Again Denies That Prince of Wales Is Engaged

Princess Yolanda, of Italy, the pretty and accomplished daughter of King Emmanuel and Queen Helena, who was talked of in Britain as the bride for the Prince of Wales. The report brought a definite denial.

London, Jan. 5.—Current reports of the engagement of the Prince of Wales were officially denied in a statement from York House this afternoon.

"A few days ago," says the statement, "the Daily News announced the forthcoming engagement of the Prince of Wales to an Italian princess. Today the same journal states on what is claimed to be unquestionable authority that it is informed the formal announcement that His Royal Highness is engaged to the daughter of a Scottish peer will be made within two or three months.

"This report is as devoid of foundation as was the previous very definite statement of the engagement of His Royal Highness to a foreign princess."

London, Jan. 5.—The semi-official Press Association issued a statement this afternoon declaring there was no foundation for a published announcement that the engagement of the Prince of Wales to a Scottish noblewoman would be made known within two or three months.

The announcement to which the statement refers appeared today in the Daily News, which, while mentioning no name, gave particulars indicating that it referred to Lady Elizabeth Bowes Lyon, daughter of the Earl of Strathmore.

MANUFACTURERS FOR ABOLITION OF PETTY TAXES

Would Make Slight Increase in the Sales Tax Instead.

Montreal, Jan. 5.—According to a statement today by F. W. Stewart, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, that body favors the abolition of adjustment of "petty" taxes, such as the check and stamp receipt impost with a slight increase in the sales tax to cover the loss caused by their discontinuance.

This suggestion differs from the idea of the board of trade, which, according to W. M. Birks, president, has always favored a turnover tax, not exceeding one per cent, on all turnover, wholesale, retail and other business, to replace the sales and other smaller taxes.

The Canadian Manufacturers' Association, on the other hand, believes the dominion government would realize its revenue-raising object by ignoring the turnover and other small levies, and slightly increasing the sales tax, and at the same time, would achieve more uniformity in assessment.

THE FAMILY BENEFITS.
(Christian Guardian.)
How does prohibition affect the family budget? Some interesting figures have been secured recently by the American Association for Organizing Family Social Work in New York and by the Boston Family Welfare Society, which compares the amount of relief afforded by charity organizations in 1917 with that afforded in 1921. The figures are from St. Louis, Chicago, Boston, Pawtucket, Painesville, Atlantic City, Newport, Portland, Me., Cleveland, La Crosse, Portland, Ore., New York, Hartford, Washington, D. C., Rochester, Providence and Newburgh, N. Y. In some cases, owing to the prevailing economic depression following the war, the numbers of families seeking relief has been increased, but the number of relief cases in which drink was the cause of the need has largely decreased. The total cases reported in 1917 were 6,116, and in 1921 they had shrunk to 776. This seems to bear out the statement of a prominent Indian delegate to the recent World Prohibition Conference, who declared that he had spent nineteen days in the city of New York under the wing of an "anti" who declared that New York was "wetter than ever," and in these nineteen days he counted only thirteen drunken men. A good deal of nonsense is being printed just now about the non-enforcement of prohibition. It is true that there is drinking and drunkenness under our dry laws, but it is a grotesque exaggeration to say that it in any way compares with the drunkenness under our old license laws. Prohibition does curtail drinking and it does lessen drunkenness; and it does mean more money for the family budget for food and cloths.

IRISH PRESIDENT FROM MONTREAL

Irish sympathizers in Montreal despatched a cable greeting to the president of the Irish Free State over the week-end, in which they prayed for Divine blessing upon the newly-organized Government and constitution, at the same time expressing their belief in the right and justice of the new regime.

The message, which was adopted at a meeting held in the Windsor Hotel on Saturday night and was sent to Hon. Wm. T. Cosgrave, President Irish Free State, Dublin, Ireland, was couched in the following terms: "The great body of responsible Irish citizens of Montreal express their sincere heartfelt good wishes to your Government this New Year. We pray that God, in His own divine way, shall grant success to your efforts to establish law and order and give Ireland peace, prosperity and goodwill. "We believe in the Irish Free State; its right, its truth, its justice; and that your enemies are also ours. We deplore the spirit of terror conducted by misguided parties and warn them that Canadians shall not number their sacrifices among Glasnevin's glorious dead. "God bless and protect your Government-General, Senate and Dail, and guide the governing authorities of the Irish Free State in truth and justice forever. "This is our New Year prayerful wish for Ireland of our love."

RECIROCITY OR A TAX ON FISH

Prince Rupert, B. C., Jan. 5.—Fishermen here have passed a resolution asking the federal government to negotiate with the U. S. for reciprocity in the fresh fish trade. Should negotiations to this end fail, it is asked that the government impose a port tonnage tax of two cents a pound on U. S. fish landed in Canadian ports to offset the new U. S. duty.

A proposal that this port be barred to American fishermen was not entertained.

THE CONFERENCE FAILS.

The conference of premiers has failed to bring about an agreement on the question of reparations. Italy and Belgium have endorsed the French policy of putting the screws on Germany, but Britain dissents, on the ground that so drastic a policy as France proposes will bring financial chaos in Germany and do great injury to Europe.

AMERICAN ALOOFNESS.

The attitude of the United States Government toward affairs in Europe and the Near East is very distasteful to many American citizens. The refusal to take any official part in settling the reparations questions in Europe is resented by many leaders of thought, and especially by great business interests, because a failure to settle will have a harmful effect upon America as well as Europe.

A London cable regards it as a good business omen for 1923 that in many of the world's markets the surplus stocks have been disposed of and prices have become more stable. Good crops have increased purchasing power which moves toward normal. There remains, however, the problem of Europe, and on this point another London cable says: "The comment most frequently heard in financial London at the year-end is that if America will but step down from its position of aloofness, and with its own peculiar advantages stretch forth the hand of practical cooperation, there need be little doubt that the efforts of other nations to get clear of the morass, into which they were plunged by the war, would be immensely stimulated."

The Railway Age says: "If ever any forecast could safely be based on railway statistics, the following two predictions may safely be based upon the betterment in commercial conditions. First, the railways will be offered and will handle more freight in 1923 than in any previous year in history, unless prevented by another coal strike or railway strike; second, the demand for railway transportation in 1923 will exceed the amount of it that can be furnished by a larger margin than in any previous year."

C. P. EXPECTS MORE TRAVEL TO THE ORIENT

The Dominion from English ports to China and Japan as that of the Suez route," said a Canadian Pacific official yesterday.

"It means, of course, the diversion of an immense amount of important traffic to the Dominion. The distance from Vancouver to Yokohama or Hong Kong is about 400 miles shorter than from Yokohama or Hong Kong to San Francisco. The overland service the C. P. R. can give is quite equal, if not superior, to anything that exists in the United States. In point of distance, time and attractiveness the route via Canada compares very favorably with the Suez route, especially as stopover privileges on this continent, in the United States, are granted. The long water journey in the tropics is a thing to be avoided. The Canadian route permits two ocean voyages, with a fine transcontinental sightseeing trip in between, with the weather mostly moderate. The making of a through rate for the trip, to equal the Suez Canal rate, involves co-operating by many companies. The growth of the Orient in the next ten or twenty years will be immense. Traffic between it and Europe will multiply and our railways and ships can look for large accretions of business from it. No more constructive step, in making Canada and her opportunities known to the outside world, could be taken at the present time, and this country should not overlook the initiative of her premier railway system in organizing it. To be a world's highway of traffic, between the old and new commercial worlds, is no minor advantage."

THE EATON OSCILLATOR.
Regenerative receivers with inductive feedback arrangements of the tickler coil or variometer type are in common use at many amateur stations. There is another method of obtaining regenerative action which requires no coils or variometers and needs no adjustment. This method is by means of condensers usually in the form of an Eaton oscillator.

The diagram above illustrates one way in which the Eaton oscillator may be incorporated into a receiving set made up in two units. One unit (the one at the left) contains the tuning elements and the other unit contains vacuum tube apparatus. The Eaton oscillator, which consists essentially of two condensers in series, is incorporated in the unit containing the tuning device which is of the loose coupler or variometer type. A secondary shunt condenser of the variable air type is also mounted in this unit to assist in tuning the secondary circuit.

The unit at the right contains a vacuum tube detector circuit of the usual type with a lead running directly from the plate to a binding post which is strapped across to one side of the secondary circuit. The other side of the secondary circuit connects to the grid of the vacuum tube through the grid condenser "C1" which may be of the variable air type. A bridging condenser "BC" is connected from the plate to one (negative) side of the filament battery. The condensers "C1" and "C2" constitute the oscillator or feedback portion of the circuit while the condenser "BC" is important in the adjustment of the system for the reception of damped or undamped waves. For receiving damped waves condenser "BC" is set at maximum, while for undamped waves it is adjusted to minimum. The circuit may be operated without employing the bridging condenser "BC," but spark signals will not be received with normal characteristic tone.

In operation there is a certain amount of the plate potential fed-back and impressed upon the grid by means of the condensers "C1" and "C2" which form a capacity feed-back in contrast to the inductive arrangement usually employed.

The circuit shown may be applied to any loose coupler and tube detector system without materially changing the circuits or dismounting the apparatus. The condensers "C1" and "C2" are two fixed condensers in series across the secondary terminals with the grid on one side, filament in the middle and the plate on the other side.

While not particularly adapted to short wave work it has been possible to get down to 200 meters with this device and good regeneration is obtained to several thousand meters. A receiver of this type is comparatively simple to operate, the receiving unit lacking the usual tickler coil control or the variometers which serve similar purposes.

In conclusion, it appears that there are three common ways of obtaining regeneration in a vacuum tube receiving system, first by the inductive feedback arrangement using a tickler, second by means of the tuned plate and grid circuits, and third by means of the capacity feed-back arrangements described above and known as the Eaton oscillator.

A RAILWAY IN THE VALE OF AJALON
Cable Line to Mount Carmel—Power Station on Borders of Jordan—The New Palestine.

(Toronto Globe)

A railway through the valley of Ajalon, where Joshua commanded the nation to stand still, an electric generating station on the borders of the Jordan, not far from the spot where John once baptized; high-power transmission lines running past the ruined walls of Jericho; an electric cable railway connecting the top of Mount Carmel, where Elijah once routed the priests of Baal, with the business section of the City of Haifa; modern agricultural settlements and projects of the administration of the Holy Land since the British took charge of affairs in that country, according to Dr. Arthur Ruppin, Director of the Anglo-Palestine Bank in Jerusalem who was a visitor at the King Edward Hotel yesterday.

Dr. Ruppin is on a tour of the large Canadian and United States cities, to tell wealthy and influential Jews that Palestine has changed from a withered, unproductive stretch of coastland to a prosperous agricultural and industrial country. "It is not, as yet, 'flowing with milk and honey,' but the fertility of the soil is showing remarkable improvement since irrigation schemes of the land companies and the administration have been put into operation," he said.

"A loan has been obtained for the building of a new national port, Jaffa and Haifa are both fighting for the honor and the economic advantage of becoming the port city for the prosperous hinterland," he continued.

To Protect Holy Places.

Speaking about reports of strife between the Zionists settlers and the Arabs, Dr. Ruppin remarked that there was some anxiety on the part of the Arabs in connection with their holy places. "Under the new Legislative Assembly Government the holy places of Islam, Christianity and Jewry will be made extra-territorial. A commission of Christians will supervise Bethlehem, Calvary, Nazareth and other places, and the same will apply to the Mohammedans. Over these commissions will be a Government Commissioner, and according to the terms of the mandate, he is a Frenchman," Dr. Ruppin explained.

"The Arab masses are friendly. They realize the great benefit the new order of things has been to them. For the British have built roads. They have brought the latest agricultural equipment, and they have built railways and water-distributing stations that the Arabs had never had. This is in strong contrast with the policy of the Turks who shamefully neglected the country. There is some friction with the big landowners. They oppose the Zionists because their activities have created new sources of industry, and the Arab wage-earners are no longer obliged to work for them for a mere pittance," he said.

"There was a time when the Jews of the world sent their contributions of money to Palestine and that was the last of it," he went on. "I am in America to tell the Jews that Palestine is a land where investments are safe. I can point to the heroic pioneer work of the Zionist settlements and the success of the undertakings of the administration under the Governor-General, Sir Herbert Samuel," he concluded.

American farmers use 200,000,000 pounds of binding twine annually in harvesting their grain.

EDUCATIONAL CONTROL.
(Toronto Globe.)

The National Council of Education in Canada desires that the corporate sense which moved Canada to federation and the spirit which moved her during the war "are now invoked to make her one in education; not by centralization of authority and control, but by co-operation toward a common ideal, and the evolution of a high national purpose. The disclaimer of any intention to centralize authority and control in education is wise, practical utility and convenience. Education, central control at Ottawa would be a cause of constant controversy and dispute. The B. N. A. Act provides for an appeal to the Government and Parliament of the Dominion in certain cases, and it has been found difficult to exercise even this measure of control, as was shown in the Manitoba school case. The opinion has been expressed that even the Provincial Act is too large, and that it would be well if some variation, some departure from uniformity, were allowed within the bounds of the Province. Too-attempt uniformity all over the Dominion would be to invite confusion and conflict. A Dominion Minister of Education would be a victim deserving of compassion.

But there is no reason why those who are engaged in educational work or interested in education in the various Provinces should not exchange ideas and compare methods, and borrow from each other anything that seems worthy of adoption. It is not unlikely that we in Ontario are not as well acquainted as we ought to be with the educational systems and methods of Quebec, of the Maritime Provinces, of the Prairies, or of British Columbia.

WATER-KILLED TREES CAN BE MADE INTO PULP

In the development of water powers on Canadian rivers the erection of a dam has sometimes caused large areas of forest land to be inundated. The trees on these areas are drowned by such continuous submergence and the wood appears similar to dead and weathered wood. The use of such wood for sulphite pulp has been regarded as impracticable, but the Forest Products Laboratories of Canada, Forestry Branch, Department of the Interior, have made trials of this material and find that the discoloration due to water-er is hardly perceptible in the unbleached pulp, while in the bleached product every trace of discoloration due to the special nature of the material disappears entirely.

WHAT'S GOING IN THE MONEY AND STOCK MARKETS TODAY

BETTER OUTLOOK FOR CUBAN TRADE

Sugar Companies in Stronger Financial Position—More Mixed Farming Required.

The 1923 outlook for business between Cuba and the United States is promising, the National Bank of Commerce in New York believes. Stability is being reached in Cuban Government finance and the consequences of the recent depression are being overcome, according to the January issue of the bank's magazine, Commerce Monthly, which says:

The new year begins with hopeful auspices for Cuba. Many of the sugar companies which have been operated for two seasons under financial supervision will probably be able to take charge of their own destinies this season. There is a good prospect that Cuba will receive a satisfactory return for its immense contribution to the world's food supply.

The record sugar crop of 1921-22 was just under 4,000,000 tons. The world crop, including cane and beet sugar, is close to 18,000,000 tons. Cuba's production is accordingly nearly one-fourth of the world's total output of sugar. The sugar industry represents a total investment of about $950,000,000, of which two-thirds is estimated to be American capital.

"Sugar is king" in the affairs of Cuba as truly as cotton was king in the South. Cuba's welfare hinges more directly on sugar than that of Brazil on coffee or Australia on wool. There is no lack of possibilities for widening the range of production. Soil and climate are adapted to other branches of agriculture as well as to stock raising, while the forests are still sources of income and the mines may be worked again by five in eleven years.

The vast expansion of capital investment in Cuba in the years of independence has amply justified itself. A country which could multiply its export trade by three in the first ten years and again by five in eleven years is a fertile field for development.

American-owned sugar factories increased from 96 in 1914 to 71 in 1919. Some of them being now being sold to the Cuban government. There are now about 200 factories in all in Cuba. Iron mining is largely controlled by American capital. The interests here in the ownership of Cuban railways.

"It is undeniable that sugar production has proved under mass production to be a business industry, but it is subject to the risks affecting such an industry. The vital question for Cuba is whether the American market will increase its consumption of Cuban sugar in proportion to the increases in the Cuban crop. The European demand of late has been abnormally large because of the shortage of beet sugar production on the Continent. The industry there is slowly reviving, however, so that a progressive curtailment of European purchases from Cuba may occur. In that case, a great absorption of sugar by the American market would be desired, for falling that, more sugar should be sold in the Orient.

"This view of the situation is based on the assumption that the Cuban sugar crop will continue to increase steadily even if at a lower rate than during the war years. But if the costly experience of 1920 has taught the need of subsidiary agriculture, the production of a food supply for the Cuban people may be reduced or may be reduced to a point where it would be a cause for embarrassment."

HOW NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE SERVES PUBLIC

How the New York Stock Exchange serves the public is explained by Seymour L. Cromwell, president of the Exchange, in an article which appears in the January issue of "Our World." The idea that the exchange is a "gambling den" is without foundation, although widely prevalent in this country, Mr. Cromwell says.

"The most fundamental service performed for the community by the Stock Exchange is the lending of its negotiability to the forms of property bought and sold there," Mr. Cromwell says.

"The total par value of securities which are permitted to be traded in upon the Exchange is approximately sixty billion dollars—a figure roughly equivalent to a fifth of our national wealth, and greater than the total present national wealth of many important modern nations. This colossal mass of wealth in the form of stocks and bonds is by the operation of the Stock Exchange kept constantly purchasable and saleable. The liquidity thus imparted to its listed securities by its Exchange is a factor of major importance in American banking and manufacturing, and in American domestic and foreign trade."

This liquidity protects investors and encourages the flow of the public's money into large-scale business enterprises, Mr. Cromwell points out. Without the Exchange "our extensive railroad systems, and other equally significant elements in our modern economic life could never have been created."

Another service of the Exchange, according to Mr. Cromwell, is the establishment of the fairest prices which can be created under supply and demand conditions of national scope.

NEW YORK MARKET.

(By direct private wire to McDougall & Cowans, 28 King street, city.)

New York, Jan. 5.

Stocks to twelve noon.

Table with columns: Stock Name, Open, High, Low. Includes Atchafalca, Am Locomotive, Am Smelters, etc.

Downward Trend and Irregular Prices at Wall Street Opening—Foreign Exchange Lower.

New York, Jan. 5.—(10.30)—Opening prices in today's market were irregular with the main tendency downward on further selling of stocks resulting from the break up of the allied premises conference. Selling was most effective against the speculative favorites, Baldwin dropping 1/4, North American and Pan-American 1/8 each.

Good buying power developed in some of the opening wave, Baldwin and U. S. Steel making up their early losses. The general list continued highly irregular. Gains of a point or more were scored by Pullman, Pressed Steel Car and Marine preferred with substantial fractional advances taking place in Maxwell A. Pacific Oil, Com Products, United States Alcohol, American Can and Coca Cola. Pan-American B. extended its loss to 1-8 points and Chandler dropped 1/8. Allied Chemical and Nickel Plate second preferred also yielded a point or more.

Foreign exchanges opened lower with acute weakness being shown by the French and German rates. Paris francs dropped 6 1/2 cents and German marks were quoted at 145 cents a hundred, another new low record.

Non-Report.

New York, Jan. 5 (noon).—The foreign market gave a good demonstration of strength. The ability of the pools to mark up their favorites in the face of the unsettled foreign political situation caused considerable covering by the short interests who had hammered the market in yesterday's late dealings. Speculative interest was confined almost entirely to the industrial shares, few of the rails participating extensively in the morning dealings.

Atlantic Trading, which exhibited a gain, while Associated Oil, Mack Truck, Dupont Steel and Tube Pfd, Consolidated Gas, Endicott-Johnson, Loose Wiles Bleed, American Can, California Petroleum, North American and Marine Pfd all moved up 2 to 3/4 points. Pressed Steel Car opened 1/2 point higher and then fell 2/4. Call money opened at 3/4 per cent.

In Montreal.

Montreal, Jan. 5.—(10.30)—The market opened this morning with a better display of activity than it exhibited yesterday, but no exciting changes in stock prices were registered. Among the leaders to appear within the first half hour were Albi, up a quarter at 48 3/4; Consolidated Snelters, unchanged at 90 3/4; Dominion Glass, quiet at 28 1/2; Dominion Textile, quiet at 100 and over; Railway, weaker by a quarter at 84 1/4.

Exchange Today.

New York, Jan. 5.—Sterling exchange easy. Great Britain, 4.64 1/2; France, 6.98 1/2; Italy, 5.06 1/2; Germany, 0.118. Canadian dollars 75 of one per cent discount.

Fire Losses in Canada a New Record in 1922

Toronto, Jan. 5.—Fire losses in Canada in 1922, as estimated in the Monetary Times' annual, set a new high record, exceeding the previous high record year, 1918. There was a loss of around three million in the northern Ontario disaster of October, but apart from this the losses were unusual. In May, June and August only were the figures below the estimates for the previous year.

Comparisons were as follows:—1920, $27,891,574; 1921, $29,987,510; 1922, $40,745,005.

OPINIONS ON STOCK MARKET

(McDougall & Cowans, Private Wire.)

New York, Jan. 5.—Bache & Co.: "We believe we will have to run into another enormous volume day before finally getting the reaction which has been delayed far beyond its logical time."

Clark Childs & Co.: "Confidence in Coppers has not diminished, but in some of the oil groups, especially New Jersey, considerable stock seems to be coming from insiders on the strong spots."

Thomas McKinnon: "The attitude of certain continental diplomats is construed more in the nature of gestures to gain advantage in the almost inevitable compromise negotiations which invariably follow a deadlock."

Block Maloney: "We would use the dips to buy stocks, but take profits when you have them."

Hutton & Co.: "In a general way the stock market has shown good resistance to adverse influences."

Houseman & Co.: "The leather (tanning) stocks are also in much better demand, and as the fire group has yet to respond to business improvement we think this response is beginning."

Worley: "The market is quiet; but seems to have support on declines. There is a disposition to await further developments in Europe. The market showed resistance to selling yesterday. Higher prices talked for Steel Company and Studebaker."

Bons: "The break in the Paris conference may be regarded as merely a preliminary step in settling the reparations question finally. Selling yesterday on the news of the break in the conference subsided before it went very far, and prices rallied well."

CO-OPERATION OF U. S. ESSENTIAL AND DO IT AT ONCE, SAYS NEW YORK ECONOMIST

Dr. H. A. E. Chandler, of the National Bank of Commerce, Summarizes Inter-Governmental Debt Situation—Says U. S. Should Have No Hesitation in Deciding.

Immediate co-operation with Europe in regard to the inter-governmental debt question is suggested by Dr. Henry A. E. Chandler, economist of the National Bank of Commerce in New York. In support of his argument Dr. Chandler maintains in the January number of the bank's magazine, Commerce Monthly, that some of the principal debtors to the United States cannot now effect payments without perpetuating conditions in Europe. While he recognizes that with the return to normal conditions several of the debtors ought to develop economic capacity to pay these debts, he believes that the very existence of them operates as an effective block to the return to normal conditions.

"We may summarize the inter-governmental debt situation as follows," he says. "With regard to the economic capacity of the chief debtors to the United States it would appear that upon some many political decisions, preparatory to the inter-governmental situation (for which we find nothing comparable in pre-war history) that until more progress can be made in the solution of present European problems it will be impossible to know how fast Europe will return toward normal. The principal question arises, therefore, as to the ultimate economic capacity but as to the time when the regular maintenance of this capacity will be assured.

"The governments of Europe to finance the payment of these debts, however, is a much more uncertain problem. Their ability to pay depends upon many future events, such as the final outcome of the German indemnity, the effect of future monetary readjustments, as well as political changes, such as the question of the financial capacity of some of the chief debtors must remain very uncertain for a considerable time to come.

"We do know, however, that to pay these debts the governments of several countries must add great weight to the inter-governmental debt question. We also know that the critical condition of the finances has caused the European nations to enter into a close of the war and that it is not impossible that the attempt by the governments to carry too heavy financial burdens may in the future bring additional economic losses of great weight. Certainly the question of the time when normal growth can be resumed and when balanced budgets, stable monetary conditions, and the ability to pay can be re-established. And these are impeded by the higher and steeper rates of interest which have been imposed to offset to some extent the fall in prices of our principal exports to Great Britain, and less vital products of the world.

"Canada borrowed in New York $240,000,000 out of an estimated total of $370,000,000 raised in that country by foreign countries during the nine months ended Sept. 30. Our borrowings were chiefly in the form of bonds, the manner in which our banks generally have come through the agitating times since 1914 is evidence of the soundness of our Canadian banking system. We must be thankful that no great commercial breakdown has occurred."

RAILROADS BREAK RECORDS.

More Freight Handled in 1922 Than Ever Before, Excluding Coal.

Washington, Jan. 4.—In spite of car shortage and strike conditions which railroads encountered, they were able to move more agricultural products during 1922 than ever before in their history, according to a statement given out today by the car service division of the American Railway Association.

On the basis of returns for the first fifty weeks of the year, railroads handled 2,370,025 cars loaded with grain and grain products, or 33 per cent more than in 1921, while live stock shipments increased 9 per cent over 1921 and 5 per cent over 1920.

Excluding coal, production of which was cut by the five months' strike in the unionized bituminous and anthracite sections, the car service division's reports for the year also showed record breaking freight.

There were 35,074,050 carloads of freight of all classes other than coal handled during the fifty weeks for which estimates were available. This total is 188 more carloads than moved in 1921.

Coal bulks so largely in transportation volume totals, however, that the amount of tonnage moved during the year is expected to prove somewhat smaller for 1922 than 1920.

It is clear that we should not press for payment of these debts at the expense of the whole question of the inter-governmental debt question. A postponement of the whole question for a period of at least five years in consideration of a similar postponement of other allied debts and of a large part of the indemnity payments has in the most practicable plan consistent with the European financial situation.

"We can not decide upon our final course until we are at the general conference table, where all of the factors indispensable to a solution can be taken up in their proper relation to each other.

"To any one who envisages the whole European situation, its relation to world trade and its undoubted economic interest that the United States has in the world situation, there ought to be no hesitation as to what we should do. We should enter into effective co-operation with Europe in regard to the entire inter-governmental debt question, and we should do it at the earliest possible time."

Taylor Believes That Readjustment is Due in Near Future—Prices are High, But Banks Sound.

(By Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor, General Manager of the Bank of Montreal.)

Canada's economic position, particularly in relation to the trade conditions, is not satisfactory. A readjustment however, is looked for in the near future. I believe the way in which the banks have come through the agitating times since 1914 is evidence of soundness of the Canadian system.

It is true, yet undeniable, to remark in Canada, as elsewhere, trade generally, has not been good. Bankers, more distinctly than others, perceive the detailed results of this condition, to bear in mind that a brought home to them through losses and diminished profits.

World Out of Joint.

Canada's economic position is not satisfactory. How could it be satisfactory, with the whole financial world out of joint? As everyone is aware, our troubles are partly the result of this unusual condition; partly the result of the war. It is not in my mind that our problems are largely of our own creation.

Readjustment will come in near future, for this is a country of vivid and manifold resources; yet one thing stands out signally, in my opinion, namely, that Canada cannot go ahead again as she should while taxation at the cost of living are higher in this country than they are in the United States of America.

Canada is one of the best countries in the world to live in, to work in, to play in—in point of stability, security and comfort it is an earthly paradise compared with Europe—but we must not stand still, and in order to progress the cost of living and taxation must be diminished; otherwise, we shall be unable to attract immigration, and improved conditions are largely dependent upon increased population.

As to ways and means, they are obvious. To attract immigration, and the necessity thereof is now being brought home to the heedless by that plagues but unerring teacher, necessity.

Many Fluctuations.

The past half-year has witnessed many fluctuations in the foreign exchange market. The most important for us is the rapid decline in the value of New York funds, which have fallen from the high point of 19 per cent premium in December, 1920, to a slight discount at this date. The decline would have been greater but for Canada's imports of gold from the United States of America.

We may congratulate ourselves on this state of affairs; yet we must not be lulled into a false sense of security about our trade balance, although that is considerable, but more through the surplus of special large sums into New York on the part of federal and provincial governments, municipalities and individuals. Borrowings which have been extraordinarily easy, owing to a plethora of funds in the New York market.

Therefore, we must look upon our present position as permanent and should be prepared for the possible return of the premium on New York funds.

Sterling is Steady.

Since January sterling has ruled at higher rates and has been much steadier, moving within the comparatively narrow limits of 4.63 and 4.68 to the pound. The higher and steeper rates have tended to offset to some extent the fall in prices of our principal exports to Great Britain, and less vital products of the world.

Canada borrowed in New York $240,000,000 out of an estimated total of $370,000,000 raised in that country by foreign countries during the nine months ended Sept. 30. Our borrowings were chiefly in the form of bonds, the manner in which our banks generally have come through the agitating times since 1914 is evidence of the soundness of our Canadian banking system. TWO STRIKING EXAMPLES OF WHAT WORK WILL BRING IN BUSINESS LIFE

MARSHALL FIELD HEAD TIRE; WAS $10 A WEEK CLERK

Chicago, Jan. 6.—John G. Shedd, after 20 years of continuous service with Marshall Field & Co., where he started as a $10 a week clerk, retired as president of the organization this week. "I'm a tired business man," Mr. Shedd told the board of directors. "I don't want to quit altogether—I like my work too much for that—but I want a chance for more play."

So the board created the position of chairman of the board and elected Mr. Shedd, James Simpson succeeded Mr. Shedd as president, while John McKinlay was made vice-president, and Kersey Coates Reed, secretary and treasurer.

Mr. Shedd plans to spend much of his time in California, where he said he would do nothing but play. He will be 72 years old in January and has been in the dry goods business since he was 17 years old.

The story of Mr. Shedd's life is not only the rise of the biggest dry goods firm in the world but to a millionaire's wealth and directorships in dozens of railroads, banks and nationally known corporations.

He was born in the village of Alsted, N. H., and after attending public schools there until he was 17 he had to earn his own living. He came to Chicago in 1872 when he was 22 years old and entered Marshall Field's employ.

Mr. Shedd's rise was as rapid as the firm's rise in the business world. He is given credit by many for the organization's success and Marshall Field & Co. once referred to him as "the world's greatest merchant," much to the surprise of persons who thought Field himself deserved that title.

Returning to California. Frederick Mall—Mrs. A. B. Atherton, who has been in the city since early last year, and who fell while at work at Brown's Flats and broke her hip and is being treated at the Fraser Memorial building of the Victoria Hospital, leaves tomorrow night for her home in California. She will be accompanied as far as Kansas City by Mrs. J. M. Wiley, who will visit her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Cooper.

HARDWARE PRICES ARE HIGHEST IN THE U. S.

New York, Jan. 5.—Price advances made by hardware manufacturers on the opening of the new year, according to The Hardware Age, include copper bars, 8 per cent; wheel toys, 5 per cent; electric and power chains, 5 per cent; some makes of levels, 7 1/2 per cent; some brands of chisels, 10 per cent; some sizes of grinding wheels were advanced and others were reduced. Micrometers were reduced by some manufacturers, and reductions also were made in some lines of mechanics' tools.

"Christmas business," says the review, "exceeded anything reported during the last three years in practically all of the leading hardware centres. A more hopeful sentiment is said to be manifesting itself in the agricultural regions in the Central and Western States. An active spring has been predicted by many authorities."

LOCAL NEWS

A SAD HOME COMING. The body of Mrs. J. Willard Smith was brought to the city on the Montreal train at noon today, accompanied by Mr. Smith, his two sons, Roy and Harold, and his three daughters.

FIRE CHIEF'S ADVICE. Chief Blake of the fire department today recommended that citizens take down their Christmas decorations, trees, etc., saying that the longer they remain up the more inflammable they become. Trees and decorations when dry were very easily ignited and this greatly increased the fire hazard.

CITY HOCKEY LEAGUE. It was definitely announced this afternoon that the City Hockey League would get under way on next Wednesday evening, and that the first local game in the Provincial League would be played on next Friday evening between the St. Johns and St. Stephen. The St. John team will be chosen from members of the City League teams.

AT THE HOSPITAL. Fenwick Carney, who was injured recently in an accident in the railway yard, was reported to be resting comfortably in the General Public Hospital this afternoon. Joseph Byrne, a sailor, who was injured yesterday by falling into the hold of the Manchester Corporation, was said to be suffering from a badly fractured hip, but to be doing very well.

THE TRAVIS CASE. The case against John Travis, charged with stealing a horse and sled and quantity of goods, the property of Waterbury & Rising, Ltd., was continued this morning. Bernard Mooney gave evidence concerning the horse, which was stolen on Wednesday by Arthur Gregg, thought to be a more limited degree. The accused was again remanded.

CITY PAY DAY. The fortnightly payment of the city laborers is being carried out today. The following amounts will be distributed: Public works department, $8,886.61; water and sewerage, $3,082.54; harbor, $1,765.58; ferries, $406.90; total, $14,141.64. There are about 300 men on this pay-roll.

AFTER THE STORM. Between eighty and 100 men with thirty to forty teams were engaged today removing the result of yesterday's snow storm from the city streets. The city teams were engaged also in plowing sidewalks and will be put on snow hauling tomorrow. Great difficulty was experienced in plowing on account of the drifts, the whitest and heaviest West Side plows being broken early in the morning.

LEMON CASE IN COURT. Charles Paddock was before the magistrate this morning charged with illegally selling intoxicating liquor in the form of lemon extract. He pleaded not guilty at first but after consultation, E. S. Ritchie, his counsel, said that the plea had been merely technical and he would change it to one of guilty. The magistrate instructed the accused to put up a deposit of $300 for his future appearance and said he would make some inquiries in the meantime and see if there were any extenuating circumstances. W. M. Ryan appeared for the prosecution.

MRS. ANNIE SIMPSON. Many friends will be shocked to learn of the death of Mrs. Annie Simpson, widow of Captain John Simpson, which occurred early this morning at 20 Dock street. Mrs. Simpson was in her usual health until yesterday, when she was taken ill. Medical aid was unavailing and Mrs. Simpson passed away this morning. She was a daughter of the late Patrick and Anne McDevitt, and was born and lived all her life in the city. She was the last of a well known family. She is survived by one son, Edward Simpson, with whom she made her home. He will have deep sympathy in his great loss. The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon.

FOR THIRTY-FIVE YEARS. St. Croix Courier: The passing of another year calls to mind some blessings we have had and that still abide, the service in our midst of two faithful and beloved shepherds of our flocks, Rev. Dr. Goucher, who came to St. Stephen in June, 1888, and Vens Archdeacon Newnam, who came to us in November of the same year. The pulpits of all other churches in town have been emptied and filled several times in that thirty-five year period, but these beloved pastors remain and come more fondly esteemed with each passing year. The Courier is but expressing the sentiment of all in the hope that they be long spared to minister to and lead their inspiring kindly lives among this people.

THE SOLDIERS' CASE. The central provincial committee in charge of preparing the case for service men to be submitted to the royal commission on re-establishment and pensions, is composed of E. Allan Schofield as chairman, E. Earle Logan, secretary, C. B. Weldon, Moncton; Jude P. Bourgeois, Moncton; H. R. McLean, Chatham; Herbert Priestman, McAdam; J. W. B. Munner, Woodstock; John R. Gale, Dr. G. B. Peat and Dr. John A. McCarthy of this city and A. L. Barry of Newcastle. The secretary of the committee is sending out a questionnaire. Individual complaints will not be heard by the commission but any suggestions tending to improve the lot of ex-service men will be gladly received. The appeal for these suggestions is made not only to returned men but to the public at large.

WHOSE DUTY IS IT? A correspondent has asked if it is the duty of the family living downstairs to clear the snow from the sidewalk after a storm, or whether the two tenants should take turns. According to the by-law covering the matter, the tenant or occupant of any building or lot is responsible, and in the event of the building or lot being unoccupied, then the owner, agent or person having the care of the property is held responsible for the removal of the snow within four hours after the storm stops, if it be in the daytime, and before ten o'clock the following morning if it occur in the night. The law is silent as to the responsibility of tenants who share the same building, but it is presumed that all tenants should hold responsible and should come to some agreement amongst themselves in the matter.

MOVING TO MONCTON. Moncton, N. B., Jan. 5.—B. Curzon, who has been conducting a store in Edmundston, has sold out and will locate here on or about Feb. 1.

Mayor Congratulated On Stand Taken On Bond Dealers' Protest

A letter congratulating the city on the stand it has taken in connection with the Bond Dealers' Association protest against the city refusing arbitration to the New Brunswick Power Company, has been received by Mayor Fisher from the head of a firm of industrial counsellors, engineers and managers in Montreal. The writer himself is an associate member of the Engineering Institute of Canada, is a New Brunswicker and the son and grandson of New Brunswickers. "If the bond dealers were as active in protecting the investors in looking into what is behind the value and earnings of the bonds sold and offered to the public," he says, "as they are in going after you, the investor would be richer and better protected."

TWO ALARMS FOR KITCHEN FIRE

Pot Boiled Over in Hotel, Someone Sent in Second Call to Firemen.

Citizens were given a scare early this morning when they heard two alarms ring in from box 73, at Breeze's corner, King Square, in the heart of the business district. Many feared that a serious fire had broken out and hurried to the scene, only to learn that a stock pot in the kitchen of the Victoria Hotel had boiled over and the contents caught fire. The small blaze was extinguished with a hand chemical. Chief Blake, of the fire department, explained that the two alarms had resulted from some mistake in pulling the hook. There is an old saying "keep the pot boiling," but the question now arises, how long should you keep it going.

SKATING CARNIVAL MAY BE SEEN HERE

Negotiations on With Norval Bappte and Three Others for This Month. A local promoter is planning on bringing here a combined speed, trick, comedy and fancy skating carnival, which would include singles and doubles. The crack performers are Norval Bappte, Miss Gladys Lamb, H. P. Winslow and Dora Carlyle. Bappte is a former world's champion and was winner of the amateur international championships for several years. He also has records to his credit. He is teamed with Miss Gladys Lamb, a prominent vaudeville ice performer. In addition to her trick and fancy skating she also races against professional women skaters, including Dora Carlyle. Mr. Winslow is also a speed skater and combines with Norval Bappte in speed events. Miss Carlyle is also speed, fancy and trick skater, and if she came here she would enter a series of races with Miss Lamb in addition to doubling up with Mr. Winslow in fancy and trick specialties. If the negotiations are successful this quartette will be brought here towards the latter part of this month.

NOT IN IMPERIAL

Reported That Healey and McIntyre are to Have a Bout Here.

(Halifax Chronicle) A return match between "Neddy" Healey and Johnny McIntyre will be staged at the Imperial Theatre on either the 11th or the 13th of this month. St. John's fans have been demanding a return match ever since the unsatisfactory decision at the Majestic several weeks ago, and Healey yesterday accepted the terms offered by the St. John promoter. The local man has commenced hard training for the bout and is anxious to meet the former Sydney boxer. He has been angling for a return match with McIntyre and feels that on the occasion of their next meeting he will be able to decisively trim the Sydney fighter. Healey's local admirers are confident that he will be able to beat McIntyre. He will leave for the United States in the near future.

PRESENTATIONS

The pastor of the Reformed Baptist church, Rev. C. S. Hilyard, was very agreeably surprised on last Wednesday evening when some fifty members of the church assembled at the parsonage and A. L. Bubar, in behalf of the Men's Bible Class presented to the pastor, who is their teacher, a beautiful eight day clock. Rev. Mr. Hilyard thanked them in a few well chosen words. Mr. Fenwick Foley, organist, in behalf of the ladies, presented to the pastor's wife a beautiful winter coat and a pair of blankets. Every one applauded her look of complete surprise. Then, on behalf of the congregation a purse of $26.50 was presented to the pastor. While the superintendent of the S. S. Arthur Saunders was laughing at the pastor's surprise, he turned, and in behalf of the S. S. presented to him a fountain pen with his initials. The ladies then served refreshments and the evening was spent with songs and music, everybody declaring they had spent a very enjoyable time.

BARGAINS

Some of the most remarkable values among the mark-downs are in large easy chairs and rockers. Not the ones made to sell cheap, but the big, comfy, luxurious ones which are always the most popular in the home. Ones that seem to have the drawing power of a magnet, so surely are the tired ones who come in drawn to their welcoming depths. Sometimes we sell part of a Chesterfield suite, leaving one chair in a covering which cannot be matched and, as we cannot complete the suite we are compelled to reduce prices of the odd pieces, in many cases offering them below cost. If you are looking for supreme comfort, come and look over the red tags.
