OUR MOUNTAIN HERITAGE.

Canada's Alps Constitute Twenty Swisslands in One.

In estimating the assets of Alberta, Canada, one important item is nearly always omitted—its mountain region. In Eastern Canada and in the United States the Canadian mountains are supposed to lie entirely within the confines of British Columbia. Let us look at the facts. The boundary between these two provinces is defined as the continental watershed. With the swing it takes to the west, it places the largest portion of the great Columbian ice field, said to contain an area of 200 square miles within the Province of Alberta. And so on to the north.

"What does it matter, anyway?" says the "Practical" man who knows it all. "There is no mineral and no money in those mountains." Certainly there is no money at present for anybody except the way company with brains enough to exploit the mountain centres of beauty. Look at the little republic of Switzerland, which understands the value of mountains to a nation. In 1907, the latest date on which we have authoritative figures, the income to hotel keepers from tourists was over eighty million dollars, and this is steadily increasing. Now, hotel keepers are not the only ones who benefit. The hotels have to be supplied with food and necessities; horses and carriages are in large demand, and even such a business as the curiosity and "notion" seller becomes important to a degree that is almost incomprehensible to us. The societies of guides, practically trade unions, are important corporations, handling large sums.

Canada possesses 200,000 square miles of high snow-capped ranges, unique in their scenic beauty and Alpine attractions. "Twenty Swisslands in one," is the oft-quoted remark of the celebrated mountaineer, Edward Whymper. But such comparisons, true as they may be, are of little value. It is the difference that gives our mountains their charm, not their similarity to those of other mountains of finer outline and of greater height, but there are nowhere such lakes as Louise or O'Hara, or those in the region from whence flows the great Saskatchewan. And so long as there remains inherent in healthy human nature the love of adventure, of exploring the wilderness, Canada's mountains will afford the means of satisfying it. Among the giants of the snow-clad ranges men can get away from their business cares, from themselves, and obtain real recreation.

But is not mountaineering very dangerous? To that one may reply that we take greater risks than those involved in the sport every day in our crowded cities, and think nothing of them, because they are commonplace. A great English schoolmaster, at the end of the nineteenth century, refused to recognize lawn tennis as a school game because there was no danger connected with it, and therefore, no discipline of character. This gives food for thought.

The exploitation of all high ranges the world over—the Alps, the Himalayas, the Caucasus, the Andes, the Alps of New Zealand, has, in the first instance, been carried out by members of Alpine clubs. The earliest, the parent and most famous of them all, is the Alpine Club of England, organized in 1857, and among the youngest is the Alpine Club of Canada. Before this was started in 1906, there were practically no Canadian mountaineers. A few American citizens, a few English people passing through on their way from India or Australia, along with a few scientists, made up the meagre roll of climbers. Now the club is well on the way to a membership of six hundred, and though not a national organization, it has become international, with connections reaching to Great Britain, the United States, Australia, South Africa, Switzerland, Holland and Italy. Its ramifications spreading throughout the vast area of Canada, the club keeps in constant touch with its members by means of local committees in Vancouver, Calgary, Winnipeg and Toronto. A local committee was first formed in New York, of which committee the president and vice-president of England's Alpine Club are members.

The "Know-all" sees no sense in a club for climbing mountains. It is surprising, however, how a little knowledge of real—not assumed—facts clears the air.

Canadian Soil in Scotland.
Few visitors to the parade ground of the historic castle of Edinburgh are aware that they stand on what is legally Canadian soil. In 1621, eight years after James VI. went to London, and the two crowns were united, the King, desirous to give an outlet to his countrymen, gave Sir William Alexander of Menstris, afterwards Earl of Stirling, a charter of all the country between the River St. Croix, the St. Lawrence, Newfoundland, and New England. This territory was named New Scotland. St. Croix River became the Tweed, and Cape Breton became New Galloway. This new colony for administrative purposes was by a legal fiction connected with Edinburgh. In order to raise money to help to found the colony the King instituted the Order of Barons of Nova Scotia. This hereditary title was to be given to a gentleman of good birth, who arranged to send a certain number of men and to pay a certain sum of money for the expenses of this plantation of New Scotland. There were many nobles still among the old nobility who had still among their titles of Baronet of Nova Scotia. In 1625, immediately after the death of King James, the Order was instituted and the ceremony took place in the courtyard of Edinburgh Castle. For the purpose of the institution by royal decree the place was declared to be an integral part of the new colony. As the decree has never been annulled it still remains intact and the parade ground is legally an integral part of Nova Scotia.

Lucky to Get That.

CLIMBING MOUNT ROBSON.

English Mountaineer and Swiss Guide Admits It is Too Much For Him.

The mountain climber is the only one real artist. Your "visitor" is not an artist—he doesn't work. The lank-haired chap who occasionally deluges editorial desks with beribboned manuscripts only imagines that his cranium is in the clouds. Really, the rustling femme charmante who strives for the high notes in the social scale approaches more to the climber.

Mr. A. L. Mumm, an Englishman, lately has been trying some high performing at the West at Yellowhead Pass and Rucker Mountain way. He has attempted to foot it up Mount Robson, whose peak pokes its head into the misty vapors seventeen thousand, five hundred feet above terra firma. That's somewhat harder than picking your way upstairs at two a.m.—plus. The mountain climber has no engine to pump him up. He just digs his heels in the mud and climbs every step of the way. And when he gets there, and looks down at the ants and their mole hills! Monarch of all he surveys is your mountain climber in hackneyed phraseology. With head and pose rolled into one.

Mr. Mumm did not conquer Robson. He started out there in July, and for two months has been waiting for the snow to melt on the side of the monster. The slides on Robson frightened even his Swiss guide. Mumm has just returned to Edmonton and says that Robson is too much for him. He has given the project considerable of his time. Last year he and L. M. Amery, Earl Grey's journalistic friend, went out to Robson in August. They got into a snow storm and slide reminiscent of the glacial epoch. Messrs. Mumm and Amery climbed into their winter underwear and went home. Says Mumm: "I think that Robson is a peak that will never be climbed very often." Robson has been captured once. A mild, retired clergyman, Rev. A. Kinney, and packer Phillips of the G.T.P. got to the top—nearly dropping their lives. The jaunt up and back took them two whole days.

Climber Mumm has done some tall work in the Alps. In the Rockies, his altitude record is eleven thousand feet made this summer on a neighboring hill of Robson's.

A Remedy Suggested.

The two things which struck the people who came in contact with Father Vaughan, who stayed in Canada were his vigor and the very practical nature of everything he said. He seemed to be a man who could not possibly deal in abstracts, which characterists will doubtless keep him in the public eye. When he speaks he may always be counted upon to "say something," and he has the courage of his convictions, even when they do not prove very popular. One little anecdote about his altitude that he is equally practical in his actions and does not believe in spending his time upon futile trips or in unproductive effort.

His schedule did not allow him to stay in Toronto as long as he would have liked, and his friends wished him to make some changes so as to see more of that city. He consulted Father Burke, who informed him that in the public eye. When he speaks he may always be counted upon to "say something," and he has the courage of his convictions, even when they do not prove very popular. One little anecdote about his altitude that he is equally practical in his actions and does not believe in spending his time upon futile trips or in unproductive effort.

"Well, I would not mind that," said Father Vaughan, "is there anything to see there except water?"
There is a sequel to this little incident, which shows that the now famous remarks about Protestantism displeased even some members of his own faith. They may have agreed with his views, but experience of living in a community of mixed religions had taught them to use a little tact in voicing some of their convictions. One of these priests, who doubtless feared a little hard feeling, has been having trouble with his own parish, heard the remark of the practical English orator concerning Niagara Falls, but he did not seem at all amused by it. He may have resented the reflection upon Ontario's chief side-show, or the Montreal speech may have been worrying him. "He should have been told that it is an excellent place for some persons to soak their heads," was his only comment.

Kathleen Parlow's Success.

Kathleen Parlow, the brilliant Canadian violinist, has been having tremendous success on the continent says Musical Courier. At her recent appearance at the Kurhaus at Scheveningen, she met with extraordinary appreciation. The demand for admittance was so great that the prices for seats had to be extended far beyond the regular rates, but the place was crowded and the audience wildly enthusiastic. Miss Parlow is now in Norway and the press there has acclaimed her to be one of the greatest artists to visit that country. After the termination of her Norwegian tour she will return to Holland to fill some fifteen engagements, after which she will leave for the United States and Canada on a short tour.

Poor Boys' Academy.

J. J. Kelso, who looks after neglected children in Ontario, has an idea. He is advertising for $50,000 to carry it out. Mr. Kelso wishes to build a poor boys' academy. At present the poor boy takes a chance at the rich boys' school. That is the good poor boy. The bad poor boys are committed to the Industrial School, where they wear uniforms, and, as Mr. Kelso remarks, are placed under the stigma of the criminal. Mr. Kelso's suggestion is open to discussion. Would he mix good and bad poor boys at his academy?—Canadian Courier.

Would Make a Big City.

West Berlin and Waterloo to unite now, the new city thus formed would jump ahead of the smaller cities, right on the heels of Kingston and Brantford. Waterloo's returns show an increase for the year of 1906, and the present population is 4,620, which, with Berlin's 14,600, leaves less than 800 necessary to pass the 20,000 mark. In ten years the increase of Berlin alone was 4,914, so that it is now considerably larger than were the two towns together a decade ago.

One little anecdote about him indicates that he is equally practical in his actions, and does not believe in spending his time upon futile trips or in unproductive effort.

His schedule did not allow him to stay in Toronto so long, he would have liked, and his friends wished him to make some changes so as to see more of that city. He consulted Father Burke, who informed him that if he stayed in Toronto it would be necessary to curtail his visit to Niagara Falls. "Well, I would not mind that," said Father Vaughan, "is there anything to see there except water?" There is a sequel to this little incident, which shows that the now famous remarks about Protestantism displeased even some members of his own faith. They may have agreed with his views, but experienced living in a community of mixed religions had taught them to use a little tact in voicing some of their convictions. One of these priests, who doubtless feared a little hard feeling in his own parish, heard the remark of the Protestant English orator concerning Niagara Falls, but he did not seem at all amused by it. He may have resented the reflection upon Ontario's chief side-show, or the moral speech may have been worrying him. "He should have been told that it is an excellent place for some persons to soak their heads," was his only comment.

Kathleen Parlow's Success. Kathleen Parlow, the brilliant Canadian violinist, has been having tremendous success on the continent says Musical Courier. At her recent appearance at the Kurhaus at Scheveningen, she met with extraordinary appreciation. The demand for admittance was so great that the prices for seats had to be extended far beyond the regular rates, but the place was crowded and the audience wildly enthusiastic. Miss Parlow is now in Norway and the press there has acclaimed her to be one of the greatest artists to visit that country. After the termination of her Norwegian tour she will return to Holland to fill some fifteen engagements, after which she will leave for the United States and Canada on a short tour.

Poor Boys' Academy. J. J. Kelso, who looks after neglected children in Ontario, has an idea. He is advertising for $50,000 to carry it out. Mr. Kelso wishes to build a poor boys' academy. At present the poor boy takes a chance at the rich boys' school. That is the good poor boy. The bad poor boys are committed to the Industrial School, where they wear a uniform, and, as Mr. Kelso remarks, are placed under the stigma of the criminal. Mr. Kelso's suggestion is open to discussion. Would he mix good and bad poor boys at his academy?—Canadian Courier.

Wouldn't Make a Big City. Were Burlington and Waterloo to unite now, the new city thus formed would jump ahead of the smaller cities, right on the heels of Kingston and Brantford. Waterloo's returns show an increase for the year of 196, and the present population is 4,620, which, with Berlin's 14,600, leaves less than $00 necessary to pass the 20,000 mark. In ten years the increase of Berlin alone was 4,914, so that it is now considerably larger than were the two towns together a decade ago.

Brockville Is Popular

All through January and February, The Brockville Business College will be enrolling students who will in a short time go out into business positions as Book-keepers, Stenographers and Office Assistants, or who will go up for their Civil Service Examinations in May. This College is very popular on account of the excellency of its courses and on account of the assurance that its patrons have, that they will be introduced to the business public as soon as competent. WOOD—TRICKEY

The Methodist church at Glen Buell was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday last, when Mr Robert J. Wood of Lombardy, son of John Wood, Esq., was united in marriage to Miss Mary E. Trickey, daughter of the late Mr P. S. Trickey of Athens.

Miss E. Percival, who has been under the doctor's care for about three weeks, is, we are glad to learn, getting along nicely and hopes are held that she may continue to improve until she is as well and happy as usual in her useful life.

Mr Charles Towriss of Leithbridge, Alta., is visiting his parents and many friends of Glen Buell. He is greatly taken up with our own North-West country. He has adopted Horace Greeley's wise saying of fifty years ago "Go West, young man"; but, of course, in this case, the Canadian North-West.

CHANGE ELECTION DATES

Toronto Telegram: The inconvenience and annoyance of municipal elections at Christmas time, and the first of the year have become so oppressive that a serious effort will be made to change the dates of municipal elections in Ontario to some convenient date in the fall of the year, as well as to change the municipal local year.

BERNEY—SLACK

At the Methodist church, Athens, at 6 o'clock p. m. on Wednesday last the marriage was celebrated of Mr Kenneth Carling Berney, B. Sc., of Hamilton, second son of Mr and Mrs Thomas Berney, Athens, and Miss Mary Ethel Slack, only daughter of Mrs P. P. Slack, Athens.

A church wedding in Athens is a rare event, and every available seat in the large auditorium was occupied by interested friends of the popular young couple.

The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr Alden Slack of Smith's Falls, presented a charming appearance in her bridal robe of white duchesse satin with train with chrysanthemum and pearl buckles, her yoke and sleeves being trimmed with seed pearls.

The groom's gift to the bride was a sunburst of pearls; to the bridesmaid a signet ring, and to the best man signet cuff links.

As this was the first wedding held in the new church, the contracting parties were presented by the church with a handsome Bible.

Following the ceremony, the wedding party drove to the home of the bride's mother, where the reception was held and the happy couple heartily congratulated.

The guests at the house included Mr and Mrs Dan Robertson, of Ottawa; Mrs S. G. Durbysire, Brockville; Rev. Mr and Mrs Scanton, Jasper; Mrs Gardiner, Mrs Robinson, Miss R. Bena Robinson and Mr and Mrs A. J. Slack and sons, of Smith's Falls; Mr and Mrs H. Berney, Merrickville, and Mrs Marshall, Brockville.

The good-byes were said shortly after nine o'clock and Mr and Mrs Berney left for Brockville, followed by the good wishes of all. The bride's going-away costume was a suit of Dutch blue cloth, the coat having trimmings of blue and dresden silk blouse and a smart paludament of black beaver, trimmed with Dutch blue velvet and furs of stone marten.

GLEN BUELL

A solemn and impressive event took place at the home of C. J. Gilroy on Sunday, January 7, in the form of complying with the request of Mrs D. J. Forth, who was then a patient in the General Hospital, Brockville.

For three years she has been the efficient President of the W. M. S. of Glen Buell church. The request was that the several members go to Mrs Gilroy's home, together with Bro. Stafford, and offer prayer for her recovery and return to her beloved friends at home.

Quite a large number of her friends assembled as requested, and a solemn hour was spent, after which a further request was carried forward by Mrs G. A. Gilroy presenting herself before Bro. Stafford and reading a carefully prepared address to him expressive of Mrs. Forth's appreciation of the Reverend Brother's helpfulness in her work as president of the women's missionary work at the Glen Buell church.

INDIAN PASSION PLAY

B. C. REDMEN HARD AT WORK ON 1911 PERFORMANCE.

Remarkable Production Has Taken Place at Chilliwack Every Other Year Under the Direction of Priests—Around in the Form of Tableau—Play Which Spectators Walk In Chanting Procession—One in 1911.

As wonderful as any Passion Play at Oberammergau is the representation of the great tragedy by British Columbia Indians. This is given every second year and arrangements are already well in hand for the 1911 performance near Vancouver, B. C.

Tribesmen from many coast sections of that rim of the British Empire already are actively rehearsing their parts and next summer on the Pacific coast will be memorable for what will undoubtedly be the best of the extraordinary series of passion plays given by the aborigines of Canada's western-most province.

The production will be a combination of gleam, white and peaceful, at the feet of the spruce-clad mountains of the coast range. Priests who have spent the lives devoutly winning redskins for their old faith, have put down dog-eating and devil-dancing, are now busy with the preliminary preparations for what will undoubtedly be one of the most eventual religious celebrations on the American continent.

It is not long since I saw the passion tableaux presented in the little town of Chilliwack, a few miles from Vancouver, says a writer in The Montreal Star. There, near the banks of the Fraser, which flows yellow to the gulf of Georgia, was given a solemn, inspiring spectacle, impossible to be seen in any other part of the American continent.

To the Garden of the British Columbia Indians, the little Roman Catholic missions, that gleam, white and peaceful, at the feet of the spruce-clad mountains of the coast range.

In many of the municipalities throughout Ontario, much ill-feeling is engendered during the Christmas time by reason of the municipal campaigns, while many question it at once before the people do not get proper consideration because other matters divert attention.

Manitoba and Saskatchewan hold municipal elections on the first Tuesday in December. British Columbia allows the municipalities to fix the dates. Quebec holds municipal elections on the third Monday in January. Nova Scotia the third Tuesday in November, and in the United States municipal elections are usually held in April and May.

THE FIRST DEFEAT

The triumphant course of Athens hockey club received a rude and unexpected check on Saturday last. It was Westport team that did the trick. Experience has taught the athletic organizations of the county that the Mountain village must always be considered in forecasting final results.

Years ago, when our baseball team had won out against every team in this section (including Ganoquo's best team), they met their Waterloo when they went up against Westport. Nevertheless, the defeat on Saturday came as a bolt from the blue; for our boys had fully trained this season under experienced coaching and the shadows cast by previous events certainly indicated victory for them on Saturday.

It was evident from the start that the teams were evenly matched, but after fifteen minutes' swift hockey, Westport found an opening and scored. Athens promptly evened the score, and then followed a very pretty exhibition of the great game. Every inch was closely contested, but the rushes of the visitors were effective and they added two more goals to their count, leaving the score at half time 3-1 in their favor.

Both teams seemed refreshed after the brief respite, and on their return to the ice the Athens team took the aggressive and forced the pace. Much of the contest in the last half took place in Westport territory, but out of many attempts only two goals were scored. Westport gained an even number and the match finished 5-3 in Westport's favor.

The game was a bit rough in spots, and this feature should be eliminated if the sport is to retain its popularity.

January Athletic World

The January number of THE ATHLETIC WORLD, published by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ontario, just issued, not only maintains but further develops the national sports policy laid down on the inception of this highly creditable monthly.

The first tableau showed St. Peter, St. James and St. John asleep in the Garden of Gethsemane, with Jesus Christ praying. Next came the arrest of Jesus, with Judas and servants portrayed by Indians. Groups 3, 4 and 5 depicted the judgment of Pilate, the scourging by his Order and the crowning with thorns. Etc. Honor Pontius Pilate, showing Jesus to the people, was next strikingly represented and then the procession passed on to view Christ falling under the burden of the heavy cross, his meeting with the Virgin Mary, his condoling with the women and St. Veronica anointing his bleeding feet. Then came No. 11, stripping the clothes of Christ preparatory to his crucifixion, the TRAGEDY OF A STAMP.

This Canadian Twelve-Penny Black Had an Adventurous Career.

In the year of 1861 a 12 penny black Canadian postage stamp was printed by the Government of Ottawa. The issue did not regard this sombre issue with favor. A few were issued. One of these stamps was sent to the Hamilton postoffice, where it was sold to an old gentleman, who said it was a shame to print the Queen's picture on a stamp that might be handled by profane hands. Tenderly the gentleman put it on a parcel, sending it to a friend in the United States.

Here, in the waste basket, it lay for some time until it was found by a boy who had started stamp collecting. He quickly transferred it to his album. After a time, despairing of getting a good collection, and his fever somewhat abating, he sold them to a dealer. The new owner on looking at the catalogue, found that what he had paid $5 for was worth $25. Accidentally this stamp was slipped into a 25-cent packet, and sent to a dealer residing in Hamilton.

When the latter opened the packet, he was astonished to find such a valuable stamp, and being honest, wrote his friend to inform him of what had happened, offering him $1,200 for it. The offer was accepted and the stamp again changed hands.

By this time the stamp had increased in value, and not a few came from a distance to look at the treasure. One day an English nobleman, who, through a Canadian friend, had heard of the stamp, offered $1,500, which offer was accepted. The English lord, falling in love with an American heiress, and wishing to gain the favor of her brother, presented him with the stamp as a token of his esteem. Here, in a new and luxurious American home, it came to a sad end, for one day the maid, by mistake, swept the stamp, which had accidentally fallen out of the album, into the fire. In an instant the stamp, which thousands had heard of and longed for, went up in smoke to the broad blue sky, leaving not a trace behind.

Holman Hunt and Canada. The London Chronicle recalls an interesting episode in the career of the late Holman Hunt, whose pictures attracted wide attention at Toronto Exhibition. "There was," it says, "a period in his career when he contemplated emigrating to Canada as a farmer. It was shortly after the establishment of the Pre-Raphaelite Brotherhood. The work of the new artists was the subject of an avalanche of hostile criticism, and The Times—in an article published in 1851—singled out the paintings of Millais and Holman Hunt for particular condemnation. Affected, simply, genuine imitations of a cramped style, false perspective, crude colors, morbid in fatuation, and the sacrifice of beauty, truth, and genuine feeling to mere eccentricity, were among the vices with which the unfortunate artists were charged.

Hunt was in despair, and threatened to leave the country, while Millais was in a state of equal dejection. Hearing of this, Coventry Patmore wrote to Ruskin begging him to use his influence on behalf of the traduced artists. Immediately afterwards Ruskin wrote two letters to The Times, in which he vindicated both Hunt and Millais from the attacks of the critics. "There has been nothing in art so earnest or so complete as these pictures since the days of Albert Durer," he wrote. The letters came, as Hunt himself said, as thunder out of a clear sky, and they created a revolution in public feeling. Hunt abandoned his intention of emigrating, and set to work again, while Millais began his "Ophelia."

Queen's Progressive. Queen's University has opened up for the session, like the rest of the Canadian colleges. Queen's starts its books with an innovation. Down in Kingston they have added a Chair of Canadian History to the college furniture. There is nothing like it in Canada. A chap may go to Toronto or McGill and know less about his own country than when he entered college. You are supposed to have learned the story of Canada in the public school. Queen's is the only college in Canada where you can specialize in Canadian history. Even at Oxford the colonies come in for expert treatment, until this autumn at the hands of Prof. W. L. Grant. He has come to Queen's to do the same work. Prof. Grant is the late Principal Grant's son.

A Matter of Station. The late Chief Justice Burton, when a practicing barrister, was once amused by a dirty-looking bricklayer who came to be sworn. "Really, witness, when you have to appear before the court, it is your duty to be more clean and decent in your appearance." "Well, if it comes to that, I am every bit as well dressed as you are," was the reply. "How do you mean?" asked the barrister, angrily. "Why, you come here in your working clothes, and I'm come in mine."

Be sure to ATTEND EXHIBIT if you can AT THE GREAT LIVE STOCK POULTRY and HORSE SHOW

OTTAWA, JAN. 16-20, 1911.

The purpose of the Show is to give to the farmers of Eastern Ontario the results of the practical experience of those who have made a close study of the breeding, feeding, rearing and marketing of the classes of live stock and poultry most profitable to the farmers. This is accomplished by having at the Show high-class exhibits of Horses, Beef Cattle, Dairy Cattle, Sheep, Swine, Poultry and Seeds, and by supplementing these objects with lectures and addresses by experts in which they tell how the best can be produced profitably. Shows say they got pointers worth many times the money and time expended in attending.

"THE SWEETEST OF ALL THE CHARITIES."

Will You Help It In Its Hour of Need?

THE HOSPITAL FOR SICK CHILDREN

COLLEGE STREET, TORONTO

Appeals to Fathers and Mothers of Ontario on behalf of suffering children. This institution did more work in 1910 than ever before. Total In-Patients, 1,224. Of these, 783 were from the city and 441 from the country.

Since its organization, the Hospital has treated in its cots and beds 16,837 children; 12,370 of these were unable to pay and were treated free.

These were 60 cases of club feet corrected last year.

THE HOSPITAL IS A PROVINCIAL CHARITY.

The sick child from the most remote corner of Ontario has the same claim as the child living within sight of the great House of Mercy in College Street, Toronto. Our cause is the children's claim on the people of this Province?

Perfect results in Harelip cases. 18 infants were relieved of this terrible deformity last year.

If the Hospital is to continue its great work, it must appeal to your pocketbook as well as to your heart. Let your Dollars be messages of mercy to the suffering little children of Ontario.

Please send your contribution to J. Ross Robertson, Chairman, or to Douglas Davidson, Secretary-Treasurer, The Hospital for Sick Children, College St., Toronto.

BABY'S SPLENDID HEALTH

Mrs. R. Yates, Montreal, Que., writes: "Baby's splendid health was obtained through the use of Baby's Own Tablets. They are a grand medicine for constipation, as their action is easy and does not give baby pain. I would recommend them to all mothers; no one should be without them who has young children in the house. This testimony is similar to thousands of others sent us by grateful mothers. Every mother who has ever used the Tablets for her little ones will tell you they are the very best medicine in the world. That not only cure the ills of the little ones, but they make them grow happy and strong. The Tablets can be given to even the youngest babe with absolute safety as they are sold under the guarantee of a government analyst to contain no opiate or other harmful drug. ON ISSUING INVITATIONS.

Every Woman Needs Them

With constantly aching backs, weary, dragging-down pains, dizzy and nervous headaches, women have a hard burden to carry. It is wise for every woman to fortify herself against those derangements which are present when extra demands are made upon the system by Nature's laws. No better remedy exists for woman's peculiar ailments than DR. HAMILTON'S PILLS, which possess tonic properties that act upon the proper organs at the proper time. To prevent headache, to overcome dragging weariness, backache, nervousness and pallor—to look well, sleep well, eat well and enjoy the manifold blessings of sound, regular health, every girl and woman should regulate her system by Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c per box, dealers or the Catarhoxone Co., Kingston, Ont.

WOMAN MAYORS.

Oldham, England, has elected a woman Mayor, the third English town to depart thus from tradition. Her installation was held in the large town hall, though a small room has previously served on such occasions. When she entered the vast throng swayed to the left and cheered and clapped interminably. Mrs. Lees, the new Mayor, made a speech, and the hall "echoed with delighted laughter," for she is very keen and witty. "She seemed," said one reporter, "like the mother of a great family before whom her children rise up and call her blessed." She is described as "a tall, dignified woman, with a calm, beautiful, humorous face, crowned with white hair." A score or more of small towns in Kansas have woman Mayors, several of whom have been re-elected term after term.—The Christian Herald.

ONLY ONE-TENTH OF THE POPULATION SAID TO BE OF UNMIXED DESCENT.

The population of the United States may be classified thus: Natives of unmixed descent, 1-10; negroes, 1-10; natives of foreign parentage, 4-10; aliens, 1-10. The original American stock was English, with a smattering of Scotch and Irish, more of Dutch and a little French and Scandinavian. The proportion of any of these strains in the American of today in unbroken descent from before the War of the Revolution will determine his approximation to a purely blood standard of American nativity. The preponderance of population is whites having one of more of these strains in their blood, the majority of such being able to trace descent by one and the other to original settlers.

BRUISES, SPRAINS, LAMENESS.

TREATMENT ADVISED

You'll be astounded at the rapid relieving action of Nerviline. Its effectiveness is due to its remarkable penetrating power—it strikes it deeply—sinks to the core of pain instantly. Nerviline is stronger, many times stronger, than ordinary liniments, and it's not greasy, ill-smelling or disagreeable. Every drop rubs in, brings comfort and healing wherever applied. You would scarcely credit how fast it relieves a sprain, how it takes out lameness, how it soothes and passes a bruise. Thousands say no liniment is half so useful in the home. This must be so because Nerviline is a safe remedy. You can rub it on, and take it internally, too. One 50c. bottle will cure the bruises, sprains, strains, lameness and aches of the whole family.

FRAGRANCE OF ST. SOPHIA.

Visitors to the mosque of St. Sophia in Constantinople notice immediately they enter a beautiful fragrance pervading the entire building. The solution lies in the fact that when it was built 7,000 years ago the stones and bricks were laid in mortar mixed with a solution of musk. Those who laid those stones have long since passed on, but the fragrance and perfume of their work remains.—Sunday at Home.

TEACHING THE IMMIGRANT.

(Brantford Expositor.)

Ideal men says that an intensely interesting feature of the immigration conference held in Toronto recently was the demonstration, "How a class of foreigners might be taught." Ten Russians and Macedonians, who did not understand a word of English, were ushered into the room. Dr. Roberts announced to the conference that he was going to teach them their primary lesson, entitled, "Getting Up in the Morning." The teacher stood up before the class of foreigners, shut his eyes, yawned, stretched himself, and said, "I wake from sleep." This class pronounced these words after him. Then the teacher went on and repeated over and over to them these sentences.

I must get up.
I throw back the clothes.
I get out of bed.
I put on my pants.
I wash myself.
I comb my hair.
I put on my collar and necktie.
I put on my vest and coat.
I open the door of my bedroom.
I go down stairs.

PIANO SUPPORT.

Charles Wark, a man of youthful appearance, alight in build compared with the woman and gray as to hair, was at the piano. He understands perfectly how best to accompany the prima donna. He knows what volume is required, when shading is desirable and how much of it, and he follows every motion of the fingers to guide her next requirement in the matter of piano support. He not only knows these things, but he does them. That is why he is such an excellent accompanist! He wore evening clothes. The piano was finished in black, one of the low concert type of instrument, with a little outward turn, on the top of which Madame was seated. She gracefully rested an arm occasionally.—Oshkosh Northwestern.

NAVIGATION ON THE TIGRIS.

"It ought to be of interest to all who would like to see the Mississippi River made navigable the year round to know that the present navigation of the Tigris, the historic stream beside which ancient Babylon stood, and where modern Bagdad now stands, was made possible by a study of the boats in use on the river at St. Louis," said Frederick Simich, United States consul at Bagdad, Turkey, who is in this country on furlough.

"A big company was formed for the purpose of navigating the Tigris sent an Englishman on tour to learn methods employed on rivers of other countries. This man came quietly to St. Louis, took a trip down the Mississippi, made a careful study of boats of light draught and heavy tonnage. He reported to his employers in favor of the Mississippi boats, and now they are the sort which carry travellers to and from the place we used to read about when we were children, the home of Ali Baba and the host of characters interesting to juvenile minds.—Washington Herald.

THE HUMAN FLESH MARKET.

Some pessimists constantly dwell on the fact that beef and pork are outrageously high. Why don't they look on the bright side—human flesh is selling at very low figures.

Note these market reports from Chicago. That's the city where beef and pork are packed. Man-meat, too, is cut up there, and then "canned."

Anthony Szopinski, seventeen, gave five fingers of his left hand to a cannery company. The company gave him $9 in return, out of their accident insurance. Then he "canned" him—only support of an old mother.

Annula Polczak, nineteen, gave two fingers of her right hand to a packing company. She got $10 for each finger, which was more than Anthony got for his whole hand. But of course Anthony's loss was only a left hand.

Mary Haw, nineteen, got $14 for one finger.

Sara Curran, twenty, got $8 for the right little finger of her right hand. But Joe Slovinski got $25 for one left thumb, but of course Joe's hand wasn't much good without the thumb.

NERVE.

(Hilgende Blaetter.)

Lady—Why do you give me this bit of paper?

Tramp—Madam, I do not like to criticize your soup, but it is not like mother used to make. Allow me to give you her recipe.

"I want to ask you for a bit of advice," said the insinuating man. "What is it?" "I want you to put yourself in my place and be in yours, and tell me how you would go about it if you wanted to borrow ten dollars from me."—Washington Star.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES COLDS, ETC.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited, Gentlemen—I have used MINARD'S LINIMENT from time to time for the past twenty years. It was recommended to me by a prominent physician of Montreal, who called it the "great Nova Scotia Liniment." It does the doctor's work; it is particularly good in cases of Rheumatism and Sprains.

The Boll Weevil in Mississippi.

A striking illustration of the damage wrought by the boll weevil is found in a statement of the size of the cotton crop in Jefferson County for the last five years—before and after the weevil made its appearance. In 1907 Jefferson county made 20,145 bales; in 1908, 19,082 bales; in 1909, 7,791 bales; in 1910, 3,404 bales. There is no way to get at the record of such crops as corn, potatoes, peas, molasses, hogs, cattle, etc., but it is known that there has been a steady increase and that this year the farmers of that section have produced more foodstuffs than ever before in their lives.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

2,000,000 Feet of Wood in a Ship's Deck.

With the laying of the keel of the Europa, the biggest ship in the world, now under construction, comes the news from abroad that the gross tonnage of all the ships flying the Hamburg-American Line flag has passed the 1,000,000-ton mark, or to be correct, 1,022,452 tons. For years the Hamburg-American Line has held the tonnage record for ships sailing under one house flag. Some idea of the enormous size of the Europa may be gathered from the order which has been given for 2,000,000 feet of Oregon fir to be used for the deck's aloft. For months this lumber has been lying near Portland, Ore., before being shipped to Germany. Special care is taken to provide only clear, vertical grain wood.—The Christian Herald.

WOLVES IN FRANCE.

According to a report just issued by the Ministry of Agriculture, sixty wolves were killed in France during 1909. The majority of these animals were killed in the departments of the Vienne, Charente and Haute-Vienne. The French Government pays a reward varying from 20 francs to 100 francs for each wolf.

Every fellow who bought his sweet-heart bedroom slippers for Christmas will have to hunt up another girl now. He got 'em too large, no matter how small he got 'em. And good enough for him.

THE WHITE MAN'S BURDEN.

(Buffalo Express.)

"What's wrong, old man? You seem all one-sided. Oh, I see now; your coat pockets is loaded too heavily. What have you in it, anyway?"

On Saturday evening members of Athens Hockey Club waited upon Mr Charles Roche in the Merchants Bank and honored his departure from Athens by presenting him with an address (read by the secretary, Mr Gordon Lawson) and the presentation of a gold-mounted umbrella, suitably engraved. The address expressed appreciation of the valuable services he had rendered as coach of the team and the regret all felt at his leaving Athens. Mr Roche made an appropriate reply, thanking the club for their very kind remembrance.

A conference of the Sunday Schools of Leeds Rural Deanery will be held in Christ's Church schoolroom during Wednesday, the 25th inst. Addresses will be delivered by the travelling secretary, Rev R. A. Hiltz, Messrs W. B. Carroll, Dudley P. Hill and others during the afternoon and evening. Further notices later.

The sale of horses conducted by S. Y. Bullis & Son here on Wednesday last proved a little slow and several of them were withdrawn. Four Clydes went to the Brockville Carriage Company. Mr Bullis will make up a car-load and ship them to his ranch in the West for disposal.

The Hockey Club assembly on Wednesday evening last was a great success. Over a hundred couples attended, and to the inspiring music of the Kavanagh orchestra dancing was enjoyed until about 4 a.m. The hockey boys proved good entertainers and careful management characterized every feature of the event.

Under the auspices of the Baptist S. S. Toledo, a splendid programme will be presented at an entertainment to be held in the town hall of that village on Jan. 25. Local talent will be assisted by Miss Grace Richardson, elocutionist, and Mr F. L. Tooker, humorist.

The betting that took place on the result of the hockey match here on Saturday has a tendency to degrade what is in itself a manly sport, and those who indulge in these wagers are not true friends of the team they are backing or of the game in general.

Mr W. R. Travers, president of the Farmers Bank, pleaded guilty to several charges in connection with the wrecking of that institution and was sentenced to six years in the penitentiary. There is now a general demand that the whole truth be made known, and it seems highly probable that other high rollers will roll low before the end is reached.

Those interested in the preservation of the game fish of Charleston Lake should make a move toward securing the destruction of the ling with which the lake is infested. The Rideau Record says: Inspector H. Phillips is engaged in another crusade against ling in the Rideau Lakes, and last week another big haul of this pest was made. Hundreds of them were secured in the nets that had been laid just below the Ferry bridge and many of them measured fully three feet in length. The ling taken in this way are given to the farmers nearby who feed them to their poultry, and it is claimed they are a perfect food. The catfish taken with the ling are cleaned and sold, and the inspector states the receipts from the sale of these have been sufficient to pay the cost of the undertaking so far.

Fruit Trees
Now is the time to place your order for fruit and ornamental trees. We have the largest line of nursery stock grown in Canada. Our Apple, Pear, Plum, Cherry and Peach trees are unsurpassed for fibrous roots. In small fruits the Herbert Raspberry and Black Raspberries are our heaviest sellers as they are big money-makers for the small fruit-grower. Our nurseries have been visited by some of the largest fruit-growers in Canada and after an inspection of our trees, they have given us their orders. Write for our catalogue and give us a list of your wants. EROWN BROS. Co., Browns Nurseries, Welland Co., Ont.
