BRITISH CABINET LOSES ON HOME RULE CLAUSE BY A SNAP DIVISION

Vote Against Cabinet 228 to 206 in Committee on Section To Give Control of Costoms to Irish Parliament.

ASQUITH CONSIDERING SITUATION BUT IS NOT LIKELY TO RESIGN

[Canadian Press.]

London, Nov. 11.—The Cabinet was defeated today by a vote of 228 against 206 in the committee on the home rule bill. A motion by Premier Asquith for consideration of the bill was adjourned.

There has been considerable opposition by members on the Ministerial side of the House of Commons to the financial provisions of the home rule bill. Some seventy Liberal members have given voice to their objection to the Irish Parliament being given control of the customs, as they argue that such control would enable the Irish Parliament to introduce protection.

The followers of William O'Brien only this morning announced their intention of withdrawing from the House during the proceedings of the committee on the finance clauses of the bill.

The Government is considering its position in view of the adverse vote in committee. The cabinet does not necessarily have to resign, and is unlikely to do so in face of the international crisis.

The defeat was sustained on an amendment proposed by the Unionists to a financial clause of the home rule bill while it was under discussion in committee of the House.

THREE ALTERNATIVES.

The Government is now faced with three alternatives. The cabinet can resign, it can drop the home rule bill, or it can bring forward a motion to recommit the bill and obtain the opinion of the full House on the vote which was taken today after it has given due notice of its intention to do so.

The general opinion is that the Government will move for the recommital of the bill, and will not resign in view of the fact that the division was unexpected, and occurred on Monday, when many of the supporters of the Government had not returned from their week-end vacations.

Herbert Samuel, the Postmaster-General, in opposing Sir Frederick Banbury's amendment to the home rule bill, said it would mean that the total sum payable to Ireland would be limited to $12,500,000 a year. The revenue from Irish taxation would be $47,000,000, estimated on the present basis of Irish revenue, and the amendment would mean that the sum handed back to Ireland would be $12,500,000 for services which cost $30,000,000

UNIONISTS CHEER.

When the result of the vote was announced, the Unionists present cheered wildly.

Premier Asquith, when he came in, quietly announced that the sitting would be adjourned.

Snap divisions during the meetings of committees of the House of Commons are not unusual, although this is the first experience of the kind of the present Government. Arthur J. Balfour, when he was Premier, suffered in this way several times during his last Parliament.

RUSSIA MAY LAUNCH WAR IF THE BULGAR ARMIES ENTER SULTAN'S CAPITAL

Europe Entering Most Critical Week Since War Began, and There Are Grave Fears of General Struggle.

London, Nov. 11 .- Europe is facing one of the most critical weeks in her history. It may end in a war, in which the whole of Europe will be involved or it may be remembered as a week in which diplomacy succeeded in solving problems that appeared insolvable to many.

THE DANGER POINT. The Bulgarian army is on the point of entering Constantinople, and this will be resented by Russia. At the same time the Turkish capital is threatened with massacre from within. On the other side of the Balkan peninsula there is an acute conflict between the aims of Austria-Hungary and Servia, which if it is not arranged might start a general European outbreak,

ONE HOPEFUL SIGN. The most hopeful sign at the present moment is the fact that moderating influences are being brought to bear by Germany, the close ally of Austria-Hungary and by Bulgaria, the comrade in arms of Servia. Both of these nations are now exerting themselves to avert a conflict.

Dr. S. Daneff, speaker of the Bulgarian chamber of deputies, and one of the most influential politicians in Bulgaria, after audiences with his sovereign, King Ferdinand, King Peter of Servia, and with the Servian premier, is now in Budapest, where the aged Austrian emperor, Francis Joseph, his foreign minister, his minister of war, and his chief of staff are gathered. It is believed that Dr. Daneff is the bearer of important proposals in regard to Servia's claims, and that these definite suggestions for which Austria has been waiting are now under consideration ALBANIA'S INTEGRITY.

The views of Austria-Hungary concerning the future of European Turkey are pretty well known to include access to eastern markets, the integrity of Albania, including the Adriatic coast of that country and compensation for Roumania, which has always claimed that when Bulgarian territory is extended her borders should likewise spread.

SPARE THE SHIPS OF PEACE.

The movement in Great Britain toward an entente cordiale with Ger many has been given a powerful impetus by the letter of Sir John Brunner, president of the National Liberal Federation, urging the Liberal Asse ciations of Great Britain to bring pressure on the Government to that end. He recommended the following resolutions for adoption:

That this meeting, while heartily desiring a continuance of the friend. relations which have been established with France, urge the Government to make it clear that no understanding or intention is thereby implied as to military or naval action against any other power, and further expresses a strong opinion that equally friendly relations upon a similar footing ought to be established with Germany. That this meeting urges His Ma jesty's Government to enter into international treaties with the United States and other powers for the purpose of securing all peaceful shipping and merchandise from capture or destruction in time of war. Meetings of Liberal Associations in all parts of the country are fervently responding. Their action will have a soothing effect in Germany, and may speedily move the British Government to reconsider its attitude toward the question raised in the second resolution. At the last Hague convention the United States proposed that belligerents should respect the enemy's flag when it covered peaceful shipping. Under such an international law, if Great Britain were at war with any country, British merchant ships, unless carrying munitions of war, would be everywhere secure from capture, and could enter and leave British portsor Canadian ports-unmolested. would destroy the fear that Britain her navy lost control of the seas.

The British Government refused to accept the proposal. On the other hand, the German Government accepted it. Great Britain threw away an opportunity of proving to Germany that the objects of the British navy are purely defensive. A large body of opinion in Great Britain was deeply mertified, including leading men of all parties, among them F. E. Smith, the Unionist lieutenant. The Government had yielded to the professional views of the admiralty, to the theory that the overwhelming superfority of British naval strength should be used to the uttermost, by crippling or destroying the enemy's ocean commerce. But this is a two-edged sword. Great Britain has at any given time more merchant marine on the ocean than any other power-than any other three or four powers-and she would have proportionately more to lose in war under the present rules. Not than any other power upon imports, and thus more vulnerable if food and raw materials are contraband of war. The exemption of peaceful shipping would agree with the principles of civilized warfare on land. An army true In east London there is every prospays for all the provisions it seizes in Dect of considerable distress, largely due an enemy's country, and makes no attempt to starve non-combatants. ASQUITH'S REASSURING WORDS. Premier Asquith's speech at the Guildhall should take some of the fever out of the Balkan war dispatches. "The great powers," he said, "are working together with a closeness of touch and a frankness and freedom of communication and discussion which are remarkable and which may seem almost unintelligible to those who believe that because for certain purposes the powers have been and are ranged in different groups, they must therefore, in a time of European crisis, be arrayed in opposition camps." This reassuring statement was clinched by the declaration that the general opinion of Europe was unanimous upon one thing-that "the victors are not to them so dear." The sensation-mongers have been predicting war between the Triple Alliance-Germany, Austria and Italyand the Triple Entente-Great Britain, France and Russia-over the division of the spoils. It is true there is an ethnic affinity between Russia and the Balkan peoples, and that Russia is also jealous of Austrian aggrandizment in the peninsula. But there are millions of Slavs in the Austrian Empire who sympathize with their Balkan brethren. They could not be disregarded by the Austrian Government if the latter were tempted to forcibly restrain the Balkan States from claimng the rewards of war. Servia may be foiled in her ambition for an Adriatic exaggeration, but there are proposals port, by the erection of Albania into an autonomous state, perhaps with an Italian king or prince, but there is strongholds on a few leading corners pavers, and it is not an over-statement plenty of room to compensate her in to say that if this sum were voted the Macedonia. For this last year I have been troubled very much with nasty sick headaches, and a weak aching back which caused me much misery, for I could not work and had no ambition for anything. My kidneys were very badly out of order, and kept me from sleeping at nights. I tried many kinds of pills and medicines, but it seemed almost in vain. I began to give up in despair of ever being well and strong again, when a kind neighbor advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, which did, and am thankful for the relief obtained from them, for now I am never troubled with a sore back or sick headaches. PARIS DESIGNERS ARE TRYING OUT ALL SORTS OF IDEAS ... SO TAKE YOUR CHOICE OF THE TIGHT OR THE FULL SKIRT

Paris, Nov. 9.—In the many years I have been coming to Paris I have never known the minds of the great designers to be so unsettled. They are trying all sorts of ideas on the public.

The beautiful straight lines are dying hard, but the French manufacturers have been finding so much fault with designers that only use a little cloth that the big fashion houses are trying to help them out.

By the way, did you ever notice how many things we women are blamed for that are not our faults at all? We are always censured more or less politely for the vagaries of fashion when it is a commercial proposition entirely.

Our likes and dislikes have nothing to do with it. The manufacturer and the merchant decide what we shall wear.

I am sending you two illustrations which will show just why you can wear any old thing you wish this year, and if you carry it off well, you will be strictly in style.

The first one is a modern notion of a Greek idea and its simplicity and grace appeal to me much more than the fussyness of the other. This gown is for ceremonious occasions, and, notwithstanding its artistic merit, it could be made by the amateur dressmaker.

Two kinds of material are used-crepe meteor and satin charmeuse of a soft mother-of-pearl

The body of the gown is of the crepe meteor, with the band trimming of the charmeuse in the same shade, the difference in materials making a pleasing variety. Although this gown has horizontal trimming, it suggests height. The scalloped front is a graceful touch, and the long undersleeves are sure to be a design that will be worn all winter. The triangular motif of gray velvet beaded with steel beads is the only emphatic bit of garniture on the whole gown. This style of costume has the approval of Poiret, Louise, Paguin and Doucet.

The other picture shows the other extreme, a design which seems to be approved by Worth, Loblet, Seurs and many other Paris houses. The tightly-belted waist, which makes decided curves, and the full skirt will probably please many women by its quaintness, but one will not find it as comfortable as the gown with the large waist and the narrow skirt. The design is one put out by Bechel-David, and it shows how the Paris designers are trying the taste of their patrons. The dress is of stone gray marquisette laid over a patterned foulard in dull bluish-violet. The satin trimmings and the deep satin "hem" also have a

Between these two extremes of fashion there are all the steps. So you see that this is to be a season of transition with the odds in favor of the full skirt and what is called the normal belt line for our spring clothes. Don't you dread it? I do!

Ottawa Back Division Stronger.

The Ottawa back division was much stronger than a week ago. Eddie Gerard lasted the distance, and he certainly made a vast difference. His dodging end run in the first quarter gave Ottawa their one touch, and it was very neatly done. Both Gerard and Williams booted well, for they punted high so that their wings had plenty of time to get up. Their returning of punts was a feature, for they could get them away at any angle. The three men on the back worked their passing nicely in running back the ball, and did not trust to their individual prowess as did the Argo backs. Williams was brilliant at times, but made bad errors. He was indirectly responsible for the Argos' second touch. The Oarsmen were on the defensive in the last quarter, and punted to mid-field. Robertson tried a long pass to Williams, who let it get away from him, and Ted Whale secured. The Argos is and he accordingly was able to pull off longer runs, the best being those in which he carried the ball out to save a rouge. In the third quarter he went, on one occasion, right to quarter way. Lawson got galloping several times, and that is when he wears down the opposing tacklers. Toronto, Nov. 11.—The Argonauts are once more champions of the Interprovincial. They won that title on Saturday at Rosedale, when they rolled up a score of 23 to 11 against the Rough Riders of Ottawa. Poor old Ottawas! Nine days ago they were "just sixty minutes from a championship," or so they said, and now they have a whole year or more to bridge. The final game served as a reply to those people in the capital who kept declaring that hard luck figured in the defeat of a week ago.

There was no doubt on Saturday that the better team won, for the Oarsmen were superior to their opponents in every department, except possibly in kicking. Clark was inclined to be just a little erratic in his booting, but his punts never went astray at critical moments. Whenhed dig get a good one away it did travel, sometimes sailing over the heads of the Ottawa backs. Occasionally he got over an example of the spirals that were a feature of his work in Ottawa, and whenhis hard ones started bouncing, the Ottawa backs seemed to find them particularly hard to handle.

It was in working the on-side kicks that the Argonauts shone. They gathered in nearly every one that they tried, and made long gains with them. The fleet-footed and sure-handed O'Connor was the man who made this variety of play so valuable. He got Argos' last touch when Dissette kicked a neat, short one from behind the scrimmage, and it grabbed it

N.H.A. TEAMS WILL PLAY WITH SIX MEN

Motion to Restore Seven-Men Teams Was Voted Down at the Annual Meeting.

A SCHEDULE DRAWN UP

Torontos and Tecumsehs Added to Or ganization, Making a Six-Club League.

Montreal, Nov. 10 .- The annual meet ing of the National Hockey Association was held here Saturday afternoon. Probably the most important change asked for was the return to the seven-man team. Four of the six clubs voted in favor of retaining the six-man team, viz., Canadians, Wanderers, Quebec and Torontos. Those to vote for the return to the seven-man team were Tecumseh and Ottawa.

and Ottawa.

President Quinn was empowered to draft a number of proposed changes to the playing rules of the game. The proposition to form a professional hockey commission was discussed, and it was the unanimous opinion of the delegates that it would benefit hockey.

T. Emmett Quinn, who has successfully filled the position of President for the past two winters, was re-elected with the following directors: Senator Choquette, Quebec: H. R. Bisailion, Canadiens, and W. J. Bellingham, Tecumsehs.

The schedule was adopted, which shows the season is to start in Montreal and the season is to start in Montreal and Toronto on Saturday, Dec. 28, while the Wanderers and Canadiens were given permission to play an exhibition game at the Arena, Toronto, on Saturday, Dec. The schedule: Saturday, Dec. 28—Ottawa at Quebec, Wanderers at Tecumsehs, Toronto at Canadiens.

Women Are Wearing Men's Sovereign Brand Overcoats

Many stylish women have discovered all of a sudden that our Sovereign Brand Coats for young men are just the thing for women. They wear them for driving—for automobiling—for the street—for any outdoor use-they like the luxury of many pockets. The styles are distinctly men's styles nothing feminine about them. Such fabrics, linings, trimmings, are uncommon in women's clothes—the talloring is the best in Canada—the prices, about half what women usually pay for tailored garments. If they're not good, we'll make them good, for nothing.

Mad Pimples on Face And Back Was Literally Covered With Them.

Bad blood is the direct cause of pimples breaking out on the face and body, and it is impossible to get rid of them unless you cleanse the blood of all its impurities.

Burdock Blood Bitters is without a doubt, the very best medicine for this purpose.

This old and reliable remedy has been used for over thirty-five years, and has a reputation unequalled by any other for purifying the blood.

Mr. Peter La Pierre, Assistant Postmaster, Touchwood Hills, Sask., writest "The fall before last, I was very much troubled with pimples on my face and back. My back was literally covered with them, and I could not lie on it at night, they were so painful. One day my sister advised me to use Burdock Blood Bitters, so I got two bottles, and before I had taken all the first one, the pimples had nearly disappeared, and now I am completely cured."

The Baseball Players' Fraternity, promoted by Attorney Dave L. Fultz, of New York, an ex-player, is destined to become a power in baseball. It will be the medium through which players deal with club owners. This interview, secured from President Fultz by The Advertiser correspondent, deals squarely with the canker of baseball - the illegal, unfair contract which makes ball players thattels, to be disposed of as the owner pleases.-Editor

"The big idea back of the Baseball Players' Fraternity," said President Dave L. Fultz, "is to secure justice for players and eliminate the high-handed methods of the club owners.

"When a player signs a contract he becomes the sole property of the club. He can be sold, traded or released at the owner's will. The owner is bound to nothing the player is tied, hand and foot "The fraternity will institute civil suits to compel magnates to live up to the contracts they have broken. "The case of John W. Knight is an example. Knight, in 1911, signed a three-year contract with the New York Americans for $4,000 a year. The contract, like every other one, contained a clause stating the club could, upon ten day's notice, terminate its agreement. ### America Hails New Heavyweight Champion, Al Palzer

Al Palzer, the New Champion, in Action.

[The heavyweight pugilistic situation is peculiar. Although Jack Johnson wo the championship, he will never again be permitted to fight. story echoes the sentiment of fight fans everywhere.—Editor.]

Jack Johnson has eliminated himself from the prize ring He has severed his connection with boxing in this country. Australia, England No self-respecting boxer, white or black, will meet Johnson for his now empty title. Indeed, no boxer need meet Johnson to become world's champion, because as a prize ring attractor of the public's money, Jack Johnson no longer exists.

The promoter staging Johnson would sign a voluntary bankruptcy petition. He would be shunned by men who support boxing. No decent man would put up a cent to see him fight anybody.

Six weeks ago this negro scornfully refused to box for less than $30,000. Before his exposure, Johnson had signed a contract for $50,000 to fight Langford and McVey in Australia. Hugh McIntosh cancelled this when Johnson's disgraceful deeds became public.

The ring has been guilty of many a shady, even criminal transaction, but it is refreshing to note the unanimity with which it bars Johnson.

It is a big, white mark to the credit of our dollar-mad sporting men that they unify in resenting the aspersion cast upon American women by Johnson.

So, with Johnson out, there are plenty of decent heavyweights in the world. Bombadier Wells, champion of England, is one. Al Palzer, conqueror of Wells.

Born, Ossian, Ia., 1890. Height,

If Wells weighed 20 pounds more he would be the peer of any boxer. He has everything a champion needs save weight properly distributed. properly distributed.

Today, the heavyweight title seems to rest, by right of physical superiority, upon the shoulders of the corn-fed giant.

Palzer is the logical champion. He is Paizer is the logical champion. He is a youngster, game and willing. He will never be a Jim Corbett, Bob Fitzsimmons or Kid McCoy, but there is no reason why he should not be the reincarnation of Terry McGovern and Battling Nelson. He is a giant in the bright flush of youth. A clean-living, virile, man-mountain, weighing 220 pounds, with six feet three inches of dynamic activity and force.

Secretary Livingstone, of the O. R. F. U., has submitted the following: "The report published of Friday night's executive meeting of the O. R. F. U. in the Alert matter has created a false impression which I should like to have removed.

A dispatch from Montreal last night stated that McGill would absolutely refuse to toss for the M. A. A. A grounds, Montreal, or Rosedale, Toronto Torontos and Alerts will likely piay their game this Saturday at the Varsity Stadium, owing to Rosedale being en-gaged by soccer people.

The O. R. F. U. teams this year have demonstrated that they are playing good rugby by their exhibition games with the Inter-collegiate teams. First Alerts the Inter-collegiate teams. First Alerts beat Queen's in Kingston, and then Torontos tied Ottawa College in Ottawa. Now, Parkdale come along and give McGill a close game Saturdly, so close in fact, that McGill only won out in the last few minutes. Parkdale were minus Hugh Gall and several of their wing players. Egan, Moore and "Babe" Burkart, of the Torontos, helped them out on the line, and the latter returned with a smashed nose.

Too much praise cannot be given to Jack O'Connor, the Argonaut half-back. His work on Saturday was of the gittedge kind, and but for his great playing the score would not have been so large. Gifted with a sure pair of hands and lots of speed, he and Dissette pulled off the onside kick three or four times for big gains. O'Connor's catch of Dissette's kick in the third quarter that resulted in a try being not only judged to a nicety, but was caught perfectly.

The Cadets wer bacffled by the open field play of the redskins, and great gains were made by Thorpe and Arcassa through the Army tackles and around the ends.

PACIFIC COAST LEACUE THROWS DOWN GAUNTLET

[Canadian Press.]

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 11 .- "The Pacific Hockey Association will go ahead with preparations to open the season here on Dec. 12, regardless of any action that the eastern association may take towards organizing a commission," declared Frank Patrick, manager of the Vancouver team, following the receipt of news that the N. H. A. had failed to take definite action.

Will Go Ahead and Prepare

For Opening of Season,

Says Patrick.

"The easterners can open to us, and until they do there will be no commission. I signed several eastern stars, and they will be with us until the season opens. I have acted absolutely fair in the matter, and we are prepared to do business, but until such time as the N. H. A. comes to us with a reasonable suggestion we will not bother about a commission." Regarding Lichtenhein's letter, now en route, Patrick stated he had nothing to fear from the Wanderer boss.

"He has our reply to his previous letter, and I think that explained the situation. I dare him to publish our reply in full in the eastern papers. I do not want Johnson back. Lichtenhein may get a surprise when he learns that we have several eastern stars booked for the west."

MR. GRANT WILL

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

(BY LOUIS TRACY.)

As a matter of fact, under Barth's guidance, a blind cripple could have surmounted the first kilometre of the Fornoglacler. The track lay close to the left bank of the moraine. It curved slightly to the right, and soon the equisite panorama of Monte Rosey, the Cima di Rosso, Monte Sissone, Piz Torone and the Castello group opened up before the Cimbers. Helen was enchanted. Twice ghe half turned to address some question to Bower; but on each occasion shappened to catch him in the act of swallowing some brandy from a flask. Governed by an unaccountable timidity, she pretended not to notice his actions, and diverted her words to Barth, who told herthe hand on the peaks and pointed to the junctions of minor ice fields with the main artery of the Forno.

Bower did not utter a syllable until they struck out toward the centre of the glacler. A crevasse some ten feet in width, and seemingly hundreds of feet deep, barred the way, but a bridge-of ice, covered with snow, offered safe transit. The snow carpet showed that a number of climbers had passed quite recently in both directions. Even Helen, somewhat arch was as well recognized by Alpinists as Waterloo bridge is known to dwellers on the south side of the Thames.

"Now, Miss Wynton, you should experience your first real thrill," said Bower, and structure merely because it is the genuine article, the first and strongest of a series. Yet here you cross the Rubicon. A mixture of metaphors is allowable in high altitudes, you know."

Helen, almost startled at first by the maffected naturalness of his words, was sufficiently and crossed, but the maffected naturalness of his words, was sufficiently and crossed, but the maffected naturalness of his words, was sufficiently and crossed, but the maffected naturalness of his words, was sufficiently and crossed, but the maffected naturalness of his words, was sufficiently and crossed, but the maffected naturalness of his words, was sufficiently and crossed, but the maffected naturalness of his words, was sufficiently and crossed,

Helen, almost startled at first by the unaffected naturalness of his words, was unfeignedly relieved at finding him restored to the normal. Usually his supply of light-hearted badinage was unceasing. He knew exactly when and how to season it with more serious statements. It is this safely. They followed. As Helen gained the further side she heard Bowen's snow; like others they had crossed, but this was a slender structure, and the leader stabbed it viciously with the butt of his axe before he ventured on it. The tare quality that makes tolerable a long the further side she heard Bower's day's solitude a deux.

"U am not Caesar's wife," she replied; "A"
"but for the credit of womankind in general I shall act as though I was above said. eral I shall act as though I was above suspicion—of nervousness."

She did not look round. Barth was moving quickly, and she had no desire to burden him with a drag on the rope. When she was in the centre of the narrow causeway, a snow cornice in the lip of the narrow causeway, a snow cornice in the lip of the narrow causeway as now cornice in the lip of the narrow the narrow that the tentral transfer and the lip of the narrow that the tentral transfer and the lip of the narrow was soon anneared. The indent brought her heart into her mouth it served as a reminder that this solid fee river was really in a state of constant change and movement.

Bower laughed, with all his customary gayety of manner. "That came at a dramatic moment," he said. "Too bad it could not let you pass without giving you a quake!"

"I am not a bit afraid."

"Ah, but I can read your thoughts. There is a bond of sympathy between us."

"Hemp is a non-conductor."

"You are willfully misunderstanding me," he retorted.

"No. I honestly believed you felt the rope quiver a little."

"Alas! it is the atmosphere. My compiments fall on idle ears."

Barth interrupted this play of harmless chaif by jerking some remark over his shoulder. "Looks like a guxe," he said gruffly.

"Tit's a guxe, right enough," chimed in Karl, whe had recovered his power of speech. "That is why the boy was blowing his horn—to show he was bringing the cattle home."

And What is of Greater Interest, Stuart's Dyspensia Tablets Enable the Stomach to Digest Whatever Is Eaten.

We all like to see the way healthy children devour their meals. Would we could all do the same! Eating ought to be a delight. It is one of life's chief enjoyments. People who cannot relish a good meal are apt to fall into those ill-temperad moods from which they view the world mean are apt to fall into those ill-tempered moods from which they view the world as a sorry place to live in. So let us learn to employ the best means of harmonizing our existence and thus extract from our daily grind all the pleasure there is to be had. This we can do by keeping our stomachs in prime, active working order.

CLERGYMAN KILLED BY VICIOUS HORSE

Kick From a Fractious Mare Causes Instant Death of Rev. T.R. Shearer, of Camlachie.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Camlachie, Ont., Nov. 11.-Rev. T. R. Shearer, who for the past two years has had charge of the Presbyterian Church at this village, was instantly killed in his own stable yard this morning, when he was kicked in the back of the head by a fractious mare.

Mr. Shearer entered the stable alone, and, placing a halter on the animal's head, led it into the yard. The mare suddenly swung about, and, slipping free from the halter, wheeled and kicked viciously at the clergyman.

Members of his family, who witnessed the tragedy from his residence rushed to his assistance, but life was extinct before their arrival. Rev. Mr. Shearer came to Cam-lachie from Melbourne two years ago, and had since made very many friends among the people of this district. His home was in Ottawa, where he was born nearly fifty years ago. His wife, four daughters and one son survive. He has a brother in Ottawa, and another in Calgary, Alta.

Mr. Shearer succeeded Rev. John Bailey, when the latter became field secretary of the Dominion Alliance, with headquarters at Toronto.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been made, but it is possible that the remains will be taken to Ottawa.

HAY, OATS, LIVE HOGS

These Formed the Only Offerings or the Market Today.

The only offerings on the market today were hay, oats and live hogs. The demand for hay and oats was brisk, but the supply was large enough to satisfy the buyers for the day. Hay was quoted at prices ranging from $14.00 to $16.50 per ton, with the majority of the sales being made at $16.00. Oats were sold at the same price that prevailed during the latter part of last week, $1.10 to $1.20 per

The shipment of live hogs today was not quite as large as usual, although the price per cwt. was 10 cents higher f last week's shipment, being $7.75 per cwt.

Wall Street, Noon.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The stock market gave a fairly good account of itself today, even though it received scant encouragement from abroad, where American can securities showed more losses than gains. Initial prices indicated a degree of irregularity, but this condition finally gave way to an advance of a point or better in the more active issues. Steel was in steady demand as a result of its remarkable October statement, and various specialties scored material gains.
rading was very light, however, and with the approach of noon it fell away altogether, in anticipation of the handing down of some important supreme court decisions. Bonds were easy.

The council had not initiated any roads, owing to the fact that no provision was made for caring for storm water. Additional pavements meant that the storm water was to be turned into the sanitary sewer, now badly overloaded. In the spring the council decided that no permanent work would be undertaken until the opographical map was prepared showing where the storm water was to be disposed of.

LIKE THE CONCERTS BUT WILL NOT PAY

Sunday Night Affairs Are Popular, but Many People Begrudge a Contribution.

PROGRAM WAS SPLENDID

Seventh Band Will Be the Feature of the Program To Be Given Next Sunday Night.

Another large and orderly audience again filled the Majestic Theatre to capacity for the second Sunday evening band concert of the winter season. Not a seat in the building remained vacant, and because of the popularity of the sacred entertainments the committee in charge will in future en-force rules that will assist in providing accommodation for all desirous of attending. Children will not be admitted unless accompanied by parents, while young not attending ladies will be directed to the balcony. Rev. R. W. Norwood, of Cronyn Memorial Church, inaugurated the program by leading the Lord's Prayer and concluded with the benediction.

The First Hussars' Band under Ma Roselle Pococke, played artistically, the well selected numbers, and provid-ed the musical accompaniment for the hymns, "Fight the Good Fight" and 'Lead, Kindly Light," which the aud lence arose and sung in chorus.

Miss Dorothy Schor, a vocalist pos sessed of a clear pleasing voice, ren-dered two solos, "Just as I Am" and "God, Who Madest Earth and Heaven." Dr. Schor, the well-known Palestine missionary, accompanied his daughter on the plano. Mr. George White's solo, "Beyond the Dawn," was applauded freely. Mr. White has a fine enor voice, and his rendition of the ymn was exceptionally good. Mr. W. A. Bleuthner, organist of King Street Presbyterian Church, and Mr. Reginald Hudson accompanied the vocalists, and thereby contributed to the general excellence of the entertainment. Some People Too Cheap.

The committee in charge announced today that only $67.20 was collected last night. This is not considered very great encouragement, as the expenses are so heavy as to cause a deficit of about $30 on each concert. The spirit in which certain persons pass the collection plate is also considered obnoxious. Last night a man who led a party of a dozen crowded his way through to the choicest seats, and in doing so declared that as he did not have to pay, he would not, and that he got just as much enjoyment out of the affair as if he did. If the concerts are to be continued more money will have to be forthcoming from those who are entertained. Last night well over a thousand people entered the theatre, but only very small percentage showed their appreciation tangibly.

The concert next Sunday evening will be furnished by the band of the Seventh Fusiliers, while Mrs. A. Patison, of this city, and late of Toronto, will contribute several vocal is rampant in London, when Miss Car-

Mr. A. G. Langford, at Chalmers Presbyterian Church, basing his remarks on Matthew 9, 37 and 38, said: "This is the great commission for missionary work.
