Dr. Beattie Nesbitt Arrested In Chicago and Will Return To Toronto to Face Charges

Former President of Farmers' Bank, Who Has Been a Fugitive for Justice for Sixteen Months, Was Identified in Windy City Despite His Aged Appearance, Short Hair and Long Whiskers.

Dr. Beattie Nesbitt, formerly one of the most familiar and jovial figures upon the streets of Toronto, was arrested last night by the American authorities at Chicago. Detective Wallace of the Toronto force is now in the Windy City to bring him back to this city. The Toronto police hold three warrants for the doctor's arrest. It is charged that he committed forgery by making and signing false documents in the shape of the padded and altered list of alleged subscribers of the Farmers' Bank, of which he was then the president, and sending these lists to the finance department at Ottawa. This is the only charge now laid upon which the Canadian authorities can hope to extradite the doctor. The other charges are that he conspired with Travers and George Wishart to steal $350,000 of the proceeds of the sale of the Keeley Mine, and that he made false returns to the government of the same nature as those involved in the charges against Col. Munro, president of the bank, at the time of its collapse, and upon which charges Munro was acquitted.

It is said by those who have seen Dr. Nesbitt in Chicago, that he is a broken man. He is said to be prematurely aged, grown much thinner and to have lost all of his jovial attitude and masterful bearing. It is said that he will scarcely be recognized in Toronto, as his hair is now worn short and he has allowed a long and flowing beard to grow. This man, who has been sought the world over, and who has been reported as being seen in every quarter of it, has never in reality been off the continent.

Dr. Nesbitt, who was one of the most picturesque and well-known figures in the city, since his hurried flight over the ice from his summer home in Muskoka, when he rode to the border at the Sault on a freight train, has dwelt in almost monastic seclusion. He who was of a wild and rollicking disposition has been sobered and subdued by grief and separation from his wife and little daughter, who has never ceased for her daddy's speedy return.

It is said that Dr. Nesbitt will fight extradition in which event the authorities will likely take the matter up with the immigration authorities of the United States with a view to having him deported. It being grounds for deportation that there is a criminal charge against an alien in another country.

That he will object to returning of his own free will and accord is doubtful, however, as it is known that he had considered coming back to face his trial for some time. To this end he had even communicated with some of his friends here recently, and is even said to have sought to open up negotiations in the regard.

The Doctor's Escape.
On Jan. 17, 1911, Dr. Nesbitt was with his wife and little daughter on their trip to Muskoka. After a short stay they delay the warrant for his arrest was issued at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. Crown Attorney Corry approved his escape at noon and Detective Duncan was just too late to Muskoka and could not leave before that night. About the time of the issue of the warrant Dr. Nesbitt received a telegram at his lonely island in Muskoka and drove miles across the ice and made good his escape. The inspector of detectives with Detective Guthrie got to the island on Sunday after spending the night in Gravenhurst.

Muddy Roads in the City.
The city hall has been flooded with complaints about this impassable condition of a number of roads in Toronto. Dozens of streets are knee-deep in mud, and in many cases horses have stuck and wagons have broken down. Drivers are now forced to avoid many streets.

Dr. W. Beattie Nesbitt, former president of the Farmers' Bank, who was arrested last night in Chicago. Dr. Nesbitt's hair is now short and he has grown whiskers. Owing to this, as well as the fact that he has aged greatly, he will be hardly recognizable to those who knew him in Toronto.

ONE BOY KILLED AND ANOTHER INJURED

Leslie Davidson Crushed to Death Under Pile of Lumber, and Marshall Clarke Had Both Legs Broken—Another Lad Escaped and Told of Companion's Fate.

Buried beneath a huge pile of lumber near the C. P. R. siding on Oser-ave., ward seven, about six o'clock last night, one boy was killed and another seriously injured. Leslie Davidson, the nine year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Davidson, 22 Miller-ave., was crushed to death.

He was taken out unconscious with both legs broken below the knees, and his body badly bruised. It is expected that he will recover.

Robert Paton, aged eight years, of 27 Oser-ave., had just left the lumber a few seconds before it tumbled over, and notified some workmen what had befallen his comrades.

The body of Leslie Davidson was removed to his home. Coroner Clendenen has decided to hold an inquest in Spicer's undertaker's parlors this morning.

Marshall Clarke was removed in Spicer's ambulance to the Western Hospital. Dr. C. H. Mooney of 100 Cooper-ave., rendered first aid to the injured lad.

R. J. Fleming, general manager of the Toronto Railway Co.; Jas. H. Forrest, chief claims agent; Albert Burnett and W. E. Smalings, two detectives employed by the railway company, and J. W. Curry, R.C., are the men against whom the true bill has been returned. The grand jury sat from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., hearing the evidence before finally bringing in the bill.

Witnesses who gave evidence before the grand jury are: B. H. Ardagh, solicitor for the plaintiffs in the fake actions; Dr. A. H. Garratt; J. Lowry, court stenographer; John Richardson, clerk of the court; D. L. McCarthy, C. C., counsel for the Street Railway Co., but who did not appear for them in these actions, and six newspaper reporters, who interviewed some of the principals at the conclusion of the actions.

The case will probably be tried at the criminal assizes.

Brantford's Hydro Bylaw
BRANTFORD, April 11.—(Special.)—The fire and light committee has decided to recommend to the city council the submission of a hydro-electric bylaw here, involving an expenditure of $109,000. The conduit system in the centre of the city will be an additional charge to be provided for on the local improvement plan. Installation of 3600 lights is proposed instead of 280, as in use at present.

CHANGES COMING IN TEACHING SYSTEM

Dean Clark Assured Deputation of Medical Students That Grievances Complained of Would Be Remedied, and Hinted at Several Changes in System of Instruction.

The troubles of the third year medical students, which were aired in The World a week ago, were given a final hush yesterday when Dean Clarke addressed the body of disgruntled medics. The dean dealt with all the clauses in the petition separately, and declared that the faculty was doing its utmost to give the students the best for their money. He hinted at a number of changes to the teaching system that would be made in the near future, but he said that it would require time and much work to accomplish them.

The committee appointed by the students was reprimanded for complaining about the necessity of improved conditions when they were already under way. The committee consisted of six students. When Dean Clarke had finished his address he asked if any members of the committee had anything to say. One had. He made an apology for causing any trouble to the faculty.

The students were assured that the grievances that they wished remedied would be remedied when the faculty was able to do so.

Alleged Slayer of Rosenthal Was Found Hiding in Lavatory; Arrested Charged With Murder

JUNK THIEVES AND THE CITY.
One of the commonest crimes in the way of larceny these days of dishonesty on the part of employees is the stealing of metal and selling it to junk dealers.

The buyers mostly all know it was stolen; and the big dealers higher up have a pretty good idea of it as well, what is one thing, and that is for the police. But the city's Hydro-Electric Commission have a duty and that is to root out every dishonest employee in any way connected with the junk thieves from their stores, and which thefts led to the Rosenthal murder.

Some one in the city's service has been very anxious in the past few days to let it be known that all the proceeds of the old metal go to the city treasury.

Let there be a searching investigation and quick punishment of the guilty parties.

IRELAND ASSURED OF RELIGIOUS EQUALITY

Asquith's Home Rule Measure Aimed at Placating Ulster, Which Secures Representation of 59 Members—Local Autonomy, But Imperial Parliament Retains Authority

LONDON, April 11.—(Thru Reuters Ottawa Agency.)—The house of commons was crowded this afternoon when Premier Asquith introduced the Irish home rule bill, but the crowd was not nearly so great as upon the occasion of the introduction of the previous home rule bills, and no cheers were placed on the floor as in 1886 and in 1893. Mr. Asquith, upon entering the chamber, was received with a volley of cheers by the Nationalists and Unionists standing up to cheer for Sir Edward Carson, and shortly afterward Mr. Bonar Law, the opposition leader, was similarly applauded.

Premier Asquith rose to speak amid a renewed ovation. He said, at the outset, that it was nineteen years since Gladstone introduced his last measure to provide for better government of Ireland. That speech contained a perfect exposition of the historic case as between Great Britain and Ireland. He did not pretend to cover the whole ground, but before he entered upon an explanation of the provisions of the bill, he would take up the narrative at the point at which Mr. Gladstone had left it off, and would ask the house

Charles Gibson, a Former Employee of the Civic Hydro Electric Department, Who Gave His Name as Smith to Rosenthal, Was Crouching Behind the Door and Had a Full Supply of Food and an Electric Stove in the Room—Had Not Been Seen Since Good Friday Night, When He Returned to His Boarding House Covered With Mud—R. G. Langmaid Also Held.

After evading the police since last Saturday morning and sending a letter to his stepmother saying he was on his way to Sudbury, Charles Gibson, Ontario street, a former employee of the City Hydro-Electric Department, was found in a most mysterious manner while hiding in the lavatory of the Hydro-Electric sub-transformer station at the foot of West Market-street shortly after six o'clock last night and taken into custody on a charge of murdering Joseph Rosenthal, by Detective Cronin, who became suspicious when Reginald George Langmaid, meter reader, exhibited great excitement when the detective ordered two loafers out of the office. The detective immediately began an inspection of the premises and on opening the lavatory door found Gibson, who had for several days been known to the police as the man who had given his name over the telephone to Harry Rosenthal as "Smith," crouching behind the door. He had a quantity of meat and other eatables and an electric stove was already hot and about two pounds of sausages were ready to be cooked.

Yesterday morning The World declared that the police had arrived at a point where the arrest might be made at any moment. In Tuesday's issue it was announced that one intimately connected with an old business associate of Rosenthal had been recognized as the mysterious "Smith."

Gibson's father had until about a year ago a joint account with Rosenthal in the Metropolitan Bank.

The detective had not the least idea that the fugitive from justice was hiding in the station. He went there with the hope of learning something which would lead to the whereabouts of a man wearing a grey coat and who had been seen with Gibson the night of the murder. Finding the two men hanging about the office, he ordered them out, so that he could hold a separate conversation with Langmaid. No sooner had the door closed behind the two men than Langmaid became excited. The detective became suspicious and, without overtaking the conversation, decided to search the place. He went straight for the door leading to the lavatory, and, thrusting it open, stood face to face with the man in search of whom two detectives were preparing to leave for Sudbury.

That the murder was committed on Friday evening between 7 and 10 o'clock is now quite clear. Rosenthal and Dunkelman left Dunkelman's jewelry shop at the corner of Richmond and York-streets shortly after 6 o'clock on Good Friday night. Before 11 o'clock Gibson returned to his rooming house in Ontario-street covered with mud and in a most disreputable condition generally. No special notice was taken of him at the time, and on Saturday morning he cleaned his clothes and left the house. Since then he has not returned. Just where he has been in the meantime is not quite clear. It is believed that he has spent at least one night at the home of a friend. This, however, is not quite clear.

Used the Telephone.
Gibson is the mysterious "Mr. Smith" who telephoned to Harry Rosenthal's office several times during the week of the murder, and he is the man who also telephoned to Joseph Rosenthal's house, and who sent the message to Dunkelman's residence asking for an appointment. His business seemed to be of an illegitimate nature in the ears of Harry Rosenthal, who replied each time to the effect that he could call at his office any time he wanted to see either Mr. Rosenthal, Jr., or Mr. The man, however, could not be frightened away by the fact that Harry Rosenthal had not the slightest notion that an assault had been planned.

Under Suspicion.
Gibson has been known to the police since last fall, when he was discharged from the hydro-electric department. The reason has never been disclosed, but it is intimated that he was suspected of being connected with the disappearance of quantities of copper wire.

On Tuesday of last week Gibson telephoned to Harry Rosenthal for the first time under the name of Smith. He also tried to locate Dunkelman at the same time. He wanted to make an appointment to meet the junk dealer at the corner of Bay and Queen-sts. When he called up Rosenthal later he wanted to meet the men at the foot of Strachan-street, where he said he had a carload of scrap iron to sell.

Q. O. R. AT HOME.
The first annual at home and ladies' night of the warrant officers, staff-sergeants and sergeants of the Queen's Own Rifles was held at their mess room, 40 University-ave., last night. The Queen's Own Band was in attendance and about fifty couples were present.

BOY MISSING FROM HIS HOME

Willis House, Nine Years Old, Has Not Been Seen Since Wednesday at Noon.

The police have another mystery to solve: that of the disappearance of Willis House, aged nine years, from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. House, 201 Church-st., on Wednesday morning.

The boy was playing for a few minutes outside his home on Church-st. just before noon on Wednesday, and his mother could not find him when dinner was ready. Since then there has been no word of the boy. It was surmised that he had gone to Newcastles, the summer residence, but enquiries there elicited the response that he had not been seen. When he disappeared he wore a gray suit and sweater, and a red touque. He has dark hair and dark eyes. The police were notified immediately, but they have failed to find any trace of him. The phone number of the boy's home is Main 179.

W. L. Richardson Advocated Industrial Classes in City Schools on Parl With Entrance Examination at Ontario Educational Association Conference Yesterday.

"Education is a preparation for service, and service I should define as the world's work," declared W. L. Richardson, B.A., at the closing meeting of the public school department of the Ontario Educational Association yesterday afternoon.

In introducing his subject, Mr. Richardson suggested that at next year's convention a whole day or half a day be given over to the discussion of this topic by all the different sections, followed by a general meeting in which the general aspect of the question necessary to present argument in favour of manual training, the only discussion that now took place was in the annual training camp itself, and was on matters of detail.

Education, up till comparatively recent times, he said, had taken place in the home; now our educational system had taken it almost entirely out of the home. It had been made universal and compulsory, the principle of compulsory education being carried in some form of the United States up till the age of 18 years.

The world's work he divided into business, agriculture and construction. These three branches engaged 75 to 80 per cent of our people. In the cities agriculture was, of course, eliminated, and there the C. M. A. had estimated that three-fourths of all the boys and girls went into construction, in the various departments of factory, shop or building work. In Toronto 77 per cent left school before they had passed the entrance examination.

Vocational Education. Vocational education, he continued, was not a new thing, but it was new in the school. In former days it took the form of apprenticeship and the apprentice stood beside his master and learned from seeing him work, he slept under the bench in the workshop, and when he grew up married the daughter and succeeded to the business.

Of what use, he asked, was our compulsory, bookish education to the three-fourths of our children who were plainly marked for an industrial career? It did not provide them with the precise things they wanted. Taking the boy as an example, he declared he would not cut out entirely, but would teach that history which would be of value to them, such as the history of the emancipation of the mine worker and the history of such movements as the Manufacturers' Association and Trades and Labor Councils.

Again, in geography, what use was it to a boy who would have to work in a soap factory to know the names of the counties and towns on Lake Erie? There was no use in that, he said, but as a utilitarian value in learning such things as where our coal and other natural products came from.

Where did our present system lead to? We treated the curriculum like the man who undertook to eat everything on the menu at the table d'hôte. There should not be a rigid course of study for everybody or everything, but our system should be made to serve individual needs.

Mr. Richardson advocated an elementary industrial class in city schools parallel to the entrance class, in which as much as five half-hours a week should be given to shop work, the rest of the course being made as cultural as possible, but with a definite bearing on the shop work. He also thought small elementary industrial schools could be established in the cities for from 50 to 75 pupils each, such pupils as had shown that they were not cut out for the ordinary school training.

Where did our present system lead to? We treated the curriculum like the man who undertook to eat everything on the menu at the table d'hôte. There should not be a rigid course of study for everybody or everything, but our system should be made to serve individual needs.

CONVENT WHERE BISCUIT-MAKING IS CARRIED ON. At Varese Ligure, a mountain village some twenty-five miles from Sestri Levante, in the north of Italy, there is a convent where the nuns spend their time in making biscuits, which they send to private customers all over the world.

All who belong to this quaint religious community have taken a vow never to appear again to the public, and the only person the nuns are allowed to see is the doctor, and then only in case of serious illness.

If one cannot see the fair inmates of the convent of Varese Ligure at work with flour and almond paste, one can at least taste their biscuits, which are most delicious. The Wide World Magazine says that they are made in the form of fish, flowers and fruit, and in some cases are so beautifully colored that it seems a pity to put one's teeth into them.

The nuns also devote their attention to drying mushrooms, which are brought to them by the peasants of the district, and these—fungi secchi—are likewise sent all over the world in no easier matter for a novice to obtain admission to this convent. Novices desirous of renouncing the world and joining the community have to bring with them a fairly large capital and a certain amount of education—two conditions which are not always found together.

KANSAS TO RIVAL HOLLAND IN WINDMILLS. It is claimed by the people of Kansas that the western part of their state will soon rival Holland as a country of windmills. Already, in a territory of two miles long by thirty in width thousands of derricks are being erected. Every one represents an individual water plant that will draw from the great underground lake, which lies in the sand beneath this area, water sufficient to irrigate a farm of from forty to 100 acres.

The present year will witness the building of 10,000 of these derricks, which will hold and guide machinery that bores wells down into the great underground sea of water which has existed beneath the surface for ages, but which was not discovered until about thirty years ago by scientists. The derricks will be resembling the opening of a great oil field.

A Man With Piles Cannot Work. The depressing, undermining influence of piles seems to affect mind as well as body until the sufferer from this annoying ailment feels miserable and utterly cast down. The itching, stinging sensation which accompanies piles are bad enough. The search for cure and thought of a surgical operation do not tend to cheer one up. Many letters from cured ones show their future to be ruined by this wretched ailment. It is so easy to relieve piles by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment that it seems strange that anyone should neglect to give this treatment a thorough trial. If you could only read some of the letters from cured ones who had suffered ten, twenty or thirty years you would no longer doubt the effectiveness of Dr. Chase's Ointment in the relief and cure of piles.

Talk of the Meeting at Jamestown—Calgary Starts Next Week.

JAMESTOWN, Va., April 11.—It was a poor day for favorites at the Jamestown track, not one of them coming in ahead. The feature of a rather poor card was the winning of the third race, a 6 1/2 furlong affair, by J. Forester's Blanche Frances, a 50 to 1 shot. Ballala, which was regarded as the best entry, was scratched, while Tom Mellon, second choice, and Grynda were in the also race.

KOERNER LANDS WINNERS THREE FIRTS, ONE THIRD

Martin W. Littleton Takes the Handicap—Results at Jamestown—Entries for To-day.

CHARLESTON, April 11.—Favorites, second choices and long shots won here to-day. The feature was the riding of Koerner, who started off by landing Congressman James and had a total of four winners and one third. Following is the summary:

FIRST RACE—Purse $300, 2-year-olds, selling. FAVORITES: 1. Congressman James, 100 (Koerner), 2 to 1. 2. A. A. S. and 2 to 1. 3. Charley Brown, 100 (Turner), 13 to 1. 4. E. S. (Moore), 15 to 1. 5 to 1 and 5 to 1. Time 1:15 1/2. Sads Shagiro, Hrahtown, Gassant, Dr. E. Swanger, Steelcuff and Mad River also ran.

Northern Ontario Grant Criticized By Mr. Rowell

Opposition Leader Thinks Government Should Say What Is to Be Done With the Money, That Legislature Should Be Consulted and That a Certain Amount Should Be Set Aside Each Year—Bulk Sales Act Stands Till Next Session.

The question as to whether the $5,000,000 for the development and colonization of Northern Ontario should be voted in lump sum or a portion appropriated year by year as the progress of the work demanded it caused a lively debate in the legislature yesterday afternoon. Another contentious point was whether the authority to spend the money should be entrusted to the lieutenant-governor-in-council rather than to the legislative assembly.

When the bill to raise this $5,000,000 on the credit of the consolidated revenue fund of the province came up for its second reading, N. W. Rowell had proposed it to be amended so that "no more vicarious bill," said he, "has ever been submitted to a legislative assembly where a legislative institution is enforced."

Block Development. In moving the second reading of the bill, Hon. E. Lucas stated that any attempt on the part of the opposition to compel the government of the day to do so, before the money is voted, this money would be directed wholly to block the development of the north country. It was impossible to state at present, except in a general way, how the money would be spent. He said that the amount would be necessary to fill the pressing needs of the north country.

EATON'S Ready With Your Prism Bino-cular

Racing men, yachtsmen, tourists—a good binocular is in demand by all. The chief advantages of prism binocular field glasses are their compactness, size, field of view, power of definition. In purchasing a binocular it should be remembered that power is not the only consideration.

The durability of the glass, its size, weight and general fineness of power, the definition of the picture, the illumination, and the adjustment of the optical parts are all matters of importance. It is an invariable rule that as the power of the binocular increases so its field of view decreases. As a general rule, also, the illumination or preliminary of the picture becomes less as the power becomes higher.

Let us explain these points with reference to the fine new stock of binoculars just come to us. They are from some of the best French manufacturers, as well as the Goetz, Leitz, Zeiss and Lemaire. A few of our prices are:

- 8 power Leitz 36.00
- 8 power Leitz, with large aperture 40.00
- 10 power Leitz 50.00
- 12 power Leitz 52.00
- 8 power Busch, with large aperture 40.00
- 10 power Busch, Terlux 52.00
- 15 power Busch, Terlux 58.50

All these glasses have the central focussing screw arrangement for adjustment of the pupillary distance and the eyepiece adjustment. Each glass is in a solid leather carrying case.

Cobalt Cricket Club Also Haileybury Enter Ontario Tournament

In spite of the fact that some six weeks must elapse before the cricket season commences in earnest, remarkable success has already been attained by the Ontario Cricket Association in their efforts to establish a cricket tournament in Toronto during the first week in September.

The scheme, which had its origin at the annual meeting of the O.C.A. last February, was placed in the hands of a committee of five local cricketers, who with the secretary, immediately started an active campaign for the purpose of settling in touch with out-of-town clubs. As a result, everywhere throughout the province the matter has been taken up with enthusiasm, and the tournament is expected to furnish one of the most successful and interesting features of the season.

Soccer Notes

The M.Y.M.A. Football League will hold a special meeting to-night (Friday) at the Broadway Y.M.C.A. All clubs interested must be represented at this meeting.

The Don Valley F.C. will practice on Saturday at 8 o'clock, when all old and new players are requested to attend. Owing to an error in the secretary's report of Mr. Robinson's and Mr. Parsons' names should have been in the list of honorary vice-presidents.

The Tri-Mu Football Club will hold a meeting Friday night at 8:30 o'clock, at Dr. McNamara's, Davenport road. All members are requested to attend, as there will be important business to attend to. Anybody interested in soccer will be made welcome.

In the T.B.C. Charley Boyd for the latter, was high for the night, with 420, while Sherry Moore of the same team set the booty with a 33 count in the last game.

Brick Bidding Quick Selling At Maher's Sale

Brick bidding and quick selling characterized Thursday's auction sale at Maher's Horse Exchange. There was a large crowd in attendance, and most of them were buyers. The offerings were fairly large and earlier prices caused hard to get in the country that are worth the money, or we should be doing more business. The western buyers inform me they cannot purchase in the Toronto markets at a price which will leave them a fair margin of profit after resale in the western provinces. Country prices will be high and it is expected that a large crowd will be attracted after the horse business she has done with the west in previous years.

FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 12, 1913

AGAINST PARCELS POST.

At a convention of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, for the Province of Ontario, held in this city a day or two ago, a resolution was passed in favor of heading off the sale of goods by catalog houses and carrying an educational campaign carried on to show the public that it would pay them better to deal with merchants in their home town than by mail.

We have no great objection to a resolution of this kind, in so far as it relates to trade, but we have a great deal of objection to the resolution in as much as it is especially directed against a parcel post system being established in this country, and we make bold to say the motion was inspired by the railway companies of Canada for the very purpose of maintaining their express monopoly and the enormous rates they charge the public for the service they give.

The very argument that is put up against a parcel post system could be put up against the postoffice in the carrying of letters, and if the postoffice were forbidden to transmit letters ordering goods, then there would not be any business done in the country as a result of mail communication, and the local stores would do all the business, wholesale and retail as well.

Ontario's greatest economic question. The bad roads of Ontario—and they are worse this spring than ever before—have a strangle hold on all the industry and enterprise and farming life of this province. It means millions of loss in convenience, not to mention suffering and inconvenience.

The Ontario municipal institutions will never cure the evil. It must be handled by the province. Good roads will double the value of our farms and double their productivity.

The problem must be handled by the province, and the province must assume the duty of building and controlling the main roads all over the province and making the people pay for them. The people will not do it themselves, nor by their municipal organizations.

Some one must do it and we see no way out of it but by a road department under control of a responsible minister, with plants and organizations in every county, to do the building and upkeep of the roads in a scientific and efficient way.

The thing is absurd, were it not strongly against the public welfare. IRISH SELF-GOVERNMENT. Mr. Asquith's "Government of Ireland Bill" proves to be much as it was foreshadowed. It does not embody the extreme demands of the Irish Nationalists, nor does it go the length of either of the bills introduced by Mr. Gladstone.

ROOSEVELT BACK AT OYSTER BAY. OYSTER BAY, N.Y., April 11.—His week of campaigning thru West Virginia, Kentucky, Illinois and Pennsylvania at an end, Col. Roosevelt returned to Oyster Bay late to-day for a night's rest at home before leaving on his next trip. The colonel said he was greatly pleased with the result of his trip, especially by what he had seen in Illinois and Pennsylvania. Col. Roosevelt spent the day in Eastern Pennsylvania.

COUNTING ENGINEERS' BALLOTS. NEW YORK, April 11.—In view of the fact that only 11,000 out of the 25,000 ballots had been counted up to-night, Grand Chief Stone said it would probably be several days before the complete returns of the vote of the locomotive engineers on the question of striking would be complete.

Day v. City of Toronto—C. A. Thompson, for plaintiff; H. Howitt, for defendant. Motion for an order of mandamus restraining the city from dumping ashes and other refuse on plaintiff's property on Ashburnham-ave. Motion adjourned to trial. Leave to both parties to examine on affidavits filed, and if so advised to renew motion before the 15th inst. Statement of claim to be delivered on or before 15th inst. Statement of defence on or before 15th inst. Record to be passed by the master to ascertain whether the defendant is to be allowed to plead in mitigation of damages for breach of the agreement.

Smith v. Ripper—F. M. Field, K.C., for defendant. An action for specific performance of an agreement, or in the alternative for damages for breach of the agreement. It should be referred to the master to ascertain whether the defendant can make title to the lands in question, or to any interest therein. If not, then the action should be dismissed without costs. If the defendant can make title, the plaintiff to be entitled to specific performance with costs of the action, including those of the reference; but he is able to make title to a partial interest only then the master should determine what sum by way of compensation should be allowed the plaintiff in respect of any outstanding estate, and in such case further directions and costs should be reserved.

Before Kelly, J.

Smith v. Ripper—F. M. Field, K.C., and T. F. Hall (Cobourg) for plaintiff; A. M. Peterson (Cobourg) and I. S. Parry, for defendant. An action by executor of the last will of plaintiff's aunt, claiming $2375 for services rendered to her aunt. Defendant brought into court $1500 as ample compensation for plaintiff's services.

Judgment: The evidence shows that deceased always paid promptly any debts she incurred, and at the time of her death she owed nothing except some small current accounts. The plaintiff did not sue for remuneration. Mrs. Gibbard from August, 1907, until October, 1910, paid her a monthly sum of $10. Plaintiff states that deceased said this was for pin money. By her will deceased also gave plaintiff a bequest of $2000 and a contingent interest in a bequest of $1000. There having been no agreement or promise for payment of any definite amount, the amount of the bequest made to plaintiff was more than ample remuneration for the services of every kind which she performed, in any event down to October 1, 1910. It is an unreasonable claim for her for last six weeks' services, namely, $125. Subject to this allowance, action dismissed with costs.

United Gas Companies, Limited, v. The Forks Road Gas Co.—H. H. Collier, K.C., for plaintiffs; W. M. Gorman, K.C., for defendant. An action to recover $750 for gas flowing from plaintiffs' pipes to the pipes of defendant, and supplying the latter thru a stopcock intended to shut off the flow remaining open for many months ending on March 10, 1912.

Judgment: Frank Misener, a member of defendant's company, in his examination for discovery, says that the stopcock between the two sets of pipes was not open prior to the morning of March 10, that he knew this to be the case from his own personal observation, and that this stopcock was always kept shut. This evidence is uncontradicted. Plaintiff has failed to prove that the stopcock was open at the time for which it claims, or that gas flowed from its pipes into the pipes of defendants during that time. Action dismissed with costs.

Fairbairn v. Canadian Bridge Co.—J. H. Rodd (Windsor) for plaintiff; R. Bartlett (Windsor) for defendant. An action by plaintiff, an employee of defendant company, to recover $2000 damages for injuries caused by plaintiff falling from a column while endeavoring to release a hoisting chain alleged to have been caused by defendant's negligence. Judgment for $2400 damages and costs.

"My Business is Unique"

WE are told by the old-time circus men and dime-museum operators that good freaks used to command large salaries. Barnum's "dog-faced boy" is said to have drawn $200.00 a week—you see he was the only dog-faced boy in the world—he was unique.

Most of us—even if we could be freaks—would prefer to make our livelihood some other way. And, anyway, the "freak" stunt is about played out—even in the circus business.

It is surprising to find an otherwise hard-headed business man who takes a strange, abnormal joy in posing as a freak. He doesn't call it that, of course. He doesn't even know he is posing. Ponderously in earnest, he would not dream of describing his business as "freakish"—but delights in saying it is "unique," which really amounts to the same thing.

Some manufacturers "play freak" only when talking to an advertising man. They keep that word "unique" tucked back under the tongue all ready for use whenever anyone suggests that they should advertise. "Oh, my business is unique—it cannot be advertised successfully."

Haven't you often heard it? Have you ever said it yourself? Let us not try to qualify for the dime museum. Let us get down to selling goods. And selling goods—no matter what the goods are—is easier if the goods are advertised.

You say your proposition is "different"? Very well, advertise it in a "different" way.

An Actual Experience That Completely Routs The "Unique" Theory

They market a product which their sales manager was wont to refer to as "the hardest thing in the world to advertise." But a persistent advertising man kept hammering at the door of skepticism, and he finally agreed to "test out" an advertising campaign. A twelve months' trial was agreed upon. To-day, at the end of 12 months, this firm is advertising on a much larger scale. Direct orders for the "hard-to-advertise" line are coming in steadily, and the advertising is looked upon by that sales manager as an all-important factor in his business-building.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any good advertising agency, or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 808 Lansden Building. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.

The Concert

About an example of the eternal triangle, doubled and involved, is woven the plot of "The Concert," an exquisitely droll comedy, by Herman Bahr, adopted by Leo Dittichstein, who held the leading role in the most successful production at the Princess Theatre last night. The production is, as are all of Helasco's products, staged with the most thoughtful attention to the minutest detail. There are two beautiful sets in three acts.

Even in its most serious moment this comedy never gets any appreciable mental distance from a smile. It is one of the sunniest things that has come this way for many a weary while, and the time is set to date in the spring of the year. Even the irony of the play is playful from with notes of the iron which enters into the soul. The dialog is sprightly and delightful, human. The story is not particularly new, but is gracefully told. It is that of a great musical genius who makes this the excuse for a thing or which it is also largely the reason—a very general flirtation with his host of women admirers and pupils. The silly genius and his equally silly innamorata of the moment are won back to their respective husband and wife by those very sane and clever folk who are sustained in this unusual task by their resort to some of these parts.

CANADIANS FOR HOME RULE

LONDON, April 11.—(C.A.P.)—The Chronicle to-day publishes a page of opinion on Home Rule from Dominion Canadians. It reproduces two extracts from Laurier's speeches and recalls that he contributed to T. P. O'Connor's Home Rule campaign fund, adding that Hon. W. S. Fielding endorses Laurier's opinions. Other opinions favorable to the bill are from Hon. G. H. Murray, Hon. E. B. Devlin, Hon. J. E. Carson, Hon. R. D. Lemieux, Sir Alan Aylesworth, A. G. McPhillips, Nicholas Beck and Sir Thos Shaughnessy.

UNMANLY COVERT AND COWARDLY ATTACK

Sir James Whitney Thus Characterized Mr. Rowell's Remarks in the Legislature Last Night, and When Opposition Leader Asked for Ruling, Speaker Upheld Premier

Strong words were used at last night's session of the legislature by Sir James Whitney in his criticism of what he regarded as a cowardly and unmanly attack on the Speaker by N. W. Rowell.

The discussion was at fever heat over the right of the opposition members to interrogate the ministry on questions of public policy, and the action of the Speaker in ruling certain questions relating to bilingual schools off the order paper.

Mr. Rowell concluded a very able and well-studied address with remarks regretting the action of Mr. Speaker Hoyle in creating an unfortunate precedent.

Sir James, in reply, declared that it was well to deal with questions of that kind in a serious and argumentative way.

Can't Conceal Malice. "But," said he, "I can't refrain from mentioning the cowardly, covert and unmanly attack on the Speaker, made by the hon. the leader of the opposition. He can't conceal the malice which he shows for you, sir, who sit there defenceless."

Mr. Rowell rose to interrupt Sir James.

"In view of what the prime minister has just said," remarked Mr. Rowell, "I would ask you, Mr. Speaker, for a ruling on his remarks."

"Nothing," said Mr. Speaker, "has fallen from the lips of the prime minister that is at all comparable with the inferences that you have just made."

Sir James Whitney's address was a masterpiece. He showed conclusively that in not appealing to the house from the Speaker's ruling when he ordered the questions off the order paper, Mr. Rowell was out of order and out of court. The prime minister's remarks were vigorously applauded.

Mr. Rowell's notice of motion was voted down.

Strange Experiences. "We have gone thru strange experiences this session," concluded Sir James, "and I pledge myself to the hon. members that if I am here another session, I will ask the house to adopt rules by which members will so conduct themselves that traditions and procedure and practices of British legislatures will be observed in future as they have not been observed during the present session. I shall ask in addition every document which appears on the order paper outside of the order of the day shall appear only after the Speaker has passed upon it. That is my motto and my attitude to the commonsense of the members of this house and of the people of the province."

STRIKE TALK BY MACHINISTS

Union Will Demand More Wages and Better Hours, and Are Prepared for Fight.

Urged on by the progress being made by the other unions in the city, the machinists have at last awakened to the fact that they are the lowest paid craftsmen in the Dominion, and once more they will attempt to get higher wages.

For the past few weeks the union has been working silently, almost secretly, conducting a thorough campaign of canvassing the machinists in the city. The result is that scores of non-union men are being initiated.

Back of this activity there is a motive. The union will shortly demand more wages, better hours and certain restrictions. If possible, a strike will be avoided, but if this is the only way to get better conditions, then the men will be prepared to lay down their tools until the demands are met.

LOYD'S WILL LOWER RATES

Dominion Government Seeking to Aid Shippers on St. Lawrence Route—No Canadian Lloyd's Yet.

OTTAWA, April 11.—(Special.)—There is every probability that Lloyd's, the great insurance underwriters of England, will put into effect in the near future a reduction of rates for vessels trading on the St. Lawrence route. There has been considerable agitation by the Canadian shipping federations for some time against the rates charged on the St. Lawrence route as compared with those on the Boston and New York routes.

While the question of insurance rates has, up to the present, been under the supervision of the department of marine and fisheries, it has now been changed to that of trade and commerce and the Hon. George E. Foster has been giving the insurance subject considerable time and thought.

Representations have been made to Lloyd's during the past few weeks and with such success that Lloyd's have taken up the question with a view to effecting a change in the present rates, which are considered abnormal.

To Start Bulletin System. The first step to be taken by the marine department is the establishment of a system of daily bulletins, to be called daily to Lloyd's, so as to keep them in touch with all vessels insured.

In the best-informed circles here the establishment of a Canadian Lloyd's is not considered as within the range of possibility this summer. However, the matter is before the department of trade and commerce, and if the rates are not lowered by the English Lloyd's, the Canadian government will aid Canadian capitalists in promoting a Canadian Lloyd's for the benefit of Canadian shipping interests.

how far the case for and against home rule had been affected one way or the other by the course of events since 1891.

Irish Demand Never Waivered. Dealing first with the question from the Irish standpoint, he said since the extension of the franchise in 1884, there had been eight general elections. The fortunes of the parties had ebbed and flowed, but the demand for home rule never wavered.

Look, he said, at Ulster. (Opposition cheers.) Seventeen Unionists and sixteen home-rule supporters for Ulster. (Ministerial cheers.) These figures were quite sufficient to show the mingling character of the present-day Irishmen. He reminded the house of the fact that in 1894, there had never been an estimated strength of the Unionist vote in Ulster. It was a factor which sane and prudent statesmen could not leave out of account and he expected that the result of the vote given in favor of home rule in Ireland.

Every year, he continued, had emphasized the imperative need of the emancipation of the imperial parliament from local cares. They would never get the separate concerns of the different parts of the United Kingdom attended to unless they had the courage and wisdom to hand them over to their special representatives. Mr. Asquith had been listening to the progress of Ireland since 1893, and pointed out that it had deprived the Unionists of many of their arguments.

He referred to the creation of the commonwealth of Australia, the grant of self-government to the Transvaal and to United South Africa. The case of the Transvaal was strictly analogous to that of Ireland, and he said he would be a bold man who would assert that the case of Ulster presented more difficulty than Boer and British living side by side in a territory just recovered from internecine war.

Imperial Parliament Supreme. The premier then came to the bill itself. It was expressly stated in the first clause, he said, that the supreme authority of the imperial parliament remained unimpaired. An Irish parliament was to be established, consisting of a senate and a house of commons. It would have power to pass laws for the peace, order and good government of Ireland. It would only have power to make laws respecting matters exclusively relating to Ireland. The bill excluded matters which had not been included in the last purchase, old age pensions, insurance, constabulary and the Postoffice Savings Act. The constabulary was, however, to be automatically transferred after six years.

That regard to old age pensions and insurance, power was given to the Irish parliament to demand the transfer of these services after a year's notice. The Irish parliament could not alter the home rule bill itself, nor alter the power of appeal to the privy council.

HOME RULE BILL SATISFACTORY TO IRISH

Attempts of Unionist Newspapers to Discredit Measure Not Likely to Incite Nationalist Revolt—House of Lords May Hold Up Bill for Two Years.

LONDON, April 12.—(Can. Press.)—Comment on the home rule bill in the newspapers following the party lines but in the case of the London Unionist morning papers, denunciation of the bill is of a milder character than might have been expected. An effort apparently is made to inflame the Nationalists against the bill by describing its provisions as illusory in the matter of giving Ireland real autonomy, and ridiculing it as a measure of devolution such as no other self-respecting section of the empire could accept.

The Unionist organs in Ireland denounce the bill in the bitterest terms. A practically all the Liberals, Nationalists and Labourers in parliament are united in support of the bill, its passage is regarded as certain. Whether it will succeed in running the gauntlet during the two years its passage can be delayed by the house of lords, which possesses that power under a provision in the bill, is another matter, and the Unionists seemingly are relying upon something happening in this interim to defeat the measure.

The Liberal morning papers admit the complexity of the bill and generally object to the system of nomination with respect to the senate. They think also that there may be difficulty with the financial proposals, which at present are little understood. It is calculated that for the first few years the imperial contribution to the Irish exchequer will amount to between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000, which should gradually diminish.

The Times, in an editorial says that the home rule scheme will not be resolved in any quarter with much enthusiasm. It will disappoint the hopes of Nationalist Ireland and will not ally the fears or diminish the hostility of the south.

"And," continues The Times, "if we are not mistaken, it will swell the rising tide of opposition in Great Britain to the departure forever from the empire of the Irish people. It will not even satisfy any of the various schools of theoretical home rulers."

NOBLES PIN FAITH TO CANADA

Lord Hyde and Lord Somers Expect to Derive Good Livelihood from Fruit Farm at Pickering—Are Ready and Willing to Do Hard Work.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Lord and Lady George Herbert Hyde of Hertfordshire, England; their son and daughter, and Lord Arthur Somers, Lady Hyde's brother, have arrived here on their way to Canada, where they intend to settle on a farm and till the soil themselves.

The cost of living and excessive taxation in England have driven Lord Hyde and his brother-in-law back to the land, and they have crossed the Atlantic with the firm intention of handling spade and hoe until they have placed their newly purchased farm on a paying basis.

Fine Physical Specimens. Lord Hyde and Lord Somers are more than six feet in height and look as fit and strong as prizefighters. They spoke of their departure forever from England without regret and as tho they had looked the matter squarely in the face and decided that Canada provided the only opportunity for them to earn a living. Lady Hyde is just as enthusiastic about the matter as her husband and is willing and ready to do anything that farm life may require.

A year ago Lord Somers visited Canada and found a farm in a place called Pickering, 20 miles from Toronto. He came back with a letter and told us that it was ideally situated for a fruit farm and that we could do well. After long discussion we purchased 300 acres and then began to sell our property in Hertfordshire and prepare to emigrate.

Good Market in Toronto. "Lady Hyde and myself have never been here before, but we are confident of Lord Somers' selection, and the last report I received from Pickering indicated that we would have a good market for our fruit both in that town and in Toronto. To make the place more attractive our correspondent said that a big canning factory was being erected at Pickering and nearby a lumber mill would be built.

"Pretty desirable place for a fruit farm, what! So here we are. All ready for hard work. Able and ready to plow the land, prune trees, hoe weeds, pick fruit, pack it and drive a team to the nearest market and get the cash for our labor. We don't intend to hire any help until we have things going well."

Driven From Home. "Why did we leave England? Taxes, I suppose. It's hard for people of our set to live there now. I am a tariff reformer, and was a staunch supporter of Joseph Chamberlain, whom I consider one of the greatest men England ever had. He has many more believers now than he had then, and you can see what is happening every year. England's landlords are leaving and going to the colonies and Canada.

"The Duke of Sutherland started the exodus, and there have been many thousands of people in the colonies who cannot depopulate England; the only thing it will do will be to fill the old country with waifs and orphaned children, whom Canada and the colonies refuse to accept. Canada has let it be known that she does not want England's units. Her immigrants, she says, must be the best."

NORTH TORONTO HAS THE BAR POLICY

Big Increase in Interest and Volumes—Death of Ex-War-rior Porter—What's Doing Thru the County.

NORTH TORONTO, April 11.—(Special.)—Practically the whole of county time at the special session held last night was taken up with a consideration of the urgency of passing through certain east and west streets. The discussion was entirely informal and properly in private, as publicity would not effect but rather offset the end sought.

Nothing was done with respect to the private company said to be anxious to get running along Avenue road and Mount Pleasant-road with city connections, they having failed to show up as agreed upon.

One of the most progressive institutions in North Toronto is the public library building under construction on the corner of the street and the north end of the town was burned to the ground last night, the fire being discovered in the building between eight and nine o'clock.

Public School Trustees John A. Macdonald left a few days ago for Harrison Hot Springs, British Columbia, whether he will search for health and a month's holiday.

Porcupine Stocks Weak--General News of the Mining Camp

DOME EX. PAYS PENALTY FOR TOO RAPID ADVANCE

Porcupine Stocks Slump Heavily on Incoming Liquidating Movement--Hollinger, the Only Strong Point, Scores Advance to $12.70.

World Office, Thursday Evening, April 11. The upward swing in Hollinger was carried further in the local mining exchange to-day, but that was the only instance of buoyancy in the Porcupine. The general list showed a decidedly reactionary tendency, selling off rapidly on the incoming of a liquidating movement and closing around the low price for the day. Net losses from large fractions in the inactive stocks to as much as 4 points in Dome Extension.

One of the real features of the day was the remarkable scarcity of Hollinger. Bids were raised rapidly on the incoming of buying orders and the price set at 25 points to $12.75 before the movement culminated. At the close bids were maintained at that quotation, with no stock offering under $12.75.

Dome Extension paid the penalty for a too rapid advance, the stock slumping quickly on the incoming real selling. The shares worked off 5 points from the opening at 18, and while the close was at a better level than that figure, the decline was by no means made up. Profit-taking on the part of those who got in prior to the bulge was accepted as responsible for the movement.

Natural Reaction. The alarming weakness in Dome Extension had an effect all its own in undermining sentiment in respect to the rest of the Porcupine list. Selling out in an appearance of support, interests were not disposed to take care of the market, prices sagged. Crown Chartered sold off to 31; Standard dropped to a new record for the movement at 2.4, and some of the other issues were similarly affected.

The market was also suffering a lack of responsible buying and evidenced clearly the tendency to take profits on the advance. Such events are not to be accepted as permanent factors in relation to the determination of market sentiment.

WORK FIRST LEVEL AT THE PEARL LAKE

Porcupine, April 10. (From Our Man Up North.) Stationing will occupy the attention of the management at the Pearl Lake Gold Mines for a few days more, and then cross-cutting to the south for 20 feet to intercept the first level of ore that was located in diamond drilling last summer will start. Shaft sinking will also go on at the same time.

Plenty of electrical power has been provided at all times with which to operate the compressor. The power plant is nearly completed and the boilers will be used to run the hoist.

NEW RAILWAY BOOMS GOWGANDA REGION

Porcupine, April 10. (From Our Man Up North.) Construction work on the 20-mile branch of the T. & N. from Barton to Elk Lake started yesterday, and many men have left the camp to engage in the work. The contractors state that the line will be completed by November 1. In anticipation of better railway facilities into the Gowganda and Elk Lake country, many mines are starting up and elaborate preparations are under way for the opening of prospects that have never before been worked.

MOTOR CAR SERVICE FOR PORCUPINE CAMP

Porcupine, April 10. (From Our Man Up North.) Porcupine means a motor car service between North Porcupine and Timmins, and government engineers are working on a scheme that may result in just what the district needs as a means for quick local traveling. At present the train service does not give Porcupine a chance to reach the western part of the camp without first walking to South Porcupine.

Last November it was pointed out that with a railway line completed and tracks laid, a quick motor car service could be operated between Timmins and Porcupine, and that the traffic undoubtedly would not be the cause of operating expenses, the road belongs to the public and it would be the public who would have to foot the unearned expenses.

GOT NO DIAMONDS

Porcupine, April 11. (From Our Man Up North.) Prospectors who took part in the rush into the country west of Hearst, on the Transcontinental Railway, in search of diamonds, silver and gold, are returning. They were not successful in locating minerals. They describe the country as generally low, with large rivers flowing thru it. Hearst is a small town 1/2 mile west of the Cochrane and, aside from the railway workers and prospectors, there are few inhabitants. Stores and shops are being opened. It is to be one of the main towns on the Transcontinental Railway. Much was made of an alleged discovery of diamonds near the locality. Charles Fox.

McIntyre Has Four Large Parallel Veins That Are Wonders--Average $20 in Gold to the Ton.

Porcupine, April 10. (From Our Man Up North.) Lying directly in the centre of the trough of the mineralized belt at the Pearl Lake district, McIntyre gets four large parallel veins that bid fair to yet become, with more development, the bonanzas of the camp. These veins cross the lot at the west end of Pearl Lake on an almost easterly course, veering a trifle north of east, with a dip to the north. The belt at this point is perhaps 45 chains in width. The four bodies vary anywhere from 15 to 27 feet in width in addition to a very large milling body of schist that lies between the veins.

Values are encouragingly rich. The McIntyre veins apparently dip into the lake bottom from the southwest and form thus a continuous chain of wealth across the Pearl Lake bottom. It is said that these veins will all average around $20 to the ton and that even the Big Dome is "skinned" by the McIntyre.

To intercept all the veins that cross thru the trough of the vault on the property, the management has run a long cross-cut from the south to No. 1 shaft north on the 20-foot level. The cross-cut is now under the west end of Pearl Lake and when completed will form a continuous subterranean channel from south to north, across the McIntyre main lot at the 20-foot level.

Drifting on veins east and west from this cross-cut reveal the quartz stringers that all carry values. The strike and dip of the veins where they cross under Pearl Lake show that properties along the shores of Pearl Lake undoubtedly are within the range of the ore belt.

ANOTHER MILL FOR PORCUPINE

Crown Chartered to Install Ten Stamps This Summer--Have Opened Strong New Ore Body.

Porcupine, April 10. (From Our Man Up North.) Following the statement of 10 days ago that should the veins continue in the newly opened 18-foot ore body at the 100-foot level at the Crown Chartered, a 10-stamp mill would be put on the property during the summer, it is now semi-officially stated that the mill will be built just as soon as the new power plant is completed and machinery installed.

No official announcement has been made to this effect, but matters are being shaped up, it is known, in line with the stamp mill. The first level is out with a cross-cut for over 200 feet from the bottom of the shaft, and east and west from this cross-cut are drifts for the drifts. Two up-rises are cut from the ends of the long drifts towards the surface.

It was at the end of the west drift, some 200 feet to the west of the shaft where the 18-foot body of ore was picked up recently. Now, further drift reveals more rich ore bodies. The shaft is down more than 100 feet in width and thru this shaft are the quartz lenses impregnated with free gold.

It is estimated that there is a developed ore body on the first level now that will keep a 10-stamp mill running for some time. McIntyre has been free milling, and a mill on the belt of the McIntyre would answer the purpose magnificently.

Bulgaria and Macedonia in Canada

For many years before 1900, a very large number of Bulgarians, Macedonians and Greeks left their own countries to settle in the United States, but from the beginning of this century there has been considerable preference shown by these sub-Balkan people for Canada. In the year 1900 the immigration department figures showed a quite small number of these, but this has annually increased until in 1911-12, 4484 Bulgarians and Macedonians alone had arrived here, and about one-third of that number of Greeks. Many Servians are with this immigrating company also.

The majority of them find their starting spot at Belgrade, in Serbia, and thence they travel to Buda-Pesth, from Buda-Pesth they proceed to Havre, and travel via London or Liverpool to Quebec, come on the large majority, to settle in Toronto. Here they get employment as street laborers, on railroads, or many of them at first as waiters in restaurants. These blossom out later into proprietors of the cheaper feeding places in the city. There are not a few of the large capitalists who settle in the open up as grocers, butchers, tailors or shoemakers, and some go further west and become prosperous farmers. Many of them become naturalized, marry

Result of Diamond Drilling in Porcupine Lake Bed Eagerly Awaited--Expect Another "Dome."

Porcupine, April 10. (From Our Man Up North.) Diamond drills are being pushed energetically, as was announced would be done two weeks ago, along the banks of Porcupine Lake on the property of the Porcupine Lake Gold Mining Company. In the absence of official reports, which are never made by diamond drill men except to the management of the company, rumors which leak out on the side are so encouraging that all Porcupine, (Golden City) is excited to a degree not witnessed in some little time.

Porcupine are looking for another Dome in the bottom of the north end of Porcupine Lake and it is up to the drillmen to find it for them.

The shear on this property is traceable down to the water's edge where the deep drilling is on. Stringers of quartz carrying free values are discovered along the ridge to the east of the banks of the lake, but it is a very ambitious proposition with rich bodies of quartz to support a mill, the management wants to know what lies at depth in extent as well as in richness.

Two drills are in operation now at the break-up threatened to put the men and the force were doubled to hurry the work along.

PLUMBERS MAY GO ON STRIKE

Demands Are Being Formulated, and Will Soon Be Presented to Employers.

While the various unions of Toronto of late have been demanding better wages and hours along with other requests, the public has lost track of the plumbers and steamfitters. But although they may have passed into obscurity, they are not to be forgotten. A strike of their kind would be a serious thing which the other unions are striving for, and in the near future things are going to happen in plumbing circles, with such rapidity that the employers, to say the least, will be startled.

For the past few weeks the local union has been conducting a house to house canvass of the city, interesting the public in the low track of the plumbers and steamfitters. The discount market, paralyzed by suspicion, has severed their connections with the union. It is stated that the ranks of the union are rapidly filling up with these new members and great activity in the movements substantiates the slogan that is being used, "The world that this organization work is in preparation for the demands which the plumbers will make shortly."

CALL TAFT GROSS DECEIVER.

NEW YORK, April 11. (Can. Press.) A delegation of ninety members, of the young union, has been instructed by the unit rule, were today chosen to represent New York's Democracy at the national convention at Baltimore in June.

The principal plank in the platform of the leading theme of the speech of Congressman John J. Fitzgerald of Kings County, the permanent tariff. The revision of the tariff, the platform denounced the action of President Taft in vetoing the tariff bill of August, and charged the president and the majority of the tariff gross deceiver of the people in promising a downward revision of the tariff.

Triple Alliance Will Be Renewed

NEW YORK, April 11. (Can. Press.) A cable from Berlin says: It may be stated on high official authority that an "understanding in principle" which insures the prolongation of "Bismark's masterpiece," the Triple Alliance, for another term of years, has now been arrived at between the German, Austro-Hungarian and Italian Governments.

Still They Come.

Four hundred immigrants, via Hallifax, arrived by G. T. R. train at the Union Station, yesterday afternoon. Two hundred of these stayed off at Toronto, the remainder arriving on British Columbia.

Essays on "What Good Roads Mean to Canada" Are Pouring in to the Office of the Canadian Highway Association at New Westminster, B.C.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., April 11. Young people throughout Canada are taking a great deal of interest in the essay competition fostered by W. J. Kerr, president of the Canadian Highway Association, who has offered valuable gold, silver and silver gilt medals for the best essay on "What Good Roads Mean to Canada."

Altho public announcement of the fact was only made two weeks ago, the headquarters of the Canadian Highway Association already resembles the examination room of a college just before graduation. Every day from 3 to 12 essays are received by the secretary, Mr. Luce, who has in hand the classification and vetting of the essays submitted. The reading of the papers and the awarding of the prizes will be done by a competent committee selected because of long experience in newspaper and magazine work and that the judgment of these men will give general satisfaction is not to be doubted.

Some of the papers received by the secretary bear the marks of earnest and careful preparation. Others, of course, are not so good, and are written in a haphazard and careless manner. It is not to be counted as serious competitors for the valuable prizes. All entries, however, whose papers show evidence of study of the subject, will be presented with a souvenir silver pin.

Some of the competitors are only 14 years of age and others are approaching the limit of 18 years, but the majority are from 15 to 17 years of age. Papers have been received from Harrison, Ont.; Killam, Alberta; Gladwin, N. S.; Renfrew, Ont.; Montreal, Quebec; Cornwall, Ontario; Winnipeg, Manitoba; Strathcona, Saskatchewan; Dauphin, Yorkton, Saskatchewan; Okotoks, Alberta; New Westminster, Vancouver, B. C.; Toronto, Ontario; and many other places.

Secretary F. W. Luce has prepared a circular which he is sending to all children who require information on their help them in the composition of their essays. This circular is merely intended as a guide, and while it is of considerable assistance to the children, it does not give those who receive it any unfair advantage over those who have already prepared their papers and forwarded them to him. He was introduced to get up this little leaflet because so many children were writing to him asking for a guide. He felt he could not afford the time to answer each child individually. Any prospective competitor can obtain one of these helps by sending a letter to the secretary at the headquarters of the association, room 4, Cunningham Block, New Westminster.

Flaws in Argument. Having made our flesh creep, however, the writer puts into his grasp, the necessary qualifications. Foreign creditors generally would be only too glad to "behave" deviously, and if not, in order to avoid bankruptcy. And also the writer does not assume that Britain should have no ally, in the particular war of which he is thinking, she should inevitably have at least one ally, very powerful in a financial sense, and capable of materially altering the whole position from that standpoint. Their mirable exposition.

We need not accept his picture of what would occur as entirely correct, but there is no doubt that the position of the London money market would be very dangerous indeed if there were any doubt in the minds of either British subjects or foreigners of the overwhelming preponderance of the British navy over the sea forces controlled by the power of the mother country to be involved in warfare. It would be essential for her to occupy a position from which she could not be ousted. She should not afford initial muddling thru as she did in South Africa.

Altho public announcement of the fact was only made two weeks ago, the headquarters of the Canadian Highway Association already resembles the examination room of a college just before graduation. Every day from 3 to 12 essays are received by the secretary, Mr. Luce, who has in hand the classification and vetting of the essays submitted. The reading of the papers and the awarding of the prizes will be done by a competent committee selected because of long experience in newspaper and magazine work and that the judgment of these men will give general satisfaction is not to be doubted.

Some of the papers received by the secretary bear the marks of earnest and careful preparation. Others, of course, are not so good, and are written in a haphazard and careless manner. It is not to be counted as serious competitors for the valuable prizes. All entries, however, whose papers show evidence of study of the subject, will be presented with a souvenir silver pin.

Some of the competitors are only 14 years of age and others are approaching the limit of 18 years, but the majority are from 15 to 17 years of age. Papers have been received from Harrison, Ont.; Killam, Alberta; Gladwin, N. S.; Renfrew, Ont.; Montreal, Quebec; Cornwall, Ontario; Winnipeg, Manitoba; Strathcona, Saskatchewan; Dauphin, Yorkton, Saskatchewan; Okotoks, Alberta; New Westminster, Vancouver, B. C.; Toronto, Ontario; and many other places.

Secretary F. W. Luce has prepared a circular which he is sending to all children who require information on their help them in the composition of their essays. This circular is merely intended as a guide, and while it is of considerable assistance to the children, it does not give those who receive it any unfair advantage over those who have already prepared their papers and forwarded them to him. He was introduced to get up this little leaflet because so many children were writing to him asking for a guide. He felt he could not afford the time to answer each child individually. Any prospective competitor can obtain one of these helps by sending a letter to the secretary at the headquarters of the association, room 4, Cunningham Block, New Westminster.

Flaws in Argument. Having made our flesh creep, however, the writer puts into his grasp, the necessary qualifications. Foreign creditors generally would be only too glad to "behave" deviously, and if not, in order to avoid bankruptcy. And also the writer does not assume that Britain should have no ally, in the particular war of which he is thinking, she should inevitably have at least one ally, very powerful in a financial sense, and capable of materially altering the whole position from that standpoint. Their mirable exposition.

We need not accept his picture of what would occur as entirely correct, but there is no doubt that the position of the London money market would be very dangerous indeed if there were any doubt in the minds of either British subjects or foreigners of the overwhelming preponderance of the British navy over the sea forces controlled by the power of the mother country to be involved in warfare. It would be essential for her to occupy a position from which she could not be ousted. She should not afford initial muddling thru as she did in South Africa.
