

Science Detects Art Forgeries

A. P. Laurie Reveals Fraudulent 'Old Masters' by Means of Micro-Photography.

(Special Dispatch)

LONDON, Nov. 15.

A. P. LAURIE, president of the Heriot-Watt College, Edinburgh, and Professor of Chemistry to the Royal Academy, is in London in connection with the researches he has been conducting into the authenticity of pictures by means of micro-photography.

Investigations into the history of art led him to the belief that forgeries of old masters might be detected by identification of character in brush work as revealed by the microscope.

He has designed a special camera called micro-camera, with which he has been photographing the principal galleries in London, Edinburgh, Amsterdam and The Hague, and has photographed portions of famous pictures magnified in size up to six diameters. He believes that just as the fraudster signs a check can be detected by magnifying and photographing the brush work of a copyist of some painting can be revealed in the same method in the National Gallery 'The Old Grey Hunter,' by Paul Verbeek, has recently had doubts cast upon it. Dr. Bredius, who is inclined to believe it to be Verbeek's. Dr. Laurie has photographed the horse's head in this picture and has compared the result with photographs he has taken of pictures by Potter in Amsterdam and at The Hague, of which there is no doubt.

His conclusion is that the main part of 'The Old Grey Hunter' is by Verbeek, but that the horse was put in by another painter. Under to be quite certain of the character of brush work," he says, "a large number of micro-photographs have been taken on one artist's work covers various periods of his career. I have had records from the 'Spanish Madonna' and 'Phillip of Spain' in the National Gallery, and the unconscious character of the brush work in both cases is no doubt whatever that both are by Verbeek.

He has photographed in the Edinburgh National Gallery the 'Fete Champetre,' by Jean, side by side with a splendid copy picture by a modern artist. Under searching eye of the micro-camera the which could scarcely be detected in the original by the naked eye, fell in pieces and showed itself for what it is.

As the forger of a check must copy up a signature laboriously, so the artist of a picture must proceed, and it is the difference between the halting of the plagiarist and the free movement of the master that the photographs reveal.

Laurie has obtained records of work from pictures by Mabius, Van Dyck, Hals, Rembrandt, Vermeer, Watteau, Paul Potter, Cromer, Velasquez (real or supposed), many painters of the modern school andscape art.

He has come to the conclusion," went on Laurie, "that the hand of a master in more than the eye can see. He pictures more accurately than he knows, copyist cannot do this, and under the scope he is exposed at once. I have photographed a set of eyes, the eyes painting Rembrandt, Titian, Van Dyck and all reveal characteristics that are essential details—which could not be seen by the naked eye."

Ready the new method has been instrumental in proving a forgery of a Teniers another of a Wouverman, in a private collection. The professor intends visiting London and Madrid shortly in pursuit of her records. Artists whose work is in doubt and the draughtsmanship defects of best subjects in micro-photographs of examination, and Dr. Laurie says that parts of the pictures which casual touches are the best for examination of character.

ARN TO PLAY GOLF IN SIX MONTHS

Member of Well Known Club Can Drive 270 Yards and Has Score of 84.

(Special Dispatch)

LONDON, Nov. 15.

How long does it take to become a golfer? It is a question often asked these days, when about a quarter of the British middle classes is applying itself to the form of exercise. It has been answered in a very remarkable way by a member of a well known club in London, who in six months has added to a handicap of ten.

His progress is exceeding a great deal of what is usual in London golfers, for in only six months he has won many prizes, and has won a very respectable amount of money on the course at all. He started to play he returned in the first fortnight which gave him a handicap. After a month this was reduced to 12. He has since been able to reduce it to 10. He frequently drives 270 yards and has won the top prize in a league of 75 by 54. He is now making many progress in his method of teaching golf.

COMPENSATION BILL IS NOW ANNOUNCED BY COMMISSION

Sir William Meredith Says Injustice to Workmen is to be Removed—Provisions of Bill Show Careful Study of the Situation.

(Canadian Press Despatch) TORONTO, Nov. 17.—The final report of Sir William Meredith on workmen's compensation, the result of over three years of investigation that took him through England, Belgium, France and Germany studying the systems in those countries, is now in the hands of the Ontario Government. With this document in its possession the Government will at the coming session lay before the House a radical and far-reaching measure of justice to the workers of the province, one that will ensure the dependents of every killed or injured workman of reasonable comfort whether the breadwinner is lost to them entirely or is incapacitated for but a few weeks or for years, and one, moreover, that adopts as its basic principle the duty of the industry to bear the whole burden of compensation.

NUMBER OF VESSELS WHICH WENT DOWN

Is Now Believed to Have Been Definitely Established--Three Canadian Ships Went Down in Recent Storm.

(Canadian Press Despatch) GONERICH, Ont., Nov. 17.—With the steamer Isaac M. Scott unsupported and now added to the tale of disaster, the number of vessels which went down is now 8. The list includes three Canadian vessels, the Carruthers, Westford, and Regina, and five of United States register, the John McGean, Argus, Hydrius, Chas. S. Price and Isaac M. Scott. Since Saturday seven bodies have been brought in, five found at Amherst, Ont., and two at Sarnia, Ont. from near Bayfield, of the McGean. None of these has been positively identified. Photos of the Carruthers victims have been sent to the Toronto papers, and Captain Whitney of the American Lake Carriers' Association is trying to secure identification of the McGean's men. One of the Carruthers men had "J. T." tattooed on his right forearm. There are a

HUNTING IS NOT WICKED

So Declared Archdeacon of York at Service on Sunday.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—A London Cable to The Tribune says: The Archbishop of York declared yesterday that hunting was not antagonistic to Christianity in a sermon preached at Moor Monks church, near York, where he dedicated a memorial window erected in memory of the late Rev. Charles Slinstby of Craven Park, who was killed a year ago while hunting with the local pack. The archbishop said he would be a very bold man indeed to set forth to argue that hunting was so cruel that it was absolutely wrong. If not absolutely wrong, he said, then it was like other things good or evil, it depended precisely upon the manner in which it was done. He thought it possible to contend that a very great measure of happiness to God's creatures was due to hunting.

Scores Them

Magistrate After Newspaper Men Who Publish Race Charts.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

TORONTO, Nov. 17.—Magistrate Kingsford scored the morning papers that publish racing charts and other information when trying W. J. Bosworth on a charge of betting. The charge arose from the committal of James Denison on a charge of stealing $27,000 from his employers, the Massey-Harris people. Denison was the chief witness, and in the course of the examination he stated that he got most of his information from morning paper charts and selections. "That sort of thing should be stopped," said the magistrate. "It is only encouraging the betting game, and something will have to be done to stop it."

WILL MAKE GRANT

OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—It is understood that the Dominion Government will make a grant to the fund for relief of the families of the victims of the great lakes storm. It will be separate from the fund being subscribed by the public.

G. T. R. Will Put In New Gates

It is understood the Grand Trunk will shortly install new gates at the George and Market street crossings. Ever since the present barriers were put up there have been no end of complaints from traffic men of all kinds. The gates have proved unwieldy, and some serious accidents have been narrowly averted. The new gates, it is said, will be of iron construction, and will be operated by a button. At the present time the watchman has two levers to operate from a tower house.

GAVE HIS BRAIN UP TO SCIENCE

Japanese Prince Creates a Profound Stir Throughout the Kingdom.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

TOKIO, Nov. 17.—The brain of Japan's greatest statesman, who died October 20, weighed slightly more than 1400 grammes. Prince Katsura was president of the Japanese Society devoted to the study of cancer from which disease he died and in accordance with his own directions the body was offered to science and dissected.

The post mortem examination was conducted under the historic Japanese ceremony. When all preparations had been completed, Dr. Nagayo, a celebrated surgeon, surrounded by a number of physicians, addressed the spirit of the departed prince, saying that his body was about to be dissected for the benefit of science. After the operation the surgeon again addressed the spirit of the deceased, reporting the completion of the task and expressing gratitude for the benefit which science would receive. Princess Katsura, who heroically remained throughout, then prayed to the body, uttered a brief prayer to her husband's spirit and murmured that in accordance with his wishes she had requested the dissection in the interest of science. The examination proved that the prince was suffering from cancer, which originated in the stomach and spread to the liver. The fact that Prince Katsura had desired dissection was made public by the princess, who insisted that the examination should be made. Her fortitude has created a profound impression throughout the empire.

SEVERAL FIGHTS FOR MAYORALTY

Awakening Interest in Municipal Affairs in Western Cities.

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 17.—Slowly awakening interest in civic affairs is now becoming evident throughout the Canadian prairie west as polling dates for 1914 become imminent. Winnipeg municipal elections are first on the list, polling being set for December 5, while three days later civic elections become general. For Monday, December 8, elections take place at Regina, Moosejaw, Saskatoon, Calgary, Edmonton, Medicine Hat, Lethbridge and a number of smaller places. In Winnipeg, Calgary, Regina and Saskatoon present indications point to the re-election of the chief executive, while at Edmonton the seat of first honor will be warmly defended by Mayor Short against W. J. McManara, former Mayor of Wetaskiwin. In this contest, the commission form of government is a factor. Lethbridge having already decided in commission government holds its first elections under new conditions and will elect mayor commissioner of public works and commissioner of Public Utilities. The fight for the coveted offices is keen, there being six candidates for mayor six for public works commissioner and three for public utilities.

WILL FIX UP THE RIVER ROAD DYKE

Township Council Awards Contract on Saturday Afternoon.

At a special meeting of the township council held Saturday afternoon Messrs Hull and Yakes were awarded the contract for the raising and strengthening of the township's portion of the Grand river dyke. The gravel will be supplied and the work done for $540. Fifteen hundred yards will be required. The work was started this morning.

VERY SPECTACULAR

PARIS, Nov. 17.—Crowds of Parisians journeyed to the Buc and Juvisy aerodromes yesterday to witness exhibitions in aerial acrobatics by Maurice Chevillard, driving a biplane, and Hicks, the English aviator in a monoplane. Hicks flew upside down several times and both he and Chevillard made a number of consecutive aerial loops and went through a variety of other spectacular performances.

GOT SIX MONTHS

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 17.—Earl Henderson of Toronto received a sentence of six months in Central prison at this morning's session of the police court for obtaining $200 under false pretences from the Imperial Bank here. It was proven that he drew on the Cobalt branch of the bank, knowing that he had no funds there. He served 14 days in Toronto recently on a similar charge.

WILL SUPPORT IT

MONTREAL, Nov. 17.—Mayor Lavallee has agreed to support the appeal for funds in aid of those who have suffered by the storm on the great lakes last week when over 300 men lost their lives in the ships that were wrecked.

AGREEMENT REACHED FOR SETTLEMENT OF HOME RULE DISPUTE

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—A cable to the Tribune from London says: The present week will unquestionably see an important development in the Irish crisis. After a long period of skirmishing by means of public speeches a point has been reached at which Premier Asquith, on behalf of the Government, is ready to offer terms of settlement, and Mr. Bonar Law, representing the opposition, is ready to consider them.

It may be taken for granted that within the next few days the Unionist leaders will be in full possession of the Government's proposals for dealing with the refusal of Ulster to tolerate the Home Rule Bill.

The Times says it has good ground for stating that Premier Asquith's plan is to satisfy the Nationalist ideal by carrying the measure, which is applicable to Ireland as a whole, and to pacify Ulstermen with a considerable but limited period of grace. It may be predicted further that the Ministry contemplates the imposition of an additional burden on the taxpayers of Great Britain for the purpose of compensating Nationalist Ireland for the temporary loss of the wealth which Ulster would in normal circumstances contribute.

There was much interest at the Borden Club on Saturday night in connection with the handing of additional members for that organization. Remember, this is the last week of the contest, and get on your hustling legs accordingly.

MISS WILSON'S HUSBAND TO BE

Resigns His Job in New York and Leaves for the White House.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Francis B. Sayre, who is to marry Miss Jessie Wilson, the President's daughter, on November 25th, to-day resigned his position as an assistant in the district attorney's office. He will go to Washington on Thursday to remain there until the wedding.

During the year of Mr. Sayre's service he has been dealing with abandoned cases and has formed such a liking for the study of social problems that he says he will continue it so far as possible in his new position as secretary to the president of Williams College. In renewing his studies here, he says, that while he has found that strict divorce legislation works a certain amount of suffering, he believes in it. "There is a general rule," he said, "that the individual must at times suffer for the good of the community."

"Our trouble to-day is that we find one law for the rich and another for the poor. The difference between immorality on the east side and immorality on Fifth Avenue is that on the east side when a man is unhappily married he runs away and his wife comes to our office for redress, when the Fifth Avenue wife or husband runs away, one or other goes to Reno, and they are soon in a position to marry again."

HOW SIR JOHN WAS CONVERTED

Rev. Crossley, Evangelist, Told it in Montreal Last Night.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

MONTREAL, Nov. 17.—Some new light on the subject of the conversion of Sir John A. MacDonald, was given by the Rev. H. T. Crossley the evangelist, in the course of his sermon in the Westmount Methodist Church on Sunday night.

"The Rev. Mr. Hunter and myself opened a revival meeting at Ottawa," Mr. Crossley said, "Sir John A. MacDonald was present at these meetings three nights a week for seven weeks and a half. All present prayed hard for the conversion of the 'old chief' and their efforts did not go unrewarded for one evening I received an invitation to dine with Sir John and Lady MacDonald.

"No wine was on the table and Sir John said to me 'I was never skeptical. I had a good Presbyterian father and mother and I'm in my position as a member of the Methodist camp meetings. I have been a great sinner however.'"

"One night near the close of our meeting he stood up singing beside Lady MacDonald and shortly afterwards his surrender to Christ. Three years after he died a good Christian man. One of the first we expect to meet as we pass through the peary gates is Sir John, whom we regard as our greatest son."

VANCOUVER HAS BLAZE WITH LOSS ESTIMATED AT $300,000

Business District Was Badly Gutted and Many Insurance Firms Are Badly Hit—The Losses Sustained—Firemen Do Splendid Work.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

VANCOUVER, B.C., Nov. 17.—The following individual losses and insurance of firms who suffered by an early morning fire in the heart of Vancouver's business district, which it is estimated caused a total loss of $300,000.

Nicholas and Company, Limited, offices destroyed, insurance unknown, loss unknown.

MEXICAN SITUATION SAID TO BE CRITICAL

Hostilities May Break Out Any Minute—It All Depends on Huerta's Attitude—Wilson is Hopeful.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 17.—The federal capital was to-day practically devoid of news from the United States on which to base estimates of the probabilities of the situation, but an early severance of relations between the two countries, is an event which is commonly regarded inevitable. None of the newspapers whether printed in English or Spanish, published more than the briefest despatches touching the situation and no indication was given in the course of the intentions of Washington towards Mexico.

There was considerable gossip in political circles of further changes in the Mexican cabinet being in prospect and General Aureliano Blanquet, Minister of War, was said to have had a misunderstanding with President Huerta, which might cause him to leave the post.

With the departure of Manuel Garza Aldape, late minister of the interior, foreigners here feel that the cabinet has lost one of its most serious members, whose moderation could be depended upon. His successor has not yet been indicated. In the meantime General Huerta, proceeding with his efforts to organize the new congress regardless of the notice given to him by John Lind, the personal representative of President Wilson that serious consequences would follow such a step.

It was expected a further attempt would be made this afternoon to organize the Senate as Saturday's effort failed owing to the lack of a quorum. The chamber of deputies was ordered to hold a session to-day for the purpose of revising the credentials of its members and it is expected that unless the United States government finds a means to bring about an alteration of the present plans the first regular meeting of that house will occur on Thursday.

Meanwhile whether the United States embassy is to remain or to be withdrawn appears to be a matter of which Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the United States charge d'affaires himself is uncertain. The staff of the embassy is ready to leave at a moment's notice and little surprise would be felt here although much alarm would be caused, in case Mr. O'Shaughnessy, and his establishment should take the evening train to Vera Cruz.

Washington, Nov. 17.—President Wilson does not regard the Mexican situation as having reached any such critical stage as to require the closing of the American embassy. Discussing reports to that effect, today, he said Charge O'Shaughnessy, neither had been given his passports nor been told to come back. While details as to persons had changed, the main circumstances remained substantially the same as when the president previously expressed a favorable view of the situation. Summing United States charge d'affaires himself indicated that while the personal attitude of General Huerta might have changed, the things upon which the American Government bases its conviction that Huerta's elimination is inevitable, have not changed at all. "The mills of the gods grind slowly," expresses the slow and steady purposes being pursued.

Four Women Received Hard Labor Terms

Suffragettes Who Threw Hammers in Court Are Summarily Disposed of.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Two bands of what Arthur Hopkins, the police magistrate described as "raving women" appeared in the police courts of London to-day in connection with Saturday's outrage at the Old Bailey Court when hammers were thrown at Justice Lawrence and with yesterday's disorders near Premier Asquith's official residence in Downing Street.

Archie Huffman Sprang A Surprise On Relatives

For Three Years They Have Not Heard From Him—He Was in B. C. Lumber Woods.

After an absence of three years Paris, got out circulars which yuting which time his whereabouts he mailed the police departments of the West. These circulars failed to locate him. The young man's parents, hoping to locate him, moved to British Columbia but never located him. On several occasions he had signified his intention of going West, but did not. His young men friends told him he was afraid to go. It is now understood he was making good a threat that he would go and it would be some time before his friends heard from him.

MR. HENRI JORDAN RETURNS TO CITY

Six Months in Musical Study in Britain and the Continent.

After spending six months studying in London and traveling in England, Ireland and Scotland and the Continent, Mr. Henri K. Jordan, organist at Brant Avenue Methodist Church, returned to the city last evening. Mrs. Jordan was with her husband for four months, returning home about two months ago. While Mr. Jordan's purpose in going to London was to study many trips were taken, the majority of these Mrs. Jordan taking with him.

Studied in London

Mr. Jordan studied exclusively in London; his teacher being Chevalier Giovanni Clerici, an Italian master. The branch taken up was voice production. A month was spent in study previous to travelling. Mr. Jordan spent much of the six months studying, the trips being incidental.

London Centre

Speaking of London as a musical centre, Mr. Jordan said: "London is a musical centre and without doubt stands first at the present time. Thousands of Continental students are studying in London. A few years ago it was the correct thing to study on the Continent, but this condition is now reversed to a considerable extent."

The Reason

When asked what has brought this about, he said: "One reason for this remarkable change is that many of the most noted continental teachers are located in London."

Mr. and Mrs. Jordan left the city last May, going directly to London, where, as stated, Mr. Jordan spent the first part, devoting himself almost exclusively to study.

A Pleasant Trip

Leaving London for a month's trip to Devonshire, Cornwall, the Wye Valley in Wales, the English lakes district, the Trossachs in Scotland, also points in Ireland were visited.

Saw the Bowlers

While in Belfast, the Canadian bowling team was met, Mr. J. A. Ogilvie being a member of the team.

Beautiful Wild Flowers

The trip, through Devonshire and Cornwall was mostly made by coach, which gave a splendid opportunity to view the beauties. Speaking of the wild flowers of these districts, Mr. Jordan said that they would put to shame the Canadian equivalent flowers.

Visited the Continent

A most delightful trip to the Continent was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Jordan. Of course Paris was visited, and after many cities in Switzerland, the Austrian Tyrol, Southern Germany, taking the Rhine trip to Cologne, Holland was also visited, and it was here that Mr. and Mrs. Jordan were much impressed with the art galleries.

Pleasant Occasion

Mr. Jordan told of many pleasing occasions. While in Sheffield, Mr. Jordan called on Dr. Coward, the conductor of the noted Sheffield choir, which has appeared here twice. He was very pleasantly entertained by the Doctor.

Sir Frederick Bridge, who has appeared in this city, and organist at Westminster Abbey, was visited. Upon Sir Frederick's invitation, Mr. Jordan was afforded the privilege of sitting in the choir loft with him.

Just previous to leaving London for home he met Mr. E. L. Cockshutt and Mr. Ted Roberts, and with them he went to Albert Hall, where he heard "Eljah" rendered by a chorus of 1,000 voices. Speaking of this, Mr. Jordan said: "It was magnificent."

The Home Journey

The return journey was made on the Royal George. The sea was very rough, and numerous boats which found the voyage decidedly hard, were heard from and sighted.

Citizens in general welcome Mr. Jordan home again.

Mr. Cyril Hayes, dramatic reader, of London, who is in the city in connection with the Mite Box services is the guest of Mr. S. M. Fry, Dalhousie street.

A very enjoyable time was spent on Saturday evening at the home of Miss Agnes Mears, 251 Nelson street, when a party was given in honor of her birthday. Games and singing were indulged in and a light lunch served. The singing of Auld Lang Syne brought to a close a most pleasant time which terminated in the early hours of the morning. Among those present was Mr. W. Button of Galt, who is the week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Mears.

Nuptial Notes

BYRNES-CLOHECY.

A quiet and pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Mary's Cathedral, Hamilton Saturday morning, when Miss Ursula Helena Clohocy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clohocy, Mary street, was united in matrimony to Mr. J. Edward Byrnes of Toronto. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a travelling suit of mahogany broadcloth and black silk beaver hat trimmed with ermine and ospreys. The bride was attended by her cousin Miss Kathleen Gallagher, wearing a taupe suit and hat of old rose with plumes. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Thomas J. Byrnes. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. J. Clohocy, of St. Basil's Church, Brantford, brother of the bride. The groom's gift to the bride was a set of Hudson seal furs, trimmed with Russian ermine; to the bridesmaid a pendant of pearls and amethysts. The best man was the recipient of a set of pearl cuff links. The nuptial music was rendered by Prof. James F. Morrissey, organist of the cathedral. On their return from a tour of the eastern states, Mr. and Mrs. Byrnes will take up their residence in Toronto.—Hamilton Herald.

A Surprise Party

No. 31 Gilkison street was the scene of a very successful surprise party on Saturday night in honor of Mrs. Mearns. Numerous games were played and several songs were rendered very ably. Two of the participants staged a very dark tragedy entitled "Breaking the Gas Mantle," which no doubt had a very darkening effect over those who witnessed it. A very splendid spread was prepared for the benefit of the young people, of which, as young folks often do, they did ample justice. After the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" the party broke up, and a tired but happy crowd of Brantfordites wended their way home assisted by "The Light of the Silvery Moon."

The Lakes Disaster Fund OF CANADA

To the spirit which makes for the Brotherhood of Man the Dominion Marine Association has decided to appeal, in opening a public subscription list for the families of brave sailors lost in the recent hurricane which swept the great lakes.

Substantial contributions are already offered by the members of the association, and subscriptions from all sources will be welcomed.

The Mayor of Toronto will act as Honorary Treasurer, and Mr. H. H. Gildersleeve, Manager of the western lines of the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Co., whose offices are at the Yonge Street dock in Toronto, has been appointed General Treasurer for the fund. Contributions should be sent to either of these gentlemen before December 1st, and all returns made by that time, in order that the administration of the fund may be made promptly. All subscriptions will be acknowledged.

The owners of Canadian ships take this opportunity to express their deep sympathy with the bereaved relatives and their confidence that the contribution which they are making to the fund will be generously and heartily augmented by a sympathetic public.

The Mayor of Brantford has consented to co-operate in this appeal by acting as Honorary Treasurer for this district.

Paupers at the Plough

There was an animated discussion on Tuesday over the story of inmates being yoked to a plough in the workhouse. The House committee reported that the plough of the kind used by market gardeners and the average age of the men yoked was forty-five. They were yoked by a doctor as able-bodied physically fit.

MUST BE QUALIFIED.
Clinical Congress Says Surgeons Are Let Practice Too Soon.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—War against "legalized murder" by surgeons who are commissioned to wield the knife before they have been sufficiently trained, was declared at the closing session of the Clinical Congress Saturday.

To prevent "criminal malpractice" so far as possible, the congress appointed a committee to petition the State Legislatures of this country and the provinces of Canada to urge enactment of the following into law:

"Require physicians to have five years' experience in general medical practice before permitting them to practice surgery, ordering that two years of their practice be passed in active hospital work or under the direction of a surgeon generally recognized as of the highest attainments; requiring medical colleges to give full clinical advantages as part of their courses in medicine."

Captain McNabb Is Dead.
COLLINGWOOD, Nov. 17.—Captain James McNabb died here yesterday. He was an old master mariner and had served both sailing vessels and steamers. He also was in charge of one of Lord Wolsley's boats in the Red River expedition, and held this medal for this service, which was sent to him by the general personally.

For some time he has been keeper of Nottawasaga lighthouse, three miles outside this harbor. He leaves a widow and family.

Some years ago he published a book of his experiences, which was widely read.

Missed Bullet Eased Pain.
GENOA, Nov. 17.—Baron Paterno, the murderer of Princess Giulia di Trigiana, a lady-in-waiting to Queen Helena, underwent a second operation yesterday for the extraction of a bullet which he had fired into his head in an attempt to end his life after the murder.

The surgeons opened the cranium, but were unable to find the bullet. They removed, however, several extraneous bodies, which, it is believed, will relieve the patient of the severe pains from which he has long suffered.

Englishman Flew Upside Down.
VERSAILLES, France, Nov. 17.—Plying head downward and turning somersaults in the air are becoming common in the French aviation field. Honorable, a French aeroplanist, flew over the aviation field here yesterday for twenty seconds with his machine upside down and then cut two vertical circles in the air.

Hucks, an Englishman, flew for 35 seconds with his head hanging downward, and he also accomplished four consecutive loops.

Compensation Bill

Industrial diseases are put on the same footing as accidents.

Employers must contribute towards the expense of administration.

Employers are not unduly or unfairly burdened by the provisions of the bill.

The Provincial Government will make a substantial contribution to the compensation fund.

A board will be appointed by the crown to take charge of the administration of the new law.

Contributory negligence is no bar to compensation, but shall be taken into account in the settlement.

The crown is not included in the bill, but will call on the board in case of accidents to government employees.

Wilful or serious conduct will mean that no compensation be paid unless death or serious disability results.

Highly paid managers will not profit unwarrantably under the new law, as their compensation is limited to $2000 a year.

No hard fast rule is laid down regarding the reserve fund for compensation, this being left to the board to determine.

The bill, as drafted by Sir William Meredith, is founded on the German law, and is said to be the most up to date in the world.

The common law, by which an employee takes upon himself risks incidental to his employment, is classed as unfair and is abrogated.

Telephone and navigation companies must contribute weekly or periodically payments to their employees, and keep their workmen insured against accidents.

Farming, wholesale and retail establishments, and domestic service are not included in the bill, but provision is made to bring them in when the board sees fit.

The new law defends workmen against unscrupulous employers. No litigation will be necessary in order that an injured man receive compensation. The board's decision will be final, but the crown may state a case for an opinion from the appellate court.

Diseases Are Included.
Dealing with industrial diseases the commissioner states that he has followed the English Act putting them on the same footing as accidents. By the draft bill six diseases are named, but the board is given power to add others.

"It would, in my opinion, be a blot on the Act if a workman who suffers from an industrial disease contracted in the course of his employment is not to be entitled to compensation," he declares. "The risk of contracting disease is inherent in the occupation he follows and he is practically powerless to guard against it. A workman may to some extent guard against accidents, and it would seem not only illegal but unreasonable to compensate him in the one case and to deny him the right to compensation in the other."

Coming to the scale of compensation Sir W. Meredith maintains that the compensation scale of 55 per cent. of the injured employee's earning power at the time of the accident, as long as the employee is debarred from work, is a fair one.

A WONDERFUL COLD CURE.
Just think of it, a cold cured in ten minutes—that's what happens when you use "Catarrhozone." You inhale its soothing balsams and out goes the cold—sniffles are cured—headache is cured—symptoms of catarrh and gripe disappear at once. It's the healing pine essences and powerful antiseptics in Catarrhozone that enable it to act so quickly. In diseases of the nose or irritable throat, bronchitis, coughs and catarrh it's marvel. Safe even for children. 25c and $1.00 sizes at all dealers.

Constables Acquitted.
The trial of two Glasgow constables, Donald Marshall and Andrew Gordon, on charges of criminally assaulting a woman, and assaulting several men while employed on strike duty at Leith in July last, was concluded on Tuesday in Edinburgh.

The special defense was that the prisoners were on board the police boat in the dock when the assault was said to have been committed. The jury by a majority brought in a verdict of not proven, and the officers were discharged.

Catarrh is an excessive secretion, accompanied with chronic inflammation, from the mucous membrane. Hood's Sarsaparilla acts on the mucous membrane through the blood, reduces inflammation, establishes healthy action, and radically cures all cases of catarrh.

124 Acres

We have received instructions to sell a valuable farm consisting of 124 acres situated in the Township of Brantford, near Burford Village. The soil is first class clay loam. Buildings consist of good frame 1-2 storey house, frame bank barn on stone foundation and frame barn No. 2 on stone foundation, standing for 8 horses and 20 head of cattle, pigpen, two large windmills, granary, well and cistern.

This is a very desirable property, and we would take pleasure in showing prospective customers over the place.

THE LAKES DISASTER

The recent appalling loss of life on Canada's great inland freshwater seas, has proved a shock to all the Dominion and has served to bring forcibly home the fact that we possess a number of brave mariners who unostentatiously fill such a big part in the cheap transport of valuable cargoes and whose work often places their lives in jeopardy.

Foremost to realize that Johnny Canuck possesses in his wide domain over eighty million water acres.

Lake Huron has an area of 21,000 square miles, Superior 33,000 square miles and so on. That such vast expanses under storm conditions can speedily become lashed into ocean fury can readily be understood.

We possess a good system of storm signals and these were duly posted prior to the recent catastrophe. Some Captains took the precaution to make for the nearest harbor, many others did not, with the result of much wreckage, and many bodies picked up on the shore lines, while other unfortunates will never again be seen.

In this regard a man who signs himself a sailorman who has been wrecked on Lake Superior in November" writes the Toronto press in part as follows:

"The Director of the Meteorological Service submits, with truth, that the storm warnings show the master of a vessel which leaves port in November with the heavy gales signal displayed that he is running a great risk. I beg to submit that the master who recognizes these signals to the extent of staying in port when it is possible to get out and his ship is really runs another risk that touches him more closely than the probability of nasty weather. That is all in the day's work. He goes out hoping to dodge the worst of the storm, as he has dodged it before, and so hold the job he would, be pretty sure to lose if he heeded the storm signals to the extent of delaying his departure a day or half a day. The grinding between the millstones of the owner's demands and the necessity of providing for those dependent on the master sends to sea on salt water and on the lakes, ships that ought to be in port. In my earlier days this was bad enough, and now it is worse, since there are no longer any vessels owned by individuals and families, but all by corporations which must produce dividends."

The vessels affected were staunchly built and more than of them, such as the Carruthers, especially so, but it is very evident that in that Titanic battle between the elements, no craft and no seamanship could withstand disaster.

Perhaps in our eagerness to get the huge Western crops moved up until as late a date as possible, we are extending the season of navigation too late into the winter. If so, that should be made the subject of a thorough official enquiry. Also the complaint of sailor as above quoted.

Meantime we as Canadians have a joint duty to perform and this is to help the families of those not alone plunged into mental despair but in many instances into actual distress. The members of the Dominion Marine Association have voted $5,000, the Lake Shippers Association of Winnipeg has added another $1,000, the City of Toronto is likely to vote $2,000 and other places will do their part. No doubt Brantford will also be in line.

INFANT MORTALITY

The figures of the Medical Health Officer, in which he shows that during twelve months there were 45 deaths as the result of infantile intestinal trouble, and the deaths of 125 youngsters under one year of age, should make the authorities sit up and take notice.

Most decidedly the figures are altogether high, and as preventative measures the Doctor suggests a municipal depot for milk, and the attendance there of a trained nurse to give mothers the necessary pointers with reference to the manner in which their offspring should be fed.

It is a well established fact, with reference to people of all ages that much disease is preventable, not absolutely so of course, but to a very large percentage, and certainly nothing should be left undone calculated to safeguard the new arrivals, who in their turn become the men and women of the future.

Mother love is very deep in all lands, and among all peoples, but this does not necessarily establish an in-born knowledge of the methods best calculated to conserve the health of infants. It may be that many do thrive and wax strong despite the most unsuitable methods and environment—in fact this was recently proved in New York when an examination showed some perfectly developed youngsters even in most squalid and crowded quarters—but this does not prove any recommendation that to have the little ones tumble up any old way is the proper plan.

In this regard, it is worthy of note that during the year 1912-13, recently ended, at the Brantford General Hospital there were 57 births and three deaths under three months—one premature birth and two passing away at the age of two days each from natural physical causes.

Such a percentage clearly indicates the advantage of right conditions.

UNCLE SAM'S NAVY TROUBLE

A New York paper of recent date says:—"Press despatches tell us of the desertion of one-sixth of the crew of the U. S. gunboat Yorktown during its recent six months cruise in Central America and Mexican waters. The report also relates that twenty-seven deck courts and eleven summary court martials were held during the same happy voyage."

"Perhaps a layman may so far risk the wrath and contumely of the official and unofficial guardians of our navy as to suggest that these facts throw some light on why the navy funds it so hard to get recruits. To spend a large amount of money in advertising and maintaining recruiting officers when sixteen and two-thirds percent of a crew desert on one short trip is quite like trying to fill a sieve with water."

The above relates in a very mild way the trouble which actually and constantly exists, Uncle Sam pays his men of warmen the very highest price of any service in the world. He has at all leading centres fine looking men of the service, who canvas young men on the streets and alluring posters are everywhere. Then after a term of service there are special retirement allowances, and yet with it all, he has a most difficult job to keep the manning up to full and efficient strength.

We had the same experience with Laurier's toy navy, composed of the Niobe and the Rainbow. The truth of the matter is that the spirit of this Continent does not lend itself to the grinding and the necessary discipline which is maintained on these huge leviathans of the deep. Besides the opportunities which offer themselves in other pursuits to capable young men are so very much greater, both in the Dominion and in the States.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

The Borden Club.
This is the last week of the campaign and govern yourself accordingly.

And right now it is only just about the coal man who wishes that the houses could become cooled.

Wireless messages have once more served to save life, this time on a Spanish steamer, which was burning, and 103 passengers on board were rescued by a Cunard steamer. Of a truth, the name of Marconi stands very high on the scroll of benefactors.

When the Whitney Government goes after anything it does matters up right. The abolition of the school book monopoly, the enforcement of license laws, the establishment of Hydro Electric, the inauguration of a prison farm, these are among some of the striking acts of the Administration. Now there will have to be added to this splendid list the proposed "Workmen's Compensation Act."

CHAUFFEURS JAILED

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Nine of 18 chauffeurs, employed by the company that has the contract for carrying the mails to postoffice stations in New York and the suburbs, pleaded guilty to-day under indictments for obstructing the movement of the mails during their recent strike. The men are members of the local union of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Stablemen and Helpers. Bail was reduced from $5,000 to $1,500 in each case, but they could not furnish sureties, and remained in jail.

BANS THE TANGO

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—Emperor William has forbidden officers of the German army and navy while in uniform to dance the Tango, the one step and two step, according to the newspaper The Salon. His majesty also has instructed the officers to avoid visiting families where dances are favored and an actress of the Royal Theatre in Berlin was advised to-day by Count George Von-Hulsen-Haeseler, the Imperial director of theatres not to participate in a tango tournament.

Afflicted Genius

No wonder that Sir Walter Raleigh was filled with grief and melancholy, as he sat in his cell; his country owed him for her glory, as you will know who read his story—he served her passing well. And yet his vain, besotted ruler took Walt and chucked him in the cooler, and fed him stale bread; James said he was a Meddling Matty, and kept him there till nearly batty, and then cut off his head. And who can think of old Jack Bunyan as he sat eating-bread and onion, or paced the prison yard, without desiring, teeth a-grittin', to take a poke at heartless Britain, for scourging sage and bard? And Britain still is quite a dinger at persecuting sage and sinner, as Harry Kempin avows; he travelled there for local color, and Britain, stupider and dulle than any law allows, remarked: "For bards we have no use, but we have divers calabosoes, and heaps of stone to break." Then she removed the poet's sweater and fixed him with a rusty fetter and chain him to a stake. Oh, Britain, four and stony-hearted, through all the years your bards have smarted beneath your iron fist; but when you cast your tyrant glances upon a harmless poet from Kansas, it's time for war, I wis!

A Big Theft

Thieves Got $20,000 in Gold Shipped to Paris

PARIS, Nov. 17.—International thieves succeeded in extracting ingots of gold, valued at $20,000 from a consignment of $2,000,000 while it was on the way from Constantinople to Paris, where it arrived on Thursday last week. Details of the robbery have just been made public. The gold was sent by the Imperial Ottoman Bank at Constantinople, to the Ottoman bank in forty cases, ironbound and sealed. The cases when they reached their destination looked from the outside as though they had never been touched, but on being checked at the bank the $20,000 was missing. Each of the cases had been freshly sealed at each frontier it had crossed, and the French police assert that the gold could not have been stolen on French territory.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Add to Their Record in New Brunswick.
Mr. M. G. Wilson, After Suffering for Five Years, Finds Quick Relief and Complete Health.
LITTLE SHIPPEGAN, Gloucester Co., N.B., Nov. 17 (Special).—Another grand cure has been added to the splendid record Dodd's Kidney Pills have made in New Brunswick. Mr. G. M. Wilson, a well known resident of this place, suffered for five years from a severe form of kidney disease. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him.

"I suffered for five years with a terrible pain in the small of my back and shoulders," Mr. Wilson says in an interview.

"My trouble started in a cold, and though I was treated by doctors and tried all kinds of medicine, it continued to grow worse. My joints were stiff, my sleep at times was broken and unrefreshing and I had a dragging sensation across the loins. My skin itched and burned, and I had lapses of memory, while occasional sharp pains in the top of my head added to my discomfort."

"I was a sick man when I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills; but they soon gave me relief, and five boxes cured me completely. They are the best pills I ever used."

If the disease is of the kidneys, or from the kidneys, Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it.

Crops Report
Average is Somewhat Less Throughout Canada This Year.

(Canadian Press Despatch)
OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—The census and statistics office has issued to-day the usual bulletin upon agricultural conditions throughout Canada, as reported by correspondents at the end of October.

The total area under root and fodder crops (potatoes, turnips, mangolds, etc. and clover, alfalfa, fodder corn and sugar beets) is placed at 8,693,000 acres, and the total value of the products from this area at $187,392,100. The estimated total yields and values of these crops are:

Potatoes 76,720,000 bushels, value $37,379,000; turnips and other roots, 73,090,000 bushels, value $20,103,000; hay and clover 10,050,000 tons, value $114,789,000; fodder corn 2,436,300 tons, value $11,273,500; alfalfa, 251,700 tons, value $2,895,600; and sugar beets 161,000 tons, value $959,000.

The average yields per acre for the Dominion are reported as 165.85 for potatoes as compared with 172.10 bushels last year, 354.12 bushels for turnips and other roots as compared with 402.51; 1.32 tons for hay and clover as compared with 1.47 tons $8.64 tons for fodder corn as compared with 10.36 and 2.44 tons will be recalled, that last year's wet season was especially favorable for roots and fodder crops.

In quality all these crops are marked as about good or above good per cent of the standard, excepting fodder corn, which is 85.

The potato yield is highest in New Brunswick, 244 bushels, and lowest in Ontario, 119 bushels.

The area estimated to be shown to fall wheat for the crop of 1914 totals 1,066,700 acres, as compared with 1,086,800 acres estimated to have sown in 1912 for 1913. This represents a net diminution for the five provinces of Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia of 80,100 acres or 7.37 per cent Ontario.

ACTION IS DISMISSED

TORONTO, Nov. 17.—Mr. Justice Middleton dismissed the action of E. J. Guest against the city of Hamilton to compel the city to pay $29,250 for 500 acres of land on Hunter street, which it was proposed to appropriate for sewerage works. The case of Edmund Peder against the Toronto Power Company was also dismissed. The plaintiff's two-year-old child was drowned last May by falling from a gangway leading to a tower belonging to defendants. It was held that there had been contributory negligence on the part of the parents in allowing the child to be at large without supervision.

MANY WOMEN TO LOSE JOBS

New Law in Pennsylvania Will Have Big Effect

(Canadian Press Despatch)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—The enforcement of the new law regulating the employment of women in Pennsylvania may result in hundreds of women losing their places in Philadelphia hotels this week. The main feature of the law is that no woman can work more than fifty-four hours a week, or more than ten hours a day, nor can they work more than six days in any one week. According to Mallon W. Newton, president of the Philadelphia Hotel Association, the number of women thrown out of work will be at least 500, and may be much greater. The hotel managers, he said, are willing to retain the women, but because of the necessity of hiring extra help where women are employed, wages will be reduced. In consequence, he said, some of the women, unable to live comfortably on less money, will enter other occupations. Men and boys will take the places of the women.

A moose weighing 1400 lbs. decorated the T. E. Ryerson store Saturday night, and it was brought down by a Brantford party, Messrs. Sharp Riley, Albert Taylor, Bert Hawke and Turner were the successful ones.

Story Hour.
The subject for the Story Hour at the Public Library on Tuesday afternoon is 'Circe's Palace' by Nathaniel Hawthorne, and on Thursday the subject will be 'The Knights of the Round Table.'

Noted Woman Coming.
Next Friday Miss Agnes Black, world's secretary of the W.C.T.U. and honorary secretary of the National British Association, will visit this city and deliver an address in the Wellington Street Methodist Church.

Girls for Guelph.
Mr. Louis Stander stated this morning that he had just shipped seven girls to Guelph where they will go to work as seamstresses. Eight other local foreigners have gone to work on the L. E. & N.

Addressed Class.
Mr. L. R. Montgomery of Toronto addressed the young men's bible class at Alexandra Church yesterday afternoon, impressing those present with his splendid message. Mr. Montgomery also contributed a solo at the Sabbath School.

Reason for Disaster.
Mr. E. B. Cronson, who has travelled much by ocean and lake, and who is a keen student of conditions of navigation, stated his belief on Saturday to the Courier that lake boats were not highly powered enough for the tremendous storm recently encountered. There was this difference between the lake and ocean liners.

Scout Notes.
The Headquarters Patrol of Boy Scouts will hold their annual parents and sons banquet on Friday evening at the Tea Pot Inn. Mr. H. G. Hammond, assistant scout commissioner for Ontario, will be present, also many other outstanding commissioners and guests. In all, about seventy are expected to be present.

Y.M.C.A. Notes.
The Junior School boys groups of the Y.M.C.A. will meet at the association building on Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock to partake of a supper. Officers will be appointed and the season's work organized. The boys are looking forward to having great times this winter and from the interest taken now they will not be disappointed.

Strenuous.
Mr. William Schultz, a member of the Greater Brantford Board, has come to the conclusion that getting new industries is strenuous work. "There is as much rivalry between municipalities as there is between rival concerns of business," said Mr. Schultz to the Courier. "One firm has one clerk engaged all the time replying to enquiries from different towns and cities."

P. S. A. Brotherhood.
That the P. S. A. Brotherhood has now become an important force in this city is shown by the continued excellent attendance and the ever increasing membership. The life of the organization is at present only short and yet a very marked progress has been made. On Sunday afternoon the third meeting was held, and bad weather being no excuse on this occasion the men attended well. The speaker was the Rev. H. D. Whitmore of London, and he gave an excellent and interesting address on "the highest power and how made effective." Mr. Whitmore has been a missionary for ten years among the deep sea fishermen round the coast of Newfoundland and he recounted some of his wonderful experiences in which prayer has been the means by which the highest power has been made effective. Mr. Harry Jenkins sang a very pleasing solo which was highly appreciated. The music was supplied by the orchestra under the leadership of Mr. Timbs, and this, together with the hearty singing, made the meeting a bright and pleasant Sunday afternoon to every man present.

LARKIN STIRRED UP THE MEETING

Over 5000 Assembled in Manchester City on Sunday to Hear Him.

[Canadian Press Dispatch]
LONDON, Nov. 17.—James Larkin, the released Dublin labor leader, began his crusade in England on Sunday by delivering a fiery speech at Manchester. His presence in Manchester evoked one of the most remarkable demonstrations the city has had in a long time. His meeting was in Free Trade Hall. Two hours before the meeting, the streets were crowded and the approaches to the hall were impassable. The hall itself held fully five thousand people. The demand for tickets was such that as many as a sovereign piece was offered for them.

Inside the hall a choir of young women sang the organ rendered "Le Marselles" and other songs. Five young women wearing the red cap of Liberty sold programs. Larkin was obviously impressed with the reception and spoke in impassioned tones. He denied that he called for a general strike in support of the Dublin men, leaving that point to the English trade unions. At the same time he appealed to the English trade unions to stand by the strikers to the death. He drew a graphic picture of the social conditions in Dublin, and the horrors of the slums and jail life. He said that if his colleagues in Mountjoy Prison were not liberated he wanted to rejoin them there.

In reference to a report that he lived in a mansion and drove a motor car, Larkin said: "If ever a man deserved a mansion or a motor car that man stands here, Jim Larkin."

Officers Elected.
At the Sunday School session yesterday afternoon the S. P. I. class of Colborne St. Church, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, C. Brown; Vice-President, Edgar Lorimer; Secretary, Chas. Pelton. The different committees will be appointed later. The class is under the leadership of Messrs. T. Logan and P. E. Verity.

Character Recital.
Large and appreciative congregation at Colborne St. Methodist last evening heard from the lips of Mr. Cyril Hayes of London, Ont., a character recital "David and Jonathan." Mr. Hayes possesses a talent far above the ordinary and this fact was appreciated by the congregation. The characters were very realistic. This special privilege was in connection with Mite Box Sunday. This evening a concert will be held at which Mr. Hayes will again appear.

Officers Elected.

City Improvement Will Be Subject

Mr. Richard B. Watrous, Secretary of the American Civic Association, having headquarters in Washington, D. C., has kindly consented to come to Brantford to deliver a lecture illustrated with lantern slides, for the Brantford Civic Improvement committee. The lecture is on the subject of "Practical City Planning by a gentleman who has seen a great deal and also been closely in touch with leading architects and city planners of United States and Europe. The lecture will be held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall, Friday evening the 21st.

Front seats will be reserved for members of the Civic Improvement Committee, and the rest of the hall will be available for the general public, who are cordially invited. It is expected that the lecture itself will occupy one hour from eight to nine. After that Mr. Richard B. Watrous and Mr. Dunnington-Grubb, who previously will look over the city, will give their views as to the proper site for the city hall for Brantford. The subject will be open for discussion on the part of the members of the Civic Improvement committee. It is a most important matter that the site for a city hall, when built, should be well considered in order to avoid mistakes, and it is fortunate that Brantford should have two gentlemen who are experts on such a subject, to give the advantage of their advice.

GOVERNMENT'S OFFER.
CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 17.—The Lake Carriers Association, which has arranged for a tug to patrol the American side of the lakes in search of bodies of victims of the recent blizzard, to-day announced that the Canadian Government has offered it a revenue cutter to assist in the work. The offer will be accepted.

With the City Police

Although there was a fair sized list at the Police Court this morning very little business was done, only one case being disposed of finally. In this one instance Alex McIntyre was charged at the instance of R. J. Eacrett with procuring liquor. He was fined ten dollars and costs, amounting altogether to $35.00. Three cases were adjourned without hearing until the nineteenth of this month, another for a week and a third until to-morrow. In another instance, no defendants put in an appearance.

GIVES A CUP.
WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 17.—J. C. Eaton has given a cup for competition among visiting curlers only at the Winnipeg hospital, in February.

At the Y.W.C.A.

Saturday evening the Hamilton Y. W. C. A. "I Will Trust" Club was delightfully entertained by the local club. Over 50 young ladies from the Ambitious City were in attendance. A splendid program was provided by the local delegates to the summer conference. Those taking part were Miss Good, the physical directress; Misses Maud Agnew, Bessie Johnson, Grace Struthers, Lulu Hainer, Elsie Wilmot, Vera Heaman, Mrs. D. Wright, Miss Mackenzie, secretary at the Hamilton Y.W.C.A., made a few suitable remarks. Refreshments were served and a social hour spent.

FREIGHTER SINKS.
PORT HURON, Mich., Nov. 17.—The overturned freighter, Charles S. Price, a derelict for more than a week sank in Lake Huron shortly before nine o'clock this morning. The report was received here by wireless.

BAGGED BIG MOOSE AFTER THRILLING TIME

Brantford Party Had an Interesting Time of it Up North.

Brantford hunters are returning to the city with both game and thrilling stories galore. A party consisting of Messrs. U. Turner, Shary Riley, Albert Taylor and Bert Howick were successful in getting probably the biggest moose ever brought into Brantford. The specimen which was a magnificent one, weighed 1400 lbs. Its head was a beautiful one. The animal did not go out without making a stand for life. He got within 12 feet of Mr. Turner, who shot him through the eye and it was a fortunate shot. Moose is reported plentifully beaten tracks. This specimen was shot at Massey, near Sudbury.

Messrs. W. Campbell and W. Cleator returned Saturday with their full count of deer. Mr. Turner and party are expected home to-day.

FINE RALLY AT BORDEN CLUB
Fourth Ward Took Charge and They Did it in Great Style.

Ward 4 had charge of the Saturday afternoon rally at the Borden Club headquarters, and there was a good attendance.

Mr. W. H. Lane was in the chair and was assisted by Ald. W. Sutch, Ald. Broadbent, and ex-Ald. Baird, each of whom gave a short address on municipal affairs.

Mr. W. S. Brewster, M.P.P., gave a very lucid address with reference to the Workmen's Compensation Act. The points he was able to adduce were greeted with loud applause.

Mr. W. F. Cockshutt was also warmly welcomed on his return from his trip West. He gave a splendid and rousing speech with regard to the Borden Navy Bill and incidentally mentioned that while away he had spoken on the same subject at Red Deer and been accorded an excellent reception.

The rest of the programme was as follows: Song, John Wakely; recitation, S. Burnley; song, Cliff Todd; recitation, Mr. Manning; accordion solo, Mr. Harding; Scotch song, Mr. Cullin; song, W. E. Valentine; accompanist, Mr. Akers.

HIS FATHER IS DEAD
Mr. W. C. Livingston, P. M., Mourns Loss of Father on Sunday.

A wire was received in the city announcing the sudden death in Milton of Mr. Thomas Chisholm Livingston, father of Police Magistrate Livingston.

Deceased, who was 77 years of age, succumbed to a stroke. He had been a prominent man in many directions during his career and in addition to the Magistrate he leaves two other children to mourn his loss, Stewart, out West, and Alice, at present staying in this city with Mrs. Livingston.

The funeral will be at Hamilton.

Vicar Taken Ill in Church
The Rev. William Powell, vicar of Newcastle-Emlyn, died suddenly at the Vicarage on Sunday. He was present at the morning service at Holy Trinity Church, but had to abandon the service owing to illness. He was conveyed to his home and he died in the afternoon. He was in his seventy-fourth year.

PANAMA CANAL IN PICTURE AND PROSE
Get ready for a trip to the great Panama Canal. It is a boat trip, not it is a trip by train.

Why, nothing less than a step into the front door of a Panama, on through the Isthmus by easy stages and out into the Pacific Ocean without even wetting the sole of a shoe. How's it all done?

The Courier gives you the opportunity through a beautiful illustrated book called "Panama and the Canal in Picture and Prose." This book tells you of the strange natives of the Canal zone, their characteristics and customs; also their costumes, which are designed to show more of their anatomy than is shown even in polite circles of modern society. It portrays the beauties of the jungle, the floating islands, the flowers and trees of this wonderful tropical country.

This volume becomes a source of education to every one who possesses it. Everybody should know of the wonders of the great canal and its surrounding territory. The entire story is told in the magnificent book.

The Courier has arranged to present these volumes to readers as explained in the Panama certificate which will be printed daily in these columns. Six of these certificates are required, together with a small expense amount to cover the mere items of the cost of distribution.

Church News Over Sunday Bright Services Rendered

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH
HAD NOTABLE DAY

Anniversary Services Were Held on Sunday-Rev. Dr. Drummond the Preacher.

Sunday was a notable day long to be remembered in the history of St. Andrew's church, Brant avenue. Anniversary services were conducted, the church being filled to capacity in the morning, while in the evening many were turned away. The preacher of the day was Rev. Dr. Drummond of Hamilton. He delivered two stirring discourses, which were greatly appreciated. Both were of an inspiring nature. Mr. Harold Jarvis of Toronto especially delighted the congregation with his singing. The choir under the leadership of Mr. S. P. Davies, is deserving of special mention, having augmented the beauty of the services to a great degree.

One of the most gratifying features of the day was the splendid response of the congregation to the appeal of the managers, who asked for a special contribution of $500. The amount received was $700. St. Andrew's church is indeed prospering and growing under the guidance of Rev. J. W. Gordon, the popular pastor.

77TH ANNIVERSARY AT THE CONGREGATIONAL
Inspiring Sermons and Music Featured the Services Yesterday.

The Congregational Church observed yesterday its 77th anniversary. Largely attended congregations assembled both morning and evening to assist in the fitting celebration of the event. The Rev. H. D. Arch, Whitmore of the First Congregational church, London, was the speaker for the day. At the morning service the speaker presented an eloquent sermon on the world's challenge to the church, taking his text from 8 St. Mark, 23. 24. The preacher stated that every age brings its challenge to the church, and if we will only turn our faces to God we will be enabled to turn a transfigured life to the world's challenge.

The musical numbers, for the day were particularly bright and enjoyable, consisting of the following: Anthem, "Come let us join" (Churchill); solo, "I heard the voice of Jesus say"; Miss Secord; solo, Miss Campion; duet, "Come Home," Messrs Crocker and Sanderson; anthem, "Come with me," Miss Campion; solo, Mr. Crocker; duet, "Forever with the Lord," Miss Campion, Mrs. Brooks.

The subject for the evening discourse "Second-hand Religion," was handled by the speaker in a masterly fashion to the delight of all his hearers.

ALEXANDRA PRESBYTERIAN.
"But as his part is that goeth down to the battle, so shall his part be that trieth by the stuff; They shall part alike." The above was the text on which the Rev. Dr. T. McClintock founded his theme for the morning service. The points emphasized by the pastor were: 1st, those who have gone to the front; 2nd, those who remained at home. It is the duty of those who remain at home to make provision for those at the battle front.

Why have we any right to expect greater sacrifices from our missionaries than we ourselves are willing to make? The pastor referred to the great privileges for a young man to be a medical missionary. The Rev. Mr. McClintock in an interesting manner presented to his congregation the budget of the Presbyterian church, pointing out the battle line in home and foreign fields, and asked for a greater enthusiasm in the missionary enterprise. It is the duty of a missionary nature. "Serving Jesus" was sung by the choir.

WELLINGTON STREET.
Brotherhood, class and Junior let-urge held good meetings yesterday morning. At the morning service, the pastor, Rev. D. Hamilton, concluded his series of sermons on Bible Arithmetic. His subject "Division" was full of interest and helpfulness. The anthem was, "God Is Love" (Shelley), solo, Mr. W. Darwen, Miss Corinne Clive. The "Thee to Me" Boys' Day" was observed in the Sunday school. A number of the boys' classes took part and the service all through was a great success. A choir of men assisted in the choral service. Mr. W. G. Ranton and his staff of officers are doing splendidly. At the evening service the male choir of the church were in attendance and under Mr. Darwen's skillful direction rendered the music in excellent style. Those assisting the choir were Messrs. Stubbins, Strickland, Sugdu, Daniel, W. Darden and F. Houghton. The pastor delivered the sermon in his usual capable manner.

TORONTO BUILDS NEW BALL TEAM

Buy Big League Material and Gets Rid of Several Old Men.

TORONTO, Nov. 17.—James J. McCaffery, president of the Toronto Baseball club and owner of the Hamilton Club, returned last night from the meeting at Columbus, where he rounded up a lot of good men, let several others go and has Isaacs, Trout and Jones still for sale.

The president thinks well of the new schedule arrangement with the American Association. The international association season will wind up some time between August 8 and 15, the same as the American association, and the two leagues will then form a 16-club circuit, playing a double schedule for the class AA championship, winding up October 1.

First Baseman Ambrose McConnell has been sold to Atlanta, of the Southern League.

Catcher Peaches Graham sold to the Venice Club of the California League.

Thus the team will line up with Borton at first base; Fitzpatrick at second, Fisher at shortstop, Pick at third, and W. Bradley as utility infielder; and Kroy, Callahan, O'Hara and Meyer in the outfield. The three catchers will be Kelly, Brown and Erwin, and the pitchers will be Brown, Herbert, Maxwell, Graham, Schwab and others.

Arrangements for the spring training trip of the Leafs have been completed. The team reports at St. Louis on March 14, arriving at Marlin Springs, Texas ready for work March 16. They will spend two weeks in the training camp, playing during that time at Houston and Beaumont. Toronto Giants will be in camp with Toronto for a week, playing practice games with them. Toronto will be alone the second week. The Leafs start north on April 1.

A Kick About Coal Quality

is by no means a rare thing these times. But it is a rarity with us, because we take care to buy only the best grades of coal, as we know our customers would not buy from us any inferior qualities— not twice anyway. At it is our policy to keep our customers, we could not afford to give them any but the best coal, full weight, without dirt or rubbish and at a reasonable price.

"OLD M'GILL" ARE CHAMPIONS AGAIN

Shaughnessy's Machine Too Formidable for the U. of T.

TORONTO, Nov. 17.—For the second time in succession the championship of the Intercollegiate Union goes to "Old McGill." On Saturday at the University of Toronto Stadium the Montreal student team beat the Blue and White by 22 to 14. Between eight and nine thousand spectators witnessed what was quite one of the best games of the season, the stadium being filled to its seating capacity and much of the standing room being occupied. Conditions of wind, weather and footing were good and did not favor either team.

The game was a desperate struggle. A Toronto victory would have placed the Varsity team on even terms with McGill for the championship. A Red and White win meant the title for the Montrealers in addition to being regarded as a triumph for professional coaching methods. The utmost determination was depicted on the face of every man who got into the game and a determined battle it was.

A Hard-Fought Game.

Both teams played up to their limit. Every play carried with it the very best efforts of the men and players and spectators were at high tension from end to end. McGill furnished some new football (Shaughnessy football), some of the attack formations being quite unlike anything heretofore seen in this city. Chief among these was a way of lining up the scrimmage with the wings three yards back and the backfield three yards in the rear of the wings. At the moment the signal was given the players raced to their positions and were on the high speed when the ball heeled out. The play was both spectacular and effective, for it resulted in a clean touch down.

No particular department of the game can be held to account for Toronto's defeat. McGill had the better football team, standing out in front of Varsity most of the time. Fumbled punts are a part of football and McGill made three such mistakes on or behind her own line. Invariably, however, the ball was recovered by a McGill man with Varsity wings diving at it. Thus did the lack of the game "break" for the winners. Had Toronto recovered the loose ball on these occasions the score might have been somewhat in their favor.

FINN RUNNER WINS VERY FAST TIME.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Hannes Kolehmainen, the Finnish Olympic distance champion, running for the I.A.A.C., added another trophy to his large collection of prizes yesterday by winning the Metropolitan A.A. U. senior cross country championship over the Van Cortlandt Park six mile course from a field of 36 starters. The winner's time, 33:20, is a new record for this course. S. L. Leslie of the Long Island A. C. who won the junior championship over the same route last Saturday, finished second yesterday, 300 yards behind Kolehmainen and R. Springsteen, Yonkers Y. M. C. A., finished in third place.

This is the most thorough bowel cleanser known and JUST ONE DOSE relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation almost IMMEDIATELY. You will be surprised at the QUICK action of Alder-ka. M. H. Robertson, the Druggist.

"SAFETY FIRST" MAXIMS.

Here are some "Safety First" maxims given out by Mr. N. S. Dunlop at a meeting of railway men at an address in Montreal:—

"Don't throw anything out of a moving train. It's a bad thing to get a small bag of stock from an express running thirty miles an hour.

"A brakeman should not sit down on the track and be run over by the train he went to flag.

"It takes less time to prevent an accident than it does to fill up Form 74 (the accident report form).

"Don't fool with machines. They can be replaced. Hands cannot.

"You can start a 'Safety First' committee right in your own home.

"Get the 'Safety First Habit'.

"Stop supporting the undertaker and the artificial limb maker.

"No man should go twenty-four hours without placing his insurance."

Mr. Dunlop is an enthusiast for "Safety First," a movement which was started on the C.P.R. so long ago as 1885.

As Claims Adjuster of that Company Mr. Dunlop had to deal with many sad experiences due to neglect of "Safety First" principles.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Keep Her Locks Dark, Glossy, Thick.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. Agent, George Bowles.

ERIE APPLIES FOR PLAGE IN CANADIAN LEAGUE

Ottawa Journal—The Erie, Pa., club has officially applied for a franchise in the Canadian League and has asked the National Baseball Commission to allow them to enter. While nothing appears to have been definitely decided at the Canadian League meeting it looks as if the people were given a pretty straight tip that they were welcome.

It is a sure thing that the circuit of the league will be altered next summer. Last year the league had four pretty good ball cities in the circuit; Ottawa, London, Hamilton and Brantford. Hamilton and Brantford suffered from bad management and a losing team, but they are good ball cities—nevertheless, and can be made even better. With these cities Erie and Niagara Falls or Youngstown in the league Peterboro and St. Thomas could easily be carried if they don't make money. But Guelph and Berlin should certainly be dropped.

With Youngstown or Niagara Falls May Supplant Berlin and Guelph.

They are off the main line as far as the league is concerned and there appears very little prospect of their ever becoming better baseball towns than they are now. And the admission of the two American cities would give us class "B" ball. It might even be a good idea to take in all three American cities and let St. Thomas join with Guelph, Berlin and some of the small Western Ontario burgs to form a new class "D" league. This would be more the baseball to fit the small towns than class "B" variety.

CAPITAL JUNIORS WON FROM SARNIA

Toronto Junior O. R. F. U. Beat Sarnia's Heavy Team.

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 17.—Capital of Toronto won their O. R. F. U. junior semi-final game with Sarnia here Saturday by 9 to 2. The field was a sea of mud and snow fell heavily during the game. Sarnia was much the heavier team and gained ground repeatedly on their backs. These gains were offset, however, by the good work of Price, who out-kicked McCart on every occasion. Sarnia's backfield fumbled time and again. The feature of Capitals' play was their fast following up of Prices punts. Dopp, Knowles and Price started for Capitals. Lesueur and McCart were best for the losers. The teams:

Sarnia—Stokes, full back; Lumas, McCart, Sinclair, halves; Lesueur, quarter; Sanford, Newhouse, Hubbard scrummage; Rosenberg, Vinal, Cobi, inside wings; Waldron, Brown, middle wings; Duncun, Garvey, outside wings.

Capitals—McCormick, full back; Knowles, Price, Dopp, halves; Adams, quarter; Glaze, Manners, McDonald, scrummage; Armstrong, Timming, inside wings; Richards, McBurney, middle wings; Grimshaw, Holden, outside wings.

Referee—Art Anglin, Toronto.
Umpire—W. Richardson, London.

BEST FIRST BASE PLAYER IS BARRY

The Former Brantford Canadian Leaguer Leads International 1st Sackers

The International League fielding averages disclose the fact that the best first baseman in the circuit was Barry of Jersey City, the former Brantford Canadian Leaguer, who fielded .998 in 43 games played having had but one error during that time. H. Bradley of Toronto, was second with Delinger third. The second base honors went to Schafly of Newark; Parent of Baltimore and Shean of Providence, respectively; Purtell of Jersey City; Yeager of Montreal; and W. Bradley of Toronto, carried off the honors for third baseman. McMillan of Rochester, proved to be the best shortstop with an average of .959, with Schafly and Roach of Buffalo, second and third. Many outfielders played a large number of games without an error credited to each, but the performance of Paddock of Rochester, of going 51 games without a single muffed play, takes the honor; Isaacs of Toronto fielded .926 in nine games with Toronto.

The plaintiff then said the claim was for the breaking of a plate glass window. His honor angrily asked what he meant by swearing it was for goods sold and delivered, and the plaintiff said the insurance company made him bring the case. "Did they make you commit perjury?" asked his honor, adding that only the poor man came there a perjured affidavit. He dismissed the claim.

"Have you a large acquaintance, and can you occupation from your acquaintances?"

"Fill that out," said agent. He had not even wanted to become a agent, but for the last question I would not have known considering me as an such a position.

"I've never done any in my life," I said over "Good," he said, "I wouldn't have you blank."

THE CASE-BOOK OF A PRIVATE DETECTIVE

Inside History of the Methods Employed in Criminal Investigation, Embracing True Narratives of Interesting Cases by a Former Operative of the William J. Burns Detective Agency.

BY DAVID CORNELL

1—MY FIRST CASE "Getting" the Man Who Hung a Jury

(Copyright, 1912, by International Press Bureau.)

(Editor's Note—In order that no annoyance may accrue through the publication of these narratives to persons involved therein, other names and places have in many instances been substituted for the real ones.)

Up to the day that the manager of the New York office of the Burns Detective Agency handed me an order for $50 expense money and started me up the Hudson river on my first man-hunt, I had never done anything in my life that might have been suspected of even remotely resembling detective work. I probably knew as little about the business as anybody in the country, and I had never had any yearning or intention to become a detective. But I was 36 years old, out of work, almost broke—in New York—had a family to support and, most important of all, I happened to have met the celebrated detective who is the head of the agency by which I came to be employed, the largest reputable private detective agency in the country. That was why I became, and am, a private detective.

One morning I found myself at 42d street and Broadway, looking at the newspaper bulletins and wondering how long my money would last and where in the world I should turn for a job. One of the bulletins read: "Detective Burns Nabs More Bribers." That bulletin did the trick.

"He may remember me," I thought, "and he may know of a job to fit me." I went straight down town to the office of the agency of which the big man is the head and asked if he was in.

"What do you want of him?" asked the office manager.

"I was desperate. I said: 'I know him, and I want a job.' He looked me over, went into an inner office for a while, and reappeared, bearing an application blank. The office said nothing in it, was just as it would be in an up-to-date business office. The business of the place might as well have been selling insurance as hunting criminals. The application blank had all the conventional questions of such a paper, and in addition these:

"Were you ever acquainted with any police force, or any detective agency? Are you acquainted with any police officials, or any one employed by detective agencies?"

"Were you ever employed by any railroad?"

"Do you know anything about the newspaper business?"

The first ballot had voted for a full judgment for Kellner. The twelfth man had voted 'no' on that ballot, and on the second, and the third, and on every ballot for the next twenty-four hours. He had hung the jury, and the case was a mis-trial. The man's name was Harry Donlin, a real estate agent.

"That's the man you've got to get," said the office manager. "He did the trick, and he's been spending money ever since. We've got to have a full confession from him that we can use as evidence, and it's got to be in writing, and sworn to, or told in the hearing of at least two people; who gave him the bribe, when, and what for. And we've got to get it in a hurry, too, because the new trial is coming on in less than a month. Have you got any money?"

I didn't have enough to be worth mentioning. He drew a pink pad to him, wrote out an order on the cashier for $50 and handed it to me.

"Get up there right away," he said. "You can get a train every hour, on the even hour. Here are some report forms. Write a full report of your doings every day and mail it every evening. Don't forget to make your report cover all your time."

That was how I entered this business, and had been accustomed to seeing things move with businesslike expediency in other offices, but this beat all records. Thirty minutes before I had entered the office inquiring for the chief, I had not seen the chief, had not been questioned, but here I was handed $50, sent out on what seemed to me like a complicated case of detective work, and being calmly told to get a full confession from a man I knew no more about than about Adam.

"They are just trying me out to see how he acts," I thought, as I took the money order. So I said: "All right. When shall I report here again?"

"We will let you know," was the answer. I caught a three o'clock train on the New York Central and took a seat in the smoking car. Across the aisle lolled a tall, lanky, good-natured young fellow whose ticket, stuck in the seat in front of him, showed that he was going to Peekaville, his destination. On the chance that he lived in the town or knew something about it, I took out my pipe, stuffed it, and began to search, ostentatiously, for the matches I pretended not to have.

"You don't happen to have an extra match, do you?"

"Sure," he said, and began to light his. I crossed over and sat down beside him. As I accepted the match and prepared to light my pipe I stuck my ticket in the seat before us, where he could not fail to see it.

"Going to Peekaville, too?" he said, genially.

"Yes," I said, puffing away. "You going there?"

"Yep," he said. "I live there. You don't live there, do you?"

"No," I answered.

"Thought not," said my friend. "I know everybody there. Peekaville is a town or two miles from Peekaville, and I was prosperous looking in the morning."

"Say," he said, "if you're thinking of buying a place up there you want to see Donlin by all means. He's the agent for the best real estate bargains in town. I'm a friend of his, and I know his right."

Donlin was the man I was after. I pretended to misunderstand the name. "Who? 'Donaldson'?"

"Donlin," he corrected. "Harry Donlin. I'll introduce you to him if you wish when we get up there."

"I did my best to get on a friendly basis with my good-natured young friend, and by the time we reached our destination I knew that his name was Daley. He knew that mine was Cornell, and we were getting along so well that when we stepped from the train we walked straight across the street to have a friendly glass of beer.

In the bathroom we ran into a short, heavy set man, with a nervous, twitching mouth, and restless eyes. He was one of the most worried looking men I have ever seen.

"Ah, hello, Harry!" hailed Daley. "Say, Harry, I want to introduce you to an old friend of mine from Chicago. Mr. Cornell. Like to have you meet Mr. Donlin. Mr. Donlin's an old pal of mine, too."

on site get his money and keep quiet. He said: 'Give me my money; that's all I care about.' I then told him that he was mistaken when he said the amount you had got was $38,000. I said that you had got less than $25,000, and that in moving around the country you had spent $2,000, so all you had was about $22,000. He didn't believe it, but he is so greedy for money that he agreed to drop everything and sign a paper clearing you if he gets back $22,000.

"Now, I think that was a pretty fine piece of business on my part, and that it is the best thing you can do. Even if you go into court and fight him and show him up for what he is, he is going to show you up, and you'll be ruined if he does. If you return $22,000, you're clear at $16,000; which will help some. My advice is that you do this. At all events let me know at once what you are going to do.

"Don't forget to burn this."

"Your brother."

"FRED."

Donlin took the buggy riding to look at another house that afternoon. My were chums by this time. When I left him I managed to slip the letter, without the envelope, into the seat where I had been sitting without being observed.

"I never saw or heard of that letter again, but Donlin found it and read it and it did its work, as I discovered later. One day just three weeks after I came to Peekaville, he came up to my room slightly more under the influence of liquor than usual, and told me that he had quarrelled with his wife. And through that I 'got' my man. I had won his confidence; he trusted me even before his wife.

"That's been my whole trouble all the time," he said. "My wife won't let me alone. First it's one thing she's nagging about, then another. I'd never been in any trouble if it hadn't been for her. She's always hollering about me not giving her enough money. Well, here a short time ago I had a chance to put one over, and I did—$2,000 worth. And now she starts nagging me where I got that money I'm giving her and begins to holler me out. I quit. I just walked out, and she'll whistle another tune before I go back."

The truth was that his wife was disgusted over his drinking.

"Skip out for a couple days and let her get used to where I got that money. I'm going to come back, and you'll see what let's do; let's take a night boat up to Albany and hang around there for a couple of days. I'm getting kind of tired of this place myself. What do you say?"

"I'll go you," he said. "I don't care where I go. I'll be a fellow can get into more trouble than you aren't right at home than he knows how to handle. If she was the kind of woman you could tell things to."

"Don't talk to me about that, Harry. I'm the one who knows what's what. I've got to go to Albany, and I'll be back in a few days. I'll be back in a few days. I'll be back in a few days."

and poor Donlin relieved his soul.

staterooms on either side of ours, but it was not until later that I knew what part they were playing in our programme.

I waited until the boat had cast off before I began the line of talk I had decided upon. I began to curse my luck, my supposed former employer, my alleged brother, my assumed wife, and everybody that I could think of. I played the part of a whimperer to you."

"How much did you get out of it?" demanded Donlin suddenly.

"I looked at him and knew he had read the letter."

"I'll come through with about $16,000," I said. "But I wouldn't go through this worry again for ten times that much."

"Hell," he growled. "And you're kicking! What would you say to talking a measly little twenty-five hundred from a dirty bunch of rich crooks and going around with everybody suspecting you of having done it?"

"Only a little more than a month ago," he said. "Just three days before the trial—the night of May 23rd. Well, as I was saying, I went out, and when I got home I felt in my pocket and there was the envelope—with $2,500 in it."

"Didn't you see them slip the envelope to you?" I asked.

"Sure," he said. "Bruley slipped it into my pocket and winked and slapped me on the shoulder when he did it. Well, they got me accepted for the jury all right. Then Bruley comes to me and says: 'Say, Donlin, don't forget you're one of us now. You've got to deliver the goods.'"

"Well, I delivered the goods, all right. The other eleven men wanted to kill me, but I hung out. 'No judgment,' I said, 'or I'll stay out until Christmas.' I assured that $2,500 all right—we disagreed. And the other day Mrs. Smythe gives a lawn party and never a word about inviting Mrs. Donlin. Oh, yes, I was one of them all right—when they needed me."

"Pshaw!" I said. "You hung a jury for 'em for twenty-five hundred and now they're turning cold to you?"

"Yes. That's the kind they are." "Pshaw!" I said. "Now let's go and get something to eat. I'm desperately hungry."

"I haven't given Donlin's complete confession here, but only the gist of his confession. But Donlin himself had a complete typewritten report of his talk in the stateroom handed to him in the hotel in Albany two days later. The chief and the office manager called on him unexpectedly in my room and, handing him a carbon copy of his conversation, asked him if there were any inaccuracies to be corrected in it."

"I guess that's about right," said the chief, casually. "We knew all the time that the reason you hung that jury was to have those fellows, and you knew you weren't doing it for your health; but we wanted to get you to tell us all about it yourself, so we got it when you were talking to your friend on the boat the other night. Now, Donlin, we've got the goods on you, understand; we want you on there, you understand; we want to have one of our friends on that jury. We're glad of the chance to have you on because we know you're one of us and we all want to stick together. We will see that you get on that jury—don't worry about that—and there'll be a little envelope slipped into your pocket as you leave here, and—the worst we want is a disagreement. Understand?"

"How long ago was this?"

Out of Mouths of Babes. Little Harold, aged five, helped his grandfather last summer getting out fruit trees, and was telling his father about it the other night. Thinking to improve the opportunity of pointing a moral, father asked: "Who made the trees, son?" The kid thought for a moment, then his face lit up with a knowing smile. "I guess God made the trees," he said. "But grandpa stood 'em up."—Milwaukee Free Press.

SMALLPOX HOUSE Nearly Went Up in Fire on Saturday Night Last.

Brantford pest house, situated in Mt. Hope cemetery, nearly went up in smoke completely Saturday night and the Board of Health authorities are to-day wishing it had. Fire was discovered in one of the partitions and Captain Kingswell with two men and extinguishers went to the scene of the blaze which was getting a good start. Neighbors rushed in and removed quantities of blankets and bedding in the building. A big box containing dishes was burned up, leaving the dishes mostly intact. The loss is not considered a heavy one.

PURE WOOL

TWELVE suits of ordinary Underwear can be made in the time it takes us to make one suit of "CEETEE" Underclothing. "CEETEE" Underclothing is made on special machines, entirely different from ordinary knitting machines, and which are the only machines of their type in Canada. "CEETEE" Underclothing costs a little more but is most economical. All "CEETEE" Underclothing is made from the softest, finest Australian Merino Wool. This wool is put through a thorough treatment of combing and scouring that removes every particle of foreign matter and leaves every strand as soft and clean as humanly possible. "CEETEE" Underclothing is so soft that it will not irritate even an infant's skin. All pieces are knitted together (not sewn) making each garment practically one piece. It has no rough spots. Every garment is fashioned substantially during the knitting to fit the human form, thus rendering it comfortable, easy to wear, and perfect fitting. These are the reasons why "CEETEE" Underclothing is in a class by itself, and is worn by the Best People. Sold by the Best Dealers. 1605

Buying Shoes On Reputation

When any article has consistently "made good" with the public for over 40 years, it must be a SAFE article to buy. No inferior product can stand the acid test of time. Literally MILLIONS of Canadians have bought and re-bought the genuine Slater Shoe during its 40 odd years on the market. From Halifax to Vancouver it has been put to the trial tests of hard wear and often rough usage, year after year. The sales of the Slater Shoe are greater to-day than ever in its history. More people are wearing it. More people are satisfied by actual trial and hearsay that the Sign of the Slate on a shoe stands for extra COMFORT, more VALUE and BETTER WEAR. The genuine Slater Shoe is a SAFE Shoe to buy. It has a reputation to maintain, which the makers have spent over 40 years and thousands of dollars to build up. Beware of imitations. Look for the Slate Mark on the sole.

UNCOVER BIG GEM SWINDLE

Detectives Find Over $90,000 Worth of Stolen Diamonds in Pawn Shop.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Maiden Lane merchants were lamenting the disappearance of Miss Antoinette Bonner, a prepossessing young woman of 30 years, known among them as the "diamond queen," and J. B. Wislinger, her partner, who have not been seen since Oct. 31 and who are accused of swindling jewel dealers of about $200,000 worth of gems. Warrants for the pair were issued last week.

The loss of the jewels became known through the arrest of Francis E. Cocks, a diamond broker, with offices at 7 Maiden Lane. Cocks had been in business for more than 20 years, has a good reputation and over in Brooklyn plays the organ in a Presbyterian church. He was accused of grand larceny by Louis D. Folkart, another broker of 65 Nassau Street and is now free under $2,000 bail. Magistrate Freschi will decide to-day whether or not he shall be held for the grand jury.

When Cocks was arrested it was for failing to pay Folker for $1,220 worth of diamonds he got on "memorandum" a practice prevalent among jewel dealers Cocks, when in custody made affidavits which resulted in the issuance of warrants for Miss Bonner and Wislinger, who, he charges, failed to pay him for $78,000 worth which they took from him on memorandum and who could not pay the money. Diamonds, pearls, and other jewels valued at $300,000 were located in a pawn shop at 135 Bowersy where they were pledged by two men and a woman. One man answers the description the police have sent out for Wislinger and the woman looked very much like Miss Bonner. The third man was found by the district attorney's office. He is Sol Breche, a watchmaker on Maiden Lane, and a brother of Wislinger, who took his present name some years ago.

A small safe in the suite of rooms in the Marbridge building where Miss Bonner and Wislinger had their offices, will be opened. Mr. Minton expects to find there a quantity of pawn tickets and perhaps some clues as to where the jewels Cocks says the pair got from him and other valuables they are said to have secured from other diamond brokers or from dealers are.

MEN TOO SHY SAYS PRETTY STENOGRAPHER Could Love Good Husband But Her Charms Fail to Attract.

"Nothing to do but work," sighed the young woman who taps a type-writer in a big office, and who discreetly alters the weird grammar of the boss in transcribing his dictation. "I used to think it would be the grandest thing in the world to be independent and have my own money," she continued, rubbing the wrinkle between her brows, "but now sometimes I wonder if it wouldn't be nice to have the responsibility of somebody else's bread, 'comfy' shoulders, even though I had to wheedle the price of a new dress."

"A man gets just as tired as a woman," said the credit man. "Just as tired—only he knows there's no use thinking about it, because he's got to keep it up for ever. You women always think you can marry some day and have things different."

"Now, isn't that just what a man thinks?" queried the stenographer, apparently addressing her typewriter. "He never dreams but that every girl has a lot of beaux waiting around for her just to pick out one of 'em and settle down. Say, Mr. Man, if there's any man out there hankering to marry me or one who could be persuaded to endow me with his worldly goods, he hasn't made himself conspicuous up to date. I'm in this business for life just as much as you are, and I'm just as scared of gray hairs and wrinkles as you are, only more so. Who wants an old woman for a stenographer?"

Too Shy, Says She
"You ought to shine up to the men a little more," advised the credit man, who, being safely married, felt that he could speak freely. "They're all too shy and distant," she answered. "Where am I to get close enough to any even to be fairly friendly with 'em?"

"I'm not bad-looking. I'm intelligent, pretty well informed in a general way, can do a thinking or talking act, and dress neatly. I don't do domestic by nature and love children. I could love a man. But none of these excellent qualifications seems to attract."

"Once upon a time I was rash enough to invite a man to come up to Sunday evening tea. He came and sat on the edge of a chair and pulled out his watch every fifteen minutes. After tea, he ran off, saying he had to go to church. I suppose he had some other girl he wanted to take there. Anyway, he did not invite me to go with him."

"Perhaps you're better off not being married," mused the credit man. "You never know how a man'll turn out. It's a gamble. And being the wife of a poor man is no cinch. My wife works awfully hard. I know she gets pretty tired."

Likes Housework
"I like to do housework," said the girl. "I love to make beds and cook and work the carpet sweeper, and even dust an wash dishes. I'd like to wash the little tots' faces and get them dressed and off for school and hand 'em out a cookie when they come home."

"I'd like to see my man's old hat hanging on the hallrack, and have 'em scold him for not putting on his rubbers I'd—oh, what's the use!" And she began to blindly sort over papers, while a couple of hot tears threatened to streak down her cheeks.

"Things aren't evenly divided," declared the credit man. "Now, if you and my wife could divide up your work—you do some of hers and she do some of yours—you'd probably both be better contented. It's the sameness that gets one discontented."

"Maybe," said the girl. "I oughtn't to complain. I've got a cat and a dog and a canary and $300 saved to get me into the Old Ladies' Home when I'm sixty."

TRIBUTE IS PAID To the Memory of the Late Joseph Stratford.

The funeral of the late Mr. Joseph Stratford on Saturday afternoon was attended at Grace Church by a most representative congregation of the people of the City and County alike. In addition there were many from outside places including Mr. J. Osborne, brother-in-law and Ewart Osborne, nephew from Toronto, Mr. J. Hale, Manager of the Bank of Commerce, London, Mr. W. Aikens, Dunnville and Mr. L. H. VanLoon, Waterford. The Masons were present in a body. The service which was most impressive was fully choral. Among the larger floral tributes, not before enumerated, was one from the Women's Hospital Aid. Ven. Archdeacon Mackenzie in his remarks at the church, said:—"In such an hour as we think not, the Son of Man cometh." "We all know that death is as natural as birth. We all know that it is the inevitable which awaits us all—yet so many it seems to come at a time when least expected. We speak of the 'Angel of Death.' An angel is God's messenger and surely the messenger and the message are never so welcome as when they come as the fulfilment of a promise.—He that liveth and believeth in me shall never die, he shall never see death." Our friend passed away in a moment and under circumstances so simple and so natural passed to the life of the Spirit, like the falling asleep of a little child, he never saw death, he never knew that he died. Thinking of his unceasing, unwearied activities, you who knew him best, know well how much he has been spared, saved from a long lingering sickness that would have been a great trial to him. He has been mercifully spared all that and we remember that gratefully. When we look back and think of his energy of body and mind from early young manhood, his confident enthusiasm in the fulness and richness of life, the wondrous possibilities of the future in the undeveloped resources of our country, only waiting for capital and men of vision to seize a rich reward, how he threw himself and every power he possessed, into what he deemed great opportunities; if his ventures—sometimes proved failures, none suffered loss equal to himself. "We have yet to learn that he ever sacrificed others to save himself, or that he enriched himself at the cost of others; there was nothing selfish in the make up of Joseph Stratford."

"The world of commerce and enterprises is impatient of anything short of what it calls success in life. 'Do well for thyself and men will speak good of thee.' We are not always the best judges of what is success and what is failure in life; there are men who fail nobly and there are men who succeed ignobly. It is a great matter when we may fail in the world's estimate, yet to have won and retained the confidence, regard and sincere friendship of those who know us best. We can readily understand that the world's estimate of men and things is not the same as the estimate of Divine Wisdom and Righteousness. We look on the outside man and what he achieves. God looks upon the heart and the motives of a man's life."

night, from week end to week end, yet his unlagging interest and time was devoted to what he deemed the best interests of the John H. Stratford Hospital. The comfort of every patient and nurse was a matter of keen personal interest to him always and everything connected with the hospital. He loved with the strength of a devoted brother, a love like that of Jonathan and David, his late brother, and the hospital was the embodiment of that love. I am constrained to say here, it took a long time for him by his many appeals to awake in the hearts of the people of Brantford that generous interest in the hospital that has of late been so nobly given.

"There was another feature in the life of Mr. Stratford. I mean his home life, to which I am constrained to refer, which made an indelible impression on my mind. Joseph Stratford was first and last and always a man devoted to his home life. As a husband and as a father, he gave as he received and enjoyed a wealth of affectionate devotion. If these things constitute true wealth—and who will question it—he was a very rich man. There was a simplicity, a naturalness, a fatherly kindness and consideration, for every one under his roof, that ever pervaded the home.

"I know, perhaps, better than many of you, his deep and reverential spirit for everything connected with true religion. I mean the spirit of religion rather than the letter. He has told me many times his love for the majesty and beauty of the language of the Prayer Book, that the old familiar prayers never failed to appeal to his heart, whether he joined in

EAST INDIANS SAID TO BE REVOLVING

Serious Uprising in the Union South Africa

Authorities Are Disorder May Out Any T

Canadian Press Despatch
DURBAN, Natal, Dec. 18.—The South African Government has ordered the arrest of all the South African Indians spread to-day in the south coast and proclaimed a state of emergency. It is laid down in the proclamation that any person who is found in the atmosphere was, how much disturbed as it had day, the white women having overcome their oxygen of fear, but they consider it possible they may break out at any serious allegations are concerning the ill treatment which stories are believed Indians.

One East Indian died in the town of Durban, 100 miles north of Ladysmith besieged so long by the late war. It is alleged that death was brought about and this with the arrest of 1,000 of their nationals for the federal law, prohibition of Asiatics from another of the Union of South Africa, which has greatly excited the people of whom there are many in Natal, and the other South Africa.

In order to draw the attention of the imperial government to things, these marched across the Transvaal from Natal and most of the Indians have refused to pay a tax of $5 per head imposed on them.

The Indians are all the labor in Natal in farms, the railroads, the and wattle plantations, and most of the mechanics are East Indians a race of the men of this region of South Africa would be likely to move out of discontent India where the people are considerably irritated over the movement of East Indians in the colonies.

Started Robbery
LADYSMITH, Natal, South Africa, Nov. 18.—East Indians started rioting afternoon, and claiming subjects equal rights with the mounted police finally the mob, but the East Indian was dangerously inflamed and a force of armed troops being enrolled and the police provided with revolvers.

Bandit Had Merry

Canadian Press Despatch
SAN FRANCISCO Nov. 18.—more than an hour last night highwayman was in charge of the mail car on the Pacific's Shore Line, 77 from Los Angeles to San Jose and this city while the clerks lay on the floor ropes and their heads on sacks.

The bandit carefully held to all the registered articles through the letters and parcels discarding the money order articles which he did not want. The robber entered the mail car as the train was leaving San Jose for San Francisco without a stop. Until he reached the outskirts of the man engaged in rifling and keeping up a running fire and warnings to the clerks, the robber took the booty, but the clerks jumped from the car and the amount of the robbery could not be learned.

THE WORST.
Patient—Doctor, I must insist upon knowing the name of the Doctor—Well, I guess he is about $83.
