Quiet Elections Are Reported In Irish Free State

U. S. COAL STRIKE ORDER ISSUED

SHOOTING IN DUBLIN NOT SERIOUS

Outburst From Unknown Cause Lasts for About 20 Minutes

POLLING BRISK

An Unexpected Quietness Prevails Throughout Ireland Today.

Dublin, Aug. 27.—A lively outbreak of rifle and machine gun fire occurred in Dublin early today. The shooting was not explained. Ballotting in the Dail elections was proceeding quietly in mid-forenoon, with National troops patrolling the streets.

A motor car carrying James Crowley and the minister of fisheries, Finian Lynch, both of whom are candidates of the government party for Kerry, was attacked by a hostile crowd while passing through Llanaw, yesterday. Shots were fired and one young man was seriously injured.

Shooting here lasted about 20 minutes, ceasing shortly after 3.30 a. m., when the city resumed its normal quiet. There were reports that attacks had been made on Mount Joy prison and various posts occupied by the National troops, but the authorities professed to have no knowledge of such attacks.

The polling was brisk in all parts of Dublin city and county, both men and women turning out in large numbers to cast their ballots. From the time the polls opened until after noon no untoward incident had been reported.

James Larkin, the labor leader, addressing a meeting at Liberty Hall last night, denounced the action of the authorities in making election day a public holiday, declaring this would rob the workers of 50,000 pounds in wages, and urged the men to march to their places of employment this morning and demand that operations go on as usual. There was no evidence today of his advice having been followed in any instance.

Free State at nine a. m., with an electorate of more than 1,750,000 eligible to cast the ballots. Nearly 500,000 of this number are new voters, most of them being young people.

The day is a public holiday. This makes possible the close of the polls at eight p. m., thus enabling an earlier wind-up than formerly. It was announced after their day's labors were over, that the workers have been forced to close a day's pay by the holiday proclamation.

In Dublin there are labor candidates for both the regular and Larkin wings. The Dublin sheriff does not expect to be able to announce any result before Tuesday evening, and possibly not even then, unless all the candidates waive formal comparisons of the number of votes cast with the voting papers issued.

Returns by Wednesday evening before the returns for this city are tabulated, and the delay in the scattered country constituencies is expected to be even greater.

It is customary to make public the names of the candidates obtaining a quota on the first count without awaiting further results, but no final estimate of the strength of the various parties in the Dail will be possible until tickets are heard from.

The police work has been entrusted in Dublin to the old metropolitan force and in the country to the new civic guard, but as the latter has not yet reached full strength, it has been necessary to supplement it with especially enrolled policemen.

The law provides new and drastic penalties for interference with the voting and no intimidation at the polls is expected.

Government Confident. Supporters of the Government party have daily increased in confidence and it is now believed that this group will constitute the largest bloc in the new house.

The Republicans rely on the new voters to improve the showing made by them in the last election when they took 36 seats. Countess Markievicz, then defeated in Dublin, is standing for the same seat today and expects to win.

3 Fishing Schooners After Lipton Trophy

Gloucester, Mass., Aug. 27.—Three of the fleetest fishing schooners sailing out of Gloucester and Boston awaited the starting gun today to compete for the cup offered by Sir Thomas Lipton in the open fisherman's race held as the feature event of Gloucester's 300th anniversary celebration.

The Henry Ford, of Gloucester, Captain Clayton Morrissey, runner-up to the Canadian Blossome, in last year's international fisherman's series, the Elizabeth Howard, of New York, Captain Ben Pine, defeated by the Ford in last year's elimination races to choose the U. S. challenger and the Shamrock of Boston, Captain Marty Welch, a brand new vessel with a skipper who has already won one international series—these are the entrants.

The Boston schooner Mayflower, built with a view to international racing two years ago.

2 BURN AT STAKE WHEN BOYS PLAY

Juvenile "Western Drama" Ends In Grim Tragedy In New Jersey Town.

Belmar, N. J., Aug. 27.—A juvenile "western drama" with five Indians died to the stake ended in grim tragedy in Wall township, near here, last night, when two 16-year-old lads were fatally burned while playing with two companions in their play.

Charles Spindler and Wm. Hubbard were the victims of the game, which started when the four boys were wandering through an empty field. The two boys permitted their companions to tie them to a tree.

The others, Richard Foreman, 16, and C. Hubbard, 18, brother of the younger Hubbard boy, according to police, bound the lads to a tree and lighted a fire. The flames spread and before the nervous fingers of the boys could undo their companions' bonds, the boys were engulfed in flames and succeeded in freeing the boys. They died later.

All decorations and civil grades of the old Turkish Government have been abolished. Only the Independence medal of the Ankara Government will be recognized in the future.

PROMOTE STUDY OF CONSTITUTION

Part of Each Day for Week to Be So Utilized.

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 27.—Few, if any, residents of the United States are familiar with the constitution of their country, after September 22, for not having heard something of the history of the constitution of the United States, or at least have given it some thought, if plans of the Citizenship Committee of the American Bar Association mature.

Starting Sunday, September 16, a period of each day of the week for a week, to be set aside for meetings at which the constitution of the United States, its history, its purposes, and attacks which are made upon it, will be discussed.

The programme will be closed in pointing out that to uphold the constitution in his daily life and activities is the duty of each and every good citizen. Some communities are planning parades and pageants on Saturday to emphasize the duties of citizenship.

State and local bar associations have agreed to lend their support and assistance to carry out the programme.

NEW GOLD STRIKE

Sensationally Rich Ore Find Reported at Rosland, B. C. Mine.

Spokane, Wn., Aug. 27.—A strike of sensationally rich gold ore is reported at Rosland, B. C., and verified by Bunker Hill and Sullivan Mining Company officials. The ore is so rich that it is being taken to the smelter by automobile trucks under heavy armed guards, it is reported.

The I. X. L. mine, at Rosland, where the miners have been passing within a few feet of the strike for nearly a quarter of a century, is said to be the scene of the find. The event recalls the strike in the Leroy mine, nearby, which resulted in its sale to English interests for several million dollars, mining men say.

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Flames sweeping through the amusement park at Sea Breeze, on Irondequoit Bay, at one o'clock this morning, were threatening nearby residences and business buildings despite the efforts of the lake-side fire department and Rochester apparatus.

The loss at that time was estimated at $100,000. The fire started at 12.16 o'clock this morning in the "Old Mill," and fanned by a fresh wind spread rapidly to adjoining cottages.

2200-Volt Shock; Right Back On Job

New Rochelle, N. Y., Aug. 27.—William Chassa, 18 years of age, is still at work, while the physician who treated him in the New Rochelle hospital wonders that he is alive. While doing lineman's work on a pole he received a shock of 2200 volts from a wire with which he came in contact. Chassa climbed down from the pole, while workmen who saw the flash called for the ambulance. The only external mark left by the current was a burn on one finger. He said he had a slight burning sensation in the chest, but declared he was all right and went back to work.

ROUMANIAN QUEEN TO VISIT LONDON

English Courts and Chancelleries Await Outcome of Her Political Activities.

London, Aug. 27.—Queen Marie of Roumania is again engaging the attention of Europe's courts and chancelleries with her political and diplomatic activities, and her arrival in London this week is awaited with much interest, for it is known that her visit will be something more than a mere social call on her royal cousins, King George and Queen Mary.

Marie is anxious to induce the British sovereign to recognize her son-in-law and daughter as the King and Queen of Greece, in which positions they were placed after the revolution which overthrew Constantine. She would also like to find a suitable wife for her younger son, Prince Nicholas, who is just twenty.

In this connection friends of the Queen believe she would not be averse to Nicholas accepting the throne of Albania, which is known to be open to any prince of the royal house. It is pointed out, Marie would be in a position to achieve her long cherished ambition of creating a powerful Balkan federation.

ISOLATION POLICY OF U. S. DECRIED

Letter Written by Warren G. Harding Against War is Made Public.

ASKS EDITORS' AID

Pointed Out That America Faced Serious Problem in Near Future.

(Canadian Press.)

New York, Aug. 27.—A letter written by Warren G. Harding, June 18, exhorting newspaper editors in the U. S. to use their power to end war, was made public last night by Walter Wellman, journalist and author.

In the letter to Mr. Harding decried the isolation policy of the U. S. Mr. Harding wrote that he had been informed that some newspaper editors were considering a plan to use the power of the press to demand the opinion of the people of the U. S. on the problem of the duty of the U. S. in world re-organization for the abolition of war, the region of international law without tribunals instead of battleships as courts of last resort, and the creation of a system of international co-operation without super-government.

Mr. Harding pointed out that the American press, ignoring partisanship, had not destroyed the hope that there may be found a way to world association and understanding of our people. In his opinion that is a problem which the U. S. must meet with earnestness and courage, and that it will be of great help to the Government when it proceeds toward a practical solution of the problem to have a definite formation of public opinion to build and rely upon.

"I further believe that in this great task of helping to make the world safe for humanity, no political party should seek selfish advantages, that he should apply our old wholesome tradition of party rivalries stop at the edge of the high seas. Hence I shall be glad if any of our old-fashioned newspapers, which use its great power to draw forth the best thoughts, heart and soul of our people, in such a crystalline way will be read the decision of the Republic."

2 AVIATORS DROWN

American Seaplane Men Lose Lives When Craft Dives Into Lake.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 27.—Captain Frank Fitzsimmons, veteran of the French Foreign Legion, only one-legged pilot in civilian service in the U. S., and Gunner Lineh, were drowned here yesterday before hundreds of persons on the Meadow Boulevard, when their seaplane took a nose dive in Lake Bay, three miles from the city.

Fitzsimmons, about off his motor while a thousand feet in the air, preparatory to making a landing. The ship started on its volplane and backed into the northeast wind, and as it ended the turn the fatal dive came without warning, the craft dropping straight into the bay, burying its nose in the soft mud bottom.

Jack Dempsey Takes Rest From Training

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Training activities at Jack Dempsey's camp were at a standstill today with indications that the world's heavy-weight champion would not resume work with the gloves until Thursday.

The little-holder, fearing the danger of going stale from too much work, decided that a layoff of two or three days will enable him to shake off the cold that has been bothering him.

Dempsey is considering an invitation to go on a fishing trip with a party of admirers at a lake in the Adirondacks Mountains 80 miles from here. He may go today and not return until tomorrow. In any event, it is probable he will not do any boxing until Thursday.

Blown From Roof; Is Saved by Kite

New York, Aug. 27.—As the wind whistled loudly in Brooklyn streets, Vito Cicco, aged 11, was standing on the roof of his Melrose street home flying a kite twice his size.

A second later, still clutching the kite string, he floated 50 feet to the street. But the kite served as a parachute and Vito landed safely.

Laughs at Mississippi

Katherine O'Brien, 11-year-old maiden, is a merry little critter. She's inherited the grit that made her Irish ancestors famous. Why, just the other day she swam the Mississippi River at New Orleans! And more than that, she pushed her way through the mile and a half stretch of swirling torrent in exactly 22 minutes. Here she is in the arms of Commodore Lee Edwards of the Southern Yacht Club, receiving the acclaim of the throng which watched her feat.

Cubans Beg For Heavy Underwear Upon Their Arrival In Toronto

Toronto, Aug. 27.—To the crew of the Cuban cruiser, Canada is almost a region of the Arctic.

Shivering in their light cotton uniforms with lips actually blue from the "cold" the Cuban sailors had only one request to make upon their arrival in Toronto. No cheering thousands, no official welcome, no new impressions of a strange land occupied the first place in the minds of the mariners from the sunny southland.

More prosaic thoughts, more mundane desires came first from their lips. What they wanted above all else was underwear. Within a few hours ninety suits, purchased hastily by the exhibition authorities, were sent aboard and soon both the hearts and bodies of the visitors were warmed by the practical hospitality.

MAKE IT EASIER FOR CAMPAIGN TALKERS

Sound Amplifiers Will Enlarge Number of Hearers Many Times.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—Fewer cracked or strained voices as the result of strenuous political speaking campaigns in the 1914 election, and which at the same time may reach a much wider constituency, is seen in the applications of the loud-speaking device used so successfully by the late President Harding on his tour to Alaska.

Candidates will be enabled to address millions of citizens without vocal strain or discomfort, it is indicated, as the instrument can be installed in any location, while atmospheric conditions cannot affect its operation.

President Harding was able, without straining his voice, to make himself heard to thousands surrounding the observation end of his car. Speakers of experience have stated that ordinarily only a few hundred can hear an open-air address by the average speaker, and then they must be close.

League of Nations Scheme Is Praised

Brandon, Man., Aug. 27.—That the League of Nations had proven itself to be one of the greatest and most successful experiments ever made in the history of mankind was the declaration of Senator Sir George Foster in a large gathering here on Saturday night in support of the league.

At the close of the address, the meeting by resolution pledged the league its loyal and generous support. A committee was appointed to complete arrangements for a permanent organization of the League of Nations Society in this city.

Sir George said the league was the re-creation of an idea that has been in the world for thousands of years.

PROPOSALS WRAPPED IN SECRECY

Final Attempt is Made to Prevent Suspension of Anthracite Mines. COOLIDGE ACTIVE

Formal Order is Sent to All Miners to Quit Posts on September 1

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 27.—A final attempt to prevent a suspension of anthracite mining got under way today when Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, acting with the support of President Coolidge, met with miners' union men and representatives of the operators of anthracite mines.

Until the Governor actually came to grips with his problem, the closest secrecy surrounded plans and proposals which he had maturated.

Meet Governor Pinchot. Four of the leaders from each party to the controversy, men who have faced each other a half dozen times in this year's deadlock between employer and employe in the industry, and whose experience has been gained in previous years when similar breaks of negotiations precipitated strikes or shutdowns, again gathered at Governor Pinchot's summons. They were, however, open in declaring that they came to his meeting practically incapable of changing the attitudes which have brought the conflict. The union sent its formal order to all miners in anthracite districts to cease work on Sept. 1.

Continue Their Work. So bitter has the difference become that the union's suspension orders call out even the men who man the engines, pumps and maintenance operations in the mines. In previous strikes or suspensions such men have always been allowed to continue their work under true arrangements, lest the mines flood and cave in during idleness and sustain perhaps irreparable damage.

Governor Pinchot came to his task armed with all information and assistance that federal and state authority could lend. Newspaper correspondents were admitted to the opening session.

Few Delegates at Veterans Conference

Hamilton, Ont., Aug. 27.—There was a small attendance of delegates at the western district convention of Ontario Veterans' Alliance at G. W. V. A. hall on Saturday afternoon.

A DEBT OF HONOR.

There is a big job ahead of the Board of Appeal appointed as a result of last session's Dominion legislation, which gives the Pension Act more scope and elasticity, and which is intended to assist soldiers less dependent upon the letter of the law and more in accord with the spirit.

There is, perhaps, too little public appreciation of the amount of work which administration of the act involves. Some of the figures show how great is the task, and they serve, also, to remind us of the nature and extent of the country's debt to those who served and to their dependents.

The Pension Board increased 4,500 pensions, discontinued 4,376, reduced 8,077, and refused 1,764 applications. At the beginning of 1923 there were in force 19,606 pensions payable to dependents of dead soldiers, which meant a yearly outlay of $12,687,287, and disability allowances, covering 45,138 cases, involved during 1922 a total of $17,991,526.

The Appeal Board will be busily engaged from the outset with applications for increases and with new cases, many probably which have hitherto been rejected. Under the new legislation many who were outside the law become eligible. Men who were accepted as fit by the recruiting officers and who subsequently developed disabilities from which they may have suffered in some degree before entering the service will now be held eligible.

The men of the Appeal Board are spoken of as either having seen service during the war or having done work making them familiar with the problems of soldiers. In fact a competent authority says the personnel of the board is in itself an assurance that the act will be administered justly and with a spirit of sympathy and equity.

STRIKES—A BAD RECORD.

The anthracite field has a bad record in the matter of strikes. That in 1922 lasted five months, and tied up the whole anthracite industry. Here was the record from 1922 down, not counting disturbances which did not cover the whole hard coal region.

1902—Eighty-three days.
1906—Fifty-two days.
1910—Eighty-eight days.
1912—Forty days.
1914—Sixty-eight days.
1919—Thirty-five days.
1922—One hundred and fifty-five days.

That is not the whole story by any means. There were short strikes in 1915, 1916, 1917 and 1918, and since 1900 there have been seven other strikes which lasted less than five weeks but which while they lasted stopped mining operations in half or more of the entire anthracite territory.

practical solution of this problem to have a definite formation of public opinion to build and rely upon." In this, he said, no political party should seek selfish advantage; party rivalries should stop at the edge of the high seat.

A $5,000,000 contract for three years for a child three and a-half years old, a baby film star, is reported from Los Angeles. The Peggy Montgomery thus going to the coast of Brazil from there the door for a few years more. The parents "participate" in the arrangement, shining by reflected glory.

"The double liability for bank stocks extends to the previous owner if there was a change of ownership within sixty days of the suspension," says the Toronto Star.

Governor Pinchot, representing the President, has begun his struggle to prevent the anthracite strike, but, to the surprise of many, he finds that both sides are open to persuasion but they would like to see the man who could persuade them.

"Who set the original wooden clock at these split minutes has never been discovered." This is one of those things that just happened, etc.

According to information which passed current during my youth in the years just after the civil war and accepted at that time as correct, this did not "just happen," but was established by resolution of the existing jewelers' association to commemorate an incident that had a most profound effect—namely that it marks the minute that John Wilkes Booth shot Abraham Lincoln.

UNDER THE EARTH.

(Boston Herald.) These are great days for tunnel-tunnels of the future. Just completed and tunnels planned. If you want an example near home, take that latest venture in tunneling beneath the city.

The City lights glow friendly, clear formation; Serrano ranks of defense against the dark. Like soldiers faithful to their government, the miners of the earth are now planning back to those in the far sky illumine the East or West.

For a tunnel just made, turn far field to New Zealand. Rejoicing crowds gathered the other day to celebrate the latest triumph of British engineering.

The new structure extends from Otira to Arthur's Pass, its underground length measuring nearly six miles. It is more than a thousand feet in diameter, and the "first shot" on the work was fired in April, 1908.

The engineers planned on the other side of the tunnel, and what do we see? The century-old project for a tunnel under the British channel nearer realization than ever.

RECENT WEDDINGS

Weston-Dick.
The marriage of Miss Florence Gertrude Dick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Dick, of 195 Queen street, to Mr. Bruce Verner Weston, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Harry Weston, of Gagetown, N. B., took place on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 26, at 8.30 o'clock, at the residence of the bride's parents, which was decorated with ferns and sweet peas. Rev. Hugh Miller performed the ceremony. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a traveling suit of navy blue pique twill with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Weston left for Boston, where they will spend their honeymoon, and on their return will take up their residence in St. John.

RECENT DEATHS

Mrs. Robert Gray.
The death of Elizabeth, widow of Robert Gray, occurred on Saturday. She was eighty years of age and was one of the best known residents of the city. She is survived by two sons, Robert and William, and two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Quigg and Miss Susie Gray, all at home, nine grandchildren and four great-grandchildren, and one half-brother, Thos. L. O'Neill, of this city. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning from her late residence, 665 Main street at 8.45 o'clock to Holy Trinity church for requiem high mass.

Mrs. Elizabeth Haynes.
The death of Elizabeth Haynes, widow of Arthur W. Haynes, occurred on Saturday. She was formerly a resident of Boston and 78 years of age. She is survived by one brother, William J. Morrow, of Grand Bay, N.B., and two sisters, Mrs. Walter Bowen and Mrs. Sarah E. Estey, both of Boston. The funeral will take place this afternoon from the residence of her brother, William J. Morrow, Grand Bay street at 3.30 o'clock.

Mrs. George R. Ellis.
The death in Toronto of Mrs. George R. Ellis on August 26, will be missed with deep regret by a large circle of friends in St. John, where she had passed the greater part of her life, having removed with her husband and family to Toronto more than twenty years ago.

Mrs. Ellis was the last surviving member of her family, younger daughter of the late John Armstrong, at one time a prominent merchant of this city. Her husband was a well and favorably known citizen, and for several years occupied the position of secretary to the old St. John Gas Light Company, during the presidency of the late Robert Blair.

Mrs. Charlotte A. Holder.
Charlotte Amelia Holder, aged eighty years, widow of Captain J. George Holder, died in the General Public Hospital at noon Sunday after a decline in health covering a period of months and following an operation performed late Saturday night. She expired without pain, virtually asleep away. The afflicted lady had been the centre of her household in Newman street, North End, up to Saturday and was about until her removal to the hospital. Therefore her passing came with such suddenness that relatives were shocked. Her condition becoming sorely aggravated during the few days previous to her removal to the hospital, the aged resident quite willingly submitted to the operation rather than face the inevitable alternative.

Mrs. Dorcas McGee.
Mrs. Dorcas McGee, widow of Charles McGee, died at her home on Friday night after several months of suffering. Mrs. McGee was a woman widely known in the community and to the travelling public, having for many years, together with her husband, kept a hotel and boarding house.

It must also be kept in mind that the spectacular portion of Mr. Coolidge's public record so far rests on his likely he will allow a few points in wage agreement to stand in the way of getting coal to the furnaces. A solution of the hard-coal difficulty will be good politics, and perhaps politics for once will come to the aid of the wretched ultimate consumer.

WICKED LONDON.
(New York Times).
From the report of Sir William Harcourt, Commissioner of London Police for 1922, let us take first the only comforting details. These relate to the clothing and lighting of London bobbies, an amiable, polite, patient, but, as will be seen, inefficient force. In winter those robust legs are to be encased in trousers of a daily cloth equal to that supplied to the constables in the days of former days. Will not this luxury have a demoralizing effect? Constables will regret the change in the lighting system. An electric concern is to replace the dim, familiar oil lamp on the belt. This mechanical improvement only makes sharper the demoralization of London morals which the Commissioner records in the spirit of the utmost efforts of the police, hundreds of prosecutions, fat fines and costs by convicted book-makers, the evil of street betting "does not abate."
The picture of drunkenness is sinister, if much less so than in 1914, when 17,000 persons were charged with it. In 1918, under the severe restrictions of the war, the number fell to a little more than 11,000. In 1922 it was almost 94,000. Of these persons, 6,400 of them women, 30,799 were convicted. This is an increase of more than 3,900 since 1921, an increase of more than 800 convicted drunken women. Compare these figures with those of our own more self-controlled community. According to Commissioner Enright's report for 1921, arrests for intoxication in that year were 5,169, whereas the average for the years 1910 to 1914 was 27,804. According to statistics published by Municipal Judge Gemmill of Chicago, there were 11,402 arrests for drunkenness here in New York in 1922. Even if this unofficial statement be accepted, it shows that this city is three times as moral as London. Only in the matter of comparative peccadilloes, such as murder, does London shine.
Twenty-six cases of murder of persons above one year of age were recorded, as against twenty-one in 1921. Arrests were effected in thirteen cases, and in the remaining thirteen the murderer committed suicide. The total number of persons apprehended and charged with murder was sixteen, as against seven for 1921. Of the sixteen (one being for a murder committed in 1921), thirteen were convicted and sentenced to death, and three were found to be insane at the time of the commission of the crime.
In New York in 1921, 237 murders were reported. There were 34 convictions. New York is devoted to the prevention and punishment of crimes worse than murder.

A request from J. B. Patchell for permission to install a third gasoline tank and pump at his place of business Douglas Avenue, was referred to the Commissioner of Safety.

On recommendation of the Women's Canadian Club the name of Mrs. L. P. D. Tilley was added to the committee dealing with the selection of sites for the monuments to be erected by the Dominion government.

A letter of protest against the location of the Animal Rescue League at 109 St. David street, from H. A. McFarlane, was laid on the table.

A communication from E. P. Raymond, asking for $68.76 damages on behalf of H. K. Bamford, who had purchased one of the city buses on the West Side, on account of a blocked sewer, was referred to Commissioner Bullock.

A communication was read from the Civic Power Commission referring to the report of the engineer of the commission on the cost of diverting the primary line from Germain street to Canterbury and Mayor Fisher said it was the feeling of the Civic Commission that the original plan should be followed out.

Commissioner Frink reported that he had not made any progress in the negotiation with the C. N. R. for a strip of Mill street but would continue his efforts to secure a strip of land here to widen the street.

Commissioner Frink reported that he had made some enquiries into the matter of proclaiming a half-holiday for Tuesday afternoon and found opinion was against such a course. No action would therefore be taken in the matter.

Holstein Cow Sets Three Year Record

Chicago, Aug. 27.—Adirondac West-ske Dairy Maid, a pure bred Holstein owned by the Bridgeford Holstein Company, Patterson, Cal., is the only cow in the world which has produced more than 1,000 pounds of butterfat and 30,000 pounds of milk in three consecutive years, according to announcement by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

"Adirondac" has just completed a yearly semi-official test with a record of 31,889.9 pounds of milk containing 1,014.47 pounds of butterfat, the amount in three years of 97,882.6 pounds, or more than 46,000 quarts of milk and 3,186.81 pounds of butterfat. The latter is equivalent to 3,884 pounds of butter, or equal to the production of eight average dairy cows for the same period.

The animal was not placed on yearly test until she was eight years of age, the statement said. Within two months after finishing her first long time test she freshened and immediately was started on her second 365-day performance. Two months after completing the second test she bore twin bull calves and then proceeded on the third test which has just been concluded.

A communication was read from the Civic Power Commission referring to the report of the engineer of the commission on the cost of diverting the primary line from Germain street to Canterbury and Mayor Fisher said it was the feeling of the Civic Commission that the original plan should be followed out.

WAR AVIATORS IN PEACE CONTESTS

Meet in International Aviation Competitions in Sweden.

Gothenburg, Sweden, Aug. 27.—The first international aviation meet in Europe since the war, held there this month, brought together in peaceful competition fliers and exhibitors from countries that five years ago were at war. Thus Germany was represented as well as France, England and the United States. The neutral countries participating were Holland, Switzerland, Denmark, Norway, and Sweden, Belgium, Italy and Czechoslovakia. Even such far away states as Colombia and Siam took part.

Great Britain's interest was shown by the personal visits of General Branker, Director of Civil Aviation, who flew from England to Sweden, and Sir Samuel Hoare, British Air Minister. Airplanes of every known make were entered in the program of competition.

NEPTUNE BACK AND BRINGS HULL OF NEW FERRY

The tug Neptune, Captain Hurley, arrived in port yesterday from Meteghan, where the vessel has been undergoing extensive repairs. The Neptune was never in better condition than she is at present. The tug towed over the new ferry steamer from Pleasant Point. The new craft was docked in Market Slip, and in a short time will receive the boiler and engine from the ferry E. Ross. The new boat is considerably larger than the present ferry.

MOTORIST FINDS TIMBER ACROSS L. LOMOND ROAD

Some person placed a piece of timber about ten feet long across the Loch Lomond road near Blind Man's Lake last evening. A motorist, driving along the road about eleven o'clock, saw it just in time to stop and avoid hitting it. Another car, a large coupe, was coming the other way at a good clip and struck the obstruction full force, bounded into the air, alighted on the ground and kept going. Police have the matter in hand.

EXTENSION OF 36 INCH MAIN TO MARSH ROAD IS PLANNED BY COMMISSIONER

Further Work in Mind for Assurance of Water Supply.

With the completion, about three o'clock this morning, of the connections at Little River, there was removed from the realm of probabilities the fear of a water famine for St. John as the new work gives two independent sources of supply and in the event of one breaking down the other can be utilized.

A new 36 inch pipe has been laid around the header and this ensures that the Loch Lomond or Little River supply can be used alone or together, where formerly everything had to pass through the header. Had anything happened to that the city would have been without water until repairs had been made.

A crew of 40 men started at work on Saturday morning at 7 o'clock and worked right through until three o'clock this morning, at which time the last connection was made and the water turned into the main again. The water was shut off one of the 24 inch mains and the 12 inch, leaving one 24 in service. The connections of these two with the 36 inch were completed about noon yesterday and the water was turned into them and the other 24 shut off and the connections with it being finished this morning.

The work was done under the personal supervision of Commissioner Wigmore who stayed with the job from the time it was started until it was completed.

The Commissioner has in mind, and is preparing the specifications for an extension of the 36 inch main to the Marsh Road, this giving a direct service from Loch Lomond to the city distributing mains with a large new main and this would enable the older mains to be kept as emergency lines. Should this project go through, the new line would be carried down the valley from Little River, instead of following the line of the present system, the cost of such an installation being prepared as much less on account of having less rock to go through.

ABORIGINAL SKULL REVEALS ATTEMPT AT TREPANNING

Explorer Morris Finds Evidence of Cranial Surgery at Navajo Reservation.

Discovery of an ancient skull, bearing evidence of an effort by an aboriginal surgeon at cranial surgery in the area where man's keenest instrument was a flint knife, was announced last week by the American Museum of Natural History, New York.

The skull, found at Mitten Rock in the Navajo Reservation of New Mexico by an expedition headed by Earl H. Morris, famous explorer of Aztec ruins, had been extensively trepanned in an oval section two inches long and an inch wide having been removed from the frontal bone immediately above the right eye.

The entire upper portion of the skull was knobbed and pitted, apparently from some disease, from which a crude, long-dead surgeon had attempted to relieve the patient by a desperate operation. The work was neatly done, but as the edges of the bone showed no evidence of healing it is apparent that the patient did not long survive the operation.

Just how many centuries ago this first effort at advanced surgery by a Southwestern aboriginal was attempted the archaeologists have not determined. Mr. Morris reported, however, that the skull was that of a brachycephalic, or short-headed, man.

Not Finding Key, Brighton Man Breaks in Cambridge House to Sleep it off.

(Boston Herald)

While thunder rumbled and lightning flickered early yesterday morning, Donald E. MacPherson removed bath shoes and socks and deposited them in the yard of 81 Hancock street, Cambridge. Then he hunted through every pocket for his door key. Not finding it, he battered down the screen door and the inner door and went in.

The exertion tired him, so he threw himself on a couch in the front room and fell asleep. Everything was fine, except for a miscalculation. "I was neither his house nor his couch," Donald lives in Brighton. He had side-wheeled into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Woodside.

Woodside awoke at the crashing of the doors, but sleepily she laid the noise to the thunder and wind. Later she awoke at another tumult, which she soon identified as snoring. At her urging, Mr. Woodside investigated and called the police. They entered the room with drawn guns, but they had to shake the intruder into consciousness.

STEEL VAULTS HOLD COVETED ALCOHOL IN NATIONAL MUSEUM

Various Departments of Government Take Extraordinary Precautions

Extraordinary precautions for the safeguarding of their supplies of alcohol are taken by various departments of the Government which use this commodity, now so much in demand for the making of what in the parlance of the bootlegger is styled "synthetic" intoxicants, says an Associated Press despatch from Washington.

Officials of the departments and bureaus declare the systems they have installed have operated so successfully that their losses have been negligible, confined to the theft of a pint here and a quart there. And so close is the check, they assert, that frequently even these small quantities are traced and offenders disclosed.

At the National Museum, which, in the preservation of specimens sent to it from all parts of the world, uses only the very highest grade of alcohol, the liquid is kept in a steel vault to which only one employe, other than the staff of officers has access. The key to the vault is kept under a separate lock.

Supplies are drawn on requisitions and the uses made of the alcohol are carefully traced and checked. The museum officers say that there are losses from evaporation and spillage; but that in their system these are carefully estimated and due allowance made.

The Navy Department, which probably is the largest user of alcohol in the Government, also has worked out an elaborate system for the safeguarding of its supply. The total used is about 1,000,000 gallons annually, half of which goes into the manufacture of smokeless powder. At those stations and depots where the volume of alcohol on hand warrants, the liquid is kept in special tanks in rooms under lock, with the keys in the possession of commissioned officers or trusted civilian employes.

On shipboard and at the smaller stations the supplies also are in the custody of commissioned officers. In all cases the liquid is furnished on requisition and a check-up of its uses made to see that none is diverted.

Similar systems are in operation in the Department of Agriculture, the Bureau of Standards, the Bureau of Fisheries and other Federal agencies using alcohol in their daily operations.

The Clothes of Parliamentarians.

(Toronto Star.)

A sartorial journal of London has been criticizing Premier Baldwin because the clothes which he wore at a recent cricket match "had neither smartness nor distinction, but were merely humdrum." His gloves were "large and not properly put on." His tie was "a little awry." His soft felt hat was "rather shabby." Mr. Baldwin can take comfort from the fact that the fashion journals said similar things about Mr. Lloyd George. The same charge, indeed, was brought against Oliver Cromwell. Sir Philip Warwick, describing Cromwell's first appearance in the House, referred to him as "very ordinarily apparelled, for it was a plain cloth suit which seemed to have been made by an ill country tailor. His linen was plain and not very clean. His hat was without a band and his sword stuck close to his side."

But swords were not always allowed in parliament. In the reign of Henry VI. the members, as a protest, equipped themselves with long wooden staves, and became known, for that reason, as "the parliament of the bats." An equally curious sight was presented during the reign of Henry VIII when it became the fashion to wear trunk breeches of enormous size stuffed with wool, tow, hair, or anything else which would give the appearance of inflation. To accommodate this "stuffing," which was too burdensome for constant wear, a special arrangement was made in parliament. "Over the seats were holes two inches square in the wall, in which were pegs supporting a scaffold for the use of those who wore great breeches stuffed with hair like woolsacks." This scaffold was removed in the reign of Elizabeth.

There were always members who proved somewhat neglectful of their dress, both in parliament and out of it. While the elder Pitt was accustomed in the House to wear "a dress coat and tie as if prepared for a levee," an eighteenth century member from Berkshire by the name of Elwes was so seldom known to renew his clothing that he was said to "have the same habit with everybody." If Lloyd George and Baldwin have been sartorially neglectful, they have at any rate not deserved such a jibe as that. Perhaps they have sinned no more seriously than a recent Canadian premier who shocked his English hosts by going golfing in his everyday garments.

After all, what Mr. Baldwin wears inside of his head is far more important than what he wears on top of it.

OCEAN TRAVEL—OLD AND NEW

(Boston Herald.)

Navigation was a wonderful thing when Greek captains hugged the shore and used the Pleiades as sailing stars. What would any one of them have thought of his art had he been able to "dip into the future" for glimpses of its 20th century developments? It is mainly steaming now, and we are in the era of transition from coal-burning to oil-burning. The skipper works, moreover, with such aid from compass and sky, from cart and computation table, that he can mark out his place on the trackless ocean to within a few hundred yards. He is in contact with both shores by wireless, and can have the news of the day from all shores served up every morning at breakfast table. And the end is not yet.

From recent successful experiments in giving wireless direction to unmanned airplanes progress has been made in the actual guidance of ships afloat to their destination. A few weeks ago, on Incheith Island in the Firth of Forth, a "wireless lighthouse" was established for this purpose, and already, the report states, vessels are being guided through the dangerous channels of the Firth "so that there is no possibility of their running ashore even on the darkest night or in the densest fog. A British scientist now predicts that in the near future wireless will be used for directing ships at sea just as easily as we have begun to direct airplanes. At first the ocean-going steamers will continue to furnish their own propelling force, but as time goes on it will be found practicable to use electric power for propulsion. The two methods can then be linked together. Stations ashore will supply both driving force and guidance. Spaces now taken up by coal or oil can be used for merchandise and passengers, and great steamers will be fore like cities afloat than ever.

That would be enough to suggest how, within the experience of people now alive, the whole science of navigation may be revolutionized. Yet if other predictions are in order it is only the beginning. The physicists are at work on the problem of new sources of power, and no less eminent a scientist than Sir Oliver Lodge has told us that there is enough energy in a few ounces of matter, could it be extracted or released, to carry a Leviathan across the Atlantic. "Now comes Factoria," an Italian engineer, with the assurance that water would itself serve as a source of "atomic energy," and that there is enough in a quart of it to replace that generated by 300 tons of coal." All needed by the capitalist would be a hand pump with a siphon pump attached. It would mean declaration of independence from the ocean steamers and raise the "trading of the deep" to the rank of the mightiest reservoir of power ever discovered on this planet.

Some birds seem always half-awake. Partridges seek a sheltered drying hollow in the fields, and a covey of twenty will huddle on a spot a yard in diameter. The colder the weather the closer they roost; the birds on the edge have their breasts outward. Sometimes, by the way, it is unfortunate for the coveys, so that, roosting with their heads out, the positions of their nests prevent them from flying to and fro. Having to travel their way through tangled undergrowth, a trail is left for the fox.

(Montreal Witness.)
The sleep of most wild creatures, whether birds or animals, is light; there is too much danger round to make sound sleep safe. The authors of "A Game Keeper's Note-Book," who made some very interesting observations on sleeping birds, found out that the perch-roosting birds, always sleep head to the wind.
If a rook alights in the home tree in a high wind, he swings his head into the wind before alighting. So, when wood-pigeons come home before the wind, they pass over their roosting trees and then beat up into the wind.
At rest the bird doubles its knees, as it were, which causes the toes to contract, the weight of the body resting chiefly on the breast and outspread wings—not on the legs. If in a nest, the legs and feet have always which work an automatic locking action of the claws, so that, roosting with knees doubled up, the feet grip the branch unflinchingly.
Wildfowls will scratch a match at night to test the presence or absence of wild duck in a distant creek; if present, an instant quacking will verify them. Pheasants are always vigilant, on the darkest night it is difficult to stalk them, however quietly you move. If you come within a hundred yards of gu

In a postponed scheduled game of the second series of the Two-I League here last evening, 3 to 6. The game had to be called at the end of the six innings owing to darkness. The visitors tallied their three runs in the first on two hits off Greene and three bunched errors by the Moncton infield. McLellan crossed the pan for the locals initially in the second inning, on a long triple advanced by a single. In the fifth inning Austin Greene lambasted a long one off Paynter for a home run, scoring Algie ahead of him and being the score. The local aggregation laid on Paynter for two further safeties in this inning but failed to tally.

HOW ABOUT THIS COIN INSCRIPTION?

Dated Halifax, N. S., 1414
—Captain Pitt Has a Good Collection.

"The daddy of them all" has been found in the old coin collections. A letter carrier came into the office on Saturday and produced a coin which bore the date "1414." It is a very curious copper coin, evidently a cent and most of the figures and inscriptions which once had adorned it, were obliterated but the date was there and along the border these words, "Halifax, N. S." The rest of the coin was worn too smooth to distinguish much else. Considering the fact that Columbus discovered America in the year 1492 and that Halifax was founded by Lord Halifax in 1749 this is a very remarkable coin. The inscriptions which are now visible on the coin, which has been able to peer into the future and to read the white men's minds centuries in advance.

Captain Frank W. Pitt, who runs the Gondola Point ferry, has a silver six-pence of the date 1870, on the reverse side of which is a rather crude impression showing the features of Queen Elizabeth. The coin looks as if it had been beaten out. This is one of a large collection of paper and coined money, shown to The Times by the Captain. The following were the oldest: A $20 Bank of Augusta, Ga., bill, dated July 4, 1850; a Confederate note, dated June 24, 1862, at Richmond, for $100, with interest at two cents a day and payable, six months after the ratification of peace. On the reverse side of the note, were these words: "The Nova Scotia note, dated 1864, for $100 and 1865, also has a Confederate note of 1864 for $100 and 1865, among his coins are a five franc piece, bearing the bust of Charles X. of France, dated 1826; a 50 cent piece, and a half penny piece, 1884; Mexican quarter real, 1855 and 1879; Spanish coins, 1711, and 1741, and also said coins dated 1794, being the words "Schilling, Courant, Mehlens, Schwerline, Munne, on the reverse side.

Lynch On Stand In McDonald Case

Additional evidence was taken this morning in the case against Allan McDonald, charged with theft from Frank Coleman on June 22. Daniel Lynch gave his testimony in the case and was discharged on the condition that he appear for trial on September 10. Mr. Ryan appeared for the defense. Daniel Lynch who boards at the Farris hotel, said he saw McDonald, like a man he had met with Coleman in a beer shop in Mill street. He thought it was three or four days but it might have been more. They had had two drinks together. He had been with them for twenty minutes or a half hour. He could not remember the conversation. They were not under the influence of liquor. The man with Coleman was lame and the other man had gone out and along Mill street towards the depot. To Mr. Ryan he said he did not remember anyone present who spoke French. He could not say whether McDonald was with Coleman. He could not swear that the man with Coleman was the accused.

IN BOX CAR WORRYING OVER SINS OF WORLD

Nick Crantz, a Russian, was before Magistrate Henderson this morning charged with trespassing on C. P. E. property. He said he was trying to get into a box car to sleep. He had been in this country for eleven years and wanted to get back to Russia. He had been working at Charlott station and bore excellent testimonials from his late employers. They said that he seemed to be worrying about the sins of the world which inspired Magistrate Henderson to remark that it might be well if some other people did a little worrying. He was remanded for inquiry. The investigation authorities will be communicated with.

The commissioner said he had taken the matter up with the present owner of the building, who would sell out but was asking what he considered too high a price. Could the wharf be secured on satisfactory terms he was prepared to recommend the purchase as it would give, by filling in the front of the wharf, a berth 200 feet long, with the necessary shed accommodation.

TENNIS STARS OF QUEBEC COMING

Send List of Names for the Competitions This Week at Rothesay.

George F. Holly, secretary-treasurer of the New Brunswick Tennis Association today received a letter from John M. Miller, president of the Province of Quebec Association, regarding the visit of the Quebec tennis players here the last of this week. They will arrive here on Friday at noon and will play on Friday afternoon and Saturday at Rothesay, leaving here on the late train on Saturday night for Halifax to play match on Labor Day arranged through L. A. Gastonguay of the Nova Scotia association.

The Quebec team will be composed of Willard F. Crocker and Jack Wright, Canadian doubles champions; E. H. Laframboise, senior singles champion of Quebec; Louis Robert and Mr. Miller as captain and spare. Mr. Miller writes that the members of the team would be pleased to participate in mixed doubles if partners were supplied them, but Mr. Holly said this morning that he considered this unlikely.

It is probable that the match at Rothesay will be four singles and two doubles. A tentative line-up of the players to oppose them in the singles is Hazen Short, George Hudson, singles champion of New Brunswick; Jack Thomson, men's doubles champion with Mr. Hudson; and one of the following four: Cecil Fitzgerald and Jack Frith of Rothesay; J. P. (Dud) McIntyre of Benford and Harold Drummond of Drury Cove. The fourth will be Short and Hudson and the latter probably W. T. Wood and Dr. H. E. Dignow of Sackville. The representation has not definitely been decided.

A meeting of the executive of the N. B. Association was expected to be held today. It is composed of Robert Wood of Sackville, president; Dr. E. R. Taylor, vice-president; Campbell Mackay and George Holly, secretary-treasurer, all of Rothesay. It was said that Mr. Wood probably would not be present.

The properties on Douglas Avenue advertised for sale by the city for non-payment of the amounts due for the installation of the drain pipe and entry into the main sewer, Mr. Holly, secretary of the city, said before the street was paved, will not be sold at the present time and it is probable that other means will be taken to collect the amount claimed by the city. D. King Hasen, counsel for Mrs. Julia A. Johnston, who had begun injunction proceedings against the city, said this morning that they had withdrawn their case on the city agreeing to withdraw the advertisement and to pay them their costs in the matter, and this had been agreed upon by the understanding there was no prejudice to whatever steps the city might take later to collect this amount.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "I have an interesting subject for debate. Two men were sitting at the same table in a hotel. The first to finish his meal put a coin beside his plate for the waitress and left the dining room. The other man at once picked up the coin and placed it beside his own plate, and left it there. The waitress would of course think it was his tip."
"He was a skunk," said Hiram.
"Just so," said the reporter.
"It's a wonder he didn't put it in his own pocket," said Hiram.
"And that," said the reporter, "introduces the question for debate. Which would be the greater sin? By putting the money in his pocket he would have stolen it from the girl. By doing what he did he stole the other man's reputation and arrayed himself in false colors. Now which would be the greater sin?"
"I guess I'll hand it on to the DeLatin Society in the Settlement," said Hiram. "But if I had a chance to tell the feller what I thought of him—he'd be eating a spoon feed fer quite a spell—by Hen!"
