result than Mr. Schoff, who trained the horse for this his maiden victory. The following is the summary:

Woodstock, Ont., May 24, 1875.—First Race. The Queen's Plate. 1 1/2 mile dash. T. C. W. for Province bred horses that have never won public money. The Queen's Plate and whole entrance money to go to the winner.

plebian blood courses through his veins. The next was a running race, mile heats, for which there were eight entries, but only five came to the post. The race admits of no description, being won easily in two straight heats by the emigrant Vicksburg. Just before the race Vicksburg was selling at $0 to 15 against the field.

Table of race results for the 2nd Race—Running, purse $250—Mile heats, open to all; T. C. W. 1st horse, $200, 2nd 50. Includes entries like John Forbes, ch g Vicksburg, 3 yrs, by Vandal, dam Blondin, and others.

Vicksburg is a large chestnut colt, 8 years, and looks all over as he is a race horse. He was sired by Vandal, dam Blondin, and is probably as speedy a horse as ever came into Canada. He was purchased at the late Louisville, Ky., races by Mr. John Forbes of Woodstock, from Mr. Geo. Cadwallar, of Lexington, Ky., at a price not made public. His first appearance of which we find any record was at Nashville, Tenn., May 4, in the Bruce Stakes for 3-year olds. He was the favorite before the start in the pools, but played second fiddle to George Graham, a ch c by Rogers, dam Sunshine, who had only been third choice, but our subject led Volcano under the wire for second place. The track was very heavy and the time consequently slow—1:54, 1:54. Again at Nashville, on May 9th, we find him in the Maxwell House Stakes, a dash of a mile and a-half—which was won by Verdigris, in 2:41, Vicksburg being also beaten by Van Dorn, Playmate and Volcano, three Barrie Derby entries. At Louisville last week he captured the first heat of a mile-heat race, in 1:44, but was beaten in the race by Fair Play, a four-year old son of Virgil, who won the last two heats, in 1:44; 1:44. He is quite an acquisition to the racing stock of the Dominion; and now it will be in order for some one to get a horse to beat him.

The next on the program was a local trotting race, for which there were six entries, and was won by the gr. G. Gim Elastic in the 2nd, 3rd and 4th heats; time, 2:54; 3:03; and 2:52. Ingersol Girl led on the first whirl in 2:59, but was drawn after the heat.

A handicap dash of a mile and an eighth finished the day's sport. And it must be said, judging from the weights imposed in this race, that however enterprising and well-meaning our Oxford friends may be they certainly require to brush up considerably in Turf matters before they can be considered as fail. We give the entries and imposts as follows: Katie P., 117; Mignonette, 107; Emily, 112; Helen Bennett, 115; Hurricane, 95; Galt Reporter, 120; Protection, 125; and Gopher, 110. Of this lot only Mignonette and Gopher accepted. It proved to be almost a walk over for the mare in 2:14. The 8-minute trot did not fill. Mr. Totten acted as starter, and Messrs. James Brady of Ingersoll, D. McMillan of London, and H. P. Brown of Woodstock, were the Judges.

SECOND DAY.—MAY 25.

The weather to-day was as favorable as yesterday, the crowd being scarcely so large, but the general attendance nevertheless was above the average. The first event was the Steeplechase, three times round the inside course, two banks and two or three rails being the obstacles in each circuit of the field. Kelso was favorite, Helen Bennett ruling next, and Frank Ross and Banjo Charlie selling in the field. When a mile had been completed, Ross, who was going well at the time, struck the top of a bank, and Andy McLaughlin having no cobbler's wax on his saddle, was instantly grassed and did not remount. Banjo, half a mile from home, was out of it, and Helen led Kelso several lengths to the naked hurdle in the straight, which she ran into, slightly injuring her breast, but in no way interfering with her action till she had passed the post.

Table of race results for the First Race—Grand Steeplechase—Handicap. Purse $250—Open to all, over fair hunting ground, about 2 1/2 miles; top weights 11 stone. Includes entries like Dr. Smith, ch m Helen Bennett, 4 yrs, by Ulverston, dam Helen Douglass, 135 lbs., and others.

material wanted. With a nine selected from such a list of players, the Maple Leafs will again this year, as during the past five, be irresistible.

DRIVING PARK.

Exeter is to have a driving park at last. A number of sporting men organized themselves into an association, and have purchased ground enough from Mr. E. Drew to make a half-mile track.

The first race on the track will come off on the 1st of July, when the promoters expect to have a successful time. Mr. G. Mace is president of the association, and Mr. T. Fitton, secretary.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

C.C. Hamilton—You will have to consult a lawyer. Legal questions are never answered by us.

Old Sport, Kingston—Thanks. Your kind offer is accepted.

ONES—We are perfectly inundated this week with reports of local celebrations, Cricket, Lacrosse, and Base Ball Matches, &c., sufficient to fill a paper with four times the capacity of the SPORTING TIMES. Next week we will find room for those that are deemed of more than local interest.

HAMILTON.

Last week we had just time to draw attention to the announcement of the Hamilton Association for their meeting on June 30th, and July 1st and 2nd. Our information leads us to believe that this will be one of the most successful meetings of the season. The premium list it will be observed, is divided into classes for all descriptions of racing stock—hurdle, flat, and trotting horses. For the first day there are four events, a hurdle race, 2:40 trot for Canada horses, mile-heat race for Province-breds that have not won a match purse or sweepstake, and a local trot; certainly a good beginning. Dominion Day is to have a 2:30 trot, which we hope will be honored with a larger entry list than at Woodstock; a $800 mile heat running race, open to all; a handicap steeplechase; and a 3-minute trot for Canada horses. The third day's bill of fare is graced with a Dominion handicap, mile heats, top weight 120 lbs; a 2:50 trot for Canada horses; and an open running race, 1 1/2 heats, handicap, top weights 116 lbs. Taken altogether, this is quite a programme, and no doubt will receive the attention it deserves and the Hamiltonians desire. It will be noticed, that there are quite a number of handicaps and races for Canada horses comprised in the list. Of the former, if justice is done in the impost, a greater degree of satisfaction is given to the spectators and horsemen, but they require a good deal of discrimination in putting on the lead. There is an omission in the rules not stating when the weights are to be declared, and the acceptances to be made in the handicaps. These should always be embodied in the conditions. But these are minor affairs and can be overlooked in the excellence of the bill. It would be surprising to us if the Hamilton Races did not take a leading position among the turf events of the season.

"QUICKSTEP."

This three-year old filly by Leamington, dam Schottische, owned by Mr. W. H. Chappele of Detroit, and entered for the Canadian Derby at Barrie, in July next, made her first appearance on Dominion territory in a mile heat race at the late St. Thomas races, in which she scored her maiden victory, a report of which will be found in another column of to-day's paper. Among her antagonists was the veteran Protection, but he was started without his proper weight up and was very properly ruled out, although winning the heat. This running with light weight is an old trick—not that we mean Mr. Schoff is any more liable to practice it than many others—and should be very carefully looked after by the judges, and as serious injustice is done to both horses and spectators when the fraud is successfully accomplished, it should be punished promptly when detected.

GOOD FOR WHITBY.

The principal of placing the entry fee on first money is we are glad to see slowly but surely gaining ground. That it will result in

Dr. Bruneau on veterinary materia medica and Prof. McEachran on veterinary medicine and surgery. A new establishment is in course of erection, which will be ready for occupation next session. Dr. McEachran, who is at the head of the college, desires to impress upon the minds of students the advantages of a full medical education, which can only be attained by hard work. The tendency of a few months cramming and nominal examination is lowering and should be counteracted. The veterinary practitioner should be as well educated and take as much pride in his work as the M. D. who looks after the health of the human family. The museum attached to the Montreal Veterinary College is large and was well collected at great trouble and expense. The illustrative apparatus and specimens prove of great assistance to the lecturers in making themselves understood.

LONDON.—Next Wednesday and Thursday the spring meeting of the London Turf Club will be held on the Newmarket Race Course in that city under the management of perfectly efficient and reliable stewards. It is confidently anticipated that this meeting will as in former years be one of the leading events of the Turf annuals of the year in Ontario. The first day has at 8-min and a 40 purse; and a green Dominion and an open running race on the programme, while '45 and '80 trots, and Dominion Bred and free for all races are billed for Thursday. More than usual interest will be excited at this meeting on account of the battles of this week at Woodstock being fought over with a probable change of result. However this is one of the chances of war and racing. The superior hotel accommodation of London is quite an inducement for visitors to the Forest City and the esteemed hosts of the Tecumseh House and American Hotel, both of which are immediately at the Great Western Railway Station, and are the leading resorts for horsemen in London, will do all in their power to make visitors feel perfectly comfortable and at home during their stay. The entries close on Monday evening next, May 31, at 9:30 to which fact the attention of all interested is directed.

HOME MANUFACTURED BILLIARD TABLES.

We would call the attention of our readers to an advertisement in another column of Messrs. Riley & May, the well-known billiard-table manufacturers of Toronto. The firm has recently opened an office and show-rooms in this city at 115 LaGauchetiers street, at the head of Cote street, Montreal, for the sale of their billiard tables. They have also on hand the usual requirements of the billiard room—balls, cues and tips, and cushions; and in fact everything that pertains to the game can be found in the show-rooms. It is well known and acknowledged that Messrs. Riley & May's tables are fully up, if not superior, to those of the best makers in the United States, and Canada seems to have discovered this fact, for the tables are to be found in nearly every billiard room in the Dominion from Halifax to Winnipeg. Appreciating the value of competition, Messrs. Riley & May have placed one of their tables in the St. Lawrence Hall, where the well known Collouder tables have been in use for the purpose of allowing the public to test the respective merits of the tables, and we understand that the result has been highly creditable to the enterprise of our Canadian makers. The firm has been established in their line of business for the last ten years, and in addition to the manufacture of tables and pool goods of all kinds, they import ivory in the rough and turn billiard and bagatelle balls, martingale rings, &c., and we advise all who intend speaking billiard halls or private parlors to give Messrs. Riley & May an early call.— Gazette.

TORONTO SPRING RACES

Saturday, the first day of the spring meeting of the Toronto Riding and Driving Park was extremely pleasant, a light breeze from the west serving to render the air cool both for man and beast. WOODSTOCK RACES THE QUEEN'S PLATE, &c.

FINE WEATHER AND LARGE ATTENDANCE

From our own Correspondent

Woodstock, May 24, 1875.

With royal weather to assist the prestige attached to the Queen's Plate, it is not surprising that the beautiful town of Woodstock was filled with a most large and brilliant assembly on the opening day of its Spring Meeting, on the natal anniversary of our beloved Sovereign. The teams of Saturday, Sunday and Monday were loaded with spectators bound for the racing centre, and the hotels were crowded in every nook and corner, and it is astonishing where the crowd stopping over to night will find places to rest their weary heads. Of course, the great subject of conversation was the Queen's Plate and the probable chances of the several entrants for royal favour. On Saturday evening the Gilbey and What's entry had the call, but very little financing was indulged in, either from the unwillingness of the turfites to invest or a disposition to wait for further developments. A subject for conversation on Sunday was the purchase and importation of a fresh race horse by that enthusiastic turfite Mr. John Forbes. But very little was known of him by a majority of either the two principal visitors, but everybody expected from Mr. Forbes well known judgment that he had not wasted his sweetness on a dud. A fine specimen was well founded, as Vicksburg's running in the mile heat race shows, when it was no trick for him to defeat the finest field of horses the western province could produce. However, we are anticipated and will speak more of him further on. On Monday morning the crush from the surrounding country was immense, and all day long the people of that section had turned out en masse to enjoy the holiday and witness the racing. There were numerous delegations from the principal cities and towns in Ontario. Toronto was not so largely represented by the upper crust as we have seen on former occasions, but what were there were of the solid stamp, but any deficiency in numbers was amply made up by the lower strata, whose presence on occasions such as this is one of the mischiefs which turf sport has to bear. The proceedings of the Driving Park Association formed pulpit themes in several of the churches, the probable effect of which was visible the next day in the cemetery overlooking and the one thing of which Woodstock should feel proud. There must have been from 3,000 to 4,000 people on the ground and grand stand, which is sufficient to show that the town and snow of our new Dominion have to yet imbibed very deeply of the Puritanical anti-racing draughts.

Upon the horses being called up a tedious delay took place in the start on account of a protest having been lodged against Katie P. as being ineligible on account of her alleged foreign breeding. Mr. Archie Fisher, her owner, was called into the Judges' stand and asked to substantiate the genuineness of his entry. This, it is presumed, he did to the best of his ability; but Mr. Frank Lowell, of Galt, who had a horse in the race, deposed he had sold the mare to Mr. F., and that he, Mr. L., had imported her from Kentucky. Of course, this settled all Katie P.'s chances of starting, but it, as currently reported, Mr. L. had sold the mare to Mr. F. as a Province-bred, Mr. L.'s conduct is deserving of the severest condemnation from every turfman in the country, and Associations should give such censure a wide berth. If Mr. Fisher was aware she was not of native origin, and attempted to bring her in, to him the disgrace should be attached. The question, and a dirty one it is, is in the hands of Messrs. L. and F. for solution, and it devolves upon at least one of them to clear himself of any knowledge of this disgraceful affair. If the standard of the Turf is to be elevated in this country, the public look upon such leading dignitaries as the above to show clean hands; and other turfmen, to remove the stain, should demand that the transaction be sifted and the guilty ostracised from their ranks.

This unlooked for episode caused quite a depression in the race attached to the contest. Of the twelve entries three were absentees—Little Nell, Octagon, and Katie P. Owing to the position of the reporters' stand, a good view of the start could not be obtained, the Judges' stand being in a direct line between the representatives of the press and the half-mile post. A moderate good start was effected, much better than the one at Hamilton last year in the same race; and passing the stand, the first half mile, Pilot, true to his title, was guide to the party, Sharpeatcher and Fishawoman being dead beat at the first stage of the race. Around the turn and down the hill, Pilot kept his position, but on the back-strut Emma P. made play at and overhauled the leader, and at the termination of the first mile was over a length in advance of her company. Coming up the hill, it looked like as if the Plate would decorate the White mansion, but in turning the corner and swinging out to stretch an unthought of customer became dangerous, and about half way down the straight came to the front and held the race sure in hand, winning easily without a struggle, and being full of run at the finish. A wild cheer greeted Young Trumpeter, the rankest outsider probably that ever won a Queen's Plate, on his return to the Judges' stand. Nobody appeared to be more disappointed at the result than Mr. Schoff, who trained the horse for this his maiden victory. The following is the summary:

WOODSTOCK, ONT., May 24, 1875 - First Race The Queen's Plate. 1 1/4 mile dash. I C W, for Province bred horses that have never won public money. The Queen's Plate and whole entrance money to go to the winner.

THE WINNER.
 Young Trumpeter is a small chestnut horse about 15 hands, with fair white stockings, sired by Trumpeter, he by imp Glencoe, dam Matilda Jordan, by imp Jordan. Matilda Jordan was likewise the dam of Bay Jack, who was poisoned a few years since at Strathroy. Trumpeter died at Dundas two years ago. It will be seen by the above, that Young Trumpeter is quite a well-bred horse, and no the one for second place. The trot was very heavy and the time consequently slow—1:54, 1:51. Again at Nashville, on May 9th, we find him in the Maxwell House Stakes, a dash of a mile and a half—which was won by Verdigris, in 2:41, Vicksburg being also beaten by Van Dorn, Phaymate and Volcano, three Barrie Derby entries. At Louisville last week he captured the first heat of a mile-heat race, in 1:44, but was beaten in the race by Fair Play, a four-year old son of Virgil, who won the last two heats, in 1:44; 1:44. He is quite an acquisition to the racing stock of the Dominion; and now it will be in order for some one to get a horse to beat him.

The next on the programme was a local trot race, for which there were six entries, and was won by the gr. g Gim Lastic in the 2nd, 3rd and 4th heats; time, 2:54; 3:03; and 2:52. Ingersoll Girl led on the first whirl in 2:59, but was drawn after the heat.

A handicap dash of a mile and an eighth finished the day's sport. And it must be said, judging from the weights imposed in this race, that however enterprising and well-meaning our Oxford friends may be they certainly require to brush up considerably in Turf matters before they can be considered au fait. We give the entries and imposes as follows: Katie P., 117; Mignonette, 107; Emily, 112; Helen Bennett, 115; Hurricane, 95; Galt Reporter, 120; Protection, 125; and Gopher, 110. Of this lot only Mignonette and Gopher accepted. It proved to be almost a walk over for the mare in 2:14.

The 8-minute trot did not fill. Mr. Totten acted as starter, and Messrs. James Brady of Ingersoll, D. McMillan of London, and H. P. Brown of Woodstock, were the Judges.

SECOND DAY.—MAY 25.

The weather to-day was as favorable as yesterday, the crowd being scarcely so large, but the general attendance nevertheless was above the average. The first event was the Steeplechase, three times round the inside course, two banks and two or three rails being the obstacles in each circuit of the field. Kelso was favorite, Helen Bennett ruling next, and Frank Ross and Banjo Charlie selling in the field. When a mile had been completed, Ross, who was going well at the time, struck the top of a bank, and Andy McLaughlin having no collar's wax on his saddle, was instantly grassed and did not remount. Banjo, half a mile from home, was out of it, and Helen led Kelso several lengths. She took a head in the straight which she ran into, slightly injuring her breast, but in no way interfering with her action till she had passed the post.

First Race—Grand Steeplechase—Handicap. Parse $250—Open to all, over fair hunting ground, about 2 1/2 miles; top weights 11 stone. First horse, $200, second, 50.

The three-quarter mile dash was next, and Protection sold at evens against the field, which consisted of last year's fraudulent province-bred, Mr. Lowell's Galt Reporter, and Mr. Fisher's Donnybrook. The last-named had the race to himself, winning by six lengths.

Time, 1:20.
 The open 2:40 trot was not finished to-day, York State winning two heats in 2:37 and 2:37, Boyle a heat in 2:41, and Varcoe the last in 2:41.
 The half mile heats, three in five, after producing some exceedingly close finishes, in two of which the Nova Scotia mare Galvantries was the winner, fell to Gilroy, who outlasted and wore down all his opponents, winning easily at last; Mignonette was third, Brown Dick and Nora being distanced.

BASE BALL.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Maple Leaf Base Ball Club, Guelph, held at the Queen's Hotel, on Wednesday evening, the following players were selected for the current season, viz.: W. Smith, H. Spence, C. Maddock, W. Jones, W. B. Lapham, J. H. Foley, T. Smith, R. Emery, K. MacLean, J. Colson, W. Sunley and W. Husband. At a subsequent meeting of the players W. Smith was unanimously elected captain. All the players mentioned above are well known to our readers with the exception of Lapham and Foley, both of whom have already by their play there shown themselves to be o the best work we had just time to draw attention to the announcement of the Hamilton Association for their meeting on June 30th, and July 1st and 2nd. Our information leads us to believe that this will be one of the most successful meetings of the season. The programme list it will be observed, is divided into classes for all descriptions of racing stock—hurdle, flat, and trotting horses. For the first day there are four events, a hurdle race, 2:40 trot for Canada horses, mile-heat race for Province-breds that have not won a match purse or sweepstake, and a local trot; certainly a good beginning. Dominion Day is to have a 2:30 trot, which we hope will be honored with a larger entry list than at Woodstock; a $300 mile heat running race, open to all, a handicap steeplechase; and a 3-minute trot for Canada horses. The third day's bill of fare is graced with a Dominion handicap, mile heats, top weight 120 lbs; a 2:50 trot for Canada horses; and an open running race, 1 1/4 heats, handicap, top weights 116 lbs. Taken altogether, this is quite a programme, and no doubt will receive the attention it deserves and the Hamiltonians desire. It will be noticed, that there are quite a number of handicaps and races for Canada horses comprised in the list. Of the former, if justice is done in the impost, a greater degree of satisfaction is given to the spectators and horsemen, but they require a good deal of discrimination in putting on the lead. There is an omission in the rules not stating when the weights are to be declared, and the acceptances to be made in the handicaps. These should always be embodied in the conditions. But these are minor affairs and can be overlooked in the excellence of the bill. It would be surprising to us if the Hamilton Races did not take a leading position among the turf events of the season.

"QUICKSTEP."

This three-year old filly by Leanington, dam Schottische, owned by Mr. W. H. Chappell of Detroit, and entered for the Canadian Derby at Leamington, in July next, made her first appearance on Dominion territory in a mile heat race at the late St. Thomas races, in which she scored her maiden victory, a report of which will be found in another column of to-day's paper. Among her antagonists was the veteran Protection, but he was started without his proper weight up and was very properly ruled out, although winning the heat. This running with light weight is an old trick—not that we mean Mr. Schoff is any more liable to practice it than many others—and should be very carefully looked after by the judges, and as serious injustice is done to both horses and spectators when the fraud is successfully accomplished, it should be punished promptly when detected.

GOOD FOR WHITBY.

The principal of placing the entry fee on first money is we are glad to see slowly but surely gaining ground. That it will result in a benefit to the associations adopting it, there can be no reason to doubt, if the oft-repeated declaration of horse owners is to be valued at anything. It devolves upon owners to show their appreciation of the action of the managers of such tracks as Whitby and London in thus 10 per cent business by making the entry list such as to amply repay for the introduction of the rule and show that this promised encouragement is not a delusion. Already is the heaven, so judiciously implanted, working and with such leading Turf centres as Toronto, London and Whitby in the ranks, it will be more the fault of the owners than the managers if by next season we are not able to attach to all the announcement for the circuits, 10 per cent on first money only.

MONTREAL VETERINARY COLLEGE.

The Montreal Veterinary College was established in 1866, and it has acquired an enviable reputation. It is liberally supported by the McGill University and the Government, and for the ninth session the curriculum is most thorough. Dr. D. McEachran will lecture on veterinary anatomy, Prof. Osler on institutes of medicine, Prof. Craik on chemistry, called for Thursday. More than usual interest will be excited at this meeting on account of the battles of this week at Woodstock being fought over with a probable change of result. However this is one of the chances of war and racing. The superior hotel accommodation of London is quite an inducement for visitors to the Forest City and the esteemed hosts of the Tecumseh House and American Hotel, both of which are immediately at the Great Western Railway Station, and are the leading resorts for horsemen in London, will do all in their power to make visitors feel perfectly comfortable and at home during their stay. The entries close on Monday evening next, May 31, at 9:30 to which fact the attention of all interested is directed.

HOME MANUFACTURED BILLIARD TABLES.

We would call the attention of our readers to an advertisement in another column of Messrs. Riley & May, the well-known billiard-table manufacturer of Toronto. The firm has recently opened an office and show-rooms in this city at 116 La Gauchatiere street, at the head of Cote street, Montreal, for the sale of their billiard tables. They have also on hand the usual requirements of the billiard room—balls, cues and ups, and cushions, and in fact everything that pertains to the game can be found in the show-rooms. It is well known and acknowledged that Messrs. Riley & May's tables are fully up, if not superior, to those of the best makers in the United States, and Canada seems to have discovered this fact, for the tables are to be found in nearly every billiard room in the Dominion from Halifax to Winnipeg. Appreciating the value of competition, Messrs. Riley & May have placed one of their tables in the St. Lawrence Hall, where the well known Colender tables have been in use for the purpose of allowing the public to test the respective merits of the tables, and we understand that the result has been highly creditable to the enterprise of our Canadian makers. The firm has been established in their line of business for the last ten years, and in addition to the manufacture of tables and pool goods of all kinds, they import ivory in the rough and turn billiard and bagatelle balls, martingale rings, &c., and we advise all who intend seeking billiard halls or private parlors to give Messrs. Riley & May an early call—Gazette

HAMILTON, May 25, 1875.

To the Editor of the Sporting Times.

Dear Sir—A few days ago I noticed a challenge in one of the St. Thomas journals from Mr. D. D. Campbell, of Southold, in which he challenges any man in the Dominion at nine Caledonian games, the man winning the majority wins, the following being the games: throwing the light and heavy hammer, throwing the light and heavy balls, tossing the caber, throwing the 66-pound weight, running hundred yards, jumping high and three standing jumps, and if he means business and not newspaper talk, let him send a forfeit to the Sporting Times of $260 and he will be accommodated at once.

Yours very truly,
 D. A. BOGART.

THE DERBY.—The English Derby was won on Wednesday afternoon by Galopin, Claremont second, and Repentance third.

HORSE NOTES.

ORIGINAL AND SELECTED.

ROCHESTER, N.Y.—An inside track is being constructed at the Rochester Driving Park, and will be completed in about two weeks.

SALE OF GOOD LUCK.—Mr. J. M. Nye, of South Bend, Ind., has sold his recent purchase, the chestnut filly Good Luck, to J. T. Irvin, of Canada. No price is named.

THE mutual pools at Johnson's on George Graham, the winner of the Bruce Stakes, first day of the Nashville meeting, paid $184.58—rather a handsome return for each $5 invested.

THE Queen's Plate for Quebec will be run for at Montreal, probably some time in July. A colt by Wagrain is being trained at Ottawa for this race, by Allan Wilson, who has also in his stable the fast Province-bred mare Alzona, Clip, and the gr trotting mare No Name.

TROTTING PARKS.—The number of driving park associations that have been formed during the past few years, demonstrates the increasing interest taken in the sports of the turf by the farmers and breeders of the country. A decade ago trotting tracks were few and far between; now there is scarcely a hamlet of note in the country without its driving park association. The more the merrier.

EXPELLED.—The Washington (D.C.) Driving Park Association has formally announced the expulsion of A. A. Dodge, reputed owner and G. G. Carroll, driver of the gray gelding entered for the three-minute race, on Friday, 7th inst., under the name of Fulton, it having been proven that he had been driven in 2:35 on Deerfoot Park, under the name of Pollock. In addition to expulsion, Dodge was fined $800.

THE Pacific Jockey Club extends another invitation to all the world. It seeks to gather in San Francisco horses capable of running four-mile heats, no matter in what corner of the world they are found; and it must be confessed that the inducements offered are very liberal. A purse of $80,000 in gold is offered for a four-mile and repeat race at San Francisco in November next. Of this amount the first horse is to receive $15,000, the second $8,000, the third $5,000, and the fourth $4,000. Special allowances are made for horses from Europe and this side of the Rocky Mountains. It is a big affair—a Big Bonanza. The entries close Oct. 18.

COUNT D'ORSAY, chestnut horse, six years, by Kentucky, dam Lady Blessington, having gone amiss in training, has been scratched from all his engagements, the bookmakers being notified. The Count was entered in the important cup events at Baltimore, Long Branch and Saratoga, and was expected to take part in these contests.

THERE arrived at Jerome Park on Tuesday afternoon the following horses, comprising Mr. John Coffee's string in training:—B. F. Carver, br h, 5 yrs, by Lightning. Nettie Norton, br m, 4 yrs, by Leamington. Ida Wells, br m, 4 yrs, by Leamington; Donnybrook, g h, 5 yrs, by Lightning; Three-year-old by Panic; Two-year-old (two), by Panic.

CLOSE SEASON FOR BASS.—In answer to a communication of enquiry from Mr. J. W. Kerr, Fishery Overseer, Hamilton Division, that the bass could be caught with hook

FINE GAME.—One of the finest Amateur games of base ball ever played in Canada took place at Guelph on Monday, between the Maple Leaf Club of that town and the Tecumseh of London. The score was 8 to 8 in favor of the Guelph Amateur Champions. The cockneys are kicking like young colts at some of the decisions, which they claim were the means of their losing the match. The score of this game, with a multitude of others, is crowded out.

ATHLETIC GATHERINGS.—Promoters of athletic games, pedestrian, tourneys, &c., should not lose sight of the advantages accruing to the undertakings by giving publicity to their doings through our columns. All classes of athletes look to the SPORTING TIMES for information on those points, and managers of such sports hide their light under a bushel by not availing themselves of the only means of communication with the parties most deeply interested in their announcements.

FOOT RACE.—Articles have been signed between Barnes and Riddell, an account of whose spin of 120 yards was given in our last paper, for a 100 yard contest in which Riddell is to have a start of five yards. The amount at stake is said to be $400 and the event will take place at the half-mile track Queen St. West in about two weeks.

FINE STALLION.—Our advertising columns contain an announcement from Mr. M. Sinnott of 679 Queen St. West, stating that his beautiful and well-bred Young Erin Chief stallion will make the season at the above address. His pedigree is given very fully in the advertisement and is such as to recommend itself to those who may desire to breed trotting stock.

RAWBONE'S CREASER.—The attention of the trigger fraternity is called to the advertisement in another column of a new Cartridge Creaser, invented and patented by Mr. W. G. Rawbone, of this city. It possesses numerous advantages over those now in use, fully set forth in a circular which Mr. R. will be pleased to furnish to all applicants.

It will be observed on referring to our advertising columns that Mr. Harry Piper announces the receipt at 77 Yonge St. of a full assortment of house furnishings. The attention of Hotel keepers is particularly called to the stock of Refrigerators, Water Coolers and Bar goods of every description. Mr. Piper intends dealing largely in Birds and Bird Cages, a large stock of both being now on sale; children's carriages he also makes a speciality. To Harry's numerous friends the above an-

DESCRIPTION AND PEDIGREE. CHARLES DOUGLASS is a very rich black, 16 1/2 hands high; weighs 1,350 lbs., is rising 11 years old, and for style and symmetry he is unsurpassed in the Dominion, and being descended from these two famous strains of trotting blood, viz: "Merocor," and "Royal George," makes him by far the most desirable horse for stud purpose in this part of the Dominion. On the side of his sire he is closely related to "Toronto Chief," "Toronto Soutag," "Calcutta Chief," "Nauc," "Commodore Nutt," "Fred Hooper," "Pelham Tartar," Field's "Royal George," "Tow boy," "Lady Hamilton," and "Thomas Jefferson," all of which have trotted under 2:30, and some under 2:20. ORIGINAL AND SELECTED.

ROCHESTER, N.Y.—An inside track is being constructed at the Rochester Driving Park, and will be completed in about two weeks.

SALE OF GOOD LUCK.—Mr. J. M. Nye, of South Bend, Ind., has sold his recent purchase, the chestnut filly Good Luck, to J. T. Irvin, of Canada. No price is named.

THE mutual pools at Johnson's on George Graham, the winner of the Bruce Stakes, first day of the Nashville meeting, paid $184.68—rather a handsome return for each $5 invested.

THE Queen's Plate for Quebec will be run for at Montreal, probably some time in July. A colt by Wagner is being trained at Ottawa for this race, by Allan Wilson, who has also in his stable the last Province bred mare Alzora, Clip, and the gr trotting mare No Name.

TROTTING PARKS.—The number of driving park associations that have been formed during the past few years, demonstrates the increasing interest taken in the sports of the turf by the farmers and breeders of the country. A decade ago trotting tracks were few and far between; now there is scarcely a hamlet of note in the country without its driving park association. The more the merrier.

EXPULSION.—The Washington (D.C.) Driving Park Association has formally announced the expulsion of A. A. Dodge, reputed owner and G. G. Carroll, driver of the gray gelding entered for the three-minute race, on Friday 7th inst., under the name of Fulton, it having been proven that he had been driven in 2:35 on Deerfoot Park, under the name of Pollock. In addition to expulsion, Dodge was fined $800.

THE Pacific Jockey Club extends another invitation to all the world. It seeks to gather in San Francisco horses capable of running four-mile heats, no matter in what corner of the world they are found; and it must be confessed that the inducements offered are very liberal. A purse of $30,000 in gold is offered for a four-mile and repeat race at San Francisco in November next. Of this amount the first horse is to receive $15,000, the second horse $6,000, the third horse $5,000, and the fourth $4,000. Special allowances are made for horses from Europe and this side of the Rocky Mountains. It is a big affair—a Big Bonanza. The entries close Oct. 13.

COUNT D'ORSAY, chestnut horse, six years, by Kentucky, dam Lady Blessington, having gone amiss in training, has been scratched from all his engagements, the bookmakers being notified. The Count was entered in the important cup events at Baltimore, Long Branch and Saratoga, and was expected to take part in these contests.

THERE arrived at Jerome Park on Tuesday afternoon the following horses, comprising Mr. John Coffee's string in training:—B. F. Carver, br h, 5 yrs, by Lightning. Nettie Norton, br m, 4 yrs, by Leamington. Ida Wells, b m, 4 yrs, by Leamington; Donnybrook, g h, 5 yrs, by Lightning; Three-year-old by Panic; Two-year-old (two), by Panic.

CLOSE SEASON FOR BASS.—In answer to a communication of enquiry from Mr. J. W. Kerr, Fishery Overseer, Hamilton Division, as to whether bass could be caught with hook and line, and if the Order in Council dated 3rd of April, 1875, applied to all or only a particular kind of bass, the Commissioner of Fisheries, W. F. Witcher, Esq., replies to the enquiry thus:

Department of Marine and Fisheries,
Ottawa, May 19, 1875.

Sir,—In answer to the enquiry contained in your letter of the 17th inst., I am to inform you that the fishery regulation adopted in Council on the 3rd of April last, applies to all kinds and species of bass.

I am, Sir, &c.,

W. F. WHITCHER,

For the Hon. Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

J. W. KERR, Esq.,
Hamilton, Ont.

HEAVY SEIZURES.—Mr. Kerr, the Fishery Inspector, is doing good service. The other day he seized two thousand yards of gill net, unlawfully placed in the bay, two hundred and forty ducks, and a lot of herring and basa. Subsequently he took one thousand yards of net, and fifteen ducks on the bay. It is to be hoped that this will serve as a warning to parties disposed to contravene the Fishery Act.

FINE STALLION.—Our advertising column contains an announcement from Mr. M. Sinnott of 679 Queen St. West, stating that his beautiful and well-bred Young Erin Chief stallion will make the season at the above address. His pedigree is given very fully in the advertisement and is such as to recommend itself to those who may desire to breed trotting stock.

RAWBONE'S CREASER.—The attention of the trigger fraternity is called to the advertisement in another column of a new Cartridge Creaser, invented and patented by Mr. W. G. Rawbone, of this city. It possesses numerous advantages over those now in use, fully set forth in a circular which Mr. R. will be pleased to furnish to all applicants.

It will be observed on referring to our advertising columns that Mr. Harry Piper announces the receipt at 77 Yonge St. of a full assortment of house furnishings. The attention of Hotel keepers is particularly called to the stock of Refrigerators, Water Coolers and Bar goods of every description. Mr. Piper intends dealing largely in Birds and Bird Cages, a large stock of both being now on sale; childrens carriages he also makes a speciality. To Harry's numerous friends the above an-

AMERICAN TURF.

LOUISVILLE JOCKEY CLUB.

LOUISVILLE, May 17, 1875.

The inaugural meeting of the Louisville Jockey Club... The grand stand was filled with a brilliant assemblage of ladies and gentlemen...

The mile-heat race won by Fairplay was also made in almost unprecedented time. Altogether to-day's meeting was extraordinarily successful...

First Race.—Association Purse, $300, for all ages, dash of one and a quarter miles.

- V Cottrell, ch f Bonaventure 4 years, by Harry of the West, dam Maggie G, 101 lbs..... 1
M M Welsh, b g Capt Hutchinson, 6 years, by Voucher, dam Zoro, 114 lbs..... 2
R B Cheatham, blk c Vanderbilt, 4 years, by Vandal, dam Melrose, 104 lbs..... 3

Bonaventure was the favorite in the betting at 100 to 80 for the field.

Second Race.—The Kentucky Derby; for three year olds, $50 each, play or pay; association to add 1,000; second horse to receive 200, dash of one and a half miles, value of stakes $2,850 to the winner.

George H Rice, b c Volcano, 3 years, by Vandal, dam Iodine, 90 lbs..... 2
C A Lewis, ch c Verdigris, 3 years, by Versailles, dam Belle Brandon, 90 lbs..... 3

Aristides, the winner, is one of the best colts in Mr. McGrath's stable. He has an excellent record and many judicious turfmen believe him the superior of Chesapeake, another of the cracks in the same owner's string...

Third Race.—Association Purse of $500, for all ages; second horse to receive $100. Mile heats.

- Williams & Owing's b c Fairplay, 4 years, by Virgil, dam Crucifix, 104 lbs. 3 1 1

Two live other horses ran in this race but were not placed.

LOUISVILLE, May 18, 1875.

The attendance at the races to-day was larger. The track was in fine order, but dusty.

First Race.—The Alexander stake for two-year-old colts. $25 each, p p; Association to add $250. Second horse to receive 100; dash of half a mile. Closed with twenty-four nominations, of which thirteen started.

Just after the start Williams & Owing's Oxmore fouled Excol and, forcing him against the fence, almost dismounted his rider, who cleverly recovered his seat amid cheers but lost several lengths. The heat was an exciting one, the horses frequently bunching and all running very evenly. Arizona won in 3:37 1/2. A protest was entered on the part of Excol, and Oxmore was ruled out and his rider suspended.

- John Franklin's b m Arizona, 7 years, by Lexington, out of Zone..... 1 1
E D Harper's b c Excol, 4 years, by Endorser, out of Napura..... 2 2

Calvin was the favorite over the field.

LOUISVILLE, May 19, 1875.

The attendance upon the third day's races of the Louisville Jockey Club was equally as large as that of the preceding day. Three races were run, and while fast time was generally made, that of the third race beats the record. The day was warm and cloudless and the track in excellent condition.

The flag upon the club-house was at half-mast in respect to the memory of Gen. J C Breckenridge, late president of the Kentucky Turf Association.

Win Walker, the rider of Excol, the horse forced against the fence yesterday in the second race, was presented with a purse of twenty-five dollars by the Association for his admirable equestrianism in recovering his seat.

- A B Lewis & Co, ch f Vinnigrotte, by Vandal, dam by Whirlwind..... 1
Robinson, Morgan & Co, br f by Australian, out of Marinka, by Lexington..... 2

E O Elliott, br f Sue Wyatt, by Vandal, out of Florence, by Nightingale..... 0
Wm Cottrell, ch f Pass Brodinar, by Daniel Boone, out of Sigma..... 0

Robinson, Morgan & Co's Australian filly was the favorite in the pools, with Emma C the second choice, and Elome the third, the rest making the field.

Vinnigrette took the lead at a good start while the favorite remained in the rear. On rounding the turn for the homestretch the Australian filly pushed forward but was unable to overtake Vinnigrotte, who came under the string half a length ahead.

Second Race.—Louisville Ladies' Stakes, for 2 year old fillies, $25 entrance, p p, association to add 250, 100 to second horse, a half mile dash. Nineteen entries, nine horses started.

- A B Lewis & Co, ch f Lady Clipper, by Hunter's Lexington, out of Carrie Crosby..... 1
A Keene Richards, Clemmie G, by War Dance, out of Alexandria by imp Sovereign..... 2
John Gardner, ch f by Lexington, out of Miriam, by imported Glencoe..... 3

Besides the above there started ch f Tecules, ch f Pirouette, gr f Chinchilla, ch f Penrille, ch f Lillie, ch f Planet. Clemmie G was the favorite in the pools, Gardner's entry second, Tecules third, and the rest in the field.

- Third Race.—Association Purse, $500, 100 to the second horse, dash of two miles and an eighth. Five horses entered and they all started.

In the pools Monmouth had the call by odds of 5 to 1 against the field. He did not disappoint his backers for he won easily, beating Bessie Lee by a length. His time is the fastest on record by one and a quarter seconds.

FLEETWOOD PARK.

had never beaten 2:50, divided into three parts, the first horse winning $650, the second 800 and the third 150. There were eighteen entries for the race, but four of them withdrew, leaving fourteen to contest for the prizes.

There was no betting on the race until after the first heat. Then Maud became the favorite at odds.

- TUESDAY, May 18.—Purse $1,000, for horses that have never beaten 2:50; $650 to the first; 800 to the second and 150 to the third; mile heats, but three in five, in harness.

Aristides, the winner, is one of the best colts in Mr. McGrath's stable. He has an excellent record and many judicious turfmen believe him to be the superior of Chesapeake, another of the cracks in the same owner's string. Aristides started nine times as two-year-old, winning on three occasions, his first victory being in a handicap at Saratoga, one mile, where he carried the top-weight (96 lbs.), defeating Aniella, Holbrook, Joe Cetus, Victorious and Enlister, in 1:46 1/2. For a purse of $500, for two-year-olds, at Jerome, five furlongs, he defeated Finework, Babylon and six others, in 1:04 1/2, and at Baltimore he won the Central Stakes, one mile, by a half length, over Aniella and Holbrook, in the extraordinary time of 1:44 1/2. This year Aristides has started twice, his only appearance previous to the above contest being at Lexington, in the first day of the recent meeting, where in the Phoenix Hotel Stakes, dash of one mile and an eighth, he was the favorite in all the great three-year-old events, including the Withers and Belmont Stakes at Jerome, being the favorite in the former, standing 4 to 1 on the list of odds offered by the bookmaker.

The attendance upon the third day's races of the Louisville Jockey Club was equally as large as that of the preceding day. Three races were run, and while fast time was generally made, that of the third race beats the record. The day was warm and cloudless and the track in excellent condition.

The flag upon the club-house was at half-mast in respect to the memory of Gen. J. C. Breckenridge, late president of the Kentucky Turf Association.

Win Walker, the rider of Excel, the horse forced against the fence yesterday in the second race, was presented with a purse of twenty-five dollars by the Association for his admirable equestrianism in recovering his seat.

 FLEETWOOD PARK.

FIRST DAY OF THE SPRING TROTTING MEETING.

Under a combination of the most auspicious circumstances, Fleetwood threw open its gates on Tuesday, and welcomed the turf-loving public to its pleasant enclosure. The event had long been looked forward to, and the success which characterized its every feature should be very gratifying to the new management.

In every detail the stewards of the Park carried out the admirably arranged programme, and their earnestness in enforcing the rules and keeping in mind all the perplexing minutiae necessary for a successful result speaks well for a brilliant and satisfactory meeting.

Among those in attendance were many gentlemen of wealth and influence. Loving a horse and delighting in such exhibitions of speed as were noticed yesterday, they will gather at all trotting tournaments near the city, if they can feel assured the rowdy element will not be permitted to assert its offensive strength nor to brush too near the respectable and refined. This they feel is now the case at Fleetwood, and so there is but little doubt that in all good time the trotting reunions there will be just as brilliant as the grand gatherings which make Jerome Park in the summer and autumn such an attractive place.

The judges of the day were Major Merton and Mr. A. S. Post, of Goshen, N. Y., and Mr. William M. Parks, of Brooklyn, men of rare experience and excellent judgment in all trotting matters.

TRYING TO GET A WITNESS OUT OF THE WAY.

The Port Huron Times gives the following account of how Jack Wright known here as "Port Huron Jack," is endeavoring to get one of the principal witnesses in the shooting case now pending against him, out of the way:

Jack Wright, who has been bound over to the Circuit Court on a charge of assault with intent to murder, seemed determined to get one of the witnesses for the people out of the way—that witness being Thomas Ford, otherwise known as Tommy Ford, a member of the gambling guild, who has, as he testifies, travelled with Wright in the three-card monte business. Sometime before the adjourned examination, at which he was bound over, Wright wrote to a Toledo detective of his acquaintance to come on here and arrest Ford; the detective came on, but no arrest was made. About the same time Wright caused a complaint to be made to the Deputy United States Marshal here, charging Ford with having smuggled a gold watch from Canada a watch which Ford won from somebody near Toronto. The United States authorities here found on investigation no evidence that would warrant Ford's arrest, he having been a resident of Canada for some time previous to winning the watch, and also for sometime after, consequently he was not arrested, and this scheme to get this witness out of the way failed. But Wright is a man of very many expedients, and the following copy of a letter sent by him to Detective Sheehan, of Toronto, shows his fixed determination, if possible to get the witness Ford out of the way. We copy it literally:

A RACE.—An amateur race between Mr. R. T. Stanton and Mr. J. P. Niblett, the course being from Tinning's to Parkinson's wharf, Toronto, for $25 a side. Mr. Niblett led for some distance, but was overhauled, and the race was easily won by the former. The erratic steering of Niblett's coxswain added much to his defeat. Considerable money changed hands on the result.

"We may conclude by stating that the cartridge cases sent us by Messrs. Kynoch proved to be admirably made, in every instance coming out without a flaw of any kind."—The Field, June 15, 1872.

"A good deal, however, depends on the manufacture of the cartridge case, and in this respect we consider Kynoch's 'Gas-tight' Cases superior to any at present manufactured for sporting guns."—Belgravia, July, 1872.

BREECH-LOADING GUNS

PAPE'S PATENT.
LEVER WEDGE CENTRAL FIRE.

Pape's Patent Self-Locking Action, Pape's Patent Needles, and Pape's Patent Extractor, a combination which will be found to make the most perfect Sporting gun yet produced.

W. R. P., having no Royalties to pay to other inventors, and being a maker who builds the Gun from raw materials of wood and iron, is enabled to give his patrons weapons unequalled for quality of materials and moderation of cost, every Gun being attested at his shooting range before sending out.

The unrivalled powers of W. R. Pape's Guns have been amply proven by their having taken the whole of the prizes for merit at the only three shot gun contests on record, held at London in 1858, 1863, and 1866, where competition was open to the gun trade of the world.
