QUEBEC IS DECIDING TODAY WHETHER PROVINCE SHALL GO 'DRY' OR HAVE BEER AND WINE

Protestant Ministers in Montreal Have Conducted Vigorous Campaign Against Granting of Licenses—G. W. V. A. Pass Resolution Against Prohibition—Voting Is Heavy.

Montreal, April 10.—The Province of Quebec is today voting on the referendum as to whether wine and beer licenses shall be issued or whether the province shall go "dry." Both the liquor interests and the temperance organizations have conducted vigorous campaigns, and the vote is expected to be heavy. All the Protestant ministers have denounced the granting of wine and beer licenses, but Roman Catholic priests in some cases have not directed their charges.

Wets Hold Procession.

Last night the "wets" organized a torchlight procession in this city. It marched throughout the city, bearing such announcements as: "Let's All Go Home"; "Let Toronto Run the Show"; "Home Rule in Old Quebec"; "Vive La France, Long Live Its Wine"; "Look at Bone-Dry Russia."

The Great War Veterans' Association for the Montreal district last night passed a reso'ution against prohibition.

The Rev. S. F. Newton, pastor of the East End Methodist Church, was arrested yesterday afternoon for distributing literature on the public streets of Montreal without a permit.

Three temperance workers were arrested on the streets of Montreal last night for distributing literature.

The temperance forces in the city are up in arms at what they consider discrimination by the authorities against the dry forces. It is pointed out that while the wet procession was authorized in contravention of the law which says that no public demonstration of this character can be held within eight days of a vote. The distribution of dry propaganda has been stopped.

QUEBEC CITY EXPECTED TO GIVE BIG MAJORITY FOR BEER AND WINE

Quebec, April 10.—Voting started briskly today in this city on the beer and wine referendum. According to "checkers" of the lists of voters, Quebec City will give a huge majority in favor of sale of beer and wine. In the rural districts, according to reports coming in, the voting will be light, owing to the poor conditions of the roads, the sugaring season, and the general apathy noted in rural districts when it comes to losing a day to cast a vote.

CANADIAN EXPRESS MEN TO WALK OUT UNLESS TERMS MET

Determined To Have Better Hours Granted.

STRIKE STARTS 6 P. M.

Company Is Refusing Any Consignments of Goods Here Today.

"No surrender" seems to be the motto of both the Canadian Express Company and its employees in the battle for higher wages, and better conditions that opens tonight at 6 o'clock, when some 50 employees of the express company here will walk out. In anticipation of the strike the Canadian Express Company refused to accept packages of any kind today. The walkout will be general in Canada.

Men Determined.

J. C. Andrews, president of the local organization of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railroad Employees, stated to The Advertiser this afternoon that the men simply would not come back to work until the company came to terms. The men had to work ten hours a day at the present time, and insisted on better hours as well as higher pay in all branches of the work.

"We're going to stick," said Mr. Andrews.

"I have received no official word from our head office in Montreal as regards calling off the strike," said Manager James Overend of the local branch of the company. "Of course I may get a notification at any time. I am simply awaiting orders. We are not accepting any consignments of goods today, or until further notice."

Asked as to whether he had had many applications for the positions that will be left vacant, Mr. Overend said he had quite a few. There were a few men who did not belong to the association, and he thought that they would stay with the company. Time alone would tell.

Canadians Tired of Soldiering in Siberian Area

Seventy-Eight Men Who Returned Wednesday Say Inactivity Sickens Boys.

Vancouver, April 10. — When the steamship Empress of Japan steamed into port yesterday it had on board the first Canadian soldiers returning from Siberia. There were 78 officers and men, all of whom were invalided home, being unfit for further military service, but none of them are seriously ill. The men reported a fine passage across the Pacific and not a complaint was received by the officers in regard to the treatment or food.

"The boys are all sick of it over there and are anxiously awaiting their turn to get back home. There is too much inactivity and there is no "pep" over there. Outside of the manoeuvring there is little to do but fuss around," said one man.

The party was in charge of Lieut. F. H. French, R. N. W. M. P., who led the expedition into the far north and brought back the Eskimos, who murdered two priests two years ago.

CANADIAN EXPRESS EMPLOYEES ARE TO STRIKE TONIGHT

Company Is Preparing To Replace Men Who Will Quit.

Montreal, April 10.—So far as is known the Canadian Express employees who have refused to accept the wage increases ordered by the appeal labor board will go on strike at 6 o'clock this evening. The officials of the company state that they do not expect any great disruption of business, and they were today endeavoring to secure men to take up the work the strikers would leave.

SNOW AND SLEET TIES UP RAILWAY TRAFFIC

Storm That Extends Through Southern States Demoralizes Transportation.

Denver, Col., April 10.—Railway and telegraph companies today were recovering from the effect of the snow and sleet storm which swept the Southern Rocky Mountain region on Tuesday and Wednesday. Trains which had been tied up by snow blockades in Western Texas and New Mexico were reported moving, but far behind schedule. Because of demoralized wire conditions, the railroads were unable to make definite reports on the delays to trains other than that they were from one and a half to ten hours late.

The storm, which extended south as far as Mexico, was especially severe in New Mexico, where the snowfall varied from six to ten inches. In the Kansas valley sheep raisers were reported to have suffered heavily.

GREAT BRITAIN AND SPAIN ENTER INTO TRADE AGREEMENT

Oranges Will Be Shipped From Spain, Coal From England.

Madrid, April 9.—Premier Romanones had a conference today with the British ambassador concerning the convention between Great Britain and Spain, which will be signed tomorrow. England, by this treaty, will promote the importation of Spanish oranges, and will ship to Spain 150,000 tons of coal per month. Spain will loan Great Britain 75,000,000 pesetas, the rate of interest being 5 per cent.

PLACING ST. LAWRENCE BUOYS.

Quebec, April 10.—The Canadian Government steamer Druid left today for the lower St. Lawrence to place the first buoys that will guide the vessels expected from overseas by the end of the month.

EVERY CANADIAN SOLDIER TO BE HOME IN AUGUST

Major-Gen. Mewburn Makes Statment at "Vimy"

167,000 ARE DEMOBILIZED

45,000 a Month Will Return When St. Lawrence Navigation Opens.

Ottawa, April 10.—Major-Gen. Mewburn, minister of militia, at a "Vimy" dinner given by veterans of the 38th Battalion, said he had accepted his present position in order to maintain a Canadian corps at the front, and to do what he could for returned soldiers. He had no other desires for political life.

Referring to the reorganization of the Canadian militia, he said the task would have been much easier if the C. E. F. had been organized differently. If the regiments formed at the opening of the war had been reinforced from the same districts, it would have been easier to perpetuate them in the Canadian militia. He had given the matter a great deal of thought, and had decided the problem could not be worked out until the whole of the corps was returned and a conference was held of those who had been overseas.

"Demobilization is going on fairly well," said the minister. "Since November we have actually rounded up 167,000, including some troops in Canada. With the opening of navigation in the St. Lawrence this will be speeded up to 45,000 a month from overseas. With ordinary good luck every soldier should be back early in August."

NOVITIATE INQUIRY CAUSES CATHOLICS TO TIGHTEN THEIR RANKS

L'Action Catholique Declares It Is Attempt To Discredit Clergy.

ATTACKS LEAD NOWHERE

Quebec Newspaper Says It Is "Most Damning Manoeuvre."

Quebec, April 10.—"This Guelph incident," says L'Action Catholique, the official clerical organ, "is the most damning manoeuvre that has ever been attempted to discredit the attitude of the Roman Catholic clergy during the war, and also to bring the withdrawal from the federal cabinet of the Catholic member who had prevented any attempt being made against the privilege of the clergy."

The clerical organ goes on to say that what Sir Sam Hughes has provoked in the House of Commons is merely a new act in the play, the first act of which was enacted a few days ago by Dr. Edwards of Frontenac.

"We should worry," concludes the paper, "for such attacks lead nowhere and their only effect is to tighten the ranks of the Roman Catholics and lead them to carry on with more energy."

SOVIET GOVERNMENT FORMED IN SALZBURG, GERMAN AUSTRIA

Proclamation Announces the Establishment of Administration Near Bavarian Border.

London, April 10.—The proclamation of a Soviet Republic in Salzburg, German Austria, is reported in an Amsterdam dispatch today to the Central News. Salzburg is near the Bavarian border.

WUERZBURG STRIKES AGAINST BAVARIAN SOVIET REPUBLIC

Copenhagen, April 10.—Dispatches from Kissingen report that the citizens and officials of Wuerzburg, 30 miles to the northwest, have struck against the Bavarian soviet republic, and that the town is now in the hands of government troops. Heavy fighting against Spartacan forces occurred when government troops stormed the royal palace and captured the railway station, but the fortress of Marienberg, across the Main River from Wuerzburg, was handed over without opposition.

Most of the Spartacan leaders are reported to have been arrested, but railway communication with the city has been interrupted.

WOUNDED GERMAN SOLDIERS APPEALED TO SUPPORT SOVIET

Berlin, April 10.—Discordant elements seeking to disturb law and order are making a strenuous effort, according to an official announcement, to bring about a demonstration by wounded soldiers in connection with the soviet congress, now in session here.

The idea behind the plan, it is said, is to provoke the loyal troops to pursue cruel tactics, with the result that any conflict that might arise might be used as a pretext to call a strike and imitate the establishment of the soviet government at Munich. Parades are forbidden under the martial law, which still applies to Berlin. The government adds that it was impossible for any parades to be held on Wilhelmstrasse, where it was reported the demonstration was planned, so that the paraders might march before the chancellory and the foreign offices.

LOCAL TEMPERATURES.

Following were the highest and lowest temperatures recorded in London during the 24 hours previous to 8 o'clock last night: Highest, 56; lowest, 36.

The official temperatures for the 12 hours previous to 8 a.m. today were: Highest, 55; lowest, 43.

Let London Roll Up Fund To Buy Instruments For G.W.V.A. Band

Equipment Needed by Veterans For Welcome Home to 1st Battalion Men—Windsor Did the Trick in Half an Hour Recently.

The Great War Veterans wish to be in a position to make a gladsome noise when the men of the 1st Battalion and other No. 1 District units return from overseas. They have the human instruments with which to provide the music and to make the welkin ring, but the lack of brass and reed and other devices for the transmission of melody to the public is a serious matter.

At present there are forty members of the G. W. V. A. Band but only a scattering of instruments for the musicians, and Bandmaster Wilson has appealed to the central organization for a new set. It is hoped that the public at once will respond and give the association a sufficient sum to provide a complete new outfit of instruments at a cost of between $1,500 and $2,000.

WILL BE PERMANENT.

The band will be a permanent institution in London, and already it has given its services freely for events when music was required. But most of the instruments were borrowed, and the only way to finance the new outfit is to appeal to the ever-generous people of London to go down in their pockets for a little money for a worthy object.

Recently the G. W. V. A. of Windsor made an appeal to the citizens of Windsor to secure a new set of instruments for the band of veterans in the Border City. The money was subscribed in less than a half hour!

LET LONDON DO AS WELL.

The Advertiser bespeaks for the veterans of London the same spirit on behalf of the citizens of London. Lieut.-Col. W. G. Coles, president, and Secretary J. W. Cunliffe have authorized The Advertiser to accept subscriptions, and these will be acknowledged as soon as received.

Let London be generous to the musical organization of the veterans. A small coin from each working Londoner would run the fund to the desired amount in a few days. And it should be unnecessary to carry the appeal for many days. The instruments are required for the coming of the units which bore London's name from the first of the war, and the manner in which citizens respond to the appeal for new instruments will show the degree of enthusiasm with which the old town will welcome home one of the battalions that carried gloriously the name of the Forest City and Western Ontario through many memorable engagements that counted in the fight of the world for liberty. Don't hesitate. Give Something! Be Glad to Give.

Ambassador's Wife Remembered Man Who Served as Spy

American Soldier Who Turned Traitor Is Now Serving Prison Term.

New York, April 10.—Because Mrs. James W. Gerard, wife of the former ambassador to Germany has an excellent memory for faces, Henry Bode, the only American soldier convicted of serving Germany as a spy, is now serving a ten-year sentence in the disciplinary barracks at Governor's Island, it was learned here today.

Bode, according to his confession after Mrs. Gerard had identified him as a man in German uniform who had appeared one day at the American embassy in Berlin wearing the iron cross, deserted from the American army at Fort Bliss, Texas, in July, 1914, and made his way to Germany, where he entered the German army.

After winning his iron cross in action against the Allies, Bode entered the German intelligence service, was sent to New York and eventually to Mexico, where he was ordered to work in embroiling Mexico and the United States in war, and to blow up the Tampico oil fields.

KOREANS ARE GETTING BEYOND JAP CONTROL

Twenty Demonstrations in One Day in City of Seoul.

Peking, April 10.—More than twenty Korean demonstrations occurred in the vicinity of Seoul on March 27, according to the Korean Daily News, copies of which have arrived here. It is said the Japanese soldiers attacked the crowds with guns, swords and bayonets, and that many Koreans were killed. Three Japanese are reported to have been injured. It is declared the Japanese authorities are unable to deal with the situation arising from demonstrations being held in so many different towns.

HUNGARIANS AND CZECHS ENGAGE IN HEAVY FIGHT

Both Sides Sustain Losses in Violent Battle.

JAMES GIOVANZZO IS HELD AT GUELPH ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Jury Holds Man Responsible For Recent Crime.

Guelph, April 10.—After hearing evidence of the circumstances which led up to the murder of Alex. Dutki on March 30, 1919, following a robbery which had been planned earlier in the day, the coroner's jury early this morning brought in a verdict holding James Giovanzzo responsible for the crime. Both he and John Nasodick have been charged with the offence, but Nasodick will probably now be charged with a lesser crime, as will also Tom Mallott. These men are implicated in a plot to rob a man named Hondynbura, which led to the shooting.

LICENSE BOARD SOLD LIQUOR AT BARGAIN PRICES

Forty Thousand Dollars Worth in Warehouse At One Time.

LABELS OFF BOTTLES

One Member Bought For $6.50 a Case, Others $2 Less.

Toronto, April 10.—Evidence was given at the hearing before the public accounts committee of the Legislature today, including the liquor probe initiated by Hartley Dewart, K.C., in regard to the license board. There was $40,000 worth in the standard warehouse. The board charged one vendor $6.50 a case, and then reduced the price to $4.50. The auditor said the board had to sell it at bargain prices, because sometimes the labels were off the bottles.

ELEVEN BARRELS OF WHISKEY WAS TOO MUCH TO WORRY OVER

Joseph Webber of Seaforth Disposes of His Stock.

FINED $200 AND COSTS

Possession of Whiskey Was Driving His Wife Insane, Declared Defendant.

Seaforth, April 10.—When Inspectors Torrance and Elliott called at Jacob Webber's home in this town a few days ago to see how his supply of liquor was holding out, they were told by Webber that a stranger had come along on a recent night and bought his entire stock, consisting of eleven half-barrels of whiskey.

On being asked who this stranger was, Webber could not tell them, nor would he say how much he got for the liquor, and, of course, did not know its destination.

In court here today Crown Attorney Seager reminded Magistrate Greigg that when this case was in court, over two years ago, at the time the liquor was seized, Webber had sworn that he got the liquor for the use of himself and his wife, and thought that the twelve barrels would perhaps not be enough for them, as it only meant half a pint a day for fourteen years.

Webber had been warned at the time he took delivery of it after its being held in custody for two years and returned to him as a result of an order-in-council recommended by the minister of justice.

Webber pleaded guilty to the charge of selling in violation of the Dominion regulations, and to the magistrate he said that it was either a case of selling the whiskey or sending his wife to the asylum, as it had been a great worry to them on account of the people wanting to purchase it, also the danger of its being stolen.

The magistrate imposed a fine of $200 and costs.

INSPECTOR RIDICULES IDEA THAT LIQUOR WAS SENT TO HOMER IN CONNECTION WITH THE ELECTION

Charles Clyde, in Giving Evidence at Liquor Inquiry, States That Selection of Village as the Place of Delivery Originated in His Own Mind.

Toronto, April 10.—That the selection of Homer, Ontario, as the place for the delivery of a consignment of liquor originated in his own mind, was the story told by Charlie Clyde to the Meredith liquor inquiry this morning.

The witness, a former tailor and presser at St. Catharines, more lately proprietor of the Doyle Hotel at Niagara-on-the-Lake, and at the inception of the Homer case a detective in the employ of M. E. White's agency, said he had known of L. W. Smith at St. Catharines. When he became a detective he knew of Smith's side activities as a liquor agent, and he called on him at his College street tailor shop to enter on a deal for the purchase of a consignment. After a preliminary chat, Clyde had gone to St. Catharines to look over the ground. He had to have a place for the liquor to be delivered to allay Smith's suspicions. He chose Homer, because he could serve a plausible story of getting the hotel there and selling the stuff to the men working on the canal.

This morning's proceedings opened with a protest by Peter White, K.C., at a report of yesterday's proceedings appearing in the Toronto World the suggestion therein that J. D. Flavelle and Mr. Ayearst had been consulted on the scheme which was the basis of the Homer plot, he characterized as quite untrue.

Department Got No Money.

In answer to a question from the commissioner, Dr. Flavelle stated that no money had been given by the department in connection with this case. He had no recollection of Morrison speaking to him it at all.

Clyde, during his examination, explained that his evidence in the police court case at St. Catharines was first to the effect that money had been paid by the department to the detective agency with which he was employed, and not the license department.

J. W. King, license inspector at St. Catharines, told of the failure to corral the party which arrived with the liquor, though he had been warned that it was coming for some time. He had not known the exact time. He had five policemen ready, and he and McPhail had visited the Homer Hotel at 3 o'clock of the day of the delivery.

LEDEBOUR'S RELEASE IS DEMANDED BY SOVIET CONGRESS

German National and Prussian Governments in Awkward Predicament.

NO ACTION TAKEN YET

Efforts Being Made To Liberate German Socialistic Leader.

Berlin, April 10.—The resolution adopted at the opening session of the soviet congress here tonight peremptorily demanding the release of George Ledebour, the Independent Socialist leader, arrested during the Spartacan outbreak, has placed the Prussian and National Government in an awkward predicament. The demand was based upon the fact that Herr Ledebour had been elected a delegate to the congress and the contention that he should be permitted to exercise his duties in that connection. The chairman of the congress ruled favorably to the independents on a preliminary motion, and a turmoil resulted in which the violence of the recriminations hurled from the left by the radicals caused the Majority Socialist members to become wobbly in sufficient degree to insure the necessary votes to carry the motion.

The result was wildly applauded, and the officials of the congress had no other choice than forthwith to address messages to the national and Prussian governments, the state's attorney and the authorities of the Moabit jail, where Ledebour is confined, apprising them of the wishes of the soviet delegates. Up to this evening no official action had been taken. The members of the government are booked to leave for Weimar early Wednesday morning.

BURGLARS VISIT DUNDAS STORES, REMOVE GOODS OF $3,075 VALUE

Police Have Failed To Get Any Trace of Thieves.

NOT WORK OF CHILDREN

One Heavy Door Smashed In —Wray's Jewelry Store Heaviest Loser.

Not content with breaking into one store, thieves managed to enter three premises on Dundas street at an early hour this morning, and daringly rifled the stock or W. J. Wray, jewelry store, and the Western Ontario Electric Company. The People's Outfitting Company also had its store entered, but could not find that anything had been stolen.

The heaviest loser is W. J. Wray, whose loss will be $3,000.

The police have been working on the case all day, but had "nothing to report" this afternoon. It is the second time that the jewelry and Western Ontario Electric Companies have had their premises entered within six months.

The robberies were discovered by P. C. Whittaker, who, at 1:30 a.m. found a back window in the Thomas furniture establishment had been smashed. After reporting this occurrence and barricading the window, the constable found the back door of Wray's jewelry store open. Inside the place was in great disorder, small boxes and trays being scattered about the show cases and floor.

Mr. Wray was called and made a hasty inventory of the damage. Entry had been effected by smashing the glass in the back door and then unfastening the lock from the inside.

It is not long since a robbery was effected in this store, a front window having been smashed and valuable material taken from within.

P. C. Whittaker subsequently found the back door of the Western Ontario Electric Company's store open.

There were signs of disorder within, batteries and other small articles being scattered about the floor, but it could not be determined if anything valuable

11,000 RAILROADERS IN WINNIPEG ARE SEEKING ADVANCES IN WAGES

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Winnipeg, April 9.—Eleven thousand railroad workers residing in Greater Winnipeg are seeking more pay. They have filed demands with employers and are waiting permission from the Canada War Board to start negotiations.

A year ago these workers, embracing nine trades, united for mutual benefit. They include pipe fitters, boiler makers, tool makers and pattern makers.

The present wage is 68 cents an hour for a 47-hour week, but demands call for 85 cents an hour for a 44-hour week. Helpers are now getting from 65 to 75 an hour, and want 80 cents an hour.

Machinists in contract shops also ask higher wages. They are getting 70 cents an hour, and will seek 85 cents.

STREET RAILWAY TO RECEIVE BENEFIT OF CUT IN HYDRO RATE

Gets Every Decrease Granted to Commission.

L. AND P. S. THE SAME

Average Consumer, However, Will Not Notice Difference in Bills.

Chairman Philip Pocock of the public utilities commission states that according to the agreement between the commission and the London Street Railway Company, the latter is entitled to every cut in power which the commission receives. The commission will cut the cost of power to the company $2 a horsepower as a consequence of the reduction in rates made by the provincial commission. This will make the third cut since the agreement was made with the railway company in 1913, according to Mr. Pocock. The new rate, which it will pay the local commission is $31 a horsepower.

Company Saves $2,800.

The contract was made first at the price of $38 a horsepower. It is estimated that the company will save $2,800 in its power this year as a result.

Mr. Pocock calls attention to the fact that the commission is willing to live up to its agreement with the company, and he thinks that the company should be as willing to keep its agreement with the city in the question of service. He points out that while the price of power has been reduced to the local commission other overhead charges in connection with the supply to the Railway Company have increased as a result of the abnormal conditions.

Other Reductions.

The London and Port Stanley Railway commission will receive a reduction in the power cost, and the waterworks will be directly benefited as a result of the reduction in the price of power. Street lighting also will be reduced.

In all probability the average consumer will not receive any direct benefit in reduced rates for lighting. Mr. Pocock is in favor of leaving the rates as they are at present, as he says that they are low, and use the surplus revenue to carry out some of the building program which otherwise could not be done this year.

CHINESE TROOPS ARE SENT TO STOP ENTRY OF BOLSHEVIK AGENTS

Officials of Shanghai Ordered To Exercise Greatest Vigilance.

Peking, April 9.—In contravention of the Russo-Chinese treaty, which is now regarded as having lapsed, the government has sent 500 Chinese troops to Urga and a similar number to Kiachta, and it is indicated that additional men may be sent later. The Russian legation has presented a note to the government protesting against this dispatch of Chinese troops into Outer Mongolia.

The government is still apprehensive of Bolshevik incursions, agents of the Russian soviet regime being reported to have established recruiting stations in Turkestan. Officials at Shanghai have been ordered to exercise vigilance to prevent the entry of Bolsheviki, who are said to be coming into the country through that port.

AMENDMENT TO THE MARRIAGE ACT IS TO BE CONSIDERED

Dr. Forbes Godfrey's Bill Will Be Discussed by Special Committee.

Toronto, April 10.—The special committee of the Legislature appointed last year to deal with Dr. Forbes Godfrey's bill to amend the marriage act, meets at Queen's Park tomorrow for final consideration of any decision of the bill. Dr. Godfrey makes a number of recommendations along eugenical and other lines, some of which have already been discussed by the committee. At a meeting in January, the principle of compulsory medical examination of all persons before marriage, with a view to disqualifying those suffering from contagious disease was rejected by the committee.

NEARLY 200 PROPERTIES LIABLE TO TAX SALE

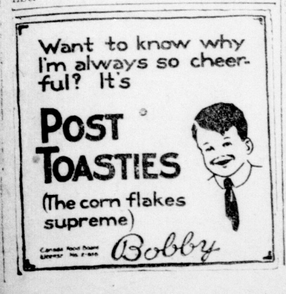

City Treasurer Doubts if Ang Go Under Hammer.

City Treasurer James S. Bell has a list of lots which are liable to be sold this year for arrears of taxes. He thinks, however, that none will change hands. In all there are 185 properties listed with varying amounts against them on the tax collector's books. The lowest amount is for 15 cents, while the highest is $1,158.52. The latter is being allowed to lapse purposely, as a clear title has not been secured, and by letting it go to a tax sale, the present owners hope to secure an indisputable title to it, according to the city treasurer. The properties are principally vacant lots.

STRIKERS STILL OUT

Montreal Has Not Suffered Any Great Inconvenience Yet.

Montreal, April 10.—The employees of the Montreal Light, Heat and Power Company, who went on strike yesterday for the recognition of their union, were still out today. So far the city had suffered no inconvenience, as the company has been able to keep the power, light and gas plants in service. This morning the arbitration committee appointed to consider the grievances of the men reported, recommending increases in salary for them. The increases, if introduced, would add $250,000 a year to the company's pay list.

BURGLARS VISIT

A. T. Taylor, one of the proprietors of the company, stated that about $75 worth of goods had been stolen, including a $20 reading lamp that was sold yesterday afternoon, to be delivered this morning. A drawer full of flashlights was also taken, and about $7 in small change and stamps from the cash register. The thieves also got away with a number of batteries.

"They must have had a car, to get away with so much stuff," said Mr. Taylor. "They will have difficulty in disposing of that reading lamp. It was a heavy copper one, and I would know it in a thousand." A window at the back door had been broken after the screen had been pried loose. A heavy wooden bar was raised and the door smashed in, locks at the top and bottom being broken, showing that the robbery had not been committed by small boys as was the case the last time the Western Ontario store was broken into. In November of last year three youths broken in to place, stealing flashlights, etc., which were afterward recovered on the top of Lawson & Jones' water tank.

"This afternoon Mr. Wray estimated his loss at close to $3,000. There is $1,000 insurance.

"I have certainly run into some hard luck," said Mr. Wray. Last fall I had $1,000 worth of rings stolen out of my window, when thieves broke the glass. The police had all the particulars then, but I never heard anything more about it. This time they got about 50 wrist watches, 112 lockets and 200 gold watchchains as well as numerous other trinkets. There is one thing sure, they knew enough to go to the store with the goods," said Mr. Wray, with a smile.

W. D. Thomas stated that he had not missed anything from his store. He wouldn't say that something had not been stolen, but articles of furniture handlie.

Detective Harry Down is working on the case.

IT WOULD TAKE TIME

Everybody knows that Building Inspector A. M. Piper is tall, but it remained for one of the young ladies in City Treasurer James S. Bell's office to describe him accurately. The young lady in the story has only recently commenced work at the city hall, and the first time she saw Mr. Piper she exclaimed, "Oh, gee, that fellow is so tall that if he got his feet wet it would be one month later before he would take a cold in his head."

Little Kiddies Left on Train Find Good Friend in Taxi Man Who Gets Them Returned to Anxious Father

When Grand Trunk No. 14 arrived at the local station at 5:24 o'clock yesterday morning, those who had gathered to meet expected friends and relatives, were surprised when they saw two tiny tots, a boy and girl, alight. Bewildered, the children looked about them, but could not see a familiar face.

Now, at all hours of the night and day, taxi men are at the depot, waiting for trade. One of these men, who is employed by the Blue Bonnet Taxi Service, seeing the little couple, decided that they could not be allowed to wander around at that hour of the morning, and so took them with him in his taxi.

Father Taken in Custody.

Passengers on the train declared that at Port Huron the children, who are Austrians, were accompanied by their father. He, however, was taken into custody by the immigration officers, although he did have with him all the necessary papers to permit him to cross the border. He explained to these officials that his children were on the train, but his story was not believed by them, they thinking that he was just scheming to get back on the train.

The children continued on their way, and as they were kept amused by those around them, they did not miss their daddy until they were let off the train in London.

Were Well Dressed.

In childish language, the little girl told the taxi men that her name was Mary, and that she was five years old, and that her brother was called Jack and was but three years of age. Other than this, and that they came from Flint, nothing further could be learned. Both children were well dressed.

Wishing to restore them to their anxious parents as soon as possible, the kind-hearted chauffeur, who had first befriended them, sent a telegram to the immigration officers at Port Huron, who notified the father of their arrival here. He wired back to send them to him, and eventually they were put on the train.

Word has since been received that they were returned to their father.

ANOTHER HITCH IN SCHOOL SCHEME IS NOW A PROBABILITY

Some Want Princess Avenue Site Designated.

OTHERS NOT JUST SURE

Think More Suitable Place May Be Found for Commercial Building.

There is a strong probability that there may be still a further hitch between the council and the board of education in reference to the debenture issue for the proposed new commercial school. Alderman E. S. Little chairman of No. 1 committee would favor the granting of the extra $30,000 debentures providing the Princess avenue site were purchased by the board.

Some Agree, Some Don't.

Some of the members of the board of education are agreeable to this. Chairman J. S. Barnard has stated that he thinks the Princess avenue site will be a suitable one. He admits that there may be better ones but there is not enough difference to warrant the purchase of a new one while the board has this one on its hands.

A. A. Langford, chairman of the commercial advisory committee, is of the opinion that the council should grant the debenture issue without attaching any strings to it. He is not disposed to agree to the purchase of the Princess avenue site. He is willing to use it if a better one cannot be secured, but if what is considered a more suitable site could be purchased he wants the board to be free to make the purchase.

May Go to Ratepayers.

Ald. F. E. Harley, a member of No. 1 committee, is in accord with Ald. Little in reference to the question of a site for the commercial school. He thinks that the board should not buy other property for a commercial school when it has the Princess avenue site on its hands.

If the board is disposed to us this site for the new commercial school it is likely that the council will issue debentures to the amount of $175,000, which includes $30,000 for a site for the commercial school. If the board does not see fit to accept this condition it is quite probable that the question will be sent to the ratepayers.

It is generally conceded that there will be no difficulty in raising the money this year, so that the board can make an immediate start on its building operations if the council decides to issue the debentures.

Employees Demand 9-Hour Day With Old Rate of Pay

Action Postponed at Clark Machinery Plant Until Head Returns.

Almost every class of skilled labor at the Clark Machinery Company presented demands for a nine-hour day to W. T. Clark at noon today. The men are at present working 10 hours per day. They want the same pay for a nine-hour day as they are receiving for ten hours. It was their intention that if their demands were not met to strike. No action was taken in the matter, as W. C. Clark, father of W. T. Clark, is out of the city, and will not return until Saturday. On that day the men will notify him of their demands, which will carry the same alternative as at present.

DOUGHNUTS PROVED TOO TEMPTING; YOUNGSTERS FELL AND HOOKED SOME

Nearly Upset Newspaperman in Hurry to Escape From Pursuit.

"Nick's" tempting doughnuts proved too strong a temptation to the eyes, nostrils and appetite of two urchins at noon today, and without a second thought they proceeded to break the eigth commandment, not once but twice.

Nick, be it known, presides over the destinies and the cash register of a Cafe where newspapermen and others sink numerous "sinkers."

Two uncouth youths nearly bowled over one of the respected members of The Advertiser editorial department, as he staidly meandered in for his glass of milk and "sinkers" today at the noon hour, as they madly bolted from the cafe with a doughnut in each grimy fist. Nick was peeved at first, but when it was pointed out that the theft was a compliment to his ability as a fried-cake artist he became mollified, and him ustache, which had received a downward twist at his loss, started to turn up again. All was harmony in the restaurant when ye editor wandered back to his sanctum.

AVONDALE CHURCH CALLS REV. T. McLACHLIN

TILLSONBURG, April 9.—A special meeting of the Avondale Presbyterian Church was held with a large attendance and the moderator, Rev. Mr. Murray, occupying the chair. The Rev. T. McLachlin, B.A., former pastor of St. James' Church, Hamilton, was the unanimous choice of the organization. Last Friday twelve of the Hamilton Presbyterian clergy met in Robinson's tea room and tendered a complimentary banquet to the Rev. F. McLachlin, B.A. Rev. A. H. MacGillivray, president of the association, with the guest, occupied the head of the table. It was pointed out that remarkable progress had attended his ministry, resulting in a fine large church being built and a good cause established.

How You Can Quickly Remove Hairy Growths

(Aids to Beauty.)

A well-known beauty specialist advises this treatment for the removal of hair from the face. Mix into a paste some powdered delatone and water, apply to hairy surface and after about 2 minutes rub off, wash the skin and every trace of hair has vanished. This method is quick and entirely safe. To avoid disappointment, however, it is well to make certain you get genuine delatone.—Advt.

MELBOURNE MAN GIVEN BIG SEND-OFF

MELBOURNE, April 9.—The banquet held in the Woodman Hall on Monday evening in honor of H. D. A. MacKenzie, who has been manager of the Home Bank here for the past ten years, was a decided success. A. P. MacDougall acted as toastmaster. Toasts were proposed for "Our King"; "Our Country," responded to by Rev. W. R. Vance; "The Agricultural Society" (in which Mr. MacKenzie was an active worker), by the president, C. J. MacTaggart; "Oddfellowship," by L. W. Beech; "Anna Rebekah Lodge," by Miss Mary E. Mather; "The Ladies," by J. MacRoberts.

Following the banquet an address was read by Hugh A. Fletcher on behalf of the Agricultural Society, and Thomas Carruthers, who presented the guest with a purse.

W. G. Robinson addressed the guest on behalf of the I.O.O.F. Lodge here, and the noble grand, Earl Beattie, presented him with a pin, bearing the emblem of the order. Mr. MacKenzie made a suitable reply, after which followed a musical program by local talent. Mr. MacKenzie has been in ill-health, and expects to take a vacation of from three to six months to his home in Scotland.

Frank McNeil has purchased the front 100-acre farm from Charles Lucas. Mr. Lucas has bought the Wm. Richards store and house in Middlemiss.

Three Fined for Smuggling Chinese; No Fowl Killed

Crowd Disappointed in Windsor Court — "Saucer Oath" Instead.

WINDSOR, April 9.—Magistrate Miers in police court today imposed fines of $100 each, with costs of $28 additional, upon Cecil Smith, George Latour and A. Onkee, a laundry proprietor, all of whom had been convicted of attempting to smuggle a Chinaman into Canada, and with having liquor in their possession.

A large "gallery" was in court expecting to see the usual Chinese oath, made by cutting off a chicken's head, administered, but was disappointed. Instead of the fowl, an ordinary saucer was used. This was handed to Ing Suey, a Chinese witness, who, as he broke it, repeated: "As this saucer is broken, so may my soul be broken if I do not tell the truth."

Latour's confession, made several days ago, exonerating Smith, the taxi driver, of any willful complicity in the plot to bring the Chinaman and whiskey across the river in his car, apparently had no weight with the court. Smith having been in trouble with the authorities before.

Minister Failed to Induce One to Vote for Daylight Saving

Street Car Conductor Judged His Passengers Well.

There is a good story being told of an argument on daylight saving between one of the local ministers and a conductor on the Normal line the other evening.

The minister was stoutly defending the change in time in the city. He gave out a number of reasons why he considered it a wise move and beneficial to the citizens.

This was too much for the ticket puncher, who has to crawl out from between the sheets at an hour when the barnyard rooster is still dreaming, and he took up the cudgels against the daylight savers. He contended that the majority of the citizens were not in favor of the measure. The sky pilot thought otherwise.

In an effort to convince the minister of the error of his thoughts, the conductor offered to bet that of all the crowd on the car there were but few who would support the daylight saving bylaw. To settle the question the minister called for a show of hands from those who approved of the new time.

Not a hand was raised. This happened at 6 o'clock, just when the cars are most crowded, and it may have been impossible for those who favored the new time to raise their hands in the crush. Some who were eyewitnesses of the incident say that the minister was turned down because the citizens on the car took the chance of putting a minister to rout, and there are others who maintain that the crowd simply expressed its attitude toward the daylight saving.

TWO MORE YOUTHS FINED $500; ADMIT DESERTION CHARGES

One Pleads Ignorance of the Law.

MAGISTRATE IS CAUSTIC

Points Out Durst Knew What To Do When the War Ended.

Allan Durst and Henry Strub, two self-confessed deserters from the vicinity of Kitchener, were each fined $500 or one year in jail by Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon in police court today. Both men paid their fines.

Durst, who is 23 years of age, was the young chap who astonished the court two weeks ago by confessing that the reason he did not register was because he was afraid to go to war.

Gordon H. Tennant, who appeared for both youths, stated that Durst did not get his call. In fact, he was ignorant of the law.

He Knew Something.

"He knew how to take the first step after the war was over," observed the magistrate.

"He saw the others going to London to give themselves up. That is how he knew," said Mr. Tennant.

"Yes, and he saw a lot more of the boys enlisting to go to the front. That is the example he should have followed," retorted the court.

"We didn't know that he existed until he gave himself up," declared Inspector Walter Duncan of the Dominion police.

Doctor's Advice.

Strub's excuse was, that he had been sick for the past two years and under the doctor's care. In the witness-box he stated that Dr. Morrison of Dundee had ordered him to go to a warmer climate.

"Probably the doctor knew what he was talking about," said the magistrate with a smile. Strub had taken the doctor's advice and gone West. Later he returned, was still sick, and had gone south for the winter. He did not return until after the armistice had been signed. He gave himself up to the police a few weeks ago.

MAJOR-GEN. MAURICE WILL LECTURE TO WOMEN'S CAN. CLUB

Has Been Secured to Come Here on April 19.

Major-Gen. Sir Frederick Maurice, K.C.M.G., C.B., director of military operations on the British general staff in the years 1915-1918, has been secured by the Women's Canadian Club of this city to speak here on Saturday afternoon, April 19.

Major-Gen. Maurice, to whom the London Times referred recently as "the most talked of man in England," will lecture to the members of the club on "How the War Was Won." He is traveling in America at present, and the officers of the club are congratulating themselves on their good fortune in getting him to come to London.

Lecturer Tells of Canada and Her Natural Resources

Students at the Normal School heard an interesting lecture by D. W. Johnson, official lecturer for the department of trade and commerce, on Canada, her wealth, her opportunities, what is being done to spread this knowledge abroad, and to take advantage of the possibilities. This afternoon the same speaker addresses school pupils at the Auditorium, and tonight he speaks to the chamber of commerce, Canadian Club and other organizations.

Mr. Johnson has spoken to 78,000 people, and has given educational talks to 15,000 boys and girls in the last year, traveling from coast to coast.

The trade and commerce department, more than a year ago, made some preparation for the end of the war and industrial expansion by arranging a bureau to get together exhibits and publicity matter. A motion picture laboratory was established and 50,000 feet of pictures taken of Canada's beauty spots and her natural resources, these latter views following the story of a product from its raw state to the finished article. These pictures have been sent abroad to advertise Canada and to attract tourist trade which is recognized as of the utmost value to the country.

The address of Mr. Johnson is both interesting and educative and was warmly appreciated at the Normal School.

FREE LECTURE AT WESTERN "U" TONIGHT ON ALASKAN WONDERS

The closing lecture in the Thursday evening series carried on under the auspices of the Western University extension committee will be held at the university buildings tonight, when Rev. R. G. Bowen, F.R.G.S., will deliver his celebrated lecture on "Through the Land of Mountain, Lake and Glacier."

The lecture will be illustrated with many beautiful views collected by Rev. Mr. Bowen during his residence in that country. It is free to the public, and a good attendance is expected. Arrangements are already under way for resuming the extension lectures early next fall, when a most attractive program will be carried out during the winter months. There have been many requests from those who have been attending this year that the series should be resumed as soon as the summer months are past.

EIGHTY PER CENT OF APPLICANTS PLACED

"Eighty per cent of the applicants placed last week," was the story told today to The Advertiser by W. M. Ruddick, who has charge of the soldiers' employment department of the Government employment bureau. "The best record yet," he added.

Each week the number of returned men finding employment has been creeping up, owing to the opening up of spring work. A few weeks ago 70 per cent was considered satisfactory, but Mr. Ruddick is not going to be content until he has a hundred jobs for every hundred returned men applying each week, he says.

Within the past few days a number of jobs have been obtained in connection with construction work in the engineer's department.

CAR WAS DAMAGED, BUT OCCUPANTS ARE UNHURT

William H. Reeve, 356 Cheapside street, while driving his Ford car on the Proof Line road about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, met with an accident that might have proved serious. In the car with him was V. Heatherington of St. Johns, a returned soldier, whom he was driving home.

Near the old toll gate a road machine was being operated. There was room enough to pass it, but in turning out to avoid it, Mr. Reeve apparently lost control of his car, which crashed into a telegraph pole. Neither of the occupants was hurt, but the car was badly damaged.

DAYLIGHT SAVING IS NOW MUDDLED WITH INCREASES IN FARES

Some Hold Council Meeting Was Not Legal.

ACTING MAYOR CONTENT

Does Not Believe There Are Any Grounds For Doubt.

That the daylight saving bylaw passed last Friday by the city council may have some bearing on the legality of the action of the council at its Monday meeting in deciding to ask the legislature to approve of increased fares for the London Street Railway Company, is the opinion expressed in certain city hall circles today. The question is raised whether the council met at 7:45 or 6:45. Under the daylight time the council was called to order at 7:45, but it is pointed out that the Federal Government refused to adopt this time, and therefore the council should meet at standard time to legalize the work done at the meeting.

Has No Fears.

Ald. E. S. Little, who is acting mayor, is of the opinion that the action of the council last Monday night cannot be questioned on this ground at all. Neither does he fear that the action taken by some citizens to quash the daylight saving bylaw will have any effect.

No Uneasiness.

In answer to the contention that as only five members voted for the measure it was not approved by the majority of the council, Ald. Little points out that it was only necessary for the majority of the members present at the meeting to favor the bylaw to make it legal.

At any rate, there is no uneasiness in city hall circles as to the results of the legal action which some of the citizens are instituting.

Foster Homes Await Little Children From the Shelter

Sickness Has Delayed Sending Some Out—Day Nurses Needed Here.

A bouncing baby boy, seven months old, all sunshine, dimples and smiles! This was the kind of fascinating infant for whom the secretary of the Children's Aid Society found a temporary home this week, until desirable foster parents come along to adopt the wee laddie as their very own. Very particular will the authorities be about the kind of people who come into possession of such a bundle of babyhood perfection and possibilities.

Almost every day, inquiries come in for children to be taken into foster homes from the Children's Aid Society. Some people are getting a bit impatient, wondering why their applications have not been looked after. The explanation is that there has been sickness at the shelter and the board has considered it the better part of wisdom not to send out any of the children until all are entirely restored to health. In the course of a few days, it is expected that conditions will be absolutely satisfactory once more in this respect, then heigho, for foster homes for the little folks.

First Thing.

Secretary W. E. Kelly states that applications on hand will be attended to first thing.

While it is inevitable that foster homes must be found for numbers of neglected, dependent or orphaned little people each year, wherever possible, the policy of the Children's Aid is to keep the home intact and the children in charge of their natural guardians, their parents.

During the past winter, numbers of homes have been rebuilt through the assistance of the society and established on a firmer basis.

"Mothers' pensions can't come too soon," states Secretary Kelly, "in order that mothers may be enabled to stay at home and look after their children, instead of being obliged to go out to work for the bread and butter to put in the mouths of the little ones."

Day Nursery Needed.

In the meantime, a day nursery is a crying need. To begin with, it is a dangerous thing to leave small children at home alone in the house. To overcome this, older children are frequently kept home from school to look after small brothers and sisters. It is a grave injustice to these older children, who get behind in their classes, hate to go back to school as dunces, become discouraged, drop out of school finally and are handicapped all through life for lack of even rudimentary education. Real tragedies are occurring right in London for the very reason that mothers must be away from their homes hours at a time, tragedies that are only known to the social workers."

Flt. Lieut. William Hunter Expected Home in Day or Two

Was Wounded After Five Months in France—Brother Returning Soon.

Flight-Lieut. William Hunter, of the R. A. F., has arrived at Halifax, and is expected home soon. He wired his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hunter, Rectory street, of his arrival. He, with his brother, Ivan W., joined the Flying Corps in July, 1917, and after extensive training went to England in December of that year. William was wounded after about five months in France, and Ivan was returned to England after seven months' service, because of heart trouble.

Flight-Lieut. Ivan is in England and expects to be sent home soon. Both are former employees of The Advertiser.

Independent Labor Party Denounces Ald. J. Colbert

Declares Him Unworthy of Political Support of Organized Labor.

At a meeting of the Independent Labor Party held on Tuesday evening, the following resolution was passed: "Whereas, Ald. J. Colbert, by his action in the city council, in the matter of increasing the load on the working class, has shown himself to be a stool pigeon in public office for the capitalist shareholders of the London Street Railway Company:

"Whereas, as vote and action of Ald. J. Colbert is not in the interests of the working class solidarity or in the interests of democracy and tends to discredit the public, therefore the London Branch of the Independent Labor Party declare that Ald. J. Colbert is unworthy of the political support of organized labor."

The following were appointed delegates to attend the I. L. P. convention to be held in Toronto on Good Friday: H. B. Ashplant, J. F. Thomson, Arthur Mould and T. A. Cresswell.

FARM WORKERS SCARCE

Yet Good Wages Offered, Says Employment Bureau.

Considering the returns offered for farm work, in comparison with many other occupations, the supply is remarkably inadequate to meet the demand, according to the chief of the men's department of the local Government employment bureau.

"Farmers are offering $40 to $45 a month with board and washing thrown in for single men," he stated, "and that means $40 or $50 clear. To married men, the average offer is $500 or $600 a year with free house, garden stuff, milk and in a good number of cases, fuel. Not many married men with families have $500 or $600 to the good after paying for the downright necessities in the way of rent, vegetables and fruit, milk and fuel."

PAST PRESIDENT JEWEL PRESENTED TO A. BENBOW

During the meeting of Beresford Lodge, Sons of England, last evening, A. Benbow was presented with a past president's jewel by Secretary T. Cole, one of the oldest members of the lodge, in recognition of his services and success while he held the various offices connected with the organization. He made a suitable reply.

Fred Chapell reported that he had finished the preparation of an honor roll of the members who had offered their services to their King and country. The roll, which now hangs on the wall of the lodge, is a large one.

Three members were advanced in degree work during the evening.

KINGSVILLE W. C. T. U. MEETS.

KINGSVILLE, April.—The monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held on Friday at the home of Mrs. W. H. Hellems, with Miss Ritchie, president, in the chair.

Considerable effort will be put forth to get contributions towards the home for business girls, Willard Hall, Toronto. The objective was placed at $25. The Canadian National Institute for the Blind in Toronto is also claiming consideration from the union.

Mrs. Alex. Brown reported a musical entertainment having been given by some local talent to the patients in the sanatorium, which was much appreciated.

PARENTS PAY FINE SO RETURNED MAN FREED

Condition of Health Unfitted Him for Stay in Jail.

A returned soldier, who was sentenced to three months' hard labor at the county jail for failing to pay a $200 fine imposed on him for having whiskey in his possession, has been released, his parents having paid his fine.

This unfortunate soldier was suffering from a wound in the jaw, which he had received while serving his country in France. His condition was such that the jail physician, Dr. James D. Wilson, communicated with the inspector of prisons, whose office is in Toronto, recommending that the man be sent to a hospital. While the county authorities were awaiting a reply, the fine was paid.

REPATRIATION OF SOME DEPENDENTS LEFT TO SOLDIERS THEMSELVES

Wives Who Crossed Ocean After Armistice Will Not Get Help.

A routine order from military headquarters, Ottawa, specifies that no expenditure shall be incurred in the repatriation of any soldiers' dependents who left Canada for the United Kingdom, France or Belgium on or after November 11, 1918. Wives and other dependents of Canadian soldiers who proceeded overseas since the signing of the armistice for the purpose of being with their menfolk during the time that the latter were waiting to be repatriated, therefore, will have to return to Canada at their own expense.

Instructions have been received from Ottawa to the effect that officers commanding units and cadre from overseas are to be struck off the strength at the earliest possible date after the unit or cadre has reached the dispersal station. In no case is the intervening period to exceed seven days without permission from Ottawa.

If at the end of seven days after the unit or cadre has reached the dispersal station, a few men remain not discharged, these are to be transferred to the district depot pending discharge.

PROMINENT LIBERAL DIES AT DURHAM

DURHAM, April 9.—Daylight saving will come into force in Durham at 11 o'clock next Sunday evening, April 13, the council at their regular meeting granting the petition of a large number of citizens.

Neil McCannel, one of the best-known farmers in South Grey, passed away at his late home just east of Durham last evening from throat trouble. The deceased was in his 64th year and retired from farming in South Glenelg a number of years ago. In 1908 he contested South Grey in the Provincial House in the Liberal interests against the present speaker, Hon. Dr. Jamieson, and was defeated by a small majority. He also was in the Glenelg municipal council for several years.

BRITAIN HAS HEARD NOTHING OF LENINE'S OFFER TO NEGOTIATE

Entire Story Is Characterized as German Propaganda.

ARE MERE RUFFIANS

Entente Will Have Nothing Whatever To Do With Bolsheviki.

London, April 9.—Adjournment of the House of Commons was moved today to call attention to an alleged offer from Nikolai Lenine, through the Americans, to the peace conference. Clem. Edward, Coalition Liberal, and other speakers, strongly objected to any negotiations with the Bolsheviki. Horatio W. Bottomly, Liberal, in a vigorous denunciation of Bolshevism as nothing but German propaganda, said that if President Wilson was sympathetically considering a Lenine offer, the sooner he returned to America and took the opinion of the American people the better it would be for the peace of the world.

James Henry Thomas, Labor member, deprecated the discussion as likely to embarrass the Paris negotiations, and said that whatever was in doubt, every one hoped nothing would arise to weaken Great Britain's friendship for the United States, because nobody could pretend that there was any other ally whose motives were so pure and clean.

Bloodthirsty Ruffians.

Edward Shortt, secretary for foreign affairs, replying in behalf of the Government, said he was sure there was no desire to avoid discussion with Russia, but there was certainly today no government in Russia worthy of the name to discuss with.

"When it comes to the mere gang of bloodthirsty ruffians who are terrorizing the population of Russia," he declared, "we can have no truck with such men. We are entitled to tell the Russian people we will have nothing to do with a government which is a danger to civilization.

"There is reason to doubt whether, as alleged, Americans have been to Russia and have returned, but it is a fact that no such proposals have been brought before the British delegates in Paris. It is, of course, possible that these gentlemen may have communicated with the delegates of other countries."

Personally, he said, he believed the whole story of Lenine being ready to negotiate was German manufactured for the purpose of making other countries believe the Bolshevists were really peaceable, civilized persons. The Germans were spreading Bolshevism wherever possible, and their only hope, because where it went weakness supervened.

In conclusion, Mr. Shortt announced that either Premier Lloyd George or Andrew Bonar Law, the Government spokesman in the House, would be in London next week, and might be able to give more information.

CANADIAN FLIERS IN AERIAL SQUADRON TO PROCEED TO RUSSIA

London, April 10.—Included in the Imperial Aerial Squadron, which is proceeding to Russia, are Capt. Harold Edwards, son of William Edwards of New Aberdeen, N. S., and Lieut. Herbert Broughall, son of F. W. Broughall, formerly manager of the Sterling Bank, Toronto. Both these officers were prisoners during the war. It is understood that Col. Collishaw has abandoned the idea of flying to Russia. He is considering taking service in the Russia expedition.

MARRIED AT HALIFAX.

Halifax, N. S., April 10.—The wedding took place yesterday afternoon of Helen, daughter of the Hon. George Stairs, and Lieut. Eric Grant, eldest son of his honor, Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Grant. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. R. Ross at Fort Massey Church.

HEARST GOVERNMENT TELLS HOW PLEASED IT IS WITH ITSELF

Turns Down Resolution to Remedy Conditions.

DEAF EAR TO STUDHOLME

No Use For Pensions For Widows With Dependents, Fair Wage, Etc.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, April 9.—Not since the debates on the speech from the throne and the budget has the Legislature had such a prolonged discussion on any one topic as it had today. It started in the middle of the afternoon when T. R. Atkinson, Liberal member for North Norfolk, moved a resolution which sought to impress upon the Government the need for adopting remedial legislation providing for such matters as a fair wage, fair prices for the products of the farm, pensions for widows with dependent children and by making a close study of all matters relating to the health and welfare of the people of the province.

Thomas Hook, of Southeast Toronto, in reply, told of the wonderful deeds of the Conservative Government since it had been in power in the province, and introduced a long amendment commending the administration for the many laws it had put on the statute books.

Thomas Magladery, another Government supporter, of Temiskaming, added his words of commendation to those of Mr. Hook's, and also another short amendment.

Labor Has an Inning.

Perceiving a real discussion on hand, which gave evidences of not being over within five or ten minutes, the House arose for dinner. In the evening labor's lone representative in the Legislature, Mr. Allan Studholme, spoke for more than an hour in defence of labor's policies. Mr. Magladery's amendment to the amendment, which expressed confidence in the Government putting into operation plans for the public welfare, was finally carried on division and was added to the amendment, which was also carried.

COMMITTEE AFRAID SENATE MAY AGAIN KILL RAILWAY BILL

Clause Affecting Provincial Rights Eliminated.

LABOR HAS A CHAMPION

Hon. Chas. Murphy Wants Railroader On Drayton's Commission.

Ottawa, April 9.—When consideration of the consolidated railway bill was resumed by the special committee of the Commons today, Hon. J. D. Reid, minister of railways, urged that the clause providing that railways holding provincial charters operated by companies holding Dominion charters should come under the control of the Dominion Government and the railway board, which was struck out by the Senate, should not be reinserted in the bill. He was afraid that if it were it might mean that the bill would again fail to pass this year.

Mr. Kilmer, on behalf of the attorney-general of Ontario, opposed the reincorporation of the clause in the bill on the ground that it would constitute an encroachment on provincial rights.

The clause was allowed to stand over until next week.

Mr. Best, on behalf of the railway brotherhood, urged that the personnel of the railway board should be increased from six to seven, and that the additional member should be a man appointed from the ranks of railway employees on their recommendation. Dr. Reid, in reply, pointed out that this could only be done after the adoption of a resolution in the House of Commons.

Hon. Charles Murphy suggested that it be provided when the next vacancy occurred, the request of the railway employees be granted.

Dr. Reid said it would be necessary for him to consult his colleagues.

Messrs. Boys, Morphy and other members of the committee strongly supported the view that there should be a practical railwayman on the railway board, but they did not approve of increasing the personnel of that body.

There was a little stir when some remarks by Mr. Pelletier of the railway brotherhood were interpreted by some of the members of the committee as meaning that if labor leaders are not listened to, things which are happening in Europe might occur in Canada.

E. W. Nesbitt (North Oxford), indignantly described Mr. Pelletier's remarks as "bluff" and a "threat to the committee."

Mr. Pelletier explained that he had made no threat, what he wanted was sympathetic consideration of the request made.

IN "EXTRAVAGANCE" DOROTHY DALTON IS SEEN AT HER BEST

Vivid Drama Being Presented at Majestic.

Beautiful, winsome, magnetic and unusually talented Dorothy Dalton, in her latest Thomas H. Ince Paramount success, "Extravagance," delighted capacity audiences at the Majestic at all performances yesterday, and without doubt, will today draw hundreds of theatre-goers who appreciate a good picture.

In all her pictures, her naturalness is the most conspicuous feature of her portrayals. All the scenes are realistic, and include the biggest jewelry store in Los Angeles with all its glittering gems. For the courtroom scenes, use is made of the Superior criminal court. Miss Dalton's gowns alone are sufficient to draw a large feminine contingent.

Too much cannot be said of the manner in which the plot has been worked into this heart-gripping story, which was written by John Lynch, author of several screen successes. From every point of view, "Extravagance," can safely be pronounced as a film which no one can afford to miss.

It is the story of a woman who is being drawn into the vortex of profligate extravagance until her conscience is awakened by a dramatic dream that pictures her husband paying with his very life for the gratification of her social whims. She dreams that to meet the bills of her dressmakers and jewelers he gambled until he was short of money.

He then forges a check, is detected, and shoots a pursuing officer, which brings upon him sentence to the electric chair. The wife awakens to a realization it was all a dream—all but the fact that she is surrounded by a wealth of luxuries, the cost of which may have driven her husband into desperate circumstances.

She rushes to his office to find it is true. Then she makes a supreme sacrifice. To his appeal to loan him her private fortune with which to try to redeem his losses on the board she turns a deaf ear. She even suffers him to publicly denounce her as a woman who has taken all and given nothing. But that night at their home, she lays her fortune at his feet and pleads with him to go with her to another land, where they can start life anew and build on a stronger foundation of mutual companionship and love.

Miss Cora Brennan, violin virtuoso, accompanied by the piano by Prof. Bleuthner, made a decided hit. These two local artists present a vaudeville performance that leaves nothing to be desired.

"The Village Smithy," a Mack Sennett comedy, was the means of making the house rock. Even those who had been out of sorts since daylight saving was passed roared with the rest of the audience. This wonderful bill is completed by a news film.

PUT ACCURSED THING FROM MIDST FOREVER, SAYS W. M. S. HEAD

Ontario Body of Presbyterians Meeting at Guelph.

CHURCH BEING MADE OVER

Crisis at Hand, and Women Must Have Part In It.

GUELPH, April 9.—Mrs. Chas. Robertson, of Toronto, president of the Ontario Provincial Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church, at the fifth annual meeting, which is in session here, delivered her address at a crowded public meeting this evening. Reference was made in the opening to the thankfulness felt by all because of the end of the war, this being the first meeting under the banner of peace. She entreated the delegates not to lose the enthusiasm of the past, but rather to kindle it afresh, as the society must keep up to the times. This was a time of crisis; the church was being made over and they must have their part in it.

Reference was made to the effect the war activities had on their work, three things standing out prominently, larger attendance, greater givings and more interest. Hundreds of women who never took an interest before had been brought into line. The war activities opened up many avenues for work and the society was benefitted thereby. She urged upon the members more personal responsibility and to try and interest every woman in each congregation in missionary effort and to feel that every child and woman in her community were her personal charge.

Throw Open Doors.

With the increasing of women's sphere in the world the doors of the society must be thrown wide open and all must be stimulated to greater activities. In closing, she asked that every member of the society place her responsibility before God concerning the question of prohibition, and hoped that the middle-aged and young men who had fought for the freedom of the world would not come back to fight in another warfare, not lasting for four years, but reaching out into eternity, and for the sake of the women and children whom these men love put the accursed thing from our midst for ever.

Mrs. D. McGillivray, of China, also gave an interesting address at the evening session on the subject, "God's Call—Our Response."

At the session this morning, Mrs. D. L. McCrae led the service of intercession, and there was a discussion over the provincial reports. Excellent addresses were also given by Mrs. Rohold, of Toronto, on work amongst the Jews, while work among the French in Montreal and other places in Quebec was dealt with by Miss C. Davidson, of Montreal.

Mrs. Chas. Clark, of Toronto, was a visitor at the session this afternoon, and made an appeal for helpers. She is secretary of the Indian work of the general council. Help is wanted at Birtle, Manitoba, the school at Lake of the Woods, at Hurricane Hills and Portage La Prairie.

Mission band work occupied the time of the afternoon session, an address being given by Miss A. M. Rennie, mission band secretary, of New Hamburg, and this was followed by a number of short addresses and a round-table conference.

ST. THOMAS STREET SWEEPERS AWARDED 30 CENTS PER HOUR

Hot Words Passed in Board of Works Meeting.

SANDERS AND LANE CLASH

Award May Still Occasion Strenuous Debate in Council Meeting.

ST. THOMAS, April 9.—"The other night you made a grant of $1,000 to the Horticultural Society to pay Dr. F. E. Bennett a salary, yet tonight you are dickering over a paltry thirty cents per hour for street sweepers," declared Ald. John Lane at a meeting of the board of works tonight held to discuss the salary adjustment of the board of works employees. Ald. Lane and Taylor, a committee appointed some weeks ago, adjusted the salary of the men and gave a twenty-five per cent increase all round. They gave the street sweepers nine cents increase per hour. Ald. Sanders and Lemon objected. There are only five on the board with the chairman, and when the vote tied, Chairman Curtis voted in favor of the increase. The city council at the last meeting, however, rejected the adjustment, and tonight, after discussing the matter for two hours, the same report was again adopted by the committee. Ald. Sanders and Lemon held out and still voted against the adjustment, but Ald. Curtis again cast his vote in favor.

These Are Maximum Wages.

The thirty cents for sweepers, however, was made a maximum, and the forty-one cents for laborers was also made a maximum with the understanding that the engineer hire men for less if possible. The employees had all stated that they would resign if the adjustment were changed.

Ald. Lane was accused by Ald. Sanders of causing strife. Ald. Sanders said that there had never been any trouble among the street sweepers before. Ald. Lane, he said, happened to be chairman of the trades and labor council, and as such he was keeping a pledge. Ald. Lane resented the remarks. Ald. Sanders accused Ald. Taylor of having favorites and playing to them.

When the report was being adopted Ald. Sanders declared that Foreman Burke should not get $30 per week, house and telephone, and at the same time be allowed $1 per day for sceptic tank work. Foreman Burke was present and he challenged Ald. Sanders to do the same work for $1 per minute. Ald. Sanders replied that he would have other work to do.

The whole question will likely be again discussed at the council meeting, as the settlement is exactly the same as before.

ST. THOMAS WANTS ARMORIES TO USE AS PUBLIC SCHOOL

Would Provide Six Rooms—Canadian Club Starts.

ST. THOMAS, April 9.—Sir John Willison, president of the Canadian Reconstruction Association, gave an address to the Canadian Club this evening. The event marks the reorganization of that body after five years of inactivity. Sir John spoke of the great industrial future of Canada. He warned that there are times that will not be all sunshine ahead for Canada, but he foresaw, with combined efforts, a very successful outcome. Foreign trade and its development as it is proceeding rapidly in the United States, were also discussed by the speaker.

Trustee Dr. F. E. Bennett, Inspector J. A. Taylor and Ald. Handford, representing the mayor, are in Ottawa to meet the militia department regarding the obtaining of the armories as a school site. The building could be converted into a six-roomed school with very little expense, and would accommodate the Wilson avenue district.

NO WORKERS APPLY.

Despite the fact that it has been reported that over 700 men are idle in the city at the present time, City Engineer Ferguson reports that he has not received a single request for work in the department. The work of macadamizing the new roadways will start shortly.

SPOILED MEETING.

Because Ald. E. C. Sanders claims he was not given a proper legal notice and missed to attend a meeting of the board of works last night, the salary question was laid over until Wednesday night. Ald. Sanders is opposed to the increase in salary recently made by a special committee of two aldermen.

DRIVE STARTS THURSDAY.

The board of trade drive will start on Thursday of this week. The objective of the local board is 1,000 members. The fee for sustaining members in future will be $10 per annum and for associate members, $1.

NO CUT EXPECTED IN HYDRO RATES TO WINDSOR USERS

WINDSOR, April 9.—The management of the Windsor and Walkerville hydro-electric systems admitted today that while there will be actually a reduction in the cost at which current will be furnished them, it is so slight as to mean little or nothing when divided among the consumers here and no change is expected. In explanation it is stated that owing to war conditions no surplus was possible for the last year or two, it being necessary more than once to draw upon the reserve to take care of expenditures.

A rumor that the Windsor Street Railway, which also competes with the hydro-electric in furnishing power and light, may shortly announce a sharp cut in rates, could not be confirmed.

Walkerville Finds Curfew Ringing Too Costly: Stops It

WINDSOR, April 9.—Hereafter citizens of Walkerville will be obliged to depend upon their own clocks. The town fathers received a bill a few days ago from Hiram Walker & Sons for $150, the cost of having the town hall bell ring the hours of 1918. They had no idea time was worth so much money, they said, and so promptly ordered the curfew to cease.

MUD STOPS FIREMEN.

Fire of an unknown origin completely destroyed the home of Henry Ellwood, Strabane avenue, Sandwich East Township, yesterday. An alarm was turned in to the Ford fire department, but efforts to reach the scene of the blaze were unavailable, owing to the heavy mud and the bad condition of the roads. The loss will probably be close to $1,500, partially insured.

WESTERN MEMBERS BUCKING GRANTS FOR ONTARIO HIGHWAYS

[Special to The Advertiser.]

STRATFORD, April 9.—That there is opposition in Parliament to the Dominion Government making a grant to assist the building of highways in Ontario and Eastern Canada, was learned today at a meeting of the local highway executive. In a telegram H. B. Morphy, M.P., stated that western members were opposing the grants.

The local committee is taking steps to have all municipalities interested in the various highway schemes bring their attitude forcibly before the Government in an effort to offset this opposition. It is intimated that a large delegation from all points might be called on to besiege the capital city.

CONGREGATIONAL MEETING.

Extensive arrangements are being made here for the spring meetings of the Western Association of Congregational Churches on Tuesday and Wednesday. Among the speakers will be Dr. E. E. Braithwaite, president of Western University, London; Rev. W. D. Spence, Guelph. The local committees are preparing to entertain the visitors.

PEACE CONFERENCE DECIDES EX-KAISER IS RESPONSIBLE; BELGIUM THE "PROSECUTOR"

Definite Decision Also On Reparation Question—Germany To Pay Five Billions Within Two Years and Continue Paying For Thirty Years.

PARIS, April 9.—(By the Associated Press).—The responsibility of the German emperor for the war and the means for bringing him to trial by one of the Allied Governments, probably Belgium, have been definitely determined upon by the council of four.

This follows the definite decision on the terms of reparations for war damages, whereby $5,000,000,000 must be paid within the next two years, and an inter-Allied commission assess the remaining damages for a period of thirty years, beginning May 1, 1921.

Thus two of the great obstacles which stood in the path of the rapid attainment of peace have been removed within the last twenty-four hours, and the period of extreme tension over the inaction and the failure to secure tangible results, is succeeded by revived confidence over the great advance towards a permanent settlement.

Saar Valley Disposed Of.

The council of four reached an agreement this afternoon on the Saar Valley. The agreement leaves sovereignty over the valley unchanged, but accords to France free of duty sufficient coal for the Lorraine iron industry and to replace the production of the mines destroyed in the Lens mining district, with the privilege to the Germans of restoring the Lens mines and thus relieving the Saar Valley of that charge.

This agreement removes one of the most difficult obstacles to the conclusion of peace.

The agreement on responsibilities for the war is understood to have been a compromise between divided reports submitted by the commission of which Secretary Lansing is chairman. There was practical agreement on the general responsibility of the former German emperor bringing on the war, but division occurred on whether it was feasible to bring him to justice before an international tribunal.

Belgium Sides With United States.

The British and French view favored a tribunal, but the American view, it is understood, favored moral indictment without recourse to prosecution, owing to the lack of an international law as a basis for trial before an international court. Belgium, on which the war fell first and heaviest, is reported to have taken a view much similar to that of the United States, while Japan and Italy were partially in accord with the American view.

It was owing to these divergent views that the council devised a new plan, whereby one of the Allied nations, probably Belgium, would initiate prosecution against the ex-kaiser and others responsible for the breach of treaties, the invasion of territory and the destruction directed against this country, and leading to a more general spread of the war. The exact nature of the agreement is not disclosed, but the foregoing is believed to cover the main lines.

Must Admit Responsibility.

The text as finally approved on reparation specifies that the enemy countries must admit responsibility for all loss and damage to Allied and associated nations, and their citizens, caused by the unjustifiable aggression. But in view of the inability of the enemy countries fully to recompense these losses, the clause states, an inter-Allied commission will assess the losses on a just basis for 30 years, beginning May 1, 1921, with an initial payment of $5,000,000,000.

Germany is to pay the entire cost of the commission and staff during the 30 years of operation. The first payment is to be credited against Germany's obligation to pay for the maintenance of the Allied troops in the occupied regions, and the second priority is for the payment of food relief furnished to Germany.

LONDON MAY SECURE SOME FINANCIAL AID IN LIEU OF SQUARE

Decision to Build City Hall Elsewhere Has Complicated Matters, Says Hon. Frank Carvell to Local Deputation.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, April 9.—That the Government had a moral obligation to proceed with the Federal Square scheme was indicated by Hon. F. B. Carvell at a conference with the deputation from London this morning, but he gave no indication as to how that obligation would be carried out. He explained that as a result of certain negotiations the city had acquired a considerable portion of land with the intention of building a city hall upon it, the Government to utilize certain portions of it. At the present time, he said, the Government did not intend erecting any building on that site. From his information the city did not intend, on its part, to go ahead with the city hall plans.

May Find a Way.

However, the militia department should first announce whether or not it could utilize any of the land. If not, then some other way of helping the city should be discovered. He did not make it clear just how this was to be done, and no suggestions were forthcoming from the deputation on that score.

The deputation was introduced by Major Hume Cronyn and S. Frank Glass. The whole project from its inception was reviewed, including the voluminous correspondence with Sir Sam Hughes, then minister of militia. The Government had officially accepted the project, in that $50,000 was placed in the estimates as an initial expenditure.

Mr. Carvell admitted the fact, but claimed that the situation was also complicated by the city's official decision to build its city hall elsewhere.

The deputation seemed convinced that while the original project would not be carried out, some financial assistance would eventually be given.

ONLY BY FRIENDLY NEGOTIATIONS WILL HUNGARY PAY DEBTS

Gen. Smuts' Commission Reports Back to Peace Conference.

PARIS, April 9.—The mission to Hungary headed by General Christian Smuts has reported on the prospect of the payment by Hungary of her debts. The impression gained by the commission, the report states, was that there might be some chance of adjustment through friendly negotiation, otherwise, it was added, it was difficult to see any chance whatever.

LACK OF SHIPS A CASE

Rhyl Rioting Another Evidence of What Went on During Conflict.

HALIFAX, N. S., April 9.—Major F. J. Ewing of Vancouver, for the past three years assistant director of supplies, and chief inspector of the catering service in England, warmly criticizes Argyle House on reaching here today on board the Megantic. "I know Argyle House from top to bottom," said Major Ewing. "For I have been there for the past three years. I am through now and on my way home, and I am glad, for I was certainly fed up. I have heard a lot of criticisms leveled at Argyle House. Those critics who stated that all officers could not get courteous hearings there were wrong. There never has been a time when officers could not get courteous and adequate treatment there. The chief cause for criticism has always been that there has been an absolute lack of co-operation, not only between the various departments of Argyle House, but also between the various agencies with which Argyle House has had to deal."

"Our very last experience in England was a sample of it. We were to sail at 4 o'clock. The ship was loaded with its complement of men and its papers were complete. At the very last minute 46 more men were sent on board by the ministry of shipping, and no one knew the faintest thing about them. Their papers were not even included with those of the others, and as a result our sailing was delayed several hours. Throughout the whole war there has been similar and very often much more serious lack of co-operation. The Rhyl rioting was further proof of this. Before the trouble started there it was said no more ships could be had, but immediately afterwards and ever since there have been lots of ships. It just proved what could have been done if there had been any desire to do it."

DICK OTTER HAS A MOST WONDERFUL TURN IN HIS AFFAIRS.

When Dick Otter and the strange swimmer had their head-on collision, near the bottom of the deep pool in the Big Brook, as they were chasing Mr. Trout, both were nearly killed. And when they came to the surface they were so dazed and weak from the shock, they could hardly see each other. Now Dick Otter is a very playful and good-natured little chap, and he prefers to live peaceably with his neighbors if he is treated decently. But Dick Otter was mad clear through at the stranger, for he was terrible hungry and faint, and he started first to each his fish for his breakfast, and so he blurted out, as soon as he could get his breath:

"Say there, who are you, anyway? Don't you know enough to see where you are swimming without running down a fisherman like me? I'll fight you right here and now. So come on you awkward and blundering blunderbuss." And Dick scowled up his pretty face and grit his sharp teeth, and I'm sorry to say that it was an awful sound when he ground those long teeth, and he looked very savage when he scowled for a big fight.

But the stranger was hurt in the collision much worse than Dick was, and could scarcely hold up his head, and could scarcely speak. And Dick called out again.

"Come on and fight, you blundering, good-for-nothing four-footer! What's your ugly name? Tell me quick, or I'll drown you right here and now." And a weak little voice piped up:

"Oh, Mister, my name is Betsy Otter, and I'm awfully sorry I bumped into you. I didn't see you coming, honestly I didn't." And the effort of talking was even too much for poor little Miss Betsy Otter, and she was so shocked by the terrible crash and so weak that her nerves broke down completely, and as the big tears ran down her beautiful little brown face, she fainted away, and lay on the water as if dead.

Now, Dick Otter was a perfect little gentleman. And he couldn't endure to see such a beautiful little creature as this drown right before his eyes. For his mother and sisters had taught him to be very kentle and kind to all lady Otters. And Dick was so gallant that he instantly swam to the little lady's assistance. But the fainting mermaid was so weak she could not hold up her pretty head, and her eyes were closed, as if she were dead. So Dick laid her drooping head on his strong and broad shoulders and swam for the shore. It was a very pretty sight indeed to see the little Hero, Dick, give this "first aid to the injured," as he carried her limp form to the shore.

Tomorrow—Dick Otter as a Life Saver.

John Bull's Grand Fleet Given Honorable Discharge

The dispersal of the British Grand Fleet is the laying aside by the Allied alliance of its most powerful and efficient weapon of the war. Back of all the claims as to who or what won the stupendous conflict there always stands this mighty instrument. Without detracting a jot from the gallantry and splendid self-sacrifice shown by the Entente and American armies on a score of fronts, these fine deeds would have been largely impossible had not the Grand Fleet held the command of the seven seas from the hour Germany threw down the gage until the armistice treaty was signed.

The success or failure of the Allied effort to head off Prussianism in the final analysis pivoted on the ability of Jellicoe's ships to keep the Hun fleets bottled up. The world knows how effectively this supreme task was carried out for four years. It insured a steady stream of men, munitions and foodstuffs from the four corners of the globe to the armies of freedom. That and the blockade formed the hub from which the Allies struck until the Hun was prostrate.

Most of the Grand Fleet's part was played in obscurity and silence. The world knew it was there, slowly but quietly strangling the enemy into submission, though, except for one great battle and half a dozen minor engagements, there was nothing spectacular to catch the spotlight. We know, however, that the nature of the task demanded the matchless fearlessness, patience and determination that has marked the British sailors in a score of wars. The Grand Fleet was ready when the call came and the spirit of the men who manned it, from the commander to stoker, was the old unbeatable one that has held the seas free for five hundred years. While that combination exists the empire and liberty-loving races are safe from such as the Hun.

Statement From the Peace Table Would Clear Air

When the peace conference was called the press of the world demanded that fullest publicity be given discussions. Holding that this was impossible the delegates compromised by promising daily statements giving a general idea as to progress of negotiations. This middle course has failed of its purpose. Today, after sitting three months the world knows absolutely nothing as to vital decisions made at Versailles. There is not even an authoritative outline of conclusions reached, major or minor.

It was evident from the beginning that the conference could not throw open its doors to the widest publicity. That would have played into the enemy's hand. On the other hand the official and semi-official announcements have been so meagre of real information, so flimsy and puzzling, that they have produced an exasperation and impatience that has reacted dangerously. Distrust and suspicion have developed, which skilled observers declare is responsible largely for the continued confusion in Central Europe.

Not all of the responsibility for this rests with the peace conference. Paris swarms with special correspondents from all sections of the globe. The majority of these men, stars of journalism, are honestly endeavoring to sift the facts from rumor and sketchy official reports, but a smaller group appears to have seized on the conference's secretiveness as a means of persistently and systematically "knocking" the Versailles gathering.

The lack of definite official information has supplied them with an opportunity to present assumptions that are clearly unfair. With them discussions are invariably "dissensions"; daily they predict certain failure of the efforts to arrange a peace pact and work out a league of nations covenant. Official statements which because of their indefiniteness open up a fine field of speculation are interpreted as concrete evidence that the conference is heading for the rocks.

The heads of the big three, of course, get the heaviest clubbing. Wilson was first to catch it. He was discovered "mulishly" blocking progress with his fourteen points. Clemenceau came next, the world being informed that his stubbornness would wreck the conference. Just now it is Lloyd George who is the great offender. The British premier, we are told on the authority of these "glooms," is deliberately intriguing to paralyze the conference and leave France helpless. In one instance the Little Welshman has been called a pro-German, although from the tone of his dispatches it would be more reasonable to apply the accusation to the man who makes the charge. Perhaps the conference could head off this "evil," as Lloyd George has named it, by giving the press more of its confidence, at the same time guarding against abuse by a measure of censorship.

There is little doubt but that the masses of the Allied nations believe Lloyd George, Clemenceau and Wilson are honestly laboring for the best interests of all, and they have confidence in the ability of these men to work out the best arrangement possible. But the world has been kept in the dark as to what is going on behind the doors at Versailles and it is not unnatural that it should have become impatient and inclined to listen to the calamity squad. A definite, clear statement at this stage might clear the air of a lot of anxiety and some mistrust.

Rogers Would Save Canada ---For Himself and Friends

Hon. Robert Rogers, former minister of public works, was one of the Conservatives "deposed" to make way for Union Government. Since that occasion he has been in semi-eclipse, politically. But from time to time he has come forward to save the old party, whose affairs he considers poorly-controlled unless in the hands of the "old liners." He organized a Victory-of-1911 celebration banquet for Toronto, and it is said that he has been spreading propaganda for many months to bring back the good old days when knighthood and political letters of marque were in flower, but which withered, to bloom on a better day, just after Robert the Bold did yeoman service in the way of a war franchise act for Robert the Unready. Rogers is now at Ottawa in the old war paint sending forth rallying cries to those Unionists who, however much they are dis-spirited as followers of the Borden-Rowell combination, are much more dis-spirited at prospects for a return to conditions existing before the days of the great alliance which Sir Sam and many others say was engineered by Sir Joseph Flavelle. The best they can look forward to is more of Bordenism, even if the Liberals have lost the leadership of Laurier.

Rogers carries the craft of the Conservative party in his inside pocket. He may have stepped aside to save Conservatism from the utter ruin into which it would have plunged but for the Unionist lifeline; but he has no intention of rubbing himself from the front pages or shutting himself out of inner party councils. He is out for all he is worth to re-establish the old line Toryism of pre-coalition days. The Union movement was successful in keeping the fleshpots within reach, and it also kept Sir Robert Borden in the premiership as nothing else could have done. So Rogers goes to Ottawa, talks about "critical times," says the farmers and the manufacturers must be taken care of, does not suggest how it will be done, but sends a trumpet note to the regular Tories to stir themselves. The only way to rescue Canada is to keep Borden, to re-establish Rogers, to kick the Grits from the cabinet, and to put back into force the old regime with all the patronage boys in line, praying perhaps for another war or ten more fat years, with "Bob" saving the country as he saved Manitoba, taking care to save a good juicy slice for anyone who has helped the good work of dumping the Unionists.

Most anything Hon. Robert Rogers may say will be labelled specious by the honest men of both parties. If the Conservative party places its hopes in the reputation of a man who left a trail of corruption wherever he travelled in politics, there can be but little chance that the party will ever recover sufficient strength to regain power in many years. Today it does not claim to be in power. It claims to have lost its identity in the "union" of the two parties but insofar as it is possible the governmental machinery at Ottawa will be used to re-establish Toryism at the earliest possible moment. Rogers is one of those who realizes how dim are the hopes of the Borden party being able to carry either east or west. He would "machine" through another snap victory if possible. His reappearance as a self-appointed dictator of the policies of the Conservative party cannot be very cheering to those who are still adherents of the old faith.

The folk most directly interested will find little of reform in Dr. Cody's new school regulations. A careful study of them gives no intimation that the strap is to be eliminated.

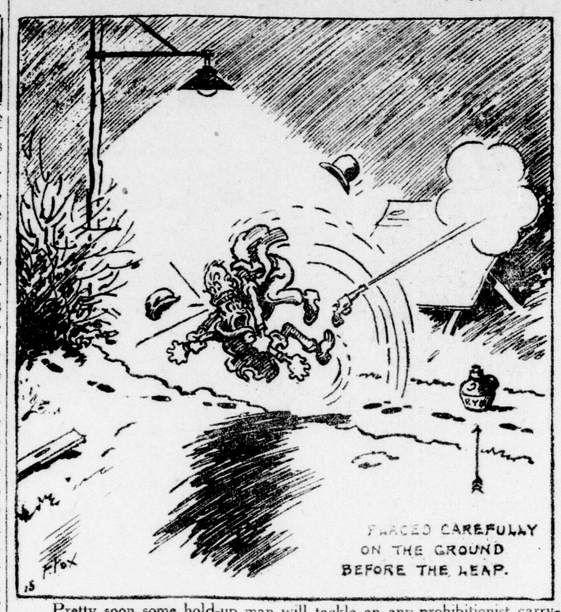

Enough has been divulged to indicate the necessity of the resignation of the Ontario license board. There was altogether too much trust imposed in the hirelings of the administration.

[By R. Ray Baker.]

Hope Sheldon was not a heathen; yet she worshiped an idol. The idol was the photographic likeness of a man. She had the picture but so far as she knew she never had seen the original; he might be dead for all of her knowledge concerning him. Yet to her he embodied all that a man ought to be.

This idol, or ideal, worshiped in secret, prevented Hope from saying the one-syllable word that would have made Henry Wadsworth walk on air, save money, pay an installment on furniture, and hunt a flat.

Hope was fond of Henry. She would have uttered that longed-for word of it had not been for the photograph. She admitted this to herself, but to him she said:

"I can't do it. Please don't ask me again. I have a secret that prevents my accepting you."

That was all the satisfaction he could obtain. Every time he proposed, which was once a week regularly, he got the same story in different words, but with the same meaning. Only once did he fail to get in his weekly proposal, and that was because a railroad wreck delayed his special delivery letter while he was out of the city on business.

But Henry was persistence itself. Nothing daunted him, not even the reference to the "secret." At first he conceived wild thoughts concerning it, and lost many hours of sleep on account of it, but it failed to vanquish him. Instead he came back stronger, with a determination to override her mysterious objections, whatever they might be.

Hope was a sentimentalist. When she was a little girl she got decided notions about princes, and resolved to marry one when she grew up. In her more mature years she still had ambitions to wed a prince. Not the kind they had in Europe before the war; oh no, they were not for Hope. She wanted an American husband, but he must be a "prince of a fellow," and the picture showed her ideal to be the one that filled the bill. She would wait for this prince to put in an appearance come what may, she decided, and if he was dead she would never marry.

The picture came into her possession in a somewhat peculiar manner. When Hope arrived in the city to "stenog" she was obliged to rent a room that was a long way from being desirable, but which was in a respectable neighborhood. In the top dresser drawer was the photograph. She pounced upon it with deep satisfaction, for she recognized the face looking up at her as belonging to the prince of dreams.

The man in the picture was middle-aged, but that did not deter Hope. He had a heavy moustache, but that was no barrier. It was the kindly eyes and the benevolent forehead that caught her fancy. Just what kind of forehead is of the benevolent variety I cannot tell you; but Hope could. She had read up on such things.

Every night that photograph went under her pillow after she had worshiped it with her eyes and perhaps talked to it a little. Yes, she was a foolish little girl, was Hope—foolish along those lines but otherwise very sensible. She did not consider that a man of middle-age with kindly eyes and a benevolent forehead might be married already. He simply couldn't be, according to her.

As time passed and the ideal persisted in refusing to present himself in flesh and blood her determination did not wane; instead, it became stronger. Then a better job permitted her to move into a more comfortable room in a less poverty-stricken part of the city, and that is where the trouble began. That is where she began a fight with herself to avoid faithlessness to her ideal. For across the hall from her in the new place lived Henry Wadsworth, who held some kind of a job at a theatre. He at once fell in love with Hope and launched himself on a program of persistent wooing. She occasionally accepted an invitation to a dance or dinner, but in the main she declined his social attentions, which was the only proper course in line with her refusal of his matrimonial offers.

But Hope wavered several times, in private of course. The urge was very strong and she had to fight to keep from yielding to Henry's persuasions. He never knew this, though. All the battles took place in the privacy of her room, where she would stand the picture against the wash bowl and asserting time and time again that she was "true." We are all deranged more or less on some subject (so the experts say) and that ideal notion was Hope's.

Determination will win almost anything, and at least Henry broke down the big barrier; or, rather, he broke down the barriers guarding the secret, which was the big barrier. It was just after his nineteenth proposal. He kept track of them on a calendar, so he knew just which one it was.

While he was uttering the same words that he had given voice to the week previous, and the week before that, etc., etc., Hope sat in deep thought and heard him through. That was something, for usually she broke into a pretty speech and did not allow him to reach the end of it. This time, when he was through, she said:

"Henry, I'm going to tell you the big secret. It's another man!"

Henry nearly fell off the chair. He had often thought this might be the solution, but the confirmation of his suspicions was startling just the same. He was almost sorry he had learned the secret now, for in a way he would be taking a rather sneaking advantage of an absent rival if he continued his suit. It was all right when he did not know there was "another man," but now it was different.

While he sat mum in a state bordering desperation, Hope went to the dresser and brought forth the picture. She handed it to him, and while he gazed at the face in it with a sort of vindictive gleam in his eyes she told him the story of the photograph. Slowly a smile spread over Henry's face as he listened to the tale of how the ideal came to be, and he bent low over the likeness of his "rival" in order to hide the manifestations of merriment that were taking possession of his countenance.

The next evening, while Hope was busy reading a book, some one knocked at her door.

"Henry again," she decided and went to the door, which she flung open. The man who stood there was an exact replica of the one in the photograph. It was the idol, she could not doubt that. Yes, there were the kindly eyes and benevolent forehead, and the heavy moustache.

In a daze she held the door open and watched the apparation enter, without speaking, and set himself comfortably in a chair.

"Why do you treat me so coldly?" asked the flesh and blood idol. "Haven't you been waiting for me to come?"

She closed the door and stood looking down at him, unable as yet to grasp as a reality the fact that she was gazing upon the living original of the picture that lay in the dresser drawer. Perhaps she was dreaming, she thought, and even looked for a pin with which to prick herself as a test.

Suddenly the strange visitor broke out in laughter, shaking all over and rocking back and forth with his head held in his hands.

What—what are you doing?" Hope managed to inquire, in a rather thin-sounding voice.

"I'm laughing!" he roared, and then behold! Off came the heavy moustache. Out came the man's handkerchief and with it he obliterated various "benevolent" wrinkles from his forehead. The kindly eyes remained, because they were Henry Wadsworth's and his always were that way.

Hope sank weakly into a chair. She was unable to understand whether he was playing a rather crude hoax on her or whether the photograph in her possession actually was one of Henry with the make-up which he had just removed. He evidently divined her thoughts, for he said:

"Don't be angry, Hope. I can't help it. Your idol and I are one and the same. I had it taken when I was playing the title role in 'Miser Moses,' and I left the photograph in my room when I quit living at Mrs. Oleson's place. You evidently were the next occupant of the room and you found the picture. How about it, are you still bent on marrying the picture man or will you have me? Either way, it's Henry Wadsworth that will be the lucky man, because I'm both."

Hope looked meek and submissive, and yet there was a lot of happiness shining from her eyes as she replied:

"I'll take you both then. I've often wished during the last few months that I could do that.

The famous Irish tenor, John McCormack, is quoted in England on an interesting fact about gramophone profits. These sales have so far added up to 2,500,000, netting the singer £50,000.

Then search for self defence!

I never see the youngsters in the sun—
In spring's new days at the old marble game,
But I say, "Mustn't play for keeps"—the while I know,
They'll do it—just the same!

Whene'er I see a lonely vacant house—
With wide inviting glare of window pane,
My fingers twitch in the old wicked way—
And I'm a boy again!

But when my youngsters clamor for old tales
Of what their daddy did when he was young—
I tell them it's too long ago, and that
Their bedtime hour has rung!

THE BEST OF MEN SLIP UP.

[London Chronicle.]
Can anything be done (asks a correspondent) to induce public men using the English tongue to discriminate properly between "will" and "shall?" The confusion of the two words is by far the commonest verbal mistake made by political speakers. Thus in the same day's paper you get Mr. Bonar Law putting to himself the question (in the Shall German pay? debate). "Will I get more in a composition than by making the man a bankrupt?" and President Wilson, in his farewell speech at New York, declaring: "If men cannot now, after this bloody sweat, see how to regulate the affairs of the world, we will sink back into a period of struggle without hope." In both cases the element of decision and determination necessary to justify the use of "will" were absent from the speakers' minds.

A CURIOUS DIFFERENCE

[Edmonton Bulletin]
Newspaper comment has thus far been almost unanimous in praising the Dominion Government for having allowed—or forced—the Grand Trunk Pacific to go into the hands of a receiver.

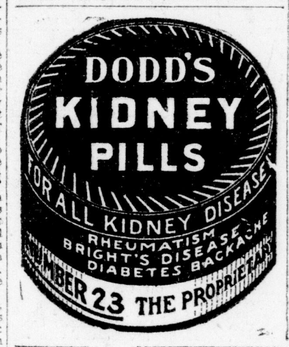

If that was a course proper to pursue in the case of the Grand Trunk Pacific, which represents outstanding obligations of $200,000,000, it surely was an equally proper course to pursue in the case of the Canadian Northern, which represents outstanding securities to the amount of a half billion dollars.

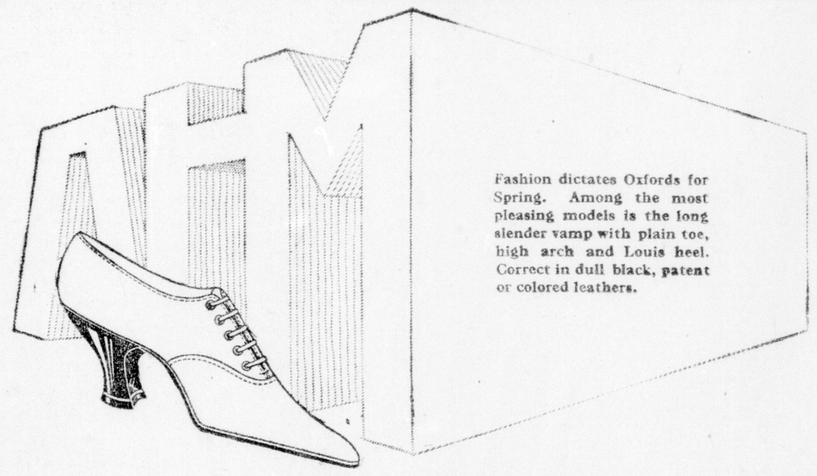

Somewhat curiously, none of the papers which have praised the government for allowing the Grand Trunk to go into the hands of a receiver have suggested that it would have been equally proper to allow the Canadian Northern to take the same course. On the contrary, papers which declared that it would ruin the credit of Canada forever to allow the Canadian Northern to go under a receivership, now express their entire satisfaction with the policy of putting the Grand Trunk Pacific under receivership.

Just why it was necessary, or more in the public interest, that McKenzie and Mann should be bought out, while the English stockholders in another company are squeezed out, is a matter that would stand some explaining.

I. O. D. E. TO TAKE DEFINITE PART IN CIVIC RECEPTION

Committee Appointed to Confer With Civic Committee For Welcome of Soldiers.

The regular meeting of the Municipal Chapter took place yesterday afternoon in Cronyn Hall, with Mrs. E. B. Smith in the chair. It was suggested at this meeting that the I. O. D. E., as an organization, take some definite part in the civic reception which the city is preparing for the returning men. A welcome arch was suggested by Mrs. A. H. Galbraith. The result of the discussion was the appointment of a committee composed of all the primary regents to undertake the matter, after a smaller committee, composed of the Municipal regent, secretary and treasurer, had conferred with the civic committee.

Chapter to Entertain.

Mrs. J. B. McKillop, convener of the hospitals visiting committee, reported the successful opening concert held at the Wolseley Barracks Recreation Hall on Tuesday night, and asked the various primary chapters in turn to undertake either a concert or dance and provide refreshments for each Tuesday night. On the suggestion of her committee it was also decided that the various chapters might call upon the Municipal Chapter Soldiers' Comfort Fund up to a certain amount to help in the providing for these Tuesday night entertainments and the supply of the hospital visitors.

A letter from the national educational secretary re a national I. O. D. E. war memorial, to take the form of providing for a series of lectures in the leading universities of Canada, was read and the matter laid over for consideration by the primary chapters.

Grenfell Mission.

Mrs. A. B. Becher brought the cause of the Grenfell Mission before the meeting, with the result that the chapters undertook to contribute toward this work. Mention was also made of the orphanage for little children which Dr. Grenfell hopes to build in Labrador. Every 25 cents donated towards it pays for a single brick when it has been put in place in the building. Everywhere throughout this country and the United States bricks are being hurled at the orphanage, says the committee in charge.

Mrs. Galbraith Convener.

The packing and supply committee, which has done such faithful work during the whole of the war period, will continue in office, as will Mrs. A. H. Galbraith as convener of the band concerts.

The Campbell Becher chapter has asked for permission to give a ball in the second week of May.

The announcement was made at yesterday's meeting that Mrs. Fred White had been made a life member of the Municipal Chapter by her own chapter, the Lord Elgin.

Appreciation was expressed to the members of the press for their help during the period of the war, and each chapter undertook the purchase of tickets for the coming lecture of Flight-Lieut. Beverley Robinson.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Bishop M. Fallon has returned from Buffalo.

Mr. Hugh McPherson was a visitor in Toronto this week.

Mrs. L. Tomlinson of Woodstock has returned home after a brief visit in the city.

Mrs. R. Green of Toronto is visiting her mother-in-law, Mrs. John Green, of Kidout street.

After the usual practice of the Musical Art Society in Hyman Hall on Tuesday, the members enjoyed a delightful little dance, providing their own music.

The London Conservatory of Music Alumnae has very kindly postponed its meeting from Monday, the 14th, to Tuesday, the 15th, on account of the Beverly Robinson lecture in the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium on Monday.

The Lord Roberts Chapter, I.O.D.E., held the first of its Wednesday afternoon teas in the chapter rooms in Cronyn Hall yesterday afternoon. Mrs. R. B. Smith and Mrs. J. B. McKillop were hostesses. Capt. Julia Henshaw was a guest of honor.

ST. PAUL'S AUXILIARY TO GIVE MISSIONARY PLAY

A missionary play, entitled, "The Master's Garden," will be given by the members of St. Paul's Junior Auxiliary on Saturday, April 12, at 4 o'clock. Miss Beatrice Taylor and Miss Jean Waugh are in charge, and it is expected that there will be an excellent turnout. A silver collection will be taken at the door.

Daily Bible Question Club

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS ON THE UNIFORM LESSON FOR SUNDAY, APRIL 13, 1919.

ONE GOLDEN TEXT SUGGESTION. By Rev. T. S. Linscott.

Christ Our Saviour.—Matthew, xx., 27-28; John, i., 35-51; iii., 16; Romans, viii., 31-32.

QUESTIONS FOR TODAY.

11. Verse 45. When we have found Jesus why is it that we always like to tell others about it?

12. If a man professes to have found Jesus, and is not anxious to bring others to him, what may that indicate?

13. Verses 46, 47. In persuading people to be Christians why is it better to say, "Come and See," rather than "Go and see?" (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by the members of the club).

14. When Jesus said that Nathaniel was "an Israelite, indeed in whom is no guile," was that, or not, and why, equal to saying that he was a saved man?

Golden Text—For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on Him should not perish, but have eternal life. —John iii., 16.

THAT GOD LOVED THE WORLD IS MARVELOUS.

It is a study for man and angels; it always has been and always will be that God loves sinners. The philosophy of the ancients was that God loves the lovable and hates the unlovable, that is, that he loves the good and hates the bad. The message of Christ, however, to the earth is that God loves sinners; He looks upon the world of sinners with infinite compassion, and all His other loving invitations for men to repent having been rejected He now sends His well-beloved Son to live, and finally die, to accomplish the great purpose of God's heart. This is a most marvellous thing; the song of the saved and of the angels; the mystery song of heaven and earth that God gave His Son to save sinners.

"Hyman Hall"

"Hyman Hall," the great storehouse of the Western Ontario Red Cross work, during the four years of war, stands in that position no longer. The association is now cosily established in the new headquarters on Queen's avenue, which are abundantly large for the present diminished work. But it will be a long time indeed before the words "Hyman Hall" will convey anything other than bales and bales of socks and bandages and tables groaning under heaps of sewing.

For four years Hyman Hall has been the Mecca of war work for the district surrounding London. Thousands and thousands of parcels have been brought there personally, and others directed there through the mails—the gifts of mercy to bleeding, torn humanity. So that it has come that the very name "Hyman Hall" is fraught with something inexplainably tender and dear. It was the refuge of mothers, torn with anxiety for boys far up on the firing line. There, busy with needle and gauze, they were able to forget their own private fear, in service for others. The Private's wife sat side by side with the wife of the Lieut.-Colonel, and all distinction of rank was lost in the bond of sympathy and understanding which drew them together.

Then, too, "Hyman Hall, London" came to mean a very great deal to the boys in hospital overseas, when bale after bale bearing this magic name was opened to disclose comforts of all kinds.

It might have been another building chosen for the housing of the great war work, but the fact that it was Hyman Hall is due to the kindness of the London Liberal Club, which is best expressed in the following letter addressed to Andrew Robson from the Red Cross Society.

Dear Mr. Robson,—At a meeting of the executive of the London branch of the Red Cross Society, I was desired by the members to express to you and your directorate their sincere and grateful appreciation for the many kindnesses and great consideration shown by the Liberal Club during their occupancy of the rooms at Hyman Hall. We all appreciate very much the patriotism which prompted the Liberal Club to give up so much space for so long to the urgent needs of the society, and recognize at what great personal sacrifice to the members that this was done. We feel, however, that you share with us our pride in the fine achievements of the women of London in war work, and the high standing which the London branch of the Red Cross maintained throughout the war years, and our appreciation of your patriotic action is not the less because we realize that you made this sacrifice so cheerfully and willingly.

With very sincere thanks, I am sincerely yours

Back Yard Garden and Chicken Run

Profitable Combination of Summer and Winter Activities—Economical Feeding and General Care.

Few city dwellers can contemplate the possibility of having gardens and chickens simultaneously. It takes plenty of space to permit of this combination of backyard activities. There are some backyards so unsuited to the growing of vegetables that poultry may be kept in them the whole year round, but the ideal state of affairs is to keep chickens during the winter months and then dispose of them in time to make way for gardening activities. It has been amply demonstrated that poultry can be exceedingly profitable when carefully kept in small runs. Indeed, the actual gain, where breeding is not desired, is often greater than from birds allowed to roam at large.

In order to have poultry in winter and a garden in summer it is a good plan to buy well-matured pullets in October and November, feeding them fairly heavily all winter and selling or eating them in the spring. There are many city families that could not only provide themselves with new-laid eggs and table poultry by keeping a small flock of hens, but could also turn to account feed that ordinarily goes into the garbage can. The estimated value of scraps of this kind when turned to account in the laying of eggs amounts to millions of dollars.

Breed.

The breed of hens to buy is largely a matter of individual taste. Almost any popular breed in Canada will do, provided the hens are healthy and of good laying strain. For winter eggs it is better to keep early pullets only. For the early winter months it costs 3½ times as much to get a dozen eggs from late, as from early, pullets; it costs 4 times as much from yearling hens, and 23 times as much from old hens.

Feed.

Like human beings, hens like variety in their fare. They should be given a mixed grain in the litter both night and morning, and a wet or dry mash at noon. On the basis of two hens to every member of the family, the ordinary kitchen scraps should save one-third of the feed daily. It is estimated that the table scraps of an economical family for the six winter months, when fed to the hens represent 50 cents a month per member of the family, in egg returns. Skimmed milk is excellent when it can be spared. It is as important not to overfeed as to underfeed. More birds are underfed at present than the reverse. Hens require a good deal more nourishment in the winter than in the summer. The appetite of a flock is usually a good indication of what production is going to be like. They must eat heartily in order to lay well. Experience has shown that the simple, home-grown feeds are more economical than the higher-priced, ready-mixed feeds. In most backyard gardens a few sunflowers are grown and anyone contemplating having chickens during the winter months should save the seed, as it makes excellent fare when mixed with grain. When the eggs have soft shells it is a sign that the hens are too fat or are getting too much stimulating feed. The third contingency is that they may not be getting enough shell-forming material in their ration.

General Care.

Everybody's business is usually nobody's business, and the care of the chickens is too often neglected because it is left to anyone who may, or may not, happen to remember about the inhabitants in the backyard. It is a good plan to make one member of the family directly responsible for the care of the chickens. The person who can devote most time to it and who is genuinely interested in the work, is the best choice.

One of the advantages of keeping chickens is the small initial outlay. A setting of eggs, a dozen day-old chicks or a trio of breeders will form the foundation for an enterprise that is limited only by the will, energy and ability of the manager.

Housing.

A small, cheaply-constructed henhouse is all that is required for the small flock. Each hen should have from four to five square feet of floor space. Ventilation is of the first importance. Plenty of sunlight should be allowed to drift in through clean window panes. No artificial heating is necessary. Dampness in any form whether emanating from outside sources or from within, seriously impairs the vitality of the stock and directly affects production. Fowls delight in a clean, dry, well-lighted, well-ventilated house, and it pays to consider their tastes in this respect.

Ans.—The Advertiser appears to be like Tennyson's brook, "goes on forever." Anyhow it is at present enjoying its 57th year—and still growing. A foot pattern is sent you, with pleasure.

Homemade Cheese.

Dear Miss Grey,—Can you tell me how to make homemade cheese and what kind of coloring to put in cheese? Can you tell me if tincture of gilsemium for headache would affect a weak heart? IRISH MOLLY.

Ans.—I. I'm sorry not to be able to give you the desired information. Write to the dairy branch, department of Agriculture, Ottawa, and literature will be sent free. There is special coloring used, and this may be purchased from any firm dealing in dairy supplies. 2. Cannot say, best to consult a physician.

Here's Lonesome Reader.

Dear Miss Grey,—I received the coupons yesterday and was glad to get them. I have eight hundred and twenty seven coupons. I was wanting twelve hundred if I could get them. I thank the kind readers for them, and also you, Miss Grey, for sending them.

Could any one of the readers send a copy of the song. It is something like this, (it is a very old English lightning song.)

The bayonets flashed like lightning,
Till the beating of the drum;
There's the flag of dear old England,
Waving in the sun.

I will return it when I have it copied out. Thanking you very much, I am the same as ever.

LONESOME READER.

Bawn Sends Thanks.

Dear Miss Grey,—I wish to thank you for the stocking-foot pattern, also the one who was so kind to send "Bawn" the recitation. Would some of the realers kindly send in recipes for some nice desserts and salads? When the Yanks and Canucks stop fighting over who won the war, I'll send some tested recipes.

I like "Ura Kidd's" letters very much and I wish she would write more often. Best wishes to the Mail-Box from BAWN.

Joining the Masons.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have been asked to give a reading at a Masonic banquet. There was one I used to have, but have lost it and don't even remember the title, but it is about a man who attended poker parties and occasionally came home the worse for it and, to screen himself, he told his wife he was being initiated into the Masonic lodge. He also talked in his sleep and once called out, "I stand pat!" When his wife asked him about it he told her that was the password of the lodge. She was a little doubtful, so she interviewed the head man of the Masons and found out the truth about her husband. Now, if I could get this from someone I would be very glad and would try and help in return.

A JEW.

Our Victory Bond.

Dear Miss Grey,—Inclosed find patterns for M. M. and Cerice. Hope they can make them out.

I appreciated your letter "Returned Soldier;" yours also "Evangelist." You have my sympathy and prayers for your welfare; you are the kind of companion our boys and girls need; May "Our Heavenly Father," be with you in all your undertakings.

"Mammy Dinah," I for one won't turn my nose up at you. It's not the color of the skin that counts, Mammy, and many a white skin hides a black heart.

No, Ura Kidd, I sure escaped the "flu," but say, hun, I have had a bad cold tonight, and I wish you would come and stay a while. I imagine we'd have some time.

So long, everybody. The same old

VICTORY BOND.

How Is It Done?

Dear Miss Grey,—You will find inclosed some silk patches for Beanpole, also a few copies of the famous stocking foot pattern, and a quilt pattern for Dixie.

I wonder if any of the readers would be kind enough to send me (not the directions, but how you do it), of a knitted pull-over sweater, as I have cut out the clipping of directions, and am so thick-headed, I guess, that I can't understand how you do the neck and sleeves. As I have no one to show me, I thought someone might help me. Can anyone send me the Butterfly yoke design, and I would copy it and send it back.

KANDY KID (2).

Away For a Month in Quebec.

Dear Miss Grey,—It is a month since I have read The Advertiser, I have been away to the city for a month, therefore am behind with the Mail-Box. I am sending a letter for Pandora, also pieces for Beanpole and a quilt pattern for Nan. I see where A. V. Cross wishes for my address; please send it to her. Will be pleased to correspond with her. Yours sincerely,

BETH FROM DOWN EAST.

A Leader's Perplexities.

Dear Miss Grey,—I see where Babe 28 is asking for a flannelette flag. I am inclosing two for her. I wonder if Babe 28 or any of your other readers could help me a little? I am a leader (a very harassed and perplexed one at times) of a bunch of Girl Guides. I am badly in need of some drills for them, both physical and fancy. If anyone could loan me some I would copy and return them gladly. Also I am looking for some spicy dialogues for girls ranging from 8 to 18. Our local stores do not seem to have a very choice stock of either drills or dialogues. I have purchased all the suitable ones I could find. Would very much like to get a fan drill. Will be very grateful for any help.

GIRL GUIDE.

Ans.—If no response is received in answer to your appeal, I can give you an address where drills and dialogues may be purchased.

Molly O—First and Second—Vermont.

Dear Miss Grey,—In the "Tizer of March 4 I notice a letter from "Babe" in which she says her address was given to Molly O', and, so far, had not heard from her and that she hoped she would tell of her trip to Vermont. "A comedy of errors" is this, I believe. Has "Babe" not gotten the two Molly O's slightly mixed, Miss Grey?

I'm the Molly O who came to Vermont and "cross me heart" I never received Babe's address, but I believe it was meant for the other Molly 'O, and, in all probability, Miss Grey has sent it to her. However, if Babe would like to write to me I will enjoy answering her letters.

If Oxfordite answered my request I did not see her reply and the fact that my paper goes to a place in Virginia by the same name as this town and seldom reaches me may account for my not seeing answers to my questions.

Miss Grey, can you publish in your columns the name and address of the official paper of the Dominion Government? I thought it was The Ottawa Gazette, but find it isn't. Seeing you have two Molly O's and one Molly and I'm not a frequent comer, also to avoid confusion, I'll change my pen name to a much contorted form of my name, "Molly." Sincerely,

"BOLLI".

Ans.—"Bolli" sounds very much as though "Molly" had a "gold id her dose;" but, anyway, it's obliging of you to wish to save confusion. The official paper of the Dominion Government is Canadian Official Record, Department of Public Information, Ottawa.

A Three-Cornered Medallion.

Dear Miss Grey,—At last after receiving help several times I am able to do a little in return. I have copied "The Kindergarten Tot" for Corda. I saw that several were asking for "The Ladies' Aid," so I have written it from memory and hope it is the one that is wanted.

Has anyone a pattern for a three-cornered medallion in crochet that she would be willing to send me? Was it "Ura Kid" said to buy a book? I bought three, but could not get what pattern I wanted.

I wonder if anyone has the recitation about the woman who felt so sorry for the widower that she followed him all over and stayed with him. To get away from her he sat behind the door in church, but she thought it was from shyness and followed him there and sat with him and his family. I would like to get it if possible. I haven't heard it for fourteen years.

BELLE.

Ans.—"Corda," please send me your address and a stamp.

Songs for Tulip.

Dear Miss Grey,—Could you or any of the Pageites copy me the words of "I Want to Kiss Daddy Good-Night" and "Over There"? TULIP.

A Poem of Comfort.

In answer to a request for the following poem, three copies were received from our readers. Somehow, they seem such comforting lines, I am printing them today, feeling sure they will be of solace to more than one empty heart:

AWAY.

[James Whitcomb Riley.]

I cannot say, and I will not say
That he is dead—he is just away.

With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand
He has wandered into an unknown land,

And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be that he lingers there.

And you—O you who the wildest yearn
For the old-time step and the glad return—

Think of him faring on, as dear
In the love of There as the love of Here.

And loyal still, as he gave the blows
Of his warrior strength to his country's foes.

Mild and gentle as he was brave—
When the sweetest love of his life he gave

To simple things: where the violets grew
Pure as the eyes they were likened to.

The touches of his hand have strayed
As reverently as his lips have prayed.

When the little brown thrush that
Harshly chirred
Was dear to him as the mocking-bird.

And he pitied as much as a man in pain
A writhing honey-bee wet with rain—

Think of him still as the same, I say;
He is not dead—he is just away!

Can Women Think?

Miss Grey,—Engrossed in the flightiness of Madge and her Dicky-bird and wondering who did win the war anyway, I overlooked this solemn inquiry and "Mere Man's" criticism of the page's recipe for making two pounds of butter out of one pound, until a young friend of the Normal School asked me, "What do you know about that!" and said they had tried the recipe in class and found it four ounces short of weight. Well, if they would get a bigger cup to measure the milk and maybe hunt up a larger egg, surely the weight would come right! When the recipe was first published—three or four years ago, was it not?—I remember feeling the mild interest with which I read and smile at politicians' promises and beauty doctors' advertisements, but, living on a farm where butter is plentiful, I did not try the recipe, although I have made lemon butter and similar concoctions for variety's sake, but, always, we decide that the best yet is butter with the milk well worked out.

"Mere Man" says "the mess resulting is not butter." What is it, then? Did he ever eat those good "spreadings," apple butter and smearkesel or head-cheese, and of what does he imagine the "icing" and "frosting" on his cakes consist? I presume he defines "a balanced ration" as one which consisteth of a number and variety of "pieces," in each and all of which the central and better half, commonly known as "filling," shall be equal in thickness, length and breadth to the sum of the supporting and adjacent sides of bread. Following an ancestral habit, when in doubt look in the dictionary, I find that butter is the German form of the Latin-French root, word "batter," which includes all those mixtures made by "beating." Chemists speak of "butter of tin," and one sure does need some tin nowadays to buy any!

start up an agitation to change the

Please, Cynthia, do not let anyone name and composition of "butter" to "kitchen fat," or one shall doubt the wisdom of the poet who wrote:

"'Tis beter to have thought nonsense
Than never to have thought at all."

Ever devotedly yours,

A THOUGHTLESS BUTTERFLY.

"Bell" To "Scribbler."

Dear Miss Grey,—Just a few lines to "Scribbler." You will notice by my pen name that I was one of those who sent tatting patterns. I also wished to exchange some with you, so sent my envelope, addressed and stamped, but have not received any in return. I have been waiting three weeks and will be very grateful if you will send me some soon. If necessary, I will take off patterns and return yours. As ever, BELL.

Birth Flowers for Babe.

Dear Miss Grey,—I would like to have a copy of "Fair Charlotte," also the language of flowers for each month, if you have them. BABE.

Ans.—Following is a list of the "birth flowers" for each month. This is an old English list, and I understand there is a list of more modern compilation. If anybody possesses this I should be very pleased to receive same for publication: January, snowdrop (signifies purity); February, primrose (inconstancy); March, violet (modesty); April, daisy (innocence); May, hawthorn (sweetness); June, honeysuckle (devotion); July, water lilly (purity of heart); August, poppy (indifference); September, morning glory (youth or freshness); October, hop-flower (I don't know the significance of this); November, chrysanthemum (think of me); December, holly (cheer).

2. Flower Language.—Daisy, innocence; sweet pea, depart; goldenrod, be cautious; hellirope, devotion; candytuft, indifference; carnation, love; hyacinth, love; lily of the valley, unconscious sweetness; pansy, thoughts; rose, love; yellow rose, jealousy; ivy, friendship; fern, fascination.

Why Women Should Vote.

Dear Miss Grey,—Would you please give me some pointers on the question: "Why women should have the right to vote," for a debate. READER.

Ans.—Here are some points which you may find forceful in discussing the subject: Women property-owners have taxes to pay and are, therefore, deserving of the franchise; mothers are especially interested in all laws and conditions pertaining to or affecting the home or the school, they have a right to help elect aldermen and school trustees, "the vote" is the lawful privilege of citizenship; women are equally good citizens with men, and are hence entitled to all privileges attached thereto. In refusing women of Canada the franchise, they are classed with children, imbiciles and Indians; this is scarcely chivalrous of the men, the rotten state of politics under management is a crying evidence of the need of women's purifying influence. If true "government by the people for the people" is to be the case, then one-half the population should not be disfranchised. Women's wonderful work in nursing, munition-making, supplying of soldiers' comforts, equipping hospitals, etc.—the evidence given of organizing and executive ability during the war—entitle them to all voting privileges.

SISLER IS BETTER PLAYER THAN BABE RUTH, SAYS RICKEY

Former Michigan University Boy Can Outplay Him in Any Department.

ST. LOUIS, April 9.—In an epoch of tottering thrones, Babe Ruth, all-around monarch of the diamond, would better be looking after the props of his big empire. For—we have the word of President Branch Rickey of the Cardinals for this—in St. Louis there is one player who can dispossess the Boston marvel and himself assume the title of "most versatile player in the game" with just a little encouragement.

This player, Rickey avers, can outhit, outpitch, outrun and outthink Ruth; he can fill more positions than Babe and play any or all of them better. He has more aggressiveness, more daring, more everything, in short, save salary and reputation. This player is not a member of Rickey's squad, just to prove that his opinion is not mere clever press agency. The only reason this player has not utterly eclipsed Ruth in fame, popularity and salary is that he is a victim of poor exploitation and too great personal modesty.

Sisler—yes, that's the fellow Rickey has in mind, Sisler, a soft-spoken fighter, a velvet pawed tiger when roused, a player whose powers of concentration, according to Rickey, enable him to fill not acceptably, but in masterly style, any new position assigned to him.

In an interview, Rickey explained his optimism regarding Sisler's future. Rickey has the right to discuss Sisler, because he discovered him as a college star at Michigan University, jockeyed him out of the possession of Barney Dreyfuss into the hands of the St. Louis Browns, and then gave him his first big league instruction.

"Babe Ruth fills the public eye," Rickey said, "because not only is he a great pitcher and hitter, but because the fullest use has been made of him to advertise his strength in these two departments. Babe can pitch in world's championship form and clout a home-run over the same fence; he can clean the bases in a pinch, and can bring his heavy artillery into daily play by handling a first base or outfield position acceptably.

"In this respect, however, he does not compare with Sisler. Sisler is as great or a greater pitcher than Ruth. I know this. He showed me his quality in the games in which I employed him—look back at his record if you don't believe this. As a batter and all-round player I leave it to the records to set forth his ability as compared with that of Babe.

"He batted .339 last year to Ruth's .297; he led the league in stealing bases with 40 in an abbreviated season, distancing Cobb and other stars; he was the fourth first baseman in fielding percentage; as an outfielder he showed wonderful promise; his great ground-covering ability, fine throwing arm and daring would make him a star at any position, where Ruth would be merely a defensive fillerin, tolerated because of his hitting. Save for the pitching, his superiority to Ruth can't be disputed, and I myself am certain that he is Babe's pitching master.

"Why is it that Ruth is so much more prominent than Sisler? The answer is that Sisler has not been exploited to 50 per cent of his publicity value and not to more than 70 per cent of his playing efficiency, while Ruth has been used on every possible occasion.

"The Browns' immediate need of a first baseman compelled us to use Sisler there. He made so good that his other virtues were forgotten. The management of the Browns has seen fit to be satisfied with the top-notch performance at first base and a wonderful hitting and running ability.

"To me this is a lamentable mistake. Sisler could pitch in turn and pitch the best left-hand ball in the league. With the same team back of him he would win as often or more often than Ruth. On other days he could return to first base or the outfield and do better than Ruth all that pitcher now does to evoke the wonder and plaudits of the mob.

"Sisler to me stands for an opportunity going to waste—opportunity both for the club and for the player. The club is losing a chance to increase its receipts by uplifting another bleacher favorite—a player whose versatility and ability transcends that even of 'The Flying Dutchman,' Hans Wagner, in his palmiest day."

LONDON "Y" JUNIORS PLAY AT WOODSTOCK TOMORROW EVENING

Local Boys Will Go Into the Second Game With a 35-Point Lead.

London "Y" juniors will journey to Woodstock on Friday evening with a 35-point lead to play the second game of a home-and-home series with the Baptist College team in the semi-finals of the O. A. B. A.

The college boys will likely give the London boys a good game on their own floor.

The locals look like real champions, and are anxious to win the trophy this year, making it the third consecutive time, and giving them the right to hold the cup.

The Londoners play well together and are good on long shots. The boys have been carefully trained by coach A. T. Taylor.

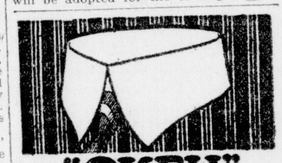

A workout will likely be held this evening to get ready for tomorrow night's contest.

The following players will line up on the London team: "Doc" Cline, captain; Gordon Henderson, Dune McLean, Earl Arscott, Ginsberg and George Young.

The Woodstock match will be handled by a referee from that city, as Tuesday's game was in charge of Colin Duffield.

TO ADOPT SCHEDULE.

TORONTO, April 9.—A meeting of the International League will be held in Newark on Friday when the schedule will be adopted for the coming season.

In the first game George Karrys' crew won by a margin of 58 points, having a score of 885.

The Rangers gave the Nationals a hard race in the second contest and lost out by 15 points. Karrys and Crawford went over the 200 mark in this match.

The Irish Rangers walked away with the last game. It was a clean sweep for the Rangers. The Nationals had 2 points, while the Irishmen came but 2 points from reaching the 1,000 mark. Tom Crawford was high man of the evening with 630 points, and George Karrys was one point behind him.

Joe Hall Buried At Coast; Hockey Men Pallbearers

Funeral Attended by Montreal Canadiens and Seattle Players.

The remains of the late member of the Canadiens of Montreal were carried to the grave by men with whom he had been associated in his long career of athletics—Lalonde, Couture and Berlanquette of the Montreal team, Taylor and Griffis of the Vancouver club, and Lester Patrick of the Victoria club.

Many of the Pacific Coast League players were present, as well as representatives of other athletic associations. The services were conducted by Rev. Harold King and Rev. E. A. Henry.

AMERICAN LEAGUE SEASON MAY OPEN EARLY THIS YEAR

Dates Will Likely Be Switched To Benefit Sunday Ball Law.

New York, April 9.—Baseball fans of greater New York are elated today over the prospect of being able to enjoy Sunday games at the Polo grounds in the future.

The passing of the Walker-Malone bill by the state legislature, and the favorable attitude of Governor Smith, has made it practically certain that the bill will become a law, bringing to an end a campaign for Sunday baseball which has been carried on for many years by the baseball heads in the greater city.

As a result of the legislation in favor of Sunday ball it is probable that the American League season here will be opened four days earlier than had been planned, with the Yankees and Red Sox starting off April 19, which comes on Saturday.

Sunday baseball in New York will mean the shattering of attendance records established in any one season here, and will assure the three major league clubs of the metropolis added prosperity, while visiting major league clubs will also benefit.

Judge Francis X. McQuade, now part owner of the Giants, together with Charley Ebbets, John McGraw, and in later years Colonels Ruppert and Huston, have been the prime movers in making the fight for Sunday ball in New York City. Club owners in the International League have also fought for Sunday ball for many years, and it is pointed out that in Binghamton, Syracuse, Buffalo and Rochester Sunday games will put the pastime on a paying basis.

GIBBS BILL IS PASSED BY NEW YORK SENATE

Albany, N. Y., April 10.—The Gibbs bill, designed to legalize boxing bouts in the state, was passed without debate in the Senate last night by a vote of 27 to 18. The Gibbs bill provides for sole control of professional boxing by a single commissioner to be appointed by the governor. The bouts would be limited to ten rounds, and a decision to be given by a referee. Gloves would not be less than five ounces in weight. Ten per cent of the gross receipts would go to the state.

McKenzie; middleweight, H. M. Sinclair, who scored a knockout; lightweight, F. P. Bigelow; heavyweight, C. J. Birmingham.

Big Sport Season Expected in St. Thomas This Year.

ST. THOMAS, April 9.—The Woodworth Rovers, one of the city's most famous football teams in the days that have passed and which won considerable fame in outside cities, is to be reorganized. The team was disbanded only after every man had been taken in the Canadian expeditionary forces. It has been out of existence for about three years.

A meeting has been called for Thursday night at the Y. M. C. A. The fate of this famous team will be settled then. St. Thomas' citizens whether interested in football or any other sport are urged to attend for with the revival of the game will come a general revival of sport.

The Great War Veterans, Pere Marquette shops and M. C. R. shops are all ready to begin practicing as soon as weather permits. Baseball and football teams have already been organized among the employees and members of each of these establishments. When all are ready to begin playing there is little doubt but that St. Thomas will have plenty of sport, even though it is only local talent.

GADSBY OF ST. THOMAS WILL HAVE TRY-OUT WITH TORONTO LEAFS

Manager George Gibson Satisfied With Catcher Jack Snyder.

TORONTO, April 9.—The weather this morning was not very promising for the first practice of the Toronto ball club scheduled to take place at the Island Stadium. Manager George Gibson, who arrived yesterday, and Trainer Tommy Daly were on the job bright and early, but the sullen sky and threatening cold weather kept them on the inside looking out. Manager Gibson is very sweet on Catcher Snyder, whom the Toronto club purchased from Brooklyn. "If he fails to make good you can blame me, for I selected him out of the ten catchers offered me by big league teams," he said. Russell Gee, the local catcher, will also get a chance to make the team.

The outfielders who have been ordered to report to Manager Gibson are Westlake, Anderson, Whiteman, Holden, Breckenridge, Morton and Harmon. Breckenridge comes from Beloit, Wis.; Morton from Montreal, and Harmon is from the South Atlantic League. He was overseas with the Canadian troops. Westlake is a local product, Anderson was with the Leafs last year, Whiteman comes back from the Boston Red Sox, and Holden was with Montreal.

The Toronto pitching squad will include Heck, Aichele, Peterson and Justin of the 1918 Leafs, Hanson of St. John, N.B., and Queen of Bayonne, N.J., a southpaw recommended to the Toronto club by the men who discovered "Tommy" Thompson. Manager Gibson is angling for a southern college pitcher who he considers to be a wonder. "You've heard all about these second Mathewsons, but this big lad is surely another 'Big Six,'" said the manager. "He pitched sensational ball in college games throughout the far southwest last season and did not lose a game. He is twenty years of age, a right-hander, and weighs 185 pounds."

The Toronto infield will be selected from Onslow, Wagner, Gonzales and Purtell of last season's team, and Gadsby of St. Thomas and Busse of Cleveland. Manager Gibson has the promise of a couple of likely players from major league clubs, and is of the opinion that when the season opens the Leafs will have a strong combination, although possibly they may be shy on condition.

The Leafs will do all their training work in Toronto. When the weather is favorable the squad will work from 10 o'clock in the morning until 4 in the afternoon. Manager Gibson believes that better results are secured in that manner than by working for a couple of hours in the morning, "knocking off" with the dinner bell and resuming in the afternoon. Should rainy weather interfere with the preparation of the team, the pitchers at least will work indoors, perhaps on the dirt floor at the repository.

CITY FOOTBALL LEAGUE TO BE FORMED AT WOODSTOCK

WOODSTOCK, April 9.—At a meeting of the Woodstock football club tonight it was decided to go ahead and organize a city league. Already four or five clubs have signified their intentions of joining, and complete organization will take place net week. C. O. Tatham was appointed official delegate of the club to the annual meeting of the U. F. A. in Stratford Good Friday, while James Gunn, second vice-president, and E. A. Rea, a member of the U. F. A. executive, will also attend. R. L. Smith was elected permanent secretary of the club. It was decided to play league games in Victoria Park as in other years.

LORNE AVENUE SCHOOL DEFEATS ST. GEORGE'S

Lorne avenue public school baseball team defeated St. George's by the score of 7 to 6 at the Lorne avenue grounds yesterday afternoon.

Wallace pitched an excellent game for the winners, while Billington showed up well for St. George's.

STRATFORD JUVENILES LOSE TO HAMILTON

STRATFORD, April 9.—Inability of the locals to find the basket, coupled with the absence of McDowell, who was declared over age, were responsible for the defeat of the Stratford juveniles in the O. B. A. game against Hamilton at Guelph last night, according to officers who accompanied the team. The score was 38 to 22 for Hamilton.

The winners will now meet the Toronto playgrounds team in the finals.

Hamilton and Stratford teams were evenly matched so far as play was concerned, but the locals were off in shooting.

FOR WOMEN IN THEIR "FORTIES"

System Needs a Bracing Nerve Aid.

Somewhere between the ages of forty and fifty years, every woman's system is already weakened, this period is doubly dangerous, as in this condition she is more easily affected by disorders which her now overtaxed organs are unable to throw off. Women during this changing age need and must have some quick acting and harmless remedy that, taken into their systems, will strengthen and invigorate their overworked nerve cells and help them to stand up under the trying strain.

Wonderfully effective results are given in such conditions by the simple use of Ferro-Peptine, a skillful combination of six of the best vitalizing elements known to modern chemistry. These little tablets contain no dangerous habit-forming drugs, and are entirely harmless in their action, but they act quickly to build up and strengthen the entire nervous system by feeding directly to the tired, devitalized nerve cells, in artificial form, the very necessary elements of which nature is depriving them.

If your nerves are worn out, if you have lost confidence, feel blue, are despondent and all tired out, Ferro-Peptine will help you at once. The Standard Drug Company and other leading druggists in this vicinity sell them with the positive guarantee that they must produce the beneficial results expected or the money paid for them will be refunded. BE SUSPICIOUS OF TENDER GUMS

Be suspicious of any tenderness or bleeding of the gums. This is usually the first stage of Pyorrhea—an insidious disease of the gums that destroys the teeth and undermines bodily health.

Gradually the gums become spongy. They inflame, then shrink, thus exposing the unenameled tooth-base to the ravages of decay. Tiny openings in the gums form gateways for disease germs to enter the system. Medical science has traced many ills to these infecting germs in the gums weakened by Pyorrhea.

They are now known to be a frequent cause of indigestion, anaemia, rheumatism and other serious conditions.

So watch carefully for that first tenderness or bleeding of the gums. Try Forhan's immediately. It positively prevents Pyorrhea (Rigg's Disease) if used in time and used consistently.

And in preventing Pyorrhea—it guards against other ills.

Forhan's (For the Gums) cleans teeth scientifically as well. Brush your teeth with it. It keeps the teeth white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

SIXTEEN SPECIFIC CHARGES LAID FOR NOVIATE INQUIRY

Rev. Kennedy Palmer Has 5, Sir Sam Hughes 11.

STILL ROOM FOR OTHERS

Ex-Militia Minister Says Capt. MacAuley Was Improperly Removed.

OTTAWA, April 9.—The following are the charges of Rev. Kennedy Palmer and those of Sir Sam Hughes in connection with the raid at the Novitiate at Guelph, which will be investigated by the royal commission. In addition to these charges the powers of the commission shall be wide enough so as to embrace anything of a specific charge of impropriety and so ample in scope that the "whole matter can be searched to the bottom."

The charges of the Rev. Kennedy Palmer were:

1. The department of justice at Ottawa interfered with the military board at Guelph in their efforts to obtain information as to the status of the inmates of the Guelph Novitiate.

2. That in doing so the department extended special privileges to an institution which should have been treated like any other institution.

3. That Hon. C. J. Doherty interfered with Capt. A. C. Macauley on the night of June 7, while he (Capt. Macaulay) was carrying out the orders of his superior officers.

4. That the department of justice, through its minister, prevented the placing in military service of young men of military age residing in the institution.

5. That the press censorship instigated by a minister of the crown intensified the feeling that special protection was being given to the institution at Guelph.

Sir Sam's Charges.

To these Sir Sam Hughes added:

1. That the Government improperly failed to make the occupants of the novitiate register for medical examination or for service under the M. S. A., and the Government also failed to publish those harboring defaulters in the institute.

2. A member of the Government (Guthrie) informed a member of the Ministerial Association that "Doherty says they are all right and they are to be left alone."

3. The militia department ordered London to take action, and MacAuley did it.

4. The novitiate communicated with the justice department.

5. The justice department improperly communicated with MacAuley.

6. After midnight the militia department communicated with MacAuley and improperly ordered him to retire from the novitiate.

7. The justice department improperly ordered the press censorship.

8. The minister of militia apologized to the principal of the novitiate and indirectly censored MacAuley when the order should have been to the principal to observe the law.

9. Col. Godson-Godson, provost-marshal for the militia department, visited the novitiate and further apologized.

10. Col. Godson-Godson visited London and, it is claimed, improperly and surreptitiously had certain letters removed from the military files there.

11 MacAuley was improperly removed to Winnipeg by the militia department.

BISHOP EVANS ATTACKS MORMONISM.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Fifty-two years ago I sold The Advertiser on London streets, and had a "round" of papers for the office. My home was in London from 1865 till I moved to Toronto in 1908.

My parents became members of the Latter-Day Saints Church in the early seventies, and as a boy I followed them, being baptised in 1876. I have been ordained to seven different offices in the priesthood of the church, till I occupied as one of the first presidency the highest office in the church.

I gave what little ability I possessed, honestly believing the work to be of God. When I became convinced that Joseph Smith was a false prophet, a polygamist and a very bad man, my heart was broken, but my honor bade me tender my resignation to the president of that body. Prior to that time no charge had ever been preferred against me. Since then I am almost everything that is bad. In fact, I am the wretch that "put the salt in the ocean."

God has opened my eyes to the enormity of that great system of false religion, and I have published many pamphlets during the last nine months. The church has published more than a hundred feet long, a column wide, against me, but has refused me the right to make reply through their several papers, so the only way I can secure the eye of Mormonism is to print books and pamphlets, or ask the city papers to place before the world the facts. Toronto papers have come to my help, and now I am asking you to please publish the inclosed open letter to President F. M. Smith. I have sent it to him, but I presume he will not publish it, and I wish the world to know the true position. Therefore, with confidence I approach the dear old London Advertiser to help "London's Old Boy" in his fight against the greatest religious imposition that has cursed the earth.

When my work is established I expect to answer the many calls made by the ministers of other denominations in London and elsewhere to delver a course of lectures on Mormonism.

Please help me by inserting this and the open challenge to Smith, for which you will receive the silent throbbings of a grateful heart. Yours sincerely,

R. C. EVANS.

Office of Presiding Bishop, 51 Ozark Crescent, Toronto, Ont., April 8, 1919.

An Open Challenge to President Frederick M. Smith.

President F. M. Smith: Dear Sir,—The Saints' Herald for March 19, 1919, pages 251-2 contains a letter purporting to have been written by one signing the name of T. W. Williams. For many reasons I decline to regard this person of many sides as being sincere, some of which I will submit to you, as reasons why I have, and shall continue to decline to appear on the same platform with him.

First.—He was considered a strong Socialist, and he admits that he was secretary for that society in California for years. For reasons known to himself and others he suddenly rushed from California to Canada to act as your representative in a tirade against me from press, platform and pulpit.

Second.—The contradictory statements and misrepresentations made are so numerous that I would not consider for one moment holding a debate with him. The rules of logic demand that each disputant must mutually consider each other as standing on equal footing and desire for truth.

Third.—This person now selected by you to defend Mormonism has denounced much of the faith of your church, and for a time withdrew from active missionary work, assailing through the press the cherished doctrines of the church, opposing the leading authorities in regard to tithing, gathering and other doctrines. He accused the leaders of not teaching the Law of God, and doing violence to the sacred law. He boldly accuses the leaders of teaching that which produces inequality and affirms that they are in direct violation to the law. He clearly proves that the revelations said to have been given to the church by God flatly contradict each other, and affirms that the church is held up to "public shame and ridicule." That the leaders are robbing the people of their rights under the law of "common consent," and flings a shadow on the revelations of both your father and grandfather, who are the acknowledged prophets of the church. He pleads with the leaders to correct the mistakes and not remain in darkness. (Herald, January 13, 1909.)

Now, for reasons known to himself and others, he is willing to abuse me because I believe and teach that the leaders of the church are guilty as charged by him. I do not think for a moment he has changed his opinion, but just his position, for reasons.

Fourth.—He was present when I challenged you to meet me in a debate in the largest hall in Canada, the night I tendered my resignation as a member of the Church of the Latter Day Saints. He knows that I have printed 130,000 pamphlets in which I have challenged you to open discussion. He knows that I have in print declined to meet him in debate, giving my reasons, yet, in order to secure cheap notoriety, he plays the coward and in most every speech cries aloud, "I challenge Mr. Evans to meet me." He knows he is perfectly safe in this. Were I to condescend to meet your importation from California, perhaps he would be willing to suffer for what he could make out of it. But what would be gained by such a debate? If defeated he would leave the country and you would say, "He never touched me," and you would request me to meet still another, all the while you would be having a good time at some summer or winter resort. No, Sir, you must meet me, or there will be no debate on Mormonism so far as I am concerned.

Fifth.—You should be willing to defend Mormonism, and should not request some poor fellow, who is eating out of your hand, to make answer for you. You are the acknowledged president of the church, the successor of your grandfather and father, as prophet, seer, revelator and God's mouthpiece to the church. You are considered as the best educated man in the church. You are the one above all others that should stand as the defender of the faith. If you cannot defend the revelations given to the church by your grandfather, your father and yourself, as the professed prophets of the Almighty, and the sole mouthpiece of Christ to the church, you should not compel your importation from California to make the attempt for a consideration.

Sixth.—As the inspired prophet of the Lord, while in Toronto you publicly made this statement: "My grandfather gave the law, my father interpreted the law, and I am here to enforce the law." If that be true, then you are the ONE MAN ON EARTH to defend that given by your grandfather, interpreted by your father and enforced by you.

Seventh.—I am ready to meet you for the above reasons, and, further, because you make claim to be God's prophet, seer, revelator and sole mouthpiece to the church, also president of the church. The world wants to hear from you. Let the world know what real Mormonism is. Tell them all about the corruption of the Bible, and how necessary it was that your grandfather give them an inspired translation of the Bible, as printed and sold by your church. Tell them all about the "Golden Bible," known as the "Book of Mormon," with the wonderful "Peep Stone" and "Urim and Thummin," by which the Book of Mormon and the Book of Abraham were given to the world. Give them the history of the "Order of Enoch," organized by your grandfather. Tell us all about how God changed His name from Joseph to Enoch, then to Baurak Ale, and then Gazelem. Lift the veil and tell the world about the revelations on polygamy. Tell them about Christ coming to live with you folk in Independence, Missouri. Give a history of the Danites, a secret society organized to murder, if the testimony of leading Mormons be true. You folk admit such an order in Utah Mormonism. Was it organized in 1838, as stated by Whitmer and Cowdery?

While I wish I could forget Mormonism and spend the few remaining years of my life in preaching the true Gospel of Christ, yet, if it is necessary that I become a victim to be sacrificed upon the altar in order to draw you out, so that the world may know Mormonism, all I ask is fair play and half the time. So herewith I submit the following propositions for public debate to be held in the largest hall in Toronto, Ontario, time to be agreed upon later as we may arrange. I will not ask you to take your time or money to hire hall or advertise. I will do all that without one cent from you.

Propositions for Debate Between F. M. Smith and R. C. Evans.

1. Resolved that Joseph Smith, prophet, seer and revelator of the Latter Day Saints' Church, taught, practiced and sanctioned polygamy, and that he affirmed that Jesus Christ gave him a revelation commanding his people to practice polygamy in order to be saved.

R. C. Evans affirms. F. M. Smith denies.

2. Resolved, that Jesus Christ commanded the church to "give heed unto all his (Joseph Smith's) words and commandments," saying, "For his words ye shall receive as if from mine own mouth."

F. M. Smith affirms. R. C. Evans denies.

3. Resolved, that Jesus Christ commanded the church, through Joseph Smith, to organize the "Order of Enoch," and that it is the duty of the membership of the church to consecrate all their properties to the bishop of the church, as trustee of the order, "with a covenant and a deed which cannot be broken." This being essential to their salvation.

F. M. Smith affirms. R. C. Evans denies.

4. Resolved, that all productions printed in the Doctrine and Covenants, accepted as revelations through Joseph Smith your grandfather, Joseph Smith your father, F. M. Smith yourself, are the words of Christ.

F. M. Smith affirms. R. C. Evans denies.

5. Resolved, that Joseph was divinely inspired to translate a record inscribed on golden plates, given to him by an angel of God, and that Joseph Smith was inspired by the Lord to publish to the world a correct translation of said record, known as the Book of Mormon, and that said book is the new and everlasting covenant, even the fullness of the everlasting gospel of Jesus Christ.

F. M. Smith affirms. R. C. Evans denies.

Now, sir, I admit that God has blessed the honest people of the church when they preached and obeyed the first principles of the gospel, but that they have been deceived by the Mormon part, is beyond question. Many thousands of the church have thus concluded. It will avail you but little to tell the world that I once believed that Joseph Smith was a prophet of God, that the Book of Mormon was divinely inspired. I admit that I taught and believed all that, and that my sermons defended the work of Smith. To quote my sermons of twenty or thirty years ago is not the question. Abraham, Moses, Paul, Luther, Knox, and thousands of others were converted from error to see the light of God. Why denounce me because I have grown in grace and knowledge?

I ask, in common justice, that you publish this letter in both the Herald and Ensign, where you permitted the other challenge to appear. Notwithstanding the many cruel and false statements that have been published in your papers, you have persistently refused me a reply, yet I shall continue to try to keep my heart from bitterness, and put forth every effort possible to love God and preach the gospel, and my earnest prayer is that you may yet see the light of the gospel, be rescued from the thraldom of Mormonism, and be saved in the kingdom of God. Yours sincerely,

R. C. EVANS.

51 Ozark Crescent, Toronto, Ont., April 1, 1919.

BISHOP EVANS.

MILK PRODUCERS ARE OPPOSED TO SUNDAY DELIVERY ORDERS

INGERSOLL, April 9.—At a meeting held here this afternoon the milk producers of Ingersoll and Putnam unanimously passed a resolution urging the Government not to allow companies or corporations contracting for milk to issue orders for Sunday delivery. They expressed opposition because war conditions no longer exist, and because of the extra work to both farmers and the employees of the companies. Another resolution opposing daylight saving was unanimously adopted. Among the speakers were R. B. Hutt of the Borden Milk Company, G. R. Green of Woodstock and G. J. Cook of Beachville.

VETERANS ARE BACK.

Two more well-known soldiers of this town, Pte. Archie Stanton and Second Lieut. MacMurray, have returned home from overseas. Pte. Stanton enlisted soon after the outbreak of the war, and he saw four years of active service. Second Lieut. Robert McMurray went overseas with the 71st Battalion. He was at general headquarters in Bramshott for a long time, and eventually joined the Royal Flying Corps.

OTTAWA, April 9.—The marriage of Lady Blanche Cavendish, second daughter of their excellencies the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire, to Captain Avan Cobbold, son of J. R. Cobbold and Lady Evelyn Cobbold, has been arranged to take place in London, England, on Wednesday April 30.

UNCLE SAM GETTING TOO MUCH STAGE, IN M'GARRY'S OPINION

Censors Empowered to Ban "Spread Eagleism."

DAWN OF CANADIAN FILMS

Women Will Be Added to the Censorship Staff—Legislature Doings.

TORONTO, April 9.—Canadian-made motion pictures are likely to be placed on the market shortly in competition with American films, Hon. T. W. McGarry stated to the Legislature today in moving the second reading of his bill amending the theatres and cinematograph act. At least one company is already actively operating, while two producing exchanges have been opened and are likely to commence picture-making at an early date.

Mr. McGarry explained that a number of theatres had persisted in showing films which glorified the feats of the American forces in the war. As a result, a clause was inserted in the bill now under discussion, giving the board of censors power to ban any such pictures.

Women as Censors.

Another clause provides for the appointment of temporary censors to relieve the existing board of some of its duties, which have become very heavy. It is proposed, Mr. McGarry stated, to appoint women who are particularly fitted to pass judgment on certain classes of films.

Mr. McGarry also explained the clause providing for the appointment of a matron to be in attendance on days when children are admitted unattended to theatres, thus relieving parents and guardians of the necessity of accompanying their children.

With reference to the clause enforcing the playing of the National Anthem at the close of every performance, Mr. McGarry reminded the House that many theatre owners in the province are of foreign birth, and some have not been naturalized.

Carter a Movie Fan.

Sam Carter of South Wellington said the bill was a step in the right direction. He declared war on the brands of pictures technically known as "western" and "vampire" dramas.

Further light on the policy of the department of education, particularly with regard to promoting more regular school attendance, was forecast by Hon. Dr. Cody, minister of education, in moving the second reading of the school attendance act.

Revenue of $19,000,000.

In committee of the whole, Mr. McGarry obtained authority to borrow $10,000,000 for capital expenditure for hydro development, Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway extension and other purposes. He stated that he estimated the provincial revenue this year at between $17,000,000 and $19,000,000. Mr. Proudfoot objected that the bonds should not be exempt from taxation, and the minister promised that they would not. He affirmed the intention of the Government of issuing only short-term bonds until the money market returned to normal.

OLD FOLKS' COUGHS, CATARRH, BRONCHITIS QUICKLY CURED

This Tells of a Method That Cures Without Using Drugs.

Elderly people take cold easily. Unlike young folks, they recover slowly. That is why so many people past middle life die of pneumonia.

Cough Syrups seldom do much good because they upset digestion. Any doctor knows that a much more effective treatment is "CATARRHOZONE," which heals and soothes the irritated surfaces of the throat.

In using Catarrhozone you do not take medicine into the stomach—you simply breathe into the throat, nose and lungs rich, piney, balsamic vapor, so full of healing power that colds, catarrh and bronchitis disappear almost instantly.

The germ-killing balsamic vapor mixes with the breath, descends through the throat, down the bronchial tubes, and finally reaches the deepest air cells in the lungs. All parts are soothed with rich, pure medicinal essences, whereas with a syrup the affected parts could not be reached and harm would result through benumbing the stomach with drugs.

A Catarrhozone inhaler in your pocket or purse enables you to stop a cold with the first sneeze. Large size costs $1.00 and supplies treatment for two months, small size, 50c; trial size, 25c; all storekeepers and druggists, or The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Canada.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antiacid than Bisurated Magnesia, and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach, and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food, will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of pepsin pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate, and in the bisurated form is not a laxative. Try this plan, and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."—Advt.

A Soldier's Thoughtfulness

"Please accept my grateful thanks for the care you have taken of all that my dear son, Private ——, Number ——, left for me."

Private —— lived in a Western Ontario City. When 'the call came' he volunteered for service overseas, and like many other brave lads he made the supreme sacrifice.

Private ——'s aged mother resides in England. Needless to say his first thoughts on volunteering were of her and realizing the uncertainties of the future, he decided to make his Will before leaving for the battle-fields of Flanders.

A matter of equal importance to the division of his estate was the appointment of a competent and careful Executor. He undoubtedly gave this matter serious consideration.

In volunteering for service he willingly took the risk of not returning to Canada, but he did not take the risk of naming an individual to dispose of his estate. He had many friends here, but knowing the uncertainty of individual life, and the unreliability of individual service he selected The Canada Trust Company.

Who will you appoint as your Executor?

INEQUALITIES IN PUNISHING DEFAULTERS UNDER M.S.A. ARE AIRED IN PARLIAMENT

Sir Sam Hughes Demands Uniformity in Administering Law, but Gets No Encouragement.

OTTAWA, April 9.—Punishment of defaulters under the military service act held the House of Commons during practically the whole of today's sitting. The debate arose on a motion by Sir Sam Hughes calling for uniform administration of the law, with uniform penalties for those who had not complied with the act. Eventually, when the House rose at 6 o'clock, the debate remained unfinished.

In the course of the discussion, Hon. Hugh Guthrie, referring generally to the sentences imposed, said that a number of Canadian deserters overseas had been executed, while others had got sentences as high as 30 years. Sentences imposed in England, he added, were more severe than in Canada. While Canadians were overseas and committed an offence against British law they were under the jurisdiction of the British authorities.

No Official Information.

Mr. Guthrie was questioned as to how many Canadian soldiers had been shot in England.

"I have no official information," Mr. Guthrie replied. "I have simply been told that there are some."

On the Government side of the House there was the general argument that light fines for defaulters were unfair to the men who had complied with the law, although Dr. Michael Clark urged that offenders should not be treated with unnecessary harshness. Two members of the Government—Hon. Martin Burrell and Major-Gen. Mewburn,—favored disfranchisement of defaulters.

Should Prosecute Mewburn.

Luciene Cannon, Liberal member for Dorchester, aroused excitement towards the close of the debate. He declared that the greatest culprits were cabinet ministers, who had promised exemptions, and they should be brought into court along with the defaulters. The first man to be tried should be the minister of militia and defence.

Dealing With Defaulters.

Gen. Sir Sam Hughes moved that "a uniform system of administering the law, with uniform penalties in relation to defaulters, deserters, slackers, evaders and others amenable," was essential to the wellbeing and good government of the country.

Hon. Arthur Meighen said the administration of law lay in the provinces and not in the Dominion at all. The resolution was also too wide. There had to be latitude allowed to a magistrate to impose penalties within the two extremes provided by the law in accordance with the grossness of the offence.

Mr. Meighen explained that the majority of cases in which minor penalties were imposed came under the classification of "group 3 defaulters," men who, though registering and submitting to a medical examination, failed to report for service when called to do so. There was a very large number of such cases. The military service act contained no provision for fines for such defaulters, but certain magistrates had imposed fines. In some cases the fine was commensurate with the offence, while in others it had been very much too small.

Can Reopen Cases.

The Government had decided that rather than upset all the cases, including those in which large fines had been imposed and paid, it would be better to refuse to recognize any of the smaller fines. An order-in-council had accordingly been passed providing that defaulters in this class should be fined from $250 to $5,000, according to the nature of their offence. This left the Government free to reopen all cases in which fines lower than $250 had been imposed by magistrates.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux asked if it was not a fact that instructions had been issued to magistrates and justices of the peace in booklet form, advising them to be lenient with defaulters.

Mr. Meighen replied emphatically that no such instructions had ever been issued by the justice department. He presumed that Mr. Lemieux was referring to statements made by Mr. Justice Langelier, and he wished to state that this judge had received no instructions from the justice department to exercise leniency in the treatment of defaulters. He understood that Justice Langelier had obtained from Col. Whitehead of the Dominion police a statement that officer had prepared for submission to the department, and had acted on it.

Langelier's Case Proven.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux said that Hon. Justice Langelier enjoyed the confidence and respect of the bar. It was proved that Judge Langelier had received authority from the Dominion authorities to act leniently with defaulters.

Mr. Pedlow argued that there was inequality in the administration of the law in regard to defaulters. He cited an instance where a Western Ontario court was imposing only two months' guard duty, while in Ottawa a penalty was imposed of $500, or in default, twelve months.

Mr. Pedlow also mentioned the case of a man who volunteered twice for the army, but was rejected as physically unfit on both occasions. The man was eventually called up, but thinking that it was not necessary for him to report, as he had been twice rejected, did not comply. He was fined $250. Mr. Pedlow added that the magistrate imposed the minimum fine, but the man under the circumstances should not have been fined at all. In North Renfrew, Mr. Pedlow continued, a fine of $250 or six months was being imposed on defaulters; in South Renfrew the fine was $500 or twelve months.

They Are Not Criminals.

Mr. McKenzie, leader of the Opposition, argued that the defaulters should be relieved of uncertainty in regard to their situation. Thousands of young men apparently did not have the nerve and fibre to face war. But they were not criminals. Before a man became a criminal he must have some criminal intent. And the nightmare hanging over these young men should be removed as quickly as possible. Mr. McKenzie added, however, that he did not have any sympathy with the young man who had not done his duty in the war.

Yet, it was wise for the House to consider what scars it was going to leave in this country; it was for the House to consider whether it was going to create heart burnings. In the Civil War in the United States when peace came under Lincoln there was nobody punished. The poor boy who was frightened away from fighting had been punished. There should be no more trouble in this country over this question. It would be the policy of big men, he said, to get rid of these troubles as soon as possible.

Clemenceau's Soft Heart.

The criminal who shot Premier Clemenceau of France had been sentenced to death, but Premier Clemenceau had refused to have that sentence carried out, the sentence was commuted to ten years, and no doubt the term would be shortened. Mr. McKenzie said that was something for Parliament to think about. Members should thank God for the great victory and should show that they had no vindictiveness.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie, solicitor-general, stated that after the armistice a committee of himself, the deputy minister of justice and Col. McFarland, the judge-advocate-general, considered the question of creating uniformity in punishment for defaulters. As a result, some men had been allowed their liberty after serving from one to two months, and, in some cases, the mere statement of members of Parliament as to the ameliorating circumstances had been accepted.

Gen. Hughes remarked that J. A. Sexsmith, of Peterboro, had recommended a man for clemency and thought he would get a week, but the offender got a life term.

Some Canadians Executed?

Mr. Guthrie stated that the sentences imposed in England were more severe than in Canada. He had been informed that a number of Canadian deserters had been executed, while others had got sentences up to 30 years.

Gen. Hughes inquired if they were under Canadian authority, and Mr. Guthrie replied that while Canadians were overseas and committed an offence against British law, they were under the jurisdiction of the British authorities.

Gen. Hughes asked if these men were soldiers.

Mr. Guthrie said they were Canadians and they had been charged with a variety of offences. He went on to say that in Canada there were a great many cases in which the default had been more or less technical, but some had resisted with firearms and other weapons.

E. V. Devlin interrupted to ask the solicitor-general how many Canadian soldiers were shot in England.

No Official Information.

Mr. Guthrie said he had no official information; he had simply been told that there were some.

General Hughes remarked that his information was that Canadians had been tried by courts-martial and shot both in England and in France. He asked if there were no returns made to the Government of Canada before the sentences were carried out.

Mr. Guthrie replied that these cases never came before him except in appeals for clemency.

Dr. Michael Clark said that the intention of the resolution appeared to be to provide for what the people wanted —equality of sentence for all these defaulters. He advised the House to look carefully at all sides of the question before giving vent to horror because it was stated that Canadian soldiers had been shot overseas. The man who was ordered to go over the top in the battle line and refused to do so was endangering the lives of all his companions.

Dr. Clark, while not for a moment suggesting that defaulters under the military act should be let off without a penalty, advised that they should not be treated with unnecessary harshness. The war was over, he said, and it might be wise to cast oblivion over small differences.

In Sir Sam's Regime.

General S. C. Newburn said that he did not want the impression to go abroad that a large number of Canadian soldiers had been shot overseas. He understood that during the time that General Hughes was minister of militia and defence, a few men were tried by court-martial and shot on being found guilty. No such cases had occurred since he had been minister.

General Mewburn went on to say that he felt it was practically impossible to bring all defaulters under the military service act to justice. He suggested that these men should be penalized by disfranchisement and that they be deprived of civil rights for a number of years. He then read a statement regarding the disposal on demobilization of Canadian soldiers undergoing penal servitude, imprisonment or detention overseas. The statement was to the effect that men undergoing sentence for purely military offences would be returned to Canada some time prior to the final completion of demobilization, and their sentences would be remitted with effect from the date of sailing. Each soldier would be left, as far as possible, to complete his sentence before embarkation and if military conditions made it necessary the soldier would be held to complete his sentence. Cases of serious insubordination during demobilization might be dealt with in this manner.

Some Civil Court Cases.

The statement went on to say that soldiers undergoing sentence imposed by the civil power in England would be left in that country to complete their sentences should they not complete before demobilization was completed. Each case of this kind would be reviewed before final demobilization with a view to release. Soldiers undergoing sentence of imprisonment or penal servitude imposed by military courts in both England and France for offences of a criminal nature would be committed to civil prisons in England to serve out their sentences. Such cases, however, would be reviewed with a view to finding if there were any extenuating circumstances.

Hon. Martin Burrell said that the Government last August issued a general amnesty to defaulters who would report for service. Men who had not complied with the military service act should then have complied. Mr. Burrell claimed that it was a crime of the highest and gravest type to fail, out of cowardice, to move hand or foot in the service of the state when the state is threatened.

Mr. Burrell added that he would be in favor of the disfranchisement of defaulters for a certain period of time.

Quebec Judge Instructed.

Mr. Cannon, referring to the case of Judge Langelier, said the judge had received instructions. The people were entitled to know whether the instructions were prepared by the department of militia and defence or the department of justice.

Hon. Arthur Meighen, in reply, reviewed the correspondence between the department of justice and Judge Langelier to impose light fines. But Col. Whitehead, an officer of the Dominion police in Quebec, had prepared a memorandum for his subordinates and it was from this memo that Judge Langelier had quoted. The memo itself, Mr. Meighen said, concluded with the words that the officers were not to ask for merely nominal fees, but in all cases for substantial punishment for the offence.

This appeared to have come to the attention of Judge Langelier. He asked for a copy, which was given him, but it contained the qualifying portion which he refrained from quoting.

Mr. Cannon said that Mr. Meighen had not answered his question. He had simply asked what Col. Whitehead was doing in Quebec and whom he was representing. However, the situation was that Col. Whitehead was an official of the justice department, acting as an inspector of the Dominion police and handed the instructions to the judge.

Strain to Win Elections.

Some persons, said Mr. Cannon, were straining every nerve, not to win the war, but to win the elections, were thinking of the means by which they could defraud the electors of this country.

The speaker called Mr. Cannon to order for using the word "defraud" in connection with members of the house.

Mr. Cannon caused general laughter by changing his expression to "straining every nerve to win the elections in spite of the adverse feeling in their constituencies against them."

He said the greatest culprits, who should be brought into court along with the defaulters, were some men occupying cabinet positions. They had sent out circulars to farmers saying that their sons would be exempted, and after the election they were conscripted. The first man to be tried should be the minister of militia, who went through Ontario and solemnly promised that the farmers would be exempted; the second should be the minister of agriculture, who indorsed his statement, and after them the Unionist members who made these promises to their constituents.

Prosecute Hughes, Too.

He said he would give the precedency in the dock to Gen. Hughes, the mover of this resolution.

Mr. Cannon then read a copy of a hand-bill which he said was sent out by General Hughes to his electors, and signed by General Mewburn, promising farmers exemption. He said General Hughes had not as much confidence in the new minister of militia as he had in the last, and so he sent out also a letter from the minister of agriculture, indorsing the statement, and signed by Hon. J. D. Reid, acting minister.

Mr. Cockshutt declared that if Quebec had done its duty there would have been no necessity for conscription. Over 400,000 went by voluntary enlistment. Only one-fifth more was necessary to give Canada all she needed. These men were not raised under the voluntary system, because in certain sections of the country the citizens had not risen to the full meaning of their citizenship. Mr. Cockshutt hoped that some uniform sentence would be imposed on every slacker.

Girls and Women Should Look Well to Their Health and Strength.

Never before was physical health and vigor so highly esteemed and so eagerly sought for as today.

No man finds happiness in a sickly wife, and the woman who wishes to enjoy the pleasures of life should spare no effort to maintain perfect health.

Is your daughter growing up strong and ruddy? When strength and vigor can be so easily maintained by Ferrozone, when the glow of health is so quickly brought to the cheeks and elasticity to the step, it is plainly a mother's duty to see that Ferrozone is on hand to assist her daughter back to health.

Upon the wake of Ferrozone quickly follows a stream of rich, nourishing blood which imparts that power and surplus energy so earnestly desired by those in ill-health.

Stop and think what this means for your daughter—certainly a great deal, and it can be accomplished by Ferrozone.

Every growing girl and young woman derives enormous benefit in many ways from this nutritive, vitalizing tonic.

It is specially suited for young women and is a guarantee of health and regularity as long as it is used.

Ferrozone is free from alcohol and perfectly safe to use. Prepared in the form of a chocolate-coated tablet and sold in 50c boxes, or six for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct from The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

IMMIGRATION OFFICIALS HOLD 2,700 U.S. TROOPS ALL DAY ABOARD SHIP

NEW YORK, April 9. — After being held virtually prisoners for an entire day on the Mauretania because of a disagreement between American immigration officials and the British military authorities, 2,700 war veterans, the majority of them Americans, who had served with the British army were allowed to leave the vessel late yesterday afternoon. The troops were transported to Camp Mills, N. Y., to await settlement of the controversy.

Washing Won't Rid Head of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Advt.

WINDSOR POLICE TO LOOK FOR CHATHAM CHILDREN KIDNAPPED

WINDSOR, April 9.—Inspector Hackney of the Children's Aid Society has been informed by the Chatham branch that two children, Gladys and Margaret Pelky, 11 and 13 years of age, had been kidnapped, and are supposed to have been brought here. Inspector Hackney is working on the case, and has notified the Detroit authorities. The children's mother, from whose custody they had been taken, is alleged to have some knowledge of the affair.

ACCIDENT ENDS RACE.

DORCHESTER, April 9.—For some time there has been a practice of racing horses up and down the streets of this village on Sunday evening. Recently three fellows were racing going east on the street. They met John O'Neil driving west, and the shaft of one buggy ran into the horse's breast and broke off. The horse bled to death before a veterinary could be secured.

KNIGHTHOODS MAY BEAT TARIFF TO IT IN MATTER OF WRECKING BORDENISM

BY H. F. GADSBY.

Knighthood—for Canadians—is not in flower these days. There is reason to believe that Mr. Nickle's anti-knighthood resolution, when it comes up—if it ever does—cannot be headed off, as it was last time, by a peevish want-of-confidence bluff on the part of Premier Borden.

H. F. Gadsby.

As a matter of fact, want of confidence in Union Government is not an unknown quantity throughout the country and, therefore, Union Government would be ill advised to take chances with want-of-confidence motions. It is just conceivable that Parliament might take Premier Borden at his word and jolt him and his associates off the job. Above all Union Government should avoid risks with the knighthoods. The world has just been made safe for democracy and this country is more than ever confirmed in its opinion that the tin-pot stuff is no good.

Rumor has it that there are still some snobs in Canada who would like to be knights some day, but, considering that there are about eight million other people who are opposed to titles, it is not likely that the tuft-hunting few will get their way.

Waiting at the Church.

Only the other day two red-tabbed gentlemen in the militia department shook the dust of Ottawa off their feet in some dudgeon. Their promised titles had been so long delayed that their hearts were sick. They had been expecting the stroke every morning for a year past and were, indeed, playfully calling each other "Sir"; but King George didn't come across.

As a matter of fact, Union Government—strong as it may be in the eyes or noses of the people—wasn't strong enough to put it over. Already it is in wrong with one distinguished and highly popular Liberal-Unionist, who went over to the winning side on the express understanding that no more titles should be handed out. He went over, as I said, and six weeks later a dozen more knights cumbered this fair land. He considers this, very properly as I think, a breach of faith and it will take only one more knight to land him back where he belongs. There are probably other converts to the Unionist party who are in the same frame of mind.

Knights Have 1,000 "I's."

This country does not like the knights. It likes the nights so little that many of us seek to add to the days by stealing an hour for the summer months. Even at that, Canada has more knights than days in the year. The average knight is as puffed up as a bar-room fly. He is egotistical. As the poet says, the knight has a thousand I's—Sir Thomas White for example—the day but one. The knight does not fit into our democracy. He is, indeed, a serious menace to our life as a nation. He has only one eye in Canada—the other is on the title-givers in England.

I am instructed that the mother country has run out of K.C.M.G.'s, K.C.B.'s, K.B.'s and other big potatoes for the colonials and all that she has on hand now is O.B.E.'s, which is the mere spinach of aristocracy and not worth having. That being the case, we can very well cut the knighthoods out. It will be for the good of our national health to say good-bye to titles, which are a disease of democracy—the symptoms pride, conceit and vanity, the three grand divisions of the social I. The rich men want to pose as gentlemen, while the officially great want to pose as persons of imperial significance. The rich man wants the stamp on his dollars, while the bigwig wants the same stamp on his mediocre talents.

Weakness of Democracy.

It is the weak spot of democracy that we are all so fond of equality that everybody wants to be an inch higher than everybody else. We have proclaimed equality and have thereby declared the rights of the envious. This country has many second-rate ambitions that would fain be esteemed first. Such is the philosophy of this curse of knighthood.

The present status of the title problem in Canada is this. No more hereditary titles are to be granted. Hereditary titles now held in Canada are to expire with their present wearers—so far as Canada is concerned. Of course, if Sir Joseph Flavelle wants to take his baronetcy to England and live in a part of the world where baronets have long been a feature of the social scenery there is no reason why the Flavelle dynasty shouldn't go on forever like a string of sausages. But if he stays here, the son and heir will be plain Mr. with no trimmings.

Titles Doomed Over 'Ome?

Even in England titles will not be safe very long, because there is a sort of Bolshevik reaction against this arrogant feudal anachronism in a world which has fought a great war and upset two dozen kings. It is a safe bet that 25 years from now—the Labor party making head—the man who calls himself a lord in England will look foolish, and the one who calls himself a knight in Canada a d——d sight more so.

At all events, we have seen the last of the barons and the baronets. We were never in great danger from them, because the titles usually cancelled themselves—the Downing Street policy being to put the barren in baronet as far as possible. Now that our law has stamped them out also we can feel pretty sure that we shall no longer be troubled with the nuisance. Of barons we have only three in captivity at present—one, Lord Aylmer on a fruit ranch in British Columbia, and two, Lord Shaughnessy and Lord Atholstan, in Montreal, a city which has in time past been prolific of barons. Lord Shaughnessy's title puts a golden edge in the C. P. R. dividend, and Lord Atholstan is as good as the absent, being Graham bred. We can forgive them.

Gassing the Consumer.

The baronets we do not forgive so readily, because—well, because as a class they are responsible for Sir Joseph Flavelle, who has so smeared his bacon profits with prayer that we are a little sick at the stomach. Sir Joseph's special brand of piety gets all the other baronets in wrong. As consumers we don't mind being robbed—we're used to that—but we hate to be gassed at the same time.

However, as I said before, barons and baronets are stretched from now on. There remain the knights, some one hundred and fifty actual and as many more yearning. Parliament ought to do something about it this season—something to scotch it for good. Knighthood has been a hard thing to escape in Canada. What with New Year's honor lists, King's birthday honor lists and Dominion Day lists, the calendar is more than crowded with winter knights, spring knights and midsummer knights. The only nights we can call our own are the autumn nights, and they, too, are spangled with stars. Even the jeweled firmament had got the habit—and gone in for decorations.

The Who's Who and What For of Canadian knighthood would be a jest book to make a dog laugh. One old boy, as I remember, got it for playing a royal flush. His specialty was consumptive sanatoriums. The first one he called the King Edward Sanatorium, the second the Queen Alexandra Sanatorium, the third the Queen Mary Sanatorium, and he was just about to fill his hand with a King George Sanatorium when knighthood trumped in and stopped the game.

CAPITAL-LABOR COMMISSIONERS ARE ANNOUNCED

Two Representatives Each For People, Employers and Employees.

START AT PACIFIC COAST

Time For Report Has Been Extended Till First of June.

OTTAWA, April 9.—The commission to investigate industrial relations will consist of two representatives each of employers, of the employed, and of the public, besides Chief Justice Mathers, the chairman. The members of the commission are:

Chief Justice Mathers, chairman; Senator White and Charles Harrison, M. P., representing the public; Carl Riordan, president of the Riordan Pulp and Paper Company, Montreal, and T. Pauze, lumberman, Montreal, representing the employers; Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress, and J. W. Bruce, member of the labor appeal board, Toronto, representing the employees. Thomas Bengough of Toronto will be secretary of the commission.

Announcement of the composition of the commission was made in the House of Commons by Sir Thomas White this afternoon.

Judge Mathers' Experience.

Hon. Chief Justice Mathers has had considerable experience as chairman of the various boards of conciliation, and his decisions have been generally approved and accepted in all cases where he has dealt with labor disputes.

Carl Riordan, president of the Riordan Pulp and Paper Company, is a businessman of wide experience, and a large employer of labor. He has long been interested in welfare work among his own employees.

F. Pauze, lumberman, of the firm of W. Pauze & Fils, of Montreal, was a member of the trade commission which visited France during the war.

Labor's Representation.

Tom Moore is president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, the most representative body of organized labor in Canada.

J. W. Bruce has been connected with the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada for many years.

Senator White, as managing director of the Montreal Gazette Publishing Company, may be regarded as one who would view this problem from the standpoint of an employer, while Charles Harrison, M. P., who is a railroad conductor and has been head of the Order of Railway Conductors on the eastern lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway for a number of year, it is assumed, will represent the sentiments of railway employees, and thereby maintain an equilibrium as between employers' and employees' interests on the commissioi.

The commission's inquiry will begin immediately after Easter and the time which they will render their report has been extended to June 1, instead of May 15, as originally contemplated. The hearings will probably begin in British Columbia.

SEIZED LIQUOR IS SOLD BY ONTARIO LICENSE INSPECTORS

License Board Seldom Had Hand in Sales, Says Dingman.

HEDGES ABOUT BUYING

Mr. Dewart Presses Question of Liquor Officers Purchasing in Montreal.

TORONTO, April 9.—In following up his charges in the Legislature, Hartley Dewart, K. C., having brought out the fact that ex-Inspector Morrison had a financial interest in a private detective agency which received a lot of business from the Ontario License Board, is now endeavoring to secure evidence connected with the sale of liquor by Government inspectors to vendors.

Mr. Dewart questioned W. S. Dingman, vice-chairman of the license board, about sales by inspectors, and was told that no inspector had a right to make such sales without the approval of the board.

The board would not, he admitted, have a record of a liquor seizure unless the inspector reported it.

Mr. Dingman's evidence revealed the fact that the board left the price at which seized liquor was to be sold largely to the inspectors without any test as to quality, etc.

The vice-chairman declared that the board had not encouraged its officers to search indiscriminately for liquor, and had not used "spotters" to trap people other than those suspected of operating as "blind piggers" or "bootleggers."

Traveler's Flask Safe.

That Dominion police were instructed not to prosecute or confiscate in cases of travelers carrying single flasks of liquor was made clear.

Inspector Rogers, of the provincial police, said that Constable Lefabre of North Bay searched bags of passengers in sleepers. He wrote him not to do this and also if he found a flask in a bag it was going beyond what an officer is expected to do to take it, or to prosecute. There is no reason why the traveling public should be humiliated by having a police officer search their baggage, unless they have strong reasons to suspect they are illegal dealers.

Vice-Chairman W. S. Dingman said that the largest volume of complaints of breaches of the O. T. A. came from associations like the Dominion Alliance. Mr. Oakes, of the committee of 100, was loaned to the board for two months free, he added.

An item of $500, paid to the Dominion Alliance, for pamphlets, was referred to by Col. Machin. Mr. Dingman explained that these pamphlets covered decisions on the O. T. A., and the board thought they would be of public use.

Col. Machin inquired as to the protection given "spotters," who purchased liquor so as to secure evidence against suspected persons.

"These were not tea or soft drinks, but hard liquor?" asked Col. Machin.

"Of course," replied Mr. Dingman. "Officers have certain privileges."

"Is there any case where an officer was prosecuted for such a purchase, and protected by the act?"

"I cannot say."

Mr. Dingman Hedges.

H. H. Dewart, cross-examining, wanted to know whether special permits had been issued to certain individuals allowing them to bring in packages of liquor from Montreal.

"I am not aware of any such," replied Mr. Dingman. "That would mean we issued unlawful permits."

Mr. Dewart—"Was any liquor taken to the police stations and sold from there?"

Mr. Dingman—"Not without our consent."

"How were prices fixed?"

"The liquor was sold at current prices. But the board seldom had a hand in the transactions."

"Was there any method of testing used?"

"No."

"Is there any regulation now?"

"It is provided for."

"Are you aware of purchases of liquor made by officers of the department in Montreal, for resale in Toronto?"

"I had no personal hand in it. I could only give hearsay evidence."

"Was not such a purchase made?"

"What was done was for the purpose of detecting illegal business."

Mr. Dewart—"Was any such act ever authorized by the board?"

Mr. Dingman—"I don't know, except in the pursuit of detecting irregular business."

Mr. Dewart—"The purchase of liquor in considerable quantities in Montreal for the purpose of detecting crime here. I ask whether your board authorized any such thing?"

Mr. McCrae—"The question is a fair one."

Continues to Evade.

Mr. Dewart—Don't you know?

Mr. Dingman—I have no knowledge of it.

Mr. Dewart—As a member of the board, wouldn't you know it? Mr. Ayearst might have authorized it. In view of the charge made didn't you think it your duty to find out whether that was done or not?

"Well——"

A Member—Come on, come on!

Mr. Dewart—I want a straight answer.

Mr. Dingman—I have not found out.

Mr. Dewart—How many officers have you intrusted with the purchase in Montreal?

Mr. Dingman—I have nothing to do with that.

Dr. Godfrey—Would it be possible for a leakage to occur where the department keeps the liquor?

Mr. Dingman—I think it would be worse than impossible.

J. E. Elliott—What are the instructions for the destruction of liquor?"

"There were no formal regulations. Partially used liquor would be destroyed."

"You left it entirely to the inspector to say what should be destroyed and what should be turned over to a hospital?"

"Yes."

"The inspector might strike an open market?" (Laughter.)

Big Seizure Unrecorded.

Examining the record of seizures kept by J. F. Mowat, chief clerk of the department, Mr. Dewart pointed out that there was nothing to show the quantity of liquor seized by any officer. Mr. Mowat admitted no such details were kept in the records.

Mr. Dewart—In 1917 there were only six seizures in the whole province, according to this record.

Mr. Mowat—That's all that we got liquor from. The liquor might have been destroyed in other cases. The magistrates frequently order the liquor to be destroyed.

"What check have you on your inspectors?"

"You've got to trust your inspectors."

No trace in the records produced by Mr. Mowat could be found of some 61 gallons seized in Toronto, in connection with which a $1,000 fine was imposed. Mr. Mowat thought the liquor might have been placed in the warehouse.

SOURCE OF LIQUOR AT ELECTION TIME PROVES A PUZZLE

Man Who Sold Whiskey at Time of St. Catharines Election Questioned.

PRINCIPAL DISAPPEARS

Agent Did Not Know Where Whiskey Came From—Toronto Maybe.

TORONTO, April 9.—The feature of the inquiry today before Sir William Meredith, commissioner, into the charges made in the Legislature by H. H. Dewart, M.P.P., was the non-appearance of H. J. Lavelle, one of the alleged principals in the case and the main witness, along with whom has disappeared a mystery check for $3,200. The check in question, according to the evidence given by M. E. White of the employers' detective agency, who had charge of the running-down of suspected illicit liquor dealers, was a "phoney" check used by the detectives to make Lorne W. Smith think the liquor deal at Homer was genuine.

License Inspector King had marked it "Accepted" and put the initials, A. D. S., to it. These initials, it was explained stood for "A d—— sucker." Lorne Smith was fined $500 in the Homer case last February for a breach of the Ontario temperance act. His arrest had been engineered by Mr. White of the employers' detective agency, under Chief Provincial License Inspector Ayearst, against whom Mr. Dewrt's charges in the Legislature were directed.

Smith Casts Suspicion.

Sir William Meredith remarked that it appeared that H. J. Lavelle had gone away to avoid giving evidence, Lavelle's brother John having said he thought H. J. had gone to Buffalo.

Lorne Smith admitted before the commissioner that he had been an associate of H. J. Lavelle in the Homer case, and that eighty cases of liquor were to have been delivered at Homer. The price agreed upon was $40 a case, laid down at Homer on C.O.D. terms. He said he did not know the source of the supply of the Homer whiskey. However, he made some strong insinuations as to where the liquor came from. He was asked if he thought of the liquor department as the source of the liquor.

His reply was:

"There has been liquor gotten from the storehouses of the department; one could draw many conclusions."

Lorne W. Smith, one of the men fined $500, said a man named Clyde, proprietor of a pressing place in St. Catharines, asked him where he could get some liquor. He wanted him to arrange to supply 80 cases of liquor. Witness said he wanted to make it 100.

Mr. White: "Was the proximity of the Welland Canal workmen mentioned as a good reason for taking whiskey to Homer?" "That was the reason he advanced."

"What was the price?" "$40 a case."

Witness said he believed the $3,200 check was good. "It was sworn at the trial in St. Catharines that there was money or a check supplied by the department to meet this $3,200 check."

Mr. Peter White—Are you serious in swearing that?

"Quite. It was sworn to by a man named Clyde."

Mr. White said he had the magistrate, crown attorney, Clyde and McPhail, who will say witness is quite mistaken about that.

"I can't help it. I wish you would question other witnesses."

Mr. White—What witnesses?

"My wife or Mr. Campbell or Chief Green."

Mr. White—Oh, I'll question them, all right.

Witness said it was the general impression of the courtroom at the time. The newspaper reported had so reported it.

Sir William—Are you swearing to impressions or to facts?

"I am swearing to a fact."

Other Paid His Fine.

Witness explained he merely acted as selling agent in the transaction. His commission was $5 a case.

"So all you are out is the $400 you didn't get, and the paper the $200 check is written on?" said Mr. White, with a smile. Witness agreed.

"He was fined $500," said Mr. Snow, but witness replied that he never paid one cent of the $500 or another $200 fine. He presumed Mr. Lavelle paid them.

"Lavelle was the principal in the transaction?"

"Yes."

"You were the agent, and he got in touch with the source of supply?"

"Yes."

Mr. Snow asked witness if he had prior whiskey deals with Clyde.

"No. I heard, though, you could get a thimbleful from him if necessary."

"Was reference made to the fact that there was an election campaign on at St. Catharines?"

"He said he had a good outlet and was quite disappointed that the liquor was a week late. He said he lost an opportunity to dispose of 30 cases."

"Was he urgent about the time of delivery?"

"Yes. He made a special trip to Toronto to see about the delivery."

Truck a Toronto One.

"Oh, you know where the truck came from?"

"We can all draw conclusions. I don't know. Some say it came from Buffalo."

"But you would think it came from Toronto?"

"Such would be my opinion."

"Did you ever think of the liquor department as the source of the liquor?"

"There has been liquor gotten from the storehouse of the department. One could draw many conclusions——"

"I don't think that is proper. These are merely suspicions," interjected Sir William Meredith.

"I didn't know that would be the answer," said Mr. Snow.

"I merely want to say that many things have happened in Toronto which would cause one to draw many conclusions," replied the witness.

Manuel White of the Employers' Detective Agency explained the "A. D. S." initials on the $3,200 check after the certification. They meant "A D—— Sucker."

He swore positively that the check for $3,200 was a "phoney" document. It was a blank check which one of his men, McPhail, had filled up for the purpose of convincing Smith that the money was all right, and thus inducing him to come ahead with the truckload of liquor. He swore that there were no funds of any kind to meet this check.

J. D. Flavelle, chairman of the license board, was asked had the sending of the liquor into Homer any political significance?"

"None whatever," he replied.

It is not likely that there will be any quantity till the spring chickens and ducks start to come in, and that will be late in June. Maple syrup is down a little in price, and is quoted at $2.25 per gallon.

Chicago, April 10.—Opening: Corn—May, $1 56⅝; July, $1 50¾.

Oats—May, 68⅛c; July, 67⅛c.

Winnipeg, April 10.—Oats opened ⅛c to ¼c lower for May at 72¾@72⅝c, and ⅛c to ½c lower for July at 74¼@73⅞c.

Barley opened ½c lower for May at $1 03¼, and ½c lower for July at $1 03¼.

Flax opened ½c lower for May at $3 66.

Chicago, April 10.—Nearby deliveries of corn showed comparative firmness today, owing to the fact that over-night purchases to arrive were small, inasmuch as yesterday's break in prices had carried the market below a level at which $1 50 a bushel at loading stations could be paid. Sentiment, however, remained bearish, and the September option was under noticeable selling pressure. It was said the government had assigned a large number of additional cars to the Chicago district to help hasten the crop movement. Opening prices, which ranged from ¼c off to ⅜c advance, were followed by a moderate sag all around, and then something of a rally.

Adverse weather for seeding tended to strengthen oats. After opening unchanged to ½c up the market held within narrow limits.

MONTREAL.

Montreal, April 9.—There was no actual change in the condition of the local market for cash grain today, prices for all lines being steady, with only a small demand from local and country buyers for odd carlots, and business on the whole was quiet. Carlots of No. 3 Canadian western barley were quoted at $1.20; No. 4 Canadian western at $1.18; extra No. 3 Ontario, $1.21; No. 3 at $1.20, and sample grades at $1.10, while No. 2 Canadian western oats sold at 86c; No. 3 Canadian western and extra No. 1 feed at 83c; No. 1 feed at 80c; No. 2 feed at 77c, and Ontario No. 2 white at 82½c per bushel, ex-store.

INSPECTOR RIDICULES

and there was nothing there. He returned at a quarter to seven and found a quantity of liquor, had been left there. He admitted that it might have been unattended for some hours, and he could not say whether any of it had been removed or not. He pooh-poohed the idea that the liquor had been brought there in connection with the election. "As an old campaigner you would know that that would be most foolish," he said.

When Clyde took the stand he told of his arrival at Homer with the consignment, and of his pretence of going for the key when he went to try to call up the inspector to get him on the job with his men. He finally had to arrange for the goods to be unloaded behind the hotel, and he turned over to Smith in exchange the "phoney" check for $3,200.

Search for Truck.

The search for the mysterious truck which vanished after delivering the cases of liquor at Homer was taken up this morning by Mr. White, with Geo. J. Haggarty, a Toronto barrel merchant. He acknowledged being the owner of the truck which he had left at the home of H. J. Lavell, who is said to have supplied the Homer liquor. He denied telling anyone that Lavell had cleared up $60,000 selling booze. He would like to do that if he could; he wouldn't hesitate a minute. His truck, which Mr. White stated he had been subpoenaed to produce at the inquiry, he had instructed to be sent to a Toronto paint shop this afternoon to be refinished.

"Dear Be"
"I bust have got by feet wet. I dever had such ad awful cold id by head before. By arbs ache, by buscles are all straid, ad by rheumatisb is bost paidful. I bust get sub lebbuds ad bake a hot drigk ad go to bed at odce."
She talked that way because she had a heavy cold in the head. She had the cold because she did her own washing and went out all wet and steamy in the wind to hang out the clothes.
Never do it! We are here to save you from that drudgery, and will send a White Wagon to your relief whenever you phone

The Ontario Loan and Debenture Co.
Your Attention to Money Matters is decidedly needed now
More so now than ever before, hoarding money is unprofitable and unsafe, investing at low interest is unprofitable—"Get rich Quick" schemes are decidedly risky and dangerous ones. There are also investments that are as good as gold but the money may be tied up for years and not obtainable.
Unlike any of these investments Ontario Loan Debentures are good steady producers and can be purchased in denominations of $100 and up, yielding 5½% interest per annum payable half yearly.
They yield large returns, are absolutely safe and are as good as gold.
Write or call to-day for further information. 21

BALDWIN MINE
QUANTITY and QUALITY
Are the essentials of all ore bodies. They mean safety and profit. In fact, big profits bring safety as well as quick returns.
The Baldwin Gold Mine meets every requirement from the standpoint of quantity and quality in its ore and safety and profit in mining and milling.
A shipment of 152 bags of ore carried $13.30 per ton in gold. This is higher than the average of big mines. The shaft is down 200 feet, and development indicates very large bodies of rich ore.
Payable tonnage speaks louder than words. The Baldwin is a sure winner.

MY HEART AND MY HUSBAND
ADELE GARRISON'S NEW PHASE OF REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

What Madge Faced the Day She Returned To School.

My reception at the Bayview High School when I returned to my duties after my week's enforced absence was as gratifying as it was unexpected.

True, Mr. Stockbridge, Miss Holcombe and a number of the other teachers had been solicitous in frequent telephone inquiries concerning my condition after my accident, and there had come an exquisite cluster of carnations from Alice Holcombe, which seemed to me to typify the spicy fragrance of her sturdy yet tender nature. But I was unprepared to find the desk in my classroom covered with flowers, the gifts of my pupils, and to find the teachers waiting to welcome me as warmly as if I had been among them years instead of weeks.

If my vanity instead of my affections had been warmed by the demonstration it would have later received a serious blow, for it wasn't long before I saw clearly that while I still had reason to glow at my own popularity, yet a good share of the unusual interest evinced in me was due to the glamor that invested me as the wife of a picturesquely heroic American ace.

"Now see here, lady," the irrepressible Bess Dean declared, when at noon the teachers who didn't live near the schoolhouse were gathered in the comfortable teachers' sitting-room for their luncheon, "You've got to come across. Here we were simply waiting with our mouths wide open to hear all about that wonderful hero husband of yours, and then instead of showing up here a week ago to save us from dying of curiosity you up and smash your head or your heels— I haven't got it straightened out yet which—and we have to wait all this time to listen to you. Now begin at the beginning. Does he look like his pictures in the paper, or—"

"No More Doubts—"

"Might I suggest, Bess," drawled Alice Holcombe in her most provoking manner, "that as you so elegantly express it, our mouths are wide open—painfully so—for some coffee, for which we've been waiting for some time. If you'll either repress your curiosity for a few more minutes or let somebody else attend to the coffee, Mrs. Graham may be in a better humor to talk."

With an impertinent moue, Bess Dean turned to the small electric grill upon which every noon the teachers in turn prepared coffee, tea and bouillon to supplement the cold lunches they brought from their several homes or boarding places.

"I want you to understand, Miss Holcombe," she said loftily, deftly pouring the coffee into the cups before her, "that my mentality is of such a calibre that I can talk and attend to my duties also."

"No one doubts the fact that you can talk, Bessie, dear," another teacher put in slyly.

Miss Dean put the cups down suddenly and faced her tormentors belligerently with hands against her slender waist.

"Merci, Gramercy! Bess! Peccavi!" the laughing cries came from all corners of the room, and Miss Dean returned to her coffee cups with a satisfied little smile.

"I'll Do More—"

"I thought I'd put some manners on the lot uv youse," she said triumphantly as she passed the steaming cups. "Mrs. Graham, you're the only lady in the bunch. None of my spiel was meant for you. And now be good and show us a picture of your husband. I just know you have one. If I had a husband who was an ace I'd have his photograph lithographed on every gown I owned."

I flushed painfully. I did carry a picture of Dicky with me, but it was a cherished miniature likeness in a locket, one sacred with memories. I could no more have displayed it to these careless girls than I could have cut my hand off for them.

Alice Holcombe promptly came to the rescue.

"Tastes in tattooing sometimes differ, Bess," she drawled. "I don't share your belief that Mrs. Graham has her husband's photograph sewed into her dress. But I know she'll bring some of him in uniform tomorrow if she has them."

"I'll do more than that," I said with a grateful look at Alice Holcombe, "I'll go through my husband's collection of photographs which he acquired over there, and bring the most interesting and some of the souvenirs over tomorrow or the first day I can to show you. I intend to let my pupils see them anyway."

"What's the matter with bringing Friend Husband over and putting him on exhibition?" Bess Dean asked audaciously.

"Now you needn't frown at me in that tone of voice, Alice Holcombe. You know perfectly well I'm only anticipating Kenny by an hour or two."

She turned to me in laughing explanation.

"Kenny is simply nuts about having celebrities talk to the school, and then entertaining them afterward," she said. "And it so happens that dear little Millie, just back from being 'on punishment' in the sanatorium, will be on her best behavior for a month or two. Therefore, you can wager your last cent that Kenny's planning this very minute just how best to put his invitation up to you."

DIARY OF A FASHION MODEL
BY GRACE THORNCLIFFE.

She Describes a Gown That May Be Varied by Wearing Different Vests.

"You want a spring dress that is neither tan nor blue," said madame. "With your lovely blonde hair why don't you have gray?" she suggested in answer to the request of Miss Dillingham for a spring street gown.

"I am very partial to gray, you know, madame," Miss Dillingham replied.

"I think gray gabardine with a touch of Joffre blue would be just the color scheme for you."

"Of course I love that combination, but I want something very simple with an adjustable vest or guimpe so that I may have variety in several changes," Miss Dillingham explained.

"I've just the idea!" madame exclaimed. "We will have a vest of gray organdie trimmed with Val. lace dyed gray. Dyed lace is very new and gives a smart touch to a gown."

"Your idea sounds attractive," answered Miss Dillingham. "But to my way of thinking nothing is as pretty and as fresh as white or cream around the neck and throat."

"You must have a gray vest now to please me," said madame. "I'll make a white one, too. Flesh pink— very pale, of course—is also effective with gray."

"White or gray I prefer for the vests, madame. And now that is settled, let's see what you're going to design for me," she asked.

Madame's brain and fingers work very quickly under the inspiration of dressing a distinguished beauty like Miss Dillingham.

"You will want quite an open neck to display the vest," madame said, as she thoughtfully turned the idea over in her mind. "I have it! A deep rather U-shaped neck outlined with a collar of Joffre blue taffeta. That will bring the blue near your face and hair where I want it for the contrast. This U will be filled in with a guimpe of gray or white organdie, or net."

"I think gray organdie is more spring-like than net, don't you, madame?" Miss Dillingham inquired.

"Oh, they're both so sheer it don't matter particularly. We will have gray organdie with undersleeves to match. They will be attached to cotton net sleeves made in one with the vest because I want the vest to show below the belt to give you a little different touch from the ordinary guimpe. This vest will be attached to the net lining," madame explained. "The grey blouse will have a peplum faced with blue and the lingerie vest will show in front where the peplum is cut away. See?" she said, exhibiting for Miss Dillingham's approval the sketch reproduced here.

"Oh, I like that very much. What is this belt? Is it leather?" she inquired.

"No, it is a belt of the material with two small gray pearl buckles or silver ones if you like."

"I like gray pearl buckles better than silver ones, I think. Where does this gown fasten? Do I slip the blouse over over my head?" she asked.

"That could be done, but I'll fasten it down the centre back with a row of gray gabardine buttons in a continuous line."

This sketch is lovely and just the type of dress I want for the spring. I can wear it at luncheon or in the afternoon because it's really dressy, and yet it will look well in the morning on the street," Miss Dillingham remarked as she took the design.

This Street Dress of Grey Gabardine Has a Gray Organdie Vest.

To-morrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble
FRIDAY, APRIL 11.

The ruling influence for this day is the benefic Jupiter, bringing increase, gain, reward or prosperity in many avenues of endeavor. Notwithstanding which an ill-disposed Mars calls for care and coolness in the manipulation of all affairs, avoiding impulsiveness and disputes, lest they contribute to the undoing of the benevolence of Jupiter. The luminaries also being in mutually unhappy attitude admonishes those in employment to be particularly cautious and good-natured. Association and negotiations with combinations, trusts, secret orders and through legitimate plots and conspiracies should thrive under a fortunate Neptune-Lunar influence.

Those whose birthday it is with care should have a successful and satisfactory year. They should avoid disputes and litigation. A child born on this day will be proud, generous, kind and progressive, but should be careful of rash and hasty acts and words.

MUSICAL COMEDY HEADS VAUDEVILLE PROGRAM AT GRAND

The excellent list of vaudeville attractions that will appear at the Grand today, tomorrow and Saturday will be headed by Greenwald and Kussel's big musical comedy, "All For the Ladies." In this delightful offering there are nine talented artists, mostly pretty girls, who know how to sing and dance and wear fetching costumes. This little playlet, said to be the best of its kind in vaudeville, is filled with original comedy, lilting music and artistic dancing specialties. The offering is elaborately staged and costumed and some novel electrical effects are introduced.

Elsie Williams and company will present under the title of "Who Was To Blame?" a delightful little sketch that will cause untold merriment. There is something about a family quarrel that touches a sympathetic chord in everybody, and that and good acting is why this clever company have made such a phenomenal success with this little one-act playlet that has to do with the eternal question.

Musical Comedy Favorite.

Another big feature on this bill is Knox Wilson, the musical comedy favorite. He is indeed a musical comedy favorite. There is no player of modern times who can lay claim to as widespread popular acquaintance as Knox Wilson. For his present brief vaudeville tour, Mr. Wilson shows his remarkable versatility by singing new songs, dancing, telling anecdotes and stories, besides playing several selections on the English concertina and saxaphone. His offering is a refreshing departure from the beaten vaudeville track.

The Three O'Connor Sisters, classy harmony singers, will be heard in an exclusive offering of the newest and best song successes. The Misses O'Connor formerly resided in Toronto, and are three of the original six O'Connor Sisters.

Johnny Mangles, "The Camouflage Jester," will also appear on this bill in an up-to-the-minute offering that is sure to please.

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG, IN "THE ROAD THROUGH THE DARK."

"The Road Through the Dark," starring Clara Kimball Young, will be the feature photoplay offering at the Grand today, tomorrow and Saturday. In this picture, Miss Young has the part of a young and beautiful French girl, who becomes the companion of a German officer to save the lives of a townful of French people. In the meantime she voluntarily becomes a spy for France and by means of a code message which only her loves knows she writes letters to him, disclosing secrets of the German army. In the end the girl is forced to tell how she obtained the information, but the story ends happily for all. "The Road Through the Dark" is a story of the early stages of the war, the scenes are laid in America and Europe, with the more important scenes in the latter country.

GODERICH HAS ITS FIRST LABOR UNION

GODERICH, April 9.—J. H. Goldring of Toronto has been engaged as bandmaster of the 33rd Regimental Band, which is being reorganized by the Goderich Musical Society. Mr. Goldring has had considerable experience in band work, and comes to this town highly recommended.

The first labor union in Goderich has started a branch here, the International Association of Machinists, and it will be known as Lodge No. 1238. It has 47 charter members, and the following are the officers elected:

President, A. Bewick; vice-president, Herbert Capeman; financial secretary, F. Hancock; recording secretary, G. Lamb. The new local will meet the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month.

BLANCHE SWEET HAS GREAT ROLE IN "THE UNPARDONABLE SIN"

Super-Photoplay Showing at Majestic All Next Week.

TEN-REEL PRODUCTION

A Screen Adaptation of Major Rupert Hughes' Novel.

Theatregoers everywhere will welcome the return of Blanche Sweet to the screen in the big Harry Garson photoplay, "The Unpardonable Sin," which is the attraction at the Majestic for one week, commencing on Monday next.

Miss Sweet had won a host of admirers and these admirers have missed her for the past year or more. "Where has she been?" and "What has she been doing?" will be questions asked in thousands of homes where her new picture will be discussed. There isn't so much to say about where she has been, and what she has been doing—Miss Sweet's earlier work before the camera had taken a rather heavy toll of her nervous energy and when the time came that she found it possible to take a long and comfortable rest she welcomed the opportunity to establish herself in one of the real show places of Lower California and live the quiet, peaceful life which she had been advised would return her to active service better and more effective as a screen star than she had ever been. There is, however, something more—and more interesting—to say as to the manner in which Miss Sweet was induced to come out of her "home shell" for this particular picture, "The Unpardonable Sin."

The reading public will identify the picture as a screen adaptation from the popular Major Rupert Hughes' novel by the same name. Those who have read the book will also recall that the principal character in the story, Dimny Parcot, is a young American girl who finds herself alone in her father's wonderful home in California when the action begins: Dimny's father is an explorer who has been absent on a trip to the Arctic regions for some time and her mother has hurried to Europe to find Dimny's sister, who had been placed at school in a convent in Belgium.

When Mr. Garson secured the photoplay rights to the story and engaged Marshall Neilan to direct the picture, both Mr. Garson and Mr. Neilan agreed that Miss Sweet was the ideal star for the production. Miss Sweet was offered an attractive contract, and the figure was such that she might have accepted for nothing other than business reasons—but it so happened that Miss Sweet welcomed the opportunity to play "Dimny Parcot" for other reasons about which Mr. Garson and Mr. Neilan knew absolutely nothing when they were looking for a star.

First of all [illegible] developed, Miss Sweet knows Major Rupert Hughes and his wife intimately. She had read "The Unpardonable Sin," while it was appearing in serial form in the Red Book Magazine. It had happened, moreover, that Miss Sweet had been told a few things about the story, and how it was fabricated, which not many people know. Major Hughes, following the accepted practice of novelists who get exceptional results, had written into his fiction narrative a number of flesh and blood characters—and among them were some of his honest-to-goodness personal friends in California, whom he chose to name the Parcots. Miss Sweet knew a way to get in touch with the father, mother, and two daughters, whom Major Hughes had chosen as his "Parcots" of the story and, using a little of the superstition which is always to be found in people in the amusement business, the actress who had been offered the opportunity of becoming the make-believe Dimny Parcot regarded the offer as a "hunch" and, as she expresses it, gave up the simple life because she "just had to." Those who have seen "The Unpardonable Sin" are unanimous in their opinion that in none of her previous productions has Miss Sweet done more artistic work. That she has staged a "come-back" without the slightest slip is conceded to be remarkable.

Featuring the celebrated screen star William Farnum. This photoplay picturized from the immortal story by Victor Hugo, will be shown at the Patricia Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

William Desmond, born in Dublin, Ireland, he came to the United States at an early age, and received a liberal education in New York schools. His stage career had an auspicious beginning with an engagement in "Quo Vadis." He then joined the Burbank Stock, where his work in a variety of roles attracted immediate attention and led to his being starred by a number of notable productions, among them "The Judge and the Jury" and "The Bird of Paradise." His screen career began with Ince, for whom he created some striking screen characterizations, notably in "Stage Struck," "Last of the Ingrams" and "The Paws of the Bear."

A Big V Comedy and a Mutt and Jeff cartoon will also be shown. Early and Leight, singers and dancers, will furnish the vaudeville part of the program.
