Premier Asquith States That Immediate Peace is Desired.

Great Powers Must Preserve Judgment

Prime Minister in Speech States Feeling of Nations—Bulgaria Ready to Quit and Begs for Settlement at Once.

Birmingham, England, July 21.—The Prime Minister characterized the spectacle presented by the Balkan States as "dismal and repellent" in a speech at the Chamber of Commerce centenary banquet here to night. On the one hand, he said, were the Balkan States drenching with one another's blood, the territory they united efforts had freed from Turkish rule, on the other hand Turkey disregarding the Treaty of London, on which the ink was scarcely dry, and taking advantage of the difference between her late enemies to recover her lost territory.

Mr. Asquith, who was invited to give a word of welcome to the guests, said that he was doing everything possible to bring the dispute to a peaceful conference. Today it seemed likely that such a conference would take place.

Washington, July 21.—Federal experts estimate that a loss of almost $108,000,000 a year to cotton growers in Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee and Florida would result from the adoption of the plan proposed recently by Senator Smith, of South Carolina, which contemplated the establishment of a belt in which the growth of cotton should be prohibited by law, in an effort to keep the cotton boll weevil from spreading eastward into the Atlantic coast states.

President Wilson Awaiting—Coming of Ambassador — Important Conferences to be Held at Once—Fear Crisis is Approaching.

Washington, July 21.—Reports of conditions surrounding the Huerta government in Mexico have put administration officials in an attitude of keenest apprehension towards the situation here. Information of this situation when permitted to become known today was coupled with the authoritative statement that the United States was making no additional naval or military preparations. Reports of an impending collapse of the Huerta regime are being talked over freely in official circles, though no official of the administration will permit his name to be coupled with them. All information made public was the strict stipulation that it should not be represented as reflecting the views of the administration.

AUSTRALIA'S NAVAL PROGRAMME
A PRACTICAL LESSON.
In reviewing the Australian Naval Programme, drawn up by Admiral Sir Reginald Henderson and accepted by the Commonwealth Government, it has been noted in earlier articles in these columns that the ships will number upwards of fifty and the men about fifteen thousand. The particulars as to the personnel are interesting. "The mere possession of ships," observed the Admiral, "does not make a navy." By 1918, according to the Henderson programme, the number of warships was not to be very great; just the original fleet unit plus six additional destroyers and three additional submarines. However, it would be necessary to have over 4,000 officers and men. The particulars were: Personnel for the Fleet Unit . . . 2,501 Personnel for Harbor Establishments and Administration . . . 1,137 Personnel required for additional ships . . . 746 Total . . . 4,384

The city council held a quiet meeting yesterday afternoon, and transacted some routine business. Com. McLellan was in Boston. Com. Schofield was able to make a very good financial statement for the ferry for the half year ending June 30. The increase in traffic indicated an increase in population and business. Chas. H. The Mayor recommended that a grant of $250 from general revenue be made to the Girls' Protective Association. His Worship said the Girls' Association maintained a qualified official to meet girls at the trains and boats and look after them and see they got to respectable places, and also maintained a club room where the girls were entertained. He thought the association was doing for girls much the same work as the Y. M. C. A. was doing for boys.

Com. Schofield said he was strongly in sympathy with the purposes of the association, but felt it should be supported by private denominations. They should give to all societies, or to those, and he felt after turning down the application of the Sisters of the Good Shepherd and others they could not help the girls with public money. Com. Wigmore felt the association as well as others were doing good work but took the position that it should be supported by private contributions. Com. Agar commended the spirit that undertook to look after inexpensive girls, but felt the public money should not be devoted to such purposes. The Best Way to Cultivate this Valuable Crop Clearly Explained by Expert - Drainage and Seeding will Prove Big Factors for Successful Results.

To the Editor of The Standard: Sir: During the short time I have been here I have received numerous inquiries regarding alfalfa, its culture, seeding, etc., which leads me to believe that this is a subject of great interest. I am glad to be able to answer a few of them. It is not a new crop, but it is one of the most profitable crops that can be raised on a small farm. It is a hardy perennial which grows well on a sandy soil and it is not a very expensive crop to raise. It is a valuable crop for the farmer because it is a good source of food for his stock. It is a crop that will grow on a small farm and it is a crop that will give the farmer a good return on his investment. I will now tell you how to grow alfalfa successfully. The first thing you should do is to get a good variety of alfalfa seeds. There are many varieties of alfalfa seeds, but you should get a variety that is hardy and that will grow well on a sandy soil. The second thing you should do is to get a good piece of land for your alfalfa crop. The land should be sandy and it should be well drained. The third thing you should do is to get a good seedling machine. This machine will help you to get a good stand of alfalfa. The fourth thing you should do is to get a good fertilizer. This fertilizer will help you to get a good crop of alfalfa. The fifth thing you should do is to get a good mowing machine. This machine will help you to get a good harvest of alfalfa. The sixth thing you should do is to get a good curing machine. This machine will help you to get a good quality of alfalfa. The seventh thing you should do is to get a good marketing machine. This machine will help you to get a good price for your alfalfa.

HON. J. D. HAZEN STUDYING RESOURCES OF CANADA

Minister of Marine and Fisheries is Taking Advantage of Western Trip to Secure First Hand Information - On Way to Coast to Welcome New Zealand Battleship.

(Winnipeg Telegram.) "I am anxious to get at first hand all possible information regarding Canada's resources in her fisheries. This in brief is a summary of an interview given last evening by Hon. J. D. Hazen, minister of marine and fisheries. "Of course, you understand that in this instance I am merely taking the advantage of the opportunity granted of getting this information, I am going to the Pacific coast to assist in the welcome to the new battleship, New Zealand, presented to Great Britain by that colony, and which is making a tour of the dominions. It is the first time in the history of the Dominion of New Zealand that it has been asked to present to Canada its first frigate across Canada in many years, and judging from my experience so far it is going to be very interesting and instructive, to note the progress and development that is taking place. You can understand that information is invaluable, and as the Pacific coast fisheries are among the richest in the world, it is worth the while to spend all the time I can possibly spare in going into matters there. It is my intention to go up to the grounds of the northern islands, and if possible to visit Dawson City."

Local Situation. Speaking of the local situation, and the branch of his work which interests him most, he said that Mr. Bradbury, member from Selkirk, has this question very close to his heart, and is constantly presenting the claims of Manitoba before the department. Some time ago the department called for tenders for the construction of a government steamer for Lake Winnipeg, but no tenders were received. The department then decided to have the boat built at Sorel, to be shipped to Selkirk. This is now being proceeded with. The vessel will have many duties to perform, but the most important of these is the carrying of mail, the surveying of the lake, charting the waters and acting as an ice-breaker when needed. Mr. Hazen also said that the department has decided to loan some what the rigor of the regulations in regard to fishing in Lake Winnipeg, which has resulted in a marked increase in the number and size of fish caught. This year fishing in that lake will be permitted for six weeks, under careful supervision as to the size of mesh used in the nets.

Salmon Fishing. One matter touched upon during the interview, was that of the salmon fishing in the Fraser river. Mr. Hazen said that in some quarters fear is expressed that unless something is done by the United States authorities in the near future, the canneries there will suffer greatly, even if they are not forced to close. He pointed out that this question was the subject of a treaty some years ago between the United States and Canada. At that time it was agreed that the report of Professor Prince and Professor Starr Jordan would become the basis of an international agreement regarding the fishing of waters contiguous to the two countries. When the recommendation was made Canada had lived up to it, but the United States authorities have failed to do so up to the present time, although the matter was made the subject of a strong message to President Taft.

"We understand," said Mr. Hazen, that the present Congress is for the handling of tariff matters along, and we hope that this subject of fisheries will come up at the next Congress to be dealt with. If it is not I greatly fear that we will be compelled to take some definite action to protect our own fishermen and fisheries. Of course I cannot say what it will be at the present time, but the fact remains that the United States fishermen are clearing those international waters of fish with their huge trawls.

Spending Much Money. Mr. Hazen said that while the department is now spending large sums in the propagating of food fish, he hoped that in the near future they would be able to pay more attention to the game fish, as there were so many Canadian waters eminently suited to their breeding. However, he was not yet going into the matter very deeply, but thought it could be worked out. He also spoke of the commission which is now sitting in British Columbia, where Judge Andette is investigating the question of recompense to the pelagic fishermen of the Pacific coast. He feels that Canada will greatly profit from the treaty made, and that the percentages accruing to Canada will form a considerable source of revenue, even after the damage claims are satisfied.

Discussion of his home province, New Brunswick, Mr. Hazen said that it also is feeling the beneficial results of the great immigration movement to Canada. There are still considerable areas of good land in New Brunswick open to settlement, and these are being taken up. Most of them need clearing of the heavy forest growth, but the present high prices of lumber and forest products are helping the movement. In the matter of farming New Brunswick is not at present time growing so much as it should be. He pointed out that the shortage has the effect of hardening prices on local production. There is the same question of inaction, which is the subject of the province, as it is all over the country.

FUNERALS. The funeral of Mrs. Helen Hansen took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from her late residence, 35 Clarence street, to the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, where burial services were conducted by Rev. A. Gaudet. Interment took place in the New Catholic cemetery.

Funeral of Mrs. Annie E. Lenahan. From the residence of her parents, Watson street, Carleton, the funeral of Miss Annie E. Lenahan took place yesterday morning at 8:15 o'clock. The body was conveyed to the Church of the Assumption, where Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. J. O'Donovan, after which interment took place in the Catholic cemetery at Sand Cove.

will use vitrified brick. Com. Agar recommended that the contractor for paving Union street from Charlotte to Waterloo be allowed to substitute vitrified brick for granite block, at the figure tendered by them, namely, $3 per square yard. He remarked that owing to a strike in American brickyards some vitrified brick had recently been able to secure brick in time and they should put down brick on the street.

The recommendation was adopted. Com. Agar said that the appropriation for street work had been very exhaustively exhausted, a good deal of money having been expended on work of constructing streets that should have been charged to the account. The cutting out of Rockland Road, the grading of Prospect street, and work in Indiantown had been very costly. He moved that he be authorized to pool the remainder of the appropriations for street purposes, and use the money for such purposes as he thought best. This was agreed to.

On motion of Com. Agar further consideration of the matter of erecting an incinerator was laid over till another year, as it was felt that it would be inadvisable to place any more debentures on the market this year. Com. Agar expressed regret at the idea of laying over the matter and recommended that a site be selected on vacant corporation lots at the foot of Broad street, on which the incinerator could be built. He expected there would be objections to any site, but felt they could not get a better one. In the time the dwelling houses in that district would be replaced by warehouses.

Continuing, he said the cost of constructing the incinerator would be about $45,000, and that the labor of three men would be required to keep it in operation. Operating it in conjunction with the public works department, the cost of maintenance would be small. The plant could be utilized to supply extra street lights and clinker for street purposes. There would not be enough refuse to utilize in brick to try to produce ammonia.

There would, he said, be some complaint because the matter was laid over for another year. The commissioners were elected to take all progressive steps necessary, but they must not place an unnecessary burden upon the people by selling bonds at low prices.

Street Railway Business. Com. Agar introduced a resolution authorizing the street railway to lay four new turnouts to their new shed on Wentworth street on certain conditions, that they lay a sidewalk on the east side of the street, and put a permanent top on the street.

The company had previously been granted permission by four turnouts on Wentworth street, and it was agreed to let them place four more on the street, making eight turnouts in front of the King Edward school.

The St. John Street Railway was granted permission to replace three poles along Haymarket Square, and to erect a pole on Marsh Road and another near B. Robertson's store.

Private Street Legal. In reply to Com. Schofield, Com. Agar said it was the duty of the police to report parties who did not keep the electric signs in front of their premises lighted in accordance with agreement till 12 o'clock.

The Mayor—Now that people are out starting to light the streets at their own expense, we should not be so harsh with them. Com. Schofield—The only reason the city has for granting permission to put up lighting fixtures is to get some more light on the streets.

Com. Agar—I think I'd better write the Chief of Police to see the lights are in operation. A letter was received from the Metropolitan Trio. in Twenty Minute Program, Delight Large Audiences Excellent Pictures.

The Nickel saved again yesterday, although to use another sporting term it made a poor start. The Metropolitan Trio—an excellent singing combination—did not arrive until the afternoon train from Halifax, having missed connections in the sister city. Nevertheless, when they did get here and were heard at the evening show they carried the audience with them in every number, having to respond to no less than seven encores.

Attired first in the rich raiment of colonial dances and gentlemen, the Metropolitan Trio opened their 20-minute programme with the following numbers: "The Bohemian Girl" excerpts—(a) "The Heart Bowed Down," sung by Clarence Chute; (b), "I Dream I Dwell in Marble Halls," sung by Miss Ida Butler; (c) "Then You'll Remember Me," sung by Jack Fitzhugh.

"Trio Ensemble—"Good-Bye" (Tos.). A splendid arrangement. Tenor Solo—"I'm Smiling at the Moon," from "My Best Girl," sung by Jack Fitzhugh.

Soprano Solo—"The Last Rose of Summer," Miss Ida Butler. Medley of Popular Airs, introducing "Good-Bye Boys," "Melinda," "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," and finale with "Dixie Eyes."

Every number was a musical treat and the refined, cultured voices of the trio, their attractive stage presence and willingness to respond to the demand for more made them favorites at once and it is safe to predict for them a big week of successful recitals.

The melodramatic feature of the programme was Essany's two-reel story "The Hand of Fate, or the Final Judgment." It would be difficult to describe this story in a limited space for it is bristling with adventure. Little Girl Found. About half-past four yesterday afternoon Policeman Shortliff found a little three-year-old girl wandering about on Pond street and took her to the central police station to be cared for. The tot was called for later by its mother and taken home.

Successful Moonlight Excursion. Under the auspices of the Temple Band a delightful moonlight excursion was held last evening on the St. John River. The party was taken for a pleasant sail on the steamer May Queen. The boat left the wharf at Indiantown about 8:30 in the evening and returned about 11:30 p. m. Refreshments were served on the boat. Dancing was enjoyed for which J. Osborn furnished music. The Temple Band rendered several selections during the sail.

Would Raise Fund. When his attention was called to the letter of the Rev. W. H. Sampson in the evening papers, suggesting that the Mayor should name a body of three men to consider the question of a memorial monument to Sydney Fulton, who lost his life in an attempt to save a companion from drowning, His Worship said: "I'll do anything in the matter that I am asked to do. But if I was asked what form the memorial should take, I would say that to my mind the best thing that could be done would be to raise a fund for the mothers of both boys."

Work Held Up. How close are the affairs of men in this world is illustrated by the fact that the plans of the St. John Street Railway and the development of East St. John have been held up by a strike in some unhappy town in the United States. Com. Agar recently received a letter from the street railway explaining the delay with the work of extending the line to East St. John. Enclosed was a communication from a company in the said unhappy town stating that owing to a strike it had not been able to make the turnouts ordered by the street railway, but hoped to do so before long. The street railway cannot proceed without turnouts.

Is Improving. A report received from the General Public Hospital at an early hour this morning was to the effect that Allan McLean, the Foxboro man, who was run over by an automobile on Saturday afternoon, is progressing most favorably and it is expected that he will recover. His injuries, however, were so bad that he will be confined to the hospital for some time yet. In the police court yesterday morning Axel Dfeson, the Dane, who was driving the automobile when it ran into McLean, was taken before Magistrate Ritchie on the charge of driving the automobile as a chauffeur without a license. Dfeson pleaded guilty to driving the car without a license and the case was adjourned. He is still held in custody at the central police station.

IMPORTANT CHANGES IN NORTON-GRIFFITHS WORK

Mr. Valiquette, of Public Works Department, Ottawa. Shows Beneficial Results of Action—Government will Save $800,000 on Contract—The Connelly Wharf.

Mr. Valiquette of the Dominion Public Works Department, was in the city yesterday and explained to the city commissioners the nature of the changes made some three months ago in the contract with the Norton Griffiths Company in respect to the breakwater. In the original contract it was provided that the seaward end of the breakwater should be built of crib-work and dredged to its face on the inner side, so as to furnish a lay-to berth for vessels waiting a chance to get into the dredged. About three months ago the Norton Griffiths Company agreed to build at their own expense a lay-to pier near the dry dock, and the department of public works on the advice of its engineers, and with a view to hastening the harbor developments at Courtesy Bay decided to abandon the idea of having the outer end of the breakwater built of crib work. This decision was arrived at and announced about three months ago, and the story in the papers last evening that another change in the plans had been announced was misleading.

Built of Stone. Under the new arrangement with the Norton Griffiths Company the breakwater will be built entirely of stone, and instead of being run out in a straight line, the outer section starting from a point 2,600 feet from the shore, will run to a point 400 feet east of the original position of the outer pier head. The idea of having the outer section four hundred feet to the eastward is to provide against the stone work slipping into the dredged harbor basin. Under the original agreement the channel and basin was to be dredged right up to the face of the crib work, so ships could lie against the crib work. No change will be made in the plan of dredging the basin, but the outer section of the breakwater will be 400 feet from the dredged basin, and there will be no danger of it slipping into the harbor basin. The change will not affect the protection of the harbor in any way. Save $800,000. By the new agreement the government will save $800,000, which will be available for other harbor works at St. John, and the Norton Griffiths Company will be able to finish their work in a shorter time, as it is much easier to construct the outer section of the breakwater of stone than to construct it of crib work.

LIME KILNS CLOSED NOW

Price of Commodity Likely to Soar as Result of Millmen's Lockout—To Import from Upper Canada.

As a result of the long duration of the millmen's strike the lime kilns which have been operating in the vicinity of the city have been forced to cease work, and unless an early settlement in the matter is made, there is little possibility of their being open this year at least.

The cessation of active operations at the kilns will have a very depressing influence on building work going on about the city and contractors will find themselves deeply affected by the action of those operating the kilns inasmuch as they will be unable to procure in the city lime for building purposes.

The lack of lime will possibly have a tendency to increase the cost of building work here and so indirectly the city in general will feel keenly the effect of the mill closing.

If the kilns remain idle during the remainder of the year it is doubtful whether builders in the city will be able to procure a sufficient supply of lime as it must be shipped here either from Upper Canada or the United States. If sufficient quantities can be secured from outside centres it is most probable that the work requiring the use of lime will be done at an increased cost to the builders.

As the strike continues merchants in the city are realizing that the closing of the mills is having a far reaching influence and they are anxiously looking forward to an immediate settlement between the millmen and the owners. As far as can be learned, however, there are no more signs of the mills reopening than there were the first of the strike.

In the meantime over $2,000 which previously was daily circulated about the city is now tied up, and shipping men along with other merchants find that business has been hampered through the shutting down of the lumber mills.

An attractive sale of ladies' white undershirts at P. A. Dykeman and Co.'s to be held at 75 and 95 cents. The first lot were $1.25, are very handsomely trimmed with Hamburg and lace. Made from fine quality cloth, and the saving of 50 cents is a big item on these skirts. The 95 cents quality are worth up to $1.50. Some with lace, some with Hamburg. All made from fine princess long cloth.

A Flew of Water. The police report a flow of water across the sidewalk in front of the Art Glass Works on City Road. Zion Methodist church picnic will be held today at Rothesay. Trains leave the Union-depot at 9 a. m. and 12:15 p. m., sharp.

WASHINGTON POTATOES ONE DOLLAR A TON

Walter H. Wilson, Home from West, Tells of Low Prices—Made Clean-up in Yukon.

How would you like to sell potatoes at one dollar a ton? That is the price at which the farmers in the State of Washington sold their last crop for, or at any rate a big portion of it. That also perhaps explains why British Columbia voted so solidly against reciprocity. Walter H. Wilson, a St. John boy who has lived some in Seattle, and is now on a visit to St. John, surprised a local member of the Provincial legislature and a reporter of The Standard when in the course of conversation he casually mentioned that in the West that will appear from potatoes had been selling for one dollar a ton, and that the farmers of Washington had made clean-up because the Canadian people turned down the reciprocity pact.

It is fifteen years since Mr. Wilson left St. John for the West, and he is very much interested in the progress that has been made since he left, and his prospects for the future. "There have been quite a number of changes since I left here," he said, "and I notice many evidences of progress that were lacking fifteen years ago, especially on the West Side." Mr. Wilson has a number of stories to tell that illustrate certain features of life in the West that will appear strange to people in the East. In the East a man with one hundred thousand dollars would be regarded as a fortunate mortal, but it seems that in the West it is not always easy to get possession of your own money. Mr. Wilson spent about eight years in the Yukon, and a few years ago, in company with three other men, he cleaned up anywhere from $50,000 to $100,000 each, went to Seattle and put their money in a bank. One morning they woke up to find that some financial cyclone had hit the city, and that business was had and articles of unexpired were marching through the streets. The banks were being besieged by people who wanted the 300 feet of crib work as a part of the construction of the wharf for which a contract was let the other day.

This means that 300 feet of the crib work for another wharf will be placed in position this year and that the whole of the second wharf will be completed before the winter of next year.
