City Must Clean Thames—Synod Deals With Prayer Book

PROVINCIAL BODY MUST ACT ON RIVER

Failure of Edict Will Mean an Investigation by Board of Health.

POLLUTION ILLEGAL

City and Private Concerns Can Be Forced To Stop Use.

The Thames must be cleaned up. The provincial board of health will be asked to issue an edict to the city, necessitating steps be taken to stop pollution of the waters of the river. If the provincial body does not take early action, the London board of health will urge an investigation.

Chairman C. Mitchell of the London Board of Health told The Advertiser this morning that steps would have to be taken to stop raw sewage from being dumped into the river. He advocated action for the next meeting of the board, when the matter is bound to come up along with the plumbing bylaw.

"There is so much sewage and refuse from various plants being dumped into the river now," declared Mr. Mitchell, "that a youngster might come out black or green or any other color if he went in bathing there."

Pollution Illegal.

It is pointed out that pollution of the river's waters is illegal under provincial statute and that the city and private concerns can be forced by the province to eliminate the dumping practice.

When seen today, City Engineer W. P. Near intimated that the Wellington street sewage disposal work could not be properly started until spring, when the department would be assured of fairly low water levels.

Engineers and health officials are now investigating sewage and garbage disposal plants in other cities. When Mr. Near and the assistant engineer on sewers, W. Veitch, leave for Boston tomorrow morning, they will start on a tour of investigation of plants at Rochester, Syracuse and Utica, and they hope to bring back useful information.

Revenue Producer.

Chairman Mitchell, of the board of health, is confident that sewage and garbage from the city can be turned into a revenue producer. It has been done in other cities, and a cheap fertilizer has been the result.

W. C. Dodd, garbage superintendent points out that a fertilizer could be secured from burned garbage for a dollar a load and profit made. If the fertilizer found a sale there would be revenue. The only trouble is that in some cases there would be plenty of product and perhaps no demand. However, the market conditions and facilities for selling are now being investigated.

Lorne Bowman Found Not Guilty Of Murder On Insanity Grounds

Canadian Press Despatch.

Kitchener, Ont., Sept. 25.—Not guilty on the grounds of insanity was the verdict of the jury in the case of Lorne Bowman, charged with the murder of his wife in Elmira on June 30, delivered in a crowded and tense courtroom at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The jury signified they had reached a decision when Justice Wright mounted the bench promptly at the hour set for resumption of court.

In receiving the verdict, Justice Wright complimented the jury upon the accomplishment of an arduous task and declared he was of the opinion they had done their best to arrive at a fair verdict.

He instructed that the prisoner shall be kept in the strictest custody pending the pleasure of the lieutenant-governor. It is expected Bowman will be confined to a hospital for the criminal insane for the remainder of his life.

Pupils Should Have Study Period During School Hours, Inspector Greer Declares.

DETAILS AWAITED

Trustees Grant, Mrs. Rose and Mrs. Tanner Hail Idea as Worthy Move.

Members and officials of the board of education are in accord with the move of Premier Ferguson to curtail homework for public school pupils throughout the province.

The plan is to set apart one and a half hours each day for independent work and study by the pupils under the direction of the teacher, is heartily approved.

Inspector V. K. Greer intimated to The Advertiser that while no official word had been received of the new regulations, he was strongly in favor of a study period during the regular school day.

There is a tendency, said the inspector, of teachers in city schools giving full time to instruction and leaving no time for the pupil to solve his own problems. Independent study during school hours with the teacher at hand to give assistance, was the proper method to ease the problem, he contended.

The inspector expressed his belief that there should be some homework in the upper four grades, but that such work should be free from difficulties and perplexities, and that new work should not be stressed. He suggested that supplementary reading, spelling, memory work and written exercises, based on work previously taken up during school, might well form the basis of work to be done by the pupils at home.

Homework, in the opinion of Trustee Dr. A. J. Grant, ought to be eliminated as far as possible. Some homework, he believed necessary, however, to carry out the public school curriculum with reasonable despatch. He considered the provision of a study period during school hours an excellent idea for the cutting down of homework.

Speaking as a mother, Trustee Mrs. J. A. Rose stated that she never considered the doing away with all homework, since through the homework the parent secured the only intimate touch with the child, and what he or she was doing at school.

As a teacher, Mrs. Rose said she had never favored home work which necessitated outside assistance. The pupil should be able to do the work himself and by himself, though the parent might do well to show an interest in what the child was doing. The parent might in this way learn how difficult it was to teach the child and thus have more sympathy with the teacher.

Mrs. W. A. Tanner, president of the Union Mothers' Club, expressed the opinion that the new regulations were progressing along proper lines. Mrs. Tanner said that she recognized the necessity for homework in the Collegiate, but thought that by concentration and proper attention during school hours, the average child could get along in public school without homework being made necessary.

Children up to 12 years of age attending public school should be in bed at 9 p.m., in the opinion of Mrs. Tanner, and it should not be necessary for them to stay up as late as 10 o'clock doing homework.

CORROSION OF WIRE BRINGS HYDRO BREAK

Thirteen-Thousand-Volt Line Snaps at Horton Street Substation.

The trouble at 11:18 o'clock yesterday morning which caused the interruption of the hydro power in the down-town section of the city arose from the breaking of a ground wire on one of the 13,000 volt lines in the rear of the Horton street sub-station.

At 11:50 a.m. one line was put in service sufficient to carry most of the residential load at that particular hour. At 1 o'clock the residential load was switched off and the power load switched on. Complete service was restored to the part of the city affected at 1:50 p.m.

The ground wire which broke had become corroded due to exposure to the weather.

THIEVES SET FIRE TO PARK BUILDINGS

Springbank Booths Destroyed in Early Morning $10,000 Blaze.

INCENDIARY SOUGHT

Money Taken From Pay Telephone Station Before Blaze Started.

Fire, which swept the front portion of the Springbank Amusement Park early this morning, completely burned two large booths and did damage to other booths and the park dancing pavilion. A loss estimated at $8,000 or $10,000 was suffered.

The origin of the fire is believed to be incendiary. Upon inspection of the ruins this morning it was found that a pay telephone instrument in one of the booths had been broken into and the money stolen. It is believed that the two booths were entered, rifled and then burned.

One of the booths, owned by Hugh McIvor of Byron, contained ten pool tables, which were completely destroyed. They were valued at $500 each, and the loss through the burning of the building itself is placed at $2,500. The other booth which had been used as a lunch stand, although burned to the ground, was not valued very high.

Nurse Sends Alarm.

Had it not been for the prompt action of Miss J. Gibson, a nurse at the Byron Sanatorium nearby, in turning in an alarm to the villagers, and later notifying the Byron operator to get in touch with the London fire department, the whole of the amusement park with more than twenty frame structures would have been wiped out.

A general alarm was made in Byron after a patient at the sanatorium had first noticed the brilliant reflection of the fire in the sky. More than fifty villagers volunteered, and a bucket brigade was formed. The London fire department arrived fifteen minutes after having received the alarm from Byron. Two of the

FLOOD AT LENINGRAD TAKES NINETEEN LIVES

Ship Hurled Onto Sandbank and Much Damage Reported in Severe Storm.

Associated Press Despatch.

Leningrad, Russia, Sept. 25.—Nineteen persons are known to have perished in the great flood which followed Tuesday's gale. The death toll is regarded as light, however, in view of the extent of the flood, which was the worst suffered by the former Russian capital since 1824. The casualties are believed to have been held down by the timely warning given the inhabitants when the Neva began to overflow its banks.

The flood waters were showing a tendency to subside early this morning, although some sections of the city remained isolated. Martial law has been declared, and the regular troops are being assisted in maintaining order by the militia, firemen and vigilance committees.

The most serious property damage was suffered by the factories in the Vassilevski Ostrov, the third electricity station, the central aqueduct, telegraph office, zoological gardens, the university, the customs house and some of the theatres.

One four-story house collapsed, but no one was injured. A German ship was hurled on to a sandbank in the harbor by the storm.

GERMANS' REFUSAL CAUSED COLLAPSE

Commercial Negotiations Failed Because Concessions Declined by Berlin Govt.

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Sept. 25.—The commercial negotiations between representatives of the British Board of Trade and the German trade ministry were begun early this week with the object of formulating a treaty of commerce between the two nations. Berlin despatches Wednesday night reported the collapse of the regulations, the reason being, it was said, that the negotiations had found it impossible to discover a common basis for the proposed instrument. One of the main difficulties was thought to be a refusal by the Germans to grant concessions demanded by Great Britain for exemption from taxation of British goods exported to Germany under the proposed new German tariff which was understood to provide for duties considered virtually prohibitive on the British products involved.

BODY OF MAN FOUND DEAD IN MILL POND

Ernest Pritchard of Luton, Elgin County, Believed To Have Taken Own Life.

PROBE UNNECESSARY

Sister Raised the Alarm and Neighbors Joined in Search Early This Morning.

Special to The Advertiser.

Aylmer, Sept. 25.—Ernest Pritchard, aged 54 years, a highly respected farmer at Luton, four miles southeast of here, was found by neighbors, after an all-night search, drowned in Hill's mill pond at 5:15 o'clock this morning clad only in his nightshirt and shoes. Ten days ago the unfortunate man was severely kicked by a horse, and yesterday was the first he was able to leave his bed.

Blood clots had formed, and it is the opinion of the physician who was in attendance that these clots spread and must have gone to his brain, making him temporarily insane. At 11 p.m. his sister, Miss Alice Pritchard, saw that he was sleeping and went to bed. An hour later she looked in to see if her brother was all right and he was gone.

She immediately put in an alarm over the telephone, and some twenty-five neighbors responded with lanterns. They hunted through the barn and across the surrounding fields all night, and at daybreak they came across tracks made by new rubber heels which were on his shoes. They led directly south along the sideroad and across a plowed field to the north end of Hill's pond. Boats were secured and the body was found in some twelve feet of water and removed to the home, three-quarters of a mile away.

Coroner Dr. Sinclair was called from Aylmer and deemed an inquest unnecessary. Gloom is cast over the entire neighborhood, where deceased has resided all his life. Deceased is survived by his sister, Miss Alice Pritchard, and an uncle, Willard Vanpatten Luton.

HEAVY FROSTS DAMAGE NIAGARA FRUIT CROP

Canadian Press Despatch.

Hamilton, Sept. 25.—Market gardeners from Ancaster and the Flamboros reported today that tomatoes, melons and cucumbers in those districts have been killed by frosts of the last three nights. They have picked what was left on the vines and offered these items today at low prices. Frosts have not touched the lower lying areas or the fruit district to the east of the city, but there has been much anxiety about grapes and peaches, both of which have been checked by cold weather.

Labor Wearing Court Dress Raises Howl In England

Resolutions at 21st Parley Will Denounce Breeches and Buckles.

"IRRATIONAL ATTIRE"

Ministers Attending King George's Functions Will Be Told To "Slow Up."

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Sept. 25.—A mighty howl against the practice of Great Britain's Laborite ministers in attending King George's court in full regalia—silk stockings, knee breeches, clinking swords, embroidered coats, buckled shoes, cocked hats, and all the rest of it—will probably go up to the rafters in Queen's Hall when the Labor party holds its 21st annual conference next month.

A dozen resolutions on the subject of the ministers and their wives wearing court regalia just like the aristocratic "old order," are down on the agenda. Some of the resolutions express regret that such is the case, while others protest against it. One deplores it all, and another merely views it with disfavor.

One resolution to be offered says that, if the ministers find it absolutely necessary to attend the courts, they should wear "rational attire," and "if not admitted, No. 10 Downing street shall be the place to settle matters requiring his majesty's presence." Resolutions on the agenda refer to court dress as a foolish and silly display, inconsistent with the aims and aspirations of the Labor movement. The Labor ministers are urged to "cultivate that sense of humor without which true dignity cannot be achieved," and such cultivation is urged "in the hope that in the future they may attend court functions in a more rational and democratic attire."

SHAME MAKES MAN COMMIT SUICIDE

Herbert Lashman of Hamilton Leaves Note to Wife Justifying Rash Act.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Hamilton, Sept. 25.—Shamed over his conduct towards his wife, whose life he threatened while under the influence of liquor, Herbert Lashman, an employee of the Steel Company of Canada, took his life during the night by drinking strychnine in beer. His body was found this morning in the boathouse near the Desjardines canal in which he lived with his wife and three children. Beside him was a bottle containing strychnine and beer and the following note:

"Coward you called me. Coward I am. Good-bye. Be good to the family."

His wife states that he had been drinking for several days and yesterday threatened to take her life. She called him a coward and left the house with the children to spend the night with a neighbor. Walter Bolton found Lashman's body this morning when he went to borrow his boat.

Associated Press Despatch.

Syracuse, Sept. 25.—Harmony was the dominant note at the formal opening of the Democratic state convention today.

Spirited, and often bitter, battles of previous conventions were conspicuous by their absence and all was in readiness to carry through the contemplated program, including the nomination of Governor Smith and his associate state officers, without a hitch. Routine business was on the program today. Nominations will be in order tomorrow.

PROBATION ACT HELP IS URGED

Synod Hears Arguments For Prayer Book Change at Session.

URGE CONSIDERATION

Rev. W. H. Vance Urges the Members to Guard Against "Snap Vote."

Revision of the prayer book of the Anglican Church in Canada, as suggested by Dean Shreve of Quebec, which includes the restoration to the prayer book of the prayer of consecration, i nthe office of holy communion, was the main theme of discussion in this morning's session of the General Synod.

From 1:30 until the hour of adjournment, which was 1 o'clock, various delegates spoke on both sides of this question. Eventually a resolution was introduced by Rev. W. H. Vance of Vancouver suggesting that the whole matter should be referred to the revision committee, in order that the synod might not be split by what he termed a snap vote. His seconder, Canon Scott of Montreal, was speaking at adjournment.

G. C. Nicholson ex-M.P. for Chapleau introduced notice of motion asking the synod to exert all its efforts in insuring the continuance of the O. T. A. at the coming plebiscite, and going on record as sustaining the principles of the O. T. A. He was greeted with a chorus of "noes" from the floor, and though he was allowed to place his notice of motion, a delegate stated that this was out of order in a general synod, whatever might be the case with a provincial synod.

Favors Probation Act.

Magistrate Edmund Jones of Toronto asked the synod to record itself as favoring the probation act of 1921 and to endeavor by parliamentary representation to have the earnings of all prisoners turned over to the wives and dependants, as well as to approve of the principle of a public defender, as, he said, "in accordance with the principle of British law, which holds that a prisoner is innocent until proved guilty."

The debate which ensued on the question raised by Dean Shreve was good natured and devoid of all personalities, the prolocutor, Dean J. P. Llwyd of Halifax, reminding the synod of its long record of freedom from all personal reference in debate during a speech by Canon Dyson Hague of Toronto, slightly more fervent than the rest.

Prayer of Consecration.

After this morning's session of the general synod had been sitting for nearly two hours the question of restoration of the prayer of consecration in the holy communion office to the Canadian prayer book, introduced last night by Dean Shreve of Quebec, became again the subject of interest and discussion.

Ven. Archdeacon Vroom of Halifax, N.S., as seconder of Dean Shreve's resolution, supported the earlier claims made in favor of restoration, stressing, as the dean had done, that no change in doctrine was involved, and that it was simply a move toward the forms of the primitive church.

He styled the present Canadian liturgy in use as a Roman one and maintained that restoration would be in line with the canon of the American church.

"We believe," he declared, "as did Justyn Martyr, that the bread and wine are not the same after consecration as before, but we cannot say when the change took place.

"We do not want to bear the implication that we are trying to institute the Roman celebration of consecration."

F. H. Hartley of Toronto read an extract from the liturgy of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, noting its similarity to the present liturgy of the Canadian church.

"I believe no man can be a good Anglo-Roman unless he is a devout evangelical. After reading this book it is obvious that the Presbyterians in Canada are not afraid of what might be styled "transubstantation."

Archdeacon Warren, while opposing the resolution in general, strongly rejected the argument of Dean Shreve that no change in doctrine was involved.

"If we have this restoration we shall have something in our prayer book we do not like."

Rev. Dyson Hague of Toronto proved a determined opponent of the resolution and on taking his place in front of the platform was received with applause. He held that a church which spent many years in drawing up the prayer book should not lightly institute changes.

Referring to the Anglican Church in America, and the origin of its prayer book, stated that the refusal of the church in England to consecrate the American Bishop Seager, was a piece of "that fatuous ignorance so common sometimes in Episcopal government."

Meets With Criticism.

He met with some criticism, but repeated "fatuous ignorance," and seemed to enjoy the phrase.

At this stage the prolocutor re-

Montreal Youths May Face Manslaughter Charge Following Fatality On Joy Ride

FOUR YOUTHS HELD AFTER FATALITY

Montreal Young Men May Face Manslaughter Charge Due to Accident.

APPEAR TOMORROW

Canadian Press Despatch.

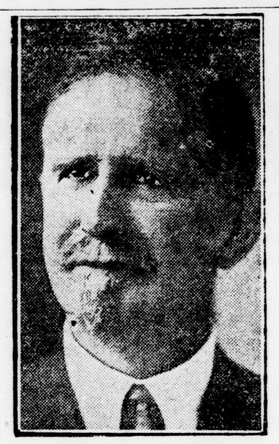

Haileybury, Sept. 25.—Four Montreal youths, whose wild ride in an automobile, alleged to have been stolen, ended in a collision which caused the death of Albert Harvey, aged 47, near here, yesterday morning, will appear before Magistrate Lalor on Friday charged with theft.

It is likely, according to the police, that the more serious charge of manslaughter will be made against them when the coroner's inquest has been held.

It is alleged that the four youths—Theodore Culbron, 19; Laurent Desjardines, 18; Lucien Desjardines, 19, and Armand Chartrand, 16—stole the car in which they were riding on Tuesday. The youths, who reside with their parents in Montreal, have no criminal record.

When the collision occurred it is alleged that the youths' car was on the left side of the road, and before the occupants of the car driven by Albert Proulx, aged 39, who is in a critical condition, could jump, the light car of the joyriders crashed headlong, throwing Proulx's car upside down and imprisoning its six passengers. Proulx's wife and two other women were injured, but not seriously. The Proulx's baby was uninjured.

The four youths, who were thrown out of their car with slight injuries, took to their heels across the fields, leaving both cars on fire. They were captured later. The occupants of Proulx's car, who were in grave danger of being burned alive, were rescued by residents, but Harvey soon died of a fractured skull.

VESSELS SEEK REFUGE IN HARBOR AT PORT

Storms Force Ships To Shelter —Fall Fishing Is Now Begun.

Navigation at Port Stanley at the present time is active. The fall fishing has just started, and the barges plying between ports on the American and Canadian sides are many.

Huge boats, laden with coal and pig-iron, forced to shelter by the severe storms which are prevalent on the great lakes at this time of the year, daily seek the harbor at Port Stanley.

Although they are not so numerous as last year, grain boats from Fort William and Port Arthur are often seen by the villagers sailing quite close to the shore to avoid the rough seas. One of these grain barges is expected at Port Stanley in the near future. They are here unloaded and the grain shipped by rail to many of the cities and towns of Western Ontario. The boat expected at Port Stanley will carry close to 50,000 bushels of Manitoba grain, about half of it being shipped from Port Stanley.

MYSTERIOUS 'PEEPING JACK' BEING SOUGHT IN COUNTY

That mysterious individual "Jack the Peeper," is again at work in the county, reports received by High Constable Wharton would indicate.

The high constable's telephone rang at 2:30 this morning, an agitated feminine voice stating that a man had been peeping in the windows on Woodward avenue, Oxford Park, some half hour before, but had gone away.

It is believed that the Oxford Park peeper is the same man who has been seen prowling round Knollwood, Highland and Kensall Parks, and an effort will be made by the authorities to land him behind jail bars.

APPLICATION FOR BAIL FOR JONES IS REFUSED

Application for bail by relatives of Walter Jones, who is to appear in a week's time on a charge of theft, has been refused by the authorities, County Magistrate Hawkshaw stated this morning.

Jones faces four charges of theft in county court of automobile accessories, with a companion by the name of Karl. High Constable Wharton is still working on the case and states that other individuals in the neighborhood of Delaware, where the pair are alleged to have operated, have complained of numerous thefts.

FAMILY OF MISSING MAN GIVEN RELIEF

Robert H. Power Has Not Been Seen For a Week—High Constable Aids.

Although Robert H. Power, missing from his home at 399 Forbes street, Manor Park, for more than a week, remains absent, his wife and two baby children, whom he left without money or provisions, are being cared for.

County and city police are conducting a search for Power, who is believed to be in the city. A warrant has been sworn out for his arrest on a charge of wife desertion.

He is a returned soldier and has been living and keeping his wife and family on a D. S. C. R. pension. During her husband's mysterious absence, Mrs. Power has been unable to secure money, the pension checks being valueless without the attachment of her husband's signature.

Several days ago Mrs. Power was in a destitute condition. She was without money and food. In the meantime, however, High Constable Wharton, who is on the lookout for her husband, supplied her with enough money to purchase food to temporarily feed herself and little children.

FORMER FRIEND MAY HAVE SET HOME AFIRE

High Constable Wharton Believes Blaze Was Result of Grudge.

Although High Constable Wharton has made no arrest in connection with the firing of Dick Haines' home in Westminster Township, he is satisfied that the firebug held a personal grudge against Mr. Haines.

"It is hard to get conclusive information in the case, but I feel quite sure that a former friend of Haines' was responsible for setting the place on fire," declared the high constable.

Questioned as to whether the same man might be implicated in the fire which destroyed a portion of the Springbank Amusement Park early this morning, Mr. Wharton declared that while it might be possible it was highly improbable.

MOTHER OF GREAT DOG OWNED BY SARNIA MAN

A recent issue of The Advertiser contained a picture of "Prince of Wales," the greatest bulldog on the continent, winner of all the first prizes at the Canadian National Exhibition and at the Western Fair. "Prince of Wales" was described as owned and raised by Charles F. Webber of London. This requires correction, in that the champion was born in the kennels of Dr. L. S. Lumley of Sarnia, although now owned by Mr. Webber. "Prince's" sire is owned by Mr. Webber, and the mother, "Glenarden Lady Isabel," is the property of Dr. Lumley.

NOISY ONE MUST WAIT TO RECEIVE SENTENCE

A cantankerous drunk arrived at the police station this morning in time for court and had he been in fit condition he would have been tried then and there without the unpleasantness of having to spend a night in the cells.

As it happened he will have to remain at the police station for a day and a night. He will appear in court tomorrow.

Police answered a call from a London West home. They found that the man had commenced to break all the furniture in his abode and he had started to batter down his front door. He was led away in the police patrol and lodged in the cells where he pounded furiously for some minutes, finally quietening, however.

COMMISSION URGED TO HIRE LONDONERS

City Council's Request Will Be Considered at Next Utilities Meeting.

REASONS STATED

Teh city council has requested the public utilities commission that all those employed by the commission should be residents of the city of London.

The request will be considered by the commission at its next regular meeting.

Clerk Baker forwarded to Manager Buchanan, in a letter dated September 18, the resolution passed by No. 1 committee of the council to the following effect: "That the council suggest to the public utilities commission that all employees in the general office, stores department, garage departmentfi water meter department, and parks depart should be residents of the city of London."

Manager Buchanan is in receipt also of a second letter dated September 22, to the effect that No. 1 committee of the council reaffirmed its previous motion requesting the commission to employ only those resident in the city of London.

Mayor Wenige states that as a taxpayer he objects to city funds being paid to employees not resident in the city of London, whether employed by the city council or the public utilities.

The mayor stated that the council had been consistent in forwarding the request to the commission having given its two employees living outside the city limits six months in which to take up their resdence in the city, or else forfeit their jobs.

When the matter come up at the next meeting of the commission it is expected that the request will meet with some considerable opposition at the hands of the members of the commission.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK PLANNED

Week of October 5 Set Aside For Special Demonstrations in Canada.

DAILY PARADE HERE

A proclamation issued today from Ottawa sets the week from and following Octo. 5 as "Fire Prevention Week" in the Dominion.

It is the object of this week to lay aside a special period in which householders and tenants will make an inspection of their dwellings, fire drills will be held in schools, all Boy Scouts take special courses in fire fighting, all public buildings be inspected by those responsible for them and every publicity given to the subject of fire fighting and control.

The proclamation states that this precaution is ordered in view of the heavy and increasing annual loss by fire in the Dominion. It declares that more than three hundred and fifty persons lose their lives each year and that the property loss is over $48,000,000 a year.

Eighty per cent of all fires originate through inexcusable ignorance and neglect, and are, therefore, preventable, and it is because of these facts that a national fire week has been asked for by Ottawa.

Fire Prevention Week will be observed in London by a daily parade of all the fire trucks in the local department, Chief Aitken stated today. The trucks will bear banners and streamer warning citizens of the great number of fires which have been caused through negligence.

"The Fire Prevention Week held in London last year, proved very successful," Chief Aitken said. "We have daily inspections of buildings in the city, and so far this year the loss through fire in this city has shown a tremendous decline in comparison with former years."

LAVAL STUDENTS CHEER BELAND AS HE SAILS

Federal Minister of Health Is Given Great Sendoff at Quebec.

Quebec, Sept. 24.—A great sendoff was given Dr. H. S. Beland, federal minister of health, and Mrs. Beland on the occasion of their departure this afternoon for Europe on the Canadian Pacific steamer, Empress of Scotland, by a group of over one hundred students of Laval University.

Other passengers of note on the Empress included Hon. J. N. Francoeur, speaker of the Quebec Legislative Assembly, who is going to spend a holiday in Europe; Rt. Hon. Sir Hamar Greenwood, Bart., K. C., and Lady Greenwood, D. H. E., of London, England.

W. J. Egan, deputy minister of immigration, was also a passenger on the Empress, and is going over to spend at least a month investigating matters concerning his department, in the British Isles.

Other passengers were Capt. H. K. Kitson, former commander of the H. M. S. Calcutta, who was recently replaced by Capt. the Hon. Alexander Ramsay, the husband of Princess Patricia, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Price, of Quebec, who are going to Europe to spend their honeymoon.

Lawyer No Equal For Speedometer

Speeding Motorist Forced To Pay His Fine.

One speeder appeared at police court this morning in an attempt to prove that a motorcycle policeman was incorect when he summoned him for travelling at a rate of 27 miles per hour along Wellington street last Sunday.

The speeder even took the precaution of securing a lawyer, but he overlooked the fact that his own car bore no speedometer.

"I've been driving for ten years, and I am a pretty good judge of speed," he told the court.

"Not as good as the constable's speedometer," was the reply.

The motorcycle policeman had paced the autoist for two blocks. He stated that the motor was travelling at a steady speed of more than 25 miles per hour.

"I'll have to fine you $10 and costs," Magistrate Graydon informed the man.

MOTORISTS FOR NORTH URGED TO MAKE DETOUR

Teh Proof Line road between the fourth and fifth concessions of London Township is absolutely closed to traffic owing to paving operations, Secretary Ed Bernard of the London Motor Club announces.

"The contractors are working on the road between the city limits and the fourth concession and the road is very rough," Mr. Bernard declared. "I would strongly advise everyone motoring forth to detour via Adelaide street as far as the fifth concession."

HIGH CONSTABLE COVERS MANY MILES IN WEEK

That High Constable Wharton is sparing no effort to keep the County of Middlesex free of crime and that he is on the job continually is evidenced by the fact that last week he travelled 1,008 miles over county roads.

The high constable has had many calls during the past three weeks, and although many of them have been of a petty nature he has answered them all, working on an average of 15 hours a day.

SYNOD DEALS WITH CHANGE PROPOSED FOR PRAYER BOOK

Canon Abbott-Smith of Montreal urged the synod to wait until the church in England had reached a decision on the matter. He hoped that another means than "permissive use" of the prayer might be found in the way of revising the prayer book.

Rev. W. H. Vance of Vancouver, B. C., though in sympathy with prayer book revision, brought in a resolution asking that Dean Shreve's resolution should go to the committee on prayer book revision, in order to avoid splitting the synod by a hasty or snap vote.

He maintained that the synod was not ready to vote on the question, and cited the fact that even the mover and seconder of the original resolution were not in complete harmony as to the facts of the case.

Canon Scott of Quebec, speaking as the seconder of this suggestion, pleaded for unity in the church, but objected to any "alternative use" of any prayers in the liturgy, and stated that some future revision of the prayer book would take care of the matter satisfactorily.

G. B. Nicholson, ex-M. P. for Chapleau, in giving notice of motion asking the synod to approve the O. T. A., and to use all its efforts to insure the sustaining of the act at the coming plebiscite, ran into stormy weather and a chorus of noes.

He claimed the privilege of the house, and gaining it, continued to read his motion. The general opinion of the synod was expressed by a delegate who suggested that such a motion was not in order in the General Synod, whatever might be the case in a provincial synod.

Law Cost.

Treasurer L. A. Hamilton's report showed the capital funds of the General Synod as $1,001,178.71 and the treasurer drew attention to the low cost of administration of the synods' funds.

"In these days of high costs," he said, "I can point with pleasure to the fact that the entire amount fro administration of capital funds for the past year was $728, a litle more than one-fourteenth of one per cent of the capital. All funds of the synod are substantially invested in government and municipal bonds and I am happy to say there are no losses to report and no interest in arrears."

He paid a tribute to the generosity of the late Sir Edmund Osler, who by his gift of $20,000 to the Anglican Forward Movement to be used in increasing the stipends of the poorer clergy and give pensions to retired clergymen, had done so much to help the church financially.

Magistrate James Edmund Jones of Toronto, in giving notice of motion, asked the approval by the synod of the Probation Act of 1921, and that it should make such parliamentary effort as might be possible to have the earnings of all prisoners devoted to the maintenance of wives and children.

He also urged the synod to declare itself in favor of the institution of Public Defenders, thereby supporting the theory of British justice that the prisoner is innocent until he is found guilty.

In a discussion following the treasurer's report Canon Cody of Toronto remarked that it cost $23,000 to hold a general synod and urged more speed in dealing with business of the synod.

Lansing Lewis and R. J. Carson, auditors to the synod, having indorsed the treasurer's report congratulated the delagates on the financial standing and welfare of the synod. In view of the increasing business of the synod, a resolution to have the work done in future by a chartered accountant met with no opposition.

"Considering the publicity now surrounding prominent men in the handling of accounts," he said, "and that Ocean G. Smith was styled a 'rubber stamp,' I want the synod to know that neither my assistant nor myself will ever consent to act merely as a rubber stamp for the synod. The books have always been very thoroughly audited."

An eloquent appeal by Richmond Shreve, dean of Quebec, for reconsideration of his resolution of 1918, urging the inclusion of the prayer of oblation and the invocation of the Holy Ghost in the canon of consecration in the holy communion office in the Canadian Prayer Book, featured the first day's work in the tenth general synod of the Anglican Church which opened here yesterday.

Dean Shreve took up the question at a late hour in the evening session, and spoke until the hour of adjournment, which was postponed to half-past ten to allow of finishing his appeal. He laid great emphasis on the propriety of introducing the question at this synod and on the fact that no new doctrine was asked for.

Seek Restoration.

The dean, who is in the 50th year of his priesthood, stated that the original invocation used by Jesus in the celebration of the Last Supper had been lost by the Church of England in Canada, and that its restoration according to the old tradition of the primitive church was the wish and prayer of many members of the church at the present time. The debate will continue this morning, and several speakers are waiting to support and oppose the measure.

Rt. Rev. A. C. Headlam, bishop of Gloucester, England, who preached the sermon in the opening service in St. Paul's Cathedral, advised the church to conciliate old tradition with modern thought and life, and declared that the church most fitted to live today was the one which gave the most sincere, intellectual effort toward solving the various problems of modern life and society.

Dean Lloyd Re-Elected.

The Very Rev. Dean Lloyd of Halifax, N.S., was re-elected to this third term as prolocutor of the lower house, after a second vote was made necessary. G. C. Coppley, ex-mayor of Hamilton, was nominated, and for the first time in the history of general synod a layman was considered as prolocutor. He polled 69 votes to the dean's 98.

Ven Archdeacon Heathcote of Vancouver was elected as deputy prolocutor, with a vote of 85.

Church union was touched upon briefly by Archbishop Matheson, primate of all Canada, in his charge to the synod. Outlining the steps taken by the Church of England in Canada toward union, whereby it had been agreed by the committee on the subject to withhold all negotiations with any other church until such time as the question of union between the three non-episcopalian churches had been completed.

As this had been a much more protracted affair than was expected, the church had thought it better to refrain from any negotiations while they were still negotiating among themselves.

Would Await Union.

"It was felt by the central committee," said the primate, "that it would be more courteous to wait until the union of the three non-episcopalian churches was consummated before we entered into negotiation with them on the matter of union. In view of the protracted proceedings which have intervened in the years since the Lambeth Conference, we feel that we are not ready yet to quickly obtain union."

He reminded his audience that he was in his seventy-second year, and in the sixteenth year of his primacy, and presiding at his fifth synod.

Of the forward movement in the church he was very optimistic, especially so of the beneficiary fund, which provides relief for widows of clergy, for superannuated clergy and for the children of clergymen in certain cases.

"I wonder what the church would have done in the years immediately following the war," he asked, "but for this fund raised by the forward movement? It is impossible to overestimate the relief and happiness that has been given by this fund.

His recommendation to the church in the case of spiritual healing was neither to entirely reject it nor to put too great faith in it. "It behooves us," he said, "to apply prayer for the cure of bodily ills just as for spiritual ills, and to ask by prayer for aid from the Great Healer for all our ills. This is my own personal conviction. I do not think the time is ripe for the church to make an official announcement on the matter."

In the matter of the formation of general synods in foreign fields the primate intimated that the churches abroad were considering it, in view of the future expansion, and that it would have to be considered by the home churches, in view of a possible conflict of authority when churches abroad became autonomous.

Good Progress Made.

"The progress of the church in Canada since 1905 has been such as to inspire all of us with hope," he declared. "There have been dark years since the last synod, but hope is now beginning to shine through the clouds. The opinion of the best minds of today all the world over is that a recourse to the ethics of Christ in every activity of our lives is the only hope on the establishment of the order of God on earth."

"For many years the world has been saying nice things about the Saviour. Now the time has come when it needs Him. That's why we hear so much of the needs of a new form of legislation, and of the need for new and better conditons in the world.

"It is time we became not better churchmen but better Christmen. In every walk of life, in the family, in society we must become Christmen. That's how the great leaders of the world are born. We have hard times in Canada. If we can't all be optimists at least let us be meliorists."

Bishop Williams Praised.

To Bishop Williams of the Diocese of Huron he paid attributes of praise for his contribution to the church, both in time and in executive ability.

"Few leaders of the Christian Church," he said, "have made a richer contribution to the work of the general synod in time and of rare executive ability than the bishop in whose diocese we are meeting this year."

Archbishop Matheson spoke in a firm, strong voice and looked very well, yet he reminded the synod that this might be the last session at which he would preside. "If I do not preside again," he stated, "I want the general synod to know that I am glad for all the kindness that it has at times bestowed on me?"

Dean Shreve of Quebec, whose address in behalf of his resolution asking for the introduction of the Prayer of Consecration into the Canadian Book of Common Prayer was termed the finest address this synod has ever listened to by one delegate, spoke for 40 minutes on his memorandum.

He pleaded that it was not for any new or Roman doctrine that he asked the indulgence of the synod, but simply for the reintroduction of the old and primitive uses and rights and customs of the church. He stated that the Episcopal churches in Scotland, in America, in South Africa and Japan used the older form, including the prayers of Oblation and Invocation, in a holy communion office.

Denies Accusations.

"We do not celebrate the Lord's Supper in the church today as Jesus did. Jesus used the invocation and the consecration. Our duty as Christians is to continue steadfastly in the doctrine of the apostles in the breaking of bread. He rebutted the accusations hurled at him in past years, that he was not a friend of the old 1552 prayer book. "For 32 years as a priest I have used that book with absolute loyalty," he said. "I regard it as a mutilated book to be sure, but I have used it, as it is through all the years."

This is the first time the matter has been presented to the General Synod for discussion, and it is probable that today's sessions will see a lively debate in the lower house. Last night some of the bishops, whose session was over, listened to Dean Shreve from the distance of the gallery.

ST. THOMAS SENDS OFFICIAL PROTEST

Secretary Forwards Complaint of Decision in Ninth to O. B. A. A. Officials.

The St. Thomas Baseball Club, through its secretary, T. G. M. Jamieson, has officially protested to the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association about the decision of Umpire Chandler in the ninth inning of the game here yesterday with Galt when Binns was declared out for interference.

The protest was sent to A. J. Walsh, O. B. A. A. secretary, in Toronto this morning.

In conversation with Mr. Jamieson over long-distance telephone, Mr. Walsh informed him that he was calling a meeting of the association officials in Toronto Friday night to consider what action will be taken.

In the meantime, pending the outcome of the official complaint, the Toronto Oslers have been ordered to play Orillia in the next round instead of meeting Galt.

If the St. Thomas protest is upheld by the loop officials the game with Galt will have to be replayed.

The official record of the controversial play in the ninth inning is as follows: Lynch, playing first base for Galt, took Arlien's grounder and threw to third base, where Lindsay was called out. Arlien safe. Arlien stole second, but was ordered back to first base when Umpire Chandler ruled that Binns, who was at bat, had thrown himself in front of Oliver, catcher, preventing him from making a good throw to second base. Binns was called out for interference.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain—How To Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas, or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Advt.

C.P.R. MAKES OFFER TO RESTORE RATES

W. N. Tilley, K. C., Springs Sensation at Resumed Crow's Nest Pass Hearing.

OFFER DECLINED

Canadian Press Despatch.

Ottawa, Sept. 25.—A surprise was sprung by Canadian Pacific Railway counsel in the Crow's Nest Pass case before the railway commission this morning by a proposal to withdraw the rate of tariffs of July 7 (now complained of) and to go back to the rates in force before that time.

The bomb was dropped by W. N. Tilley, K.C., counsel for the C. P. R., during the argument of Isaac Pitblado, K.C., counsel for the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. Mr. Pitblado had said that if the C. P. R. held they were not bound by the agreement the logical thing for them was not to file Crow rates and to leave it to others to complain. Mr. Tilley at once said that they would withdraw the new tariff and leave rates as they were if that was agreeable.

Mr. Pitblado, however, declined to accept this proposal without consulting his clients. H. J. Symington, K.C., counsel for the prairie provinces, rejected it completely, claiming that now the rates were in the board should remove the discrimination by levelling down rates. In this he was supported by G. G. McGeer, K.C., counsel for British Columbia.

After a lively discussion between counsel, the point was dropped and argument proceeded. During the discussion, Chairman McKeown said that what the commission was anxious to do was to remove the present difficulties in a manner that would cause least loss to all concerned.

fastest trucks with heavy apparatus responded.

Brigade Does Good Work.

The volunteer brigade were almost exhausted from the intense heat of the blaze when the London firemen arrived. Although the fire had been considerably checked, the large dancing pavilion and booths at the rear were threatened until a line of hose was laid. As it was the railing of the dance hall and a portion of the stand was burned.

The amusement park has been closed for the season since last Friday and no one was on the premises when the fire started. Although Chief Aitken stated today that the origin of the fire is unknown, residents of Byron believe that the place was ignited by thieves in an effort to eliminate traces of an attempted robbery. Several dollars were taken from the pay telephone in the booth belonging to Mr. McIvor.

During the past two years several fires which are belived to have been of incendiary origin have broken out at Springbank and Byron. This is the second time that Mr. McIvor's booth at the Amusement Park has been burned to the ground in two years. Several fires have also broken out in the Bungalow Tearooms, not far from the Amusement Park, during the past few years.

The alarm was sounded at Byron shortly after 3 o'clock this morning. The London firemen were on the scene, and had a line of hose laid within half an hour, and the fire was completely extinguished at 5 o'clock. No. 3 station in London South and the central station responded.

Mitchell, Sept. 24.—Weather was delightful for the Mitchell Fall Fair, and the president, George Kemp, directors and Secretary Facey are well pleased, as the fair was one of the best held in many years. The show opened in the Agricultural Hall on Tuesday evening, when the exhibits were examined by a large crowd and the music was furnished by the town band.

The floral exhibits, which were much better than in former years, were admired by lovers of flowers. There was a good display of apples, pears and plums, but the apple crop is short this year, and the exhibits were not as numerous as last fall. The exhibits in roots, vegetables, grain, etc., were fully as good as in former years.

The exhibits in ladies' work and domestic science were the largest ever seen at the Mitchell fair, and those in charge of space had hard work to make room for exhibits.

The exhibits on hand-painted china, school exhibits, children's work and fine arts made a good showing.

Records Broken.

On Wednesday afternon more than 3,000 people were in attendance, and Secretary Facey says he thinks all records for membership, attendance and number of entries will be broken. Pupils of public schools of Mitchell, Logan, Fullarton and Hibbert marched from the market square to the fair grounds, headed by the citizens' band.

For general deportment, dress and marching, the Willow Grove School No. 6 was given first prize by the judges, Reeves H. D. Moyer and W. H. Robarts; No. 2, Hibbert took second pize and No. 5, Fullarton, third. There was only one entry in the school drill, Willow Grove.

The show of heavy horses and light horses was good, the classes were all well filled, and in a number of cases the judges had a difficult task in awarding the prizes. In cattle, swine, sheep and poultry the exhibits were as large and the quality as good, if not a little better, than last year.

The midway consisted of a ferris wheel, merry-go-round, sideshows and booths, and was patronized by throngs of people.

Baby Show.

Babies over one year and under two years, five entries. First prize, Ross Smale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smale of Staffa.

Babies over six months and under one year, William Keith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Marshall, Mitchell.

Babies under six months, eight entries. First prize, Arlene Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Watson of Hibbert.

The judges were Mrs. H. R. Greenwood of Fullarton and Miss Drummond, R.N., of the General Hospital, Stratford.

BULGARIAN TROOPS PRAISED FOR CONSTRUCTION WORKS

Associated Press Despatch.

Dragalevtsi, Bulgaria, Sept. 24.—Soldiers of the Bulgarian army have been used in building a highway up Mount Vitosha. The work includes fountains and shelters along the road. In addressing the men on the opening of the new route General Lazaroff, their commander, said:

"Soldiers, you have contributed something of value to your country. By your effort you have enabled your countrymen to enjoy better one of the beauty spots of Bulgaria. On your return to your homes your fellow villagers will hold you in high esteem as workers of peace, although you wear the uniforms of war. Let your labor serve as a precedent in our volunteer army. The work of that army is a labor of construction instead of destruction."

THEFT ADMITTED BY TORONTO BOY

Clifford French Remanded To Jail For Stealing Motor Truck.

Special to The Advertiser.

Chatham, Sept. 24. — Clifford French, aged 16, who said he came to Chatham from Toronto eight weeks ago, admitted in county police court this morning that he stole a motor truck belonging to Harold O'Brien from the latter's farm in Raleigh Township, and also confessed to stealing articles of food from a dwelling on the farm. He was arrested along with a 13-year-old Chatham boy, who accompanied him on a trip on the stolen truck to Melbourne, where the machine was abandoned. The youth pleaded guilty to both charges, and was remanded to jail for sentence.

Mrs. James King, concession 5, Dover, is in the public general hospital suffering from injuries to her back, and her husband sustained injuries to his head, when a motor car, driven by Felix Lahrise, crashed into their buggy late last night. The horse ran away, and was located early this morning several miles from the city. A little girl in the buggy escaped injury.

Tomato growers of Kent report that the crop is not as heavy as that of the 1923 season. They predict an advance in prices after Saturday.

WESTERN BISHOP SPEAKS TO CLUB

Rev. George Lloyd Tells of the Conditions in Western Provinces.

Conditions in the west which menaced national life were dealt with by the Rt. Rev. George Exton Lloyd, D.D., bishop of Saskatchewan, who addressed the Canadian Club at their luncheon in the Tecumseh House today. Bishop Lloyd, a former clergyman in Ontario, is a veteran of the North West Rebellion and has been in the west for many years.

He urged better immigration laws, to bring to Canada people who would best fit in with the climate and political conditions of the land. He declared himself for one language in the west, instead of having government stationery, railway tickets and posters printed in French as well as English. He asked that the Indian problem be dealt with.

In Ontario, Indians are gentleman farmers. In the west most of them were still much as they were 40 years ago. The government would have to take steps to care for the Indian after it educated him.

RATES NOW IN USE BY CROW'S NEST

Brantford and Galt Make Strong Protests Against New Charges.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Ottawa, Sept. 25.—The Crow's Nest Pass rates are now in force in the Crow's Nest Pass Railway itself. This statement was made by Isaac Pitblado, K.C., counsel for the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, just before the railway commission adjourned its hearing of the Crow's Nest Pass case yesterday afternoon.

The earlier part of the day's sessions was taken up by arguments by G. G. McGeer, K.C., of British Columbia, and by W. T. Henderson, city solicitor of Brantford. Both made strong protests against discrimination under the new rates and both charged that the new rates would destroy industries.

The latter appeared for the Chamber of Commerce of that city as well as for the city of Galt. He said that if the existing rates were allowed to continue, pending an appeal to the higher court, which might take two years, that would be no remedy to Brantford, because the harm to Brantford would have been done in that time. He claimed that Brantford was entitled to Crow's Nest rates to Winnipeg and to the west on an equality with Hamilton, where the chief competitors of the Brantford manufacturers were situated. In the first tariff published after the Crow's Nest contracts were signed, he stated that Brantford was given equal rates with Hamilton.

He claimed, in closing that if he was wrong in his contention on this point then Hamilton was not entitled to Crow's Nest rates, because Hamilton was not on the C. P. R. in 1897.

Loeb and Leopold Bruised and Worn

Attorney Darrow Returns From Visit to Prison.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—"It was a hard thing to do, but I told the boys they were in the penitentiary forever and advised them to make the best of it," said Clarence Darrow, their attorney, who has just returned from a visit to Leopold and Loeb at Joliet.

"I would never have known either of them," he continued. "They have undergone a complete change physically and in their mental attitude toward life in general. They are paying the price. Even though they are buried behind stone walls for all time they still cherish a nope that some miracle will set them free. That hope is what keeps them alive. They are much thinner and their hands are cut and bruised from hard work. Leopold's brother took them a roast duck, and they fell upon it as if they were famished."

CONSERVATIVE'S VICTORY ASSURED IN BY-ELECTION

Canadian Press Despatch.

Vancouver, Sept. 25.—The election of A. Cochrane (Conservative) over Hon. Dr. K. C. Macdonald in the provincial by-election in North Okanagan was practically assured last night, when, with only a few polls to hear from, Mr. Cochrane led his opponent by 210 votes. The by-election was necessitated by Dr. Macdonald, sitting member, having been taken into the cabinet as provincial secretary.

The result of the by-election indicates that the government members in the legislature will be reduced from 25 to 24, from which a speaker will have to be named. There are 18 Conservative members, 3 Labor and 3 Provincial Party members.

Prairie dogs were exterminated from several counties. Relentless war also was carried on against gophers, jackrabbits and cottontails. Poison was found the most effective method.

LEAGUE FACING VITAL PROBLEMS

Must Decide Some of Most Important Questions on the Agenda.

Associated Press Despatch.

Geneva, Sept. 25.—The League of Nations assembly met again this morning to discuss various routine matters still on its agenda, with Austria's reconstruction, China's demand for restoration of her seat on the league council, and divers social and humanitarian questions playing the principal parts.

The assembly's disarmament commission, which sat late yesterday in an endeavor to iron out the sanctions clauses of the proposed protocol on arbitration and security is to meet again today. Minor amendments proposed by Denmark, Belgium and Norway will be disposed of, allowing resumption of the article-by-article discussion of the text.

The commission intends to push its work by means of a night session in an attempt to bring the session of the assembly to a close before the 1st of October. Judging from yesterday's progress, however, such a solution seems improbable.

The impression is growing in some league circles that the date set for convoking the world-wide disarmament conference, June 15, 1925, is premature, and that next autumn would be better.

One of the first acts of the assembly at its meeting this afternoon was the adoption of a resolution urging all of the governments to continue to give their support to the Armenian people who still are without a national home. A sum from the league terasury was allocated as a necleus for a fund of assistance.

NOTED WOMAN BANDIT MEETS HORRIBLE DEATH

Slicing Process Used Against "Old Mother" Djao, Slayer of Many.

Shanghai, Sept. 25.—"Old Mother" Djao, said to be the most notorious and bloodthirsty bandit the province of Shantung ever produced, has been executed at Ichowfu in Shantung, according to reports received in Shantung by mission organizations. These advices add that the dreaded feminine bandit underwent that most fearsome of Chinese death penalties, the ling-che, or in English, the slicing process.

Forty-seven years old and an expert horsewoman, "Old Mother" Djao led a band of several hundred outlaws who terrorized a broad area. It is related of her that last summer she planned an attack against Ichowfu after calling to her aid two added groups of bandits. They had assembled at a place near the village of Balihsiang when a home guard of villagers, known as the "Big Knife Society," apprised of their purpose, attacked them and suffered utter defeat.

The villagers were driven back into Balihsiang and the bandits followed them. Then the gates of the village were closed and every man was shot down. Sixty women and children then were lined up, and "Old Mother" Djao was asked what to do with them. Her orders to kill them all were carried out, with the result that every man, woman and child who was within the walls after the gates had been closed was slain. Even the cattle and dogs of the village suffered the same fate.

Ling-che is simply vivisection done by experts in such a manner that the victim survives in a conscious state through hours of a terrible ordeal.

FLOWER BEDS ESCAPE FROST.

The flower bed in the various city parks have thus far survived the danger of frost for the last two or three nights. Such is the report of the parks superintendent to the public utilities commission office. If good weather continues there will be a splendid display of bloom for some time yet, it is said.

Mountaineers Die In Landslide

Associated Press Despatch.

Berne, Switzerland, Sept. 25.—A landslide yesterday obliterated a large part of the mountain village of Someo, in the Tessin Canton, crushing twelve houses into ruins and partially burying them. The destruction was increased by a wild mountain stream, which overflowed because of the landslide and inundated part of the village. A number of inhabitants were killed or swept away. Thus far three bodies have been found.

BRITAIN GAINS AND U. S. LOSES, CLAIM

American Deck Officers Move in Courts To Have Liquor Confiscated.

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Sept. 25.—In an attempt to test the constitutionality of a recent treaty with Great Britain permitting her ships to bring liquor into United States ports, the Neptune association, an organization of American deck officers, yesterday sought injunctions restraining the Cunard Steamship Company, Limited, and the masters of seven of its vessels from bringing liquor within the jurisdiction of the United States.

The suit, which was filed in the United States district court, asks the court to compel Attorney-General Stone, Wm. Hayward, United States Attorney D. H. Blair, commissioner of internal revenue, and Charles W. Anderson, collector of internal revenue, to seize all liquor brought into this port by British ships, regardless of the treaty, which is described as a violation of the 18th amendment and the national prohibition act.

Capt. John F. Milliken, secretary of the Neptune association, and a participant in the suit, charged in the affidavit that the treaty has caused hundreds of passengers to travel on the British ships instead of those of United States registry, with a resulting loss of thousands of dollars to operators of American ships.

Bandits Loot Polish Train

Passengers Cowed After One Killed and Two Wounded.

Associated Press Despatch.

Warsaw, Sept. 25.—Forty armed bandits, with several machine guns, yesterday held up a train between Brest and Luniniec, Eastern Poland. They cowed the passengers after killing one and wounding two, then blew up a bridge behind the train and started the crewless engine toward Luniniec, where it stopped, out of steam.

The gang looted the baggage and robbed all the passengers, including M. Downarowicz, chief executive of the Brest district, giving them "receipts" in the name of the revolutionary committee of Ukrainians and White Russians. The robbers escaped, but M. Downarowicz walked to Luniniec and organized pursuit by the garrisons of nearby towns.

ROY CUNNINGHAM NAMED CHAIRMAN

London Rotarians Make Extensive Plans For District Meeting Here.

700 ARE EXPECTED

At a meeting of the executive of the Rotary Club last night, Rotarian Roy Cunningham was appointed general conference chairman to have complete charge of the arrangements to be made for the conference of the 18th International District of Rotary, which meets in London next March.

London is fortunate in having secured the meeting of the conference, in the opinion of Dr. A. J. Grant, president of the local club. "It means a big thing for the Rotary Club here, and it means a big thing for the City of London," declared Dr. Grant.

The 18th district includes the Detroit club and the clubs throughout the State of Michigan, together with three Canadian clubs situated in London, Chatham and Windsor. There will be fully 700 delegates in attendance at the conference, about 200 of whom will be ladies.

Some unique plans are being made for the entertainment of the visitors on an extravagant scale. The list of committees will be completed within the next few days. The program of the conference will embrace a number of addresses by speakers of international fame. Grover C. Good of Grond Rapids, Mich., district governor, will preside at the business sessions of the conference.

Last year the conference was held at Grand Rapids, and the year previous at Flint. This is the first occasion that the 18th district has chosen a Canadian city as its meeting place, and accordingly the City of London is highly honored.

BAD LIQUOR'S SOURCE SOUGHT IN FATALITY

Inquest Into Sudden Death of W. C. Hiscott To Be Held Friday Night.

The inquest into the sudden death of William C. Hiscott, who was poisoned through some form of impure liquor, which has been called by Coroner Dr. Robert Ferguson for Friday night, will be held in an effort to ascertain the source from which Mr. Hiscott had procured the poisonous alcohol.

Mr. Hiscott died suddenly on Monday from what was first thought to be an acute attack of pneumonia. He had complained of feeling ill while at work at the local postoffice on Saturday. According to physicians, methylated spirits or wood alcohol poisoning was the direct cause of death.

It is believed that Mr. Hiscott drank some wood alcohol in mistake for the pure ethyl alcohol and it is thought the poisonous liquor had been sold to him by a local bootlegger.

Mr. Hiscott had procured an eight-ounce bottle of alcohol several days before his death, intending to mix it with wine. On Friday evening he drank the contents, not realizing it was poisonous liquor.

Yesterday afternoon the coroner's jury impanelled by Dr. Robert Ferguson viewed the remains and adjourned to meet at the police station on Friday night.

How Jeanne Gordon at Nine Made Her First Record In Wallaceburg School

J. W. Plewes of This City Recalls Child Voice of the Famous Prima Donna.

WAS HER TEACHER

Distinguished Metropolitan Star Was Musical Marvel at an Early Age.

It is afternoon in Wallaceburg 20 years ago. The little schoolhouse is agog with excitement. The phonograph man is there and the children are actually listening to voices coming out of a funny machine with a long black horn—the early efforts of the Victor people to reproduce the human voice.

Among the rest of the children is a small girl of 9 years. She looks very much like any other little girl of the same age. Yet she is the unanimous choice of the boys and girls when the phonograph man asks for someone to sing into the machine and make a record.

Who would think of anyone but Ruby Gordon? For is not Ruby Gordon famous throughout the town for her marvellous voice, although people never dream that one day she will become a prima donna and hold a world breathless as she sings.

Her First Record.

Now you have guessed who the little girl is. And you are right. She is no other than the famous Jeanne Gordon of the Metropolitan Opera Company, who has brought New York to her feet and who will sing in the Grand Opera House here on Oct. 2.

Today she is making records for the Victor Company as one of the great stars of the operatic stage. Perhaps even she herself has forgotten making that first record so long ago, and perhaps the Victor people are unaware that such a record ever existed.

But her teacher in the old Wallaceburg schoolhouse has not forgotten. He has long since left both town and schoolhouse to sit in the London office of the federal taxation bureau in the interests of the Dominion Government. But he remembers little Ruby Gordon, one of his brightest pupils, and the song she sang that day into the Victor machine—"O Maimie Reilley, I Love You."

"It took quite a bit of coaxing to get her to sing, for she was a modest little girl," says J. W. Plewes, in recalling the scene, for he is the teacher who remembers.

Child's Golden Voice.

Finally, however, the little child with the golden voice stood forth from the rest of the children. He can see her yet, dark curls framing a rather serious little face whimsically dusted with freckles. The little head goes up, and Ruby Gordon sings clearly and beautifully into the machine. And is just as astounded as the rest of the children when her own voice comes floating back to her from the depths of the long, black horn.

A daughter of D. A. Gordon, M.P., the little girl with the marvellous voice had every opportunity to cultivate it. There was a grand piano in her home to play upon and a mother intensely interested in music to give inspiration just where it was needed.

There was a whole army of brothers to lead her into healthy outdoor games. And although she may have earned the name of "a regular little tomboy" by close imitation of her brothers at play, people little thought that by this nature was using her own method to build up a physique necessary to the strenuous life of a prima donna.

RUBY GORDON GROWN UP.
The distinguished prima donna, who will sing in London on Oct. 2, under the auspices of the Women's Music Club, made her first Victor record, as a child, in the Wallaceburg school.

From her own home, which was a center of musical activity in the community, Ruby Gordon went to Havergal College and on to study for the operatic stage.

Now she comes back again to her own district, Jeanne Gordon, the famous artist, whose singing moves the world to laughter or to tears.

Paris, Sept. 25.—Flesh tinted gloves, of practically shoulder length, are rapidly coming into vogue with evening frocks. These gloves are almost impossible to clean, and the first wearing usually means the last.

BLACK CHIFFON LINGERIE.

Paris, Sept. 25.—Lingerie of black chiffon ornamented with small geometric motifs of real butterfly wings is too expensive—and too fragile—for most women. A set of this sort has, however, been created for a noted stage beauty, and bids fair to be widely imitated, not, however, with real butterfly wing motifs.

Among the functions which will feature the official opening of the University of Western Ontario next month will be the luncheon for the governors, senators and guests of the university on Oct. 16 followed by an official viewing of the buildings. On Friday, Oct. 17, an alumni dinner and reception will be held in Convocation Hall.

The Very Rev. Dean Carlisle, at one time curate at Cronyn Memorial Church, now Dean of Montreal diocese, is in the city for the General Synod and is a guest with Mrs. Becher, St. George street. Dean Carlisle will preach at the harvest festival service in St. James' Church, London South, Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Hundreds of guests attended the reception given this afternoon by Bishop David Williams and Mrs. Williams at "Bishopstowe" in honor of the members of the general synod and their hostesses and the Anglican clergy of the city and their wives. The host and hostess were assisted in receiving by Rev. S. P. Matheson, primate of Canada, and at the tea hour Mrs. Frank Anderson and Mrs. J. S Niven presided over the tea cups.

A successful towel shower was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Tom Wilkey, Ontario street, in aid of the Old Tyme Faire, being held later in the fall at Centennial Methodist Church. The rooms were effectively decorated with quantities of gladioli and dahlias, and at the tea hour the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Alfred Arthur, Mrs. A. E. Sherlock and Miss Eva Lancaster. During the afternoon solos by Miss Muriel Lancaster and piano selections by Miss Doris Watts were greatly enjoyed.

A surprise shower was held recently at the home of Mrs. Frank Ram, Rectory street, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. L. Rankin, formerly Miss Mary Cambridge, a bride of last month. The many attractive gifts were presented to guests of honor in a cleverly-made miniature bungalow. Music and games were enjoyed during the remainder of the evening. The guests included: Misses Muriel Ridley, Marjorie Alford, Stella Cake, Ruby Parker, Mae Balsom, Vivie Cake, Annie Sherdin, Grace Ram, Vera Sutter and Miss Sykes, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gray, Mrs. Dan Armstrong, Mrs. John Basbinder, Mrs. W. In the Greenwich Village chorus will be seen Marian Beattie, Doris Thorne, A. Hendry, Eleanor Tull, Annabelle Byrne, Norine Taubbling, Miriam Blackburn, Mary Hopper, Maybelle Purdom and Arlie Denny. The Cinderella Ballet, in which a number of children will give the famous fairy tale in pantomime, is another attractive chorus and includes Ruth Wigmore, Doris Scott, Lucy Downham, Pat Manuel, Dorothy McConnell, Rose Wigmore, Eleanor Jenkins, Barbara Fraser, Helen Shuttleworth, Marjorie McMahan, Paula Tillman, Mary Boucher, Frances White, Pat Grant, Katharine Dickinson, Lolita Daly, Betty Grant, Shirley Fraser.

A smart post-nuptial reception was held this afternoon, when Mrs. Albert H. Murphy received for the first time since her marriage at her home in Huron street. The living-room was tastefully decorated with mauve mums, purple asters and palms, making a pretty setting for the young bride, who was assisted in receiving by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Louis A. Mills, of New York City, wearing a gown of beaded pink georgette, and Mrs. T. J. Murphy gowned in gray brocaded silk with a black hat. The hostess wore a rich gown of mauve chiffon over satin charmeuse, trimmed with duchess lace. The scores of guests who called during the afternoon were ushered to the tearoom by Mrs. Louis Pocock, wearing a black Spanish shawl gown, embroidered in red and gold, and a black velvet hat, and Miss Leona Murphy, wearing an Oriental gown in orange shades, with a black hat. The tearoom was artistically done in burnt orange and silver with Japanese poppies effectively arranged. The tea table, covered with a cluny cloth, was centered with a large silver basket filled with Sunburst roses, and the corners were marked with tall candles held in silver sticks, to which streamers of burnt orange maline, which fell from the chandelier, were fastened. Tea was poured out by Mrs. Edwin Paul, Mrs. Sherwood Fox, Mrs. Philip Pocock, Jun., and Mrs. Forristal. The assistants in the tearoom were Miss Katharine Beltz, wearing a black frock with jade trimmings and a black hat; Miss Bernadette Murphy, gowned in pale blue silk combined with silver cloth; Miss Lillian Johnson, wearing a smart gown of brown georgette, with a hat to match and a corsage of Sunset roses, and Miss Lorna MacGillivray, gowned in navy blue crepe beaded in silver, with a large black hat.

WOMEN TEACHERS TURN ACROBATS

Sneak Down Ladder To Get Out of Technical School When Locked in by Janitor.

Ten fair pedagogues are bewailing someone for making such a "mess" of the technical school.

Their idea of a "mess" is a building approached by at least 'steen steps, and no chance to get out of it unless by the doors.

The Jacob's ladder approach means windows as high as the sky, and a drop which could send you to kingdom come.

Their grouch is but a recent one. The technical school was a marvel of architectural skill until Tuesday.

On that day the janitor forgot all about them and walked off with everything that smelled like a key.

Unfortunately, they were not teachers of the technical school. They did not know all the secret underground passages built for just such an emergency.

They were merely guests of the technical school for an hour or so and were up against it.

Even the joy of pulling each others hair at the meeting just over faded at the ghastly prospect before them—a long, dark night, alone with the dictionaries and buzz saws.

Frantic and not knowing what to do they scoured the building for a means of escape. Not a crack of a door could they find open.

At last, in the very bowels of the earth, oh, joy of joys, they discovered a ladder, hoisted it through a window and down to the street.

But no sooner did the first dainty ankle venture out than shouts of laughter arose from below.

A crowd of small boys had collected and the teachers were literally "stumped."

But hunger got the better of discretion at last and the venturesome ankle proceeded on its way, amid howls of merriment from below.

Four others of the party bravely followed.

There the circus act ceased. Starvation failed to daunt the noble five, who refused to face such undignified exposure.

What to do?

At last ingenuity became active before dire extremity. There were such things as telephones. And the principal's wife hurried to the scene of the tragedy bearing a key.

The teacher acrobats are:

Bowser Is Filled With Shame When He Finds Unc' Possum Has Escaped

"Bow-wow-wow-ow-ow!" roared the great voice of Bowser the Hound, as his wonderful nose was filled with the fresh, strong scent of Reddy Fox beside the barn. This was the kind of a trail it was a joy to follow. He knew that Reddy was only a little way ahead of him. This was a trail that could be followed at his best speed.

Down along the side of the barn Bowser raced, baying as only he can bay. Around the corner, across the cow yard back of the barn, around the next corner and up along the other side of the barn the trail of Reddy Fox led Bowser. Then out straight across the barnyard toward where Bowser had left Unc' Billy Possum the trail led.

Now, Farmer Brown's Boy had been very busy in the barn fixing a pen in which to keep Unc' Billy Possum. He was working by lantern light. At the first roar of Bowser's great voice he gave a start of surprise. For a moment he listening. Then he dropped his tools and ran for the barn door. He got there just in time to see Reddy Fox running across the barnyard toward where Bowser had been left watching Unc' Billy Possum.

In that first, quick glance he saw that Unc' Billy wasn't there. He discovered it at the same instant that Reddy Fox discovered it. It is a question which was the more surprised—Farmer Brown's Boy at seeing Reddy Fox there in the barnyard, or Reddy Fox at the discovery that Unc' Billy Possum was no longer stretched out there. It was hard for Reddy to believe his eyes. But he had no time to try to find out what had become of Unc' Billy Possum. Bowser the Hound was already turning the corner of the barn. Reddy sped away into the Black Shadows.

With a shout Farmer Brown's Boy ran to head Bowser off. He didn't want Bowser chasing Reddy Fox all night. He caught Bowser at the very place where Unc' Billy Possum had been left. He spoke sharply to Bowser. Bowser put his tail between his legs and crawled to his master's feet. He whined. He was trembling all over with excitement and eagerness to keep on after Reddy Fox. But he obeyed his master.

"Well, sir, what do you mean by this?" demanded Farmer Brown's Boy sternly. "What has become of that Possum I told you to watch?"

It wasn't until that very instant that Bowser remembered Unc' Billy Possum. He looked around, expecting to see him lying there. Such a funny look as there was on Bowser's face when he discovered that no Possum was in sight. How could a dead Possum get away? It hadn't been over three minutes since he had started after Reddy Fox. Yet that Possum had disappeared. It must be that Reddy Fox had picked him up and carried him away.

Bowser was filled with shame. You never have seen a dog more ashamed than was Bowser the Hound as he looked up in his master's face. He had been left to watch that Possum and now that Possum was gone.

THE SEA HAWK

By RAFAEL SABATINI.

When Sakr-el-Bahr learned the value of the capture, when he was informed that in addition to a hundred able-bodied men under the hatches, to be sold as slaves in the Rok-el-Abeed, there was a cargo of gold and silver, pearls, amber, spices and ivory and such lesser matters as gorgeous silken fabrics, rich beyond anything that had ever been seen upon the seas at any one time, he felt that the blood he had shed had not been wasted.

Let him sail safely into Algiers with these two ships, both captured in the name of Allah and his Prophet, one of them an argosy so richly fraught, a floating treasure house, and he need have little fear of what his enemies and the crafty, evil Sicilian woman might have wrought against him in his absence.

Then he made inquiry touching his two English captives, to be informed that Othmani had taken charge of them and that he had continued the treatment meted out to them by Sakr-el-Bahr himself when first they were brought aboard.

He was satisfied and fell into a gentle healing sleep, whilst on the decks above his followers rendered thanks to Allah the Pitying the Pitiful, the Master of the Day of Judgment, who Alone is All-Wise, All-Knowing.

CHAPTER XIII.

The Lion of the Faith.

Asad-ed-Din, the Lion of the Faith, Basha of Algiers, walked in the evening cool in the orchard of the Kasbah upon the heights above the city, and at his side, stepping daintily, came Fenzileh, his wife, the first lady of his harem, whom eighteen years ago he had carried off in his mighty arms from that little whitewashed village above the Straits of Messina which his followers had raided.

She had been a lissom maid of eighteen in those far-off days, the child of humble peasant folk, and she had gone uncomplaining to the arms of her swarthy ravisher. Today, at thirty-six, she was still beautiful, more beautiful indeed than when first she had fired the passion of Asad-Reis, as he then was, one of the captains of the famous Ali-Basha. There were streaks of red in her heavy black tresses, her skin was of a soft pearliness that seemed translucent, her eyes were large, of a golden brown, astream with somber fires, her lips were full and sinuous. She was tall and of a shape that in Europe would have been accounted perfect, which is to say that she was thought too slender for Oriental taste; she moved along beside her lord with a sinuous, languorous grace, gently stirring her fan of ostrich plumes. She was unveiled. Indeed, it was her immodest habit to go naked of face more often than was seemly, which is but the least of the many undesirable infidel ways which had survived her induction into the Faith of Islam—a necessary step before Asad, who was devout to the point of bigotry, would consent to make her his wife.

He had found her such a wife as it is certain he could never have procured at home; a woman who, not content to be his toy, the plaything of his idle hours, insinuated herself into affairs, demanded and obtained his confidences and exerted over him much the same influence as the wife of a European prince might exert over her consort. In the years during which he had lain under the spell of her ripening beauty he had accepted the situation willingly enough; later, when he would have curtailed her interferences, it was too late; she had taken a firm grip of the reins, and Asad was in no better case than many a European husband—an anomalous and outrageous condition this for a Basha of the Prophet's House.

It was also a dangerous one for Fenzileh, for should the burden of her at any time become too heavy for her lord there was a short and easy way by which he could be rid of it.

Dauntless was she now as she paced there in the cool of the orchard under the pink and white petals of the apricots, the flaming scarlet of pomegranate blossoms and through orange groves, where the golden fruit glowed amid foliage of somber green. She was at her eternal work of poisoning the mind of her lord against Sakh-el-Bahr, and in her maternal jealousy she braved the dangers of such an undertaking, fully aware of how dear to the heart of Asad-ed-Din was that absent renegade corsair. It was this very affection of the Basha's for his lieutenant that was the fomenter of her own hate of Sakh-el-Bahr, for it was an affection that transcended Asad's love for his own son and hers, and it led to the common rumor, that for Sakr-el-Bahr was reserved the high destiny of succeeding Asad in the Bashalik.

"I tell thee thou'rt abused by him, O source of my life."

"I hear thee," answered Asad sourly. "And were thine own hearing less infirm, woman, thou wouldst have heard me answer thee that thy words weigh for naught with me against his deeds. Words may be but a mask upon our thoughts; deeds are ever the expression of them. Bear thou that in mind, O Fenzileh."

"Do I not bear in mind thine every word, O fount of wisdom?" she protested, and left him, as she often did, in doubt whether she fawned or sneered. "And it is his deeds I would have speak for him, not indeed my poor words and still less his own."

"Then, by the head of Allah, let those same deeds speak, and be thou silent."

The harsh tone of his reproof and the scowl upon his haughty face, gave her pause for a moment. He turned about.

"Come!" he said. "Soon it will be the hour of prayer."

And he paced back toward the yellow huddle of walls of the Kasbah that overtopped the green of that fragrant place.

He was a tall, gaunt man, stooping slightly at the shoulders under the burden of his years; but his eagle face was masterful, and some lingering embers of his youth still glowed in his dark eyes. Thoughtfully, with a jeweled hand, he stroked his long white beard; with the other he leaned upon her soft plump arm, more from habit than for support, for he was full vigorous still.

High in the blue overhead a lark burst suddenly into song, and from the depths of the orchard came a gentle murmur of doves as if returning thanks for the lessening of the great heat now that the sun was sinking rapidly toward the world's edge and the shadows were lengthening.

Came Fenzileh's voice again, more musical than either, yet laden with words of evil, poison wrapped in honey.

"O my dear lord, thou'rt angered with me now. Woe me! That never may I counsel thee for thine own glory as my heart prompts me, but I must earn thy coldness."

"Abuse not him I love," said the Basha shortly. "I have told thee so full oft already."

She nestled closer to him, and her voice grew softer, more akin to the amorous cooing of the doves.

"And do I not love thee, O master of my soul? Is there in all the world a heart more faithful to thee than mine? Is not thy life my life? Have not my days been all devoted to the perfecting of thine happiness? And wilt thou then frown upon me if I fear for thee at the hands of an intruder of yesterday?"

"Fear for me?" he echoed, and laughed jeeringly. "What shouldst thou fear for me from Sakr-el-Bahr?"

"What all Believers must ever fear from one who is no true Moslem, from one who makes a mock and travesty of the True Faith that he may gain advancement."

The Basha checked in his stride, and turned upon her angrily.

"May thy tongue rot, thou mother of lies!"

"I am as the dust beneath thy feet, O my sweet lord, yet am I not what thine heedless anger calls me."

"Heedless?" quoth he. "Not heedless but righteous to hear one whom the prophet guards, who is the very Javelin of Islam against the breast of the unbeliever, who carries the scourge of Allah against the infidel Frankish pigs, so maligned by thee! No more, I say! Lest I bid thee make good thy words, and pay the liar's price if thous shouldst fail."

"And should I fear the test?" she countered, nothing daunted. "I tell thee, O father of Marzak, that I should hail it gladly. Why, hear me now. Thou settest store by deeds, not words. Tell me, then, is it the deed of a True-Believer to waste substance upon infidel slaves, to purchase them that he may set them free?"

THOUSANDS CROWD WOODSTOCK FAIR

Half Holiday Permits Many To View Interesting Exhibits.

Special to The Advertiser.

Woodstock, Sept. 24.—Today was citizens' day at the Woodstock Fair, and as a result the townsfolk, eager to see Oxford County's largest fair, formed the majority of the thousands attending. The weather was clear and bright for the weekly half-holiday in the city.

The flower show in the main building, proved a great attraction. A. W. Smith of Beachville, who acted as judge, awarded the majority of the prizes to Mrs. George Charlish, W. J. Fletcher, Fred Fairs, M. Smith and William Jerry.

The poultry exhibit, which consisted of nearly 700 entries, compared favorably with former years. A. E. Fieldmarsh of Beamsville acted as judge in the main classes, while William Jerry of this city judged the pigeons and pet stock. The following exhibitors received the principal prizes: Alex. Cadogan, F. Fleming, Victor R. Harrison, Geo. H. Llewellyn, William Holden, George Cawardand Earl Beardsall, all of Woodstock. Tayor and McKinney of Aylmer, who had 136 entries, received high prizes on every exhibit.

The judging of the many entries in the cooking department was done by Miss L. G. K. White of the Woodstock Collegiate Institute. The chief winners wwere Mrs. A. P. Gray, Mrs. W. Cheasley, Mrs. W. Maloney and Mrs. W. J. Bates.

In the grain competition, which was well contested, the majority of the awards went to H. E. Hilliker, R. Hulsley and G. H. Green. G. H. Green and Ray Robinson captured most of the prizes in the field roots class.

Excellent Exhibit.

Donald Burns, who had complete charge of the judging of fruit and vegetables, declared that the display this year is unusually good. Practically all of the prizes for potatoes and garden produce were captured by A. E. Ward, Mrs. H. Hayes, Ray Robinson, John Hazen, Mrs. C. Carter, Mrs. E. Jakeman and W. T. Coole.

Prizes in the fruit department, which includes all varieties of grapes and pears, went to D. Crawford, MacDowell, Charles Hodges, G. H. Green, H. E. Hilliker, W. E. Coole and E. Nettleton.

Percy Johnston of this city, who judged the cheese, awards the most prizes to C. H. Harris and B. A. Holland. The best prints of butter were made by J. Lawrence and F. Callan.

The fine arts exhibit compelled much attention being in many respects superior to that of previous years. For portrait painting, Mrs. A. McDonald, Miss Jessie M. Scott and Percy Carter were given nearly all the prizes. In the water color work, the prizes were swept by Mrs. H. Hyman, Mrs. W. J. Bates, E. Oakley and Miss Jessie M. Scott. Miss Pearl Dent of this city won almost all the prizes for china painting.

Features of today's fair was the dairy test, performance in front of the grandstand by a party of jugglers, and an excellent minstrel show by the Y Beaver minstrels.

Thursday's program is varied, consisting of livestock judging, a grandstand performance, trotting and running races, vaudeville, a grand display of fireworks, and a presentation of the Y Beaver minstrel show will bring the day to an enjoyable conclusion.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

Does a Man With a Mean Disposition Ever Make a Good Husband? Can a Husband Overdo His Attentiveness After Fifteen Years of Happiness? Shall She Marry Widower Whose Family Objects?

My Dear Miss Dix—What do you think of the advisability of a girl marrying a man who has a mean disposition? He has a violent temper and surly nature. Worst of all, he seems to like to wound people's feelings, particularly the girls, and he takes a cruel revenge for even the slightest thing that any one does to him, or he thinks they do, to anger him. He admits his fault, but says that he cannot help it. It is just his nature. The girl has tried to help him in vain. She herself is always sunny, and of a particularly even disposition. He is young, and the girl realizes that he might have worse faults. Still she believes that a good disposition in wedded life is an important factor toward insuring its success, since it can turn mountains into mole hills by mere laughter. What do you think? JOY.

Answer:

The very worst fault that a husband can possibly have, bar none, is to have a mean disposition. Personally, if I had to choose between a rounder, a drunkard, a shiftless ne'er-do-well, and a man who was a model of all the virtues, but who had a mean disposition, I would take the philanderer, or the sot, or the loafer, every time in preference.

For a man cannot always be chasing petticoats, nor inebriated. The most constitutionally tired man can sometimes be made to do a bit of work, and they all have times and seasons when they are pleasant and agreeable. But a mean disposition is with you every day and hour. You can never get away from it. It is like a thorn in the flesh, a pebble in the shoe, that goads you to madness.

Furthermore, a man's sin is often just his weakness, and along with his faults he often possesses noble and lovable qualities. But a mean disposition comes from a mean heart. It is born of selfishness, of arrogance, of cruelty, of jealousy and spite, of every evil thing.

The man who grouches around his home and sits up in a sullen silence for days at a time, or who flies into a rage about everything that doesn't please him, and whose family walk on tiptoe for fear of offending his augustness, and who live in dread of doing or saying something that will precipitate a scene, is a grinding tyrant who could have given points to Nero and beaten him at the game.

The man who says cruel things that stab his wife to the heart has the spirit of the wife-beater, and the only reason that he doesn't give her a black eye instead of a bruised soul is because one shows and the other doesn't.

He delights in tormenting her. He enjoys seeing her suffer, but he is too big a coward to come out and strike her openly. He resorts to sneaky, underhanded methods of indulging his lust of cruelty.

No man or woman with a mean disposition can make a happy home no matter what other good qualities they have, so my earnest advice to all contemplating matrimony is to look out for the disposition first. Marry a man or a woman with a sweet, generous, cheerful, kindly nature, and the balance will take care of itself. It is the disposition with which we have to live. DOROTHY DIX.

* * * *

Dear Dorothy Dix—I have been married about fifteen years, and my wife loves eating out of my hand, and I love eating out of hers. She wants my company all the time, and I feel lost without her. I never miss a chance to express appreciation of everything she does around the home, even if it is to notice that the floor is scrubbed, because I know she is looking for it and will be disappointed if I overlook it. Now this all sounds very nice—and it is nice, but it has its drawbacks, for I have to be very careful of every move I make for fear of hurting a little, doting wife's feelings. She expects attentions from me that nineteen out of twenty wives don't expect from their husbands. What I would like to know is—is it possible to overdo this attentiveness on either side? MARRIED LOVERS.

Answer:

Perhaps it is. It is very easy for us to get spoiled and to demand overmuch of those who give to us generously. Certainly our appetite for flattery, for endearments, for appreciation from those we love grows upon what it feeds upon, and we can never get enough of it.

Without doubt, the woman who has a husband who keeps up all the little loverlike attentions that he bestowed upon her before marriage would miss them and be hurt by the lack of them if he should suddenly cease to be loverlike more than would the woman whose husband just took her for granted, and treated her in a cold and indifferent manner. Just so the person who has once been rich and used to luxury finds it harder to bear poverty than the one who has never known anything else.

It is easy to see how, in the stress of living, a man might sometimes find it burdensome to measure up to the high standard of the perfect husband that he has set, and how he sometimes wishes he could revert to the primitive and run roughshod over the place without regard to his wife's sensibilities. There are times when we get surfeited on love, and the finer sentiments, and feel like crying out like Solomon, "Feed me on apples. Stay me with flagons, for I am SICK of love."

But we have to pay a price for all we get, and surely a perfect companionship, a perfect love, and the knowledge that you have made a woman extremely happy is worth the trouble of the little appreciation, the little compliments, the daily dozen of little kindnesses. DOROTHY DIX.

* * * *

Dear Miss Dix—I am a young widow and am in love with a widower who has asked me to marry him. He has two lovely little boys, and as I have no children and love children, I am sure I could make them all a happy home. But his people do not want him to marry again and refuse even to speak to me. Do you think that they would make trouble and come between us afterward? M. M. M.

Answer:

A widower is old enough to know his own mind, and pick out his own wife, so go along and marry him and make him happy, and his family will come around after a while. And even if they don't you should worry. A woman has little wit and subtlety if she cannot hold her husband against his relatives. DOROTHY DIX.

THORNTON SCORES U. S. POLITICIANS

C. N. Head Resents Railway Being Drawn Into Election.

STATEMENT JUSTIFIED

Canadian Press Despatch.

Montreal, Sept. 25.—In an address delivered to the Chicago terminal committee, who were the guests of the Canadian National Railways at luncheon here yesterday, Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, took occasion to voice his regrets that the C. N. R. should have been introduced as a factor in the dispute between the major political parties in the federal election campaign in the United States.

After pointing out that the problem of success on the C. N. R. is almost entirely a problem of first increasing the population of the country to a strength sufficient to support the system, Sir Henry showed that this does not mean that the same problem faces the railways in the United States, and that, therefore, the success or failure of the railway could not be used either as an argument for or against the nationalization of the United States roads.

"I feel justified in making this statement," he said, "as there seems to be a tendency to draw the Canadian National Railways into the United States politics.

"Mr. La Follette is holding up the Canadian National Railways as an example of the blessings of state ownership. Others are holding it up as a horrible example of the vices of state ownership.

"I rather deprecate that situation, and I would be obliged if they would let me look after my own troubles and mind my own business."

Sir Henry went on to point out reasons why the state ownership of railways had taken place in various countries.

Canada was forced into public ownership through a series of incidents which threatened various railways with bankruptcy, and their abandonment, which would have worked a serious hardship upon the people of the country.

These facts, he contended, proved that the problem of state ownership of railways succeeds or fails, does not necessarily mean that the experiment in another country will succeed or fail.

Sir Henry stated, however, that the state ownership of railways in Canada had proved one thing. "We feel," he said, "that in Canada we have demonstrated conclusively that the officers and employees of a government-owned railway can be just as efficient, just as loyal, and just as enthusiastic as those of privately-owned railways, and the assertion that those who work for a state-owned railway become careless and inefficient is wrong. It depends entirely on how the railway is administered."

HELPING FRIEND BRINGS ABUSIVE ONE $10 FINE

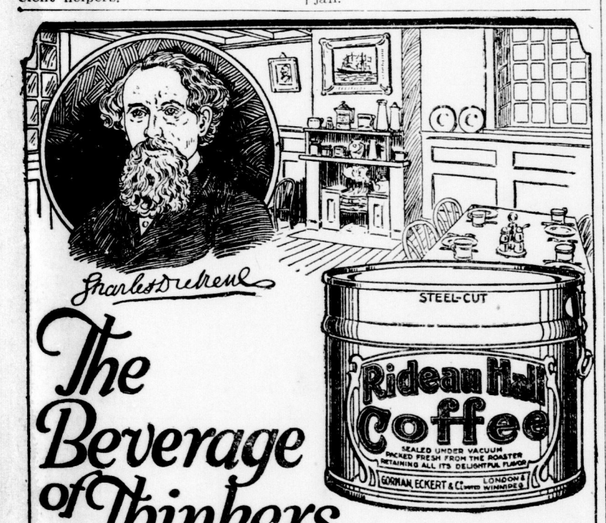

Wanted To Take Care of His Drunken Chum For Officer.

Although his pal had been arrested by a policeman on a charge of being drunk, William Johnston thought he could handle his friend even better than the constable. He first used persuasive measures in an effort to have his chum released, but when familiarity with the policeman failed, he became abusive.

Johnston's friendship cost him a ride in the patrol wagon and $10 and costs when he appeared before Magistrate Graydon in police court this morning. He was charged with acting in a disorderly manner by using profane language to a policeman.

The affair occurred early last Monday morning. According to Johnston's story in court today, he approached the policeman in an effort to have his friend released that he might go home. He declared that "the cop pulled his baton" and threatened to strike him.

"What business is it of yours to interfere with the duties of a policeman?" Magistrate Graydon asked the young man. "Your own story is that you approached the constable and you had no right in doing so. I will fine you $10 and costs or ten days in jail."

MILK VENDORS' CHARITY FOILS PROSECUTION

But Inspector Urges Two Muncey Women To Have Herd Tested.

Would two farm women, who gave their postoffice addresses as Muncey, drive 20 miles to London to peddle raw cream? That was the problem that faced Dr. C. S. Tamlin, inspector of dairies, the other day when a call from a zealous milkman sent him out on an investigation.

He found that the two women were ready to state their case. It was stated that they had driven 20 miles to London and been peddling cream without a license. Dr. Tamlin found that one of the women had given a local resident a quantity of cream gratis. The local woman was ill and needed cream but couldn't afford it. The inspector found it difficult to enter prosecution in the face of such charity.

"You must have your cows inspected if you want to peddle milk," the inspector told the women.

"But how about butter? We come and peddle butter from the same cows and there's no regulation against it. Why shouldn't butter be just the same as milk? That was the argument of one of the visitors.

However, before they went on their way, the farm women declared that they were going to get inspection for the dairy herds.

WANTS TO BE DEPORTED, BUT ADVISED TO GET JOB

A young, athletic-looking Englishman of 20 years walked into the office of Acting Relief Inspector R. H. Sanders this morning and asked to be deported. He declared his nerves were bothering him, he hadn't work, money or friends, and wanted to get back to England.

Mr. Sanders was unable to give him any assistance in his request as he is a British subject and couldn't very well be deported back to England. He advised him to get a job, even if it were for small wages, and try to adjust himself to conditions. If possible, the city will give assistance in getting work for the young immigrant.

PIRACY CHARGE PREFERRED AGAINST GERMAN-AMERICAN

French Court Claims Max Phaff Stole Whiskey Off the Canadian Coast.

LIVES IN NEW YORK

Refuses To Answer Questions on Alleged Deed Until Attorney Acts.

Associated Press Despatch.

Brest, France, Sept. 25.—The wheel of French maritime justice in the case of Max Jerome Phaff, German-American, charged with piracy on the high seas, in connection with looting the French steamship "Mulhouse" of 36,000 cases of whiskey off the Canadian coast last July, began revolving today. The defendant appeared before the investigating magistrate for questioning regarding his identity.

Phaff readily admitted that he was the man described in the warrant and gave his permanent address as 219 East 196th street, New York. He absolutely refused, however, to answer any questions concerning the alleged Mulhouse piracy until his attorney, P. G. Gibe, could be present.

The date of the first examination of Phaff on the formal charge of piracy wa sleft in abeyance until the court can communicate with the defendan's lawyer. It is expected that this examination will be set for next Tuesday. Today's proceedings were merely a matter of form provided by French justice. The penalty for piracy on the high seas under the French law is death by hanging.

FARMER PAYS BIG FINE FOR ILL-TREATING HORSE

Admits His Fault—States He Was Ignorant of the Law.

Working a horse with sore shoulders cost a Thorndale farmer a total of $30.95 when he appeared before Magistrate Hawkshaw this morning.

The farmer admitted working the horse when the animal had large sores on each shoulder, but stated that he didn't realize that he was doing any harm.

Inspector George Tustin of the Humane Society said that he had visited the farmer's home after receiving numerous complaints from neighbors.

Dr. Walters, Thorndale, said he had examined the horse and that it was not fit to be working.

"You look like a prosperous farmer and there is no reason for working a horse in that condition," said the magistrate in imposing a $10 fine with costs. "Mr. Tustin does not persecute people. He is acting in the interests of the Humane Society, which is doing a wonderful work in this county," declared the court.

"I have no fault to find with Mr. Tustin," returned the farmer. "I can see now where I have made a mistake."

CAUSE OF GIRL'S DEATH UNDECIDED BY JURY

Rider to Verdict States Belief Alberta Child Lacked Proper Care.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Edmonton, Sept. 25.—The coroner's jury was unable to state the cause of the sub-dural hemorrhage which resulted in the death of Hazel Stewart, 7-year-old ward of the department of neglected children, who died at the home of Mrs. Grace Rodgers on Sept. 14. The verdict, which was given last night, following a two-day inquest, had a rider attached expressing the opinion that the dead girl, her brother and sister also under the care of Mrs. Rodgers, did not receive the care, treatment and inspection necessary as the wards of the department.

At the time of her death, it was said the girl died from a hemorrhage caused by a fall from a woodpile. Inspectors of the department who had called at the Rodger home, gave evidence that conditions there seemed satisfactory though one who visited the home immediately after the death of the child, found the other two children to be bruised. Mrs. Rodgers had told him she had beaten them with a stick. Other witnesses, neighbors of Mrs. Rodgers, said the children were well-kept, and that Mrs. Rodgers had been a kind mother to them.

The children were taken from their father, W. J. Stewart, a widower, following an investigation which disclosed that they were in a filthy condition; the home neglected, and a 15-year-old daughter pregnant. Charles B. Hill, chief clerk of the department, testified to these conditions, and stated it was one of the worst cases he had ever investigated.

Yesterday the father complained at the inquest that he had not been notified of his daughter's death until four days afterward.

PERMIT FOR HOME.

MORE WHITE MEN ASKED IN MINES

Owners Should Readjust Stand South African Minister Declares.

Associated Press Despatch.

Pretoria, S. A., Sept. 25.—Pointed remarks with reference to the desirability of the employment of more white men in the mines in this country than are employed at the present time, were made by Tielman Roos, minister of justice for South Africa, in a speech at the nationalist congress here.

The minister of justice said the mines must do more than they had done in the way of employing whites. The Hertzog government had recently approached the mine owners on the question, he said, with the result that the mine owners intimated that they were not prepared to employ any more whites in the Rand [illegible] industry.

Mr. Roos said he expected the government's full support in the matter of seeing that more whites were given employment in the mines. The example of the mines should be followed, he added, in providing employment for whites.

The minister asked if the mine owners wanted a law laying down the ratio between black and white labor or whether it would be better for them to realize their responsibility if they desired to avoid this. The government must do its duty in preserving white civilization in South Africa.

A feature of the opening of the nationalist congress was an appeal from Premier J. B. Hertzog and Minister of Justice Roos for the reunion of the Dutch in South Africa.

MANY FINE EXHIBITS AT GLENCOE FAIR

School Children's Displays Make Very Creditable Showing.

Glencoe, Sept. 24.—The fall fair opened here today under the most favorable conditions, fine weather and many good exhibits. Everything points to a bigger and better fair than usual. Being the first day, there was no grandstand nor midway attractions. The interest centered wholly on the exhibits in the fair building and the school fair tent.

The exhibits in the fair building were remarkably fine in all branches. Banked in front of the main entrance was the floral display, featuring very exceptional asters and dahlias. Around the walls were exhibits of dairy products, domestic science, fruit, roots, vegetables, grains and seeds.

The principal exhibitors of dairy products were: Mrs. Jacob Anstruthers, Miss A. Walker, Miss L. Craig and Mrs. W. A. Hill. The exhibits of baking were principally from Mrs. W. A. Hill, Miss A. Walker, Mrs. D. Leitch and Mrs. T. Walker. William Gould, H. Harvey and W. Hailstone exhibited fruit. W. A. McCutcheon, H. McKellar and A. B. McDonald were the principal exhibitors of grains and seeds, and W. A. McCutcheon, William Gould and Walter Hailstone, of roots and vegetables.

On the second floor of the building was displayed domestic needlework, fancy work, art and woodwork. There were two very fine special displays, one capturing a prize offered by Dowlers, Limited, London, and the other a prize given by Mrs. W. M. Currie, Glencoe.

The chief exhibitors in domestic manufactures were: Miss M. Walker, Mrs. W. A. McCutcheon, Mrs. Campbell and Miss Sinclair. In ladies' fancy work, Mrs. McCutcheon, Miss Sinclair, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. McLean. In arts, Mrs. Farrell, Mrs. Reeves, Mrs. Campbell, Miss Sinclair.

The school fair was the spot where most interest centered. The walls of the tent above the tables for the exhibits, were banked with corn, oats and barley and hung with Halloween posters in the art section and shining crabapples. The display of flowers stretched the length of the tent, and was more extravagant than the display in the main building. Nothing was missing in the line of fruits and vegetables. The boys had turned out fine exhibits of carpentry and very creditable loaves of bread, and the girls neat sewing, tempting cooking and pretty displays of assorted fruit. This, with the examples of penmanship and essays and special displays, made a fair of which the school children were very proud, and which will create much interest tomorrow, the main day of the fair.

Westminster Polling Booth Will Be Methodist Church

When voters in Westminster Township hurry off to cast their votes on the plebiscite, October 23, a goodly portion in the vicinity of Glendale will mark their ballots in the North Street Methodist Church. Voters in Chelsea Green will hand their votes to the Rev. Mr. Cooper, a retired Methodist minister, who has bee nappointed polling officer for that division.

Deputy-Reeve Wm. Boler of Westminister Township, who is election clerk for the riding of East Middlesex stated that it was rather something out of the ordinary to cast dry an dwet votes in a church, but that the Chosen Friends Hall on North street had been sold and the church was the next best bet. Permission to use the edifice had been granted by the board of trustees, Mr. Boler said.

"There are 56 polling sub-divisions in the riding, including the annexed districts," said Mr. Boler. "There are no politics in this matter at all and polling clerks and returning officers have been appointed regardless of political affiliations.

"Liberals, Tories, and U. F. O. supporters, they are all the same to us in this affair. If a man is qualified, that's all we want to know.

"I might also say that a good many women have been apopinted as poll clerks. This is something new for East Middlesex and may well feature future elections."

STORMS RAVAGE SOUTHERN FRANCE

Engine Crashes Through Bridge Killing Two, and Many Towns Flooded.

Associated Press Despatch.

Paris, Sept. 25.—A storm of cyclonic velocity is ravaging Southeastern France, particularly the departments of Vaucluz, Bouches-du-Rhone and Gard. The ancient city of Orange has been particularly hard hit, a deluge of rain flooding the railway station, washing out the track and cutting the main railway from Paris to Marseilles, while on the other bank of the Rhone a mile of trackage was washed away.

A bridge collapsed during the passage of a locomotive. Two bodies were found in the debris, and it was feared others also perished. The railroad workers will require at least a day to restore communications. Meanwhile thousands of travellers are stalled. In view of the seriousness of the situation, Minister of Public Works Peytral has gone to the scene.

Telegraphic communication with Marseilles has been cut by the uprooting of poles, and the Paris postoffice yesterday chartered an aeroplane to deliver 2,000 belated telegrams.

The streets of the city of Nimes were converted into torrents, a number of buildings were struck and one man killed by lightning, which also struck buildings in Aix-en-Provence, causing outbreaks of fire.

The tempests continue, flooding the rivers in the whole region between Vallance and Toulon, stopping all work, notably vintaging, which is seriously threatened.

Communications have been cut in many places, and soldiers are being rushed to restore them.

Jimmy the Wop Sought For Murder

N. Y. Police Probe Murder of A. Weber, Butcher.

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Sept. 25.—A man known only as Jimmy the Wop is being sought by police today in connection with the fatal shooting in a Bronx poolroom early today of Albert Weber, a butcher, during an altercation over the repeated theft of a taxicab belonging to Weber's friend, "Red" Gerstle.

With the announced intention of putting a stop to the thefts, it is said, Weber, in the company of Gerstle, entered the poolroom and questioned persons there concerning the matter. When he undertook to question "Jimmy the Wop," the Italian warned Weber: "Don't you touch me!" When Weber, who, police say, was unarmed, followed the Italian, the latter pulled a pistol and shot Weber twice, it is said, killing him almost instantly.

A crowd of fifty persons who witnessed the shooting was held at bay by the gangster's weapon while he made his escape.

WEDDINGS

WEILER—DOSMAN.

Special to The Advertiser.

Mildmay, Sept. 24.—A very pretty wedding of social importance took place on Tuesday morning in the Sacred Heart Church, when Miss Melinda, youngest daughter of Mrs. M. Dosman, was united in marriage to Dr. E. J. Weiler.

The church was decorated with gladioli and palms. Rev. A. C. Montag was the celebrant at a solemn high mass, assisted by Rev. C. W. Brohman of Formosa as deacon and Rev. J. Hoffarth of Carlsruhe as subdeacon.

The bride, who was given away by her brother Harry, was gowned in French georgette with crystal bead trimming, wearing a pearl and crystal bandeau and maline veil. She carried a bouquet of tea roses, maidenhair fern and bedalia. Miss Bella Dosman, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. The groom's sister, Margaret Weiler, was flower girl, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and maidenhair fern. The groom's brother, Clarence Weiler, acted as best man.

During the signing of the register Alfred Weiler and Miss Marianne Schnurr sang a duet.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the bride's home. Toasts were given by Revs. Montag, Brohman and Hoffarth.

The groom's gift to the bride was a mink choker, to the bridesmaid a dinner ring, to the best man gold cufflinks, and to the flower girl a lavaliere.

Dr. and Mrs. Weiler left on Wednesday morning for a wedding trip to Toronto, Buffalo, New York, Washington, Atlantic City, Cleveland and Detroit. Upon their return they will reside at Mildmay.

RASPBERRIES EXCELLENT THOUGH FALL IS HERE

Although summer has passed and fall is with us, raspberries of excellent quality are being offered on the local market.

They are of the everbearing variety, and according to the farmers who offered them will continue to bear fruit until the frost comes. They were offered at 40 cents a box.

Strawberries also were in evidence last Saturday, and despite the fact that the season has been long over, were of a superb quality, and their taste was quite satisfactory. Thirty-five cents a box was the price asked for them, but before the day was over they were offered at 25 and 30 cents a box.

MAY CHANGE DATE.

There is a possibility of the show scheduled by the Bacon Hog Club of Middlesex for Parkhill on October 9, being changed to another date, R. A. Winn of the department of agriculture stated today, owing to the fact that the eachers' convention is being held on the same date.

MRS. KNOX SUFFERED FOR OVER THREE YEARS

St. John Lady Was Nervous and Had Severe Indigestion That Caused Intense Pain.

"It has been nearly two years since I took Tanlac, but I am more grateful to the medicine than ever, for I have felt just fine to this very day," declared Mrs. Lena Knox, 51 Hilliard St., St. John, N. B.

"For three years, indigestion and nervousness caused me such agony it beggars description. I was actually afraid to eat; at night I would lie awake nervous and sleepless for hours, and finally became so weak and thin I was almost a shadow.

"But Tanlac gave me a splendid appetite, calm nerves and a digestion that is simply perfect. I sleep the whole night through and have gained such weight, strength and energy that I always feel at my best."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

FIRST MAN IN FIFTY YEARS TO STAND TRIAL FOR PIRACY

American Held At Brest, France, Will Be Charged Under Ancient Law.

PENALTY DEATH

Alleged To Have Boarded Steamer, Taking 36,000 Cases of Liquor.

Associated Press Despatch.

Brest, France, Sept. 24.—Max Jerome Phaff, a German-American, who gave his address as 219 East 196th street, New York, when arrested in Paris, September 16, on a charge of piracy in the high seas, and who stands in the shadow of the gallows, if convicted before a maritime tribunal sitting, arrived in Brest today, and was lodged in the naval barracks jail.

The charge against Phaff grew out of the boarding of the French freight steamship Mulhouse off the Canadian coast last July by alleged pirates, who held up the crew at the points of pistols and robbed the cargo of nearly 36,000 cases of whiskey.

Phaff's preliminary hearing has been set for next Friday, but Attorney P. O. E. Gide of the Paris and London Bar Associations, acting for the defence, has requested a postponement until Tuesday, September 30, in order to have an opportunity of further studying his client's case before entering a plea of not guilty.

The French law of April 10, 1825, still governs the case of piracy on the high seas. The penalty for conviction is death by hanging. There has been no trial under this law since 1871, when a Greek privateer was tried at Toulon, convicted and executed.

The tribunal to try Phaff will be appointed by the admiral commanding the Brest region; it will be presided over by a naval officer with the rank of captain, who will be assisted by two lieutenants of the navy, one naval engineer and three judges attached to the local civil courts.

COL. OGILVIE APPOINTED.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE TROPHY PRESENTED TO PARIS CLASS

Special to The Advertiser.

Paris, Sept. 24.—The annual Alpha Young Men's Class banquet was held in the schoolroom of the Methodist Church Tuesday night. Ernest Edgington, teacher of the class, was chairman, and the following program was rendered after a sing-song, led by C. A. Veigel: Miss Alice Creen, soprano solo, Weston's nine-piece orchestra rendered two excellent numbers. The Orpheus Male Quartet, composed of Ernest Laughlin, E. V. Kinsey, Ernest Edgington and Archie Crichton, sang two numbers. The following team managers spoke briefly: William Innes, Pat Cavan and Charles Hickson.

Then J. P. McCammon, president of the town softball league, presented the Alpha softball team with the Harold cup, emblematic of the championship for 1924, and also presented the fourteen players with sterling silver medals on behalf of the league. William Johnston, vice-president of the league, also extended congratulations to the winners, Sydney Stickland, captain of the team, responded. William Barker also spoke briefly.

LIVE STOCK PROVES CHIEF ATTRACTION

Ingersoll Fair Is Favored by Ideal Weather—Program Is Closed.

Special to The Advertiser.

Ingersoll, Sept. 24.—The closing day of the annual exhibition of the Ingersoll, North and West Oxford Agricultural Society drew an attendance estimated at 5,000. The weather was all that could be desired, and the fair, while somewhat below expectations in attendance, was outstanding in merit of the exhibits in the livestock departments. There was a splendid representation in practically all the horse classes, and many of the horses have been winners at the largest shows this season. There was a fine showing of heavy draughts, several of them coming from the north, especially in the Lakeside and Thamesford sections.

There was a heavy entry list in the cattle departments, the barn being taxed to capacity. The judge of this department commented that many of the animals were of sufficient merit to be given a place in the big shows of the United States.

Prominent among the winners in the heavy draught class were the following:

Special for the best horse on halter, W. J. Henderson, Thamesford; best heavy draught team, W. J. Henderson, Thamesford; special best agricultural horse on halter, Alex Smith, Lakeside; special best agricultural team, Alex Smith, Lakeside; special best general purpose horse on halter, James Corleas, Springfield; special for cleanest team, any class, W. Kent, Embro.

In the light horse ring competition also was keen. The specials were won as follows: Best carriage horse on halter, W. Kent, Embro; best single turnout, owned and driven by a farmer, W. Kent, Embro; best lady driver, W. Clendenning, Woodstock; best roadster on halter, H. E. Hilliker, Burgessville; best pony ridden by boy or girl, Jack Williams, Ingersoll.

In the cattle department some of the principal winners were:

Best female Shorthorn, C. Cuthbert; best female Jersey, Albert Greenaway; best female Ayrshire, Frank Harris; best grade female, John Manzier; best herd of dairy cows, Donald Sutherland.

At 4:30 a parade of prizewinning animals was held in front of the grandstand. At the head of the parade was the Ingersoll Pipe Band. This proved to be one of the striking features of the day.

The baby show as usual was a big attraction, and there was a big entry list.

An Argument That Is Sound.

A correspondent who marks his letter "not for publication" advances the argument that under the Ontario Temperance Act liquor is being consumed in the homes to a greater extent than formerly, and for that reason he prefers voting for government control. The writer of the letter is not by any means a "wet" —he is quite sincere in what he states, but he has made one mistake, that of not looking far enough into the question.

The plea that government control will lessen or do away with the drinking of liquor in the homes of Ontario is not well grounded, and a little careful consideration will show that the cure is not in government control at all.

For the sake of argument, let us assume that Ontario has government control as the law of the province. There would be shops opened for the sale of liquor. Two citizens living in different parts of the city enter to make their purchases, which of course would be in sealed packages. They hand over their money and secure their supply of liquor. That constitutes the first step, placing the sealed packages in the hands of these citizens.

Next in order comes the question, what are they going to do with it? Perhaps a foolish question, but let it be answered. They are going to drink it, otherwise they would not have secured it.

Very well. Where are they going to drink it? The government store is not a public bar, of that we can be quite certain. There will not be rooms provided there where people can go and break the seals of their packages and consume the contents. The man who works in a store or a factory is not going to take his liquor there to drink, because such a thing would not be allowed. The man who owns a business is not going to take his supply to his office, nor are any of these people going to sit on park benches and do their drinking.

Where, then, are they going to take it, or if it were possible to have it delivered, what address would be given? There can be but one answer, and reasonable people will admit it is the correct one—the liquor will be taken home and consumed there. A little careful thought will show that there is no provision for it to be consumed elsewhere. In seasons of the year when driving is freely indulged in for purposes of pleasure it could be taken along in the car, and records already show that such is a very undesirable combination, because it is unsafe.

The idea of doing away with drinking by putting into effect a law that will put many times the amount of liquor available now into the homes of this province is not sound, neither is it reasonable. It will aggravate and multiply the situations that our correspondent wants to see remedied.

It is a point that has often been raised, and there can be no doubt of the sincerity of many of those who use the argument. They do not relish the idea of the homes being the places for drinking intoxicants, and they imagine that government control is the solution. It is not the solution at all, because it will move in exactly the opposite direction to which they hope. Drinking in the homes will be increased by a law that sells liquor to the people with the full knowledge that they will take it to their homes.

That Brantford Decision.

A case of special interest to newspapers, and of general interest to the public, has been concluded at Brantford. It came as an echo of the inquiry conducted into police court affairs in that city some time ago. The Star Weekly of Toronto published a series of articles, written by Hon. W. E. Raney, former attorney-general of Ontario, on law enforcement in Ontario, and in so doing quoted from the Gregory report on conditions in Brantford.

The gentleman who was police magistrate in Brantford at that time brought suit for damages, claiming that the article was libelous and injurious to him. The Star's defence, which was conducted without the calling of any witnesses, was that the Gregory report had the status of a court record; that it was the official record of a report to a government department, and, having been placed before the legislature, was part of the records of that body.

The judge decided that the publication of such material did not constitute a libel, and also that there had not been an attempt on the part of the Star to damage the character of the former magistrate. Had the finding been otherwise it would have created a peculiar situation in that newspapers might be held liable for publishing extracts from public documents dealing with public men or affairs.

It is interesting to note that this is the first occasion in the twenty years of the Star under present management that it has been called upon to appear in court to defend a libel action.

As Babson Sees Canada.

Roger W. Babson, accounted the most reliable statistician and business expert on the continent, is making a tour of Canada, and in his addresses uses a careful review of facts and figures to back up conclusions at which he arrives.

His opinion is that business conditions in Canada are on a better basis than in United States. In neither of these countries has the process of post-war price deflation been completed, but from a close study of conditions Mr. Babson believes that Canada is from 60 to 70 per cent through the tunnel, while United States is not more than half way through. From this reasoning, and Mr. Babson produced proof in full measure, Canada should reach an era of sound industrial prosperity before United States. Mr. Babson's statement is worth reprinting:

"Where readjustment was only 40 or 50 per cent completed a year ago, it is now 60 or 70 per cent completed in Canada. The situation today in Canada is fundamentally much better than in the States. I say that as a statistician, not as a publicity man, and my reasons are that in the States we had this temporary inflation of six months or a year, which suspended the period of readjustment. Now business has dropped off in the States; factories are working to 50 or 60 per cent capacity; the credit situation is very poor, and your workmen who went over the line a couple of years ago are very glad to come back here, because conditions at the moment are better in Canada than in the United States. I believe you will return to normal conditions and a period of prosperity sooner here in Canada than we will in the States."

Coming from such a recognized authority as Roger Babson, that statement carries weight. Added evidence comes from the trade returns from Ottawa for the last twelve months. They show exports increasing $58,917,908 over the previous year, and imports decreasing by $58,316,122. Canada is selling more than she is buying, a sign of a healthy national pulse. The signs in Canada point toward the top of the hill.

Well, She Had An Inventive Mind.

A few days ago this section of the province was thrown into a flutter by the story of a 16-year-old girl at Newbury. She told of standing on the street there in the evening and receiving a note from a friend of hers to come to the postoffice or station. On the way, according to her story, she was grabbed by a man, shoved into a waiting car and whisked off into the night.

The only thing wrong with the story was that it was not true. Under questioning by the officers it is alleged that the girl was attempting to cover up the fact that she had spent the night at a tourist camp, and it is also charged that she had stolen a couple of dresses and a set of false teeth.

Of course the proper thing would have been for the girl to have told the truth at once, but it must be admitted that she has a mind for fiction that should not be overlooked. The nimble way in which her mind put together a story with enough color and thrills to catch the eye of nearly every paper in the district shows signs of a talent that will stand development along right lines.

After being shoved into the car, her story was that she found two men in the front seat and a woman, a hard-boiled old hag, in the back. Driving furiously into the night, the car ran out of gas, and the men set out in search of fuel, leaving the girl in charge of the woman. Then came her one chance for freedom, and she fought like a tigress, biting, kicking, scratching, even pulling the false teeth (now said to have been stolen) from the old hag's mouth. Freedom came at last, but the peril increased as the two men villains were running down the road. She dashed for the woods and, having previously discarded her shoes, Indian-like, she climbed a tree while the horrible trio searched and cursed alternatively below. Fearing pursuit, this dreadful collection of individuals had to leave, while the heroine slid quietly from the tree to freedom, safety and fame.

The moving picture people are showing films based on stories that are flat as a pancake compar to the bristling episode related by the imaginary heroine of Newbury.

Note and Comment.

There is some chance of the Alberta coal strike being ended. It's to be hoped the miners have not forgotten where they left the pick.

Russian Reds now claim Wrangel Island, and there is no more sorrow about it than over the sale of a horse with spavins and broken in the wind.

Winnipeg must be growing. The Free Press of that city says a person who owns a corner lot there has to take it in at night lest there be a gas station on it in the morning.

Assessment appeal courts are becoming unpopular. One man in Windsor asked to have the pruning hook used on his figures, but instead the court resorted to the grafting method and stuck a new sprout on his levy.

St. Catharines, like London, shows an increase in population. After counting noses, the St. Fitt's officials found an increase of 669 during the past year. St. Catharines does well, and it should. It is a tidy, busy city in a fine district.

The drummer in a jazz band in Berlin was fired because he made too much noise. The complaint was that the jazzing instruments could not be heard. And this man was probably an artist who was using his drums as a dike to protect the public.

The Prince of Wales is to visit Ottawa in a few weeks, and already the people there are scampering about, wondering what costume to wear. The tailors and costumers are busy, and such a harvest for the cleaners and pressers and those skilled in the art of putting the extra two inches to make a two-button vest fit its now pudgy owner.

C. B. King has resigned as manager of the London Street Railway. In his dealings with the men employed on the road he has been fair and courteous, and he has done his best to extend the same treatment to patrons of the railway. It is a matter of some satisfaction that he is not leaving London. We need citizens of his type.

A MARRIED MAN'S SUGGESTION.

All the ladies of old England,
It is stated,
Claim the word "obey" should be Eliminated.
No more shall it be repeated,
(The discussion is quite heated)
But must always be deleted
When they're mated.

Now the vital question is:
Which word is fitted
For the place obey has per-
Manently quitted,
And so if it's not too late to
I advise, although I hate to,
That "love, honor and dictate to"
Be submitted.

A DRAMA IN SALESMANSHIP.

(Scene—Men's Furnishings Store)

Customer—I want a new shirt.

Clerk (looking over old one)—I don't blame you. What kind do you prefer?

Customer—A Rolls Rollicker, the shirt of the masses.

Clerk—We're just out of Rolls Rollickers, but we have something just as poor. The Duke of Dyspepsia is a beautiful shirt. Its lines are straight and snappy and it has speed. The 1925 models have 17 different improvements, including snubbers and two entrances. Ask the man that owns one.

Customer—No, I want a Rolls Rollicker.

Clerk—The Sussex Sixteen and the Essex Eleven are much superior to the Rolls Rollicker. We advise you strongly against the Rolls. The collar chokes and it is liable to burn out your bearings going up hill. The non-skid Earl of Buckingham is much better. Its front is guaranteed to blend with all kinds of soups, including tomato catsup.

Customer—Is that possible?

Clerk—No.

Customer—I thought not.

Clerk—The Earl gives most miles per foxtrot. The buttons are reinforced concrete, which even a laundry mechanic will find hard to tear off. Notice the nifty stripes. Dressed in a Buckingham, your best friends will have difficulty distinguishing you from a barber pole.

Customer—But, a Rolls Rollicker——

Clerk—You can't get a classier creation than the Duke. Note the sweeping lines. Mark the quality, dependability and the special arrangement around the collar for a protruding Adam's apple.

Customer—But it hasn't good second-hand value.

Clerk—My dear sir, if you can't sell this after three years' wear we will take it back without returning your money. Inevitably, why not now? You can't get hurt in a Buckingham shirt. If better shirts are built, Buckingham will build them.

Customer (a bit balmy)—Can it take hills on high?

Clerk—It will take you anywhere. With this shirt you can enter our best bootlegging society. And the price is only $32.99. That's because of mass production which reduces the overhead and increases the underfoot.

Customer (now violently insane)—I'll take it. (Tears shirt to shreds and starts eating it until seized by the police.)

Page "Jim" Gray

In settin' down the folks in town, the ones I like to see about, it makes a list what's pleasin' like, a goodly list, both wide and stout. Most folks they know the men they like, the chaps what's honest sort and fair, they like to meet 'em now and then and greet them on the village square.

And crowdin' up toward the top of them we meet from day to day, we're scribblin' down the name of one what most folks call just plain "Jim" Gray.

No doubt there's lots who meet this gent, they stick a mister on in front, but to the most of folks round town 'twould mean they'd have to go and hunt, and search through all the Grays in town, and look them over, fat and thin, but everyone knows who you mean when you just say the plain old "Jim."

How come it, Jim, you get the time to dabble in this thing and that, and never get riled up at all, and never growin' stale or flat?

Why you've been buildin' hospitals and lookin' after patients there, and urgin' on the doctors, too, to stay a spell and have a care—how do you keep them folks in tow, how do you make the surgeons tame, when they delight to take an axe and carve great sections from our frame?

And do the sick folks call at you to save them from the ways what's queer, when doctors sit upon their chest and poke their fingers in their ear?

They say you bowl upon the green and toss in curlin' time a stane, how come you pry the time away to chase this winter roarin' game?

And don't you weary of the folks what run to you most every day, for every time a job turns up why some one hollers "Get Jim Gray."

There's lots of people round here too, who for the city have a care, they're sayin' in behind their hands "Why don't you run Jim Gray for mayor?" Now don't get huffed about this thing, nor angry in your seasoned head. I'm just a-passin' on to you the things what other folks have said.

How do you keep your temper so, come tell us of the way you do, it must be apple pie and cream, a-livin' with a man like you?—ARK.

THE REVENGE OF FRANCE.

France has suffered a good deal from Americans, especially from advertising. It is because of American advertising methods that French billboards are plastered with the alluring attractions of soap and medicine. It is because of American advertising methods that, while riding in the Paris subway, you cannot tell the name of a station because it is concealed among advertisements of various kinds.

But the French have their revenge in their own way. They are the best, the longest and the fastest, to say nothing of being the most tiresome, speech-makers in the world, and they sure did rub it into the advertising men while they were their guests in Paris. Early in the morning they attended the American pro-cathedral, the American Church, and the Catholic Church of St. Joseph's, and listened to speeches by Dean Beekman and D. Joseph W. Cochran, who told what they knew about modern publicity.

Then they went to the unknown soldier's grave, where they listened to a band and were addressed by speeches from Senator Paul Dupuy and others. Mr. Neal spoke of the traditional friendship between France and America and other wornout topics. He was followed by Mr. Kirwin of Texas, who afterwards pronounced a prayer for the dead of France, and the whole performance ended by a band playing the Marseillaise and the Star Spangled Banner.

Afterwards, at ten-forty-five, they went to the Avenue George V., where they listened to more talks by Bishop Kinsolving and Dean Beekman.

Following this they had another speech at the Battle Cloister for the memory of American soldiers who died in the war.

Then they drove out to Versailles, where they were bombarded with speeches by Senator Paul Dupuy again, also by M. Bonnefoy-Sibour, prefect of Seine-et-Oise, M. Saint-Mieu, mayor of Versailles, and M. Petitpas, president of the committee of Versailles fetes.

Afterwards they went to the Hall of Mirrors at Versailles, where they were addressed by M. Bonnefoy-Sibour, and Mayor Saint-Mieu. M. Marcel Knecht also made a few remarks that were replied to by Mr. Fred B. Smith of New York.

Then there was a banquet at the Trianon Palace in their honor, after which there were short speeches by Mr. Neal and others. The occasion wound up with a display of fireworks and the play of fountains, and the delegates, who were sufficiently speechified by this time, came back to the Place de la Concorde after midnight. They felt that the French had taken their revenge.

The Year 1924.

Writer Asks If There Is Not Now a Great Call for Conviction Rather Than Opinion.

Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir,—"How long halt we between two opinions," the Holy Bible's account of creation and the fall and evolution? Is this the time for opinions? Surely God wants convictions! Is 1924 the year of destiny for the church of the living God? When the difference in the lengths of the four periods in Daniel 12 is regarded as occurring at their beginnings instead of their endings, they are found to have a common end, because they culminate in a single year, 1924. Is not this the answer requested, and the opening of God's long-closed time-lock, the unsealing promised to "the wise" in the time of the end of the conflict between God's Word and science, falsely so-called? Did the "time of trouble" or the "great tribulation" (seven years) commence with the deliverance of Jerusalem, 1917-1924? Yours truly R. E. R.

SARNIA GRIDDERS RIGHT ON THE BIT

CHURCHILL OUT

Special to The Advertiser.

Sarnia, Sept. 24.—With three weeks of practice and straining at the leash to try out their new system of play, the Sarnia intermediates are all primed for the opening game of the O. R. F. U. series in Petrolia on Saturday. The locals are quite confident that they can take the measure of Jack Stirrett and company.

Petrolia's line-up will be pretty much the same as last Saturday, with Keck and Hyatt doing the booting, and Jack Stirrett with his speed on the half line. The Petrolia ends will likely be minus the services of Stan Churchill for the opening game, his broken nose causing him some pain. They are well fortified in this department, however.

Sarnia's line-up is very uncertain as yet, although Art Wilson will likely do the booting and be flanked by Gray and Perry. Stonehouse and Houston look like the possible ends with Bently, a prospect, if Stonehouse or Houston is shoved back to the flying wing. Richardson or Fitzgibbon are certain starters at centre.

Mike Everingham, Pumpsmith, Geo. Blaikie and Red Wilson are the likeliest candidates for middle wing jobs, with Bossenberry and Pollard likely to start at inside with Blaikie running them a close second. If Karn is in shape he will likely get the call for quarterback over Lyle Smith and Sam Stokes. Eddie Robinson is one of the half-line candidates, who will likely get into Saturday's game. The Sarnia line-up will not be announced until Thursday or Friday, but eighteen players will make the trip to Petrolia, and every player will likely get into the game.

MARINERS WANT SCHOONER RACE

International Event Should Not Be Dropped, Is General Opinion.

Associated Press Despatch.

Gloucester, Mass., Sept. 23.—A growing sentiment among mariners in this port that the yearly schooner races between fishermen of the United States and the maritime provinces should not be allowed to lapse culminated today in the sending of a telegram to H. R. Silver, chairman of the trustees of the international trophy, by the American racing committee. The trophy was withdrawn from competition this year as a result of the inconclusive result of last year's series, when Captain Angus Walters of the Canadian entry, Bluenose, sailed away without finishing the races after being ruled against for failing to sail outside of one of the buoys.

While the contents of the telegram were not made public, persons close to the committee said that it was an inquiry asking if press despatches announcing the calling off of this year's racing were correct.

FAST RACES FEATURE OF WOODSTOCK FAIR

Sandy Innes, On Creator, Gives Many Thrills To Crowd.

Special to The Advertiser.

Woodstock, Sept 24.—Two sparkling races were provided for the large crowd of sporting fans who attended the Woodstock fair this afternoon. In the 2:20 trot or pace Joe McKinley, owned by W. Cudmore, Seaforth, and driven by Rutledge, won in three straight heats, although he was strongly pressed by Billy Hal, owned by E. Isenbach, Brantford.

The running race, however, provided the most excitement. Sandy Innes, on Creator, won the first heat in a tight finish, less than a length separating the three horses. In the second William Fernley, a Brantford horse, nosed out Brass Itare, a Hamilton horse, with Creator being held in reserve for the final heat. This once again provided a thrilling finish, with all three horses crowded at the finish. Creator coming is ahead by an eyelash.

The following is the race summary:

2:20 Trot or Pace.

Joe McKinley, W. Cudmore, Seaforth	1	1	1
Billy Hal, J. Eisenbach, Brantford	2	2	2
Eagle Bars, S. Piers, Norwich	3	3	3
Twinkling Miller, A. Russell, Norwich	4	4	4

Time, 2:20½, 2:21, 2:24¼.

Running Race, Five-Eighths Mile.

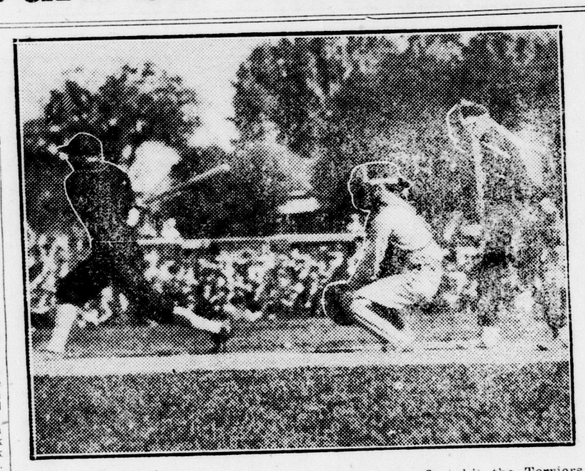

Creater, Sandy Innes, Woodstock	1	3	1
William Fernley, Brantford	2	1	2
Brass Itare, Chas Clark, Hamilton	3	2	3

Time, 1:04¾, 1:07½, 1:06¼.

(CENTER)—Kress, Galt's sterling right-hander, getting under way with the first strike he hurled after the umpires announced play.

(RIGHT)—Grove tallying the second and what proved to be the winning run in the fourth frame that proved fatal to the St. Thomas hopes. Grove dashed home from second, which he had stolen on Watts' single to center field, and his head may just be seen rising out of a cloud of dirt as "Buck" Graham mitts Billings' peg from the outfield, seconds too late to avert the damage.

TERRIERS TURN BACK ST. THOMAS NINE AGAIN

Only One Extra Base Hit Made in Great Diamond Struggle in Which Galt Eliminates Railroaders Before Biggest Crowd in History of Tecumseh Park.

MOUND DUEL THROUGHOUT

Galt Terriers for the third time in three successive seasons turned back the St. Thomas Tom Cats from provincial senior championship baseball honors yesterday before the greatest gathering that ever jammed its way into the historic old ball grounds over the river. The doleful result which counted out St. Thomas' hopes was 2 to 1.

The mound duel between Kress, lithe and compactly-built right-hander of the two-time champions of Ontario, and "Tiny" Monk, the youthful giant whom St. Thomas found in the woods around Ridgetown last year, will go down as one of the finest ever waged by amateur pitchers in Tecumsen Park, which has been the scene of some wonderful baseball battles in its day.

Each allowed four hits, but three of the champions' blows were clustered in the fourth for two runs, which proved plenty in the face of Kress' brilliant pitching in the pinches when they came in the eighth and ninth rounds. With one gone in the eighth, Graham and Evans both got on base trough a hit and an error but the Salnis let the scoring chance get away from them, Monk popping a foul and Riseborough striking out, though the Saints' short-stop was on twice before that, only one other Saint treading the runways up to the eighth.

Terriers Reply.

Galt replied to the threat in the eighth. Kress rammed the only extra base hit of the game out into the crowd in center field, for three bases in an attempt to fatten up his slender working margin. He was held at third, as Lindsay threw out Lynch at first. As Himes poled a drifting liner out to center Big Bill Billings sprinted, mitted the ball and whirling pegged perfectly to the plate for a dual killing on Kress, the only double play of the game and as perfect a bit of execution as has been seen on the lot this season.

The Tom Cats had backs all arched up and every hair standing straight out in the ninth, when Lindsay opened with a single to left and stole second. Lynch made a fine play on Arlein's bouncing roller toward first, shooting the ball across at third and nipping Lindsay on one of several of the hair-line decisions the umpires had to hand out.

Out For Interference.

With Snapper Binns to bat, Arlein was sent down to second, but as Binns dived in front of the plate and then struck at the ball, the St. Thomas second sacker was called back and the batter declared out for interference. Chandler's decision brought forth a storm but not from the fans. These two breaks took some of the stiffening out of the Tom Cats' bristling fur, but as Billngs drew the only walk Kress issued during the afternoon, it stood out once more. It was only temporarily. Barclay lifted a foul pop which Hoffman squeezed as he stepped in among the fans, which fringed that side of the field.

Monk might have battled Kress right through to the end on even terms, but for a break, which came in the fourth. Himes had poled out the first hit off the big St. Thomas hurler to start it, but he retired the next two on infield outs, Himes moving to third on the plays.

Score Evened.

Groves' hit, which scored Himes and evened the count, was a sliced grounder that bounced slowly down toward third and was unplayable for any third sacker. It was messy blow.

The big fellow showed plenty of stomach when, after Watts' single to centre scored Grove with the winning run, the Galt runner stole second and third. He wobbled for a minute and walked Kinsman, who promptly pilfered second, but he made Oliver hit at Riseborough to end the Galt rally.

Brilliant sunshine greeted the teams yesterday. A football rush by a waiting queue of fans greeted the opening of the box office wickets at 12:30.

Crowd and Then Some.

From that time until the opening of the game, Kensington Bridge gave off a steady rumbling as a stream of moving cars poured across and into the park and broke all its records for the tonnage of human freight borne, in the space of a few hours.

At 1 o'clock there was a solid line of cars, wheel to wheel, strung on the two sides allotted for parking. The east and north side of the diamond and both bleachers were filled, and fans had squatted on the line of vantage on the grass bleachers at the south side in front of the bleachers.

Shortly after 2 o'clock a solid phalanx of cars was parked in lines five deep, and there was every indication that the whole four acres of jungle would be jammed with gas wagons before game time. The lines of cars and people were well handled.

Galt Takes Workout.

The field was roped off so that the maximum of view was accorded the thousands forced to use the lawns. The rope extending from the corner of the grandstand to the right field foul flag held in line fans that were standing seven and eight deep. The Galt Terriers, twice champions of the province, in their funereal, yet striking looking black uniforms, piped with white, had the first workout. The Terriers went through their paces like champs. The infield worked smoothly, and the outfield galloped all over the skard, swallowing flies like regular pros.

At 2:30, Nethercott's pitching choice was a deep secret. An intermediate served them up for the Tom Cats in batting practice. The only way to read the Nethercott mind is to employ a clairvoyant, or get the answer in the umpire's announcement.

President D. F. McFarlane of the O. A. A. came down from Harriston with other officials of the clubs, and was an interested spectator from a box. He was more than satisfied with the arrangements the local officials had made for the game and the way the big crowd was handled.

WELCOME WARM ONE.
Special to The Advertiser.

Galt, Sept. 24.—This city gave vent to its feelings of joy over the Terriers' great victory. From early evening the streets were crowded, and when the special train from London pulled in at 9:30 a crowd estimated at 5,000 with a band was on hand to welcome the players.

A parade downtown to the city hall square followed, with the Kiltie band leading several hundred automobiles. Congratulatory addresses were delivered by Mayor A. E. Willard; W. W. Wilkinson, first president of the G. A. A. A., and president of the chamber of commerce, and F. J. Oliver, president of the G. A. A. A., all of whom referred to the great work of all members of the team and of Coach McWhirter.

6,083 SEE GAME.

The check-up last night showed that 6,083 fans saw yesterday's game between Galt and St. Thomas. The money receipts amounted to $3,225.

The attendance, it is believed, marks a new record for Tecumseh Park, though it is well below those set by Galt and St. Thomas parks. Had the game been played Saturday, it is believed the attendance would easily have passed 10,000.

PARKHILL GIRLS WIN.

Parkhill, Sept. 24.—The softball game between Lucan and Parkhill girls here today resulted in a win for Farkhill by a score of 23 to 22. Miss McDonald for Parkhill pitched her usually good game.

Batteries—Lucan, D. Dore and G. Dore; Parkhill, McDonald and Campbell.

Inning By Inning Account of Galt's Third Trip To Finals

First Inning.

ST. THOMAS—Riseborough was safe on Kinsman's error. Kinsman's throw on an easy grounder was high and drew Lynch up and off the bag. Riseborough stole second and went to third on Lindsay's ground out to the box, scoring on Arlein's sacrifice fly to center. Kinsman ran in for Binns' short pop, grabbed it on the first bounce and threw him out. 1 RUN, 0 HITS 1 ERROR.

GALT—Lynch called out on strikes. Himes walked. Graham struck out swinging. As Lynch and Monk held a conference near the mound, Himes stole second. Hoffman called out on strikes, Monk having retired the side on strike-outs.

NO RUNS, NO HITS, NO ERRORS.

Second Inning.

ST. THOMAS—Billings lined to Himes. Barclay bounced a hit off Kress' right ankle. It was a terrific smash, and the game is held up for an examination of the injured foot. Trainer massages Kress' ankle, but he uses the right foot gingerly as he delivers the ball. Barclay out stealing, Hines making the putout at second. Graham grounds to Hoffman for the third out.

NO RUNS, 1 HIT, NO ERRORS.

GALT—Arlein's fast peg of Groves' slow roller makes a nice out. Watts struck out swinging. Kinsman grounds weakly to Evans for the final out.

NO RUNS, NO HITS, NO ERRORS.

Third Inning.

ST. THOMAS—Evans grounds to the box. Monk took the third strike, swinging at one up around his neck. Riseborough bunted down towards third for a safety. Riseborough stole second. Lindsay popped to Hoffman.

NO RUNS, 1 HIT, NO ERRORS.

GALT—Arlein went into short right field to gobble Oliver's short fly. Kress grounds out to Arlein. Arlein took Lynch's pop.

NO RUNS, NO HITS, NO ERRORS.

GALT—Himes gets the first clean hit of the game, a single to right. Arlein threw Graham out at first, juggling himself out of a possible double play. Riseborough made a nice play on Hoffman's bounder down past second for an out, Himes going to third on the play. Grove sliced a hit towards third, Himes scoring. Grove stole second and scored on Watts' single to center. Watts stole second, but was held there as the ball rolled on out to centerfield. Watts stole third. Kinsman walked. Kinsman stole second. Oliver grounds to Riseborough.

TWO RUNS, 3 HITS, NO ERRORS.

Fifth Inning.

ST. THOMAS—Barclay popped to Hoffman. Graham popped to Kress. Evans grounds to Lynch.

GALT—Barclay made a sensational catch of Watts' line drive to left field for an out. Kinsman struck out. Oliver lifted a high pop to Lindsay.

NO RUNS, NO HITS, NO ERRORS.

Eighth Inning.

ST. THOMAS—Barclay called out on strikes. Graham gets a hit to short. Evans safe on Himes' error. Monk fouled to Oliver. Riseborough struck out swinging, learing two men stranded. It was the second time Riseborough has struck out.

NO RUNS, 1 HIT, NO ERRORS.

Ninth Inning.

ST. THOMAS—Lindsay made a lovely single over short to left field. Lindsay stole second, Oliver's peg being wide. Lynch took Arlien's grounder and cut Lindsay off at third with a wonderful smoking peg. It was good baseball and a case of quick thinking. Arlien stole second, but Chandler sent him back to first, ruling interference from Binns at bat, and Binns was called out. Billings walked, the first that Kress issued. Hoffman almost ran into the crowd after Barclay's pop foul, which he took with his back to the stands for the third out.

NO RUNS, 1 HIT, NO ERRORS.

BOXER KEEPS ON AND WINS THOUGH SHOULDER HURT

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 24.—Fighting the last two rounds with his right shoulder dislocated, Bud Taylor, Terre Haute, Ind., bantamweight boxer, last night won a decision over Georgie Rivers of Los Angeles, in a four-round bout. Taylor easily won the first two rounds, and was able to obtain an even break when he dislocated his shoulder by a wild swing in the third round.

On the Side Lines

With C. S. G.

Rumors that the St. Thomas officials would protest Umpire Chandler's decision on Binns in the ninth were discredited semi-officially last night. From the press box there was little question but that Binns had thrown himself directly in front of the plate. It was the play, executed properly, that might have started the Saints on the way to a win.

They are two great teams and they played wonderful ball. There were plenty of chances for them to show unsteadiness—chances that have sent Mint League teams, playing every day and keyed up to no very high state of tension, sky high. Either one look good enough to bring another title to Western Ontario.

A ME-OW OF PAIN.

The Tom Cats' me-ow heard in the vicinity of St. Thomas last night was a wail that came right from the heart—and the pocket. St. Thomas supporters were mighty confident yesterday. They had every right to be on the dope. Odds of 2 to 1 were offered by the gamesters to the south, it is said. One $1,500 to $1,000 bet on Saints was seen locally.

OSLER SENIORS DROP BELLEVILLE

Canadian Press Despatch.

Oshawa, Sept. 24.—Toronto Oslers today won the right to meet Orillia in the first of the O. B. A. A. finals by defeating Belleville here today, 4 to 2.

The Toronto team led all the way, and their hitting behind the pitching of Joe Spring was an encouraging feature. Oslers fielded well, and hit equally as good. Belleville played a great game, and had only one error. Gone was the flashy performance given by Ouellette in the first game of the series, and he took second place to the Osler twirler. Joe Spring was master of the situation at all times, and never played better than when his opponents had men on bases. He struck out four Belleville batsmen, and issued only three bases on balls. In addition to his mound performance, Spring had two hits in three times at bat, one of these accounting for one run.

The game was vastly different from Saturday's fixture. Both teams played a good brand of ball and the game was a thriller from start to finish.

Jack Ouellette pitched a good game. He allowed only seven hits and struck out three batters, issuing only three bases on balls. His performance at bat was not so good, as he did not get a hit in four attempts, striking out twice. He received excellent support. If this end of the game had been the winning factor, the Toronto entry would have been beaten.

MAPLE LEAFS SENIOR TWIN CITY CHAMPIONS

Will Now Meet Intermedate Titlists For Daily Record Cup.

Special to The Advertiser.

Kitchener, Sept. 24.—By defeating Waterloo Lutherans 4 to 1 tonight in the deciding game of three, Kitchener Maple Leafs annexed the senior series of the Twin City Softball Federation, and the Filsinger and Henry trophy.

The winners played fine ball behind Hentges, who allowed but three hits, while the Waterloo team was a little unsteady in the field. Lachman pitched well, despite the nine hits secured off his delivery.

Tighter fielding would have cut these down.

The Maple Leafs will now meet the team that wins out in the intermediate series for the Daily Record cup.

MRS. MULQUEEN GIVEN HARD FIGHT BY MRS. M. ROWE

Champion Forced To Eighteenth Hole To Win Match.

ONE UP MARGIN

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Sept. 24.—Mrs. F. Mulqueen, Toronto, came very close to entering the ranks of champions who failed to repeat today when in the second round of the championship flight in the third annual Canadian ladies' closed championship she was carried to the home hole by a clubmate, Mrs. M. Rowe. Mrs. Mulqueen won her match by the smallest margin possible, one up. This match, which was the only close one of the eight in the championship, was rather uncertain owing to an interpretation of the rules, and it was not until they had holed out at the eighteenth that the two ladies were informed as to which was the winner. At the ninth hole Mrs. Mulqueen had a lie in a hazard, and Mrs. Rowe's ball was lost. Mrs. Mulqueen's caddy laid down the bag of clubs in the hazard while he went to look for the lost ball.

Mrs. Mulqueen stated that she had lost the hole owing to the caddy grounding the bag of clubs in the hazard, but Mrs. Rowe protested that the rule referred to traps and not hazards, and they played out the hole, which Mrs. Mulqueen won, and continued their game. In the meantime they sent a request for a ruling to the executive. When they holed out at the eighteenth neither was aware of the ruling, and it was not until they were informed that there was no penalty that Mrs. Mulqueen knew she had won. Had the penalty gone against her, Mrs. Rowe would have won by 2 and 1, according to the order in which the following holes were won and lost.

Ladies' Title Won By St. Catharines

St. Catharines ladies' tennis team carried off the ladies' championship of the Western Ontario Tennis League by defeating Walkerville team, three events to two yesterday on the courts of the London Tennis Club.

The matches were remarkable close. In the singles the Walkerville players took two out of three events, Mrs. Brock, wife of Prof. Mel Brock, formerly of Western University, winning the only match for her team against Mrs. Sully of Walkerville, who carried the St. Kitts player into three sets. Miss Nash and Mrs. Brock were taken into three sets in the first doubles event, but the other St. Catharines pair made their wins fairly decisive.

The summary:

"TINY" MONK

"Tiny" Monk, youthful hurler of the St. Thomas team, hurled ball that any team should be able to win behind five days out of six. Three of his six strike-outs came in the first inning. In five innings he retired the Terriers in order. Graham retired the Saints that way four times. They say the camera's eye does not lie, but Monk through the process of getting on the page, has been turned into a southpaw.

NEW YORK LOWERS PITTSBURG HOPES

Dodgers Forced To Extend Selves To Win 6--5 From Chicago.

BRAVES TAKE TWO

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Sept. 24.—Battling forward with an irresistible rush with their fourth straight pennant in sight, the New York Giants today sent Pittsburg down to defeat for the second successive time, 4 to 2. It was a crushing and probably decisive blow to the pennant hopes of the Pirates, who now are three and a half games behind the champions. They have a mathematical chance only to catch the leaders, and it is a slim one.

The makeshift team with which John McGraw is making his last stand is one of the most hectic campaigns in diamond history, again covered itself with glory. Behind the fine twirling of Virgil Barnes, young right-hander, the Giants played in sparkling fashion on the defence and made the most of their opportunities on the attack.

Brooklyn, Sept. 24.—Brooklyn won the final game of the Chicago series today, 6 to 5, after a third strenuous battle. Grimes went the route, but was always in difficulties, the Cubs making thirteen hits, including a home run by Adams off his offerings.

Boston, Sept. 24.—Boston took both games from Cincinnati today in a twin bill here, dropping the Reds from the first division. The score of the first game was 7 to 6. Genewich made three singles and a double in four times at bat. The Braves, giving Barnes better support than Cincinnati accorded Sheehan, won the second game, 5 to 3. The scores:

BRANTFORD VICTORIOUS IN O. S. A. SEMI-FINAL

Pickering, Youthful Twirler, Holds Woodstock To Six Hits.

Special to The Advertiser.

Woodstock, Sept. 24. — Brantford Radiators captured the third round in the semi-final O. S. A. series by defeating the Woodstock O. S. A. gang, 17 to 5, in the return game played at the agricultural grounds this afternoon before a crowd of 1,000 fans. The winners had the best of the conflict throughout, with Pickering, their youthful twirler, in rare form. He had eighteen strikeouts and held the locals to six hits, while Charles Toohey, the Woodstock slab artist, was touched for sixteen. By winning the opening duel last Monday in Brantford, 7 to 1, the Radiators established themselves as decisive victors. If Pickering can keep up his effective twirling, the Brants should do well in the final series for the intermediate title. Home runs by Demarco and Pickering were the batting features.

Cured His Rupture

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen carpenter, 4561, Marcellus Ave., Manasquan, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation. —Advt.

Brantford St. Basil's Nine Evens Series With L. E. A. C.

Errors by Local Kids and Dinsmore's Triple Account For 6--2 Score.

THREE IN NINTH

By defeating the London East Juveniles 6 to 2 at Sunshine Park this afternoon Brantford St. Basil's crew stayed in the running for the O. B. A. A. juvenile title. The series was evened to one all, and a third game will be played in Woodstock on Saturday afternoon.

A brace of errors and Dinsmore's triple gave the Brantford team a good jump in the second when they scored three runs. The London East batters managed to get only one hit off Dinsmore, the Brant hurler, up till the sixth. The locals grabbed a lone counter in the fifth, when a couple of errors cropped up. In the sixth the London East crew got their other tally, this when Cook, safe on a choice, crossed the plate on a long drive by Lindsay. In the eighth the locals got two hits with only one out, but could not score against Dinsmore.

The game was a nip-and-tuck affair up to the ninth, when Brantford made the issue sure by scoring another trio

PROFIT-TAKERS CHECK ADVANCE

Wall Street Issues Are Affected by Bullish Operations in Utilities.

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Sept. 25.—Wall street, 1:30 p.m.—The losses in some of the market favorites were partially retraced in the afternoon when Consolidated Gas and North American went into new high ground, and star equipment, motor, rubber and miscellaneous stocks moved up briskly. Peoria and Eastern was the strongest feature of the railroad list, rising 3 points to a new top level. Soo preferred dropped 4¾, and Phillip Jones preferred, 5¼ points.

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Sept. 25—Wall Street, noon.—Profit-taking in the standard industrials and a number of popular specialties checked a general early advance on the stock exchange. Trading turned dull on the decline. Heavy buying of the Maxwell Motor issues, the "A" stock moving up more than two points, was without effect on the rest of the motors. Bullish demonstrations continued in the public utilities, Brooklyn Union Gas, American Waterworks common, United Railways and Investment common and preferred, and International Telephone being among the many issues in that group to sell a point or more above yesterday's final prices.

Cosden Oil sagged a point, despite official denials of new financing, and the other petroleum issues made little response to the American Petroleum Institute's weekly report of a reduction in crude oil production. Baking issues lost one to two points on realizing sales. Call money was again renewed at 2 per cent.

N. Burt were all active, the former advancing ¾ at 49⅞. Brompton selling down at 31¾ and Burt made a 2 point gain at 139. Maple Leaf common sold steady unchanged, while Dominion Stores was a point higher at 33.

Industrial Alcohol Leads List With Gain at New High.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Montreal, Sept. 25.—There was a slight falling off in the volume of trading on the local stock exchange this morning, but prices remained firm to stronger. Industrial Alcohol again led the market, being by far the most active issue, and closed for a gain of ⅜ at a new high, 38⅜. British Columbia Fishing made its appearance at 20½, up 4½. This represented the greatest advance of the morning. Textile issues were again strong, Dominion Textile selling ¼ higher at 64. Smelters was off ¼ at 43½. Other price variations were unimportant.

LORRAIN OPERATORS STRIKE NEW VEIN

Hollinger Is Off—Busiest Session For Some Time On Standard Exchange.

Special to The Advertiser.

Toronto, Sept. 24.—It was one of the biggest mornings for some time on the Standard exchange this morning. The feature was Lorrain Consolidated, which opened at 21 and closed at 25, a 5-point gain from last night.

A private wire received by Arthur E. Moysey's office from the north states that Lorrain has cut into a new vein on the 175-foot level, approximately 12 inches in width of high-grade milling ore, the vein being freely impregnated with native silver. Following this report, a lot of buying took place, about 75 per cent of it coming from Cobalt, according to the brokers.

A strange thing happened with Castle Trethewey and Trethewey. While Castle receded 3 points from its closing quotation yesterday, Trethewey was strong, ¾ above yesterday's market. Before the end of the year it is known that Castle will pay Trethewey the $53,000, which is a debt outstanding from it, taking over of Trethewey when the new company was formed. Just how this works out on the Trethewey shares price is not quite clear to the street, but it is understood that it is about four to one.

DESERT WARRIORS THREATEN MECCA

Wahabi Tribe Advancing On Supreme Holy City of Faithful.

ENDS ARAB CONTROL

By JUNIUS B. WOOD.
Special Correspondent of The Advertiser.
Copyright.

Cairo, Egypt, Sept. 24.—That there is now being fought a war that is of vital concern to the 222,000,000 Mohammedans of the world is not disclosed in the brief cables which bear the news that the desert warriors of the Wahabi tribe are advancing toward Mecca, the supreme holy city of the faithful.

To European nations that are members of the League of Nations, especially Great Britain, which is chiefly concerned in that portion of Arabia, this war is an unpleasant climax to the program of political control of the Arab world, which has been developing since the signing of the Treaty of Versailles. Apparently it was precipitated by the recent action of King Hussein, protege of the league, in declaring himself caliph or spiritual head of the Moslems. To the Wahabis' hereditary enemies of the Sherifian Arabs, of whom Hussein is the leader, this was all that was necessary to renew the fighting. The Wahabis can muster 300,000 zealots.

In the past British assistance has been needed to save Hussein, as well as his sons, Prince Abdullah in Trans-Jordania, and King Feisal in Mesopotamia, from being driven from their thrones by the Wahabis. Those were merely local fights for temporal power, but the present contest is a broader issue, which interests all Mohammedans. Doubtless other sects will take sides and the Mohammedans millions in India and other parts of the world will raise their voices, now that the Wahabis has started the opposition.

The desert home of the Wahabis continues a forbidden land to missionaries, traders or political agents, who have penetrated almost every part of the inhabited world. Their political state, known as Nejd, covers almost the entire barren center of Arabia. Its capital at Riad is reached by caravan from the little port back of Bahrien Islands in the Persian Gulf. An American missionary doctor, who was taken in by the ruler to fight an epidemic, is said to be the only Christian who ever entered the country.

Shrewd and intelligent, Ibn Soud, the Wahabis ruler, finds even his despotism cannot evade the exactions of his grim followers. His palace is plain. The throne room, bare of chairs, is lighted by great oil lamps reflecting on its white porcelain walls. Ibn Soud never has more than four wives in a year—a frugal limitation on Arab royalty. Phonographs are forbidden, but nearly every male has a wrist-watch.

A Wahabi firmly believes that coming to death while fighting for the faith assures immediate entry into the Mohammedan heaven.

Girl Gives Her Life To Save Sleeping Family From Fire

Special to The Advertser.

Leamington, Sept. 24.—Eva Buneau, 18 years old, sacrificed her life at an early hour this morning in a successful attempt to save the other members of her family from burning to death, when their farm home on the fourth concession, a quarter-mile east of the Leamington sideroad, was destroyed by fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Buneau, five of the children, and the grandfather, who lived with them, all escaped from the burning building.

When she got up Eva found the kitchen in flames, and at once began to arouse the family. She succeeded in getting the others out of the burning building, but herself was overcome by the dense smoke, and caught by the fire.

Two boys, who slept upstairs, saved themselves by jumping.

The fire is thought to have caught from the stove in the summer kitchen. The father had started the morning fire with dry basket wood, and had gone out to do the chores. The house was owned by Fred Sinasac of this place.

ADVANCE OF ONTARIO HAS JUST STARTED

Beatty Declares That Capital and Immigration Are Needed.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Iroquois Falls, Sept. 24.—E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, was the chief speaker tonight at the annual banquet of the Associated Boards of Trade of Northern Ontario. He paid a high compliment to Northern Ontario industries of mining and pulp and paper.

Continued development and success of Canada, he said, depends upon the security and stability of capital investments, and sounded warning of the tendency of legislation to imperil capital already invested. He believed development of Northern Ontario had only begun, and capital and immigration would be needed.

Referring to emigration of young men to the United States, Mr. Beatty declared the only solution will be new enterprises and new money in Canada to develop our own natural resources. He also appealed against agitations for lower freight rates, arguing that they are impossible if railways are to exist.

WILL TEST DOUBLE LIABILITY CLAUSE

Home Bank Argument Is Set For November 17 at Toronto.

Toronto, Sept. 24.—Arguments against the payment by shareholders in the defunct Home Bank of double liability for the failure of the bank's assets will be heard here on Nov. 17 next. This date has been fixed by the master-in-chambers, Charles Garrow of the provincial law courts.

One of the transactions which will be aired at the hearing will be the acquisition by the Home Bank of the assets of the Banque Internationale, which will be declared by counsel for the appeal to have been null and void. An expenditure of about $300,000 is involved.

It is also alleged that all persons who hold shares sold by the Grain Growers' Grain Company, Limited, and the United Grain Growers are not shareholders in the Home Bank, because such shares were never validly created, issued or allotted. The contributors also allege that the Home Bank entered into "illegal, improvident, pernicious, improper, highly speculative, vicious, fraudulent, and ultra-vires contract or agreement" with the Home Savings and Loan Company. It is declared that this was not a bank at all, and that the half million dollars paid for its assets cannot be charged against the home Bank shareholders.

A. W. Ballantyne, K.C., who is appearing for the liquidators of the Home Bank, stated today that a test case would be made and upon this the liability of the others would hinge. The costs of the test case would be paid out of the bank's estate. Messrs. Bain and O'Donoghue will be counsel.

POLICE FEAR FOREIGNERS ARE SLAIN BY SMUGGLERS ON ST. CLAIR RIVER FRONT

Windsor Officers Go To Port Huron To Query Man Under Arrest.

IS NON-COMMITTAL

Finding of Two Bodies in Water Leads To Investigation.

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Correspondent.

Sarnia, Sept. 24.—Inspector John Oliver of the Windsor police department, accompanied by another officer, went to Port Huron today to question Earl Elliott, 22, of Windsor, who was taken into custody last week by immigration officials, charged with attempting to smuggle five aliens across the St. Clair River. The officers were searching for clues in connection with the death of two men, apparently foreigners, whose bodies had been found floating in the river last week in the vicinity of Windsor. An examination of the bodies indicated that the men had apparently been hit on their heads and their skulls fractured.

Reports from the underground channels of the alien smuggling game intimate that smugglers have been "hijacking" foreigners who employed them to run them across the river, and officers believe that the two men whose bodies were found in the river had been slain by the smugglers for their money.

The plan generally followed by the smugglers of aliens is to transport a party of them from Windsor by automobile to Sombra, Port Lambton or other Canadian shore towns and then bring them across the St. Clair River by rowboat. Once landed on United States soil, the smugglers abandon their charges and leave them to shift for themselves.

Elliott proved non-committal, officers said after seeing him.

New Institution Replaces the Original County House of Refuge.

Special to The Advertiser.

Kitchener, Sept. 24.—The dining-room of Waterloo county's new House of Refuge, which will henceforth be known as the Old People's Home, was crowded with invited guests this evening at a banquet held in honor of the opening of the splendid new institution.

The affair was presided over by Reeve G. A. Gruenther of Hespeler. Representatives of bordering counties, members of the city council and of the municipalities of Kitchener and Galt were shown through the new building. County Clerk Fraser of Wentworth and County Clerk Beatty of Wellington paid a high tribute to the county for erecting such a splendid building, declaring it to be one of the finest of its kind in the Dominion.

In opening the new building Reeve Guenther recalled the fact that Waterloo county was one of the first, if not the first county, in the Dominion to provide such an institution for its dependent aged people. He paid tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Martin as managers of the institution.

NINETEEN DROWN IN RUSSIAN FLOOD

Martial Law Proclaimed To Keep Order in Leningrade.

Associated Press Despatch.

Leningrad, Sept. 25.—Martial law has been declared here owing to the serious condition brought about by the flood due to the heavy gale of Tuesday.

Early this morning the flood waters still remained nine feet above normal, but they were showing a tendency to subside.

The militia, firemen and regular soldiers, together with vigilance committees, are preserving order.

In the adjacent islands the water reached the second floors of buildings. Many sections of the City of Leningrad are completely isolated. Relief work on a large scale has been organized.

The Neva River went over its banks five or six feet. The electric power failed and the city was in complete darkness. Trains, trolley, telephone and telegraph service were paralyzed. Vehicular traffic was impeded and the famous Nevsky Prospekt resembled a Venetian scene.

The big Mareensky Opera House was completely inundated, and the broad square in front of the Winter Palace was like a vast lake. Many roofs were carried away and trees uprooted by the violent wind, which at times assumed a cyclonic fury.

Nineteen deaths have thus far been reported on consequence of the flood.

Look out for the time when you feel like slowing up—when your mind becomes sluggish from the all-day grind. That's when you should be able to call on an extra supply of energy from the storehouse which is filled by only the most highly nourishing foods.

Grape-Nuts is the food you need. It's the most energizing food you can give your body. It's composed of whole wheat and malted barley—wonderfully efficient builders of strength and vitality. The goodness in Grape-Nuts is easily taken into the body, too, for a long process of slow baking concentrates all the food value of wheat and malted barley in a highly-energizing form.

Don't slow up at four o'clock! Push on right through till closing time. Start right away to build up your system so that you can do this. Have Grape-Nuts for breakfast tomorrow. It's the most vitalizing, delicious and economical food there is. Four teaspoonfuls with cream or milk are sufficient for each person and each Grape-Nuts package contains many such servings. Mother and Babe Are Saved From Car In 40 ft. of Water

Special to The Advertiser.

Windsor, Sept. 24.—Rescued from a closed car that had dropped from the Windsor ferry dock into 40 feet of water, Mrs. William Garlick and her two-year-old daughter, Beatrice, were little the worse for their adventure tonight.

The accident happened at the foot of Ferry steet late this afternoon. Mrs. aGrlick's presence of mind and the prompt action of her husband and three other witnesses of the accident, are responsible for there being no deaths.

Mrs. Garlick's presence of mind and her way through an open window to the surface of the water. Her husband, who dived into the river at almost the same instant as the car, saved the baby through the same window.

Mrs. Garlick was able to make two-week vacation touring Western Ontario, and were on their way home. At the dock, Garlick parked the car while he entered the customs house. Returning to the machine he cranked it, and it immediately rolled off the dock into the river. The mother and baby, except for a slight shock, were none the worse for the accident. The car is still at the bottom of the river.

Miss Emma Whitwell of Ingersoll was painfully injured in an automobile accident at the corner of York and Burwell streets yesterday afternoon.

Two cars, one belonging to John Williams of Ingersoll, with whom Miss Whitwell was riding, and the other driven by J. M. Totten, 14 Brighton street, collided.

Miss Whitwell was cut by flying glass, and she was rushed to Victoria Hospital by Dr. Nelson George, where it was found that she was not severely injured, and was allowed to go home.

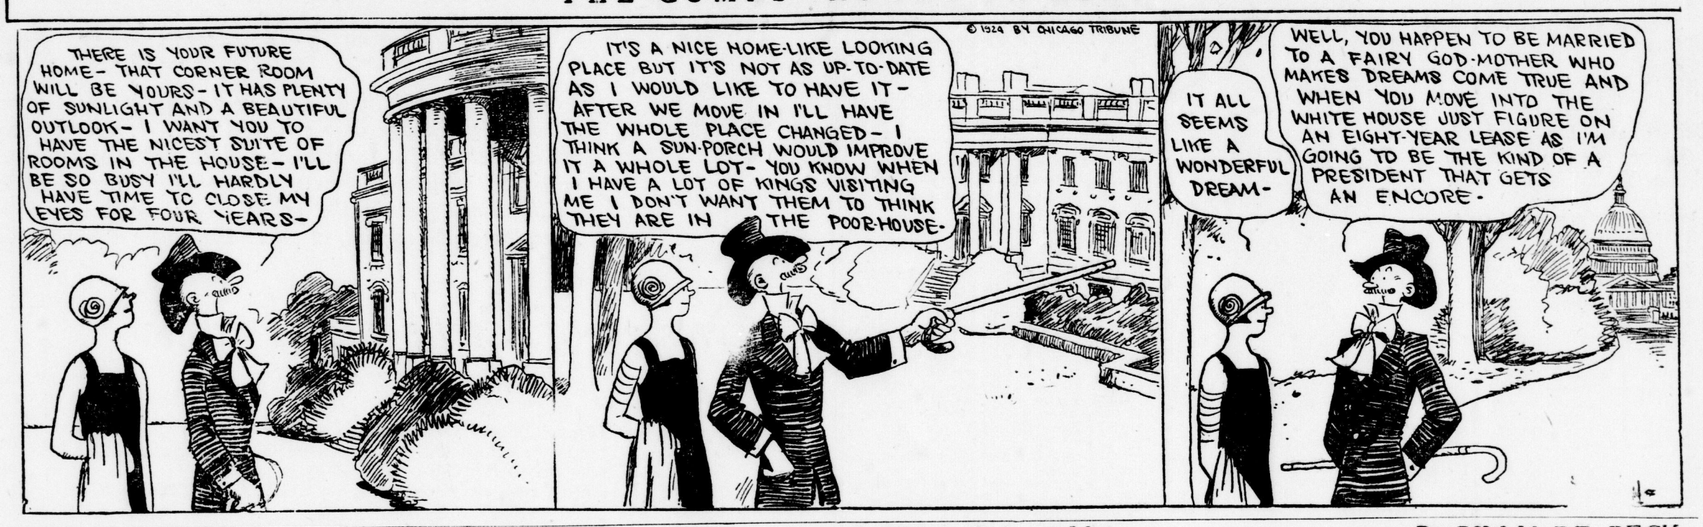

Both cars were wrecked.

NO DOUBT OF IT.

Young Hopeful—"Say, dad, write me a check for fifty, and I'll be everlastingly indebted to you."

Wise Pa—"Yes, my son, I'm sure of that."

The Reason.

Schuyler—"No; his wife is on a diet."

Modern Improvements.

Crabshaw—"So you made a hit in school today when the teacher asked you to spell Schenectady? How did you spell it?"

Willie—"WGY."

As in a Looking Glass.

Modern daughter to her bald-headed father—"Lean over this way a little papa, I want to see if my nose needs powder."

Spurned.

Up the familiar path I go,
And tap upon your door;
Alas! You will not heed my woe;
You bid me come no more!

I write you loving letters penned
With tears!—In travail born!
Ah, me! Each humble line I send,
You treat with utter scorn!

And must I always plead in vain?
Be ever answered nay?
Beware! The lowliest worm is fain
To face about some day!

Ay! Then in words that flame and burn,
I'll boldly say to you:
"Unless you pay your bill, we'll turn
The gas off till you do!"

A Vital Question in the Case.

Judge—"Witness, tell this jury your opinion, if any, of what bearing, if bearing it may be called, the extreme cost of cosmetics has on this particular case?"

Witness—"Yes sir—I seen it myself, judge."

IN REVERSE.

The Soda Clerk and the Flapper.

"A chocolate eclair and a strawberry soda, please."

"Say, don't you ever eat anything substantial?"

"Yes; thanks for the invitation."

"Don't kid yourself. I'm not so dumb as you look. I'm no table—nobody eats on me."

"Is that so? Well I was only trying to call your bluff. I couldn't accept your invitation, even if it were O.K."

"How come?"

"I have more important engagement."

"What are you doing tonight, forments."

"Who wants to know?"

"A friend of mine."

"Well, tell him I am enrolling in several evening courses at the Extension University this evening, and my evenings will be taken up from now on."

"You don't mean to tell me!"

"I do."

"You don't happen to be taking a course labeled 'Applied Psychology,' do you?"

"I do. But what is that to you?"

A lot. I'm giving the course."

In Exact Terms.

He's a friend I praise with vim—
Friends like that I ask of Fate.
Much it is I owe to him—
Ninety dollars up to date!

Forestalled.

Ted—"As she told you she'd never marry, why don't you try to get her to change her mind?"

Ned—"It's no use now, my boy. That old rival of mine has done it."

DOCTOR ADVISED AN OPERATION

Read Alberta Woman's Experience With Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Provost, Alberta.—"Perhaps you will remember sending me one of your books a year ago. I was in a bad condition and would suffer awful pains at times and could not do anything. The doctor said I could not have children unless I went under an operation. I read testimonials of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the papers and a friend recommended me to take it. After taking three bottles I became much better and now I have a bonny baby girl four months old. I do my housework and help a little with the chores. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and am willing for you to use this testimonial letter."—Mrs. A. A. ADAMS, Box 54, Provost, Alberta.

Pains in Left Side

Lachine, Quebec.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I suffered with pains in my left side and back and with weakness and other troubles women so often have. I was this way about six months. I saw the Vegetable Compound advertised in the 'Montreal Standard' and I have taken four bottles of it. I was a very sick woman and I feel so much better I would not be without it. I also use Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I recommend the medicines to my friends and am willing for you to use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. M. W. ROSE, 580 Notre Dame St., Lachine, Quebec.

Bridgeport Man Crashed Into Auto Tuesday Night—On Way Home.

Special to The Advertiser.

Kitchener, Sept. 24.—As a result of being thrown to the pavement in a collision between his bicycle and an automobile driven by Allen Shoemaker of this city on Tuesday night at the corner of Lancaster and Wellington streets, Alfred Pearson of Bridgeport died in the Kitchener and Waterloo Hospital here today.

Pearson was on his way to Bridgeport from his work at the Merchants Rubber Company, and had just turned upon Lancaster street when the tragedy occurred. It is believed that Pearson cut the corner rather sharply and both men ran into each other in trying to avoid a collision. Pearson suffered from concussion of the brain, severe scalp lacerations, a dislocated hip and several fractured ribs.

Mr. Pearson, who was 47 years of age, was born in England and came to Canada fifteen years ago. At present his wife and one daughter are visiting his mother-in-law in England. He has one daughter in Kitchener.

The coroner's jury met tonight in the city hall, and after viewing the body adjourned until Tuesday, Sept. 30.

TO MAKE THE WORLD HAPPIER IS OBJECTIVE OF LIONS CLUBS

Keen Interest Shown by Members in Aim To Assist Needy.

HOLD BIG BANQUET

Officers and District Representatives Meet in Tecumseh House To Discuss Problems.

Meeting for discussion of the immediate objectives in their work, the presidents, secretaries and district representatives of the Lions Clubs of Ontario met in conference at the Tecumseh Hotel yesterday afternoon at 2:30.

District Governor Fred Avery of St. Catherines presided. In his opening remarks he spoke of the extension of the work throughout the province by the formation of new clubs, for the strengthening of the existing bodies and the formation of an advisory district council.

Another point brought up was the preparation of a report and recommendations for submission to the meeting of the inter-board of directors to be held in Toronto next week.

There was a full discussion of the problems which lasted until 5:30.

The preliminary report on extension work was read and was regarded as encouraging. The clubs are pledged to double the number of Lions' Clubs in Ontario during the coming year. H. L. Cummings of St. Catharines, district secretary for Ontario, said that there was every indication of the objective being exceeded.

It is expected that four new clubs will be established in Northern Ontario. The older parts of the province will see about twenty more new clubs established.

The preliminary organization work has been going on in several centers, and announcements of the formation of new clubs will be made during the winter.

The members of the Lions Club of Ontario feel highly elated because the office of international president is held by Harry A. Newman, a Toronto barrister.

The meeting at Toronto next week is a unique occasion in the history of community service, said Mr. Cummings. Lionism is now represented by over 800 clubs with a membership of approximately 50,000 in Canada and the United States.

Appoint Officers.

Conferences are held quarterly. There are no established dates for the sessions, and the cities best suited to the occasion are chosen for the meetings. The date and place for the next quarterly meeting has not yet been decided upon. The present conference occupied one day only.

The following officers were present: Fred Avery, president of St. Catharines; Frank Barrett, president of the London Club; Alex Morrison, secretary; Colonel Graham, past district governor, and J. F. Griffin of London; Dr. Angus Campbell and J. H. Hughes, district representative of Toronto; A. E. Jarvis, secretary of Montreal; Dr. Dawson, president of Ottawa Club; Charles Lee, president, and Douglas Brown, secretary of the Goderich Club; Percy Brooks, president, and Ross Clemens secretary of Hamilton Club; W. McWaddell, president, and J. D. Geddes, secretary of the Strathroy Club; F. C. Cordick, president of the St. Catharines Club; H. L. Cummings, district secretary of Ontario; Arthur Brookwell, international headquarters, Chicago, who will be field organizer for Ontario.

In the chivalrous days of the middle ages knights went forth to battle. They returned from the field with a token of what they had accomplished. The pledge was sometimes laid at the feet of a lady whose favor was desired. It represented service.

Evolution changes the ideas of men. Service is now expressed in many forms. The founders of the Lions Club saw the service which could be effected through Lionism: that through the co-operation of the good citizens who belong to the clubs, a service to mankind could be manifested.

The words of Fred Avery are in essence the expression of the spirit and ideals of the Lions movement. Their efforts to make the world a happier home for all are based on a service of which co-operation is the keynote.

Following their business meetings at the Tecumseh Hotel yesterday afternoon, 100 representatives of the officers and members of the international movement sat down to dinner at the Tecumseh Hotel.

Keen Spirit Evident.

Colonel Graham, who occupied the chair, said that the business of the day was at an end, the evening was to be given to enjoyment. Sparkling wit, a song and a chorus, selections by the Lions orchestra, a visit of merry masqueraders from the Kiwanis friends and brilliant speeches, made the evening one of the happiest of Lions functions.

Beneath it was evident also the keen spirit which is uppermost in the minds of the members. They spoke of their fun; of their boyish pranks which livened their meetings, but they emphasized that they had a duty and constantly reminded one another that their pledges to each other nationally and internationally must be fulfilled.

Arthur Brookwell, Chicago, international headquarters representative, field organizer in Canada, spoke of the work of forming new clubs in Sault Ste. Marie, Sudbury, North Bay and St. Ignace.

Mr. Avery said that all peopl eare idealistic in some respects. They turn to different lines for the expression of it. The Lions turn, as do the Kiwanians and the Rotarians, to making others happy. To go forward in helping the crippled children; to aid the unfortunate youth of the land; to see that the under-nourished child of today is the strong adult of tomorrow.

International President Harry Newman of Toonto spoke of the international goodwill which was brought about by the intermingling with the fellows in the great republic to the south. He drew attention to the work that was being done for the blind, and of further plans under way for their help.

Make Presentation.

The spirit of Lionism was well demonstrated when Colonel Graham was presented with a beautiful set of silver service, a token of the splendid work he had accomplished in the interests of the provinces of Ontario and Quebec while district governor.

In his reply the full feeling of brotherhood, which is behind his club, was manifested.

Mayor Wenige said he liked to be mayor because he met such nice people.

Other speakers were Frank Barrett, president of the Lions Club; George Spotton of Wingham, a three-days old cub; Percy Brooks of Hamilton who invited them all to his town; Tom Yull, president of the Kiwanians, who brought flowers surmounted with the Union Jack and Old Glory; Charles Crosby, "The oldest living lion," who presented the flowers to Charles Plewman; Dr. Wiley of Windsor, and Lion Dr. Watson of Ottawa; Lion MacWaddell of Strathroy, and Dr. Lee of Goderich. J. H. Saunders, president of the Western Fair, was unable to be present except for a moment on account of another meeting.

Pudneys' Lions Orchestra played several selections varied with songs. Scotty MacCullough entertained with vocal selection, accompanied by Reg. Hodgins at the piano. Lion Percy King brought a splendid voice to add to the Lions' own talent.

DR. R. J. HOTHAM,

dentist, of Saskatoon, Sask., whose body was found beneath his car, and a gun, with which he evidently ended his life, lying beside him. He had been missing from his home since Sept. 14, and a country-wide search was made.

U. S. WORLD AVIATORS WILL RECEIVE PURSES

Pacific Coast Towns Busy Preparing Reward For Successful Fliers.

By L. C. OWEN.
Special to The Advertiser.
Copyright.

San Francisco, Sept. 24.—Being a round-the-world flyer or a "dawn to dusk" aerial navigator is productive of something besides glory and adulation from the multitudes. Such feats also have their pecuniary emoluments.

The whole Pacific coast from San Diego to Seattle right now is being called upon to remember the former much-used war slogan, "Dig till it hurts," in order that Lieutenants Lowell H. Smith, Leigh Wade and Erik Nelson may find a sizable "pot of gold" at the end of the figurative rainbow which they have just chased around the world.

Just how much the intrepid army flyers will receive from the admiring public in the galaxy of Pacific Coast cities where the gift funds are being gotten together is problematical as yet, but it is certain that the total will run well into six figures. Various cities are raising large funds for their benefit.

PAVED ROAD RECORD MADE, HENRY DECLARES

Toronto, Sept. 24.—More paved road has been laid this year in Ontario than ever before, it was stated by Hon. G. S. Henry, minister of public works, in a speech to the Electric Club today. He dealt with the problem of motor traffic and outlined the provincial government's roads program.

CANDLESTICKS PRESENTED.

Palmerston, Sept. 24.—A very pleasing event took place on Tuesday at the regular meeting of Knox Church Ladies' Aid when a presentation was made to Mrs. H. E. McEwing. Mrs. George Hamilton, president, expressed regret at the loss to their organization through Mrs McEwing's intended departure for London, and presented her with a pair of silver candlesticks as a token of esteem. Mrs. McEwing made a suitable reply thanking the ladies for their remembrances.

PEOPLE TO BLAME FOR BOOTLEGGING

Bishop Avers Purchasers of Liquor Responsible For Illicit Sale.

STATUTES IGNORED

"A pessimist is a man that of two evils always chooses both," Rt. Rev. J. A. Richardson, bishop of Fredericton, N.B., said before the Women's Canadian Club.

"Salvation doesn't mean saving our own wretched souls. It means service.

"The most effective power to overcome social evils today is the power of womanhood.

"It is the women of the world who are feeding the hungry and ministering to the sick.

"The purse is usually on the man's side, but it is the personality with which woman distributes hospitality, which counts most.

"The collective good is a greater thing than individual liking.

"The trend of modern times is challenging the position occupied by motherhood.

"The real power of modern progress is not legislation but the power of high principals and truth.

"Citizenship is not a thing of country or community. It is an organic relationship, a corporate entity. The true citizen lives his life always bearing in mind how it will affect those about him."

Concerns All As Citizens.

With such a wealth of forcible sayings did the Bishop of Fredricton bring his pleas for a better citizenship before the members of the Women's Canadian Club in the Central Collegiate Institute yesterday afternoon. Citizenship, he said, was not a matter of rights for the individual, but rather service for the whole community.

"It is not a thing of country and community," he declared. "It is an organic relationship, a corporate entity, and it follows that everything that concerns one citizen concerns all others. We must think internationally and take in the whole world, for the collective good is a greater thing than individual liking."

"The will of the community ought to be obeyed by the true citizen. It is a strange thing, yet true, that the average person has a very deep contempt for the keeping of the law. It is quite a common thing for a motorist to speak proudly of being "pinched."

People Condemn O. T. A.

"People are condemning the O. T. A. because it had made the bootlegger. It is not the O. T. A. which has made the bootlegger, but the people themselves who will not obey the law.

"If we do not agree with the O. T. A. we should try to break it down. But as long as it is the law, I say most distinctly that we are not being true citizens unless we obey it. Don't get away with the idea that I am not a prohibitionist, I am. Yet let me say that I believe the real power of modern progress is not legislation but right principles and truth."

The speaker referred to the trend of modern times and its challenge to the position occupied by motherhood and home-making.

"It is the women of the world who are feeding the hungry and ministering to the sick. The women of the world are distributing its hospitality, for although the purse is usually on the man's side, the personality, which counts most, belongs to the woman. Therefore, it is to women that the world is looking for a better citizenship. And women must measure up.

"The very fact of a lower birth-rate indicates the trend of modern life. Yet the real danger to the community is not in the lower birthrate, but in the fact that motherhood is gradually being left to a class of the community which is intellectually and morally least fitted for that important task. Citizenship must be built on a worthy motherhood and faith in God."

Mrs. Frank White occupied the chair in the absence of the president, Mrs.. F. W. Hughes.

WESTERN DENTIST IS THOUGHT A SUICIDE

Canadian Press Despatch.

Saskatoon, Sask., Sept. 24.—With his brains blown out by the discharge of a shotgun, Dr. Richard I. Hotham, 28-year-old Saskatoon dentist, missing since Sunday, Sept. 14, was found lying partially beneath his automobile in a clump of bushes a mile and a half west of the city this afternoon. Dr. Hotham had apparently driven his car into the trees and taken his life. His features were hardly recognizable, but his clothing, personal papers and his car completed the identification.

"Worth $100 to Me Relieved Eczema and Piles"

Mrs. Peter A. Palmer, Saltburn, Sask., writes:

"Dr. Chase's Ointment has completely relieved me of eczema and piles. I also used this Ointment for my baby, who broke out in eczema. A few applications were all that was necessary in her case. Dr. Chase's Ointment has been worth a hundred dollars to me,—before using it I had spent a great deal more than that in unsuccessful treatment from doctors. We have also used Dr. Chase's other medicines, the Nerve Food having restored my health after suffering from severe nerve trouble when a girl."
