From the leading arcicle in the "University Monthly," we copy the following apposite remarks, which will be endorsed by nine tenths of the educated classes. The writer has coneational course pursued in his "alma mater" "Every day strengthens us in the opinion that in the course of an educational training, too little time is given to the study and investigation of our own English language, and that the study of the classic Greek and Latin claims far too large a proportion of our toil and labor. True, that in all institutions of learn-ing, these have for centuries been considered indispensable to a liberal mental training, and unless one is fairly conversant with the stand and master pieces of these tongues his preten-sions to anything like a thorough education are gravely questioned; but equally true is it that a knowledge of these may be made an unone-fourth of a student with a state of the poring over tough Grook and obscure Latin, while a hurried glance at "Pinrock's Goldsmith" or "Hume abridged" constitutes his whole stock of modern history."

On the first page we have copied from the St. John Globe a l-tter over the signature of "Fair Play," which corroborates our remarks with reference to the advisability of appointing Colonel Anderson District Com-mander of the Militia of New Brunswick.— The Colonel's services would be invaluable at the present juncture, and the appointment would be as judicions as it would be popular.
