Brotherly Love At St. John's After Big Street Parade

L. O. L. Delegates Feel In Liberal Mood

Journey to Catholic Orphanage Fair and Have a Good Time—Best of Feeling Prevailed During the March Through Streets—Col. A. J. Armstrong of St. John one of N. B. Representatives.

Every fourth person one meets in Canada has come to the dominion within the past few years. A tourist in the train or a visitor to any city from coast to coast if he has his eyes open is sure to be impressed with the number of people of many different nationalities and races. This continent has become the great melting pot of the nations and the government reports show that representatives of ninety different nations settled in Canada in 1912. In that year the number who came from the British Isles was 145,859 and from the United States 395,804.

GAVE THEIR BLOOD IN VAIN TO SAVE WEALTHY NEW YORKER

Bride's, Father's, Mother's and Others' Sacrifices Failed in Battle With the Grim Reaper.

New York, July 31.—Five offerings of blood by members of the wealthy Middleton family failed to save the life of Leighton Middleton, who died this afternoon. For ten days he had been at death's door with anemia or poverty of blood, which frequent transfusions were unable to appease. His father, brother, wife, cousin, and a college mate all poured their blood into his veins within ten days. Middleton was first stricken with an ailment which he had contracted on his wedding trip two months ago. His bride gave fifteen per cent of her blood supply and his mother wanted to add a quantity of her blood to that already sacrificed, but physicians forbade it.

Do You Know Anyone Like This?

Stop and look at this illustration again. It shows splendidly the far-reaching power of a little Want Ad. Aided by this little messenger a son was found in the heart of equatorial Africa and brought back to the bedside of his dying mother. If ever you have occasion to communicate with someone whose address you do not have, a little Want Ad may find him quickly at a trial cost. Want Ads are wonderfully effective little messengers.

Use "The Want Ad Way"

A delicious and simple fruit punch is made of canned pineapple, shredded. Take a pint of this fruit and to it add the juice of four oranges, two sliced lemons, and one and a half cups of sugar. Put the mixture in a bowl with a good-sized lump of ice. Let it stand for an hour or so and then add a pint of carbonated water.

FIVE MEN KILLED IN G. T. R. WRECK

Cows, Sleeping on Track, Derailed Freight Train—Two Others Injured.

Ottawa, July 31.—Two cows sleeping on the Grand Trunk right of way at Betty's Sliding, 248 miles from Ottawa, and about twelve miles from Parry Sound, this morning at 2:40, caused the derailment of a Grand Trunk extra freight, the death of five men, and injuries to two others.

Ottawa, July 31.—A largely attended meeting of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees was held this evening and the situation regarding the men's strike was discussed. The principal speakers were A. B. Mosher, grand president, and W. D. McPherson, grand organizer of the C. B. of R. E., president and the C. B. of R. E., Mr. Mosher, the grand president. There were representatives present from about all the other railway orders and Mr. Mosher reviewed the difference between his order and the management. Speeches were made by representatives of nearly all the railway brotherhoods expressing sympathy with the C. B. of R. E. Mr. Mosher leaves tomorrow morning on his return to Halifax.

Ottawa, July 31.—The conference which Premier Borden and his colleagues will hold with the deputation which comes from the maritime provinces tomorrow, and the special council meeting which is to follow, will both be replete with interest and excitement. The policy which Hon. Mr. Cochrane has applied to the Intercolonial railway has aroused a storm of protest by Conservative members representing maritime provinces, constituencies and the minister may expect some straight talk tomorrow.

BRITAIN WILL NOT PARTICIPATE IN FAIR

Notifies United States—She Will Not Be Represented at Panama-Pacific Exposition at Frisco in 1915—Dispute About Canal Tolls May Be the Reason.

Washington, July 31.—After exhibiting much concern over the places which would be assigned to prospective exhibitors by the management of the Panama-Pacific exposition, the British government has declined to participate in the fair. The long delay in acting upon the invitation to participate in the fair has been the cause of deep concern to the management of the exposition, particularly as formidable opposition had likewise developed in Germany, where certain of the great trade associations, such as those representing the steel and iron manufacturers, had formally requested the German government to decline the invitation.

MAY REFUSE OBJECTIONABLE ADVERTISING

Important Decision in St. Paul Court Regarding Yearly Contracts With Newspapers.

St. Paul, July 31.—That newspapers have a right to decline advertising when they deem it objectionable, even if it is submitted to them under a yearly contract, is the effect of a decision handed down today in district court here. The case came up when a local department store was sued by a newspaper to recover money under a yearly contract which the store management had declared void because certain portions of its advertising copy had been rejected by the paper.

Washington, July 31.—The long delay in acting upon the invitation to participate in the fair has been the cause of deep concern to the management of the exposition, particularly as formidable opposition had likewise developed in Germany, where certain of the great trade associations, such as those representing the steel and iron manufacturers, had formally requested the German government to decline the invitation.

Burlington, Ont., July 31.—Fred Fleisch, night clerk at the Beant House, Burlington, was held up during the night while on duty at the hotel and robbed of $1,400, according to a report made to the Hamilton police today. Details of the robbery are meagre. The hotel people refuse to discuss the matter. It was stated that during the night two men entered the hotel and held Fleisch up at the point of a revolver. They bound and gagged him and then rifled the cash register. The money belonged to guests.

Banks in South and West to Be Aided—Municipal Bonds and Prime Collateral Paper Will Be Accepted as Security for the Deposits.

Washington, July 31.—About twenty-five to fifty million dollars of government funds will be deposited in the national banks of the south and west, once by Secretary McAdoo in facilitating the movements of crops. Federal, state and municipal bonds and prime collateral paper will be accepted as security for the money, upon which the banks will pay two per cent interest. The motive of Secretary McAdoo in establishing this new policy is to anticipate the money stringency in the late summer and fall, which invariably accompanies the marketing and movement of crops, especially wheat, the crops are unusually large, as the harvest now beginning forecasts. He intends to take time by the forelock to prevent or minimize the usual tightness of money.

Bulgarians Reinforced by 50,000 Men Put Up a Desperate Fight Which Lasted Two Days—Athens Admits a Reverse.

London, Aug. 1.—The Daily Telegraph correspondents with the Greeks at Salonika describe the recent battle between the Greeks and Bulgarians in the Djumak district as the most hotly contested and sanguinary of the entire war. The Bulgarians, the correspondents say, reinforced by 50,000 men who had been withdrawn from the Serbian front, made an unexpected attack on the Greek left wing. The fight raged for two days with varying successes, but victory finally rested with the Greeks, who captured again their lost positions. The Greek losses were 2,000 men killed, including many officers bearing historic names, and between 6,000 and 7,000 wounded.

LUNCHEON TENT AT GOODWOOD RACES BURNED

New York, July 31.—A London cable this afternoon says: Suffragettes were suspected today when the luncheon tent adjoining the grandstand at the Goodwood race track was burned. The Goodwood races, now on, are the last of the season's fashionable turf events, and King George and Queen Mary have been attending. The tent and all its contents were burned in a rather mysterious manner today, and the Scotland Yard detectives guarding the place blamed the militants for the blaze.

MOTOR CYCLE TANK EXPLODES, KILLING SEVEN

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 31.—The list of dead as the result of the motor cycle accident at the Ludlow (Ky.) Lagoomotorcycle track last night, when the gas tank on the racing machine of Olin Johnson exploded and scattered the burning fluid over the spectators, was increased to seven early today. The revised list of dead follows: Olin Johnson, Salt Lake City, captain motor cycle racer. Henry Andrews, aged 15 years, Cincinnati. Wm. Davis, aged five years, Ludlow, Mo. Mrs. Wm. Michaels, aged 80 years, Ludlow, Mo. Miss Ethel Buchan, aged 20 years, Covington (Ky.). James Carter, aged 89 years, Cincinnati. William Patterson, aged 89 years, Cincinnati. Olin Johnson, of Salt Lake City, captain of the Cincinnati team which was competing at the motorcades, for some reason that will probably remain unknown, drove his cycle to the extreme top of the circular track, crashed into an electric pole, broke it off, and the contact of the live wire with his machine exploded the gasoline tank throwing the burning fluid over a score of spectators.

Ring the Bell! Start the Wheels!

It's the jingle of the merchant's cash register bell that starts the factory wheels going. GOODS THAT MOVE ARE GOODS THAT KEEP THE BELLS RINGING. Goods of merit with which the public are made familiar through advertising make the merchandise of perpetual motion from factory to consumer. Retailers are successful to the extent that they can anticipate public wants. Profit lies in moving popular demand. Demand sets in for the article made familiar by newspaper advertising and merchants are quick to cooperate by pushing the local demand along. It will pay manufacturers to spend their money where a market can be centralized and where local merchants will take hold of distribution with enthusiasm and intelligence. Merchants and manufacturers interested in local advertising for nationally distributed articles are invited to write to the advertising manager of The Telegraph and Times.

RECTOR, WHO BURNED BIBLE, "HALF RIGHT"

Bishop Burch Says There is Some Truth in "Toadying" Charges

DR. HOUGHTON DIFFERS

Dr. Davidson Declared Episcopal Church Nestled the Poor.

(New York Sun.)

One member of the Episcopal church in New York said yesterday that the charges of the Rev. Dr. Charles Steele Davidson, of Virginia, who denounced the church in a spectacular manner on Saturday, who said that "another high churchman said that there was some truth in them, but more of half truth."

Mr. Davidson burned his vestments and threw them into the fire of the home of Thomas Jefferson, calling the former "the empty emblem of ecclesiasticism, the mockery of a royal priesthood," and referring to the latter as "the idol of a false worship, the idol of the dilapidated world of God."

He said the Episcopal church favored the rich and had no interest in the poor. He was rector of the Church of the Holy Apostles in Brooklyn in 1900. The Right Rev. C. S. Burch, Suffragan Bishop, who is ill at his home in Riverside, said that there was some truth in what Mr. Davidson alleged.

"There is some truth in his charges," said Bishop Burch, "but more of half truth. There never was a time, however, when the Episcopal church was endeavoring more to stretch out its hands to the poor than at the present time. This is being done with new means and more effectively. I don't know Mr. Davidson nor the circumstances of the case, and so I cannot feel any right to say anything about it."

"The man doesn't seem balanced," said the Rev. Dr. George C. Houghton, rector of the church of the Transfiguration, in East Twenty-ninth street. "Mr. Davidson's charges about the wealth of the church and that it is only for aristocrats, with no room for the poor, are really too absurd to need anything. It is absolutely untrue."

"I don't know any church, or any place, I might say, where poor and rich come together more and are treated alike more than in the pews of our church. The poor are put wherever they want to go. I know of no place where the aristocrats are more neglected and the poor really cared for—I don't mean putting a ribbon around their neck, but really cared for—than in the pews of our church. That man is not balanced."

It was on June 6, 1900, that the vestry of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Holy Apostles, in Greenwood avenue, Windsor terrace, had a meeting to discuss the charges against the rector, the Rev. Dr. C. S. Davidson. Neglect of duty was alleged.

He was placed in charge of the church in December, 1898, at the age of 39. In June, 1899, he asked for a vacation of two months and got it. He was asserted that he overstayed his time. He was also alleged to have neglected his duties. On July 9, 1900, he was examined by a standing committee of the Episcopal diocese of Long Island. "Overcharging and doctored methods" were charged to the rector. All members of the vestry, with the exception of one signed the charges against him. On October 6, Bishop Littlejohn upheld Mr. Davidson on every point against him.

In Cleveland Mr. Davidson had trouble as rector of St. Mark's church from 1901 to 1905. He often clashed with Bishop Leonard, and was reprimanded for allowing a pastor of another denomination to preach in his pulpit when the bishop had forbidden it.

To Acady. (By Isabel Eccleston Mackay in The Canadian Magazine.) "Tell me, Singer, why winding down to Acady? Of the world's roads I am weary. You, with song so brave and cheery, Happy tones, why must you, On the way to Acady?"

"Tell me, Poet, of the way winding down to Acady? Haunting is your voice and airy, With the grace and beauty of a fairy, Dweller you must surely be in the land of Acady."

Slow the poet raised his eyes, Sad, were they as winter skies, "Once, I journeyed there," he said; "There, no more—but with bent head, Wandered I, 'till I was dead. That last road to Acady!"

"Tell me, Lover, of the way winding down to Acady? Hidden joy your smile discloses, Fragrant is your path with roses, Glad your gaze and far away— Where's the road to Acady?"

"Stay me not! The hours are sweet, Flying, every moment I must hold, As a miser clings his gold. Follow, follow after me— Here's the road to Acady."

CHINA'S TROUBLES.

Facing troubles within and troubles without, the Chinese republic is passing through a time of trial. While it has thus far resisted the external attacks with praiseworthy patience and endurance, considering its inexperience in self-government, it has a greater danger to overcome in the internal revolt that is spreading over a great part of the South.

AN AMBITIOUS LOBBY.

Lincoln once said: "A nation should control what concerns it; a state or any minor political community should control what exclusively concerns it; an individual should control what exclusively concerns him."

NOT AN EXPERIMENT.

St. John has long considered a scheme looking toward the exemption of improvements from taxation. It is no longer an experiment in Canada, Victoria, Vancouver, Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge and other live towns in Western Canada have relieved industry from taxation.

VIOLATION TAXATION.

It has been said that grass never grows where Turkish hoot has trod, and the statement is not so exaggerated as may at first appear. Not long since, in one district in Macedonia, hundreds of apricot trees were cut down by the peasants to avoid the annual tax levied upon them.

WHAT IT MEANS.

The situation in Mexico has once more directed attention to the Monroe Doctrine, about which there is considerable misunderstanding. The general idea is that the United States warned Europe against interference in the affairs of the Western Hemisphere.

SECURITY OF WORK IN THE WEST.

The Western harvest, which promises to be a big one, will relieve the conditions, such as they are, in regard to unemployment in cities at the present time.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

Putting the "finishing touches" on the Panama Canal is not mere holiday recreation. Removing earth at the rate of nearly 8,000,000 cubic yards a month calls for great labor and expense.

GETTING HIS MEASURE.

A Baltimore school teacher had encountered such a degree of ignorance on the part of one of her boys, in relation to the recorded acts of the father.

THE POINT OF VIEW.

I am a Nature lover—I Admire the storm and wintry sky; I love to hear the northward roar.

CONTENTMENT.

I love to sit upon my cottage porch And watch the rich ride by in fine machines; I love to see the handsome touring cars.

THE GOLD SPOT.

What's the matter with the country? Well, there isn't very much, Despite would-be panicle-makers.

A WAY OUT.

From America came the story of a Scotswoman who, while viewing a statue of George Washington, was approached by an interested American.

TWO EUROPEAN METHODS OF FARM CREDITS POPULAR

Short Term Loans or Mortgages Divided Into Shares—Subject of Report by U. S. Commission.

The United States is looking to Europe for a solution of its agricultural credit problem, a commission having just returned with a report. Until this report is made public the N. Y. Journal of Commerce writes that no changes have been made in this respect in the general banking bill.

The conditions for extending and securing farm credits are so different from those of commercial banking that a different set of institutions is needed, says the Journal. Farmers cannot give security for short term credits corresponding in any proper sense to the notes of merchants based upon actual business transactions. At the same time when they need advances they can only offer security that is to "materialize" in the future when their crops come in.

Experience abroad has developed two plans, one for co-operative associations or separate corporate organizations for taking over farm mortgages and dividing them into shares which may be represented by certificates, so as to divide up and distribute the investment, make it possible to obtain long term loans at lower rate and free from the varying instalments. Lending on such mortgages is not a legitimate function of the ordinary banks, whose funds need to be constantly turned over to meet the demand for the most part are effected through farmers' co-operative associations.

The commission has developed two plans, one for co-operative associations or separate corporate organizations for taking over farm mortgages and dividing them into shares which may be represented by certificates, so as to divide up and distribute the investment, make it possible to obtain long term loans at lower rate and free from the varying instalments. Lending on such mortgages is not a legitimate function of the ordinary banks, whose funds need to be constantly turned over to meet the demand for the most part are effected through farmers' co-operative associations.

Prosperous Canadian Immigrants. The prosperity of the Canadian immigrant, says the Canadian Immigration Commission, is nowhere attested more strikingly than in the report of the Canadian postmaster-general. Over eleven million dollars (that is more than two million two hundred thousand pounds sterling) left Canada for English homes last year in remittances.

It is a king's ransom in money that the refugees of the comparatively few Galicians and Austrians in Canada is indicated by the fact that they sent back $6,899,417 through the mails during the year, to whom much of the money was remitted by the Italian in Canada sent $3,133,881 dollars in this way and the little company of Japs in Canada were able to send home $1,700,000 worth of postal orders.

Stags (Cincinnati Enquirer). The two men who occupied the seat directly in front of the little man in the passenger coach were chuckling over a mysterious pamphlet. They would read a few paragraphs and say, "Go, sir, this hot stuff!" Then they would turn a page and laugh.

"The little man's chestnut got the best of him and he quietly stood up so he could get a glimpse of the spy reading and kicked himself. The legend on the pamphlet read: 'Normal Composition of Various Red Peppers.' Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C."

Classified Liars. A respondent addressing Mr. Justice Rockwell in the divorce court, said there were three kind liars. They are the common or garden liar. Second, His lordship—"Do you think with all my experience on the bench that I do not know how many kind liars there are? It has been said that the worst of all is the expert witness."

NEW POTATO PEST FOUND

Tuber Moth Working Wide Havoc in United States—Farmers Warned by Government Scientists.

Washington, July 29—Warning against a pest that threatens every dinner table in the land was issued today by the department of agriculture against the potato tuber moth, which is now working havoc with the potato crop in numerous parts of this country and the ravages of which threaten to prevent the planting of the vegetable in many places of the winter supply. The pest is especially prevalent in California and Texas, the department reports, and through shipments of early potatoes it is being introduced broadcast throughout the United States.

Experts of the bureau of entomology urge potato growers to look carefully upon the potatoes they dig and destroy every potato and vine that shows the slightest signs of the moth. Special attention they add, should be given to the seed potatoes, on which the subsequent crop depends. Fumigation with carbon bisulphid is recommended.

The scientists utter a warning against careless methods in planting and harvesting potatoes and declare that unless protective and defensive measures are adopted at once there will be a serious reduction of the potato crop.

GARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Norris, of Bar-nesville, and Mrs. George Norris, of Central Norton, wish to thank their friends for kindness shown in their recent bereavement, especially Mr. Frost of Hampton.

half an hour later for Ponta Grossa, where we arrived about 11 a. m.

At Ponta Grossa we drove to the hotel, had our things about the town or rather village. It resembled pictures of our western towns fifty years ago, the having a great number of houses with chimneys (four and five abreast) and the large covers over the wagons, prairie schooners and cowboys in regular stage costume, knives and guns included. The town did not show much sign of prosperity, the population being mostly black and soldiers at that.

That evening the general had an engineer change his route and give us a description and prices of land in the surrounding country, which are as follows: Agricultural, $25 to $40; ranching, $15 to $18 (80 equal to $1). One tract of land seventy-two miles from Castro changed hands at about thirty-eight cents an acre. I believe it was the best land I saw. Three large streams running through it.

When we returned to the station that night to sleep I found that the new general manager of the Brazil Railway had come in with his private car and other en route to Curitiba, but decided to change his route and accompany us to Ponta Grossa. He was very pleased to learn of my trip with General Reyes and his son follows:

"On the 9th I had dinner with General Reyes, ex-president of the State of Columbia, and his son. The general gave me a very pressing invitation to accompany him into the interior of Brazil, which I decided to accept and met him at the station at 4 p. m. where I found a private car. He had a large delegation to see him off.

The first two or three hours were very dusty but a shower soon put a finish to this. We had dinner in the dining car (which was very good). There I met General Woodcock, who was very much interested in the new railway and also met an American who owns 'Faded American,' which he purchased a few months ago at $100 an acre. He is very much pleased with the ground and says that he will be able to pay off the entire cost of the farm with two years' crop. He gets six to eight crops, about twenty-five to thirty bushels, value $80 to the ton. Asked me out to look it over some holiday. As the road is very rough I did not do much sleeping.

"Next day we started on a horse back in the morning and during the rest of the day ran through good cattle country, but as before very few in sight. That night we arrived in Curitiba. Had dinner at the hotel and returned to the car to sleep in comfort.

"Next day we went for a drive to see the town. Made an appointment for an audience with the governor at 2. We then had lunch, after which we returned to the hotel and before we drew up to the door the guard turned out and saluted with much blowing of bugles. They ushered us upstairs into a large room where we found the governor and the colors. The governor was a quiet and dignified looking chap but I do not think he had a superabundance of brains. After a chat of about twenty minutes we left, the guard again turning out and saluted with inspect a mull mull. Mattis is the leaf of a tree that grows wild in the State of Paraná, but is dried and scrubby appearance, and is not considered very valuable, although serviceable. A horse in this country can be purchased for $7 and upwards to $80, in fact it is cheaper to buy horses on a journey than to buy for them. In the evening about 7 o'clock we parted from Mr. Taylor as they were going to inspect a branch line. They gave us a special train to take us to a town some twenty miles distant, where they side-tracked us for the night. We went up into the town to get our supper at a hotel run by a French lady, where we had some beautiful wine and an excellent repast.

In the morning we were picked up by the regular passenger train and continued to run through cattle land all that day. I neglected to say that the costume worn by the men here was exceedingly picturesque. It consisted of a long pair of heavy trousers and a blouse over this is thrown a poncho, the latter is a large rug about eight feet long, in the center of which is an opening for the head. That night we got to Curitiba, which is at the border of Brazil. Here there are two towns side by side one in Brazil and one in Uruguay the former is very dirty, the other is clean and has nice shops. The main reason for this is that the duty is much lower in Uruguay. We stayed that night at the hotel (if you can call it such), and at 6 a. m. left for Montevideo on the government railway which appears to be well run.

The land through which we passed during the day was thickly covered with horses and cattle of a much better class. Several of the ranches had electric advertisements and many wind mills for raising water.

Reception in Uruguay

During our run through Rio Grande del Sul and Uruguay, we saw many, or South American ostrich and many other native birds. We arrived that night at Montevideo, where we stayed at the lower part of the building and we alighted to find ourselves in a tremendous hall. In the afternoon I drove out with a friend in my limousine through Palermo, a kind of Central Park of Buenos Ayres, and saw some beautiful turnout and motor. We passed the race track, which is supposed to be one of the best in the world, and I can easily imagine it. To see the large sandstone grandstand, judged stand, clean and with a slight approach and gardens is the sight in itself. They have special shower baths for the horses. One could hardly imagine anything more up to date. The jockey club that owns the place and runs the books take 30 p. c. of all bets and use this revenue for the upkeep of the track and philanthropic purposes. Any worthy proposition will not be turned down by them. Their home in the city is a regular palace.

VALLEY RAILWAYS LINE

F. B. Carvell, M. P., Tells of Personal Observation Along St. John Valley Railway Route—Up Hill and Down Like Any Trolley Line—Statute Labor on Public Roads Must Go, He Says.

Thursday, July 31.—It is really disconcerting to see what a miserable trolley line has been built between Fredericton and Centreville," said F. B. Carvell, M. P., for Carleton county, on his latest visit to the city last evening, in speaking of the observations he had made on an automobile trip from Woodstock to Fredericton along the line of the new St. John Valley railway. "The company is getting a subsidy of $81,000 and a tramway line I should say worth about $16,000 a mile, has been built. In two places at least the road is from 100 to 200 feet above the river level and it follows the contour of the land, up hill and down, like any tramway line.

"As for the Grand Falls connection," said Mr. Carvell, "I know long ago this would never be built. The minister of railways told us on his home last week that the connection would not be made and many of us knew it long before that."

"The only reason," said Mr. Carvell, "that the Gagetown-St. John section is not being proceeded with is because the new Cambrian money from the railway construction are trying to avoid the expense of building bridges over the St. John and Memegascott rivers. I look for the road still to be haunted by the C. P. R. at Welsford or possibly Westfield."

The Highway Roads.

Mr. Carvell is out on a pleasure jaunt with his automobile, but said the trip from Woodstock to Fredericton on Tuesday and from Fredericton on yesterday, was very strenuous.

"Between Fredericton and Westfield," he said, "the roads are nothing short of damnable. It shows that statute labor has got to go. First there will be a short piece in good shape followed by a stretch something horrible. I should say, too, that the use of the road machine presents really good roads, as the bad spots around the culverts are left untouched and the sods thrown up where the roads are really good.

Mr. Carvell said party will leave for St. Andrews this morning.

ST. JOHN RAILWAY OTHER COMPANY

This is Statement of One Director—New Issue of $200,000 Stock to Cover Extensions and New Rolling Stock

(Evening Times)

An issue of stock of the percentage of $200,000 is being made by the St. John Railway Company to cover the cost of the extensions now in progress. The present stockholders are being asked the first opportunity to take up their new issue, allotments being made in the proportion of one share of the new issue to four shares already held. If any share holder will probably be offered the new public subscription. The issue to the old holders is being made at par.

Some time ago the company offered an issue of bonds of the same value, owing to the existing condition of the bond market, there was no demand for the debentures and the issue was withdrawn to be replaced by the present offering of new stock.

It is announced that the company has secured five cars to help meet the demands of their service. An order for four more was placed some months ago, but owing to the fact that the cars could not meet the demands which are being made upon them, the new cars have not yet been delivered. There was an urgent need for more rolling stock of the best second hand cars which could be procured were ordered. They have arrived in the city and will soon be in use.

The company, it is announced, is hampered in securing new cars by the fact that they have to order special cars of small size, the ordinary cars cannot be used here because of the narrow streets, the small amount of space allowed between the double tracks, and the sharp turns.

Speaking of the proposals of other companies to enter the field here Colonel McLean said this morning that his strong feeling against the advent of new electric companies and suburban railway companies and would be glad to do anything they could to help them along.

ONE MAINE FARMER HAS EIGHTY ACRES OF POTATOES IN BLOOM AND HE EXPECTS TO SAVE THEM ALL—HIS CROP WORTH NEARLY $4,000.

(Arroostook Times, Houlton)

Among the many beautiful sights in this section at this season of the year are the potato fields, which now in many cases cover the ground.

While in any direction one may see these bright, probably the largest is that of A. E. Moores on the north side of the county road beyond the farm buildings.

Mr. Moores has eighty acres in potatoes and he has reason to be proud of the way they look.

With an average yield of eighty bushels to the acre this Maine farmer will harvest 6,400 bushels and he will expect to get at least $1.60 a barrel for them in the field, which will net him $8,480. Where is the New Brunswick farmer who would take a chance on such a crop?

HOT-WEATHER COME LATER THIS YEAR

Wednesday was Hottest Day of Year and All This Week Mercury Stood Higher Than in Same Period Last Year.

Those who have been compelled to work in the sun during this week have found that the heat was a little more evident than is usual in this season. Wednesday saw the thermometer at its highest point it has reached during this year. July has been warmer than the latter part of the month was in 1912, while last year '78 was the highest point reached, its being on July 2. On July 1, 1913, the lowest point to which the mercury went was 84 above, which made a record for the month but during July of the present year the thermometer did not get within seven degrees of that point.

The following is a comparative statement of the maximum and minimum temperatures recorded during the last four days of July both this year and last:

July 29	Max. 86	Min. 70
July 30	86	70
July 31	86	70
July 31	86	70

Grapes and apples are among the most nutritious fruits and should be freely eaten, even by the most delicate.

Before starting to eat fruit, see that the tops of your fruit jars fit, and that you have a good supply of rubbers on hand for the same purpose.

Where it is impossible to get ice, food can be kept cool by placing it in a large crock and setting the crock in a basin of water.

Borax makes an excellent wash for the hair; a teaspoonful to a basin of water is a good proportion. A solution of it also good as a mouth wash. The dry powder may be used as a dentifrice.

A preservative closet should be cool and dry. If it has a glass door, hang a black curtain over it. It is a good plan to wrap jars of cherries, raspberries and strawberries in paper to exclude the light.

If you desire to remove the skin of peppers, drop them into boiling water and simmer for five minutes, or so, and they will slip off. Put them in a broiler over hot coals a few minutes will loosen the skin.

RICHIBUCTO CONCERT

Richibucto, July 29.—Music lovers in this vicinity had a rare treat last evening in an entertainment gotten up by B. E. Johnson to swell the building fund of St. Aloysius' presbytery. ### UNION CARDS REMOVED

Conditions in the Journeyman barbers' strike grow no more encouraging. The prospect of a compromise appears less probable as both the journeymen and master barbers are resolute in their attitudes. An executive committee of the organization visited the different shops Tuesday and removed the union cards from those that refused to countenance their proposals or had not signed the agreement and paid the assessment levied for the right to display the card. This operation was performed in six different shops where failing to comply with the union demands was certain.

"The striking barbers are being supported by the union and will be until the conditions are such that they return to work on the basis determined by the organization and not by the master barbers," was the way the president of the union described the feeling last evening.

Let Your Eyes

Save Your Money

Remember the last time you went to the oculist for gold? After you had spent a good deal of money for a pair of spectacles that were of little use to you because they were not fitted to your eyes. Let your eyes see the world as it is. Let your eyes see the world as it is. Let your eyes see the world as it is.
