STRATFORD SAFE-BLOWING.

The Crackmen Were Unable to Open the Door.

Stratford, June 30.—An attempt was made yesterday to blow open the safe of the Perth Flax & Cordage Co., but fortunately it was unsuccessful. When Mr. Holmes, the manager, went to the office he found a cotton fuse partly burnt lying on the floor beside the safe, and a crack along the bottom of the safe door was plugged up with soap. When the safe was opened it was found that the interior was pretty badly smashed. Chief McCarthy investigated the case, and is of the opinion that nitro-glycerine was used. He thinks the would-be burglars were no novices at the work, though they met with failure in this instance. There is no clue. There was little money in the safe.

THE ST. CATHARINES FIRE.

Loss on the Carpet Works About $45,000—The Insurance.

St. Catharines, June 30.—The Empire carpet works were entirely destroyed. Mr. Thomas Etherington, manager, stated that so far as he could learn the origin of the fire was a mystery, unless it started in the dyeing room from spontaneous combustion. A large quantity of new stock, placed in the main warehouses of the factory on Friday last, was an utter loss. In the storehouse, a little east of the factory, was a large quantity of yarn. The damage to this was slight and was caused by water. There were 65 hands employed in the factory. The total loss is about $45,000, while there is $45,000 or $50,000 insurance. The following companies are interested: Alliance, Commercial Union, Queen, Sun, Caledonian and others. The amounts in each have not been given out yet.

BRANTFORD GIRL KILLED.

Miss Myrtle Lacey Run Down by a Train.

Brantford, June 30.—Myrtle Lacey, a 22-year-old girl, who lived with her widowed mother at 121 Oxford street, was struck and fatally injured by the engine of a Grand Trunk gravel train at a crossing here yesterday. She was slightly deaf, and it is supposed that she did not see the train. She was taken to the hospital in the ambulance, but died a few minutes after reaching there. An inquest will be held.

MAYOR McKEOUGH WELCOMES VISITING DENTAL ASSOCIATION

Second Annual Convention Opens in Chatham this Afternoon—Many Guests Present—Dr. Thornton Presides.

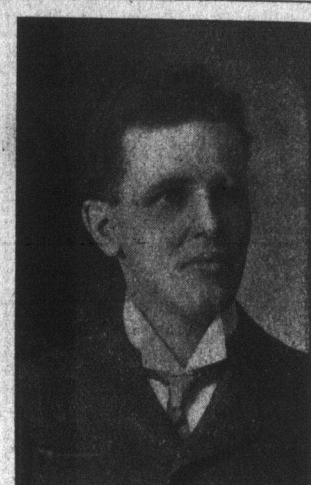

The second annual convention of the Western Ontario Dental Association opened this afternoon in the Oddfellows' Auditorium. Dr. A. W. Thornton, the president of the association, was in the chair and there were a large number of guests present.

The convention was billed to open at 2.30 but owing to the lateness of the trains bearing the visitors an hour was lost.

His worship, Mayor McKeough, who was greeted with hearty applause, delivered the address of welcome. His worship said in part:—

Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the Western Ontario Dental Association, in welcoming you to our city, I may say that we are pleased that you selected Chatham as your place of meeting for 1903. We are always delighted to extend the right hand of fellowship to the strangers who enter our gates and when they represent an association such as yours the pleasure of the welcoming is only equalled by the sense of pride experienced in being considered worthy of the distinction you confer upon us in selecting the Maple City for the seat of your deliberations. I trust your visit to Chatham will be a pleasant one and I ance. He was forced to take the steps he had for the sake of the good name and honor of the Regiment. Had it been a personal matter, he would not have taken any notice of the band. They didn't deserve it.

The Colonel took particular pains to point out that his remarks on Sunday referred in no way whatever to the bugle band. They had always been loyal to the Regiment and had been treated shabbily in many ways while the brass band had received all the favors. The Colonel's speech was punctuated with cheers and applause and, when he concluded, he was given three hearty cheers by the soldiers and a similar tribute was paid the bugle band.

The soldiers paraded with only the bugle band last night. After the drill the members of the band were on King street gathered in knots discussing their troubles till a late hour.

THE COLONEL SPEAKS.

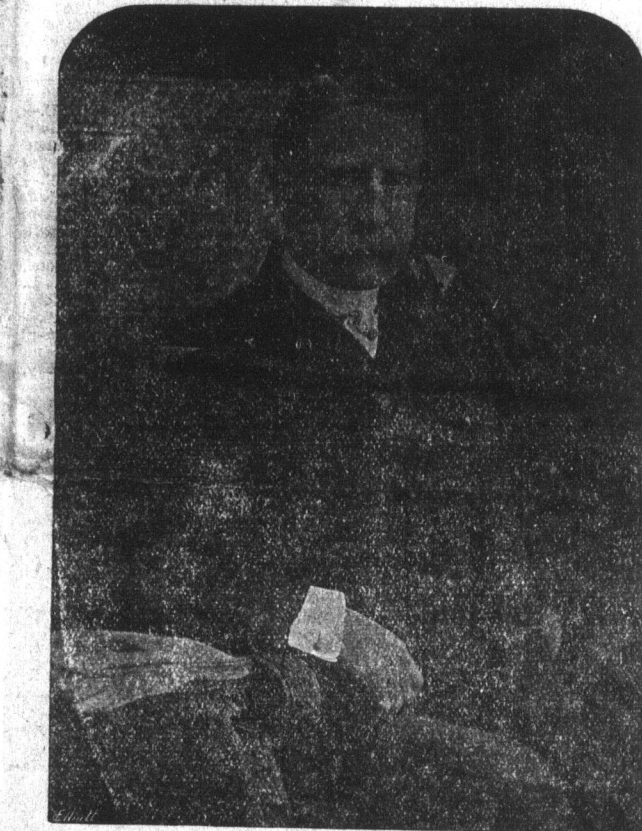

Colonel Rankin, K. C., was seen today by The Planet:

"I am very sorry this has happened," said the popular commanding officer of the 24th. "I would be the last man in Chatham to hurt one of the band boys and I would not do a thing to hinder either their advancement in music or in their daily associations, but ungentlemanly and unsoldierly conduct I cannot tolerate. Had the band turned out in uniform last night according to orders, nothing would have been said or done in regard to anything that had happened prior to that date, but when the band turned out in civilian clothes in defiance of orders and for the purpose of casting discredit on the men in the ranks and the bugle band because they expected the District Commanding Officer here to inspect the Regiment, their conduct could not be tolerated, and in justice to the Regiment I had to act."

"The trouble in the band has been caused by a clique consisting of one or more, and there are three whom I wouldn't have in the band again under any consideration. I asked Bandmaster Harry Philp and Sergeant Maisonneville to see me last night. They refused. I wanted to tell them that if they agreed to let me know who in the band were at the bottom of the trouble, so that an example could be made of them, the others would be permitted to come back after apologizing for their conduct. There are two or three of the bandmen whom I would not have back under any consideration. They were the cause of all the trouble. I don't like the idea of injuring the young men as bandmen, particularly when I know that the disturbing element in the band was the cause. The reason I dealt with the band as a whole was because they all turned out in civilian clothes to bring the Regiment into disrepute and the inspecting officer been present, and in doing so they took the part of those who were dissatisfied and had acted so ungentlemanly and unsoldierly on Sunday."

"Any person, however, dismissed from the Regiment by regimental orders is out of the battalion for good, and no consideration whatever could be given his name, were it at any time suggested either as bandman or as a private."

Colonel Rankin spoke very kindly and appreciatively of the services of Bandmaster Harry C. Philp and Sergeant Maisonneville. He states that he does not hold them in any way responsible for the unpleasantness and trouble in the band. The Planet called on Bandmaster H. C. Philp this afternoon and sought an interview. Mr. Philp, however, said he had nothing to say at present.

THE 24TH REGIMENTAL BAND DISCIPLINED AND DISMISSED

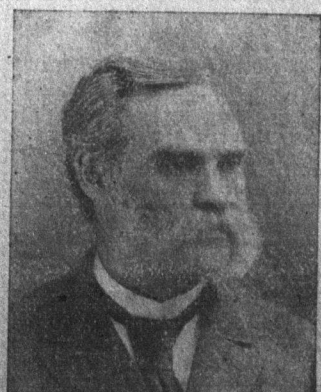

Signed Members Reduced to the Ranks and Others Expelled from the Battalion—Colonel Rankin's Announcement Greeted by Applause from the Soldiers—Bugle Band and Colonel Accorded Three Cheers—New Band to be Organized—An Unfortunate Occurrence.

This morning there was no band in the Maple City and Chatham that had been so proud of her musical organization now has none.

Last evening Colonel Rankin reduced the members of the 24th Regiment to the ranks and took away their instruments. The bandmen were angry as a result of Colonel Rankin's speech on Sunday which he sharply reprimanded the band for their disregard of military orders.

All day Monday they were expressing their disapproval and last night at drill those who had not been out Sunday turned up in civilian clothes to endorse the action of the band on Sunday. Colonel Rankin commanded that they be sent to the orderly room. After recounting and expressing his opinion of their violation of military orders, Colonel Rankin expelled those who had not taken the oath, ordered the others reduced to the ranks and took the instruments and uniforms away from the band. Before dismissing the soldiers, Colonel Rankin addressed his men and told them what he had done. The cheers and enthusiasm with which the Colonel was greeted showed the high esteem in which the commanding officer of the 24th Kent Regiment is held, and that the soldiers approved most heartily of his action.

The Colonel stated that the trouble in the band had been caused largely by their jealousy of the bugle band. This had been in evidence for some time, but the first outbreak had occurred on the occasion of the trip of the Regiment to St. Thomas. The brass band on that occasion had refused to wear helmets. The Colonel would have dispensed with helmets for the sake of the band, but it was a brigade order and he was compelled to enforce it. Then, after parade night had been changed for the benefit of the band, they left the Regiment last Thursday and went over to McKeough school without ever asking leave. Then at Sunday church parade only nineteen of the thirty-two members showed up. Of the nineteen, six dropped out at the church door to go for their breakfast and others didn't go into church. This was an exhibition of want of respect for the sanctity of the church that the Colonel could not counten-

My heart palpitated, I had faint and dizzy spells and felt weak and nervous all the time. My husband got me a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills but I told him it was no use, that I had given up hope of ever being cured. WHEN BOYS WERE MEN

There was at least one duty of the expedition remaining in which Brainard shouldn't get ahead of me. I took those prisoners under guard down to the brush but where our company cook had been installed and I provided them with a big breakfast. To my delight, they enjoyed our white bread and cold corned beef as heartily as I had enjoyed their bacon and corn bread three months before. As to coffee, they nearly emptied the half kettle that had been standing since our own boys had been served half an hour before. When he could drink no more, my own special prisoner caressed the place where he had put the coffee, gazed at me plaintively at the kettle and remarked:
"There's always some good luck can be dug out of trouble of you'll look at it right. Here I am a prisoner ag'in; but,
on t'other hand, I'll have genuine, sure 'nough coffee twice a mill I'll exchange ag'in. Um-m-m!"

CHAPTER XV.

ON PICKET. AFTER mature deliberation upon samples of all sorts of military service that falls to the lot of cavalry soldiers we recruits
agreed that picket duty suited us better than anything else. To be an actual picket was not pleasant when one's turn of duty came during a driving rain or in the middle of a dark night, but in ordinary weather and at decent hours it was quite pleasant to sit on horseback at crossroads, look about the country and chat with such farmers as had passes enabling them to visit the town. Northern and southern farmers were radically unlike each other in some respects during the war, but they were exactly alike in their willingness to rein up and have a long chat with a stranger. I found the average Virginia farmer had quite as large a bump of curiosity as his northern brother, and generally he was able to absorb all the family history that a Yankee soldier might care to unload.

It was great fun for me to be on post on a prominent road at daybreak, for the chances were that a large detachment of fugitive slaves would come in. How these people managed to travel 30 or 40 miles without being seen and hounded back by the enemy's scouts I never could understand, for instead of coming singly they would travel in large bodies, all the men, women and children leaving a plantation together and not separating during the trip. Any one would imagine they would be discovered, for they always dressed in their best when they started toward us, and the colors of some of their clothing were as startling as the plumage of a tropical bird, besides being more variegated, but they never complained of having been annoyed while en route. Another mystery was their knowledge as to where to find our lines and just where to halt to wait for daylight. They were not always received in the spirit of the emancipation proclamation. Some of our fellows were in mortal fear of "bigger equality," so they would order the fugitives to return to their masters.

"Yas'r," would be the usual reply, and the entire gang would retrace their steps until they reached a friendly screen of trees. No sooner would the man on post be changed than the crowd would come plodding back. As one old leader told me one day:

"We've ben tole ter keep a-tryin,
'cause some sojer or udder would let us in some time or udder."

There was nothing funny about these colored people unless it was their extreme gravity. They weren't even excitable. They didn't throw up their hands and thank the Lord that at last they were on freedom's soil. They seldom laughed, and as for joking, one could get as much response from an oak stump as from the brightest of them. They apparently knew just where to come and just what to expect. In fact, I afterward learned from one of them that for 50 miles around us the slaves were thoroughly informed about each post and its treatment of contrabands. They said there were plenty of colored news carriers and yet in nearly a year of prowling about the woods between the lines I never slave hunters of old.

$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN

WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

So uniformly successful has Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription proved in all forms of Female Weakness, Protrusion, or Falling of Womb, and Leucorrhoea, that, after over a third of a century's experience in curing the worst cases of these distressing and debilitating ailments, Dr. Pierce now feels fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in cash for any case of these diseases which he cannot cure.

IT STANDS ALONE.—The "Favorite Prescription" stands alone, as the one and only remedy for these distressingly common forms of weakness, possessed of such positively specific curative properties as to warrant its makers in proposing, and binding themselves to forfeit, as we, the undesignated proprietors of that wonderful remedy hereby do, to the sum of $500 in legal money of the United States in any one of the above diseases, if cured by our fair and reasonable trial of our treatment, we fail to cure. No other medicine for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments is backed by such a remarkable guarantee; no other medicine for woman's ills is possessed of the unparalleled curative properties that would warrant its manufacturers in making such an offer; no other remedy has such a record of cures on which to base such a remarkable offer.

Therefore, having Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and turn your back on any unscrupulous dealer who would insult your intelligence by attempting to foist upon you a worthless substitute, under the plea that "it is just as good." Insist on having the article which has a record of a third of a century of cures and which is backed by the guarantee that if it cannot cure you.

In cases attended by a leucorrhoeal drain, a solution of Dr. Pierce's Lotion Tablets should be used conjointly with the use of the "Favorite Prescription." They are sold by all druggists, or sent post-paid to any address, on receipt of 25 cents in stamps.

The special delight of picket service, however, was the privilege of visiting the few white natives who lived nearby. All of them professed to be Unionists; all, I believe, were earnest Confederates, but it was policy for them not to allow any harm to befall a Union soldier who visited them. So we never feared that we would be captured by skulking Confederates, much less shot while in a native's house. To tell the truth, I think most of us were about as welcome as we would have been in any farming community at the north. We could generally tell them about much that was going on in the world, thanks to our steady supply of newspapers; we could give them an occasional book or magazine, but had we only our presence to offer it was gratifying to the people, nearly all of whose own men were in the Confederate army and whose women did not dare to exchange visits over roads where they might at any time encounter marching troops.

At most of the native houses there were girls, and each girl had about 500 adores in our regiment alone, as well as an equal number in other cavalry regiments at our post. There was little or no love-making. No man dared abstain himself long enough from the picket reserve to attend to business of so serious a nature, nor could he easily find opportunity to speak to a damsel alone. If father or mother or grandparents chanced to be out of the room for a moment, some other trooper was almost sure to be present. This was misery for sentimental young men of the class that regards love-making as an absolute necessity of daily life.

There was great fun, however, in the girls. Not one of them would have married a Yankee had he been Apollo and Croesus combined, but it wasn't unpleasant to get an adoring, heartbroken glance from one not unhandsome fellow after another and to realize that all the sufferers were from the enemy's ranks. I used to imagine, probably correctly, that the southern girls looked prettier and more vivacious when we appeared than they possibly could do at the humdrum routine of housework. Most of them had lost their slaves, in the usual manner, before our town became a military post, and they would remind us of this when anything in the house seemed to them to lack proper attention or when they invited us to sit down with the family to a dinner or supper, which they used to give us what they would have given us in other days. They got so many compliments, however—some awkward, but all honest—on the skill of pretty hands and heads that I don't doubt one of them told the truth when she said to me in a burst of confidence that she was more than half glad that the house servants had run away and given her and her mother a chance to have things just as they wanted them.
Some of these southern girls asked innumerable questions about the duties and diversions of our mothers and sisters, and they heard enough to make them open their pretty eyes in wonder.

But all this had nothing to do with love. As was natural to suppose, and as we afterward learned, each of the girls was already engaged to some good or bad fellow in the Confederate army.
Their hearts were already disposed of,
so they could laugh at all would be suits and break hearts cheerily with the sublime consolation that they were weakening the enemy in one of his most vulnerable points. Their manner was as proper as that of any northern girl, as the more impudent of our fellows discovered when they proposed a kiss at the door. The experience of one of these fellows was quite interesting to every one but himself. He was so handsome that he had made great havoc among feminine hearts at home and had come to regard himself as irresistible. He asked a little Virginian, pretty enough to break the heart of an anchorite, for a kiss, but she replied:

The reeve submitted the following report:

In the matter of the Shamblean shortage in the county of Kent, which was referred to me with power, I beg leave to report as follows: You are aware that the principal due the township of Raleigh from the county was $2642.08 and the interest on this sum is about $722. After consulting with our representatives, Messrs. Ch-nick and Galt they brought the matter before the County Council, asking for principal and interest. —Mr. Ross, of Tilbury, and the warden were with them, and after a lot of hard fighting the matter was finally referred to a committee to pay the principal at once and the interest as soon as they can have it properly adjusted.

The treasurer reported that he had received $3642.08 from the county treasurer as arrears of taxes not accounted for by the late county treasurer; also $70 from T. C. McNabb, license inspector. Report adopted.

The reeve and Mr. Randall submitted the following report in the matter of asking aid for the Pike drainage works beg leave to report as follows:

After going over the Drainage Aid act of 1900, chap. 6, which says the application shall be by way of a petition and shall set forth the engineer's report on the proposed work after adoption by the council initiating the work, the assessments upon the lands interested therein or affected thereby and the cash value of the lands so assessed and in parcels as described by the engineer in making his assessment, and such petition shall be verified by the statutory declaration of the engineer employed by such municipality to make the report, and a field plan of the proposed work shall be furnished with the petition; as we could not at the present time comply with the requirements of the act and were unable to find any precedent for our case and after consultation with P. D. McKel-lar, the main petitioner, and T. L.
Pardo, M.P.P., we have come to the conclusion that it would be useless to go to Toronto and ask for aid, therefore we recommend that nothing further be done with the petition.— Adopted.

The reeve reported that about two rods of the road to the beach at the Burns' sidroad was claimed to be upon the D. Clute Bros' property and that they were charging twenty-five cents a load for sand and gravel taken from the beach. He had notified the pathmasters to take as much gravel off the beach as they wanted and not pay D. Clute anything for it if used for township purposes and the township would protect them.—Action of reeve in the matter approved by the council.

Thomas Mason asked for some plank ferred to the clerk to ascertain if said ditch was originally constructed under the Drainage act.

Randall—Irwin, that whereas the commissioner of the Shadd drain in 1901 had agreed to pay John Leacock, the owner of lot 4, con. A, $10 in lieu of a bridge over said drain and having neglected to pay the same, he resolved that the said amount be paid Mr. Leacock upon him signing an agreement to construct said bridge, and keep the same in repair until the drain is again repaired by the report of an engineer.—Carried.

BLOOD POISON

On account of its terrible effects, blood disease is called the king of all diseases.
It may be either hereditary or contracted; and while it may be a crime to have the disease, it is a crime to permit it to remain in the system. It may manifest itself in the form of Scrofula, Eczema, rheumatic pains, stiff or swollen joints, itchiness of the skin, eruptions or blotches, ulcers in the mouth or on the tongue, sore throat, falling out of hair, disordered stomach, and a general depression of the system. If you have any of these symptoms don't neglect yourself. You have no time to lose. Beware of "old fogey" treatment—Beware of mineral poisons—Beware of Quacks and Fakirs. OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT is guaranteed to cure this disease, never to return. Bank Bonds will protect you.
Our treatment is not injurious in any way, but reaches the very root of the disease and eliminates all poison from the system. The symptoms of disease gradually disappear. The blood becomes pure and enriched, the whole system is cleansed and purified, and the patient feels prepared anew for the duties and the pleasures of life. CURE GUARANTEED OR NO PAY. 25 Years in

A PROBLEM IN PAVEMENT

City Council Seem up Against it in Connection with the Queen St. Work.

His Worship, Advocates Redress for Head Street Ratepayers—Other Civic Business.

The matter of the Queen street pavement came up again and occupied the attention of the City Council last evening.

When the petitioners asked for a brick pavement they understood that the street could be put down at $1.85 per square yard. The agent of the Dominion Paving Company wrote to the Council some time ago and offered to put the pavement down for $1.85 per square foot. When Ald. Mounteer read the letter he explained that it was not a bonafide offer.

Now when the tenders come up for the work the lowest tender is from the Dominion Paving Company for $2.08 per square yard. The residents on the street object to this high price and Messrs. Davis, Scane and Park addressed the Council.

It was understood, however, that bricks, labor and cement have advanced since the other price was offered. Some of the Council thought that they should re-advertise, some were in favor of laying the matter over until spring.

Moved by Marshall and Taylor, that the matter be left with the Board of Works.

Ald. McCaig moved an amendment, seconded by Ald. Martin, that the matter be left over for two weeks. The amendment lost and the motion carried.

Yeas on amendment—Ald. McCaig, Edmondson and Martin.
Nays—Ald. Marshall, Scullard, Mounteer and Taylor.
Mayor McKeough also brought up the matter of the grievance of the Head street ratepayers. Some time ago sand had been dumped on this street. It had caused annoyance and the Mayor thought that the rights of the ratepayers should be respected. He asked the Board of Works to have the same removed. Ald. Mounteer had understood that the sand had been removed.

Every member of the Council was present at the meeting with the exception of Ald. Piggott, who is out of town.

The property owners on Wellington road build a plank walk at their own expense from the C. P. R. to the Market.

Applications to cut down trees were referred to the chief of police.

James Lake, Robt. Lunn, A. J. Wilson and A. Faucher were relieved from dog tax.

The firemen will be given their usual holidays and uniforms.

The Industrial committee will deal with the Raleigh Oil Company who want to furnish the city with natural gas.

The Finance Committee will deal with the matter of the G. T. R. hog pens.

Ald. Mounteer gave the report of the action of the court of revision on the public improvements.

The town of Napanee offered $2,000 for the truck roller. It was decided not to sell it as it is now being used in building pavements.

The Ontario Asphalt Block Company sent their agreement which was signed by the mayor and clerk.

A complaint from S. F. White re city scales was referred to the Property committee.

The ratepayers of Queen street asked that J. H. Milton be appointed inspector of their pavement. Board of Works.

The hook and ladder in the Fire Hall and also for painting and kalsomining the inside of the sleeping rooms and apparatus rooms.

Ald. Martin's report from the Garage committee was referred back for reconsideration.

The city officials will close their offices at one o'clock during the summer months.

The M. Wilson Cordage Company will be given exemption from taxes and free franchises.

The brick pavement on Third St. will be proceeded with.

Tenders will be asked for keeping the paved streets clean.

Mayor McKeough brought up a few more items on vacant lots and hay on the cemetery road. These will be attended to.

Tenders were then opened: Asphalt block, Lacroix street—Forest City Paving Company—5 inch concrete, large blocks, $2.65; smaller blocks, $2.50. Four inch concrete, large blocks, $2.53; smaller blocks, $2.38.

QUEEN STREET BRICK PAVEMENT.
Dominion Paving Company—$2.08 per square yard, 15 cents foot for resetting curb.
Blight & Fielder—$2.12 and 15 cts.

THAMES STREET, BRICK.
Blight & Fielder—$2.23 per square yard and 64 cents for curb and gutter.

Dominion Paving Company—$2.25 and 65 cents curb and gutter.
All of the tenders were referred to the Board of Works.

The Council then adjourned until next Thursday evening.

SHAKY NERVES

Sufferers from Nervous Troubles are in a State of Continuous Torture—Suggestions as to How the Trouble Can be Overcome.

When your nerves are shaky your self-control is shattered—your will power is broken. Sudden sounds startle you; your temper is irritable; your hands tremble; there is weakness in your knees; your skin is pale and parched; you are restless at night and when you wake. It all comes from nervous exhaustion, perhaps due to overwork and worry, late hours, hot days and want of blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the only cure. They make new, rich red blood. They brace up jangled nerves and strengthen tired backs. They give health and energy to dull, weary, despondent men and women. Strong proof is offered in the case of Mrs. Wm. Westcott, of Sarnia, Ont., who says:—"For a long time my health was in a bad state. I was subject to headaches, dizziness and nervous exhaustion. My appetite was poor, and I was so badly run down I could not stand the least exertion. I tried several medicines and consulted different doctors, but they did not help me any. One of my neighbors strongly urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and before the second box was finished the turning point for the better had been reached, and by the time I had used six boxes to the surprise of my friends and neighbors I was again enjoying good health and have since been strong and well. I do not know anything equal to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills when the system is run down."

What the pills have done for others they will do for you, if you will give them a trial. Sold by all medicine dealers, or sent post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

KITCHEN CONVENIENCE.

Handy Arrangement of Sink, Refrigerator and Cooking Materials.
In ninety-nine houses out of every hundred the sink is placed 2 feet 6 or 8 inches from the floor. No one can stand erect to wash the vegetables or cleanse the dishes. The last named task is the greatest bugaboo to the housekeeper. Why? It is simply a back aching operation to be executed three times a day for 365 days a year, a total of 195 hours of labor. Multiply this by the number of years the housewife is thus generally occupied, and you have good reason to raise the standards and appliances to what they should be.

This need not be such a distressing feature of the housework if the sink is properly placed. The illustration shows a sink three feet high, basin lined with porcelain and faced with the same material. It is placed beneath a large wide window, affording abundant light in dark days and plenty of pure air in warm weather. There are no closed doors below, the plumbing being exposed to view. At the left stands the refrigerator. At the right and directly above the drain board and mixing board is a cabinet containing the pans, bowls, measuring cups, covers and all the small cooking utensils. On the opposite side of the pantry is the spice cabinet holding the spices, flavorings, tea, coffee, cereals and other prepared foods. Below this cabinet are receptacles for the flour, dried fruits, sugar, vinegar, lard and eggs. By a mere out thrust of the hand all the cooking utensils are placed before the worker. No time is lost in looking for needful articles that have been misplaced, for there is a place for everything—Good Housekeeping.

The Hot Water Bag.

In preparing the hot water bag for use boiling water should not be put in it, and neither should it be more than half filled. After the water is in it place the bag on your lap before putting in the stopper and carefully press out the steam. This makes the bag softer, as it is relieved of the pressure the steam makes. When not using the bag drain out the water, let it hang bottom side up for a little while, then take it down and with the mouth blow a little air into it, just enough to keep the inside from coming together, as it will often do if there is no air in it, in which case the bag is quite sure to be ruined in pulling it apart. If you have a bag that is stuck together put into it some hot water with a few minutes, then with a thin, dull edged piece of wood try to separate the inside very carefully. Never fold a rubber bag after it has once been used. A flannel bag for covering the rubber bag is very useful.

Table Flowers.

Nearly every housewife recognizes the necessity for having some sort of flowers or growing plants upon the table, and, however humble the attempt, something of this kind would always be successful, the bare appearance of a table without any decorations detracting from the success of even the most perfectly served repast. The simplest way to manage this is to have four small ferns at the corners of the table and one larger one in the middle, and if one chooses a hardy kind, sees that the plants are properly planted and well watered, they will last for years, especially if planted in those pierced blue and white Japanese flowerpots, which can be bought so cheaply and are ideal things in which to grow plants, the piercing allowing the water to escape and keeping the roots well drained.

Boils on Babies.

Boils are often seen in young babies. They may be caused by a low condition of the blood or by some infection from without. A frequent seat for them is the head, neck or back. If they occur where there is hair the hair must be cut very close before treatment is begun. They should be opened early and all the pus allowed to escape; then some mild antiseptic dressing, such as boric acid, should be applied. If allowed to open spontaneously the boils are apt to last longer than if lanced early.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Washing Blankets.

A Scotch woman washed a pair of blankets and they came out so soft and fleecy I was interested to find out her method. Here it is: Fill a tub with cold water into which is thrown a good handful of salt. Work the blankets thoroughly in it, but do not rub at all. Let them have a good soaking, then wash in the ordinary way. Blankets that have been badly washed may be improved by this treatment, she said, but they would never be so soft and pretty as if washed properly at first.—Exchange.

HOSTS SHOULD BEWARE.

Rev. Prof. Cody Warns Them Not to Tempt the Young.

In a discourse on temperance, taken in its broadest meaning of self-control, Rev. Prof. Cody, rector of St. Paul's Anglican Church, Toronto, recently appealed strongly to hosts and hostesses to carefully consider the possible results of the free use of alcoholic refreshments at social gatherings.

Prof. Cody defined temperance as the ruling of the body by the spirit. The doctrine of Hebraism taught that certain parts of man's nature should be governed by other parts; the doctrine of Hellenism, on the contrary, taught that all should be developed alike. The Christian ideal combined the highest elements of both principles and so produced beautiful and beneficent results. The control of the mind, he said, was one important application of temperance.

Speaking of the particular form of temperance involved in the use of alcoholic liquors, Prof. Cody said that in this matter Canada was greatly in advance of Great Britain, where the nation's industrial supremacy was actually endangered by drunkenness. The essence of this sin was in the subordination of the spirit by the flesh, and thus detracting the proper sovereignty of life. In summing up the speaker said that in the matter of drinking each individual must decide according to the dictates of his conscience. A man must think of his duty to himself, to others and to God. In the second place it was a Christian's duty to follow Paul's principle, "If meat maketh my brother to stumble, I will eat no meat while the world standeth," and let people who are tempted to take care what temptations they put in the way of the young.

No matter how it is divided there is enough of the world to go round.

Madame Gadbols a Martyr for Seventeen Years—Now Cured and Free of Pain.

"I have had Rheumatism for 17 years, and have been in bed for three months at a time from this terrible disease. I have tried many different doctors and medicines, but they did me no good at all. The pains affected the muscles in my shoulders and neck, and they were in such a chronic, painful condition that I despaired of ever getting well. At times I could not stand on my feet, the pains were so frightful. The first bottle of Munyon's Rheumatism Cure gave me great relief, and the second bottle cured me."—Madame E. Gadbols, 904 Berri street, Montreal.

"If you are sick, if you have indigestion, if you are nervous, if your liver or blood is out of order, if you have any kidney disease, if you have piles, or any ailment, ask your druggist for 'Munyon's Guide to Health.' OLD CIVIL SERVANT.

SECRETARY OF THE ONTARIO DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS.

Mr. William Edwards has just completed 55 Years of Very Active Life and still Holds His Civil Service Commission in Remarkable Vigor—Takes No Active Part in Politics, However.

Mr. William Edwards, Secretary of the Ontario Department of Public Works, completed 55 years of a very active life on Monday, May 4, 1903. "Morgan" says that Mr. Edwards was born at Bristol, Norfolk, England, May 4th, 1818, and came to Canada in 1859, settling in Toronto. For 22 years of his life he was engaged in manufacturing and commercial pursuits. For 30 years, consecutively, he was elected to and gave free service to the Toronto Mechanics' Institute, holding every office but Librarian, from the Secretaryship to the Presidency; for 14 years Secretary-Treasurer of the Toronto Electoral District Society; 15 years Secretary of the Arts and Manufactures Department of the old Provincial Agricultural and Arts Association's annual exhibition; 19 years Secretary of the Mechanics' Institutes; five years representing St. James' Ward in the City Council, and was one of the commissioners for revising and consolidating the city bylaws.

In 1858 Mr. Edwards entered the Canada Civil Service as Secretary-Treasurer of the Board of Arts and Manufactures for Upper Canada, which office he held until he entered the Ontario Civil Service at Confederation as Secretary of the Department of Agriculture and Public Works and of Immigration. On the separation of these departments in 1874 he continued as Secretary of the Department of Agriculture and Public Works—which position he still holds, in remarkable vigor for his advanced age. In 1873 the Government appointed him for a special four months' service in Great Britain, as Commissioner of Emigration. He was Secretary of the several exhibitions held in Toronto for selection of goods to represent Canada at the World's Fairs of London, Paris and Dublin.

Mr. Edwards has been a member of the Methodist Church in Toronto since the year 1840, and has held many official positions in the old George Street and Richmond Street Churches.

In politics he has always been a Reformer, but since entering the Ontario Civil Service has not taken an active part.

Governor of South Australia.

The King has approved the appointment of Mr. George Ruthven le Hunt, C.M.G., Lieutenant-Governor of British New Guinea, to be Governor of the State of South Australia. The late Governor of South Australia was Lord Timbony, who was last year raised to the rank of Governor-General of the Commonwealth of Australia. Mr. le Hunt was educated at Eton and Trinity College, Cambridge. He took his M.A. degree in 1880, and was called to the Bar of the Inner Temple in the following year. Meantime he had acted as private secretary to Sir Arthur Gordon (Lord Stanmore) in the Pacific, Resident Commissioner of Colo Viti Leon (1877) and filled sundry other positions in the colonies. He served in the Western Pacific Islands and Dominica at various times and from 1878 to 1894, when he became Colonial Secretary at Barbados. In 1897 he was appointed Colonial Secretary of Mauritius, and in 1898, Lieutenant-Governor of British New Guinea, a position from which he retired on the transference of the control of that colony to the Australian Commonwealth.

What Tommy Atkins Costs.

Some detailed information as to the cost of the British Army has been supplied by the War Office. There are 7,100 officers, and the average cost per head is £249 9s, the effective officer costing £328 17s 6d, and the non-effective officer £149 11s 6d. The cost of an effective soldier is £66 19s 7d, and the non-effective £8 12s 1d. Taking the whole Army, which is put down at 197,000 of all ranks, the average cost per head is £90 1s 1d, or in bulk £17,755,300. The Auxiliary Forces represent an expenditure of £4,548,700, of which £612,850 is for the Imperial Yeomanry. This works out an average cost of £21 2s 8d per head. The Volunteer force costs £1,721,700, which, divided among the 272,957 effective gives an average of £6 6s 2d. The net total for normal services in the Army Estimates is £27,588,000, the difference between that amount and £34,245,000 which is the total of the Estimates, being for special services which will not recur.

Facilitates Training.

The chief reason for training fruit trees with low heads is that it facilitates thinning, which can never be properly done where high topped trees are to be treated.

A WARNING TO CANADIANS.

The Globe Sounds a Timely Note About Novels That Pervert History—Four Excellent Examples Sketched.

The demand, of which much is heard nowadays, that the importation of goods and produce from the United States be restricted, might well be applied also to the tons of doubtful books, magazines and papers which the Canadian public buy from American publishers. People are evidently less particular about what they read than about the things they wear. The tools they work with, says The Toronto Globe, it is patriotic, in general, to buy Canadian-made wares, but a book or a magazine may be tolerated for its interest's sake, even if it be strongly anti-British.

The most insidious form of this alien literature is the historical novel. The history of the United States has been marked by a series of more or less stirring events which have made good copy for the writers of war stories. From this material scores of novels, some good, some only passable, and many mediocre, have been written during the past thirty or forty years, and they are still coming. These novels deal with events in which the thirteen colonies, and later the United States, were the party of the one part and Great Britain of the other. But when a novel of this kind, American in theme and point of view, circulates in Canada its fitness ceases and it becomes a source of danger to our own country. It is a natural product, and he it ever so rabidly anti-British it can be pardoned; but when it comes into British territory its alienism chafes or would chafe if we had not grown to expect and even to welcome that sort of thing.

Of recent novels one of the most open offenders in this respect is "D'ri and I," by Irving Bacheller. Its scenes are laid during the war of 1812, immediately preceding and following the naval engagements on Lake Ontario. The heroes in the story are very brave and just, and very ardent patriots; the enemy—the British—are cowardly, cruel tyrants, and inhuman. They are made the butt of ingenious trickery, a handful of Yankee recruits disposing of them once with a hose of water and again by releasing a few nests of hornets upon them. Where they do not figure on the losing side, the British are unfeeling tyrants. A Canadian soil is made the scene of a midnight torture, whose intent was to kill the two heroes, then prisoners of war. Escaping from the British clutch, they reached the southern shore not far from their own camp.

"Listening," we heard the faint, familiar strains of "Yankee Doodle." We came ashore in silence, and hugged the nearest tree, and was not able to say the "Thank God," that fell from my lips only half spoken. D'ri afterward explained the adventure, referring to the Canadian country in these terms:— "Seems so we were ashore 'bout here," said he, dropping the middle finger of his right hand in the vicinity of Quebec. "Then we traveled a-way-a-way hellswards over 'n this 'ere direction." With that illuminating remark he had slid his finger over some two hundred leagues of country from Quebec to Michigan.

This same D'ri, the real hero of the story, maintains an attitude of intense spitefulness against everything British; in the light on Perry's brig, "Lawrence," he is animated by an "Old Glory" fever in which he is so recklessly brave that the reader is taken for granted, must applaud and admire. Throughout the story is built upon the unpopular character of the British position and action, and the contrasting justice of the American campaign.

A later production, "Hearts Courageous," by H. E. Rives, goes back to the declaration of independence, when Patrick Henry, the hero of the Virginia rebellion. Here again the British are made to appear as unscrupulous ruffians, devoid of honor either as men or as soldiers. One of them, Captain Jarrett, beats an old colored woman to within an inch of her death because she will not give up a paper; another traduces the character of George Washington, and fights the inevitable duel for it. Lord Cornwallis plays a sorry part. Patrick Henry, in contrast, has the heroic role of starting the revolution, tirelessly scouring the country, inflaming the populace, opposing the bloody threats of the sinister Governor, and calling for deliverance from the bondage and oppression of the British. Another such a Jefferson, his revolutionary colleague. A French Marquis is introduced, who intrigues against the British, falls into their barbarous hands, escapes, and becomes a hero of the nobles' order. The colonial maiden, whose love affair runs through the story is ardently American, and for her love's sake suffers British indignities. A revolutionary story is this, well filled with subtle eagles.

Very similar in motive is "The Master of Apuley," by Francis Lynde, another of last year's books, whose scenes are laid in Carolina during revolutionary times. In this the British are again described as unfeeling tyrants, resorting to methods altogether fiendish. They employ Indian scouts and scalpers, and subject their captives, even helpless women, to brutal tortures. Col. Tarleton and Sir Francis Falconet, the two most prominent English officers, are arch-enemies, against whom the always-innocent American patriots wage an unequal but finally triumphant conflict. Lord Cornwallis is again a losing leader, and is made the dupe of a hero-story, for trickery on the winning side is pardonable. Few books are more plainly anti-British in sympathy than this, and few are less particular as to the terms applied to the British cause and its upholders.

"Alice Vincennes," by Maurice Thompson is a fourth example of American history-twisting in the guise of a story novel. In a book of Thompson's it may be seen

CAMBRIDGE SLANG.

Quasi Expressions Only Used at the Great 'Varsity—A New World of Letters for the Unlearned.

Before going to Cambridge a freshman had to know one or two elementary phrases only used at the 'Varsity. For instance, he is not going "down" to Cambridge, but "up," wherever he may be traveling from. He is never "in" Cambridge, but always "up." If he is leaving college for a day or two, he will tell his friends that he is going "down." He is not asked where, says Pearson's Weekly. One does not speak of a late member of the 'Varsity as having "left." He has "gone down." The first person you encounter on entering your rooms is not your landlady. She is your "bedder," which is an abbreviation of "bedmaker." In some colleges there are male bedmakers. These are known as "gryps." The custom of abbreviating words and adding the affix "er" is universal at Cambridge. One does not go to one's "lecture," but to one's "lecker." Football (Rugby or association) is, of course, as elsewhere, "footer" (rigger or soccer). The early meal is always "breakie." But there is also a purely 'Varsity meal known as "brunch." This takes place on Sunday. It is a combination of breakfast and lunch, and does duty, for both. It is taken after chapel, at about 11.30 o'clock, and men usually dispense with any other meal until the next morning.

It is well to know that you do not "live" at Cambridge, you "keep." You will be asked "where are you keeping?" when friends inquire your address. If inside your college, you tell them that you "keep in coll." You don't inquire if anyone is "dining in hall," but if they will "keep a hall." You "keep a chapel," and if you attend that of King's College, you say you are going to "keep a King's." The practice of "keeping" has passed all bounds among very slangy 'Varsity men. They do not smoke a pipe, but "keep" one. If they are going to a theatre, concert or meeting, it is a case of "keeping." You even "keep" all at home, or a meeting with your tutor. If you are taking the tripos, or final examination for honors degree, you are going to "take a trip." If you hear yourself referred to as "stinks man" you might think people were speaking in unbecomingly derogatory terms of you. It would be well to make sure first, however, for what is intended is only that you are taking the natural sciences tripos, which is known as "stinks." The laboratories are, of course, the "labs," those devoted to physiology the "phiz labs." The dissecting rooms are known as the "meat shops." Mathematics are "maths." A man who allows himself to be suspected of too hard study and too little sport is known as a "smug." If he locks himself into his rooms to discourage callers, he "sports." To "sport" is to lock the outer door of your rooms. Men do this when they go out for any length of time or wish to remain private. Your door, by the way, is known as your "oak." Some expressions much used outside the 'Varsity are never heard among its members. For instance, nobody ever talks of a "undergraduate." He is simply a "man," though his years may not entitle him to the description. If his rank has to be referred to at all, one says "undergraduate" in full. There is no such thing as a "prof," though frequent use of the word, "professor," suggests the abbreviation. You don't talk of a college man or a collegian. Anyone "up" at the university is known as a "Varsity man." The names of the colleges are abbreviated, as most people know. St. Peter's College is "Pothouse." St. Catherine's is "Cat's." Magdalen is "Maiden." St. John's is always "John's," and the host club of that college is "Lady Margaret," while Caius College is pronounced "Keys."

A man who poses as a sporting grandee by wearing exaggerated sporting clothes, or indulging in displays of wealth, physical prowess or other showy forms of conduct, is referred to as a "bloody." To be detected by proctors breaking regulations by omitting to wear cap and gown at proper times, or by going to prohibited places, such as public-house bars, is known as being "progged." The men who assist the proctors in running refractory undergraduates to earth are "buildings." If your offense is serious you are confined to college after 8 o'clock every night. This punishment is known as being "grated."

As to Two Evils. Theodore Hallam, one of the most celebrated of legal practitioners, once defended a burglar, and the case gave him a story that he never tired of telling. The prosecuting attorney was fighting vigorously and had the defendant's wife on the stand. "You are the wife of the prisoner?" he asked her. "Yes," she replied. "Did you know his mode of life when you married him?" "I did, sir." "Will you tell us, then," went on the prosecutor, surprised by this admission, "how you came to contract an alliance with one of his kind?" "Well," she answered ingeniously, "I was getting on, the other girls had all been married, and I at last had no choice but between him and a lawyer who was courting me."

England's "Celtic Fringe." There are some who profess to believe that the "Celtic fringe" of England's Government is soon to become an all-enveloping mantle. Ireland, with the promotion of Sir Geo. White, has three field marshals. The adjutant-general is an Irishman, the quartermaster-general a Scotchman, the Permanent Under-Secretary for War an Irishman, and the Commander-in-Chief of India is Irish born. There are four Scotchmen and three Irishmen in the Cabinet, both Archbishops are Scotchmen, and the Commander-in-Chief of the Channel Fleet is an Irishman.

ITCHING BURNING SKIN.

Disfiguring Humors and Eruptions Permanently Cured.

Dr. Agnew's Ointment.

Diseases of the skin inflict intense pain, suffering and disfigurement. If not cured in time, they end in the decay of the bones, a pallid complexion, loss of strength, and a gradual wasting away of the body. Dr. Agnew's Ointment is an absolute specific in Scrofula, Eczema, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Ring Worm, Barbers' Itch, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Liver Spots, Prurigo, Poriasis, and all sores and disfiguring eruptions of the skin. An old soldier, S. E. Buckman, residing at the National Soldiers' Home, Grant Co., Ind., writes: "I was a constant sufferer from skin complaints. Last summer a disfiguring eruption appeared on my face, and I decided to try Dr. Agnew's Ointment. I was relieved after the first application, and in a remarkably short time absolutely cured." 35 cents.

Few Escape Dyspepsia and Indigestion. If you suffer their agonizing pains, it is because you do not know that Dr. Von Stan's Pineapple Tablets relieve at once and cure when all other remedies have failed to benefit. 60 tablets, 50 cents. No. 34

The Minister's Family.

At a conference of ministers of one of the smaller American denominations the question of the insufficiency of some of the salaries was being argued. One brother who was stationed at a mission post made a strong plea for an increase in salary. "To properly provide my family with the necessities," he said, "is a serious problem." "How many children have you?" asked a sympathetic brother of the cloth. "I have four boys, and each one has a sister," was the prompt reply. Immediately the sympathetic friend took the floor. "How is it possible that our brother can provide even the barest necessities for his eight children?" "I did not say I had eight children; the boys have the same sister."

Stone in the Bladder Or Gravel.

Serious Urinary Troubles Incurred Pain that can Scarcely be Described—An Extraordinary Cure by

DR. CHASE'S Kidney-Liver Pills

If you could only read a few of the letters of commendation which are received at these offices you would not wonder why Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have become so popular and attained such an enormous sale. The following letter is a fair sample, and in order to be sure that it came from a responsible person we wrote to the postmaster, whose reply is also quoted.

Mr. Daniel Brown, English River, Ont., writes:—"For three years I suffered from urinary troubles, partaking of the nature of stone in the bladder or gravel, and the pain which I endured was so severe that I was unable to do any work, and frequently discharged blood. I spent hundreds of dollars in doctors' bills. I received no relief, and at last decided that I would never be able to work again.

"While in this condition I was advised to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and, though I had no faith in them or in anything else, I decided to give them a fair trial. After using one box I felt a decided change for the better, and after taking five boxes I feel like a new man. I am entirely out of pain, and have no more discharge of blood. I can honestly recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to any fellow-sufferer, and will cheerfully verify this statement to anyone writing me."

Mr. W. Bowen, Postmaster and station agent at English River, Ont., writes: "I have interviewed Mr. Daniel Brown, of this place, in regard to his long illness and cure, and hereby certify that the testimonial as given by him is correct."

They are most worthy of our country's past who are living to make its future better.

THE ROWLEY MORTGAGE.

ELGIN LOAN PURCHASE OF COAL STOCK.

The Company Now Holds 150 Shares of Dominion Coal, Bought at 179
—Mr. Bevvitt's Examination—Mrs. Rowley's Illness.

St. Thomas, June 30.—John Baird, President of the Elgin Loan, and other directors, were seen yesterday in regard to the placing of $2,500 mortgage on the house of George Rowley, worth about $4,000, and already mortgaged for $3,500. They all tell the same story. The company had been granted a Dominion charter to deal in stocks, and permission had to be secured from the Ontario Legislature to operate under it, which was granted, but was not signed by the Lieutenant Governor. It was thought a favorable time to purchase Dominion Coal stock and Dominion Steel preferred, and at Manager Rowley's suggestion, the mortgage was put on his already mortgaged house, the stock purchased to be security for the mortgage. Some 150 shares of Dominion Coal were purchased, the average price being 119. The stock was purchased outright, and is now in the vaults as security for the mortgage. The mortgage was not registered until after Mr. Rowley's flight, and after the directors had under consideration the winding up of the affairs of the company, which made Rowley apprehensive, and ultimately led to his discovery. Rowley is improving in health, and, it is believed, will be able to appear for trial on Thursday.

W. R. Bevvitt was examined secretly before Judge Hughes on Saturday for discovery. It is understood that all the information that was obtained was that Mr. Bevvitt put through deals on margins for Mr. Rowley and Mr. Baird, the President of the Elgin Loan. The latter, of course, was using his own money. After Mr. Rowley's flight Mr. Bevvitt sent to the family $500, Mr. Rowley's share of the profits on a deal. This amount was sent to Sheriff Brown, to whom Rowley has made an assignment.

Mrs. Rowley's condition was so serious that she was not expected to survive the night, but she is somewhat better.

CANADIAN NORTHERN AID.

The Security to be Retained by the Government.

Ottawa, June 30.—Private bills legislation, which has preference on Mondays, was speedily disposed of by the House, and the Government was able to get a large amount of work done yesterday. The bill granting aid to the Canadian Northern Railway Co. was considered in committee, and the clauses in reference to the security to be given the Government in return for the guarantee of bonds were thoroughly debated. Objection was taken by Mr. McCarthy, who has charge of the G. T. P. bill, that the Canadian Northern, being a transcontinental railway, should be subject to the same restrictions respecting the shipment of freight via Canadian ports as it was sought to impose upon the G. T. P. Material progress was also made in committee with Sir Wm. Mulock's bill to amend the postoffice act, which provides for a railway mail clerks and letter-carriers.

Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick introduced a bill to amend the criminal code, 1892. Mr. Walter Scott introduced a bill for the relief of Florence Gray.

Mr. Borden moved that the papers and correspondence in connection with the proposed autonomy of the Northwest Territories be printed.

The following bills were given third readings:—

Respecting the Century Life Insurance Co.—Mr. Morrison.

Respecting the Brandon & Southwestern Railway Co.—Mr. Morrison.

To incorporate the Columbia River Improvement Co.—Mr. Gallier.

A bill respecting the Nicola, Kamloops & Similkameen Coal & Railway Co. (Mr. Gallier) and to incorporate the Alliance Bank of Canada (Mr. Russell), were referred to committees.

Two Women Charged With Shoplifting.

Toronto, June 30.—Mrs. Mabel McKeown, giving the address of 197 Keele street, Toronto Junction, and Theresa Wallace, 12 Clarence Square, were arrested in Eaton's yesterday on a charge of shoplifting. The former is 23 years of age and had an infant in her arms. The latter is nineteen years old. They were noticed by one of the floor walkers, who called a constable. When arrested they had a number of neckties, dress goods, a raglan coat, artificial flowers, and other goods. Some more articles were found at their homes. Mrs. McKeown obtained bail in two sureties of $500, one given by her husband and the other by W. C. Burrage. Miss Wallace obtained no bail.

VISITED SOUTHAMPTON.

The Blythesome Sea Serpent on His Travels.

Southampton, June 29.—Yesterday some persons were walking along the beach a short distance from here when their attention was attracted to a veritable monster of the deep, which was plainly to be seen near the shore, twisting and squirming, and again passing swiftly along the glassy surface, evidently fully enjoying the cool and limpid waters of Lake Huron. The story is vouched for by responsible persons, who say the reptile was at least 40 feet in length.

LUMBERMAN TELLS HIS EXPERIENCE

How Dodd's Kidney Pills Quickly cured His Lame Back

William N. Baskin, of Norwood, gives Good Advice and others are following it with Splendid Results.

Norwood, Ont., June 29.—(Special)—William N. Baskin, the well-known lumberman and railroad contractor of this place, tells of an experience with Dodd's Kidney Pills that is bound to be of interest to the public generally.

"For two years," says Mr. Baskin, "I was laid up with Lame Back and Kidney Disease. I would at times become weak and have to leave off work. People who knew me as lumberman and contractor on the C. P. R. and Parry Sound Railways knew how sick I was.

"Reading of wonderful cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills led me to try them. I used three boxes and am completely cured. I can say now I have not had any pains since I used Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Others who have followed Mr. Baskin's advice and tried Dodd's Kidney Pills report similar results. No form of Kidney Disease can stand before them.

The Alphas of this city met defeat yesterday afternoon on Tecumseh park at the hands of the Stars, of Dresden, by a score of 15 to 5. The listless fielding and batting of the Chathamites had a good deal to do with the defeat although the battery work of the Dresden was good, especially the pitching of Emery.

PAVEMENT PROBLEM

Mr. Editor.—It is not often that a firm reputable or otherwise will publicly make an offer to property owners on a street under its own firm name and then deliberately commit an act as outlined below.

Would it be wrong Mr. Editor to call it treachery?

Let the following tell its own story:

Chatham, May 23rd, 1903

To Whom it May Concern,—

This is to certify that I have not yet put in a tender for paving Queen St. for the reason that the city is taking the initiative for a bitullic pavement only. If the ratersayers on Queen St. are in favor of a brick pavement we are prepared to pave that street, and as considerable work, excavating etc. is already done, we will do the work subject to the specifications of city engineers, five inch concrete, Massillon vitrified brick, sand and cushion, on a concrete at a price not to exceed $1.85 per sq. yard, the city to have the cobble stone, which no doubt would be placed to the credit of the street and would therefore further reduce the cost to the ratersayers on Queen street.

Signed,

Domiaion Paving Co.

This document was used by property owners on Queen street to secure signatures for brick petition. They pointed out that the Dominion Paving Co. was an honest and honorable company that would carry out its promises to the very letter. But what do we find. As soon as sufficient names were signed to brick petition and passed the city council and the bitullic initiative withdrawn and tenders asked for without delay this same company who had but a few days before under its signature stated they would do the work at no more than per sq yard now tender for work and want $2.08 per sq. enormous advance of 23 c. This is not all, and also all the work on the street, several dollars worth of stone. No matter how honest? Will it be a continuance of a break of home citizens? Will the council the proposed act of this firm brick the citizens of Que with a vitrified brick?

Again, there is considerable pavement under consideration other streets, will the citizens be willing to place their under the tender mercies who apparently value their reputation on such a far as he was concerned, firm had treated Queen street as was represented, be unwilling to give a contract at any figure.
