

INITIATE ASPHALT PAVEMENT WATERLOO ST. TO HOSPITAL

Board of Works Will Take the Matter Up at Its Next Meeting—
Two-Thirds Clause Will Not Likely be Resorted to in This Case—Pavement Is Badly Needed.

The board of works will at the next meeting take up the question of an asphalt pavement to Victoria Hospital along Waterloo street. In all probability it will be recommended that a pavement be initiated on that street.

They will not lay it by a two-thirds vote, as was suggested by some, but it will be initiated, and it may be prevented if the citizens so desire.

It was first suggested that the pavement be laid on Colborne street, ex-Ald. Booth and many ratepayers here being in favor of it, but that street has been put in good shape, and the same necessity for the pavement.

Pavement Is Needed.

"There should be a pavement on one of the streets leading to the hospital," said City Engineer Graydon. "I would advise that a pavement be initiated. If the people along the street do not want it, they need not have it. There have been so many requests for a pavement there by physicians and others that I think it would be a good thing to give the residents an opportunity of expressing themselves on the subject. If it goes through it will be of great benefit to the city. If it does not, no harm will be done."

The board of works will take it up at their next meeting, and will decide as has been outlined.

LONDON CAMP DRAWS TO CLOSE

Soldier Boys Will Stack Tents
Tonight and Depart for Home.

COST AROUND $35,000

Men Will Receive in Pay About $15,000
—Military Items of Interest.

The camp on Carling's Heights comes to a close this evening, and by noon on Saturday nothing but the tents of the service corps, who remain behind to look after the final arrangements for the transport of the supplies, will be left of what all week has been a busy scene.

The Cost.

The officials estimate this year that the camp has cost between $30,000 and $35,000, including everything.

Of this sum the men will receive more than $15,000 in pay.

Each man received 50 cents a day for attending and efficiency pay based upon his efficiency in shooting. In the estimates each man is allowed 25 cents per day as the cost of his maintenance. There were altogether on the pay roll 1,821 men and 350 horses. The allowance for each horse is 35 cents per day.

A Big Job.

Few people realize at first sight what it means to provide for 1,821 men who are busy engaged in active military exercises most of the day. Each man is allowed one pound of beef, one pound of potatoes, one pound of bread, tea, coffee and other items per day. Altogether close to 20,000 pounds each of bread, beef and potatoes were used during the camp, to say nothing of all the other things. Several tons of hay and hundreds of bushels of oats were used to maintain the horses.

Interesting Feature.

Two of the most interesting features of the camp which have been watched with the closest attention by military men all over the country were the absolute prohibition of liquor for sale, (Continued on Page Ten.)

ANOTHER SEPTIC TANK MEETING IS CALLED

Mayor Stevely Is Taking an Active Part in the Fight Against Company.

Mayor Stevely is sending out notices of a meeting of the municipalities interested in the proposed suit of the Cameron Septic Tank Company, of Chicago, for infringement of their patents, to be held in Toronto on Thursday next.

This meeting will deal with the question for Ontario municipalities only, the other cities making their own arrangements. It was stated that Vancouver had settled their suit by paying the royalty.

The places against which suit will be brought are St. Catharines, Kincardine, Hamilton, Galt, Brantford, Brantford, Oshawa, North Bay, Woodstock, Waterloo, Berlin, Stratford, Guelph, London, Peterboro and St. Thomas.

"I do not know what will be done, but we will get together and decide on a course of action," said his worship.

Carrier Pigeon Killed.

When one of the car cleaners was passing train No. 1, which had just pulled in from Montreal, he found a carrier pigeon lying dead on the pilot of the engine, just below the boiler head. On the leg ring of the bird there was inscribed the initials D. C., the number 523, and 97. There was no message on the bird, and it is thought that it was being tried out when it ran head-on to the swiftly moving locomotive.

A Ride for the "Kiddies."

Mr. C. E. Bernard, of the Ford Garage, is out with an idea which is taking well with the auto owners of London. Mr. Bernard suggests that everybody in London who owns an auto combine some afternoon to give the children of the Protestant and Catholic Orphans' Homes a treat in the way of an auto ride. It is understood that the authorities at both institutions will be approached at once with a view to making the necessary arrangements.

IN EFFORT TO SAVE CHUM ST. MARYS BOY PLAYS HERO

Young Raymond Wilson Falls From Canoe With Attack of Heart
Trouble, and Drowns Despite Heroic Attempt of Beith
Morden to Get Him Ashore.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

St. Marys, June 17.—Raymond Wilson, the 16-year-old son of Mr. Reginald Wilson, a commercial traveller of this place, was drowned in the river here this evening, after a most heroic attempt to rescue him on the part of Beith Morden, son of Rev. J. H. Morden, of this place. The body was recovered an hour after the accident.

Young Wilson and Morden went for a canoe ride in the evening, and after paddling for a while, they started to return.

Wilson leaned over the side of the canoe, and his companion was startled to see him fall into the water.

A Brave Attempt.

Morden plunged in after him, as Wilson could not swim. He got hold of the drowning boy, but could not hold him up, and let him go.

He shouted for help and again plunged after the lad. He got him the second time, and tried to reach the shore.

Wilson was too heavy, and again Morden had to let go his hold. He shouted for help and the third time made an attempt to get the drowning lad to shore. This time he was successful in getting Wilson to the top and had him within a short distance of safety, when his strength gave out and he had to relinquish his hold. Wilson sank into a hole and never came up. Morden, greatly exhausted, reached the shore, and called for help again. In a few minutes several hundred people were at the river, and after an hour's search the body was recovered. Life was extinct.

Young Morden cannot account for the accident, and as Wilson did not struggle when he was taken hold of, it is supposed that he was overcome by a heart seizure as he was leaning over the boat. Wilson was not a strong boy, and had been troubled with his heart for some time.

Task Too Heavy.

He was a much heavier lad than Morden, and the task of getting him to shore was too much for the latter.

The boy's father, who is a commercial traveller, working the west for a Toronto firm, had been home for the visit, leaving on Tuesday for the west. Raymond was the only son, and his mother was prostrated when told of the drowning.

The town is greatly agitated over the drowning, as it is the first tragedy of the river in many years.

The heroic action of young Morden is the subject of favorable comment, and there is talk of a medal being presented to him for his bravery.

BLIND MAN LIGHTING PIPE IGNITED HIS CELLULOID COLLAR

Peculiar Accident to William Carroll, a Winnipeg Man, Who Is Now a Patient in Victoria Hospital—Carroll Has Suffered Awful Pain for Some Time.

One of the most pathetic cases that has come to the notice of Victoria Hospital authorities for some time came to light yesterday, when William Carroll, a young man, 24 years of age, totally blind, who makes his living by selling small articles, made his way to the hospital and asked for treatment.

Upon examination the house surgeons found that he was suffering excruciating pain, and that his neck and part of his back were a mass of sores.

Collar Burned.

Carroll told a sad story. He stated that his home was in Winnipeg, and that one day, some weeks ago, while lighting his pipe, not being able to see, he held the match too near a celluloid collar he was wearing, and in an instant it was ablaze and set fire to his clothing.

Before he could extinguish the blaze his neck and back had been terribly burned.

According to the physicians, the burns have not been properly treated, and the man was in a most pitiable state.

Suffered Greatly.

For weeks apparently his clothes have been changing the burned spots, and he has suffered excruciatingly. It is feared that blood poisoning may result, as Carroll has been knocking about the streets and has been greatly exposed. Everything possible is being done to relieve his pain, but the physicians state that it will be some time before he will be able to leave the hospital. He is being treated by Dr. Ainley Thompson.

SHEET ASPHALT FOR CARLING STREET

Bylaw Will Be Prepared and
Tenders Called For—Carling Creek Petition Filed.

There was little important business at the meeting of the board of works last evening.

The request of the board of works that Carling's Creek, east of Adelaide, be cleaned out, was filed without discussion. The Carling street pavement was also taken up, and on motion of Ald. Saunders it was decided to lay a sheet asphalt pavement on this street. A bylaw will be prepared at once, and tenders called for.

The question of taking up the opening of Windsor avenue was left with the city engineer, who will interview the officials of the Southwestern Traction Company regarding it.

City Engineer Graydon recommended that a cement walk be initiated on South Nelson street.

The Thames Boat Club complained that the sewage from the jail was dumped into the river at the foot of Dundas street, and on the recommendation of the city engineer, the county engineer will be asked to abate the nuisance.

Those present were Ald. Gerry (chairman), Ald. Saunders, Ald. Cooper, Mayor Stevely, City Engineer Graydon and Secretary Wright.

ISOLATION HOSPITAL OPEN JULY FIRST

Date Announced by Chairman
Stewart at a Meeting of Committee Last Night.

A meeting of the special hospital committee was held last evening after No. 3 had transacted business.

Chairman Stewart announced that the isolation hospital would be opened on July 1.

The only business disposed of was the payment of some accounts. Mr. George Copp was given $1,000 on his contract, the rest to be paid when the work is finally passed.

The account of the Electrical Construction Company for wiring, amounting to $180, was ordered paid.

Those present were Ald. Stewart (chairman), Ald. Garrett, Ald. Moorhead, Mayor Stevely and Secretary Bennett.

GLENCOE MEN ARE BAILED TO APPEAR

Sequel to Alleged Cutting Match
Which Occurred Some Days Ago in Western Town.

When Constable McLoud went to Glencoe yesterday morning to arrest the two Gootson brothers, charged by Samuel Ketry (not Ching, as he gave at the hospital), of Glencoe, with cutting him with a knife in a row over some money, he found one of the brothers suffering from sciatica. The doctor, who was consulted, recommended that the men be taken to the Victoria Hospital, which was accordingly done. Both Meyer Gootson and his brother, who is at present in the hospital, are under bail to appear for a hearing next Thursday.

The dispute took place, it is alleged, in Ketry's house in Glencoe, and, according to his story, Meyer Gootson cut him across the finger with a knife, inflicting a serious wound. In the scuffle, too, Ketry was struck, it is said, a heavy blow on the chest, it is thought with a hammer, in the hands of the other Gootson brother.

His injuries are very painful, and though the full extent of them is not known, he will likely be unable to appear for some time.

THE CANADIAN TEAM

Lieut. Leonard Says Men and Horses
Are Just as Good, But Not So
Well Trained as Foreigners.

Lieut. Wood Leonard, in an interesting letter to friends in the city, gives a further account of the Canadians' visit to England in pursuit of King Edward's Gold Cup.

The letter was written the day prior to the big contest, and in it Lieut. Leonard stated that the Canadian team would not win.

"I am certain we cannot win, after seeing several of the other teams work," said Lieut. Leonard. "Not that we have not as good horses, or that we cannot ride almost as well, but from the fact that their horses, especially those of the French and Italian teams, are better trained in that sort of work."

Marvellous Work.

"It is really marvellous the way their horses jump, and they can take the highest of them just as cleverly without a rider as with one."

"They have been in several contests similar to this, and consequently the animals are perfectly trained for the competition."

"On the other hand, we have been at this sort of work but a short time, and the horses have not had that special training necessary to make them proficient. Had they been trained, we would have stood an excellent chance. We have been in some contests. In Stockholm, June 18.—Coyne, the fireman on board the British steamer Woodburn, of Newcastle, that was fired upon in Pittkopas Bay Wednesday night by a vessel of the Russian squadron patrolling the rendezvous of Emperor Nicholas and Emperor William, sustained only slight injuries, and probably will be able to leave the hospital where he was placed in a few days. He declares that three other members of the crew sustained slight injuries from the Russian fire.

Further details of the occurrence show that the Woodburn steamed during the night within the prohibited section of navigation in the vicinity of Pittkopas Bay. Her captain evidently was unfamiliar with the published regulations. The Russian torpedo boat fired first three blank shots which were followed up by four projectiles.

CITY MAY HAVE A DOG CATCHER

Important Individual Will Be Necessary If the Dog By-law Passes.

The city may have the services of a dog-catcher.

This important individual will be necessary if the new dog bylaw goes through, as proposed.

At No. 3 committee last night it was recommended that the bylaw be prepared, and as the council has brought organized opposition to it from dog owners and fanciers, it is presumed that the bylaw will be carried by the council.

There is a considerable body of opinion in favor of the bylaw, particularly among gardeners and florists, and they will assist in influencing the council to pass the bylaw.

It will prohibit dogs running loose, except when accompanied by their owners.

The police will not be able to do that work, and a special officer will be necessary to look after the canines.

Great amusement was caused in court last week when the Hebrew gentlemen came up and got into a row among themselves over the hen in the court room and the magistrate finally dismissed the case. Now Mr. Sobel alleges that when they were leaving the police station Mr. Brunt made threats of what he would do to him, and has sworn out an information.

The case comes up tomorrow morning and will doubtless prove of much interest.

It all started over a hen which Mr. Brunt owned and which developed a tendency to associate with Mr. Sobel's hens.

SUCCESSORS TO BURNS.

Hamilton, June 18.—Mrs. Thomas Peacock, wife of the manager of the Traders' Bank at North Bay, died at St. John's Hospital, Toronto, yesterday and will be brought to this city for burial. There is a touch of pathos in the death. The deceased was only 23 years of age, and shortly before her marriage she was badly burned. She was married as soon as she had sufficiently recovered from the burns, but she appeared to show no further signs of recovery. The young wife rapidly grew worse and at the Toronto hospital yesterday death relieved her sufferings. Her husband is a former Hamilton boy.

The following names were omitted from the list of delegates to the Synod of Huron, published in last evening's Advertiser. The mistake is gladly rectified: Rev. R. J. Seton Adamson, St. Paul's; Wm. Henry, Primrose, St. James'; Rev. J. W. J. Andrew, Berlin, St. John's; Rev. E. Appleyard, B. A., John Dickenson, Clarksburg, St. George's; Gilbert Beaton, Collingwood, Township, Holy Trinity; His Honor Judge Widdifield, Owen Sound, St. George's; Rev. ## STREET RAILWAY CO. FAVORABLE TO THE EAST END EXTENSION

Line to Accommodate People North of Dundas and East of Adelaide
Will Be Constructed Not Later Than Two Years Hence—
Mayor Stevely Talked Matter Over With Company.

An extension of the street railway system in the East End will be made, if not prior to the decennial census of 1911, at least shortly afterwards.

It is known definitely that the company have been discussing this question, and are favorably disposed towards an extension in that locality, as it is thickly populated.

It is not expected, however, that they will agree to an extension before 1911, unless the North End extension is set aside.

That will not be the case now, as the railway board will take that matter up, and settle it.

Had It in Mind.

Of course, the company had the East End extension in mind when they requested that the population for street railway purposes be fixed at 50,000, when the North End extension was settled.

When the decennial census is taken London will be in a position, even with the population fixed now at 50,000, to demand enough mileage to lay a line in that section.

The council will not agree to fixing the population in any event, and consequently, the East End will be given street railway accommodation, no matter what the result of the negotiations for extending the line in the North End.

Mayor Talked It Over.

Mayor Stevely stated at noon today that he had talked the matter over with Mr. T. H. Smallman, and the latter had agreed that the line should be laid there as soon as the city was in a position to ask for more mileage.

"I talked this question over with Mr. Smallman, and he agreed that the section north of Dundas and east of Adelaide should have a line," said his worship. "The district is thickly populated, and would support a line easily."

This will be taken up when the decennial census determines the population of the city. It may be taken up before that, but not likely now until the North End difficulty is settled.

The New Line.

"I have no idea where the new line will go. There was a suggestion that the Belt line be run east of Adelaide on Lorne avenue, and then south on Quebec, or some of the streets in that section. That would be handy. However, that is a matter of detail that could be arranged later."

REV. MR. LANCELEY SPEAKS

Thinks the Choir Were Treated Very Badly—Officers Say the Men Were Too Tired.

"Waiting at the Church" was the subject of a little affair that transpired last night at Dundas Centre Church, and to say that the members of the choir have hurt feelings is putting it mildly.

A few days ago Rev. E. B. Lanceley and Mr. J. Parnell Morris, on behalf of the church members, extended an invitation to the soldiers in camp to attend a sacred concert to be given last night.

The invitation was accepted. The choir were on hand bright and early last night, and for nearly two hours they sat in the choir loft waiting for the soldiers. Not a single red coat came near the church however, and finally someone telephoned the camp, and was told that the men had been marching about in the wet all day and were too tired to come out.

In City in Doves.

"They weren't too tired to come down town in doves last night," said Rev. E. B. Lanceley to the Advertiser today. "We gave the concert solely to entertain the soldiers, and I think the men have acted, to say the very least, in a most discourteous manner."

Other members of the choir put the case more strongly than their pastor, and think the soldiers used them very badly.

Rumor has it that the soldiers were taking revenge on certain members of Dundas Centre congregation who were very active in abolishing the cantens and preventing the sale of liquor in camp this year.

BISHOP COMPLIMENTS SYNOD IN BRIEF, CLOSING ADDRESS

Matters of Grave Importance Which Had Come Before Clergy and Laymen Had Been Wisely Dealt With—His Lordship Refers to the Laymen's Missionary Movement.

At the closing session of the fifty-second session of the Synod of Huron yesterday afternoon his lordship the bishop summed up the work of the session, in a brief commendatory address.

"I thank you earnestly," he said, "for your patient and conscientious attention to the affairs of the church in this diocese."

"Several matters of grave importance have come before us at this session of the synod for consideration, and in one or two instances we have taken steps that are of unusual moment to the diocese at large."

"The move to extend the control of the synod over the different parishes of the diocese, is one of these. There were some doubts as to the wisdom of the move, but I have hope and confidence that this increased power of the synod will never lead them to cramp or restrain church expansion in the diocese, but may in every instance be for the glory of Christ and the benefit of the church."

The Laymen Movement.
"The acceptance of the principles laid down by the Laymen's Missionary Movement is a step whose importance

I cannot adequately express to you. The very life of the church in this diocese depends on the getting of the spirit of this movement into our lives. And I hope that as you return to your different parishes you will do everything in your power to bring the purpose and the benefits of this movement before your people, and do your utmost to enlist their hearty co-operation in this cause."

"In your acceptance of the finding of the general synod with regard to the Sunday school commission, I think you have done wisely. Not only because of the merits of the question itself, but on the ground that nothing can be of such advantage to the church, as the united action on the part of all its diocese."

"Another step of great importance, and for which I think the synod, is in the midst of the consideration of the suggestion to appoint an organizing secretary for Sunday schools and young people's societies. This will be of untold value to the diocese, and I hope within the near future to find a man, in every way suited to the work, and whose labors will be a benefit to the diocese and to the glory of God."

To Ask Deepening of Welland Canal

Toronto, June 18.—At a meeting in the city hall, at which representatives of the board of trades of Toronto, Hamilton, Kingston and St. Catharines were present, together with representatives of the Dominion Marine Association, Toronto harbor commissioners, and Canadian Manufacturers' Association, and of the Toronto council, a resolution was passed calling for the formation of a permanent organization of municipalities, boards of trade, and other public bodies, to urge on the Dominion Government the immediate deepening of the Welland Canal.

A joint deputation from this organization will wait on the Government to press early action in this direction. The organization is to be known as the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence Navigation Improvement Association.

Mother and Girl Fatally Stabbed

Pottsville, Pa., June 17.—With her skull fractured and forty knife wounds in her body, Mrs. Kate Speranz and her seven-year-old daughter, also badly injured, were found dying in their home at Coalfield near here today. Near them lay an infant spattered with blood from the mother and sister, but not injured. There is no clue as to who made the murderous attack. The daughter was stabbed a dozen times, and her skull is also fractured. There is no hope for the recovery of the victims.

New York's East Side in Panic

New York, June 17.—One of those sudden waves of hysteria which from time to time sweep the crowded tenements of the east side, today temporarily closed three public schools, with an attendance of more than 4,000 pupils, blocked all traffic on Grand street for an hour, and was not quieted until the police reserves were called out. Beyond the fact that many Jewish parents have of late been receiving threatening letters demanding $1 from each family, on pain of having their children murdered, there is no explanation.

First, the rumbling of a fire engine on the gallop reached the ears of the pent-up children of a school that houses 2,300 pupils. The engine whistled shrilly, girls shrieked, and in a minute the hallways were filled with a mob of shrieking, fighting boys and girls, and angry, panic-stricken mothers from near-by tenements were clawing and kicking at the outside of the street doors. As if by pre-arrangement another passing engine chafed the nerves of another set of children in a second school. The rumor spread through the excited, surging streets that the school was on fire. Before the crowd could get to it there was a shout that a third school had been blown up by the Black Hand. Then there was no holding the people.

Parents fought with the police for their children and many were torn and bruised in the scuffle. All traffic came to a stop, and it was long before order was restored.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL SETTLES TO WORK

Talks International Arbitration in Interests of World's Peace.

CONTEST FOR PRESIDENT

The Re-Election of Lady Aberdeen is Likely To Be Opposed.

Toronto, June 17.—Yesterday and today the peace and arbitration committee of the International Council of Women has been holding its sessions. One of the matters under discussion has been the sending of a petition to the Governments assembled at the third Hague conference, asking that they agree to submit to arbitration all questions not decided by diplomatic conferences.

While all the delegates are in favor of international peace, there were a few who "spoke out in meeting" as to the advisability of circulating these petitions at a time when the great nations are steadily increasing their armaments.

A delegate from Italy questioned as to whether such petitions might not discourage the young men of the country from defending their native land in case of war.

Delegates from Austria and Germany also feared that the petitions might be mistakenly looked upon as disloyal.

This view, however, was not in discord, and indeed those presenting it were themselves advocates of peace.

Petition Forms Distributed.

Miss Anna B. Eckstein, of Boston, a lady who had the honor of addressing the second Hague conference, is busily distributing petition forms to the representatives of every country, and these will finally be sent, with their signatures, to The Hague conference. They ask that all nations agree to submit their differences to arbitration, "guaranteeing each other's integrity and just development."

The petitions have already about five million signatures, of which over two millions are from the United States. The petitions state that they are to be signed only by men and women who have come of age, but invite the younger generation to help by securing the signatures of their elders.

Made Life Patrons.

The following ladies were elected life patrons of the council: Mrs. Marie Ekman, Sweden; Froken Lavinus, daughter of the late governor of Finland, Stockholm; Mrs. Henry Bovey, chairman of the Montreal County Council; Helen Lange, Germany. As quinquennial patrons the following were also elected: Countess Ruth, Stockholm; Miss Paludan Muller, president of the Danish Council; Miss Krijner, proxy for the president of the Council, Mrs. Emmeline B. Wells, editor of the Women's Exponent, Salt Lake City; Mrs. Young Garth, founder of the Young Women's Journal, Salt Lake City, and the Hon. Mrs. Ed Franklin, Mrs. Symes Thompson, Mrs. Veitch, Mrs. Blakie, Mrs. H. Muir and Dr. James Madder, for Great Britain and Ireland.

Invitations for the holding of the executive meeting and the council for 1914 were received from France, Norway, Australia and Italy, and these will be considered in due course by the council.

Contest for President.

There will be a contest for the office of president, Lady Aberdeen and Madame Jules Siegfried, France, will be candidates. Dr. Alice Salomon, Germany, will replace Mrs. Ogilvie Gordon as corresponding secretary. Mrs. Gordon will be one of the three presidents, other nominees being Miss Baelde, Netherlands; Lady Edgar, Canada; Baroness Grinpenburg, Finland; Frau Marianne Hainisch, Austria; Mile. Monod, France; Mile. Popelin, Belgium; Madame Charlotte Norrie, Denmark; Mrs. Jules Siegfried, France; Countess Rasponi Spallotti, Italy; Mrs. May Woodfield, United States, and Mrs. Garrison Villard, of the United States.

Mrs. Foster Avery, United States, and Dr. S. Moglund, Sweden, are the candidates for the office of honorary recording secretary, while again the honorary treasurer was elected by acclamation. Mrs. May Wright Sewell will also be again elected honorary president.

Finances.

The reception for the last quinquennial period the treasurer's report showed the amount to be $5,130.59, including a sum of $1,100.00, for the $11,130.59. The expenditures were $3,410.15, of which the maintenance of the president's office amounted to $1,826.03, and the balance in organization expenditure, leaving a balance in hand of $1,660.38.

The executive committee spent a long session clearing them for business of the council, which will meet for the time at the university. During the meeting of the committee Mrs. Ogilvie Gordon, honorary corresponding secretary, gave her report, on which she gave with more details the story of the expansion of the movement upon which Lady Aberdeen touched briefly Wednesday night.

A letter was read by the secretary from Mrs. Bowen, of Constantinople, a sister of Ahmed Riza, the president of the new Turkish Parliament. Mrs. Bowen wrote saying that she was hopeful of forming a national council for the women of Turkey before very long, and the executive elected Mrs. Sila Hunun as honorary vice-president with her to carry Mrs. Bowen's desires into effect. From Finland, Mrs. Ewen Grinpenburg wrote, saying that a council was about to be formed there, while from ancient Europe the same news was received. Countess de Philosopher reported that the Minister of the Interior had consented to allow the formation of a council in Russia. These cheering tidings were received with enthusiasm by the council.

GENERAL LAKE PLEASED WITH LONDON CAMP

Inspected the Troops and Equipment—Challenge Cup Competitions Resumed.

General Lake arrived in the city yesterday on the C. P. R. noon express, and immediately after lunch proceeded to the camp and spent the afternoon in inspecting the First Hussars and Sixth Field Battery. He expressed himself as greatly pleased with the appearance and work of the regiments. This morning the general made an inspection of the whole camp and found everything in satisfactory shape. Owing to this inspection it was found necessary to postpone the active service challenge cup and the Laybourn competitions until this afternoon, and at 2 o'clock the teams from the various companies in camp formed up in front of their quarters and proceeded on their five-mile march to the ranges.

Mimic Warfare.

Upon their arrival there they at once commenced firing, the idea being that the men taking part were marching to the support of a force engaged with an enemy.

The conditions thus observed were as nearly like those of actual service as it is possible to obtain them. Col. Peters acted as umpire, and with him as assistants were Lieut. Beechmore and Lieut. MacKenzie, commander of the Second Infantry Brigade. The winner in the competition will be announced tomorrow.

CRUSHED BY MACHINERY.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., June 17.—The body of George Seman, oiler on the steamer Matthew Andrews, was brought to the Soo this afternoon on that steamer. Seman had been dead 24 hours. It is understood that no one knows the cause of his death. It is believed, however, that he was accidentally caught in the machinery while oiling it when the Andrews was still in Lake Michigan.

The dead man was found near the machinery but was not badly mangled. The most serious injury being to one of his legs. The deceased shipped early this year at Frankfort. His home is in St. Louis. He was 28 years old and unmarried. A local undertaker is making an effort to locate his relatives.

WM. IRWIN, ST. THOMAS, HEADS THE C. O. O. F.

Hamilton, June 18.—The Grand Lodge of the Canadian Order Oddfellows concluded today. The election of officers took place, and William Irwin, of St. Thomas, was chosen grand master in succession to J. Junkin, of Penetanguishene. The other officers were Dr. Alex. Thompson, Galt, deputy grand master; R. Fleming, Toronto, grand secretary; W. H. Shaw, Toronto, grand treasurer; Dr. J. P. Bingham, Toronto, grand medical referee, and Rev. J. Lindsay, Kintore, grand chaplain.

THE RUIZ TRAGEDY WILL BE PROBED

British Government Becomes Interested in Vanderbilt Scandal.

London, June 18.—Home Secretary Gladstone promised in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon to investigate the inquiry into the death of Miss Mary Agnes Ruiz in this city last May, if furnished with the facts.

This promise was given in reply to a question by Peter F. Curran, Independent-Labour member from Durham, who drew attention to the fact that the newspapers were not notified of the hearing of this inquiry, and declared that the coroner should have absolutely refused to give the purport of the depositions.

Curran asked if the home secretary's department was not in a position to put an end to this scandal. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt is in a state of collapse over the death of Miss Ruiz, and the notoriety it has brought upon him.

It is said he is in great dread of an investigation, fearing it may affect his standing here.

BLEW UP DAM TO LET WATER SUBSIDE

Those Built To Keep Lake Nipissing at a Normal Level Prove To Be Harmful.

North Bay, June 17.—The effect of dams built over a year ago at French River to keep the waters of Lake Nipissing at normal level the year round has been most disastrous, especially this year, with the abnormally high water. Much property along the shore line has been flooded, and in the eastern section of North Bay and among the summer cottages considerable damage has been done, while a number of building lots have been submerged. Representations made to the Government by the town council of North Bay resulted in the examination, followed by the blowing up with dynamite of one of the dams yesterday to allow the water to go away.

New dams will be constructed on different plans, as those in use were utterly useless in coping with spring freshets, and should never have been put there.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP OF LIQUOR TRAFFIC

Resolution Passed by the Anglican Synod of Manitoba.

Winnipeg, June 17.—The Anglican Synod today adopted a resolution favoring municipal ownership of the liquor traffic in Manitoba.

The resolution was introduced by Canon Murray and seconded by E. D. Martin, president of the Winnipeg board of trade, both of whom made spirited addresses in favor of its adoption.

The adoption means that municipal ownership of the liquor traffic will in future be the policy of the church in this province, and every effort possible will be brought to bear to have the Government enact legislation.

grand jury returned additional indictments today against six others for conspiracy, to commit murder and incite others to crime. In addition thirteen of the striking Japanese at the Waipatu plantation were indicted for attacking a police officer and rioting. As a result of the vigorous action of the authorities the strikers are much depressed.

The replevin suit brought to recover the papers seized in the offices of the newspaper Jiji by High Sheriff Henry was dismissed.

FILTRATION BEDS CHOLERA-INFECTED

St. Petersburg, June 17.—The number of cholera cases in the Russian capital is increasing daily. Twenty-four new cases and seventeen suspects were admitted to the municipal hospitals during the 24 hours ended at noon today.

It is now believed that the filtration beds have become infected, as the districts of the city served with water from these sources are furnishing a larger percentage of cases than the two districts that get their water by direct pumping.

A Prince of Sinners

By Phillips Oppenheim.
Author of "A Lost Leader," "The Malesherbes," "The History," etc.

"I suppose," Selma remarked, "you men admire all that sort of thing, don't you?"

"I really hadn't noticed it with Lady Sybil," Brooks admitted.

Selma sighed.

"Men are so blind," she remarked. "You watch the time you are close to her, Mr. Brooks."

"I will," he promised. "I'll get her between me and a window in a strong north light."

Selma laughed.

"Don't be too unkind," she said. "That's the worst of you men. When you do find anything out you are always so severe."

"After all, though," Louise remarked, with a sidelong glance, "it must be very interesting to meet these sort of people, even if one doesn't quite belong to their set. I should think you must find every one else quite tame, Mr. Brooks."

"I can assure you I don't," he answered coolly. "This evening has provided me with quite as pleasant society as ever I should wish for."

Selma beamed upon him.

"Oh, Mr. Brooks, you are terrible. You do say such things!" she declared, archly.

Louise laughed a little hardily.

"We mustn't take too much to ourselves," she said. "This evening has provided me with quite as pleasant society as ever I should wish for."

"H'm! He's taken his seat, and that's all he does seem to have done. To have heard his last speech here before polling time you would have imagined him with half-a-dozen questions down before him. He's letting the estimates go by, too. There are half-a-dozen obstructors, all faddists, but Henslow, with a real case behind him, is sitting tight. "For my word, I'm not sure that I like the fellow."

PATTERN DEPARTMENT, LONDON ADVERTISER.

"I ventured to write to him the other evening," Brooks said, "and I have sent him all the statistics we promised. He seems to have regarded my letter as an impertinence, though, for he has never answered it."

"You mark my words," Mr. Bullsum said, doubling the paper up and bringing it down viciously upon his knee. "Henslow will never sit again for Medchester. There was none too much push about him last session, but he'll not do it again. I'm losing faith in the man, Brooks."

Brooks was genuinely disturbed. His own suspicions had been gathering strength during the last few weeks. Henslow had been pleasant enough, but a little flippant after the election. From London he had promised to write to Mr. Bullsum, as chairman of his election committee, mapping out the course of action which, in pursuance of his somewhat daring pledges, he proposed to embark upon. This was more than a month ago, and there had come not a single word from him. All that vague distrust which Brooks had sometimes felt in the man was reinforced and increased, and with it came a flood of bitter thoughts. Another opportunity there was to be lost. For seven years longer these thousands of pale, heart-weary men and women were to suffer, with no one to champion their cause. He saw again that sea of eager faces in the marketplace, lit with sudden gleam of hope as they listened to the bold words of the man who was promising them life and hope and better things. Surely if this was a betrayal it was an evil deed, more heinous than any he had ever done.

Mr. Bullsum had refreshed himself with whiskey-and-water, and decided that pessimism was not a healthy state of mind.

"I tell you what it is, Brooks," he said, more heartily. "We mustn't be too previous in judging the fellow. Let's write him civilly, and if nothing comes of it in a week or two, we will run up to London, you and me, eh? and just haul him over the coals."

"You are right, Mr. Bullsum," Brooks said. "There's nothing we can do for the present."

"Please don't talk any more horrid politics," Selma begged. "We want Mr. Brooks to give us a lesson at billiards. Do you mind?"

Brooks rose at once.

"I shall be charmed!" he declared.

"Pooh, pooh!" he said. "Brooks and I will have a hundred up and you can watch us. That'll be lesson enough for you."

Selma made a little grimace, but they all left the room together. In the hall a housemaid was speaking at the telephone, and a moment afterwards she laid the receiver down and came towards them.

"It is a message for Mr. Brooks, sir, from the Queen's Hotel. Lord Arranmore's compliments, and the ladies from Enton are at the theatre this evening, and would be glad if Mr. Brooks would join them at the Queen's Hotel for supper at 11 o'clock."

Brooks hesitated, but Mr. Bullsum spoke up at once.

"Off you go, Brooks," he said, firmly. "Don't you go refusing an invitation like that. Lord Arranmore is a bit eccentric, they say, and he isn't the sort of man to like refusals. You have just got time to get ready."

"They had the message two hours ago, and have been trying every where to find Mr. Brooks," the housemaid added.

Selma helped him on with his coat.

"Will you come another evening soon and play billiards with us?" she asked, dropping her voice a little.

"With pleasure," Brooks answered. "Do you mind saying good-bye to your cousin for me? I am sorry not to see her again."

CHAPTER XV.
A Supper-Party at the Queen's.

Brooks was shown into a private room at the Queen's Hotel, and he certainly had no cause to complain of the warmth of his welcome. Lady Sybil, in fact, made room for him by her side, and he fancied that there was a gleam of reproach in her eyes as she looked up at him.

"Is Medchester really so large a place that one can get lost in it?" she asked. "Lord Arranmore has been sending messengers in every direction ever since we decided upon our little excursion."

"I telephoned to your office, sent a groom to your rooms and to the club, and at last we had given you up," Lord Arranmore remarked.

"And I," Sybil murmured, "was in a shocking bad temper."

"It is very good of you to all," Brooks remarked, cheerfully, "let the office rather early, and have been giving a sort of lecture tonight at the Secular Hall. Then I went up to have a game of billiards with Mr. Bullsum. Your telephone message found me there. You must remember that even if Medchester is not a very large place I am a very unimportant person."

"Dear me, what nonsense," Lady Caroom remarked, laughing. "To us, however, you happened to be very important. I hate a party of three."

Brooks helped himself to a quail, and remembered that he was hungry.

"This is very unusual dissipation, isn't it?" he asked. "I never dreamed that you would be likely to come into our little theatre."

"It was Sybil's doings," Lady Caroom answered. "She declared that she was dull, and that she had never seen 'A Message From Mars.' I think that all that serious talk the other evening gave her the blues."

"I am always dull in the winter when there is no such thing as a summer," Brooks said, smiling. "This frost is abominable. I have not forgotten our talk either. I feel positively wicked every time I sip champagne."

"Our young philanthropist will reassure you," Arranmore remarked, drily.

Lady Caroom sighed.

"I wonder how it is," she murmured, "that one's conscience and one's digestion both grow weaker as one grows old. You and I, Arranmore, are content to accept the good things of the earth as they come to us."

"With me," he answered, "it is the philosophy of approaching old age, but you have such a mamma. With you it must be sheer callousness. You are in an evil way, Lady Caroom. Do have another of these quails."

"You are very rude," she answered, "and extremely unsympathetic. But I will have another quail."

"I do not want to destroy your appetite, Mr. Brooks," Lady Sybil said, but this is—if it is a farewell feast, something like it."

He looked at her with sudden interest.

"You are going away?" he exclaimed.

"Very soon," she assented. "We were so comfortable at Enton, and the hunting has been so good, that we cut out one of our visits. Mamma's developed a convenient attack of influenza. But the next one is very near now, and our host is almost tired of us."

Lord Arranmore was for a moment silent.

"You have made Enton," he said, "intolerable for a solitary man. When you go I go."

"I wish you could say whither instead of when," Lady Caroom answered. "How bored you would be at Redcliffe. It is his own conduct of the case that for some moments he was unable to continue his cross-examination."

The court ruled the use of the word offensive, and Mr. Nicoll apologized for introducing it, but did not retract it. On the contrary, he reiterated that he could prove it. Justice Dowling wished the incident closed, and it was so considered.

It is probable the case will continue for another week or ten days.

NICOLL TELLS SHEARN HE IS BLACKMAILER

Hot Exchange Between Counsels Engaged in the Gould Divorce Case.

New York, June 18.—The spot-light of the cross-examiner continued to oscillate yesterday in the trial of Mrs. Howard Gould's suit for separation, from the estate at Castle Gould, to St. Regis Hotel, the farm at Blue Gap, Va., the Gould's yacht "Niagara," and back to New York again; but except for those moments when it lingered on Dustin Farnum, it never got very far from the butlers keys to the wine cellar.

There was visibly an attitude on the defence which in this trial of many surprises has been curiously shifted over to what is virtually the prosecution, to prove that Mrs. Gould was not only frequently under the influence of intoxicants as to fall within the rulings of Justice Dowling, that she must be proved an habitual drunkard before her husband can be justified in leaving her, but to prove that, when she had been drinking her character underwent a transformation for the worse.

Delancey Nicoll, counsel for the husband, was willing enough to adduce testimony that his wife was affable when herself, if only he could bring her good nature into contrast by testimony that tended to show her violent, abusive, uncertain in her motives and confused in her actions at those moments when she was alleged to have been drinking. There was no abatement of her ordeal, and as the burden of iteration grew heavier, she shrank visibly or smiled broadly, or shook her head in amused denial.

Only once was there a break in the procession of footmen, butlers, chauffeurs, maids, waiters and bell boys, on whose testimony it is sought to prove Mrs. Gould an impossible wife; and that was when Mr. Nicoll called Melville E. Chapman, a broker, who was a guest of the Goulds on their yacht during several cruises of the year 1905. Several times, he testified, he had seen Mrs. Gould drunk, and he described also several alleged outbreaks, with emphasis on the overbearing manner of the wife and the efforts of the husband to soothe and conciliate her.

In the effort to discredit this witness, Mr. Shearn drew the ugly word "blackmail" from Mr. Nicoll, and became so much agitated at its application to his own conduct of the case that for some moments he was unable to continue his cross-examination. The court ruled the use of the word offensive, and Mr. Nicoll apologized for introducing it, but did not retract it. On the contrary, he reiterated that he could prove it. Justice Dowling wished the incident closed, and it was so considered.

It is probable the case will continue for another week or ten days.

THAW'S MOTHER COLLAPSES

Overcome While Attending Proceedings To Secure Son's Release.

White Plains, N.Y., June 17.—Harry K. Thaw will have to wait in the Matewan Asylum until July 6 for a hearing to determine whether he is sane and sane in a condition to be released from the asylum. The case came up before Justice Mills here today, on a writ of habeas corpus obtained by Thaw. Thaw's counsel, Charles Morechauser, wanted to go on with the hearing, but Mr. Clark, a representative of the attorney-general, wanted to have the case transferred to New York city, and District Attorney Jerome, of New York, asked that the hearing be postponed in order to give him an opportunity to attend to other business. Justice Mills decided that the hearing would be held in White Plains.

Thaw's mother, Mrs. William Thaw; his sister, formerly the Countess of Yarmouth; and his two brothers were in the court room. When the justice announced his decision to delay the hearing, Harry's mother collapsed. She shook as though seized with a chill and her daughter called out for a drink of water, saying that her mother was choking. The water revived Mrs. Thaw somewhat, but she was unable to walk without help, and Harry Thaw assisted her to retire to an ante room, and remained there with her for a short time.

THE POINT OF SHIPMENT

U. S. Government and Railroad Clash Over Important Point.

Philadelphia, June 17.—In the indictment yesterday of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway by the federal grand jury, for allowing a lower freight rate than that published in the schedule of the commerce commission, there arises an apt question as to what can be legally recognized as the original point of shipment of commodities and merchandise imported from foreign ports. The proceedings which were started by the Government, constitute a test case of the point at issue.

A carload of beet sugar was imported from Hamburg, Germany, its destination being Alberta, Canada. As no Canadian port was acceptable for the delivery of the sugar, the shipment was sent to the port of Philadelphia, and was handled by the reading part of the way to Alberta.

The Reading charges, it appeared, were but 55 cents per hundred-weight, despite the schedule price of $1.32, covering this class of freights. The company contends that the shipment was not one which originated in this country, and it does not come within the application of the scheduled rates of the Interstate commerce commission. The original point of shipment, according to the railroad, was in Hamburg, Germany.

United States authorities aver that to all intents and purposes of the act, the carrying of the sugar by the defendant was an original shipment, the starting point being the local port and not Hamburg.

OUT FOR INCOME TAX

United States Democrat Senators Decide to Keep Up the Fight.

Washington, June 18.—When the income tax question comes up in the Senate today Senator Aldrich, chairman of the finance committee, again will move that action be deferred until after schedules in the tariff have been completed.

This motion will carry with it President Taft's programme for the enactment of a law taxing net earnings of corporations and the enactment of a resolution submitting the question of amending the constitution so as to permit Congress to levy and collect a tax on incomes without regard to apportionment among the states. Mr. Aldrich will make the statement that he believes consideration of schedules may be finished by Monday, and he will suggest that the postponement of the income tax and corporation tax measures be until that time.

At a caucus of the Democrat senators it was decided that the minority shall stand by their previous declaration in favor of the enactment of an income tax law at the present session.

Attorney-General Wickersham showed Senator Aldrich last night the draft of the amendments which President Taft desires to have adopted.

Philadelphia, June 17.—Once more have the Tiger pennant winners returned to their normal gait. After letting the Athletics nose them out in the 5 to 4 contest of the day before, the Champions returned with renewed vigor today and just narrowly missed coasting Mack's team with a liberal supply of kalamintine. The final score was 4 to 1, with the visitors having a clutch on the larger figure.

Eddie Summers Weakened.
Philadelphia's score would have been 0 instead of 1, had not Eddie Summers, after pitching magnificent ball throughout the earlier innings, eased up in the final round and permitted the locals enough bingles to net them the single tally.

Summers appeared in great form today. The old-time Philadelphia hoodoo made good use of his arm and the Pennsylvanians found him practically invincible. Seven hits were secured off the knuckleball artist in the nine innings.

Three Hits in Final.
Three of these came in the final round. The other four were thinly sprinkled through as many of the opening period as the last.

But while one hoodoo was making good, another was forfeiting his title. "Eddie" Plank, always a stiff proposition for the Tigers to face, was as docile as a lamb before the Champions today. "Eddie" remained in the box seven innings. The Champions had gotten to him for a trio of runs during this period and Connie Mack judiciously jerked the twirler from the box and sent Dygert in.

Dygert Makes His Exit.
The latter made a very good impression at the start by fanning two of the three men who faced him in the seventh. But in the following inning the pitcher's weakness was responsible for the fourth score that the visitors made and he, too, made his exit at the close of the round.

Coombs was the third Philadelphia twirler to face the league leaders, twirling the game. He pitched the final inning, which proved to be a very brief one, without letting the Tigers fatten their score any further.

Naps Scored Three Runs in the Opening Round by Hitting.

New York, June 17.—Cleveland won from New York today by scoring three runs in the first inning. Hughes then being found for a triple, two doubles and a single. ## NO JOY FOR BOOKIES IN RACING REGULARS TOO HARD TO BEAT

TOP: BOOKMAKERS WATCHING A RACE IN THE OLD DAYS. BOTTOM: WINNING BETTORS BEING PAID BY BOOKIES' ASSISTANTS UNDER NEW SCHEME.

New York, June 17.—Horse racing doesn't bring the joy to bookmakers it did in the halcyon days before the Hughes law and other anti-gambling measures began to operate here and in other sections. In New York there is betting, of course, but the volume is not sufficient to pay the bookies for remaining in business. They may clean up a few dollars a day, and some who have wealthy patrons are making money, but the majority, who depend upon the public upon the pikers, as they term them—are in Dutch. Oral betting virtually means no betting for the public! Under the old regime a man with $5 or $10 could go to the track and invest in three or four $1 and $2 tickets. With thousands of such pikers, the bookmakers made fortunes.

The law now prohibits the exchange of paper, the making of memoranda, or showing of money. Bookies aren't accepting high signs from those they don't know. The bets are verbal, and this bars the pikers, who remain away from the track or content themselves with betting with friends.

WORLD'S AUTO RECORD FOR 25 MILES BROKEN
Roadville, Mass., June 17.—The world's automobile record for 25 miles was broken at the Roadville race track today by Ralph de Palma. His time was 23 minutes 35 seconds. Barney Oldfield's old record, 23 minutes 38 3/4 seconds, was made at Fresno, Cal., on Dec. 13, 1904.

KING JAMES IS NOT FOR THE SUBURBAN
Sam Hildreth Declares That Lameness Will Keep Horse From Running.
New York, June 17.—The race horse, King James, which won the Brooklyn Handicap, will not be a starter in the Suburban Handicap, which is to be run a week from today, according to the owner, Sam Hildreth.

THE BUTCHERS WON.
The Butchers defeated the Wine Clerks at Teumessah Park yesterday by a score of 9 to 8.

COVERPOINT JOLTS

Mr. Summers appears to have his ancient hoodoo again in operation against the Athletics. They have beaten him once in two seasons, which is doing fairly well.

JEFFRIES IN BUFFALO IN TEN DAYS' TIME
Greatest Heavyweight of Them All Will Box There June 26.
Buffalo, June 18.—James J. Jeffries will box six rounds with his sparring partner, Sam Berger, in a 24-foot ring, pitched in the centre of the Exposition Stadium, in this city on Saturday night, June 26.

TORONTO GETS NEWTON.
Toronto, June 16.—President McCafferty of the Eastern League leaves word today that he has bought Pitcher Doc Newton from the American League team in New York. Newton, who went from Montreal to New York in 1907, won seven games and lost ten in 1908. He should strengthen the Leafs, who are desperately in need of pitchers.

DONLIN WON'T PLAY.
New York, June 18.—Mike Donlin, who captained and played right field for the New York Nationals last season, has written to a friend here that there is no chance of his playing ball this season, and that he will make only a short stay in New York on his return from California next week. Donlin says he has engaged passage to Europe for himself and wife and will sail on July 15. He adds that reports of his illness have been much exaggerated, and that he is now feeling "in prime condition."

BIG AUTO RACE MEET OPENS WESTERN VANDERBILT STARTED

WHITNEY ENTRY IS WINNER AT ASCOT

"JOHNNY KLING" IS NOW CLUB OWNER

Purchases Pueblo Franchise and Will Take It to St. Joseph.

Omaha, Neb., June 17.—Changes are rumored in the Western Baseball League, with Pueblo to get out, the franchise going to St. Joseph. The transfer will probably occur within the next 30 days.

John Kling, former catcher for the Chicago Nationals, who is now running a billiard parlor in Kansas City, is said to have bought the franchise, and, believing there is money in baseball at St. Joseph, will take the team there.

RUN FLAG-TO-FLAG RACE IN NOVEMBER

Originator of Denver-to-Mexico City Event Changes the Date.

Mexico City, Mexico, June 17.—C. A. Wahlgren, of Denver, originator of the flag-to-flag automobile race, to be run between Denver and Mexico City, said last night that the date would be changed from the first of next year to November of this year. He says the route might be changed so the cars will enter Mexico at Eagle Pass or Laredo instead of El Paso. Arrangements were completed today to hold a large automobile show in Mexico City as soon as the race is over.

BRITISH AND AMERICANS HEADED THE PRIZE LISTS
Englishmen Took 11 Cups, Americans 8 and France and Canada One Each.

London, June 18.—The predominance of American and British horses in the international horse show evidently throughout the ten days of judging at Olympia, has been further emphasized by the complete prize lists that now are available. British owners headed the list of prize winners in point of numbers, but a comparison of the number of winners to entries gives the Americans by far the best average. In the championship list America showed a still better average, taking eight cups against Great Britain's eleven out of a total of twenty-one.

ROEHAMPTONS IN FINALS.
London, June 17.—The Roehampton Polo Club today defeated the Old Cadis team in the semi-finals for the Roehampton cup. As a result of this victory the Roehampton Club meets the Meadow Brook team on Saturday, June 19, in the final match.

WESTON AT OGDEN.
Ogden, Utah, June 17.—Edward Payson Weston arrived here this evening. He left Castle Rock, 56 miles east, this morning and traveled through the Weber Canon.

THREE INJURED IN AN AUTO WRECK NEAR TOWN.

TWO MORE HURT ON MOTOR CYCLES

Entries Include Some of the Fastest Drivers in the World.

Crown Point, Ind., June 18.—The first of the Western Vanderbilt automobile road races was run today in perfect June weather, and over a track as smooth as time, money and men could make it. The withdrawal of the Ford yesterday was followed today by that of "Art" Greiner's Renault, owing to a broken transmission.

Today's race was over ten laps, approximately 23.6 each, or a total distance of 232.74 miles for the Indiana trophy. The specifications limited entrants to light cars.

Tomorrow twelve big cars will contest for the Cobe cup, the big event of the meet.

THE ENTRIES.
Practically all the best drivers of the country appeared in today's race, the entrants being as follows: 1, Corbin, A. J. Masonville; 2, Buick, Robert Burman; 3, Marion, Charles Stutz; 4, —; 5, Chalmers-Detroit, William Shipper; 6, Marion, A. Monsen; 7, Locomobile, J. W. Florida; 8, Buick, Geo. Chevrolet; 9, Fal-Car, W. H. Pearce; 10, Locomobile, George Robert; 11, Moon, Phil Wells; 12, Buick, Lewis Strang; 13, Fal-Car, John Ruchl; 14, Stoddard-Dayton, Wiseman; 15, Chalmers-Detroit, Al. Poole; 16, Stoddard-Dayton, Wright; 17, Chalmers-Detroit, J. Watson.

WAGNER THE STARTER.
The machines were started by Fred W. Wagner, who has officiated in a similar capacity in all the Vanderbilt runs on Long Island, Asa Paine, of Minneapolis, acted as referee.

Leaving the grand stand the machines flashed away over a straightaway stretch of 1.4 miles, where a sharp turn brought the northwest corner of the principal residential district into view. On this lay three streets of Crown Point for a spur of 3 miles. At the end of this they turned to the right for an irregular four-mile run to Cedar Lake. On this lay three sharp corners and three easy ones, including the picturesque "S." At Cedar Lake there begins a straightaway of 5.1 over.

MANAGER DUFFY LOST
HIS HEAD AND THE GAMEProvidence Man Got Into an Argument and Forfeited Game to Rochester.

Providence, R. I., June 17.—Because Manager Duffy lost his head in the last of the fourth inning at Melrose Park today, Providence forfeited the game to Rochester 9 to 0. Providence scored her only run in the fifth inning, and Rochester tied it in the eighth. Neither side scored until the fourteenth, when Rochester got two runs over the plate. In the Providence half, with one man out, Duffy, though not in the game, took the coaching line. He was ordered away by Umpire Stafford. After an exchange of words Duffy was ordered from the field under penalty of forfeiture. At the expiration of two minutes Stafford declared the game forfeited. Score:

PITCHER WON'T CHOOSE PRACTICE BALL
IT FEELS HEAVY WHEN PICKED UP

"Eddie" Summers, the Detroit pitcher, stood in front of a traveling bag in which the balls used at Bennett Park are kept. The pitcher's hand reached down to the bag and then withdrew. Summers leaned over and asked: "Pick me out that brand new ball there, will you, and hand it to me." "Speer smiled, picked out a new ball, handed it to Summers and asked: "Why?" "I never like to pick a ball myself," Summers replied. "Well, I will tell you why. When I lift a ball out of the bag it feels as heavy as lead, but when it is handed to me by someone else it feels light as a feather. If I pick it out myself and start warming up, I feel as though I am throwing an iron ball and I can't pitch. When someone hands the ball to me I feel as though I had all kinds of speed." "Laffitte and Speer began picking out balls and then, having them handed to them, Laffitte said he felt a difference in weight, and Speer said it wasn't enough to brag about, but Summers won his game and so his argument holds.

BIG AUTOMOBILE RACE MEET

The Course.
At Lowell, after passing under a viaduct, the road takes a sharp turn to the east. Half a mile out it turns sharply around a cemetery, and then is straight away for three miles. Turning north again there is a straightaway of 7.1 miles, which brings the cars past the grand stand.
The First Regiment of Chicago arrived last night and marched through the town to the grand stand, where they pitched their shelter tents. So large was the throng of visitors that every available sleeping place was occupied, and newcomers were forced to walk about until it was time to go out on the course. Many women spent the night in the tonneau of their cars, or in hastily improvised camps.
The immense grand stand began to fill early, and at 6 o'clock dashes of color could be seen where women had already taken their places. At the hour of the start the stand was filled to its capacity, and throughout the countryside there were hastily erected seats at prominent locations, taken up by hundreds of spectators.
Three Injured in Wreck.
Crown Point, Ind., June 18.—Adolph Magnus, Florence Packard and Harriet Barnes, all of Chicago, were injured early today by the overturning of their automobile, in which they were speeding to the motor races. The car was darkened, ran into a ditch and turned over. None were seriously hurt, but all were taken to the military hospital at the grand stand.
Edward Dooliver and T. J. Free, both of Chicago, were seriously hurt in motor cycle accidents, which occurred in the crash of machines on their way to the various parking spaces around the course.

REVENUE CUTTERS

Eastern Colleges Ask for Protection at Their Big Events.
Washington, D. C., June 17.—With the rowing regatta season have come numerous calls from various parts of the country requesting revenue cutters to patrol the regatta courses.
For the Harvard-Yale regatta at New London, Conn., which takes place July 1, revenue cutters will be detailed to patrol the course and preserve order. Revenue service vessels also will be detailed for the same duty at the Intercollegiate Rowing Association regatta at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 2. Orders have been issued to the Arctia, Guard and Scout to patrol the courses at the regatta of the Northwestern International Rowing Association at Seattle in the latter part of June.

He also rode her at the 24th of May celebration in Aylmer this year and last, winning first prizes on both occasions.

Seventh Regiment Inspected in Tecumseh Park by General Lake.

SPLENDID BODY OF MEN

Soldierly Appearance Won Eulogies
From Soldiers From Camp as They Marched Along Streets

The Seventh Regiment never presented a finer appearance than when they paraded last night, 350 strong, under command of Major Campbell, for their annual inspection before Inspector-General Lake.

The streets were thronged with soldiers from the camp, and with citizens, and as the men marched down Dundas street, Tecumseh Park, headed by both bands, their splendid marching and soldierly appearance were commented upon on all sides.

The men from the camp and the officers, too, were unstinted in their praise, and a very large number of them, followed by a large crowd of citizens, followed the regiment over to the park to witness the inspection.

The inspection.
The men marched into the grounds while the band played Laval's stirring piece, "O Canada," and formed up in review order in front of the big stand. The inspection was made by General Lake, who was accompanied by Col. Hewar, at the headquarters staff at Ottawa; Lieut. Torrance Beardmore, of the Tenth Royal Grenadiers, Toronto, and Col. Peters, D. O. C. Each company was inspected separately and then for more than an hour the men were put through various battalion movements and manoeuvres.

They went through them all with a precision which showed their careful training, and although Gen. Lake would not express any opinion, the officers are certain that he has never on any occasion seen the regiment to better advantage.

LONDON BOY IN U. S.

Mr. W. R. Thompson, in Employ of Government at Washington, as Entomological Expert.

A matriculant of the London College Institute, W. R. Thompson, of the 1909 graduating class, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, began work recently under the United States department of agriculture, bureau of entomology, as expert and agent of the bureau, and first assistant to Charles H. Townsend, in the gypsy-moth-borers, near Boston, Mass. During his five months' vacation period in 1907 he labored under Prof. Kline in plant improvement at Macdonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Quebec, and last year spent the period in the work with dipterous parasites, jointly carried out by United States, federal and state (Massachusetts) authorities, with a view to combating the destructive ravages of the moths. A naturalist born, of unflagging enthusiasm, he was fortunate in earning for his child very high commendation in the official published report of the Washington bureau, upon the excellence of his work, as one result of which came his present position, immediately at the close of the O. A. C. course, securing the B. S. A. degree. In addition to the general course he took the biological option with distinction, securing a remarkable score on his fourth year thesis. His future will be naturally followed with deep interest by his alma mater. He became a member of the Canadian Entomological Society when its headquarters were in this city. In charge of Dr. C. J. S. Bethune, now professor of entomology at Guelph, Mr. Thompson is a son of one of the editors of the Farmer's Advocate of this city.

"STUNG" BY COAL TRUST

$34,000,000 Levied on Public When Employees Got Increase.

New York, June 18. — W. W. Ruly, statistician of the anthracite companies, was a witness today in the Government's suit charging the coal roads with maintaining an illegal combination. He was questioned as to the working of the agreement, following the settlement of the strike in 1907, through the intervention of President Roosevelt, by which the miners were to receive a 1 per cent increase in wages for every 5-cent advance above $4 50 a ton made by the mine owners.

"For every dollar of this excess paid by the companies to the miners," asked Attorney McReynolds, "how much did the public pay to the companies?" Ruly admitted that in all likelihood the companies received at least as much from the increase in price as did the miners.

"So that if labor received $17,000,000 more in wages since the strike of 1902 and the operators benefited equally, the public must have paid $34,000,000 more for coal?"

"I suppose so," the witness said.

SYNOD MAY CHANGE PLACE OF MEETING

Clergy and Laymen Vote to Hold the Next Session Outside London.

BISHOP HAS THE POWER

Unless He Chooses To Go Elsewhere, the Synod Will Continue to Convene in London.

The 52nd session of the Synod of Huron was brought to a close shortly after 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The session had been an unusually interesting one, but despite the amount of business brought before the body, and the thorough manner in which it was handled, all the proceedings were conducted with remarkable dispatch. There were several matters of interest considered at the concluding afternoon session.

A suggestion to the effect that the synod be held in January instead of June, and in some city or town other than London, aroused a good deal of interesting discussion. Finally the first point was dropped, and the discussion resolved itself into a contention as to whether or not the synod should be convened regularly in London.

Bishop Has the Power

His lordship informed the body that it was his prerogative to call the synod when and where he saw fit, but he asked that the discussion be continued so that he might have an idea of the opinion of the synod on the matter.

Many spoke of the increased interest that would accrue to the church if the synod were to meet in a town, where its sessions were not taken as a matter of course. Others maintained that London was the best suited, not only because of the superior accommodation, but because it was the seat of all the synod offices.

Among the places suggested by various speakers were Stratford, Brantford, Berlin and Windsor. It was finally put to a test vote, and the suggestion that the synod next convene at some place outside of London was carried by 52 to 36.

"I am open for invitation," remarked his lordship when the result of the ballot was made known.

The ultimate decision as to whether the synod will be held here or elsewhere remains with the bishop.

Shortly after the opening of the session the result of the balloting for the different gatherings was announced.

The delegates to the General Synod were elected as follows:

Archdeacon Mackenzie, Brantford; Canon Craig, London; Dr. Sage, London; Canon Hague, London; Dean Davis, London; Archdeacon Hill, St. Thomas; Canon Brown, Paris; Rev. J. Ridley, Galt; C. R. Gunne, Clinton; Archdeacon Richardson, London, and Canon Davis, of Sarnia.

Committee on Moral and Social Reform—Archdeacon Mackenzie, Canon Brown, Rev. T. G. Wallace, Canon Davis, Messrs. L. B. Lucas, Chas. Jenkins, R. M. McElheran, Judge

Stratford, who fortered the motion, was unable to be present at the session. It was finally decided to withdraw the motion till the next session to permit of his presenting the synod with the definite reasons for his request.

The synod seemed to be fairly evenly divided on the matter, some strongly favoring the work as a humanitarian movement which the church should be the first to champion, while others held that the pulpit was no place for the discussion of such subjects, and expressed themselves very strongly on the subject of introducing secular matters into the sacred exercises of the church.

An Objection.

Rural Dean Robinson, of Stratford, objected to the church being called the Episcopalian Church. "That is not our name," he said, "and why should we be so called in all government documents?"

Canon Craig also felt strongly on the matter. "The Roman Catholics, the Greek Church, the Mormons and other bodies, were also Episcopalian in character," he remarked.

"I stand for our distinctive name," he continued. "We are the church of England, and should be spoken of in those terms."

A motion was finally passed, asking the bishop to approach the provincial secretary, and draw his attention to the misnaming of the church. This was carried.

It was decided to issue a new and revised edition of the canon. This suggestion passed without discussion.

Religion in the Schools.

The committee on religious instruction in public schools reported as follows:

"That since the last report nothing new in the way of regulations for Bible study has been sent out from the department of education for Ontario."

"Your committee thinks that the following clauses, being part of clause 97 and clause 98, should be more widely known:

"Every public and high school shall be opened with the Lord's Prayer and closed with the reading of the Scriptures and the Lord's Prayer, or the prayer authorized by the department of education."

"The Scriptures shall be read daily and systematically; the portions used may be taken from the Book of Selections, adopted by the department for that purpose, or from the Bible, as the trustees, by resolution, may direct."

"Trustees may also order the reading of the Bible, or the authorized Scripture selections, by both pupils and teachers at the opening and closing of the schools, and repeating of the Ten Commandments at least once a week."

"Your committee thinks that clause 100, giving the right of entry to clergymen to give religious instruction to the pupils of their own church after school hours is impracticable, and speaking generally, is a doubtful matter, but your committee is of the opinion that an advance can be made in the direction of fuller Bible instruction in our public and high schools."

"Your committee therefore recommends:

"That a calendar of Scripture readings be provided to carry out the daily and systematic reading of Scripture, mentioned in clause 98."

"That, in addition to the present provision of learning the Ten Commandments, portions of the Scripture readings should be committed to memory, either daily or weekly."

"That a catechism or at least the historical portions of the Old Testament be compiled—the answers to be as far as possible in the very words of Scripture."

"That this subject of biblical instruction be given a value in school standing and high school entrance examinations, as a compulsory subject, or, failing this, that it be treated as an optional subject, and marks given as a bonus addition to other marks."

"It would seem that, notwithstanding the objection sometimes made to religious instruction in public and high schools, there can be no well-sustained objection to biblical instruction on the lines proposed."

Your committee respectfully recommends that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Honorable the Minister of Education of Ontario."

This report was adopted.

Huron College Report.

The report of Huron College was presented. It showed a total attendance during the year, the largest attendance in the history of the college.

Seven students wrote in the preliminary examination of the provincial synod, six of whom were successful and obtained high standing.

There is a need expressed for funds for additional professors. The diocesan collection this year was somewhat in advance of previous years, about 170 congregations having contributed about $28, an average of less than $5 each. One hundred and twenty congregations made no contribution to this object. It was felt that this amount for the diocese might easily be largely increased.

The total receipts $10,506.13, leaving a balance of $447.42 on hand.

Rev. R. S. Howard and E. S. Nash were reappointed to the council of Huron College.

The other committees of the synod were appointed by the bishop as follows:

A POLICEMAN'S ACT ECLIPSES MELODRAMA

Saves an Unconscious Steeplejack, Catching Him as He Was Falling.

New York, June 17.—(AP)—Whitman, the strong man of the New York police department, did a feat yesterday on the new Queensborough bridge that those who saw will never forget.

Thomas Jones and Charles Schoner, employees of a novelty and flag company, which has the contract for decorating the bridge for the celebration of its opening, went yesterday to string flags from the various towers. Both men are steeplejacks.

They began at the centre tower, over the east channel of the East River, with the top of the tower 385 feet above the water.

Jones went up the north tower and Schoner the south. The men used their little steeplejack seats and pulled themselves up. They had rigged their ropes and pulleys and were preparing to pass a line from one to the other to string flags across to the respective towers when Schoner saw Jones suddenly go limp on his seat at the top of the tower flagpole, fall forward against it and hang there.

"What's wrong?" called Schoner. "I'm gradually going," was all Jones could call back.

Schoner slid down his flagpole as fast as he could, all the time calling for help.

Down on the roadway below the towers, Whitman, a bicycle policeman, was walking along with his wheel.

He looked up and saw Jones, who sagged forward in his seat like a lifeless man. Whitman ran to the little spiral stairway from the roadway to the top of the tower. Meanwhile a large crowd had been attracted.

As Whitman came out at the top of the tower, the seat in which Jones was sitting became loosened and as it started to go downward the decorator lost his balance and shot out of the seat head-downward. Whitman braced himself against the foot of the flagpole and held out his arms. Jones' limp body shot down and the big policeman acted as a net. The body fell just across Ajax's big arms and then both men went over in a heap as Jones' weight carried the policeman from the stand against the foot of the pole.

Jones was unconscious and when the two men fell to the narrow flooring at the top of the tower he slipped from Whitman's grasp and rolled toward the edge over the river. Whitman grabbed and got hold of Jones' coat and held fast. Others below ran up with Schoner and pulled the unconscious man back on the tower platform.

A liberal dose of whiskey poured down Jones' throat brought him around, and he explained that he had made a slip-knot of the rope that held the seat and had fastened on his arm. The rope tightened on the knot and also became twisted in some way. He had tried to loosen it, but was unable to do so, and as it tightened it shut off the circulation in his arm. He became dizzy and fainted.

SOB SQUAD BUSY AGAIN

This Time Has Secured Liberation for Murderer of Sweetheart.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 18.—The board of pardons recommended today to Governor Edwin S. Stuart that a pardon be granted James B. Gentry, who has been in prison for nearly thirteen years for the murder of his actress sweetheart, Madge Yorke, in Philadelphia. Probably a week will pass before Gentry is finally set free. With the application for a pardon Gentry's counsel presented a petition for his release, which was signed by prominent business and professional men from all parts of the State, including practically the entire membership of the state Senate and House of Representatives.

The murder of Madge Yorke, for which James B. Gentry was sentenced to be hanged and finally sent to prison for life, was committed Feb. 18, 1895. Miss Yorke was playing with "The Baggage Check" Company. Gentry was filling an engagement in Boston. His friends all said he was ill with the grip and was drinking heavily. He had an engagement to meet Miss Yorke in New York early in February, but through a misunderstanding he missed her at the railway station.

Friends in New York later jokingly told him Miss Yorke was receiving the attentions of another actor. Gentry was not seen again until he rushed into the room occupied by Miss Yorke at a Walnut street hotel, and shot and killed the actress. The day preceding the date on which Gentry was to have been hanged the board of pardons recommended the commutation of the sentence to life imprisonment.

Governor Hastings acquiesced. Repeated efforts have been made to have the actor pardoned.

Gentry always has maintained that he has no recollection of the murder of Miss Yorke.

A LOGGING DISPUTE.

Van Buren, Maine, June 17.—The critical stage in the investigation of the logging conditions in the St. John River was reported when the band of Canadian and Maine commissioners held its fourth meeting.

On their decision hangs the life of the extensive lumber mills in the town. The mill owners claim that if the contention of the protesting lumbermen, that the mills are violating the Ashburton treaty, is found by the commission to be correct, the mills will have to go out of existence.

The dispute between the lumbermen and the owners of the large mills on the St. John River is one of long standing.

PRIMATE MAKES PLEA FOR CHURCH UNION

Archbishop Matheson Declares That It Is Bound to Come Before Long.

Winnipeg, June 17.—Church union and the Laymen's Missionary Movement received strong commendation from his grace Archbishop Matheson, primate of all Canada, in delivering his charge to the Synod of Rupert's Land. His address was an admirable effort, and was noteworthy because of its significant appeal in favor of the ultimate union of all Christian bodies. His grace also drew the attention of the synod to the resolution, which is to be offered, advocating that the liquor traffic be regulated along the lines of the Gottenburg system. The Church of England no longer could be charged with having no policy upon this important reform.

Referring to the Laymen's Missionary Movement, the archbishop said: "In my opinion this is the greatest movement that has taken place in Christendom for centuries. Within it lies the solution of the great missionary problem of the evangelization of the world. The church that catches the full inspiration of this movement and reaches the standard of giving and working held up by the ideals of that movement, that church will move on triumphantly to victory for itself and for the world."

Upon the question of church union his grace observed that the unhappy divisions constituted a grave challenge to Christians to have them healed. It was felt that a permanent union would require time. Hasty union might have within it elements which would lead to its own disintegration. A strong attitude in favor of union was advocated. He exhorted churchmen to do all in their power to sweeten the relations between them and their separated brethren. It was prudent to co-operate in social and moral reforms. Meetings of churchmen with others were advocated to carry forward the work of cementing brotherhood and unity of spirit. Union was coming nearer than most people imagined, when the Christian Church would be one in body and spirit. The church of England could not barter away the precious things committed to its keeping, and could not expect others to do so. Compromise was not what was wanted, but comprehension, which would include the best of all the churches in one great body.

There is a deficit of five thousand dollars in the mission fund this year.

At the conclusion Mrs. A. Talbot, of London, in very graceful terms, thanked the St. Marys people for their courteous hospitality and their efforts for making the conference such a success.

WALL STREET PROBE.

New York, June 18.—Officials of the New York Stock Exchange declined to comment publicly on the report of the Hughes commission, but a meeting of the governors is to be held shortly, when action along the lines suggested by the report, may be taken.

President C. H. Radeau, of the Consolidated Stock Exchange, said: "I think that the report of the Horace White committee to Governor Hughes, taken as a whole, conforms well with the methods of stock trading as connected in Wall street, and places them before the public in a clearer light than has ever been done before. The recommendations made by the committee should bear fruit in many instances."

JOHN KYLES DEAD.

Toronto, June 18.—Mr. John Kyles, of the legal firm of Bull & Kyles, and a well known practicing barrister, died at his home, Glen Cove, Eglington, yesterday about noon, after an illness of a month. The late Mr. Kyles, who was in his forty-ninth year, graduated from the University of Toronto in 1885, and three years later from the law school. Since then he had practiced here and of late years had been doing legal work for York Township, his firm being the solicitors.

It will furnish one of the severest tests of automobile stability in the history of motor car racing.

The course is in good condition. Nine hundred men of the First Regiment, Illinois National Guards, will patrol the entire course during both races.

HERESY HUNTERS WILL GET BUSY

Presbyterians Fixing to Emulate Baptists in Getting After the Unorthodox.

Chicago, June 17.—While Chicago Baptists, in discussing the dogmas of George Burnham Foster, have fought two rounds of what may become a national fight with division of Baptists, Presbyterians have also been rallying their forces for a national heresy hunt, the centres of which will be New York and Chicago.

The Presbyterians are aroused as a consequence of the action of the New York Presbytery in licensing three young men as ministers after they had given "heretical" answers to questions in their examination for licenses. The incident has created lively discussion in this city and elsewhere, and the opinion has been expressed that the New York Presbytery in licensing the three men in the circumstances set itself up against the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church and defied the authority of the latter body, which is the denominational supreme court.

New York dispatches say that the presbytery of that city has granted licenses to Archibald Black, John B. Steen and George J. Fitch, all of orthodox families and the sons of preachers or missionaries. These young men provoked national discussion in April, when they were denied licenses following answers to questions in their examinations. They declared the Garden of Eden incident to be allegorical, denied the immaculate conception of Christ, the literal resurrection of Lazarus, and other things. The incident came before the general assembly in Denver in May.

The result of being brought to the attention of that body was that a few days ago members of the assembly received by mail copies of the following:

"Extract from the report of the committee on theological seminaries adopted by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, at its meeting in Denver, Col., May, 1909: The assembly urges all our presbyteries to satisfy themselves before licensing students, to ascertain whether they have been well instructed and indoctrinated in the principles, doctrines and polity of the Presbyterian Church and that they are in hearty accord with these principles and doctrines and are loyal to evangelical Christianity."

This was interpreted by authorities of McCormick Theological Seminary, the Presbyterian School in Chicago, as a declaration to prevent such licensure as is reported to have occurred in New York."

RETURNED THROUGH PRIEST

Missing Montreal Masterpieces Turn Up in Mysterious Way.

Quebec, June 17.—The two rare and valuable oil paintings stolen from Laval University picture gallery, "The Gamblers" and "The Drunkards," from the brush of Salvator Rosa, worth $2,000 each, have been returned. The theft was committed on Monday afternoon last, but the loss was not discovered until the next morning. It was naturally surmised that a dishonest connoisseur removed the paintings from their frames, but the city detectives have no reason to entertain a different opinion, and are sure the thief was a countryman or habitant, who had no conception of the value of the oil treasures. They were on the track of a man who had offered the stolen property for sale in a downtown saloon, but were called off by the trail. The pictures were carried into Laval University this afternoon by an aged priest, and all that the clergy would give out was that the pictures had been given to the priest by the wife of a man who had returned. It is thought that the thief became frightened when he heard of the value of the paintings, and also learning that the police were on his track, hastened to give them up and did so through the medium of a priest.

MANY RUBENS LOST.

Namur, Brussels, June 17.—A church at Morlaime, which contained several paintings by Rubens, was destroyed by fire yesterday. The contents of the church were completely burned. The damage amounts to $40,000.

IDA WYNNE WEBS.

London, June 17.—Ida M. Wynne, second daughter of Robert J. Wynne, the outgoing United States consul-general in London, was married in this city today to Hugh Ronald French, a first lieutenant in the Seventh Dragoon Guards, one of the crack regiments of the British army. The ceremony occurred quietly in a private oratory, only relatives and personal friends of the bride and groom having been invited.

UNEXPECTED FLOWS.

Lindsay, June 17.—While a drain was being dug at the corner of Peel and York streets last night, oil, mixed with water, burst forth in a stream, and it was with difficulty that the flow was stopped. The mixture of petroleum and water burned fairly well when lighted.

THE WESTERN VANDERBILT.

Crown Point, Ind., June 17.—The "Western Vanderbilt," one of the three great automobile events scheduled for this year, will begin over the Crown Point-Lowell course tomorrow.

This race is for light stock cars, which will contest for the Indiana trophy. There are eighteen entries. The Crown Point-Lowell parkway is 23.5 miles in length, with long straightaways on three sides. The fourth side is irregular from Crown Point to Cedar Lake—about five miles. As the Indiana trophy race calls for ten laps the cars must travel 235 miles. This is 61 miles less than the distance covered in the Vanderbilt race on Long Island last year. The Cobb cup race on the Crown Point-Lowell route on Saturday, the big event of the meet, is at 17 laps or 402 miles, which is 105 miles longer than the Long Island route.

It will furnish one of the severest tests of automobile stability in the history of motor car racing.

The course is in good condition. Nine hundred men of the First Regiment, Illinois National Guards, will patrol the entire course during both races.

To Be Dyspeptic Is To Be Miserable.

Dyspepsia is the prevailing malady of civilized life. It is largely due to gross errors in diet, over-eating, too free indulgence in stimulants and over-taxing the stomach with indigestible food, eating too rapidly without chewing the food sufficiently, indulging in hot biscuits, pastry, pickles, confectionery, etc.

Constipation, headache, heartburn, sour stomach, distress after eating, belching of wind, flatulence, and fullness and distension of the stomach are a few of the many distressing symptoms of the poor, weary dyspeptic. Barcock Blood Bitters regulates the stomach, stimulates the secretion of the saliva and gastric juices to facilitate digestion, and tones up the system to full health and vigor, and thereby cures dyspepsia and all its tributary diseases.

Mr. Amos Sawler, Gold River, N.S., writes:—"I was greatly troubled with dyspepsia, and after trying several doctors to no effect, I commenced taking Barcock Blood Bitters and I think it is the best medicine there is for that complaint."

CHIEF MUST RULE BRIGADE

Request of Firemen for Increase of Meal Hour Time Was Refused.

A NEW DOG REGULATION

Will Be Prepared to Prevent Canines
Running at Large—Meeting of No.
3 Committee Last Night.

At the meeting of No. 3 committee last night, a request was submitted from the firemen that the time for meal hours on Sunday be increased. Chief Aitken reported that it would be impossible to arrange a schedule on that basis, and the request of the men was filed.

Engineer Allen presented the case for the men. He stated that the late Chief Clark allowed the firemen an hour and a half for dinner on Sunday. This would give them plenty of time to get home for their meals, and would allow them a little time with their families.

In Chief Clark's time the scheme worked most satisfactorily, but since Chief Aitken took charge of the brigade this was abolished, and the men were only allowed an hour for meals as on ordinary days. Many of them live a considerable distance from the hall, and on Sunday must walk, making it almost impossible in some cases to get back to the hall in the allotted time. The men had requested the chief to go back to the old schedule, but he had refused.

The chief explains. Chief Aitken explained that the men had asked him to restore the old plan, but he found it impossible to do so. When Chief Clark was in charge, the fire engine did not have to go out at every alarm, but since that time the engine must go out, and consequently it must be ready to start at any time. The men were left with seven men to man five pieces of apparatus, something out of the question. He did not care to take the responsibility.

"It is a question whether the men shall run the department, or the chief?" said Ald. Garratt. "It is nothing of the kind," answered Ald. Moorhead. "I think the men have a right to make the request, but if the chief, whom we hold responsible, says that he cannot do it, that ends it."

On motion of Ald. Stewart, the matter was left in the hands of the chief. "I cannot do anything other than I have done," said the chief.

Dog Brawl.
A bylaw to prevent dogs running at large will be introduced at the next meeting of the council.

The petition of the Horticultural Society was considered, and on motion of Ald. Stewart, the city clerk was instructed to prepare a bylaw similar to that recently passed in Hamilton. This bylaw will prevent dogs running at large in the summer months, unless in charge of their owners.

Want To Buy Land.
Mr. Fred Templar wanted to purchase about 8 feet of the vacant lot south of the South End fire hall to widen his own lot, and to straighten out the triangular lot at present owned by the city.

Mayor Stevely pointed out that it would not be wise to sell much of this property, as the city would have to enlarge the hall in the course of a few years to put in either a truck or a fire engine, if the manufacturing district continued to grow as it was doing at the present time.

It was explained that if the lot were straightened as suggested by Mr. Templar, the city would have 19 feet 6 inches upon which to build an addition. The matter was referred to Ald. Garratt, Chief Alderman and Assistant Commissioner Grant to report on.

London Electric's Account.
The London Electric accounts were presented, and Ald. Garratt asked if he would sign them.

"The agreement has not been signed yet," said Mayor Stevely.

"We will not pay any interest," answered Ald. Moorhead.

A short meeting of the committee will be held prior to the council meeting of Monday night, and if the agreement is signed in the interim the accounts will be signed.

Ivey & Dromgole asked for the privilege of connecting the Crickbank block direct with the central fire station. It was referred to the chief, with instructions to grant it if they complied with the regulations.

R. Decourcy asked for the refund of $2 day license which he never made use of. The request was refused.

Those present were Ald. Garratt (chairman), Ald. Stewart, Ald. Moorhead, Market Clerk Maker, Fire Chief Aitken and Secretary Bennett.

DOESN'T SUIT LAWYERS

One of New Ontario Statutes Causes
Surprise to Hamiltonians.

Hamilton, June 18.—There was considerable surprise in legal circles yesterday morning when a lawyer presented himself in Judge Snider's chambers to enter an appeal, only to be told that he would have to take it to the divisional court. This is one of the results of the law reform, but owing to the fact that the revised statutes have not been sent out in regulation form as yet, the members of the bar have not had a chance of delving into them. This change means that in future a great deal of the legal business which heretofore fell to the judge in chambers, will have to be dealt with by the divisional court.

The change was discovered in connection with the case of E. V. Johnston against his son, Bert W. A. Johnston, for assault and injury, in which judgment was given last week in the county court favoring the father. J. L. Counsell, acting for the son, gave notice of appeal before Judge Snider in chambers, but his honor had to refer him to the divisional court.

The plaintiff in this action is the well known "Athlete" Johnston, and the son is a well-known entertainer. They were giving a show at Wroxeter some time ago, and had a dispute over a division of the receipts. The father claimed that the son handled him so roughly that several ribs were broken and he was laid up for some time.

SOMETHING TO DROP IN SOUTH TORONTO

Abe Orpen's Manager Passes a Threat to Attorney-General
Foy.

Toronto, Ont., June 17.—A somewhat exciting incident took place at the Parliament Buildings today. Hon. Mr. Foy, who was late in arriving for his cabinet meeting, which had been called for 12 o'clock, was accosted in the corridor by Mr. Herbert Capewell, business manager for Abe Orpen, who conducts the racing meets at the Dufferin track, the charter of which the Government has decided to suspend. "Aren't you going to do anything for us?" asked Mr. Capewell, talking to the Attorney-General by the arm. Mr. Foy answered that he could not do anything, and he could not wait to talk, and threw off Capewell's grasp. Capewell, thereupon, caught the Attorney-General by the shoulders, saying: "You will have to." Mr. Foy once more freed himself, not so gently as before, and entered the council room, Capewell crying out: "All right, you'll hear something drop in South Toronto soon." South Toronto is Mr. Foy's constituency.

DIED AT BUFFALO

William Hughes Lived for Several Years at Bright, Ont.

Buffalo, June 18.—William Hughes, builder, who lived for several years at Bright, Oxford County, Ont., is dead in this city. At one time he was in the employ of Geo. Fulton, son of Robert Fulton, the inventor of the steamboat. In 1905 Mr. Hughes and his wife celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

MEETING OF THE CABINET

Premier and Other Ministers Return and Will Do Business Today.

Ottawa, June 18.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. C. B. Gwynne, and Hon. R. D. Levesque returned to the capital yesterday and the first cabinet meeting for some time will be held today, to clean up the arrears of public business.

Hon. Wm. Paterson left to visit his daughter at Picton, Ont., and Hon. Wm. Pugsley leaves for a few days before proceeding to the Pacific Coast to inspect the public works under way in Western Canada.

MRS. GOULD IN CELLAR

That's Where Butler Says He Found
Her on One Occasion.

New York, June 18.—The procession of servants and employees of Mr. and Mrs. Gould to the witness stand, continued today. Since the first day, early in the week, when the plaintiff lost control of her feelings and wept during a merciless recital of unpleasant incidents, Mrs. Gould has kept herself well in hand, merely expressing her disapproval of the testimony by a determined stare of her head or an incredulous smile. After a dull day yesterday for the excitement-loving spectators who crowded the court-room, when most of the time was occupied by the long-sung reading of depositions of absent witnesses by the lawyers, the sensation came just before the close of the day's proceedings by the appearance of Herbert Schmidt, the Goulds' footman from October, 1904, to May 1905, Schmidt told the story of the witness stand of a meeting of several well-known New York women, at which Mrs. Gould was present in the apartment of Mrs. George Underwood Kirkpatrick, when, according to Schmidt, the hostess' arm was bitten, another woman received a black eye and he found Mrs. Gould in the cellar.

Mr. Nicol, the defendant's counsel said today that there was a possibility that he would reach his client during the day and call Mr. Gould to testify in his own behalf. Mr. Shearn, the plaintiff's counsel, promised a severe cross-examination of Mr. Gould if this should be done.

FATAL RAILWAY WRECK.

Fond du Lac, Wis., June 18.—Thos. McDonald, the engineer, and his fireman were fatally hurt, and a mother and her babe were so badly injured that they too may die, in a wreck on the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, a short distance from North Fond du Lac, when a passenger train from Menominee, Mich., due here at midnight last night ran into a wreck in the yards, and was derailed.

MEXICO'S OIL.

Mexico City, June 18.—That the Mexican people intend to do something in their power to control the oil situation in this country is indicated by the formation of a $25,000,000 Mexican oil company, to be known as the Compania Mexicana de Petroleo el Aguila, S. A. (the Mexican Eagle Oil Company, Limited) and of which Guillermo Landu, governor of the federal district, is president. The company has acquired all the concessions for the development, exploitation and marketing of native crude oil in the federal district, and one exception of products held by the firm of S. Pearson & Sons, Limited. The directorate of the new corporation is composed of Mexican and one exception of John B. Body, who is in charge of the Pearson interests in this country.

FOREST FIRES DOUSED.

Presque Isle, Maine, June 18.—A torrential rain early today brought to an abrupt halt the progress of the forest fires. A high south wind yesterday instilled new life into the smouldering embers and caused much anxiety among the residents, who feared that the district would again be fire-swept. The precipitation today was very heavy and continued on through the night. The rain was also believed to have extinguished the forest fires in New Brunswick.

MAY GO TO BUFFALO.

Hamilton, June 18.—Although notified some time ago that the trip to Buffalo would likely have to be called off, the officers of the Ninety-first Regiment are confident that they will spend Dominion Day in the Bison City. Gen. Cotton, commander of the Western Ontario military district, notified the officers that he was opposed to the regiment going to Buffalo as the guest of an amusement company. The officers, on the other hand, claim that this is the first time the regulation about regiments taking a trip as guests of other than a military unit has been enforced. They also state that the place was not a military unit, but a regiment, and that the Thirteenth had made several trips out of town without being invited by a military unit.

MOTHERS' CLUB HELD THEIR CLOSING MEETING

Empress Avenue Organization Is in a Very Flourishing Condition.

The Empress Avenue Mothers' Club held their closing meeting for the year at the school last evening. There was a large attendance, quite a number of the fathers being present as well. The club is in a flourishing condition, and an increasing interest is being shown in the work. There promises to be a large increase in the membership when meetings are resumed in September.

When the business of the meeting was completed a dainty luncheon was served, and the following programme rendered: Duet, by Miss Anna and Master Richard Cockrill; recitation, Miss Lillian Finnegan; solo, Miss Smith; solo, Miss Greenway; recitation, Miss Rossiter; solo, Miss Rogers; solo, Miss Anna Cockrill.

Addresses were given by Mrs. G. B. Sage and Mrs. McPherson, president of the United Mothers' Club. The programme was greatly appreciated and the thanks of the club extended to those taking part.

CZAR AND KAISER MEET

Wilhelm and Nicholas Entertain One Another Aboard Yachts.

Helsingfors, June 18.—The German Imperial yacht Hohenzollern, with the Russian Emperor aboard, met the Russian squadron at 9:41 o'clock yesterday morning. The czar immediately boarded the Hohenzollern and exchanged greetings with the Kaiser. The ships were dressed in high style for the occasion. The customary salutes were fired.

Later Wilhelm went aboard the Standart and remained until about 5:30 p.m. Lunch was served at 1 o'clock and tea at 5. The German Emperor's party included Herr von Schoen, secretary of foreign affairs; Count von Pourtales, the German ambassador to Russia; and Lieut. von Plessen. The Russian Emperor and Empress were attended by Premier Stolypin and Foreign Minister Iswolsky.

The meeting of the monarchs was most cordial. Later Emperor Nicholas made costly presents to Gen. von Plessen and Count zu Eulenberg, and conferred the Order of St. Anna on Herr von Schoen and the other members of the suite.

The German Emperor gave a dinner in the evening for the Kaiser, the Hohenzollern, his guests including the Russian Emperor and Empress and their respective suites. Beautiful summer weather prevails.

WIFE GETS ONE YEAR

Husband Formerly Sentenced to Five Years for Death of Man.

Stratford, Ont., June 18.—Mrs. Aloisus Guerin, whose husband was found guilty of manslaughter at the spring assizes, and sentenced to five years in Kingston Penitentiary, was yesterday sentenced to one year in the Mercer Reformatory. She was taken into custody by the police at the time of her arrest, three months ago, when the body of the late Alexander Sutherland was found on his premises.

LONDON CAMP DRAWS TO CLOSE

the closing of the canteen and the order making effect in the museum, the basis of efficiency. Both these features have been entirely new in the history of the training camps in Canada, and the authorities are proud of their expectations have been fully justified. It is admitted on all hands that there has never been a more orderly camp in London. During the twelve days that the men have been under canvas not a single one has appeared in the police court. This is a record of which both the militia department and the men themselves may well be proud.

Perfect Order.

Perfect order has prevailed throughout, and among the thousands who have visited the camp, its neatness and cleanliness have been the subject of general comment. The arrangements for taking care of the men could not have been better, and notwithstanding that during the twelve days that the men have been under canvas not a single one has appeared in the police court. This is a record of which both the militia department and the men themselves may well be proud.

Efficiency Pay.

In regard to the efficiency pay order the authorities are both surprised and gratified to note the very marked improvement in the camp. The men have been more than 30 per cent of the men have qualified for first class efficiency pay, and throughout they have shown the keen interest in the instruction they were receiving. In former years it was not unusual for more than 14 to 20 per cent of the men to qualify for first class efficiency pay.

Good Marksmen Wanted.

The whole aim of the militia department was to make Canadian marksmen second to none, and the results show that they are apparently on the right path. One thing that has been universally regretted by the militia instructors at camp this year was that they could not have more time with the men. Many of them, it is believed, would turn out excellent shots if they had a little instruction, but owing to the large number of men that had to be handled it was impossible for them to secure more than a rudimentary course.

Walkerton Camp.

Walkerton camp closes tomorrow, also, and the following district camps will be in progress. Woodstock lasting from June 15 to 26, Elora from June 22 to July 3, and the militia camp at Woodstock from June 21 to July 2. These camps will be ordered entirely from local headquarters and the inspection of them will be made by Col. Peters.

Dispute Settled.

The matter of dispute over the allowance has been settled by an order from Ottawa instructing Col. Peters to call for tenders for the necessary supplies. At first it was planned to allow the men the regulation 25 cents per day for each man and 35 cents per day for each horse. The officers of the various regiments, however, made the most strenuous objection, stating that owing to the high prices which prevail, they were absolutely unable to get the food and forage required for the money allowed them, and some even threatened not to take their men into camp at all unless some different arrangements were made. Col. Peters took the matter up at once with the militia department at Ottawa, and the settlement was arranged.

MRS. RUIZ "THE ALIBI" FOR VANDERBILT

She Was Used to Conceal a Real Lover Affair With Woman of His Own
Set.

Paris, June 17.—The New York American says: "Mme. Ruiz was the second woman who killed herself within a year or so for love of Alfred Vanderbilt."

"She, after all, was only a 'blind' behind which he conducted his real love affair—with the first woman who killed herself, a young matron of a splendid New York family."

These statements, part of a story that is absolutely startling, were made here today by an American society woman, who was commenting upon the suicide in London of the pretty divorcee, who shot herself after the young millionaire allowed his attentions to her to grow lax.

The society woman, whose home is in New York, and who is a close personal friend of the former Mrs. Alfred Vanderbilt, declares that what she told is no secret to members of the Vanderbilt set in New York, although "outsiders" have not been aware of it.

The Penalty of Love.
"If a woman loves Alfred Vanderbilt," she said, "she might as well make up her mind to take poison or blow her brains out! Why, there isn't a woman in the younger set in New York who doesn't believe that he has the evil eye!"

"Two women have killed themselves for him already, and we are all asking each other which one will be the next."

"The New York woman then explained her declaration that Mr. Vanderbilt's affair with Mme. Ruiz was only a 'blind.'"

"Poor little Ruiz!" she said. "She was merely a pawn in the game of love. All the women in Alfred Vanderbilt's set knew that and nicknamed Ruiz accordingly. They called her 'The Alibi.'"

"The only woman with whom he ever was really in love was a young matron prominent in New York. But he was married, and so was this woman, and their meetings might have caused unpleasant comment."

Induced Her To Marry.
"Therefore this girl who killed herself in London was induced to pose as his innamorata. That was even before she became Mme. Ruiz—when she was simply a pretty and popular member of the upper 'Pendorion' set."

"Her marriage—she didn't want to wed—was due to the insistence of young Mr. Vanderbilt. Soon thereafter she began to pose as his favorite, and he allowed his association with her to become known. She was to accept his visits, to ride and drive his horses and to accompany him to midnight suppers."

"In all order that whatever scandal and obloquy might arise would be placed upon her and not upon the other woman."

"She was 'The Alibi,' literally—the living alibi."

"Nearly everyone in society was deceived by this ruse. They laughed at 'Alibi's' love affair. But there was one who was not fooled for a moment."

"That was his wife, Elsie French Vanderbilt. She knew of his devotion to the other woman—the woman in her own class—and with her characteristic courage went to the other woman and told her she knew."

"Within a few days the other woman killed herself."

Mrs. Vanderbilt's Suit.
"Her death was followed—not too closely to arouse any suspicion—by Mrs. Vanderbilt's successful suit for divorce."

"Alfred Vanderbilt, with the woman he loved dead by her own hand, and his wife separated from him, for a short time maintained his association with Mme. Ruiz. But since he had no further use for an 'alibi' this association soon passed. Then, in London, came his final neglect."

"I believe," the narrator said in conclusion, "that Mme. Ruiz killed herself partly because of this neglect and partly because she realized that her gay midnight career in the cosmopolitan smart set of London had destroyed all her chances of ever winning an honest love."

CORRESPONDENCE.

An Explanation.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:
Dear Sir—An impression has gone abroad, inadvertently, I think, that when Miss Jean C. Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Williams, became the bride of William J. Batten, the ceremony took place under most peculiar circumstances, the guests numbering about 30. Rev. J. J. Paterson, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, officiated. The interior of the Williams residence was beautifully decorated in pink, white and green, roses and smilax being used generously. The marriage ceremony was performed in the parlor before a bank of ferns and palms. As the wedding march was played by Mrs. John Corrick, the bride party entered the parlor, the bride being attended by her father by whom she was given away. The contracting parties took their seats and the marriage rites were observed. The bride and groom were attended. After good wishes and congratulations had been expressed a wedding collation was served, at the conclusion of which Mr. and Mrs. Batten left on a honeymoon trip to Cleveland, Buffalo and other cities, accompanied by the good wishes of a host of friends.

CHAMBERLAIN—PHELPS.
At North Bay on Wednesday evening Miss Clara May Phelps, daughter of Mr. N. Phelps, was married to Mr. Abel W. Chamberlain, of the same place. The attendants were Miss Muriel Draper, of London, Ont., and Mr. M. Bogart, of North Bay. Rev. R. N. Carkner officiated. The bride was given away by her father.

MUNSON—MARTIN.
The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Martin, Second Line, South Adelaide, was the scene of a pretty wedding, when their daughter, Miss Carrie, was united in marriage to Mr. Bert Munson, of Westfield, N. Y. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. K. Birks, of London, in the presence of guests from Strathroy, Detroit, Westfield, N. Y.,

Moyer, in the presence of fifty guests. The young couple were unattended, and the bride was given away by her father, while the wedding march was played by Miss Minnie B. Wilson, sister of the bride.

The bride looked charming in a dainty white silk mulle empire gown and carried a bouquet of cream roses. The bouquet carried by the pianist was of pink carnations.

The house was beautifully decorated with pink and white flowers, white carnations, sweet peas, and lily of the valley. The presents were very numerous and valuable, including a check from the bride's father. The groom's present to the bride was a check, and to the pianist a handsome pin.

A dainty wedding breakfast was served by Bond, the caterer. The bride's going-away gown was tulle and chiffon, with hat to match. After a short honeymoon, the happy couple will be at home at 59 Bruce street, London.

Little Laura and Eddie Brown, cousins of the groom, were ringbearers. The bride's travelling suit was grey, with old rose hat. AN ANNOUNCEMENT

Having dissolved partnership of the firm, Tamlin & Scott, veterinary surgeons, and also the manufacturer of Doctor Scott's renowned veterinary preparations, that needs no comment, as they have proven by analysis to be the greatest preparations for what they are recommended, on the market in Canada, and will still be manufactured under the proprietor's name of Dr. J. L. Scott & Co., and handled by my representatives, I, therefore, will take charge of my office and devote my time to my profession.

I may say, for the benefit of the public, that I have passed through the experimental stage of my profession. After leaving my native city of London some years ago for the State of Wisconsin, and after four years of practice in that state, I enjoyed the confidence of the leading stockmen, along with the representatives of my profession, besides the recommendation of the governor, endorsed by the Senate of Parliament, appointing me to the highest honor the state could bestow, that of state surgeon of the State of Wisconsin. The state appropriated $1,000 a year to be used for experimental purposes for the advancement of the profession. During my experience, which falls to few, I have come in contact with practically every form of disease that has been known in North America. I have tested in all about 5,000 head of cattle for tuberculosis, both here and in the United States. I have treated some 3,000 head of dairy cows for contagious abortion, of which some of our Canadian farmers around the vicinity of London can vouch for its worth. I was called by the Warrens Brothers, of the Laurel Hill Stock Farm, to examine the most expensive team that was ever sold out of the state to the martyred President McKinley. I have been called to attend the noted race stations, Badger Boy, Badger Sprague, and other horses valued by the owners at $10,000. I was appointed the examiner for the Illinois State Live Stock Insurance Company for Wisconsin. I have been called to Chicago by the officials of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway Company to examine valuable race horses that were injured in transit and to report on their condition. I have been called professionally into the State of Michigan, and also the State of Minnesota, and 800 miles as far west as North Dakota. I also was elected president of the State Veterinary Association of Wisconsin.

I give this to the public as the standing I have enjoyed in my profession. The last three years I could only devote part of my time to it, for the reason I have been introducing my preparations on the market in Canada. My office and factory is located at 348 Talbot street, between King and York. Phone number of residence, Holmuth avenue, is 2998, and office phone 2950. As I had to have new phone numbers, and was too late for the last issue of phone book, my number will always be given you on request to central. Respectfully,

DR. J. L. SCOTT

Dockstader's Minstrels Tonight.

House this evening. Mr. Dockstader's minstrel show is staged in a setting worthy of a high-class comic opera, to begin with. The performance opens in the club rooms of the Possum Hunt Club, with the president of that organization replacing the interlocutor, and the staid and serious usual minstrel functions of the comedy end men. The costuming is said to be in keeping with the stage setting. And after the usual form of opening a rather unique minstrel plot is worked out, hinged about a "Welsh and "Sweet Moments at Home." Long on comedians and strong in vocalists is Mr. Dockstader's company. In the first classification are Neil O'Brien, Eddie Master and Al Johnson, who, with Dockstader himself, constitute a notable quartette of funmakers. Rees V. Prosser, William H. Thompson, Joe McAllum and Edward Van Roy are vocalists per excellence. Mr. Prosser, an old local favorite, will render "There Is No Love Like Mine" worked out, hinged about a "Welsh and "Sweet Moments at Home." Mr. Thompson is slated for the two beautiful ballads, "Years, Years, Years," and "Rose, Red Rose." Mr. McAllum the tenor, will contribute the old favorite, "When You and I Were Young, Maggie."
