LOOKING FOR A SETTLEMENT

Bright Prospects For Settlement of Ulster Problem Revealed in House of Commons Debate.

London, April 30.—"It is felt that a prospect of settlement has never been so bright," is the Times' parliamentary corresoondent's conclusion concerning last night's debate in the house of commons. "A long way towards peace," is the heading of the Daily Mail editorial. Unionist newspapers all along the line pitch themselves in the same hopeful strain, several writers expressing the opinion that the real difficulty of settlement only lies in whether Premier Asquith is able to control the truculence of the radical back bench members.

The Morning Post's Belfast correspondent reports that the local Nationalists are both alarmed and indignant, in the first place because the premier has so far taken drastic steps to deal with the rifle importation, and in the second, because they utterly repudiate. Rt. Hon. Winston Spencer Churchill's federal proposals.

The English radical newspapers treat the situation rather gingerly. The Daily Chronicle, for instance, while admitting that it is impossible to doubt the sincerity of Sir. Edward Carson's speech of yesterday says: "It is equally impossible not to see that he is only to a very limited degree the master of his own situation-"

"The 'die hards' among the Unionists," declares the Chronicle, "will do all they can to dupe Sir Edward Carson's followers into continuing to fight, and not an Ulster battle, but a battle for the wealth and prileges of the aristocracy throughout the United Kingdom, and until this phase is overcome we cannot be too sanguine about anything resulting from the renewal of negotations."

The Manchester Guardian thinks that the terms should be discussed by the two Irish parties themselves, remarking that it is not a very high wall that divides them, and, it might be thought, easily scaled, granting the prime conditions of mutual goodwill.

It is reported that Sir Edward Carson will to a large extent take Bonar Law's place in future conversations towards a settlement.

Sir Edward Carson whose leadership of the Ulster rebellion makes him the dominating figure of the opposition side of the house, yesterday accepted the overtures made by Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, who had invited Sir Edward Carson to make an attempt to compromise the home rule question on a federal basis. Sir Edward reiterated his detestation of home rule and repeated his offer that if Ulster was excluded from the bill "until this parliament should determine otherwise, instead of the six years' period which Premier Asquith had offered, he would submit the proposal to the people of Ulster."

Sir Edward in his reply to Mr. Churchill's invitation, declared that all he wanted for Ulster was such terms as would conserve the dignity of the Ulstermen and their civil and religious freedom. He concluded that in case the home rule bill passed it would be his earnest prayer [illegible] that the government of the south and west of Ireland would prove so successful that it would be Ulster's interest to join and form a united Ireland.

Premier Asquith concluded the debate with an eloquent speech, which contained the statement that his offer of temporary exclusion of Ulster counties from the operation of the home rule bill for a period of six years remained open. He said he considered Sir Edward Carson's statement a most important one, and he recognized and reciprocated its spirit.

A settlement he declared, could not be successfully negotiated by bargaining across the floor of the house, and the question at issue could not be settled behind the backs of the men of Ulster, or of the rest of Ireland.

Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, who spoke before the premier, said the premier must recognize that the calamity facing the country was so awful that some way to peace must be found at any cost. He continued: "If the premier does not seek for peace, we, on this side of the house will do anything in our power to make a peaceful solution possible."

Mr. Law said personal feelings should not count in the matter, and if Premier Asquith preferred to negotiate with Lord Lansdowne and Austen Chamberlain instead of himself he would gladly welcome the suggestion.

KILLED BY LONG POLE.

Seattle, April 30.—Graham V. Brown was instantly killed late yesterday afternoon at the camp of the Merill & Ring logging camp, when one end of a sixty-foot pile, the loading of which he was superintending, struck him. He is survived by a mother and father residing at Dean, Nova Scotia.

IMPERIAL CONFERENCE PREDICTED NEXT YEAR

London, April 30.— The Liverpool Courier says that the government has definitely decided to summon the imperial defence conference early next year. The date will be fixed to meet the convenience of the Canadian government who have decided not to incur the delay which a reform of the senate would involve, but dissolve early next year and appeal to the electors on the naval question.

The daily production of coal at the Vancouver Island mines at present runs from 4,500 and 4,800 tons, says the Victoria Colonist. All of the output cannot be marketed. The operators are unable to find employment for the men seeking work. In the face of these circumstances it is difficult to see how the so-called strike can bring about the results which the United Mine Workers of America desire. When the United States organization sees fit to 'put an end to its fatuous campaign the men to whom it is now giving relief money will have to go elsewhere in search of work.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Smith, Victoria, formerly of California are visiting in Nanaimo. During their stay here they are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Eby, Milton street.

VERA CRUZ IN HAPPY MOOD

Vera Cruz, April 30.—Vera Cruz went back to civil government today under the laws of Mexico administered by American officials. The civil overnment, however, remained subordinate to martial law.

General Frederick Funston's brigade disembarked and marched to the Sand Hill barracks and other quarters to relieve Rear Admiral Fletcher's bluejackets who went back to the men-of-war. General Funston established his headquarters in the barracks deserted by General Maas and Admiral Fletcher withdrew his staff. The marine corps was distributed to work with the army. Refugees continue to arrive and preparations are being carried forward for their departure.

There are no evidences here that Mexico is in the throes of a crisis. The shops, scarred by rifle balls, again are busy. Women, who hid in terror of what they believed would be the consenuences of landing of foreign troops, walk again safely aboard.

Men who held close to walls in fear their business. The inhabitants have taken a new and enlightened view of the Americans.

The release of prisoners from the water-soaked dungeons of Fort San Juan de Uloa, where many came forth blinded from the years spent in darkness was a revelation of the character and attitude of the United States.

Washington, April 30.—Complaint made to the French embassy here by the captain of the Holland-American Line ship Andik, that the Americans naval authorities at Vera Cruz had refused him permission to unload his vessel at that port on April 21, was answered by the navy department today when Secretary Daniels transmitted to the French ambassador a message from Rear-Admiral Fletcher, denying that such refusal had been made.

NANAIMO HAS A "CONEY ISLAND"

Summer Resort in Form of Pleasure Park is Being Established on Gabriola Island by Local Syndicate.

The most ambitious summer resort scheme ever attempted in Nanaimo is now being worked out by four Nanaimo men for the extreme north end of Gabriola Island. The gentlemen interested are Messrs. John Eaton, Jancowski Bros., and Cleland. The idea is to establish a summer park far the use of Nanaimoites and other visitors with regular launch connection to Nanaimo.

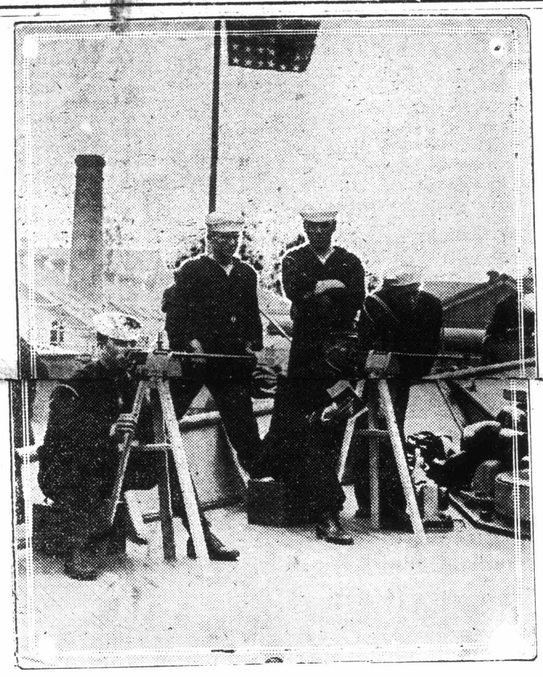
The point selected for the pleasure park is ideal in every respect. Not only is it a natural beauty point but a very little development work will greatly enhance its many advantages There are about one hundred acres in the piece with nearly two miles of water frontage. On one side is Taylor Bay, facing the city, and a short walk across the the strip of land brings you to Pilot Bay facing the gulf. Both bays will permit of bathers wading a long way out and the bottom is of fine white sand.

The Nanaimo syndicate are going quite extensively into the enterprise and at present teams are at work grading and "skinning" a fine baseball diamond that will offer the best baseball grounds for any team in the district. This ground will be level with terraced banks for the bleachers and fringed by a fine grove of tall trees. Back from the grounds it is the intention to erect a dance pavilion with refreshment stands, etc. An orchestra will be employed, if verything goes right, and the place should be decidedly popular with city visitors during the summer nights, making a veritable "Coney Island" for Nanaimo. It is the ambitious project next summer to erect a summer hotel on the place.

The whole property is now outlined by a fine trail that the promoters have cut and cleared and in a few days a road will be driven through the centre of the property. The underbrushing will afford no difficult problem so that when all the work is done as pretty a spot as one could desire will be the result. The view up and down the Gulf and to the Nanaimo side is a particularly fine one and the promoters have well chosen the place for their operations.

In order to convey people to and from the city Jancowski's high power boat will be used for the present supplemented by other gasoline boats in the city. The run with a ten knot boat can be made in twenty minutes from town. At the park a large wharf with an approach of about one hundred and fifty feet has been built If the business this summer shows that the park will be a success, and there is hardly any question but that it will, a seventy-five foot boat will be built to carry large crowds. Already a large number of people have secured camping permits for the resort this summer. For the benefit of these people a boat will leave the place for Nanaimo every morning at 7 or 7:30 o'clock.

It is the intention of the gentlemen interested to put a subdivision on the market shortly for those who wish to build summer homes.



The official opening of the park will be held some time during this month. The baseball diamond will be finished within ten days when work will be commenced on the pavilion. This will take but a few days to construct.

CARRIED AWAY PART OF CANAL LOCK

St. Catharines, Ont., April 30. — While passing through the Welland Canal today the S. S. Crompton carried away a portion of No. 4 Lock and tied up traffic on the canal for several hours.

STEAMER FIRED UPON.

Havanna, April 30.—A Cuban ship was fired upon by revolutionists off the Mexican Coast today.

HOW GUNNERS WILL FIND MEXICO'S RANGE

A scene on board the U. S. S. New York, now in the Brooklyn Navy Yard awaiting orders to sail for Mexico and join the remainder of the fleet making a huge naval display in Mexican waters, showing method of practicing gun sighting and range finding. After these men have properly sighted the object at which the guns are to be fired, the proper range is worked out mathematically and the information given to the gun crews who set the guns accordingly.

BODIES RECOVERED

Eccles, West Virginia, April 30.—Fifty bodies have been located in No. 5 mine. The bodies were badly burned and mutilated, giving evidence of having experienced the full force of the explosion.

MINERS MAY STILL BE ALIVE

Eccles, W. Va., April 30.—After 24 hours of exhausting efforts Chief Henry and a party of West Virginia mine inspectors early today reached the bottom of shaft No. 5 of the New River Collieries where 178 miners were buried by an explosion last Tuesday. They found little gas and no firedamp, and expressed the belief that conditions were such that the entombed miners may still be alive.

All night long the inspectors worked in the shaft 125 feet from the bottom, clearing away the debris and straightening the leads on which the cage is operated. The best workmen in the whole district were called into service but it was daybreak when the news came from the tipple that the cage was on its way to the bottom.

The inspection was brief and the tired inspectors were hoisted to the top to prepare for further exploration that was to begin as soon as the rescue men could be taken down. Chief Henry said he did not think the mine was on fire at any point.

Many of the mines in the district closed yesterday and the miners and their families joined the people of Eccles in their weary wait for news. Many miners have been deputized by the sheriff to assist in keeping back the crowds.

Governor Hatfield, who returned to Charleston last night, is expected here today and will personally assume charge of the doctors.

J. W. Paul, chief engineer of the Pittsburg station of the bureau of mines, decended the shaft in company with government rescue men from the two other crews here. They had proceeded only a short distance from the bottom when they found six bodies huddled together and so badly burned that identification was impossible. Further on they found other bodies. Soon after the first bodies were hoisted out and placed in a temporary morgue.

The crowds made a rush for the tipple but were held back by the deputy sheriffs and guards.

Fans were started in the hope that the entries could be cleared of such gas as remained after the explosion, and the pumps were set in motion so that the rescue parties could reach the farthest recesses of the mine.

HERALD FOREMAN IS NOW A PUBLISHER

Mr. Joseph Filmer, for the past year and a half foreman of the Daily Herald night staff, has secured a half interest in the Courtenay Review and leaves for his new sphere of activity in a day or two. "Joe" is a good fellow and an all round capable printer and if the Courtenay Review does not succeed it will not be his fault. His friends on the Herald all wish him health, wealth and prosperity. Now that he has graduated from employee to employer it is hoped that his journalistic career will be less tortuous than that of the ordinary newspaper owner. Courtenay is a thriving field, and although the Review has only been lately established it has already made itself felt. It is a good booster for its district and the best advertisement that Courtenay and district could have.

Mr. Filmer will be glad to see any of his Nanaimo friends when they are up Courtenay way and will be only too pleased to quote them advertising rates, prices on job work, and give them latest information on the state of the crops. His partner in the venture is Mr. Sibley, late of Vancouver Province staff.

RILEY-ARMOUR.

A quiet home wedding took place yesterday afternoon, Rev. S. J. Thompson officiating. The principals in the iqteresting event were Mr. Albert Riley, manager of the Bijou Theatre, and Miss Anna Alice May Armour, daughter of Mrs. Armour, Robarts street. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's mother.

LOCAL CRICKETERS OPENED SEASON

The Cricket Club has now started its regular practices. The ground is in fine shape, and a good practice wicket has been rolled out. If possible a practice game will be arranged for Sunday morning and all members are requested to turn out, while any one wishing to join the club will be cordially welcomed. The Club open the season with a league match with Cowichan at Duncan next Saturday, May 9. The Cowichan Club holds the Pacific Coast championship and if the local players are to make any sort of a showing it is essential that they get all the practice they can. For this reason it is expected that there will be a good turn out Sunday morning.

WHITE HOUSE WEDDING.

Washington, April 30.—President and Mrs. Wilson announced tonight their daughter, Miss Wilson, would be married to Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, in the Blue Room of the White House on May 7th.

KING WAS MARK FOR SUFFRAGE PETITION.

London, April 30.— While King George was driving in a motor car, through Cambridge today a suffragette approached his automobile and threw at his majesty a petition calling for votes for women. The package struck the chauffeur.

OVER BY BLOW ON THE NOSE.

Quebec, April 28.—A remarkable case of the sudden recovery of sight through being struck on the nose by a piece of wood is that of Henri Germain an employee of the local Marine and Fisheries Department agency.

Mr. Germain has been practically blind for over two years. He was chopping wood at his home when a piece flew up and struck him on the bridge of the nose. This severed a vein, and, as a result, Mr. Germain lost much blood, which was black in color. Immediately after, Mr. Germain discovered that he could see plainly.

Strange to say, he felt no pain when struck by the piece of wood.

McCOY VS. MURRAY.

San Francisco, April 30.—Word from Al. McCoy, the Brooklyn middleweight, who laid George Chip low with one punch, relative to a match with "Fighting Billy" Murray, of Sacramento, was expected today at Promoter James W. Coffroth's office. Jim Buckley, manager of Harlem Tommy Murphy, is lining up McCoy for Coffroth, and the latter is certain that he finally will land the match.

COLORADO'S CIVIL WAR CONTINUES

State Aghast at Many Killings Physician Shot in Cowardly Manner by Strikers in Fierce Battle Yesterday.

Denver, April 30.—State officials today hoped that the strike war of Colorado was over. Yesterday and last night lawlessness in the southern strike zone had reached its grisly climax and nine identified dead, with probably many more whose deaths were not reported by union officials, had been added to the long list of lives sacrificed in the seven months' struggle of unionism against mine owners of this state.

All Colorado, figuratively speaking stood aghast today when final reports of the bloody conflict at Walsenburg became generally known. The death of Major P. F. Lester, a prominent physician of Walsenburg, on the battlefield—his body pierced with three bullets while he was striving to save the life of a wounded guardsman—was one of the agencies which added to the tense and bitter feeling.

Thirty soldiers who had served in the militia under Major Lester, who was in charge of the hospital corps forgot their grievance with the state and late last night hurried to Walsenburg to offer their services in any future conflicts with the strikers who had brought about his death.

The short, sharp battle at Forbes where seven guards and two strikers were known to have been killed, added to the horror yesterday, and brought the realization to state officials that some drastic action would have to be taken immediately to prevent further bloodshed. For adminstration of this action, Governor Ammons looked to the United States troops, who now occupy portions of the strife-torn section of Colorado. The troops from Fort D. A. Russell, Wyo., arrived in Canon City, Fremont County, yesterday and took charge today of affairs in that section which earlier in the week was the scene of desperate and bloody fighting.

Trinidad, Colo., April 30.—The second squadron of the Fifth United States Cavalry from Fort Leavenworth, Kas., 300 men, in command of Major W. A. Holbrook, arrived today. The troop train consisted of sixteen cars, including coaches, stock cars and equipment cars.

The federal troops were greeted at the station be several hundred persons and were given a formal welcome by Acting Major M. J. Kahn,

CROWTHER FOUND "NOT GUILTY"

The charges against Special Constable Theodore Crowther of unlawfully wounding and wounding with intent to do grievous bodily harm to John W. Lewis on January 16th last were dismissed yesterday by His Honor Judge Barker, and the constable, who has been in custody since the day of the shooting was given his liberty.

In giving his decision in the case His Honor remarked the charge against Crowther was a very serious matter and any person who shoots a person whether justified or unjustified, must prove his innocence to the hilt. In dealing with the matter before him he would have to leave out of consideration the condition of the man who was shot. The first point to consider was the circumstances under which the shooting took place. The police authorities had received word of a serious affair in Chinatown. They went to Chinatown and after making a search for signs of trouble heard a crash and the breaking of glass. The constables saw a number of men running away from the scene of the disturbance, five persons pursued by Chinamen. Happening at such a late hour of the night the first thoughts of the constables would naturally be that with white men being in Chinatown something serious had happened. This taken in conjunction with the fact of window smashing would lead one to suspect that something of a criminal nature had taken place. When the constables overtook the Chinamen they were handed a blood-stained scarf and told "white man shoot" and they naturally came to the conclusion that some criminal offence had been committed, and he considered that the constables were justified in coming to such a conclusion. Since he had come to that conclusion he felt the constables were justified in taking every means to effect the arrest of the five men. The constables followed the men and overtook them standing on the corner of Prideaux and Hecate streets, whereupon the men broke and ran. At that point the police were justified, when the boys took to their heels, in drawing the conclusion that they were the ones they wanted. He felt sure that the boys knew the men after them at this stage were police and not Chinamen as they have stated in their evidence today. He also believed the boys heard the officers shout to them to stop, and knew well that they were being pursued by the officers. In commenting on the extent to which a police officer may go in making an arrest, His Honor quoted several cases in which police officers were justified in shooting to prevent the escape of men whom the officer believed were guilty of a criminal offence. In the case before him he did not think the officer was justified in shooting directly at the man but he believed the officer was justified in shooting with the intent to scare the men so they would stop. He liked the manner in which the accused had given his evidence and believed he had told the truth about the whole affair. He believed the accused did not shoot direct at the men but was of the opinion as had been stated that the bullet had glanced and afterwards hit Lewis. Believing these things he could not find the accused guilty of an attempt to do grievous bodily harm and finding so would dismiss him.

During the course of the trial nine witnesses were heard, the evidence being practically identical to that previously published in these columns after the preliminary hearing.

The accused was defended by Mr. V. Harrison and the Crown was represented by Mr. C. H. Beevor-Potts.

Collections for the Nanaimo branch of the Inland Revenue Department during the month of April totalled over $1,900, the collections being Malt, $876.25; Spirits, $246.53; Raw leaf, $295.68; Cigars, 95.80 and miscellaneous $450.00.

FARRINGTON'S POSITION.

According to the announcements that have been published concerning today's demonstration Frank Farrington will be one of the principal speakers. According to a recent issue of the "Union Record" he has been speaking in Seattle. Now be it understood that the "Record" is one of these publications whose reports are always true and always right. It therefore follows that when it reports Mr. Farrington it reports him correctly. Thus when it says that Farrington stated, in reference to the strike on the Island, that everything was going finely, that there had been no defections of any consequence among the men, and that the prospects of winning the strike had never been brighter than at present, it has to be accepted that the Record is saying just what Farrington himself said. Perhaps in his speech, today, Farrington will explain how he arrived at these conclusions. We admit that it is the first duty of a leader to encourage his followers, and that he must cultivate an air of buoyant enthusiasm. That is no reason why the leader should allow his enthusiasm, either real or affected, to carry him clear away from truth and plausibility. Mr. Farrington was talking sheer guff at Seattle. Nobody knows it better, and realizes it more bitterly than Mr. Farrington.

He may talk as he likes at Seattle. There was no one there to contradict him, and he just had to pander to and nourish the carefully developed legend that failure has no meaning to him and the organization with which he is identified. It is rather different in Nanaimo, and he must face the facts of the situation he [illegible]. So far from the prospects of winning the strike never having been brighter, the strike is absolutely all over. The only thing that is preventing the mines on the island from getting back to the production of 1911 is the slack state of the coal market. The United Mine Workers of America has nothing to do with the situation, does not affect it in any way. The mines are producing more coal than can be marneted. Their output could be increased if the demand quickened, but at present it is more liable to be decreased. Indeed, the Jingle Pot has already reduced its force by half. Farrington and his lieutenants may misrepresent the situation outside and make a fine big noise at home but they have no standing, and their organization has no standing in the island coal industry. This is doubtless a very unpalatable fact, but it remains a fact all the same. It is the direct outcome of the game of freeze out to which the members of the United Mine Workers were committed last October or November. The mines are being operated entirely independently of the Mine Workers organizations, its local bosses, and the men they persuaded to follow them.

This is the situation today, and this is the situation for which Farrington claims to be wholly responsible. He has on many occasions, on the platform, in the public press, and in a letter to the Minister of Justice boasted that he alone was responsible for calling the strike, and that he personally had directed [illegible] movement since it started. It follows logically that he is responsible for the situation confronting the men out of work today. It is the right and the privilege of these men to demand a full accounting from this great labor dictator. He stripped them of every common right and privilege of manhood in the beginning, even to their franchise which forms the basic principle of every democratic institution. Even if it is charitably assumed that his despotism was meant to be benovolent, the responsibility for the effects now being experienced is all the more irrevocably fixed upon him alone. He has to answer to the men for the sorry and helpless plight in which he ha bogged them. Why he should have entered into their affairs as dictator he has never yet satisfactorily explained. He has spun fairy stories without end, and indited much really beautiful, prose fiction. He has used his superior education and his training in labor intrigue to dupe and deceive them, and plainly lied to them as in the case of the alleged application to the Labor Department for a board of investigation. Sleek and secure in his high-salaried office, he has boasted of the sound thrashing they were giving the operators, cruelly unmindful of the suffering and hardship he was causing the men. Have the men ever thought that they were doing the fighting while Farrington was doing the boasting? What kind of a leader is he who cheers his men on from behind, and at a safe distance from the firing line? And when there was trouble the men "were fools," and did not know enough to keep their mouths shut. The mistake the men made was in ever submitting to Farrington's dictatorship. The unfortunate part of it is that it is not Farrington but the men who are paying, and will pay for it. It is even doubtful if they will get an accounting from Farrington, and almost a certainty, in spite of all the announcements, that he will not face the situation today.

We have a resolution from the Victoria Local of the Social Democratic party of Canada protesting against the dispatch of militiamen to Nanaimo on May 1 by the Attorney-General's Department. If the Social Democrats would take the trouble to ascertain the facts, they would discover that the Attorney-General's Department has no more to do with the dispatch of militiamen to Nanaimo than they have. They also desire to "protest against the preventing of Nanaimo citizens from exercising their right to conduct a peaceable parade on labor's international holiday," and also to express their "disapproval of Mayor Planta's action in this connection." We do not know if the Social Democrats think the Attorney-General's Department had anything to do with the prevention of any parade. If it had, we think all reasonable people will applaud its actions. But we do not think it had. We think the responsibility for whatever may have been done in this regard rests upon the City Council of Nanaimo, the members of which body are better able to judge what the welfare of that community demands at the present time than anybody in Victoria—Colonist.

The provincial police are pursuing an active hunt for the pirates who robbed the launches at Cowichan Bay some days ago. A launch answering the description of the one occupied by the suspicious characters who were seen about Cowichan Bay during the week of the robberies has been reported as being seen in the neighborhood of Welcome Pass.

A CRIPPLE FROM RHEUMATISM

RIDGETOWN, ONT., May 21st. 1913. "Your "Fruit-a-tives" cured me of Rheumatism. It was the only medicine that made any impression on me. I was a terrible sufferer from Rheumatism. I was laid up for four winters with Sciatica and Muscular Rheumatism, and was a cripple completely, not being able to do anything. I doctored with four different physicians, but they did not help me. Other advertised remedies were equally unsatisfactory, and I have taken several.

Some neighbor of mine told me that "Fruit-a-tives" helped him, and I took them faithfully every day and the result was marvellous. For over two years now, I have been free from any Rheumatic pains whatever, and give "Fruit-a-tives" the full credit for making a remarkable cure".

A Star Play Tonight by C. Suit.

No finer piece of emotional acting has ever been seen in Nanaimo than the performance tonight of "The Lion and the Mouse." This play gives Miss Edythe Elliott the opportunity to display the great emotional ability she possesses. Rising in the climax of this great play, in the second act she holds the audience spellbound by her wonderful interpretation of the character of Shirley the household of the great financier, Rossmore, who wins her way into John Birkell Rider to procure private papers to prove her father's innocence, as he has been prosecuted by the domineering money king for having dared to fustrate the workings of the gang owned by Rider.

The comment of one of Victoria'a best press critics on the part played by Miss Elliott in their recent engagement there, justly pronounces her capabilities. "If this performance was presented on Broadway tonight instead of Victoria, a new star would be heralded in Miss Elliott in the morning papers." The wonderful voice she is possessed of. the fire and intensity of her performance in this play will leave the deepest impression of the minds of her audience tonight, and they will realize that they have seen ideal acting.

STOMACH HEALTH— OR NO COST TO YOU

Very likely others have advised you to use Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, because scores of people in this community believe them to be the best remedy ever made for Dyspepsia and indigestion. That is what we think, too, because we know what they have done for others and what they are made of. We have so much faith in them that we urge you to try them at our risk. If they don't help you they won't cost you a cent. If they don't do all that you want them to do—if they don't restore your stomach to health and make your digestion easy—just tell us and we will give back your money without a word or question.

Containing Pepsin and Bismuth, two of the greatest digestive aids known to medical science, they soothe the inflamed stomach lining, help in the secretion of gastric juice, check heartburn and distress, promote regular bowel action, and make it possible for you to eat whatever you like whenever you like, with the comforting assurance that there will be no bad aftereffects. We believe them to be the best remedy made for dyspepsia and indigestion. Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores. and in this town only at our store. Three sizes 25c, 50c, and $1.00.—

Bijou Theatre

The management of the Bijou Theatre has engaged a special feature film in four reels for the entertainment of the patrons who attend the theatre today. The picture is entitled "Judith and Belilah" which is a story of ancient days, realistically thrown onto the canvas as natural as life. The reels show stirring battle scenes and the struggle between warring faction for the mastery of important fortresses. The program also includes a good comedy and should attract bumper houses.

The usual prices will prevail viz. afternoons 15 cents for children and 10 cents for adults, and evenings 10

Hear Them All Then Hear the Edison!

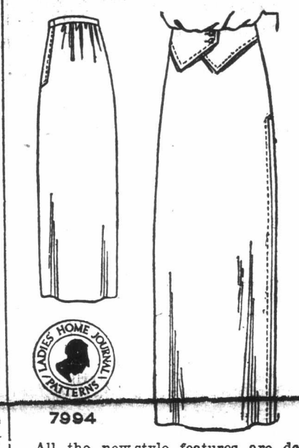
You will be more satisfied to take the "EDISON"

Every instrument is of Cabinet design. Each case is a fine example of the cabinet maker's art. Rare woods are used in their construction. The finish is beautiful.

We have been in business a long time, Mr. Reader. No one knows the talking machine line better than we do. We've watched the Edison development until today we unhesitatingly claim it to be the best phonograph on the market.

The Records are of an Entirely New Material

—manufactured under a secret process from a chemical compound of such great density and hardness that the most minute wave can be engraved upon it and no amount of wear can efface or distort it.



Let us have the pleasure to demonstrate this wonderful toned instrument to you and your family.

Practical Fashion Hints

By Alice Gibson

All the new-style features are demanded in the separate skirt. Whereas for the last season or two we have considered the separate skirt as useful only for sports or business wear, this season it is being combined with blouses of chiffon or silk and made to do service for afternoons. Some of the separate skirt models show the pannier and draped hips, others again have straight lines and a tailored finish. No. 7994 is a two-piece skirt, closing at the side; it may be made with or without the shaped girdle. There is a slight fullness in the back, which may be arranged in dart tucks or gathered, as preferred. This design is suited to moire, gabardine, serge, heavy linen or cotton. It may be made in size 24 with 2⅝ yards of 42-inch material. Pattern comes in eight sizes, 22 to 36.

THIS IS A PERFECT PATTERN.

It may be obtained by filling out the coupon and enclosing 15 cents in stamps or coin, to the Pattern Department of this paper.

Free—Our Spring Style Book.

Send us 2 cents to cover actual amount of postage and we will send you free our forty-page book of spring styles, showing about 500 designs in Ladies' Home Journal patterns.

The pattern may be obtained by sending name and address, pattern No. and size and fifteen cents to DAVID SPENCER LIMITED.

WE CAN NOW SUPPLY THIS HAIR PREPARATION

Our big Harmony Laboratories in Boston have caught up with their orders now and so we won't have to disappoint any who are using Harmony Hair Beautifier and want more of it, or any who have been advised by your friends to use it. We can now fill all demands, even if it becomes even more of a rage than it is now.

Harmony Hair Beautifier is just what it is named—a hair beautifier. It is not a hair dye or hair oil—but a dainty, rose-perfumed liquid dressing to give the hair its natural gloss and brightness, wavy softness, rich beauty. Easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. Contains no oil, and will not change color of the hair nor darken gray hair.

To keep your hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich lather that immediately penetrates to every part of hair and scalp, insuring a quick and thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly the entire operation takes only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair; leaves no harshness or stickiness—just a sweet-smelling cleanliness.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only by us. A. C. VAN HOUTEN, NANAIMO.

DISASTER AT SEA WAS FEARED

Steamer Siberia Which Was ReportedWrecked off Formosa Reports Herself by Wireless to be in Good Condition

Manila, May 1.—The S. S. Siberia arrived here at 11 o'clock tonight after an uneventful voyage from Nagasaki. Upon arrival here the captain of the Siberia was surprised to hear that his vessel had been reported wrecked off the Formosan coast, and can only account for the fact of S. O. S. wireless signals being heard by reason of atmospheric conditions prevailing at the time his steamer was in wireless communication with another vessel, the messages being misinterpreted.

Correcidor Island, Philippines, May 1.—A message just received from the steamer Siberia by wireless states that the vessel is in good condition It adds that the Siberia will arrive at Manila at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning. The message was relayed from the Siberia to the wireless station here by the United States cruiser Galveston.

Tokio, May 1.—A dispatch from Nagasaki reports that the steamer Siberia is sinking off the island of Formosa. No details of the steamer's plight are given, but it is known here that she carries 71 saloon passengers, among them Mrs. Francis Burton Harrison, wife of the governor-general of the Philippines, and Mrs. John B. Beutiers, wife of the British consul at Manila.

There were about fifty persons in the second cabin and 400 in the steerage. She is in command of Captain Zeeder and carries a crew of about 200 men.

The exact nature of the disaster has not yet been determined, nor [illegible] been received here up to a late hour.

An early wireless report said the liner was sinking, while a later message conveyed the information that she was ashore six miles off the southeast mainland of Formosa Island.

The Japanese government dispatched the steamer Kanto Maru from Formosa to the succor of the Siberia as soon as the news of her trouble was received.

The gravest anxiety prevails owing to the fact that the wireless calls for help from the Siberia have ceased. A. A. Williamson, the American consul at Tamsui, Formosa, telegraphs he fears this means that the vessel has gone down.

When the first wireless calls for help were heard the nearest ship was six hours away.

The plight of the Siberia was communicated by wireless also to the steamer Minnesota of the Great Northern Steamship company, which was making her way to Nagasaki, as well as to the British cruiser Minotaur. The position of the Siberia is given by wireless as longtitude 121.10 east, latitude 22.40 north. This location is about six miles to the east of the narrow cape which forms the southern extremity of Formosa Island.

The Japanese navy department was inclined to discredit the reports regarding pirates and expressing the opinion that they were an outcome of the recent looting of a British steamer.

The first wireless message regarding the disaster was received direct from the Siberia early this morning at the Japanese wireless station at Osezakai, off the coast of Kiushiu island. It conveyed the information that the steamer had met with an accident and was in distress. This message was mutilated and no further definite information could be gleaned from it.

The Japanese navy department has received and made public the following dispatch: "The governor-general of Formosa cables that a Japanese cruiser on her way to the Okinawa islands, off the island of Kiushiu, reports that the Pacific Mail steamer Siberia met disaster this morning in longtitude 121.10 east, latitude 22.40 north.

"She sent repeated signals of distress which finally became indistinct No details of the disaster are known. The Kanto Maru has been ordered to the scene."

The British cruiser Minotaur, proceeding under full steam to the succor of the Siberia, was reported here late tonight to have reached the scene of the accident.

San Francisco, May 1.—The Pacific Mail Steamship company issued the following statement today: "Later advices are that the Siberia is ashore on Samasana island, about 20 miles off the southeast coast of Formosa. British and Japanese cruisers have gone to her assistance. The Pacific Mail company has cabled the Mitsui Bishi company, of Nagasaki to dispatch a salvage steamer immediately.

London, May 1.—The condition of the Duke of Argyll who is lying ill with double pneumonia continues critical. Last night he lapsed several times into unconsciousness and the worst is yet feared.

FLED FROM MEXICAN MOBS

Two Hundred Refugees Seek Safety on British Steamer and are Landed at Salina Cruz.

Guatemala City, May 1.—Nearly 200 refugees of all nationalities from points on the Isthmus of Tehuantepec arrived here this morning from Salina Cruz on the English steamer Acajutla which put in especially for their benefit at San Jose, a small Guatemalan seaport.

Fugitives from Tapachula, a small town on the Pan-American Railway on the boundary say that fierce anti-American demonstrations have been going on for several days, the police making no effort to restrain the mobs. American flags have been spit and trod on, and only the flight across the frontier into Guatemala saved the Americans from being stoned to death.

Washington, May 1.—Consul Canada at Vera Cruz reported to the state department today there are 1500 Americans in Mexico City unable to get out because of interrupted railroad facilities. These are for the most part, new arrivals in the Mexican capital from the surrounding country. They arrived just after the departure of the last train for Vera Cruz. Consul Canada has asked the Brazilian minister and Admiral Craddock, the British commander to exert efforts to restore railroad communications with the capital.

The state department today exerted every means to secure information as to the report that Dr. Edward Ryan an American Red Cross official, was being held in Mexico, sentenced to be executed. Secretary of State, Bryan, just before a conference with President Wilson sent urgent telegrams to Consul Canada at Vera Cruz and the military authorities there, asking for immediate reports on the Ryan incident. The secretary already requested the Spanish ambassador, representing the Huerta Government here, to look out for Dr Ryan's safety.

MISS ROXYNA PHILLIPS SINGS HERE SUNDAY

Miss Roxyna Phillips, a contralto singer spoken very highly of by the Eastern and Coast press, will be one of the soloists at the Nanaimo Symphony Orchestra concert tomorrow night. She is said to have a naturally beautiful voice of dramatic power and most agreeable quality. Speaking of her work in Vancouver recently the Vancouver Province said "Miss Roxyna Phillips, who possesses a rich contralto voice, gave pleasure in each of her appearances, responding graciously with suitable encores, as they were repeatedly demanded and was the recipient of one boquet after another until the stage was gay with color." Another Vancouver paper speaks in equally high praise of her singing.

The other soloist will be Mr. Ridley Shadforth, of Durham, England. Mr. Shadforth is on his way to Australia and has consented to sing here Sunday. He is a baritone and has had much experience with opera companies in the north of England.

He is described as having light brown eyes and hair and being of slim build. He was wearing a tan cloth hat, red sweater and brown knickabockers.

COURTENAY WOULD INCORPORATE.

An application from Courtenay for incorporation as a municipality was argued before the provincial executive yesterday, H. A. Maclean, K. C., presenting the arguments of those residents who sought the incorporation and L. Crease, K. C., H. G. Heisterman and J. A. Aikman appeared for the interests who opposed the step. Mr. Maclean pointed out that the town would soon assume considerable importance when the railway began to operate through its precincts while the other counsel maintained that a young municipality, with a scattered territory such as at Courtenay would have great difficulties financing itself in the present hard times.

THE NANAIMO MILITIA CORPS

Authority For Formation of Corps of Nanaimo Militia is Now Awaiting Sanction of Governor General.

A company of militia in Nanaimo will soon be an assured fact, as those behind the movement have received word from Ottawa that the application from this city is receiving the consideration of the authorities.

The appended letter received yesterday by Mr. John T. Buck, secretary-treasurer of the Nanaimo Militia Club speaks for itself:

Sir:

I have the honor by direction, to acknowledge Colonel Hughes' receipt of your letter of the 17th. inst., applying for the formation of an Independent Company of Light Infantry at Nanaimo, B. C., and to inform you that your application is receiving consideration, and as soon as the necessary authority of H.R.H. the governor-general in council for organization is received, you will be notified.

I have the honor to be sir, your obedient servent,

Charles Winter,
Lt.-Col. Military sec.

INJURED MAN BROUGHT TO LOCAL HOSPITAL

W. Hughes, a resident of Lasqueti Island was brought to the local hospital yesterday for treatment of a compound fracture of the right leg. The accident occurred at 9 o'clock yesterday morning when Hughes and two companions were a short distance away from Lasqueti Island bound by launch for Vancouver. In passing the gasoline engine Hughes' trouser leg caught in the fly wheel and the unfortunate man's leg was wound around the wheel, breaking the leg in two places. Despite his terrible injuries Hughes bore up well and did not receive treatment until he reached the hospital in Nanaimo some six hours after the accident.

The injuries sustained by Hughes are very serious and it is feared the injured limb will have to be amputated.

OLD COUNTRY FOOTBALL.

Cardiff City 0, Milwall Athletics 0.
Queens Park Rangers 1, Reading 0.

Provincial Constable Bert Stephenson and Mrs. Stephenson are spending a few days with relatives in Nanaimo.

FEDERAL TROOPS ARE IN CHARGE

Ten Days of Tragic Events in Colorada Ends—Not a Shot Fired Inside of Two Days—Futher Bloodshed Feared.

Denver, Colo., May 1.—Apparently peace prevails throughout the southern coal fields this morning. Federal troops are in charge of the "terror zone" and since their arrival at 8 o'clock yesterday morning not a shot has been fired.

The battles of Forbes and Walsenburg on Wednesday which resulted in the killing of fourteen men, nine at Forbes and five at Walsenburg ended, at least temporarily, ten days of tragedies unparalleled in the west since the red skins and the whites battled for supremacy in the very mountains where capital and labor are now struggling for mastery.

But the battle is not over. The federal troops may prevent actual bloodshed, but unless their presence eventually settles the strike, there can be no peace. The strikers today welcomed the government's forces with open arms. They believe it means recognition of their union, yet they are not willing to take too long a chance. This is evident from their attitude in regard to the surrender of their arms.

Major W. A. Holbrook, in charge of the Fourth troop from Fort Leavenworth, has not yet demanded that the strikers turn their arms over to the government soldiers, but such a demand is expected before the end of today.

Wm. Diamond, organizer for the United Mine Workers in charge of the Trinidad offices, stated what seemed to be the general position of the strikers.

"The strikers will comply with every command of the federal authorities," he said, "provided we are assured that the mines are to be closed and that federal troops are to remain in the field until this trouble is settled. If the government troops will disarm the mine guards and state troops and give us the assurance that there is to be no recurrence of the events which have marked the militia's occupancy of the strike zone, the miners will surrender their arms, I am sure.

"If, on the other hand, the troops are to remain here only a little while until the present state government can reassert its authority and re-establish the order of things that have marked the past, I am sure the men will conceal their weapons and preserve them as the only friends they have.

"In any event, the surrender will be made by the men as individuals. The guns belong to them and are their property. They are not the property of the United Mine Workers of America and the United Mine Workers as an organization have nothing to do with them."

The inquest into the twenty-five deaths at Ludlow, which was to be resumed yesterday, was postponed until today. The jury, however, inspected the Ludlow battlefield again and examined the safety pit, in which two women and four children died.

282,186 PERSONS SAW BIG FOOTBALL GAMES.

Ireland won the Association championship for the first time and it was well deserved, for it has been playing continuously for 32 years without ever reaching the summit. The following table shows the various positions at the finish:

	W.	L.	D.	F.	A.	Pts.
Ireland	2	0	1	6	2	5
Scotland	1	0	2	4	2	4
England	1	2	0	3	6	2
Wales	0	2	1	3	2	0

The number of persons who paid to witness the seven games in the fourth round of the F. A. Cup was 282,186, as compared with 243,910 in the six games last year. The gate money amounted to £12,830, as against £13,121 in 1913. The largest gate in this season's seven matches was in the re-play at Burnley, the amount taken being £2,858.

An Association football team of the University of London will tour in Germany and Russia. During the course of the tour, which will extend over three weeks from the time of leaving London until the day of the return, football matches will be played in Berlin and Moscow.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE PROROGUED ON MAY DAY

Toronto, Ont., May 1.—With the usual ceremonies the provincial legislature was prorogued this morning. The speech from the throne thanked the members and referred to the different bills enacted into law.

May day passed in Toronto without any disturbances in the industrial world. No strikes took place and none are expected. Similar conditions prevail throughout the province.

DEWEY WILL DINE AND CELEBRATE MANILA

Washington, May 1.—Today marked the sixteenth anniversary of the Battle of Manila Bay. In celebration of the event, Admiral George Dewey, hero of Manila Bay and president of the society of Manila Bay, will give a dinner to the members of the society at his home here tonight. The society is composed of those who participated in that famous battle.

U. M. W. A. HELD CELEBRATION

Yesterday, May Day and the occasion of the U.M.W. of A. celebration, passed off very quietly. In order that the strained relations between those supporting the strike and those opposed to it should not rise to any trouble the authorities took extra precautions, one result of which was increasing the civil aid forces by over 150 men. The militia vere very little in evidence during the day, being kept in the background but ready for any emergency.

The day was ideal for the celebration. Not nearly as large a crowd came into the city as was expected, but very few Vancouver and Victoria people arrived, the majority being from Ladysmith and intervening points. During the day the down town streets were almost deserted with a few more than the usual crowds in evidence in the evening.

Mr. Frank Farrington, the man who called the strike and who on several occasions has taken all responsibility for it, was expected to be present but did not put in an appearance. The speakers included Robert Foster, local district president, U.M.W. of A.; Mr. Watchman, president of the B. C. Federation of Labor; Mr. Gilbert, editor of the Seattle Herald, a Socialist organ; Rev. A. W. McLeod of Chilliwack, a former Nanaimo pastor and a well known Socialist, and Secretary Wells of the B. C. Federation of Labor. President Foster remarked that the U.M.W. of A. were about to make a change in their policy of passive resistance and to enter a more aggressive line of action, at the same time remaining strictly within the law. They intended to beat the operators no matter at what expense.

The rest of the day was taken up with sports. All saloons were closed in the city for the day.

LOCAL VISITORS AT VANCOUVER WEDDING

A wedding of interest to many residents of Nanaimo was solemnized in the Ruth Memorial Baptish church yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, the contracting parties being Mr. S. Terkula of Vancouver, and Miss Jean Burn, also of Vancouver, brother of Mr. Storey Burn and niece of Mrs. James Pender of this city.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Ethel Pender, and the groom was supported by Mr. Storey Burn, brother of the bride. The bride is well known to many in Nanaimo having visited here on several accasions.

After a honeymoon tour of Sound cities, Mr. and Mrs. Terkula will take up their residence in Vancouver.

WON THOUSAND GUINEAS.

New Market, Eng., May 1.—The thousand guinea race was won by J. B. Joel's Princess Dorrie, at 100 to 9. Lord Derby's Glorvina, 100 to 7, was second, and Sir John Thursby's Kennymore Evan, third.

TALK [illegible]

[illegible] the dove of peace with corn in one outstretched hand while the other is busy polishing up the guns for active warfare—this is the attitude of the administration leaders here this morning.

The three South American envoys, whose good offices everybody applauds but in whose success no one believes, continued their secret conferences during the greater part of last night. While both Wilson and Huerta have practically agreed to suspend hostilities pending the receipt of the mediators' terms no such assurance from Carranza gladdened the hearts of the envoys and the renewal of the attack on Tampico during which the rebels varied the monotony of shooting at federals by sending a few well-directed bullets in the direction of the Ward Line steamer Antilla created a feeling of uneasiness.

Secretary Bryan formally notified the envoys that the United States took it for granted that the mediation efforts would cause a suspension of hostilities and assured them that the American forces would not take the aggressive for the time being. It was significant, however, that no orders halting the activities of General Funston's brigade at Vera Cruz were issued by the war department.

Secretary Bryan said he hoped the negotiations would move forward as "rapidly as possible." No time limit has been set, but it is evident that the situation is too delicate in Mexico to warrant any long delays in attempts to settle the question by peaceful means. The envoys denied the report that they were going to Mexico, saying they could communicate with the Mexican capital satisfactorily from here.

A number of interesting phases have developed. One that is causing the wishers for peace considerable anxiety is the attitude of General Huerta. He has definitely accepted intermediation between himself and the United States, but has pointedly avoided any reference in his note to the delicately suggested suspension of conflict between his forces and those of the Constitutionalists. It is generally accepted that as an evader of parts Huerta merits the palm. An effort will be made to have him commit himself definitely on this point.

OPENING OF LOCAL TENNIS SEASON

The Nanaimo Tennis Club will open the season this afternoon, and also the new courts which have been laid on the Caledonian Grounds. Three magnificent courts have been laid out, and two of them will be ready for play this afternoon. These courts are of the clay variety, with a facing of crushed brick. The third court, which will be ready for play later in the season, is of grass, and when all three are going the local tennis club will have a splendid ground.

A big turn-out is expected at the opening this afternoon. Tea will be dispensed by some of the lady members, and invitations have been sent out to friends. Thanks to the energy and kindness of the Boy Scouts a bridge has been laid across the Mill Stream, so that easy and convenient access can be gained to the grounds. The club has made a good start, and with the present membership and such excellent courts in such pleasant surroundings it ought to have a very successful season.

Apparently newspapermen take kindly to the militia. With the troops who were in the city yesterday were Captain Casedy, of Chilliwack, editor of The Chilliwack Progress; Norman Norcross, 104th regiment and one of the staff of the New Westminster British Columbian, and Mr. Wells, also of the 104th, a member of the Vancouver Daily Province staff.

RELIGIOUS DIFFERENCES.

In discussing the various developments of the Home Rule controversy we have frequently remarked that at the bottom the whole difficulty is one of sectarian differences. This is so far as the Ulster people themselves are concerned, and oddly enough thousands have shown their readiness to jump into such a quarrel. It is a common saying that no wars were either as bitter or as bloody as religious wars. So also is it true that no difference is so hard to compose as a religious difference. As an evidence of the irreconciable spirit prevailing in Ulster we would quote the "Northern Whig," a Belfast newspaper. The "Whig" does not desire that any false hopes should be nursed on account of the renewed attempts at a settlement by compromise. Wherefore it declares that the time has now come for plain speaking, no matter what the consequences may be. It will be noted that the plain speaking is only caused by the brightening prospects of a settlement. Accordingly the "Northern Whig" is moved to set out bluntly and plainly, without reserve or verbal equivocation, the only terms which will be agreeable to Ulster. "Our primary objection to Home Rule," it states, "is on religious grounds. The history of the past thousand years has taught us that whenever the church of Rome has power she uses it for the extermination of heretics of whom the Protestants are held to be the worst. There is no compromise possible which places the Protestants of Ulster either now or at any future time under the rule of Rome. All this talk about Federation is so much rank nonsense. We are prepared to endure anything rather than to submit to the tyranny of a Roman Catholic Parliament." It is useless to take up the historical argument in this statement. One thousand years is a long time and so far as Ireland is concerned the treatment of the Catholic population has been a disgrace to humanity. But this is neither here nor there. To the layman the vital point in this statement is the amazing and irreconcilable enmity of two great Christian denominations. Such a deadlock is certainly far from edifying. Christian charity must be a plant of slow growth when after nineteen hundred and fourteen years two great Christian sects subjects of the one Crown and inhabitants of the same country should nourish such undying hostility and reveal such deep distrust the one of the other. If the "Northern Whig" speaks for any considerable portion of the population of Ulster then the British politicians have indeed a well-nigh hopeless task on their hands.

FOSTER'S NEGOTIATIONS

President Foster, in his speech at the demonstration on the Cricket Field yesterday, is reported to have made the statement that they, the officers of the United Mine Workers of America presumably, had been trying all along to open up negotiations with the operators. This is surely an amazing statement for a man in Mr. Foster's position to make. What attempts have Foster and his brother officers ever made to open negotiations of any kind for a settlement? In October, 1912, Foster himself was asked by a Free Press representative if it were true that the men on strike at Cumberland had applied to the Labor Department for a Board of Investigation. He replied that they had not done so, and had no intention of doing anything of the kind, as they were quite capable of settling their own grievances. In June, 1913, he accused The Herald of lying because it said that no application had been made. First of all he denied that they had applied to Minister of Labor Crothers, then he stated that they had, and next he charged The Herald with lying for saying they had not. The Ananias is not far to seek, and yet he is head of the local branch of the union. His subsequent conduct, and this statement on the Cricket Grounds yesterday, make it appear that his readiness to say anything one day, and deny anything or the same thing the next day, is his chief qualification for the office of president.

It is the usual and the proper course in all labor disputes to attempt negotiations with the operators before resorting to a strike. Did President Foster follow that course in Nanaimo? He neither interviewed the operators, nor consulted the men. His superior officer Farrington called the strike, and Foster published the decree. Nor did he leave the men in any doubt that it was a decree. Not all the men were disposed to submit to his arrogated authority. They demanded to have a voice, and exercise their rights of franchise, in the making of the strike. What was Foster's reply to them? "Ballot or no ballot, a strike has been declared and any man going to work will be branded as a scab," answered this Nero among union leaders. This is the kind of negotiation in which President Foster is plainly at his best. He has really attempted no negotiations since. On the contrary he has blocked all negotiations. The overtures made by the company, and the offer of mediation made by the department of labor were all incontinently turned down because they did not let President Foster in on the ground floor. Shut out himself, he would not allow the men to go in. This sums up his whole endeavor to open up negotiations. The result of his action to the men out of work we have already discussed at length. If the men themselves are satisfied, nobody else has any reason to worry. That Foster himself is not very greatly concerned we are easily able to understand. That he is willing to stay with the job no matter now long it takes goes without saying. He is probably doing better than ever he did before in his life. He has a very snug berth with a comfortable salary. It is true that he and the other union bosses promised that they would not draw their salaries during the strike. Is it not also true that the salaries looked too good to them to be dropped? Is it not also true that not all of them were satisfied with their salaries alone? At least it is so reported. In any case it is assuredly true that, whether the operators are beaten or not, whether the trouble continues another year or ten years, Foster himself will not suffer but will grow in ease and prosperity.

TRANSFER OF LICENSE

Notice is hereby given that I intend to apply at the next sitting of the License Commissioners for the City of Nanaimo, B. C., competient to hear the same, for the transfer of the license, now in the name of Alfred John Garretson, to John Fisher to sell spirituous and fermented liquors in the premises known as the Vendome Hotel, situated on Lot 10, Block XIV in the city of Nanaimo, in the Province of British Columbia.

BIG SOCCER GAME IN DISTRICT SUNDAY

There will be a big soccer game on the York Estate Sunday May 3, between the Nanaimo River Red Fir Ramblers and the Cedar Wild Cats. The district people are expecting a good gate and hope all who can get there will attend the game. Manager Russell and Captain Simpson have had matters in hand for the past week or so, and have got the grounds in perfect condition.

Goal—E. Shore.
Backs—Thomas, Tomlinson.
Half Backs—McGregor, Greenaway, Haslam.
Forwards—Youngman, Thacker, Vallance, Ritton, Wainright.
Reserve—Anscough.

(Ramblers)
Goal—J. Halloran.
Backs— Simpson, Gordon.
Half Backs—A. York, R. Stove, N. Yor
Forwards—Walker, White, Cochran, Ernapole, Williams.
Reserves—J. Stove, W. Stove.

The kick-off will take place at 1:30.

DON'T GROW BALD

IT'S QUITE NEEDLESS. NOURISH THE HAIR ROOTS—REMOVE DANDRUFF — USE PARISIAN SAGE—

If your hair is getting thin, losing color, or has that matted, lifeless and scraggy appearance, the reason is evident—dandruff and failure to keep the hair roots properly nourished. These are the main causes of baldness or dry, brittle and unsightly hair.

Parisian Sage applied daily for week and then occasionally, is all that is needed. It is a scientific preparation that supplies hair needs. them, and furnishes the elements ne- It gets to the hair roots, nourishes cessary to make it grow. It removes dandruff with one application; almost immediately stops falling hair and itching head; cleanses, cools and invigorates the scalp. Equally good for men, women or children—everyone needs it.

This delightful and refreshing hair tonic can be had at any drug or toilet counter in 50 cent bottles only. Get a bottle at once—use it every day for a week and you will be surprised with the result. Delighted users say Parisian Sage is the best and most invigorating hair tonic made.

A. C. VAN HOUTEN, Nanaimo.

Farewell Play Tonight

Tonight the ever popular Royal Players will conclude their present engagement with a great play entitled "Paid in Full" and a crazy Swede comedy thrown in for good measure.

Those who attended "The Lion and the Mouse" last night were unanimous in pronouncing it one of the best acted shows seen here for many a day, and Mr. Royal promises, tonight's play to be equally as great.

A special matinee will be given this afternoon.

Bijou Theatre

Comedy will predominate in today's program of moving pictures at the Bijou Theatre, the management having secured a comedy feature comprising two reels, entitled "The Awakening at Snakeville." This is an Essanay production a western comedy sensation featuring Augustus Carney as "Alkali Ike" and Margaret Joshyn as Sophie Clutts.

Other pictares on the program are a reliance comedy, entitled "Two men and a Mule"; a Reliance drama of New York life entitled "The Janitor" and an American production "Two Western Hearts." The last named picture is a western production with the atmosphere of early mining adventures.

ELECTION CONTEST IN GREAT GRIMSBY SEAT.

London, May 1.—Alfred Bannister, smackowner, Liberal, and George Ticker, jam manufacturer, Unionist, will contest the great Grimsby bye-election rendered necessary through the death last Monday of Sir George Doughty, Unionist member for that constituency. Both are local men. Candidates to contest the Northeast Derbyshire bye-election has not been decided, but Dr. J. Court, local Unionist who has several times contested this seat, probably will be candidate. This bye-election was caused through the death on Tuesday of W. E. Harvey, the Labor-Unionist member.

(This letter is just received:)

"Toronto.

"I am the mother of twelve children. I took a bad leg at the birth of my last child. I was laid up five weeks, with a doctor attending me who does nothing but treat this kind of skin disease. Six weeks ago I heard of D. D. D. As I used to tear my leg at night until it was a bleeding mass, I applied a bottle of D.D.D. I can't tell you the ease it gave me. I never used to sleep with the pain. Many a time I nearly fell with dizziness from want of sleep. Now my leg is completely healed up, thanks to the blessed D.D.D. I never expected a cure. I only got D. D. D. to take the terrible itch away. But by degrees I saw the big sore getting smaller. I have a thankful heart today.

MRS. STITT, 53 Gillespie Ave., West Toronto.

The cures of D.D.D. are past belief. All druggists have this soothing, cooling wash and also the efficient D.D.D. Skin Soap.

Come to us and we will sell you the first full size bottle on the guarantee that it will stop the itch at once or your money refunded.

LITTLE HOPE FOR SCHOONER.

San Francisco, May 1.—Little hope is now held for the schooner, Hugh Hogan, which went ashore on the south split of Florence, Ore., Tuesday, according to advices received tonight from the marine department of the chamber of commerce. A telephone message from Marsfield says that lines to Florence have been down until this evening, that a heavy northwest wind is blowing and a chance of saving the Hogan is very unfavorable.

PANAMA TO OPEN IN TEN DAYS

Panama, May 1.—Governor Goethals decided today to begin a barge service through the Panama Canal about May 10, thus bringing it into commercial use much earlier than had been expected.

The decision was brought about by the interruption of the Tehuantepec Railway route. The first freight to be towed through will consist of Hawaiian sugar, and it is understood that this will probably, in future, all be routed by the canal. During the past few days more freight has been offered for trans-shipment through the canal most of it having formerly passed over the Tehuantepec route.

LARGEST AUTO ORDER GIVEN IN CANADA

What is said to be the largest order for automobiles ever given to a Canadian manufacturer, was closed recently by Assistant Sales Manager Armstrong, of the Studebaker Corporation of Canada.

The order calls for the delivery in Winnipeg, of one carload of Studebaker automobiles, every day during the month of May. It is specified that every third car will be one of the new six-cylinder models. The balance of the order will consist of the new five-passenger, four-cylinder cars.

The automobiles in this single order are valued at $126,850. Since this record-breaking order represents only one month's sales, it is estimated that the Studebaker cars distributed by the Breen Company during the season, will represent a total value of at least $500,000.

GROCER WAS KILLED.

Toronto, May 1.— John Harter, a grocer, of 83 Cumberland street, 31 years old, and married, was killed last night by being thrown from his wagon near the corner of Bloor street and Avenue road, when his horse became frightened and ran away, dashing the vehicle against a pole.

Studebaker SIX

Electrically Lighted
Electrically Started
Seven-Passenger
Full Floating Rear Axle

The Studebaker SIX fairly clamors for comparison with "Sixes" selling for more money.

It is the uttermost in six-cylinder smoothness and seven-passenger comfort.

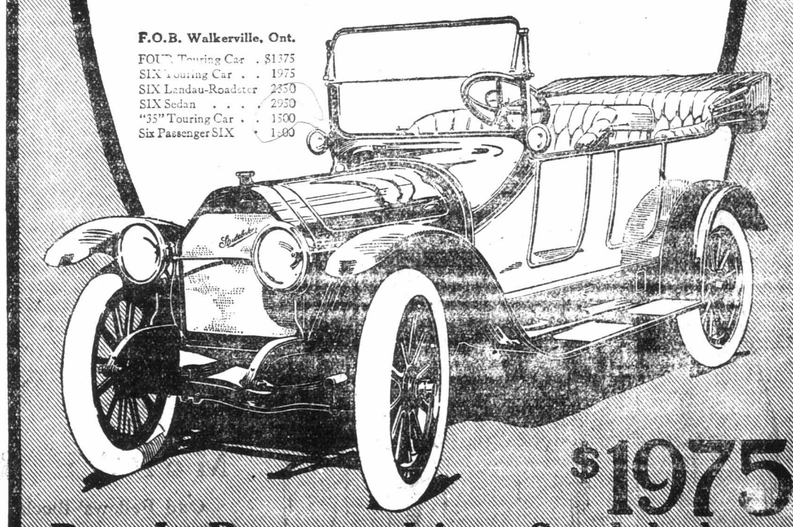
And the system of starting and lighting conforms to the same exacting quality requirement.

No matter how much more you are willing to pay—money can't buy a better rear axle or a better system of starting and lighting.

Take these two vital features as a starting point and every feature and every function of the car will reveal to you elements of value beyond which manufacturing skill cannot go.



We have a folder which you should read, fully describing in simple terms the full floating axle and making plain the superiority of this type over others. Call or write for it.

TWENTY-TWO MONTH SENTENCE

Philipo Napoli Found Guilty at Nanaimo Assize Court of Shooting A. Medica With Intent to do Bodily Harm.

Philippo Napoli, a young Italian, was found guilty by a jury in the local Assize Court yesterday of having shot with intent to do [illegible] Augustine Medica at South Wellington on November 30th. last, and was sentenced by His Lordship, Mr. Justice Macdonald, to serve twenty-five months in the penitentiary at New Westminster, sentence to commence from date of conviction.

In giving sentence His Lordship remarked:

You received a fair trial and everything that could be done by able consul has been done. The jury has found you guilty shooting one of your countrymen, Augustine Medica, with intent to do grievous bodily harm. The jury was justified on the evidence in believing that you went into the house that afternoon and returned with a revolver which you knew if used was likely to cause death. You are a fortunate young man that you are not being tried for murder to-day if one of the shots that you fired had struck Medica in a fatal part of his body you would have had great difficulty in escaping a verdict of guilty of murder. But in that case the jury might, or the authorities might take into consideration the fact that you were smarting under a blow given in a malicious manner by Medica, and while you had recovered your reason you still felt inclined to get revenge. If you formed the attention of going to the doctor, you changed it and fired not one shot but three shots, apparently reckless of what harm you did. You had no right to shoot Patella anymore than you had a right to inflict injuries on Medica. You may thank this jury for its recommendation for mercy, and the previous cutting by Medica or I would give you such a sentence as would learn you and others that the use of firearms in this province for the purpose of defence or more particularly as a means of seeking revenge, will be dealt with severely by the court. I will advise you as a young man that when you come out of your confinement with many years ahead of you, that the good old way of using your fists is better than the use of a knife or firearms. The sentence of the court is that you be confined in the penitentiary at New Westminster for a term of twenty-five months. sentence to commence from date of trial.

The following jury was empanelled to try the case, viz, John May (foreman), James Knight, D. E. Egdell, J. C. Brumpton, Archie Cowie, R. Ferguson, Al. Garretson, Gladstone Foster, Austin Oliver, J. A. Jepson, James Pender and William Bryant.

The evidence gleaned from Italian witnesses was to the effect that Medica and the accused had quarrelled and Medica had assaulted Napoli with a razor, inflicting a wound on the head. Napoli entered his boarding house, where he is alleged to have secured a revolver, and after leaving the house encountered Medica and two other men standing in the middle of the roadway whereupon Napoli immediately commenced firing, one bullet striking Medica in the body, while a stray bullet struck Patella in the leg. Napoli made his escape but was captured the following day and convicted for trial. Since the date of the preliminary hearing Medica, the victim of Napoli's vengeance has left the country and was not present when the case was called yesterday.

Mr. C. S. Arnold of Vancouver, appeared for the crown, Mr. Hume B. Robinson defending.

NANAIMO WANTS NEW CITY HALL

Ratepayers Will be Asked to Borrow $60,000 For Purchase of Site and Erection of Public Building.

The City Council at last night's meeting instructed the Finance Committee to prepare a bylaw for submission to the ratepayers of Nanaimo authorizing the raising, by way of loan, of a sum of money not exceeding $60,000 for the purpose of purchasing from the Provincial Government the site on which the present city court hoase is located and erecting thereon a new city hall and court house.

The question was introduced before the meeting by His Worship, Mayor Planta, who remarked that the Council must agree with the grand jury, in its presentation to His Monday's setting of the assize court, recommending that the city jail and court house be condemned. His Worship suggested that the Council have the City Engineer and Health Officer pass upon the buildings, which would be the first step in having them removed.

The suggestion of Mayor Planta was acted upon on motion of Ald. Young, seconded by Ald. Crossan, the same being adopted by the Council without a dissenting voice.

During the discussion on the question the information was gleaned that provided the city erect a substantial building, the Provincial government would sell the Corporation the present site at a figure so small as to almost amount to a gift of the property. The aldermen were of the opinion the offer was too good a one to miss especially in view of the fact that the city would be compelled to erect a new city jail and city hall in the near future, and the matter was referred to the Finance Committee to prepare a bylaw as outlined above.

NANAIMO BOY DIED IN VANCOUVER

The death occurred in Vancouver Sunday morning, of John Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Gillespie, of Vancouver, former residents of Nanaimo.

The deceased was 18 years of age, and was a native of Nanaimo, the family moving to Vancouver some years ago.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, 667 Hornby street, Vancouver this (Tuesday) afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Flat City in the Iditarod district, was almost wiped out by fire yesterday. Twenty buildings were destroyed.

BOARD OF TRADE WILL MEET TODAY

The regular meeting of the Nanaimo Board of Trade will be held in the Board of Trade rooms in the City Hall this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The committee to whom was refereed the matter of nominating the several committees of the Board will submit its report at today's meeting, and as other important business is to be transacted a full attendance of members is requested.

MACHINE GUNS DEFEND BORDER.

A machine gun platoon of the army division now stationed at El Paso, Texas, on a forced march near the city. Several of these machine guns have been stationed in the vicinity of the international bridge which crosses the Rio Grande and connects El Paso with Juarez on the Mexican side. Both federal and rebel Mexican troops have encamped across the border. General Villa's detachment being a particularly strategic locality should he decide to bombard El Paso.

GRIPPED HEARTS OF NANAIMOITES

Citizens Turn Out in Large Numbers to Witness Moving Pictures of Scott's Heroic Dash to South Pole.

Local citizens turned out in force yesterday afternoon and evening to witness the moving pictures of Capt. Scott's dash to the South Pole and to hear from the lips of an eloquent speaker the story of the heroic expedition which ended so fatally to Capt. Scott and his intrepid companions.

The story of Scott's fateful expedition and the heroism displayed by the leader and members of his party grips the heart strings of all Britishers and round after round of applause greeted the presentation of the pictures when they were shown last evening.

Every person in Nanaimo should see these pictures while they are in the city. The siege of the South pole has lasted nearly 150 years. It was away back in 1772-1775 that Capt. Cook, made his historic voyage "Toward the South Pole and Around the World" and since then no fewer than eighteen separate expeditions went out between 1819 and 1910. Of all these men no explorer succumbed to death until Capt. Scott closed the inspiring chapter of his life, with rare fortitude, March 29, 1912, that being the last date of entry in the diary.

In describing his parting with Capt. Scott after making by the light of the midnight sun, at 2.30 a. m. of November 2, 1911, the scene showing Capt. Scott and his four companions disappearing into the southern horizon. Mr. Ponting says: "This was the most dramatic moment of my life and as I watched them disappear into the mists of the horizon, I wondered if I should ever see them again. They went with buoyant spirits and light hearts on the journey from which they never returned."

The pictures shown yesterday, and which will be again shown this afternoon and evening, give important detail of zoological life, hydrographic wonders, chemical formations, geological freaks and, in fact, everything considered worthy of record for the enlightenment of science and the edification of those who did not make the trip. Besides this they tell as Lord Curzon of Kedleston, says: "A tremendous tale of human adventure."

LLOYD GEORGE PRESENTS BUDGET

Chancellor of the British Exchequer Expects a Deficit of $2[illegible],650,000 During Next Fiscal Year.

London, May 4.—David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, introduced his sixth budget bill in the House of Commons today with the announcement that he had to meet an estimated deficit in 1914-15 of $26,650,000.

Even if inquisitive parliamentarians had remained undaunted by Premier Asquith's refusal to answer further questions upon Ulster their eagerness to hear today's budget proposals would doubtless cause them to restrain their curiosity. There was, however, some attempt to draw the premier, when the House of Commons sat today.

What precedent existed, he was asked, for refusing to answer questions?

"There is no precedent," he admitted, "but circumstances are extraordinary and unique."

"Is it not a precedent amounting to a refusal by the government to answer inconvenient questions?" demanded Bonar Law.

"Not at all," replied Mr. Asquith, "but I put it on special grounds. I shall be glad to answer the questions if any new facts arise."

Answering James Hope, the premier said he did not think it would serve the public interest to make any statement at the present regarding settlement prospects.

DEATH OF THOMAS ISHERWOOD SUNDAY

The death occurred at Extension on Sunday morning of Thomas Isherwood, a resident of Extension for upwards of ten years, previous to which he resided in the city for a period of two years.

The deceased had been ill but a short time, death being due to heart trouble. He was a native of Tinsley, Lancashire, Eng., aged 50 years, and is survived by his widow, seven daughters and one son, and one stepson, viz, John Dideridge, who is employed by the P. Burns Company, of this city.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, Extension, Wednesday afternoon at 12 o'clock, the interrment taking place in the Nanaimo cemetery at 1.30. Funeral arrangements are in the hands of H. McAdie.

RECOMMENDATION OF GRAND JURY

Jury at Nanaimo Assize Court Asks That City Jail be Condemned—Other Public Institutions Criticized.

The Grand Jury in connection with the Spring Assizes which opened in Nanaimo yesterday morning, had an easy task before it, there being but one case on the docket viz, Rex vs Napoli charged with the murder A. Medica at South Wellington on Nov 30th. last, and in which case the grand jury brought in a "True Bill."

The grand jury was sworn in as follows: Thomas Kitchin (foreman), C. R. Masters, E. W. Harding, John Frame, Thos. Bulman, Eugene Arnold, J. W. Vipond, Harry Vollmers, Herman Mahrer, Howard King, E. Gard and William Quinn.

In addressing the grand jury, Mr. Justice Macdonald congratulated the members thereof on the fact that their duties would be light on this occasion, owing to the scarcity of crime in the district. This was especially a subject for congratulation as he had in mind the labor troubles which have occurred here, outside of these no crime worthy of comment having been committed.

Passing on to the case which was to come before them His Lordship gave a brief explanation of the duties falling to the grand jury, which consisted in considering the bill of indictment presented to them, which after passing their hands, should they find a true bill, would become an indictment. The question had recently been discussed whether grand juries were useless, but in his opinion they provided a great protection and safeguard to the public. In former years grand juries in this province had greater power than they now have, these powere being withdrawn as too drastic.

Having disposed of the only case before them the grand jury visited the several public institutions of the city, and at the afternoon session of the court reported as follows:

May it please your Lordship

We, the grand jury, by you empanelled, having visited various public buildings, beg to make the following report.

The first building visited was the old Nanaimo City Court House and Jail, which we found in a most delapitated condition and absolutely unfit for the various purposes for which it is used. In the first place, the Court House itself is a disgrace to any city and most unsuitable from a health point of view. Secondly, the Police Jail department and prisoners' cells are such as would not be allowed for one day in any other city. The wood itself of which the building is constructed is rotten from top to bottom, and exceedingly dangerous to adjoining properties, a constant menace to same from fire. We recommend most strongly that same be condemned immediately.

We next visited the hospital, where we found everything in a most satisfactory condition, a credit to the city.

We also visited the Nanaimo High School, which we found generally in anything but a satisfactory condition. From the fact that the pupils are at the most critical state of their development, we strongly recommend that an effort be made to remedy the most glaring effects, such as inefficient heating, ventilation and unsatisfactory sanitary arrangements. The Quennell Schools and Technical School we found in a thoroughly modern condition.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Thomas Kitchin,
Foreman.

His Lordship complimented the jury on the promptness in which they had done their work, and after informing the jurymen that their representations would be laid before the proper authorities, dismissed them from further attendance at the assizes.

FIRING ACROSS BORDER IN NIGHT BY MEXICANS.

El Paso, Tex., May 4.—Two troopers of the Eleventh cavalry patrolling the border east of El Paso were fired on by three Mexicans last night on the other side of the Rio Grande, according to a report made to officers at Fort Bliss today. The Americans were not struck and did not return the fire.

DR. RYAN IN MEXICO CITY

Oklahoma City, May 4.—Five persons are believed to have been drowned when part of the Rock Island Railroad's $125,000 bridge over the South Canadian river near Bridgeport, Okla., was washed away late today.

REGRADING OF NICOL STREET

Street Committee is Authouzed to go Ahead With The Work at Once—Job Will Cost $6839.30.

The work of regrading Nicol street will be entered upon with the least possible delay. Before the section between Needham and Robins streets is graded, a sewerage main will be installed, the Street Committee at last night's meeting of the Council being empowered to go ahead with that work at once, the estimated cost being $700, which expense will be borne by the city and not included in the cost to the ratepayers of Nicol street for regrading that street

The work of regrading the street will cost in the neighborhood of $7000 City Engineer Owen reporting to the Council at last night's meeting as follows:

Gentlemen,—In accordance with your instructions of the 27th of April, I beg to submit the accompanying estimate for the regrading of Nicol street, from Grace street to city limits. Complete plans have been prepared of the work to be performed which calls for a cut from Grace to Finlayson, reducing the present grade which is in the neighborhood of 13 per cent. to 8 per cent. This work will involve the lowering of sidewalks, sewers, water mains and all branch piping involved within the area of the cut.

The grading for the balance of the street will conform to the present sidewalks laid, and inasmuch that the west sidewalk is considerably higher than the east sidewalk throughout, it will necessitate the crowning of the road approximately ten feet towards the west side from center and providing for the storm water to be nearly all carried away on the east side.

Boulevarding for a distance of 7 feet from each sidewalk is provided for, leaving a clear roadway of 36 feet.

Yours truly,
W. A. OWEN,
City Engineer.

EXTENSION OF NANAIMO CITY

Council Appoints Committee to Take up Matter of Extending City's Boundries—Tenders For Albert St. Grading.

The City Council met in regular session last evening, present Ald. Forrester, Killeen, Cavalsky, Crossan, Busby, McKenzie, McKinnell, Ferguson and Young, His Worship Mayor Planta presiding.

A communication was received from the secretary of Nanaimo's Victoria Day Celebration Committee asking for a donation to the funds of the celebration.

Ald. McKinnell moved, seconded by Alh. Forrester, the sum of $150. be donated provided that amount was needed to meet any deficiency. The motion carried.

Mr. George A. Fletcher informed the Council that he proposed erecting a brick building on Commercial street and requested that the City remove the storm water drain from under his property.

On motion of Ald. Busby the communication was referred to the Street Committee for investigation and report.

Ald. Young moved the report be received and recommendation adopted.

The Water Works Committee recommended that a 4 inch cast iron water main be laid on Pine street from Franklyn street to Bruce ave. at an estimated cost of $500.

On motion of Ald Young, seconded by Ald. Cavalsky, the recommendation of the Committee was adopted.

The City Engineer reported an expenditure in wages during the past week of $109.50 on streets account, and $43.40 on water works account.

Gentlemen:

Accompanied by Sanitary Inspector Murdock, I inspected the City Jail and beg to suggest that the following recommendations be carried out so as to place the present jail in a better condition.

1. That the walls and ceiling be sprayed with a preparation so as to destroy any insect life that may exist therein, then fumigated in the usual manner and whitewashed with lime.

2. That the floors be scrubbed and washed at least once a week.

3. That the blankets and bedding used, be properly disenfected at least once a month by dipping in a strong solution of carbolic acid or Bichloride of Mercury.

I have the honor to be,
Yours obediently,
W. F. Drysdale, M.D.
Medical Health Officer.

Ald. Ferguson moved the report of the Health Officer be received and his recommendations adopted.

Ald. Busby seconded the motion which was adopted by the Council.

City Engineer Owen submitted a report dealing with the work of regrading Nicol street, the estimated cost of the work being $6,839.30.

Ald. McKenzie moved the report be received and the work proceeded with as soon as arrangements can be made.

Ald. Busby seconded the motion.

Ald. Forrester asked if no provision had been made for lowering the sidewalks on Nicol street.

Ald. McKenzie in reply stated the property owners on Nicol street were satisfied with leaving the sidewalks as at present.

Ald. Ferguson objected to Nicol street being graded until the sewerage system was installed on the street.

Ald. McKinnell remarked that if Ald Ferguson would show the Committee where the money could be secured they would install the sewerage at once.

The motion to grade Nicol street was adopted.

Ald. Ferguson informed the Council that at the next regular meeting he would move that the Sewerage Committee be empowered to install a sewerage main on Nicol street, between Needham and Robins streets.

Fire Chief Parkin reported four fires during the month of April, with an estimated damage of $2,000.

The estimates for the year, laid on the table at last meeting of the Council, were taken up for consideration.

Ald. Busby called attention to the amount available for street pur-

Laurier to the Canadian people. The stringency in the money markets of the world has forced the Canadian Northern to seek further assistance in the shape of increased guarantees and the government is here again faced with an unexpected exigency. It will be the part of wisdom to wait until these two great undertakings are in successful operation before embarking upon such a scheme as the bridging of Seymour Narrows With three transcontinental lines running through British Columbia, and two railways on the Island, the venture has not even the commercial possibilities it possessed forty years ago. Against this there is, of course, to be placed the opening of the Panama Canal, and a tremendous increase in trade on the coast and with the Orient. But with all this admitted, it is to be doubted if a mistake is not being made in urging the scheme as a practical and practicable proposition rather than as an accomplishment of the future.

MISS ROXYNA PHILLIPS DELIGHTED AUDIENCE

Miss Roxyna Phillips, a contralto soloist, and a new face at the Symphony Orchestra concerts, delighted the Princess audience Sunday night in several songs that not only showed a splendidly cultivated voice, but one of lovely timbre and warm color. She possesses a voice of excellent compass aod flexibility and shows great dramatic power as was evidenced in "The Cry of Rachael," which is hardly a concert number, but one that won her great applause. Altogether Miss Phillips rendered five songs, securing a double encore on her first number. Her songs, "The Lord is My Light," "His Lullaby," "Love the Peddler," "The Cry of Rachael," and "For You Alone," evidenced great versatility. This was Miss Phillips' first appearance in Nanaimo, and her rich contralto voice at once won her a warm place with her audience, which will ensure a welcome return.

Mr. Ridley Shadforth, a basso, with a great range, also made a most favorable impression, while Mr. Schuck, the tenor, who is an old favorite here, duplicated his success of former occasions. The orchestra were in splendid form, playing in almost faultless style throughout the evening. Mr. Harvey, by special request, delighted the audience with "The Traumeri."

DUKE OF ARGYLL PASSED AWAY

Cowes, Isle of Wight, May 4.— The Duke of Argyll, son-in-law of the late Queen Victoria, and former governor general of Canada, died Saturday night at East Cowes, aged 69. His Grace had been suffering for some days from an attack of double pneumonia.

The Duke was governor-general of Canada from 1858 to 1883.

During a visit to the West in 1882 the Marquis of Lorne, and Princess Louise visited Vancouver Island, coming West from the prairies through Montana to San Francisco, and thence by sea to Victoria where they landed in November. From there the governor-general's party visited Nanaimo.

LOCAL WORKMAN GOT DAMAGES

At last night's session of the Assize Court, His Lordship Mr. Justice Macdonald presiding without a jury gave judgment for damages of $1500 to Fred Magnusum in a civil suit against an accident insurance company.

Magnusum was injured while at work some months ago on the excavation of a lot next Brumpton & Dempsey, Wallace street, owned by Dr. F. S. Reynolds, and the accident company in which the workmen were insured refused to pay the plaintiff's laim for damages. Madnusum sued for $5,000 damages and was given judgment for $1,500 as above stated.

LADY MACCABEES HAD SOCIAL TIME

The social time given last evening by St. Cecelia Hive Ladies of the Maccabees, of this city, was an immense success from every point of view. There was a big crowd in attendance and an excellent supper served to which full justice was done.

After supper, cards and games of a social nature were indulged in, and during the course of the evening the following program was rendered, Mrs. Bradford proving herself an able accompanist.

Duet—Mrs. Bradford and Miss Bulman.

Song—Mr. McInnes.
Recitation—Mrs. Cavalsky.
Song—Mr. Robert Smith.
Violin Solo—Cecil Bulman.
Recitation—Mr. E. F. Beech.
Song—Miss Bertha Cavalsky.
Violin Solo—Mr. Harrison.
Song—Mr. L. Williams.
Trio—Mrs. Weigle, Mrs. Bradford, and Miss Welch.
Song—Mr. McInnes.

EXTENSION OF NANAIMO CITY.

poses which was less than $4,000. Out of this amount $2,500 had already been expended on street work and militia expenses had amounted to $4,000, some of which was contracted last year. This showed that very little money was available for street work during the year. Ald. Busby moved the estimates be adopted. The motion was seconded by Ald. Crossan and adopted.

Further consideration of the Water Works Loan Extension By-law was deferred for one week.

Ald. Young brought up the question of extending the limits of the city. He had been approached by a number of outside property owners and he was of the opinion that if the Council appointed a committee and gave it certain powers he had every confidence the project could be carried through to a successful issue. It might be that the committee would have to curtail the area which last year it was proposed to take in. He would move that the Council appoint a committee to take up the matter of an extension of the city limits, and confer with other public bodies on the subject.

Ald. Killeen seconded the motion.

Ald. Busby thought the committee should have some definite scheme worked out in reference to the proposed assessment of outside property before it approached the owners of outside property with the request that they come into the city.

The motion of Ald. Youngs was adopted, and His Worship appointed Ald. Young, Killeen, Crossan McKinnell and Ferguson, the committee

Ald. McKenzie moved a caretaker be appointed for the City Jail, with the additional duties of office clerk and assistant police officer, at a salary of $75 per month.

Ald. McKinnell seconded the motion which was agreed to by the Council.

Mayor Planta informed the Aldermen that Mr. J. W. Harley, former night watchman for the city, had made application for the position as caretaker of the jail and he understood the application met with the approval of the Chief of Police under whom he would have to serve.

City Clerk Gough informed the Council that Mr. Arthur Ellis had also made application for the position.

Ald. Forrester moved, seconded by Ald. Ferguson, that Mr. Harley receive the appointment, and the Council agreed.

Whitehead, Agnew and Young, Victoria, ...	$18,625.00.
Frank Dawson, Nanaimo	$19,018.32.

The last named tenderers explained that their tender included the build street, which it was estimated would cost $2,000., which would make their ing of a retaining wall on Prideaux tender of the Albert street job $20,000.

On motion of Alderman Forrester the several tenders were referred to the City Engineer for tabulation and report to the next meeting of the Council.

Ald. Forrester called attention to the necessity of having certain repairs made to Fitzwilliam street.

Council then adjourned.

GRAND JURY'S REPORT.

The Grand Jury, in its presentment to Judge MacDonald, condemns the old City Court House buildings as unfit for habitation and a disgrace to the city. If we are not mistaken other Grand Juries in previous years have presented similar reports. The buildings are everything the Grand Jury says they are, and if the City Council lived up to its bylaws they would be razed to the ground. As long as they are allowed to stand the Council has no standing to interfere with private property in a similarly dilapidated condition. The Council cannot set up for one standard for itself and another for private citizens. It has before it now a proposal to acquire the ground on which the present old Police Court buildings stand on very advantageous terms from the provincial government. The difficulty is the usual one of finance. But even an impoverished treasury does not justify the continued use of the police court buildings. Whether or not this new scheme is proceeded with these buildings ought to be torn down. We are not in a position to speak of the Grand Jury's report with regard to the High School. The Board of Trustees, so far as we have been able to observe, has always shown a praiseworthy regard for the welfare of the children in the schools. There is at present no need to worry about the heating plant, and it ought to be easy to get a good ventilator. There are windows enough in the school, and it seems strange on the face of it that such a deficiency as a lack of ventilation should have been discovered at this late hour. As for the charge that the sanitary arrangements are not what they ought to be it ought to be and no doubt will be immediately investigated by the Board of Trustees. There is nothing of more vital importance to school children than pleasant healthy quarters and conditions, and the trustees have always shown themselves fully alive to this fact.

SEYMOUR NARROWS BRIDGE.

A movement has been started in Victoria with the object of urging the bridging of Seymour Narrows upon the Dominion government. The press of the Capital City is enthusiastically supporting the proposal, and all the public bodies are united in their commendation of the scheme. The proposal itself is not a new one. It was first taken up forty years ago and an elaborate survey was made of the route from Bute Inlet to Yellow Head Pass. However, the Bute Inlet route was not chosen, and since that time three transcontinental lines have come to the coast. The last two, the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern, are not quite completed, but it is expected that before the year is out both will be operating. It is possibly the nearness of the completion of these two railways which has revived the proposal for continuous railway connection with the island. The scheme to bridge Seymour Narrows has never been altogether lost sight of, and has been more or less agitated these last few years. The advantages of such continuous railway connection with the island will be obvious to all. Taking a purely local view of it Nanaimo would inevitably benefit very largely from it, as would also Alberni and Victoria. At the same time, unless the railway from Bute Inlet to the Yellow Head Pass can be made a part of one of three transcontinental systems already operating, there is not much probability of the proposal being taken up. Canada has been vigorously engaged in an era of railroad development, and the undertakings have proved costlier than was anticipated. The expenditure on the Grand Trunk Pacific is already three times more than the estimates submitted by

PREVENTION OF TYPHOID.

The Provincial Board of Health has issued a circular letter on the prevention of typhoid fever. The letter shows that the disease is all too prevalent in British Columbia. Last year there were 85 deaths from this cause, and no fewer than 700 persons suffered from the illness. Apart from the loss of life it will be readily recognized that the economic waste from this disease is enormous. The hospital bill alone for such a number of cases would amount to something like $78,400. Again assuming that each typhoid victim requires four months to regain his strength and wage-earning capacity there is a total loss of 84,000 days working time, which at three dollars a day, represents a sum of $252,000. The total value of the lost time may not come as high as this, but there is still to be added the fees for medical attendance as well as many other items. Indeed many people never entirely recover from typhoid. The object of the letter issued by the board of health is to explain that besides cleanliness as a preventive to typhoid, a new method of immunization is now available. This consists of a hypodermic injection of typhoid prophylactic. This method has been tried on the men of the Alberta division of the Canadian Pacific Railway with absolutely successful results. Last year 8400 were treated by this method and there was only one case of typhoid. It is pointed out that this man may have been ill at the time of inoculation. In 1912, there were 4500 men who refused inoculation and of this number 220 suffered from typhoid. Last year 2000 of the men were not inoculated, and of these 76 fell victims to typhoid, as against the one case out of 8400 men. Here is a strong case for the immunization method. The typhoid prophylactic will be supplied on application to the secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, Victoria.

WHY PROLONG THE AGONY?

It is reported in several quarters that the U. M. W. of A. weekly dole of four dollars is about to be discontinued. Should this be true it will be good news to all concerned—the working man as well as the idler, and especially to the citizen who has the interest of Cumberland at heart. It will also be a relief to the men of the United States who have been helping to contribute this allowance for the past eighteen months without any tangible result. There is only one redeeming feature in the late labor trouble on this Island, it may be the means of weeding out undesirables.

Many of the strikers in this community are anxious to see this weekly allowance stopped. Although accepting it from week to week they would rather be without the money and seek employment; the only preventive being the fear of being termed a "Scab" by the U. M. W. of A.

On the other hand there are those who would prefer to receive the weekly allowance for an indefinite period, satisfied with life on four dollars a week, wandering up and down the street, lounging at street corners, lining up at the bar whenever an opportunity presents itself, or, to use a common term, when a "live one" happens to pass along that way.

There are others who have a piece of land, two or three cows and a lot of chickens, to whom the strike allowance is a pension. They have no desire to see it discontinued and when meeting members of the organization cry out "stay with it boys."

CLOSE SALOONS IN STRIKE ZONE

Trinidad, Colo., May 4.—Major W. A. Holbrook, in command of the federal troops in Colorado today placed an embargo upon the importation of arms or ammunition into the state. He announced that any arms shipped in violation of the order would be confiscated. He also made an order prohibiting the re-opening of the saloons. In a personal letter to the mayor, Major Holbrook says: "There seems to be an agitation on foot to re-open the saloons in this country. Considering the situation as now existing a most serious one, and that the demands of humanity, as well as of expediency, require the saloons remain closed, I as commander of the federal forces in this district, hereby direct, that saloons remain closed until further orders."

Major Holbrook announced that tomorrow, which is pay day for the mining companies, and the strikers, he would provide troopers as guards, and would not permit either the operators or the union to have armed men on duty when the men were paid off. The soldiers will accompany the paying officers of the different camps.

It was expected that about 230 horses for the use of the troops in this district, would reach Trinidad tonight.

Coroner Sipe today received a telegram from John Schwager, Austro-Hungarian consul in Denver, asking him for a list of all subjects of Austria-Hungary who had been killed in strike battles. The coroner announced that the inquest over the men killed in the Forbes battle would be held early in the week.

Further negotiations regarding the disarmament of the strikers tonight were believed to be in abeyance until the arrival of the Eleventh cavalry, which is expected Monday night or Tuesday. Several leaders of the United Mine Workers today had a conference with Major Holbrook. At its conclusion it was stated that the subject of disarmament had not been discussed.

Officers of the union today visited the site of the Ludlow tent colony to make plans for rebuilding the camp. It was explained that the new colony would be located just to one side of the ruins of the old one. The strikers have ordered material and are ready to begin work as soon as formal permission from the authorities is secured.

RAMBLERS OVERWHELMED

Manager Jack Milne's Rambler baseball team journeyed to Northfield Sunday and was overwhelmed in a League fixture to the tune of 28 to 6. The less said about the game the better, except that Northfield put over 14 runs in a single inning.

STEAMER ON FIRE ON ATLANTIC COAST

Halifax, May 4.—An unidentified steamer was discovered 300 miles south east of Cape Race today on fire from bow to stern, there being no sign of life aboard. The steamer was discovered in latitude 41.27 north and longtitude 51.07 west.

The S. S. Olympic visited the scene but owing to the heavy pall of smoke from the burning steamer, was unable to make out the name. Judging from the headway the fire had made, it is believed the steamer had been ablaze since midnight, and that the crew had been rescued by some steamer which not being equipped with wireless was unable to report the same.

SOUTH WELLINGTON WON.

The South Wellington Tigers defeated the Northern Giants in their opening League game on their home grounds Sunday by a score of 9 to 4. The biggest sensation of the game was the rooters who caused a little excitement, but after all the Tiger pitcher held the visitors just where he wanted them. The Tigers will play the Extension Reformers on Tuesday May 5th, for the sum of anything from $5 to $25.

THIEVES SECURE BIG HAUL

New York, May 4.—The police today were asked to recover jewelry valued at $10,000 belonging to Mrs. Henry Hutt, formerly the wife of Henry Hutt, the artist, which was taken from her west end apartment by a burglar last Thursday. The thft was committed while Mrs. Hutt and her son were at dinner.

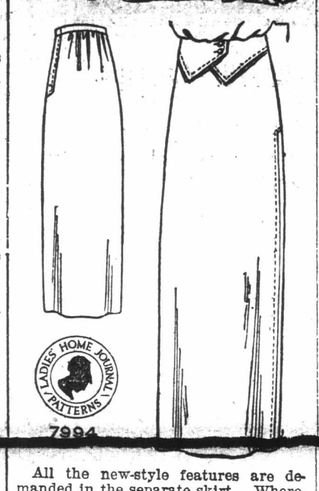
FOUGHT BLOODLESS DUEL.

Paris, May 4.—Joseph Caillaux, ex-minister of finance and Fernand d'Aillieres, M. Caillaux's opponent in the recent election to the French chamber of deputies, fought a bloodless duel today with pistols. M. d'Aillieres fired twice at his adversary, but neither shot found its mark M. Caillaux fired in the air.

The duelists were placed twenty-five paces apart. The encounter took place in the Parie des Princes.



JOHNSON OUTPOINTED.

Sydney, N. S. W., May 4.— Frank Thorn, the Australian featherweight outpointed Lee Johnson, the colored American fighter, in a twenty-round contest at the stadium. Johnson injured his right hand in a mix-up in the sixth round and for the remainder of the fight was helpless.

Practical Fashion Hints

By Alice Gibson

All the new-style features are demanded in the separate skirt. Whereas for the last season or two we have considered the separate skirt as useful only for sports or business wear, this season it is being combined with blouses of chiffon or silk and made to do service for afternoons. Some of the separate skirt models show the pannier and draped hips, others again have straight lines and a tailored finish. No. 7994 is a two-piece skirt, closing at the side; it may be made with or without the shaped girdle. There is a slight fullness in the back, which may be arranged in dart tucks or gathered, as preferred. This design is suited to moire, gabardine, serge, heavy linen or cotton. It may be made in size 24 with 2⅝ yards of 42-inch material. Pattern comes in eight sizes, 22 to 36.

THIS IS A PERFECT PATTERN.

It may be obtained by filling out the coupon and enclosing 15 cents in stamps or coin, to the Pattern Department of this paper.

Free—Our Spring Style Book.

Send us 2 cents to cover actual amount of postage and we will send you free our forty-page book of spring styles, showing about 500 designs in Ladies' Home Journal patterns.

The pattern may be obtained by sending name and address, pattern No. and size and fifteen cents to DAVID SPENCER LIMITED.

Write Stories For Moving Picture Plays

New, Spare-time Profession for Men and Women—One Man Makes $3500 in Six Months.

Owing to the large number of new motion picture theatres which are being opened throughout the country, there is offered to the men and women of today, a new profession namely, that of writing moving picture plays. Producers are paying from $25 to $150 for each scenario accepted upon which they can build a photo play.

$3500 in Six Months.

As it only requires a few hours' time to construct a complete play, you can readily see the immense possibilities in this work. One man who gave the idea a tryout, writes that he earned $3500 in six months. It is possible for an intelligent person to meet with equal success.

One feature of the business which should appeal to everyone, is that the work may be done at home in spare time. No literary ability is required and women have as great an opportunity as men. Ideas for plots are constantly turning up, and may be put in scenario form and sold for a good price.

VOLUME XIV NANAIMO, VANCOUVER ISLAND, BRITISH COLUMBIA, WEDNESDAY MORNING, MAY 6, 1914 NUMBER 52

SEA MYSTERY CLEARED UP

Boston, May 5.—The mystery surrounding the identity of the steamer which was found ablaze 300 miles off Sable Island yesterday was cleared today by the receipt of a wireless dispatch from the Cunard liner Francisca which stated she had aboard fifteen survivors of the British freight steamer Columbian from Antwerp to New York, which caught fire at sea Sunday night. In the boat with the survivors was the body of chief steward, Matthews. Another boat, containing the chief and second officer and seventeen men was still adrift with the Francisco cruising in search.

Halifax, N. S., May 5.—The Russian-American liner Czar arrived in port this morning from Libau. Early yesterday she passed to the southward of Sable Island but had no news of the vessel reported to be burning in that vicinity.

The smoke hung so heavily about her that her name could not be distinguished by the Seidlitz. This ship, after circling the burning vessel, had no details other than the vessel's hull was high out of water and that by general appearances the ship must have been on fire several days. The foremast and funnel were gone, and when the smoke was blown away between the rifts it could be seen she had a very high poop which might mean she was an oil tank or a freight steamer.

LOCKS WERE RAMMED

St. Catharines, Ont., May 5.—The steamer John Duncan, of the Canada Cement Company, while passing up the Welland canal today rammed the gates of lock five and again those at lock 10. At lock 10 the gates were opened about two inches but as both locks were equipped with a safety device no damage was done.

LAST DAY OF THE CAPT. SCOTT PICTURES

The second day of the Capt. Scott pictures in Nanaimo drew big crowds to the Opera House yesterday afternoon and evening and as today is the last opportunity for local residents witnessing in moving pictures the thrilling story of Capt. Scott's intrepid dash to the South Pole, the theatre should be taxed to its utmost capacity today, both at matinee and evening entertainment.

Included in the pictutes shown are the following:

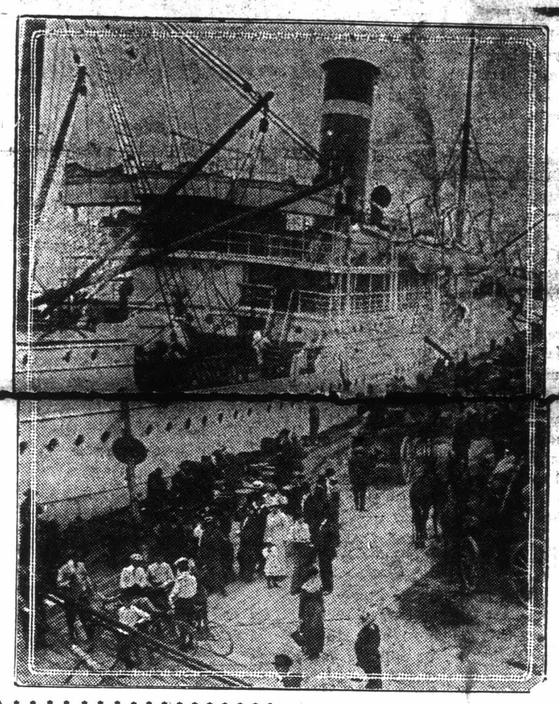
FIRST GAME FOR THE PEOPLE'S SHIELD

The first game of the People's Shield Competition will be played on Sunday next. This was decided at a meeting of the committee held last night. As a result of the draw deciding which teams will meet in the first game, the Athletics will play Uniteds. Northfield secured a bye, therefore will have to play the winners of Sunday's game on a date to be arranged later. Mr. Joe Craig was selected to referee both games which was satisfactory to the representatives of both the competing teams. The game will commence at 3 o'clock on the Cricket Field, and promises to be one of the best of the season, as both teams are aware of the importance of the match, and will no doubt, be out to win, thereby qualifying for the final.

As a result of the draw for the first game, which requires Nanaimo United to meet the Athletics in the first game on Sunday next, the management of the former club met and selected the following players to uphold the reputation of United in Sunday's game:

Goal—Another.
Backs—Murray and English.
Halves—Mossey, White, Thackray.
Forwards—Mitchell, D. Stobbart, Waddell, R. Stobbart, Clarkson.
Reserves—Wardill, Philp, Anderson
Linesman—J. Smith.



BRITAIN WILL HOLD ALOOF

Foreign Secretary Grey Says Britain Will Not Mix in Attempt of Mediators to Bring About Peace.

London, May 5.—Foreign Secretary Sir Edward Grey was invited by Sir John Davis Rees, Unionist, in the House of Commons today to ask the American government to abandon its position that the removal of General Huerta is of greater moment than the restoration of peace and the protection of life and industry in Mexico. The foreign secretary declined, declaring that in view of the fact that mediation had been undertaken by Argentina, Brazil and Chile, it could serve no useful purpose for the British government to make separate proposals on its own account to either Washington or Mexico.

Washington, May 5.—The text of the Mexican mediators' telegram to General Carranza, eliminating him from the mediation proceedings, which became known today, disclosed for the first time that the mediators held that all the difficulties that contributed toward the present situation in Mexico bear either directly or indirectly on the solution of the pending conflict between Mexico and the United States.

This message from the mediators gives the first authoritative expression from them that they considered the whole range of Mexican difficulties, including the Huerta-Carranza issue, as having a bearing on the issue between the United States and Huerta.

FIFTH BRIGADE OFF FOR MEXICO

The Fifth U. S. Army Brigade embarking on army transports at Galveston for Vera Cruz. Four transports were used, the Kilpatrick being the largest, carried most of the equipment and the army mules. The Fifth is somposed of four full regiments and is commanded by General Frederick Funston. The brigade embarked with full field equipment and provisions for a long campaign.

VOTE OF CENSURE

Ottawa, May 5.—At 11.30 tonight the House of Commons divided on a vote of censure on the government which was defeated by 69 to 39, a Government majority of 30.

TWO BATTLESHIPS NEXT YEAR.

Washington, May 5.—The administrations two battleships programme for next year in the naval appropriation bill was sustained in the House today, when the one battleship proposal was voted down, 91 to 148 and a motion to strike out the two battleship provision was rejected by a vote of 41 to 152.

MUSICAL CLUB ANNUAL MEETING

Presentation to Mr F. W. Dyke —Officers Elected for Ensuing Year—Successful Season.

The annual meeting of the Nanaimo Musical Club was held last night at the home of Mr. J. E. T. Powers, Newcastle Townsite, there being a large turn out of members and a very interesting session taking place. Following the business meeting a musical program was given and a thoroughly enjoyable evening spent.

One very pleasant feature of the gathering was the presentation to Mr. F. W. Dyke by the members of the club of a handsome cut glass vase and table mirror as a slight token of the appreciation in which his services to the club are held.

The officers were all re-elected for the ensuing year as follows: President, Mrs. Skinner; vice president, Mrs. J. E. T. Powers; secretary Miss Dobeson; assistant secretary, Mrs H. King; treasurer, Mr. Powers; committee, Messrs. J. W. Coburn, Geo. Pearson, Mrs. L. Jones and Mrs. Perring.

The report of the secretary, Miss Dobeson, on the work of last year was most interesting. This showed an average attendance at the weekly rehearsels of the chorus of 55 members, the entire chorus numbering 75 voices. The work of "The Messiah" given on December 16, and the "Rose Maiden" on April 21, was also dealt with. Mr. Andrew Dunsmore, the accompanist, came in for many complimentary remarks.

The club has adjourned until September. This season is the first in which the club has put on two productions and the members have reason to congratulate themselves on the progress they are making, especially in giving two such ambitious affairs as "The Messiah" and the "Rose Maiden."

SECURES BIG PAPER PLANT

Big Property of Ocean Falls Paper Plant Passes Into Hands of Americans—Merger is Now in Control.

Vancouver, May 5.—The contract entered into between the Western Canada Trust Co. as receiver for the debenture holders of the Ocean Falls Co. and Messrs. Fleishhacker Bros. and Johnston of San Francisco, whereby the huge plant of the Ocean Falls Co. is to pass under control of a merger of Pacific Coast pulp and paper interests, has been confirmed by Mr. Justice Morrison of the Supreme court.

Argument upon the application to confirm the contract was heard two weeks ago, when strong opposition was offered by Mr. S. S. Taylor, K. C., on behalf of Mr. Lester W. David owner of most of the common stock of the company and promoter and former president of the concern. Mr David had-cabled from England that he had enlisted the interest of a syndicate of wealthy Englishmen in the company, who were prepared to take it over and pay off the debenture holders and creditors and to safeguard the interests of the shareholders. The offer was not in proper form to be accepted by the court which ruled that the only proposal before the court which could be taken cognizance of was the proposal of Messrs Fleishhacker and Johnston.

This had previously been unanimously endorsed by the debenture holders at a meeting called in London, England, and provides that the creditors shall be paid by the interests who have taken over the plant and assuming the liability towards the debenture holders.

The plant at Ocean Falls is one of the largest pulp plants on the coast, and is equipped with modern machinery for turning out 150 tons of dry pulp per day. A lumber mill has been in active operation for some time in connection with the company, but the largest aspect of the company's enterprise was conceded to be in the pulp industry, which is a profitable one with an insistent market.

Financial difficulties arose before the huge plant was completed, with the result that control passed to the debenture holders in England, who have contributed $3,500,000 towards the company's capital. Before the plant was installed creditors were clamoring, and steps taken to attack the debenture holders trust deed and control of the company. By the irony of events, on the very day that the huge plant was to start work on pulp production over a year ago, orders were cabled from England to close down the plant. For the past year the affairs of the company have been thrashed out in the courts, while the plant lay idle.

INCREASE IN INCOME TAX

Policy of British Government is to Put Burden on the Shoulders of Those Best Able to Bear it.

London, May 5.—The budget gives a new turn to the political situation. All parties anticipated that the chancellor of the exchequer, facing an extraordinary deficit, would use the income tax as the basis of his plan for balancing the accounts. Moderate opinion, however, was inclined to believe that he would revise the income tax downward, while adding something for the wealthier classes to pay. Apparently, however, Mr. Lloyd George decided that the plutocrats were quite capable of bearing the burden, his grant to the local taxpayers being more that offset by his new demands upon the class which more severely feels the burden of rates and taxes.

In a sense the budget admits the interpretation that it is an electioneering weapon, though admittedly it would be unlikely to favor the government in an immediate election. At the same time the income tax revision is bound to provide the government with support from that section of neutral political power which is inclined to favor the party conferring immediate benefits.

Herein Mr. Lloyd George has played his cards well. Avoiding the imposition of taxes upon the poorer classes he appears to have revised the present incidence of taxation so as to make those able to bear the burden pay.

The signle taxers are disappointed equally with those who anticipated a general downward revision of the income tax that would compel the man with an income of $750 a year to realize the full financial effect of the recent social reform legislation.

The general character of this latest sample of "Georgian finance" seems to indicate that the chancellor of the exchequer is still playing the game of making the rich pay. Certain of the budget's dual benefits will not be converted into pounds, shillings and pence prior to 1915. Still, the scheme is sufficiently artistically drafted to permit its use as a telling argument in the now unlikely immediate general election, while the longer the election is delayed the stronger the new budget becomes as an argument in favor of the existing government.

In announcing a deficit of $26,650,000 Mr. Lloyd George said the nation's total revenue was estimated at $1,003,275,000, and the expenditure of $1,029,925,000.

"This deficit alone," said the chancellor, "makes new taxation inevitable, but in addition thereto the government has come to the conclusion that in order to save some municipalities from bankruptcy there must be a readjustment in the relations of imperial and local taxation. These will entail large additional expenditures by the exchequer.

"We propose setting up a national system of valuation under which site values will be separated from improvement values, and under which relief will be afforded the man who improves his property in proportion to the amount he expends to this end. This proposed grant of relief to local taxation for purposes of public health, education and road construction will entail an additional expenditure by the exchequer of $21,090,000. Allowing a margin of $1,000,000, we shall have to raise a total of about $42,000,000.

"To meet this we propose a revision of the income tax. The existing tax on earned incomes up to $5,500 a year will be 10½ pence on the pound sterling (approximately $42 on every $10,000.) On incomes between $7,000 and $10,000 a year the tax would be 1s. (approximately 4.8 per cent.); from $10,000 to $12,000, 14d., (5.6 per cent); while from $12,500 to $15,000 the rate would be 15d. (6.4 per cent.) The rate on unearned incomes will be raised to 16d. (6.4 per cent.)

REVELSTOKE POWER PLANT

Revelstoke, B. C., May 5.—The City Council last night made final awards on tenders for civic water power plant additions, accepting a contract with Escher, Wyss & Co. to furnish a water turbine with 44 inch valve, delivery within 4 months at $10,300, and accepting a contract with the Canadian Westinghouse Co. to furnish a generator exciter and switchboard, delivery within four months, at $6,993.

P. BURNS CO. HAVE COMPLETED ALTERATIONS

P. Burns & Co. have finished the extensive alterations to their store on Commercial street and last night before closing time moved across to the store from their temporary quarters in the Britannia building.

The store is now a first class, sanitary and modern meat shop in every way with concrete floors, concrete and enamelled wainscoating, marble topped counters, cold storage room, etc. The entire store is done in white enamelled paint and presents a very inviting appearance. The meat from the cold storage room is run out on a track to the front shop. The cold storage machinery is in the rear of the shop.

VISITOR AMONG VICTIMS

Eccles, W. Va., May 5.—The body of Freeman Lineville, an insurance agent of Charleston, W. Va., who went into Mine No. 5 a few minutes before the explosion that claimed 172 lives occurred, last Tuesday, was recovered today. The identification was made by a Masonic ring. Other bodies were brought to the top during the night and it is believed that the mine will be cleared by nightfall.

FATAL ACCIDENTS IN COAL MINES

Seven Deaths in Coal Mines of Province During First Three Months of the Present Year.

According to a statement issued by the Department of Mines, and compiled by Chief Inspector of Mines Graham, there were seven fatal accidents in the coal mines of the province during the months of January, February and March. The number is exactly the same as in the first three months of last year.

Of the seven fatalities one occurred in January at the Hosmer mines of the Canadian Pacific Railway Natural Resources Coal Company; four in February, two at the mines of the same company, and two at the Cumberland mines of the Canadian Collieries Company, and two in March, one at the Michel mine of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company, and one at the Nanaimo mine of the Western Fuel Company.

The causes of the accidents are given as follows: Falls of roof and rock, 2; falls of coal, 1; by mine cars and haulage, 1; by suffocation in fine coal, 2. The seventh accident occurred on the surface and was caused by a coke-oven larry.

It would seem that the extra precautions initiated by the department to guard against accidents from falls of roof and rock are bearing fruit. In the first three months of 1913, there were 5 fatal accidents from this cause. In the present year there were only two. It is permissable to hope that as the new regulations regarding systematic timbering and spragging are more rigidly enforced the results will be still more successful.

The statement relating to metal mines is not quite so satisfactory. There were five fatal accidents in 1914 as compared with 3 the first 3 months of 1913. Two of these were caused by premature blasts, and one by picking into an unexploded powder charge. There was none from falls of ground.

DECORATING FOR VICTORIA DAY

The Decorative Committee in connection with the 24th of May Celebration has completed its arrangements for the decoration of the streets on the big holiday. The decorations will include two arches on Commercial street, and a lavish display of flags and bunting from the Crescent to the Post Office. There will be streamers of large flags of every description across the streets, while the poles supporting them will be concealed under a covering of greenery fresh from the local woods. The pavilion for the May dancing will also be appropriately festooned and decorated, and the town will present a gayer appearance than on any previous celebration.

COMMITTEES OF BOARD OF TRADE

Nanaimo Board of Trade at Meeting Held Yesterday Elected Strong Working Committees For The Year.

At the regular meeting of the Nanaimo Board of Trade held yesterday the several committees were elected as follows:

Trade and Commerce—Messrs. C. H. Leicester, Hy. Shepherd, D. Rankin, W. W. Mitchell and F. L. Randall.

Finance and Legislative—Messrs. C. C. McRae, A. E. Planta, J. E. T. Powers and Alex. Forrester.

Public Works, Fisheries, Railways and Harbors—Messrs. J. W. Coburn, A. F. Yates, J. S. Knarston, J. S. Brown, H. B. Greaves and L. Warn.

Reception—Messrs. J. F. Doyle, C. H. Beevor Potts, C. A. Sutherland, H. Murphy and E. W. Harding.

In opening the meeting president Jno. Shaw thanked the members for having elected him to that office and expressed the hope that the confidence reposed in him would not be misplaced.

Communications were received from Hon. R. L. Borden, F. H. Shepherd, M.P., Vancouver Board of Trade, and from the secretary of the Conservative Association at Nanoose.

The Commission of Conservation, on behalf of the Government of the Dominion of Canada, requests The Board of Trade, Nanaimo, to do them the honor of sending a delegation to the International Conference on City Planning, to be held in Convocation Hall, University of Toronto, Toronto, May 25,26,27, 1914.

It will be much appreciated if the names and addresses of the delegates chosen are forwarded to the Commission of Conservation, Ottawa, as soon as possible.

President Shaw recommended that the Railway Committee take up the matter of making known to the residents of Duncan and other points on the E. & N. the advantages of their travelling to Vancouver by way of Nanaimo rather than by way of Victoria.

The question was discussed at length and finally referred to the Railway Committee to act in conjunction with the Industrial Development League in the matter.

The question of local expressmen charging excessive rates for hauling baggage between the wharf and railway station was also taken up for discussion and the secretary instructed to draft a resolution requesting the City Council amend the Traffic By-law regulating the rates charged by expressmen.

Messrs. J. W. Coburn, T. W. Martindale and C. A. Sutherland were appointed a committee to confer with a committee of the City Council in reference to the establishment of a public library in Nanaimo.

RAILWAY MAN VISITS THE CITY

Mr. C. E. Jenney, general agent of the passenger department of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway and steamship lines in British Columbia, with headquarters in Vancouver, was in the city yesterday in company with Mr. C. F. Earle, general agent for the island. Mr. Jenney has only recently come to the Coast from Toronto and is being shown over the island ground this week by Mr. Earle, than whom few men are better acquainted between here and Victoria.

Mr. Jenney expects that local services will be running on the G. T. P. between East and West by August 1 of this year. The big undertaking is rapidly nearing completion and the G. T. P. people are busily engaged in getting together an organization capable of handling the immense volume of business when the road gets running smoothly.

JOHN FOREST DILLON DEAD

New York, May 5.—John Forest Dillon, former judge of the Supreme Court of Iowa and more recently general counsel for the Missouri Pacific Railway and Western Union Telegraph Company, died at his home yesterday after a protracted illness. He was eighty three years old.

EXTENSION OF CITY LIMITS.

The question of extending the city limits has again been taken up by the City Council. A strong committee has been appointed to deal with the matter, and a determined effort is to be made to carry it through. Alderman Young, who brought up the question at Monday's meeting of the Council, stated that quite a number of suburban residents had expressed themselves to him as being in favor of the scheme. The stumbling block in the way hitherto has been the basis of taxation. It would tend to ensure the adoption of the present proposals if the committee from the Council in charge of them approaches property-owners outside the city limits with definite terms of incorporation. It is possible that the last scheme originated by Alderman Young was a trifle ambitious. At any rate it sought to take in rather a large suburban area. If it will enhance the chances of the success of the present proposal to lessen this area it can be done without affecting the value of the project as a whole. There is no doubt that the existing limits of the city are all too circumscribed. They do not even include the whole of what may properly be regarded as Nanaimo. There are several residential blocks to the south of the city, as also on Newcastle Townsite which ought to have been incorporated in the city long ago. There are again a number of blocks beyond Pine street from the cemetery on Comox road right around to the Gordon subdivision, which should all be taken into the city. It should be understood that there is no idea of force or compulsion. The exclusion of the city limits should be to the mutual advantage of all concerned. It will be from this view point that the committee from the Council will approach suburban residents, and with definite terms of incorporation to submit to them, the proposal should find plenty of support.

TRAVEL THROUGH NANAIMO.

Nanaimo in the next few years should become an important centre for coastal passenger traffic. A greater change in this respect has taken place within the last few years than many people realize. The days of the Steamer Joan have been left a long way behind. The experiment with the Princess Patricia has proved a bigger commercial success than the C. P. R. officials ever expected it to be. The double daily service of this fine steamer really raised Nanaimo into an important centre of passenger traffic. Today we have a double train service daily with Victoria, and trains also run every other day to and from Alberni. The new extension of the E. & N. to Comox will be opened this summer, and this will mean a further increase in passenger traffic through Nanaimo. It is just as well therefore that full publicity should be given to the travelling facilities possessed by Nanaimo, and the Board of Trade is to be heartily commended for taking the matter up. The immediate object of the Board of Trade is to acquaint the cities and towns to the south of us with the travelling connections that can be made in Nanaimo. Experience teaches that once travel has settled into a certain route it is a matter of some difficulty to divert it. If, however, it can be shown that a new route possesses advantages over an older one, there will be an immediate diversion of business. For example Ladysmith people wishing to visit Vancouver naturally travel through Nanaimo because it is the quickest and most convenient route. Not so many people come from Duncan, however, and still Nanaimo is the shortest and most comfortable route. Duncan, is, if anything, nearer to Nanaimo than Victoria, while Nanaimo is not half the distance from Vancouver that Victoria is. Passengers from Duncan to Vancouver through Nanaimo save both in railway and steamship fares and economize considerably in the time required for the trip. If these facts are brought properly before the travelling public of the district there will no doubt be a considerable increase in the passenger traffic through Nanaimo, and the Board of Trade is to be commended for its energy and foresight.

NEW JAIL BUILDINGS.

The City Council certainly took quick action on the report of the Grand Jury condemning the old city Police Court buildings on Front street. It was conceded that the buildings were unfit for use, and there is no doubt that they will be demolished without any more delay than is necessary. In the circumstances Mayor Planta suggested that the Council might as well go ahead with the proposal to which reference was made in The Herald last night. The provincial government has offered the site on which the present buildings stand on an exceptionally low figure on condition that the city will erect new municipal buildings within a certain date. Seeing that the present buildings are no longer fit to be used, and constitute besides an eyesore to the city, there is all the more reason for closing with this offer while it holds good. Accordingly the Council last night decided to have a bylaw prepared for the purpose of borrowing $60,000. It is expected that this sum will be sufficient to purchase the site, erect the new buildings, and furnish them throughout. The Council then, as well as the Grand Jury, has discharged its duties in the premises. The question now lies with the ratepayers.

The theoretical aim of democratic government is to do good for the greatest number. So far as the British Empire is concerned, this aim is accomplished in practice through the medium of party government. The most that can be said of party government is that it is based on the principle of democracy. It represents the majority of the electorate, and to some extent expresses the will of the people. It may be right to describe it as merely a makeshift, and certainly it hinders the accomplishment of the theoretical aim of all government by democracy. The trouble is to devise any system to take its place. A certain measure divides political opinion, and at once there are two political parties in the state. From this division a rigid party line is developed, and the whole political field is canvassed for party advantage. Finally it comes about that one party can do no wrong and the other no right, or vice-versa, according to one's individual political label. In other words the average partisan is intelligent on every other subject than politics. Whether or not a multiplication of parties would lessen the evils of this form of government remains a moot question. Time will show.

WATER-FRONT DEVELOPMENT.

"Water-front Development" will form the theme of discussion at one session of the International Conference on City Planning to be held at Toronto on May 25-27 next. Mr. R. S. Gourlay, representative of the Board of Trade on the Toronto Harbour Commission, will give an address on this subject, which should be of interest, not only to citizens of Toronto, but to the whole country. Our harbours are national gateways, and the Dominion Government is expected to contribute over $6,000,000 to this particular project. The works now in progress at Toronto should prove of national importance in another respect also, namely by putting before other cities an example of what may be done by systematic planning for water-front development. The works proposed are of three kinds: (1) Industrial development. (2) Commercial and dock development. (3) Park and boulevard improvements. They involve the filling in of Ashbridge bay and the establishment there of a model industrial district with first class railway and lake transport facilities; the deepening of the inner harbor and building of new docks; and the construction of a beautiful 12-mile driveway, extending along the entire water-front, with a protected channel for small craft for the whole distance, lagoons, parks, islands, amusement grounds, bathing beaches and everything that could be desired for summer pleasure. It is expected that the entire project will be completed in 1920 and at an estimated cost of upwards of $19,000,000. When completed it should place Toronto in an enviable position, giving it one of the finest harbours on the Great Lakes, stimulating its industrial and commercial expansion and providing its people with unrivalled recreation facilities at their very door.

New Zealand is now face to face with an army crisis. Some of the soldiers in camp at Wellington, dissatisfied with their conditions, went on strike and later indulged in rioting. Mounted police were called in to quell the riot and succeeded in restoring order. This is a new employment for the civil force.

FOUR WINTERS OF RHEUMATISM

Cured of Sciatica And Muscular Rheumatism By "Fruit-a-tives"

RIDGETOWN, ONT., May 21st. 1913. "Fruit-a-tives" cured me of Rheumatism. It was the only medicine that made any impression on me. I was a terrible sufferer from Rheumatism. I was laid up for four winters with Sciatica and Muscular Rheumatism, and was completely crippled.

Some neighbor of mine told me that "Fruit-a-tives" helped him, and I started in to take them. I used "Fruit-a-tives" faithfully for two years, taking them every day as I saw they were doing me good, and the results were marvellous.

For over two years, I have been completely free from any Rheumatic Pains whatever, and I give "Fruit-a-tives" the credit." W. H. RACHER.

ON HIS WAY HOME.

Para, Brazil, May 5.—Theodore Roosevelt, accompanied by his son Kermit, arrived here today on the steamer Dunstan from Manaos. Two days will be spent in Para. May 7 the party leaves for New York by way of Barbadoes.

ON JOB AGAIN.

Tacoma, May 5.—A. V. Fawcett elected mayor after having been recalled three years ago, entered upon his duties this morning.

BELMONT TO PAY ALIMONY.

New York, May 5.—Ethel Lorraine Belmont won today her separation suit against Raymond Belmont, son of August Belmont, the financier. Alimony at the rate of $100 a month was allowed. Young Belmont is now abroad.

KERMIT WEDS IN JUNE.

Richmond, Va., May 5.—The marriage of Miss Belle Willard to Kermit Roosevelt will take place in Madrid, June 11, according to a definite announcement contained in a cablegram from Ambassador Willard to friends here.

ACAPULCO FEDERALS QUIT

On board U. S. S. South Dakota, Acapulco, Mexico, April 28, via wireless to San Diego, May 5, delayed in transmission. The arrival of the cruiser South Dakota today was a signal for the immediate evacuation of the city by the Mexican federals. The vessel anchored in the bay at nightfall, and made no attempt to send any boats ashore, so the Mexicans gained courage later, and returned. Commander Sale of the federal garrison issued a proclamation emanating from Mexico City, offering complete amnesty to all rebels who would join the federals against the United States.

SEVEN MINERS KILLED.

Bendigo, Victoria, Aus., May 5.—Seven miners were killed when a magazine exploded in the Great Extended Hustlers' Mine here today. The bodies were hurled 182 feet through the air.

COMING TO CANADA.

Sydney, N.S.W., May 5.—Mr. Justice Higgins, president of the federal arbitration court, left on the steamer Marama to spend some little time in Canada and the United States.

TO BE TAKEN TO ENGLAND

Montreal, May 5.—The body of the late Rev. C. Sylvester Horne, M.P., was met on arrival here by a number of clergy, prominent laymen and church workers and was taken on board the Royal George, which is due to sail at daybreak Tuesday.

TO ATTEND FUNERAL.

London, May 5.—Both the King and Queen have signified their intention of being present at the funeral service for the Duke of Argyll, which will take place in Westminster Abbey on Friday. The body will be conveyed to the Abbey on Thursday and after the service will be taken to Scotland for interment in the family vault in Argyllshire.

CANADA'S SYMPATHY

Ottawa, May 5.—The Duke of Connaught sent the following cablegram of sympathy from Canada to Princess Louise, widow of the Duke of Argyle, at Cowes, England today. "In the name of the Government and the people of Canada, I am desired to express to you the deepest and most heartfelt sympathy on the terrible loss you have sustained. Everyone here remembers with affection and gratitude the time when Lord Lorne was Governor-General.—(Signed), Arthur."

SECURES BIG PAPER PLANT.

cauver, the court placed a reserve price of $3,375,000 on the plant, which includes 80,000 acres of pulp and timber leases, extensive waterpowers, a fleet of tug boats and launches, a townsite with large hotel, residences, workmen's dwellings and schoolhouse, in addition to the pulp mill and lumber mill.

The sanction of the court to the contract with the Fleishhacker interests now clears the way to the consummation of the contract. It is expected that the plant will soon begin active operation again. On the day the plant stopped 340 men were discharged, and it is expected that considerable more than this number will be required when the plant starts up again. The Fleishhacker interests already control a large pulp mill on Quatsino Sound and another on Howe Sound, with other pulp mills on various portions of Puget Sound.

NATIVES REVOLT IN PORTUGUESE CONGO

Antwerp, Belgium, May 4.—Confirmation of a report of the native revolt in the Portuguese Congo, and the killing of twenty white men, including some Protestant and Catholic missionaries, was received here today.

Many other missionaries have fled from the affected district, according to despatches from Boma, Belgian Congo. The natives are led by a chief from San Salvador.

The governor of Angola attacked them, but was forced to retreat and the natives continued their march toward the left bank of the Congo burning all the stations on their way and putting the small garrisons to rout.

Passengers who arrived from the Congo today said the situation in the Portuguese colony is desperate, and that the revolt will be extremely difficult to suppress. They said the Belgian Congo authorities were rushing troops to the frontier when they left, in order to prevent the natives from crossing over into Belgian territory, and causing a rising there.

FRENCH WIN BATTLE

Fez, Morocco, May 5.—A desperate battle between the French troops and the followers of the native pretender to the Moroccan throne resulted today in the defeat of the Moors, who suffered heavy losses. The French casualties totalled nine killed and twenty-five wounded.

Chicago is estimated to have the largest number of electric vehicles of any American city, 2,850; New York comes second with 2,000; and Cleveland third with 1,800.

GONZALES NEW COSTA RICA PRESIDENT.

Washington, May 5.—Costa Rican Minister Calvo announced today that Alfred Gonzales, the first designate, or vice president, has been chosen by the Costa Rican congress as president of the republic. The new administration will be inaugurated on May 8 for a term of four years.

ROYALTY AT FUNERAL

London, May 5.—Both the King and Queen have signified their intention of being present at the funeral service for the Duke of Argyll, which will take place in Westminster Abbey on Friday. The body will be conveyed to the Abbey on Thursday, and after the service, will be taken to Scotland for interment in the family vault in Argyllshire.

AGED COMPOSER DIES

Seattle, May 5.—Chevalier Paulo Gorza, the famous composer of ballet music and masses, and a friend of Gounod, Verdi and Rossini, died at his home here today after a prolonged illness. He was born in Italy more than eighty years ago, and has lived in Seattle, teaching music, since 1906, when he came here from San Francisco.

CUP DEFENDER'S TRIAL

Bristol, R. I., May 5.—On her third trial spin the cup defence sloop Resolute beat to windward down Narragansett today. Nat Herreschoff, the designer, was at the wheel, and several amateur yachtmen were on board.

STREET CARS CRASH.

Detroit, Mich., May 5.—Three persons were killed and thirty-six others seriously injured when crowded street cars met head-on here today. Both motormen were killed.

LEAD BUREING STEAMER ..... LONDON SWEPT BY STORM

London, Ont., May 5.—Damage which will run into many thousands of dollars was caused in this district last night by the worst hail storm in years. It was accompanied by torrents of rain.

Hundreds of fields which were planted in the past few days had all the seeds washed out. Orchards were badly damaged and in some districts there was not a whole pane of glass left in the houses.

WELSH IN EARNEST.

Los Angeles, May 5.—A side bet of $10,000 is one of the inducements Freddie Welsh, British lightweight champion, will give Willie Ritchie to sign with him for a world's title match.

Welsh will leave tomorrow for St. Louis, where he boxes Harry Trendall again on May 15. He then will go to New Orleans to give Joe Mandot a match on May 25, and then return to the coast to meet Harlem Tommy Murphy on June 5 at San Francisco.

N. H. A. GOSSIP.

George Kennedy's Irish-Canadian lacrosse team no longer exists. The Irish-Canadian boss withdrew from the league for a season and his vacancy was filled by the Quebec twelve. However, Kennedy will retain his franchise.

Kennedy will remain in retirement this season, but will break in next year when Ottawa is likely to be admitted, forming a six-club league. Spot Murton applied for a franchise in the capital city but was refused. Things appear more promising, and it is likely that it will be granted by next season. A. H. Derome is financing the Quebec club, and with the assistance of Irish-Canadian players should be right out in front.

After a lengthy discussion, as to whom Newsy Lalonde belonged, it was decided that the French-Canadian star was the property of the National Lacrosse club.

DECISION TO JEANETTE UNPOPULAR IN LONDON.

London, May 5.—Colin Bell, an Australian heavyweight boxer, fought a full 20-round bout with Joe Jeanette, the colored fighter of the United States, at Premier Land tonight.

The referee's decision awarding Jeanette the victory, was received with a loud outburst of "booing" from the dissatisfied fans.

QUEEN ELEANOR CHANGES HER MIND.

Sofia, May 5.—Queen Eleanor of Bulgaria has definately decided not to visit the United States this month, as she had contemplated. An official announcement to that effect was issued today. It reads: "In view of events in America, which Queen Eleanor follows with especial interest, Her Majestys' visit to the United States has been postponed until the circumstances are more favorable."

MILITARY STRIKE

Wellington, N. z., May 5.—Five hundred men in camp for military training here went on strike yesterday and were charged by the mounted police. An investigation of their complaints has been promised.

SEVEN MINERS KILLED

Bendigo, Victoria, Australia, May 5.—Seven miners were killed when a magazine exploded in the Great Extended Hustler's Mine here yesterday. The bodies were hurled 183 feet through the air.

BARQUENTINE DISABLED

Honolulu, May 5.—The barquentine S. N. Castle, 36 days out from Makatea, South Sea Islands, with a cargo of phosphate from San Francisco arrived here last night, leaking and disabled. Captain J. H. VonDohlren and crew worked for ten days at the pumps after the seams of the vessel opened, and were nearly exhausted when they arrived. The Castle's hold is full of water and her cargo is being unloaded here to make repairs.

GIRL'S CURIOUS DEATH.

Moose Jaw, May 5.—Miss Roxia Chenoweth, aged 19, of Dunkirk, is dead under suspicious circumstances. Miss Chenoweth, who is one of the best known girls in Dunkirk, was out shooting gophers with her father the day before her illness. That night the doctor lanced her throat and she was found dead Wednesday morning. A coroner's jury ordered the stomgch to be removed and this has been sent to Regina for analysis.

Practical Fashion Hints

By Alice Gibson

7994

All the new-style features are demanded in the separate skirt. Whereas for the last season or two we have considered the separate skirt as useful only for sports or business wear, this season it is being combined with blouses of chiffon or silk and made to do service for afternoons. Some of the separate skirt models show the pannier and draped hips, others again have straight lines and a tailored finish. No. 7994 is a two-piece skirt, closing at the side; it may be made with or without the shaped girdle. There is a slight fullness in the back, which may be arranged in dart tucks or gathered, as preferred. This design is suited to moire, gabardine, serge, heavy linen or cotton. It may be made in size 24 with 2⅝ yards of 42-inch material. Pattern comes in eight sizes, 22 to 36.

THIS IS A PERFECT PATTERN.

It may be obtained by filling out the coupon and enclosing 15 cents in stamps or coin, to the Pattern Department of this paper.

Free—Our Spring Style Book.

Send us 2 cents to cover actual amount of postage and we will send you free our forty-page book of spring styles, showing about 500 designs in Ladies' Home Journal patterns.

The pattern may be obtained by sending name and address, pattern No. and size and fifteen cents to DAVID SPENCER LIMITED.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited, Yarmouth, N.S.

Gentlemen,—In January last, Francis Leclare, one of the men employed by me working in the lumber woods, had a tree fall on him, crushing him fearfully. He was, when found, placed on a sled and taken home, where grave fears were entertained for his recovery, his hips being badly bruised and his body turned black from his ribs to his feet. We used MINARD'S LINIMENT on him freely to deaden the pain and with the use of three bottles he was completely cured and able to return to his work.

VOLUME XIV | NANAIMO, VANCOUVER ISLAND, BRITISH COLUMBIA, THURSDAY MORNING, MAY 7, 1914 | NUMBER 53

U. S. MAKES A WARLIKE MOVE

General Funston is Given Orders From Washington to Extend His Lines to Mexico City if Necessary.

Washington, May 6.—Orders have gone from the war department to General Funston, it was learned today, authorizing him to extend his lines from Vera Cruz as far as "in his judgment it is necessary." This, it was explained, gives the American commander virtually a free hand in dealing with the situation at Vera Cruz, and may mean that he has been given power to march into Mexico City if necessary.

General Funston reported to the war department today that he had no definate information regarding the movements of Mexican troops and he said he thought it probable such concentration as the Mexican forces had made was only for the purpose of defending the lines of railroads to Mexico City in case the United States troops should advance.

SUICIDES WHILE DESPONDENT.

Ellensburg, Wash., May 6.— Mrs. Anna Brown, formerly of Spokane, committed suicide yesterday by jumping into the Yakima river from a bridge at Cle Elum in sight of 100 passengers on Northern Pacific train No. 4. She was despondent.

AVIATOR FELL 100 FEET; SLIGHTLY HURT

Rabat Morocco, May 6.—Lieutenant Saint Lague was killed and Pioneer Ronnerau received slight injuries when the French army geroplane in which they were flying today capsized and fell from a height of 100 feet.

The aviators were returning from a long scouting expedition over country occupied by hostile moors.

LIFE-SAVING BRANCH.

Ottawa, May 6.—The life-saving branch which has always been administered by the marine department has been transferred to the naval service departm?nt. Big improvements in the life-saving stations throughout Canada are planned. There are now forty stations on the Great Lakes and on the two ocean coasts. Their equipment will be generally improved and the number will likely be increased.

TRAIN WRECK OCCURS ON THE C. P. R.

Vancouver, May 6.—A rock-slide which occurred close to Hell's Gate Fraser Canyon, on the main line of the C. P. R., five or six miles west of North Bend, at 7 o'clock this morning, caused the derailment of the diner and partial derailment of the tourist coash on No. 13, westbound train, due to arrive in Vancouver at 12:45 midday, today. A mass of some 150 tons of rock became detached from the sloping sides of the mountain and swept across the track.

Reports sent in to the general superintendent's office, say that none of the passengers were injured. In the jolt which the diner sustained the chef and some of his men were slightly scalded by the hot water from the range in the kitchen splashing over them.

The diner, observation, parlor car, pullman and tourist sleeper were detached and taken back to North Bend, the rest of the train, comprising the day coaches and the baggage mail and express cars being sent forward with very little delay. It is anticipated that the train will arrive not more than twenty minutes behind time.

Assistant general superintendent A. E. Stevens af the Pacific division, accompanied the special relieving train, which, with the wrecking equipment, was despatched to clear the track. His private car was attached to the special.

When the dining car went off the rails, A. Gargatagli, the chef, was bruised about the legs. His second cook, W. Hope, was scalded on the legs by the overturning of pots of hot water. F. Boyle, third cook, was similarly hurt. Train inspector, Hanson, was cut about the head and his legs were bruised.

The derailment has no really serious results and the track was quickly cleared.

LOCAL CONSERVATIVES HOLD BIG RALLY

The local Conservative Association will hold a big rally in the Oddfellows' Hall on Friday night. The rally will take the form of a smoker and all conservatives in the city are cordially invited to be present. Dr. Young, Provincial Secretary will deliver an address and Mr. W. W. Foster, the member for the Islands, is also expected to be present. In addition to the speeches a strong musical program has been arranged, in which some of the leading artists in the city will take part. The smoker will commence at 8:30 o'clock, and no doubt there will be a good attendance.

SAFETY OF LIFE AT SEA.

Washington, May 6.—The senate foreign relations committee began today consideration of the convention adopted by the recent London conference on safety of life at sea, but after two hours discussion failed to reach a conclusion and decided to postpone any attempt at action until next week.

NAVAL TUG POTOMAC.

Curling, Nfld., May 6.—The United States naval tug Potomac, which was abandoned in the ice floes of the Gulf of St. Lawrence during the winter, was remanned today by her engineer, the United States consular agent and a party of Newfoundlanders. It is expected the vessel will be brought to port safely.

SERIOUS AFFRAY IN THE CITY

Russian Lies in Local Hospital Seriously Wounded as Result of Affray in Irwin Street Residence.

S. Gutnott, a Russian, is lying in the Nanaimo hospital in a serious condition suffering from a fractured skull and other injuries, and three fellow countrymen of the injured man are lodged in the city jail, and will in all probability be called upon to answer to a serious charge, probably murder.

Owing to the fact that none of the men talk English, particulars of the affray are hard to obtain, but according to the story of Gutnott he was invited by the three at a late hour Tuesday night to visit their cabin on Irwin street. Immediately upon his entry into the house he was set upon and kicked into insensibility then thrown outside and allowed to remain there. Upon regaining consciousness he managed to make his way to a nearby residence where he secured assistance and was taken to the hospital.

The three Russians who are in custody, and who reside, with a fourth Russian who is working in the local mines, tell the authorities they were disturbed by Gutnott coming to their residence looking for trouble. They suspected he was a union man who had it in for them and acting in self defence they were compelled to use force in ejecting him from the premises.

As above stated, Gutnott is in a serious condition. Upon his being taken to the hospital he was attended by Dr. McPhee who found that Gutnott had sustained four large wounds on the head, his skull factured in two places and bruised about the head and shoulders. He had lost a great deal of blood and was unconscious when he entered the hospital.

DANIELS HELPS Y. M. C. A.

Washington, May 6.—Official Washington discovered today that Secretary Daniels of the navy had laid aside the Mexican situation temporarily and quietly slipped out of town The secretary left behind war plans and the rumors of war, to help the Y.M.C.A. of Canton, Ohio, raise a $300,000 fund for a new building. He will return to Washington tomorrow.

NEW MANAGER OF THE GREAT EASTERN RAILROAD

The above photograph shows Mr. Henry Thornton, American manager of the Great Eastern, taken when he first visited his new office, conferring with Lord Claude Hamilton who is one of the principal stockholders in the company. Mr. Thornton has worked his way up from the bottom of the railway business. He has occupied almost every position from brakeman to general manager. He left the managership of the Long Island Railway to accept his new position with the largest railway system in England. While connected with the Long Island Railroad, that road gained an enviable record as one of the safest and best managed roads in the United States. In the photograph herewith Henry Thornton is shown on the left.

CRUCIFIED IN CHURCH.

Durazzo, Albania, May 6.— Two hundred and fifty Mohammedan Albanians, captured by the Epirote invaders at Hormova, were crucified in the Orthodox Church at Kodesa, according to information received by the Albanian Government. The Epirotes are said to have afterwards set fire to the church and allowed the bodies to burn.

TWO WEEKS MORE DEBATE.

Washington, May 6.—Probable adjournment of congress by July 1 was predicted today by Senator Kern, Democratic leader of the senate, after a White House conference, at which the president and Senators Kern, Hoke, Smith and O'Gorman discussed the legislative programme. Senator Kern said he believed the Panama canal tolls repeal bill would be disposed of within two weeks and that the administration anti-trust programme would be completed before adjournment.

TRAGIC EVENT NANAIMO RIVER

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burgess Took Her Own Life by Shooting with Small Calibre Rifle.

Despondent over an illness which she feared would bring misery and ultimately death is believed to be the reason why Jennie Burgess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burgess, of Nanaimo River, took her own life last night by shooting herself with a 22 calibre rifle, causing almost instant death.

The deceased was 15 years of age and had been ill for some time suffering with pleurisy and during the last few days had feared her ailment would terminate in tuberculosis. Yesterday morning she is stated to have remarked to her mother that if she was to come to such an end she might as well be dead at once, and this is believed to be the reason which prompted her rash act. There were no members of the family in the house at the time of the tragic event, Mrs. Burgess finding the body of her daughter lying on the bedroom floor upon her entering the house after collecting fire wood in the yard. Life was extinct, the rifle with which she had done the deed being found lying across her body, and a small bullet hole in the centre of her forehead, showing where the deadly missle had entered.

The remains were brought to the city and now lie at Hilbert's Undertaking parlors pending a coroner's inquest.

HOLDS ELECTION FOR MAY QUEEN

Pupils of the Nanaimo Public Schools Will Nominate Candidates Today For Final Election on Monday Next.

Pupils attending the public schools of Nanaimo are today holding primaries for the selection of candidates for the election on Monday next of a May Queen who will be crowned on the Cricket Grounds on Monday May 25th., by her predecessor Miss Winnifred Thorne.

The following rules will govern the election of the May Queen:

1. In the election, boys and girls entitled to vote must be 8 years old and over.
2. Each room in the school will nominate three contestants this (Thursday) afternoon.
3. The girls who are nominated in today's primaries, in order to be eligible for the final contest on Monday, must bring the written consent of their parents to their teacher on Friday of this week.
4. Each room will vote this (Thursday) afternoon on those nominated, the ones receiving the highest number of votes in each room will be a candidate in the final election.
5. Final election to take place on the afternoon on Monday, May 11th.
6. The ballots will be counted on Monday evening next by a disinterested committee.
7. The girl receiving the highest number of votes to be declared Queen, the two next highest to be her maids of honor.

MANY SEALS KILLED IN LOCAL WATERS

The bounty of $3.50 paid this past season for seals killed by fishermen has been extended until another thousand seals have been killed. This increase in the appropriation for bounties was secured by Inspector Cunningham of the Fisheries Department, who has just returned from Ottawa, where he sat as a member of the Fisheries Advisory Board.

One thousand seals were killed in the coast waters of British Columbia during the past season, the largest percentage being killed in this district, of which Mr. E. G. Taylor is inspector.

An English company has been formed to link 40 cities and towns with motor bus lines in competition with railways.

MEETING WITH GOOD RECEPTION

Nanaimo Citizens are Responding Liberally to Appeal for Funds in Aid of Victoria Day Celebration May 25.

The collectors who are canvassing the city for subscriptions in aid of Nanaimo's Celebration of Victoria Day are meeting with a liberal response, and should the same degree of success continue, there is every reason to believe that this year's collections will constitute a record.

Nanaimo has always celebrated Victoria Day, and has done so in a royal manner. This day has been set down as an annual fixture in the city and citizens are combining their efforts to make this year's event one long to be remembered. Strong committees have been appointed, and a splendid program of events has been arranged for which will afford residents and visitors plenty of entertainment.

ATHENIAN FIRST THROUGH

Montreal, May 6.—Ice conditions in the lower gulf are reported from Flat Point as being the worst since the opening of navigation. The Athenian, which arrived this morning was the first steamer to get through the big field off Cape Race.

LONGSHORE STRIKE ENDS

Portland, May 6.— The longshoremen's strike, growing out of the demands for recognition and higher pay by the checkers' union, came to an end today. The strikers withdrew their pickets and went back to work immediately upon the announcement of a settlement.

BEEN MISSING MANY YEARS

Robert Shaw Was Last Seen in Nanaimo Twelve Years Ago—Mother Wants Order Presuming Her Son Dead.

An order permitting Mrs. Margaret Shaw, of Galiano Island to presume her son Robert Shaw was dead was made by Mr. Justice Clement in Supreme court chambers at Victoria yesterday morning. Robert Shaw lived at Retreat Cove, Galiano Island, and was a fisherman by occupation. In May 1902 he departed for Nanaimo one day and withdrew all the money he has on deposit here. He has never been heard of since and his mother was yesterday granted permission to administrate his estate, which comprises some valuable real estate. He possessed 160 acres on Galiano Island and a half interest in a 162-acre farm also on that island.

KING'S CONDITION.

Vienna, May 6.—The condition of health of the Emperor, Francis Joseph, has not undergone any change, according to the bulletin issued at the palace at Schoenbrunn. It was stated yesterday that he had a recurrence of the coughing fit.

Application for the appointment of the Dominion Trust Co. as administrators and receivers of rents in the estate of Samuel Brighthouse, said estate being valued at $750,000, was made before Mr. Justice Morrison in supreme court chambers, Vancouver yesterday.

REBEL TROOPS ARE EAGER FOR ACTION

Torreon, May 6.—Fifteen thousand Constitutionalists, many of them veterans, a large percentage mounted and well armed, cheered and demanded to be led on to Mexico City as they passed in review before General Villa yesterday. Gen. Villa seized upon an opportunity afforded by the national holiday to review his forces now being prepared for the campaign against Saltillo. It was noticeable that the horses of the Constutionalist cavalry, which had undergone great hardships in the fighting before Torreon, were in excellent condition.

Washington, May 6.—Persistent rumors are current in Tampico that General Villa with a large force is on his way there to assist in the Constitutionalist attack on the city, according to advices received late last night by the navy department from Admiral Mayo at Tampico. Admiral Mayo also reported a sharp attack on the north and southwest portions the result being indecisive. He added that from the best information obtainable there had been no destruction of oil property.

Rear Admiral Badger reported to the navy department today that Constitutionalist forces made a sharp attack yesterday on Mexican federal troops in the northwest portion of the Province of Vera Cruz and to the west of Tampico. There was no decisive results as far as he could learn, the report stated.

METHODISTS ARE MEETING HERE

The annual meeting of the Methodist churches in Nanaimo District is now being held in the Wallace Street Methodist Church, this city, delegates being in attendance from every part of the district, the representative of the local church being Mr. Enoch Shakespeare.

The proceedings opened yesterday morning, among those in attendance being Revs. S. J. Thompson, chairman; J. W. Hedley, F. Sec.; F. J. Rutherford, of Ladysmith; C. R. Sing of Duncan; S. Cook of Port Alberni E. S. Stephenson, Cedar; Evan Baker, of Wellington; B. C. Freeman, of Cumberland; Fong Dickman, of Nanaimo Chinese Mission and Wm. Rickaby.

At the afternoon session, Messrs. Baker and Rickaby were examined and recommended by the District Meeting as candidates for the Ministry.

This morning's session will open at 9 o'clock when the financial and membership reports will be submitted from the several fields in the district, and the work of the Sunday schools and Young People's Societies will be received.

The session this afternoon will convene at 2 o'clock at which officers will be elected, and the delegates appointed to attend the annual conference of the church, which opens at Kamloops on Thursday next.

NANAIMO CRICKETERS PLAY GARRISON

The local cricket club has arranged a match for this afternoon on the Caledonian grounds with an eleven from the Garrison. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock, and all players are requested to be on the field in good time. The local side will be chosen from the following players, all of whom are requested to be on the field in good time: A. Leighton, H. R. Jepson, A. T. W. Paul, R. R. Hindmarch, H. Curry, A. Williamson R. Cape, D. Wilton, G. Wilton, W. Bamford, O. Dobeson, F. Partington.

SARDINES ARE HERRING.

New York, May 6.—In a test case brought by a firm of New York importers, the United States Court of Customs Appeals has decided that sardines are herring and as such must hereafter be classified for tariff purposes.

WAS BLOWN UP BY EXPLOSION

Twenty-Seven Saved From Steamer Columbian--Three Dead and Nineteen Are Still Missing.

Boston, Mass., May 6.—The Cunard Line to-day received a report from Captain Miller of the Franconia regarding the rescue of a part of the crew of the Columbian which was burned at sea. The wireless telling of messages reporting a steamer on fire and of the search for the vessel follows. "Sighted on starboard bow. The boat contained 13 men and a corps, laying awash in the bottom of the boat."

"The survivors had used trousers leg from corps on end of boat hook for distress siganls. Survivors were in a state of extreme exhaustion and mental collapse. Some had been burned by fire. They had been adrift forty hours. Six were put under doctor's care in hospitals and others were given brandy and soup, bathed in hot water and put to bed. They immediately fell asleep. Little information was obtained from them.

"The carpenter says the ship was the Columbian, sailing from Antwerp. He was asleep and heard the alarm of fire, was coming along the deck when an explosion occurred amidships under his feet and blew him overboard. He was picked up by a boat.."

"All agree the fire started at midnight Sunday from a cause unknown. In half an hour the whole ship forward and amidships was in flames with constant violent explosions. The wireless apparatus was wrecked.

"We are carrying to Boston body of chief steward who was frightfully injured by the explosion and died Tuesday.

"After picking up the boat we made another detour, searching for other boats. Deeply regret could not find them, but many other steamers have been on the scene of the disaster and trust will rescue them. We have Marconied all ships to look out for two missing boats."

Sable Island, May 6.—The Manhattan, bound from New York to Antwerp had been near the scene of the burning of the Columbian for some hours and was known to be searching for boats containing members of the Columbian's crew. Her success was announced in the following message: "Manhattan picked up one boat of the Columbian, Captain and thirteen others. The engineer killed in explosion and one man drowned leaving ship. Manhattan still searching for other boat."

The other missing boat, for which the Manhattan and other steamers are searching contains the first and second officers and seventeen men.

MILLIONS IN GOLD FROM THE KLONDIKE

Dawson, Y. T., May 6.—Navigation on the Yukon river, between Dawson and Lake le Barge, is expected to open within ten days. The river already is open from Lower le Barge to a point 15 miles north of Hootalinqua, and a small steamer carrying the season's first travelers is following the ice down stream. The first gold clean-ups of the year are now being made, and there will be shipments ready for the boats as soon as the ice clears. The Klondike yield this year is estimated from $5,000,000 to $6,000,000.

WASTED ESTATE.

New York, May 6.—George W. Young, banker and husband of Madam Lillian Nordica, wasted the estate of the late Mary Adelaide Yerkes widow of Charles T. Yerkes, the traction man, according to allegations made in a suit filed today to have Young removed as attorney in fact for Mrs. Yerkes.

EARL GREY IN CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco, May 6.—Earl Grey, former Governor-General of Canada, arrived yesterday from Honolulu, accompanied by Lady Grey and their daughter, Lady Sybil Grey. The earl is the head of the British syndicate which has taken over one-third of the oil production of California. The earl and his family are returning to England from a trip around the world. They will leave San Francisco Thursday and return by way of Los Angeles and the Grand Canyon of Arizona to New York.

U.M.W. OF A. INQUIRY.

The United Mine Workers of America is still considering the advisability of calling a national coal strike in order to force a settlement of the Colorado troubles. A committee has been appointed to investigate and report on the situation in Colorado, and it will depend largely on the findings of this committee as to whether or not a national strike is declared. This committee of investigation was appointed by the executive board of the organization, and it seems to be taken for granted that the fate of the American coal industry rests with the men comprising this committee. This fact invests the personnel of the committee with peculiar significance and importance. The men appointed are vice-president Hayes, secretary-treasurer Green, and executive board members Paul J. Paulsen, of Wyoming, Robt. Harlin, of Washington, and Frank Farrington, of Illinois. We know nothing of the first three members of this commission. We have had some experience of Messrs. Harlin and Farrington. The latter particularly has certainly left his impression on the local coal industry. For a time he dominated the strike situation on the Island. According to his own claims he made the strike, controlled it and developed it. He talked largely and wrote voluminously. Now apparently he has left when the leaving was still good. Can any fair-minded person claim that any reliance can be placed in any report he may choose to sign? Yet on the report which he and his colleague, Mr. Harlin will sign will depend the fate of the coal industry in the United States. No one has forgotten Mr. Harlin's participation in the Island coal dispute but in view of his appointment to this committee of investigation it is worth restating. The Herald in July and August frequently pointed out that the only parties benefitting from the local strike were the officers of the Mine Workers on the Island and the operators and miners of Washington. It was common knowledge that Washington coal was being imported into British Columbia. The Herald also reported that a Washington mine was shipping coal direct to the Western Fuel Company at San Francisco. It was necessary for the local union bosses to enter a denial, but even they for once lacked the necessary effrontery to deny the obvious. Accordingly Mr. Harlin was called in. He apparently did not have a scruple of any kind. He denied the importation of Washington coal into British Columbia through three columns of the Free Press. He carried his denial so far as to assert that the mines of Washington were working slacker time since than before the strike. No union leader ever signed his name to such a silly, lying bluff. As a matter of fact since the strike began on the island the importation of foreign coal into British Columbia rose from around the zero mark to over 260,000 tons, and the greater bulk of it came from Washington. Everybody knew that Washington coal was supplying the markets of the local mines, but only Harlin could be found to deny it. This is the man, who with Farrington will report on the situation in Colorado. On their say-so the mines of the United States will continue at work or come out on strike. The employment of such men on a mission of such importance and vast consequence to the men employed in the coal mining industry of this continent does not augur well for the future of organized labor. As was inevitable in an organization of such strength the officers are invested with too great powers, and are too prone to wield the big stick. Locally the miners were forced to yield to a ruthless dictatorship, and the fruits of their submission they are reaping in the hopeless situation of today. What happened on the island seems to happen wherever the United Mine Workers enter an industrial field. The organization is not so much a trade union as a trade autocracy.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.

Some time ago one of the big English railway companies appointed an American as its general manager. The appointment caused a great deal of comment at the time, the more so as the chairman of the company was indiscreet enough to state that he could not find an English railwayman qualified for the position. While the company had the legal right to suit itself in the appointment it made, this gratuitous slur upon the ability of home-bred railwaymen caused a wave of indignation. The case is somewhat different with government appointments. The government which goes outside its federal or provincial boundaries for an appointee for any position must be able to show convincing reason for its action. The position of Inspector of Municipalities, created under the Municipal Act passed at the last session of parliament has just been filled. The appointee is Mr. Robert Baird, who hails from Zealandia in Saskatchewan. There is no doubt that he is eminently qualified for the position, and that he will efficiently discharge the duties of the office. The point is that there must be many British Columbians just as well fitted by ability and experience to take the appointment. Everything being equal it is as much incumbent upon the government as upon individuals and societies to patronize home industries and develop home talent. In our experience outsiders are frequently preferred as against local applicants of equal ability. This applies to almost every branch of public work, and is justified neither on the ground of efficiency nor of economy.

SUPPORT OF INDUSTRIES.

The location of new industries is a live question with every progressive western city. It is only right and natural that it should be so. It is a matter of self-interest. It is just possible, however, that the efforts to secure new industries may be carried too far. It is just as essential to the welfare of a community that the proper support of industries already established should not be overlooked. The Week has some very pertinent remarks to offer on this aspect of the question as it affects Victoria which may very well be applied to other cities. "We are producing hundreds of articles," it says, "just as good in quality and as low in price as those made in the States, in Germany or in Eastern Canada, but we are only buying them to a very limited extent, while every train and every boat brings consignments of the same articles from elsewhere. This is partly due to ignorance and partly to prejudice, and can only be remedied by intelligent, unremitting missionary work. Take one article alone, the manufacture of which employs many men and could be developed to an enormous extent—paint. There are in Victoria three reputable firms engaged in the manufacture of this particular article. They produce as good a quality and as great a variety as any Eastern or American houses, yet Victoria architects continually specify "outside" paint, and will not accept the local product. The explanation does not necessarily involve any far-fetched argument; it may not improbably be due in most instances to the methods of marketing, but it is a fact all the same, and not only the firms who manufacture but the citizens of Victoria as a whole are the losers. This illustration could be multiplied many times over and it is because the question is so complicated and it is so easy to conclude that we necessarily want more manufactories that The Week utters this word of warning."

THE CERTAINTY OF REACTION.

"Society must say to labor sooner or later, just as it has said to capital, 'You cannot use any concentrated power in your hands to hurt society as a whole, and when you do use it unfairly society will in some way create conditions that will take power away from you'

"It is made more and more evident every time the power of labor is exerted to bring about some result, the right or wrong of which has not been determined, regardless of its duty and obligation to society, that the agitation which has been so long directed against the power of capital is turning against the abuse of the power of labor. It is subjecting capital to a regulation which shall subserve the interests of society as a whole. It will have to subject labor, so far as it makes itself an organized power, to a similar control. Labor will have to recognize that rights imply obligations which must be fulfilled if the rights are to be conserved. Society must protect itself from any power that imperils it whether it comes from one or the other 'partner in business.' "—Howard Elliott in the Journal of Commerce.

JOE BAYLEY MATCHED AGAIN.

Oakland, Cal., May 6.—Joe Bayley former lightweight champion of Canada, and Joe Azevedo of Sacramento who came into notice by winning from Ad Wolgast, were matched today to fight ten rounds in this city on the evening of May 29.

TY COBB FALLS DOWN IN BATTING

Chicago, May 6.—Ty Cobb has dropped nearly out of sight among the batters of the American League, according to averages issued yesterday and including all the games played up to last Wednesday. The Detroit slugger, who struck a snag in the St. Louis pitchers early last week, ranks thirty-eighth, and has an average of only .240.

Wood of Cleveland is leading the batters, with .467 for five games, and then, in the first eleven, come Williams, St. Louis, .429; Demmitt, Chicago, .417; Crawford, Detroit, .412; Jackson, Cleveland, .395; E. Foster, Washington, .390; C. Walker, St. Louis, .356; Collins, Chicago, .341; Ainsmith, Washington, .333; McInnis, Philadelphia, .333; Lelivelt, Cleveland, .333.

St. Louis, batting .255, leads the clubs, and Cleveland is next with .253.

Hitting the ball at the rate of .600 Art Phelan, the Cub's pinch hitter, is ahead in the National. Gonzales of Cincinnati is next with .500.

Then come Dalton, Brooklyn, .459; S. Magee, Philadelphia, .412; Gibson, Pittsburg, .400; Byrne, Philadelphia, .394; Gowdy, Boston, .370; Wagner, Pittsburg, .367; Paskert, Philadelphia, .353; Cathers, St. Louis Killifer, Philadelphia; Cheney, Chicago; Viox, Pittsburg, Evers, Boston, .333.

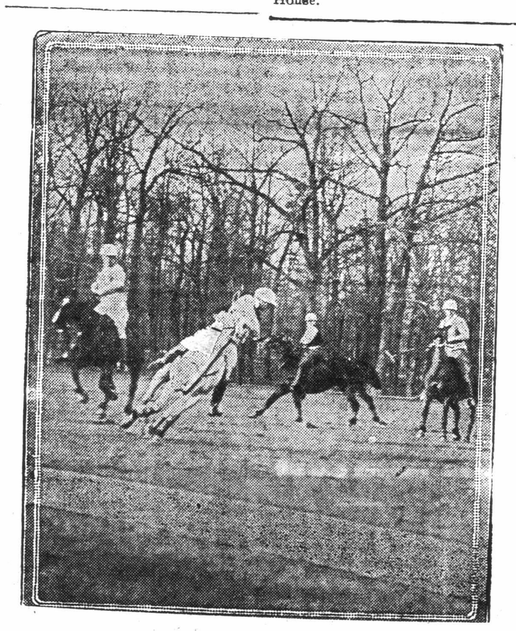
RECOGNIZE JACK JOHNSON.



Paris, May 6.—The French boxing federation, the principal authority in ring contests in France, which for a time refused to recognize Jack Johnson as the heavyweight champion of the world, today accepted his claim to the title.

The management of the fight between Johnson and Frank Moran, of Pittsburg, which will take place on June 27, has been assumed by Theodore Vienne, a prominent member of the boxing federation. The plans for the veldrome d'hiver, where the bout will be held, provide for 26,000 seats and standing room for 4,000.

CALIFORNIA HOPE LOST.

New York, May 6.— Jack Davies, California's latest aspirant for heavyweight honors, was knocked out by Al. Reich, of this city, former national amateur heavyweight champion, in the first round of a scheduled ten-round match. Davies went down three times before the knockout. A left jolt and a right uppercut ended the bout.

A new public hall is to be built at Nakusp in connection with the Opera House.

A STRENUOUS GAME OF POLO.

Practical Fashion Hints

By Alice Gibson

8131

The woman who makes her children's clothing at home will appreciate a simple little frock, such as is shown in No. 8131. It is a peasant dress for child of from 2 to 8 years. It is cut all in one piece, closes at the center back, and has an elbow sleeve. This little dress may be easily cut and completed in an hour. One of the wash material, cotton crepe, chambray or gingham is best suited to this model; by way of trimming, a tiny frill of lace may be used to finish the neck and the bottom of each sleeve; if desired the frill may form a slight tab effect down the front, as is shown in the illustration.

For the child of 4 years this pattern requires 1⅝ yards of 36-inch material. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 2 to 8 years.

This Is a Perfect Pattern.

It may be obtained by filling out the coupon and enclosing 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Pattern Department of this paper.

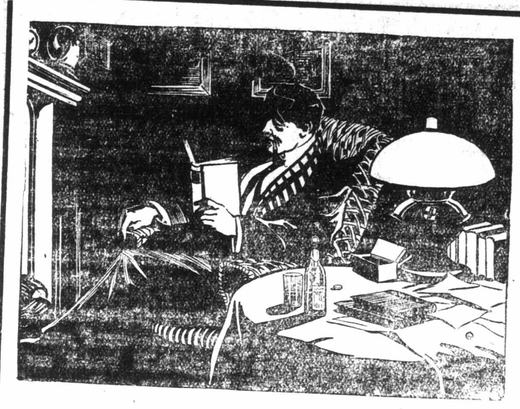
The pattern may be obtained by sending name and address, pattern No. and size and fifteen cents to DAVID SPENCER LIMITED.

POLO MATCHES CHANGED.

New York, May 6.—The scene of the polo activities preparatory to the international challenge cup matches next month, were shifted today from Lakewood, N. J., to Long Island, where all future practice games between candidates for the American team will be held.

ORESTE AT NEW YORK

New York, May 6.—Michael Oreste, former president of Hayti, who fled during a revolution last January arrived in New York to-day from Kingston, Jamaica. It is understood that he will soon go to Paris.



All the steel has arrived at Pitt River for the new C. P. R. bridge.

Gentlemen,—In January last, Francis Leclare, one of the men employed by me working in the lumber woods, had a tree fall on him, crushing him fearfully. He was, when found, placed on a sled and taken home, where grave fears were entertained for his recovery, his hips being badly bruised and his body turned black from his ribs to his feet. We used MINARD'S LINIMENT on him freely to deaden the pain and with the use of three bottles he was completely cured and able to return to his work.

Members of Progress Junior Lodge No. 1 I.O.G.T. will meet this evening at 7:30. Ice cream will be served and members are kindly requested to bring cakes.

Another city job is vacant. The recently appointed dog catcher to the city has notified the aldermen of his intention to resign. One would think from the number of stray dogs in the city, untagged and apparently without anyone wishing to lay claim to them that the position would be fairly renumerative—for a few weeks at least, providing one had good luck in capturing the canines.

The funeral of the late Thomas Isherwood took place yesterday afternoon from the family residence. Extension to the local cemetery, the Rev. Mr. Wray officiating. The funeral arrangements were in the hands of H. McAdie. The pall-bearers were R. Louden, J. Anderson, J. Gordon, F. Corsine, F. Valorz, S. Sherwood.

The Black Diamond Roller Hockey team of this city, champions of B. C., journey to-day to Port Alberni where they meet the West Coast champions in an exhibition game tonight. The locals will be under the management of Captain Bert. Davis.

I. O. G. T.

Progress Lodge No. 1 will meet as usual tonight at 7:30. A large attendance is requested.

Mr. William Edmunds, Farquhar street returned yesterday from Vancouver from seeing his father, Mr. E. Edmunds away on a trip to the Old Country.

Return Summer Excursion fares to Eastern Canada and to Europe on sale daily from June 1st, with return limit to October 31st. Choice of rail and ocean routes. Write C. F. Earle, Passenger Agent, Grand Trunk Pacific Ry., Victoria, for all particulars.

P. Burns & Co. have finished the alterations to their store and are now occupying their old stand again. 4t.

CARD.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gillespie, of Vancouver, wish to thank the Nanaimo friends who sent floral tributes and in other ways expressed sympathy with them in the bereavement they sustained in the death of their son, John Warren.

Mr. Joseph Brown of this city left yesterday on a visit to his old home in England.

The Rambler baseball team of this city will play an exhibition game with the Northfield nine on Devril Square this afternoon at 5:30.

Mr. McDonald, general agent of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company of Vancouver, was in the city yesterday on a business trip.

Mr. Lou Hanson, solicitor freight agent of the Border Line Transportation Company of Seattle was in the city yesterday paying a visit to Mr. M. C. Ironside, the Company's local agent.

The regular meeting of the local Temple of Pythian Sisters will be held this evening at 7:30.

Members of the Wallace St. Adult Bible Class and their friends are reminded of the left handed social to be held tonight, commencing at 8 p.m. Come and have an enjoyable evening's entertainment.

Rev. E. P. Laycock, of Courtenay, was in the city yesterday.

CARD

Mrs. Thomas Isherwood and family wish to thank the many kind friends who sent floral tributes in memory of husband and father, and also the friends who sympathised with them in the hour of their bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Meyers, Mr and Mrs. Thos. Freeman, and Mr. and Mrs. Ottway Wilkie, all of New Westminster, motored through the city yesterday. They had lunch at the Wilson Hotel on the way through to Alberni.

The Dominion Trust Company now has branches in eight provinces in Canada as well as in Great Britain and on the continent.

Col. the Hon. E. G. Prior, of Victoria, accompanied by his wife and daughter, arrived in Montreal yesterday from England where they spent the past few months. In the party are also Mrs. Trotter Johnson and Miss F. Tupper, of Vancouver. They will leave for the West in a few days. Col. Prior stated that Sir Charles Tupper, Bart, was in excellent health and still keenly interested in Empire affairs.

Mr. Rowland Thorpe, of Duncan, who is the delegate representing Duncan Methodists at the annual district meeting now in session in this city, is a guest of the Hotel Wilson.

The formation of a squadron of the B. C. Horse on Vancouver island under the command of Captain Walter Bapty, M.D., who was with the army medical corps in South Africa was announced by Colonel Roy yesterday. An independent company of infantry is also to be formed at Nanaimo with a view of developing ultimately an island infantry brigade. In connection with the B. C. Horse arrangements have been made for six drills a year in addition to the camp. Of the 50 applicants to join, a very large number are former service men.

The total area of the king's dominions is now 11,375,000 square miles, and in 1911 the population had reached the huge total of 117,268,000. This figure works out at 36.7 persons per square mile.

A report from Vancouver says that the Terminal Steam Navigation Co. has purchased the C. P. R. steamer Joan, now operation on the Gulf Islands' run, and will immediately haul her out at the Wallace shipyards at North Vancouver to fit her with new bow and oil-burners and rip out her staterooms so as to make a day vessel of her. The report is somewhat premature, however, as Capt. J. W. Troup, manager of the B. C. Coast service, stated yesterday morning that the deal has not as yet been consummated.

MUST GIVE UP ARMS IN COLOBADO

Trinidad, Colo., May 6.—Earnestly pleading with a heterogeneous group of nationalities, only a small percentage of whom could understand his sharply spoken English words, Major W. A. Holbrook, of the Fifth U. S. Cavalry, today, urged 200 strikers in a mass meeting at Camp San Rafael, to deliver over their arms and ammunition to the United States authorities. After he had gone the group divided to allotted portions of the camp where they heard interpreters repeat in some form, the remarks of Major Holbrook.

The matter of disarmament it was announced, by William Diamond, union leader, would not be put to a referendum vote of the miners, but would be left to the inclination of the individual strikers, who, he declared, owned the weapons in their possession.

Major Holbrook informed the strikers that the proclamation for disarmament included everybody excepting those in actual service of the United States. He said even the sheriff and police of Trinidad would not be allowed to carry weapons of any sort.

PRICES LOWERED AT OPERA HOUSE

Commencing tonight vaudeville will again hold the boards at the Opera House, for some time at least. NEW SERVICE INAUGURATED

Steamer Fulton Arrived in Nanaimo Yesterday on Initial Trip of Freight Service Between Seattle and Nanaimo

... from Seattle marked an important event in the city, being the inauguration of a new freight service for Nanaimo.

The steamer Fulton belongs to the Border Line Transportation Co. which will make Nanaimo a regular port of call hereafter, sending the Fulton here every five days. By the new connection Nanaimo business men will be able to get Seattle and Tacoma freight direct at a considerable saving of money.

The Fulton is a 600-ton freighter, sturdily built and thoroughly well equipped for handling freight easily and quickly. She is equipped with steam winches and elevator and has a well sheltered commodious freight hold.

She carried over fifteen tons to Nanaimo on her initial trip to the city. The Fulton is no stranger in these waters having made several trips to Departure Bay for the powder works. The Fulton ties up at Johnston's wharf.

START TODAY TO LAY STEEL

Tracklaying Will be Started Today on Extension of Pacific Great Eastern Railway Near Vancouver.

Vancouver, May 7.—Tracklaying will be started on the extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway from Dundarave to Horseshoe Bay tomorrow morning, stated an official of the company this morning. The contractors expect to have the line completed to the Howe Sound end early next month, he stated. The section will be ready for operation by July 1, it is announced.

As mentioned the railway company in order to expedite operations on the Dundarave-Horseshoe Bay portion of the route, is building bridges in advance of the tracklayers. This is an unusual course and involves greater expense in transporting materials to the scene of structural operations. Timbers and steel are being floated on rafts to the different bridge sites.

Additional orders have just been placed by the P.G.E. with firms in Eastern Canada for more gasoline locomotives and rails. Two heavy engines of the consolidated type have been purchased from the Canadian Locomotive Works of Kingston, Ont. and three large passenger coaches ... been bought. The company already has two additional locomotives on order and has four on the North shore, two of which are in service on North Vancouver-Dundarave run.

Sufficient steel to lay more than 300 miles of track has been ordered from the Algoma Steel Co. of Sault Sainte Marie for delivery during the present year and up to the end of 1915. These consignments will aggregate between 30,000 and 40,000 tons.

Contractors are now moving their outfits and mobilizing their forces preparatory to starting active construction operations on the sections of the P.G.E. north of Fort George and north of Clinton. The ice is reported to be rapidly clearing in the upper reaches of the Fraser River. A number of subcontracts are expected to be let at an early date for other portions of the line.

PRESENTATION BY ST. PAUL'S GUILD

At the regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Guild of St. Paul's church, held Wednesday in the rectory, Mrs. Charman, the oldest member of the Guild, was made a life member, being presented with an address and a beautiful boquet of arum lilies, and other fragrant flowers. The address, which was read by the President, Mrs. J. M. Brown, ran as follows:

Dear Mrs. Charman:—

We, the members of the Ladies' Guild, desire to place on record our appreciation of your faithful and long-continued services to the church. It has been an inspiration to us all to note your willingness, your kindly help, unselfishly given at all times and your cheerful optimism which is the high mark of a real and undying faith in God and His church. All this has stimulated us in our work, and made us feel that we should like to ... many years of service you have given to the Ladies' Guild.

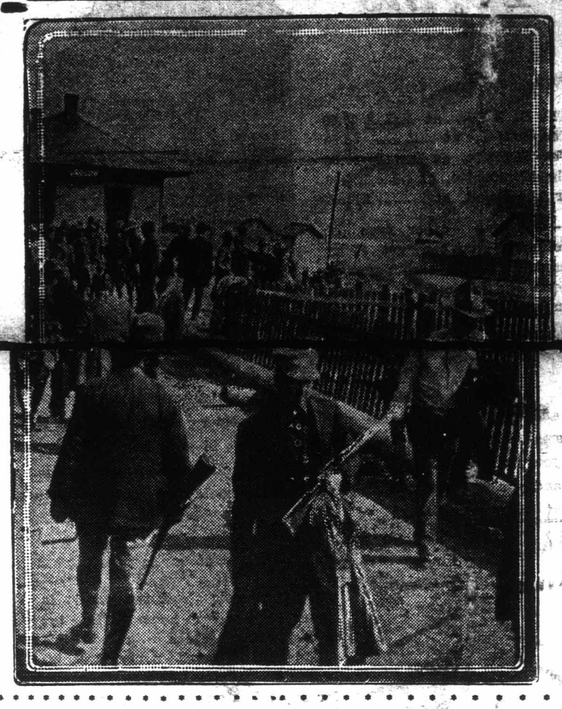
We therefore have very great pleasure in asking you to accept a life-membership in St. Paul's Church Ladies Guild, and it is offered with the prayer that you may live many years yet to enjoy all the privileges it carries, and that we mgy have you with us for a long time to give us your counsel and advice. May God bless you and yours abundantly.

Signed on behalf of the Ladies' Guild by A. Silva-White, Rector; Clare Silva-White, Hon. President; and Louisa Brown, president.

Mrs. Charman made a suitable reply, following which tea was served. The Guild which disperses after the June meeting for the summer holidays, has done a great deal of good work this year.

At the meeting it was also decided to hold a reception in the Institute on Friday May 29th, for the double purpose of bidding farewell to the Rev. Canon Silva-White, who leaves with his family the next day for England, and also to welcome the new Rector, the Rev. W. E. Cockshott, who will have arrived by that time.

SENATE DEBATES THE PANAMA CANAL BILL



Washington, May 7.—The debate on the Panama Canal Tolls Repeal Bill was continued in the Senate today, the bill being bitterly opposed by Senators O'Gorman and Bristow the latter remarking that England had been the enemy of the United States ever since the revolution.

It is expected the debate will not be concluded until next week.

Miss Eleanor Wilson, daughter of President and Mrs. Wilson, became the bride yesterday of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo. The ceremony which was performed in the "Blue" room of the White House, was of the simplest nature.

Mr. James Bradley, Irwin street, who is recovering nicely from an operation expects to be out again soon.

The Cowichan Leader says: A concert party from Nanaimo is billed for Thursday next at the Mahon hall. Mr. Harvey is bringing his well known dance orchestra, who besides giving selections during the evening will play for the dance afterwards.

CIVIL WAR IN COLORADO

Photograph shows the scene at the railroad depot at Ludlow, Colorado, with armed strikers of the coal mines pacing back and forth. The coal mining strike in Colorado has become so acute that President Wilson, after a two hour conference with his cabinet at the White House, finally ordered United States troops sent into the strike district to quell the disturbance. Troops have been rushed to Southern Colorado from Fort D. A. Russell and other troops are enroute from Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, for Trinidad. The total death toll in the strike region is estimated at from 130 to 175 men, including strikers, women and children, men guards and militiamen. One of the fiercest battles raged around the Hecla mine at Louisville where it is believed at least 20,000 shots were fired by both sides and nearly every house in Louisville was riddled.

MONEY POURING IN FOR THE CELEBRATION

half holiday for the local merchants the collectors for the Victoria Day Celebration did not get around after donations yet despite this fact a number of contributors called on the secretary and voluntarily put their names down on the list for handsome donations. DISTRICT CHURCH HAD GOOD YEAR

Interesting Statistics of Church Work in Nanaimo District Given at Annual Meeting Which Ended Yesterday

Reports from the various fields showed the good work to be in a flourishing condition as the following summary will show.

There are two self-sustaining fields, six home missions, two Indian missions, one Chinese, and one Japanese mission in the district. Thirteen ministers, missionaries and teachers are employed. The total value of church property is about $25,000, with a debt of only about $5,000.

The district raised for ministerial support $8385 and received assistance in maintenance from the Missionary Society about $7200, a total of $15,585.

The report of the Sunday Schools was most hopeful, there being fourteen Methodist schools in the district, with a total enrollment of 1731, a net increase for the year of 38. The number of Sunday School scholars, who have united with the church is 66, while 152 have signed the total abstinence pledge during the year. Money raised by the schools is $1275.

One new church, the Chinese mission in this city, and a new parsonage at South Wellington, have been opened during the year. The total moneys raised by the district for all church purposes was $13,641.

The church membership at the end of the year totalled 787, a net increase of 26.

Journal Secretary—Rev. J. W. Hedley.

Statistical Secretary—Rev. S. Cook, Port Alberni.

Rev. B. C. Freeman, of Cumberland, was elected to serve with the chairman on the Stationing Committee of the annual Methodist Conference. The following laymen were elected delegates to attend the annual conference of the church which meets next Thursday.

Nanaimo— Messrs. E. Shakespeare, J. E. T. Powers, S. Gough, John Barsby and Fong Dickman.

Duncan—E. Weismiller.

Brechin—Irving Frizzle.

Cumberland—T. E. Banks.

Port Alberni—F. E. Watchorn.

The reserve delegates appointed are W. W. Garman of Nanaimo and J.M. Coulter of Port Alberni.

The meeting decided to memorialize conference in favor of the readjustment of Ministerial Education, and curricula of Theological colleges along the lines of recommendations made by Dr. Chown, general superintendent of the church.

Rev. Geo. E. Hartwell, superintendent of Oriental Missions, addressed the meeting, reporting a marked increase in attendance and interest in all Oriental missions. The meeting passed a hearty vote of thanks to the retiring chairman, Rev. S. J. Thompson, of the Wallace Street Methodist church for his services, during the past three years, and regret was expressed at his probable removal from the district.

All ministers of the district were in attendance, with the exception of Rev. J. W. Miller and Rev. W. J. Knott, who have been on furlough the past year, and Rev. R. E. S. Taylor, who is the missionary for the district in West China.

The meeting decided to hold next year's annual meeting in the Haliburton Street Methodist church during the first week in May.

LOCAL SCHOLARS VOTED YESTERDAY

Ten Candidates Nominated for Election Next Monday of May Queen for Victoria Day Celebration.

The pupils attending the public schools of Nanaimo held primaries yesterday for the nomination of candidates in connection with the election of May Queen for Nanaimo's Victoria Day Celebration, the election being held on Monday afternoon next.

Those nominated at yesterday's primaries and who will be candidates in Monday's election are as follows:

Dorothy Bate, Dorothy Armitage, Pleasant Baxter, Agnes Young, Margaret Chapman, Dorothy Sampson, Lucy Waters, Jean Nixon, Bessie Whyte and Violet Cheetham.

Considerable interest was shown in the voting, and a merry canvas for votes is now going on among the scholars for the election on Monday. The young lady receiving the highest number of votes will be the May Queen and the two next highest will be her maids of honor.

PREMIER WHITNEY AT WORK

Toronto, May 7.—For the first time since his illness Sir James Whitney was back at his office today and presided over the deliberations of the cabinet, both morning and afternoon He showed all his old-time vigor. Hon. J. J. Foy, who has been acting premier, left today for a protracted vacation in the south.

R. H. Thompson, chief engineer under the Provincial Government in the work of exploration and development now in progress at Strathcona Park, Vancouver Island, has ... returned from a visit to the district, where he started gangs of men to initiate the programme of work to be carried out this season. Mr. Thompson says that the undertaking this year will consist chiefly of road and trail building and exploratory work. He says that the more he goes over the park and penetrates its fastnesses, the more impressed he is with the fact that here the people have an asset of tremendous magnitude and importance.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

Campleballford, Ont., May 7.—Caught in the middle of the G.T.R. bridge, George Stanton was hurled to his death in the Trent River today by being struck by a freight train.

LOCAL CONSERVATIVES HOLD SMOKER TONIGHT

Local Conservatives will not forget the smoker to be held in the Oddfellows' Hall this evening, at 8:30 o'clock. Dr. Young, the Provincial Secretary, will deliver an address on current topics and Mr. W. W. Foster the member for the Islands, is also expected to be present. A fine musical programme has also been arranged, and all Conservatives are expected to be present.

ELIZABETH FIELDING PASSED AWAY

The death occurred yesterday morning at the residence of Robert Isqister, Chase River, of Elizabeth Fielding, daughter of Mr. Richard Fielding.

The deceased was seventeen years of age, and had been ill for the past two months. The deceased leaves five sisters and three brothers besides numerous other relatives throughout the district to mourn her loss.

The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 from the residence of Mr. Isbister, the Rev. D. McLennan officiating. The funeral arrangements are in the hands of Mr. H. McAdie.

BRITISH OPPOSITION WAS OUT MANOEUVRED

London, May 7.—Shrewd opinion agrees that the prospects of the ministerialists have not been as bright for two years as they are today and that the prospects for the Unionists have never been so gloomy. The opposition realize that they have been out manoeuvred. There is now no need to hurry the Ulster negotiations on the government side. Next year a popular budget dealing out a huge surplus, coupled with a more or less permanent settlement of the Irish question, and the abolition of the plural voters will enable the ministers to appeal to the country with the fullest confidence. The Pall Mall Gazette, the editor of which is J.L. Garvin, leader of the "Die Hards" wing of the Unionist party, pays tribute to "the dexterous programme" of the government, pointing out that the plan can only be imperilled by a rising in Ulster. The only fly in the ministerial ointment is a potential ... over the prospects of an autums session which was definately determined upon by the cabinet on Wednesday morning.

GIVING UP WEAPONS

Washington, May 7.—Major Symonds, in command of two troops of cavalry in Boulder County, Colorado, reported to the war department today that up to last night a total of 110 weapons had been given up in that district in obedience to the proclamation calling for the surrender of arms by striking miners and mine guards.

There are many in town who will remember Mr. and Mrs. Lionel, who are appearing at the Opera House this week. They were here four years ago with the Lionel-Winston Theatrical Company, and played a very successful engagement. Mr. Lionel, who hails from Australia, had a good time with the local cricket boys, and was around today renewing old acquaintances. Since leaving the "legitimate" Mr. and Mrs. Lionel are playing comedy sketches in which line they are inimitable.

MILITIA ESTIMATES BEFORE THE COMMONS

Ottawa, May 7.—The House of Commons sat till midnight discussing the estimates of Colonel the Hon. Sam Hughes, minister of Militia. The minister defended the expenditure in his department and stated that at the present time Canada had 60,000 well trained men ready to take the field on very short notice and had also a well equipped force of Cadets.

ARBITRATE DIFFERENCES

Seattle, May 7.—The strike of the teamsters for higher wages and recognition of the union begun last July, and which caused the employment of 45 extra policemen, the shooting of several men and the destruction of thousands of dollars worth of harness, has been ended by arbitration.

The first work of the excavation for the big building to be constructed for the Dominion government at the southwest corner of Third ave. and Argus street, Port Alberni, was performed by Mayor Burde shortly after 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, when His Worship in the presence of several hundred citizens lifted a large shovel load of earth into a wagon.

WILL SUCCEED CONNAUGHT

Prince Alexander of Teck is Officially Announced to Succeed the Duke of Connaught.

London, May 7.—Prince Alexander of Teck, third son of the late Duke of Teck, is to succeed the Duke of Connaught as governor-general of Canada. Official announcement of this appointment was made today.

Prince Alexander of Teck is forty years old. He was married in 1904 to Her Royal Highness, Princess Alice of Albany and has one son and one daughter.

H. S. H. Prince Alexander Augustus Frederick George of Teck, G. C. V. O., D. S. O., Kt. of Justice St. John of Jerusalem, holds the rank of captain in the Royal Horse Guards and was A. D. C. to Col. Mahon in South Africa, where he served during the Boer war in 1900-02. His residence at home is Henry III tower, Windsor Castle.

The children of the Prince and Princess May Helen Emma, born January 23, 1906, and Prince Rupert George Augustus of Teck, born August 24, 1907.

Ottawa, May 7.—The announcement that another member of the Royal family has been appointed governor-general of Canada, was heard with great interest today by members of parliament. It is the opinion on Parliament Hill that Canada will continue to receive princes of blood only, as governor-generals hereafter.

NEW WING OF BRITISH MUSEUM

One Million Dollar Extension to British Museum Was Opened by King George and Queen Mary.

London, May 7.—King George and Queen Mary today opened a new wing of the British museum which has just been completed at a cost of a million dollars. It is the first part of a large scheme of extension.

In 1895 the government bought a considerable portion of the Duke of Bedford's property around the museum for $1,250,000 and a large area was cleared. The legacy of $250,000 bequeathed by Vincent Stuckey Lean for the enlargement of the museum gave impetus to the present extension. The bequest was intended particularly for the extension of the reading room and library, to which the testator was a frequent visitor.

The new building is in architectural harmony with the old museum. Its facade, which is flanked by two massive towers, is of Portland stone the outer walls and pedestals of the forecourt being of Scotch granite. The main entrance is surmounted by a balcony, the parapet of which is formed by the stone laid in June, 1907, by the late King Edward. The doorway is formed of marble, surrounded with granite, and is closed by a bronze door, the upper panels of which are sculptured in relief.

The architectural composition of the building is severely simple. In the interior the object in view has been to deprive the extension of everything irrelevant to the main purpose, the primary idea being to make it a mere background for the exhibition of the nation's treasures.

An important part of the new wing is the staircase, which is the link between the old building and the new one. This is extremely simple in design. Its walls are covered with marble, which has been selected more for its texture as a background for antique sculptures than for its veining.

The building comprises a basement as well as sub.ground, ground, mezzanine, and top floors.

The top floor will accommodate the print department. In the basement will be stored books or newspapers. The eastern half of the sub-ground floor will be utilized as a copyright office and for book storage, and the western half will be in part a public newspaper room.

The mezzanine floor will be largely given up to staff rooms, and it contains space for the future accommodation of music and maps. The Stein collection of eastern paintings is being temporaryily housed there.

GOVERNMENT'S POSITION.

It seems to be conceded by the British press that the Asquith government has once more manoeuvred into a secure position on the Ulster crisis. The rank and file of the Commons, as well as the electorate of the whole country, are now waiting the results of the conversations between the leaders of the two great political parties in the state. It is not likely that these will be completed within several weeks. According to the latest news from London Sir Edward Carson has not yet formulated any definite proposals for a settlement. Further action in the crisis is, however, hung up pending the outcome of these conversations. It is now taken for granted that the Home Rule measure will be passed. The Times has already gracefully if stubbornly bowed to what it recognizes as the inevitable. The point to be adjusted is the provisions necessary to safeguard Ulster. It is thought that the bill may even go through the House as it is. Then it will be followed by an amending bill dealing particularly with Ulster. In this way it is anticipated the government will retain the support of the Nationalists, and get rid of the difficulty regarding Ulster. Meantime the government has introduced what is conceded to be a popular Budget, and is also expected to put through a measure abolishing plural voting. [illegible] prophets are generally agreed that the government has secured a great advantgge in position for the next general election, when, if it is returned, a permanent settlement of the Irish question may be expected.

BROKE HUNGER STRIKE

A New York prison authority claims to have found a means of ending the hunger strikes of militant women prisoners. The tactics of the British suffragettes during imprisonment have driven the authorities to despair. The woman prisoner who refused to eat, who entered on a hunger strike, sooner or later secured her release. Forcible feeding was tried and failed. Now the Cat and Mouse Act is in operation, but has proved anything but a success. All a militant suffragette, who has fired a church or burned down a home, needs to do to get out of prison is to embark upon a hunger strike. Rather than have the responsibility of the woman's death thrown up to them, the authorities grant her freedom. Why they should be so solicitous about the lives of these prisoners and so unconcerned about the lives of others, must be set down to politics. Even now an exasperated public opinion is asking for sterner measures. The debate in the House of Lords this week was notable for some very plain speaking, and the feeling is more and more finding expression that the prisoners should be allowed to carry out their hunger strikes. If the method employed by the New York commissioner can be relied on the difficulty is capable of a more humane solution. The commissioner was dealing with a militant I. W. W. arrested for a breach of the peace. She announced that she would go on a hunger strike, and, if necessary, die a martyr to the cause. She started her fasting, and the commissioner did not try forcible feeding. He allowed her to go on, and then he sent to her cell a delicious box of chocolates, and a glass of fresh cold milk. It required more of the material of martyrdom than this woman's nature contained to stand the sight of these chocolates while racked with the gnawing pains of hunger. The struggle can be imagined. Chocolates and milk disappeared. Next morning the commissioner did not try his prisoner with ordinary prison fare. Instead he sent up a nice crisp steak, some beautiful toast, and delicious coffee. Again the woman was tempted and again she fell. Her hunger strike was broken. She tried often to resume her fast, but her purpose was defeated by the same treatment. Of course, this is only an individual case. Still it would be a mistake to assume that this militant I. W. W. was any less fervent and fanatical than her sister suffragettes in Great Britain. No doubt she would have fought to the end against forcible feeding. There was enough of the woman in her, however, to succumb to the commissioner's humane system of temptation. The English authorities might very well try this method. At least they would know that where it did fail there was no reason for worry.

Some industrious statistician has been making an analysis of the American newspapers on the Panama Canal tolls question. It was generally felt in the United Kingdom that in exempting American vessels from paying tolls, the United States government had violated the spirit if not the letter of the Hay-Pauncefote Treaty. There was a considerable agitation, and the question was vigorously discussed in the press of both countries. President Wilson was one who took the view that the exemption clause in the Canal Bill was a mistake. He boldly asked for the repeal of the measure, in spite of the opposition with which he was threatened. His policy is still being vehemently opposed by some of the politicians, but the fact is that the people and the press are almost a unit behind President Wilson. Out of one hundred and thirty-eight leading newspapers no fewer than one hundred and seven are behind Wilson. The Hearst newspapers are included in the twenty-eight opposing the President, and this fact, it is said, has done much to secure him backing elsewhere.

The Vancouver Sun is troubled with no false modesty. Attorney-General Bowser, in a speech at Vancouver told his audience that if they had accepted the Liberals at their own valuation, and returned them to power, they would now have had the millenium. The Sun is convinced that this is just what would have happened. It also knows that the electors themselves are now convinced that the Liberals would have brought about the millenium. What an awful reflection for the intelligent elector to suffer under!

FIRE AT PONOKA.

Ponoka, Alta., May 7.—Fire which burned fiercely for three hours early this morning destroyed a general store and two other smaller buildings. The post office was located in the former and was destroyed. The damage is not known. The building is partially insured.

VAUDEVILLE RESUMED AT OPERA HOUSE

Vaudeville again held the boards at the Opera House last night after an absence of a couple of weeks. The prices of ten and twenty cents, a substantial reduction from the former prices, are evidently proving popular, for there was a good turn out of Opera House patrons.

The show that will be there for the latter part of the week contains two excellent vaudeville turns. Both are double headers and well deserve the liberal applause that they got last night. Bell and Bell, man and woman, do an origional ventriloquist turn, while Lionel and Winston, also man and woman, do a very clever skit which besides presenting good comedy, shows some snatches of mighty good acting.

The rest of the show is made up of four big reels of moving pictures. The show will be popular the rest of the week.

Bijou Theatre

Pathe Weekly No. 24 which will be shown at the Bijou today in connection with the program of moving pictures contains several events of more than passing interest, including a $500,000 fire at Newark, N. J., laying the keel of a Dreadnought of the United States navy at New York, the Brooklyn National League baseball team in training, review of Huerta's army of 20,000 men, launching of the Brittannic, the largest steamship in the world, and the latest styles in Paris for evening gowns and wraps.

The feature picture of the program is a two-reel Lubin film entitled "The House of Fear." Other pictures being "Sawdust and Salome" a vitagraph drama and an Edison comedy entitled "Andy Plays Hero."

SCHEDULED CRICKET GAME ON SATURDAY

The Nanaimo Cricket Club plays its first game in the newly formed Island Cricket eague tomorrow when it meets the Cowichan Club at Duncan. The Cowichan team is one of the best in the province and at present holds the championship of the Pacific Coast. Last year it had the invaluable services of Curgenven, the hardest hitting batsman and the best all round cricketer ever seen in coast cricket. He has returned to England to play for his county Derbyshire in the English League.

Still the champions have pretty near compensated for his loss. In addition to the promising young players they possess, they will have the assistance of Armitage, one of Vancouver's most prominent cricketers, and Mr. Orr, for many years captain of the Bedford County Club, who made such a great showing in last year's tournament, and contributed so signally to Nanaimo's defeat in the Oak Bay game. The local players, while they have taken the champions into camp on their own ground, have never beaten them at Duncan. They will take another shot tomorrow, and at least they will make a bid for victory. The team has not yet been definitely chosen, but will be selected from the following players: Leighton, Jepson Paul, Battey, Curry, Williamson, Hindmarch, Shepherd, Newbury, Paton, Herman, Bamford, Wilton Cape and Dobeson.

Gentlemen,—In January last, Francis Leclare, one of the men employed by me working in the lumber woods, had a tree fall on him, crushing him fearfully. He was, when found, placed on a sled and taken home, where grave fears were entertained for his recovery, his hips being badly bruised and his body turned black from his ribs to his feet. We used MINARD'S LINIMENT on him freely to deaden the pain and with the use of three bottles he was completely cured and able to return to his work.

HAD TO STOP WORK FROM THE PAIN

Suffered Ten Years Until "Fruit-a-tives" Cured Him

ST. THOMAS, ONT., May 22nd, 1913.

"I was troubled for ten years with the most distressing Constipation and Indigestion of the worst form.

No one could have been worse with these troubles than I was for this long time.

The pain from Indigestion was so severe that many times, I have had to stop work and lie down until the acute spasms passed away.

I took a lot of medicine—in fact, I guess I took about everything that was advertised—and gave them all a fair test—but got no relief. About a year ago, however, I was advised to try "Fruit-a-tives". I am mighty glad I did so for they seem to be made exactly for me.

They gave results in a very short time and I am now free from these diseases and enjoying perfect health.

My wife also used "Fruit-a-tives" and we both think they are the best medicine ever made."

OPEN TO NANAIMO BOYS AND GIRLS

The Department of Agriculture of the province of British Columbia is holding a boys' and girls' field crop competition in connection with the Farmers' Institutes of the province.

The object of these competitions is to train the heads and the hands of the boys and girls; to give them broad minds and big hearts; to improve their health by giving them an interest in outdoor life; and to encourage on the part of all British Columbia citizens a stronger and more intelligent interest in Agriculture.

Any Farmers' Institute desiring to organize these competitions must notify the Soil and Crop Division, Live Stock branch, Department of Agriculture, Victoria, on or before May 10th. (Notices received later than May 10th cannot be considered.)

Any institute deciding to organize a Boys' and Girls' Competition shall appoint a committee composed of three of their members and the President and Secretary of the institute, who shall make and carry out the necessary arrangements for the holding of the competition.

No institute may hold more than one competition within its district in any one year.

There must be not less than six bona-fide competitors in each competition.

Only one entry will be allowed each competitor.

Competitors must not be under ten or over eighteen years of age on May 10th, 1914, the date on which the entries close.

The plots entered for competition must be exactly 1-10 acre in area (16 square rods, 484 square yards, or 4,356 square feet). A margin of 1½ feet should be allowed all around the plot, but this margin should be included in the 1-10 acre.

All competitors within the same institute district must use the same variety of potato. The variety shall be decided by the committee appointed by the institute.

The Department suggests that, wherever possible, the Burbank or Carmen No. 1 should be grown.

Each and every competitor within the same institute district shall cooperate within that district in the disposal of his or her surplus crop by delivering for sale to the salesman, hereinafter provided for, at at least one-quarter of the marketable potatoes from the plot. The tubers distributed shall be disposed of at as good a price as possible by a salesman appointed by the committee for that purpose, and the total proceeds less 5 per cent. commission to cover salesman's expenses, shall be paid pro rata to the competitors contributing the potatoes.

Any competitor failing to comply with this condition shall forfeit any prize money he may earn, and shall be debarred from taking part in any future Boys and Girls' Competition.

ROYALTY ACT AS SALESWOMEN IN AMERICAN STORES TO AID CHARITY.

During the past season society folks of two continents have been vieing to outdo the other in the uniqueness of their methods of raising money for charity. New York has had many brilliant balls in the course of which elaborate pageants, depicting life in the Middle Ages, have been staged. London, on the other hand, has been adopting more matter-of-fact methods. Selfridge's department store in London, which is run on American plans and owned by the famous Chicago firm, in celebration of their fifth anniversary allowed the profits of one day's business to be given in aid of the schools for mother charity. In order to attract business, royalty acted as saleswomen, including titled American heiresses. This picture shows Lady Tree, wife of Sir Herbert Beerholm Tree selling to Mr. Hart Doris.

SUES FOR SHARE OF MILLION DOLLARS

The valedity of the will of the late Mr. Sam Brighouse of Lulu Island, who died in Huddersfield, England, on July 31 last, leaving an estate of about $1,000,000, is to be attacked in the courts by his sister, Mrs. Alfred Pearson of Vancouver, who benefitted under a former will, but who does not benefit under the will upon which administration is being asked. Pending the outcome of the lawsuit brought by Mrs. Pearson Mr. Justice Morrison this morning [illegible] appointed an administrator pendente lite, for the personalty, and a receiver for the real estate. His lordship intimated that if the London & British North American Company, which has been unofficially acting as receiver for the estate, has powers under its charter to act as administrator, he will approve its appointment, as administrator under the court, and failing that the Dominion Trust Company is to be appointed.

A POWERFUL MAN

Just before leaving London for a well deserved holiday at Dunoon, Harry Lauder was telling us some good stories in his theatre dressing room.

One of them related to a christening ceremony that was taking place in a church in a mining district. The infant that was to be christened was gloriously arrayed. Among other things it wore a splendid bonnet, which when the critical moment arrived, the mother had some difficulty in removing.

With the eyes of the congregation upon her, the poor mother was greatly flustered, and her attempt to hold the baby and take its bonnet off at the same time seemed likely to end in her dropping the infant on the floor.

The clergyman turned rather impatiently to the father, a tremendiously powerful looking collier who was stolidly watching his wife's struggles.

"Can you hold the child?" he asked sharply.

The big collier turned a disdainful glance on the minister, rather a diminutive man. "Man I could fling him over the kirk—an' you tae."

A FAREWELL BLESSING.

So, thou wouldst leave us, lad, and seek yon smiling land
Where thrives the cherished maple leaf. Long time have we—
Thy mother and myself—been taught to understand
That wild yet wistful discontent which clings to thee.

Oft have we watched thee, as the sun was sinking low.
Turn eager, anxious eyes toward the glowing west.
Oft have we seen thy face—in turning from the glow—
Betray ambition fettered and thy soul's unrest.

Well, well, 'tis not for me—in whom ambition's fire
Hath long since lost its ardent glow—to say thee nay.
Nor quench with mild remonstrances thy keen desire
To join success with enterprise on freedom's way.

I had ambition in my youthful days and strove
But vainly for the goal. By ignorance restrained,
For teaching's scanty mete, begrudged, made knowledge move
With tardy steps within the narrow groove ordained.

Hey day, How things have turned about. How little can
I boast when thou art near, my lad—so few in years.
I can but look on thee as "father to the man,"—
So poor and meagre my experience appears.

Thou hast such learning as will rend that sombre veil
Which, in my callow days, hid knowledge like a shroud—
And thou hast grit and energy. Thou can'st not fail
With these great gifts of Providence so well endowed.

Why! Thou art armed as I—in all my wildest dreams
Of fortune to be won—had never dreamt to be.
And if thou wisely plan and tackle all thy schemes
With right good will soon thou wilt win prosperity.

I speak not for myself but if one drop of blood
From thy dear mother's heart flows in thy youthful veins
Thou will not fail to seek thy fellow creature's good,
Nor balance ample charity with selfish gains.

And whatsoever dexterrty thou hast acquired
In penmanship, make thou of frequent use—nor wait
Until thou art by some great enterprise inspired
To tell what may befall thee at the hand of fate.

Go, go, my lad. And may God bless thee on thy way,
In exile and alone. Let not forgetfulness
O'ercloud sweet memories Go straight from day to day
And thou shall win God's favor and thy happiness.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES

When water-pipes begin to freeze, and folks predict a snow,
I thing of the buckwheat cakes
Of winters long ago,
The flannel chest-protectors that
I used to put away
With running black molasses spread,
At breakfast every day.
An inch or more in thickness raised
They blanketed my liver down
With half digested flour,
I oft regret her gingerbread
And sugar cookie sweet,
My mother made me eat:
But not the soggy buckwheat cakes
Now smoking to the table comes
A brown delicious pile
Of dainty morsels that would make
The worst dyspeptic smile,
Well-buttered, and afloat upon
A golden syrup lake,
Behold they are the buckwheat cakes
My wife has learned to make.

THREE CRUSHED TO DEATH

Decatur, Ill., May 6.— Thirty passengers and trainmen were injured and three laborers were crushed to death last night by the overturning of a sleeping car and the dining car of the Continental Limited train of the Wabash Railroad while entering Decatur. Two rear cars were thrown over while passing a piece of track under repair, falling on some of the trackmen. Several of the injured persons may be fatally hurt. Twenty of the passengers in the dining car were taken to a hospital.

BIG ORDER PLACED.

Philadelphia, May 6.—Orders for 100,000 3-inch shrapnel shells were received last night at the Frankford arsenal in this city from Secretary Garrison, of the war department.

Colonel George Montgomery, in command at the arsenal, said this was one of the largest orders ever received and that while he had been given until June, 1915, to fill it, he expected to complete the order before that date. The plant will be run 24 hours a day, the men working in 8-hour shifts.

BRAVEST JOURNEY MADE BY MAN

One of the bravest and most important journeys ever made by man was undertaken on January 9, 1816, by John Hodgson, the rector of a parish near Newcastle. It was he who first carried a lamp into a coal mine.

Before that day miners had worked in the darkness of the pits with only a revolving disc of steel sputtering sparks from a flint at the edge. The black air of the mines was filled with streams of gas, which would flame at the touch of a light, and burst with a terrible explosion. Therefore, the miners worked in the darkness, with only the sparks of the steel disc to give them the smallest sense of light.

It chanced one day that Sir Humphrey Davy, the famous man of science, was staying with friends in Northumberland. Some people here, including Mr. Hodgson, asked him if he could not invent something to prevent mine explosions. They described the horrors of fire-damp, which is like lightning and earthquake combined, and spoke of the awful explosions. Sir Humphrey thought over the matter, and began to make experiments.

He discovered a wonderful thing—flame will not pass through minute tubes. He put on his thinking cap—if it ever was off his head!—and came to the conclusion that wire gauze is only a series of little tubes placed side by side. He constructed a cylinder of this wire gauze, and put a flame inside. Light came through the holes, but not the flame. And yet how absurd? Cannot the gas get through those holes and touch the dangerous flame? Yes indeed; but it cannot get out again as flame. That was the discovery. No flame would pass through those holes.

He sent to Mr. Hodgson for "a bottle of fire-damp" out of the mines, and tried it on his wire-gauze invention. No explosion took place. He then gave orders for a rough safety-lamp to be made.

This was the lamp that Mr. Hodgson bravely carried into Hepburn Pit on January 9, 1816.

On went the clergyman with his flaming lamp, more wonderful than Aladdin's, penetrating farther and farther into the fire-damp. In the distance a lonely miner was swinging his pick by the dim light of a steel mill. "Put out that light!" shouted he, in tones of horror and despair.

That was the miner's first welcome of the Davy lamp. Put out that light!

To the poor fellow's utter amazement, that lamp advanced. With terrible oaths he called out that the madman, the fool, the monster carrying it should stop! Still the lamp advanced. Oaths and curses turned to agonized entreaties; the miner cried out with his soul that the lamp should be put out.

Then his prayers ceased. The mystery of this advancing light passing so quietly, and so safely through the mine was like something from another world. In breathless silence he waited, as, without a word, the man who held the lamp came solemnly, steadily on. At last he was close to the miner.

The lamp illumined the face of someone he knew—John Hodgson the clergyman, the friend of many a poor miner in that black country. The miner could hardly speak. He saw this man holding up in the pit a lamp that shone in the midst of danger, and yet there was no explosion; and he readily forgave the clergyman for frightening him. When Sir Humphrey learned of this triumphant success, he was elated.

Congratulations poured in from every side, from all parts of the world. It was one of the greatest inventions of the age. A friend urged him to take out a patent. "It will bring you in £10,000 a year," said he. But Davy would have none of this He did not want to receive money for saving life.—Children's Magazine.

"How did your daughter pass her examinations?" asked one mother of another. "Pass!" was the answer "She didn't pass at all. Perhaps you wouldn't believe it, but they asked the girl about things that happened long before she was born!"

A captain inspecting his company one morning came to an Irishman who evidently had not shaved for several days. "Doyle," he asked, "how is it you haven't shaved this morning?" "But I did sir." "How dare you tell me that with the beard you have on your face?" "Well ye see sor," stammered Doyle, "there was nine uv us to one looking-glass an' it must be thot in the general confusion Oi shaved some other mans face."

Teacher—Professor Newton is going to give a lecture on the sun, and I want all of my pupils to be there. Thomas Hardy—I don't think I can go Miss Boyer. Teacher—Why not Thomas? Thomas Hardy—'Cause my mother won't let me go so far away from home.

LAST OFFICER OF NOBLE SIX HUNDRED

There was much regret in England recently over the announcement of the death of Sir George Wombwell, Bart., which occurred at Newburgh Priory, Coxwold, North Yorkshire.

Sir. George, who was 81 years of age, acted as galloper to Lord Cardigan in the Crimea, and was the last surviving officer who took part in the Charge of the Light Brigade. He was taken prisoner then, but escaped on the charger of a Russian soldier.

This was not his only narrow escape. While hunting in Yorkshire not many years afterwards, he was being ferried across a river with the master of the hounds, the huntsman and several members of the hunt, when the ferry-coat capsized in deep water. A strong current was running and the master and several of his friends were drowned, but Sir George managed to get from under the boat and scramble on to its bottom, and was almost the solitary survivor of the party.

Sir George kept the uniform which he wore in the famous charge in a case at Newburgh Priory, and in his private diary which he kept during the eleven months he served in the Crimea, he wrote:

"An order in writing came down from Lord Raglan telling us to attack some guns which were firing at us, killing poor Nolan of the Fifteenth Hussars, who brought the order down.

"We charged up to the guns, which kept firing at us until we got up to them, and cut the Russian gunners down as they stood at their guns. The way the showers of grape and canister, musketry shot and shells came among us was something too awful to describe.

"The men were falling in heaps all

"My horse was shot under me, in what place I know not, but down he came."

After being taken prisoner and escaping back to the British lines, Sir George Wombwell was welcomed by the Duke of Cambridge, who afterwards became his close personal friend, and visited him annually for the shooting at Newburgh, where the late King Edward, when Prince of Wales, also visited several times.

Sir George was often described as the Major Pendennis of our day, and his tailor and the way he wore his clothes. Until quite recently (up to his last ailment, in fact) he was hale and vigorous, and declared that if called upon again to ride into "the Valley of Death," he could undertake it as he did over fifty years ago.

A good story is told of Sir George in connection with the examination for his army commission. He was asked by his examiners something about Timbuctoo, but, betraying absolute ignorance, was plowed.

Some time afterwards he met his friend, the then commander-in-chief. "Where is Timbucto?" he asked.

"Upon my life, I don't know," was the reply.

"Well, I think it's an awful shame that I should be spilled over a question which the commander-in-chief cannot answer," said Sir George.

He married a daughter of the sixth Earl of Jersey, and they had two sons. One of them died at Meerut, in India, in 1889, and the second died of enteric at Vryberg, while on active service in the South African war. The heir to the baronetcy is Capt. Henry Herbert Wombwell, who is in his 73rd year. He was married for the third time at the age of 62 to the Hon. Myrtle Mostyn, sister of Lord Vauv, of Harrowden. His first wife was the celebrated actress and dancer, Miss Fanny Josephs, who first appeared at Sadler's Wells in 1860.

Newburgh Priory, the family seat was an old Yorkshire monastery and was turned into a country house at the time of the Reformation. It is noted for its collection of Cromwellian relics, and there is a legend walled up at the top of some stairs that the great Protector's body is The family has always refused to test the truth of legend.

The poet Wordsworth used to compose in bed at night. Nudging his wife in the small hours he would say: "Maria, get up. I've thought of a good word."

And Mrs. Wordsworth would rise sleepily, light a candle and write at her husband's dictation for ten or fifteen minutes.

A couple of hours later Wordsworth would wake her again.

But one night Mrs. Wordsworth put a stop forever to his nocturnal dictation. Her husband, awakening her with the usual "Get up—I've thought of a good word," was startled to hear her reply.

Practical Fashion Hints

By Alice Gibson

The top coat is an indispensable garment to any wardrobe. For the shorter designs, the light-weight wools and the novelty cotton materials are favored, but for a full-length design, such as is shown in No. 7490, a light-weight serge or ratine would be preferable, as they have a slightly more dressy appearance and the coat may then be used for many purposes other than sport. If ratine or serge were used with this design, the broad collar, revers and cuffs would be effective made of cotton velvet, bengaline or moire in a somewhat brighter shade than the body of the coat. This coat has one of the new wide armholes with the sleeve set in at a normal shoulder line. The length of the coat is 48 inches. For size 36, 4¼ yards of 42-inch material will be required with five-eighths of a yard of contrasting material for collar and cuffs. The pattern is cut in six sizes, 32 to 42.

THIS IS A PERFECT PATTERN,

Be sure to give right size, measuring over the fullest part of the bust for dimensions.

The pattern may be obtained by sending name and address, pattern No. and size and fifteen cents to DAVID SPENCER LIMITED.

LOCAL CRICKETERS WON OPENING GAME

The local cricket club opened the season yesterday with a match with a team from the Connaught Barracks A drizzling rain rather marred the enjoyment of the play, but the game was interesting throughout. The soldiers in pure, good sportsmanship insisted on the local club taking first innings, and a splendid start was made by Jepson and Paul. Runs came freely, and there were over 50 on the board when Paul fell to a fine catch at square-leg by Morrison. Williamson hit out in fine shape, and Jepson continued to play a keen, forcing bat. The score was taken over the one hundred mark before the third wicket fell, and Jepson looked like reaching the century when he was caught with his score at 74. The whole side was dismissed for 199.

The soldiers made rather a bad start, Herman being clean bowled by Leighton with his first delivery, the ball breaking back wickedly from the leg. With the continuance of the rain, however, the ball grew so greasy that it was rather a trick to keep the ball straight. The batsman seized the opportunity to hit out lustily, Brassy annexing a hard hit 46. For a time it looked anybody's game, but eventually the side was retired for 120.

In view of the local club's league game with Cowichan tomorrow, the game provided an admirable work out for the players, and if possible the games will be continued weekly in the future.

PAT CONNOLLY AND AMERICUS FOR TITLE

Vancouver, May 7.—A world's championship wrestling bout between Pat Connolly, the present holder of the title and Americus will be staged in Vancouver early next month. Today local promoters accepted the terms of Manager Jack Curley for Americus for the match here on June 9 or thereabouts, and $600 advance money wired to Kansas City, where tonight Americus will wrestle Zybysco a finish match. Americus will go to Baltimore for a match after the contest with the Pole and then return to Vancouver to meet Connolly who won from him here last month. Connolly has already signed articles with the promoters. A match between Cazeaux the big Frenchman, managed by George Kennedy of Montreal, and Americus, may also be staged here next month. Kennedy is in communication with Con Jones, and the latter has just about consented to stage the Cazeaux-Americus match.

ITALY SIGNS PEACE TREATY WITH AMERICA.

Rome, May 7.—The signing at Washington of a new peace treaty between the United States and Italy is commented on favorably here. The Corriere d'Italia, in its issue of today, says the matter is one of great importance, particularly as Italy, among powers of Europe, has a deep interest in the labor situation in the United States.

MOTHERS' DAY SERVICES AT WELLINGTON AND DISTRICT.

Mr. N. D. Patterson, who is the Presbyterian missionary for the summer at Wellington mission field, will conduct services Sunday, May 10th., in Social Hall at mill, Nanoose Bay at 10'30 a.m., Departure Bay school house at 2:45 p.m., and in Wellington Presbyterian church at 7 p.m. As this Sunday is observed by the church as "Mothers' Day", Mr. Patterson's subject will be "Mother." A special effort is being made to have all the people of the district attend this service, which will be the first of its nature to be held in this district. "Mothers Day" was founded by the authoress and editor, Mrs. Margaret Elizabeth Sangster, about six years ago, and since has been observed by the majority of the christian churches as a special day. A very cordial welcome and helpful service is assured to all who may attend.

POOR CROWD, NO FIGHT.

Racine, Wis., May 7.—The scheduled ten-round boxing contest between Joe Mandot of New Orleans and Johnny Griffith of Akron, Ohio was declared off last night because of poor attendance.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining right of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-west Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Applications for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-agent in the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or sub-agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

Those who appreciate a really good glass of beer will be interested in knowing that the Union Brewing Company, Limited, has just introduced to the Nanaimo market a new pale bottled beer known as "Newlife." This beer is brewed from the finest pale barley malt and the best B. C. and Bohemian hops, carefully blended to produce the flavor and color so popular in the East. Every effort has been made to turn out a beer the equal of the very finest imported, and if one can judge from first acquaintance with it, the efforts of the company have not been in vain. The beer is put out in light bottles, attractively labelled, and is on sale at all bars in Nanaimo, Ladysmith, Cumberland, Port Alberni, and throughout the centre and north of the island generally.

ELEVEN YEARS OF PROSPERITY

Hon. Dr. Young Addressed the Nanaimo Conservatives Last Night on Record of Conservative Party in Provincial Politics.

The Conservative smoker last night must be ranked as one of the most successful gatherings ever held in Nanaimo. There was a large attendance Dr. Young, the Provincial Secretary, delivered a splendid fighting speech, and there was a fine musical programme. The meeting itself was marked by an infectious spirit of enthusiasm, which augurs well for the future success of the party.

Mayor Planta presided, and in opening the proceedings stated that he had not expected to be called upon to do anything but enjoy himself. However, he was always willing to step into the breach. He was pleased to see Dr. Young with them, and glad to see so many present to hear him.

He referred to the progress which the Conservative cause had made in Nanaimo during the last few years. He was satisfied that the people of Nanaimo had realized that the Conservative government was the government for the people, and that it had the interests of labor at heart. This was shown by the legislation which the government had passed, particularly legislation affecting the coal mining industry. The record of the government had impressed all alike, and he knew many Liberals who at the next election would support the government.

Locally they had seen the Socialists dominant in politics, and they had experiences lately which would teach them what would happen if ever they had a Socialist Government (Applause.) He was sure that the thinking people of the community did not want to have a repetition in the country of what had happened here as a result of Socialism.

Mr. James Harvey, a former Nanaimoite, who was with Dr. Young, next delivered a neat address in which he exhorted all present to do all they could individually to advance and further the interests of the Conservative party.

Dr. Young who was given a very hearty reception, was in fine fighting trim, and delivered a splendid address. He touched on the questions of the day, and related at length the policy and progress of his own particular department.

After a few introductory remarks, he stated that he had already addressed two gatherings that day, one at Cowichan and one at Chemainus. Without intending any disparagement of the previous meetings, he could say on looking around the hall and noting the large and representative attendance, that the best had been reserved to the last. It was a pleasure to the Ministers of the Crown to meet the people of the country and give an account of their stewardship. The pleasure was increased by the fact that they always found the people interested in public and political questions, and ready to discuss them.

He then went on to deal with the criticisms which had recently been passed upon the policy and record of the government. In 1903 the country was in a bad way. There had been no stable government and they had had six premiers in three years. Sir Richard McBride at that time appealed to the country on party lines and was returned by a majority of two. From that time they had appealed again and again to the country, to the people, the last court of appeal, and with such success that the Liberal party was no longer existent in the parliament of British Columbia. There was the answer to their Liberal critics. In spite of the opposition and the means adopted by the latter to upset the government they had only met with the increasing approval of the people.

Another point they had to remember that in all their criticisms the Liberal party had never come forward with a substitute policy. And in face of the blue ruin preached by their opponents look at the prosperity of the country. The Government did not claim that they had made this prosperity. They did claim, however, that if their critics had been in office the country would not have enjoyed this prosperity. The reasons for making this claim was that their policies, which were so bitterly criticised by their Liberal opponents,

LOCAL GRAND JURY MADE A MISTAKE

That the Grand Jury in their recent tour of the city was mistaken in their remarks about the North Ward School was shown by Mayor Planta, chairman of the Board of School Trustees, at the meeting of the board yesterday afternoon.

The chairman stated that since the Grand Jury report had been published, the foreman of the Jury Mr. Thomas Kitchen, had called upon him explaining that the Jury were in error in their remarks about the school premises.

The mistake occurred owing to the fact that when the jury visited the institution none of the scholars or the teachers were about the premises and they had taken some discarded buildings for which an order was given for their removal some time ago, to be still in active use. Mr. Kitchen regretted the error that had been made. The chairman explained that the buildings in question would be removed forthwith.

SALOON DOORS ARE CLOSED

Chicago, May 8.—Following the thirty days of grace which the laws of Illinois allow the saloons which were voted out largely by women at the recent local option elections, approximately 1,100 saloons in all parts of the state, in cities as large as Decatur, and in hamlets whose only industries are the liquor house and the blacksmith shops—closed their doors at midnight. In all more than 200 cities and villages are made saloonless and more than 20 counties already partly "dry" become totally so.

ASSUME MORE WARLIKE ASPECT

War Department of United States is Bee Hive of Activity---May Land Sixty Thousand Men in Mexico.

Washington, May 8.—The Mexican situation assumed a more warlike aspect today. Activities in the war department, which began last night on the receipt of long confidential advices from Gen. Funston, were renewed through the morning and were brought to the attention of President Wilson and the cabinet when the regular session began.

While this activity disclosed that every preparation was being made for possible eventualities, yet Secretary Garrison said just before entering the cabinet meeting that "no additional troop movements have been ordered."

It has been learned on high authority that the war department had under consideration today, early, an adequate reinforcement of the command of Brigadier-General Funston at Vera Cruz to carry out any movement that might be necessary in the interior of Mexico. The question of placing a force of Americans in Vera Cruz that would be strong enough to defend that port against any attack or to undertake a possible campaign against Mexico City was later laid before the president and his cabinet by Secretary Garrison.

War department officials, it was said, decided that reinforcements were needed at Vera Cruz at the late conference of Secretary Garrison and the general staff last night. The secretary and his advisers went over the entire military situation at Vera Cruz and other points in Mexico, before reaching this decision.

Secretary Garrison called the conference when aicipher telegram from Vera Cruz had been delivered to him at the White House, where he was attending the wedding of President Wilson's daughter. He left the festivities hurriedly and summoned his aides to the war department.

Among despatches received was one which reported the firing of two oil wells at Tampico. The protection of American lives and property, it was said, was the prime motive behind the determination of army and navy officers that the American forces in Mexico should be reinforced.

Secretary Garrison said General Funston had transmitted some information which refugees had brought from Mexico City as to conditions in the Mexican capital. He said that no aggressive movement of any kind by the American forces was ordered.

It was understood that the refugees from Mexico City had informed General funston of the critical aspect of affairs in the Huerta regime, that a collapse might be expected momentarily and that conditions of anarchy might ensue. The purpose of General Funston in transmitting these reports was believed to be to advise the Washington administration of the possibilities that might develop from a fall of Huerta in order that if the American army is compelled to rescue foreigners or restore order it may be fully equipped.

Although not officially stated, it is known that high officials of the war department are anxious to place at Vera Cruz or on transports within striking distance, a large enough force, perhaps 60,000 men, to make an expedition to Mexico City if it becomes necessary.

Officials of the war department are known to believe that if an advance on Mexico City is ordered it will be necessary to guard every mile of the railroad as the army moves forward and that a large force would show the natives the futility of resistance, whereas a division of 15,000 men might be subject to several attacks along the route, with possibly big losses.

The American army forces regard the situation at Vera Cruz as likely to become desperate in the event that anarchy breaks out in Mexico City, or the forces of General Maas should make an attack on their own initiative, irrespective of the Huerta Government's promise of a suspension of hostilities against the United States.

SINCLAIR AND WOMEN PICKET ROCKEFELLER

Upton Sinclair, known Socialist and author of "The Jungle" and four women were arrested for picketing the New York city offices of John D. Rockefeller jr., in protest against the strike disorders in Colorado. Their places as pickets were taken by Mrs. Sinclair, second wife of the author, and by Socialists and members of the Liberal Club.

PAY DAY WITH THE LOCAL MINES

Today is pay day for the local employees of the Western Fuel Company, some 800 in all. Today will also be a holiday in the company's mines, it being the first of the number which the company propose giving its employees during the summer months, viz two Saturdays in each month, unless it is found necessary to work in order to complete an urgent cargo.

That the two days a month off will be appreciated by the men goes without saying, for it will enable them to take a two day's week end trip which could not be made if the mines were working full time.

SCHOOLS SHORT OF TEACHERS

Increasing Number of Nanaimo School Children Make Employment of More Teachers Necessity.

The attendance at the Nanaimo schools is increasing so rapidly that at the present there are not enough teachers to adequately look after the scholars nor rooms enough in which to properly house students provided there were enough teachers to go round.

Right now the number of scholars to a room averages forty-eight which is considerably above the standard which calls for forty pupils only. To bring the average down to forty pupils a room would require altogether twenty-seven teachers, several more than are now employed by the board.

This information was brought out yesterday afternoon at the regular meeting of the school board by the reading of Principal Archer's report. The members of the board all realized the seriousness of the situation, but agreed with Mr. Archer that the public school staff having got along so far into the term could manage as at present until the midsummer holidays, a few weeks hence. Following the holidays, however, it is quite likely some other arrangements will have to be made to provide an adequate staff and accommodation for the pupils.

The attendance last month was exceptionally high. There are only 25 scholars from outside the city limits attending the schools and these are all pupils in the senior grades where there is not so much overcrowding, and besides, they are pupils who have been brought up in Nanaimo schools, or are the children of city ratepayers.

Principal Archer reported that the school gardens' competition was creating much interest among the scholars and that they were being well looked after.

The pupils of the High School wrote thanking the board for the gift of the tickets to the Scott pictures shown here last week. "As children and as British subjects we wish to thank you," stated the communication.

The board accepted with much regret the resignation of Miss Holdsworth of the High School staff, to take effect at the end of the term. She was pronounced by the board to be a very efficient and successful teacher.

Geo. Sangster, secretary of the Dominion Exhibition which will be held this year at Victoria, wrote asking the Nanaimo schools to send an exhibit for the educational building now being erected at Victoria. The matter was referred to Principal Archer who stated that the students would like to put in an exhibit.

Three applications were received for the domestic science department appointment on the technical school staff. They were referred to a committee composed of Mrs. Skinner and Mr. Shaw.

An application for appointment as musical director of the local schools was not entertained by the board as they are not in a position to make such appointment at present for financial reasons.

A number of accounts were presented for payment, but were referred back for verification, no requisition having been given for the purchases made. The board by motion went on record that hereafter no bills will be honored without a proper requisition from the secretary of the board.

The "giant stride" at the Central school, a source of so much amusement to the scholars, is out of repair and the board will have it put in shape again.

WIRELESS FALSE REPORTS

Tokyo, May 8.—An international agreement providing for the infliction of special penalties on ship captains and others distributing false wireless reports, is urged today by the Japanese press, to prevent the recurrence of similar incidents to that of the recent report of a disaster to the Siberia.

BANK ROBBER DIED.

Prince Rupert, May 8.—One of the bank robbers who was wounded in the fight between New Hazelton citizens and Russian bandits, when the Union Bank was robbed, died yesterday from blood poisoning.

SAYS RIOTING WOULD FOLLOW HOME RULE

Belfast, May 8.—Col. Davidson, great-grandson of Laura Secord, and head of the Ulster volunteer hospital organization, has just returned from Glasgow, and declares that prominent men there assure him of a Glasgow uprising if a shot be fired in Ulster.

It is understood that the great Catholic cathedral would be demolished first, and then other riots would follow in London and Liverpool.

Many English and Scotch doctors have volunteered in case of trouble, including eminent Edinburgh and Glasgow men. Trained nurses from all over the continent have also offered their services, and two from Canada.

An estimate based on partial returns show that the Ulsterites now have 130 regular hospitals, forty clearing hospitals and fifty dressing stations. The hospitals are located in castles, mansions, manses and schools, barns and sheep pens. Sixty doctors are lecturing to nurses, twenty-four in Belfast alone. Ulster now has 300 experienced hospital graduate nurses enrolled, plus a great army of 3,500 volunteer trained nurses, 1,000 of whom are in Belfast.

A remarkable feature of the preparations is that merchants have laid in large stocks of blankets and pillow cases, etc., and druggists a large stock of drugs, all of which are available in case of trouble. In some cases this has been done gratis but oftener the Unionists have paid five per cent of the cost for an option on these supplies. Many of the hospital beds are made simply of sacking stuffed with straw.

TOMORROW IS "MOTHER'S DAY"

Special Services at Church in Honor of Day—Flowers Worn in Button-holes by Men of the City.

Sunday will be what is known throughout America as "Mothers' Day" and special services in commemoration of the event will be held in St. Andrew's church, the Wallace street Methodist church and other churches in the city. At St. Andrew's church the Rev. Dr. McLennan will preach a special sermon in the evening and special music will be rendered by the choir. One of the best musicians will sing a solo in honor of the mothers.

At the Wallace street Methodist church the pastor, Rev. Mr. Thompson, will preach a special sermon to children in the morning and in the evening he will preach on "Motherhood", speaking on the mothers of famous men. A very cordial invitation is extended to the men and boys who do not worship elsewhere and who honor the sacred name of mother, to attend any of the special services in the city.

About six years ago the well-known authoress, Mrs. Sangster whose charming character and fascinating books and other writings in the best known magazines of America endeared her to thousands all over the world who never knew her personally, conceived the beautiful idea of observing one day in the year on some particular Sunday, to be known as "Mothers' Day" The custom has now become almost universal all over the United States and a large portion of Canada. The mgin object is to honor the mothers of our country, whether living or dead, and to recall certain outstanding qualities prominently displayed by the true mother and to emphasize the glory of motherhood.

Many a young man in the city, forgetful of the helpful influences of the old home, have been led to begin a better life by simply recollecting incidents and events that cluster round the name of the truest and best of friends.

It is customary on Mothers' Day for men to wear a small white carnation or other flower in the buttonhole in honor of mother. A white flower is usually worn by those whose mothers have passed away to the bourne beyond, while a red carnation or other flower is worn by those whose mothers are still living.

PRESENTATION TO REV. CANON WHITE

Loyal Daughters of St. Paul's Church Remember Retiring Rector Who Leaves Shortly For New Field of Work.

A pleasing little ceremony took place yesterday afternoon at the regular monthly meeting of the Loyal Daughters of the Church, which was held at the house of the President, Miss Yates, when the Rev. Canon Silva-White, who leaves on May 30 for England, was presented with a beautiful gold-mounted fountain pen and an address which proved how much the members have appreciated his interest in their work.

The pen was presented by Mrs. Thomas Bennett, who is one of the original members of the Guild, Miss Yates being the founder, while the address was read by the secretary, Miss Elsie Wood.

It was tied with yellow and dark blue, the colors of the Guild, and ran as follows:

To Rev. Canon A. Silva White, Nanaimo, B. C., May 8, 1914.

Dear Canon White,—We, the members of the Loyal Daughters of the Church, desire to take this opportunity of expressing our deep regret at your approaching departure from Nanaimo. We feel that as a Guild we owe you our sincere gratitude for your help and sympathy with us in our work.

During the ten years you have been our Rector there have been many changes in the Guild, and through them all you have always been ready to help and guide us. Especially do we desire to thank you for the service of admission of members, which you drew up for use, and we will long remember those Guild services which you held for us.

While future Rectors may help us, we feel that it is impossible for them to leave such a deep spiritual impression on the Guild as you have done, and they certainly cannot take the place you hold in our regard.

We offer you the accompanying gift as a slight token of our esteem, and as an expression of our gratitude for all you have done for us.

That you and Mrs. White may have very many years of happy and successful work in England for Christ and His Church, are the sincere wish and prayer in which join all the members of the Loyal Daughters of the Church.

SPLENDID PROGRAM AT TORY SMOKER

A splendid musical programme was presented at the Conservative smoker in the Oddfellows' Hall last night. In addition to several well-known local artists, Messrs. J. D. A. Tripp and Holroyd Paull, were present. Both Mr. Tripp and Mr. Paull made several appearances at the Arnold Orchestra concerts and delighted the local music-loving people. They are masters of their respective instruments, the piano and the violin, and it is a great privilege to hear them. They played in their own inimitable style last night and the large audience in attendance were delighted to hear them. Mr. A. Dunsmore acted as accompanist to the singers, the programme being as follows:

Song — (a) "Mona," (b) "The Shamrock," L. Williams.

Song—(a) "Good Night Beloved," (b) Selected. A. Hodgkinson.

Recitation—"Gunga Din" A. E. Beach.

Recitation—Selected, R. S. Whitney

Violin Solo—(a) "Ballata d'Amore," (b) "Serenade," (c) "Humoresque," Holroyd Paull.

Song—"Drink to Me," A. J. Bush.

Piano Solo—Selected, Mr. J. D. A. Tripp.

TWENTY-FOURTH OF MAY.

Splendid progress is being made with the arrangements for the local celebration on the 24th of May. The various committees are working with the utmost zeal and energy, united in the one aim of making the demonstration the most successful ever held in Nanaimo. It is quite evident from the reception the collectors are meeting with that this also is the wish of citizens generally. The subscription list promises to reach a record mark, and this again should ensure a record day. This is as it should be. The 24th of May has been Nanaimo's big day of celebration for many years. Everybody joined in it and helped to make it a success. We hope this will continue to be the case for so long as the celebrations are kept up. The demonstrations ought to be kept free from factionalism, and it may be taken for granted that the party introducing sectional issues into a general observance is making trouble for itself. It is reported that certain business men in the city have been threatened with boycott for contributing to the 24th of May celebration. It is hardly necessary to specify the quarter from which these threats are proceeding. For over a year the boycott and blacklist have been favorite weapons with the local labor dictators. It should be borne in mind that it is a double-edged weapon. It is always possible to retaliate in some way. A boycott from one side can be answered with a boycott from the other side. The list of subscribers for the United Mine Workers has not been published. In the ordinary course of business, however, it will be published. What about a boycott against those who subscribed by the anti-Socialist element in the city? Either way it is to which element is in the majority. There is no doubt either as to which element offers the best business at the present time. We can only hope that factionalism will not be carried to such desperate lengths in the business of the city. Still there has been enough of this club law and club spirit in local affairs. So far it has come all from the one side, and unless it is stopped there will inevitably be vigorous retaliation. This would be a misfortune for the city and for everybody concerned. There is absolutely no occasion for it, and least of all in connection with the 24th of May celebration. This is a great civic demonstration, promoted in the interests of all the citizens, and every true citizen will help to make it a success.

There is apparently more in the militant suffragette movement than a demand for the franchise. In some quarters at least there is a burning hatred and contempt for man himself. Here, for example, is a passage from a book by Miss Percival which goes to the real root of the evil and sufficiently accounts for the worst excesses of the militants:

"When I look at their faces in the street, in a street car, anywhere, their mean, stupid faces—men who get their ideals out of the one cent papers, men who think about money on an office stool all day, and then go home and treat some woman as an inferior—I wonder that any woman has ever loved a man. They're ugly, they're greedy, they're course-minded! I hate them for everything; for their cruelty, for their insolence—look at what they've done! They've taken the whole world and made it theirs; everything we have in it is only ours, now, because they choose to give it to us. We haven't a right to our own children. And if we don't like what they give, if we loathe it, if we're in anguish, they don't care. They're not interested in us, they don't want to know what we are in ourselves, or what we think of our lives; it saves them trouble to call us mysteries. They're our masters, and they're strangers to us; they're our masters, and if we show that we're unhappy, they're bored! To one another they're civilized people, but to us, to whom they've denied their civilization, they're savages—arrogant, intolerant, vain, angry with anything that disturbs their comfort.

"But what I hate them most for isn't that—I despise them for what they are."

FIGHTING TUBERCULOSIS

Washington, May 8.—Results of a war waged against the white plague and campaign plans for the future were outlined today at the opening sessions of the National Association for Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. In the last decade the association's executive office reported there had been established 2,500 consumption fighting agencies in the United States. There were less than 200 in 1901.

Medical examinations of employees was not only human but was good business, it was asserted.

Sanitary arrangements of working places, it was said, presented a factor in determining the health of the workers.

STEAMER REFLOATED.

Duluth, Minn., May 8.—After being aground on a rocky shore near Two Harbors, Minn., since Tuesday morning the steamer America of the United States and Dominion Transportation Company's fleet, was released tonight about seven o'clock by two wrecking scows and three tugs from this port. Pumps are in control of the water, and the America will reach Duluth tonight and go into drydock for repairs.

A curious mine accident is reported from Phoenix in which unfortunately two lives were lost. The men were working night shift, and fired their usual rounds of shots before their partners came on shift. It is supposed that after firing the shots the men went back to see the effects, [illegible] were asphyxiated. They were found by their partners quite dead. It is quite evident that the explosive powder had generated poisonous gases and fumes, and the accident furnishes another proof of the eccentric action of explosives. As a rule a miner puts off no time in returning to his place to see how a blast has worked. This [illegible] fatality at Phoenix shows the [illegible] attending such a practice, and emphasizes the necessity of allowing a reasonable time to elapse between blasting and returning to the face.

CALIFORNIA'S DAY.

San Francisco, May 8.—California Day and the ground-breaking for the $2,000,000 California building of the Panama-Pacific Exposition were celebrated before one of the largest throngs that has assembled in the exposition grounds.

Three hundred and seventy-eight delegates from the fifty-eight counties of California participated in the ceremonies. The state structure will be the heart of exposition activities in 1915, and, next to the machinery palace, the largest building of the world's fair.

WOMEN VOTE IN CHICAGO; GET NO OFFICES

In the first election in which women were permitted to vote in Chicago over 100,000 out of 2,176,007 voters, women eligible to vote entered the polls. None of the nine women candidates who sought to represent their wards in the City Council were elected. Except in the first ward where Miss Marion Drake had made a successful fight against John (Bathhouse) Coughlin, the women candidates polled only a small fraction of the votes. In this picture Governor Dunn, his wife and daughter, Eileen are shown casting their votes.

went ahead of and anticipated the prosperity. They had administered the country's affairs on a business basis with a view to development. In their plans of development, of opening out the country, they had attempted to meet conditions as they arose. And always their policy was a little ahead of actual requirements and calculated to promote and meet developments.

There was first the question of getting settlers on the land. They were getting the right class of settlers, and they had tried to make the conditions such that this class of settlers would continue to come in. Accordingly they had opened new roads so that the settlers could get the produce from his farm to the markets. They wanted their settlers to be contented and prosperous citizens. Accordingly they had spent enormous sums of money in the making of roads. They had not got along quite so fast as they would have liked, but it was a difficult problem. Then had come the necessity of more railroads, and their railway policy had been adopted with the object of further opening out the country to settlers.

Dr. Young then briefly reviewed the government's agreement with the C. N. R., pointing out that not a five cent piece or an acre of land had been given to the company, while they had adequate security for the bond guarantees they had given. It was not a bad bargain and no one believed that the railway would not prove a profitable undertaking. Liberal criticism simply amounted to this: they were damned if they did, and damned if they didn't.

Dr. Young then briefly exposed the hollow falseness of the Liberal criticism of the government's land policy, referring officially to Mr. Brewster. It was absurd to talk of the government being the friend of only the speculator. If their critics would only go to the land department and look at a map of the province they would find fully two-thirds of the province colored red, which meant that all that land was open only to the pre-emptor. Their critics did not refer to the development work that had carried out, or to the progress made in provincial industries. The output from the mines last year, had exceeded all previous years, and next year would be bigger still. Here were no signs of like ruin. Yet men like Mr. Brewster, holding a responsible position, preached nothing but ruin. What he had to say of the country was published broadcast over the world and what effect would it have on intending settlers? They would say that country is no good for us. We can get neither land nor timber according to this man Brewster.

Then again Mr. Brewster had made no reference to the large amounts spent in education. The department had been administered on the principle that the state owed the child an education. He had started by changing the school act so as to allow the people to elect their own trustees. Next he had increased the measure of the assistance the government could grant municipalities for the building of schools. Then he provided free text books for the scholars. It was first intended that these text books should be passed on from pupil to pupil. To guard against the danger of infection from such a system it had been decided that the text book became the personal property of the scholar. Next he had taken up the scheme for establishing a university. A magnificent site had been set apart for the university building at Point Grey, and the tender for the first building would be let next week. Technical education had also been taken up, $100,000 having been set aside for this purpose, and a school was being erected at a cost of $350,000 at Victoria for the training of teachers.

Mr. Brewster took no notice of these facts. He preached blue ruin. What would Mr. Brewster do supposing his party was returned to office. He would have to swallow every word of his criticism. His object was not the interests of the people, and of the country, but simply to hurt the government so as to get into power himself. They were not without faults and had made mistakes. They welcomed suggestions and criticisma, but their actions did not warrant the muck-raking they had been subjected to these last few months. The best answer to it all was that the people had already judged them, and have expressed their entire approval of their actions.

British Columbia was on the eve of the greatest era of prosperity it had ever known. There might not be so much speculation in corner lots, but there were unlimited resources to be developed, and the field for legitimate investments in industries and so forth was just opening. It was up to them as the people of the country to take up the great big heritage, and make British Columbia the kingdom it ought to be.

The meeting closed with the singing of God Save the King.

THE SPIRIT OF THE TIMES

What will be the influence of the modern emancipation of women upon marriage and family life? In the long run it will be good. Things will adjust themselves to the new conditions, says the "Women's World" Magazine.

One beneficial effect will be the demand for a higher standard among men. The independant young woman will scorn the dissolute suitor, even as a self-respecting young man now hesitate to take to wife a woman with a shady past.

The more independent economically a woman is, also the more likely she is to make a better choice of a life partner. Many and many a girl has married because it was that or starvation—or worse. If she can support herself in decency and comfort by her own efforts, a girl is not going to marry until she is reasonably sure that such a step will increase her happiness. In the fine, self-supporting young woman is far more likely to drive a better bargain in the marriage mart than did her helpless, dependent sister of yesterday.

There are many tragic homes, many a dull, drab life where a woman's soul is crushed, her spirit broken, her heart dead, all under the cover of marriage, simply because she has been under the ancient grip of old notions of utter subservience. A woman is not a man's slave; she is his equal. The modern woman is going to assert this. The outcome will be more happiness all around.

Will there be fewer marriages? Will there be fewer children? We need not trouble ourselves about such matters. They are in the hands of nature, or better, say God. There may be fewer sordid marriages, fewer brutal matings, fewer wretched economic refugees; but what marriages there are will be more and more intelligent, idealized and productive of daily contentment, in porportion as the woman is free to choose or reject.

What, then, must we do with our girl? We must educate her; train her hand and head, so that she will be no mere "commodity" in the marriage market.

We must encourage her as well as her brother, to have some "aim in life" some occupation in which, if need be she can earn an honest living. She must not be a helpless dependent.

We must teach her preferably in the sanctify of the family, the laws of her being. We must no more confound ignorance with innocence. We dare not send her out into the world a lamb among wolves.

We must teach her that while the time will never come when the noblest, happiest career for a woman is elsewhere than by the side of a man she loves, and ruling over their children in the home, yet the best preparation and insurance for this, is to be so equipped that when the time comes to say yes or no to the demand of love, there will be no social influence, nothing to stain the perfect purity of the uncompelled choice of the heart.

COURTSHIP IN SPAIN

Spain might be termed the land of deliberation, for nothing—especially in courtship and marriage—is done in haste. Indeed in the country towns of Andalusia, a sudden marriage creates great surprise, for as a Spanish writer says, "There is nothing in which procrastination is carried so far in Andulsia as in matter of engagements." The Andalusian peasant (writes Mrs Shier-Mason in the London "Evening Standard") considers well the step he is about to take and this consideration is a very pleasant way of killing time, and time is but of little value in the south of Spain. It is quite a common thing for a man to be engaged ten years. There is also a monetary consideration to be taken into account the marriage fee in Spain being a high one, namely seven or eight dollars.

Before coming to the house of his fiancee, a man has to ask permission of the father to be his daughter's lover. If he gives it, a party is given to celebrate the engagement, at which they drink aguardiente, etc., and eat cakes. Girls are never allowed to walk out with their lovers. No kissing is permitted between them.

Courtship is so public in Spain that there cannot be any difficulty in getting evidence for a breech of promise. A peasant who is sued for a breach of promise, and who has resided in the same province as his fiancee, has to pay so much for every year he has been engaged to her. Nearly all the peasants are illiterate, and have to get friends to write their love-letters for them. When a girl first writes to her lover she only addresses him as "My appreciated John"; she does not think it at all correct to put "My dear John" unless they have been engaged a very long time.

A peasant girl's fiancee always buys the furniture, but the girl's family often takes care of it, which is some guarantee that the wedding will take place. The girls often spend more than two years making their house linen and trousseaux.

Spanish men of the lower class do not make good husbands; perhaps this is why girls appear to care more for their mothers than their husbands. The devotion of daughters to their mothers is very great. Indeed, to be a Spanish mother is to be much adored.

COMMUNITY BREEDING

A question that is commonly asked by dairymen is what breed shall be selected. Before making a choice as to any breed it is well to consider the matter from the community standpoint. Instead of selecting a breed not represented in the community, it is far better to develop a herd of the same breed that already predominates in the locality. Among the advantages of such a system may be mentioned the sale of surplus live stock.

In the older dairy sections the sale of milk products are but a part of the profits derived from the industry as the sale of surplus tock has become an important factor. The demand for dairy cattle throughout the country is very strong and there are certain districts that ate nown as Guernsey, Holstein or Jersey centers, and to these countries buyers from long distances come knowing that they will be able to find what they wish to purchase. In these sections where only breed predominates, community breed associations are formed. Where the subject of breeding is studied and the members are stimulated to take advantage of their opportunities.

By this co-operation, the cost of advertising, official testing for advanced registration is lessened and material advantages are obtained in the buying of feed, the marketing of their dairy products, and the ...ing of disease.

It is of grea importance in regard to breeding animals. It is a welll known fact to dairy breeders that high class bulls are relatively scarce. Many valuable sires have been lost before their owners realized their worth. By trading bulls through the medium of a community association it becomes possible to retain the best bulls in service, not only reducing the expense for this purpose but also makes wide use of the blood that is found to sire especially meritorious animals.

Tommy, new to the country, went fishing in the creek with Luke, the hired man. Tommy returned in the late hours in true fisherman style, empty- handed, but with an excuse. "We had some bites and got three fish right up in the air, but they were little ones, and didn't know how to hold on."

Practical Fashion Hints

By Alice Gibson

7615

The Middy blouse, or Casaquin, as the French call it, is decidedly American in all its lines. It is one of the few garments that the French give us credit for originating. It is not necessary to tell of its comfort, as anyone who has ever worn one fully appreciates that. A new fad, however, is to make this blouse of a colored silk or crepe and wear it for street and informal afternoon affairs, instead of keeping it for sports wear alone, made of linen or a heavy cotton. Taffeta and poplin in bright greens and vivid reds are being used and the blouse is worn with a light colored skirt of serge, linen or one of the novelty cottons. For Summer use, a maize-colored cotton crepe, trimmed with bone buttons and having a striped cotton velvet collar and cuffs, in which there is a darker tone of the yellow, is being shown; it is one of the most effective blouses of this kind seen this season. For sports wear or school, any of these light-colored crepes will be practical, and of course linen is always suitable. This design may be made in size 36 with 2¾ yards of 36-inch material. The pattern is cut in six sizes, 32 to 42.

The pattern may be obtained by sending name and address, pattern No. and size and fifteen cents to DAVID SPENCER LIMITED.

Gentlemen,—In January last, Francis Leclare, one of the men employed by me working in the lumber woods, had a tree fall on him, crushing him fearfully. He was, when found, placed on a sled and taken home, where grave fears were entertained for his recovery, his hips being badly bruised and his body turned black from his ribs to his feet. We used MINARD'S LINIMENT on him freely to deaden the pain and with the use of three bottles he was completely cured and able to return to his work.

AN INSTITUTION WHICH APPROACHES THE IDEAL

An institution unique in the world is the Union Printers' home, located at Colorado Springs, Colorado. It is maintained entirely by the members of the International Typographical union and serves a double purpose a sanitarium where members of the craft suffering from tuberculosis may be treated free of charge and as a home for members of the organization, who, by reason of age are no longer able to earn a living at their trade, may pass their declining days in peace and comfort. No member of the union is admitted to the sanitarium or the home as a matter of charity. The members of the International Typographical union have contributed the money necessary for the establishment of the institution and pay the entire cost of maintenance. The sanitarium belongs to them and every member has a right of admission. It is a home toward which each has contributed his share during the years of strength and prosperity.

The story of the home and its work is told in an illustrated booklet, which has just been issued by the management. This gives pictures of the buildings and the grounds and conveys a very good idea of the beauty of the surroundings and the provisions which have been made for the comfort, convenience and pleasure of the inmates. A feature of the institution which is greatly appreciated is a library consisting of 10,000 volumes donated by members of the international union and by friends of the organization. At present there are about 80 printers 60 years of age or over, in the home and about 70 in the sanitarium. Provision is being made at the present time for the accomodation of an additional 50 patients in the latter.

The work of the International in looking after its aged and disabled members does not stop with the maintenance of this home, however. In addition to those looked after there it pays five dollars per week to over 1,100 aged members of the organization, and in addition make provisions for sick benefits, death benefits, out-of-work benefits, insurance and education of apprentices.

The International Typographical union approaches the ideal in trades unionism. During its 60 years of existence it has revolutionised the conditions under which the printing business is conducted, and at the same time has followed a most progressive policy in regard to providing in the ways outlined above for the comfort and well-being of members of the craft and as far as possible those depending on them. But the home and sanitarium, which has been maintained for the past twenty years is its crowning achievement.

WORLD'S LARGEST STEAMER

Greatest of the ocean giants yet turned out by the shipbuilders of any country, the steamship Vaterland, of the Hamburg-American line, is now rapidly nearing completion on the Elbe. It is the expectation of both the builders and owners to have the great ship ready for her maiden trip across the Atlantic from Hamburg to New York early this spring. The vessel is called a sister-ship to the leviathan Imperator, but she is several thousand tons larger and is much more elegantly finished than the first giant the Hamburg-American line has built.

The Vaterland is 950 feet in length, thirty feet longer than the Imperator which shows that the German shipbuilders are rapidly approaching the 1,000-foot mark. The new liner will have the enormous beam of 100 feet which is by far the greatest breadth any ship has yet been given. She will be of 53,000 tons burden. This great bulk is to be driven through the waters of the Atlantic at a speed of nearly 23 knots, which is one of the greatest achievements ever made in both shipbuilding and engineering skill.

Three Great Funnels.

Some conception of the tremendous size of the Vaterland may be gained from her three great funnels recently placed in position, which rise to a height of 146 feet above the water. The stacks, which are 62 feet in height, are oval in shape, measuring 20x30 feet. Each funnel consists of two parts, an inner funnel and an outer tube, which serves for cooling off. The most powerful derrick ever constructed was required to handle these three gigantic cylinders and set them into place.

The Vaterland and Imperator are to maintain a regular schedule across the Atlantic. They are the finest appointed ships ever constructed.

Studebaker FOUR

The Full-Floating Rear Axle With Full Timken Bearings

Why Studebaker FOUR Sales Are Enormous:

Bluntly—because no car on the market reveals equal value.

Because, for instance, no other car in the world at this price has a full floating rear axle equipped even to the hubs with Timken bearings.

Because this axle could not be made better, no matter how much we were willing to spend, or you were willing to pay.

The same thing is true of Studebaker-Wagner starting and lighting—the cars of highest cost may show its equal—but they cannot show its superior.

The same thing is true of the proportion of parts actually manufactured in the parent plant—the costliest may make as good a showing, but none of them can show more.

The same thing is true of the accuracy of the processes which enter into the manufacturing—they may be equalled in the costliest cars, but they are not surpassed.

We repeat, with added emphasis—the sales of this $1375 FOUR are enormous becaue no car on the earth reveals equal value.

GREAT TENNIS PLAYERS IN WORLD.

There has been a not altogether uninteresting discussion going on recently among tennis players on the subject of the best ten players of the world at the present time. The matter was first brought to notice by "American Lawn Tennis," which published a list in order of merit of the best players. They were as follows: 1, Mr. J. C. Parke; 2, Mr. N. E. Brookes; 3, Mr. A. F. Wilding; 4, Mr. M. E. McLoughlin; 5, Mr. R. N. Williams; 6, Mr. C. P. Dixon; 7, Mr. O. Froitzheim; 8, Mr. S. N. Doust; 9, Mr. A. H. Gobert; 10, Mr. M. Decugis.

Such discussions as these, though of interest, are never satisfactory. It is in many cases, after all said and done, a good deal a matter of opinion as to the relative merits of the best players. The circumstances and environment of a match have always to be taken into consideration and much conjecture hazarded. The American list has been much criticized by several authorities of the game, and, as a natural consequence, many other lists have been compiled and submitted by various people—players and otherwise. The chief cause of dissatisfaction seems to lie in the fact that J. C. Parke had been allotted the first place and Wilding the third, Brookes taking second position. As far as actual performances go, there is unquestionably strong evidence to support the American view. Parke has beaten each of the other four players who are placed in the first five. It is true McLoughlin beat Parke in the world's championship, but the victory of Parke over McLoughlin subsequently in the Davis Cup contest was a fine achievement on the part of the Irishman. His defeat of Wilding in the Northern championships was also a performance of outstanding merit. Good as these successes of his were, neither of them quite equalled his victory over Brookes in Melbourne last year.

Those who further the claims of Wilding to first place can point to the challenge round of the world's championships at Wimbledon, when he defeated McLoughlin in a decisive manner, thus retaining the champion ship. This is a very important point for it clearly showed that Wilding was more competent than Parke to cope with the peculiar and brilliant attack the young American brought to bear against him.

It is unfortunate in a way that Wilding played so few important matches. Parke was playing in tournaments and important matches with but short intervals from beginning to the end of the grass season. One could have arrived at a better estimate of the relative merits of these two players had Wilding met Williams, Brookes, Barrett, or even Parke and McLoughlin a second time. As it is general opinion is disposed to place the first four players on present form as follows: 1, Mr. A.F. Wilding; 2, Mr. J. C. Parke; 3, Mr. M. E. McLoughlin; 4, Mr. N. E. Brookes. As regards the relative merits of Parke and McLoughlin, they could be bracketed together equal second, but if bound to give the preference to one this should go to Parke, who has the finer record.

SUSPENDED TROLLEY JARS

While the use of a suspended car is not altogether new, yet the one now being tried out in California is unique in many ways. The chief point of interest is the fact that it is driven by a huge propeller itself of novel design, which is operated by a 26 horse power gas engine. The car is no mere toy model, but a fifty feet structure of steel and aluminum, which has a carrying capacity of 56 passengers. It is built in a torpedo shape, and will be covered with a light, flexible covering, with celluloid windows. In addition to the propeller in the rear, another will be placed in the front of the car, doubling its power, and acting as an auxiliary in case of breakdown.

The short length of overhead track about a quarter of a mile, has made it impossible to test the new device for speed but it operates perfectly, showing that it is no mere theoretical invention. Forty people have been carried out with ease at one time.

A number of ingenious devices, tilting planes to lighten the car while in motion, apparatus for raising and lowering the car at stations etc., have been designed to perfect this new vehicle.

HUMILATED WOMAN

WOULD NOT ATTEND SOCIAL FUNCTIONS BECAUSE OF HER HAIR.

There are many women in this world, handsome in features, perfect in form, graceful of movement and brilliant of mind, who keep in the background, because they have thin colorless and lustreless hair.

In Paris they understand things about the hair that we do not know in this country. It was a Parisian, Dr. Sangerbond, who discovered that thin hair and dandruff are caused by a microbe.

It is Parisian Sage that proves Dr. Sangerbond's theory to be correct, for it is rigidly guaranteed to kill the dandruff germ and cure dandruff, falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

Parisian Sage is a delightfully pleasing hair dressing and invigorator; it is not sticky or greasy. It should be used from in Spring and Summer as it the scalp clean and cool and free from odors.

Parisian Sage comes in large 50c bottles and is for sale by leading druggists everywhere on the money-back plan. "The Girl with the Auburn Hair" is on every package. Made in Canada by the T. R. Booth Co., Ltd., Fort Erie, Ont.

FRENCH WOULD USE DRASTIC MEASURES

London, May 8.—The record of verbal instructions given by the former secretary of war, Col Seely, to Major-General Paget regarding officers serving against Ulster was issued as an official white paper today. Col. Seely therein said that at the conference at the war office General Paget strongly urged that in the few exceptional cases where officers had a direct family connection with the disturbed area in Ulster, so that in the event of serious trouble arising, their future private relations might be irretrievably compromised if they engaged with their troops against the Ulstermen, these should be permitted to remain behind at Curragh or elsewhere, whence they would be drafted either on leave or in charge of department details. Sir John French and Sir. John Spencer Ewart having expressed their concurrence with this view it was decided that this course be followed.

In all other cases General Paget wished to be able to say that any officers hesitating to comply with orders or threatening to resign should be removed. Sir John French was of the opinion that such officers should be court-martialed, the view which he had urged a year ago. Sir. Spencer Ewart pointed out the technical difficulties and delays that might be involved but the white paper shows that the chief of staff agreed with the war secretary and General Paget that for the present removal should be the course to be followed.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS.

This year for the first time, Nanaimo is selected as one of the cities at which Civil Service examinations will be held next week. The civil service examination will open on Monday and will last three days. They will be held simultaneously throughout Canada and 1,700 candidates will apply. Of this number 710 will try their examinations in Ottawa. The following local candidates are taking the examinations:

For First Class or Qualifying Examination—E. B. Booth, and John Storey.

For Second Class or Preliminary Examination—Robert Gold, George Green, J. W. Crossan, A. Davidson, J. Gilson and Miss Jennie Gold.

First Class certificates were taken in former years by Messrs. J. Shaw, of the Inland Revenue, and Lamont Ross, of the Customs, but on previous occasions the candidates had to travel to Vancouver to take the examination.

ITALY AND UNITED STATES

Rome, May 8.—The signing at Washington of a new peace treaty between the United States and Italy is commented on favorably here. The Corriere d'Italia, in its issue of today, says the matter is one of great importance, particularly as Italy, among powers of Europe, has a deep interest in the labor situation in the United States.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining right of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-west Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Applications for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-agent in the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise.

A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or sub-agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N. B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid.

COMMISSIONER APPOINTED

Victoria, May 8.—Last week the provincial executive had before it the matter of the application of Courtenay, the promising town on the line of the E. & N. Railway in the Comox district, for letters of incorporation. Today the Government decided to appoint Mr. Herbert E. Robertson, barrister, of Vancouver, a royal commissioner under the Public Enquiries Act, to make a full investigation of the situation and report to the Government. Quite a number of the residents in the area which would comprise the boundaries of the proposed municipality, are opposed to the application.

DEPUTATION TO HON. W. BOWSER

Victoria, May 8.—Reeve Murray of Surrey Municipality headed a deputation from that district who today waited on Hon. W. J. Bowser, Attorney-General, on the matter of a special survey of what is known as the Johnson Road. An early decision settling the disputes was promised.

DROWNING ACCIDENT AT VANCOUVER

Vancouver, May 9—Evidently losing his footing while at work this morning on the B.C.E.R. bridge across False creek to Kitsilano, T. Gray, a carpenter's helper, fell into the water below and was swept away by the tide. The body has not yet been recovered, although the police have been searching for it.

The friends of John Lewis, the young man who received severe injuries by being shot on the night of January 15, have arranged to hold a dance next Tuesday night in the Athletic Arena, the object being to raise sufficient money to make him a presentation of an invalid's chair.

The funeral of the late Annie Burgess will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock from Hilbert's undertaking parlors, the services being conducted at the parlors by the Rev. Mr. Bagshaw, at 3:30 o'clock. The pallbearers will be W. Stove, Robt. Stove, Alex. White, Jas. McGregor, Jas. Greenaway and Jas. Pannell.

WIMBORNE TEAM
AGAIN DEFEATED

London, May 9.—Walter S. Buckmaster's polo team today defeated Qaron Wimborne's reconstructed team by nine goals to eight in the final match played at Hurlingham.

The members of the Nanaimo Fire Department wish to thank Mr. A. A. Reiley, manager of the Bijou, for the complimentary ticket which he donated to them in recognition of their attendance to the fire near the theatre last week.

NANAIMO HAD A BUSY DAY

Pay Day in Mines of W. F. Co. Made City Look Like the Good Old Days Before the Strike.

Yesterday might be termed the "Western Fuel Miners' Day." There was a holiday in the mines, in line with the new policy adopted by the company, and the day being pay day for the employees, they were out in force.

If anyone had any doubt that there are a large number of men at work in the local mines they had that idea badly dissipated yesterday. The day was ideal, and yesterday afternoon, particularly in the evening, miners and their wives and children were out in force so that the streets and shops everywhere were crowded. Theatres did a good business, merchants report lively sales, and, altogether, it looked like old times in the city. Men and women were seen walking home laden with parcels of clothing and edibles, including many delicatessens. Friends met friends, and everybody seemed more happy and contented than they have appeared for months.

One seeing the crowds yesterday could not help but be struck with the impression that Nanaimo is coming into her own again. Of course, this condition will not appeal to some of the would-be dictators of the city, but it will appeal to the very large majority and to hundreds of those who, tired of the reign of the trouble-makers, are gradually escaping and are more and more every day announcing their emancipation and liberty of speech and action. Time works many changes and heals many sores, and one hopes that the good old summer time will be the harbinger of better times and brighter days for the victims to date of those who would put "Nanaimo on the hog."

ISLAND SQUADRON IS ORGANIZED

Thirty-First Regiment of B. C. Horse Will be Officially Announced in This Week's Issue of Gazette.

Announcement was made during the week of official approval of the organization of the island squadron of the 31st. Regiment of B. C. Horse and the next gazette will contain the official notice.

No new military unit on the coast ever was formed under such favorable auspices. At the present date, before the squadron is gazetted, there are only two or three vacancies in the ranks. There are fewer than a dozen among the 60 odd applicants, who have not had previous service, and the number of men who have had active service is almost 50 per cent. of those with previous military experience. Every man is an expert horseman and no other applicants are considered. In addition the class of men entering the regiment is of the highest, the officers and men alike numbering among them some of the best known and most prominent citizens of Victoria.

During the week the men who are doing much to organize the squadron have accomplished one big achievement, obtaining horses. Arrangements have been made whereby there will be over 60 horses available for every drill, the horses being loaned by various owners in and around Victoria.

As has been previously announced, Capt. Bapty, M. D., will be commander of the squadron with the rank of Major. Dr. Bapty saw service in South Africa with the second Canadian contingent. He was attached to the R. C. F. A. under Major Eaton, who is at present conducting the staff course at Work Point Barracks. He was also in the Canadian Scouts under Major "Gat" Howard, of Northwest rebellion fame At present he holds the rank of captain in the Army Medical Corps, and is attached to the 88th Regiment.

W.W. Foster, M.P.P., for the Islands, will be captain of the squadron. While not a service man he has

TODAY IS "MOTHER'S DAY"
A Prayer for All Mothers.
(by Prof. W. Rauschenbusch.)

"Oh God, we offer Thee praise and benediction for the sweet ministries of motherhood in human life. We bless Thee for our own dear mothers who built up our life by theirs; who bore us in travail, and loved us the more for the pain we gave; who nourished us at their breasts, and hushed us to sleep in the warm security of their arms. We thank Thee for their tireless love, for their voiceless prayers, for the agony with which they followed us through our sins and won us back by the Christly power of sacrifice and redemption in motherlove. We pray Thee to forgive us if in thoughtless selfishness we have taken their love as our due without giving the tenderness which they craved as their sole reward. and if the great treasure of a mother's love is still spared to us, may we do for her feebleness what she did for ours."

KIDDIES TO HAVE A GOOD TIME

Splendid Array of Prizes Will be Awarded to Children On Cricket Grounds on Twenty-Fourth of May.

Mrs. Martindale and committee in charge of the childrens' competition in the 24th of May parade on the Cricket Grounds, are rapidly getting arrangements in shape. The committee has awarded quite a number of prizes this year for the parade, which let it be thoroughly understood will be held on the grounds only and not through the streets as last year. The following is a list of prizes for the various competitions in the parade:

BOYS

Best comic group of not more than four; first and second prizes.

Best comic character, single; first and second prizes.

Best decorated bicycle; first and second prizes.

Wrestling match (comic) White Hope vs Jack Johnson.

GIRLS

Best character from Mother Goose tales.

Best group of not more than four from Mother Goose tales.

The last two events, like all the other events will have substantial prizes for the winners.

The children, like everyone else connected with the celebration this year, are determined to make their part of the big celebration the best that has yet been attempted in Nanaimo. Further particulars of the contests for the parade will be announced later.

PROGRAM FOR TWENTY-FOURTH

General Committee Meets On Monday Night to Definitely Arrange Program For Celebration of Victoria Day.

A meeting of the general committee of the 24th. of May celebration will be held on Monday evening at the close of the regular Council meeting. The meeting will be held in the Council chambers and will commence at about 9:15, and as it is a most important one, every member of the general committee is urged to be in attendance.

The collectors who have been canvassing the city for subscriptions in support of the proposed celebration will make their report to Monday's meeting, and submit the estimated receipts so that the amount of expenditure may be definately fixed and the program of sports arranged accordingly.

The collections this year will break all records and the celebration will be on a bigger scale than heretofore attempted.

LOCAL FIRM GETS A BIG ORDER

New Ladysmith Lumber Company's Mill at Ladysmith Receives Order For Five Million Shingles.

Some days ago announcement was made in these columns of the large order for lumber received by the New Ladysmith Lumber Co. from an eastern firm and which would be the first shipment of lumber to pass through the Panama Canal. The same company has received an order for 5,000,000 shingles, which will be cut in the Ladysmith mill and also shipped through the Panama canal. Mr. Roy Nason, the Ladysmith superintendent of the mill, has been getting the mill ready for a long run, and last night completed the final repairs. On Monday morning the mill will start on the big order, and it is expected that it will take three months to cut the shingles, which will be 18 inches in length and nearly half an inch at the butt. This is said to be one of the largest ever given for shingles in British Columbia, and may be regarded as the forerunner of the big things that are likely to occur with the opening of the Panama canal.

ALLEGES LOTTERY TICKET FRAUD.

Havana, May 9.—A sensation was created in the House of Representatives last night when Representative Sagaro announced that a big fraud was being perpetrated with lottery tickets by the printing of two series, one genuine for the Cuban Government and the other spurious for sale abroad. Senor Sagaro said the persons sending abroad the spurious tickets were reaping a profit of $70,000 a month. The directors of the lottery in a statement asserted that no illegal tickets were being issued.

Mr. J. S. McGregor returned last evening from a business trip to the

MOUNT AETNA WORKS HAVOC

Dozen Villages Destroyed and Over Hundred Lives Lost in Earthquake and Volcanic Eruption.

Catania, Sicily, May 9.—Earthquake and volcanic eruption followed by fire, destroyed twelve or more villages on the slope of Mount Etna last night. The disaster caused the death of at least 100 persons and the number of injured will reach several hundred. Refugees declare the property loss is as great as in the Messina disaster of 1908.

Railroad tracks were torn up, churches raised from the ground, houses shaken to ruin and telegraph poles overturned over a radius of several miles around Catania. Terror-stricken people rushed from the villages into Catania before daybreak today, bringing stories of ruin and disaster.

The villages of Linera and Consentini were transformed into heaps of ruins. At Zafferana every house was destroyed. Enormous damage was caused at Santa Venerina. Roofs fell in and walls collapsed in the hamlets of Santa Maria Ammalati, Carico, Guardia, Margano, Santa Tecla and Bongardio. The village of Santa Maria Vergine Catena was razed.

Fifty persons are known to have been killed in the village of Linera, which was destroyed. Among the ruins of Passopomo, Bongiardo and Malati twenty bodies have been founh this morning.

Interruption of railroads and telegraphs made it impossible to obtain any accurate details as to the loss of life.

Official reports late today placed the number of dead at 135 and the injured at 283. These figures will probably be increased by more complete advices from the wrecked villages.

MILITARY FUNERAL FOR GENERAL SICKLES

Washington, May 9.—All the honors of war were paid to the late Major-General Daniel E. Sickles, who was buried today in Arlington National Cemetery.

WILLIAM J. SUTTON PASSED AWAY

Victoria, May 9.—W. J. Sutton, of this city, geologist for the Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir), Ltd., dropped dead from apoplexy at Uclulet, west coast of Vancouver Island, today.

The deceased was a native of Kincardine, Ont., aged 55 years, and was educated at Trinity Collegiate School Cornell; Columbia School of Mines, New York, and Michigan College of Mines. He came to British Columbia in 1877 and has taken a prominent part in the development of Vancouver Island. He was for a number of years mineralogist for the Provincial Government.

IMMIGRANTS AND THE FRANCHISE.

Toronto, May 9.—In a paper read before the Daughters of the Empire here yesterday, Mrs. W. J. Brown expressed the opinion that the law should be changed which gives the immigrants a vote after three years in the country, except in the case of British immigrants. It is dangerous she said to give the vote to such men, who are but tools in the hands of unscrupulous politicians. One irresponsible foreign vote kills the vote of one Canadian.

SMITH—RICHARDSON

At St. Andtew's Presbyterian Manse yesterday afternoon, Rev. Dr. McLennan united in marriage Mr. Thomas Smith, Ireland, and Miss Asther Seadonia Richardson, daughter of Mr. Beojamin Richardson, both of the contracting parties being residents of South Wellington.

The young couple were attended by Mr. James Smith, brother of the groom, and Mr. Benjamin Richardson brother of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will take up their residence in South Wellington.

SAYS HUSBAND LACKED
COURAGE FOR CRIME

San Francisco, May 9.—Mrs. Rosalie Gober confessed to the police that she and her husband, John T. Preston, snared and robbed Edward B. Preston, a realty dealer at the Presidio Tuesday night, and that she planned and generalled the scheme. The two were arrested last night after Preston had done some detective work for three nights.

Preston told the police that he was relieved of $394 in cash, a diamond stickpin and a gold watch, but the woman said that all she got for her risk was $5. She accused her husband of lacking courage to carry out his just share of the crime she plotted.

SEATTLE PHYSICIAN
FOUND UNCONSCIOUS.

Seattle, May 9.—Dr. Louis H. Redon, a physician with offices here was picked up unconscious in the alley behind the White building at 12:30 o'clock this morning and taken to the city hospital, where it was found that he had suffered the fracture of several ribs and possible fracture of the skull. His recovery, it is said at the hospital is extremely doubtful. The manner in which he received his injuries is still a mystery.

LAID AT REST

The funeral of the late Elizabeth Fielding took place yesterday afternoon from the resihence of Mr. R. Isbister, Chase River, services being conducted at the home and graveside by Rev. Dr. McLennan. The pallbearers were J. Greenawaw, G. Wilson, H. Mackie, W. Haappala, A. Mackie and H. Haappala.

TEMPLARS DEFEATED
PRESBYTERIANS.

In an exhibition game of football played on the Cricket Grounds yesterday the Templars defeated the Presbyterians by a score of 4 to 2. The game was keenly contested, half time score standing one goal each. For the winners Dunsmore scored three goals and H. Calverly 1,, the scorers for the Presbyterians being Wilson and Waugh, the latter converting a penalty kick.

CLOSE FOR ONE HOUR.

New York, May 9.—The stock exchange governors voted today to close the exchange from 10 to 11 a. m. Monday in honor of the Vera Cruz dead.

JURY TALKS THIRTEEN HOURS AND DISAGREES.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., May 8.—The jury disagreed in the Larue murder trial this morning after being out 13 hours, and the case is adjourned to the fall assizes. Larue was charged with killing his wife and putting her body in the river.

NANAIMO LOST LEAGUE GAME

Local Cricketers Journeyed to Duncan Yesterday and Lost to Cowichan C. C. by Small Margin.

The Nanaimo Cricket Club opened its season in the Island Cricket League yesterday with a match at Duncan against the Cowichan Club. After a close and at all times interesting game the home eleven failed to reach the Cowichan score by 15 runs the latter taking the game by 86 runs to 71. There was still time to go after the conclusion of the first innings and Cowichan began a second time with the bat. For a time things were more than exciting. The Cowichan bats failed utterly and it looked as though the game might yet be pulled out of the fire. The first wicket fell for 2 runs, the second for 4, the third and fourth. for 9, the fifth for 13, and the six best bats of the side were all sent back tothe pavilion for only 17 runs. Then came a slight slackening of the bowling, some hard lusty hitting by Bagnall and MacBeam, and the game was again tolerably safe. The visiting side were left with 92 runs to get to win and less than 50 minutes to make them. Hitting orders were given, but against excellent bowling, backed up by really brilliant fielding the task was too much and the side went down to defeat in a regular slogging bee.

Under such circumstances the play was always interesting, and almost to the last the issue was in doubt. Luck played no part in the result. As on two previous occasions, when Nanaimo has played Cowichan at Duncan Hayward, the brilliant Cowichan wicketkeeper came to the rescue of his side and saved the day. Out of a total of 78 made with the bat he hit 42 himself. Without his score the Cowichan eleven would have been badly beaten. On the Nanaimo side Leighton was in great form with the ball. He took 9 wickets in the first innings at a cost of only 21 runs, and his average would have been even better had he had better support in the field. Altogether it was a very creditable opening performance for the local team. The following are the first innings scores:

MOTHER'S DAY

Today will be observed as Mother's Day in the churches throughout Canada and the United States. The idea was first taken up about six years ago, and the observance of the day has become more general ever since. The main conception in the mind of the originator, Mrs. Sangster, the well-known writer, was to emphasize the glory of motherhood, and to revere the memory of the mother. It is no wonder that the observance of such a day should be gaining in strength. No influence lives longer in a man's life, or does more to mould and color his character and his career than that of his first and last and truest friend. The custom is peculiarly applicable to a new country such as we live in where so many men and women are separated from their mothers by thousands of miles. A man in the hurly-burly of life and business may grow lax and neglectful in his attentions and remembrances, but never does he outgrow his mother's influence and slight occasion is needed to revive the memory of his mother in all its strength and reverence. All honor to the name and memory of mother.

DR. YOUNG'S SPEECH

The success attending the Conservative smoker on Friday night augurs well for the future of the Conservative cause in Nanaimo. Not only was the attendance all that could be desired, but it was remarkably representative in character and encouragingly enthusiastic in spirit. Certainly it provided no justification for the pessimistic criticisms of the Liberal press and the Liberal leaders, while it went far to prove how empty and hollow are the Liberal claims that the government is losing its hold on its supporters. Dr. Young had a pleasant and an easy task in explaining and justifying the actions and policies of the government. He spoke with splendid point and lucidity, and his remarks were keenly appreciated by the large audience. He penetrated right to the heart of the Liberal criticism when he stated that it was actuated and designed by the one motive and for the single purpose of blackening the government so as to get into office. The Liberal critics overshoot the mark altogether In their desperation they allow themselves to be carried into the most damaging positions. The policies they are assailing have already been submitted to the judgment of the electorate, and the Liberal opposition to them brought about the annihilation of the party. Still the experience has taught them no further wisdom. In fact, they are floundering into bigger mistakes than ever. British Columbia has suffered in proportion from the wave of depression which swept over the whole world. The Liberals are using this common experience to preach blue ruin. Their opposition to the government's rail way policy has carried them to a denial of the resources of the province. This, at least, is the logical outcome of their attitude. If the Canadian Northern railway is to prove a hopeless commercial failure then any kind of railway policy would have been a mistake. If the Canadian Northern is to prove an unprofitable undertaking then the province cannot support railway development. No British Columbian believes this in his heart, and to assert the contrary is a crime against the province. There is neither excuse nor warrant in present conditions for preaching blue ruin. We believe that Dr. Young was emphatically right in his statement that British Columbia is on the eve of greater prosperisy than it has ever before enjoyed. Progressive and development work is being pushed ahead in every direction and in every channel of industry. No one can fairly estimate what will be the effects in this province of the opening of the Panama Canal and the operation of the two transcontinental lines now nearing completion. It is true that the boom in western real estate has died out. This in itself is not a bad thing for the province or the people in it. Money is now going into legitimate investments in the shape of new industries, and the result will be to quicken and further the development of the resources of the province. Dr. Young was right in claiming that the policies of the government had been fashioned with a provident regard for future developments, and the government can safely await the verdict of time.

The Nationalist party is holding a big stick over Premier Asquith. According to a London dispatch sixty-five members of the party have prepared and delivered an ultimatum to the Liberal leader. They will agree to no further concessions to Ulster than the proposed exclusion for six years. If the Unionists refuse to accept this basis of settlement, then the Home Rule Bill must be passed as it is. If there is any delay by the government then these Nationalists will abstain from voting. It does not transpire that any of the Nationalist leaders had anything to do with the preparation of this ultimatum. Similar pronouncements have been made by the "die-hards" in the ranks of the Unionists. In the end, however, the rank and file usually yield obedience to their leaders and accept their decisions. Premier Asquith's task at present is sufficiently difficult without the addition of further complications. In any case this ultimatum might well have been reserved until the termination of the conversations between the Liberal, Unionist and Nationalist leaders. So far it must be admitted that the Nationalists have acted with admirable restraint and moderation during the whole trying crisis. Now when at last there are some prospects of a satisfactory settlement it would be regrettable indeed if the Nationalists spoiled the situation.

OperaHouse

The Opera House played to crowded houses last night the new prices and the class of shows being put on proving popular.

There will be a change of program tomorrow. Godfrey and Washburn, two ladies, who specialize in singing and dancing, will be here. The act is a novelty in that both performers are women. The other vaudeville turn is Bill Blaisdell, a singing and talking comedian who is making a hit throughout the circuit.

The rest of the program will include the usual four reels of pictures.

LIFE THREATENED BY KIDNEY DISEASE

His Health In A Terrible State Until He Took "Fruit-a-tives"

B. A. KELLY, Esq.

HAGERSVILLE, ONT., Aug. 26th, 1913.

"About two years ago, I found my health in a very bad state. My kidneys were not doing their work, and I was all run down in condition. I felt the need of some good remedy, and having seen "Fruit-a-tives" advertised, I decided to try them. Their effect I found more than satisfactory. Their action was mild and the result all that could be expected.

"My kidneys resumed their normal action after I had taken upwards of a dozen boxes and I regained my old-time vitality. Today, I am as well as ever, the best health I have ever had".

B. A. KELLY

"Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest Kidney remedy in the world. It acts on the bowels and the skin as well as the Kidneys and thereby soothes and cures any Kidney soreness.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c, or will be sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

PIPE FREEZING IS PREVENTED

One of the most annoying and troublesome things to be met each winter in farm and country life is the question of frozen water pipes writes a contributor to the Country Gentleman. This is especially so in districts where there is no gas line and the plumbing is unprotected and open.

"Each winter for several years I was given all kinds of trouble and extra work in this way as soon as the thermometer reached the freezing point or lower. After much experimenting I finally hit upon the easiest, most inexpensive and surest way to keep the frost off the pipes. I have recommended it to many persons who have tried it and found it saves many repair bills.

"Melt an equal quantity of petrolatum—vasoline—and of parafin wax together and after wiping the pipes perfectly dry apply with an old brush a thick coat of this mixture while it is hot. An old lamp or torch will easily keep it in a liquid state."

"You will find that no matter how cold the weather may get, the frost cannot penetrate this coat of grease. I have used this on water pipes that ran along the ground unprotected and not once during the coldest weather did they freeze up or give me the least trouble."

Write Stories For Moving Picture Plays

New, Spare-time Profession for Men and Women—One Man Makes $3500 in Six Months.

Owing to the large number of new motion picture theatres which are being opened throughout the country, there is offered to the men and women of today, a new profession namely, that of writing moving picture plays. Producers are paying from $25 to $150 for each scenario accepted upon which they can build a photo play.

$3500 in Six Months.

As it only requires a few hours' time to construct a complete play, you can readily see the immense possibilities in this work. One man who gave the idea a tryout, writes that he earned $3500 in six months. It is possible for an intelligent person to meet with equal success.

One feature of the business which should appeal to everyone, is that the work may be done at home in spare time. No literary ability is required and women have as great an opportunity as men. Ideas for plots are constantly turning up, and may be put in scenario form and sold for a good price.

WOMAN WANTS DAMAGES FOR LOSS OF APPENDIX.

An amusing story of Abdul Hamid, ex-sultan of Turkey, is related by the Paris Journal. One of his daughters was suffering from appendicitis. An operation was necessary. But before he would allow this to be performed Abdul Hamid required proof of the surgeon's skill.

Accordingly the surgeon removed the appendix from a woman who was in a hospital suffering from a disease of the ear. The operation was successful, and the ex-sultan consented to the operation [illegible] made on his daughter. The woman, however, experienced regrets, that she had allowed herself to be "vivisected," and claimed damages from Abdul Hamid (the restitution of her appendix being impossible). No decision has yet been reached in this delicate matter.

SPORTING NOTES

Biddy Bishop, the Tacoma sport writer, is sweet on the Spokane team. He says Mike Lynch has a fast squad this season and one that will just about win the pennant.

Walter Johnson wins about thirty-five and loses about seven games in a season. That is to say that on the average of six games pitched he wins five and loses one. Of course his victories and defeats are not evenly divided among the other clubs, but as a general proposition the odds are 5 to 1, that he will beat any aggregation against which he starts.

Gentlemen,—In January last, Francis Leclare, one of the men employed by me working in the lumber woods, had a tree fall on him, crushing him fearfully. He was, when found, placed on a sled and taken home, where grave fears were entertained for his recovery, his hips being badly bruised and his body turned black from his ribs to his feet. We used MINARD'S LINIMENT on him freely to deaden the pain and with the use of three bottles he was completely cured and able to return to his work.

VOLUME XIV NANAIMO, VANCOUVER ISLAND, BRITISH COLUMBIA, TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 12, 1914 NUMBER 57

CITY COUNCIL IN SESSION

Last Night's Meeting of City Fathers Was Lengthy One and Number of Inportant Questions Were Discussed.

The City Council met in regular session last evening, present Aid. McKinnell, McKenzie, Ferguson, Killeen, Young, Forrester, Cavalsky, Crossan and Busby; His Worship, Mayor Planta presiding.

A communication was received from the Nanaimo Board of Trade, requesting the City Council to amend the Streets Traffic Bylaw, regulating the rates charged by expressmen.

On motion of Ald. Forrester, seconded by Ald. Busby the communication was referred to the Street Committee for investigation and report.

Dr. W. F. Drysdale wrote the Council as follows:

Gentlemen,—I beg to advise you that there has occurred two suspected cases of Rabies in Cowichan District and we are keeping a strict lookout for any dogs that may come or may go to or from the affected district so as to prevent if possible any outbreak of that disease in our city.

Ald. Forrester moved, seconded by Ald. Young the communication be referred to the Sanitary Committee to take what action was necessary.

The motion was adopted.

Mr. J. A. Baxter wrote the Council as follows:

Dear Sirs,—I hereby tender to regrade Nicol street as plans, taking the material from cut between Grace and Finlayson streets and distributing the whole length of Nicol street to grade to be given, also lowering sewer and connections and relay sidewalks for the sum of four thousand six hundred and seventy-seven dollars ($4677.00).

Yours truly,

J. A. BAXTER.

On motion of Ald. McKenzie, seconded by Ald. Cavalsky, the communication was received and filed.

Ratepayers on Prideaux street north requested the street be graded and sidewalks constructed in that section.

The petition was referred to the Street Committee to take the necessary steps to have the work done, on motion of Ald. Young.

Property owners on Wesley and Selby streets petitioned an alleyway be made between Franklyn and Fitzwilliam streets, under the provisions of the Local Improvement General Bylaw.

On motion of Ald. Forrester, the petition was referred to the City Clerk to ascertain if the petition had the required number of signatures.

The Finance Committee submitted the Warrant Book for the month of April, carrying the following accounts:

Public Works	$1418.05
Water Works	848.57
City Offices	419.15
City Jail	739.80
Schools	3307.06
Fire Department	279.10
Nanaimo Cemetery	292.55
Street Lighting	478.00
Municipal Council	260.00
Militia	105.37
City Engineer's Office	82.60
Miscellaneous	1450.50
Total	$9,688.60

The Street Committee submitted the following report:

Gentlemen,—Your Streets Committee begs to recommend that the front of the Fire Hall be cemented where the present board platform is, and that the sidewalk be completed around the block connecting Victoria road with Nicol street, also a catch basin be installed to take away water used in cleaning Fire Trucks, hose etc., for which there is a 6 inch pipe already in position, at a cost of $90 apportioned as follows: sidewalks charge, $30.00, Fire Hall charge, $60.00.

Respectfully submitted,
HY. McKENZIE,
W. J. FERGUSON,
Streets Committee.

On motion of Ald. McKenzie, seconded by Ald. Ferguson the report of the Committee was adopted.

The following report was submitted by the Street Committee:

Gentlemen,—With reference to the storm drain discharging under Fletcher's store, which was referred to us, your Streets Committee begs to report that the 14 in. storm water drain running down Albert street conveys the waste water from the fans of the Quennell school, discharging into a tank in front of the Oddfellow's Block. The Brewery has no connection with this 14 inch pipe from Dunsmuir street. This tank also receives the waste water from the brewery which is carried by a 6 inch pipe running 3 feet from blacksmiths shop at north east corner of brewery building down Wallace street and into said tank direct. This tank is drained by a 20 inch vitrified pipe which passes along Commercial street and discharges into a bell under Fletcher's music stire. This pipe has no connection whatever with the 24-inch which disposes of the tidal water from the ravine. The bell before mentioned also receives the storm water from Commercial street north of Fletcher's store.

Street Foreman McKenzie reports that at the time Mr. Fletcher was on the Council he agreed to have the Commercial street storm drain go under his premises with the provisio that it be concreted over in case of his rebuilding.

Regarding the disposal of waste water from the brewery, in view of the fact that this water is fetid it is recommended that connection to the storm drain be discontinued and direct connection along Dunsmuir street to the Albert street sewer main be made as soon as possible.

Respectfully submitted,
HY. McKENZIE,
W. J. FERGUSON,
J. R. McKINNELL,
Streets Committee.

The report of the committee was adopted on motion of Ald. McKenzie seconded by Ald. McKinnell.

The City Engineer and Health Officer reported on the condition of the Old City Jail premises.

The matter was referred to a Special Committee to see if it be possible to secure temporary jail premises, His Worship appointing Ald. Crossan, McKinnell and Young, the committee.

City Engineer Owen reported an expenditure in wages during the week of $150.00 on streets account, and $66.25 on waterworks account.

Permission was granted Ald. McKinnell to introduce a bylaw authorizing the borrowing of $30,000 for sewerage purposes. The bylaw passed the first and second readings and will be considered in committee at the next regular meeting.

On motion of Ald. Busby, the Council decided to hold a Court of Revision on June 15th, to hear appeals against the assessments.

Council then adjourned.

OLD CITY JAIL IS CONDEMNED

City Engineer Owen and Health Officer Drysdale Report to Council on Condition of Nanaimo Jail.

At a meeting of the City Council a week ago the question of the old City Jail premises was considered, the matter being referred to the City Engineer and Health Officer who reported to the Council at last night's meeting, as follows:

Gentlemen,—In accordance with your instructions of the 4th inst., I made an appointment with Dr. W.F. Drysdale, the Medical Health Officer, and we have made an exhaustive examination of the whole premises of the City Jail and beg to report jointly as follows:

Foundations are nearly all wood and in a poor condition; there is a lot of seepage which comes from the bank, (i. e. street above) which is partly stopped by the building and forms a slimy pool, the balance evidently goes under the floor of the living quarters of the Police Sergeant with the result that there is a fusty smell and general feeling of dampness in the whole of the living quarters; the walls are damp and some of the plaster has come down through rain water working its way from the roof of the building downwards. The ventilation is extremely poor, the woodwork dilapidated and the whole of such living quarters not fit to live in.

There are seven cells below the ones used at present. These cells have not been used for years and are in a dilapidated and dirty condition they are antiquated in style, built cheaply with innumerable cracks, which form receptacles for all kinds of filth. The sanitary arrangements are nil, and the ventilation is of the poorest, these remarks apply also to the recreation corridor in connection with such cells.

The Pound Yard is in a fair condition, but the building for accommodating dogs, horses, etc., are old and dilapidated and the big fence is in a rotten condition.

The upper storey of cells, which are the ones at present in use, consist of similar compartments as the ones on the storey below, but are not all used as cells. The first one is utilized as a store room, the second as a lavatory. There are three male cells and one female cell, the last one being partitioned off completely and having access from a separate stairway from the outside.

The whole of this series of cells and the corridor are in a very bad condition. The construction is poor, and about the most unsanitary it is possible to have. The cracks in the walls offer the finest inducement for the accummulation of filth, etc. The ventilation is of the very poorest. The bedding, etc., is unsanitary, the walls are dirty, and are so surfaced that it would be a most difficult thing to properly clean them. The lavatory should not be where it is. The corridor is badly ventilated and walls are as above mentioned.

The present quarters of the Caretaker form the last one of the above mentioned cells and his living room a portion of the old corridor walled off, they are both in a condition previously mentioned and condemned as living quarters.

There is an old room attached to the lower series of cells, which it is presumed was a kitchen, this is generally dirty and unfit to do anything with at all.

The approach under the Police Station is utilized for the storage of coal, wood, etc., it should be condemned altogether.

The present Police Court can only be described as being generally in a bad condition, the lighting is bad, ventilation bad, woodwork old and generally dilapidated.

The Chief's room, and Witness' room are in a very bad condition, ventilation poor, woodwork old, some of the plaster down and floor undulatory.

The roof of the building is rotten, rain pours through both floors, and is the cause of the plaster coming off the walls in the Police Sergeant's quarters.

Inasmuch that the report calls for an all-round condemnation of the premises taken from both structural and sanitary standpoints, we cannot but recommend the whole structure be condemned altogether.

We have the honor to be,
Your obedient servants,
W. A. OWEN, City Engineer.
W. F. DRYSDALE,
Medical Health Officer.

The above report was adopted by the Council and a special committee appointed to look into the matter of securing new temporary jail premises pending the purchase of the site of the present jail and the erection thereon of an up-to-date and commodious structure.

A special meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Wallace street Methodist church will be held in the Bible Class Room, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

HOPE SPRINGS ETERNAL IN THE HUMAN BREAST

The above photograph shows a crowd waiting above shaft No. 5 at Eccles, W. Va., where 180 miners last their lives. Ninety-seven men are still missing and though no hope is expressed for their being alive; the loved ones have not lost hope, and will not, until their charred remains are brought home. A terrific explosion caused this latest and most severe mine disaster, and the deadly fumes belched forth from the debris accomplished the ghastly work perfectly.

QUEEN PLEASANT IS THE CHOICE

Pleasant Baxter Elected by Nanaimo Schools to be May Queen for 1914-1915 Is Native Daughter.

The ballots for the May Queen for 1914-1915 term of office were counted yesterday afternoon in Mr. Thos. Hodgson-s office and the choice fell upon Miss Pleasant Baxter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Baxter, Robart street. As a consequence Queen Pleasant will be crowned by her loyal subjects on May 25, the coronation to take place on the Cricket Grounds, in connection with the big celebration planned for Victoria Day.

Voting for the candidates was close and Miss Dorothy Bate and Miss Dorothy Armitage made good runs, Being second and third in the race they will act as Maids of Honor at the ceremonies.

Queen Pleasant, who succeeds Queen Winnie Thorne, is fifteen years of age, a brunette, and her disposition, like her name, is pleasant. She is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Baxter and a native of Nanaimo. She is a pupil at Quennell school in Miss Mebius' room.

Queen Pleasant is a worthy successor to Queen Winnie who has ruled her many subjects with dignity and credit during the past year.

The ballots for the contest were counted by Mrs. Skinner, Mr. Thos. Hodgson and representatives of the press.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS TO HOLD BIG RALLY

On Sunday, May 24, there will be a grand rally of all the Nanaimo Sunday School scholars at St. Andrew's church commencing at 3 p.m. It is expected to make this one of the biggest rallies ever held in Nanaimo.

The Rev. S. J. Thompson, pastor of the Wallace street Methodist church will deliver the address, taking as his topic "Influence of Queen Victoria."

The program is as follows:

Opening Hymn—"Onward Christian Soldiers."

Prayer.

O Canada.

Recitation—"Be Thorough", Robt. Lee.

Solo (Selected) Evan Jones.

Song—By class of St. Andrew's S. S. Scholars.

Address—"Influence of Queen Victoria", Rev. S. J. Thompson.

Singing—"Jesus Loves Me", by schools.

Recitation—Mr. Gaylor.

Chorus—By Indian scholars in their own language.

National Anthem.

"Benediction".

THE GRADING OF ALBERT STREET

J. A. Baxter is Lowest Tenderer For Grading of Albert Street—Five Tenders Were Received.

The tender of Mr. Alex. Baxter for the grading of Albert street has been accepted by the Council and provided the ratepayers affected are agreeable, the work of grading the street will be gone on with at once.

In connection with the work the following report was submitted to the Council at last night's meeting:

Gentlemen,—Referring to your instructions issued to me at the last meeting of the Council, I beg to attach a tabulation sheet of the Albert street tenders. The difference in totals varies from $17856.00 to $22000 The classification prices of the lowest tenderer are very reasonable figures with the exception of his figures for reinforced concrete which is rather low. His figure for Albert street grading as you will know is $1300.00 less than any other tenderer.

Messrs. Moore &Pethick of Victoria in submitting their total of $2200.00 had agreed to fill to grade and build a reinforced concrete retaining wall along Prideaux street from Albert street to the E. & N. intersection, and to include that work in their figure, but as I estimate that that work can be come for $3200, it still leaves them as high tenderers.

Mr. J. A. Baxter has forwarded me a letter addressed to the Nanaimo City Council regarding his bond for the work.

I have the honor to be,
Your obedient servant,
W. A. OWEN, City Engineer.

The several tenderers received were tabulated by the City Engineer, the cost to the several streets affected being apportioned as follows:

DEATH BY FOUL PLAY

Quebec, May 11.—Another death from foul play occurred here yesterday afternoon when Leonidas St. Philaire died at the residence of his father on Franklin street from a fracture of the skull. The autopsy proved the wound to be inflicted with a strong piece of metal.

DAVIS APPEAL DISMISSED

Ottawa, May 11.—The appeal of Davis, sentenced to be hung for the murder of constable Archibald, was dismissed by the Supreme Court, today.

FRENCH SOCIALISTS GAIN SEVERAL SEATS.

Paris, May 11.—There was balloting yesterday in 352 constituencies in which there was no result in the balloting for members of the chamber of deputies April 26.

It appears certain that the full results, which will not be available until late on Monday, will show that the Socialists in the chamber have increased their number from thirty-five to fifty and possibly more.

YOUNG SAYLOR WINS OVER HUGH MEHEGAN.

Sydney, N.S.W., May 11.—Young Saylor, the American lightweight tonight knocked out Hughie Meghan the Australian champion, in the 12th round. Just as he was falling a police officer ordered the referee to stop the contest.

Melbourne, May 11.—Lee Johnson was given the decision over Charlie Simpson here tonight. The decision was unpopular, the fans declaring that Simpson had won. Johnson's right hand was useless throughout the contest. At the finish the police were called upon to quell an incipient riot.

SOCCER HONORS FOR NORTHFIELD

Nanaimo United Lost Football Championship of Canada to Northfield Violets After Hard Contested Game

The Northfield Violets are the proud possessors of the People's Shield, the trophy which for many years has been emblematic of the association football championship of Canada. The shield first came to the west about four years ago, when the Calgary Caledonians captured it in a tournament with the pick of the eastern teams. The year following the Caledonians defended the shield in Vancouver, beating Ladysmith in the final match. The shield was again hung up for competition in Vancouver, and Nanaimo United, following a long string of successes in other contests, carried it off from the pick of the players of the Terminal City.

When the date of the annual competition came round this year the usual announcements were made. Unfortunately no outside entries were received, and the competition was restricted to three local elevens, namely Nanaimo United, Athletics and Northfield. The first two teams met on Sunday afternoon, Uniteds taking the game by 3 goals to 1. Last night they met the Northfield boys and lost a hard match by one only goal of the game.

Northfield Violets are thus the premier team in the Dominion and are fully entitled to the honors they have won. It is not an easy task to keep a club going in such a small township as Northfield, but the boys kept together and have always put up a great fight for anything they competed for. Their success will encourage them to continue and there was a general feeling of satisfaction that their gallant fight in local football should have been so richly rewarded. More power to Northfield.

As for Uniteds they put up their old stubborn fight and it must be said played out of luck. It was

WOULD SUBMIT LIBRARY BYLAW

City Council and Board of Trade Committees Recommend that Library Bylaw be Submitted to People.

A committee from the city council and the library committee of the Board of Trade held a conference yesterday in reference to the proposal of a free library for Nanaimo.

According to letters received from the Carnegie Corporation, the city may have $50,000 for the building of a public library and the first start in books, the city to provide for the maintenance of the building afterwards.

Before anything can be done in the matter the question of whether the city wants a public library has to be submitted to the people in the shape of a bylaw and in the opinion of the committee it was considered this should be done as soon as convenient, the vote to be taken at the time other bylaws are submitted in order that there be no unnecessary expense. The committee were of the opinion that as it was not likely the building in event of the electorate wanting it would be built for two or three years, that it would be advisable to ask for $50,000 from the corporation. It was thought that in two or three years time the city would be able to pay for the yearly maintenance of such a building.

While nothing definate has been considered yet it is generally thought that if the proposed City Hall be built on Front street that the library building would be located on the present City Hall site, which would save the purchase of an expensive site for a building of the magnitude proposed.

The whole matter now rests with the city council and any further developments will be by that body.

PLANS TAX ON PEOPLE

Washington, May 11.—One provision of the adminstration's anti-trust bill threatens to put an indirect tax on the American people of $10,000,000 a year, according to a statement made today before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee by C. W. Shaw, editor of The Business Man's Magazine.

Mr. Shaw, representing the Chicago Association of Commerce, said that in his opinion the provisions requiring annual reports from corporations engaged in interstate commerce would entail an annual expenditure of this amount, and he was inclined to believe that ultimately it would be borne by the consumers.

QUEBEC GIRL WAS BRUTALLY MURDERED

Quebec, May 11—One of the foulest and most brutal murders ever perpetrated in Quebec was committed here yesterday morning in St. Sauvier ward when Marie Blanche Dubois, aged 18 years, was beaten to death with a hammer at the reat of a shoe store owned by her brother.

About half past ten o'clock someone rang the bell at the private entrance and Miss Dubois answered the call. Going upstairs she told her mother that there was a man who wished to change a pair of boots which did not fit. She took the key which opened the door of communication from the private entrance to the store, and evidently led the man in. As she had not returned in half an hour, her mother became anxious and called down to her. There was no reply and the mother on descending the stairway found the door leading to the store open. Making her way to the rear of the shop she found to her horror her daughter lying in a pool of blood.

Dr. Leclerc, who was summoned, found the girl still breathing, but in a state of unconsciousness. She was bathed in blood and the left side of her head, behind the ear, had been crushed in with a shoemaker's hammer, which was lying by her side clotted with blood and hair. All the indications are that the perpetrator of the crime was familiar with the layout of the store, and suspicion is said to be attached to two persons who have been dismissed from the store.

C. N. R. AGREEMENT.

The proposed agreement between the government and the Canadian Northern Railway Company is to be opposed by the Liberals. Except for the reason that it is the first duty of an opposition to oppose it is difficult to account for this attitude of the Liberal party. It would be infinitely better for the country as a whole and tend to strengthen Canadian credit in the world's money centres, if there was an end to all political wrangling on the nation's railway policy. In the case of the Canadian Northern and the agreement proposed by the government the Liberals can establish no real ground for criticism. The present government did not create the railway situation of today. It has only been in office for a little over two years, and succeeded to the railway policies of the Liberal regime. It is true that some of the more desperate spirits of the Liberal party have blamed the government for the financial depression the country has experienced these last eighteen months. Even Sir Wilfrid Laurier has not forborne to make what political capital he can out of the financial situation. We submit that it would have been more to the credit of the opposition had it tried to lessen rather than intensify the effects of the depression. The railway situation should not have been dragged into the game of politics. The facts are that the Canadian Northern Company required government assistance to complete its transcontinental system. This assistance it sought in the shape of guarantees for its bonds. With the endorsement of the government the company could borrow money more easily and at a less rate of interest. It had previously secured such help. In fact it had received cash bonuses and grants of land in the earlier days of its construction. This is what makes it so difficult to understand the action of the Liberal party today. The Laurier Government not only guaranteed the bonds of the company to the extent of sixty million dollars, but actually gave away seven millions in cash subsidies. The company has also received guarantees from various provincial governments. The three Liberal Premiers of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Nova Scotia have all asked the Borden Government to grant the company the assistance it needed. Yet the Liberal opposition at Ottawa proposes to oppose the government's agreement with the company to the bitter end. Surely political inconsistency could be carried no further! Nor is this all. The agreement proposed by the Borden government calls for the reorganization of the company, so as to give all the protection possible to the people of Canada. In other words the government had driven a hard bargain with the company. It is no doubt unfortunate that the necessity for further assistance to the company should have arisen. But the Borden government did not create this necessity, no more than it inaugurated the Canadian Northern system. It has simply to face the facts as it finds them. What was the alternative to granting the company the assistance it required? The possible failure of the company and commercial disaster for Canada. There can be no doubt on this head, and surely if the Canadian Northern deserved assistance in the beginning it is more entitled to help when it is nearing completion. It is in a sense a national railway, and it has been supported by provinces without regard to politics. All along there has been the utmost confidence that it was a sound commercial undertaking, and that it was necessary to the country's development. This is still the feeling of the people, and the only thing to do is to complete the system as rapidly as possible and on the best terms possible. This is what the government is seeking to do, and what the country will support it in doing.

POTATO DISEASES.

There has been issued by the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa a remarkably well executed folder, Farmers' Circular No. 4, entitled "Potato diseases transmitted by the use of unsound tubers," showing in natural colors, representations of specimens of diseased potatoes. Diseases and other blemishes represented are potato canker, powdery scab, hollow potato, internal brown streak little potato disease, dry rot, wet rot, common potato scab, and stem end rot. Special reference is made to potato canker and powdery scab, the latter of which occurs already in Canada and should be carefully avoided. The folder points out that, under the destructive Insect and Pest Act of Canada, any person using for seed potatoes infected by potato canker or powdery scab is liable to prosecution. Potato growers who suspect the presence of either of the latter diseases are requested to send specimens to the Dominion Botanist, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. This folder, prepared by Mr. H. T. Gussow, Dominion Botanist, will be sent free to those who apply for it to the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

DANISH KING IS VISITING ENGLAND

London, May 11.—The arrival in England of the King and Queen of Denmark, marked the commencement of the first royal state visit paid during the reign of King George V.

Even in this case Queen Alexandra would have much preferred that King Christian should have stayed privately with her at Marlborough House, but he is occupying the Belgian suite at Buckingham Palace. Queen Alexandra will, however, have the gratification of playing hostess to the royal visitors, later in the week. The state visit ends on Wednesday, but King Christian and his Queen have many private engagements to keep, and during the period thus occupied they will be in residence at Marlborough House.

HORTICULTURE ON DOMINION EXPERIMENTAL FARMS.

At the Central experimental farm at Ottawa and at each of the branch farms and stations distributed over the Dominion a large amount of investigational work is carried on year by year in the growing of fruits, vegetables and flowers. The purpose of this work is to discover and develop not only improved varieties and strains of these crops but to find out the most successful methods of culture for the different provinces and districts.

The result of last season's work has been brought together in a summary prepared by Mr. W. T. Macoun, Dominion Horticulturist, and the superintendent of the branch farms and stations and issued in Bulletin No. 77, copies of which are available to all who apply for them to the Publication Branch of Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

Referring to apples at the Brandon Manitoba farm, the bulletin states that a large number of hybrid trees are doing well. These are stated to be bearing fruit which makes excellent preserves and jelly.

At Lethbridge, Alberta, culture with and without irrigation was carried on. Sections dealing with ornamental gardening are especially interesting and instructive to those who take pride in the appearance of their home surroundings.

A SUCCESSION OF DASTARDLY OUTRAGES

A series of dastardly outrages has been committed during the past few days, which following upon the attempted murder of James Rennie and two other workmen employed at the Reserve Mine, gives ample proof that some of the men on strike are prepared to go to any length in wreaking their cowardly vengeance upon anyone who has the manhood to differ from their views.

The latest lawlessness reported to the police comes from South Wellington where arson has been added to the list of crimes perpetrated during the past few days. At an early hour Sunday morning a vacant residence at South Wellington owned by Sergeant Shirras of the Nanaimo City Police force was set on fire, and was saved from total destruction only by the herculean efforts of a volunteer brigade. Yesterday evening a residence owned by the Canadian Collieries, and located just south of the Railway station was completely destroyed by fire, not a stick being left standing of the residence which at one time was the home of Mr. Faulds, manager of the South Wellington mines. This house was also vacant at the time of the fire so there is no doubt both conflagrations were of incendiary origin.

As a variation to the work of destruction by fire, a number of men lay in ambush near Brechin Sunday night and stoned a provincial constable, the officer of the law being severely bruised, but luckily not seriously injured. The identity of the men could not be learned for they made their escape in the darkness after making their cowardly attack.

Prince Rupert, B. C., May 11.— A. McKenzie, paymaster for Norman McLeod, contractor, was robbed of $2,500 in cheques and bills while on his way to this city aboard a train. The papers were missed just after passing Kitselas Tunnel.

Where you can secure free copies of the illustrated Booklet of the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Remington Typewriter Company
Official Distributors

A fitting climax to the opening of the Panama Canal will come with the great Exposition at San Francisco. The plans are complete. The beautiful de luxe Booklet of the Exposition is now ready.

A big question confronted the Exposition authorities: "How shall we put this handbook into the hands of intelligent people—everywhere?"

The problem was as big as the world's map. Various methods were considered and discarded.

Final judgment pointed to this most appropriate and logical way:—The Remington Typewriter Company was selected as the official distributor. Why?

—Because the Remington Typewriter Company is known wherever men communicate with each other in written language.

—Because the 658 Remington offices which dot the earth are supply stations for the most remote points in the two hemispheres.

To indicate further its belief in the Remington Typewriter, the Exposition management will type all its official letters on Remington machines. For the use of visitors, hundreds of Remingtons will be installed in the Exposition grounds.

What the Book Contains:

For instance:—Why at Panama will the sun rise out of the Pacific Ocean and set in the Atlantic? What were the climatic conditions which the 50,000 canal workers had to face on that strip of tropic land? How long will it take to pass a giant steamship through the canal? How will this vast national enterprise affect the Nation's trade routes and the world's commerce? How will the Exposition be staged? What will visitors see when they get there?

This handsome booklet is full of beautiful colored pictures illustrating the text, as well as several double-page maps.

You will do well to get a copy of this beautiful booklet which, in accordance with our arrangement with the Exposition, we are now distributing free.

Call at our local office and we shall be glad to give you a copy.

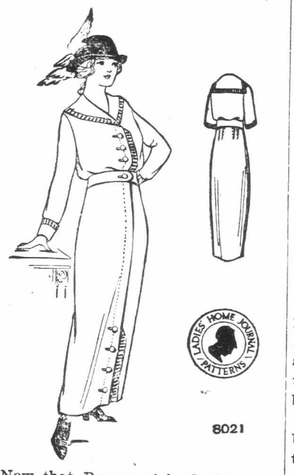
DR. ROWE IS DEAD.

Vancouver, May 11.—Dr. Elliott S. Rowe, the man who for the past seven years has probably done more than any other individual to advertise Vancouver, died at his home here this morning after a lingering illness. Dr. Rowe has been in ill health for at least a year, although off and on during that time he felt well enough to take at least a fraction of his customary vital interest in the affairs of the city. It was but a few weeks ago that he attended a city council meeting and spoke to the city fathers upon some civic subject.



New York, May 11.—A jury to try Charles Becker, former lieutenant of police, charged with instigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, was again completed today. It was just at noon the twelfth juror was selected, and District-Attorney Whitman immediately began his opening psesentation of the state's case to the jury.

Mr. Whitman in his address in no way suggested that the prosecution had any evidence to present. It is understood that whatever new evidence the state does introduce will be held as a surprise.

His speech on the whole was chiefly a review of events leading up to and following the murder.

Practical Fashion Hints

By Alice Gibson

8021

Now that Roman striped silks are so generally favored, for all purposes, nothing could be prettier to use for trimming the school girl's dark serge dress. These stripes come in all combinations, dull and subdued as well as vivid. In No. 8021 we have a simple, attractive little dress for general school wear, or for the street after heavy wraps have been discarded.

The dress closes at the side front, has a set-in sleeve, which may be full length or cut off at the elbow, as preferred, a flat sailor collar and a three-piece skirt. This dress is quite as appropriate for linen, or one of the heavier cottons, as it is for serge.

The design may be copied for a girl of 16, with 4⅛ yards of 36-inch material.

The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 14 to 18 years.

This is a Perfect Pattern.

Be sure to give right size, passing the tape around the fullest part of the breast measure under the arms.

The pattern may be obtained by sending name and address, pattern No. and size and fifteen cents to DAVID SPENCER LIMITED.

SOCCER HONORS FOR NORTHFIELD.

asking a lot of any team to play two hard games on successive days. This is what Uniteds had to do, and never did a team try more desperately to save the game than they did last night. In the second half particularly they had practically all the play, but failed to score. Corner after corner came to them and once a penalty, but fortune, very materially helped by Salty Shepherd, was against them, and they had to acknowledge defeat. This they did as sportsmen always do. They had a gallant and sturdy foe in Northfield, and have won too many honors to begrudge the Violets their victory.

UNITED VS ATHLETICS

The game on Sunday afternoon between United and the Athletics was not so well attended as might have been expected and as it deserved. On the whole the play was fairly interesting, but the Athletics lacked the experience of their opponents. At the beginning there was a fairly even exchange of rushes and from one of these Joe Little secured possession in a favorable position and scored with a neat shot. This seemed to wake up Uniteds and play quickened up. From a run up the left wing Clarkson centered beautifully and young Wardill drove into the net. A pass from the right wing shortly after led to a mix-up in front of the goal and Waddell and Wardill between them notched the point.

With this point in their favor the United took things more quietly in the second half but added another goal. On the play of the game they showed better combination among the forwards, while their halves placed much more judiciously than their vis-a-vis. United backs also were much more reliable although Gumm for the Athletics played a hard sound game. The final score 3 to 1 fairly represented the play of the two teams.

NORTHFIELD VS UNITED

The attendance last night was better than on Sunday afternoon and the game proved much faster and more exciting. In spite of their game the previous afternoon United put up a great game and played desperately in the second half. However a slight misunderstanding between Murray and English in the first half gave Leckie an opening which he was quick to take advantage of. United failed to draw even and in the second half Northfield played almost wholly a defensive game. The holders surged around the Violets' goal and forced corner after corner. But Shepherd was in brilliant form, and all his colleagues were there to help him. The side was not so much bent on adding another goal to their score, as on stopping United from drawing even. Their tactics succeeded. Once it seemed that they were to lose all their labor. Their desperate defence involved them in a penalty kick. However the United player struck the crossbar with his first kick and kicked clear over with his second. And so the desperate struggle ended in favor of the Violets.

Both games, it should be stated were very cleanly contested, and there was very little rough play. Referee Craig always had the games in control and is to be congratulated on his firm but efficient ruling.

The new champions, whom no one begrudge their victory on account of their untiring efforts and perseverance in building up a strong team, are all local boys employed in and about Northfield city and district. The personnel is as follows:

Walter Shepherd, goal keeper, of the East Wellington Brick Yards; B. Cawthorne (back) employed at Bevan's Meat shop, Nicol street; H. Zaccarelli (back) employed at Simon Leiser Co., Wellington; J. Clarke, (half) Wellington Machine shops; G. Grant, (half) Jingle Pot mine; Capt. Young (half) Canadian Explosives; G. Green (forward) Nanaimo Post Office staff; J. Wallace (forward) Jingle Pot mine; T. Ollerton (forward) Jingle Pot mine; J. Leckie (forward) Canadian Explosives; A. Russel (forward) Jingle Pot mine.

The Shield, emblematic of the soccer championship of Canada, will be officially handed over to the new champions tonight by Secretary Wardill of the Nanaimo United team.

Write Stories For Moving Picture Plays

New, Spare-time Profession for Men and Women—One Man Makes $3500 in Six Months.

Owing to the large number of new motion picture theatres which are being opened throughout the country, there is offered to the men and women of today, a new profession namely, that of writing moving picture plays. Producers are paying from $25 to $150 for each scenario accepted upon which they can build a photo play.

$3500 in Six Months.

As it only requires a few hours' time to construct a complete play, you can readily see the immense possibilities in this work. One man who gave the idea a tryout, writes that he earned $3500 in six months. It is possible for an intelligent person to meet with equal success.

One feature of the business which should appeal to everyone, is that the work may be done at home in spare time. No literary ability is required and women have as great an opportunity as men. Ideas for plots are constantly turning up, and may be put in scenario form and sold for a good price.

Get a "COLUMBIA" Now!

---and Enjoy this Summer

The Columbia is a great companion for any season of the year, but it is particularly desirable during the out-of-doors, summer months. Unless you have experienced it, you simply cannot imagine how much it adds to the pleasure of camping or even the occasional outing jaunt, to have a Columbia along.

The best of it is you can get a Columbia that is easy to carry, that doesn't take up much room and that isn't easy to put out of kilter. You don't have to pay a great big price, either. You can buy a Columbia for a few dollars that will give you the very utmost in satisfaction. One of these, with a few well-chosen records, has been known to turn what might have been a dismal failure as an outing into a howling success.

Columbias are great instruments. They are the family instruments. They bring music and pleasure to all, and they range in price from the figure the laborer can afford to the sum the millionaire is willing to pay to secure all the extras.

Let us put a Columbia in your family circle this summer. You can give us a few dollars down—just what you can afford to pay—and the balance from week to week or from month to month as you are able.

The funeral of the late Annie Burges's took place Sunday afternoon from Hilbert's undertaking parlors, being attended by a large number of mourners. The services were conducted at the parlors by the Rev. Mr. Bagshaw, at 3:30 o'clock. The pallbearers were W. Stove, Robt. Stove, Alex. White Jas. McGregor, James Greenaway and Jas. Pannell.

The new pound keeper—more power to his elbow—had ten dogs in the pound yesterday. With scores of ownerless dogs still roaming the streets, there is still plenty of work for him to do. Rabies is prevalent among the dogs of Cowichan, and as the disease is frightfully catching it behooves the authorities to take every precaution, The hundreds of dogs that are on the streets of Nanaimo are not only a nuisance but a menace to public safety and the weeding out process will be welcomed.

PREPARING FOR THE TWENTY-FOURTH

A meeting of the General Committee of the Victoria Day Celebration was held last night when the program of events for the day was adopted and the Publicity Committee instructed to have the programs printed as soon as possible.

Last night's meeting voted the sum of $75 to the Nanaimo Gun Club and $90 for additional music in the way of prizes for a Hay Seed band, $60 to the best hayseed aggregation and $30 to the second next best. The Finance Committee reported that over $1100 had been subscribed by citizens and the General Committee feel safe in allowing for an expenditure of at least $1800, in connection with the celebration.

Regatta	$350.00
Music	320.00
Advertising, etc.	223.00
Children's Drill, etc.	200.00
Field Sports	143.00
Children's Sports	100.00
Baseball	150.00
Decorating	150.00
Grounds	100.00
Gun Club	75.00

The Secretary was instructed to write for a prospective program of a fire works display, and provided the necessary funds is available the day's celebration will be brought to a close with a big fire works display.

LOCAL MINES HAD A BUSY WEEK

The Western Fuel Company had a busy shipping time last week. In addition to the Steamer Thor which was loaded with a full cargo of 7500 tons for San Francisco, a schooner completed her cargo of 1200 tons for Eureka yesterday. Besides these two big freighters the following vessels were loaded: Kildonan, scow; Gray, bunkers and cargo; Moonlight, bunkers; Celtic, bunkers and cargo; Commodore, bunkers; Kildonan, scow; Flamingo, bunkers; Belle, bunkers; Celestial Empire, bunkers. The Princess Eva was in yesterday for part cargo, and La Touche is expected in for a cargo for Prince Rupert. The Vancouver-Nanaimo Coal Company yesterday had the Turner and scow, and expects the British Columbia today.

DISTRICT CROPS ARE LOOKING GOOD

The fine weather of the past few days has had a wonderful effect on the local crops which are reported by those who should know, to be looking in splendid condition giving every indication of a big yield.

Grains are looking exceptionally well and are from three to five inches above ground. Vegetables are all in good shape while the hay crop is well on and will be ready for cutting about July 1. There is an abundance of bloom on the fruit trees and as present weather conditions are very favorable there is likely to be a big fruit crop this summer.

Apparently the late snow fall this spring has done the crops no harm. Strawberries are looking well and judging by Wakesiah Farm, where there will be a crop of about ten tons this year, there will be a very large crop this summer. Raspberry bushes are also in a very healthy condition.

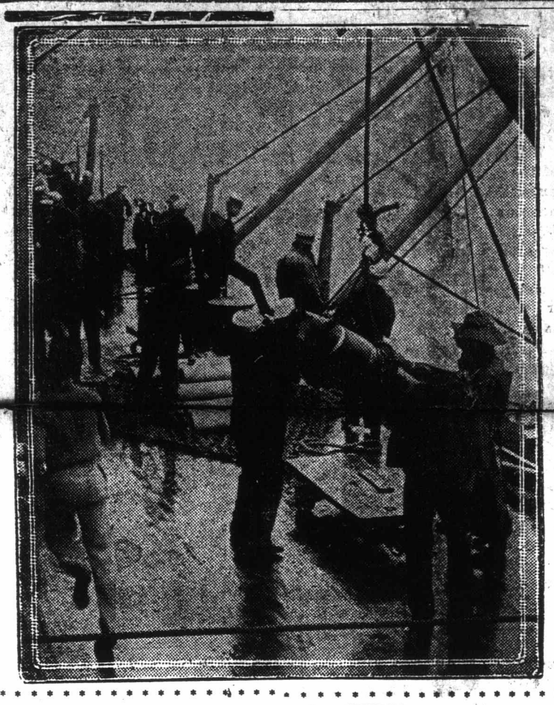
MAKES OFFER TO UNIONISTS

Premier Asquith Pledges Government to Introduce An Amending Bill to the Home Rule Measure.

London, May 12.—Premier Asquith in the House of Commons to-day pledged the government to introduce an amended bill to the Home Rule measure in the hope of passing it by agreement between the parties. If this offer is accepted by the Unionist party in the House of Commons the origional Home Rule Bill and the amending bill will become law practically unanimously. This, Mr. Asquith contended, was the only proper way of carrying out any agreed settlement which might be reached.

The prime minister added that obviously in order to take advantage of the provisions of the parliament act no change could be made in the Home Rule Bill while it was in the committee stage and therefore any debate during the stage would be pure waste of time.

Mr. Asquith said that the House would be asked to give the present bill a third reading before Whitsuntide, and he hoped and believed that the amended bill would receive the co-operative support from all parties in the House.



Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, bitterly criticized the "gag" methods he declared Mr. Asquith proposed, and accused him of failing to redeem his pledges to reconstitute the House of Lords.

BIG SHELLS FOR HUERTA.

Scene on board the U.S.S. New York, at the Brooklyn Navy Yard showing blue jackets loading the big 14-inch shells into the magazines. Although these shells weigh close to a thousand pounds apiece and are charged with enough high explosive to blow the entire crew into atoms, the sailors handle them as if they were so many sacks of potatoes or other harmsless materials. As rapidly as possible the New York is being fitted out for active service, and taking enough stores aboard to carry her on a long cruise. Captain Rogers is momentarily expecting orders to join the best of the fleet at either Tampico or Vera Cruz to aid in the invasion of Mexico which is already under way.

CLARK AND DAVIS TO HANG FRIDAY

Vancouver, May 12.—Failing successful application to the minister of justice for clemency in their appeal to be saved from sentence of death passed upon them last assizes, the condemned men, Davis and Clark, will on Friday, May 15, expiate on the gallows at New Westminster, the crime crime of which they were convicted.

The last hope of a new trial was taken from Davis, when the application made before the supreme court of Canada, at Ottawa, was dismissed by their lordships. The respite granted to the condemned men, until May 15, was granted to enable the application for a new trial to be heard.

This morning in Mr. Justice Morrison's court, at the Vancouver court house, another scene in the tragedy of which the condemned men are the central figures, was enacted. The application for further respite was denied by his lordship, who said that in view of the action of the supreme court of Canada denying the new trial, the application for respite would have to be dismissed, the matter was now up to the minister of justice.

Today in Ottawa, Messrs. Lewis and Smellie, solicitors for Mr. R. R. Maitland, local counsel for Davis, are making the final appeal that to the minister of justice and through him to the crown for clemency to be extended to Davis. No application has been made in the case of Clark, but it has been taken that whatever course is taken in the one case will undoubtedly be followed in the other.

In the absence of other instructions, Sheriff T. J. Armstrong, of New Westminster, in whose hands the final matters in connection with the case are placed, will proceed with the arrangements which he once before prepared for the execution of the two men.

Friday, March 6, was the day origionally set for the execution and every detail of the arrangements had been made, at the last moment a first reprieve was granted. This was made for two weeks, until March 20, and at that date the further reprieve was granted in order that full representation might be made in application for a new trial for Davis, which was the cause of the stay of execution.

HOKE SMITH SCORES TAFT

Georgia Senator Defends President Wilson in His Stand On Panama Canal Tolls Takes Taft to Task.

Washington, May 12.—Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia today championed repeal of the clause in the Panama Canal Act granting exemption of tolls to American vessels in the coastwise trade. He told the Senate that he would vote for repeal "because of our treaties with Great Britain and Panama," and because, in his opinion, "it is right that the owners of these vessels should bear, for using the canal, a fair part of the cost to our government of building and operating it."

Senator Smith contended "that coastwise vessels will naturally stop at the ports of Cuba, Mexico, Central America, Panama and perhaps elsewhere. Their cargoes will not be limited exclusively to bona fide coastwise traffic of the United States.

"Traffic from foreign countries will be unloaded at ports of the United States to be immediately loaded on a coastwise vessel for passage through the canal for the opposite coast of the United States, thus in reality carrying through the canal foreign traffic on the coastwise vessels without paying tolls."

Reviewing the history of the Panama tolls legislation, in quoting from a speech credited to former President Taft early this year, the senator said:

"Mr. Taft was wrong in supposing that the idea of Democratic senators and congressmen in voting to free the coastwise trade from tolls was to give a subsidy to our coastwise ships.

"Hah they known that he considered it necessary under the treaty to fix the tools at a rate which the establishment of payment of tolls by the coastwise vessels, thus making the freedom of the coastwise vessels from paying tolls of clear subsidy. Democrats would not have disregarded their party platform and the established principles of their party by voting for this subsidy."

Senator Smith declared that the Hay-Pauncefote treaty was made a part of the title to the canal tone in the treaty of conveyance from Panama, and that talk of terminating it from the legal standpoint "absurd."

Termination of the treaty, he asserted, "would compel us to give up the canal unless we abandoned our attitude as a law-abiding nation and resorted alone to battleships and brute force to keep the property."

Outlining the interests which Canada and the countries of South America had in tolls controversy, Senator Smith said: "When the President in his message referred to other difficulties' to be caused by the passage of our coastwise vessels through the canal without charge, while I do not speak ex-cathedra. I may well conceive that he has in view our general relations with all our neighbors in America and not what many have suggested, some ulterior purpose in connection with the Government of Great Britain."

Mrs. J. White, Kennedy street, arrived on the Patricia last night from a visit to friends in Vancouver.

CONCENTRATING ON CAPITAL

President Huerta Calling in All His Troops For Defence of Mexico City—San Blas Evacuated.

On Board U. S. S. California, Mazatlan, Mex., May 11 (by wireless to San Diego, Cal., May 12)—Mexican federal troops defending San Blas, a seaport half way between Mazatlan and Mansanillo have evacuated the town. It is understood they were ordered by Provisional President Huerta to proceed to Mexico City to strengthen the forces there. It is believed troops at other points on the west coast will be ordered to the capital.

Americans in the Yaquí valley, reassured by the cordial attitude of the Constitutionalists have decided to remain on their ranches. General Obregon is said to have guaranteed them every protection.

Walter Neal, an American who was wounded by Federals recently near El Favor mine, is now safe with his family aboard the cruiser Maryland, at Manzanillo, according to a wireless message received from that vessel today. Neal confirmed the report of an attack on the mine April 26 and the killing of C. B. Hoadley, an American, and of G. E. Williams, an Englishman.

Desultory fighting continues at Mazatlan.

Washington, May 12.—Consul W. E. Alger, from Mazatlan, reported to the state department today for instructions. He stated that between 14,000 and 16,000 rebels were in the vicinity of Mazatlan when he left. At that time they were projecting troops on the firing line in alternating thousands in the hope of wearing out the federals.

Vera Cruz, May 12.— While the Mexican commissioners are en route to attend the Niagara Falls, Canada peace conference and during the sessions there will be no inauguration of hostilities by the American forces here and there is no reason to believe that the Mexican federals will advance their lines.

The recent charge by General Blanquet that the Americans were breaking the armistice caused General Funston to confer with his legal adviser, Colonel Porter. They agreed that while actually no armistice exists, there is a tacit understanding that neither side will inaugurate hostilities. The interpretation placed on the agreement by General Funston and Colonel Porter would permit of unlimited strengthening of both Mexican and American forces so long as no advance was made.

BUILDING TRADES ARE OUT AT SAN FRANCISCO

San Francisco, May 12.— A general lockout in the local building trades industry was ordered yesterday by the Building Trades Employees association. This action was brought about by the refusal of union painters to call a strike for higher wages current for a month. About 25,000 men are affected.

UNIONISTS RETAIN GREAT GRIMSBY

London, May 12.—Polling in the great Grimsby bye-election, took place today, resulting in the election of the Unionist candidate by a majority of 278.

The vote was as follows:

Pickler (Unionist), 8471.

Bannister (Liberal), 8193.

The poll showed an increase over the last election of 1556 and a decrease in the Unionist majority of 420.

MONEY NEEDED FOR SEWERAGE

Ratepayers of Nanaimo Will beAsked to Borrow $30,000 For Extension of Sewerage System in City.

The ratepayers of Nanaimo will be asked to borrow the sum of $30,000 for the purpose of extending the sewerage system of the city. A by-law dealing with the matter was introduced before the Council at last night's meeting by Ald. McKinnell, given the first and second readings, and will be considered in committee at the next meeting of the Council.

The object for which the money is required is set forth in the preamble of the bylaw as follows:

Corporation of the City of Nanaimo.

By-law No. 214.

A bylaw to authorize the borrowing the sum of $30,000 upon the security of the Sewer rentals, with the guarantee of the city of Nanaimo.

Whereas the city of Nanaimo has constructed a system of sewerage which embraces the principal portion of the business and residential sections of the city, and

Whereas it is expedient in order to conserve the public health of the city to extend the said sewerage system to other sections of the city that are not yet provided for, and

Whereas certain sewer rentals are imposed for the use of sewers by the Sewer Connection and Rental Bylaw 1910 and such rentals are enforceable under the provisions of said bylaw, and under the provisions of the Municipal Act, and

Whereas it is intended to borrow upon the security of the said sewer rentals the sum of $30,000.00 to be expended in the extension of the said sewerage system, and

Whereas the amount of sewer rentals chargeable for the year 1914 is estimated at the sum of $3,000.00, and there is no money charged upon said rentals, and

Whereas the moneys intended to be borrawed pursuant to this bylaw will be primarily charged and secured upon the rentals assessed and levied and to be collected under the authority of the said Sewers Connection and Rental Bylaw, 1910, and

Whereas the amount to be collected annually from the said sewer rentals to pay the interest upon the said sum of $30,000.00 is $1350.00, and the amount required to be set aside annually to bear interest at 3 per cent per annum to repay the said sum of $30,000.00 in thirty years is estimated at $630.59, and it is estimated that there will not be any deficiency, and

Whereas the whole rateable property of the corporation of the city of Nanaimo, according to the revised assessment roll for the year 1913 is $4,907,555.00 and the total existing debt is $599.500.00 exclusive of works of local improvements and for school purposes, and

Whereas it is proposed to borrow the said sum of $30,000.00 upon the debentures and hereinafter appearing, and

Whereas this bylaw may not be altered or repealed except with consent of the Lieutenant Governor-in Council and Therefore the municipal council of the corporation of the city of Nanaimo enacts as follows:

EXTENSION OF CITY LIMITS

City Council Met Last Night and Took Initial Steps Looking Toward Extending Nanaimo's Boundaries.

The City Council met in special session last evening to discuss the question of extending the limits of the city. There were present Ald. McKinnell, Ferguson, Young, Kilpatrick, Forrester and Busby; His Worship, Mayor Planta presiding.

In connection with the proposal, Ald. Young moved the following resolution:

Whereas in the opinion of the members of this Municipal Council, it is deemed expedient that the limits of this Municipality be extended.

Be it therefore resolved that all such steps as are necessary be taken to have the city limits extended to include the lands defined as follows:

Commencing at a point on H.W.M. and known as the S. E. corner of the Indian Reserve, thence following the meander of H.W.M., in a South Easterly direction for a distance of 345 feet more or less, to where the production of the Northerly boundary of Hughes street, (Map No. 748) meets H.W.M., thence in a South Westerly direction and along the said Northerly boundary of Eighth street, thence Westerly and along said Northerly boundary of Eighth street a distance of 4590 feet, more or less, to the intersection with the Easterly boundary of Bruce avenue, a distance of 1386 feet, more or less to the intersection with the Northerly boundary of Seventh street, thence westerly and along the said Northerly boundary of Seventh street, a distance of 1386 feet, more or less, to the intersection with the easterly boundary of Howard avenue, thence Northerly and along the said Easterly boundary of Howard avenue, a distance of 1386 feet, more or less, to the intersection with the Northerly boundary of Sixth street, a distance of 1452 feet, more or less, to the intersection with the Westerly boundary of Wakesiah Avenue, thence Northerly and along the said Westerly boundary of Wakesiah Avenue, a distance of 7984 feet more or less, to the intersection with the Southerly boundary of Comox road, thence in a North Westerly direction and along the said Southerly boundary of Comox road, a distance of 650 feet more or less, to the intersection with the production of the Easterly boundary of Lot 97G including Lot 2 and suburban Lots 50, 51, 52 and 53 of section 1, Nanaimo district, thence Northerly and along the said production of and portion of said Easterly boundary of Lot 97G, etc., a distance of 3270 feet, more or less to the intersection with the Southerly boundary of Tenth street, (addition No. 3 Newcastle Townsite), thence easterly and along the said Southerly boundary of Tenth street, a distance of 3876 feet, more or less, to the intersection with H.W.M., thence in a South Easterly direction and following the meander of H.W.M., for a distance of 2220 feet, more or less, to the Northeast corner of present City Limits thence following in a general Southerly direction along the border of the present City Limits of Nanaimo as outlined on the registered map of the city to a point on the Westerly boundary of the Indian Reserve, on the Northerly side of Robins street, thence following the said Westerly boundary of the Indian Reserve for a distance of 1640 feet, more or less, to the South Westerly corner of the said Indian Reserve, thence following along the Southerly boundary of the said Indian Reserve for a distance of 560 feet, more or less to H.W.M., or the point of commencement, and more particularly shown on plan attached hereto and outlined in red.

The resolution was seconded by Ald. McKinnell and unanimously adopted.

Ald. Young was given permission to introduce a bylaw or resolution empowering the Council to go ahead with the proposal.

There are men who never visit a chief without finding the floor in this horribly unsteady condition.

The report submitted to the Council on Monday night that there had been cases of rabies in the Cowichan district, will bring home to all the necessity for ridding the city of its surplus canine population. Any one who really cares for a dog will see that it is properly looked after, and above all that it is tagged. But on the other hand there are a large number of dogs which are not looked after, which seem to have no owners and make their homes principally on the main streets of the city. They are a fearful nuisance and might at any time become a frightful menace. Ten of these mongrel waifs were captured yesterday, and from now on any dog caught without a 1914 tag will be promptly empounded. Owners of dogs will therefore govern themselves accordingly.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

For a part of the time the Rev. Mr. McLeod was in Nanaimo he was a member of the Socialist local here. He was no longer a member when he left for Chilliwack. He had been expelled. The reason given for his expulsion was that he had dared to be independent on the question of Local Option. The belief was general at the time however, that the local dictators did not want him. He was making altogether too strong a bid for the Socialist nomination, and he was promptly hustled out of the local. Still it is not becoming in a reverend gentleman to nourish animosity, and with ready Christian charity he was willing enough to adorn the May Day demonstration. According to the report of his speech in The Federationist he was also prepared to out-Herod Herod in denouncing the administration of justice in the province. Some of his remarks, coming from a professional follower of the lowly Nazarene, well deserve to be remembered against him. After a gratuitous slur upon the farmers of the Fraser Valley, which will, no doubt, be appreciated at Chilliwack, he declared that no man who opposes a corporation has any chance to get fair play or justice before any court of law in this province. "The judge," he said, "set out alleged facts, and told the jury that they must bring in a certain verdict, and they did it. The bench was filled with shyster lawyers. In the miners' cases, the two judges were appointed by the late Liberal government, and were twins in the zodiac of dirt. No one ever read of such prostitution of justice." Certainly no one ever heard of such utter prostitution of a sacred calling. The unreverened gentleman clearly finds his element in muckraking.

Mr. Justice Clements regards the inspection of public buildings and institutions by the grand juries of assizes as a farce. Nothing has ever come of any presentment in his judical experience. The jurors solemnly carried out their inspection, the judge solemnly forwarded their presentments to the Attorney General's department where they were solemnly pigeon-holed. There is really no reason for the continuance of such a farce. As a matter of fact neither judge or jurors ever expect that anything will come of their carefully prepared presentments. The practice is a survival of ancient times, when the Grand Jury really performed a useful public service. Nowadays there is a plethora of inspectors, Provincial, Dominion, and Municipal, and on the whole the supervision is very efficiently carried out. This particular function of the grand jury might be dropped without any loss to the community.

The Vancouver Sun emphasizes the point we made in our article dealing with the Liberal attitude towards the government's proposed agreement with the Canadian Northern Company. "The Liberals," it says, "will fight the proposals with all their power," even though they know the government will carry them through. Precisely. But why should the Liberals oppose the government for doing better than they did when they were in office? They helped the Canadian Northern to start, why should they fight with all their power to prevent it from being finished? They have not so far given a single reason which did not exist when they themselves were helping and bonusing the company. What has made the difference between then and now.

The city jail has been condemned beyond all hope of reprieve. The city engineer and medical health officer failed to find a single extenuating circumstance for its continued existance. They even declare the floor of the chief's room to be undulatory. Now after all this is no uncommon fault in a chief's room.

Among the bylaws shortly to come before the ratepayers will be one to establish a free library. The actual building of the library will in any case not begin for some time, but the first thing to do is to find out the wishes of the ratepayers. The Board of Trade has ascertained from the Carnegie Library Corporation on what conditions a money grant can be obtained. If an application for fifty thousand dollars is made then the city must be prepared to vote five thousand dollars. It must also be ready to undertake the cost of maintenance of the building afterwards. These are the questions the ratepayers will have to answer.

DEBATE ON RAILWAY BILL IN COMMONS

Ottawa, May 12.—Tomorrow will see the beginning of the debate in the House of Commons on the C.N.R. proposal. The proposal will be introduced by Premier Borden, who will speak to the resolution and the reply may be made by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, but there may be a change made as the Liberals are called to a caucus tomorrow morning.

TO DISCUSS THE PEACE TERMS

Washington, May 11.—Associate Justice Joseph Rucker Lamar, of the United States supreme court, and Frederick W. Lehman, of St. Louis, former solicitor-general, have been selected by the president to represent his views before the South American mediation negotiations at Niagara Falls, Canada. Secretary Bryan made this official announcement today. Whether a third representative would be appointed, Mr. Bryan declined to indicate, stating that it could be assumed there would be no other.

Vera Cruz, May 11.—Emilio Rabas, Augustin Rodriguez and Luis Elguero, the three peace commissioners appointed by President Huerta to represent him at the Niagara Falls conference, who will sail late today for Havana, en route to Key West, are clothed with full powers, nominally at least, to sign any agreement or convention. The Mexican senate resolution approved Huerta's nomination of three representatives, conferred full authority to judge, counsel, carry on business and sign any agreement or treaty whatever.

Many prominent Mexicans, however are not inclined to regard this broad authority as real. Others believe that Huerta has instructed the commissioners to place no insurmountable objections to an amicable adjustment of the differences with the United States, believing that the failure of the negotiations might result in pushing American intervention which they feel would not unite factions, but force Huerta to fight alone.

It is the general opinion here that Huerta entertains no fear of an advance of the American forces until after the South American diplomats have concluded their work. This theory is supported by reports brought by Americans arriving from Mexico City who say that General Maas evidently is only holding outposts for observation and that he is not concentrating or entrenching his forces to resist an advance.

Those skeptical of the good faith of Huerta's participation in mediation say that he clothed his commissioners with the broadest powers to make show of a record before the world of having done all in his power to reach a settlement.

Mexico City newspapers continue to make bitter attacks on the United States. Copies of the American articles of war are being published in the capital to inflame the public. They represent American military practices as most cruel. The newspapers of the capital also are still insisting that the United States is violating the armistice, this time

"I HAVE GAINED FIFTEEN POUNDS

Since Taking "Fruit-a-tives" And Feel Like A New Person"

DRYSDALE, ONT., June 15th, 1913. "I am a general storekeeper at the above address and, on account of the great good I have experienced from using "Fruit-a-tives", I recommend them strongly to my customers. They were a great boon to me, I can tell you, for about two years ago, I was laid up in bed with vomiting and a most terrific pain at the base of my skull. This pain nearly drove me mad. Doctors feared it would turn to Inflammation of the Brain, but I took "Fruit-a-tives" steadily until I was cured. I have gained fifteen pounds since taking "Fruit-a-tives" and I verily believe they saved me from a disastrous illness".

complaining that the charter of war transports by the war department is a direct violation.

Natives awoke today to the realization that American occupation had added a new holiday to the long list prevailing in Mexico. Many Americans appeared yesterday wearing white boutonieres and today natives learned that they had been observing "Mother's Day" under edict by General Funston following President Wilson's proclamation.

Vera Cruz is free of gambling probably for the first time in centuries. This extensive vice, which was particularly disastrous to the poorer classes, was eradicated by General Funston's order, operative today. General Funston is watching other plague spots in the city's life, long regarded as institutions, with the intention of stopping them. Even the old Spanish Sunday custom of bull fighting may be forbidden.

Business is booming with the exception of distributions in the interior. General Funston is encouraging all transportation to the interior, but merchants inland so far have not availed themselves of the opportunities offered.

Bluejackets from the American and foreign battleships are enjoying more shore leave privileges, and the officers fraternizing in the cafes and plazas make a colorful scene. Navy men are allowed ashore in spotless white uniforms and the sanitary pier where landing parties arrive has a holiday appearance.

Dozens of booths have sprung up along the pier, where natives are selling soft drinks to the men who a few weeks ago swept through the city under fire.

Under Red Cross officials, Vera Cruz is celebrating a continuous municipal cleanup day. Every street, alley and vacant lot is being cleared of cans and rubbish. Hundreds of native laborers are busy washing down streets and carting away refuse. Restoration of the electric street lamps shot away during the fighting is about completed.

ONE HORSE, ONE BUCKET

Philadelphia, May 12.—Following its ban on the common drinking cup for human beings, the board of health here today forbade the use of common drinking troughs for animals. The state live stock sanitary board declared that glanders and other diseases were being spread by the common troughs.

MOYER TRIAL IN JUNE.

L'Anse, Mich., May 12.— The trial of Charles H. Moyer, president, and 37 other officers and members of the Western Federation of Miners, who are under a joint indictment in Houghton county on the charge of conspiring to interfere with non-union copper mine workers, probably will not begin before the latter part of June or the first of July.

MORNING SITTING OF COMMONS

Ottawa, May 11.—Morning sittings were commenced in parliament today. A resolution to increase the representation of British Columbia in the Senate from three to six members was introduced by Premier Borden.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, speaking in favor of the increase, said he feared parliament had no authority for making increases in British Columbia and Manitoba. The proper way to proceed was to address the British parliament asking authority to create a senatorial group of 24 for the four western provinces similar to the three groups in the east.

Mr. Borden said he would consider the view taken by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and suggested that in the meantime the resolution should pass and the matter receive further discussion when the bill is introduced.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier agreed.

With three sittings daily the government hopes to clear up all the business of the order paper by the first week in June, but the disposition in most quarters is to think that it will be a week or ten days before prorogation takes place.

The Canadian Northern resolution will not be taken up before Wednesday. It is expected that not much time will be spent on the measure in the resolution stage. The full dress debate will be reserved for the second reading of the bill, when it is expected that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will move that it be referred to a special committee of the house with power to summon witnesses and examine them under oath.

Some government legislation will have to be held over if the house closes in early June.

Blue books containing much of the information in regard to the Canadian Northern railway's financial standing were distributed this morning, and that will leave two days for the members to study these documents before the debate opens.

The bill relating to the Prudential Life Insurance company of Manitoba was put through the committee stage and given a third reading without further amendment. Hon. J. D. Reid's bill to amend the customs act was reported and given a third reading. It provides for a drawback of the duty paid on pig iron and steel when used for the manufacture of goods exported to other countries.

During question time Dr. J.P. Molloy asked if it was open to the member of any provincial legislature to accept pay for services from the Dominion government. Premier Borden said that this was a class of question usually not answered because it involves a point of law. Any legislation allowing a provincial member to accept such emolument would be passed by the provincial legislature.

E. M. MacDonald (Pictou) was informed by Mr. Borden that the statement that the Canadian Northern railway professes itself able under ordinary circumstances to be able to raise all the money necessary for the completion of the line was made to the government by an official of the railway company last year, not long before it was communicated to the house. Mr. MacDonald was also informed that the statement that the Canadian Northern railway would be running trains from Quebec to the Pacific by the present summer if the same conditions prevail as have prevailed as to labor is to be found in the annual report of the Canadian Northern Railway.

When consideration of the Dominion Lands Act was resumed Hon. Dr. Roche announced that he had decided to accede to the suggestion by W. W. Buchanan (Medicine Hat). W. E. Knowles (Moose Jaw) and others that the payment of interest in connection with the purchase of pre-emptions be abolished. He moved an amendment which provides that interest will be paid only upon such payments as are in arrears. The bill was given a third reading.

ENGLAND'S KING VISITS PARIS.

Photograph of King George V. of England and President Poincaré, of France, upon the occasion of the King's visit to France last week. They are shown here just after the Royal party had arrived at the Bois de Boulogne station in Paris. The King left London in a special train on April 21, going to Dover, where he boarded the Royal Yacht which took him across the channel to Calais. From there to Paris he was carried in the President's special car. The visit of the King had as its purpose the further strengthening of the bonds of friendship between the English and French nations. Queen Mary accompanied the King, but Prince Albert was unable to be one of the party. Princess Mary was left behind also, as she has not yet made her debut, and most of the engagements of her royal parents were of such an official nature that it was deemed unwise to allow the Princess to participate.

News of Sport

LEADERS IN THE SEVERAL LEAGUES

Chicago, May 12.—Ty Cobb leaped from thirty-eighth place to thirteenth among the American League batters this week, according to averages published here today. Including last Wednesday's game, the Detroit star has a percentage of .307, as against .240 which the records showed for him last week. His rival, Joe Jackson of Cleveland, has taken the lead, batting at a rate of .414. Then, in the first dozen, come Wood, Cleveland, .412; Crawford, Detroit, .408; E. Foster, Washington, .337; Lelivelt, Cleveland, .346; Williams, St. Louis, .344; C. Walker, St. Louis .333; Barry, Philadelphia, .325. Demmitt, Chicago, .324; Shotton, St. Louis, .320; Burns, Detroit, .316, McInnes, Philadelphia, .310. Philadelphia leads in club batting with .250. Turner of Cleveland is leading base stealer, with eleven to his credit.

Art Phelan of Chicago and Bears Becker of Philadelphia are tied for first in the National League, with .500 each. The next ten are Magee, Philadelphia, .445; Cathers, St. Louis .429; Snodgrass, New York, .417; Byrne, Philadelphia, .405; Miller, Brooklyn, .384; Gowdy, Boston, .371; Daubert, Brooklyn, .364; Lobert, Philadelphia, .364; Dalton, Brooklyn, .362; Evers, Boston, .340.

Philadelphia leads the clubs in hitting, with an average of .305, and Brooklyn is next with .296. Stolen base honors, so far, go to Carey, of Pittsburg, who pilfered seven.

TY COBB'S SALARY.

Chicago, May 12.—Ty Cobb's annual salary from the Detroit ball club is $17,000, according to statements made here today by Edgar Willett and Delos Drake, former pitcher and infielder, respectively, for the Detroit Americans. Cobb, they said, told them that his contract is for one year and is without the ten-day clause and reserve clause. The former Detroit players said that Cobb was keenly interested in the fortunes of the Federal league.

CRICKET RECORDS

The average cricketer out in this Far West is always willing to admit that cricket is a game for convalescents and cripples and, if need be, old women. He might as well make the confession first as last. He is only one against a score of baseball fans in an average crowd and numbers always tell. Sometimes, indeed, there may be a dispute about records, especially in hitting and throwing, in the two games, but at such times figures are quoted rather loosely. Here are a few cricket records which even a baseball fan may find interesting:

A Long Hit.

The late Rev. W. Fellows, whilst at practice on the Christchurch grounds at Oxford in 1856, drove a ball bowled by Chas. Rogers 175 yards from hit to pitch. The distance was measured by E. Martin, who played in the Kent County eleven from 1845 to 1851. As far as is known this constitutes the record hit.

Throwing the Cricket Ball.

R. Percival on the Durham Sands race course threw a ball 140 yards, 2 feet on Easter Monday, 1881. The next best throw is that of Ross McKenzie of Toronto, who threw 140 yards 9 inches in 1872. In the same year "Billy the Aboriginal" threw 140 yards at Clermont, Australia.

"Dick" Burrows, with the ball by which he bowled Huddleston in the Lancashire vs. Worcester match at Old Trafford, Manchester, on June 29 1911, sent the ball 67 yards 6 inches. This constitutes a record in a first class match.

David Hunter, the old Yorkshire wicket-keeper, who retired in 1909, during his career caught 920 batsmen and stumped 382. The nearest approach to this record is that of Hulsh, the Kent wicket-keeper, who caught 795 and stumped 292.

IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS.

Writing in the Canadian Courier about baseball in the old days, when the "Maple Leafs," of Guelph, were semi-professional champions of America, John M. Copeland says:

"In those days boiling out at hot springs was not in style, and liniment artists were not carried on tour. Bare hands were 'au fait,' while the amputated kid glove of Her Ladyship was 'de rigeur,' and did duty in place of the various padded soft cushions now apparently essential. The distance between pitcher and catcher was shorter than now, and the knee-high, underhand throw the only style permitted. They say that between '77 and '90 the great 'Silver' Flint caught 833 games without chest protector or glove. Some chroniclers aver, however, that Charlie Maddock, at Guelph, resorted to the use of a piece of rubber between his teeth when backstopping to relieve the tension at moments of extreme strain. Despite the absence of artificial armament, injuries were less frequent than now. C. P. McDonald says:

'Why, I recall the days when we Played ball just like it ought to be;
The first mild day of spring we'd go
To some big lot and stage the show.
No gloves in them days—just the hand
That nature gave us—no grand stand
No hold-outs, contracts, legal scraps,
No magnate owned the old-time chaps.'"

TO HER NATIVE LAND.

New York, May 12.—The body of Madame Lillian Nordica, will be brought to New York for burial, according to announcement today by her husband, George W. Young, banker. Mr. Young probably will go to Brindisi, Italy, to meet the body.

Bijou Theatre

"The Lost Diamond" a three-reel Eclectric special picture will be the headliner in today's program of moving pictures at the Bijou Theatre, which will be in addition to two other reels including a sparkling comedy. "The Lost Diamond" is a sensational and thrilling stroy of the Indian jungles in which is shown a battle for life between two hunters and a man eating tiger. The pictures are in color effect and are stated to be among the best ever shown in the city.

Opera House

Big Bill Blaisdell, the comedian at the Opera House, has a good line of talk that takes with the crowd. It is origional and humerous and Bill has a way of "putting it over" that adds to the entertainment.

Last night the young lady, Miss Godfrey, who sings in the second vaudeville number, received several encores and curtain calls. She has a very sweet voice and sings in Italian and English. As a yoegler she has few equals. She is very nicely accompanied by her partner, Miss Washburn.

The rest of the show, pictures, are are very good. The show will be repeated for the last time tonight. Prices ten and twenty cents.

LOCAL MUSICIANS VISITED SHAWNIGAN

A Shawnigan correspondent sends The Herald the following account of the visit of Mr. Harry Harvey and associates to that place:

A concert company of Old Country professionals, now resident in Nanaimo, visited Shawnigan last Monday, and gave what was unquestionably one of the best musical recitals ever heard in the district. Unfortunately neither the personnel or the quality of the entertainment was sufficiently advertised in advance, and the performance suffered financially as a result. What the audience lacked in quantity, however, it more than made up by an enthusiasm and appreciation, as discriminating as it was deserved.

It is safe to predict that when next Mr. Harry Harvey brings his company to Shawnigan, the large S. L. A. A. Hall will be packed with the many music lovers in this district, who were not previously prepared for the unusually high calibre of musical talent displayed.

The surprise and delight of the evening was the violin playing of Mr. Harry Harvey, who was for some years "chief d'orchestre" of the famous Carl Rosa Opera Company, in England. Mr. Harvey is a "virtuoso" of real brilliancy and refinement, and his solos were in each instance distinguished by an unusual degree of intelligence and feeling. Both in tone and temper, his rendering of such exacting pieces as Sarasati's "Gypsy Airs," and Wieniawski's "Legende," were admirable, while his interpretation of Saint Saen's "Le Cynge" (the Swan) was full of poetic feeling and of fine appreciation of the composer's musical design.

Another excellent artist was Mr. W. Young, a flutist of considerable accomplishment and marked refinement in expression whose piccolo solo "The Robin" was one of the most enjoyable items of the evening's entertainment.

The vocalist of the evening was Mrs. G. Pym, who is well known in Duncan as a soprano of considerable accomplishment and artistry. She sang the difficult "Prayer of Elizabeth" in Taunhauser with fine tone and feeling, and was heard to equal advantage in the beautiful old ballad "Drink to Me With Thine Eyes" which evoked an undeniable encore. Her voice is well trained, and she sings in the fresh open tones of one who has been taught in the French or Italian school. Miss Grace Morgan played the accompaniments with delicacy and self-repression, doubtly rare in one of repute as a soloist. Disappointment was felt at the inability of Mr. William Little, the clever Chevalier impersonator and character comedian to come as expected, but Shawnigan folk will look forward to seeing him with the other artists of Mr. Harvey's company on their next visit when the excellence of last Monday's concert should assure them a full house.

MOORE GOT THIRTY DAYS FOR ASSAULT

An incident which occurred during the football game on Sunday afternoon, in which the principal figure was Tom Moore, a local pugilist, was carried into the police court yesterday morning. Moore was acting as linesman for the Athletics and during the first half was patrolling the line in front of the grandstand. Some of his decisions did not meet with the approval of the crowd on the stand and there was considerable boo-ing and cries of put him off. It is possible that this hostile demonstration may have ruffled Moore's feelings, and at least he was quieter on the line afterwards, particularly when he changed sides in the second half.

Shortly after the resumption of play Moore suddenly left his line and hurried over to the fence, and in a moment was engaged in a mix-up with a man named Kennedy, the latter getting a rather bad damaged optic. Kennedy laid an information against Moore, who was charged with assault before Magistrate Simpson. The evidence was not conclusive as to whether Moore or Kennedy first used abusive language. There was no doubt at all that Moore punched Kennedy, and the witnesses of the prosecution were also all agreed that Moore was the aggressor.

Magistrate Simpson after hearing the counter evidence of the defence, found Moore guilty, and sentenced him to thirty days in jail without the option of paying a fine.

Steps are being taken by counsel for the defence, Bird, Leighton and Darling, to obtain Moore's release on a writ of habeas corpus and the case will be appealed on the grounds that an indictable offence was tried summarily by the magistrate without first obtaining the consent of the accused, and other alleged irregularities.

NANAIMO GUN CLUB.

The Executive Committee of the Nanaimo Gun Club will hold a meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in the Lotus Hotel parlors, when important business will be discussed including the preparing of a program for the competition which is to take place on the Cricket Grounds in the Victoria Day celebration and which will form one of the main attractions of the morning of May 25.

OPENING OF LOCAL BASEBALL SEASON

The Nanaimo Baseball Club will open the season on Sunday next with an outside team, either from Vancouver or Victoria, and the fans are on the tip toe of excitement in anticipation of a brilliant game.

Manager Benedict has been besieged with requests from Victoria and Vancouver for dates, and the season promises to be filled with engagements which will give the locals some strenuous matches.

A full practise of the locals will be held on the Caledonian grounds this evening at 6 o'clock and every player is urged to be in attendance.

SPORTSMANLIKE ACTION GREATLY APPRECIATED

Mr. E. Carr Hilton, captain of the Cowichan team, writes in praise of the conduct of Mr. Leighton, of Nanaimo, during the Island League match between the two cities on Saturday last. In attempting an easy run Mr. Carr of Cowichan slipped on the matting and fell twice, but although Mr. Leighton had ample time to put the wicket down, he refused to do so. In the same inning Mr. Leighton captured nine of the Cowichan wickets for 21 runs.

The above is taken from yesterday's Colonist, and is a very graceful acknowledgement of a generous act of sportmanship such as tends to make the game of cricket what it is, the cleanest and most sociable of all outdoor pastimes. The fact that Mr. Leighton's refusal to take advantage of a pure accident, and no error of judgment or faulty play, probably lost Nanaimo the game only emphasizes the good sportmanship of the act. That the Cowichan captain, Mr. Carr Hilton, to whom Nanaimo is indebted for many good sporting turns, should have taken the trouble to make it public proves his graceful appreciation. It is playing the game on both sides.

FORSEES A GENERAL ELECTION

Premier Asquith's Promise of Amending Home Rule Bill Leads Unionist Papers to Predict General Election.

London May 13.—Premier Asquith's promise of amending the Home Rule Bill and John Redmond's refusal to approve such a course leads several Unionist newspapers to consider the prospects of a general election much nearer.

The Belfast News letter today says "For us in Ulster there is only one conclusion, and that is we must go on steadily with our preparations to make good our resistance. We can put no trust whatever in the prime minister's hope of being able to obtain before the end of the session a real settlement or an agreed amending bill. If he had any ground for that hope he would have stated what the ground was."

Freeman's Journal, Dublin, (Nationalist) is unable to see any good in an amending bill if the government is fixed in the notion beforehand that its efforts will be treated with contempt.

Mr. Redmond's repudiation of the prime minister's proposed amending act to the Irish Home Rule Bill does not alter the position which Ulster has taken up. Sir Edward Carson last night declared that the Nationalist leader's outburst makes no difference in their attitude.

"Mr. Redmond may repudiate as much as he likes. I am as determined in my opposition as I was before" said Sir Edward.

IMMIGRATION FROM BRITAIN

Montreal, May 13.—The falling off in immigration has not been so pronounced as most shipping men expected, apparently considering the depressed trade conditions here. It [redacted] Britain were about normal, though there was a marked difference in the number of passengers booked from European ports.

ORGAN RECITAL NEXT TUESDAY

An organ recital of more than ordinary merit will be given in St. Andrew's church on Tuesday, May 19. The organist will be Professor Joseph Hinton, the well-known Victoria organist and a gentleman with a wide experience in the musical world and one who has enjoyed more than the usual success in his profession.

Professor Hinton was late recital organist of the Glasgow, Scotland, Corporation Recitals in St. Andrews Halls and Art Galleries, and also late Professor Toronto College of Music. The vocalist of the evening will be Miss Hinton, also of Victoria. The recital is sure to be a musical treat and being one of the first organ recitals held in the city for some time will no doubt attract a large attendance of musical lovers.

The program for the evening will be as follows:

1.—Overture, "If I were King" (Adolph Adam)
2.—Vocal Solo, "Oro Pro Nobis" (Piccolmini)
3.—Organ Solos, "L'Arlene" (Wellesley)
"Liebeslied" (Henselt)
"Spinning" (Schneider)
4.—Vocal Solo, "The Children's Home" (Cowen)
5.—Organ Solo, "Bridal Procession" from Costa's "Naaman."
6.—Vocal Solo, "Ideale" (Tosti)
"Absence" (Metcalfe)
7.—Organ Solos, "Bell Rondo" (Morandi)
"Scotch Fantasia" (Hinton)
8.—Vocal Solos, Scotch Songs.
9.—Organ Solo, "Choral Song and "Fugue" (S. S. Wesley)
10.—Vocal Solo, Selected.
11.—Organ Solo, Selections from "Tales of Hoffman." "Faust," and introduction to 3rd. Act of Wagner's "Lohengrin."

EXPECTS FALL OF TAMPICO

Capture of Mexican City by Rebel Forces is Hourly Expected—Heavy Artillery Duel in Progress.

Washington, May 13.—Reports reached the navy department today that the artillery duel between rebels and federals at Tampico had ceased late yesterday and that the results of the engagement were not known.

Heavy firing at Tampico was resumed at midnight and the constitutionalists say they expect to capture Tampico today, according to a dispatch received from Admiral Mayo He reported: "The general impression [illegible] to be that the expectations would be realized.

Heavy cannonading was heard at Tampico early yesterday, continuing through the day. Reports were sent from ships off Tampico that the constitutionalists were attacking the city of the oil centre and that the federals were answering with heavy guns.

The federals had prepared strong entrenchments outside Tampico and it was thought the constitutionalist gunners were trying to shell the federals from these as the first step in their advance to the city proper.

The cessation of firing at a late hour yesterday gave rise to speculations that the federals had been beaten and that the constitutionalists had been forced to suspend their attack. The resumption of the firing at midnight is taken to be a renewal of the constitutionalist attack. The fall of the city is expected at any time.

Juarez, Mex., May 13—The Federal gunboat Bravo began a bombardment of the constitutionalists position on a hill in the outskirts of Tampico and a school-house occupied by the constitutionalists at eight o'clock last night. Artillery fire of the gunboat was badly directed, according to the message received here doing no damage and wounding no one in the constitutionalist ranks.

The constitutionalist forces have been in constant touch with the federal outposts for several days and there have been daily skirmishes, but the rebels still are awaiting the final order for a general attack on the federal entrenchments.

On May 10 and 11, General Gonzales, with his brigadier-generals Luis Caballero and Cessario Castro, took up their positions before Tampico and by a series of reconnaissances and skirmishes located the position of the federals. General Gonzales then sent a note to the federal commander, General Morelos Zaragosa, inviting him to leave his position within the city and engage on the plain outside in order to avoid needless bloodshed among citizens of the town and non-combatants. This note was communicated to the foreign consuls at Tampico, who were notified to see that their fellow-countrymen took refuge on vessels in the harbor.

The federal gunboat Zaragosa is shelling the Madero flour mill, which is situated on the bank of the Panuco river and which is occupied by constitutionalists, but the infantry remained in their trenches.

Another telegram which was received by way of Ciudad Victoria stated that the families of foreigners living in Tampico had taken refuge on warships and merchant vessels in the harbor, and that many of the Mexican residents of the city had taken refuge behind the constitutionalist lines.

General Gonzales has seized all the Mexican yachts and launches on the Panuco river and will use them to transport his troops.

There are six thousand unemployed men in Tampico. Some of these men have been obliged to take up arms in the federal ranks, according to the message, while many have made their way to the constitutionalist lines and enlisted under General Gonzales.

AMERICANS FLEE FROM TAMPICO.

Photograph showing Americans and other foreign residents of Tampico, crowding into boats in their flight to foreign battleships in the harbor during the anti-American demonstrations. The ships in the harbor included United States transports, German, Dutch and British cruisers, as well as several commercial liners. At the same time the Mexican rebels were shelling the city from the hills in the suburbs.

BIPLANES COLLIDE.

London, May 13.— Two army airmen, Capt. F. D. Anderson and a mechanic by the name of Carter were killed and Lieutenant C. W. Wilson severely injured when two biplanes collided yesterday in the air at Aldershot.

ICE GOES OUT

Seattle, May 13.—Dispatches from Fairbanks, Alaska, report that the ice in the Tanana and Chena went out without damage to the city. The Forty Mile river is open. Dawson reports that the upper Yukon will be navigable June 1 or 2.

MISSING MAN CAME TO NANAIMO

James Alexander, a native of Scotland, left Vancouver on April 15 for Nanaimo, with the intention of securing work in the mines here. He has not been heard of since that time, and Miss Margaret Cox, who has asked the provincial police to make enquiries, thinks that he may have met with foul play. He is described as being a man of thirty-five years of age, but looks older. On his right forearm is tatooed a tombstone.

SEATTLE WINS CONVENTION

Atlanta, Ga., May 13.— The committee appointed by the Imperial Council, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine to select the meeting place for the 1915 conclave, today reported in favor of Seattle over San Francisco. The final vote will be taken late today.

FOUND WITH THROAT CUT.

High River, Alta., May 13.— The decomposing remains of an unidentified man, whose throat had been cut from ear to ear and whose skull was crushed in, were found in a railroad culvert about a mile west of Blackie on the Alderside Kipp branch of the C. P. R. Monday morning.

MADE GRANT TO LOCAL HOSPITAL

Provincial Government Donates $2,000 to Nanaimo Hospital—Board Held Regular Meeting Last Night.

The Provincial Government has come through with another handsome grant to the Nanaimo Hospital, this time the amount is $2,000 and it comes at a most opportune time for the hospital. The circumstance inducing the government to make the grant are rather unusual. At the time of the Oscar explosion a great deal of damage was done the hospital. The operating room was almost a complete wreck, the nurses' home was considerably damaged and other injury was done the institution. The board to carry themselves through borrowed money from the Woman's Auxiliary and the Red Cross Society, however, the grant from the government will relieve them considerably. The announcement of the grant was made at the regular board meeting last night at which were present President Booth, vice president Dr. Brown and Mrs. Weigle, Mrs. Randle, Peter Gordon, Wm. Rumming, G. S. Pearson and Jno. Shaw.

The resignation of Miss Millett, head nurse, to take effect at once was accepted.

The board are contemplating calling a special general meeting shortly to revise the bylaws governing the election of officers.

The amount of money collected by the matron during the month of April was $1001; that from the government $573. As showing the increase in the work of the hospital the number of pieces now being sent to the laundry is double what it was a year ago. There were 1611 patients days during April.

The following cash donations were acknowledged to the hospital: Herbert Skinner, $25; J. A. Pickman, $5; Dr. Brown, $13.65; G. S. Pearson $6.20. Mrs. Hawthornthwaite has presented the institution with an invalid's chair. Dr. Brown's donation is made up from charges he has collected for damages to his lawn by strayed horses and cattle.

AGNES YOUNG IS MAID OF HONOR

A change has been made in the court attendants of the Queen of May as appointed by ballot of the school children. Miss Dorothy Bate has dropped out and Miss Agnes Young will take her place as one of the Maids of Honor.

The Alberni City Council has made a grant for publicity purposes.

OVERCOME BY TUNNEL GAS

Northern Pacific Trainmen Victims of Gas in Stampede Tunnel—Will Install Fan to Minimize Danger.

Auburn, Wash., May 13.—One man was nearly asphyxiated and three more partially overcome by the gas present in Stampede tunnel on the Northern Pacific, 80 miles east of here early yesterday morning. All of those who were the victims of the gas were trainmen in the employ of the railway company, and were in charge of westbound freight train, No. 603.

Joseph Goshby, head brakeman on the train was in the middle part of the train when a coupling broke in two and the train was "dynamited" by the automatic application of the airbrakes following the breaking.

Realizing the extreme danger but knowing the coupling would have to be repaired before the train could leave the tunnel, Goshby endeavored to find the broken coupling and became partially overcome with the gas generated by the coal that always is present in the tunnel. When he realized that the gas was getting the better of him he staggered and crawled to the locomotive, where he lost consciousness. Engineer C. W. Hoffman and Fireman W. Reesegue put Goshby on the engine and uncoupling from the rest of the train ran out of the west entrance of the tunnel. In their efforts to rescue Goshby both men were partially overcome, and when they emerged were in a condition bordering on unconsciousness.

Station attendants at Stampede hastened back to the train after giving the trainmen first aid, and found Engineer C. L. Sayer of the helping locomotive battling against the fumies. He was removed and later all four men were taken to their homes.

At a late hour this morning all but Goshy were said to be out of danger.

Goshy's home is in Kent, and from there it was learned his condition, due to the inhalation of the gas, was still dangerous.

Trainmaster O. F. Ohlson made an investigation yesterday afternoon and today said that though such accidents would occur, and could not be averted the danger to train crews who are installed in the big bore would be minimized within the next 35 or 40 days when the big fan, now in process of installation in the tunnel will be completed.

The huge fan, when in operation, will be the largest in the world, and will cost the railway company $75-000.

COAL COMPANY GIVES NICE TROPHY

Mr. H. N. Freeman, on behalf of the Vancouver-Nanaimo Coal Company has presented the Victoria Day Celebration Committee with a handsome silver cup which will be competed for in connection with the field sports on the 25th.

The trophy will probably be awarded as the first prize in a five-mile race.

The Vancouver Board of Trade at its meeting Tuesday night adopted, on the motion of Mr. F. E. Cope, president of the B. C. Manufacturers Association, a strong resolution favoring the insertion of a clause in the contract of the Second Narrows bridge, to be built by the Burrard Inlet Tunnel and Bridge Company, to provide that the steel fabricating work to be done in a Vancouver plant.

The funeral of the late Dr. Elliott S. Rowe took place yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the undertaking establishment of Center & Hanna, Vancouver, and was largely attended. Before the public service, Acadia Lodge, A. F. and A. M., of which the deceased was a member, held a private Masonic funeral service, which was largely attended by prominent members of sister city lodges. Rev. D. Eber Crummy, pastor of Wesley Methodist Church, and an old friend of Dr. Rowe, was the officiating clergyman at the public service. There were many present.

MAY LAND AT PLYMOUTH

New York, May 13.—Henry Siegel awaiting trial on charges growing out of the alleged mismanagement of his mercantile enterprises [illegible] will be allowed to land at Plymouth when the vessel he sailed on a few days ago reaches the English terminal, according to an agreement reached between his attorneys and District Attorney Whitman and consented to by Supreme Court Justice Seabury.

DETECTIVE GIVEN LIBERTY

Strathmore, Alta., May 13.—P. J. Brown, the Winnipeg detective, charged jointly with Detective T. F. Noakes of Calgary, with attempting to extort $1,000 from D. O. Williams was given his liberty at the conclusion of the hearing today. Noakes was committed to Calgary for trial.

MAY BE POLICEWOMEN.

Boston, May 13.—Policewomen may be appointed in the cities and towns of the state under the provisions of a bill signed by Governor Walsh yesterday.

LOCAL COMPANY'S FINE RECORD

First Break in Light Service in 2½ Years Last Night—Power off For Few Minutes Only.

There was a short shut down of the electric light power last night shortly after 7 o'clock. The juice was off less than ten minutes and being so early in the evening little or no inconvenience was caused to consumers. The shutting off of the power was necessitated by a stick getting into the nossle that feeds the power wheel. In preparation for such an emergency as this the Electric Light Company have always steam up when operating the water wheel and it is only a matter of making the turn over until the juice was running through the wires again.

This is the first break in the electric light service since December 12 1911, a matter of about two years and a half, which probably constitutes a record for any light company in British Columbia. In fact it is doubtful if any company in Canada can point to as long a term of continuous service as the Nanaimo Company.

"LITTLE NELL" IS DEAD.

London, May 13.—Mrs. Harriet Tice, who said she was original of Dickens' "Little Nell" in the "The Old Curiosity Shop," is dead. She was born in 1827 in a house which, it has been said, was the original of the "Old Curiosity Shop."

WANT EUGENIC CHILD.

Sioux City, Ia., May 13.—Iowa medical women in convention here have demanded the enactment of drastic health legislation that will cut down the tremendous infant mortality, stop the waste of money spent in trying to get well and bring into the world the eugenic child.

VILLAGE NEARLY DESTROYED

Brockville, Ont., May 13.—The village of Linn, five miles west of here, narrowly escaped being wiped out by fire yesterday. The villagers formed a bucket brigade with the Brockville fire brigade and saved the situation after three buildings had been destroyed.

BOY ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

Wilkie, Sask., May 13.—William Lachner, aged 14, was accidentally killed at his home on a farm near here yesterday by the discharge of a gun when it was being placed on a bed in an adjoining room by the hired man.

CHILDREN'S DRILL TWENTY-FOURTH

Splendid Prizes Will be Awarded for Winners in Various Drills and Competitions —Will be a Big Day.

An interesting series of contests has been arranged in connection with the children's drills which Mrs. T. W. Martindale has charge of for the Victoria Day celebration. The feature of this part of the day's events will be a tableau flag drill. There is less gymnastic work in this kind of drill but some beautiful effects are obtained from the grouping of the flags and the mingling of the varied colored dresses of the children taking part. Mrs. Martindale reports that the children are making fine progress, and the whole drill will be carried out to a musical accompaniment. The drill lends itself to the prettiest conceivable effect and there is no doubt that it will form one of the most attractive faetures in the day's proceedings.

In addition to the tableau drill a series of competition has been arranged which should also prove very popular with adults as well as most pleasing to the children. The program is as follows, and entries should all be in by the end of this week or the beginning of next week.

J. H. GOOD IS IN NEW QUARTERS

The improvements recently made to the old Crown Theatre have transformed that structure into one of the finest business houses in Nanaimo. The premises are now occupied by Mr. J. H. Good, the local furniture dealer and auctioneer, the firm being busy yesterday removing their large stock of wares from temporary quarters on Chapel street.

The new premises contain a double front on Commercial street with two fine windows for display, the interior of the new store being designed for the most tasteful arrangements of the handsome furniture in stock, and containing besides the most modern type of office appointments.

JAMES GORDON PASSED AWAY

The death occurred in the city yesterday morning of James Gordon, a resident of Nanaimo for upwards of twenty-five years, and one of the best known men in the district.

The deceased was a native of Aberdeen, Scotland, aged 83 years, and during his stay in this city was for many years resident manager of the Victoria Brewing Company, with place of business on Prideaux street opposite the E. & N. station.

Besides his wife, the deceased leaves three sons and three daughters to mourn his loss, of whom James Gordon, jr., resides in this city, Robert is in Salt Lake City, and Alexander is in Sydney, N. S. The daughters are Mrs. J. Hopkins, of Salt Lake City, and Mrs. James Arnett and Mrs. James Ramsay, residing in Scotland.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, Rosehill avenue, Newcastle Townsite on Friday afternoon next at 2 o'clock, under the auspices of the Social Democratic Party. Funeral arrangements are in the hands of H. McAdie.

A WHITE B. C.

The Hon. Digby Denham, Premier of Queensland, Australia, is spending a few days in Vancouver. Discussing the Oriental question with an interviewer he stated that the policy of keeping Australia a white man's country is even more vital there than in Canada. His reason for taking this view is the proximity of Canada to the United States. To carry out their exclusion system they had governmental regulations in regard to wages and many other matters not so regulated in other countries. This comes very near to the point we have always emphasized in discussing this question. We do not believe that Orientals would be wanted in Canada at all if they had to be paid the same rate of wages as white laborers. There would be no necessity for rigid exclusion laws if there was a maximum wage law in the province for whites and Orientals alike. So long as there is cheap labor to be got cheap labor will be employed. The average employer is no better and no worse than the average worker. Dearer labor would mean increased cost of production, and a higher price to consumer. But the question goes deeper than economic considerations. It involves the security of [illegible] tion l life. An alien population which cannot be assimilated is a menace to any country. The people of British Columbia are all agreed upon these points, and are prepared to make all necessary sacrifices to obtain a white province. Australia has shown us the first step to be taken in the accomplishment of this object. The larger question of a rigid exclusion law can be taken up later.

BRITISH COAL TRADE

After all the sensational news stories we get out here concerning the trade and political situation in Great Britain it comes as rather a surprise to learn how well the Motherland maintains its prosperity. The year 1913 we all know was an unlucky one for us and for the coal industry on the island. We also had the impression that it had been anything but a prosperous one with the coal trade of the United Kingdom. According to figures just published by the Home Office the exact opposite is the case. The output of the coal mines was the highest on record, totalling 287,411,869 tons, an increase of over twenty-seven million tons over 1912. Every inspection district showed an increase. Naturally the number of employees in and around the mines showed a corresponding increase, and altogether 1913 stands out as the record year in the history of the British coal industry. No doubt should the tariff question be thrown to the politicians in a few months time we shall learn from some high authority that the coal industry is verging on ruin and the whole trade of the country crumbling to pieces. The fact seems to be that in spite of all the political frothing the country continues its even way of sound and surprising prosperity.

Last July The Herald endeavored to persuade the men on strike that it would be to their own interests to permit the company to keep the mines in as good a shape as possible The men's leaders did not take this view of the situation, but adopted the policy that the threatened ruin of the mines would force the company to come to their terms. They were supported in this policy by the Free Press, and their counsels prevailed with the men, with the result that the south side of the mine had to be flooded. We imagine that the great majority of the men will now admit that we were right. The destruction of property is no part of trade union practice, but the men's leaders and the Free Press at that time said it was. The evening newspaper even quoted strike experience in the north of England where the same policy had been pursued. Old Country exchanges just to hand indicate that a contrary policy was observed in the recent strike in Yorkshire. For example we learn that the mines at Rotherham were kept in good condition. After a period of idleness for nine weeks it was expected that in three days the mines would be working full strength. This means that the operators had been permitted to keep the mines in good shape which is just what the Free Press affirmed they were not allowed to do. It is as the Herald always contended. The preservation of the mine property has no effect one way or the other on the issue of a strike. It is equally as much to the interests of the men as to the operators that the mines should be kept as nearly as possible ready for the resumption of work. If any serious damage to the mine workings takes place, it means a capital loss, and consequently, a reduction in profits, and, ultimately, a lowering of wages. These elemen- [illegible] matter of course in old country unionism, were absolutely rejected by the leaders here. Nothing could have more clearly or conclusively stamped their unfitness to handle a serious strike situation.

According to announcements just made the Dominion Government is o install on Little Saanich mountain, a few miles out of Victoria, an astronominal observatory, which will carry the largest telescope in the world. Victoria has been chosen for the site of the observatory because of its superlative climate and atmospheric conditions. The choice, we are told, was only made after the most exhaustive expert investigation covering practically every part of the dominion. In addition to the importance of having the observatory established in its vicinity, Victoria receives a notable advertisement of its exceptional climatic conditions.

STEAM COLLIER TURNED TURTLE

EARTHQUAKE IN UTAH.

Ogden, Utah, May 13.—An earthquake of over a second's duration occurred here at 10:14 a. m., causing consternation in tall buildings and breaking large windows in the business district.

PRINCE OF WALES IN FISTIC ENCOUNTER

London, May 13.—The Prince of Wales has just had his first encounter with a British workman in the shape of a brief bout at fisticuffs, with the driver of a laundry wagon, at Oxford. The driver was worsted.

The man was delivering baskets at Keble college, when three students drove the wagon away and left it in a side street. Then they waited developments.

The culprits were joined by the prince, when another driver rushed at the group, selecting the prince for attack. He tapped the princely claret and bruised the royal chest. The next instant the prince landed a blow on the driver's face that staggered him. The students then declared the fight ended with honors even. The prince soothed his opponent's feelings with a cigar and a gold coin.

PUBLISHING OBSCENE MATTER BRINGS FINE

Samuel J. Gothard was yesterday fined $20 by Judge McInnes, in a Vancouver Police Court on the charge of having published obscene matter in a paper known as the Truth. A plea of guilty was entered, and on behalf of the accused it was stated that he did not recognize the serious nature of the offense when he was commiting it. Mr. George Cowan, K. C., and Mr. Frank Lyons on his behalf asked the judge to deal leniently in the case and gave an undertaking that such an article as that complained of would not appear in that paper again. In view of these statements and the fact that it was the first offense which had been brought before him, his honor imposed the penalty stated.

ROOSEVELT MAY LEAD ONCE MORE

New York, May 13.—A special cable from Barbadoes says:

"Col. Roosevelt's health has greatly improved. He is due in New York May 19, and declares he is homesick."

"Will you be a candidate for the presidency in 1916," the colonel was asked.

"I cannot tell if I shall run until later developments," he answered, "but if I do run, it must be on a Progressive platform, which the Republicans must accept."

Col. Roosevelt is angry that Sir Clements Markham, the British explorer, challenges his statement that he discovered and explored the hitherto unknown river Duvida in Brazil He says he will prove his every statement about his Brazilian explorations when he describes them before the Royal Geographical Society in London.

Practical Fashion Hints

By Alice Gibson

Fashions for children are quaintly pretty this Spring and the new materials are especially suited to childhood. Dresses and coats are inclined to the long-waisted effects, drop shoulders and short skirts. The Middy blouse dress is the practical model for school wear. Pattern 7612 shows an unlined Middy blouse with drop shoulders and regulation sailor collar, combined with a plaited skirt attached to a separate, sleeveless underwaist. If desired, this dress may be made with a skirt of dark blue serge and the blouse of white linen or duck. This is a practical suggestion for a little later in the Spring; if the dress is intended to be worn at the present moment without a coat, it would be advisable to make it entirely of the serge with perhaps, a piping of scarlet or green or a chemisette of white as a relief. For a child of ten, this design requires 4¾ yards of 36-inch material. Serge averages 36 to 40 inches in width and ranges in price from 75 cents to $1.50 a yard. This pattern is cut in five sizes, 6 to 14.

THIS IS A PERFECT PATTERN.

Be sure to give the right size, passing the tape around the fullest part of the [illegible] well up under the arms.

The pattern may be obtained by sending name and address, pattern No. and size and fifteen cents to DAVID SPENCER LIMITED.

NANAIMO WON OUT IN A CLOSE GAME.

Referring to the roller hockey match at Port Alberni in which Nanaimo proved victorious, the Port Alberni News says:

"A hockey match, Nanaimo vs. Port Alberni was played in the Roller Skating rink, McGrath building, on Thursday night when the visitors registered a victory by a score of 5 goals to 4.

"In the first half the Nanaimo players seemed to have things mostly their own way, doing all the scoring and piling up four goals before resting time.

"In the second half the Port Alberni stick handlers went after the puck with a determination and a certainty of movement that surprised their opponents and scored four goals while Nanaimo added only one more.

"There was a large gathering of spectators and the game created intense excitement. It was keen and clever sport.

"The teams were:

"Nanaimo—Goal, Fred Dodds; point John Dick; cover point, Arthur Morton; center, A. Davis; rover, Fred Botley; right wing, T. Scott; left wing, E. Holten.

BUTCHERS TO MEET GROCERS TODAY

The first baseball game of the series scheduled to be played by teams from the Merchants' Employees' Association will be played this afternoon, when the Butchers and Grocers clash on the Cricket Grounds The competition has aroused considerable interest in baseball circles, and there is no doubt the game will be keenly contested. To-day's game is timed to start at 2:30 and a good crowd should be on hand.

The Butchers will line up as follows:

Catcher, W. Stewart; pitcher, Cawthorne; 1st. b., C. Quennell; 2nd. b. W. Marwick; 3rd. b., W. Quennell; s. s. S. McCuish; l.f., L. Smith; c. f. O. Hartwood; r.f., Donahue; spare men, Bushfield, Laskie, Jones and Beck.

Instead of the usual four-winged affair a new storm door for public buildings is made in the form of a cylinder with an opening in one side through which a person enters, leaving it as a motor turns it around.

ACQUITTED OF CHARGE

Fernie, May 13.—In the Supreme Court, Ida Green, charged with manslaughter, was acquitted. The judge charged strongly in favor of the accused.

NEW NORWEGIAN LINE.

San Francisco, May 13.— A cable from Christiania, Norway, says a shipping firm of that port has just let a contract for a 2200-ton steamer which will be the beginning of a line from Norway to San Francisco by way of the canal, with stops at Central American and Mexican ports.

The contract for the second vessel will be let in a few weeks. The first vessel will commence service about next October. C. Henry Smith of this city will be the Pacific coast representative.

KILLED BY TRAIN

High Bluff, Man., May 13.— The Brandon local train of the C. P. R. struck and instantly killed Edward Gallagher of Portage la Prairie half a mile east of this station while he was walking east on the westbound track today. Mr. Gallagher was 42 years old, and is reported to have been managing a picture show at Portage la Prairie until very recently.

Write Stories For Moving Picture Plays

New, Spare-time Profession for Men and Women—One Man Makes $3500 in Six Months.

Owing to the large number of new motion picture theatres which are being opened throughout the country, there is offered to the men and women of today, a new profession namely, that of writing moving picture plays. Producers are paying from $25 to $150 for each scenario accepted upon which they can build a photo play.

$3500 in Six Months.

As it only requires a few hours' time to construct a complete play, you can readily see the immense possibilities in this work. One man who gave the idea a tryout, writes that he earned $3500 in six months. It is possible for an intelligent person to meet with equal success.

One feature of the business which should appeal to everyone, is that the work may be done at home in spare time. No literary ability is required and women have as great an opportunity as men. Ideas for plots are constantly turning up, and may be put in scenario form and sold for a good price.

Particulars Sent FREE.

Complete particulars of this most interesting and profitable profession may be had FREE OF CHARGE by sending a post card to

VOLUME XIV | NANAIMO, VANCOUVER ISLAND, BRITISH COLUMBIA, FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 15, 1914 | NUMBER 60

HUERTA IS NEARING END

Victory of Rebel Army at Tampico Means End of Huerta Regime—Riot and Bloodshed Feared.

Vera Cruz, May 14.—Three Mexican gunboats crowded with Federal soldiers who escaped from Tampico yesterday when the last stronghold of Provisional President Huerta on the eastern seaboard of Mexico was taken by the constitutionalist army, rode at anchor today under the protecting guns of Rear-Admiral Mayo's squadron of American warships off Tampico.

It is possible that among the Federal officers on the Mexican Warships is the commander whose refusal to comply with Rear-Admiral Mayo's demand for a salute to the Stars and Stripes in reparation for an insult to the American flag, precipitated the American occupation of the port of Vera Cruz.

With the fall of Tampico the line of advance of the constitutionalist forces towards the south has been drawn from coast to coast, and now embraces more than half of the Republic of Mexico.

Observers here express the opinion that the taking of Tampico by the constitutionalists forms one of the closing scenes of the dictatorship of General Victoriano Huerta. They believe that his downfall is a question only of weeks and perhaps only of days, while some are inclined to give the dictator only a few hours before his control in the federal capital ends in possible riot and bloodshed.

General Huerta is now hemmed in by the constitutionalists in the north, while his most important seaport is in the hands of American troops, the American warships are watching both coasts.

Of all the important railroads in Mexico, only those running from the capital to Puerto Mexico, Salina Cruz and Manzanillo remain completely under federal control.

Within sixty miles of Mexico City Emilanio Zapata and his lawless followers rule the entire State of Morelos. Further south the Brothers Figueroa aad an army of bandits are running riot through the State of Guerrero.

To the west of the capital the railroad to Manzanillo is open but American warships dominate the port, while the east of Mexico City, Vera Cruz is cut off and with it the whole stretch of wild country northward to Tampico.

According to the best information obtainable here, General Villa is beseiging San Luis Potosi, if that city has not already fallen into the hands of the constitutionalists.

General Huerta, therefore, is fighting with his back to a wall that offers little defence, for rumors are everywhere current that Zapata and possibly the Figueroa brothers with their followers will combine with the victorious constitutionalists and carry out an assault on Mexico City from the south as General Villa drives home his attack from the north.

GREAT RECORD BY S. S. PRINCESS PATRICIA

The S. S. "Princess Patricia," the Nanaimo-Vancouver flyer, which has the reputation of being the fastest vessel in coast waters has travelled a great number of miles since leaving her old home on the Clyde for the waters of the Pacific.

From Greenock, Scotland, to Victoria, B. C., on her trip out the "Pat" steamed 15,051 knots at an average speed of 14.25 knots per hour and since her arrival in B. C. waters has covered 52,763 knots (60,755 land miles) or four and a quarter times the distance from Glasgow to Vancouver via Cape Horn.

Since entering upon the Nanaimo Vancouver service the "Pat" has made 939 trips across the Gulf, her average speed on the single run being 17.1 knots an hour, and on the double run 18.91 knots an-hour.

NO AGREEMENT ON WAGES.

Olympia, May 14.—When the state conference called to recommend a minimum wage for women workers in factories took a two-hour recess at 6 o'clock last night it seemed certain that a unanimous decision was impossible.

EASTERN CITIES FLOODED.

Detroit, Mich., May 14.—After falling continuously for thirty-six hours rain ceased early today and danger of further flood damage in Detroit and elsewhere in Southern Michigan abated tonight. In Detroit 3.12 inches of rain fell and in Kalamazoo and vicinity was estimated at more than $250,000. So far as reported. only one death resulted.

SLAYER OF WIFE'S ADMIRER IS FREED.

Chicago, May 14.—William Marshall Keith was found not guilty today of murdering Walter Paul, a butcher, whom he shot after learning of Mrs. Keith's fondness for Paul. The jury, after five hours' deliberation, held that Keith was insane when he shot Paul, but had recovered and is now sane.

WILL ATTACK STRONGHOLD

Villa Has Twenty Five Thousand Troops Ready for Attack on Federal Stronghold at Saltillo.

Torreon, Mex., May 14.—Mobilization of constitutionalist troops for the campaign against Saltillo came to a close last night, when the last units left Torreon accompanied by General Villa and staff. This concentration has brought together an army of 25,000 men to test the strength of the federal stronghold.

"To establish constitutionalist government throughout Mexico, we need ammunition—more ammunition than we have—and I am willing that the government of the United States shall supervise the importation of it" said Villa, in commenting upon newspaper reports purporting to indicate that President Wilson and others would be glad to see the constitutionalists take Mexico City and end the present state of unrest in Mexico.

"How can we take Mexico City if we have no ammunition?" asked Villa. "We must get ammunition somewhere after the fighting at Saltillo, as our supply then will be depleted.

"Of course the United States government must keep in mind the possibility that someone might provoke war between the two countries. It would be injudicious to say the least under such conditions to permit the unlimited importation of ammunition into a country with which battles might have to be fought.

"For that reason I am willing to have a commission ascertain the amount of ammunition we need until Mexico City is taken with a view to having the embargo on the quantity we require for that purpose.

"A commission such as I propose easily could ascertain the amount of ammunition required by us to carry out our plans. Needless to say, the ammunition admitted by such a commission into Mexico would not be large enough to leave much, if any, over after our operations, for a war with the United States, which, by the way, is the very last thing I think possible. Meanwhile we should do what we set out to do."

For six days trains have been taking soldiers, horses and equipment to some points on the line between Torreon and Monterey, the exact point of detrainment being unknown. Strict secrecy regarding his plans have been maintained by General Villa. Nothing is known beyond the possibility that Las Bocas, north of Saltillo, will be the base of operations against that town and that many troops have left the cars at Hipolito.

The army which General Villa will lead against Saltillo consists of 15,000 cavalry, 7,500 infantry and 2,500 artillery. The latter branch of the service is equipped with forty-seven field guns and sixty-five machine guns.

MELLEN TAKES THE STAND

Washington, May 14.— Former President Charles S. Mellen, of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad today took the stand before the Interstate Commerce Commission in its enquiry into the New Haven's affairs. Counsel Folk called Mr. Mellen despite the controversy between the commission and the department of justice as to whether the enquiry should continue, in view of the possibility of the testimony rendering witnesses immune from prosecution in the courts.

"FIGHTING FRED" FUNSTON IN VERA CRUZ.

Photograph of Brigadier General Funston, "Fighting Fred" and Commander Hughes, aide to Admiral Fletcher, on their way to the military headquarters in Vera Cruz, where Gen. Funston is in supreme control. Aiding General Funston to preserve order in the city now under American rule, is the Fifth Army Brigade, composed of, four full regiments with full field equipment and artillery. The Fifth Brigade, which was rushed from Galveston to Vera Cruz, immediately after the news was received that the Americans had occupied the city, relieved the sailors and marines who had been on duty there.

BIG ROBBERY AT PENTICTON

Post-office Entered During Night and Several Thousand Dollars Stolen—Raid Made During Rainstorm.

Penticton, B. C., May 14.—Under of this morning burglars forced an swept the city during the early hours cover of a heavy rainstorm which entrance into the postoffice, blew the safe and effected an escape after securing nearly $6,000 worth of blank postoffice receipts and registered packages worth $900. They also took a registered package consigned to a local branch bank which contained $5,000 mostly in bills af ten-dollar denomination

Previous to the postoffice robbery a safe at the Penticton Steam Laundry was blown, but in this case only a few dollars was secured. The burglaries were not discovered until 9 o'clock this morning notwithstanding the fact that two distinct explosions awakened several residents from slumber about 1:30 a.m. Nitro-glycerine was apparently the explosive used in both robberies, which was persumably committed by the same gang.

In the case of the postoffice the interior was totally wrecked. The front of the safe was blown to atoms quantities of silver scattered in all directions and was left by the burglars in their hasee to make a getaway.

The fact that a registered package to a local bank was in the haul appears to the authorities to bear more than a coincidence, as these are received here only about once a month and remain in the postoffice one night only.

The authorities all along the line have been advised of the burglaries by Chief of Police Roche of the city police, and every effort will be made to nab the burglars before they get out of the valley.

CLARK AND DAVIS HANG THIS MORNING

Vancouver, May 14.—A message received to-day from Ottawa stated that the minister of justice had refused the last appeal for reprieve in the cases of Davis and Clarke, convicted of the murder of Constable Archibald, of Vancouver, on May 28. Arrangements for the execution are complete and the men will be hanged early tomorrow at New Westminster. Each man still blames the other for firing the fatal shot at the constable who had overtaken them as they were dividing the spoils of a burglary.

KING GEORGE'S BIRTHDAY

London, May 14.—It is announced that Monday, June 22, has been selected for the official celebration in London of the King's birthday.

His Majesty's birthday really falls on June 3. He will then be 49. The selection of June 22 is interesting as being the same date on which, in 1897, the diamond jubilee of Queen Victoria was celebrated. On June 23 next, the Prince of Wales will celebrate his birthday. He was born in 1894, so that he will be 20 years of age.

CHILDREN MORPHINE FIENDS

St. Petersburg, May 14.—Dr. Starkolitzky, who has been lecturing before the Medical Society at Blagovestchensk on the spread of the morphia habit in the Amur territory, said children were addicted to it before reaching their teens. In one prison, statistics showed that of every 1000 prisoners about 300 were morphia victims.

DEBATE CONTINUES ON THE C. N. R.

Borden's Position Which is Midway Between Position of Liberals and Insurgents is Considered Best.

Ottawa, May 14.—The opening of the debate on the Canadian Northern has at least cleared the air. Ottawa knows now where both the Liberals and the bull-moosers stand. The position of the government, the opposition of the two dissenting Conservatives as explained yesterday may be defined as follows:

Conservatives—The government secures forty per cent. of the common stock of the amalgamated Canadian Northern with a reduced capitalization to $100,000,000 in return for the guarantee of bonds to the extent of $45,000,000.

Liberals—The Liberal position as defined by Sir Wilfrid is that if Mackenzie & Mann are in difficulties the government should loan them the 945,000,000. He would ask 'no concessions, but loan them the money outright.

Bull-moosers—The stand of the bull-moosers as outlined by Mr. W. F. Nickle is that Mackenzie & Manns history is such that they can not be trusted. They object to the government's entering into partnership with the C. N. R. and ask for government ownership.

After listening to the counter proposals of the Liberals and the bull-moosers the government supporters are more convinced than ever that Premier Borden has found the best solution of a most difficult problem. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's position appeared ultra extraordinary. His solution of the problem was the solution of the C.P.R. problem of 1884. He would loan the company the money needed outright, make no concession and drive no bargain. The position of the dissenting Conservatives was ultra-progressive. They took the stand, irrespective of the cost, the consequences or the responsibilities that the government must eliminate Mackenzie & Mann and take over the road.

The government claims its position is the happy medium. Government ownership has many difficulties. The country gets two-fifths of the road without the cost of a single cent, at present at any rate. If the whole road had been taken over Mackenzie & Mann would not have parted with their interests without securing millions in compensation.

It might have been done by liquidation, but Premier Borden pointed out yesterday such a method would have meant an impairment of Canada's credit, and possibly would have been a dangerous expedient in the present financial situation.

EXCURSIONISTS TO NANAIMO

S. S. Princess Patricia Will Make a Late Trip to Vancouver on Night of Victoria Day Celebration.

In response to a request of Nanaimo's 24th of May Celebration Committee, the C. P. R. is arranging for the S. S. Princess Patricia to leave Nanaimo for a return trip to Vancouver at 9:15 p.m. By reason of this late boat Vancouver visitors will be enabled to have a lang stay in Nanaimo and partake of all the festivities.

Vancouver, May 13.

Secretary Victoria Day Celebration, Nanaimo.

Dear Sir:

Referring to your favor of the 12th inst. We are arranging for special trip of the "Princess Patricia" from Nanaimo to Vancouver, leaving Nanaimo at 9:15 p.m., May 25th.

BIG FIRE IN MANILA.

Manila, May 14.—Twenty business houses in Ilo Ilo were burned today. The loss aggregated $500,000.

DEVELOPMENT AT QUALICUM

Opening by Kydd Bros. Ltd. of Plumbing and Heating Supply House Marks New Epoch in Island Development.

That outsiders have faith in the development of Qualicum Beach district is indicated by the fact that the well-known firm of Kydd Bros., Ltd., Vancouver, are opening a plumbing and heating supply house direct to the consumer at this rapidly developing district.

Mr. W. J. Burroughs has been appointed local manager and will carry a complete supply of pipe of every description, fittings, bath tubs, sinks basins, closets, range boilers, laundry trays, furnishings for bathroom, toilet, kitchen, etc.

As the firm state in their advertisement in today's Herald "Witnessing the great development of this section of Vancouver Island and with the utmost faith in the continuation of this growth, we beg to announce the opening of a branch of our business in plumbing and heating material and supplies of every description."

CANAL IN USE.

Washington, May 14.—For the first time in the world's history waterborne traffic is now passing through the Panama Canal, according to the reports that have been received at the headquarters of the Panama railroad in New York, forwarded here today.

FRENCH LOAN OF $400,000,000

London, May 14.—A Telegram to the Times from Paris says it is stated on good authority that the great French loan, which the recent government hesitated to authorize, is now in the course of preparation, and that it will consist of $400,000,000 in bonds, guaranteed by the state. The terms of the loans will be analogous to those of the state railway and will be liable to income tax.

CARSON GRATEFUL TO TORONTO.

Toronto, May 14.—Mayor Hocken received the following Marconigram from Sir Edward Carson to-day in reply to the resolution passed at the anti-home rule meeting here last Sunday: "We are deeply grateful."

ROBERT JONES PASSED AWAY

Former Well Known Resident of Nanaimo Died in Ladysmith Hospital Yesterday—Funeral on Monday.

The death occurred yesterday afternoon after a lingering illness of Robert Jones, aged 47 years, and a native of Wales.

The deceased was a very highly respected resident of Cedar District, where he had resided for the past five years. For some years he worked in the local mines. He was well-known in the city and had many friends.

He leaves to mourn his loss a widow and six children, three sons and three daughters, all living at home.

The funeral will be held on Monday from the Hilbert Undertaking Parlors. The hour of interment will be announced later.

ASK FOR INTERVIEW.

Washington, May 14.—The captain of the Mexican Federal gunboats Bravo and Zaragosa, which came down the Panuco River from Tampico yesterday afternoon, have asked Rear-Admiral Mayo for an interview and he has informed them that he will receive them on board the Connecticut.

HARVEYS ORCHESTRA PLAYED AT DUNCAN

Harvey's orchestra continues to advertise musical Nanaimo, Last week the orchestra played in Duncan and speaking of the performance the Cowichan Leader says:

For standard and excellence the orchestra has had no equal in Duncan this year. Those who were present thoroughly appreciated the fare provided. It would have been surprising if they did not, for the performance was splendid.

Mr. Harry Harvey is a violinist to his finger tips and was loudly encored for his rendition of a Medley of Gypsy airs and also for "Legende," Wieniawski; "Salut D'Amour" Elgar. "Cartina," Roff, and "La Cygne," Saint Saens. "The Robin" and "The Linnet" on the flute by Mr. Wm. Young were pleasantly rendered and highly appreciated as was also the song "Elizabeth's Dream," from Tannhauser, by Mrs. G. Pym. In his recitals of "The Passing of the American Indian," "Osler Joe" and "The Flower," Mr. Wm. Little, the fourth member of the company, proved himself an artist of high merit.

MR. HAYTER REED COMING

Winnipeg, May 14.—To settle numerous matters in connection with the opening of the C.P.R. hotels at Calgary and Vancouver, Mr. Hayter Reed, head of the railway's hostelries will leave for the West tomorrow from Montreal. Upon his arrival here Mr. Reed is expected to make definite arrangements as to who will become manager of the Pallister hotel at Calgary. Mr. Reed will travel through to the coast, and will remain in the West for some time.

CARSON FOR RECTOR.

London, May 14.—Sir Edward Carson has been nominated as Unionist candidate for the Edinburgh University rectoral elections in October.

FOUL MURDER AT OYSTER RIVER

Richard Hargraves, Shot in Deliberate, Cold-Blooded Manner Yesterday Morning—Alleged Murderer Arrested

Oyster River was the scene yesterday morning of a peculiarly cold-blooded murder, when Richard Hargraves, a provincial road foreman, was shot and almost instantly killed by a man named Robert Suttie. The latter was immediately seized by the members of the road gang and brought down to Courtenay where he was lodged in jail.

According to particulars received here, Suttie and Hargraves had had a quarrel about the work on the road. The former felt very sore as a result of the dispute and it is stated that he made the threat that Hargraves would not be road foreman for another day. No one appears to have taken the threat seriously, least of all Hargraves, but Suttie took deliberate steps to carry it out.

Early yesterday morning he called around at the house of Mrs Woodlins with whom Hargraves stayed, and said that he had called for Mr. Hargraves' rifle. As the latter had not long left for his work, Mrs. Woodlins naturally took it that he had sent Suttie for the rifle. Accordingly she handed it over to Suttie who immediately set out for the scene of the road gang's operations.

As it happened Suttie met Hargraves on the road some distance away from the gang. He accosted Hargraves and some words passed between them, and then Suttie fired a shot.

Hargraves wheeled and ran and reached a workman about 100 yards down the road. Just as he reached this man, Suttie fired a second shot and Hargraves dropped, exclaiming as he fell, "Oh! Bob." The workman at once ran along to where the rest of the men were working and told them that Suttie had shot Hargraves. They asked him if Hargraves was dead and he replied that he did not know.

All of the men then went back together and found Suttie besides Hargraves, who was then quite dead. They took the rifle away from Suttie, and took charge of Suttie himself until a policeman could be got. Later Suttie was handed over to the police and taken to Courtenay where he was locked up.

Apart from the falling out between the two men about the road work no other motive is known of the grim tragedy. Hargraves is said to have been a very efficient foreman and very popular with the men. Moreover until this disagreement took place he and Suttie are said to have been close friends, and it is evident that no one and least of all Hargraves, ever imagined that such a slight dispute would culminate into such a terrible crime.

WHEATLEY'S STORE RE-OPENS TODAY

After being closed while the alterations were being carried out to the Crown building Mr. Wm. Wheatley will reopen his confectionery store today. The store has been refitted and greatly improved, and Mr. Wheatley will have a separate room to be used as an ice cream parlor. The store is very conveniently located for Bijou Theatre patrons, and with all the new improvements makes a very inviting place of call. Mr. Wheatley handles a fine line of goods and will be pleased to welcome all his old customers and as many more who choose to call.

WIRELESS TO CAIRO.

London, May 14.— England and Cairo are to be "connected" by a direct wireless system. Work has been commenced on the English station, which is to be situated at Leafield in Oxfordshire. The government, which is to control the system, has purchased the necessary land and the foundations for the steel masts and permanent buildings are well under way. There are to be twelve masts 300 feet high and the arm of the installation will be southeast. While the immediate objective is to be Cairo, it is expected that its power will give it in the night time, a much greater range.

C. N. R. AGREEMENT.

Premier Borden's chief point in introducing the Canadian Northern agreement was the very obvious one that the road cannot be left uncompleted. This is the view of all non-partisan minds, and would have been the view of the Liberals had they been in office. Indeed Premier Borden quoted an article by the Hon. Mr. Fielding in which the latter stated that to leave the road uncompleted, would be a national calamity. This is the crux of the whole situation. The alternative of allowing the road to go into the hands of the receivers would be a very impolitic proceeding. The government would have had to step in even then, and in the meantime a disastrous blow would have been struck at the credit of the country. The only point at issue and the only question to be settled is the nature of assistance and the amount of security. There is really no opening for political polemics and the Liberals have no cause for their opposition. The Canadian Northern system first assumed transcontinental proportions in 1903. For three years its status as a transcontinental system has been established. It has received assistance in various forms from both federal and provincial governments, and the country has guaranteed the security of its bonds. The present government had little or nothing to do with the creation of the system. The praise or the blame of it must be shouldered by the Liberal party. The point is that the country is deeply committed in the undertaking and is bound to see it completed The government cannot be charged with neglecting to take all possible precautions. The books of the company have been very thoroughly audited, and there is absolutely no basis for the rumors that the moneys raised on securities had been misappropriated or diverted to other enterprises. The financial stringency which had prevented the floating of loans on issues of stock was alone responsible for the additional assistance required. Under all the circumstances there is really no alternative but to complete the system, and that with the least possible delay. The great Liberal slogan in the election of 1907 was "Let Laurier finish his work." His work was the completion of the Grand Trunk Railway system. There is no denying that this road also cost the country an immense amount more than was estimated. Yet it was necessary that it should be completed. The Liberals still extol it as the greatest achievement in Canadian history. Assuming that this is so, it is no reason for decrying and destroying the Canadian Northern system, or seeking to prevent the government from completing what they themselves began.

ASQUITH'S NEW PLAN.

Premier Asquith's plan of an amending bill to follow the present measure of Home Rule does not give much promise of being successful. The Nationalists are not at all sure where they come into the proposed scheme. The Unionists, on the other hand, show no desire to conciliate matters. The situation at present then is that the Nationalists want to know what amendments they will be asked to accept, while the Unionists do not want, and say they will not have amendments of any kind. It is impossible to resist the impression that the first object of the Opposition is to defeat the Parliament Act. Obviously the effect of the Grimsby bye-election has been to stiffen its attitude. Carson has telegraphed Ulster to redouble their efforts, and the Unionists now generally declare that either the government must consent to a general election or take the responsibility of civil war. There is no reason why the government should appeal to the country, and no reason why it should take the responsibility for war. It is conceded that it is in a position to carry through Home Rule and it is hardly likely that it will establish a precedent for minority rule It obtained its majority at the polls and its right to legislate cannot be questioned. It is not the government which is forcing civil war, nor when it proposes definite exemption clauses, can it be accused of coercion. Out of all the interminable squabbling is arising the question of the rights of parliament to perform its functions. There have been many fierce political differences and acute political crises, but this is the first time since the institution of democratic government that a minority has ever tried to dictate to a majority under threat of civil war. Apart altogether from the merits of the original issue and the many complications which have grown up around it, it is a grave development in constitutional government and sets up a very dangerous precedent. Supposing that, yielding to the threats of the Unionists, the government capitulated on its home rule measure. This is apparently the only way in which Ulster can be placated. Then what of the rest of Ireland. Ulster is half protestant and half Catholic and the rest of Ireland is overwhelmingly Catholic. The protestants in Ulster do not want Home Rule and are ready to make civil war if it passes. The Catholics in Ulster and the other provinces want Home Rule and have fought and struggled for it for over a generation. If then it is all right for the Ulsterites to take up arms to resist Home Rule then it is all right for the Nationalists to take up arms to force Home Rule. Just suppose that Redmond went to Asquith on behalf of Home Rule as Carson has gone to him against Home Rule. There is not a single argument which has been used to stir up and justify armed revolt in Ulster which could not be used by the Nationalists in case Home Rule is dropped. Indeed they have the greater argument of being a majority, and so far we have not yet got beyond the rather clumsy system of rule by majority. The precedent could be extended in many different directions, but the lesson of it all is that where there has been a ballot there is no need for bullets. The difficulty ought to have been arranged on a basis of reason long ago. Now it is impossible to say how it will be settled.

Canadians who have recently registered their names at the offices of the Canadian High Commissioner in London, include Mrs. G. A. Campbell Miss N. Campbell, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Robinson, Calgary; Mrs. E. A. Taylar, Miss Doris Taylor, Vancouver; Mr. Charles Hunter, Vancouver; Capt. R. B. Thompson, Prince Albert, Sask; Mr. D. E. Brown Vancouver, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. T. Law, Vancouver.

INDICTED FOR MURDER.

New York, May 14.— Chester B. Duryea, who shot and killed his father, General Hiram Duryea, on May 5, was today indicted for murder in the first degree. He did not appear in court, however, as his condition did not warrant his leaving the hospital, where for days he was violent.

London, May 14.—Six Max Aitken, who has been suffering from an internal hemorrhage, has left for Munich to consult a specialist.

VERDICT OF SUICIDE.

Macleod, Alta., May 14.— A verdict of suicide while temporarily insane was returned at the enquiry into the death of O. C. Peck, a rancher of this district, who was found by a neighbor with a portion of his head blown away.

TANANA ICE GOES OUT.

Fairbanks, Alaska, May 14.—The ice in the Tanana River went out yesterday without causing any damage. The water in the Chena at Fairbanks, is dropping. General rejoicing is the rule with the opening of sluicing on all the creeks, for with a good season ahead, plenty of water and labor, the annual harvest of the gold fields has begun.

PROCLAIMS BLOCKADE.

Washington, May 14.— The Dominican Government has proclaimed a blockade of Puerto Plata and Monte Christi, two Northern Dominican ports now held by the revolutionary forces, according to a report received at the navy department today from the commanding officer of the gunboat Wheeling, who also said the government forces have taken Valverde.

PAXLOVA KISSED KAISER

Berlin, May 14.—Anna Pavlova, the Russian dancer was called to the royal box after a performance at Brunswick. She pleased the Kaiser by assuring him that his ban had killed the tango in America. In kissing the Kaiser's hand she imprinted a kiss from her rouged lips on his white glove, leaving a red mark. The Kaiser assured her it did not matter.

FANATICAL INDIAN SHOT FIVE DEAD

Peshewar, India, May 14.—Details have been received of a lamentable outbreak of tribal fanaticism at Tank. A Mahsud Waziri orderly of Major Dodd, political agent at Waziaistan, ran amuck. He shot dead Major Dodd, Lieutenant Hickie of the 32nd Mounted Battery, and Captain Brown of Vaughan's Rifles. The orderly in addition killed two men of the Frontier Constabulary and wounded a third before being killed by men of the Constabulary.

All the officers concerned were on duty with the Waziristan Militia. The attack was sudden and unprovoked. Recently an application of the tribal levy policy to the Darajat and Mahsud Waziris was strongly criticized. It was remarked that men under the influence of the Mullahs enlisted in local corps with the express purpose of murdering their British officers, and many have been murdered. After each crime measures have been adopted to cease recruiting from murderers' class, the gaps being filled from the distant frontier of the Punjab. It is contended that these irregulars are a poor substitute for trained veterans.

This is the worst frontier tragedy since the Fort Sandeman outrage 18 years ago, and it is remarkable that this tragedy should have synchronized with the inauguration of the Swat Canal, which will irrigate nearly 400,000 acres, and is the greatest work hitherto accomplished for increasing the prosperity of the frontier.

Major Dodd was born in 1872, and joined the Norfolk Regiment in 1892. He was transferred to the Indian army, the 27th Punjabs, in 1896. He served in the Waziristan expedition of 1901, and for his services was mentioned in dispatches. In 1903 he was appointed commandant of the Northern Waziristan militia, a post which he held for five years. In 1910 he was appointed political agent at Wano and commandant of the Southern Waziristan militia. Major Dodd was created a C.I.E. last year, and by his death the Indian Government loses a capable and promising officer.

ARRIVED VERY HUNGRY.

Vancouver, May 14.—The customs officers at Shed E, C.P.R. wharf, have a tom-cat mascot which recently completed a lengthy trip by rail, and which was a shadow of a feline when it reached Vancouver. The cat crawled into a box car loaded with beer, and which was dispatched from Milwaukee on April 18. When the car was sealed on the date named the presence of the cat among the beer was not noticed, and pussy had a long jaunt across the continent, eventually arriving in Vancoaver. The car was not opened until May 2, and the poor old tom-cat crawled out with its ribs showing. It had hardly strength to call, but the customs officers took it in hand, and after a week of special diet it regained its original lines. It has taken a violent fancy to Mr. Johnson at shed E and it is noticed that the cat keeps as far away from boxcars as it is possible.

Practical Fashion Hints

By Alice Gibson

6187

A very simple quickly made nightgown for a girl of from 2 to 14 is shown in No. 6187. It slips on over the head; may be made with a round or square neck and finished with a bit of embroidery, lace insertion or edging. Among the materials most favored for underwear is cotton crepe; instead of pure white, to which we have always been accustomed, it is quite the fad nowadays to make these garments up in pale shades, pink, blue, yellow and lavender. This crepe washes excellently and requires no ironing. If crepe is used for this gown the embroidery may be worked out in a mercerized cotton, or the gown may be effectively trimmed with a rather heavy quality of cluny edging. For the girl of 8 years this pattern requires 2⅞ yards of 36-inch material. Pattern is cut in 7 sizes: 2 to 14 years.

This is a Perfect Pattern.

Be sure to state right size, passing the tape around the fullest part of the breast well up under the arms.

The pattern may be obtained by sending name and address, pattern No. and size and fifteen cents to DAVID SPENCER LIMITED.

Royal Standard BREAD

No. 10---Cut Out and Paste in Your Recipe Book.

Scald 1 qt. milk (half water and half milk if you prefer). Add 2 teaspoons salt, 3 teaspoons sugar, two tablespoons butter. When luke warm add yeast dissolved in a little cold water. Add 2 qts. Royal Standard or enough to make stiff. Let rise over night. Bake 1 hour.

BETTY BROWN.

ROYAL STANDARD is the cheapest because it goes farthest.

It is false economy to "shop round" for your flour. That cheaper brand you buy does not save you money in the long run because you get less loaves per sack. We will say that you pay 35 cents more for ROYAL STANDARD than you do for the cheap brand. You can easily get [illegible] more loaves out of the sack to say nothing of healthier, more nourishing loaves.

Next time you buy flour, don't think price, think ROYAL STANDARD and in that way you will get most in quality and quantity for your money.

Your grocer is ROYAL STANDARD wise.

GROCERS WON OPENING GAME

The opening game of the Nanaimo butchers, grocers and dry goods men took place yesterday afternoon on the Cricket grounds between the butchers and the grocers, when the meat men came out second best. Score 18 to 12. It was a good game despite the large sized score and there was plenty of fun, excitement and some other things during its progress. Cawthorne and Stewart officiated for the butchers while Weeks and Beckley was the grocers battery. The game throughoyt was stubbornly contested the grocers showing their heels in the last part of the game. Phil Piper was umpire and it cannot be said that his decisions gave unalloyed pleasure, notably in the case of the home run wallop by Stewart. After Stewart had made the tour of the bases and was panting in honest pride on the butchers' bench he was declared out for not touching first bag. The decision was strongly objected to but the umpire was unmovable, although the home runner showed him where his spikes had sunk into the bag and was vigorously backed up by his comrades.

LOCALS SCORED AN EASY VICTORY

The local cricket club played a second game with the Garrison on the Caledonian Grounds yesterday afternoon, and with better weather than prevailed last week the match proved very enjoyable. The Garrison, who batted first, failed rather surprisingly in batting, and were all dismissed for the rather cheap score of 41. They were even more at fault in the field and the result was that the home club piled up a score of 234 runs. Paul and Jepson again played very soundly, passing the Garrison total before Jepson was dismissed by a bumping ball which glanced off his belt into the wicket. Gurney, an Oak Bay player and an old opponent of Nanaimo, was in great shape hitting lustily all around the wicket. He made 81 before he was bowled with a splendid ball by Captain Cooper, his score including 3 sixes and 9 fours. Hindmarch also hit well for 41, their partnership adding 106 runs to the score. The full scores are as follows:

CORCYRA IS WINNER OF NEWMARKET STAKES

Newmarket, Eng., May 14.—The Newmarket stakes for the three-year olds £2500, one mile and a quarter, was won here today by the odds-on favorite, Lord Londonderry's chestnut colt Corcyra, by Polymelus-Pearson, who started at four to one on. His Majesty's Brakespear, 20 to 1, was second, and Sir E. Cassel's Hakburg, 10 to 1, third. Five ran, the others being son-in-law, 10 to 1, White Prophet, 20 to 1.

This race, coming as it does between the two classics, the Guineas and the Derby, often has unusual interest and on a number of occasions its winner has gone on to secure the blue ribbon of the turf at Epsom, the most recent example being Sunstar, in 1911. On this occasion however, this interest was lacking, as neither of the Derby favorites started.

REFUSED SANCTION FOR INTERNATIONAL MATCH

Chicago, May 14.—An international team match between picked golfers representing America and Great Britain, following the British amateur championship, May 18 to 23, will not be sanctioned by the United States Golf Association. This information was conveyed in a letter sent out by President R. C. Watson of the national governing bosy, to all sectional associations, and received today by Secretary R. R. Stone of the Western Golf Association.

President Watson explains that the United States Golf Association has received no invitation from abroad to sponsor a team, nor has it received any request from the players abroad to select a team and issue a challenge.

BRITISH LIBRARY GETS GIFT OF RARE BOOKS.

The Bodleian library has been made the recipient of an extraordinary valuable and interesting gift in the shape of a Chinese library collected by Edmund Backhouse, formerly of Merton college. Mr. Backhouse possesses a thorough knowledge of the Chinese language and of the Chinese people, and this has enabled him, during his fifteen years' stay in Peking, to form the wonderful collection which is now housed at the Bodleian.

Among the 17,000 printed volumes and the 150 manuscripts which make up the collection, it will be of special interest to bibliophiles to learn that there are three manuscripts which are said to be Sung editions.

In the notice appearing in The Times on Mr. Backhouse's library, doubt is thrown on two of the examples, which the author of the notice believes to belong to a later period. One example, however, he accepts as a Sung edition and points to the marginal notes by Wu Hai, the historiographer, who lived from 1360 to 1410.

Among the Ming editions which the collection contains are an exceedingly rare edition of Ssu-ma Kuang's "Mirror of History," the Palace edition of Ma Tuan-lis's encyclopaedia. Wen Hsien T'ung K'as (1524), and the earliest known edition of the library encyclopaedia "Fair Flowers From the Garden of Literature." The work is made up of 1000 chapters and was compiled by a Sung statesman and completed in 987. This is the first time an edition of the work has been seen in England.

Another encyclopaedia, the Ku Chin T'u Shu Chi Ch'ang in 1620 pen or printed volumes, also figures in Mr. Backhouse's collection.

Hon.C. S. Masterman is recommended as the Liberal candidate in the Ipswich bye-election.

FREE OF ALL THREE DISEASES

"Fruit-a-tives" Brought Him Perfect Health

AVON, ONT., May 14th. 1913.

"I am younger since I have been taking "Fruit-a-tives". I was troubled very badly with Piles, Constipation and Stomach Disorder, but I found "Fruit-a-tives" was the panacea for the whole three.

Now I am free of all these diseases and enjoying perfect health, and able to work whenever I like. Five years ago, I started taking "Fruit-a-tives". I took two every night and they worked wonders for me.

No other medicine I could get was so good and I took lots of different remedies before I found out how good "Fruit-a-tives" were.

I keep "Fruit-a-tives" on hand all the time, and am never without them. I even take them with me when I go motoring, so I can have them handy. "Fruit-a-tives" are worthy of every good word I can say about them. The fact that they cured me of Piles, was something to be everlastingly thankful for"

TOWN OF STEWART SWEPT BY FIRE

Prince Rupert, May 14.—A fire which devastated half the business section of Stewart, B. C., started from an unknown cause in the Northern hotel on Fifth street at 2.30 this morning. A strong wind caused the flames to spread rapidly, and the Belmont block adjoining, in which were the offices of the Stewart Trust Company, government telegraph office and the Portland Canal Miner was destroyed.

The fire jumped across Fifth street and attacked the Stewart Land Company's block, the Hartley block, Woolley's barber shop and the old Stewart home, occupied by Postmaster W. C. Cameron. To prevent the spread of the flames, George A. Clothier's assay office was dynamited, and citizens checked the flames at the Mocha cafe.

Guests in the hotel and Mrs. P. F. Godenrath, who occupied apartments in the Belmont block, escaped in their nightclothes. There were no casualities.

The principal losers are: Guy H. Hancock, owner of the Northern hotel, and M. R. Jameison, lessee; Percy F. Dodenrath, Stewart Trust Co. the Portland Canal Miner, J. Hartley, Stewart Land Co., M. R. Stewart, W. C. Cameron, Arctic Brotherhood, Charles Woolley and George A. Clothier.

The fire made a clean sweep of the premises. The total loss is over $50,000, and is partially covered by insurance.

Bijou Theatre

Prof. Arnold's five-piece orchestra is a big feature of the entertainment at the Bijou these nights, the music being tastefully selected and rendered in a manner with which no fault can be found.

The usual change of program will be in evidence today, consisting of comedy and drama with a special two-reel feature film.

WILL ORGANIZE UNIONS

LARGEST NET PAID CIRCULATION OF ANY VANCOUVER ISLAND PAPER EXCEPTING VICTORIA PAPERS

VOLUME XIV — NANAIMO, VANCOUVER ISLAND, BRITISH COLUMBIA, SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 16, 1914 — NUMBER 61

EXTENDING ITS LOCAL YARDS

E. & N. Railway Company is About to Erect Big Freight Sheds and Modern Passenger Station in Nanaimo.

Contractors Moore and Pethick are making rapid progress in the work of grading the site for the new freight sheds to be erected by the E. & N. Railway on Prideaux street this city.

The freight shed to be erected is separate and apart from the station, it being the intention to build the latter on the site of the present station as soon as the new freight shed is completed, the new shed being utilized as a passenger station pending the demolishment of the present station and the construction of the new.

Tenders which are now being called for the freight shed call for the construction of a building 40x145, with platforms and wagon approaches at both ends. The shed will all be under one roof and will contain an office 14x16, together with a bonded warehouse and a small office for the use of a Customs officer.

The building will be noticeable for the massiveness of the material used in the construction thereof, the sills being 10x12 supported by 10x10 joists. The interior of the structure is to be finished in oak oil stain.

ENTRIES REJECTED.

London, May 15.—No American entry for Henley has been accepted. Moreover, no entry is possible unless the crew represents an actual university or unless a new arrangement is made between the Amateur Rowing association and some other association here and some other association on the other side.

SAYS SHOOTING WAS ACCIDENTAL

Courtenay, B. C., May 15.— The shooting of Richard Hargraves, government road foreman of Campbell River, by Robert Suttie, one of his workmen, was either a cold-blooded crime or a very extraordinary accident. Suttie, who made no attempt to escape after the shooting, claims that he was absolutely innocent of any intention to murder.

The two men had been friends for four years, but on Wednesday night after a quarrel over a trivial matter Hargraves told Suttie he was discharged. Next day, Thursday, Suttie went shooting seals but saw none and started back along the road where he encountered Hargraves spreading gravel on the roadway.

"Well, Dick, what have you got to say now?" Suttie says he asked Hargraves, who thereupon threw a shovelful of gravel against his feet in such a way as to make him jump back. Suttie slipped and as he fell the rifle was discharged. The bullet did not go near Hargraves, who immediately took to his heels and ran for 150 yards along the road. There he came upon another workman named Storey.

"What are you going to do?" asked Storey of Suttie when the latter came up.

"I am not going to shoot him at all," said Suttie, who tried to explain the previous accident. Suttie and Storey say that Suttie then threw down the rifle which went off a second time and the bullet went through Hargraves' heart. Suttie seemed dazed and made no effort to escape. A constable was sent for and Suttie was handed over to the officer and brought to Courtenay jail.

All those boys and girls wishing to enter the children's contests to be held on Victoria Day, May 25th should see that their entries are received by Mrs. Martindale by Monday or Tuesday at the latest. Entries may be sent in by letter or by phone, or delivered personally, but they must be in not later than Tuesday or preferably before. tf

Jones, Grand Prairie, and Frank Tarry, to be justices of peace; H. T. Kraemer, to be clerk in the office of the government agent at Quesnel; Chester F. Boyd, to be clerk in the office of the assessor and collector at Quesnel, vice Kraemer.

SCOTTISH HOME RULE BILL

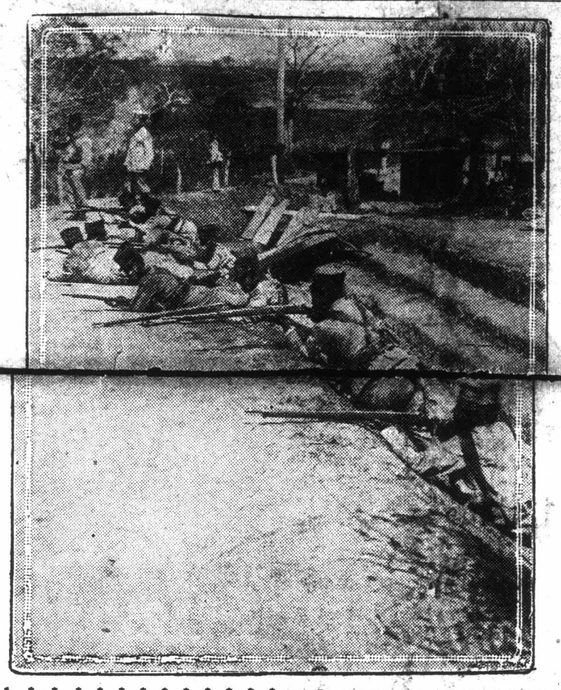
House of Commons Discussed Home Rule for Scotland Bill—Measure Opposed by Balfour and Other Unionists

London, May 15.— The House of Commons today discussed the Home Rule for Scotland bill, a private member's measure proposing to establish by a single chamber a Scottish parliament consisting of 140 members. The preamble further states that the bill is intended to represent an installment of the devolution policy initiated by the Home Rule for Ireland bill.

The bill is fathered by J. I. MacPherson, a Liberal who was defeated in his candidature for East Renfrowshire at the last general election, but has been returned since at the bye-election held in 1911 for Ross and Crematty. He is a well known educationalist and writes on political and economic subjects. In moving the second reading he declared that there existed in Scotland a strong demand for control of local affairs.

William Young, Liberal member for East Perthshire, while supporting the general principles of the bill opposed its clause proposing to give votes to women, a question, he said which ought to be left for Scotland to decide herself. H. J. Mackinder, Unionist member for the Camlachie division of Glasgow, moved the rejection of the bill, declaring that it made merely for Scottish parochialism.

Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, the Unionist leader who sits for the city of London, threw cold water on the bill declaring that it would be impossible to give one subsidiary parliament powers which they dare not give to another.



SIR CONAN DOYLE IS TO CAMP AT JASPER PARK.

OAK BAY DEFAULTS TO LOCAL CRICKETERS

The local cricket club had a game scheduled for this afternoon in the Island League with the Oak Bay eleven of Victoria. Word has been received, however, that the Oak Bay club cannot raise a team, and it has accordingly defaulted the game. An invitation was extended to the Cowichan club to fill the breach, but the notice was too short to get a side together. In the circumstances the local garrison has kindly consented to play, and a full afternoon's match will be played. According to present arrangements the game will start at 1:30 and all players are requested to turn up promptly on the field.

HARD FIGHTING AT TAMPICO

A view of the second Federal trenches at Tampico, to which the rebels drove the forces under General Baragosa the last week in April. Under the orders of Gen. HOME FROM AN EIGHT MONTHS VISIT

Fred Jepson arrived home yesterday after an eight months' trip to the old country. While unfeignedly glad to get back to Nanaimo, he reports having had a very enjoyable holiday. He travelled a good deal while away, and visited almost every city of importance in England and Scotland. Also accompanied by Mr. J. M. Rudd, he made a trip to "Gay Paree" and took in the sights ofthe French capital. He was also a visitor to the Grand National, which he says was a runaway victory for the winner. London he found the same old cosmopolitan centre, and he greatly enjoyed the many and various shows. The leading artistes he says are drawing princely salaries, but the houses themselves are finding it difficult to meet expenses, and some old established places of amusement have been compelled to close in the stress of the new competition. Altogether he had a gay and enjoyable time.

He was accompanied back by his parents Mr. and Mrs. Jepson, who are to make their home here.

DEGREE CONFERRED ON CHARLES NAPIER BELL

Winnipeg, May 15.—Manitoba university today conferred the degree of L. L. D. on Charles Napier Bell, F. R. G. S., in recognition of his extensive researches and writings in connection with the history and resources of western and northern Canada, and for general services to the public for over thirty years. Dr. Bell is secretary to the Winnipeg board of trade and grain exchange and has received recognition and honors from many historical and scientific societies in Europe and America.

LOCAL COMPANY IS INCORPORATED

Wellington Lumber Company Limited Incorporated With Capital $50,000—Mill on Big Lake, Wellington District

This week's issue of the British Columbia Gazette contains notice of the incorporation of "The Wellington Lumber Company Limited" as a limited company with a capital of fifty thousand dollars divided into five hundred shares, with head offices in Nanaimo.

As previously stated in these columns the promoter, and person most heavily interested in the company is Mr. Joseph W. Vipond of this city. The company's mill is to be erected on what is known as Vipond's ranch Big Lake, it being the intention to exploit the rich timber limits in that vicinity.

The object for which the company is incorporated is set forth in the articles of incorporation as follows:

To carry on business as timber merchants, sawmill and shingle-mill proprietors, and timber growers, and to buy, sell, prepare for market, manipulate, import, export, and deal in timber and wood of all kinds, and to manufacture and deal in articles of all kinds in the manufacture of which timber or wood is used, and to carry on business as ship-owners and carriers by land and sea, and, so far as may be deemed expedient, the business of general merchants, and to buy, clear, plant, and work other business which may seem to the Company capable of being conveniently carried on in connection with any of the above, or calculated, directly or indirectly, to render profitable or enhance the value of the timber estates, and to carry on any Company's property or rights for the time being.

To construct or otherwise acquire, operate, control, manage, and deal in the following:

Mill or machinery, machine shops, factories, works, appliances, and equipment of every description for the cutting, transportation, handling manufacture, and finishing of logs and lumber, and of any manufacture of wood or pulp-wood or paper, or of wood and any other materials severally or in combination, and of all products or by-products of wood or other materials whatsoever, etc.

METRO-STEVENSON

At St. Paul's church, Nanaimo, yesterday afternoon Mr. George Metro and Miss Jean Stevenson, both of Ladysmith were united in marriage by the Rev. Canon Silva-White. Mr. James Hughes supported the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Metro leaving on the afternoon train for Victoria on their honeymoon trip. They will take up their residence in Ladysmith.

CLARK AND DAVIS SWUNG

Paid Penalty For Death of Constable Archibald—Davis Said Clark Fired the Fatal Shot.

New Westminster, May 15.—Herman F. Clark and Frank Davis were executed in the courtyard of the provincial jail here this morning at 8 o'clock, paying the penalty of the law for the murder of Police Constable James Archibald at Vancouver, May 28 last. No confession was made by either man, although Davis during the night exclaimed to his guard. "As God is my judge, Clark did the killing." Clark made no statement.

At 7:59 Clark and Davis stepped from the jail on to the scaffold. They were attended by Rev. M. G. Melvin pastor of the New Westminster Presbyterian church. Both men bore up well, and Clark as he tried the trap with his foot recognized Inspector James Anderson of the Vancouver Criminal Investigation Bureau, smiled and nodded to him. As the black cap was fitted over his head he turned and looked Davis full in the face shrugged his shoulders and sneered.

Davis, his dark hair streaked with grey, and showing more than his companion the effects of his long imprisonment, did not look at the crowd huddled in the corner of the courtyard below the scaffold, but gazed with staring and apparently unseeing eyes into vacancy.

Rev. Mr. Melvin started the Lord's Prayer and as he concluded with the ward "Amen" the trap was sprung. After thirteen minutes Doctors McQuarrie and Walker pronounced both men dead.

Clark slept soundly during the night in the cell. When aroused this morning by the death watch he asked what was he to be given for breakfast, and when told that he was to have bacon, eggs and toast, complained with an oath that it was "the same old stuff." Davis did not close his eyes during the night, but paced to and fro in his cell. He did not eat yesterday and refused to touch the food that was brought to him this morning.

The body of Davis will be interred in the Chinese cemetery on Eighth street, while Clark's remains will be shipped to San Bernardino, Califrnia, where they will be buried by his friends.

In the last letter written by Frank Davis before he left his cell this morning for the scaffold, he reinterated his statement that he was innocent of the death of Police Constable Archibald. The letter was not written with the idea of reaching the public, but was a personal letter to his young counsel, Mr. R. L. Maitland, thanking him for the continued and persistent efforts he had made on his behalf both at the trial and since. It was in the closing lines of the brief letter that Davis again assured his counsel that although he was going to death, yet he was innocent of the charge of actual murder that had been brought against him.

Within the last few days Mr. Maitland saw both men and informed them of the efforts that were being taken before the Supreme Court of Canada and before the minister of justice to secure an interference with the death sentence. "Neither of the men greatly dreaded the death sentence except for the shame it might bring upon the relatives. Both of them, in discussing the appeal proceedings told me that they would rather die on the scaffold than serve life imprisonment, except for the sake of their relatives," said Mr. Maitland.

Both of the men came of highly respectable and comfortably-to-do families, but had drifted away from their early influences and had deliberately chosen a life of crime. The advice received from Ottawa of the proceedings before the Supreme Court of Canada state that the judges there held that on the admissions of the men themselves that they had come from the States armed for the purpose of committing a series of robberies, they had condemned themselves as being prepared for violent deeds. Before the case was heard in court, the judges of the Supreme Court of Canada, had each read twice the whole of the evidence and proceedings of the trial.

BANK DIRECTORS MADE LIABLE FOR $54,720.

Fairbanks, Alaska, May 15.—United States Disltrict Judge Fuller decided yesterday that John Jesson, John L. McGinn, R. C. Wood, E. R. Peoples and Raymond Brumbaugh, directors of the defunct Washington-Alaska Bank, were liable for an aggregate of $54,720, for which suit was brought by F. G. Noyes, receiver of the bank.

J. A. Healey, John Clark and Geo. Preston, who were sued with the other defendants, were exonerated by the court. The case will be carried to the circuit court of appeals.

The Washington-Alaska Bank of Fairbanks was thrown into the hands of a receiver three years ago.

RESEARCH ON THE ISLAND

Dominion Botanist Will Carry on Interesting Work in Nanaimo District and Other Portions of Vancouver Island.

Victoria, May 15.—J. M. Macoun, the distinguished Dominion botanist and anthropolgist, was in the city for a short time yesterday before proceeding up the island, where he is to carry on extensive work this season on Vancouver Island and on islands in the Gulf of Georgia. In this he will be assisted by John Macoun. It will be remembered that last year J. M. Macoun made an extensive trip in Strathcona Park and did some very valuable work up there of the kind he is now engaged upon.

The arrival here of the botanist is in a measure the advance guard of several parties which are being sent out by the Dominion geological survey this season. R. W. Brock, the director of the survey, who paid several visits to the coast last summer has evidently become possessed with the importance of British Columbia from a geologic standpoint, and a large percentage of the work done by his department this year, will be carried out in British Columbia. The field work of the department will cover geology under the direction of O. E. Leroy, topography under W. H. Boyd, anthropology bnd archaeology as well as botany and zoology.

The investigations of the coal deposits of Graham island about which so much was heard last summer, will be completed by J. D. Mackenzie, who is also well known here. He will also map out the Flathead coal basin.

Francis Harper will accompany an exploratory expeditian into the country between Athabasca and the Great Slave lakes under the leadership of C. Camsell. This will be a new field for zoological study.

The field parties of the division in anthropology and archaeology will be widely distributed throughout the country.

MAY HOLD CAMP NEAR NANAIMO

Twenty-Third Infantry Brigade Will go Through Tactical Exercises On Vancouver Island—Change in Plans.

Vancouver, May 15.—The 23rd Infantry Brigade will not go into camp this summer at Vernon as had been expected, but instead will go through tactical exercises on Vancouver island, probably near Victoria.

There is a strong likelihood of the Camp being held at Nanaimo as a number of members of the Militia Corps are already stationed there and the country adjacent to Nanaimo is admirably adapted for manoeuvres.

Brigadier-Colonel Duff Stuart this morning received a message from Ottawa stating that the contemplated trip of the brigade to Vernon would have to be called off and instead the militiamen would be sent to the Island. It is probable that the Island camp will be held late in June.

The brigade comprises the 72nd Seaforth Highlanders, the Sixth D.C. O. R., the 11th Irish Fusiliers and the 104th Regiment of New Westminster and Chilliwack. When up to full strength it numbers between 1600 and 1700.

The only coast corps to be represented at the Vernon camp therefore will be four troops of the B.C. Horse from Point Grey, Burnaby, Eburne, and Coquitlam, with detachments of the Engineers, Army Medical Corps and Army Service Corps.

In addition there will be two upcountry regiments of B.C. Horse and the 102nd Rocky Mountain Rangers.

The various cadet corps will go into camp at Macaulay Plains, Vancouver Island, from July 6 to 12.

REMEMBERED BY CHURCH ALTAR GUILD

Canon White received another pleasant surprise yesterday when the Altar Guild of St. Paul's Church presented him with a Gold Cross, suitably inscribed on a silk pendant with gold mounting to be used as a watch chain. A kind of farewell service was held for the Guild on Friday afternoon, when Canon White gave his final address to the members who have done so much good service in the reverent care and adornment of the church, especially of the Altar and Chancel, the ornaments and sacred vessels, and for the decorations on Holy days and seasons. After the service the members assembled in the vestry and the President, Miss Mebius, read the following address:

"Dear Canon,—We, the members of St. Paul's Altar Guild, feel that we cannot allow you to leave Nanaimo without expressing our deep regret at your departure.

"We feel we owe much to you, not only for having founded our Guild and thus given us the privilege of assisting in the service of the Sanctuary, but also for your ever-ready help and sympathy at all times. Your wonderful faith and untiring patience and the high ideals which you always set before us have been an inspiration to us in our work, and we feel confident that their influence will remain with us all our lives.

"We beg you to accept the accompanying small gift as a slight token of our affection and esteem and may it sometimes remind you in your new home of St. Paul's Altar Guild, whose members will always cherish the memory of your ministry in Nanaimo.

"Wishing you and Mrs. White a safe and pleasant journey and every success and happiness in your new parish, we are, the members of St. Paul's Altar Guild,

"L. A. Mebius, president; F. C. Lawrence, secretary; F. E. Bulman, B. Waddington, A. Kenyon."

The Canon made a suitable reply, impressing upon the members how muh he appreciated their kindness, and that he could never forget the help and the inspiration they had always been to him in his ministry. It would be one of the pleasantest memories to carry with him in his new parish, namely, their loyal devotion and deep faith in the church which they all loved to serve.

Mayor Planta was in Vancouver yesterday on a business trip.

The Store where You Get what You Ask For.

Col. Roosevelt's achievements as a hunter of big game in the wilds of Darkest Africa were accepted without criticism, notwithstanding the fact that they received even more publicity than the Mexican war. Quite a different fate has befallen his adventure in exploration in central America. Colonel Roosevelt claims to have found a hitherto undiscovered river, and he has chronicled his pretended discovery with all his usual thoroughness as a press agent. Explorers who have been over the ground before him laugh his discovery to scorn, and even pour ridicule on his whole voyage of exploration. They discredit his whole story and advise him to keep to his own trade of politics. At all of which the ex-President is very wroth. His trip, in spite of all the arrangements money could furnish, netted him a bad dose of fever and a game leg, and now sceptical scientists would strip him of all the glory of his great discovery. It is purely a matter for the experts and there is nothing for an amused world to do but to sit back and take a lesson in geography. At the same time the Colonel seems to have quite a task on his hands.

HON F. D. MONK PASSED AWAY

Montreal, Que., May 15.—Hon. F. D. Monk, ex-M. P. for Jacques Cartier, died this morning. Mr. Monk had been in ill-health for a long time He resigned his seat in parliament on March 3 last year and went to a sanitarium in the south, but failing to improve returned to his home here Early this morning his condition became critical and he passed quietly away without recovering consciousness. He had been more or less unconscious for the past two days with brief spells, when he was able to recognize those around him. The Rev. Abbe Trole performed the last rites of the church yesterday.

Hon. Frederick Debartzch Monk, K. C., D. C. L., was born in Montreal April 6, 1856. He was the fourth son of the late Hon. S. C. Monk, a judge ofcourt of Quebec's bench, Quebec. He was a professor of constitutional law in the Montreal branch of Laval university. For twelve years he had been a school commissioner for the city of Montreal.

The late Mr. Monk was elected to the House of Commons for Jacques Cartier at the general election of 1896, and was re-elected in 1900, 1904 1908 and 1911. He was elected opposition leadr for the province of Quebec, in the House of Commons in 1901, and resigned as provincial opposition leader in 1903. He was sworn of the privy council and appointed minister of public works in the Borden cabinet October 10, 1911, and resigned his portfolio October 22 1912, because he was not in accord with Mr. Borden on the navy question.

PROSPERITY AHEAD.

The press of the Capital and Terminal cities is preaching the virtues of optimism to its readers. To use a Western phrase things have been, and still are, rather slow both in Vancouver and Victoria. The reason is not very far to seek. Both cities, Vancouver more than Victoria, have passed through a big real estate boom. This means that there was some feverish speculation and a large amount of forced activity. Hundreds and thousands of men found employment in improvement works and in the building trade, and the general business and prosperity of the cities was boosted to an abnormal degree. The real estate boom naturally exhausted itself, and business has since been adjusting itself to normal conditions. Works of improvement are still going on in both cities and building is going on steadily. But there is no longer an unnatural and a frenzied activity and development due to general speculation in land values. The experience of Vancouver and Victoria has been more or less the experience of the whole province. It may be taken for granted that speculation in land has reached the limit, and it is not a bad thing for the province. So long as big and quick profits could be made in corner lots there was no lack of money for investments. It is infinitely better for British Columbia that there should be less speculation in land and bigger investments in industries. Vancouver and Victoria may be quiet after the boom days of a couple of years ago, but they are now doing a normal business and engaging in sound progressive and development enterprises. It is possible that the boom broke rather unexpectedly and with surprising suddenness. It is perhaps disappointing that with such great public works under construction, and the big railway developments in progress there is no flurry of prosperity. The point is that there is steady progress which after all is more healthy than big flurries of prosperity. We believe that the whole province is on the eve of a period of prosperity and development greater and sounder than it has ever known. We are convinced that no city is more advantageously placed than Nanaimo to benefit from this approaching wave of prosperity. It has to be remembered that while we have had our own troubles we have experienced no depression. We have had an unfortunate dispute which tied up the wheels of the coal industry. With things as they are labor troubles are unavoidable, but even in respect to these Nanaimo has an enviable reputation. The point to be emphasized is that we have in Nanaimo a staple industry the importance of which outweighs the big works being carried on in the larger cities of the province. We have it all the time and possess therefore a sound basis for commercial development. What we need more than optimism is a more aggressive policy in the assertion of our claims. It is difficult to overcome the argument of size and influence, but sooner or later natural advantages will receive their full consideration. What is past cannot be mended. The future is for us all. Nanaimo has great possibilities as a big transportation and distributing centre, while it is already one of the leading coal centres in the province. With the developments going on a steel and iron plant has become a necessity on the coast. The steel works should be located alongside the coal mines. The one industry is dependent on the other, and economy in production demands that the steel works should be established as near the coal supply as possible. Herein Nanaimo has a big advantage over bigger rivals, but so far the latter are the only ones that have got busy on the matter. The lesson to citizens of Nanaimo is plain enough.

Does the freshness of your food mean anything to you?

There's only one answer—a decided "Yes!" Then do you know that you can't buy a stale package of

Kellogg's CORN FLAKES

The reason? Because your grocer gets it right from the factory in small quantities—and because Kellogg's are quick sellers and do not remain long on the shelf.

We encourage merchants to place small orders often rather than large ones.

This is why you get Kellogg's Corn Flakes with all their oven-freshness.

Full Floating Rear Axle

The Studebaker SIX fairly clamors for comparison with "Sixes" selling for more money.

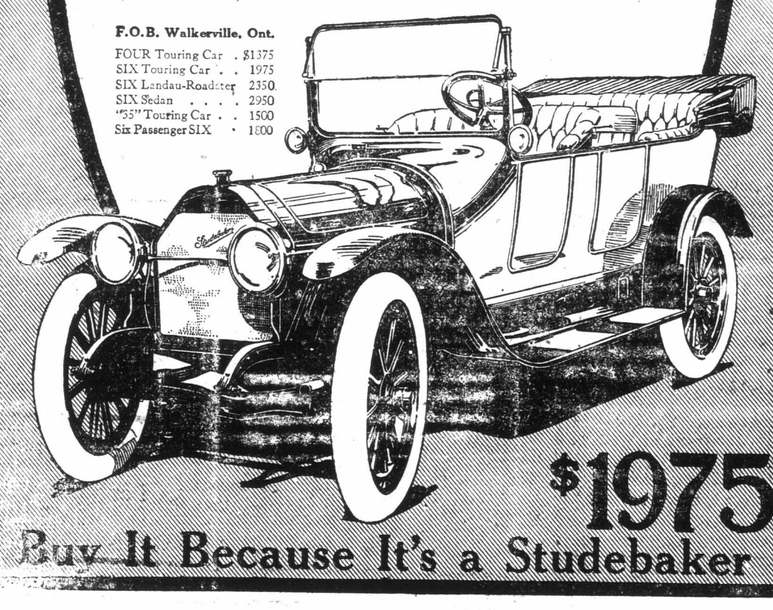
It is the uttermost in six-cylinder smoothness and seven-passenger comfort.

The full floating rear axle is a type of the high standard maintained throughout this splendid car.

And the system of starting and lighting conforms to the same exacting quality requirement.

No matter how much more you are willing to pay—money can't buy a better rear axle or a better system of starting and lighting.

Take these two vital features as a starting point and every feature and every function of the car will reveal to you elements of value beyond which manufacturing skill cannot go.



We have a folder which you should read, fully describing in simple terms the full floating axle and making plain the superiority of this type over others. Call or write for it.

STRONG TEAM FOR OPENING GAME

The Nanaimo Baseball Club will field a strong team in the opening game of the season tomorrow with the Western Canada Power Companys aggregation of Vancouver. The game will be played on the Caledonian grounds, commencing at 3 o'clock, and should draw a full attendance of the fans whose hopes to hear the call of "play ball" is at last realized.

In the lineup of the locals for Sunday will appear several of the old war horses besides some imported talent which Manager Benedict has had considerable difficulty in securing. "Rubbernecks" will not be allowed to stand on the trestle and view the game for nothing, while others do the square thing and contribute toward the expense fund, but police will be on hand to see that there is no trespassing, which means if any person wants to witness the game he must pass through the gate and contribute his quota.

For Sunday's game Nanaimo's line up will be: Pitchers, H. Martin and H. Shepherd; catcher, P. Piper; 1st base, E. Martin; 2nd base, H. Boyce 3rd base, F. Killeen; s. s. R. Little; r. f., Kinney; c. f., W. Beattie; l. f., G. Weeks; pinch hitter, Thompson.

PARIS DOCTOR SAYS

DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR ARE CAUSED BY A MICROBE— DR. SANGERBOND PROVES IT.

Dr. Sangerbond is the leading dermatologist of France.

To prove his theory that germs cause dandruff, he infected a guinea pig with these microbes and in a short time the hair from the animals body disappeared.

Parisian Sage, which can now be obtained all over Canada, has an immense sale and is highly recommended by physicians in all parts of the world.

It is just because it is the only prescription or hair tonic that is absolutely sure to kill the dandruff germ.

It is guaranteed to cure dandruff, stop falling hair or itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

In warm weather it keeps the scalp clean and cool and free from obnoxious odors. Parisian Sage is a pleasant and dainty hair dressing that will put a bewitching charm and lustre into faded and lifeless hair in one week. It is distressing for any woman to have dull, unattractive hair and women so unfortunate should use Parisian Sage.

What might have developed into a very serious conflagation was happily averted by the presence of mind displayed by Messrs. W. Rickett, S. B. Wood and P. Gordon yesterday morning when a fire broke out at the residence of Mr. H. Allsopp on Nicol street.

From the bows and stern of the C. P.R. tugboat William Jolliffe is to be painted out the name which she has borne for the past quarter of a century and the name Nitinat is to be substituted. The officials of the company decided to make the change in order to comply with a policy outlined for the naming of all vessels flying the checkered ensign, and as all necessary arrangements with the customs house have been made the altering of the name will be carried out immediately.

The old Spanish prisoner dodge, whereby confidence men tried to relieve the unsophisticated ones of their coin by the story of a prisoner languishing in jail and needing only a few dollars for his release to claim an immense fortune, has had its setting changed slightly and now the come-on men work a Russian banker instead. A number of local people have received letters lately from the purported Russian banker but to-date none of them have fallen for the alluring yarn.

Opera House

The pictures at the Opera House for the latter part of this week are exceptionally good. There is a splendid comic reel and other well-acted films. The vaudeville includes Lauretta Boyd, an English comedienne, who has an original line of action and does some character "stunts." Chester and Grace, man and woman, do a sing song and a very well executed dance.

GRACE MORGAN CONCERT TONIGHT

Proceeds of Symphony Concert Tonight Will be Devoted Towards Presentation to Popular Accompanist.

A concert that should draw a crowded house will be given in the Princess Theatre tonight by the Nanaimo Symphony Orchestra and the proceeds will be devoted towards a fund the orchestra is subscribing for a presentation to the papular accompanist of the orchestra, Miss Grace Morgan.

Miss Morgan has only missed one of the some seventy-five concerts given by the orchestra, and besides has attended hundreds of practises. In addition to accompaning the orchestra numbers she has nearly always been called upon to play for the soloists. How well she has performed her duties is best testified to by the many prominent artistes who have appeared at the concerts who have invaribly been loud in their praise of her excellent and sympathetic accompaniment. Miss Morgan, who is a native daughter of Nanaimo, is known to a very large circle of musical acquaintances in the province and enjoys a very high reputation. She has been one of the main factors in bringing the Symphony Orchestra to its present state of advancement. The orchestra members have long wished to show their regard for their popular accompanist in some substantial manner and while the object of the concert tonight will be very 'much against Miss Morgan's wishes, it is hoped that from a financial standpoint it will be eminently successful.

The program itself will make a splendid musical offering as a glance at the names of several local artistes and numbers will indicate.

The program:

HUGHES SUPPORTS NEW ARMORIES IN COUNTRY.

Meaford, Ont., May 16.— Col. Sam Hughes, minister of militia, yesterday opened the new armories of the 31st regiment. Col. Hughes defended his policy of erecting a local drill hall at small centres throughout the country.

"The big cities," he said, "are getting too many fine armories and the small centres that have been paying for them are not getting their dues"

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Ellensburg, Wash., May 16.— Clint Pratt, a young sheep herder, was killed by lightning on the range 25 miles east of Ellensburg, in the district known as the Chinaman's Hat. His body was found about a mile from the Whiskey Dick Canyon road Friday and brought to Ellensburg last night by the coroner.

MAZATLAN IN REBEL HANDS

Another Federal City Falls Into Hands of Victorious Rebels After Desperate Fighting—Is Important Port

Juarez, May 16.—Unofficial advices yesterday said that Mazatlan finally had been taken by the rebel army of General Obregon. The dispatch said fighting in the streets of the city was in progress for hours and that the Federals at length were forced from their position.

Protection at Saltillo, Mazatlan and San Luis Potosi had been promised by Carranza to English, German, Spanish and French citizens. The promise was given by the rebel chief to the consuls of the four countries at Durango before the battle of Saltillo was fully under way. Carranza added that protection would be given to all foreigners without exception and that orders had been issued to that effect. This announcement was made yesterday at the department of information in Juarez yesterday.

It was also announced that General Torres, who has been besieging San Luis Potosi for several days has been ordered to make an attack on the city. Rebels believe they will be in full possession of San Luis Potosi, Saltillo and Mazatlan before many days pass.

Rebel officials announce that they have information from trustworthy sources that fighting has started in Mexico City, that many of Huerta's troops have deserted him and that a general mutiny was threatened the capital.

HONORS FOR A CUMBERLAND MINER

Hon. Dr. Young, in his capacity as Provincial Secretary, on Thursday received a communication from the Imperial Government, notifying him that it had been determined to bestow the Edward medal of the second class upon Mr. Robert Henderson, of Cumberland. The recipient of this coveted honor for some years was employed in the coal mines of South Africa. On January 11, 1913, while employed at the Hatting Spruit Colliery, Natal, a serious "gob" fire started in one of the workings. A number of native "boys" were overcome by poisonous gases, and Mr. Henderson and another, at the imminent risk of their own lives, effected a heroic rescue. It is intended that the presentation of the medal to Mr. Henderson shall be made in a public manner.

A very successful dance was held Friday night at Parksville under the auspices of the Coombs Football Association. Guests were present from all over the district and from as far away as Alberni. A very delightful time was had and the affair was pronounced one of the best dances of the season.

Two boys, Wm. Philpott and Geo. Stebbins, narrowly escaped drowning in the harbor yesterday, when a small eight-foot skiff in which they were sailing out to Newcastle Island overturned and threw them into the water some distance outside the lumber company's log boom. The lads were rescued by Eugene Arnold, jr., John Richardson, and Ted Priestley, three companions.

H.S.H. Princess Alice of Teck — H.S.H. Prince Alexander of Teck

CANADA'S NEXT GOVERNOR-GENERAL AND HIS WIFE.

The Prince is the third son of the late Duke of Teck and brother of Queen Mary. He is 40 years old and a soldier of distinction, having seen active service in the Matabele campaign of 1896-7 and the Boer War. He was mentioned in despatches upon both occasions. He was with the king and queen on their Empire tour during which they visited Canada as Duke and Duchess of York. The Princess before her marriage in 1904 was the Duchess Alice of Albany. She is conceded to be the prettiest and best dresser of the British Royal Princesses. They have one son and one daughter.

TO RUSH WORK ON THE KETTLE VALLEY

FATALITY AT LITTLE QUALICUM

Teamster for Tinney and Humphries Killed in Runaway Accident Yesterday Afternoon.

A teamster named Lindsay, who worked for Tinney and Humphries, the contractors at Qualicum Beach, met with death yesterday afternoon, about 5 o'clock on the road not far from the Little Qualicum Beach.

The team he was driving was found a few yards from the body, and the wagon nearby partially wrecked. No one saw the accident but the supposition is that the team ran away and the wagon striking a telephone pole Lindsay was thrown with his head against the pole. The unfortunate man's brains were scattered about the body.

Enquiry of Qualicum last night elicited little information about the dead man. It appears he had been only working there a short time and was a very sober, industrious man.

The body was brought into the city at an early hour this morning and is now at the Jenkins' Undertaking Parlors.

A sad feature of the case is that Lindsay's wife is now on her way out from the Old Country to join him on the Island. Lindsay recently arrived here from Calgary.

MR. JNO. M. RUDD RETURNS TO NANAIMO

Mr. J. M. Rudd returned last night from England where he has spent the last four months. While away he stayed the greater portion of the time in London. He reports business conditions, generally speaking, as good. While perhaps there is not quite as much activity as two years ago, when he was last there, still the majority of business enterprises appear to be working at top pressure. Mr. Rudd returned by way of Montreal.

FORTY YEAR'S SERVICE

Winnipeg, May 16.—Assistant Fire Chief William Code, has resigned afeer forty year's connection with the fire department and the city will grant him an annual pension of $2,000 for faithful services.

CHILDREN'S EVENTS ON THE TWENTY-FOURTH

Some misunderstanding has arisen among the school children of the city as to entering for the various contests to be held in connection with the children's drills and exercises on Victoria Day. The impression prevails that children are asked to send in their entries at once for the foot racing events to be held on the morning of the 25th. This is not the case as no entry needs to be sent in for these events, any child being allowed to enter any event the moment that said event is called to take place. While no early entry is necessary for the foot races, Mrs. Martindale requests that children who intend entering for the various events to be held in connection with the children's exercises, send in his or her name some time before the end of this week, in order that there be no confusion on the 25th.

The events for which children are asked to submit their names to Mrs. Martindale are as follows:

Confined to School Boys only.

Best comic group—(not to exceed four) 1st prize $2.50 each boy, 2nd, $1.50 each boy.

Single comic—1st prize $2.50, 2nd, $1.50.

Decorated bicycle—1st prize $2.50, 2nd, $1.50.

Decorated pony—1st prize $2.50, 2nd, $1.50.

For School Girls only.

Doll buggy parade contest—(girls eight years and under) 1st prize $2.50 2nd, $1.50.

Best "Mother Goose" story group—(girls or boys 10 years and under) only two in group, 1st prize $2.50 each boy or girl, 2nd $2.50 each boy or girl.

Best "Mother Goose" single character—1st prize $2.50, 2nd $1.50.

A practice of the Arnold Orchestra will be held in Fletcher's Hall this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

POPULAR NANAIMOITE WEDS IN VICTORIA

Mr. John Cowie, of the Cowie Machine Works, and a very popular native son, surprised his friends by quietly slipping out of town this week and with his usual modesty, marrying, unheralded, yesterday in Victoria.

The bride is Miss Dora Grace Blackstaffe, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blackstaffe, of Victoria. Mr. and Mrs. Cowie will take up residence here in a few days.

TRADE WITH CANADA

London, May 16.—Replying to a question in the House of Commons today, Mr. John Burns, President of the Board of Trade, said that exports of a total value of over £28,000,000 were made to Canada from the United Kingdom during 1913; 84½ per cent of which were wholly or chiefly manufactured here; £34,000,000 to Australia and £10,000,000 to New Zealand.

INDICATES THE GROWTH OF CITY

Nanaimo Exchange of B. C. Telephone Company Shows Big Increase in Number of Telephones During the Year

The growth of the telephone exchange is a good criterion of the business development of that place. In connection the business of the B. C. Telephone company would indicate a very healthy business condition in Nanaimo.

On Jan. 1, 1913 there were 584 telephones connected with the local exchange. On Jan. 1, 1914 this number has increased to 659, and on May 1 this year, this number has again been increased to 692. As the B. C. Telephone Talk states in its current issue, at this time this city is as progressive, if not more so, as any city in the province.

DREDGING SEASON IN FULL BLAST.

Dawson, May 16.—The dredging season is now in full blast. The Yukon Gold Company has a fleet of seven dredges and the Canadian Klondike, four. Hydraulics are also operating.

TRIBUTE PAID MILLIONAIRE

Battle Creek, Mich., May 14.—Escorted by a great throng of employees, men and women, the body of Charles W. Post, millionaire manufacturer, was carried to Oak Hill cemetery today and placed in a mausoleum.

URGED TO ACCEPT COMPROMISE

Unionist Review Urges Unionist Party to Accept Home Rule Compromise Offered by Premier Asquith.

London, May 16.—The Spectator, the Unionist weekly review, to-day warns a certain clique of the "Die Hards" against rejecting any compromise on the Home Rule bill, which course, it says, is advocated only by a minority of the Unionists.

"The only result of such an overreaching policy," says The Spectator "will be the strong and sudden revulsion of moderate public opinion against the Unionists. If the Unionists were to now refuse to come to any agreement in the matter of exclusion and were to take up the line that they have got the government at their mercy, the result would be that British public opinion would say generally that as a party they were hopeless. Happily we are not really much afraid that the Unionist insurgents are able to destroy the settlement now almost in sight."

The labor party is in difficulties They have just withdrawn their whips from W. Johnson, Labor member for Nuneaton, because he persists in identifying himself with the Liberal party in his constituency. At the other end of the scale P. Snowden, Labor member for Blackburn, according to the Labor Leader, has clined to help the party at by-el- ections because of its close identification with the Liberals in the House of Commons. The journal states that Mr. Snowden made the following declaration at a private conference of the Independent Labor party at Bradford on the election policy: I am going down to no bye-elections so long as the present situation remains. I am not going down to the constituencies to denounce a Liberal government as an inhuman and diabolical monster when I am leaving my colleagues at Westminster to keep the government in power. I want a little more honesty. I suggest that our policy in the House of Commons should be in conformity with our platform propaganda."

The militant radical Star declares that Ulster must be given a further option at the expiration of the six-year limit. To every Irish Nationalist the idea of using British soldiers to subjugate Irishmen is abhorrent. Coercion for Ireland is dead.

There is much speculation as to why the King received David Lloyd George in audience. The chancellor was an unusually long time with the King yesterday.

FOUR FAMILIES HOMELESS.

South Vancouver, May 16.— Four families are homeless as the result of fire which swept a little row of houses on the corner of Sixty-Fifth avenue and Manitoba street early this morning. The fire broke out in Mr. Robertson's house on the corner at 11.30, and the flames were blown toward the other three smaller houses by a strong wind.

Most of the damage was done before the fire apparatus could reach the scene, partly owing to an attempt to ring in the alarm at one of the new Gamewell boxes before they were in working order.

MUNIZ TO BE PREMIER

Lima, Peru, May 16.—General Pedro Muniz, the new Peruvian minister of war, will also act as premier in the cabinet formed by President Benavides, who was yesterday elected to succeed the exiled President Billinghurst.

PRODUCT OF LOCAL FACTORY

Hugh Watson Manufactnring Company's Salmon Trolling Bait Meeting With Great Success in Local Waters.

That the product of the Hugh Watson Company of this city, manufacturers of salmon trolling baits, is a successful killer of fish is evidenced by the big demand for the spoons, the sale of which is increasing month by month as the value of the spoons become more widely known.

The spoons made locally are the invention of Mr. Hugh Watson, head of the company who is one of the best known fishermen on the coast, who after studying the motion of the herring through the water, perfected these baits which give an almost exact imitation. The company manufacturers three varieties of spoons, viz The Step, The Lever and The Witch, in three different class of metals; silver, copper and bronze. The Step spoon is used principally for Cchoe Trolling. It undulates and does not spin and is the pioneer of all spoons. It is known to be a good fisher and is well adapted to local waters, in fact this spoon is an all round trolling bait and has been used with great success in local waters one boat containing three men having in three hours caught 198 fish with this class of trolling bait.

The Lever spoon is adjustable for trolling behind power or row boats. The lever or lip can be bent so as to make the bait undulate quickly or slowly as desired. The spoon does not spin and in consequence the line will not kink or snarl, this being a good bait for cod and trout and is also an all round salmon spoon.

The Witch spoon is used principally for Tyee and Spring Salmon trolling, the larger size for Tyee, the smaller for Spring salmon. All three spoons have been used with great success in local waters, the latest product of the factory a bronze spoon being the equal of the gold plated spoon which owing to its high cost is only within the reach of the well to do.

As stated above the spoons manufactured by the Hugh Watson Company are the result of years of practical fishing experience. In conversation with a representative of The Herald, Mr. Watson said the best success with his spoons could be obtained by weighing the line with at least three quarters of a pound of lead, with the lead about 25 feet from the spoon. If fishing from a power boat at least 70 feet of line shouldbe used but if fishing from a rowboat 55 feet of line would be quite sufficient. A green colored line is preferable to any other as this color blends with the water and is not unlike kelp or other sea weed which is constantly floating about and hence would not be as likely to frighten away the fish as would a white or other colored line.

While the spoon plays a very important part in successful fishing says Mr. Watson, considerable depends upon the fisherman himself who should see to it that the points of his hooks are always straight and sharp and that he has a thin but strong line, preferably Cudhunk, between the sinker and spoon.

RAILROAD OFFICIAL DEAD.

Atlantic City, N.J., May 16.—William Wainwright, first vice president of the Grand Trunk railway, died tonight from a complication of diseases. He had been ill for two months. He was born in England 74 years ago.

REV. ROBSON IS COMING HERE

Former Pastor of Wallace Street Methodist Church is Slated by Conference to Return to Nanaimo.

Kamloops, May 16.—The twenty-eighth session of the annual conference of the Methodist Church of British Columbia opened here on Thursday. At the calling of the roll 84 ministers and 80 laymen answered to their names. The equalization of fares, making the cost the same to each delegate whether coming from far or near, had contributed to a fair representation from distant points and the largest conference ever held in British Columbia.

The election of president for the ensuing year was at once proceeded with and resulted on the first ballot in the election of Rev. Elihu Mannel of Robson Memorial Church, Cedar Cottage. Following this came the election of the secretary, when Rev. R. Forbes Stillman was chosen also on the first ballot.

The conference was presided over by General Superintendent Dr. Chow The devotional hour was occupied by Dr. Eber Crummy with the first of a series of addresses on the general head "The Personal Note in the Scriptures," which was listened to with close attention.

Rev. C. H. Huestis, secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, addressed the Conference, complimenting the province on the decided advance in moral sentiment and thanking the Attorney-General for his splendid aid in preserving the Lord's Day as a day of rest for the people.

Mrs. Taft, representing the Woman's Missionary Society, told of the successful work and increasing interest in missionary activities.

The first draft of stations of the British Columbia Conference of the Methodist Church in this twenty-eighth annual session follows, very few changes being expected.

FOUND DEAD BODY OF CHINAMAN

The body of a Chinaman about 25 years of age was found yesterday morning lying under a box car on the siding this side of Brenton's crossing on the short line to Extension.

The man had evidently been dead two or three days. How he met his death is a mystery but there is nothing to point to other than natural causes. He had evidently been walking and had sat down to rest and had expired. There was lunch in his clothes and money in his pockets.

The body was brought into Jenkin's undertaking parlors where from papers on his clothes it was ascertained that his name was Jow Yee.

SPRING RUSH IS ON TO THE NORTH

Seward, May 16.—The spring rush to the Cook Inlet and Turnagain Arm district is the greatest this year in the history of Alaska. At the present time there are more men in that section than ever before, and there is nothing for them to do in the way of work. There is still a great deal of snow in the hills, and it is impossible for anyone to get out to prospect. There are ten men for every job at the mines that are working. The Knik Commercial Club is sending out letters to the various publications throughout Alaska asking them to warn men from coming into that section in search of work as the labor market is already oversupplied. Unless a man has enough money to keep himself for the season to prospect, he is better off in some other section of Alaska than on Cook Inlet.

LIBERAL PROPHESIES.

Mr. Ralph Smith has been honored by being elected to the presidency of the Vancouver Liberal Association. In addressing the association after his election he dropped the role of politician to take up that of the prophet. He has his finger on the political pulse of the country back east. He has learned that the Liberal party never had such an opportunity as they have today. Tremendous numbers of the people are simply wasting for the chance to change the political complexion of the country Were there an election now the Liberal party would be overwhelmingly returned to office. Of course this is fair political prophesy and fairly safe at that. There is no prospect and no probability of an election for some time to come. If there were Smith would be more of a politician and less of a prophet. There is absolutely no ground for the assertion that the government is losing any of its strength. Its chief occupation so far has been to clean up the railway messes left by Smith and his late colleagues. On the question of protection on which the last election turned Laurier is drifting along on a foggy sea of generalities. He has veered round towards Free Trade, but he has not yet made it an issue, and we hardly expect he will. With his followers he is at present engaged in an endeavor to make cheap political capital out of the railway situation he himself created. Some weeks ago they turned the local troubles here to the same end. Neither the coal industry of the Island, nor the people dependent upon it counted for a moment against the chance to bull-bait Minister Crothers and embarass the government. So far as British Columbia is concerned what did the Liberal government ever do for it to cause the people to vote it into office again. We always understood that Mr. Smith was one of the most influential members of the Liberal government. All the same the interest of his leaders never seemed to cross the Rockies. Laurier himself neither understood nor appreciated the sentiments of British Columbia, and his government simply ignored its claims for consideration. More money has been granted for public works on the coast in the two years the Borden government has been in office than during the whole sixteen years of the Laurier regime. It is true that the Victoria Times is at present whooping up the Seymour Narrows bridge project. But when its proprietor was a Minister of the Laurier Cabinet and his friend Mr. Smith a member of the government, the scheme was very much in the air. We got neither drydocks, harbor improvements, nor anything else of any value or importance. The eastern provinces got it all, and both Templeman, Smith and the Times were perfectly satisfied. The trouble was that nobody else was, and neither one of this Liberal trinity could see it. We admit that elections are just as uncertain as horse races, and in the event of an election the result might be as Smith prophesies. The only thing is that it is not likely, nor will it ever be probable so long as the record of Smith and the Liberal government in British Columbia is remembered. The public memory, proverbially short as it is, is not quite as short as Smith assumes.

It is astounding even in politics how great things from little causes spring. In the British House of Commons, the Mother of Parliaments, soft and inoffensive pillows were turned into a causus belli. A thoughtful and considerate government whip sensing an all night sitting, for the greater ease and comfort of the government members sent them pillows and blankets. The whip evidently believed the labor members hard enough to do without such coddling comforts. Whether it was that the labor men resented this tribute to their laboring days, or were stirred to anger by the selfishness of their Liberal allies is not quite clear, but there was instant surging revolt. A frontal attack on the pillows and blankets led to a fierce grabbing encounter on the floor of the House, and in cases where old feuds were remembered pillows were dropped and punches exchanged. The only casualty reported was one Liberal wounded, and he apparently had stuck his nose where it had no business. To the many stirring historic scenes that have occurred in the House must now be added this great pillow fight.

The British Columbia Federationist in its issue this week, prints some cuts of Nanaimo street scenes. All the pictures show the militia in the streets, and are warrant for describing Nanaimo as a Miniature Moscow. The inference is also drawn from these pictures that everything was ready for a May Day massacre. We are not quite certain that any one of the four pictures has any connection with May Day. The first shows a company of Highlanders on church parade which is not usually associated with massacre. The second and third show artillery companies with their guns. The men have enjoyed big gun practice while at Nanaimo, and the guns have occasionally been seen on the streets. In all three pictures the puzzle is to find the men who are being tempted to meet force with force. There are no men around. The fourth picture shows a squad of Kilties hauling a Maxim along Commercial street. This is no May Day picture. Three men were ambushed in the dead of night and one of them severely shot, by a gang of so-called men at Chase River. The Kilties were brought into town the next day and this picture srows them marching through the streets to the barracks. As a companion picture a cut of this skulking outrage at Chase River would have been the very thing giving cause and effect. There were pictures taken last August also, but none of them were printed. The reason, strange to say, was too much Moscow.

EXPLORERS ARE WELL.

Copengagen, Denmark, May 16.—K. Rasmussen, a Danish explorer, brought back word today from Donald B. MacMillan, leader of the Crockerland expedition, that all the members were well on March 27. MacMillan was then at Cape York.

EX-VICE PRESIDENT IS ILL

Chicago, May 16.—Adlai E. Stevenson, vice president of the United States during Cleveland's second term as a president, was brought here today from his home in Bloomington, Ill., for medical treatment. Mr. Stevenson is 79 years old and has been ill for some time.

PRESBYTERIANS VS. I. O. G. T.

These teams met once more yesterday afternoon as the outcome of friendly rivalry and differing conceptions as to their respective capabilities. This was their third game in a rather short interval, the Presbyterians going down on the last occasion. However they made amends yesterday, when they turned the tables after a very keenly contested encounter. The first half was mostly Presbyterians and they held the lead of 1-0 at the interval Resuming, play was kept up and the Templars equalized the score after muddling a penalty twice. Never daunted the Presbyterians kept the upper hand and added two more to their total, and looked like keeping a good lead. However from a breakaway Templars put on a well taken goal just on the call of time. A keen and enjoyable game ended, Presbyterians 3, Tempalrs 2. Mr. Joe Craig handled the game with much acceptance.

SENATOR COFFEE IS SLIGHTLY IMPROVED.

London, May 16.—At noon today the report from the bedside of Senator Coffey, who has been critically ill for several weeks, was that he shows slight improvement. He rested quietly during the day and his attendants are greatly encouraged by his condition, although his recovery is not yet assured.

RALPH FRARY JUMPS TO FEDERAL LEAGUE

Vancouver, May 16.—Ralph Frary, the Northwestern League umpire, who disappeared in Seattle on Thursday, arrived in Vancouver yesterday and confirmed the report that he had jumped to the Federal League. He has signed a three-year contract at $3,500 per season and has received, it is understood, $1,500 in cash. He is accompanied by Mrs. Frary and will leave this morning for Chicago to report to the Federal League officials.

"Kiddo" Wilson, who pitched for Vancouver last season, may succeed Frary on the N. W. staff. He is working in the series at Seattle this week and it is altogether likely that President Fielder Jones will give him a permanent berth.

London, May 16.—Kennymore has been installed a 5-to-2 favorite for the Derby, the world's turf classic, which will be run off Wednesday week at Epsom. The scratching of The Tetrarch was a bitter disappointment to thousands of followers of the turf. It is believed that Kennymore will be well supported.

The latest official betting on the Derby is as follows: Kennymore 5 to 2, Black Chester 8 to 1, Lanius and Carancho 100 to 9, Brakespeare 100 to 8, Ambassador 100 to 6, and Carrickfergus 20 to 1.

Royal Standard BREAD

No. 10---Cut Out and Paste in Your Recipe Book.

Scald 1 qt. milk (half water and half milk if you prefer). Add 2 teaspoons salt, 3 teaspoons sugar, two tablespoons butter. When luke warm add yeast dissolved in a little cold water. Add 2 qts. Royal Standard or enough to make stiff. Let rise over night. Bake 1 hour.

BETTY BROWN.

It is false economy to "shop round" for your flour. That cheaper brand you buy does not save you money in the long run because you get less loaves per sack. We will say that you pay 35 cents more for ROYAL STANDARD than you do for the cheap brand. You can easily get seven more loaves out of the sack to say nothing of healthier, more nourishing loaves.

Next time you buy flour, don't think price, think ROYAL STANDARD and in that way you will get most in quality and quantity for your money.

Your grocer is ROYAL STANDARD wise.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining right of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-west Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Applications for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-agent in the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or sub-agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N. B.—Unauthorised publication of this advertisement will not be paid.

TIRES REPAIRS SUNDRIES

GARRISON LOST TO LOCAL CRICKET CLUB

The local cricket club again took the measure of the Garrison eleven yesterday afternoon. The Garrison had quite a few changes in their side and were stronger both in batting and bowling. Their ground fielding was also very smart, but several easy chances were dropped, and these errors had a material effect upon the score. On the whole the batting on both sides was slow, the batsmen experiencing great difficulty in getting the ball away. The totals were 85 for the Garrison and 185 for the local club with two wickets to fall. Brassey and Paton batted well for the Garrison while Paul, Battey, Curry and Leighton were the principal scorers for the home side. The full scores are as follows:

WOMAN STARTS RIOT

St. Louis, May 16.—The principals of two public schools, acting as umpires, were stoned and the majority of 700 schoolboy spectators engaged in a general fight during a riot started by a woman at a baseball game today. The woman took exception to the ruling of one of the umpires. She rushed on the diamond and was followed by the grandstand constituents of both teams. A riot call brought policemen, who escorted the umpires to their homes.

ENORMOUS DEMAND FOR "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

1,152,000 Boxes Sold Last Year.

Six of These Fruit Liver Tablets for Every Man, Woman and Child in the Dominion.

In seven short years, "Fruit-a-tives" has become the most famous and the most widely used medicine in Canada that has ever been introduced to the people of the Dominion. Even those who take "Fruit-a-tives" regularly and recommend these famous fruit juice tablets to their friends, probably have no idea of the enormous number of "Fruit-a-tives" that are being used by those wishing to regain their health.

Last year, over eight thousand gross boxes of "Fruit-a-tives" were sold. As there are one hundred, forty four boxes in a gross, this means that over one million one hundred thousand boxes were sold in 1912. And this year, this number will be still further increased.

This means a box of "Fruit-a-tives" for every six persons in Canada, or six tablets for every man, woman and child in the country.

"Fruit-a-tives" are sold in every section of the Dominion. On the rugged Atlantic coast, throughout the Maritime Provinces, among the French in Quebec and the English in Ontario, all over the great Prairie Provinces and on the shores of the Pacific, "Fruit-a-tives" is the best selling medicine in stock.

This is true because "Fruit-a-tives" gives results. For chronic Constipation, Indigestion and Stomach Trouble—for bad Blood, Skin Eruptions and Eczema—for Rheumatism, Sciatica and Lumbago—for Kidney, Bladder and Urinary Troubles—"Fruit-a-tives" cures when nothing else will.

In the head office in Ottawa, are hundreds of letters and photographs from grateful men and women who have been cured of sickness and suffering by "Fruit-a-tives." Many of these letters and photographs have been published by permission and have induced other sufferers to try "Fruit-a-tives." This is one of the factors in the demand for "Fruit-a-tives," which is now sold in every city, town, hamlet and cross roads store.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50 trial size, 25c., at all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

The "Booze" Has Him-He Can't Quit!

"He" is, perhaps, a business man, or a wage-earner, with family dependent upon him believing in him. The world is unsympathetic. It judges by experience. It knows him for an habitual drunkard and it brands him as beyond hope—doomed. But that man CAN quit—

Yes, He CAN Quit And in THREE Days Too!

Alcoholism is NOT a disease. The Gatlin diagnosis has led to a system that cures and cures permanently. No drugs, no hypodermic injections—just rest, excellent food, privacy and herbal medicines FOR ONLY THREE DAYS. Then, if the cure is not complete, is not satisfactory to patient and those interested in him, every cent paid is refunded without question or comment.

TIRES REPAIRS SUNDRIES

GARRISON LOST TO LOCAL CRICKET CLUB

The local cricket club again took the measure of the Garrison eleven yesterday afternoon. The Garrison had quite a few changes in their side and were stronger both in batting and bowling. Their ground fielding was also very smart, but several easy chances were dropped, and these errors had a material effect upon the score. On the whole the batting on both sides was slow, the batsmen experiencing great difficulty in getting the ball away. The totals were 85 for the Garrison and 185 for the local club with two wickets to fall. Brassey and Paton batted well for the Garrison while Paul, Battey, Curry and Leighton were the principal scorers for the home side. The full scores are as follows:

BRITISH COLUMBIA LIFE.

The British Columbia Life is to be congratulated on its showing. Its expenses for 1913 work out at 13.67 per cent on renewals and 136.66 per cent on new premiums, according to Stone & Cox method. This is a ratio which puts to shame many companies much longer established than the British Columbia—"Canadian Insurance."

WOMAN STARTS RIOT

St. Louis, May 16.—The principals of two public schools, acting as umpires, were stoned and the majority of 500 schoolboy spectators engaged in a general fight during a riot started by a woman at a baseball game today. The woman took exception to the ruling of one of the umpires. She rushed on the diamond and was followed by the grandstand constituents of both teams. A riot call brought policemen, who escorted the umpires to their homes.

ENORMOUS DEMAND FOR "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

1,152,000 Boxes Sold Last Year.

Six of These Fruit Liver Tablets for Every Man, Woman and Child in the Dominion.

In seven short years, "Fruit-a-tives" has become the most famous and the most widely used medicine in Canada that has ever been introduced to the people of the Dominion. Even those who take "Fruit-a-tives" regularly and recommend these famous fruit juice tablets to their friends, probably have no idea of the enormous number of "Fruit-a-tives" that are being used by those wishing to regain their health.

Last year, over eight thousand gross boxes of "Fruit-a-tives" were sold. As there are one hundred, forty four boxes in a gross, this means that over one million one hundred thousand boxes were sold in 1912. And this year, this number will be still further increased.

This means a box of "Fruit-a-tives" for every six persons in Canada, or six tablets for every man, woman and child in the country.

"Fruit-a-tives" are sold in every section of the Dominion. On the rugged Atlantic coast, throughout the Maritime Provinces, among the French in Quebec and the English in Ontario, all over the great Prairie Provinces and on the shores of the Pacific, "Fruit-a-tives" is the best selling medicine in stock.

This is true because "Fruit-a-tives" gives results. For chronic Constipation, Indigestion and Stomach Trouble—for bad Blood, Skin Eruptions and Eczema—for Rheumatism, Sciatica and Lumbago—for Kidney, Bladder and Urinary Troubles—"Fruit-a-tives" cures when nothing else will.

In the head office in Ottawa, are hundreds of letters and photographs from grateful men and women who have been cured of sickness and suffering by "Fruit-a-tives." Many of these letters and photographs have been published by permission and have induced other sufferers to try "Fruit-a-tives." This is one of the factors in the demand for "Fruit-a-tives," which is now sold in every city, town, hamlet and cross roads store.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50 trial size, 25c., at all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

CITY COUNCIL IN SESSION

Futher Consideration Given to the Sewer and Waterworks Bylaws—Albert Street Regrade Considered.

The City Council met in regular session last evening, the full Council [illegible] His Worship Mayor Planta presiding.

In the absence of Mr. Gough, Mr. J. F. Wilcox acted as City Clerk pro tem.

A communication was received from the Seventh Day Adventists notifying the Council they would not require the use of the City Park, during June as the convention scheduled for June had been cancelled.

On motion of Ald. Young the communication was received and filed.

A communication was received from the Connaught Barracks requesting the Council provide four additional lengths of hose in order that the building be protected from fire.

On motion of Ald. McKenzie, the communication was referred to the Fire Wardens for investigation and report.

Ald. Ferguson remarked the Fire Wardens had already provided a number of lengths of hose to the Connaught Barracks and the hose had not been properly taken care of.

Messrs. Rudd Mitchell & Co. wrote the Council requesting the Council take Accident Insurance with their company for the men employed on the Nicol street regrade.

Ald. Busby moved, seconded by Ald. Young the matter be referred to the Street Committee for investigation and report.

Ald. Forrester moved in amendment the Finance Committee take steps to have all city workmen insured.

The amendment was adopted.

Residents of Campbell street petitioned the Council to grade that street and construct a five-foot cement sidewalk.

On motion of Ald. McKenzie the matter was referred to the City Clerk for report.

The Street Committee submitted the following report:

Gentlemen,—Your Street Committee having consulted with the City Engineer and having given the matter our due consideration, beg to recommend that the apportionment of the Albert street regrading be as follows: Inasmuch as the work can be classed as three distinct sections that the ratios of 50 per cent, 30 per cent and 20 per cent be employed. The 50 per cent basis being charged to the bottom rock cut, the 30 per cent being charged to the upper cut and fill and 20 per cent be charged to the balance of property holders in the middle section of the street. The three charges on this basis will be respectively, $6.57, $2.10 and $0.95 per foot front. This will allow filling the street to grade out side of the contractor's tender, between the upper and lower cuts. All street intersections and 75 per cent of the cost of the culvert on Machleary street. All street grading on intersection streets to be charged to abutting property. This one being figured from the contractor's tender makes the Cavan street charge $2.43 per foot, the Dunsmuir street charge, $0.73 per foot, the Kennedy street south, charge $1.20 per foot and Kennedy street north, $1.90 per foot.

Respectfully submitted,
Street Committee.

Ald. McKenzie moved the report be received and recommendation adopted. Ald. McKinnell seconded the motion. Ald. Young moved in amendment the cost of the work at the intersection of streets be charged against the property in the block affected. Ald. Crossan seconded the amendment.

Ald. McKenzie moved the City Clerk send out regular notices to the ratepayers affected informing them as to the cost of the proposed work.

City Engineer Owen reported an expenditure in wages during the week on streets account of $368.25, and on waterworks account of $449.25.

On motion of Ald. Young the Council resorted itself into Committee of the whole to further consider the waterworks Loan Bylaw. The bylaw was reported complete as amended, and given the third reading.

On motion of Ald. McKinnell, the Council went into Committee of the whole to consider the $30,000 Sewer Loan Bylaw, with Ald. McKenzie in the chair. Several clauses of the bylaw were considered, when the Committee rose, reported progress and was granted leave to sit again to further consider the bylaw at the next regular meeting.

Council then adjourned.

BRICKMAKERS' STRIKE

Chicago, May 18.—Hopes of an immediate settlement of the brickmakers' strike that has kept 150,000 men idle and paralized building operations in Chicago for a month, were dissipated on Saturday. A compromise offer by brick manufacturers, conceding increased wage of one cent an hour to all men engaged in piece work, was rejected by the brickmakers' district council.

DIES OF HIS BURNS

Norfolk, Va., May 18.—Chief Engineer W. L. Porter, who was badly burned in the explosion of the old Dominion steamer Jefferson last week, died here to-day. He makes the eleventh victim.

SUCCESSFUL CONCERT ON SUNDAY NIGHT

The Nanaimo Symphony Orchestra concert Sunday night in the Princess Theatre was a great success musically. It was fitting that it should be, seeing that it was a complimentary concert for Miss Grace Morgan, the talented accompanist of the orchestra and since its inception one of the hardest working and most enthusiastic members. The proceeds of the concert will be used by the orchestra towards purchasing a substantial appreciation of the regard in which Miss Morgan is held by the orchestra. Incidently it may be said that this same regard is retained by thousands of those who have attended the Symphony concerts. Her work for the orchestra has entailed great personal sacrifice or her part and called for ability of a rather high order, both of which requirements she has more than met.

All of the artistes at Sunday's concert were local but this fact in no way detracted from the enjoyment of the evening for all were at their best and the result was one of the best concerts in a long time.

Mr. Young, Miss Chiswell, Mr. J. Lewis and Mr. E. Hughes all excelled themselves. Mr. L. Williams, although suffering from a severe cold acquitted himself well. Mr. Hyslop was unable to appear but Miss Chiswell rendered several songs.

At the conclusion of the concert Miss Morgan was presented with a number of boquets by several admirers.

ORGAN RECITAL AT ST. ANDREWS CHURCH

The organ recital at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church this evening promises to be exceptionally well attended. So far as Nanaimo is concerned an organ recital is a musical novelty and the reputation of the organist, Professor Joseph Hinton, ensures it being a special treat. Professor Hinton, before coming to Canada, was organist at the Glasgow corporation concerts, and for some time after coming to Canada was Professor at the Toronto College of Music. It is a great privilege for the Nanaimo music loving public to have the opportunity of hearing a musician of such attainments and no doubt a large number will take advantage of it. The vocalist is Mrs. Hinton who is described as a singer of great culture. The full programme is as follows:

1.—Overture, "If I were King" (Adolph Adam)
2.—Vocal Solo, "Oro Pro Nobis" (Piccolmini)
3.—Organ Solos, "L'Arlene" (Wellesley)
"Liebeslied" (Henselt)
"Spinning" (Schneider)
4.—Vocal Solo, "The Children's Home" (Cowen)
5.—Organ Solo, "Bridal Procession" from Costa's "Naaman."
6.—Vocal Solo, "Ideale" (Tosti)
"Absence" (Metcalfe)
7.—Organ Solos, "Bell Rondo" (Morandi)
"Scotch Fantasia" (Hinton)
8.—Vocal Solos, Scotch Songs.
9.—Organ Solo, "Choral Song and "Fugue" (S. S. Wesley)
10.—Vocal Solo, Selected.
11.—Organ Solo, Selections from "Tales of Hoffman." "Faust," and introduction to 3rd. Act of Wagner's "Lohengrin."

WESTERN FUEL PRESIDENT HERE

John Lawson New President of Western Fuel Company, Pays First Official Visit to Local Mines.

Mr. John Lawson, of San Francisco, president of the Western Fuel Company and Mr. D. C. Norcross, secretary of the company were in the city yesterday and leave this morning en route to California.

This was Mr. Lawson's first official visit as president to the company's mines here, and he spent the day visiting the local properties of the company. He was very much interested in all he saw, especially with the new Reserve Shaft and after finishing the day's tour expressed himself as particularly pleased with the condition of the property and the prospects of the company in the Nanaimo field.

"I am highly satisfied with the manner in which the local management has been and is conducting our affairs here," said Mr. Lawson. "In fact in view of all the circumstances the showing is remarkable and one that is highly gratifying to the company. I am sorry that my visit cannot be extended for I enjoy Nanaimo, her climate, scenic beauties and general environs. However, if I cannot stay longer this trip, I hope, business permitting, to come up here in the late fall and make a longer stay."

The new president of the company is also the Pacific Coast manager of the Balfour, Guthrie & Co., and a gentleman with a very wide business experience and interested in many successful enterprises in California and other parts of the coast. While best known as a successful financier he is also a man of versatile talents and thoroughly well posted on literature and by reason of his wide travels and acquaintance with men of affairs is well versed on world politics. He has personally met the majority of public men of Great Britain who are now figuring so prominently in the current affairs of the day and can tell many interesting stories of Asquith, Balfour, Carson and other world celebrities. The new president is a Scotchman by birth and is credited by his associates with possessing the native executive ability for thoroughness and success in all his undertakings.

MONOPLANE CAPSIZED TWO KILLED BY FALL.

Frankfort-On-The-Main, Germany, May 18.—Another fatal accident occurred today in connection with the Prince Henry aviation competition, which started yesterday at Darmstadt. Lieut. Rehede, who was flying as a passenger with Lieut. Kolbe, was killed when the monoplane collapsed by gusty winds.

Lieut. Kolbe died later in the day from injuries.

EXTENSIVE LUMBER FIRE AT THREE VALLEY MILL.

Revelstoke, May 18.—Fire at Three Valley mill, twenty miles east of Revelstoke, on Saturday morning, destroyed 3,500,000 feet of lumber piled in the yards. The estimated loss is $75,000, which is covered by insurance. The mill was not damaged, the efforts of the mill crew and night watchman confining the fire to the yards only. Three Valley mill is the property of the Forest Mills of B.C. Ltd.

MARKED ACTIVITY AT UNION BAY

Union Bay, according to reports is showing signs of activity these days.

The work is progressing on the E. & N. depot, the electric light poles are in along the branch road from the island highway to the station and the construction of the road is to be begun at once, a very satisfactory route having been decided upon. Interest is centered on the placing of the new townsite on the market which is being handled both in Vancouver and Union Bay.

It is stated several new firms are to start at Union and new streets to be opened.

FOUR SURVIVED OCEAN TRAGEDY

Sailors of Burned Steamer Columbian Adrift on Ocean For Thirteen Days—Underwent Terrible Suffering.

Halifax, May 18.—Halifax has had the aftermath of many ocean tragedies brought to this port, but seldom one more pitiful than the one this morning, when the United States ice patrol steamer Seneca brought to port four surpivors of the fifteen who left the burning steamer Columbian on May 3, in the third boat for which all hope had been abandoned. The rescued men are Chief Officer Robert Teire, Sailors Oscar Kendall, Peter Belanger and Fireman Michael Lurwigson, who were the only survivors of the fifteen. They had been thirteen days on the ocean. Capt. Charles E. Johnston, commander of the Seneca, interviewed on board gave a graphic description of the hardships endured by the men as told him.

"It was about midnight May 3, when they abandoned the burning steamer. It was nearly two o'clock on the morning of May 4 when they really got clear of the ship, but kept her in sight during the whole night by the light of the flames. About daylight rain began falling, and they lost sight of the steamer.

"They did not attempt to sail or row their lifeboat but thought it best to remain in the vicinity in the hope of being picked up. Accordingly they put out their sea anchor and drifted about during the next evening. They endeavored to light their lantern but wnen they opened what they thought was a waterproof matchbox they found the matches spoiled, consequently could not make signals at night. The boat compass usually kept in all life boats, had previously been taken out for cleaning purposes and had not been replaced.

After dark on the night of May 4 they saw a big four-funnelled steamer passing within a mile and a half of them but they could not signal them and the steamer passed out of sight. That same night or early next morning they saw a steamer with a black funnel and a broad red band on it about four miles away. She also passed by, those in the lifeboat still being unable to signal. On the afternoon of May 5 a Cunard liner came up to about two miles from them, seemed to stop as if picking up something and then steamed in a different direction from them. It is thought now that this may have been the Franconia which picked up the first boat.

"The wind was most fresh and the sea choppy. There was much rain, mist and fog and they saw no sign ofany other steamer or vessel from thefifth until they sighted the Seneca yesterday morning at 8 o'clock. They manned the oars, the mate steered for the steamer and the men pulled as hard as their strength permitted to get across the line of path being taken by the Seneca, and o'clock the Seneca's lookout sighted the boat, two miles away on her port bow, with a sailor's coat extendinb upwards. After being taken on board the four men all rallied promptly and in two or three hours' time they were talking quite well.

George Hull, an oiler, was the first to die and the others dropped off, one or two a day, until only four were left. The dead were thrown overboard. The survivors had nothing to eat but a few biscuit crumbs when rescued. The boat had drifted about one hundred and twenty miles to the north of where the Columbian was abandoned.

HINDUS WILL NOT BE ADMITTED

Ottawa, May 18.—Word was received here today that the Konogn Maru with 500 Hindus aboard was expected to reach Victoria on Friday of this week. Orders have gone from here not to allow the Hindus to land.

Richard Suttie, who is charged with the murder of Richard Hargraves near Oyster River recently, was brought to Nanaimo Sunday to await trial.

LAKE SALVAGE WORK

Fort William, Ont., May 18.—The Favorite of Chicago is working to float the steamer Turret Chief, which went ashore on the south shore of Lake Superior in the storm of last November. If operations are successful she will be brought to Port Arthur repairs. The crew of the Favorite have floated the Waldo, which was wrecked at the same time and in the same place.

CATTLE QUEEN DIES

Salt Lake, Utah, May 18.— Mrs. Elizabeth Bonnemort, known through out the West as the cattle and sheep queen of Utah, died at her home here yesterday. Mrs Bonnemort came to Utah from Scotland in 1865, at the age of 20 years and immediately engaged in the cattle and sheep business with great success. Her fortune is computed at $2,000,000.

NEW DIRECTORY OF THE ISLAND

The new Vancouver Island directory compiled and published by Messrs. Tregillius, Thompson Ltd., of Victoria is just off the press, and Mr. John McNiece, of Victoria, arrived in the city last night to fill all local orders in connection with it. The new directory is a publication of over 1300 pages and represents the most ambitious and successful work of the kind yet attempted on the Island. It is strongly bound and is printed throughout in large bold type. As a directory it is very complete in its information, and Nanaimo is very well covered, better than in any previous publication of its kind. To the business man the directory should prove indispensable, and for an initial publication it is a very creditable production.

ENGLISH ENGINEER WAS BANQUETTED.

New York, May 18.—Sir William Willcocks, a celebrated English engineer, constructor of the famous coverer of the original gard?n of Eden, was the guest of honor at a Assouan dam on the Nile, and dis- luncheon tendered him yesterday by the Pilgrims of the United States at the Whitehall Club.

MISS ZELIE EMERSON IS HOME

Jackson, Mich., May 18.—Zelie Emerson, who has figured in many suffragette escapades in England, has returned to the home of her mother in this city. She refused today to comment upon her experiences in London. She was said to be in good health.

OHIO COAL MINERS OUT ON STRIKE

Columbus, Ohio, May 18.—Orders declaring a strike of all coal miners in Ohio went out from headquarters of District N. 6, U.M.W. of A., here today Miners' officials to-day also began paying strike benefits of $3. per week to every member of the organization.

The mines have been closed since April 1 by orders of the operators.

John Moore, president of the district, announced that the international executive committee had ratified the recommendation of the Ohio committee for a strike last week. Officers and members of the Ohio Miners' union were not notified, however until to-day.

"The strike will place the miners on the offensive instead of the defensive," said President Moore.

DEFIANCE READY.

Bath, Maine, May 18.—The racing sloop Defiance, candidate for America's cup defence honors, was registered today at the customs house. The centreboard will be hung tomorrow, the sails bent on Monday, and it is planned to have the yacht sail for Marblehead on Tuesday.

COURTESY TO THE ENVOYS.

Ottawa, May 18.—Hon. L. P. Pelletier, postmaster-general, wired this morning to chief superintendent Rose of the Toronto postoffice to make all arrangements at Niagara to faciliate the handling of the mail of the peace envoys who are to meet there on May 26. Similar orders have already gone from the customs department to extend every facility to the distinguished visitors to Canadian soil.

CHINESE YOUTH IS ON TRIAL

Oriental on Trial For His Life Charged With Murder of Vancouver Woman—Big Crowd at Trial.

Vancouver, May 18.—Richly dressed women, carrying noon-day luncheses wrapped in tissue paper and napkins crowded the Assize Court this morning when the doors were thrown open for the commencement of the Jack Kong murder trial. Anxious to see the young Chinaman charged with the murder of Mrs. Millard, they appeared at the Courthouse long before the hour set for the trial and when the courtroom was opened at 10:30 o'clock they filled it within two or three minutes. The fact that many of the women, and men too, brought along lunches indicated that they intended to make an all-day siege of it.

For a few minutes this morning it looked as if there would be a jam at the assize court doors, but constables were provided to keep order, and the early arrivals were able to get into seats without unnecessary trouble.

The first persons arriving to watch the progress of the trial came to the courthouse at 7 o'clock this morning and by 9 o'clock there was a fair-sized crowd on the steps of the building.

Kong was brought into the court room between two policemen from the cells in the provincial public office below. Dressed as he was at the preliminary hearing, in a grey suit with knee trousers and white collar and tie. His face did not show the slightest sign of any emotion, but his unnaturally bright dark eyes betrayed that inwardly he was not as cool and collected as his outward demeanor would indicate.

He watched narrowly the police lawyers and law clerks as they moved to and fro across the room preparing the exhibits, papers and instructing the witnesses in the case. When his lordship, Mr. Justice Gregory entered the room from his chambers, Kong was the first to spring to his feet at the command "Order in Court."

The Grand jury returned several true bills against the accused, and Kong's brow puckered into a frown as he attempted to understand the procedure.

Kong's father, a typical Chinese coolie entered the court room behind Mr. Alex. Henderson, K.C., and Mr. J. A. Russell, who appeared on behalf of the accused, and took a seat directly behind the prisoner's dock.

Mr. A. D. Taylor, K. C., announced that he appeared for the crown, and Mr. Henderson told his lordship that he would conduct the defence, assisted by Mr. Russell.

Registrar Sherwood read the charge and the trial commenced.

Mr. Henderson asked his lordship to question the jurors individually that the defence might ascertain whether they should challenge for cause. This his lordship refused to do, but instructed the jurors that if any one of them thought that he could not impartially deal with the evidence he should say so as he came to the book to be sworn.

ALCOHOLIC EXPERIMENTS.

A Munich professor has just made some alarming discoveries as to the effect of alcohol upon a man's working efficiency. We are indebted for this information to the Temperance and Moral Reform League of the Methodist Church. It seems that this professor, Mr. Krapelin, has been experiimenting along these lines for some time past, and has now established beyond all peradventure that alcohol is a foe to work. Indeed his findings are so amazing that we cannot understand how there has ever been any work at all done in the world. We are not told just how Professor Krapelin arrived at the results he sets forth. He used the ergograph and that is all we are told about his methods of determination. For his experiments he used total abstainers He found that when he treated them with a glass of Bordeaux wine after each meal their efficiency declined as much as 8 per cent. It is not stated that any analysis was ordered of this Bordeaux wine. Neither the vintage nor the size of the glasses used are specified, and both are pertinent to the question. The wine may only have been alleged Bordeaux, or again it may have been of too rare a vintage to give to a total abstainer without any preliminary training or preparation. Professor Krapelin got even more amazing results in his experiments with mental workers. He is said to have found some printers who filled the bill as total abstainers. This is quite a discovery in itself. To these amazing printers he gave four cupfuls of claret a day, and after but a week's treatment their efficency declined by almost 10 per cent. In other words they were worth six cents an hour less to their employers. The point not clear to us is whether this slackening in speed was due to the alcohol or simply to the claret. We hardly imagine that any printer could stand a claret diet for a whole week without losing his grip and his speed. The wonder is he didn't lose the office or get off the earth. And we are just left wondering what would have been the consequences of another week's treatment. There are some clarets that can be taken with sweet soda, or some other sweet dilutent, but nobody wants it after every meal or in cupfuls at that. The experiments are not as conclusive as they might have been. They would have carried more weight and conviction had the dose been four beers or four scotches. Then the average worker could have figured out just how much he is impairing his efficiency. As it is, unless there is some natural law of compensations not mentioned by Professor Krapelin many workers will be utterly unable to reckon up how they are able to do any work at all. According to Professor Krapelin some clerks after two weeks of the claret treatment lost over 15 per cent. of their daily efficiency. It is a simple matter of proportion to find out how many weeks more would have seen them quite unable to do any work at all. Just imagine what would have happened had the dose been four big schooners of beer every day? We are informed that there was no evidence of intoxication in any of these cases, and it is even admitted that each man would doubtless have denied that his efficiency was impaired in the slightest degree. The tests, however, showed otherwise. There is nothing said of what the case or galley showed in the case of the printers. There is only the obvious deduction that the abstainer is a ten per cent. better man than his neighbor on the case or on the machine who has taken the equivalent of four classes of claret. This is the deduction but it will take something more than an ergograph to prove it. We are not arguing that alcohol is an aid to work, builds muscle or generates mental energy, but we do fail to see how such crazy experiments as these are going to affect the evil of intemperance.

The city authorities are to be commended for rigidly enforcing the traffic bylaw whenever its violation endangers the public safety. The corner of Bastion and Commercial streets is narrow and awkward, and unless the rule of the road is strictly observed by drivers of rigs and automobiles there is grave danger of a serious accident. There is another city bylaw the non-observance of which causes considerable inconvenience to pedestrians on the streets. This is the bylaw regulating the use of awnings and signs on business premises. We understand that the bylaw prescribes the height at which awnings shall be set from the ground. As they are, there are few of them that the average man or woman can pass under without ducking. A little attention from the authorities would not be wit[illegible] avail.

According to the news from Mexico last night President Huerta is ready to step down and out if such a course should be necessary to effect a general settlement. It may be taken for granted that such a step will be found necessary by the mediators. President Huerta, to all appearances, is not far from the end in any case. It is in the highest degree impossible that he can hold out against the Constitutionalist forces much longer. Only the intervention of the British Ambassador prevented him from falling a victim of a plot hatched by his own lieutenants and supporters. While it was too much to expect him to take a reasonable course on any contingency it is not altogether surprising that he should have made this announcement. Carranza, the Constitutionalist leader, refused to participate in the peace mediations. The difficulty now is that if Huerta's resignation is called for, the mediators will be left in a quandry as to who to appoint to succeed him. Carranza is fighting for the presidency, and preferred to trust his case to the sword rather than to the good offices of the peace commission. He refused to entertain the suggestion for an armistice. Now if Huerta abdicates there will no longer be anyone to fight, and the appointment of a successor will devolve upon the peace commission. As things are now the abdication of Huerta will strike harder at Carranza than at Huerta. The latter was nearing the end, while Carranza was nearing the beginning. It is just possible that more than Huerta may have to step down and that he had counted on this when he made his offer.

The Hon. Frank Oliver furnishes conclusive proof of our contention that British Columbia was consistently ignored by the Laurier government. In his opinion the present railway crisis in the Dominion is entirely the result of the Canadian Northern building to the coast. Speaking in the House last week he said that "had the Canadian Northern Railway system been confined to the section lying between the Quebec Province and the Rockies there would not be a railway, a financinl, and possibly a political crisis, at the present time. The present situation is due to the premature effort to build a line across British Columbia. Mackenzie & Mann had asked the Liberal Government to help them in the construction of the British Columbia line, but the request had been refused. It was the present government that had committed the country prematurely to the extension to the coast. This would cost $60,000,000 and for that the present Government must take the entire responsibility." This is plain enough. Mr. Oliver's interest stops on the eastern slopes of the Rockies. So also did the interest of the Liberal government and none of its members has learnt anything from defeat. Mr. Oliver reveals pretty clearly that were they returned to office again British Columbia would be treated with the same indifference as heretofore. The ex-Minister of the Interior is not even right in his facts The Canadian Northern had embarked on the extension of its line to the coast before the Liberal government was defeated. Moreover the enterprise had been endorsed by the people of British Columbia, and it is the people of British Columbia whom the Hon. Mr. Oliver thus cavalierly slaps in the face.

Do you eat the best corn in the whole world?

Perhaps you couldn't say off-hand what corn is the sweetest and most nutritious. Then let us tell you—it's the peerless Southern White Sweet Corn which is used in making

Kellogg's
CORN FLAKES

We don't stop at selecting the best corn. We take only the hearts of it. These "Sweet hearts" are cooked under very high temperature, then rolled into flakes. Then comes the toasting which gives them their rich brown color.

Surely, when you buy Corn Flakes, you want the original—which is Kellogg's.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining right of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-west Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Applications for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-agent in the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or sub-agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N. B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid.

NANAIMO LOST A GOOD GAME

Masterly Pitching of Shepherd of No Avail When Players Made Many Errors.

Nanaimo lost the opening baseball game of the season Sunday to the Western Canada Power Company's team of Vancouver by a score of 3 to 2, the locals defeat being directly attributed to poor fielding, nine errors being chalked up during the progress of the game which accounted for all of Vancouver's runs. Mayor Burde of Port Alberni opened the game with a sizzler right over the plate.

Shepherd, Nanaimo's crack southpaw pitched a wonderful game, striking out no less than thirteen of the opposing batsmen, allowing but four hits and not giving a single base on balls. The game was a pitcher's battle from start to finish, Shepherd having the best of the argument, and should have won his game had Nanaimo not juggled the ball too frequently in the opening innings. The game was a thriller, and the several hundred fans, who witnessed the contest, enjoyed a rare treat. The visitors secured an early lead registering single runs in the first and second innings, due to errors on the part of Nanaimo's infield. Their third tally came in the ninth, after Cavanaugh had singled over second, and came home on a wild throw.

The only earned run of the game was secured by the locals in the second inning, Piper singling over short stealing second and third, and coming home on Beattie's line drive over third. Manager Benedict's team made a desperate attempt in the ninth to pull the game out of the fire, and for a time their hopes appeared as if they would be realized. The fans were worked into a frenzy of excitement when Vancouver, by a series of errors allowed Little to score and the bags to be filled with only one down. Holmes, however, pulled himself together, held his runners close to the bags, retired Weeks with a pop fly to second, and fanned Shepherd, thus retiring the side, and putting the game away by a 3 to 2 score, after a sensational finish.

RALLY OF CITY SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Sunday School Scholars of Nanaimo Will Hold a Big Rally in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

The Sunday Schools of Nanaimo will hold a grand rally tomorrow in St. Andrew's Presbyterial Church, the event being timed to open at 3 o'clock.

The schools participating in the Rally are Wallace Street Methodist, Haliburton Street Methodist, St. Andrew's Presbyterian, Needham Street Mission, Baptist and Salvation Army. The scholars of the City Sunday schools will march to the Crescent, and at 2:40 will meet the scholars from the Needham and Haliburton Sunday Schools, the whole procession marching to St. Andrew's Presbyterian church where an address will be delivered by Rev. S. J. Thompson, pastor of the Wallace Street Methodist church.

During the course of the afternoon a musical program will be rendered.

Quite a number of visitors are already arriving in the city for the holiday Monday. The most of them are former residents of the city who always make a point of paying a visit to the old town once a year anyway. They almost all remark on the progress their old town appears to be making these days. Compared with other Coast cities, Nanaimo these times has nothing to be ashamed of.

Passengers from Vancouver last night (Friday, May 22) J. Knox, J. Chandler, Mrs. H. Bothamley, Moss Leah Bothamley, Miss Agnes Waugh, Everette Snider, Mrs. J. T. Williams, Mrs. J. Cuffalo, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Williams, Ed. Hoskins, Hugh Watson, Miss Ruth Mahrer, Edna Cunningham, Verna Beckley, Miss Dandy, Oswald Wardill, Miss O. F. Wild, Miss May Frame, William Mathews, Mrs. Peto, Richard Wallis Mr. and Mrs. J. Dixon, Miss Carrie Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gillespie, Miss Bertha Gillespie.

Yesterday was the hottest day of the present year, the weather being 80.8. The barometer is falling denoting a change in the weather. There is much speculation on what the weather man will do for Monday, the holiday. It is generally kind to Nanaimo on Victoria Day and citizens are praying that the usual good fortune will attend this year's celebration.

Two Bull Finch, probably offspring of the origional stock brought to Vancouver Island from England several months ago, were seen near Departure Bay yesterday by Mr. J. Robson.

GARRISON TEAM TO PLAY LOCALS TO-DAY

The local Cricket Club will play another match with the Garrison eleven this afternoon on the Caledonian grounds. The Garrison on Thursday visited Duncan and defeated the Cowichan Club, the champions of the Pacific Coast. Inspired by this very meritorious victory the Garrison are out to wipe out the defeats they have sustained at the hands of the local eleven. They have now two good trundlers and the game this afternoon should be more than interesting. The game will start at 2:30 and all local players are asked to be on the field in good time.

OBITUARY

DEAN

The funeral of the late Mrs. Dean took place yesterday afternoon from D. J. Jenkins' undertaking parlors, under the auspices of the U. M. W. of A., a large number of friends following the remains to the cemetery. The Rev. J. W. Hedley officiated at the parlors and graveside.

The following acted as pall-bearers J. Cook, J. Ratleff, T. Armstrong, C. McAllan, Wm. Thomas and Frank Ireland.

HENRY

The funeral of the late Mrs. George Henry of Front street took place yesterday morning from Jenkins' undertaking parlors to the Roman Catholic church, and thence to the Catholic cemetery. The Rev. Father Heynen officiated, the following acting as pallbearers: H. Botley, W. Waddington, H. N. Kilmer, E. R. Scott, T. Reilly, F. Byres.

WILSON

The funeral of the late Harriet Wilson took place yesterday afternoon from the family residence, Victoria Road, Rev. J. W. Hedley officiating at the home and graveside. There was a large attendance of friends and acquaintances of the sorrowing family, the choir of the Haliburton Street Methodist Church, rendering several hymns at the home.

Messrs. Jas. Crossan, jr., Frank Morgan, Sid Kenyon, J. Bennett, W. Anderson and C. Woodcock acted as pall bearers, funeral arrangements being in the hands of Albert E. Hilbert. The large number of beautiful floral tributes attested how widespread was the respect in which the deceased was held both in Nanaimo, her native city, and in Vancouver, where she resided during the past few years.

SCOTT

Sympathy will be expressed with Mr. and Mrs. William Scott, Robson street, in the bereavement they sustained yesterday by the death of their infant son Ernest, aged three years. The funeral will probably be held Sunday under the direction of Mr. Albert Hilbert.

There will be a rehearsal of the Arnold Orchestra at Mr. Arnold's residence, Wentworth street, Sunday afternoon at 2:30. 2t.

ALL READY FOR TWENTY-FOURTH

All Committees of Nanaimo's Victoria Day Celebration Report Everything in Readiness for Big Celebration on Monday.

The general committee of the Victoria Day Celebration held its final meeting last evening prior to Monday's celebration and as each committee submitted favorable reports everything points to the celebration being a huge success.

A communication was received from Lieutenant Colonel Hall, officer commanding the Civil Aid force in Nanaimo acknowledging with thanks the invitation of the General Committee to the officers and men of the Garrison to be the guests of the Celebration Committee on Monday, and stating that such members of the garrison as are not on duty would be very glad to avail themselves of the kind invitation.

A communication was received from Mr. E. E. Potts, Vancouver, representative of a film of fire works manufacturers, inclosing invoice of fireworks secured by the committee for the big display on Monday night. The display secured by the committee is a varied one and contains a number of set pieces. The goods have arrived in the city and arrangements have been made with an expert to superintend the setting off part Monday evening.

On behalf of the Music Committee, Mr. Owen reported arrangements had been completed for the engagement of the Sixth Regiment Band of Vancouver with a minimum of 25 pieces. The band would arrive in the city Saturday evening, lead Church parade Sunday morning, give a concert in the City Park Sunday afternoon, and be at the service of the Celebration Committee all day Monday.

Reporting on behalf of the Grounds Committee, Mr. H. Wardill informed the meeting everything was in readiness for the 25th of May. He had arranged with McRae Brothers to build a throne for the May Queen, and a platform for the children's drills, which work the contractors was doing gratis as a donation to the celebration. Mr. Wardill also stated the grounds had been cleaned up and everything attended to preliminary to the big day's sports.

As chairman of the Baseball Committee, Mr. T. L. McRae stated the baseball game in connection with the sports would be played between the locals and the Arnold and Quigley semi-professional team of Vancouver.

The Field Sports and Regatta committees both report their work well in hand and the meeting adjourned, feeling optimistic as to the general outlook for a successful celebration.

Miss Agnes Waugh who is attending Normal School in Vancouver, arrived here last night to spend the holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Waugh, Selby street.

$1500 FOUNTAIN INSTALLED IN CITY

The Palace of Sweets (F. Ellison) opposite the new Canadian Bank of Commerce, yesterday installed a $1500 soda water fountain, the finest specimen of its kind on Vancouver Island, north of Victoria. The fountain, the most modern of its kind made, is known as the Standard Hygea Fountain and is manufactured by J. J. McLaughlin of Toronto. It has all the latest fixtures with a marble top, mahogany wood insets, new pump system, modern cooling system, etc., etc. The big fixture is specially built with a view to turning out hygienic drinks for both summer and winter use. With its electric lighting system, the fountain makes quite an addition to the Palace of Sweets and the enterprising proprietor, Mr. Ellison, expects to do a rushing business during these hot days, turning out tempting, cool and refreshing hygienic drinks.

BURIED UNDER FALLING WALLS

Ten Firemen were Trapped at Chicago Fire—Several Believed to Have Been Killed by Falling Wall.

Chicago, May 22.—More than ten firemen were trapped late today beneath a falling wall while they were fighting a fire in West Madison street. Several are believed to have been killed.

"Most of the members of engine company 103 went down," said the fire chief. "I don't know whether they are dead or alive."

SIX THOUSAND LADS TO SALUTE LORD ROBERTS

London, May 22.—Empire day is being largely celebrated in the schools of the British Isles today. Lord Roberts will take the salute in Hyde Park tomorrow from a parade of 6,000 youths, including the cadets from Canada.

Several English companies declined to participate if girls were included, so the latter were asked to absent themselves.

BAND'S ACTION IS CRITICIZED

Citizens Condemn Action of Silver Cornet Band in Cancelling Engagement with Celebration Committee for Victoria Day.

At last night's meeting of the General Committee of Nanaimo's Victoria Day Celebration considerable adverse criticism was expressed at the action of the Silver Cornet Band in refusing to fulfill its engagement with the Committee on Monday in connection with the celebration. The criticism was not called because the Band had put the committee to any inconvenience by reason of its refusing to play, for having the money it was an easy matter to secure another band, but indignation was expressed at the ingratitude of an organization for which the citizens of Nanaimo had done so much in years past.

Discussion on the subject was brought up by the report of the Music Committee in referring to the engagement of the Sixth Regiment Band of Vancouver. Chairman Planta remarked it was hardly fair to pass judgment upon the Silver Cornet Band without full information, for its failure to keep its engagement with the Celebration Committee. He knew how it was possible for a few members of the Band to make it impossible to keep the engagement to play on the 25th and at the same time he thought it was up to the majority of the members of the Silver Cornet Band to weed out the few who had been the cause of breaking the engagement. Possibly some pressure had been brought to bear upon those few for he understood that at first every member of the Band was agreeable to the engagement, but he was led to believe that a few had been influenced by leaders of the Union to tell the band leader they would not play their instruments on the 25th. Censure should be passed on someone, and the parties guilty of intimidating the few band men, for it could only be called intimidation, should have the censure of the public of Nanaimo. The majority in the band should call for the resignation of the few bolters and unless they did this they would lose the confidence of the public who for years had contributed to the support of the Band. Speaking as one of many citizens who had contributed, personally the Silver Cornet Band would never get another cent from him until there was a reorganization, and he was confident there were many others in the city who felt just as he did.

Ald. Forrester was of the opinion the Band by its actions had forfeited all claims for the support of the public. He understood a meeting of the Band members was being held next week when steps would be taken looking toward the elimination of the men responsible for the cancelling of the Band's engagement on Victoria Day.

FOREST FIRES ARE WIDESPREAD

From Atlantic to Pacific come Reports of the Destruction Wrought by Forrest Fires—Many Lives in Danger.

Vancouver, May 22.—The estimated loss from forest fires in the immediate vicinity of Vancouver is about two hundred thousand dollars. Eight cottages and a shingle mill have been burned at North Vancouver, where a fire is sweeping up Grouse Mountain. A special steamer with government fire-fighters aboard was sent this morning to Silamon, 40 miles north of Vancouver, to combat the flames which had taken hold in the timber limits there. A thick blanket of smoke haze blots the sun from this city.

Fire which is thought to have started from a spark from an engine close to Dewar's gravel pit, between Port Coquitlam and the Coquitlam lake dam, has devasted an area of about five miles long and two miles wide containing valuable timber, destroyed two lumber camps and is still burning fiercely.

During the early morning the logging camp of Mr. Daynor, who is working on a sub-contract for the Robert McNair Shingle Co., was destroyed by fire in a few minutes, leaving the men of the camp and their families shelterless. They went to Port Coquitlam and Port Moody. The loss at this camp will be heavy.

An exciting trip was made with a train of flat cars drawn by an engine from the Dewar gravel pit to the dam through the fire zone. On the flat cars were many women and children taken up at points in the flame swept districts and had it not been for this means of escape many persons may have been burned or sufficated by the dense cloud of smoke. The heat was terrific on the cars as the train, going as fast as safety would allow, sped on through the fire-devastated area.

Montreal Que., May 22.—Smoke from the burning Laurentians continues to delay steamers. The Corinthian from London and the Virginian from Liverpool arrived today from being anchored all night at Three Rivers because of the smoke haze. The Michigan also arrived today after being delayed 12 hours by the smoke pall which reached 100 miles below Quebec.

Portland, May 22.—From Rockdale Wash., on the Milwaukee and Puget Sound railroad, a new forest fire was reported to the district forester of the United States forest service here. A large force of rangers and guards were rushed to the scene. Throughout Oregan and Southern Washington the district forester has increased the fire patrols as the recent dry weather has made conditions dangerous.

DEATH OF GEORGE KRAPPELLE.

Toronto, May 22.—George Krappelle, the official receiver and referee died at the Wellesley Hospital this morning after a long illness.

LOCALS WILL PLAY VANCOUVER SUNDAY

The Nanaimo Baseball Club will play its second game of the season on the Caledonian Grounds on Sunday afternoon when they meet Arnold & Quigley's semi-professional nine. The latter is said to be the fastest baseball organization in Vancouver after the Beavers, and after the fine game played by the local nine last Sunday, the game should prove a big holiday attraction. The home boys have been in steady practice all week, and a few changes have been made in the line-up which it is expected will strengthen and quicken the work of the team as a whole. H. Martin makes his debut in Nanaimo as a pitcher, and there is considerable curicsity among the fans to see how he performs.

The game is timed to commence at 2:30 and a collection will be taken to defray expenses. The use of the enmankment as a grandstand will not be permitted. The lessees of the grounds have the authority of the E. & N. railway to keep the loiterers off the track and the police have been instructed to see to this. There is lots of room in the grounds and no one can be forced to con-

LOCAL SHIPPING CONTINUES BRISK

The steamer Thor is back from 'Frisco for another cargo of coal. The big freighter arrived in port in the early hours of Friday morning, and was tied up to the wharf of the Western Fuel Company by sunrise. The Tricolor, another freighter, is expected for bunkers this week-end and also the S.S. Cordova. In addition to these the following coastal vessels have coaled during the week: Leona, bunkers; Swell, scow; Red Fir, Flamingo, Superior, Kildonan, Amoko, Clansman, Celtic and Moonlight, bunkers, and We Two, scow; Swell, scow.

At Boat Harbor, the shipping port of the Pacific Coast Coal Mines Co., Ltd. the Kootenay was in with a big scow. The Daisy bunkered and the Princess Eva loaded a cargo. The Rochelle is expected in over the week end.

The following coaled at the wharves of the Vancouver-Nanaimo Coal Company: Eva Marie, bunkers; Turnover and scow; Celtic, bunkers, and the Vancouver scow twice.

MANY DRILLS GOING IN CALGARY OIL FIELDS

Calgary, May 22.—One hundred strings of drilling tools will be at work night and day in the Calgary oil district within the next three months. That is the estimate of A. P. Phillips of the International Supply Company, who is associated with W. B. Martin. This firm has contracts in various sections of Southern Alberta to drill 21 wells. One hundred rigs mean more than 100 wells. It means several hundred and if only one-tenth of the Wells produce gasoline of the character obtained from Dingman well, then it will result in fabulous wealth for this district. The excitement here continues intense, and this has been a busy day with the stockbrokers. Capitalists are pouring into the city, new companies are being formed and the prices of the shares of several of the leading companies continue to advance. A movement is on foot for the formation of a stock exchange, which is required to supervise oil transactions. The city authorities are keeping a sharp lookout for wildcatters and will prosecute anyone doing a shady business.

IPSWICH BY ELECTION TAKES PLACE TODAY

London, May 22.—Chancellor Lloyd George brought the Ipswich bye-election campaign to a close tonight. He predicted the return of Masterman, the Liberal candidate at the polls Saturday.

BECKER AGAIN FOUND GUILTY

Former Lieutenant of New York Police Guilty of Complicity in Murder of Herman Rosenthal.

New York, May 22.— Charles S. Becker, former lieutenant of police of New York City, who faced his second trial for complicity in the murder of Herman Rosenthal, gambler, was found guilty by the jury this afternoon.

The case of both state and defence was closed shortly after the noon hour, and the jury retired until 4:50 p. m., when a verdict was reached.

Before the jury retired Justice Seabury of the Supreme Court instructed for fully three hours.

This defendant," said Justice Seabury, in part, in charging the jury, "is charged with murder in the first degree. The people do not claim he fired the shot that killed Rosenthal, but they charge him with procuring the commission of the crime.

"If this defendant, as a lieutenant of police, had a murder done, justice demands he be convicted and punished by being sentenced to death. But he must be proved guilty beyond reasonable doubt.

"If this defendant, either directly or indirectly procured the murder of Herman Rosenthal, he is guilty as charged."

The jury reached a verdict in four hours and four minutes.

They asked for no instructions and reached an agreement without leaving the jury room.

When the jury entered the room the foreman, [illegible] Edith Blagdon, was in tears. After Becker had been brought in Clerk Penny requested the jury to arise. When Blagdon was asked whether a verdict had been reached, he brushed away the tears with a handkershief, and answered:

"We have. We find the defendant guilty as charged."

Becker, his hands grasping the rail in front of him, paled as the foreman spoke and swayed for a moment as if about to swoon, but immediately straightened and remained rigid while each juror verified the verdict.

Court officials and newspaper reporters were the only persons in the room besides the judge, the defendant and the lawyers. Mrs. Becker was not present. News of the verdict was carried to her in the office of the sheriff, close to the court room.

Becker was brought from the presence of his wife into the courtroom to hear the verdict. His counsel asked for and received one week in which to make motions. Becker was remanded to the Tombs until May 29. He was taken from the court room to his cell.

SITUATION IN COLORADO.

In a very moderate and carefully-worded article discussing the strike situation in Colorado, the Coal Age dismisses the contention that the trouble arose out of the determination on the part of the striking miners to secure the enforcement of the state laws. In a speech in the Federal House, a Colorado representative stated that the laws were enforced throughout the state except in the counties of Huerfano and Las Animas, the counties where Rockefeller and his associates dominate the situation. If this be so, why, asks the Coal Age, has Fremont County been the scene of so much trouble that it has been chosen as headquarters for one detachment of the Federal army? Why has there been the continuous rattle of musketry in Boulder County? The Coal Age answers its own questions. The reason it gives is that "the only point at issue is not one relating to the enforcement of state law, but is for the purpose of introducing the closed shop. A law which, apparently, is being obeyed in central and northern Colorado, is one which requires that no discrimination shall be shown against union men. In these sections the miners cannot be seeking merely the right to combine. What they really desire to secure is the exclusion of the non-union workman."

The Coal Age quotes an organizer of the United Mine Workers of America to prove its point. This particular union officer, who is in charge of the Trinidad district, stated on April 30th that "the strikers will comply with every command of the Federal authorities, provided we are assured that the mines are to be closed and that Federal troops are to remain in the field until this difficulty is settled." Commenting on this statement, the Coal Age declares that it "means that the United States government is asked to close down the mines till the men have every demand satisfied. The nation is not to permit any man to work unless the men who have engaged in lawless rebellion are willing. We can easily see why the militia, though directed by a pliant governor, failed to satisfy the strikers"

TESTING THE LAW.

The Hindu question has been brought home to the doors of the province. The steamer chartered by a wealthy East Indian to transport a few hundreds of his countrymen to British Columbia in order to test the validity of the immigration laws has arrived and the fight is on. The East Indianan is quite frank as to his object. He believes that the people of British India should have the right of unrestricted entry into all parts of the British empire, and he is resolved to use every legitimate means to secure it. There are thousands of the natives of India, he told a Colonist representative, who are anxious to come here. While it is impossible not to sympathize with this view of the case, he has himself in this one statement furnished one of the strongest reasons for the enforcement of the immigration laws. Perhaps also he may be brought to see that the feeling for a white province is not based upon prejudice towards Asiatics but flows from the springs of nationalism and patriotism. We can appreciate the point of view of East Indiamen like this Gurdit Singh how he and other of his countrymen will learn ours and appreciate it.

Some British members of Parliament, who were among the spectators of the battle between the militant suffragettes and police at Buckingham Palace were very much incensed at the ungentle methods of the guardians of the law. From what we can gather, these sturdy, strong-brained legislators had gathered around the palace presumably to see the fun. The police spoiled it. They wouldn't take their walloping quietly. The Amazons used clubs and the police retaliated in kind. Hence the disgust and anger of the legislators. It is not brought out that these gentlemen demonstrated to the police how they should have acted and what they should have done. Had they only tried it they would have earned some small right to criticize. As it is, they had no business where they were, and are simply advertising the fact that they did nothing to stop the riot. The police would save themselves a lot of mauling and better preserve the law if they met clubs with fire hose and treated both militants and spectators alike.

One of the most destructive forest fires experienced on the coast for many years is raging round Coquitlam. It is impossible as yet to estimate the damage done to timber and property, and so far no [illegible] fire-fighters are on the scene, but unless there is a heavy fall of rain, it looks as if the fire would have to burn itself out. It is very definitely stated that the fire was started by a spark from an engine. If this should be established it demonstrates the need for stricter legislation regarding the use of spark arrestors. In this case men were at the scene of the fire immediately after it started, but they were quite unable to put it out or even to prevent it spreading. The thing to do obviously is to eliminate as far as is humanly possible all risks of a fire starting.

This week's issue of the B. C. PATRIOTIC SERIES AT OPERA HOUSE

Great credit is due the Opera House for the splendid programme they have arranged for the week-end. Last evening an enthusiastic audience followed with breathless interest the portrayal of some of those deathless deeds that have helped to make the British Empire what it is today. The first of the patriotic series was descriptive of the immortal charge of the Light Brigade, the pictures being shown side by side with Tennyson's well known verses. The film is a triumph of the cinemetographer's art, depicting as it does that wonderful example of soldierly obedience at which today as more than fifty years ago "all the world wonders," the great rush of the gallant men to their certain death, and the anguish of their commander, Lord Raglan, who had perforce to stand by and see them perish.

The next of the patriotic series of pictures depicted the horrors and tragedy of the Indian Mutiny, as seen in the ancient city of Lucknow, from the time when the news was brought that a mutiny had broke out at Meerut to that joyal day when the Scotch girl heard the sound of her native pipes and Havelock's victorious men marched into the city.

Series number three told the story of Trafalgar, and the death of Nelson. One of the best loved chapters in English history, it is possible that this film claimed an interest unsurpassed by either of the two preceding ones. Few great men have had the hold on the heart of the people attained by Horatio Nelson, to whose memory his countrymen all the world over do solemn homage every year. The scene of his death in the cockpit of the old Victory was very well depicted, saving only the introduction of a clergyman, not even attired in the clerical dress of the period, on whose presence on this occasion history and Nelson's biographers alike are silent.

One of the most pleasing features of the performance was the enthusiasm with which the different series of pictures were received, the picture of the flag at the end of each series being the signal for loud applause, showing that the number of loyal Britishers in Nanaimo is not so small as some outsiders may have imagined.

A number of the much-discussed "Talking Pictures" were shown, but it is a matter for regret that it was thought necessary to include them on the same programme. Some of these were very good notably "The Flowers that Bloom in the Spring" from the "Mikado" while some fell considerably beneath what had been expected of them.

It is unfortunate that this series of patriotic pictures is confined to the holiday week-end, as no better object lessons in British history could possibly have been given the school children of this city as a body, and it is certainly to be hoped that a large number of them will attend individually at any rate.

Messrs Jas. McNeill and Arthur McGregor yesterday sold their interests in the Globe Hotel Bar to Messrs H. Carroll and James Hodgson. The new management will pay every attention to the comfort of guests, and as both are exceptionally known in the city should receive a fair share of the public patronage.

CARD.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wilson, Victoria road, take this method of expressing their heartfelt thanks to all those who sent floral tributes in respect to the memory of their daughter Harriett, and also the kind friends who sympathized with them in their hour of bereavement.

At Victoria on Thursday the marriage was solemnized of Mr. Robert Wilgress and Miss Isabelle Duggan, both of Northfield. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Gertrude, and Mr. H. Gurlock supported the groom.

VERA CRUZ DEAD IS HONORED BY THE NATION.

The closing ceremonies of the public funeral at the Brooklyn Navy Yards for the enlisted men who fell in the taking of Vera Cruz was conducted under circumstaces most favorable to the effects of military obsequies and in harmony with the occasion. The stand from which President Wilson delivered his address was backed against the dingy walls of the marine barracks and facing the parade ground. Nearby were the great docks and workshops of the Navy Department. It was from this spot that the seventeen heroes departed a few weeks ago to meet what fate had in store for them. As the caissons bearing the caskets entered the gates President Wilson and his party stationed themselves on the stand which can be seen in this picture at the extreme right.

SECTS MAKE THREATS.

To the Christian sects of the Near East, and including those of Russia and the Balkan countries, the most sacred place in the whole world is the space of ground of buildings commonly known as the Church of the Holy Sepulchre. Ever since the Bishop Macarius, under the auspices of the Emperor Constantine, the Great and his mother, the Empress Helena, discovered about 320 A. D. what he believed to be the tomb of the Christ and the place of His crucifixion, pilgrims have been visiting the spot.

Thousands annually now journey to Jerusalem at Easter time, and of these a large proportion are from Russia and the Balkans. And just as the Turks have threatened to blow up the Church of St. Sophia in Constantinople, also built by Constantine, before they will allow the infidel to worship in it again, so James M. J. Archibald is quoted as saying that the Church of the Holy Sepulchre will be destroyed in reprisal if the holy war is ever begun in Islam.

Mr. Archibald, who has just been in Turkey, is credited with saying that he was told by a member of the Turkish Cabinet that St. Sophia would promptly be dynamited if the conflict became primarily one of religion.

Curiously enough, it is the Mohammedan soldier in Jerusalem who now preserves peace and prevents fierce fanatical outbreaks in the place of all places which it would seem should be full of peace. The church consists of a large number of buildings of a rambling architectural nature, and it possesses many chapels claimed by the different Christian sects as their own property. Orthodox Greeks, Roman Catholics, Armenians, Copts, Syriacs—all the many sects are certain that they possess the real sacred places, and are ready to fight for their belief. Even the interior of the reputed tomb itself—an imposing though tawdry structure built directly under the central rotunda — is divided into three compartments, for Greek, Roman Catholic, or Latin and Armenian, each claiming to be the actual spot where Christ's body lay.

The hatred of the Christian sects in the East for one another is quite as bitter as that of Christian for Moslem. So it happens that if the Church of the Holy Sepulchre is crowded, fights and outbreaks are frequent. In the past there has been much bloodshed, and so, to prevent serious consequences from the fights between Christians in the shadow of the tomb of the Prince of Peace, the Mohammedan has to stand guard.

Just inside the entrance of the church a Mohammedan sheik is always stationed, and he has with him a number of soldiers. Ordinarily his task is limited to collecting backshees from the traveler, but on feast days things become more strenuous and the guard is increased.

ONE DEAD TWO WOUNDED IN FIGHT

San Francisco, May 22.— With drawn revolvers two masked men entered a roadhouse on the southern outskirts of the city early today where eight men were playing "Klondike" a card game. A general shooting that followed cost the life of a player. One bandit was wounded and another of the players received a superficial wound in the neck.

The dead man is David Williams, and those wounded are Edward Donovan and Eugene Galatoire.

Bailey and Donovan, the highwaymen, rushed up to one of the players crying "We want you," and began firing. The man tumbled out of his chair quickly enough to escape the bullets.

Williams who was dealing the game tried to interfere and was shot through the head. The other players scrambled to cover.

William Mark, the proprietor of the house, who was behind the bar, picked up a pistol and began shooting. The bandits turned their weapons on him, and one of their shots struck Gallatoire in the neck. Having emptied their pistols the intruders fled, pursued by a rain of bullets from Marv's revolver.

As Donovan entered the car he cried: "I have been shot." He was taken to a hospital, where bullet wounds were found in his neck and chest. His condition is critical. The sheriff and a posse are seeking Bailey who escaped.

BLOODSTAINS CLINCH MURDER TO ACCUSED.

Montreal, May 22.—A coroner's jury today declared Joseph Dion criminally responsible for the death of Marie Dubois, the girl who was murdered in her mother's boot store on St. Vallere street on Sunday morning, May 10. The verdict brought to a conclusion the inquest which has been going on since the day after the murder.

The evidence that led to the verdict was that of Dr. Rome that the chemical test had proved the existence of over a hundred blood stains on the overcoat that the prisoner wore on the morning of the tragedy.

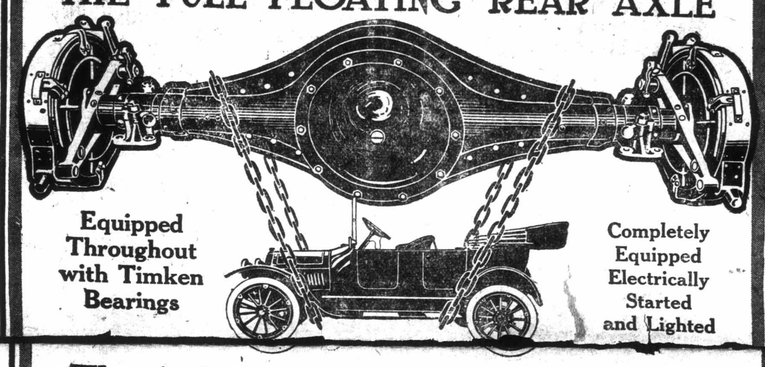
WHAT IS VANITY?

The woman of the world stirred uneasily in her cushioned seat, and carefully masked everything but the uncontrollable—her restless eyes. How awkwardly the talk was shaping. Define vanity! The word suggested cosmetics, and the secrets of the boudoir, and she posed as an adept at politics, and past mistress in the art of sport. "A nasty necessity, best kept under lock and key with rouge pot and emotions, and lied about conveniently," laughed one. "Mauvais ton," murmured another. "Decadent and artificial," sneered a third. The fourth stared.

A bachelor girl, modern and monocled, swooped down upon the frothy tea talk with the destructive swiftness of a hovering hawk. "How do I hate cant!" she cried feverishly. "As if the whole blessed social fabric weren't built upon vanity, and that if we hadn't got it, we'd go. . . . Vanity is the art of self-preservation."

"It's a game we're playing all our lives long," said the woman of the world, trying to shape an epigram, and only succeeding in arresting a platitude. The plain woman smiled behind her glasses. "Vanity is the hedgehog prickles with which a kind Providence arms us against fate," she said, quietly. "Vanity covers a hurt, hides age, makes us charitable. Without vanity, one would lose all one's sense of proportion and most of one's influence too. It is the great preservative." "I quite agree with you. For instance, vanity in dress shows a proper amount of self-respect; besides, it's due to other people," murmured the hostess. The one man present lifted up his piping treble as he hawked the muffins. "I must be the only altruistic person present, because I like a pretty woman to be vain for her own sake."

"For yours, you mean," snapped the monocled one, and there was an awful pause. "Vanity is the deference you men pay to our weakness, because you simply love to see us come fluttering to you for protection."



"What price vanity with the stupid fellah who turned the other cheek?" asked the man, meanly trying to change the conversation. No one answered.

"You can't define immensity, and, if you remember, the Psalmist wrote "All is vanity," said the complacent hostess, secretly hoping that for the one and only time in her life she had tumbled on a great truth.

And everybody sat bolt upright and blinked hard, and began to talk at once about the weather. You see their vanity would have been so terribly hurt if anybody for a moment suspected they hadn't understood.—London "Globe."

Studebaker FOUR $1375

THE FULL-FLOATING REAR AXLE

Equipped Throughout with Timken Bearings

Completely Equipped Electrically Started and Lighted

The Axle Carries The Car—The Shaft Only Turns the Wheels

The Studebaker FOUR is the only car in the world at $1375 with a full floating rear axle—equipped even to the hubs with Timken bearings.

This is of vital importance because ordinary axles push downward on the rotating journal; absolutely frictionless bearings cannot change that condition.

In our Full Floating Rear Axle the shaft turns freely in a steel housing, carrying the last ounce of power directly to the wheels.

Be clear upon this vital fact:
Upon the efficiency of your axle depends the efficiency of your motor.
It isn't so much a question of power creation as it is of power transmission.

That is why, by scientific engineering, we have straightened and cleared the way for the flow of power from motor to wheels.

That is why we have given the question of alignment—of perfect balance—and of lubrication the care their tremendous importance warrants.

That is why we carry our laboratory tests and our accuracy of measurements to a degree heretofore unknown in any but the best shop practice.

Our sole aim is to transmit—with maximum dependability—the maximum of power to and through the rear axle.

The Studebaker FOUR attains this result as it has never been attained in the past.

You appreciate this result to the full when you learn that it is the only "Four" at $1375 with full Timken equipment — even to the hubs.

When Summer Stops the Swing

Most of us can remember the school lesson in the law of accumulated motion—momentum.

If you exert a pound of pressure against a man in a swing, you'll start him moving slowly "to and fro." If you continue to exert a pound of pressure against him every time the swing makes a trip, you'll soon have him going so high that he almost turns the whole circle. If you stop pushing, the momentum will die out and the swing come to rest at "dead centre."

Winning trade follows the same natural laws.

Advertisements are the force behind the swing of public favor. Each new advertisement increases the momentum. Finally, the accumulated force of these numerous impulses swings indifference to the buying point.

If you stop Advertising, you lose momentum.

The moral of which is:

Don't stop the business swing in Summer.

Keep adding the pounds of Advertising pressure.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any recognized Canadian advertising agency, or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503 Lumsden Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.

FORESTRY FACTS.

In Southern Nigeria, on the west coast of Africa, the British Government the practice of forestry, and eight ment has done much to encourage hundred villages now have communal plantations of rubber trees. The natives supply the labor, the native chiefs supply the land and the Forestry Department supplies the seeds technical knowledge and tapping appliances The profits are divided equally among the three co-operating parties.

The largest lake on the east slope of the Rocky Mountains lies at the head-waters of the Maligne river, a tributary of the Athabaska. It is twenty-two miles long and from one to three miles wide, and is surrounded by lofty mountains which make it one of the most beautiful spots in the Rocky Mountain region. Yet this lake was practically unknown until a forest survey was made of this region last summer by the Dominior Forestry Branch. Unfortunately there are no fish in this lake, owing probably to the fact that the Maligne river flows underground for several miles after leaving the lake.

The revenue from the forests of British India administered by the Indian Forest Service last year amounted to over $14,000,000. The total cost of fire protection, tree-planting and administration generally, was $8,000,000, leaving a net annual revenue of $6,000,000, which the forests are able to produce continuously without depletion.

The "Great Divide" is sometimes a very small affair in the Rocky Mountains of Alberta and British Columbia. This summer a forest survey party sent out by the Dominion Forestry Branch, found that the headwaters of the Athabasca river in Alberta were separated only by a narrow strip of low-lying land from the waters of a lake in British Columbia which drains into the Columbia river. Were the outlet of this lake blocked and a narrow trench dug for a couple of hundred yards, its waters could be made to flow east instead of west. A somewhat similar case is seen where the head-waters of the Smoky and Fraser rivers, though flowing in opposite directions, have their common source at the base of a great glacier on Mount Robson, which guards the boundary between Alberta and British Columbia.

BIGGER THEY WERE HARDER THEY FELL.

Charlie Mitchell, the great English boxer of a quarter century ago, has been reported dead or dying several times, but a recent English paper says he is out and able to attend boxing shows. It must be a source of grief to Charlie to see British fistiana, which has produced so many stars, represented by such fighters as those of the present crop. It will be twenty years next Sunday since Mitchell was put out of the pugilistic running by Jim Corbet at Jacksonville, Fla.

Mitchell was a Birmingham man, and in his youth helped his father take care of a medical college in that English industrial city. Before he took to the biff game Charlie entertained medical ambitions, and when he first visited America it was said that he was a medical student. That was about thirty years ago, and Mitchell was then a middleweight, but that didn't prevent him from challenging the giant John L. Sullivan. Everybody expected John L. to put the Englishman away in the first round of the bout, which was held in Madison Square Garden, New York, but they were disappointed. Mitchell's cleverness enabled him to dodge the punches aimed at him by John L., and in the second round Charlie landed a biff that floored the big champion. In the third round the cops stopped the battle. They fought again in Chantilly, France, and the battle went thirty-nine rounds to a draw, although Sullivan was almost twice as big as his opponent.

Mitchell had a failing for the gay white way, and when he met Corbett in Florida twenty years ago dissipation had robbed him of much of his cleverness. Moreover, in Corbett he faced a bozer much bigger than himself, and quite as scientific. In the third round Mitchell was knocked out and that practically ended his ring career. If he had had a little more meat on his bones, and had taken care of himself, Mitchell might easily have recovered the title for England.

Mitchell was a gentlemanly chap, and numbered among his friends many of the leading men in England who were always ready to back him with their coin against all comers. He was game to the core, and although always very light for a heavy weight, he was ready to tackle any fighter, no matter how big.

Meat May Be Injurious and Is Expensive!

Some people may eat lots of meat without injury to their health, but it's hard on their pockets. Others should avoid meat almost entirely, yet they eat it daily—these pay in both health and purse.

Either class will benefit by eating less meat and more Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes.

It gives much more nourishment than its cost in meat, is infinitely more easy to digest—consequently better for you.

PATRIOTISM IN CITY SCHOOLS

Several Addresses on Patriotic Subjects Given to the Nanaimo School Children Friday by Local Speakers.

Yesterday was speech day in the public schools of the city, patriotic addresses being given by several local citizens which were much appreciated by the children who on the conclusion of each address sang "Canada," and "God Save the King."

Speaking at the Middle Ward School, Rev. S. J. Thompson explained the significance of Empire Day, outlining the process of empire building, beginning with the part played by the king and parliament, and finally coming down to the duties of children as Canadian citizens.

Lieut. Rowley took "The Navy" as his topic, having himself served under the Queen for eleven years in the fleet. He described his experiences, which were followed with intense interest by the children, who followed him closely in his travels in the Mediterranean and the China and Indian seas and the Baltic, and finally the Pacific.

Captain Napier, commanding the Guides, was introduced by the chairman as a member of a distinguished family, famous in mathematical research, and also in the military service in the Crimea and Abyssinia. He went thoroughly into the subject of imperialism, tracing its growth in Roman times, showing clearly that lasting empire depended finally on the arts and sciences. While paying a warm tribute to the virtue of patriotism he concluded that after all, war is only a preliminary to the making of a nation, and that the arts of peace contribute to the growth.

Capt. Fleming of the 72nd Highlanders, who has seen service in many countries, including Africa and India, and travelled all over the world, gave a fine address on true patriotism, its meaning and what it involves. He gave illustrations from facts that had come under his own observation in the course of the Boer war.

Capt. Leckie, also of the 72nd, a member of an old Nova Scotia family, spoke largely of the Boer war through which he served, describing the methods by which the Boers were finally defeated. He also enlarged on the value of discipline and of strict adherence to duty and right principle.

The Rev. Canon White gave a short address to the small children, dealing mainly with the life of Queen Victoria.

The Rev. Dr. McLennan, who spoke eloquently on the value of patriotism and fidelity to ideas of duty, illustrating his remarks from the lives of great men, such as George Stevenson, the engineer, and Mirabeau, the French statesman and soldier.

PARISIAN SAGE

THE SCALP CLEANSER SOLD IN CANADA ON MONEY-BACK PLAN

Tried them all and failed, thousands of people will say.

Try the real Parisian Sage and succeed as thousands have done.

In Paris Dr. Sangerbond discovered the dandruff microbe and the way to kill it.

In Paris women have most abundant, beautiful, lustrous and fascinating hair.

They know about hair and its diseases in Paris, far more than we do. They have institutions where the study of the hair is made a specialty.

Parisian Sage is the only certain destroyer of the dandruff microbe, which is the cause of 97 per cent. of hair troubles.

Parisian Sage is such an extraordinary and quick acting rejuvenator that guarantees it to cure dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back. It makes women's hair lustrous and luxuriant and drives away foul odors in summer.

You can obtain a large 50-cent bottle of Parisian Sage at leading druggists all over Canada. "The Girl with the Auburn Hair" is on every package.

Information Wanted

Re Frederick Adolphus Fynney or Fred Fielding, late of Vancouver and Nanaimo, B. C.

Messrs. Davis, Marshall, MacNeill & Pugh, Barristers and Solicitors, Vancouver, B. C., are desirous of receiving communication from or information regarding the above.

LOCALS WILL PLAY VANCOUVER ON SUNDAY.

tribute. But the boys are putting up a good game and no fair sportsman would refuse a little assistance to defray expenses.

The locals will line up as follows:

Catcher—P. Piper.
Pitcher—H. Martin.
1st. Base—Earl Martin.
2nd. Base—T. Thompson.
3rd. Base—F. Killeen.
Short Stop—H. Boyce.
Left Field—G. Weeks.
Centre Field—W. Beattie.
Right Field—W. Shepherd.
Spare—J. Boyd.

BOYDE—Has played a steller game with the Ramblers, who obtained this utility man from Union Bay.

THOMPSON—This native son has proved himself a handy man both in the infield and outfield and is also one of the best pinch hitters in the City League.

G. WEEKS—A newcomer into fast company. He gets under fly balls and has a wing that will surprise fast company on getting the ball to 3rd or the plate.

W. BEATTIE—This youth is fast on his feet, a great fly grabber, and is great with the bat with men on bases.

(SALTY) SHEPHERD—A good man in the field and also one whose eye is as good on placing the willow against the Reach as it is at keeping a football out of the goal. Nuff sed.

H. MARTIN—Formerly pitcher for the Ornico Blues, winning 26 games and loosing 3. This player has ambition towards big league work and has as much speed as Walter Johnson had when he was first discovered by Blankenship.

EARL MARTIN—Formerly of the Oklaoma league and a player who has a fielding and batting average of such dimensions that Delmas of Victoria has his eye on him.

BOB. LITTLE—An old timer who has always grabbed the fast ones and often has broken up a close game by his hard hitting.

PUG KILLEEN—This player who has had a work out with the Vancouver Beavers is now utilising his good right arm at 3rd. He looks like another Cheatwood, and often gets the bleachers by his stick work.

PHIL. PIPER—A willing worker, who is full of "pep" and always does his best. A capable catcher, good base runner and some coacher and is always in the game.

H. BOYCE—This player has proved himself in many positions, has a good wing, is a good base runner and is fast coming up in the batting average.

HARRY SHEPHERD—Sidney, who always picks good ones, grabbed "Shep" last year and his good judgment brought the Victoria City championship to the St. Francis team. This year the old south paw is in good shape and hopes to repeat.

VOLUME XIV NANAIMO, VANCOUVER ISLAND, BRITISH COLUMBIA, SUNDAY MORNING, MAY 24, 1914 NUMBER 68

ALL READY FOR VICTORIA DAY

Citizens of Nanaimo Make Elaborate Preparations For Big Celebration Which Will be Held Monday—Big Time Expected.

Everything is in readiness for Nanaimo's celebration of Victoria Day, which, weather permitting, will be held on Monday. All signs point to the celebration being the biggest in the history of Nanaimo. The subscriptions have eclipsed all records and over $2000 will be distributed in prizes during the day.

The day's events will open Monday morning at 9 o'clock when the Boys Brigade Band will parade on Commercial street. Children's sports will be held on the Green commencing at 10 o'clock, when $100 will be giventhe kiddies in cash prizes.

The first part of the regatta will be held in the morning, the centre of the aquatic events being on the water of the harbor, opposite the Nanaimo Club.

After noon hour the centre of attraction will be transferred to the Cricket Grounds, the events opening with a baseball game between Nanaimo and Vancouver. Following the ball game Mrs. Martindale will conduct the may pole dance, children's drill exercises, etc., these events being the feature of the celebration. These exercises will occupy at least an hour, and as elaborate preparations have been made by Mrs. Martindale and teachers of public schools, the children's part of the day's entertainment will be of considerable interest to the parents and in fact almost all adults in attendance. Following the children's exercises will come the foot races, including short sprints, quarter and half mile and five mile event and at the conclusion of the events on the Cricket Grounds, the scenes will again shift to the water front where the second part of the regatta will be staged, the celebration being brought to a close with a big display of fireworks.

There will be two bands in attendance during the day, viz., The Nanaimo Boys Brigade and the Sixth Regiment Band of Vancouver.

NANAIMO C. C. HAD EASY WIN

The Nanaimo Cricket Club and an eleven from the Garrison played another game on the Caledonian Grounds yesterday afternoon. The Garrison were unable to field the same side as defeated Cowichan on Thursday, and the local eleven scored an easy win by almost 100 runs with 9 wickets in hand. The full scores are as follows:

Miss Lewis of the Vancouver Y. W. C. A. has been engaged by Mrs. Martindale to judge the May pole dancing on Victoria Day. Competent judges have also been secured for the various children's drills.

Past Dictators Ald. McKinnell and Al. Davis of the local order of Moose and Dictator Fraser leave this morning for Victoria where they will meet the Supreme Dictator of the order, Mr. Dorn, in consultation over matters of interest to the Nanaimo members of the order. They expect to return to the city tonight.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA CONCERT TONIGHT

The Nanaimo Symphony Orchestra for its concert, tonight in the Princess Theatre will have the assistance of several members of the Sixth Regiment Band. It is very rarely that a first class Bansoon player is heard in small cities and this instrument will be included in the orchestra tonight. The players are playing out of compliment to Mr. Mark Morgan, a member of the band and brother of Miss Grace Morgan, the accompanist of the Symphony Orchestra.

As nearly as possible all music will be Empire in character, in view of the holiday. Miss Eileen Maguire, the popular Vancouver soloist, will be in attendance and will sing Elgar's "Land of Hope and Glory" and "There is a Land." The other soloist will be Mr. A. G. McInnes, the local baritone.

The program is as follows:

TEMPERANCE MEN PLAY FOOTBALL

The inter-lodge soccer game yesterday afternoon on the Cricket grounds between the officers and the members of Onward Lodge No. 2 I. O. G. T. resulted in a win for the members by by a score of 3 goals to 1.

The first half was played with the officers playing with the wind. Early in the game Pender scored for the officers and during the whole of the first part of the game the officers played the better game. The score at half time was 1 to nil in favor of the officers. During the interval the wind increased and with this advantage the members side did not have much difficulty in equalling. Two more goals followed in quick succession and with this lead and a strong wind against them the officers failed to make a showing. The whole of the second part was decidedly one sided the members playing by far the better game. The game on the whole was interesting and Mr. H. C. Fox refereed to the satisfaction of both sides. The officers were not satisfied with yesterday's game and have already issued a challenge for another game in three weeks' time.

Mrs. Margaret Jobbitt of Vancouver is the guest over the holiday of Mrs. C. A. Sutherland, Albert St.

Mrs. Jno. Shaw returned home last evening from visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jarvis Newberry, Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis Newberry and son are visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Shaw.

Mr. and Mrs. George Jones, Vancouver, are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Jones, Milton street.

Mr. and Mrs. Addie McKenzie of Vancouver are visiting relatives in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. William Barnes of Vancouver are visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Barnes, Milton street.

Inspector of Fisheries, E. G. Taylor returned last evening from the mainland.

Mr. John Williamson returned yesterday from a business trip to the mainland.

Mr. William Topp is over from the Terminal City on a visit to old time friends.

PRETTY WEDDING AT ST. PAULS

Mr. John Hacker and Miss Phoebe Winston United in Marriage — Reception at Home of Mr. And Mrs. John Holland.

St. Paul's church was the scene yesterday afternoon of a pretty marriage ceremony, the contracting parties being Mr. John Hacker and Miss Phoebe (Nurse) Winston, both residents of this district the past three years.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Canon White in the presence of a number of relatives and friends of the contracting parties, Mr. Pawlett, the church organist, rendered appropriate wedding music as the bridal party entered and left the church.

The bride, charmingly attired in cream voile, was given away by Mr. William Hacker, brother of the groom, and was attended by Miss Florence Holland and Miss Madeline Harris, as bridesmaids, while Phoebe Hackwood successfully carried out the duties of flower girl.

The groom was supported by Mr. William Hewlett of Alberni. The groom presented the bridesmaids with handsome brooches and the flower girl with a locket and chain.

At the close of the marriage ceremony a reception was held in honor of the event at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Holland, Albert street, some forty persons partaking of a most excellent repast for the preparation and serving of which all credit was due Mrs. Holland, the Misses. Holland and Miss Evelyn Dean. Among those present from outside points were Mrs. Harris of Alberni, sister of the bride, and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Hewlett of Alberni; Miss Nelson and Mr. Charles Green, of Alberni; and Mrs. Furness, sister of Mrs. Holland, and son George of New Westminster.

Mr. and Mrs. Hacker were the recipients of many beautiful and costly wedding presents, having many friends with whom The Herald joins in wishing them many happy years of married life. They will take up their residence on the Five Acres, where Mr. Hacker has built a handsome home for his bride.

In the first game of the series for the Mann lacrosse cup, the Vancouver Athletic Club lacrosse team yesterday defeated the Calgary challengers to the tune of 12 to 0.

LOCAL DELEGATES TO GRAND LODGE

Nanaimo Representatives to Leave on Monday to Attend Session of Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias at Kamloops.

Messrs. W. H. Jones, A. E. Bradshaw and Charles Wilson, representatives of Nanaimo Lodge, No. 4, Knights of Pythias, leave Monday to attend the twenty-fifth annual convention of the grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias of British Columbia in Kamloops, commencing on Wednesday, May 27. It will be more numerously attended than any previous convention, and it promises to be more than usually interesting by reason of the proposed legislation to be submitted to it.

Reports prepared by the various officers reveal that the past year has been one of marked progress in the order, there having been a gain of two lodges and 470 members since the last report. The total membership for the province stands at 4573, embraced in forty-two lodges. Financially as well the order is in better shape now than ever before.

There will be a large budget of legislation to be considered by the members at the convention, among the items being: Biennial sessions of the grand lodge; limitation of votes to representatives only; majority of all committees to be composed of representatives; admission of knights to meetings of grand lodge as spectators central lodge for members of defunct lodges; honorary membership for members of twenty-five years' standing, etc. Some of these propositions are radical departures from Pythian usage, and will call for animated discussion.

A resolution is also to be submitted to the grand lodge asking support for the official recognition by the supreme lodge of the Dramatic Order Knights of Khorassan, popularly known as the "Shriner" degree of the Pythian Order. The supreme lodge will convene in Winnipeg in August, and a determined effort will be made to have the Dokays recognized by them.

A statement of the supreme membership will be submitted showing that for 1913 the total net gain of the order was 9384, the figures standing at 725,039 in 7647 lodges. Congratulations will be forthcoming from the fact that the first lodge of the Pythian Order to be instituted in Australia received a charter on March 16 last.

A keen contest is expected for the various offices, especially for that of grand chancellor, there being at least three candidates in sight for the position. E. S. H. Winn of Rossland has held the chair for two terms, and there is considerable speculation as to who will be his successor. A majority of the offices will be contested, with the probability of several new faces appearing in the ranks. Many will attend the grand lodge from coast cities.

PRESENTATION TO WILLIAM REID

Remembered by Employer and Employees on Occasion of Retirement After Fifty Years Active Service.

A very pleasant function was held last night in the Windsor Hotel when a valedictory banquet was given to William Reid. Mr. Reid is quitting work after half a century's continuous service in the mechanical department of the local mines. It is a record which is surely unique in coast industries, and it was only fitting that its maker should have been honored as he was last night.

Fifty years is a long stretch in a man's life, and it is rare indeed that it is spent in one place and in one service. Mr. Reid has seen the mine property change hands, and seen boys coming and men leaving. Through it all he has always held the respect of his fellow workmen and the confidence of his bosses and employers. Now that he is leaving after his long service, all alike, employers, bosses and men, were keen to do him honor. It was a large party that gathered at the Windsor Hotel last night, and all in it were there to honor the local veteran and cheer him in his retirement. With Mr. A. S. Hamilton in the chair the proceedings were lively enough, and the guest of honor was obviously touched by the warm expressions of good fellowship tendered him.

And he received a very agreeable surprise. The presentation from his fellow-workmen was a pleasing recognition of his merits, but not quite unexpected. But the company through the general manager, Mr. T. R. Stockett, made an announcement which was as agreeable to Mr. Reid as it was unexpected. Mr. Stockett announced that the company had decided to superanuate Mr. Reid. His service as an employee of the Western Fuel Company, was, of course, only a small part of his record, but still the board of directors had concluded that he should be maintained on the payroll even in his retirement This means that in his retirement Mr. Reid will receive from the company enough to live on in ease and comfort, and spend his declining years secured against all possible want and worry.

The announcement of Mr. Stockett as to his company's intention, was entirely unexpected by Mr. Reid and the majority of the company present who cheered it to the echo. Such kindly, generous action will not be without its effects in the relations of the company and its employees, and for the present it eases and brightens the last years of a loyal and faithful workman.

The proceedings began with the banquet which was spread and served in the best style of mine host Fox's hostelry. As soon as the tables had been cleared Chairman Hamilton introduced the chief business of the evening, by calling on Mr. Oliver Randle to read the address to Mr. Reid. The address which bore the signature of all the top hands employed by the company was as follows:

Nanaimo, B. C., May 22nd, 1914

Dear Mr. Reid,—It is with mingled feelings of pleasure and regret that we, here assembled, meet tonight to celebrate with you the 54th anniversary of your first arrival in Nanaimo; pleasure that the event finds you in possession of good health, the richest of all blessings; and regret, that this occasion also marks the period when you have chosen to retire from active employment, thus losing to us a genial friend and esteemed shopmate whom we have learned to love, admire and respect.

Your long, honourable career of 50 years service with the Western Fuel Company and their predecessors is a monument in itself to your ability as a workmen and your worth as a citizen. We, your shopmates, will long remember your pleasant countenance and genial manner, your courtesy, your sympathetic counsel in times of individual trouble, and the strong ties of friendship which you influenced by your manner and conduct. Some of us have been with you since boyhood, received our "first kinks of the trade" from you, profited by your wise counsel in later years, and owe much to you for the excellent precepts and example you have set before us.

Our regrets at losing your daily companionship is, however, greatly compensated by the knowledge that your honorable record of fidelity and worth is to be acknowledged in a tangible form and that now, as you throw your last lever, close the throttle and step down from the running board, leaving behind your proud and enviable record, you will be enabled to "coast down the hill" and enjoy in the quiet of your simple home life your well won rest.

You have met and buffetted more of life's storms than it is the fate of the average man to meet, b through it all you have "played the game" and been first, last and all the time "A Man."

That you may long live to enjoy your new sphere of life is the sincere prayer of all your many friends, on behalf of whom we hereby sign our names.

Mr. Randle also on behalf of his fellow employees presented to Mr. Reid a well-filled purse of gold, the gathering cheering the presentation to the echo.

Before Mr. Reid rose to reply, the chairman called on Mr. Stockett to make a few remarks. Mr. Stockett said he had not come there to make a set speech. He wanted to be present to pay his respect to Mr. Reid and because he thought such a long record of service as that of Mr. Reid should be recognized. A record of fifty years is one very seldom met with anywhere. It was a wonderful record and ought to be a great inspiration to those of them who remained at the helm. He had not known Mr. Reid as long as many of them present, but he had known him long enough to learn to respect him. Their late president, Mr. J. L. Howard, when in Nanaimo, had always made it a point to stop and speak to Mr.

ARNOLD ORCHESTRA IN OPEN AIR CONCERT

The Arnold Orchestra is offering a splendid programme for its open air concert this evening. The performance has been arranged by the orchestra as part of the Victoria Day celebration. It will be given free of all charge and under conditions which will enable all who care to hear it. The orchestra will play from a scow moored on the water front, and the green slope will make an admirable amphitheatre for the public. If the weather should by any chance prove inclement the performance will be given in the Bijou Theatre with free admission to all. In either case there should be a big audience to hear the concert. In addition to a strong orchestral programme Miss Louise Hassell, the young Vancouver contralto, pupil of Mr. J. D. A. Tripp, will sing "Land of Hope and Glory" with full accompaniment. Miss Hassell proved a great favorite with Nanaimo audiences, and should be a great attraction this evening. The concert will begin at 8:45 and the program is as follows:

Overture—"Poet and Peasant
Supe Reverie—"Roses Honeymoon" (J. W. Bratton)
Trombone Solo—"The Bandelero" (Leslie Stuart)
Mr. Charles Raine
Selection—"Ill Trovatore" (Verdi)
"Pomp and Circumstance" (Elgar)
introducing "Land of Hope and Glory," sung by Miss Louise Hassell.
Overture—"Pegusas" (Rollinson.)
Fantasia—"Uncle Tom's Cabin (Lampe.)
Medley of Irish Airs—"Echoes of Killarney" (Roecker)
"God Save the King"

CHILDREN FREE TO CELEBRATION

Children of school age, viz., 14 years and under, whether attending school or not, will be admitted to the Cricket Grounds Monday free of charge. The Victoria Day celebration is primarily a children's day and the committee in charge of this year's celebration are anxious that the kiddies enjoy themselves to their hearts content. The little ones will therefore be admitted to the grounds free tomorrow and in addition all children taking part in the parade and drills will be treated to candies, etc.

Last night the Patricia experienced one of the worst trips of the present summer season. In fact it is not often at this time of the year the Gulf is so rough. There was a great crowd of passengers and many were ashamed to admit they felt none too comfortable.

FAMOUS BAND REACHES CITY

Sixth Regiment Band of Vancouver is Here to Take Part in Big Celebration of Victoria Day

"I am glad to see you boys, Welcome to the city" shouted an enthusiastic citizen last night as the Sixth Regiment Band of Vancouver marched up the wharf from the steamer Patricia. Others took up the refrain, and applause ran all along the long line of citizens gathered at the head of the wharf as the crack bandof B. C. broke into a lively tune. The band paraded down Commercial street on their way to Connaught Barracks where they will stay during their visit in the city. They were cheered and applauded at many points down the street and altogether were given a very enthusiastic welcome. That the committee made no mistake in engaging such a first class organization after being turned down by certain members of the Silver Cornet Band could be appreciated by the calibre of the music the band played. Twenty-seven pieces came over last night and the balance will arrive on the boat to-day. This afternoon the band will give a concert at 3:30 in the City Park, Comox Road, and tomorrow they will be at the services of the celebration committee.

J. E. Gillespie, Vancouver, is spending the week end with his sister, Mrs. J. K. Russel.

Mrs. Drysdale will sing "Heavenly Home" at St. Andrew's church tonight. The anthem will be "Peace I Leave With You."

The bush fires which have been raging on the mainland the past few days are now under control.

Three prisoners were shot by guards while attempting to break away from the Idaho penitentiary yesterday. One of the convicts it is believed was fatally wounded.

MARINE DISASTER ON THE ATLANTIC

Halifax, May 23.—The loss of the new lightship Halifax No. 19, with all of the twenty-five men on board is indicated by the discovery of wreckage and three bodies near Liscomb, 100 miles east of here, today. The lightship was on her way to this port from Paisley, Scotland, where she was built.

The lightship, which was due here yesterday, is believed to have struck a rock while feeling her way thraugh the thick fog that has enshrouded the coast for several days.

The wreckage was sighted and the bodies picked up by the steamer Dufferin, which reported that lifebelts marked "Halifax No. 19" were strapped about each of the victims.

On receipt of the news of the wreckage, the government marine agency here made preparations to send out steamers in search of other bodies. The lightship sailed a few days ago from St. John's, Nfd., where she had stopped for coal.

The government steamer Stanley has been ordered to get in touch with the Dufferin and take charge of the bodies, and to cruise around the vicinity of the wreck in search of survivors, though little hope was held out here that any of the crew of the lightship escaped.

The presumption among members of the marine department here is that the lightship struck the Cook ledges during a fog and was pounded to pieces. It is thought that if any of the crew escaped they managed to reach Liscomb island. Plans have been made to search the island.

A man named Johnson was brought in to the local hospital last night from Qualicum suffering from injuries sustained by falling off a bridge on the E. & N. extension.

MORE AVIATION DEATHS.

Osnabrueck, Germany, May 23.—Two more German army aviators, Lieut. Otto Beeder and Lieut. Siegfried Reinhardt, met their deaths today in the Prince Henry flying competition, bringing the total since the start of the contest on Sunday last up to seven.

A KINDLY ACT.

Such functions as that which took place in the Windsor Hotel last night are all too rare in the history of industry. A man spends his life in labor, and things are not yet so ordered in this world that he can always provide for the days when he can no longer work. Either he is dependent upon his family, or he finds an asylum in some provident or charitable institution. It may be that he has spent all the working days of his life in the service of one single company, but that record does not secure him any special recognition or consideration from his employers. With the present organization of industry the employers may never have known that there was such a man. More and more it is being realized that the State is under some obligation to make some provision for the old age of such veterans of the labor field. The men themselves in some centres of the world have their own provident associations for the same purpose, and with state assistance to further the work of these voluntary societies, the aged worker is more assured of ending his days in the comfort he has earned. At the same time there are exceptions, one of them was exemplified at the Windsor banquet last night. After half a century's continuous service around the local mines Mr. William Reid is retiring. His fellow workmen seized the occasion to make him a presentation, and the Western Fuel Company has granted him a superanuation. It is not a very big matter, we admit, but we can well imagine what it means to Mr. Reid. There are other considerations, and they deserve to be stated. It is a pose of the local Socialist party to denounce all companies as soulless, criminal institutions. The possession of money is the worst crime in their system of philosophy, and those having it are branded as robbers and murderers. The same pose was affected by the leaders of the United Mine Workers of America, and was used by them to promote the strike, to justify it, and continue it. Frank Farrington time and again referred to the fiendish rapacity of the Western Fuel Company, and declared that he had been called to the defence of the men against the oppression of organized greed. He charged the company with sacrificing the lives of its employees, and grinding them into the dust to satisfy its lust for dividends. Its shareholders and officials were monsters of cruelty, devoid of every human attribute. Surely no one needs to hold a corporation brief to dismiss these charges as ranting rot. But such statements cannot be bandied about in times of trouble and dispute without awakening bitter prejudice and unreasoning passion. This is probably why they were used. The truth is that the average capitalist only differs from the average man in the money he possesses. He is a man with a man's weaknesses and a man's strength. If capitalism were abolished, there would still be directors and captains of industry. The interests of the first rank of workers would not be the interests of the men higher up. There would still be the same clash and conflict of will and demand, and the necessity for an equitable adjustment of differences. We do not believe for a moment that in some of the best organized industries the conditions of the worker would be a bit better under state ownership. Experience rather teaches that they would be worse. Beyond all doubt there would be the same differences and disputes, and if the men will only pause to consider they would perceive the absolute folly of this Socialistic pose. At the best it is a distorted exaggeration and for the most part it expresses a gross libel. More than this it breeds ill-feeling and misunderstanding, and rears up barriers of prejudice and passion against the adjustment of differences in reason and equity. We have seen and experienced all these things in Nanaimo. There is no need to labor the point. Carried to the last analysis it means that there was no need for trouble here, and the company was not the fiendish, inhuman instrument it was alleged to be. The pleasant and the generous action on the part of the company comes as a refreshing change to the bitterness and dispute of the last twelve months. It should also be borne in mind that the company was not under any obligations in the matter. Its possession of the mines here covers only the last quarter of Mr. Reid's long service. Still it paid tribute to his record, and granted him a comfortable competency for the rest of his life. All in all it is a gracious, kindly action which will be generally appreciated. Mr. Reid is to be congratulated on receiving such a gift, and the company commended for making it.

Different countries, different customs. Police Lieutenant Becker was found guilty of the murder of Herman Rosenthal in October. 1912. An appeal was taken and Becker was granted another trial. He has a second time been tried and found guilty. Now another appeal is to be made, which, it is expected, will act as a stay of execution for another year, and also give an opportunity for a reversal of the sentence.

The Vancouver Sunset gives a very frank explanation of the Liberal opposition to the Canadian Northern agreement. The Liberals knew it was bound to pass anyway, and simply indulged their talent for criticism. Had they been in office they would have passed the agreement themselves. This is the gist of the Sunset's article, and it is probably correct.

PRESENTATION TO WILLIAM REID.

Reid, feeling that he was one of the old board, and he was sure that if Mr Howard has still been with them he would have sent some words of appreciation of Mr. Reid's services and good wishes for his future life. He would like to feel that as the years go by many of them present would leave the same good record.

They had passed through rather a dark period, but the clouds were lifting and the old Nanaimo spirit was making its appearance again (Applause.) The success of the company, the success of its enterprises, was built upon the loyalty and fidelity of the employees, and the longer the employees remained with a company the better service they rendered. He hoped that many of them would stay with the old concern and when the time came for them to go he trusted they would have as good a record as their old friend. Mr. Reid (Applause.)

When Mr. Hamilton had first told him of Mr Reid's intention to retire he felt the greatest regret, although he also realized it was a wise step from Mr. Reid's point of view. He thought also that it was only right not only nice, but only right, that Mr. Reid's long years of service should be recognized by something more tangible than a simple expression of appreciation. He was happy to say that the company shared his views of the appreciation to be shown of Mr. Reid's services and standing in the community, and for as long as he lived Mr. Reid would be carried on the payroll of the company as an employee for a monthly sum equal to two thirds of his average earnings while at work, or for a sum of $60 a month. (Prolonged Applause). He also wished to convey to Mr. Reid the company's hope that he will live long to enjoy the good feeling existing between the company and him. (Applause).

Mr. Reid, who showed his emotion in rising to speak, said that as they all knew he was no speaker. Besides he never expected to see such a large audience. He was only an old workman, who had worked right through, and he never expected anything like this. He would say, however, that the Western Fuel Company had always treated him right as it had every man he knew.

He didn't know what else he could say and was asked to describe his voyage from San Francisco to Nanaimo 54 years ago. He said that the only way to get to Nanaimo from Victoria was by a schooner and often it meant a week's wait. They came up on a small boat called the Langley, the captain being Jack Langley. The crew consisted of one Indian, whose only raiment was a blanket. They were held up at the narrows by an adverse tide and as it was cold the Indian added a shawl to his blanket. Captain Jack saw him, however, and ordered him to take it off. "What do you mean, he asked? Do you want to put on airs because there are ladies aboard."

Mr. Reid gave some interesting reminiscences of the early days of Nanaimo. The wharf, he said, was a big rock. Front street was mostly bare rock, and the rest of the present town was all forest. Coal was shipped in sacks taken out to schooners in canoes, and the freight to Victoria was $5.00 a ton. The coal was mined from a small mine on the waterfront, and another mine where Johnston's store stands today.

Mr. Reid concluded by thanking all those present for their kindness and expressions of regard, and especially the Western Fuel Company for their generous treatment which he had never expected. He had often joked with Mr. Hamilton as to when he was going to get that pension. He had never looked for it and now he could only thank the company for their kind and liberal treatment. (Applause).

Following the speech-making there was a fine musical programme and the proceedings were kept going until an early hour in the morning.

Royal Standard Date Cookies

No. 11---Cut Out and Paste in Your Recipe Book.

2 cups ROYAL STANDARD, 2 cups ROYAL STANDARD rolled oats; 1 cup brown sugar; 1-2 card lard, 3-4 cups sour milk, 1 teaspoonful salt, 1-2 cup butter, 1 teaspoonful baking soda, 1 package dates. Melt the shortening. Add brown sugar, rolled oats, flour and salt. Put teaspoonful soda into the sour milk and mix all together. Stone one package of dates, add a little water and then put on stove for about 15 minutes, add about half cup sugar. Roll dough thin and cut into rounds with a glass. Bake for about 15 minutes. Place date in center. BETTY BROWN.

THE proof of the pudding is in Flour just as much as in the eating.

You can prove this to your entire satisfaction by making these popular Date Cookies with just "flour" and then with "ROYAL STANDARD."

Every day housewives are learning that old recipes can be made to taste like new ones by just substituting ROYAL STANDARD in place of ordinary flour.

We say "money back if not absolutely satisfactory," in order that you may try ROYAL STANDARD without one cent of risk.

Your grocer knows.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining right of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-west Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Applications for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-agent in the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise.

royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or sub-agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

$1,000 GEM IS SENT IN WASH

Tacoma, May 23.—A diamond brooch, valued at $1,000 and left pinned to a wardrobe by Mrs. Clause S. Jenson of Seattle, when she sent it to be cleaned February 21, was recovered here by the police today as Paul Payne and his wife, Elizabeth, were trying to pawn the brooch for $300.

Payne was head washer at the Berlin Dye Works, Seattle. He says he got the brooch from some clothes there and was afraid to tell of it. Jensen is the manager of Alhambra Theatre, Seattle.

Bijou Theatre

Manager Riley of the Bijou Theatre has secured a big attraction for Tuesday next in six reels of pictures entitled "Cleopatra" a story of the most remarkable woman and queen in all history. The pictures will be shown at Tuesday's matinee and evening entertainment at the usual Bijou prices.

The following criricisms of the attraction show its worth:

"The scenic effects are beautiful, the costumes gorgeous, and the acting as a whole is excellent, all blending together into what is probably the most stupendous and beautiful picture ever produced."—Warren Hastings Abbott, in the New York "Dramatic Mirror," November 20th.

"Miss Gardner's impersonation of Cleopatra is full of varied moods, as the character of Cleopatra must have been; at one time the incarnation of tigerish ferocity, at another imbued with the seductive languor and delightful enervation of tropic temperament."—Louis Reeves Harrison, in The Moving Picture World, November 30th.

"She is artist enough to conceal her art and merge mimicry with realism so delicately that she seems unconscious of the fact that she is cting or has any other individuality than that of Cleopatra herself."—The Cleveland Leader, December 15.

In the Ipswich byelection yesterday Ganzoni (Unionist) defeated Masterman (Liberal) the vote being 6406 to 5784. The Socialist candidate polled only 395 votes.

MRS. ANNIE A. CORBETT

AVON, ONT., May 14th. 1913

"I have used "Fruit-a-tives" for Indigestion and Constipation with most excellent results, and they continue to be my only medicine. I am highly pleased with "Fruit-a-tives" and am not ashamed to have the facts published to the world. When I first started, about six years ago, to use them, I took four for a dose, but I cured myself of the above troubles and gradually reduced the dose to one tablet at night.

Before taking "Fruit-a-tives" I took salts and other pills but the treatment was too harsh. I thought I might as well suffer from the disease as from these treatments.

Finally, I saw "Fruit-a-tives" advertised with a letter in which someone recommended them very highly, so I tried them. The results were more than satisfactory and I have no hesitation in recommending them to any other person. They have done me a world of good. I get satisfaction from them, and that is quite a lot". NEW BRIDGE FOR MILLSTREAM

City Engineer Owen Instructed to Prepare the Plans and Specifications For $16,000 Structure in City.

The City Council met in regular session last evening, present Ald. Busby, Cavalsky, Forrester, Wilson, McKenzie, McKinnell, Ferguson and Young; His Worship, Mayor Planta presiding.

A communication was received from the secretary of the B. C. Protestant Orphans Home in reference to the maintenance of children sent to the Home from Nanaimo, was referred to the Finance Committee for investigation and report.

Property owners on the Lambert sub division requested they be supplied with water from the city main. Ald. Busby moved, seconded by Ald. Cavalsky the petition be referred to the Water Committee for investigation and report.

Ald. Young remarked that he saw no use in referring the petition to the Water Committee for it was understood the city was not to extend its water system outside the city.

Ald. Busby stated his reason for referring the matter to the Water Committee was that he understood the property owners were willing to pay their share of the cost.

The motion was adopted.

City engineer, Owen, reported an expenditure in wages during the week of $629.80 on streets and $198. on water works. He also reported that up to date $602.25 had been expended on the regrading of Nicol street,

City clerk, Gough, informed the Council the petition of W. McGirr and others for a ten foot alleyway was sufficient to allow the work to proceed.

Ald. Forrester moved, seconded by Ald. McKinnell the proper proceedings be taken to carry out the wishes of the property owners. The motion carried.

City clerk, Gough, reported the petition of property owners on Prideaux street north for grading of street and construction of cement sidewalk was not sufficient. The report was adopted.

On motion of Ald. Young, June 8 was set aside as the day on which to take the vote of the ratepayers on the $30,000 Waterworks Loan Bylaw, with Mr. S. Gough as returning officer.

Further consideration of the Sewerage Loan By.law was deferred to the second next regular meeting on motion of Ald. McKinnell.

Ald. McKenzie informed the Council it would be necessary to expend $400. or $500. on repairs to the Millstream bridge or construct a new structure. The engineer has estimated the cost of a cement culvert and bridge could be erected for $16,000.

Ald. Forrester thought steps should be taken as soon as possible in the way of canstructing a new bridge and moved the city engineer and Street Committee be instructed to prepare plans at once for a new bridge.

Ald. Young seconded the motion and in doing so urged that temporary repairs be made at once.

The motion carried and the Committee was empowered to make temporary repairs to the present structure.

Council then adjourned.

SUFFRAGETTES GO TO JAIL

Women Who Smashed Pictures in National Gallery Sentenced to Six Months Imprisonment-Four Months For Window Smashers.

London, May 26.—Suffragettes who slashed pictures in the national gallery and royal academy, with several window smashers, were convicted and sentenced today. Six months imprisonment was ordered for each of the picture destroyers, while the window smashers in all cases were sentenced to terms of four months.

Several women refused to give their names and were identified by numbers. One frail girl collapsed in court as the result of a hunger strike and it was necessary to give her a restorative. She had been carried into court by women wardens.

Freda Graham, a suffragette who slashed several valuable paintings in the national gallery May 22, harangued the jury, declaring she had attacked the pictures as a protest against King George's illegal and unconstitutional action in refusing to receive a legal deputation of women.

Mary Spencer, who damaged a picture at the royal academy on May 22 told the judge the only way left for women to express their views was to damage property, as they respected human life too much to destroy it.

Extraordinary precautions have been taken at the Epsom race course to prevent any repetition of last year's tragic interference with the running of the Derby, when Emily Wilding Davison met her death by jumping on the course.

A force of 200 police will be on duty during the race meeting. Arrangements to prevent King George and Queen Mary being subjected to annoyance by suffragettes have been made as perfect as possible.

Shouts of "Shoot the King" filled the hall in which a meeting of the Women's Social and Political Union, the militant suffragette organization was held yesterday afternoon. Every mention of the King's name was greeted with angry derision and prolonged hissing.

"BILLY" REID THE LABOR VETERAN

Few labor veterans have received a more spontaneous and unanimous expression of good will and good fellowship than fell to the lot of Mr. Wm. Reid on Saturday night. One could not help but be impressed with the simple sincerity of the various appreciations of his character and standing. Men were there who started as boys under Mr. Reid thirty years ago, and they were the most emphatic of all in their warm and unstinted praise of the old veteran's many amiable and sterling qualities. In the double sense of the phrase it was made abundantly clear that he had been the Grand Old Man of the company's shops. To many of the men he had been a father and to all a kind and helpful friend.

The feeling and sentiment of the gathering was aptly expressed by Mr. A. S. Hamilton in a poem in which he strikes his happiest vein. All those present at the banquet on Saturday evening, and many more who were not there, will be glad to have a copy of it and The Herald is only too pleased to publish it. The poem is as follows:

BILLY REID.

Do you know our Grand Old Man
Billy Reid
Our old veteran Art-i-san
Billy Reid
If you've never chanced to meet
Why: 'tis you that's missed a treat
For Old Billy's hard to beat.
Billy Reid.

He's not big by any means
Billy Reid
Five feet two and three sixteens
Billy Reid
But 'mong every type and guise
Which the "surface crew" comprise
He's the biggest for his size
Billy Reid.

For fifty years—then some
Billy Reid
He's been handling coal and gum
Billy Reid
And ere most of us now here
Did in any form appear
Billy drove the "Pioneer"
Billy Reid.

When the Bastion was a cub
Billy Reid
And the Tar Flats still in shrub
Billy Reid
He was then a gallant swain
With the love bee in his brain
Albert street was lover's lane
Billy Reid.

Many a throttle he's controlled
Billy Reid
Many steamers has he coaled
Billy Reid
Many a breakdown, many a wreck
Many a double shift on deck
Many a time he swore "By Heck"
Billy Reid.

What a host of friends he's had
Billy Reid
The wild, the kind, the sad.
Billy Reid
And how oft he felt the jar
As one by one they crossed the bar
While Time slowly healed each scar
Billy Reid.

Any many's the 'prentice lad
Billy Reid
Looked upon him as their Dad
Billy Reid
And when rough sometimes the tone
And to wildness they were prone
His example ever shone
Billy Reid.

Many a ripple did he smooth
Billy Reid
From Joe Ramsay to Jim Booth
Billy Reid
Many a shoulder and its chip
He has conquered at a clip
By his creed: "Good Fellowship"
Billy Reid.

We regret the day has come
Billy Reid
That we lose you for a chum
Billy Reid
But how proud for us the thought
That spontaneous and unsought
Your honest, long career
Is acknowledged while your'e here.
That as now you leave the ship
You so long helped to equip,
As you drop the tools and gear
You have handled year by year,
Having reached to life's hill-top,
'Tis your privilege now to stop
Survey with pride your trail
From the summit to the vale
And enjoy the thought that now
You may "saunter" down the brow.
Billy Reid.

Miss Daudy returned to Vancouver yesterday after spending the holidays with friends in the city.

MINE TIPPLE IS DESTROYED

Fire at Early Hour Monday Morning Destroyed Tipple of South Wellington Mine—Will be Rebuilt at Once.

Monday morning the tipple at the South Wellington mine (of the Pacific Coast Coal Mine Co.) was destroyed by fire. The provincial police state that after a careful investigation everything points to the fire being of incendiary origin.

The blaze was first noticed at 2 o'clock in the morning by a special policeman, and although but a small blaze at the time, the whole structure went so quickly that it was impossible to extinguish it. The tipple and sorting table were destroyed, but by hard work the engine room was saved. In addition to this two thirty-ton cars were burned besides several smaller mine cars.

A telephone pole nearby was burned thus destroying telephone connection with Nanaimo so that news of the fire arrived here in fragmentary manner until well into the day.

The fire started under the steps leading from the surface to the picking room. It is stated that the police had passed the place but a few minutes before the blaze broke out. Two police patrol all night, passing all points at intervals of six minutes. Once the fire had a start it would be difficult to stop it on account of the nature of the tructure with coal dust and grease that naturally accumulates about such a building.

To the police it seems difficult to ascertain any other cause except incendiarism and it is unnecessary to add that the matter will be thoroughly investigated.

The loss will be about $30,000 besides the delay to the company of probably ten days duration.

WINNERS IN LOCAL BOXING TOURNAMENT

A big boxing tournament held in the Nanaimo Athletic Club arena Monday night produced some interesting eliminating bouts, the finals to be pulled off at a later date.

120-pound Class.

Dan Morgan, Ladysmith; Tommy Scott, Nanaimo. Scott won in first round.

The main bout of the evening, between Tom Moore of Nanaimo, and Fred Campbell of Vancouver, went to Moore in the third round.

Members of the U.M.W. of A. in Nanaimo, South Wellington, and Ladysmith held a picnic at South Wellington Monday at which a program of sports was run off and a baseball game played between South Wellington and a Nanaimo aggregation. The picnic was well attended and an enjoyable day spent.

MAJOR TOBIN GETS HONOR.

Ottawa, May 26.—Militia orders issued today, announced that Major H. Tobin of the 72nd Seaforth Highlanders, has been appointed brigadier major of the 72nd infantry brigade, Vancouver.

FINAL PASSING OF HOME RULE BILL

London, May 26.—By a vote of 351 to 274, a majority of 77, the House of Commons Monday afternoon passed the Home Rule Bill. The end of the hard-fought struggle came quite suddenly, the Unionists refusing to debate the bill without further information as to the Government's intentions in regard to the proposed amending measure.

The attention of Conservatives in the district is called to the meeting that will be held in the North Cedar school house on Saturday, the 30th inst., at 7:30 p.m., for the purpose of organizing a branch Conservative Association. All Conservatives in the district are invited to attend. The meeting will be addressed by W. W. Foster, M.P.P., J. Harvey, member of the B. C. Executive Committee and others.

At the county court yesterday His Honor Judge Barker heard an appeal by the City Police Department against the recent decision of Magistrate Simpson dismissing a charge against Angelo Balzano, proprietor of the Commercial hotel, for infringing the liquor laws by permitting liquor from the premises to be sold during prohibited hours. His Honor reversed the decision of the Police Magistrate convicting Balzano and imposing a fine of $25 and costs. Mr. Victor Harrison represented the city police, Mr. Beevor Potts appearing for Mr. Balzano.

Among the passengers from the mainland last evening on the S. S. Princess Patricia were John Hough, Thos. McGuckie, J. McMillan, Mrs. Green, Mrs. Charles Graham, Mrs. H. N. Freeman and Mrs. E. A. Freeman.

BIG DAM BREAKS.

Richfield, Utah, May 26.— The dam of the Hatchtown irrigation reservior in Garfield County, sixty-five feet high and 300 feet long, broke last night and released a flood which is rushing down the Sevier River Valley. Telephones and horsemen warned settlers and it is believed no lives were lost, but many persons are homeless. Wire communication was interrupted today, and fears are entertained for the safety of the Piute reservoir, further down the river. The Hatchtown reservoir was part of a state irrigation project completed last year at a cost of $175,000. The reservoir held 17,000,000 cubic feet of water.

ROCKET CAUSED FIRE

Ottawa, May 26.—The shooting of a fireworks rocket into the lumber yards of J. & C. Low last night was the cause of a $60,000 fire. The blaze spread into the adjoining yards of Barrett Brothers whose loss was $20,000, while Low suffered $40,000. Barrett Brothers are fully covered by insurance, while Low Brothers have only $5,000 insurance.

TWO VICTORIES BY LOCAL BALL TEAM

The Nanaimo baseball team won a double headed victory Sunday and Monday, the victims being the strong Arnold & Quigley semi-professional aggregation of Vancouver which has the reputation of being one of the fastest teams on the mainland.

Sunday's game ended in Nanaimo nosing out with a single tally to spare, the total being Nanaimo 10, Vancouver 9, Harry Boyce and H. Martin doing the slab work for the locals, while K. McLeod tossed 'em over for the visitors.

Monday's game was played as an attraction in connection with the Victoria Day celebration and was called in the seventh in order that the match would not interfere with the children's parade and drill. Nanaimo won by a 3 to 1 score, Harry Shepherd pitching magnificent ball and receiving gilt edge support from his team mates.

Fire did $100,000 damage at Atlin on Sunday last, including the total destruction of the Kershaw Hotel.

Annie Jones, who was arrested on a charge of attempting to shoot and kill a Hindu named Wilson at Ebburne on Friday evening last, was Monday evening released on her own recognizance of $5,000 bail and two sureties of $2,500 each. The recognizance was entered into with the sureties before Mr. Thomas Proctor, Justice of the Peace, on an order given by His Honor Judge McInnes.

of Toronto, grand secretary of the Orange Lodge of British America which will hold its annual convention today at Regina.

NANAIMO HONORS VICTORIA DAY

Celebration Held Monday Was Most Successful—Good Big Crowd and Splendid Entertainment —Children's Drills Was Feature.

Entirely successful from every standpoint was Nanaimo's celebration of Victoria Day. The weather was kind and, although threatening, relented at the last moment and left the day free from annoyance on that score. The crowds were in evidence everywhere and the day's entertainment was well up to the high standard set by Nanaimo in times past.

Victoria Day is an institution in Nanaimo not so much for the character of the entertainment put up, although that at all times in the city's long history of celebrating the day has always been good, but on account of the fact that it is the great home coming day for old Nanaimoites, the day on which family reunions take place, friend meets friend and relative meets relative. With such characteristic of the day it does not matter particularly what kind of a program is offered so long as the crowds are present. Victoria Day to the citizens is something like a summer opening. Uncle, auntie, father, mother and the baby are all out in their Sunday best to meet their neighbors and old friends about town Monday was all of such a day. Incidentally it was more than this for a whole day of continuous first-class sport was given the people, winding up at night with a splendid exhibition of fireworks. There was not a hitch to mar the day's pleasure. Never in the history of Nanaimo's Victoria Day experience were the crowds better behaved or in better spirit for enjoying the occasion. The carnival spirit seemed to be in the air and everybody thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Nor was the real reason of celebrating the day forgotten. Union Jacks floated everywhere and had premier place in the elaborate decorations throughout the city and the bands played lively patriotic airs and on every occasion were loudly applauded. The patriotic spirit evident was one of the outstanding features of the day.

The May Queen ceremonies at the Cricket Grounds in the afternoon was one of the big attractions of the day. The school children under the able leadership of Mrs. Martindale and assistants went through their intricate flag drills, the May pole dance and the other coronation ceremonies, without a hitch. The entire effect was very pretty and added a lot to the success of the day. Particularly pleasing was the march of the hundreds of children about the grounds all attired in some distinctive dress. There were cadets, scouts, girl guides sun bonnet girls, high school flag girls, gardeners, comic characters, etc., etc., the whole line of march presenting a pleasing array of color and animation. With due pomp May Queen Pleasant Baxter was crowned by the retiring Queen Winnifred Thorne. The Queen was assisted by her Maids of Honor Misses Armitage and Young. Mr. Schwarze, the local photographer, presented the Queen with a handsome album in which is henceforth to be kept the pictures of Nanaimo's May Queens. Queen Winnifred Thorne occupies first place in the album with the present Queen second. The presentation of the album was formally made by Mayor Planta.

Miss Lewis, of Vancouver, an expert in May pole dancing, was the judge of the May Pole competitions, giving first place to the Quennell School dancers, who secured 19½ points out of 20. Miss Lewis stated that in all her experience she had never seen the dance better done than by the Nanaimo scholars Monday.

The following are the results of the various contests:

Boys' Decorated Bicycle—1st, Fred Quaggan, 2nd Leslie Johnson.

Decorated Pony—"Maggie," driven by Reginal Thompson, "Teddy" driven by Wilfrid Weeks.

Comic Groups—Thomas Pearson and Douglas Manson, as Dutchmen.

Single Comic—Harold Piper, as a monkey.

Girls' Doll iBuggy—1st Ella Dobeson, 2nd Jean McArthur.

Mother Goose, group—Eugene Norris, as Boy Blue, and Edna Brown as Bo Peep; J. Fleming and E. Norcross, as Jack and Gill.

Mother Goose, single — Margaret Martindale, as "Miss Muffet," Etta McAllister, as "Mother Goose."

The Sixth Regiment band came in for much favorable mention during the day, especially in the evening when they gave a concert on the waterfront much to the enjoyment of thousands who gathered. The committee were generally congratulated for securing the engagement of such a splendid musical organization. At the same time very favorable mention must be made of the fine work by the Boys' Brigade band Monday, who were very liberal with their music and who never played to better advantage.

There were 3200 paid admission to the Cricket grounds, and as all school children were admitted free, there must have been an attendance of close on to 5000 people. The celebration will be a success financially, as well as otherwise, thanks to the liberal donations from citizens.

The day's winners were as follows:

VICTORIA DAY

There was profound relief throughout the city when it was seen that after all there was to be Victoria weather for the celebration of Victoria Day. The sudden break in the weather on Saturday and the rain on Sunday threatened to mar if not stop the day's demonstration and caused general anxiety. Everything up to that time had gone along even more successfully than usual. The celebration committee had worked energetically and arranged a magnificent programme. The subscriptions had exceeded all records, and everything was ready for one of the most successful celebrations ever held in Nanaimo. And just when everything was ready and interest keyed up to eager expectancy came cloudy threatenings of bad and stormy weather. Fortunately the clouds passed, the sun shone again, and the day was a splendid success. The committee in charge of the programme had very wisely made the children's events the big feature of the celebration. The children thoroughly enjoyed their part in the day's proceedings, and everybody else enjoyed seeing them. It is also good to know that everything passed off happily and smoothly. The demonstration was a great advertisement for Nanaimo. It showed that the old Nanaimo spirit still lives, and that in spite of temporary differences, the community was united in its day of celebration.

Mr. W. F. Carroll, the Liberal member for Cape Breton, took a prominent part in the debate in the Federal House on the local mining troubles. He did not know the first thing about the dispute, its cause or its history, and if we remember correctly was obliged to confess that he was counsel for the coal companies in the Nova Scotia coal strike. Because of his gross ignorance of the subject and his past record he was the bitterest of all the critics of Minister Crothers and the Borden Government. He is just as ignorant of the situation today as he was of the strike and its causes at the time of the debate. Discussing the Canadian Northern agreement in the House of Commons yesterday, he expressed the view that the government should take advantage of the company seeking financial assistance to bring about a settlement of the coal strike. Mr. Carroll has not yet learned that it is a misnomer, if not an absurdity, to talk of a strike at the Cumberland mines. There was no strike there so far as the operations of the mines are concerned so long ago as a year past April. In that month over forty thousand tons of coal were produced at Cumberland. The output was practically back to normal again, and that was why the mines here were called out. So far as the general situation on the coast and goes there is not work for all the men seeking employment. The mines at that are producing more coal than can be marketed. If Mr. Carroll could devise some scheme to create markets and increase the demand for coal he would serve the island coal trade very much better than by talking of a settlement where there is nothing to settle.

The London press is discussing the situation created here by the arrival of nearly four hundred Hindus on the "Komagata Maru." The Pall Mall Gazette in an editorial says that the intentions of Gurdit Singh may be good, as he declares, but he must expect no aid from public opinion in Great Britain. The Canadians are masters in their own house and have an unqualified right to say who shall not dwell in it." This is meant to be a reply to the veiled threats of Gurdit Singh that if he is defeated in his object in the Canadian Courts he would carry his case to the British government. It probably expresses the views of the British people, and it is as well that Gurdit Singh should be made to realize it now.

It is the opinion of the police who have investigated the fire at South Wellington that it was the work of an incendiary. There were two fires in the same camp a few days ago which are known to have been caused by incendiarism. All the circumstances surrounding the burning of the pithead point to its having had the same origin. It is, of course, useless to reason with men who will deliberately destroy property in this manner. It is both a useless and despicable crime, and has not even the excuse of mob passion and excitement. No cause was ever advanced by arson, and it is only undesirables who resort to it.

GAMBLING KING DEPORTED.

San Francisco, May 26.—Won Doo King, known as "King of Gamblers" and the richest on the Pacific Coast yesterday was ordered deported. The order came from the secretary of labor, and ends a year's fight in which Won has expended a small fortune to stay in America. He was implicated in smuggling Chinese as well as other transactions besides his gambling.

WASHINGTON EIGHT WON AT VANCOUVER.

Vancouver, May 26.—Machine-like strokes, thirty-four to the minute, won for the university of Washington the international eight-oared contest at Indian River, and brought disappointment to numerous supporters of the Vancouver Rowing club. The eight of the local club finished four lengths behind the university of California crew which was unable to close the gap of one and a half lengths between its shell and that of the winning crew.

Practical Fashion Hints

By Alice Gibson

An excellent model for dark-blue serge, linen or one of the new heavy cottons is shown in No. 7652. It is a peasant dress, closing at the side-front with a gathered vest, an elbow-length sleeve and a four-gored, slightly draped skirt. Silk poplin is another suggestion for a dress of this description. If it were used with this design in one of the darker tones, the vest would be effective fashioned of a figured silk, bringing out some of the new bright colors which are being used so much for trimming purposes just now. The collar is a square sailor effect and the opening at the throat may be "V"-shaped or round, as preferred. Novelty buttons are another effective trimming for dark materials. In this instance, they could be used to hold down the tabs on skirt and bodice. This dress may be made in size 36, with 5⅝ yards of 36-inch material. The pattern is cut in five sizes, 34 to 42.

This is a Perfect Pattern.

Be sure to give right size, measuring over the fullest part of the bust for dimensions.

The pattern may be obtained by sending name and address, pattern No. and size and fifteen cents to DAVID SPENCER LIMITED.

TRIED TO WRECK TRAIN

Fort William, Ont., May 26—When the plates between the rails were unbolted apparently by train wreckers, a westbound immigrant train and a westbound freight were derailed near Kaministiqua, about 19 miles west of the city, early yesterday. Nobody was seriously hurt, although a baby, a boy and a man among the passengers were scratched with broken glass. Plates had been removed from both sides east and westbound tracks.

JOHN D. HAS $311,000,000.

Columbus, O., May 26.— John D. Rockefeller's personal property on which he will be assessed for taxation in Ohio, is worth $311,226,347, according to announcement made here today by the state tax commissioner. Of this amount $285,000,000 is alleged to be Standard Oil Stock.

TITANIC'S LIABILITY

Washington, May 26.—Because the steamship Titanic struck an iceberg rather than another British ship, the Supreme Court today held that the owner, the Oceanic Steam Navigation Company, was entitled to have its liability for loss of life and property in suits brought in American courts in accordance with maritime American laws. This means that those who sue in American courts will get virtually nothing, the law limiting liability to the salvage from the wreck, and the passenger and freight money collected from the passage, about $90,000 in all. The total claims against the company have reached $13,000,000.

INTERVENTION IN ALBANIA

Rome, May 26.—Intervention in Albania by all European powers has been under discussion by the Italian Government on the same basis as intervention in China at the time of the Boxer rising. Italy has always opposed the idea of intervention in Albania being limited to Austria and Italy, and the triple entente, comprising Great Britain, France and Russia was opposed to intervention by the whole of Europe. Russia has taken the Italian view.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining right of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-west Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Applications for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-agent in the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise.

A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or sub-agent of Dominion Lands.

NANAIMO LOST TO ALBION ELEVEN

The Nanaimo Cricket Club visited Victoria over the week-end, having a holiday game with the Albion eleven. The game was played at Beacon Hill an Monday and resulted in an overwhelming victory for the Albions.

E. W. Ismay, the hard-hitting Albion batsman, was in his best form and scored at a terrific rate. Indeed from one over he made six boundaries, a feat which few cricketers have achieved. He compiled 83 before he lost his wicket, and added to his performance by taking 5 wickets for 16 runs. The Albion score was 234 and to this the Nanaimo players responded with only 55, Leighton making 32 of this number himself. Nanaimo batted a second time and were again all dismissed for 93 runs, so that they were defeated by an inning and 87 runs, the worst defeat they have suffered since the club was organized. There is na excuse to offer for the result. The weather was dull and cold, but the Albions thoroughly deserved their victory. The full scores are as follows:

GUN CLUB HELD TWO DAY SHOOT

The Nanaimo Gun Club won the team shoot Monday in competition with teams from Vancouver and Seattle. The two-day shoot held by the Club in connection with the Victoria Day Celebration was fairly successful, although no sensational shooting was done.

The high professional score was made by C. Mink, the Cominion Cartridge representative, with 123.

This was tied by the high amateur total made by R. Eastham, also with 129.

The other high scores were:

C. Cheatwood	124
J. Tassen	124
W. Hoggan	123
J. A. Eastham	118

J. Eastham held first high average for the first day's shoot with 74 out of 85, winning James Hirst's prize for high average.

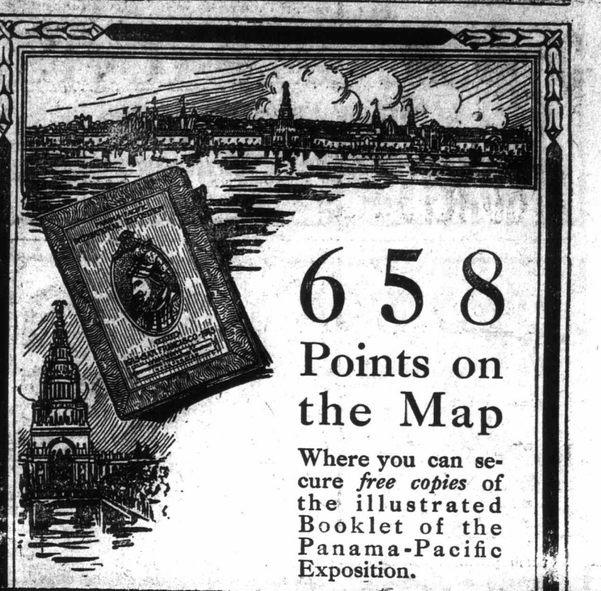
R. Eastham	20
W. Graham	19
W. Hoggan	19
C. Cheatwood	19

Making the fine total of 77 out of a possible 80.



The Seattle team took second with 66; Vancouver third with 65.

VANCOUVER EASILY DEFEATED CALGARY

Vancouver, May 26.—The Vancouver A. C. defeated the Calgary Chinooks today in the final game of the series for the Mann Cup by a score of 5 to 2. The total goals of the series was Vancouver 17, Calgary 2.

658 Points on the Map

Where you can secure free copies of the illustrated Booklet of the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Remington Typewriter Company

Official Distributors

A fitting climax to the opening of the Panama Canal will come with the great Exposition at San Francisco. The plans are complete. The beautiful de luxe Booklet of the Exposition is now ready.

A big question confronted the Exposition authorities: "How shall we put this handbook into the hands of intelligent people—everywhere?"

The problem was as big as the world's map. Various methods were considered and discarded.

Final judgment pointed to this most appropriate and logical way:—The Remington Typewriter Company was selected as the official distributor. Why?

—Because the Remington Typewriter Company is known wherever men communicate with each other in written language.

—Because the 658 Remington offices which dot the earth are supply stations for the most remote points in the two hemispheres.

To indicate further its belief in the Remington Typewriter, the Exposition management will type all its official letters on Remington machines. For the use of visitors, hundreds of Remingtons will be installed in the Exposition grounds.

What the Book Contains:

For instance:—Why at Panama will the sun rise out of the Pacific Ocean and set in the Atlantic? What were the climatic conditions which the 50,000 canal workers had to face on that strip of tropic land? How long will it take to pass a giant steamship through the canal? How will this vast national enterprise affect the Nation's trade routes and the world's commerce? How will the Exposition be staged? What will visitors see when they get there?

This handsome booklet is full of beautiful colored pictures illustrating the text, as well as several double-page maps.

You will do well to get a copy of this beautiful booklet which, in accordance with our arrangement with the Exposition, we are now distributing free.

Call at our local office and we shall be glad to give you a copy.

ZIMMY FOR GIANTS

Word comes from Chicago that "Hank" O'Day, manager of the Cubs, has received an indirect offer from John McGraw for the services of "Heinie" Zimmerman, the crack third baseman. According to the rumor, Zimmerman is weary of the Cubs and would welcome an opportunity to play with the Giants. With Zimmerman on third base the Giants would be regarded as sure pennant winners.

COMPLETELY BROKEN DOWN
Another Lady Thinks "Fruit-a-tives" Greatest Tonic In The World.

HAGERSVILLE, ONT., Aug. 26th. 1913.
I can highly recommend "Fruit-a-tives" because they did me an awful lot of good. About four years ago, I commenced taking "Fruit-a-tives" for a general break-down and they did me a world of good. We bought a good many dollars' worth, but they did all that your advertising claims for them, and as I said before, I cannot speak too highly for them. Their action is so pleasant, compared with other medicines, that I am glad to say so and I trust that some other woman may start taking "Fruit-a-tives" for I know the results will be all that you claim".

PROCEEDINGS IN THE COMMONS

Canadian Northern Railway Proposals Bill Passed the House of Commons by the Usual Government Majority

The Canadian Northern Railway Proposals of the government passed the first reading in the House of commons yesterday by the usual government majority. The bill will come up for the second reading Thursday.

The House expects to prorogue June 6 and it is not likely that the Redistribution Bill will be brought up during the present session.

Correspondence between Premier McBride of British Columbia and the Premier of Canada in reference to aid the Canadian Northern was laid on the table today. The correspondence indicated that the Premier of B. C. had made every effort to have the advantages provided for British Columbia included in the Dominion legislation.

AUTO RECORDS SMASHED.

Indianapolis, May 27.—Automobile racing records continued to fall today at the Indianapolis motor speedway where elimination trials for the 500-mile race are being held. George Bellot, in a Franch car drove a lap of the 2 1-2 mile track in 1:30:13, or at the rate of a fraction less than 100 miles an hour. This not only beats the speed record, but is a new States record for the distance.

LETTER SERVICE ARRANGED

Montreal, Que., May 27.—It has been arranged between the Canadian Pacific Railway Co's telegraph and the British Pacific Cable Board to inaugurate the week end letter service between Canada and Australia, including the Figi Islands, commencing on May 28. The rate between Canada and Australia will be three dollars for twenty words or less, and each additional word over 20 to be 15 cents.

CONCERT AT WELLINGTON TONIGHT.

There will be a grand concert in the Wellington Presbyterian church tonight at 8 o'clock. The program is to be given entirely by some of the best musical artists of Nanaimo. If the weather keeps fine there is no doubt but many from the outside districts will avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing one of the best musical treats of the season in this vicinity. The admission is twenty-five cents, children ten cents.

According to recent censuses and estimates, the globe contains nearly 2,000,000,000 inhabitants, an average of 40 to the square mile.

STORM DAMAGE $600,000

Duluth, Minn., May 27.—Later estimates on losses in the storm which swept the head of the lakes yesterday place the damage between $500,000 and $600,000, with five men injured, one probably fatally, and the steamer Frank C. Ball driven aground.

BALLOON LANDS IN SEA.

Swinemunende, Germany, May 27.—An unidentified balloon, apparently with several aeronauts on board, descended at sea today several miles off shore near here. A boat was immediately dispatched to investigate.

STILL WANT TO COME IN

FOUR DIE IN AUTO SMASH

Automobile Plunged From a Trestle Forty Feet to Ground Below—Four Persons Were Killed and Three Injured.

Everett, Wash., May 27.—Four men were killed at noon today when an automobile bound from Silvana to Everett ran off the approach to the Everett avenue bridge on the Snohomish River in that city. J.M. Johnson of Silvan, owner of the car; Ole Preston, a farmer living near Silvans, and an unidentified man were instantly killed. A fourth man, name not yet learned, died at the hospital.

The car plunged from the trestle on the eastern approach of the bridge forty feet to marshy ground below. Three other persons in the car were injured.

MISSING AVIATOR IS REPORTED FOUND

Newcastle, England, May 27.—The Evening Mail says Gustav Hamel, British aviator who has been given up for lost in the English Channel, landed today from a fishing boat at South Shields.

The fishing boat which saved Hamel was a foreign vessel which had been driven out of her course and this caused the delay in giving information as to the rescue of the aviator.

The local police declare untrue the statement of the Evening mail that Hamel has landed at South Shields.

London, May 27.—Neither the officials of the Hendon Aerodrome nor Hamel's father have received any confirmation of the reported rescue of the aviator.

DURBAR II. WON CLASSIC DERBY

Rank Outsider Won Easily From Field of Forty—Kennymore the Favorite Not in the Running.

Epsom, May 27.—The one hundred and thirty-fourth annual renewal of the Derby Stakes, the "blue ribbon" of the turf, and the third of the five "classic races" run over a little over a mile and a half, was won by the American owned bay colt Durbar II., by Rabelais-Armenia, an outsider in the betting, as the horses went to the post, when his price had gone out to 20 to 1.

H. Cholmondeley's brown colt Hapsburg, by Desmond-Altesse, 33 to 1, was second; H. J. King's chestnut colt, Peter the Hermit, by St. Petersburg-Carline, 100 to 1, was third, and Lord Derby's brown colt, Dan Russel, by Chaucer-Hettie, sorrel, was fourth.

Kennymore, the favorite, proved a disappointment to the betting public who went for him strong when he followed up his win in the Guineas by carrying off the Newmarket stakes. When the scratching of The Tetrarch became known, Kennymore was established a very strong favorite, and it looked as though he would start at odds on, but lately rather mysterious rumors have been current about him and the bookmakers have shown no hesitation in taking in the public money at what looked like liberal terms.

The field of forty has not been equalled since Hermit won in 1867, the record being thirty-six in the very first year of the race, 1780, when Dimod won.

Besides the favorite, also-rans included the following: His Majesty's Brakespear, Cupidon, Magyar, Evansdale, Orebi, Courageous Marten, Ambassador, Quixtus, Black Jester, Conqueror, Polygamist, Lanius, Flying Orb, Polycrates, My Prince, Carancho, Carrickfergus, Best Boy, Single Trigger, St. Guthlac, Cerval and three others.

Kennymore got away badly, after being fractious at the starting gate and Polycrates made the running from Black Jester, Hapsburg, Durbar II., Dan Russel, Evansdale and Carrickfergus, the favorite being badly placed and shut in.

Here Marten was last. At the half way post Polycrates still led, followed by Black Jester, Hapsburg, Dan Russel, Durbar II., Ambassador and Brakespeare.

Rounding Tottenham corner Durbar II., took up the running on the rails from Black Jester, Hapsburg, Dan Russel, Peter the Hermit and My Prince. Durbar II, held command from Tottenham Corner and won easily by three lengths. One and a half lengths divided the second and third.

Dan Russel and My Prince were close up and Best Boy last.

Dan Russel started at 25 to 1.

Following are the starting prices of unplaced horses: Kennymore, 9 to 4; Black Jester, 100 to 1; Brakespeare, 100 to 8; Carancho, 100 to 7; Carrickfergus, 100 to 6; Evansdale, 25 to 1; and Ambassador and My Prince, 33 to 1.

ROBERT DOLLAR TO BUNKER HERE

To load the first shipment of British Columbia fir for use in the Toronto harbor improvements, the big British steamship Robert Dollar, Capt. Morton, left Victoria this afternoon and will proceed to Nanaimo where she will load bunker coal at the Western Fuel Company's wharves later steaming to Genoa Bay, her port of loading.

Owing to there being some doubt as to whether or not the Panama Canal would be opened in time to allow the Robert Dollar to pass through if she loaded her cargo late in May, the company was in two minds and came nearly sending her to the Orient with a load of lumber from Portland. Assurance has been ceived, however, that the great ditch will be ready by the time the Robert Dollar reached Balboa.

The Robert Dollar will load 5,000,000 feet of fir at Genoa Bay, the first load of 24,000,,000 feet ordered by the contractora of the Toronto harbor works.

It is expected that the Robert Dollar will be about three weeks getting her lumber stowed below and on deck. She will head direct for the Panama Canal, and may possibly be the first ship through the new waterway from the westward. If she does not have the honor there is no doubting that she will be the first lumber ship to be guided through the locks.

PROSPECTOR DIES ALONE IN WOODS

Accidently Shot by a Rifle A Washington Prospector Made Brave But Futile Attempt to Get Assistance.

Vancouver, May 27.—Struggling on through the woods near Butedale, on the North coast, until exhausted from loss of blood from a wound in his leg, then to lie down to die was probably the fate of Orville DeWitt Hoar, a prospector from Chico, Wash. The body was found on Monday by the dead man's uncle and brother, who were also prospecting near Butedale.

The body has been brought to the city and an inquest will be held.

According to information received by the provincial police, Hoar had been out prospecting, and some time on Sunday accidently shot himself through the leg. He managed to get some distance towards camp and then apparently collapsed. When he was found there was a tourniquet aroung the limb showing that the dead man had tried to staunch the flow of blood. His rifle, the agency of the death wound was found beside the body.

WOMAN IS SENTENCED.

New York, May 27.—Mrs. Ida Von Clossen, who a few years ago entered into a controversary with Theodore Roosevelt because she was not presented at the court of King of Sweden, was today sentenced to six months in the penitentiary for sending a threatening letter to Charles Strauss, at one time her lawyer.

Mr. Clelland Russell, son of Mr. Thomas Russell of Vancouver, was operated upon for appendicitis at the General Hospital yesterday. The physicians report very favorably upon his case.

Godfrey Hagan, of Revelstoke, the British Columbia Rhodes scholar, is winning success at Oxford, having won the Cobden essay prize in political economy with a comprehensive discussion of the history and development of the United States tariff with its effect upon trade both home and foreign.

PRISONER FINDS DEATH BY BURNING HIMSELF.

San Quentin, Cal., May 27.—Geo. Brown, a convict is dead today, having made a human torch of himself in the observation cell of San Quentin penitentiary by pouring oil over his clothing and then touching a match to the saturated garments. This was Brown's third attempt to commit suicide. Brown was serving a three-year term for burglary.

The steamship Vaterland, the largest vessel in the world, which took nearly four hours to dock when she arrived on her maiden voyage recently, sank two coal barges as she steamed out of her berth Tuesday at Hoboken, N.J. No lives were lost.

Officials of the Mines Department of the Provincial Government are desirous that attention should again be directed to the fact that all existing free miners licenses expire at midnight on May 31. The fee for the license is $5.

FOUR DROWNED WHEN SCHOONER FOUNDERED

Charlottetown, P.E.I., May 27. — The schooner which foundered off Carlton Point in Northumberland Straits in Monday's gale with all on board was the Abana, 80 tons, built in Shelbourne 18 years ago. She was bound from Pictou to Summerside with coal for the Prince Edward Island railway. The body found at Cape Traverse on Tuesday has been identified as that of Capt. James Lanigan, of Souris East, P. E. I., aged 65, owner of the vessel. Three other men lost with the vessel also belonged to Souris. These were Joseph Lane, aged 55; A. A. Blaisdell, aged 75, and Wilson, aged 20.

Capt. Lanigan leaves a widow and grown up family, and Mr. Lane, a widow and a large family of small children. Only one body so far has been recovered.

FIRST FREIGHT SHIP IS THROUGH PANAMA CANAL.

New York, May 27.—The steamer Colon, which arrived today from Cristobal, brought the first freight that came through the Panama Canal. The cargo consisted of 21,000 sacks of sugar and was towed through the canal on barges. It is the first cargo to pay through freight.

MERRITT VS. CORBOULD

London, May 26.—The privy council today dismissed the appeal of Merritt versus Corbould, a British Columbia case concerning a number company's assets.

The personal property left by Baron Strathcona and Mount Royal, former high commissioner for Canada, amounted to $23,257,000. This was disclosed when probate was granted yesterday.

FATE OF ANDREE IS REVEALED

Lordon, May 27.—What is supposed to be the remains of Prof. Andree's balloon in which the Norwegian explorer sailed in an attempt to reach the North Pole, was found today in an eastern Siberian forest. The discovery created intense excitement throughout Europe.

Solomon August Andree, Swedish aeronaut and explorer was born at Grenna in 1854. He was for some time nead engineer at the Swedish patent office. After making several balloon journeys he attempted to reach the North Pole by such means. On July 11, 1897 he started from Danes Island, Spitzbergen, with two companions, Strindberg and Fraenkel in a balloon of 5000 cubic metres. Several of the buoys which were carried were afterwards found, two with despatches dated July 11th, but a message sent by carrier pigeon and dated two days later was the last authentic news of the explorers.

AMERICANS SEIZE GERMAN STEAMERS

Vera Cruz, Mexico, May 27.—Two steamships, the Ypiranga and Bavaria of the Hamburg-American line succeeded today in landing supplies and muntions of war at Port Mexico, consigned to President Huerta.

The war stores consisted of Machine guns, ammunition, barbed wire and thousands of stand of small arms.

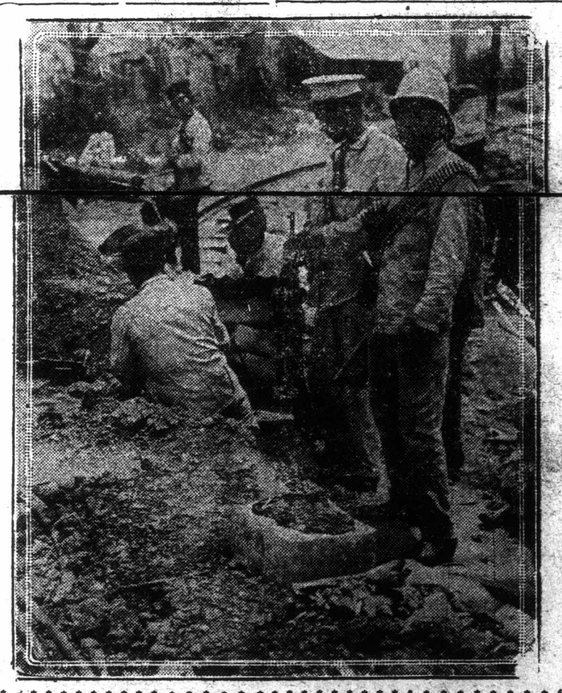
The steamers were seized by the American authorities and are liable to a heavy fine if not confiscation.

PEACE ENVOYS IN CONFERENCE

Steps Taken to Reopen Question of Representation at the Niagara Falls Mediation Conference.

Washington, May 27.—Representatives of the constitutionalists here took steps today to reopen the question of representation at the Niagara Falls mediation conference.

John Lind and C. A. Douglass, the legal representatives of the constitutionalists held what was termed a neutral conference early today, and later went to the state department to take up the subject with Secretary Bryan, who had gone to the capital to confer with members of the foreign relations committee. Their conference with the secretary was on that account deferred until later in the day.



Neither Mr. Lind nor Mr. Douglass would disclose under what conditions the constitutionalists were willing to participate but the opinion was revived that the powers of a Carranza representative would be very limited perhaps without plenary authority and only for the purpose of furnishing information. Today's development, which undoubtedly was one direct outcome of long conferences, General Carranza has been holding over a special telegraph wire with Emilio Zubarino, his minister of the interior, in charge of the constitutionalist agency here, was pointed out as justifying the optimism of the last day or two in official circles.

Jose Vasconielos, one of the Carranza agents, who has been mentioned as a probable choice to represent General Carranza at Niagara Falls, still is in the city; Luis Cabrera, another agent, arrived at New York today on the steamer Olympic from Europe; Fernando I. Calderon, a third constitutionalist representative is in El Paso. It has been said that if General Carranza sent representatives to the Niagara Falls conference those three men probably would be selected.

Official dispatches sent from Mexico City and received at a diplomatic source here today, say the withdrawal of Huerta is possible and that it is being delayed by the necessity of arrangements to permit the dictator to abdicate with dignity.

A record of loading a cargo of case oil was accomplished when the British steamer Colla completed her cargo of 171,000 cases of refined petroleum at Philadelphia in ten working days. The work was performed by one gang of stevedores working over a single hatch at a time. On her previous voyage the Colla brought a cargo of coal to this coast for the United States government and took on bunkers at Comox for the return trip to the Atlantic.

Laborers on the Kettle Valley construction are getting $2.25 a day with board at 90 cents a day.

TYPES OF FEDERAL SOLDIERS PUT TO ROUT BY REBELS

Here is a photograph of one of the Federal trenches outside Tampico, showing the types of men in Huerta's army. The soldiers in the picture are mere lads, the one at the machine gun being about 14 years of age. Hundreds of these young boys gave up their lives in the fearful battle to hold the city against the rebels.

CITY IMPROVEMENTS

The ratepayers of Nanaimo will be called upon to vote upon several loan bylaws this year. Among the first of these will be the Waterworks Extension Bylaw, by which it is proposed to raise the sum of $30,000. This money will be used to complete and improve the present water system inside the city limits. Another bylaw is under consideration by the Council, dealing with the city sewerage system. It is necessary that all this work should be carried out before a start is made with the various paving schemes which the city has in hand. There is also provision to be made for the erection of the new city buildings. The old court house and jail buildings have been condemned, and new ones will have to be built to take their place. The Millstream bridge also needs to be renewed. It reached such a condition that it cannot be repaired and there is no other option but to put up a new one. There is again the proposal for a free library and in all probability the ratepayers will be given an opportunity to vote on this also.

The Waterworks Bylaw will be submitted to the ratepayers on June 8 and the other measures as fast as they can be got ready. Four of them are works of necessity, and so the ratepayers will regard them. There may be some difference of opinion as to the wisdom of going ahead with the full paving program at this particular period of the city's history. But from many points of view this also is a work of necessity. There is hardly a street in the city which does not need repairs, and the chief arteries of traffic are in a disgraceful condition. For example Haliburton street from the city limits to the Crescent is the worst piece of road between Nanaimo and Victoria. Similarly Front street from the post office and Comox Road to the E. & N. track is the worst piece of road between Nanaimo and Alberni. Fitzwilliam street or any other street leading down town from the depot is in no better condition. All of them require repairing and the difference in cost between thoroughly overhauling them and paving them is so inconsiderable as to make the scheme to pave them infinitely the more preferable. Before they are paved all water, sewerage and gas connections should be permanently completed so that once the paving is laid it will be down for years. With the slackening of the money markets there ought to be no difficulty in disposing of the city's bonds on favorable terms, and now is the time to go ahead with the work. It was unfortunate that all these improvements had to be postponed, but the delay can be turned to advantage by carrying them out more thoroughly and with greater permanence.

A MISTAKEN CORRECTION

In yesterday's issue of the Colonist Mr. D. W. Higgins, the well known pioneer and author, administers a very nice correction to some Nanaimo resident. He says that "the Nanaimo resident who imagines that because he is in the possession of a copy of the British Colonist of December 11, 1859, he has a copy of the first newspaper published in British Columbia, is in error." This may be all right, but it looks as if Mr. Higgins had created this imaginary resident of Nanaimo. The correction is probably meant to apply to a news item which recently appeared in the Vancouver World. According to the article in question a Vancouver man paid ten dollars for a copy of the first issue of the British Colonist, and the World itself stated that it was a copy of the first issue of the first newspaper published in British Columbia. Nanaimo only came into the story through the fact that the copy of the British Colonist was sold by a man whose father bought it while a resident of this city. For the rest Mr. Higgins corrections are rather interesting. The first newspaper he says was a weekly, and curiously enough it was published in French. It survived only two issues. Next a San Francisco company started a paper in May, 1858, and in July of the same year another paper made its bow. Both these ventures expired when the Colonist entered the field in December, 1858.

SAFETY OF MINES

There is an interesting and instructive article in the current issue of the Coal Age on the safety of mines. The article has been inspired by the explosion in the Eccles mine. This mine is stated to have been model in its dicipline, its equipment and its morale. Yet the men used open lights, and were allowed to fire their own shots. Because open lights were used more than usual attention was paid to ventilation. All stoppings were put in with brick and cement, and the ventilation equipment was elaborate and efficient. Yet it is almost certain that the explosion was caused by the presence of gas, and the Coal Age takes the view that safety lamps should have been used. Under the system of operation the safety of the mine depended wholly on the ventilation, and in the result it was demonstrated that this was not enough.

THE IRISH SITUATION.

The passing of the Home Rule Bill by the British House of Commons has led to no demonstrations in the Protestant districts of Ulster. The fact that the final adoption of the measure should have been so quietly received has caused a good deal of speculation. It has to be borne in mind, however, that the opposition in Ulster has been organized against the operation of Home Rule. It is just possible, of course, that the leaders of the movement counted on delaying the passage of the measure. However, it has been passed under cover of an amending bill to follow, and in any case the bill itself does not become operative until some time next year. The Ulsterites are therefore in the position of not knowing definitely what the government proposes to do in their case. The great issue at present is the emphatic refusal of the majority of the protestant population of Ulster to acquiesce in Home Rule in Ireland. To include them in its operation would be coercion, and against coercion they are prepared to offer armed resistance. The government in effect says there will be no coercion, and is prepared to grant exclusion by counties for a period of six years. This does not satisfy the Ulsterites and does not particularly please the Nationalists. Still it conceded the principle of compromise, and the promised amending bill may solve the difficulties now remaining. In any case the armed resistance of the Carson forces is not called for until they are threatened with the coercion they organized to oppose. At present there is no more reason for war than there has ever been. In fact the negotiations for an amicable settlement has not yet ended, and the Ulster leaders will naturally shrink from an appeal to force so long as there is the remotest hope of peace.

Here is a delicate point for some of our local grammarians to settle. Is it right to say that a man is "in the possession of a thing," or "in possession of a thing," or are both right? Does the first phrase imply ownership on the part of the man, or that he is possessed by the thing?

NEW RAILWAY PROJECTED.

Seattle, May 27.—Continuing its policy of reaching into all the large shipping centres of the Northern Pacific Coast, the Milwaukee is about to let the contract for constructing a three-mile connecting track at Sumas, which will link the big line with the B. C. Electric Railway at Huntington, B. C., and enable the through billing of freight from all points in the originally loaded car into New Westminster and Vancouver.

Plans for effecting this connection have been under consideration for more than six months and yesterday Vice-president H. B. Earling announced that they culminated in the drawing of contracts.

Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Applications for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-agent in the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of [illegible] per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or sub-agent of Dominion Lands.

MODERN ROMANCE

The Red Virgin by C. F. Turner, Hodder and Stoughton, London, New York, Toronto.

The Red Virgin is an altogether original character in fiction, and she and the underworld over which she reigns form a novel setting and background to the main action of the story. Many writers have followed Anthony Hope in his Prisoner of Zenda and the Red Virgin is nearer to this original model than say Graustark. It is a story of love, intrigue, and politics in an imaginary European principality. There is be inevitable Englishman and English heroine. There is the wily chief of police, and the same bad, bold, red villian. The hero is a native prince, Fritz, Baron of Friedrichhein and the Red Virgin and her underwarld are used by both parties. There is adventure enough to spare and the moving scene and thrilling adventure are crowded one upon the other. All those who care or this modern form of adventure, and who does not, will find the Red Virgin a mighty interesting book.

SWITZERLAND TO BE THERE

Berne, Switzerland, May 27.—The Swiss federal government today decided that Switzerland should be represented officially at the Panama Pacific Exposition at San Francisco, thus rescinding its decisions of 1912 and 1913. A modest national pavilion is to be built in the exposition grounds, and is to be devoted chiefly to sports and to an exhibit representing the natural beauties of Switzerland.

MANITOBA RUGBYISTS WIN

Regina, Sask, May 27.—The interprovincial British Rugby football game between Saskatchewan and Manitoba, in Regina yesterday, resulted in a win for the latter by 21 to 8. The game was fast and well contested and the play more even than the score would indicate, though the Manitoba fifteen clearly outplayed their less experienced opponents.

REFINED PETROLEUM REDUCED.

New York, May 27.—The Standard Oil Company of New York has announced a reduction of ten points in the price of refined petroleum for export, making refined in tanks five cents per gallon, refined in cases 11 cents, the Standard white at New York and Philadelphia, 8.50 cents.

HUERTA'S WITHDRAWAL CONSIDERED POSSIBLE

Practical Fashion Hints

By Alice Olivier

8160

For sports wear, there is nothing quite so comfortable and practical as the middy blouse. This design, No. 8160, shows a kimono shoulder, the back extending over the fronts to form one of the new yokes which appear in so many frocks and blouses this season. This waist may be made of heavy linen, duck or serge if it is intended for sports wear; it is quite a fad to make them up in colored silks to wear with tailored suits. Another feature of this design, which makes it perhaps a little more dressy than the regular middy, is the low-hung stitched belt. If white serge were used, collar and cuffs would be effective made of black satin. White bone buttons extending down the front would add another pleasing note. To make this waist in size 36, 2⅝ yards of 36-inch material are needed. The pattern is cut in seven sizes, 30 to 42.

This is a Perfect Pattern.

Be sure to give right size, measuring over the fullest part of the bust for dimensions.

The pattern may be obtained by sending name and address, pattern No. and size and fifteen cents to DAVID SPENCER LIMITED.

CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF NANAIMO, B. C.

A BYLAW NO.—

To authorize the borrowing of the sum of Thirty thousand dollars for the purpose of improving and extending the distribution system of the Water-works of this city, and to reimburse the general revenue of the City for advances made during the year 1913 for water-works construction account in anticipation of a loan being raised, and

Whereas the proposed extension of the distribution system will materially increase the revenue for the said Water-works, and

Whereas in order to carry out the proposed extension and improvements, it will be necessary to raise by way of debentures upon the credit of the City of Nanaimo, the sum of Thirty Thousand Dollars, repayable in twenty-five years from the date hereinafter fixed for this Bylaw to take effect, with interest in the meantime payable half yearly at the rate of 5½ per cent per annum, and

Whereas it will be necessary to raise in each year, during the currency of any or all said debentures, by special rate for the purpose of paying the said debt and interest, the sum of $2472.81, whereof the sum of $1650.00 is to be raised annually for payment of interest during the currency of the said debentures, and $822.81 is to be raised annually for the purpose of creating a sinking fund for the payment of the debt secured by the said debentures, and

Whereas the whole rateable property of the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo, according to the revised assessment roll for the year 1913 is $4,907,555.00, and the total existing debenture debt of the said city is $599,500.00, exclusive of works of local improvement and for school purposes, and

Whereas this bylaw may not be altered or repealed except with the consent of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

Be it therefore enacted by the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo as follows:

1. For the purpose of improving and extending the distribution system of the City of Nanaimo within the corporate limits, and the repayment of certain expenditures on water works construction account, it shall be lawful for the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo to raise or cause to be raised by way of loan from any person or persons, body or bodies corporate who may be willing to advance the same upon the credit of the debentures hereinafter mentioned, a sum of money not exceeding in the whole the sum of Thirty Thousand Dollars, and cause the same to be paid into the hands of the Treasurer of the said City for the purposes and object before recited.

2. It shall be lawful for the said corporation to cause any number of debentures to be made, executed and issued, not exceeding in the whole the sum of Thirty Thousand Dollars for such sums of money of not less than $100.00 each, as may be required, and all such debentures shall be sealed with the seal of the said Corporation of the City of Nanaimo, and be signed by the Mayor of the said City and countersigned by the City Clerk.

3. The said debentures shall bear date of the 2nd. July, 1914, and shall be payable in twenty-five years from said date, at the office of the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo and shall have attached to them Coupons for the payment of interest and the signature or signatures to the said coupons may be either written, stamped, printed or lithographed.

4. The said debentures shall bear interest at the rate of 5½ per cent. per annum from the date thereof which interest shall be payable half yearly on the second day of January and July, in each and every year during the currency of said debentures at the office of the Corporation in the said City of Nanaimo.

5. There shall be raised and levied in each year during the currency of the said debentures the sum of $1650.00 for the payment of interest, and the sum of $822.81 for the purpose of creating a sinking fund for the payment of the debt due under the said debentures, making in all the sum of $2472.81.

6. There shall be levied and raised in each and every year until the said debentures and interest thereon shall be paid, a special rate on all rateable land or improvements or real property of the City, in addition to all other rates, sufficient to pay the interest and create a sinking fund for the payment of the debentures.

7. It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the said Corporation to dispose of the said debentures at a rate below par, and to authorize the Treasurer to pay out of the sums so raised by the sale of the said debentures all expenses connected with the preparation of the debentures and coupons, or any discount or commission or other charges incidental to the sale of said debentures.

8. This Bylaw shall take effect on the 2nd. day of July, 1914.

9. This Bylaw may be cited as the Water Works Loan Bylaw, 1914.

10. This Bylaw before the final passing thereof, shall receive the assent of the electors of the City of Nanaimo, in the manner provided by the Municipal Act.

Passed on the 18th May, 1914.

NOTICE

Take notice that the above is a true copy of the proposed Bylaw, upon which the vote of the municipality will be taken at the Old Court House, Front street, Nanaimo, on Monday the 8th day of June, 1914, from 9 o'clock a. m. to 7 o'clock, p. m.

LOCAL BAND'S EXPLANATION

Silver Cornet Band Makes Statement Regarding Cancelling of Engagement For Victoria Day Celebration.

The Herald has been asked to publish the following statement from the committee of the Silver Cornet Band in explanation of its action towards the 24th of May celebration. It is a simple and moderate statement, and it is only fair to the members of the band that it should be published. It is as follows:

To the People of Nanaimo—

We, the members of the Silver Cornet Band, feel it our duty to explain the step taken by us in cancelling the verbal agreement to play for the 24th of May Celebration in Nanaimo. In order to do so, it becomes necessary to refer back to the commencement of the present industrial trouble which began on May 1st, 1913. Prior to that date, it had been customary for the band to give open air concerts and parades, without interference by local authorities. Since the present trouble arose, the band has been forbidden by the local authorities to render any music to the people, except it be a march through the streets, but on all occasions we were given instructions that we were not to play standing still, with the result that the band has been unable to play or give any concert as they did prior to the present trouble. These restrictions upon the band were in themselves sufficient cause for trouble-makers, but our troubles were not yet at an end. A short time before May 1st, arrangements were made by the above band to play for the U. M. W. of A. Celebration, but were again forbidden to play upon the streets of Nanaimo by the local authorities, and also advised (through the press) to carry our instruments under our arms to the place where the celebration was to be held. This day's playing being concluded, the band then entered into negotiations with the 24th of May Celebration Committee. This part of the band's business did not meet with the approval of certain individuals of the U. M. W. of A., who, not being content to mind their own business, thought the band's negotiations with the 24th of May Celebration Committee part of their business and did not fail to try and impress this upon the several individual members of the band whenever and wherever opportunity offered. The members of the band were grossly insulted, the word "scab" being freely used. This treatment from both sides was therefore the cause of the motion cancelling the band's agreement to play on the 24th of May.

(Signed) BAND COMMITTEE.

MILLIONS LOST BY SOUTHERN PACIFIC

San Francisco, May 28.—Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the executive board of the Southern Pacific railroad, who is here today, said the company had suffered a loss this year in gross earnings of more than $5,000,000, as compared with figures for the same period in 1913. Unfavorable industrial conditions were given as the chief cause.

Among the passengers from Vancouver last evening on the S. S. Princess Patricia were J. A. Macdonald, Hy. Reifel, J. C. McGregor, Mrs. W. Wells, Mrs. Masters and Miss Freeman.

TO MAKE START ON B. C. UNIVERSITY

Vancouver, May 28.—By next week the board of governors of the University of British Columbia expect to be able to advertise for tenders for the science building, the first of the buildings to be erected at the university site.

Yesterday afternoon Sir Richard McBride was taken over the site by the board of governors and was shown the location of the building by Architect Sharpe. Matters of detail in connection with the building were informally discussed, and an arrangement was made for the board of governors to visit Victoria tomorrow. At a conference to be arranged in the legislative building, the final matters which are necessary before the tenders are called for and contracts let, will be gone into.

A block plan showing the whole of the university buildings in miniature form as they will be upon the university campus, has been prepared, and will shortly be shown on exhibition in one of the local public buildings.

A squadron of the B. C. Horse, Vancouver, in camp at Vernon, went on strike yesterday in protest of the small quantity of food allotted them. The morning parade was held up an hour when the strikers were promised that their complaint would be remedied.

HOT WEATHER IN NEW YORK.

New York, May 28.—The weather in New York today was hot, but not as hot as yesterday. Up to noon no deaths attributable to the heat had been reported. At 1 p.m. the mercury stood at eighty-three degrees, compared with 90 at the same time yesterday. There were half a dozen prostrations.

In the House of Commons yesterday resolutions by Oliver and Pugsley on the Canadian Northern question were defeated by the usual government majority.

FAREWELL TO REV. THOMPSON

Pastor of the Wallace Street Methodist Church Will Preach Farewell Sermon Sunday—Will be Rendered Farewell Banquet.

Rev. S. J. Thompson, for the past four years pastor of the Wallace St. Methodist church, who at the recent session of the annual conference of the church in B. C. was appointed pastor of Wesley church Victoria, will leave the city next week to enter upon the duties connected with his new field of labor.

Rev. Thompson will preach his farewell sermon on Sunday evening next, and on the Wednesday evening following he will be tendered a farewell banquet by the members of his church and congregation.

Rev. Hardy of New Westminster, who relieves Rev. Thompson at Wallace street, is expected to arrive in the city the latter part of next week.

CHARGED WITH FRAUD.

San Francisco, May 28.—Four officials of the Mexican Gold & Silver Mining Company are charged in a suit filed here by J. H. Berghauser and William C. Ralston, stockholders with having manipulated fraudulently the company's books.

INJURED BY ICE WAGON.

East Orange, N. J., May 28.— Alfonso Madero, three year old son of Emilio Madero, a brother of the late president of Mexico, was run over today by an ice wagon and seriously injured.

SPECIAL COURSES FOR TEACHERS

Now that the school trustees have been paying considerable attention to school gardens, it is interesting to note that particular attention is to be paid this subject at the summer course of instruction to be held for provincial teachers in the Victoria High School during the holidays.

Part of the school garden course is to be given in the lecture room, but most of it will be conducted in laboratory, garden and field.

Besides Saturday excursions, there will be, almost daily, short field trips for the study of plant and animal life, gardens, etc. Saturdays will be devoted mainly to excursions. An effort will be made to arrange for a number of special lectures during the course, dealing with improvement of home grounds, home sanitation, and public health, agriculture, plant diseases and astronomy.

A reference library on rural science subjects will be available for class use during the summer school, but teachers who are admitted to the course should bring with them such books as they may have, which deal with topics in the above course.

An interim elementary certificate in rural science and school gardens will be awarded to each student who successfully completes this course.

It is likely some local teachers will attend the school.

NANAIMO GIRL WEDS IN VANCOUVER

A marriage of interest to many Nanaimo people took place in Vancouver on Tuesday May 26th., when Miss A. Bailes, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bailes, formerly of Nanaimo, was married to Mr. Sidney S. Nicoll of Nancouver. The marriage took place at the residence of the bride's parents 56, 17th Ave., West, in the presence of a number of immediate friends and was performed by Rev. J. R. Robertson of St. Davids Church, formerly of St. Andrew's Church, Nanaimo. The witnesses to the event were Mr. J. A. Jossy and Miss E. P. Morningstar. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party sat down to a delightful marriage supper.

The young couple will proceed to Montana, U.S.A., where they will make their future home. The many friends of Miss Bailes in Nanaimo will wish Mr. and Mrs. Nicoll very much happiness and prosperity throughout their future career.

C. P. R. LINER IN COLLISION

Empress of Ireland Collides With German Steamer Hanover—Wireless Signals Suddenly Stop—Fate of Vessel Not Known.

Farther Point, Quebec, May 29.—The C. P. R. S. S. Empress of Ireland was in collision 30 miles east of Farther Point at 2:30 this morning. S. O. S. wireless signals was the first announcement received here of the collision and the Government steamers Eureka and Lady Evelyn were rushed to the scene at once.

Communication was kept up with the steamer for a short time when it suddenly stopped and at 3:30 the fate of the Empress of Ireland is unknown. It is believed the collision occurred with the German steamer Hanover. At 3:30 there was no sign of the Empress of Ireland or the Hanover but lifeboats can be seen in the vicinity of the Eureka and the Lady Evelyn.

The Empress of Ireland sailed from Montreal yesterday afternoon, with more than 1200 persons aboard including a party of Salvationists en route to London where they were to attend a conference and as the steamer left the dock the Army band played "God be With You Till We Meet Again." The Empress was in command of Capt. Kendall, R. N., and had 77 passengers in the first class, 206 in the second and 504 in the steerage.

FORT GEORGE LOTS.

Victoria, May 28.—Messrs. Armstrong and Ellis, selling agents, yesterday held the first day's session at Victoria of the government auction sale of property at Fort George, Prince George and South Fort George.

In all 131 lots were disposed of, the sum realized at the morning and afternoon sessions was approximately $80,000. The lots ran from $100. to $7020, the latter being situated on third avenue, Prince George, and being an inside lot.

Most of the purchasers were from outside points and the major portion were men familiar with the Fort George district.

LOCAL OWNERS ENTER APPEAL

Appeals Entered Against Land Assessment Before Court of Revision Which Will Hold Sittings On June 15.

A committee of the City Council sitting as a Court of Revision will meet on Monday, June 15th, to hear appeals against the assessments as levied by the City Assessor of Nanaimo.

Appeals against the assessment must be entered at the City Hall not later than Friday, June 5th, otherwise they will not be considered.

Up to date the following appeals have been entered:

Frank Hazelhurst, Sec. 1-3, Lot 5, Blk F—claims value of improvements wrong.

G. M. Boyyer, Sec. D 3 G 3 and G 4 Blk. N—claims that land assessment is excessive.

R. M. McGarrigle, Lots 13 and 14, Blk. D—claims that assessment is excessive.

H. Charman claims that he is unproperly assessed.

Thomas D. Jones, Lots 9 and 10, Blk. 34, Lot 12, Blk. 19; Lot 11, Blk. 13; Lots N half of 9, N half of 10-A—claims land assessment is too high.

Snatching up a big fifteen- inch 45-calibre revolver from its place beneath the counter, Miss J. W. Suffragettes got into the Buckingham Palace Grounds yesterday and smashed several windows in the Royal Palace.

MILITARY REPORT ON LUDLOW FIGHT

The Coal Age, in its issue of May 16, gives a synopsis of the report of the military board which conducted an investigation into the fighting around the tent colony at Ludlow, in Colorado. Seeing that there has been so many contradictory reports of this regrettable occurrence the finding of this board of inquiry will be read with considerable interest.

The military board condemned the operators for having introduced lawlessness in the persons of "ignorant, lawless and savage Southern Europeans." They declare that the Greeks deliberately prepared for battle, and from the report it may be gathered that the Greeks desired to fire on the militia from the camp, hoping that the fire would not be returned because there were women and children living there. To protect these non-combatants, however, they constructed shelters or pits for some of them and removed others before opening fire on the militia.

The board declared that the Greeks intended on the Greek Easter to open fire on the militia, but they were too drunk at that time to prosecute their scheme. The attack was then to be made on Tuesday, but the moving of the militia from Cedar Hill to Water Tank Hill made the strikers believe that an attempt would be made by the militia to attack the camp and secure the person of Carlindo Tuttoilmando, a nonunion miner who was held prisoner in Ludlow camp.

We find, says the report, that in apparent anticipation of the battle of Ludlow, rifle pits were prepared by the Greeks on the south and west side of their colony, along the country roads and close to the tents. These rifle pits show conclusively the careful and deliberate preparation of the strikers for the battle; and the location of these pits along the front and side of the colony nearest to the militia camp was such that when used they could not be defended without firing into the colony. Such care had the strikers themselves for their women and children that these pits were located where any return of the fire from them would be drawn directly into the colony itself.

Major Hamrock tested his range with the machine guns and sent them directly into the first tents of the colony. It could not be supposed that any women, children, or other non-combatants remained in the camp itself. They had been seen departing early in the morning, and it was impossible to believe that the strikers would draw the fire of the opponents from all sides into the colony if any women and children remained there.

As one tent caught fire after another, some of the men having nearly reached the tent colony heard the screams of the women and called to the men whom they saw firing from the tents to get their women out. The only answer was the words: "You go to ——," spoken with a foreign accent and accompanied by a rain of shots.

The men in the colony being driven back and the presence of women thus being known, Captain Carson, Lieutenant Linderfelt and other officers and men made a dash in among the burning tents for the purpose of rescuing the women. At first they took several women from the tents, some of which were burning and some not. They then discovered subterranean pits beneath many of the tents, and some of them were stored with human occupants.

When the pits were discovered, the difficulty of getting out the women and children increased. Lieutenant Linderfelt took a woman from one tent who could not speak English. She made him understand he must return. She went back with him and indicated one of the holes in the ground, from which the lieutenant took two little children in the nick of time. Captain Carson related that when he was in an apparently open-floored tent he heard the crying or whining of something living beneath. He had to chop away the floor, which was nailed down upon these people, to get them out.

During the whole time that this rescue work was going on the colony

$15,000 FOR LOCAL HARBOR

The Supplementary Estimates Tabled in House of Commons Yesterday Contain Grant For Nanaimo Harbor Improvements.

Ottawa, May 28.—The supplementary estimates were laid on the table of the House by Hon. W. T. White this morning. They total $17,438,912. Out of this amount $9,666,197 is chargeable to revenue, and $7,752,715 to capital account. The main estimates for the year show a decrease of $11,920,990, which means that the total estimates will be about five and a half million more than last year. The total main estimates for this year were $190,733,176. An additional militia estimate of $1,240,638 is provided for in the supplementary list, the largest item being $218,000, devoted to complete the Connaught rifle range at Ottawa. There is an additional amount of $103,000 to complete armories undertaken last year. There is a sum of $35,000 for seed grain for settlers on unplanted lands in the three prairie provinces.

New votes for the railway department includes $1,000,000 toward the construction of a railway to connect Montreal with the National Transcontinental Railway.

A million dollars is provided for the National Transcontinental Railway, a million for the Quebec bridge, and a million for the Welland Ship Canal work. Half a million is placed in the estimates for Port Arthur and Fort William Harbor improvements. One of the biggest votes is that for the construction and completion of a dredging plant in the River St. Lawrence.

Votes for public buildings include $25,000 for a customs examining ware house at Fort William, $20,000 for a drill hall at Kenora, $20,000 for a customs warehouse at Port Arthur and $23,000 for a new immigration building at Winnipeg.

Ten thousand dollars is provided for investigating the possible existence of radium bearing ores in Canada.

Cranbrook, public building, $2000 Ganges Harbor, public building, $5000; Grand Forks, public building, $3000; Port Alberni, public building, $30,000; Powell River, public building $10,000; Vancouver, examining warehouse, $15,000; Vancouver, old post-office building, $5000; Victoria, old post office building to pay taxes due the city, $7764.23; Victoria observatory, etc., $5000; Victoria, postoffice improvements $50,000.

Harbor and river votes for British Columbia include $150,000 for the Arrowhead wharf; $15,000 for the Nanaimo harbor improvements, and $15,000 for improvements to the Thompson River at Kamloops.

There is an additional $200,000 provided for the British Columbia dredging fleet; $60,000 is provided for the removal of obstructions in the Fraser River.

Spokane had a big bonfire the other day when the city burned up 168 cases of Chinese eggs owned by the Cchallinger Produce Company. The city bacteriologist captured 90,000,000 bacteria single-handed in one egg without being bitten or receiving a scratch.

TOWNS IN LINE OF FOREST FIRE

Ten Mile Stretch of New Brunswick Devastated by Fire—Inhabitants Suffer From Terrific Heat.

St. Johns, N. B., May 28.—Dense clouds of smoke hanging in a pall over the country side for miles along the Canadian Pacific railway line between Blagden and Westfield mark the approach of a terrible conflagration which has raged in the back lands since Sunday afteroon. The forest fires now threaten destruction to several villages in a district covering upward of ten miles along the line of the danger zone. The flames have advanced fourteen miles towards the railroad track since Monday and have swept the country bare for upward of ten miles along the right of way.

Preparations have been made at Enniskillen, Blagden and other villages to fight the fire and the roofs of the houses have been drenched with water as the intense heat has already made the buildings as dry as tinder. The air is dark with flying cinders and the trees ; and grass are dying for want of moisture. Gaspereaux district is in grave danger as the flames are sweeping rapidly in the direction of the village.

Fire trains have been ordered out to fight the flames on the Brownville division of the Canadian Pacific railway, and it is expected the railway will be compelled to order out crews here in the vicinity of the city, if the blaze continues to approach the right of way.

The property in the fire zone is said to be owned by John E. Moore of this city, the Powell and Eastman Pulp Company, the Province and others.

All reports tell of heavy smoke clouds travelling, for miles and shutting out the sun. The terrific heat has made the air almost breathless to human beings, and is a messenger of death to trees and plants.

HINDUS HAVE NO CHANCE TO LAND

Vancouver, May 28.—There is nothing new in the situation arising out of the arrival here of the Japanese steamer Komagata Maru, with 376 Hindus aboard who were refused a landing by the local Immigration authorities.

The Hindus have appealed to the British India office and also to the Viceroy of India requesting both to use their influence with the Canadian Government to allow them to land in Canada. This, however, the Canadian authorities refuse to do, leaving the matter entirely in the hands of the local authorities who have refused landing to any of the Hindu passengers with the exception of 22 who are returning to Canada from a visit to India.

"BOB" HINDMARSH BUYS "THE OASIS"

"Bob" Hindmarsh, a native son of of Nanaimo and one of the most popular young men of the city has purchased "The Oasis" from Mr. George Prevodoris, and will enter into possession of the business this morning.

"Bob" will have his brother, "Jack" associated with him in the business in which they are no strangers. "Bob" has been connected with Mr. Fred Clarke for the past five years and is thoroughly qualified to handle the ice cream and confectionery business in all its branches.

Under the management of Mr. Prevadoris "The Oasis" enjoyed a lucrative trade and there is no doubt the business will continue to enjoy the patronage of the public under the new popular young proprietor.

AUTHORITY IN SPORT

From an interview appearing in the Victoria press, Dr. Johnson, the president of the Canadian Amateur Union, takes a wider and more tolerant view of sport than many of his associates. He states that his board is simply an advisory one, having control in all matters affecting amateurism. At the same time, whether it be true or not, the board has given the impression that it was resolute to force its dominance over all the activities of all sport bodies. Even such a policy as this would not have been so bad, but it has been carried out spasmodically and without any definite scheme or settled system. This is the reason why such a haphazard condition of things should have arisen in Canadian sports particularly out on the coast. Take association football on the Island and the mainland for the last half dozen years. There has been no real guiding authority, and such cities as Vancouver and Victoria have done very much as they pleased. There was a Vancouver Island League and a Mainland League, and the winners in each league played off for the championship. The competition ran along smoothly enough, and the class of football was improving all the time. Then the Mainland Association, because of the accident of its name, endeavored to set up as the governing body in provincial football, claiming obedience from the older Island association, and there was friction. Next Victoria grew dissatisfied with the Island League. None of its teams were able to capture the championship, so it started an association of its own. There was absolutely no reason nor necessity for it. If there had been a strong central association it could never have been done, except upon cause shown, and as it is forms a travestry upon the name of good sport. Leaving Victoria's part in it all for the moment the condition of things leading up to this development was largely the result of the Canadian Amateur Union. The footballers on the coast are chiefly old country players, and accustomed to English and Scottish rules and rulings. According to the governing bodies of both England and Scotland an amateur in football may play either with or against a professional. It is the same in old country cricket. Simon pure amateurs like Lord Hawke play and fraternize with men like Hirst and Rhodes. In Canada nothing of this kind is permitted and this explains why so many western football associations have fought the Amateur Union and refused to yield obedience to its authority. For years there has been talk of bringing a British professional team out on a tour of Canada. We have always wondered what would happen if such a tour was carried out. On the coast here it would have been easy to get up a team to meet the visitors without regard to either associations or unions. But now Dr. Johnson says that if Blackburn Rovers or Sunderland come to Canada next year the union will grant a special sanction permitting Canadian amateurs to play against the visiting Englishmen provided they do not share in the gate receipts. If the union can do anything of the kind then it has more power than it ought to have. It has stubbornly refused to consider the adoption of the British system. Its only reason for suspending its own rules is that it does not wish to appear as anti-sports. As a matter of fact by its adherence to this rule it has been killing not spelling sport. Association football, the grandest of all British winter pastimes, has fallen away tremendously these last few years, and the Amateur Union is not without responsibility for it. If for the good of the game the rule forbidding the playing together of amateurs and professionals can be suspended in such a contingency as this, then for the general development of the game it can be dispensed with for good and all.

THE BAND'S STATEMENT

We publish in our news columns a statement from the Silver Cornet Band giving its reasons for refusing to play for the Victoria Day celebration. The explanation bears out the previous assertion of the Herald that the action of the band was forced upon it by outside interference. It makes another of the many regrettable incidents which have marred the conduct of the local mining dispute, and we can only hope that as the bitterness of the struggle dies away such factional vindictiveness will be forgotten and the old harmonious feelings in the city will be resumed. There is only one part of the band's statement which calls for a little comment. Reference is made to the restrictions placed upon the band by the local authorities. The band does not actually state that it was being singled out or discriminated against by the authorities, but it is possible that such a construction may be placed upon it by the trouble-makers also alluded to in the statement. Of course it isn't true. The authorities were certainly not responsible for the conditions under which the whole community suffered, and which made it necessary to take unusual steps for the preservation of law and order. A little more of the Silver Cornet Band's music and a little less mob rowdyism last August would have been much more agreeable for the authorities. They had, however, to govern their action by what happened and not by what they would have liked to happen. A good deal has been said first and last of the action of the authorities on the 1st of May. Yet nobody could deny that such a demonstration contained possibilities of serious trouble. It has to be admitted that there had been trouble before the authorities took decisive action, and that even a few days before May 1st a murderous outrage was perpetrated at Chase River. There have been other outrages since, many of which have never been recorded. There was no trouble on May 1st. It is also absurd to claim that the conditions were the same on the 24th as on the 1st of May. The demonstration on May 1st was a purely factional affair, organized by the United Mine Workers of America, for the purpose of celebrating the anniversary of all the trouble in the city. Granted that it was promoted in the interests of the men out of work, it was against the interests of the men at work. There were and are two antagonistic camps and remembering all that had passed and all that was happening the authorities were in duty bound to take all necessary precautions. On the other hand there was no hint of factional in the Victoria Day celebration. It was not organized by and for the men now at work. It was promoted by the citizens and for the citizens and embraced the whole community without regard to any differences or disputes of any kind. The band can properly be regarded as a city band, its instruments were supplied by public subscriptions, it has been supported by public donations, and no stigma of any kind could be attached to its members for playing in the Victoria Day celebration.

There seems every probability that the mediation conferences now in progress at Niagara Falls will result in the establishment of at least a temporary peace in Mexico. While the full details of the plan of pacification have not been divulged it is known that its main essentials have been agreed upon. A provisional president, who will complete the late President Madero's term of office, assisted by four cabinet ministers, is to be appointed. These appointees will be agreeable to all Mexican nationals and acceptable to the United States. Their appointment, it is expected will end the civil war in Mexico, and will be the signal for the withdrawal of the United States troops now in the republic. When the term of office of this provisional government expires in 1916 elections for president and members of congress will be held as usual. The plan is based on the fact that the members of the provisional government will all be neutral men and thus for the time being Huerta is eliminated and so also are Carranza, Villa and Zapata and the other military leaders now in the field. Of course, any of these men will be eligible for office when the elections take place, but perhaps by that time faction will have died down and peaceful government will be established. In view of the turbulent history of the country for the last decade such a consummation is very unlikely, but it is something gained at present if we secure the opportunity of bringing it about.

Another time-honored Scottish custom has gone by the board. The announcement has been made that the "Drink before ten law" is to be rigorously enforced. This means that the workers in the Scottish shipyards will be unable to get their usual "eye-opener" before breakfast. Many of them, according to a London despatch made it a practice to take a nip of "whiskey," followed by a schooner of beer as a chaser, on their way to the yards. It is said that the custom was not only detrimental to their health, but led to excessive drinking at other periods of the day. The decree has accordingly gone forth that there is to be no more anti-breakfast nips, and Scotland has advanced another step in the march to temperance.

FORTY HORSES BURNED TO DEATH

Hamilton, Ont., May 28.— Fire of unknown origin broke out last night in the premises of the Wood Milling Company. Behind the plant was a two-story frame stable, which was completely gutted, and forty valuable horses were burned to death. The four-story brick block was almost destroyed, and the flames were threatening the whole of the business block next to it.

MANY FACED DEATH.

Detroit, Mich., May 28.—Forty-seven persons, including firemen, policemen and immigrants were overcome by smoke from a fire which broke out last night in the basement of the Fort street union station. The condition of some of these was said to be dangerous.

Bijou Theatre

Good crowds continue to attend the Bijou, the program last night being one of absorbing interest, consisting of a sparkling comedy film and a splendid two-reel drama.

The feature of this evening's entertainment is a two-reel Cines entitled "The Greatest Gift," an emotional drama. Other pictures on the program are an Edison drama entitled "The Mountaineers," a Kalem comedy "Her Fallen Hero," and a Pathegraph comedy "The Chicken Inspector."

Practical Fashion Hints

By Alice Gibson

Bordered materials, batiste, voile and crepe will be much used for simple little summer frocks. This design, No. 7620, is excellently suited to any of these materials. The blouse crosses surplice fashion, in the front and closes in the back. The "V"-shaped opening may be filled in with a short net guimpe. The skirt is a three-piece model, gathered slightly at the top and having three large tucks at the bottom which give the effect of a three tiered skirt. If this dress were developed in a plain material, taffeta, silk poplin or voile, it would be a very attractive frock for afternoons during the summer and early fall. The old-fashioned quillings and plaitings of grandmother's day are coming into vogue again for trimming purposes. A narrow plaiting of a contrasting silk could be effectively used to outline the "V" on the front and back of this bodice and to finish the sleeves. It could also be used at the top of the skirt instead of the sash, if preferred. Six yards of 36-inch material will be needed to make this dress in size 36. The pattern is cut in five sizes, 34 to 42.

This is a Perfect Pattern.

Be sure to give right size, measuring over the fullest part of the bust for dimensions.

The pattern may be obtained by sending name and address, pattern No. and size and fifteen cents to DAVID SPENCER LIMITED.

MILITARY REPORT ON LUDLOW FIGHT.

was under fire, and by taking the greatest risk of destruction by making targets of themselves in the light of the burning tents, the uniformed militia did its noteworthy work.

We find that the work of rescuing some 25 or 30 women and children by Lieutenant Linderfelt, Captain Carson, and the squads under their command, was under all the circumstances truly heroic and must stand out boldly in contradistinction to the abandonment of the helpless women and children by their own people, and the subsequent efforts to kill their rescuers regardless of the safety of the rescued.

It was supposed by the officers after a thorough search of the colony that all the remaining women and children had been taken out. The event proved that one of the pits had been missed in the search. In this pit was discovered two women and eleven children, all dead. This chamber of death measured in feet. 8x6x4½. When found it was almost closed. If these women and children were placed in this pit at any time during the morning, it is our belief that they died of suffocation hours before the pit caught fire.

We find that the tents were not all destroyed by accidental fire. Men and soldiers swarmed into the colony and deliberately assisted the conflagration by spreading the fire from tent to tent. Beyond a doubt it was seen that the fire would destroy the whole colony. This was accompanied by usual loot. So deliberate was this burning and looting that we found that cans of oil found in the tents were poured about them and the tents lighted with matches.

We find that the dominant feeling among the refugee colonists on Monday night, and before the second thought came to them or was suggested to them, was resentment toward the Greeks for starting the battle. This resentment prevailed even over their animosity against the soldiers, but the incident was later made a candle to inflame the minds of these deluded men to the acts of slaughter and rapine that followed throughout the state.

It was made the excuse of many bold and defiant utterances and acts of treason against the state by certain union leaders, who had the opportunity by their influence and authority to prove themselves really great and good men, and worthy citizens. Instead, by all means of exaggeration, incendiarism, and treasonable practices, they made of the battle of Ludlow a means of organizing a real rebellion with its attendant awful consequences.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining right of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-west Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Applications for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-agent in the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or sub-agent of Dominion Lands.

ONE BRIDGE MEXICANS WILL NOT BLOW UP.

This is the railroad bridge at La Trejor, a few miles outside of Vera Cruz and considered one of the most strategic points in the vicinity of the Mexican port. At La Trejor is situated the water plant which supplies the city with drinking water. Also at this point the railroad runs directly into high hills. The bridge is across a rather deep gorge and its destruction would mean a considerable delay for the American army in case a march was ordered on Mexico City. For this reason General Funston has placed a heavy guard at the bridge and a close lookout is kept over the actions of Mexicans in the neighborhood.

THREE KILLED IN WRECK

Auckland, New Zealand, May 28.—Three passengers were killed and many seriously hurt in a collision between an express and a freight train at Whangamarinau yesterday. The passenger train was proceeding at 35 miles an hour when it crashed into the slow-moving freight, both trains being wrecked in the smash-up. A misunderttanding of signals is believed to have been the cause of the disaster.

FEWER IMMIGRANTS

Ottawa, May 28.—Immigration to Canada during April showed a decrease of 52 per cent, as compared with April, 1913. The total immigration during the month was 35,432, made up of 10,032 British; 11,748 Americans; and 13,653 from all other countries. During April, 1913, the total number was 73,285 composed of 25,566 British; 19,200 Americans and 28,459 from all other countries. This decrease is expected to be maintained, it being anticipated that the new arrivals this year, will be fully fifty per cent less than during the previous year.

GREECE TO BUY OLD U. S. WARSHIPS

Washington, May 28.—A plan for disposing of the battleships Idaho and Mississippi to a foreign power for just what the United States paid for their construction was laid before the senate naval affairs committee today by Senator Daniels.

Greece is understood to be negotiating for the Mississippi and the Idaho. The United States has never before sold battleships to a foreign power, although it has condemned them and afterwarhs sold them without armament.

The ships have been in commission since 1908. The Mississippi cost $5,832,000 and the Idaho $5,894,000. Secretary Daniels asked for an amendment to the naval bill permitting the sale and providing that the money be used in the construction of one dreadnought in addition to the two dreadnoughts already provided for in the bill as it passed the House.

Secretary Daniels explained to the committee that while he expected to get about $12,000,000 for the two ships, he would be able to make up the $14,000,000 needed for a new Dreadnought by economy in other lines.

Mr. Daniels told the committee that while the Idaho and Mississippi were efficient ships for harbor defense, they were not modern enough to go into line of battle.

Mr. Daniels' proposal met with the approval of a majority of the committee, and an amendment embodying the plan was prepared for presentation to the senate.

TORTURED WITH RHEUMATISM

Could Not Walk, Until "Fruit-a-tives" Completely Cured Him

CHATHAM, ONT., April 3rd. 1913.

"I am a veteran of the Crimean War and the Indian Mutiny, volunteering from the Royal Artillery into the Royal Engineers, and served under Lord Roberts during the Indian Mutiny, and am a pensioner of the British Government. Fierce hand-to-hand fighting and continual exposure, left me a great sufferer from Rheumatism, so much so that my legs swelled up, making it impossible for me to walk. My bowels were so constipated that I only had one passage a week until I got to using "Fruit-a-tives". They cured me of both the Rheumatism and Constipation. In my regular employment, I walk thirty miles a day and enjoy perfect health. No more Rheumatism or Constipation. You are at perfect liberty to publish this letter if it will be advantageous to "Fruit-a-tives".

SEVERE EARTHQUAKE ON FRIENDLY ISLANDS

Sydney, N. S. W., May 28.—The most severe earthquake shock ever registered by Australian seismographs were recorded at 12.33 a.m. by instruments at the government observatory at Riverview. The waves lasted three hours. Indications were that the upheaval was in the neighborhood of the Friendly Islands, in the Southern Pacific.

Seven new postoffices were opened in British Columbia during the month of April, according to the current issue of the Canada Gazette. These are Riverside Inn, with the proprietor of the Inn, Thomas Geier, as postmaster; Latilla and Port Clements, in Comox-Atlin; Joyce, in the city of Vancouver; Lake Buntzen, in the constituency of New Westminster; Moerissey and Sinclair in Kootenay. The name of Newport Beach office has been changed to Squamish, to agree with the adoption of the new name by the Pacific Great Eastern Railway company as the name of its terminal there.

CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF NANAIMO, B. C.

A BYLAW.
NO.—

To authorize the borrowing of the sum of Thirty thousand dollars for the purpose of improving and extending the distribution system of the Water-works of this city, and to reimburse the general revenue of the City for advances made during the year 1913 for water-works construction account in anticipation of a loan being raised, and

Whereas the proposed extension of the distribution system will materially increase the revenue for the said Water-works, and

Whereas in order to carry out the proposed extension and improvements, it will be necessary to raise by way of debentures upon the credit of the City of Nanaimo, the sum of Thirty Thousand Dollars, repayable in twenty-five years from the date hereinafter fixed for this Bylaw to take effect, with interest in the meantime payable half yearly at the rate of 5½ per cent per annum, and

Whereas it will be necessary to raise in each year, during the currency of any or all said debentures, by special rate for the purpose of paying the said debt and interest, the sum of $2472.81, whereof the sum of $1650.00 is to be raised annually for payment of interest during the currency of the said debentures, and $822.81 is to be raised annually for the purpose of creating a sinking fund for the payment of the debt secured by the said debentures, and

Whereas the whole rateable property of the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo, according to the revised assessment roll for the year 1913 is $4,907,555.00, and the total existing debenture debt of the said city is $599,500.00, exclusive of works of local improvement and for school purposes, and

Whereas this bylaw may not be altered or repealed except with the consent of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

Be it therefore enacted by the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo as follows:

1. For the purpose of improving and extending the distribution system of the City of Nanaimo within the corporate limits, and the repayment of certain expenditures on water works construction account, it shall be lawful for the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo to raise or cause to be raised by way of loan from any person or persons, body or bodies corporate who may be willing to advance the same upon the credit of the debentures hereinafter mentioned, a sum of money not exceeding in the whole the sum of Thirty Thousand Dollars, and cause the same to be paid into the hands of the Treasurer of the said City for the purpose and object before recited.

2. It shall be lawful for the said corporation to cause any number of debentures to be made, executed and issued, not exceeding in the whole the sum of Thirty Thousand Dollars for such sums of money of not less than $100.00 each, as may be required, and all such debentures shall be sealed with the seal of the said Corporation of the City of Nanaimo, and be signed by the Mayor of the said City and countersigned by the City Clerk.

3. The said debentures shall bear date of the 2nd. July, 1914, and shall be payable in twenty-five years from said date, at the office of the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo, and shall have attached to them Coupons for the payment of interest and the signature or signatures to the said coupons may be either written, stamped, printed or lithographed.

4. The said debentures shall bear interest at the rate of 5½ per cent. per annum from the date thereof which interest shall be payable half yearly on the second day of January and July, in each and every year during the currency of said debentures at the office of the Corporation in the said City of Nanaimo.

5. There shall be raised and levied in each year during the currency of the said debentures the sum of $1650.00 for the payment of interest, and the sum of $822.81 for the purpose of creating a sinking fund for the payment of the debt due under the said debentures, making in all the sum of $2472.81.

6. There shall be levied and raised in each and every year until the said debentures and interest thereon shall be paid, a special rate on all rateable land or improvements or real property of the City, in addition to all other rates, sufficient to pay the interest and create a sinking fund for the payment of the debentures.

7. It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the said Corporation to dispose of the said debentures at a rate below par, and to authorize the Treasurer to pay out of the sums so raised by the sale of the said debentures all expenses connected with the preparation of the debentures and coupons, or any discount or commission or other charges incidental to the sale of said debentures.

8. This Bylaw shall take effect on the 2nd. day of July, 1914.

9. This Bylaw may be cited as the Water Works Loan Bylaw, 1914.

10. This Bylaw before the final passing thereof, shall receive the assent of the electors of the City of Nanaimo, in the manner provided by the Municipal Act.

Passed on the 18th May, 1914.

NOTICE

Take notice that the above is a true copy of the proposed Bylaw, upon which the vote of the municipality will be taken at the Old Court House, Front street, Nanaimo, on Monday the 8th day of June, 1914, from 9 o'clock a. m., to 7 o'clock, p. m.

S. GOUGH, City Clerk.

TWO CRESCENT WINDOWS SMASHED

Clarke's Confectionery Store Front and Stearman's Big Front Demolished in Two Singular Accidents.

Yesterday w[illegible]go [illegible] for Crescent merchants, two plate glass fronts being smashed, one in Stearman's drug store and the other in Clark's confectionery. Both accidents were singularly unusual.

Stearman's big plate front was broken as the result of a runaway, the britchen breaking on a horse belonging to Mr. A. Greenway, of Nanaimo River, while coming down Albert street. Naturally the animal started to run down the steep hill leading onto Commercial street and despite the valiant efforts of the driver, horse and rig crashed into the window front. The glass and about one hundred dollars worth of window display were destroyed and the horse badly cut about the legs. The driver luckily escaped serious injury.

The Clark window was crashed into by a bicycle rider named Bigoff. The man was coming down the Albert street hill when either the machine got away on him or he became rattled through inexperience. At any rate he bounded onto the curb and man and bicycle crashed into the window which has a sash running down the centre. The sash was broken in two and the window destroyed. The rider was badly cut on the back of the hand and also received a cut on the forehead. He was taken at once to the hospital in a rig by Mr. Peter McKay, where it was found that his injuries were not so serious as at first expected. He will be able to resume work shortly.

REV. CANON WHITE IS FAREWELLED

Congregation of the St. Pauls Church Farewelled Old Rector and Welcomed New Rector Last Evening.

The congregation [illegible]t. Paul's church met in large numbers last evening to bid farewell to Rev. Canon Silva White, the retiring rector, who leaves today for Sunderland, England, to take over his new charge, and to welcome the new rector, Rev. Cockshott, who recently arrived in Nanaimo from the Old Country.

The double ceremony was held in the Institute, the long tea table being tastefully decorated for the occasion, the positions of honor at the head of the tables being occupied by Mrs. M. Bate, jr., and Mrs. Geo. Wilton.

The first speaker of the evening was Mayor Planta, who expressed his regrets and that of the congregation of St. Paul's at the departure of Rev. White. His Worship made a lengthy speech during which he outlined the history of the Parish during the past ten years, which was now free of debt, thanks to the labors of the departing rector. In concluding his remarks Mr. Planta welcomed Rev. Cockshott to Nanaimo and presented Rev. White with a purse of gold of substantial proportions.

In accepting the purse, Rev. White referred in feeling language to the friendly ties existing during his charge between rector and congregation. They had always got along well together and he would never forget the many friends he left behind him in Nanaimo.

Rev. Cockshott also delivered a few interesting remarks as did Rev. Dr. MacLennan, who expressed his regrets at the loss of Mr. White, who was one of the first men he had met upon his arrival in Nanaimo and they had been firm friends ever since.

Archdeacon Scriven reminded those present that not only was Nanaimo Parish sustaining a great loss in the departure of Rev. White but the loss would be felt by the whole diocese which always chose good men and in choosing Rev. White on the Executive Committee the Diocese had made no mistake. He (the speaker) had been in B. C. thirty years and thought he would never leave. He was of the opinion Rev. White would want to return to this province and if he did he felt sure he would find a warm welcome awaiting him here.

During the course of the evening Mr. Pawlett's orchestra rendered several choice selections and refreshments were served by ladies of the congregation.

Rev. White and Mrs. White leave on this afternoon's boat for Vancouver, en route to England.

Wreck of Empress Rivals Loss of Titanic

Nine Hundred and Fifty-Four Lives Lost when C. P. R. Liner Empress of Ireland Sank after Collision with the Norwegian Collier Storstad

Three Hundred Bodies Recovered

Big Liner was Cut in Two by Steel Prow of Collier and Sank within Fifteen Minutes—Passengers had Little Chance to Save their Lives

Quebec, May 29.—Nine hundred and fifty-four lives were lost when the great Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Ireland sank before dawn today in the St. Lawrence River, ripped open from amidships to stern by the Norwegian collier Storstad.

So far 300 bodies have been recovered, including an unidentified woman with a baby clasped tightly to her breast.

Of those saved, crew members and third-class passengers predominated From the partial lists available, it was evident that but a mere sprinkling of the first-cabin passengers were saved. Only three names of those cabins appeared in the preliminary list of rescued. They were G. W. S. Henderson and C. R. Burt, of Montreal, and Walter Fenton, of Manchester, England.

The stricken vessel sank as if she were lead. An explosion, apparently originating in her engine room, hastened her end, and those persons who were able to make their way from their cabins found themselves on a perilously slanting deck. Many leaped and were drowned. Others were fortunate enough to grasp driftwood or were picked up by lifeboats. It is apparent that the great hole torn in the ship's side admitted such a deluge of water that many must have been overcome in their beds.

The rescued, fighting their way to the lifeboats from the careening deck clinging desperately to the rails or leaping blindly overboard, broke their arms or legs or otherwise injured themselves so badly, that twenty-two died after being picked up. Groaning, and in some cases practically insensible, others were landed here, while the populace of the village gathered with medicines and stimulants to relieve their sufferings A special train was made up this afternoon, on which many were taken to Quebec and Montreal. This special train was derailed and another had to be sent.

The president of the Canadian Pacific Railway issued a statement this afternoon, saying that the Empress had sunk within fourteen minutes. No one aboard had time to seize his belongings, much less to dress. Those found in the lifeboats were in their nightclothes. The women suffered most. Only a few were saved, according to the early lists, and indications are that they lacked the strength to combat the conditions which confronted them. There was not, as was the case on the Titanic, time for calm deliberation and rigid observance of the unwritten law of the sea: "Women first."

A party of Salvation Army members, en route to London, was almost wiped out; Laurence Irving, son of the late Sir Henry Irving, is among the missing, and other prominent persons in the first cabin were unaccounted for late this afternoon. When the rescue ships Eureka and Lady Evelyn reached the scene shortly before daybreak, they found nine lifeboats from the Empress all jammed full and many of the occupants wounded. It was still dark.

Arrival of Survivors.

It was a pitiable sight when the ferry steamer Polaris moored at the breakwater on the Quebec side tonight at 8:30 and the 396 men and women saved from the ill-fated Empress of Ireland trooped falteringly down the gangway, their faces plainly regretting the fearful experiences that they had gone through. Very few of these passengers possessed a complete rigout, the majority having only shirts, trousers and boots. Heads were bared as those whose injuries were of such a nature that they were brought down supported by friends and officials of the company, some bruised and injured, others bowed down in grief of some relative, while others showed marked traces of the terrible strain which they had undergone. When the accident happened it was a general race for life, and the fact that the vast majority of the lost are believed to have died in their berths, and that the ship sank fifteen minutes after the crash makes it easy to judge that there was not much time to look for clothing, and apparel had to be provided at Rimouski for those who were saked.

Most Appalling Disaster.

Stories of frightful panic which broke out in the darkness as the ship listed and her lights went out of the futile efforts of the crew to lower the boats which was made impossible by the strong list of the ship and desperate struggle which occurred in the water after the ship gave the last plunge, are told by survivors all of whom were witnesses of the disaster which will go down in history as the most appalling in the history of navigation in the St. Lawrence river.

Dr. Grant A Hero.

Special praise was given by the passengers to the heroic work of Dr. James F. Grant, of Victoria, B. C., who was ship's surgeon on the Empress. It is estimated that by his coolness and his authority over the survivors he managed to save a large number who were taken out of the water, but who would have perished had they not received prompt medical attention.

A further graphic descrintion of the disaster from Mr. J. E. McWilliams, of Father Point, sent special to the Chronicle, says: "All day long the search continued at the scene of the collision by the government steamers Lady Evelyn and Eureka, with the result at nightfall five more bodies were found, one woman and four men, still living but unconscious, and 250 dead bodies recovered. While the collier Storstad's stem was stuck in the Empress, Captain Kendall is said to have requested him to keep going ahead so that his stem would plug the hole in the Empress starboard side, but the Storstad dropped back, and the Empress filled and foundered. Captain Kendall stood on his bridge as the ship went down, and was picked up by one of his boats and went on saving lives until the lifeboat he was in was loaded to the gunwale. Very few of the bodies have been identified yet. The prompt Marconi service doubtless saved many lines as one of the rescue steamers the Eureka was on the spot about 20 minutes after the disaster, and the Lady Evelyn shortly afterward enabling the life boats to be filled. The scene at the Rimouski wharf where the bodies lie, is a most heart-rending one.

"It appears from the evidence of officers that the Empress was dead stopped in the fog and blowing her whistle."

Ottawa, Ont., May 29.—Premier Borden tonight received the following message from the office of the High Commissioner in London: "Have received following message from Prince Alexander of Teck, 'Grieved to hear of disaster to Empress of Ireland. Kingly convey sympathy of Princess and myself for relatives.'

(Signed) TECK."

A searching inquiry into the disaster will be ordered by the Government at once.

Victoria, May 29.—A well-known Victorian was saved from the Empress of Ireland by the mail tender Lady Evelyn—Dr. James F. Grant, son of Robert Grant, 213 Vancouver street. Dr. Grant recently graduated from McGill and had been ship's doctor on the Empress of Ireland for three weeks. His father received a wireless message from the Lady Evelyn early this morning containing but one word—"Saved."

Dr. Grant is a son in law of Mrs. Charles Pawlett, Nanaimo.

MANY SURVIVORS BADLY INJURED

Many Passengers Who Escaped Death From Drowning Dazed and Moaning Were Huddled Into Lifeboats.

Rimouski, May 29.—The crash occurred about 2 o'clock off Father Point, Quebec, a village brought into prominence when Dr. Crippen, the London murderer was caught. The collier, bound for Quebec, struck the Empress of Ireland on the port side about the middle of the ship. She literally tore her way back almost to the liner's screws, leaving a rent through which the water poured in such a deldge that she sank before many of the passengers were aware of what had happened.

Brief wireless calls for help sent out by the Marconi operator were heard by the pilot boat Eureka here, 10 miles from the scene, and the Eureka, followed by the Lady Evelyn, a mail tender, put on forced steam, and made all speed for the spot. It was these two boats that found afloat the few lifeboats that were launched from the stricken ship and picked up the survivors they contained.

Three hundred and thirty-nine were saved by the Lady Evelyn and sixty by the Eureka. Among those saved was Captain H. G. Kendall, of the Empress of Ireland.

Most of the first-class passengers apparently perished. Among those in the first cabin were Sir. Henry Seton-Kerr, a noted English lawyer and big game hunter, and Laurence Irving, son of the late Sir. Henry Irving, and his wife, Miss Mabel Hackney.

Of a party of 140 Canadian Salvation Army members on board, only twenty were rescued. They had left Quebec yesterday, bound for the army's international conference in London.

So quickly did the Empress sink, that those passengers foutunate enough to get into lifeboats found themselves garbed only in their nightclothes. No baggage was saved. The condition of the survivors was pitiable. L. E. Gossetin, prominent lawyer from Montreal, saved himself by clinging to a raft. When the rescue ships docked here the station platform was convereed into a hospital, and the townspeople, bringing food and clothing, united in common effort to aid the sufferers.

Twelve bodies, with faces covered, lay side by side on the wharf. They were passengers who had made the lifeboats, but who were fatally nurt.

Wreckage strews the St. Lawrence for a long distance near where the Empress sank. The sun shone brightly during the afternoon. Though the water is still icy, the temperature today was not low enough to increase the suffering of the survivors.

The vast number of toe saved were members of the ship's crew. Early estimates here indicated that not more than sixty passengers were saved. Besides Captain Kendall, the first and second engineers and the ship's surgeon were rescued, the captain was too overcome to give at first any account of the disaster.

The residents of Rimouski, numbering 3000, came silently to the dock where the dead and exhausted living were being landed and under the direction of the mayor, H. R. Fiset, gave aid wherever possible.

The rescue boats Eureka and Lady Evelyn found on reaching the point where the Empress sank a scene not dissimilar to that which greeted the liners which rushed to the Titanic's aid. They found the ship sunk and the surface of the water fortunately calm, dotted with lifeboats and smeared with floating debris.

In the lifeboats were huddled the survivors, dazed and moaning, some of them dying of injuries sustained in the crash or in the rush of leaving the sinking ship. Few could give anything but incoherent, almost hysterical accounts of what happened. J. L. Black and Mrs. Black of Ottawa, said that they had jumped together into the river. They had been roused by shock of collision. and unable to get into a lifeboat. had risked the leap. They were picked up by a boat from the Lady Evelyn. Another survivor was Mrs. Patten of Sherbrooke, Quebec.

The Empress of Ireland was in command of Lieutenant Kendall, R. N.R., who commanded the Montrose when the murderer Crippen was captured. He is among the saved. Other officers of the ill-fated liner were: M. R. Steed, chief officer; W. Donald R.N.R., purser; J.F. Grant. Sampson, chief engineer; A. B. Mc-M.D., surgeon; A. W. Gaade, chief steward.

The Empress of Ireland was a steel twin screw seeamer of 14,191 registered tons and had a gross tonnage of 9,775 tons. She has a length of [illegible]9 feet, 65.7 beam and a depth of 36.7 feet. She was built at the Fairfield Shipbuilding yards, Glasgow, in 1906 and was registered at Liverpool. She had two sets of quadruple expansion engines and nine boilers, six of which were double enders. Her sea speed was 18 knots an hour.

The Storstad is a steel screw steamer. She was built in 1910 at Armstrong & Whitworth & Co., Newcastle, England, and was owned by the Akties Maritim, of Christiania, Norway. She was 440 feet in length, 58-1 feet in breadth and 24.6 feet in depth. Her registered tonnage was 6,028 tons and her gross tonnage 5,-421 tons.

SHAUGHNESSY ISSUES OFFICIAL STATEMENT

Montreal, May 29.— Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the C. P. R., issued the following statement: "The catastrophe, because of the great loss of life is the most serious in the history of the St. Lawrence route.

"Owing to the distance of telegraph or telephone stations from the scene of the wreck there is an unavoidable delay in securing official details, but we expect a report from Captain Kendall in the course of the afternoon. From the facts as we have them, it is apparent that at about 2 o'clock this morning the Empress of Ireland, while stopped in a dense fog, was rammed on the port side by the Norwegian collier Storstad in such a manner as to tear the ship from the middle to the screw, thus making the watertight bulkheads with which she was provided useless.

"The vessel settled down in fourteen minutes. The accident occurred at a time when the passengers were in bed, and the interval before the steamship went down was not sufficient to accommodate a very much larger number of people than those on board, including passengers and crew.

"That such an accident should be possible in the St. Lawrence and to a vessel of the class of the Empress of Ireland, with every possible precaution taken by the owners to insure safety for the passengers and the vessel is deplorable. The saddest feature of the disaster is the great loss of life, and the heartfelt sympathy of everybody connected with the company goes out to the relatives and friends."

ALBERNI WOMAN MAY BE VICTIM

Grave fears are entertained for the safety of Mrs. Dixon of Alberni, who left Nanaimo some days ago and hurried to Montreal to take passage on the Empress of Ireland. She was going to attend the Salvation Army Congress in England, and while here paid a short visit with her cousin Mr. Lamb, and Mrs Lamb. Mrs. Dixon was origionally booked for another boat but at the last moment her passage was booked for the ill-fated Empress. Her name does not gppear in the passenger list and there is a chance that she did not reach Montreal in time to take passage on the wrecked liner.

TITANIC LOSS IS RECALLED

Disaster to Empress of Ireland Recalls Foundering of S. S. Titanic With Loss of Over One Thousand Lives.

The calamity on the St. Lawrence in the early hours of Friday morning has driven the minds of many persons back to the Titanic disaster two years ago, and many questions were asked about it yesterday. The Titanic foundered on Sunday morning, April 14, 1912, over 1100 miles east of Sandy Hook. The Titanic belonged to the White Star Line and was on her maiden voyage across the Atlantic. She was the biggest ship afloat and was regarded as unsinkable. Less than three hours after striking an iceberg she plunged to the bottom of the Atlantic and fifteen hundred of her passengers and crew lost their lives.

The night was clear and starlit, but it is claimed that the iceberg was so nearly the color of the water that it was not observed until only a quarter of a mile distant. By a quick turn to port a head-on collision was avoided, but the starboard side of the ship scraped along the sharp submerged ridge of the berg for a large part of her length, and her hold rapidly filled with water.

The shock is described as slight, and at first some of the officers, as well as most of the passengers, did not believe the accident to be a serious one. In half an hour, however, Captain Smith ordered the lifeboats lowered, to receive the women and children. There was little confusion. The general confidence that the giant vessel was unsinkable caused the first boats to depart without their full complement, though the later ones were overcrowded.

Wireless distress signals were sent from the Titanic, beginning about ten minutes after the collision, and continuing until the water had reached the wireless room. Messages were received by the Carpathia of the Cunard Line (en route to the Mediterranean), the Virginian of the Allan Line, the Olympic and the Baltic of the White Star Line, and other vessels. The Carpathia (58 miles distant), the Frankfurt, the Baltic, the Virginian and the Californian headed under full steam for the scene of the disaster.

The Titanic began to settle at the head soon after the collision; and those who got off in the boats saw the lights extinguish on one deck after another as the water crept up. When the bow was completely submerged, the stern rose high in the air, throwing off hundreds from its crowded decks, and then swiftly disappeared. Several witnesses assert that there were explosions just before the end, and that the vessel parted amidships. One of the lifeboats, returning to the spot where the ship sank, picked up a number of men clinging to rafts or wreckage.

MRS. R. HOGGAN A PASSENGER

Wife of Mr. Robert Hoggan of Gabriola Island Was Passenger Aboard Ill Fated Empress of Ireland—May Be a Survivor.

The only Nanaimo passenger, so far known, who was aboard the ill-fated Empress of Ireland was Mrs. Hoggan, wife of Mr. Robert Hoggan of Gabriola Island. According to reports received by The Herald there is a chance of her being one of the survivors.

Mrs. Hoggan left Nanaimo about ten days ago en route on a visit to her parents at Rothwell, near Leeds in Yorkshire, England. This was her first visit home since her marriage ten months ago. She has been in Canada only about two years. She taught school on Gabriola Island before her marriage and was highly thought of by all who knew her. She was in her 24th. year.

Mrs. Martha Woohank of this city is an aunt and she has many other relatives in the city.

Her husband haunted the telegraph and newspaper offices yesterday in search of some reassuring news, which unfortunately did not arrive.

AS TOLD BY SURVIVORS

Few Women and Children Were Saved as the Accident Occured so Swiftly They Could Not be Rescued.

Rimouski, May 29.— Wreckage covers the river everywhere. The Storstad, her bow badly crumpled, was still on the scene this morning picking up the living wherever she could. In one of the lifeboats crouched Captain Kendall, commander of the Empress, dazed and greatly shaken. He had leaped from the deck and had been picked up by members of his crew.

Those in the first and second cabins, known to have been saved up to 3 o'clock this afternoon, are: G.W.S. Henderson, C. R. Burt, Walter Benton, Miss Alice Lee, Nassau, Bahamas; Miss E. Court, Liverpool, Eng. Walter Erginger (this may be J. Erzinger of Winnipeg) B. Weinruch, Montreal.

When the train arrived here bearing survivors it was a pitiful sight to see them alight. Most of them wore light clothing.

Many had to be carried bodily. A woman had a broken leg and shoulder and a man had two legs broken. They were carried to a hotel opposite the station. H. R. O'Hara and his little girl, Helen, were saved, but up to the present no news of Mrs. O'Ha-

ST. LAWRENCE DISASTER

The loss of the Empress of Ireland in the River St. Lawrence in the early hours of yesterday morning is by far the greatest disaster in the history of Canadian shipping. The catastrophe falls very little short of the great Titanic calamity two years ago in the actual loss of life. The Titanic, however, was a British liner, and only a very small percentage of its passengers were Canadians. The ill-fated Empress of Ireland on the other hand was a Canadian vessel, one of the best of the passenger leviathans of the Canadian Pacific shipping line. Her passengers were very largely Canadians, and a large number of them were from the west. One of them was from Nanaimo, and the dreadful tragedy is brought right home to our doors. The disaster also occurred in a Canadian river, a very short distance from the home port of Quebec. It is too early as yet to discuss the causes of the accident. According to a brief message from the commander of the Empress of Ireland his ship was lying in the river, stopped, on account of a dense fog. The supposition is that while the liner was thus hove to she was rammed by the collier. As it happened she was rammed in such a manner that there was no chance to do anything. The big ship filled and sank in ten minutes. Seeing that the accident occurred in a Dominion waterway no doubt a rigid investigation will be held. Fogs are of frequent occurrence on the St. Lawrence, and it may be that more restrictive regulations are required for its navigation in foggy weather to ensure the safety of human life. No one could have dreamt of such an appalling disaster occurring so close to Quebec, before, the Atlantic had been sighted, but it has come nevertheless. The Titanic and Volturno disasters raised the questions of the construction of hulls and the provision of lifeboats, and both have since received expert consideration. The calamity in the St. Lawrence seems to be one calling for new sailing regulations. The regrettable thing is that such a dreadful toll of human life should have been required to teach us the lesson.

MUSIC IN CANADA

Madame Clara Butt, the famous English singer, is not enthused with the musical taste and culture of Canada. She made a tour of the Dominion some ten years ago and she finds that in the decade that has passed the Canadian people have made little or no progress in matters musical, and are a long way behind the people of Australia and Europe. It is no doubt true that Madame Butt is right in her main assertion, but it is just probable that she is not in a position to make a fair or correct comparison. She appears only in the principal cities of the countries she visits and Melbourne and Sydney are nearly approximate to British cities in their possession of wealthy and leisured citizens than any city in Canada. A further circumstance to be considered is that when Madame Butt is on tour special prices are charged for admission. If the same prices were charged in Great Britain there would be a marked falling off in musical enthusiasm as revealed through the box office receipts. Indeed it may almost be stated that the princely salaries demanded and obtained by the modern musical stars is very largely responsible for the waning of musical culture. We are inclined to think that an analysis of the audiences attending the Butt recitals in Canada would show that proportionately the general appreciation of good music is every bit as high as in the old country. The trouble is that under present conditions, and in the present stage of the country's development it is impossible to hear leading artistes except at utterly exorbitant prices. Some time ago the Quinlan opera tour was abandoned in Canada. Still it would be absurd to blame its failure entirely to the lack of appreciation of the Canadian people. As a matter of fact the company was organized on such a scale as to in invite if not ensure commercial failure. To take the case of Nanaimo, which has just as much right to be considered in Madame Butt's comparison as Victoria or Vancouver, we do not know of any city of its size where the general appreciation of music ranks so high. This is not to say that every other citizen is a musician, or that a quarter of the population would really appreciate a chamber of music concert. Even at that they might enjoy it more than half of those who profess to really appreciate such performances. There is, however, a very general taste and love of music in any of its forms or expressions. Possibly much the same thing can be said for other cities in the Dominion. It is still true that nowhere in Canada is there the same public provision made for music and art as in British and even Australian cities. This particular form of philanthopy has not yet broken out in Canada. It will come. There have been sons of Canada who might have set the example, and there are others to whom we can still look. Meantime Madame Butt is speaking without her book when she says that even in matters musical Canada has shown no advance in ten years.

Through every conceivable form of extravagance and folly the suffragette die-hard has at last been evolved. She is a Miss Kenney and she has chosen a hard place for her hard death. She is lying sprawled on the pavement outside the palace of the Archbishop of Canterbury, and she will die before she moves. Meantime, lest she should die she has two nurses in attendance. There is a soft place in the die-hard scheme right there.

HAMEL STILL MISSING

London, May 29.—The report that Gustav Hamel, the British aviator, who has been missing since he started on Saturday to make a flight across the English channel, has been rescued, appears to be entirely unfounded.

Annoying Dandruff

Will Make Canada a Bald-Headed Nation if Not Checked.

M. Pasteur, the great French Physician of Paris, once said: "I believe we shall one day rid the world of all diseases caused by germs."

Dandruff is caused by germs, a fact accepted by all physicians.

Dandruff is the root of all hair evils. If it were not for the little destructive germs working with a persistency worthy of a better cause there would be no baldness.

Parisian Sage will kill the dandruff germs and remove dandruff in two weeks or money back.

It will stop itching scalp, falling hair and make the hair grow thick and abundant.

It puts life and lustre into the hair and prevents it from turning gray.

It is the hair dressing par excellence, daintily perfumed and free from grease and stickiness. It is the favorite with women of taste and culture who know the social value of fascinating hair.

Comes in large 50-cent bottles at leading druggists and toilet goods counters everywhere. "The Girl With the Auburn Hair" is on every package.

MUNSEY SEES ROOSEVELT.

Oyster Bay, N.Y., May 29.—Frank A. Munsey, one of the leaders of the Progressive campaign in 1912, came to Oyster Bay today to see Colonel Roosevelt. It was Mr. Munsey who, after the campaign, launched a movement for the amalgamation of the Progressive and Republican parties, which Colonel Roosevelt would not approve. Mr. Munsey motored from New York with George W. Perkins.

EARTHQUAKE AT COLON

Colon, Panama, May 29—No damage is reported from the severe earthquake which occurred last night at about half past ten. The city is composed of wooden frame buildings, which rocked during the quake. The shock lasted about 35 seconds. Thousands of terrified inhabitants fled from their homes into the open air. The duration of the earthquake was unprecedented.

BIG COLLEGE FIRE.

Wolfville, N. S., May 29.—A disastrous fire occurred yesterday morning at Acadia College, when Chipman Hall, the college residence, and the college gymnasium were destroyed. Most of the belongings of the inmates were recovered, but some of the residents lost heavily. Chipman Hall was built about forty years ago, and was named in honor of the late Rev. Isaac Chipman.

WARDEN CHANGES.

Ottawa, May 29.—Captain Ponsford who arrived yesterday at Stony Mountain penitentiary, where he is warden, will only remain a few days at the mountain closing up affairs and will return to Edmonton, where he will remain as warden of the Alberta penitentiary. Deputy Warden Graham will probably succeed Captain Ponsford as warden of Stony Mountain penitentiary.

ra has been received. She was probably drowned.

A young Englishman said that when the ship was struck by the collier the shock was terrific. He was asleep in his cabin. He jumped from bed, put on a dressing gown and went directly to wake up two of his friends, telling him he thought the ship was sinking. He then went on deck and came back a second time to see if his friends had left their cabin, but in his excitement he went on the wrong deck. The ship then was sinking so fast he could hardly stand. He took hold of a rope on the side of the ship and swung into a lifeboat. He said he had not seen his friends and fears they were drowned.

Few women and children were saved. They were asleep in their cabins when the ship sank and the accident occurred so quickly they could not be rescued.

One woman who was garbed [illegible] in a vest jumped overboard and swam to the Lady Evelyn. She was so exhausted, however, that she died a few minutes after she was taken from the water. Her identity has not been established.

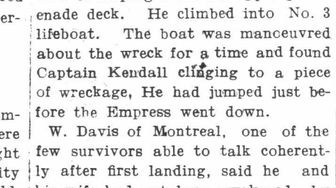
Both the first and second Marconi operators of the Empress were saved. Edward Bomford, the second operator, was coming on duty when the boat began to sink. He caught the Father Point Marconi station and called for assistance. Bomford was saved by falling into a lifeboat. The other operator, Ronald Furgusson, had to swim for the boat. Both operators came back to the Rimouski port on board the pilot boat Eureka.

Passengers were loud in their praise of the captain and the pilot of the Lady Evelyn and Captain Belanger of the Eureka and their crews. All of them displayed the greatest bravery, it was said. A Mr. McWilliams, of Father Point also was active in aiding the rescued. All of the authorities of Rimouski and Father Point joined in caring for the survivors.

The Lady Evelyn which returned to the scene of the disaster, reported by wireless that she had picked up seventeen bodies at 3 o'clock.

The water that poured into the ship's engineroom caused an explosion and this forced many to jump. Ernest Hayes, an assistant purser, told of leaping from the upper promenade deck. He climbed into No. 3 lifeboat. The boat was manceuvred about the wreck for a time and found Captain Kendall clinging to a piece of wreckage, He had jumped just before the Empress went down.

W. Davis of Montreal, one of the few survivors able to talk coherently after first landing, said he and his wife had not been awakened by the impact of the collision and knew nothing of the accident until water began to rush into their stateroom. He helped his wife to the boat deck, but the big ship had already listed and it was impossible to launch a boat. Together they crawled on their hands and knees up the sloping deck of the liner. The vessel was rapidly sinking. His wife was swept from his grasp. Both were carried by the suction into the river. They clung to a piece of wood and were rescued. The wife was unconscious.



J. W. Longley, a rancher of Canford, B. C., calmly sat on the deck rail and went down with the sinking grabbed the side of a lifeboat, held to it and was rescued by the Eureka.

William Measures, a Salvation Army bandsman crept along the rail of the promenade deck and stepped into the water. He swam to a lifeboat and was rescued.

Studebaker FOUR $1375

THE FULL-FLOATING REAR AXLE

Equipped Throughout with Timken Bearings

Completely Equipped Electrically Started and Lighted

The Axle Carries The Car—The Shaft Only Turns the Wheels

The Studebaker FOUR is the only car in the world at $1375 with a full floating rear axle—equipped even to the hubs with Timken bearings.

This is of vital importance because ordinary axles push downward on the shaft or journal; absolutely frictionless bearings cannot change that condition.

Be clear upon this vital fact: Upon the efficiency of your axle depends the efficiency of your motor.

It isn't so much a question of power creation as it is of power transmission.

That is why, by scientific engineering, we have straightened and cleared the way for the flow of power from motor to wheels.

That is why we have given the question of alignment—of perfect balance—and of lubrication the care their tremendous importance warrants.

That is why we carry our laboratory tests and our accuracy of measurements to a degree heretofore unknown in any but the best shop practice.

Our sole aim is to transmit—with maximum dependability—the maximum of power to and through the rear axle.

The Studebaker FOUR attains this result as it has never been attained in the past.

You appreciate this result to the full when you learn that it is the only "Four" at $1375 with full Timken equipment—even to the hubs.

LOCAL CRICKET CLUB PLAY COWICHAN C. C.

The Nanaimo Cricket Club meet the Cowichan eleven this afternoon on the Caledonian Grounds in an Island League match. This will make the third league game for the local club, and it has yet to win its first match. There is a strong disposition on the part of the local players to make the Cowichan men the first victims, but, of course, the visitors may not be willing to be offered up. At Duncan the visitors today took the match on their first innings by 15 runs and further increased their lead in the second. The local players expect to be able to turn the tables today, and in any case the game is sure to be well-worth seeing. The team to represent Nanaimo will be as follows: R. Hindmarch (captain), R. Battey, A. T. W. Paul, A. Leighton, H. Jepson, W. Newbury, F. Jepson, L. Shepherd, W. Rivers, W. Mitchell, and A. Patton. The game will start at 1:30 sharp and all local players are asked to be promptly on the field.

FRIDAY'S BASEBALL.

Northwestern—
Vancouver 2, Spokane 1.
Seattle 8, Portland 5.
Tacoma 5, Victoria 4.

Coast—

Washington 1-5, Boston 0-6.

LOCALS TO PLAY VANCOUVER SUNDAY

The Nanaimo baseball team will meet strong opposition in Sunday's game with Godfrey's aggregation of Vancouver. The match will be played on the Caledonian grounds, commencing at 2:30 and as Manager Benedict has had his team out several times this week for practises, the locals are in splendid form to put up a grilling contest.

In Sunday's encounter the teams will lineup as follows:

Nanaimo—Pitchers, H. Martin and H. Shepherd; Catcher, Piper; 1st base E. Martin; 2nd base, Little; 3rd base Killeen; s.s., H. Boyce; left field, G. Weeks; c. f., W. Beattie; r. f., Thompson; spare, Salty Shepherd.

Vancouver—Pitchers, Herlst and Thurston; catcher, Doyle; 1st base, Julian; 2nd base, Logan; 3rd base, Devett; s. s., Moss; l. f., J. Blockberger; c. f., W. Blockberger; r. f., Lougheed.

Pitchers "Tiny" Leonard and Harold Peet, of the Portland Colts, have been released to the Moose Jaw club of the Western Canada League. Portland retained an option on the two players and they may be recalled in the fall.

TIPS OFF THE BAT.

Victoria is dickering for "Si" Neighbors, the Tacoma outfielder and Pitcher Hynes, who was with the Portland club last year. The Bees are also trying to get another pitcher from the Coast League, while they expect to secure an outfielder from Los Angeles. Outfielders Crum and Zimmerman have been released. Catcher Carney was turned back to Lincoln, but the last named club did not want him and he may be kept on by Delmas. Catcher Cunningham goes to one of the Western Canada League clubs. Pitcher Pope has been taken in hand by Dr. Bouret of Tacoma, and if he cannot get his arm into condition he will be dropped.

Joe McGinnity will try out Laird, a young pitcher from Auburn against the Victoria Bees this week. McGinnity has taken Pitcher Speak off the hands of Spokane.

WEST VIRGINIA MINERS ON STRIKE

Charleston, W. Va., May 29.—Twelve thousand miners will leave the pits at the Kanawha coal field tonight, and according to action taken at the convention of the United Mine Workers today, will not return until the operators agree to collect all union dues through their officers. Efforts to prevent a strike have been in progress for months.

FINALS TODAY.

Orange, N. J. May 29.—Miss Lillian B. Hyde, of South Shore, Long Island, and Miss Georgina M. Bishop, of Brooklawn, Conn., will meet tomorrow as finalists for the Metropolitan golf championship title and trophy. Each of these players previously has won the honor.

"JOCKO" VINSON MAKES NEW RECORD

At No. 4 fire hall Vancouver Thursday night "Jocko" Vinson, of this city, hung up a new world's record for skipping, when he went 15,230 revolutions in 95 minutes.

GIVEN AMATEUR STANDING

CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF NANAIMO, B. C.

A BYLAW.
NO.—

To authorize the borrowing of the sum of Thirty thousand dollars for the purpose of improving and extending the distribution system of the Water-works of this city, and to reimburse the general revenue of the City for advances made during the year 1913 for water-works construction account in anticipation of a loan being raised, and

Whereas the proposed extension of the distribution system will materially increase the revenue for the said Water-works, and

Whereas in order to carry out the proposed extension and improvements, it will be necessary to raise by way of debentures upon the credit of the City of Nanaimo, the sum of Thirty Thousand Dollars, repayable in twenty-five years from the date hereinafter fixed for this Bylaw to take effect, with interest in the meantime payable half yearly at the rate of 5½ per cent per annum, and

Whereas it will be necessary to raise in each year, during the currency of any or all said debentures, by special rate for the purpose of paying the said debt and interest, the sum of $2472.81, whereof the sum of $1650.00 is to be raised annually for payment of interest during the currency of the said debentures, and $822.81 is to be raised annually for the purpose of creating a sinking fund for the payment of the debt secured by the said debentures, and

Whereas the whole rateable property of the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo, according to the revised assessment roll for the year 1913 is $4,907,555.00, and the total existing debenture debt of the said city is $599,500.00, exclusive of works of local improvement and for school purposes, and

Whereas this bylaw may not be altered or repealed except with the consent of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

Be it therefore enacted by the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo as follows:

1. For the purpose of improving and extending the distribution system of the City of Nanaimo within the corporate limits, and the repayment of certain expenditures on water works construction account, it shall be lawful for the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo to raise or cause to be raised by way of loan from any person or persons, body or bodies corporate who may be willing to advance the same upon the credit of the debentures hereinafter mentioned, a sum of money not exceeding in the whole the sum of Thirty Thousand Dollars, and cause the same to be paid into the hands of the Treasurer of the said City for the purpose and object before recited.

2. It shall be lawful for the said corporation to cause any number of debentures to be made, executed and issued, not exceeding in the whole the sum of Thirty Thousand Dollars for such sums of money of not less than $100.00 each, as may be required, and all such debentures shall be sealed with the seal of the said Corporation of the City of Nanaimo, and be signed by the Mayor of the said City and countersigned by the City Clerk.

3. The said debentures shall bear date of the 2nd. July, 1914, and shall be payable in twenty-five years from said date, at the office of the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo, and shall have attached to them Coupons for the payment of interest and the signature or signatures to the said coupons may be either written, stamped, printed or lithographed.

4. The said debentures shall bear interest at the rate of 5½ per cent. per annum from the date thereof which interest shall be payable half yearly on the second day of January and July, in each and every year during the currency of said debentures at the office of the Corporation in the said City of Nanaimo.

5. There shall be raised and levied in each year during the currency of the said debentures the sum of $1650.00 for the payment of interest, and the sum of $822.81 for the purpose of creating a sinking fund for the payment of the debt due under the said debentures, making in all the sum of $2472.81.

6. There shall be levied and raised in each and every year until the said debentures and interest thereon shall be paid, a special rate on all rateable land or improvements or real property of the City, in addition to all other rates, sufficient to pay the interest and create a sinking fund for the payment of the debentures.

7. It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the said Corporation to dispose of the said debentures at a rate below par, and to authorize the Treasurer to pay out of the sums so raised by the sale of the said debentures all expenses connected with the preparation of the debentures and coupons, or any discount or commission or other charges incidental to the sale of said debentures.

8. This Bylaw shall take effect on the 2nd. day of July, 1914.

9. This Bylaw may be cited as the Water Works Loan Bylaw, 1914.

10. This Bylaw before the final passing thereof, shall receive the assent of the electors of the City of Nanaimo, in the manner provided by the Municipal Act.

Passed on the 18th May, 1914.

NOTICE

Take notice that the above is a true copy of the proposed Bylaw, upon which the vote of the municipality will be taken at the Old Court House, Front street, Nanaimo, on Monday the 8th day of June, 1914, from 9 o'clock a. m., to 7 o'clock, p. m.

S. GOUGH, City Clerk.

PRESENTATION TO MISS GRACE MORGAN

At the conclusion of last Sunday's Symphony Orchestra concert Miss Grace Morgan was presented with a magnificent gold pendant set with amethyst and pearls, in recognition of the sterling help that she has given the orchestra. Miss Eileen Maguire, who made the presentation, spoke in high terms of Miss Morgans abilities both as an orchestral and soloist accompanist, stating that no soloist need wish for a more sympathetic accompanist. Miss Morgan, who was received with tumultous applause and who has not yet learned the art of speech-making, returned her thanks with a modest bow.

THE GRADING OF ALBERT STREET

Street Committee Was in Conference Yesterday With the Property Owners of Albert Street on Question of Street Grade.

City Engineer Owen and the Street Committee of the City Council were in conference yesterday with property owners of Albert street on the question of the proposed regrading of that street from Commercial street to the city limits.

There was a good attendance of the property owners affected, the meeting being presided over by Ald. McKenzie, chairman of the Street Committee. The proposal of the Council that the cost of work be apportioned into three sections according to the benefits derived by reason of the grading was placed before the meeting and a lengthy discussion ensued. There were no dissenting voices raised against the work being done, the only difference of opinion being as to the proportions of the cost to be borne by each of the three sections, viz, the lower, upper and middle. After the question had been thoroughly threshed out, Mr. Stockett moved, seconded by Mr. Kitchen, that the work of grading Albert street be proceeded with on the basis of apportionment as levied by the City Council, and the motion was almost unanimously adopted.

Before the work can be gone on with however, it is necessary that certain procedure be taken. Accordingly at Monday night's meeting of the Council a resolution will be adopted instructing the City Clerk to inform all property owners on Albert street as to the cost to each of them of the proposed regrade after which fifteen days will be allowed in which to petition against the work being going on with. Should the petition be favorable the work will commence at once as the tender of Mr. Alex. Baxter has already been accepted by the Council and the only thing remaining to carry the scheme through to completion is the sanction of the ratepayers affected.

ELECTED GRAND LODGE OFFICERS

Members of Nanaimo Temple of Pythian Sisters Elected to Office in Grand Temple at Kamloops Convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawlinson of this city returned home yesterday from attending the sessions of the grand lodge Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters held in Kamloops. The conventions which closed Thursday to meet next year in Rossland, were the most successful in the history of the order, Nanaimo being honored by having two of its citizens elected to office; Mrs. Rawlinson being elected Grand Junior and Mrs. Charles Wilson, Grand Master of Finance, while Mrs. M. A. Neave continues to hold office another year as representative of the grand lodge to the Supreme Temple of the order.

On the last day the Grand Temple was in session officers were elected as follows:

G. C., Mrs. Smith (Victoria); G. S., Mrs. Laugton, (Nelson); G. J. Mrs. C. Rawlinson, (Nanaimo); G. M. of F., Mrs. Chas. Wilson, (Nanaimo); G. M. of R. & S., Miss Miss Neitzel, (Vancouver); G. M., Mrs. Miller, (New Westminster); G. P., Mrs. Hermann, (Vancouver); G. O.G., Mrs. D. Davidson, (Ladysmith).

KNIGHTS IN SESSION.

Grand chancellor, W. J. Bennett. (Fernie); grand vice-chancellor, G. C. Miller, (Vancouver); grand prelate W. R. J. Steele, (Nelson); grand keeper of records and seals, Emil Pferdner, (Victoria); grand master of exchequer, Thomas Walker, (Victoria); grand master-at-arms, Geo. L. Elkins, (Phoenix); grand inner guard, A. Davies, (North Vancouver); grand outer guard, J. S. Morrison. (Nakusp.)

Mr. Donald Hyslop will sing the solo at St. Andrew's church tonight.

TONIGHT'S CONCERT AT THE PRINCESS

At the conclusion of the Symphony Orchestra concert tonight in the Princess Theatre Chopin's Funeral March will be rendered in memory of those who lost their life on the Empress of Ireland.

The program for tonight presents several strong orchestral numbers. Picone's famous Serenade will be given as a string quartette. The soloist for the evening will be Master Carley Westlake, the sweet voiced boy soprano who has been heard to advantage several times in the city.

The program is as follows:

March "Flambeaux" (Scotson Clarke)

Overture "Caliph of Bagdad" Orchestra.

Vocal Solo Selected. Master Stanley Westlake.

Intermezzo "First Heart Throbs" Orchestra.

Vocal Solo Selected.

Trio for Violin, Flute and Piano "Liebesfruhling" Miss Morgan, Mr. Young and Mr. Harvey.

Vocal Solo Selected Master Stanley Westlake.

DEATH LIST NEAR ONE THOUSAND

Latest Estimates by C. P. R. Places Total of Dead in the Empress Wreck at 964—Over 300 Bodies Recovered

DEATH TOLL IN MARINE TRAGEDY

Total number aboard S. S. Empress of Ireland, 1,387.
Lives lost, 964.
Known to be saved, 403.
Of 87 first-class passengers, 29 were rescued.
Of 153 in the second cabin, 79 were saved.
There were 101 survivors of 715 third-class passengers.
Of the 432 who composed the crew 237 survivors were brought ashore.

Quebec, May 30.—In the latest estimate of figures issued by the Canadian Pacific Railway, the total number of dead is reduced to 964. Of this number 753 were passengers and 211 crew. Of the 403 saved, the passengers numbered 201, crew 202. There were 1367 persons on board.

Of the hundreds of persons who went to their death yesterday with the sinking of the liner Empress of Ireland, the bodies of more than 300 have been recovered today, search was conducted in the St. Lawrence for others, and the living—estimated at 403—were either at, or en route to their homes, garbed in garments supplied by the residents of Rimouski.

Early today the bulk of the dead then recovered were placed on the government steamer Lady Grey at Rimouski to be brought to this city pending identification. Captain Kendall, of the Empress of Ireland, still suffering from his injuries, remains at the little village. From the wharves at low tide, he could see the funnels of the stricken ship, gleaming above the river's surface.

With the Empress, it became known today, went down $1,000,000 in silver bars shipped from Cobalt to England.

It is the opinion in shipping circles that the Empress will either have to be, bodily raised or dynamited from her position for fear that her presence will cause the formation of a sandbar.

The collier Storstad, that ripped open the liner's side, arrived at Quebec early this morning and proceeded slowly to Montreal, to which port her cargo of coal is consigned. Captain Anderson, while refusing to give out any extended statement, said the collision had been due sorely to the suddenness with which the fog shut down on the vessels. He added that after the crash he picked up more than three hundred persons, in fact most of them saved. Later they were transferred to the Lady Evelyn and the Eureka. The collier had in her bow above waterline a hole large enough to admit three men erect. Her port anchor was missing, having been dragged away and sunk with the Empress.

Pilot Nault, who was on the bridge was hailed with the following question:

"What was the Storstad's speed when she struck the Empress?"

"Between eleven and twelve miles an hour," called back the pilot.

"Was the collision due to the fog? was the next question.

"I understand so," replied the man on the bridge.

"Did the Storstad answer the signals of the Empress?"

"I do not know about that."

Preparations are being made for the reception of the hundreds of bodies which, in the course of a few days, it is expected will be brought here from the neibhborhaod of the disaster at Father Point. Shed No. 27, on the lower harbor, has been draped impressively with black and purple bunting, and there the bodies will lie pending instructions from relatives of those who perished.

The Courtenay Herald, published at Courtenay by A. V. M. Sibley, and A. E. Filmer (formerly of the Daily Herald staff) has made its first appearance. It is a well printed weekly, newsy and shows liberal patronage on the part of Courtenay merchants. The Courtenay Herald is a much better appearing paper than the average small weekly and no doubt subsequent issues will show marked improvement. The publishers have apparently a good field in Courtenay and while Courtenay will no doubt be good to them, the Herald will also be a

AS TOLD BY A SURVIVOR

Capt. Kendall Maintained Discipline Among Crew and Passengers in the Trying Moments Before His Steamer Sank.

Montreal, May 30.—Exhausted survivors of the Empress of Ireland disaster, wearing misfit clothing supplied by the people of Rimouski, arrived today in Montreal. In the party was a remnant of the Salvation Army band, more than a hundred of whom perished.

The survivors included: Messrs. McIntyre, Measures, Greenaway, Sta Captain McAmmond, Lieut. Keith, James Johnson, Major and Mrs. Atwell, E. Green, Captain Spooner, Little Grace Hannagan, Miss Bales, all of Toronto; Mrs. Cook and Band Sergeant Fowler, Vancouver; and Miss Wilmot, of Winnipeg.

"I was looking through the porthole in my cabin amidships," said Band Sergeant Fowler, "when I saw a big black shape loom up out of the darkness. It seemed only a few feet away.

"Then came the jolt, it could not be called a crash because it was more of a grinding sensation. Before I realized what had happened my cabin began to fill with water. I rushed out of the cabin and up the main companionway. I saw a girl with a baby in her arms and a little child following her. The girl begged me to put a lifebelt on her, so I stopped long enough to do this."

By the time Mr. Fowler had reached the deck, he said, the ship was listing badly and the passengers had to cling to the rail to keep from going over the side. Mr. Fowler jumped.

"I went down until I thought my lungs would burst," he said. "Bodies bumped into me. Once a man threw his arms around me, and I had to fight to break his grip. I swam several hundred feet and was almost exhausted when a boat picked me up."

Resident survivors not in the Salvation Army, who arrived here, include Messrs. Kent, Ferguson, Duncan, Weinrauch and Miss Grace Kohl Those from Toronto included Mrs. O'Hara, Miss O'Hara, Miss Lee, Dr. Hunt and Thomas Smart.

Mr. Smart says he believes he was the last man to speak to Captain Kendall before the collision.

"I was sitting out on the upper deck," he said, "when the captain walked past about half-past one o'clock and said: "It is a nice night but it looks to me as though a fog

LAST ACT IN ACTOR'S LIFE

Laurence Irving, the Famous Actor; Died Trying to Save His Wife in Disaster to S. S. Empress of Ireland.

Quebec, May 30.—F. E. Abbott, of Toronto, told of how Laurence Irving died trying to save his wife.

"I saw him first in the passageway," Abbott said, "and he said calmly: 'Is the boat going down?' I said it looks like it. 'Dearie,' Irving then said to his wife, 'hurry, there is no time to lose.' Mrs. Irving began to cry, and as the actor reached for a lifebelt the boat suddenly lurched and he was thrown against the door of the cabin. His face was bloody and Mrs. Irving became frantic.

" 'Keep cool,' he warned her, but she persisted in holding her arms around him. He forced the lifebelt over her and pushed her out of the door. He then practically carried her upstairs. I asked if I could help, and Irving said 'Look after yourself first old man, but God bless you all the same.' "

Abbott said he left the two, man and wife, struggling. Abbott got on deck and dived overboard. He caught hold of a piece of timber and then looked around. Irving by this time was on the deck. He was kissing his wife. As the ship went down they were clasped in each other's arms.

iscoming. You never know how soon a fog will drop on you at this part of the river.' "

When the crash came, Smart said, he saw Captain Kendall on the bridge. He was holding on to the rail, shouting orders to the crew, leaning over and waving his hands. He heard him say: "Keep cool. Keep your heads, there, and don't get excited."

When a boat dropped sideways into the water the captain seemed to realize that the liner was lost, for he shouted: "Hurry up, there, everybody. There is not a minute to lose. Get the stewards through the corridors. If there is doors locked break them in. Get the people out, and don't forget the women and children must come first."

"He spoke through a megaphone," said Smart, "but there was so much screaming and moaning that his voice was drowned. But he stuck to his post to the very last.

"When I got into the Lady Evelyn I saw him stretched out there and they were giving him brandy. When he was able to speak he looked around and asked, 'Where's the ship?' A passenger, who looked like a doctor, told him the boat had gone down. On hearing this, Captain Kendall buried his face in a piece of tarpaulin and cried as though his heart would break."

EMPRESS TRIED TO AVERT DISASTER

Rimouski, May 30.—Captain Kendall, of the Empress, is still suffering from nervous shock and injuries, but was a little better this morning. He had not contracted pneumonia as reported. To friends with whom he has talked, he lamented bitterly the failure of the collier Storstad to hold her bow in the rent she had opened in the liner's side.

It appears that it was misty but not actually foggy when the crash occurred. The Empress had passed Rimouski at 1.30 a. m. and was on her course. Captain Kendall was on the bridge and ordered the ship slowed down. Then he made out the light of an approaching steamer. He whistled and the steamer answered, indicating that the signal had been understood. The vessels were far apart when these signals were exchanged. As they came nearer the Empress' engines came to a full stop, but she drifted under her momentum. Then Captain Kendall, it is said, ordered slow astern. The Storstad kept on her way toward the liner.

One theory expressed is that Captain Anderson of the Storstad tried to cross the bow of the larger boat. At any event her nose missed the bow of the liner and plunged into her just amidships. It was not a severe shock, but the wound inflicted was at the spot where the double hull and bulkheads were of no avail.

INQUIRY OPENED RE EMPRESS WRECK

Rimouski, Que., May 30.—Captain Henry George Kendall of the Empress of Ireland, in testifying today at the inquest into the disaster here said he saw the Storstad two miles away before a fog obliterated her from view. He immediately stopped his ship and rang for full speed astern.

At the same time, Captain Kendall said, he blew three short blasts on his whistle, meaning "I am going full speed astern." Captain Kendall added that the Storstad's whistle answered with one long blast. Soon after he blew two long blasts of his whistle, meaning "My ship was under way, but has stopped and has no way on her. "The whistle signal was also answered by the Storstad.

Two minutes later, the captain said, the Storstad's starboard and port lights loomed out of the fog. The Storstad was a ship's length away. Captain Kendall said he shouted through his megaphone at the Storstad to back water, and at the same time had his vessel go full speed ahead to try to avoid a collision.

A strawberry and ice cream lawn social will be held under the auspices of the Baptist Ladies Aid Society, on the lawn at the residence of Mrs. J. R. Grayshon, 620 Milton street, on Thursday afternoon and evening, June 4. A fine musical program will be rendered. Come and have a good time. 73-3t

At Wallace Street Methodist church tonight the Pastor, Rev. S. J. Thompson will preach his farewell sermon and the choir will render the following musical program: Anthem, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" (Ambrose). Male Quartette, "Lead Kindly Light" (Dykes) Messrs. COUNTY COURT CASES.

Before His Honor Judge Barker, in the Nanaimo County Court, the following case was heard:

Pitrie Manufacturing Co. vs. W. R. Prescott.

Suit for $117 on notes given for Cream separator. Defence was that the Company's agent had sold a machine under misrepresentation. Judge held no misrepresentation and gave judgment for full amount and costs. C. H. Beevor-Potts for plaintiff and Arthur Leighton for defendant.

EMPRESS WRECK HERO KNOWN IN NANAIMO

Dr. James F. Grant, the hero of the Empress of Ireland disaster was well known in Nanaimo. For a short time, about a year ago, he was associated with Dr. Drost at Ladysmith in the practise of his profession. A few weeks ago his health failed and he was travelling an the Empress of Ireland for a rest. He is a son in law of Mrs. Charles Pawlett of this city.

Thomas in French Car Won 500 Mile Race at Average Speed of 82.47 Miles an Hour.

Indianapolis, May 30.—Thomas, in a French car won the annual 500-mile automobile race here today, his time for the course being 6 hours 3 minutes and 45 seconds. Thomas broke all records from 5 to 500 miles his average speed being 82.47 miles an hour.

The early stages of the race today were marked by a number of serious accidents. Dawson and his mechanician and Gilhooley and his mechanician were sent to the field hospital. Dawson had a broken collarbone.

The crowd was the largest that ever has attended the annual event and was announced as being more than 100,000.

Goux, who won last year's race, was running in seventh place at noon, due largely to the fact that he had to stop frequently for tires.

ELEVEN MINERS KILLED IN EXPLOSION

Leeds, Eng., May 30.—Eleven coal miners were killed and a number of others injured today by an explosion of gas in the Silkstone Colliery at Wharncliffe.

The death occurred in Victoria yesterday morning of Mrs. William Templeman, wife of the Hon. William Templeman, former member of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's cabinet. The deceased was a native of Ontario, aged 68 years.

There will be no shoot of the Nanaimo Gun Club this morning, the trophy shoot will be held on Sunday June 7th.

Mr. C. J. Collins, the well known artist, was in the city last evening, and left for Victoria this morning, says the Ladysmith Chronicle. Mr. Collings has just completed a tour of the northern end of the island with Mr. D. Nicholson, road superintendent, and has selected many subjects which will be sketched a few months hence. He visited Alberni, Sproat Lake, Qualicum and other points and was delighted with the beauty of the scenes. Mr. Collings now resides at Seymour Arm, Shuswap Lake. He has exhibited many of his pictures of British Columbia scenery in the Old Country, all of which has added to his fame as an artist.

THE CHECK-OFF AGAIN.

Twelve thousand Virginia miners are reported to have left their work last night. The cause of the strike is not a demand for higher wages or better working conditions, nor yet for official recognition of the union. The operators have apparently refused to collect the union dues, and a convention of the United Mine Workers has decided that the men will not return to work until the operators have consented to do this, or in other words have granted the check-off. To most people it will appear that these miners of Virginia are dropping the substance to snatch at the shadow. This is altogether apart from the merits of the issue they have raised. It is a pose of the syndicalists and the Socialists who are using trade unions for political purposes to decry the work that has been accomplished by the older unions. Whether this work be great or small, it has in Great Britain, the home of trade unionism, been all accomplished without the use of the check-off system. There it has always been recognized and emphasized that the living force of trade unionism lay in its voluntary principle. There were difficulties in organization, and troubles in keeping the membership up to strength, but if the trade unionist movement in Great Britain had depended for its strength and efficiency upon a check-off system, it would have been a dismal failure. The idea behind the check-off is that of compulsion, or the club. It is intended and designed to force all men into the organization, whether they believe in it or are opposed to it, and to keep the lax and indifferent in good standing. It implies that the members of the union are not sufficiently convinced of its usefulness and the necessity of solidarity to voluntarily pay their dues. It means that the new union apostles have no faith in their followers, and are determined to force the operators to act as collectors and disciplinarians. In fact without the help and co-operation of the operators the union is no good, and twelve thousand men have gone on strike to demonstrate this curious and anomalous fact. The spirit of solidarity, of which so much is heard these days, exists only in and through the operators. The union itself only exists in and through the operators whom it was formed to bring to terms. In effect it boasts to the operators that it is going to force them to grant its claims, and then demands that they shall help it to do it. This is the highest manifestation of modern trade unionism on this continent. The question is can it be called trade unionism at all?

THE DISASTER.

The appalling disaster on the St. Lawrence continues to be the only news subject over the whole of Canada. While the figures have not yet been absolutely determined it is quite clear that the toll of life will not be less than a thousand. The outstanding feature in the catastrophe is the unexpectedness with which it happened and the suddenness with which it was all over. Only an hour or two out of Quebec, in the fair channel of the St. Lawrence, snugly berthed in the palatial liner, hundreds must have gone to their death without even knowing that there was anything wrong. Only a small percentage of the hundreds aboard seem to have reached the upper deck, and the big ship was keeling over for its final plunge before even these could have thoroughly realized the situation. In its appalling suddenness the catastrophe is without parallel in the history of marine disasters. Another peculiar feature is that those navigating the ship had warning of the approach of the collier. Captain Kendall states that he first saw the Storstad two miles away. Then the fog closed in, and the engines of the Empress were first shut down and then reversed. The signals were given the approaching collier and answered. Then out of the fog, barely a ship's length away loomed the collier and the boats crashed together. As fate would have it the Storstad struck the Empress the most fatal blow possible, and plowed right into her vitals. Had the impact been from any other angle the Empress might have been saved. Of course all the evidence is not yet in but the lesson so far revealed is that it adds very little to the safety of passengers to stop a liner if freighters maintain their steady plugging for port. Words are useless either to describe the horror of such a disaster or to express fitting sympathy with the relatives and dependants of the victims. Canada has suffered the saddest blow in its history and special sympathy is due the Canadian salvationists. The Army has lost some of its most prominent and successful leaders, and many of its most zealous followers. The loss to the army is the loss of Canada and just what this may amount to it is impossible just now to tell.

THE MERCHANTS BANK REPORT

The Annual Report of the Merchants Bank of Canada shows very satisfactory results for the year. The balance of Stock paid in during the year raised the Bank's Capital to $7,000,000, and the Reserve as the result of added profits for the year and the premium on new Stock has reached a similar amount, $7,000,000. In common with all the other leading banks, a policy of caution has been adopted. Summarized briefly, the report shows an increase of cash holdings of $1,500,000, ready assets totalling $24,923,403 or 36.3 per cent of the Bank's total liabilities. The profits for the year amounted to $1,218,694, being 17.8 per cent on the average capital of $6,865,740. Savings deposits show a very substantial increase of $2,600,000. Demand deposits are lower, but the combined deposits show a net increase of $500,000. The usual dividend was paid, and generous amounts marked off for depreciation in premises and a reserve of $135,000, made for depreciation in investments and securities. $50,000 was contributed to the Pension Fund and $248,134, balance was carried forward.

THE ANNUAL REPORT.

The report of the Directors was read by the President, as follows:—

The Board have much pleasure in submitting the result of the year's business, closing with the 30th April last. On an average capital and rest of $13,348,100, the Bank has earned 9.13%, which is a little lower rate than a year ago. Meantime, our capital stock has been further augmented by the disposal of the unsold shares, making the dividend disbursements somewhat greater. In the Profit and Loss Statement you will observe $135,000, applied in reduction of the sum representing the bonds and securities, which during the year have suffered a fall in price. To bring them to their market value the Board have authorized the writing of them down by that sum.

I have great pleasure to-day in congratulating the shareholders upon a very notable event in the history of the Bank—the fiftieth anniversary of its establishment—and also upon the happy attainment of the goal of the Board's ambition for many years back, namely, the placing of the Reserve Fund upon an equality with the paid up Capital. This consummation has been at length attained. The paid up Capital is now $7,000,000 and the Reserve Fund $7,000,000, as you will see from the statement placed before you.

During the past year we have opened branches at the following points:—In Quebec: Chateauguay Basin, Huntingdon, Maisonneuve, Montreal, St. Denis Street, Ormstown and Vaudreuil. In Ontario: Bronte, Clarkson, Hamilton East End, Sarnia and St. Catharines. In Alberta: West Edmonton, Raymond and Rimbey. In Saskatchewan: Eastend, Forres, Humboldt, Kelvinhurst, Limerick and Shaunavon. In British Columbia: Ganges Harbour, Oak Bay and Victoria North End. In Manitoba: Starbuck, and in Nova Scotia, New Glasgow.

And we have closed the following offices:—In Alberta: New Norway, Pincher Station and Walsh, and in Ontario: Sandwich.

All the branches of the Bank have been inspected during the year.

The Board will to-day ask the shareholders to appoint Auditors for the coming year, in accordance with the Bank Act.

The requirements under the new Bank Act, covering the preparation of the Annual Statement, together with the growth of the Bank, make it desirable that more time be given for this work. We find it, therefore, necessary that the date of the Annual Meeting be put forward somewhat. The third Wednesday in May, following nearly the close of books on 30th April does not allow sufficient time. The Board ask you to sanction a change of date to the first Wednesday in June which will meet requirements.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

H. MONTAGU ALLAN, President.

THE GENERAL MANAGER'S ADDRESS.

The General Manager, Mr. E. F. Hebden, then made his annual address, as follows:

There is very little to be said this year beyond that the country has come through a more than usually trying time the past twelve months. The transition was almost kaleidoscopic—from a period of plethora and easy money, with deposits raining in upon us, to a time of scarcity, with the blue-ruin prophet abroad in the land, the witch being father to the thought. The Banks, taken as a whole, took early note of the sudden change in the financial outlook, and took their measures accordingly. They were materially assisted by the excellent crop reaped almost throughout Canada which was largely marketed so soon as threshed, to the great easement of the general situation. There were many other factors at work making for relief. Meanwhile, we have moved into calmer waters, and while money is not yet easy in Canada, I believe we are on the high roads to better times and a renewal abroad of confidence in us, which will I firmly think, be given us before many years are over, in larger measure. The position in Canada today appears to me to be full of promise. Last summer I travelled throughout the Northwest and British Columbia, visiting nearly all our branches, and I should have been sceptical indeed if I did not see much to fill me with hope, bordering on conviction that the country had a very great future. You have had this assurance before, but the impression strongly prevails with me that Western Canada is more than likely to be Greater Canada in the years to come, for the opportunity is there, and the steps of the younger generation of many countries will surely be directed thither, where certain sucess is awaiting them.

You do not want voluminous statistics from blue books read to you, to prove that this country is a grand one, particularly for the industrious and frugal. Your business is prosperous. The heart of the country is sound to the very core, throughout its length and breadth. Extravagance and waste may yet need their lessons that spending is not living but only the sure forerunner of evil days. I do not desire to moralize or preach, but sanity in expenditure in public and private life is the only sure and certain road to permanent success, and I believe errors in the past will be retrieved, for few remain that are not convinced that the pace that kills must be permanently abandoned before the brighter era dawns. Those brighter days, I believe, are even now knocking at our door. It will be opened the sooner if borrowers of all kinds are moderate in their demands. Excess in borrowing will be the one potent factor in keeping things as they are and deferring the day of easier money and generally better conditions.

I have to thank the Board and the shareholders again in the name of the staff for yet another handsome addition to the Pension Fund. We hope in a year or two to place the fund upon such a sound actuarial basis that no further subventions will be needed.

May I now express the hope that the coming year's business may in every way reach our reasonable expectations.

The motion of Messrs. Farquhar Robertson and G. L. Cains, to change the date of the Annual Meeting to the first Wednesday in June was unanimously adopted.

On motion of Messrs. John Patterson and A. Piddington Messrs. Vivian Harcourt, of Deloitte, Plender, Griffiths & Co., and James Reid Hyde, of Macintosh and Hyde, were appointed auditors of the bank, to hold office until the next annual general meeting, their remuneration not to be more than $5,000 in all.

Mr. A. Haig Sims moved, seconded by Mr. D. Kinghorn, that the Scrutineers cast one ballot in favor of the following as Directors: Sir H. Montagu Allan and Messrs. K. W. Blackwell, Thomas Long, Alex. Barnet, F. Orr Lewis, Andrew A. Allan, C. C. Ballantyne, A. J. Dawes, F. Howard Wilson, Farquhar Robertson, Geo. L. Cains and Alfred B. Evans.

The motion was unanimously carried, and these directors were declared elected.

At a subsequent special meeting of the Directors, Sir H. Montagu Allan was re-eleced as President and Mr. K. W. Blackwell as Vice-President.

NANAIMO C. C. LOST CLOSE GAME

A close and exciting cricket game ended yesterday afternoon in favor of Cowichan Club by 9 runs, the final scores being 165 to 159. The visitors played an up-hill game right through and just managed to pull the game out of the fire. The interest was always well maintained, and after the local club had to all appearances the game well in hand, the plucky efforts of the visiting batsmen pulled it round and saved the day.

The home side batted first and a capital start was made by Harry Jepson and Newbury. The former batted in free, crisp style, driving with great force, and cutting very powerfully. With Newbury playing a steady bat it looked as if there was to be a record first wicket score. However, Bagnall got past Newbury's defence with a low fast ball the telegraph board then registering 70 runs. Paul joined Jepson and also showed good form. He had not been very long in, however, when Bagnall took Jepson from a flukey forward stroke. Battey was out hitting at Orr's slows, and Leighton after getting a six and a four was beautifully taken by Orr at mid-off from a terrific drive. Rivers batted very nicely and with Paul added rapidly to the score, the latter reaching 43 before Bagnall got through his guard. None of the other bats did anything and the score after having stood at 147 for 5, only reached 156.

The Cowichan batsman did not start so well. The veteran Orr was out l.b.w. to Leighton with the score at 6 and Brooke Smith was bowled by Newbury with the total at 23. Catling an old Nanaimo player, was bowled by Leighton with only eleven runs added to the score and then Bagnall joined Murphy. The former had been playing a free, forcing bat right along and after Leighton had refused a chance from Bagnall, the latter also began to hit out in great style. He had several other narrow escapes, and was beaten several times by the bowlers, but his 37 saved the day for his side. Hayward did not bat as soundly as usual, made several fluky shots, and was missed more than once in the field, but his 27 also helped his side. Murphy after playing almost through the innings, was clean bowled by Leighton for a finely played 48. Berkley made the winning hit, and then was clean bowled by Hindmarch, the final score being 165.

It was a great game and Cowichan were fully entitled to their victory. The scores are as follows:

I OWE MY LIFE TO "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

They Did Me More Good Than All Other Treatments Combined

Mrs. H. S. WILLIAMS

PALMERSTON, ONT., June 20th. 1913

"I really believe that I owe my life to "Fruit-a-tives". Ever since childhood, I have been under the care of physicians and have been paying doctors' bills. I was so sick and worn out that people on the street often asked me if I thought I could get along without help. The same old stomach trouble and distressing headaches nearly drove me wild. Some time ago I got a box of "Fruit-a-tives" and the first box did me good. My husband was delighted and advised a continuation of their use. "Fruit-a-tives" completely cured me.

Today, I am feeling fine, and a physician meeting me on the street, noticed my improved appearance and asked me the reason. I replied, "I am taking Fruit-a-tives". He said, "Well, if "Fruit-a-tives" are making you look so well, go ahead and take them. They are doing more for you than I can".

Mrs. H. S. WILLIAMS.

"Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.

I was very sick with Quinsy and thought I would strangle. I used MINARD'S LINIMENT and it cured me at once.

I am never without it now.

Yours gratefully,
MRS. C. D. PRINCE.

CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF NANAIMO, B. C.

A BYLAW.
NO.—

To authorize the borrowing of the sum of Thirty thousand dollars for the purpose of improving and extending the distribution system of the Water-works of this city, and to reimburse the general revenue of the City for advances made during the year 1913 for water-works construction account in anticipation of a loan being raised, and

Whereas the proposed extension of the distribution system will materially increase the revenue for the said Water-works, and

Whereas in order to carry out the proposed extension and improvements, it will be necessary to raise by way of debentures upon the credit of the City of Nanaimo, the sum of Thirty Thousand Dollars, repayable in twenty-five years from the date hereinafter fixed for this Bylaw to take effect, with interest in the meantime payable half yearly at the rate of 5½ per cent per annum, and

Whereas it will be necessary to raise in each year, during the currency of any or all said debentures, by special rate for the purpose of paying the said debt and interest, the sum of $2472.81, whereof the sum of $1650.00 is to be raised annually for payment of interest during the currency of the said debentures, and $822.81 is to be raised annually for the purpose of creating a sinking fund for the payment of the debt secured by the said debentures, and

Whereas the whole rateable property of the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo, according to the revised assessment roll for the year 1913 is $4,907,555.00, and the total existing debenture debt of the said city is $599,500.00, exclusive of works of local improvement and for school purposes, and

Whereas this bylaw may not be altered or repealed except with the consent of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

Be it therefore enacted by the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo as follows:

1. For the purpose of improving and extending the distribution system of the City of Nanaimo within the corporate limits, and the repayment of certain expenditures on water works construction account, it shall be lawful for the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo to raise or cause to be raised by way of loan from any person or persons, body or bodies corporate who may be willing to advance the same upon the credit of the debentures hereinafter mentioned, a sum of money not exceeding in the whole the sum of Thirty Thousand Dollars, and cause the same to be paid into the hands of the Treasurer of the said City for the purpose and object before recited.

2. It shall be lawful for the said corporation to cause any number of debentures to be made, executed and issued, not exceeding in the whole the sum of Thirty Thousand Dollars for such sums of money of not less than $100.00 each, as may be required, and all such debentures shall be sealed with the seal of the said Corporation of the City of Nanaimo, and be signed by the Mayor of the said City and countersigned by the City Clerk.

3. The said debentures shall bear date of the 2nd. July, 1914, and shall be payable in twenty-five years from said date, at the office of the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo, and shall have attached to them Coupons for the payment of interest and the signature or signatures to the said coupons may be either written, stamped, printed or lithographed.

4. The said debentures shall bear interest at the rate of 5½ per cent. per annum from the date thereof which interest shall be payable half yearly on the second day of January and July, in each and every year during the currency of said debentures at the office of the Corporation in the said City of Nanaimo.

5. There shall be raised and levied in each year during the currency of the said debentures the sum of $1650.00 for the payment of interest, and the sum of $822.81 for the purpose of creating a sinking fund for the payment of the debt due under the said debentures, making in all the sum of $2472.81.

6. There shall be levied and raised in each and every year until the said debentures and interest thereon shall be paid, a special rate on all rateable land or improvements or real property of the City, in addition to all other rates, sufficient to pay the interest and create a sinking fund for the payment of the debentures.

7. It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the said Corporation to dispose of the said debentures at a rate below par, and to authorize the Treasurer to pay out of the sums so raised by the sale of the said debentures all expenses connected with the preparation of the debentures and coupons, or any discount or commission or other charges incidental to the sale of said debentures.

8. This Bylaw shall take effect on the 2nd. day of July, 1914.

9. This Bylaw may be cited as the Water Works Loan Bylaw, 1914.

10. This Bylaw before the final passing thereof, shall receive the assent of the electors of the City of Nanaimo, in the manner provided by the Municipal Act.

Passed on the 18th May, 1914.

NOTICE

Take notice that the above is a true copy of the proposed Bylaw, upon which the vote of the municipality will be taken at the Old Court House, Front street, Nanaimo, on Monday the 8th day of June, 1914, from 9 o'clock a. m., to 7 o'clock, p. m.

BUSY MEETING OF THE COUNCIL

Albert St. Re-Grade Referred to City Clerk and Engineer —Local Improvement By-laws Given Three Readings.

The regular meeting of the City Council was held last evening there being a full attendance of the aldermen with His Worship, Mayor Planta presiding.

The Waterworks Committee recommended a 6 inch cast iron water main be laid on Haliburton street between Robins and Woodhouse streets, at an estimated cost of $925.

In moving the adoption of the report Ald. Young stated that there were 22 consumers on the line at present, the pipes being so badly corroded that it was hardly possible to get a drop of water through them. The revenue from the consumers was $50 a month so he considered the peoposal a good paying investment.

Ald. Ferguson seconded the motion.

Ald. Forrester was in favor of the proposal because the district affected was but a continuation of Haliburton street, and he was in favor of laying a pipe which would be carrying out the general schema of city water works extension.

Ald. Crossan considered it an advantage to have the outside people come into the city limits but if they were to derive all the benefits without the extra taxes they would not come in.

The motion carried.

The Street Committee submitted the following report:

Gentlemen:

Your Streets Committee, having consulted with the ratepayers of Albert street, beg to recommend that the agreed rates for the regrading, slightly amended be as follows: For the bottom rock cut, $5.15 per foot front, the middle part $2.07 per foot front, the upper cut and fill, $2.90 per foot front. This will allow for filling the street to grade between the upper and lower cuts outside of the contractor's tender. The charge on intersections streets will be as follows: Cavan street $1.61 per foot front, Dunsmuir street $0.74 per foot front, Kennedy street south $0.93 per foot front, Kennedy street north $1.30 per foot front.

Respectfully submitted,
H. McKenzie
J. R. McKinnell
W. J. Ferguson
Streets Committee.

Ald. McKenzie informed the Council the Street Committee had met the ratepayers of Albert street, who wanted a different appartionment than that offered two weeks ago. The Committee had agreed to this and he would move the motion passed two weeks ago be rescinded. After the motion had been adopted Ald. McKenzie moved the report of the Street Committee be adopted and the city clerk instructed to notify Albert street property owners along the lines of the motion and to take all the necessary steps to have the work carried out.

Ald. Ferguson seconded the motion, which was adopted.

City Engineer Owen reported an expenditure in wages during the week of $648.50 on streets account, and $95.45 on waterworks account. The Engineer also reported that up to May 31st the sum of $1091.95 had been expended on the Nicol street regrade.

Mr. John Parkin, chief of the fire department, reported four fires during the month of May, all of a trivial nature.

In connection with the report of the Fire Chief, Ald. Forrester informed the Council the fire started by a sky rocket in the rear of the Palace of Sweets on the night of May 25th was not caused by a rocket set off in connection with the fireworks display of the Victoria Day celebration, but by a private party.

Ald. McKenzie moved as follows, seconded by Ald. McKinnell:

Resolved that this Council will enter into a contract with H. J. Kaiser, which contract shall be a duplicate of the existing contract with the Canadian Mineral Rubber Company upon the following conditions:

1. Said H. J. Kaiser to secure a release from the liquidator of the Canadian Mineral Rubber Company, releasing the city from its liability in connection with the existing contract.

2. Also, the said H. J. Kaiser is to secure a full and complete release from the Warren Bros. releasing the city from any action for damages for infringement on their patents, etc., for which release he is to be allowed an extra 10 c. per square yard, or should the Council desired to lay the standard bithnlitic pavement he is to be allowed an extra 30c. per square yard for any street.

3. And that H. J. Kaiser shall furnish the city with a satisfactory bond for the construction and maintenance of the pavement for five years.

The motion was unanimously adopted by the Council.

Ald. McKinnell was granted permission to introduce a bylaw to amend the Sewer Rental and Connection Bylaw. The bylaw was given the first and second readings and the Council went into committee of the whole with Mayor Planta in the chair to further consider the bylaw, which was reported complete from committee and given the third reading.

Permission was granted Ald. McKenzie to introduce nine bylaws permitting the raising of $ by by way of loan to pay for the construction of cement sidewalks authorized in 1912.

The several bylaws are as follows:

To borrow the sum of $4740.01 for local imvrovement work on Franklyn street.

To borrow the sum of $4348.21 for local improvement work on Milton street.

To borrow the sum of $5315.39 for local improvement work on Wentworth street.

To borrow the sum of $6377.09 for local improvement work on Nicol street.

To borrow the sum of $734.22 for local improvement work on Fitzwilliam street.

To borrow the sum of $1420.22 for local improvement work on Skinner street.

To borrow the sum of $11654.29 for local improvement work on Macleary street.

To borrow the sum of $7359.49 for local improvement work on Kennedy street.

To borrow the sum of $608.08 for local improvement work on Bastion street.

The bylaws were all reported complete from committee and given the third readings.

Ald. Young reminded the Aldermen that next Monday the vote was to be taken on the Waterworks Loan Bylaw and he urged that everyone of the Aldermen get out and do his best to have the bylaw carried.

Council then adjourned.

WEDNESDAY IS THE KING'S BIRTHDAY

All banks in the city, all Dominion and Provincial Government offices will be closed tomorrow (Wednesday) the King's birthday, which is a statutory holiday. Those having business matters to attemd to should bear this in mind because enquiries at public offices yesterday morning elicited the fact that the knowledge that the King's birthday was a statutory holiday is not generally known. The late King Edward requested that his birthday in November be not observed, but that May 24th should be recognized in memory of his mother, Victoria the Good. When the present king ascended the throne he made no such request, and the law states that the King's birthday shall be a holiday.

MISSING PASSENGERS FOUND TO BE ALIVE.

Montreal, June 1.—In a revised list saved in the Empress of Ireland disaster, issued tonight by the Canadian Pacific Company, there appeared the following names of persons who previously had been reported as missing:

Abercrombie, J. R., Vancouver.
Godson, F. R., Kingston, Ont.
Johnson, D., Fredericton, N. B.
Mallock, C., Lardo, B. C.
Townsend, Miss T., New Zealand.
Taylor, Miss H., Montreal.
Wallett, Rev. J., London, Eng.

The inclusion in the Dominion supplementary estimates of the sum of $80,000 for the removal of obstructions from the Fraser River calls attention to the fact that the work has been in progress for some time at Hell Gate, in the Fraser Canyon, about one mile this side of China bar. This is one of the narrowest portions of the river. The water is only about 100 feet wide at that point, and the current rushes through at a tremendous speed. It has always been difficult for the sockeye salmon to get past on their annual run up the Fraser, the fish leaping from eddy to eddy until finally they reach the wider stream and less resistence.

Nanaimo Post of Native Sons will meet in regular session this evening at 7:30.

OUR HUNDRED DOLLAR PIANO GIVEN FREE

The Sampson Cash Stores are offering a new $400 Upton piano to their customers. Anyone may enter the contest who wishes, all nominations to be made by June 15. Full particulars of the contest may be obtained from the store. The general idea of the contest is that with every purchase made at Sampson's Cash Stores so many votes will be given. These may be handed to any of the competitors. Mr. Sampson has also made arrangements with The Herald so that everyone who makes a payment on subscription, whether a new or old subscriber, is entitled to so many votes which they may hand to their friends in the competition. Monies paid into The Herald for job work also entitles the one paying to a certain number of votes.

Candidates entering the contest are given a number and the standing of each contestant is given periodically by letter and through this paper. The names of contestants are not made public but their standing is given by numbers.

Contestants for the piano have nothing to pay and they stand a chance to win the beautiful new piano now on exhibition in Sampson's store.

Fuller particulars will be announced later. In the meantime those wishing to enter the contest should call at Sampson's store.

COST MANY LIVES AND MUCH MONEY

Sixty-Six Persons Killed. Many Wounded and Millions Spent. Yet Colorado Strike is Far From a Settlement.

Denver, Colo., June 1.—Definite prospects for a settlement of the strike in the Colorado coal fields, where the miners have been out since September 23, 1913, and where 1707 United States troops are now guarding the mining properties, apparently are no nearer realization than they were weeks ago, according to statements by union officials and mine operators today.

Sixty-six persons are known to have been killed in the battles and disorders, and the known wounded list totals forty-eight. Classified the death list as a result of the strike since last September, shows eighteen strikers, ten mine guards, nineteen mine employees, two militiamen, three non-combatants, two women and twelve children. Two classed as mine employees were also members of the Colorado national guard, but were not in uniform when killed. Twenty were killed prior to April 20 the date of the battle of Ludlow, and forty-six were killed during the next ten days when federal troops stopped the warfare.

The cost of the eight months industrial conflict is variously estimated at from ten to thirteen millions. The figures include the sum of $700,000 incurred by the state in maintaining state troops in the field until the arrival of the federal forces. The cost to the union is estimated at $6,925,000, and the sweeping statement is made by the operators that their loss will total "several millions."

Figures compiled by the state coal mine inspector show that there were employed in th the coal mines of Colorado for the first three months of 1914 an average of 10,149 miners, as compared with 14,035 for the same period in 1913.

The total production for the first three months of 1914 was 2,817,675 tons against 3,638,436 tons for the same period a year ago.

From the same source it is learned there were 12,346 men working in the mines last September when the strike was called; 7,696 in October, the first full month, following the strike, and 10,146 in March, 1914. Against these figures stand the claims of John R. Lawson, international executive board member of the United Mine Workers of America, that approximately 11,000 men quit work in response to the strike call last September and that about 8500 men are still on strike.

"There has been no change in the nature of the demands since the strike was called," said Mr. Lawson. "I don't know of any prospects of a settlement. The miners will never go back without recognition of the union if they follow my advise.

"The right to organize, an eight-hour day; check weighmen and the right to select boarding and trading places are state laws, but they are not enforced."

Holding that the chief demands of the United Mine Workers, with the exception of union recognition are guaranteed by statute, the operators maintained their original position, namely, refusal to treat with representatives of the United Mine Workers or recognize the union. They reiterate a willingness to meet actual employees for the adjustment of grievances.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR EMPRESS WRECK

Captain Anderson of Steamer Storstad Says He Was Not to Blame for Collision That Ended in Disaster.

Montreal, June 1.—On arriving at Montreal Captain Thomas Anderson of the Storstad, gave out a statement in which he disclaimed responsibility for the collision. According to this statement the Empress of Ireland was sighted and fog shortly afterward enveloped both vessels, fog signals were exchanged and the Storstad's engines were stopped. When she lost sight of the Empress in the river mists, the latter's course had been set so that the vessels would pass each other safely. The Storstad's course remained unaltered, the statement adds, but when the Empress of Ireland was next seen, she was close at hand on the port bow of the collier, and was making considerable headway."

It is declared that the Storstad's engines were at once reversed and that her momentum was nearly checked when the vessels came together.

As for the charge that the Storstad backed out of the hole she had torn in the Empress, the statement declares that it is not true. Her engines were ordered ahead to hold her against the liner's side, but the headway the Empress was under twisted the collier's bow out of the gash, it is added, and not only did the collier remain as near the scene of the collision as was safe, but every one of her boats were lowered, despite her own damaged condition, and saved some 350 of the liner's passengers and crew.

The statement concludes with asking that judgment regarding the blame for the disaster be suspended "until an impartial tribunal has heard the evidence of both sides."

All questioned on board said that when the Storstad struck the Empress she was in command of the first officer. Down in the engine room the third engineer was in command. The third engineer was nervous and refused even to give his name.

He had been told, he said, that he would have to make an official statement to the Norwegian consul. The first engineer gruffly declined to say anything.

The arrival of the Storstad was marked by a dramatic scene. Down at the wharf there was the usual crowd of sightseers. On the bridge stood Captain Anderson with his wife A narrow plank was run across and desperate efforts were made by newspaper men to get aboard. Still more desperate was the attempt of S. C. Mason, marshal of the Quebec admiralty division of the exchequer court of Canada. Mason had a writ of seizure to serve on the Starstad, and, accompanied by a couple of assistants, he tried to rush across the plank, but Mr. Mason and his men were politely told to return the way they had come. Then came his opportunity as a couple of steamship officials who had been admitted on board immediately the vessel was moored, were about to go on shore again. A ladder was thrown across the gap of water, and before it could be lifted the marshal was aboard. "This ship is seized," said the marshal to the captain. "The ship is seized?" the captain queried.

The writ was issued on Saturday, and set forth that the ship is seized on an action for two million dollars' damage, which the C.P.R. has taken.

Wm. Berkley, of Courtenay, appeared before Wesley Willard, J. P., on Tuesday, at the Courtenay courthouse, charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. He pleaded guilty, and was fined $100 and costs.

NANAIMO HAS THE FIRST JUNE WEDDING

At the Parsonage of the Wallace Street Methodist church last evening Rev. S. J. Thompson united in marriage Mr. Theodore Christopher Berntsen and Miss Maud Alice Belyea both of Nanaimo.

The groom was supported by Mr. Parker Belyea, brother of the bride and the bride was attended by Miss Nash.

Mr. and Mrs. Berntsen will take up their residence in Nanaimo.

OPENS UP A FINE DISTRICT

Rich Territory Will be Exploited by Extension of E. & N. Ry. North From McBride Junction.

Mr. D. C. Alexander of the department of natural resources of the C. P.R. returned to Vancouver Saturday from Vancouver Island where he made a trip over the extension of the E. & N. Railway from McBride Junction to the town of Courtenay. He is much impressed with the territory which will be opened up by the new line and believes in a short time there will be a considerable farming population there. The railway passes through the district of Nanoose, Cameron, Alberni, Newcastle, Nelson and a portion of Comox.

"This is a good agricultural valley averaging about five miles in width with some large areas of timber," he stated. "The E. & N. has a reserve of 200,000,000 feet of timber. The land is well watered and very productive when well cleared and cultivated. The climate is mild and conditions are favorable to the cultivation of fruit, vegetables and grain. The farm holdings range from 10 to 160 acres with only small clearings in most cases.

"In the district of Nanoose there are about 40,000 acres of agricultural land. The population is 1,400, one half of whom have come in during the past year. A good harbor can be made at Nanoose Bay. Englishman's River is said to be capable of developing 5,000 horsepower. It is estimated that there are one hundred million feet of merchantable timber in the district. Cameron district has about 10,000 acres of farm land. The district is just being opened up. It possesses good hunting and fishing and a tourist hotel and golf links at Qualicum Beach. Newcastle district has 25,000 acres well suited for cultivation. The soil is rich clay loam. The population is not over 500, but nearly half of the number went in last year. There can be hydro-power development on the Qualicum River. There are about 150,000,000 feet of merchantable timber in the district. Nelson district has 8,000 acres of very good land with not much settlement as yet. There is also a large amount of standing timber. The Canadian Collieries have a large dock at Union Bay which is the business centre of the district. The Courtenay-Comox district has a large area of agricultural land and dairying is the chief industry. Last year the Comox Creamery Association, with a plant in Courtenay, manufactared 122,240 pounds of butter, valued at $44,776. Improved land in the district is valued at from $250 to $500 per acre. Comox is the harbor town of the district.

"Colonization is being carried on satisfactorily by a number of companies. One of the conditions of sale is that the lands must be occupied within two years from the date of purchase. These companies have spent a large amount of money in surveying, classifying, building, draining, clearing and advertising. The lands are laid off in blocks and subdivided into tracts of from 10 to 40 acres. Many miles of roads have been constructed. Several areas have been cleared at a cost of from $150 to $300 per acre. The clearing was done with a view to encouraging settlement, but the experience has been that it does not help, the purchasers preferring to take the time and clear for themselves rather than pay the higher price.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Industrial League will be held in the League office this (Tuesday) afternoon at 4:15.

AFTERMATH OF BIG DISASTER

Many of Victims of Empress of Ireland Wreck are Being Identified—Incidents Connected With the Disaster.

Quebec, June 1.—Identifications of the dead of the wrecked steamship Empress of Ireland include Sir Henry Seton-Kerr, the big game hunter; Dr. E. A. Barlow, a leading geologist of Canada, and Mrs. W. Leonard Palmer, wife of a London newspaperman; Mrs. Gallagher, Winnipeg; Mr. A. B. Anderson, London; Mrs. P. Flack, Gravenhurst, Ont.; Mr. Taylor. Added to the missing: Mrs. Lawler, Brantford; Mrs. F. W. Cullen, and Master Cullen.

Body of Irving Found.

Rimouski, June 1.—The body of Laurence Irving, actor, was picked up on the west shore of the St. Lawrence below Rimouski last evening and information was given to C. P. R. officials here this morning. His face was hardly recognizable but on his finger was a signet ring with the initials "L. I." He had a piece of a woman's clothing in his dead grip and it was evidently Mrs. Irving's, because when last seen alive the distinguished actor was making a desperate effort to save his wife. It was through his brave efforts to save her life that he lost his own.

Swam Four Miles.

Vancouver, June 1.—When the Empress of Ireland went down in the St. Lawrence on Friday morning, Gordon Davidson, history instructor at California university, swam four miles to shore through the icy waters of the swiftly-flowing river. He had a lifebelt on, but the feat was a remarkable one. Word of the safety of Mrs. Davidson was received here today by his brother, J. G. Davison of the McGill college staff.

Position of Lost Ship.

Father Point, Que., June 1.— Two empty boats belonging to the Empress of Ireland were picked up by the steamship Grampian at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, 25 miles below here. An automobile patrol has been established all along the coast with special constables in every village. Communication is made available day and night by telegraph and telephone.

Soundings established that the Empress is in 20 fathoms of water. The distance from Father Point to the wreck is seven miles, and it took place 3½ miles from shore. Bubbles are still constantly ascending. The bottom on which she lies is soft clay.

Start Relief Fund.

London, June 1.—The following subscriptions have been sent to the Lord May's fund for the relief of survivors of the Empress of Ireland disaster: His Majesty King George V., £500; Her Majesty Queen Mary, £250; Sir Harry Poland, K.C., £100; Commercial Travellers Association £250 Lord Derby, £200; Countess Derby, £25; total £1,100. The Liverpool fund has reached £1,500.

Searching for Bodies.

Ottawa, June 1.—Capt. Pouliot, who has been instructed by the government to use every means possible of recovering the bodies of those lost in the wreck of the Empress of Ireland, reported as follows yesterday from aboard the tug Lady Evelyn:

"Weather permitting will leave tomorrow morning to search for the bodies of the Empress of Ireland disaster. Have landed 237 people alive and have given almost all the ship's linen to cover their nude or partly nude bodies. Crew have also given part of their clothes. Have picked up 137 bodies in the water, men, women and children, but mostly women Have turned over all the capsized life boats to look for bodies. Found two under one boat. Left two new boats along the wreckage to pick up anyone while we went to land passengers who badly needed doctor's care. I patrolled the place until dark on Friday and went back on Saturday and today. I have also put a small buoy on the wreck with a jack and took soundings over and around it. The Druid has put a gas buoy out today. It was an awful night, which I hope I shall never witness again. I will do all possible to recover the bodies."

NOTICE.

Fire alarm will be tested every day at 12 o'clock.

A RECENT VERDICT.

The Colonist is right in its assertion that "public expectation" has nothing to do with the results of assize trials. One of the objects of trial by jury is certainly to find a verdict upon the evidence submitted in court and thus avoid condemnation in response to public expectation. The Colonist makes these remarks anent the recent Millard murder trial in Vancouver in which a verdict of manslaughter was returned against the Chinese boy Kong. But even these premises do not pave the way to the conclusion that the verdict in this case was the only possible one. Certainly the Colonist's review of the evidence is far from satisfactory. According to its statement of the case, there was no necessity for Kong to have made any statement. We are rather inclined to think that without his statement the guilt of the crime was irreoocably thrust upon him. His testimony broke the chain of circumstantial evidence, and the whole issue hinged on the reliance to be placed upon the story told by the prisoner. It had to be weighed in the light of his whole conduct subsequent to the tragedy, and in the face of the evidence submitted by the crown. In neither regard was it absolutely satisfactory, but it did raise a reasonable doubt of guilt, and on this ground alone the verdict of the jury was justified. It may also be added that in view of the public agitation the tragedy caused, and of the "public expectation" it gave rise to the verdict was all the more satisfactory as vindicating the impartiality and fairness of British Columbia law and justice.

CRICKET CRITICISM.

Local cricketers have not been doing very well this season, and they may get a valuable wrinkle from a Victoria critic who watched the game on Saturday between Victoria and Oak Bay. It seems that the Oak Bay trundlers were unable to get any spin on the ball, "and pace without this" remarks the critic, "must be always expensive." This puts the kibosh on all the demon extresses. What is wanted is a bowler with the pace of a Richardson, and the twists of a Barnes. How the batsman would then meet his troubles the Lord only knows. Granted the bowler has the pace, however, this new critic can tell him how to get the spin. "Want of spin," he says, "often indicates lack of strength of the muscles in the small of the back, which may easily be remedied by some slow heavy work, such as digging or lifting weights." Now the local trundlers know what is wrong with them, let them get in and dig. A week's digging and next Saturday wickets should rattle down like pins in a bowling alley.

LEMIEUX CHAMPIONS HINDUS.

If there was one thing more than another responsible for the slump in Liberalism in British Columbia it was the utter failure of the Eastern leaders of the party to understand the needs of the province and to appreciate the sentiments of its people. Even Laurier with all his genius for statesmanship never got really into touch with the heart and spirit of the people of the Pacific slope. His lieutenants never even attempted to conceal their indifference, and their sojourn in the shades of opposition has brought them no nearer to an appreciation of the realities of the situation here. Only the other day we quoted the Hon. Frank Oliver to the effect that the enterprise of the Canadian Northern Railway should have ended on the eastern slope of the Rockies. He attributed all the difficulties that had overtaken the company to its premature adventure into British Columbia. So far as he is concerned his interest in Canada does not cross the Rocky Mountains. Now the Hon Rudolphe Lemieux displays a like indifference and ignorance. According to a speech delivered in the House of Commons on Saturday he would have the Hindus now detained on the Komagata Maru at Vancouver admitted to the province. They are British subjects, knocking at the gates of Canada for admission, and he wanted to know why they were kept out. His question was addressed to Mr. Cockshutt, member for Brantford, and the ex-Post Master General sneered at his imperialism. Mr. Lemieux could have found other members in the House better fitted to give him his answer. The demand of the people of British Columbia for the exclusion of Asiatics is not dictated by any consideration of empire or imperialism. Neither is the cry for a white B. C. a party cry. The people are practically a unit on the question. So far as the people of the province are concerned the matter admits of no argument. Yet the Hon. Mr. Lemieux is supremely indifferent to their sentiments and wofully ignorant of the whole situation. He is even prepared to quibble on the standing of Hindu citizenship. The Hindus are not British subjects in the sense that Canadians are. They do not enjoy the same complete standard of citizenship. Even if they did it would make no difference to the necessity of British Columbia, for the exclusion of Asistics has become a provincial necessity. The arrival of four undred Hindus at our gate has been a very real anxiety to the public of British Columbia. It still remains a cause for anxiety, and will continue to do so until the exclusion of these Hindus has been settled definitely in the law courts of the Dominion. To the Hon. Rudolphe Lemieux it is merely a matter for flippant comment, and a fit subject for light dialectics. Plainly he is another ex-minister whose political education stopped at the Rockies.

The latest vagary of the British militant suffragettes is the destruction of one of the oldest and most historic churches in England. The idea of the militants is to strike at that which cannot be replaced. Masterpieces of art, and historic buildings furnish their chief game. It is hard to credit such insensate folly, and the authorities find themselves helpless against this modern outbreak of hysteria. The perpetrators make a mock of all punishment. They starve themselves out of prison in a few days and the work of outrage and sacrilege goes wantonly on. It is clear that until once the authorities find fitting punishment for offences the militant arsonettes will rage triumphant.

The last of the Qualicum tribe of Indians, is a Mrs. Smith, daughter of the last chief of the tribe. She with her husband and family had been residing at Qualicum for several years past, but she received word from her lawyer a few months ago, that she would have to go back to the reserve to hold her claim. The reserve comprises 193 acres of beach, forest and stream, and is beautifully situated. "Qualicum Tom" is not a Qualicum Indian, but is of a northern tribe. He has been on the Qualicum reservation for about thirty years.

VANCOUVER WON DEADMAN'S ISLAND

Ottawa, June 1.— The Exchequer judgment in the Deadman's Island Court this morning gave out its case argued on Tuesday last. As expected, Mr. Justice Cassels has decided in favor of the contentions of the city of Vancouver and the department of justice. His judgment finds that the deed executed by Sir Frederick Borden in 1904 purporting to give perpetual rights to the island to Theodore Ludgate and his associates to have been without authority and therefore null and void. The Vancouver Lumber Company will have to pay the costs of the crown in the action.

EMPRESS INSURED FOR 400,000 POUNDS

London, June 1.— The C. P. R. liner Empress of Ireland was insured at Lloyds for 280.000 pounds, while her cargo was insured for about 200-000 pounds. On receipt of the first rumors of the disaster the underwriters reinsured at 4 per cent. Later 30 per cent. was charged and immediately thereafter the full details became known.

PRESENTED TO POPE.

Rome, June 1.—The Right Rev. Mathias C. Lenihan, bishop of Great Falls, Mont., was received today by the Pope and presented a party of American pilgrims.

EFFORT WAS IN VAIN.

Davenport, Iowa, June 1.—George Ploehn, 21 years old, who was resuscitated by means of a pulmotor after being under water for five minutes last Thursday, died of pneumonia.

TAKES VACATION.

Washington, June 1.—Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, British ambassador will sail on Thursday from New York for a short vacation in England with his family. He said goodbye to Secretary Bryan today.

ESCAPES FROM TRAIN

Klamath Falls, Ore., June 1— While being taken back to Lake county, California, where he is wanted on a charge of horse stealing, "Buck" Lindsey escaped from the officer who had him in charge. The man made his break from a Southern Pacific train as it neared Klamath Falls. Lindsey is 30 years old. He was arrested in Albany. Ore., on advice from the sheriff at Lakeview, Cal.

Remington Typewriter Company

Official Distributors

A fitting climax to the opening of the Panama Canal will come with the great Exposition at San Francisco. The plans are complete. The beautiful de luxe Booklet of the Exposition is now ready.

A big question confronted the Exposition authorities: "How shall we put this handbook into the hands of intelligent people—everywhere?"

The problem was as big as the world's map. Various methods were considered and discarded.

Final judgment pointed to this most appropriate and logical way:—The Remington Typewriter Company was selected as the official distributor. Why?

—Because the Remington Typewriter Company is known wherever men communicate with each other in written language.

—Because the 658 Remington offices which dot the earth are supply stations for the most remote points in the two hemispheres.

To indicate further its belief in the Remington Typewriter, the Exposition management will type all its official letters on Remington machines. For the use of visitors, hundreds of Remingtons will be installed in the Exposition grounds.

What the Book Contains:

For instance:—Why at Panama will the sun rise out of the Pacific Ocean and set in the Atlantic? What were the climatic conditions which the 50,000 canal workers had to face on that strip of tropic land? How long will it take to pass a giant steamship through the canal? How will this vast national enterprise affect the Nation's trade routes and the world's commerce? How will the Exposition be staged? What will visitors see when they get there?

This handsome booklet is full of beautiful colored pictures illustrating the text, as well as several double-page maps.

You will do well to get a copy of this beautiful booklet which, in accordance with our arrangement with the Exposition, we are now distributing free.

Call at our local office and we shall be glad to give you a copy.

NANAIMO WON FROM VANCOUVER NINE

Nanaimo defeated Godfrey's Vancouver team at baseball on Sunday, by a score of 18 to 11 in a poor exhibition, no less than 20 errors being chalked up, the visitors piling up eleven while the locals were responsible for nine misplays. The huge total of errors coupled with terrific batting on the part of both teams, was responsible for the big score. Nanaimo won the game in the first innings, when a total of 7 hits drove in 9 runs, every member ofthe local team registering a tally which resulted in Herbst being driven from the mound. Thurston was substituted and with the exception of the sixth and seventh innings he pitched gilt-edge ball. The feature of the game was the batting of Blockley, who secured four hits out of five times up and scored no less than four runs for the visitors. With the exception of an occasional brilliant play the game was a wierd exhibition, the only redeeming feature from the standpoint of local fans being that Nanaimo won the contest.

The score:

A workman named Hodson, employed by the C.P.R. on the construction of the new cement culvert at Chase River suddenly went insane last evening and shouting aloud to the effect that he had been commanded by God to stop all traffic, lay down in the middle of the road near Chase river, refusing to allow any autos or vehicles to pass. The provincial police were informed of the occurrence and Hodson was brought to town in Mr. Morgan Harris' Ford car, and lodged in the provincial jail. He will be examined as to his insanity and sent to the hospital at New Westminster.

An old timer, very well known all over the coast died Sunday in Vancouver in the person of Mr. John E. Mason. For the last fourteen years he has been fishery inspector in Comox district on Vancouver Island, under Inspector Taylor, and it was twenty-three years ago that he first came to Comox. He was born 85 years ago at Poulfield, Ross-shire, Scotland. The remains have been embalmed by the T. Edwards Company and were shipped last evening by the steamer Cowichan to Comox. The funeral will be held on Wednesday from Courtenay to the cemetery at Sandwick, Rev. Mr. Menzies officiating.

WHALER KARLUK CRUSHED IN ICE.

New York, June 9.—News of the loss of the steam whaler Karluk, the main ship of the Stefansson Arctic expedition, is confirmed.

The Karluk was crushed in the ice last January, according to a message received here today from St. Michael, Alaska.

The crew is marooned on Wrangel Island. Their number is at present unknown. This dispatch received gives the bare fact and sets aside all doubt of the fate of the whaler.

There is, however, every hope that Captain R. F. Bartlett, her commander and his men have not perished.

HOW MORAN CAN WIN

Wray, of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, describes the coming Jack Johnson-Frank Moran fight as another "cheese" championship affair. But Wray does not like Johnson and was peeved when the French federation finally indorsed him.

It is possible to figure Moran a winner provided a sufficient number of ifs are inserted into the discussion For example, Moran can become champion:

If Johnson has slowed up.

If the champion has lost his punch

If dissipation has cut down the colored scrapper's stamina.

If Johnson fails to train properly or underestimates his more youthful opponent.

Or, provided Johnson is in good shape:

If the referee permits him to wear twelve-ounce gloves (eight ounces of lead in each.)

If Johnson battles with one hand tied behind his back.

If ball and chain be attached to the champion's legs.

There are other ways in which Moran might win. But no scrupulous referee is expected to stand for them. In short, appearances indicate that Moran is not up to beating Johnson, if the latter is able to get about. Defeats by Gunboat Smith, Jack Geyer, and Luther McCarty seem to classify Moran as an ineffective white hope, unless Father Time becomes an accessory before the fact.

Minard's Liniment used by Physicians.

William J. Knox, a Philadelphia bowler, knocked down 300 pins. the perfect score, during the American Bowling Congress at Toledo, on March 10, 1913. He is the only ten-pin expert to accomplish the feat in a national tourney. He has a medal emblematic of the feat.

Jack Johnson will defend the hegvyweight boxing title against F. Moran of Pittsburg, at Paris, June 27. It will take place at the Velodrome d'Hiver, which has a seating capacity af 35,000. This date coincides with the Grand Prix, the blue ribbon turf event of France.

G. H. Patching, the South African sprinter, is the only man credited with winning the 100-yard championship of England in 9 4-5 seconds.

NEW WORLD'S MARK

New York, June 1.—At Celtic Park, Long Island, Patrick J. McDonald, of the Irish American Athletic Club, made a new world's record by putting the eighteen-pound shot 46 feet 2½ inches. The former record of 45 feet 5¾ inches was made by the late Ralph Rose, of California, at San Francisco on February 23, 1913.

FIELD HUSBANDRY EXPERIMENTS.

The Experimental Farm at Ottawa and the branch farms and stations make field husbandry investigations a very prominent part of their work. For the information of those who are interested the more important results of last season's work over the entire system have been summarized and issued in Bulletin No. 75 of the Experimental Farms. It takes up the question of rotation, cultivation fertilizers, rates of seeding, cost of production, weed eradication and other points connected with field agriculture. The information is presented by farms and stations and is, therefore, easily available for study. This bulletin is for free distribution Department of Agriculture at Ottaat the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF NANAIMO, B. C.

A BYLAW.
NO.—

To authorize the borrowing of the sum of Thirty thousand dollars for the purpose of improving and extending the distribution system of the Water-works of this city, and to reimburse the general revenue of the City for advances made during the year 1913 for water-works construction account in anticipation of a loan being raised, and

Whereas the proposed extension of the distribution system will materially increase the revenue for the said Water-works, and

Whereas in order to carry out the proposed extension and improvements, it will be necessary to raise by way of debentures upon the credit of the City of Nanaimo, the sum of Thirty Thousand Dollars, repayable in twenty-five years from the date hereinafter fixed for this Bylaw to take effect, with interest in the meantime payable half yearly at the rate of 5½ per cent per annum, and

Whereas it will be necessary to raise in each year, during the currency of any or all said debentures, by special rate for the purpose of paying the said debt and interest, the sum of $2472.81, whereof the sum of $1650.00 is to be raised annually for payment of interest during the currency of the said debentures, and $822.81 is to be raised annually for the purpose of creating a sinking fund for the payment of the debt secured by the said debentures, and

Whereas the whole rateable property of the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo, according to the revised assessment roll for the year 1913 is $4,907,555.00, and the total existing debenture debt of the said city is $599,500.00, exclusive of works of local improvement and for school purposes, and

Whereas this bylaw may not be altered or repealed except with the consent of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

Be it therefore enacted by the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo as follows:

1. For the purpose of improving and extending the distribution system of the City of Nanaimo within the corporate limits, and the repayment of certain expenditures on water works construction account, it shall be lawful for the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo to raise or cause to be raised by way of loan from any person or persons, body or bodies corporate who may be willing to advance the same upon the credit of the debentures hereinafter mentioned, a sum of money not exceeding in the whole the sum of Thirty Thousand Dollars, and cause the same to be paid into the hands of the Treasurer of the said City for the purpose and object before recited.

2. It shall be lawful for the said corporation to cause any number of debentures to be made, executed and issued, not exceeding in the whole the sum of Thirty Thousand Dollars for such sums of money of not less than $100.00 each, as may be required, and all such debentures shall be sealed with the seal of the said Corporation of the City of Nanaimo, and be signed by the Mayor of the said City and countersigned by the City Clerk.

3. The said debentures shall bear date of the 2nd. July, 1914, and shall be payable in twenty-five years from said date, at the office of the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo, and shall have attached to them Coupons for the payment of interest and the signature or signatures to the said coupons may be either written, stamped, printed or lithographed.

4. The said debentures shall bear interest at the rate of 5½ per cent. per annum from the date thereof which interest shall be payable half yearly on the second day of January and July, in each and every year during the currency of said debentures at the office of the Corporation in the said City of Nanaimo.

5. There shall be raised and levied in each year during the currency of the said debentures the sum of $1650.00 for the payment of interest, and the sum of $822.81 for the purpose of creating a sinking fund for the payment of the debt due under the said debentures, making in all the sum of $2472.81.

6. There shall be levied and raised in each and every year until the said debentures and interest thereon shall be paid, a special rate on all rateable land or improvements or real property of the City, in addition to all other rates, sufficient to pay the interest and create a sinking fund for the payment of the debentures.

7. It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the said Corporation to dispose of the said debentures at a rate below par, and to authorize the Treasurer to pay out of the sums so raised by the sale of the said debentures all expenses connected with the preparation of the debentures and coupons, or any discount or commission or other charges incidental to the sale of said debentures.

8. This Bylaw shall take effect on the 2nd. day of July, 1914.

9. This Bylaw may be cited as the Water Works Loan Bylaw, 1914.

10. This Bylaw before the final passing thereof, shall receive the assent of the electors of the City of Nanaimo, in the manner provided by the Municipal Act.

Passed on the 18th May, 1914.

NOTICE

DEMONSTRATION OF
The New Perfection Blue Flame
OIL COOK STOVE

On Tuesday and Wednesday of This Week all will have an opportunity of Witnessing a Practical Demonstration of "THE NEW PERFECTION BLUE FLAME OIL COOK STOVE." We invite every lady in Nanaimo and District to attend and sample some of the things that are being cooked on these Stoves.

It's impossible for us to tell you in the space at our disposal here, one-quarter of the good features claimed for this stove, but if you will visit us during this demonstration we will show you in a practical way, that it's one of the best oil stoves on the market for cooking. It makes no smoke, and burns very little oil; perfectly safe and odorless. A most useful stove for camping, Summer homes, and solves the hot kitchen problem perfectly.

CITY COUNCIL MAKES RECORD

Met Last Night in Special Session and Finally Adopted Ten Bylaws in Less Than Ten Minutes.

In order to expedite matters in connection with the borrowing of money to pay for the cost of constructing cement sidewalks on several streets of the city during the past year, the City Council met in special session last evening, there being present Ald. McKinnell, McKenzie, Ferguson, Young, Busby, Killeen, and Cavalsky; His Worship, Mayor Planta, presiding.

Mayor Planta informed the aldermen the object of holding a special meeting of the Council was to adopt the nine money bylaws so that the City Hall staff could proceed with the formalities necessary to the borrowing of the money.

The nine bylaws referred to which call for the borrowing of a total of $43,057.00 for sidewalks laid on Franklyn, Milton, Wentworth, Nicol, Fitzwilliam, Skinner, Machleary and Kennedy streets, were on motion of Ald. Young, seconded by Ald. Killeen recommended, and on motion of Ald. McKenzie, seconded by Ald. Busby, finally adopted and the City Clerk instructed to sign the same and affix the Corporate Seal thereto.

On motion of Ald. McKinnell, the Sewer Connection Rental Amendment Bylaw was also finally adopted and the Clerk instructed to affix the necessary signatures thereto.

The proceedings were only formal, the ten bylaws being disposed of in less than as many minutes which probably constitutes a record in the history of the local Council.

LORD MERSEY ON WRECK INQUIRY

London, June 2.—At the invitation of the Canadian Government, the British Board of Trade appointed today Baron Mersey, of Toxteth, a member of the court of enquiry to investigate the disaster which caused the loss of the steamer Empress of Ireland and more than 900 lives. Lord Mersey was president of the British commission which investigated the Titanic tragedy. He will sail for Canada in a few days.

Washington, June 2.—President Wilson received today from King George the following reply to his message of yesterday concerning the loss of the Empress of Ireland:

London, June 2, 1914.

"The President of the United States of America, Washington.

"I thank you sincerely for your sympathy in the terrible disaster of the Empress of Ireland and for your kind thoughts for the families of those who have perished.

(Signed) "George R. I."

JAPANESE MINISTER TO CHILE.

Tokyo, June 2.—Eki Hicki, Japanese minister to Chile and Peru since 1908, was today appointed Japanese minister to China. He was attached to the Japanese Embassy in Washington in 1903.

THREE VICTORIES FOR MEXICAN REBELS

Durango, Mex., June 2.—Three decisive engagements with federal troops between Zacatecas and San Luis Potosi were won by the Constitutionalists May 30 and 31, according to reports received today by General Carranza. Colonel Fernando Reyes, with 600 men of the command of General Carera Torres, who is investing San Luis Potosi, administered a decisive defeat to a large federal force at Salinas garrison.

The fighting at Salinas lasted 28 hours, the federal loss in the battle being forty-six privates and four officers. Fourteen federal officers who were captured were executed, and 37 privates captured were liberated. The federals telegraphed San Luis Potosi for reinforcements which did not arrive until after the first battle. They were met outside the town and driven back.

Among the officers executed was Colonel Chaves, two lieutenant-colonels, one major, four captains and six lieutenants.

RUN TRAINS TO COURTENAY IN JULY

After making a tour of inspection of the work under way on the E. & N. Railway Company's East Coast extension from McBride Junction to Courtenay, Messrs. H. E. Beasley and R. A. Bainbridge, general superintendent and divisional engineer of the road, respectively, have returned to Victoria. They report that the track is now within eight miles of Courtenay, which is to be a permanent divisional point and the temporary terminal of the line. Within a week it should reach the Trent River crossing, when the Dominion Bridge Company will be able to proceed with the installation of the final viaduct on the work. Mr. Beasley expresses the opinion that the steel will be in Courtenay by July 15, and that it will be a few days later before a service is inaugurated between Victoria and that centre.

HINDUS GIVE UP THE FIGHT

Counsel For Hindus Aboard Komagata Maru Says They Have Given Up Fight and Will Return to India.

Vancouver, June 2.—Gurdit Singh and his band of over three hundred Hindus now on the Komagata Maru in the harbor here gave given up the fight. This announcement was made this afternoon by J. E. Bird, their lawyer, who says the party will soon leave to sail back to India. The fight for entry into British Columbia will, however, be continued from a distance.

The Hindus have just received word from Lord Hardinge that he can do nothing for them, said Mr. Bird. So far as Ottawa is concerned, the Hindus realize now that the cards are stacked against them, that no matter what evidence is submitted at the court of inquiry they will not be allowed to enter this country and that they might just as well go back.

TRAMPLED WOMEN AND CHILDREN UNDERFOOT

Winnipeg, June 2.—"I have read that there was no panic on the Empress of Ireland previous to its going to its doom, but it is not true, as the scenes I witnessed as I came from my cabin were heartrending. Big strong men pulled women and children down in their mad fight for life and many of the weaker ones were trampled under foot and never given a chance for their lives."

Such was the statement of Peter Rask, of Broadview, Sask., first of the survivors of the Empress to reach Winnipeg. Mr. Rask is a Swede and was on his way home to Sweden after 22 years in Canada and had taken a third cabin passage along with two other of his countrymen, Olaf Anderson and another whose name he could not remember, from the same town, all of whom, were saved.

It was with tears rolling down his cheeks as he thought of the horrors of that terrible night, that he described the heartrending scenes of the ill-fated liner.

He was lying in his bunk quite awake, he said, when he felt the jar. It did not move the boat much and he and his companions grabbed belts and ran upstairs. Here he found the boat was tipped on one side and there was panic on all sides.

His comrades were good swimmers but he could not swim a stroke so he stuck to the boat till it went down, which was only a few minutes after. The suction of the boat took him under the water, but he held his breath and finally came to the surface. After struggling for two hours he was finally picked up by one of the lifeboats of the Lady Evelyn. He had managed to keep afloat by grabbing some wreckage.

MINER OF '49 DIES.

Nelson, June 2.—W. L. McLauchlan a miner, one of the last "forty-niners," died today at Kaslo, aged 84. He crossed the Sierras into California in 1849.

MEN WHO WILL SETTLE MEXICO'S FATE.

Some of the mediators now in conference at Niagara Falls, Ont., where the Mexican-United States situation is being discussed by representatives from the United States, Huerta, and the three South American republics, Argentine, Chile and Brazil. Above are pictured the American mediators and the A. B. C. men. Reading from left to right they are: R. S. Noan, Minister from Argentine, Frederick W. Lehmann, former Solicitor General, and Judge Lamar, of the U. S. Supreme bench, the two American envoys; Ambassador Da Gama of Brazil and Ambassador Suarez, of Chile, on the verandah of the Clifton House, Niagara Falls, where the sessions are being held.

SEE CANADA FIRST.

The movement to draw the attention of Canadians to the scenic charm of their own country is worth while. "See Canada First" is a good slogan. The "Canadian Courier" again publishes its Tourist Number. "Tramping to Oka," by T. Harry Smith, is the story of a weeks walk in quaint Quebec. Augustus Bridle sees perpetual charm in "A Trip Down the St. Lawrence." A number of good, new pictures cover the country from east to west more graphically than guide books and timetables. A page of "Celebrated Scenes in Europe" has six representative illustrations.

The Monocle Man writes of "The Vaudevillains' Latest Outrage." Norman Fatterson contributes a thoughtful article on "A Canadian Naval Reserve," and the usual departments are interesting and instructive and entertaining.

Today being the King's birthday, and a statutory holiday, the local cricket club will play a team from the garrison in the afternoon on the Caledonian Grounds. All local players who can get down to the grounds are asked to be on the field promptly at 2 o'clock.

LAID AT REST.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Thomas Watson took place yesterday afternoon at 3:30 from the family residence, Ladysmith, services being held in St. John's church and at the graveside by the Rev. Canon Leckie. Messrs. A. D. Robertson, Jas. Currie Jno. Armstrong, D. Dawson, Thos. Rickard and Wm. Anderson acted as pallbearers, funeral arrangements being in the hands of D. J. Jenkins, of this city.

NO INQUIRY INTO ITS ISLAND STRIKE

Ottawa, June 2.—The Canadian Northern Guarentee Bill passed its third reading in the House of Commons today by a government majority of 47.

An amendment offered by the opposition that McKenzie and Mann accepe a Board of Conciliation to inquire into the strike situation in its Vancouver Island mines before it receive any assistance from the government, was defeated by a majority of 47.

BALTIC IN COLLISION

New York, June 2.—The steamship Baltic on her arrival from Liverpool reported that she collided with the small British coasting steamer Clerie, before daybreak May 2. The Clerie, bound from Dublin to a Welsh port was so badly damaged that she had to be towed back to port. One of the crew was injured and was taken aboard the Baltic.

WRECK VICTIMS BURIED TODAY

Many Disputes Taking Place in Quebec Morgue Over Identification of Victims of Marine Disaster.

Quebec, June 2.—The feature of today in the mortuary chamber was the number of disputes regarding the identification of the dead. No less than five persons contended for the possession of one fair-haired little girl of two or three years, and when the shed was closed at night she was still classed as unidentified.

So altered were the features of the dead that many mistakes were made during the day and some of those who were sure at first that they had recognized the bodies of their dear ones later wavered in their belief and sometimes even returned to affirm their previous impression.

In the case where the five all but fought for the possession of the little girl all were earnest in their belief that they had positively identified her.

Another feature was the fact that the embalment of three bodies which to a certain extent restored the original color to the faces, was responsible for further identifications. For instance, Mr. Archer, who yesterday disputed possession of a child with Cullen of Eaton's store, Toronto, today recognized as his own an infant whom he had passed again and again on Sunday without being able to identify it. The body was, therefore, handed over to him today.

Still another curious case was that of Mrs. Wynn Price of New Zealand, who had been identified by her niece, Miss Townsend. Somewhat of a dilemma was created when fifteen or sixteen of the Empress crew arrived on the scene today and claimed the body as that of Miss Leader, formerly stewardess on the Empress.

While the latter were insistent in their identification, it was Miss Townsend who won the day, as she swore positively that the jewelry worn by Mrs. Price, was known to her, and she was backed up by Mr. Webber of the C. P. R., who knew Mrs. Price personally. Miss Townsend therefore, had the body buried this afternoon.

Some of the bodies had been so mutilated by being battered about that those who had identified them as men were told that they were those of women. One reason for the mistake was that the hair had been drawn back tightly.

The C. P. R. officials tonight deny that the body of Laurence Irving, the celebrated English actor, had been identified, as was reported this morning. One body which was identified today was that of Leonard Palmer, the London "Financial News" man, who organized the tour of the British manufacturers to this country.

There will be an imposing funeral here on Wednesday, when the bodies of nine of the crew of the Empress will be buried. There will be a public procession, which will be headed by the Royal Canadian Garrison Artillery band, and contingents from the British warship Essex and the local military forces will be in attendance.

WILL OBSERVE KING'S BIRTHDAY

Civil Aid Forces Stationed in Nanaimo Will Take Part in Ceremonies on Caledonian Grounds This Morning.

Today being the King's birthday it is a statutory holiday and all banks, Dominion Government and Provincial Government offices will be closed. General business houses will be open for business as usual.

The Civil Aid forces stationed in the city will observe the occasion by ceremonies on the Caledonian Grounds. The troops will march and advance in review order and give the salute Feu de Joie, winding up the ceremonies with three cheers for the King.

The ceremonies will commence at 10:30 and finish in about half an hour.

ARSON ATTEMPTED

Leicester, Eng., June 2.—An attempt by an arson suffragette squad to burn a mansion near Market Horborough was frustrated today by the timely discovery of the fire under a staircase, under which inflamable materials had been piled.

Miss Laura Reid of North Vancouver, who is among the missing of the Empress of Ireland passengers, was on her way to her home in Norway to prepare for her wedding. Her fiance, Mr. Fred England, was to have gone to Norway in about a months time. Miss Reid was 27 years of age and was well regarded by a large circle of friends in North Vancouver.

COMMIT DARING ROBBERY

Champaign, Ills., June 2—Five robbers invaded the village of Masomet early today in an electric automobile and while several of the band stood guard in front of Buzy's bank, the others blew open the safe. The men took $2500 and escaped.

SUES FOR $25,000 HEART BALM.

Portland, June 2.—Suit for $25000 damages, in which he charges alienation of his wife's affections, was filed yesterday by O. M. Barber against Willard F. Brown, who now lives near La Grande. Barber says he and his wife were married Oct. 21 1896, and that they lived happily together as man and wife up to September, 1913, when Brown, by various "seductive arts" weaned her affection and enticed her away from home.

DENY ALL LIABILITY

Montreal, June 2.—The owners of the Storstad deny all liability for the Empress disaster. In a petition which they will present before Judge Dunlop in the Admiralty Court on Thursday they will claim that "The collision happened without the actual fault or privity of the owners of the Storstad" and that "they deny all liability for the collision." The main object of the petition is to secure the release of the Storstad.

The Sechelt hotel at Sechelt, owned by the Canadian European Investment Company was destroyed by fire Monday night involving a loss of $12,000.

VAN HORST TO HANG AUGUST 19

Vancouver, June 2.—Frank Van Horst was found guilty by a jury in the assize court today of the murder of a Japanese boatman in November last while on the way across the gulf from Vancouver to Vancouver Island, and after sinking the body in the gulf scuttled and sank the boat.

The jury was out less than an hour, and Judge Gregory sentenced Van Horst to be hanged on Aug. 19.

DISTRICT SHINGLE MILL HAS CHANGED HANDS

The Empress Shingle Mill, situated at Cassidy's Siding, has been sold by Mr. Olsen to Messrs. George and Laurie. These gentlemen are experienced lumber men, holding large interests in the east, especially at Owen Sound. It is understood that this is but the start of rather large operations they will engage in on Vancouver Island.

Messrs. George and Laurie were in the city some months ago at which time they were taken about the city by members of the Industrial Development League and made acquainted with some of the opportunities to be had by investment in Nanaimo or vicinity. They appeared much impressed at the time stating that they would make further investigation here. The purchase of the shingle mill apparently bears this out.

RELATIVES STILL AFTER NEWS

Women Refuse to Leave Liverpool Offices Uutil They Receive Some News of Their Relatives Who Were Aboard Empress.

London, June 2.—Wires from Canada inform us that the Empress of Ireland disaster is the subject of amazed comment throughout the Canadian press, which insists that such a catastrophe is perfectly avoidable. This attitude has not been adopted by the English newspapers. The comment here continues to follow the lines indicated by the Canadian Associated Press cables of Saturday, namely that even with the most modern appliances and the most complete precautions, man is not yet master of the sea. It is obvious, though, that the disaster will have an extremely depressing effect on Canadian underwriting. Substantial concessions were recently contemplated in regard to premiums and conditions, but this latest loss will result in a general stiffening of rates regarding the St. Lawrence risks.

The opinion in well-informed quarters is that the Dominion Government now contribute towards the cost of insurance to offset the lower charges on the New York and other competing routes. It is estimated that the life and property claims on the Canadian Pacific Railway Company over the disaster will total £300,000.

British underwriters estimate that 70 per cent. of the insurance on the hull of the Empress will fall on them, German houses bearing the remaining 30 per cent. £250,000 was placed at a fixed rate for twelve months against all risks, also £120,000 against total loss only at a nominal premium, amounting to less than one-fourth of the all-risks rate.

Several prominent travellers point out that both the Titanic and Empress of Ireland wrecks occurred in a perfectly calm sea and they advocate that a liner's upper deck ought to carry large seats, instantly convertible into rafts.

The Virginian will act as a substitute for the Empress of Ireland, it is understood, with a sailing arranged for June 12.

Several newspapers express special appreciation of the courtesy and readiness shown by the Canadian Pacific Railway's London staff in the present emergency. Pitiful scenes are still witnessed at the Liverpool offices. The number of callers is hardly perceptibly, less for although the fate of the majority of the passengers and crew is definitely known, the relatives still flock to the offices in the expectation of news concerning the recovery and identification of the bodies. Several women refuse to leave until they have news of some kind of their relatives. One of them has been in the building since Friday.

Among the bodies identified yesterday at Quebec were those of Miss E. De Vere Hunt, and Barbara Hepburn of Vancouver. Miss Hunt left Vancouver with Mrs. Frank Hepburn, 1765 Eleventh avenue west, and the latter's two children. All were lost with the Empress of Irelaod.

An eight foot vein of copper has been struck on the Discovery claim eight miles from Spence's bridge.

DESPERATE FIGHT ABOARD EMPRESS

Wounds Found on Bodies of Wreck Victims Show Men Cut Their Way Through the Struggling Mass of Passengers.

Toronto, Ont., June 2.—A special to a local newspaper this morning says that undertakers preparing bodies at Quebec nave found some with wounds of such a nature that it leads to the opinion that inthe forehold of the doomed liner an inferno of ferocious passions raged as men strove to fight their way to safety.

As the crash came and the foreigners tumbled from their bunks an unconquerable terror of the sea apparently seized them and a desperate fight for safety began with knives. They drove through the terror stricken mass like a pack of demons, thrusting and cutting to make channels to the exits.

With regard to this statement, Norman Craig, the Toronto undertaker, who is assisting in embalming the bodies at Quebec, says, there is no doubt that nearly all were killed by injuries received before they were cast into the water.

Elizabeth Delamonte, of Moose Jaw who was saved from the Empress wreck and who arrived here late last night, is in a critical condition. Bandsman Clements, his wife and Arthur Delamonte are very weak from the shock and exposure, and they, too, are in a serious condition.

MAURETANIA WON BIG OCEAN RACE

London, June 2.—The exciting transatlantic race between the German liner Vaterland and the Cunarder Mauretania was won by the latter, whose passengers reached London from Fishguard yesterday at 5:45, the Vaterland's passengers arriving at 8:30 p.m. from Southampton. The Vaterland however covered a longer distance and moreover stopped at Cherbourg. There were many bets on the race as both boats had good weather crossing.

The news of the Empress of Ireland disaster was witheld on each ship, the passengers only learning of it when land was in sight, so that the shock caused no alarm. Earl Grey, who was a passenger on the Vaterland, was deeply depressed. He said:

"I cannot discuss so terrible a blow before I learn all the particulars."

Commissioned by Curator Kermode of the provincial museum, E. M. Anderson and C. B. Garrete will leave in a very short time for the Atlin district, where they will stay for several weeks gathering natural history specimens. They will particularly make a search for small animals and birds.

Dr. Weiss, of the University of Wisconsin, has been engaged by the forestry branch of the provincial government to make a tour of the province to discuss with the timber operators questions of marketing, and better utilization of products.

R.W.D.D.G.M., Mr. John Stewart, of District No. 5 of the Grand Lodge of British Columbia A.F.A.M., paid an official visit to Doric Lodge No. 13 last evening. He was accompanied by Mr. Dan. Nicholson of Ladysmith.

ALBERT STREET

Another step was taken at Monday night's meeting of the City Council towards the grading of Albert street. The last lot of figures submitted by the street committee to the ratepayers caused some dissatisfaction and there was a demand for the reapportionment of the cost of the scheme. The Council accordingly called another meeting of the ratepayers, and after full discussion, a basis of agreement was reached. The City Engineer is now sending out notices to the individual ratepayers of the amended proposals, and if no more opposition develops, a start will very soon be made with the work. The Council is to be commended for the way it has gone about the business. It has set itself to find out the wishes of the ratepayers, and next to carry out these wishes to the satisfaction of the majority. Whether or no the scheme is carried out even now all depends upon the will of the property owners. This is the proper way for a council to carry on its business. The ratepayers appreciate it, and are in turn ready to stretch a point in order to secure a unanimous agreement. There is no doubt about the necessity of having the lower end of Albert street regraded, and there is common agreement that to regrade the whole street on one continuous plan would be a material improvement to the city. It seems to us that the ratepayers affected have always taken this broad, progressive view rather than the narrow, selfish one of their own individual betterment, and for this reason we do not anticipate any further delay in the carrying out of the scheme.

RAILWAY TO COURTENAY

According to all present indications the E. & N. extension to Courtenay will be open to passenger and freight traffic some time next month. This is an event which Nanaimo, through its City Council and Board of Trade, should be prepared to take full advantage of. Victoria merchants have organized what they are calling a "Dollar Day." The "dollar day" will come every week and goods ordinarily marked above the dollar will be sold at that figure on this day. Arrangements have been made to get cheap transportation on this "dollar day", and the object is to boost business and ultimately make Victoria the shopping centre of the Island. The enterprise of the Victoria merchants is really admirable, and should serve as an inspiration to our own business men. It is the men or the companies or the cities who go after business, who get it. Nanaimo is geographically the natural distributing centre of the Island, and will in the next few years be the main centre of island transportation. The increase in traffic of the last three years will be more than maintained in the next three years. We have already felt the beneficial effects of the Alberni railway extension, and the opening of the road to Courtenay will still further boost traffic and business. Its connection with Vancouver makes Nanaimo the natural route for mainland-island passenger transportation. This fact has not been recognized as it ought to be to the south of us, but every day the economy of the route both in time, comfort and money is getting a wider vogue. With faster trains to Victoria, or trains of even moderate speed, it would be possible to reach Victoria from Vancouver in better time via Nanaimo than by the direct ferry route. The main point at present is to publish the advantages which we know we possess, and to be prepared to take full advantage of the opportunities which offer. The opening of the line to Courtenay means a great deal to Nanaimo, and now is the time to get ready for it.

CARVELL AGAIN

The Liberals at Ottawa have now fallen foul of the militia department. It is too expensive and they are to move for a reduction in the estimates of $3,000,000. The only reference to be drawn from their attitude is that they do not want any militia at all. So far as we know the militia force is not a creation either of the Borden Government or Colonel Hughes. It was there when the Conservatives took office and had been there during the whole of the Liberal regime. Up to three years ago then, the militia was everything it ought to be. Now it is not only unnecessary but a positive source of evil. The great Carvell declares that 25 per cent of the young men of Canada learn to get drunk at the militia camps. As usual there is something obviously wrong with Mr. Carvell's figures. His truths are generally frayed, and his facts out-at-elbows. His statement was indignantly denied, but he was there with his retort. He had spent many years in militia camps and knew what he was talking about. Therein one sees the great strength of character of Mr. Carvell. He was not one of the odd twenty-five who learned to get drunk. Perish the thought! Yet for years he continued to associate with these canteen drunks, and only now after the lapse of years does he recall these evil days. He said nothing to indicate that he was snatched as a brand from the burning. It was the other fellows he was talking about. We wonder what these other fellows think of Carvell.

MEXICO.

The Mexican mediation conference has apparently struck a snag. The snag is Carranza and the Constitutionalists. Carranza considers himself, with very good reason it must be admitted master of the situation in Mexico, and yet he is not represented at the peace conferences now being held. It is his own fault that he is not represented. He refused to be a party to the mediation conferences. Since his refusal, however, he has made unexpected progress in Mexico, and only the fact that the railways are torn up is preventing him from taking Mexico City. Virtually master of Mexico he now protests against the peace conference arranging a settlement without him being considered and consulted. It must be confessed it is an odd situation. Any arrangement which does not include Carranza will be no settlement unless Carranza wills it so. The probability of him accepting such an agreement is extremely remote. Of course the United States could take steps to enforce such a settlement. But this is just what the United States has been seeking to avoid, and besides its intervention would set Mexico in a greater turmoil than ever. Carranza considers he can settle the whole business himself, and no doubt he can according to his own ideas. In any case the United States is a long way from being out of Mexico yet.

After developing rather an ugly temper and chasing the guards set by the immigration authorities from the Komagata Maru, the Hindus now lying in Vancouver harbor have decided to return home. The laws of Canada prohibit the landing of these men, and it did not need a shipload of them to test the validity of these laws. They have realized that the laws are to be enforced, and the only thing left for them to do is to return home. They say they will continue the fight there for the right of entry into any of the British Dominions. This of course, is their privilege. Nothing they can do with the British authorities will affect the inherent and inalienable rights of the dominions to frame their own protective measures. As the Morning Post says, "No agitation can weaken the right of each autonomous state, including India itself, to regulate without external interference the economic system of its own country for its own material benefit. Uniformity of British citizenship is an impracticable idea."

The officers of the Federal army in Mexico are in anything but an enviable position these days. The tide of war has turned completely against them, and fight as they may they lose every engagement. They run all the risks of the battle and then, if they survive these, but are unfortunate enough to be captured, they are led out to execution. This is the kind of warfare in which it is easier and much more satisfactory to die fighting.

In the last four years a number of important nations have adopted the compulsory use of the metric system. Among these are Denmark, China, Japan, the five republics of Central America, Bulgaria, Chile, Uruguay and Siam.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining right of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-west Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Applications for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-agent in the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise.

A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or sub-agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N. B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid.

SAVE MONEY ON PAINLESS DENTISTRY

By Going To Vancouver

My office is the largest and best equipped on the Pacific Coast. I have installed every modern device to relieve pain and save time—electricity, compressed air and running hot and cold water at every chair. Three DENTAL SPECIALISTS, five Expert Dental Mechanics and four lady assistants ready to wait upon you any day you visit Vancouver.

Teeth Extracted Painlessly

By my modern system of "devitalized air" I absolutely guarantee to extract your teeth without the slightest sense of pain or discomfort to you. No bad after effects, appreciated by young and old alike.

PLATES GUARANTEED TO FIT

For years I have made painless extracting and plate work my specialty. I make every plate over a shrunken mold with such close adaptation to the tissues of the mouth that there is no more "tipping," no more "dropping" made to fit and be like your natural teeth.

MY PRICES THE LOWE

By doing such a large business with so little expense I can make each and every filling, crown, bridge or plate much cheaper than any other dentist who does work of equal merit, at the same time I issue you a written guarantee for 10 years, insuring you a pleasing and lasting result.

SELECTING DEFENDER FOR AMERICA'S CUP

Associated Press Boat June 2—Off Glen Cove, L. I. (by wireless)—Alexander S. Cochran's Vanitie defeated the Herreshoff yacht Resolute over a thirty mile course today in the first of the preliminary races for the selection of a defender for the American Cup. She gave the Resolute a time allowance of more than three minutes, but, notwithstanding this, she won by many minutes. She crossed the line at 5:25:20, unofficial time.

$3000 FEES FOR FOXES

Regina, June 2.—More than $3000 in fees in silver and crossbred foxes, shipped from Prince Albert for export last week, were collected by Mr. F. Bradshaw, provincial game warden, who has just returned to Regina from the north. All told it is anticipated that the season's exportations will be worth about $170,000 and that the provincial revenues yielded by the fees will be not much less than $15,000.

WILL GET BIG ESTATE.

Toronto, June 2.—By decree of the court Mrs. Helen A. McVicar, nee Dick of Toronto, who fell heir under the will of her husband, the Port Arthur millionaire, George A. McVicar, who died in Europe in 1913, may now claim the whole three-quarters of a million dollars, to which she was named a beneficiary. With her the other legatee, Mrs. "Teeny" Kains, may also take possession of the balance of more than $200,000.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE SAVES THE HAIR

And Keeps You Looking Young

Don't look older than you are. It is just as easy to look younger. While lack of hair or poor hair is not always an indication of age, it is frequently accepted as such.

A person well advanced in years possessing a good head of hair is always spoken of as "well preserved."

Everyone can retain beautiful, luxuriant hair if they make the effort. In almost every instance poor hair, or the loss of hair may be traced to the activity of the dandruff germ. Newbro's Herpicide prevents the scale like accumulation and puts the scalp in a perfectly healthy condition. With the elimination of the dandruff the hair no longer drops out, the itching of the scalp stops almost at once.

Newbro's Herpicide is the remedy for which there are many substitutes preparations claimed to be "just as good" You don't have to accept a substitute. Insist upon having genuine Herpicide.

Sold and guaranteed, and your money back if not satisfied.

MANY JUNE BRIDES

New York, June 2.—The first of June brought with it a record in the marriage license bureau in the City Hall, and indicated that the month had lost none of its charms for would-be brides. At the end of the day the books showed that 310 licenses had been issued.

ZEBO SURROUNDED

Washington, June 2.—Commander Scott of the gunboat Marietta, off La Romana, southern coast of Santo Domingo, reported today that Zeba was surrounded by revolutionists, and all communication had been cut off from the besieged Federals. The government fears Zebo will fall, and expects an attack on La Romana.

Practical Fashion Hints

8206

No. 8206 shows one of those smart little coats that will be so much worn a little later in the season. They are suited to almost any suiting material, wool or cotton and are easily and quickly made.

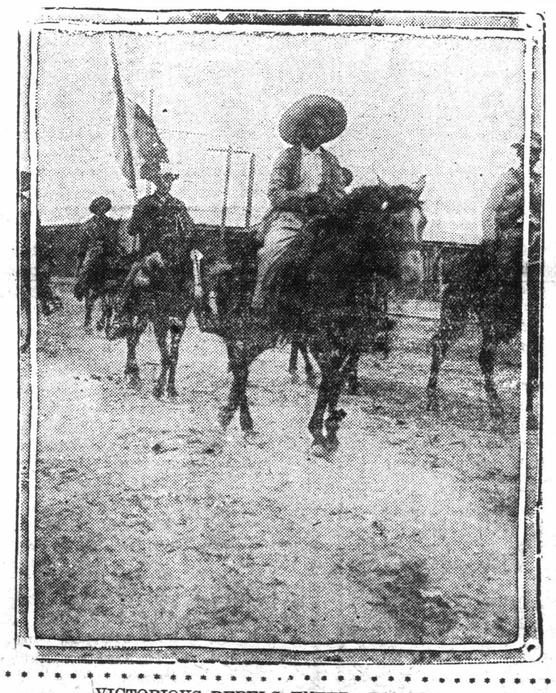
This model shows a separate vest which may be used or omitted as preferred.

If this coat were made up in one of the new cotton duvetyns or a dark serge it would be very effective to have the vest of a rather bright silk or tapestry. Collar and cuffs may also be of the figured silk or may be plain.

This model can be made in size 36 with 1⅞ yards of 42 inch material. The pattern is cut in 5 sizes; 34 to 42.

This Is a Perfect Pattern.

Be sure to give right size, measuring over the fullest part of the bust for dimensions.



The pattern may be obtained by sending name and address, pattern No. and size and fifteen cents to DAVID SPENCER, LIMITED.

VICTORIOUS REBELS ENTER TAMPICO.

Scene at Tampico, Mexico, showing the rebels riding into the city after its evacuation by the Federal forces under General Zarazoza. The victorious rebel army, under General Pabalo Gonzales, one of Villa's best commanders, the rebels kept up an incessant fire for two days, drilling several hundred of the Federals. The Federal retreat amounted to practically a disordered flight. Before evacuating however, they blew up the barracks and the Temesi brihge, and sank the Federal gunboat, Vera Cruz, in the Panuco River to prevent its falling into the hands of the rebels.

HER LITTLE SON WAS DYING

Gave Him "Fruit-a-tives" And Saved His Life.

CAMPBELLVILLE, ONT., May 5th. 1913.

"Our little boy, Lawrence, was sorely affected with Chronic Indigestion, and the doctor did not think he would recover. He started with a sore mouth and it developed into this other trouble. Everything he ate just passed right through the system without change. He cried incessantly and life was a misery to him. My husband had been using "Fruit-a-tives" for Indigestion, getting much benefit from them, and I thought what did him good, might help our boy. We tried "Fruit-a-tives" giving Lawrence ½ a tablet at a dose, and the result was marvellous. Today, he is the picture of health, and he is perfectly well".

CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF NANAIMO, B. C.

A BYLAW.
NO.—

To authorize the borrowing of the sum of Thirty thousand dollars for the purpose of improving and extending the distribution system of the Water-works of this city, and to reimburse the general revenue of the City for advances made during the year 1913 for water-works construction account in anticipation of a loan being raised, and

Whereas the proposed extension of the distribution system will materially increase the revenue for the said Water-works, and

Whereas in order to carry out the proposed extension and improvements, it will be necessary to raise by way of debentures upon the credit of the City of Nanaimo, the sum of Thirty Thousand Dollars, repayable in twenty-five years from the date hereinafter fixed for this Bylaw to take effect, with interest in the meantime payable half yearly at the rate of 5½ per cent per annum, and

Whereas it will be necessary to raise in each year, during the currency of any or all said debentures, by special rate for the purpose of paying the said debt and interest, the sum of $2472.81, whereof the sum of $1650.00 is to be raised annually for payment of interest during the currency of the said debentures, and $822.81 is to be raised annually for the purpose of creating a sinking fund for the payment of the debt secured by the said debentures, and

Whereas the whole rateable property of the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo, according to the revised assessment roll for the year 1913 is $4,907,555.00, and the total existing debenture debt of the said city is $599,500.00, exclusive of works of local improvement and for school purposes, and

Whereas this bylaw may not be altered or repealed except with the consent of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

Be it therefore enacted by the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo as follows:

1. For the purpose of improving and extending the distribution system of the City of Nanaimo within the corporate limits, and the repayment of certain expenditures on water works construction account, it shall be lawful for the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo to raise or cause to be raised by way of loan from any person or persons, body or bodies corporate who may be willing to advance the same upon the credit of the debentures hereinafter mentioned, a sum of money not exceeding in the whole the sum of Thirty Thousand Dollars, and cause the same to be paid into the hands of the Treasurer of the said City for the purpose and object before recited.

2. It shall be lawful for the said corporation to cause any number of debentures to be made, executed and issued, not exceeding in the whole the sum of Thirty Thousand Dollars for such sums of money of not less than $100.00 each, as may be required, and all such debentures shall be sealed with the seal of the said Corporation of the City of Nanaimo, and be signed by the Mayor of the said City and countersigned by the City Clerk.

3. The said debentures shall bear date of the 2nd. July, 1914, and shall be payable in twenty-five years from said date, at the office of the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo, and shall have attached to them Coupons for the payment of interest and the signature or signatures to the said coupons may be either written, stamped, printed or lithographed.

4. The said debentures shall bear interest at the rate of 5½ per cent. per annum from the date thereof which interest shall be payable half yearly on the second day of January and July, in each and every year during the currency of said debentures at the office of the Corporation in the said City of Nanaimo.

5. There shall be raised and levied in each year during the currency of the said debentures the sum of $1650.00 for the payment of interest, and the sum of $822.81 for the purpose of creating a sinking fund for the payment of the debt due under the said debentures, making in all the sum of $2472.81.

6. There shall be levied and raised in each and every year until the said debentures and interest thereon shall be paid, a special rate on all rateable land or improvements or real property of the City, in addition to all other rates, sufficient to pay the interest and create a sinking fund for the payment of the debentures.

7. It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the said Corporation to dispose of the said debentures at a rate below par, and to authorize the Treasurer to pay out of the sums so raised by the sale of the said debentures all expenses connected with the preparation of the debentures and coupons, or any discount or commission or other charges incidental to the sale of said debentures.

8. This Bylaw shall take effect on the 2nd. day of July, 1914.

9. This Bylaw may be cited as the Water Works Loan Bylaw, 1914.

10. This Bylaw before the final passing thereof, shall receive the assent of the electors of the City of Nanaimo, in the manner provided by the Municipal Act.

Passed on the 18th May, 1914.

NOTICE

Take notice that the above is a true copy of the proposed Bylaw, upon which the vote of the municipality will be taken at the Old Court House, Front street, Nanaimo, on Monday the 8th day of June, 1914, from 9 o'clock a. m., to 7 o'clock, p. m.

FEDERAL FORCE BOTTLED UP

Retreat of Mexican Federal Army Under General Maas is Cut Off—Federal General Outwitted.

Durango, Mex., June 3.—The federal force which evacuated Saltillo and fled southward is bottled up at Canegas, about 100 miles south of Saltillo, according to advices received today by General Carranza. General Eulalio Luis Guitterez, who with his brigade, was ordered to cut off the federal retreat, checked the movement toward San Luis Potosi and forced General Maas and his men to take refuge in Canegas. Guitterez, whose home is near Canegas, through his knowledge of the country, was enabled to outwit the federals.

Word was received that a large force of federals, including many federal officers, had deserted from the San Luis Potosi garrison, and had joined General Torres. General Carranza has appointed General Panfilo Natora, now before Zacetecas, commander-in-chief of the first division of the army of Centor.

Arrivals from Mexico City continue to bring news of discontent with the Huerta government at the capital, and of disorganization in the federal forces. Hundreds living near Mexico City, who joined the federal army on announcement by Huerta that the constitdtionalists and federals had joined to fight the American invaders have deserted the federal ranks since they have discovered this untrue, and have joined the constitutionalists.

KILLED BY EXPLOSION

Toronto, June 3.—An explosion, which wrecked the lower room of the Consumer's Gas Company building situated at the corner of McGee street and Eastern avenue, this morning ripped the roof from the immense generator building and wrought havoc among eight or nine houses on Booth avenue, almost a block away. Ewart Foster, the chemist employed by the company, was killed.

BOY KILLED BY BROTHER

Vernon, B. C., June 3.—Little Arthur Stroud, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Stroud, rancher in B. X. Valley, a few miles from this city, lies dead, shot early this morning by his twelve-year-old brother Ray. The accident occurred when two boys were playing with a new .22 calibre rifle which was supposed to be unloaded. The gun went off and shot the younger boy through the neck, the bullet entering the left side and emerging on the right. He died in five minutes of hemorrhage.

FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT.

St. Paul, June 3.— Nelson, of Duluth, and A. A. Cornell, of Northfield, Minn., were killed, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jensen were seriously injured and Mrs. N. E. Nelson, Mrs. Nettie Pholstrup, and Mrs. Nettie Anderson suffered minor injuries in an automobile accident on the Farmington road, eighteen miles south of here this afternoon. The party was travelling from Northfield to Duluth. The automobile started down a steep hill at high speed and overturned when the driver applied the brakes too quickly.

BIG 90 H.P. CAR FOR NANAIMO RUN

Mr. Harry Hooper, the well-known chaffeur who has been on the Nanaimo-Qualicum run for some time past has purchased a half interest in the big grey Thomas 90 h. p. car that has been conspicious on the streets of late and intends placing the car on hire in Nanaimo and district. A specialty will be made of short runs to interesting places in the district and it is the intention as soon as a schedule is figured out to make trips on certain days from district points to the city, both day and night trips giving district people a chance to attend theatres or other affairs in the city at night. The car will leave the Globe hotel on her district trips and will be stored at the Sampson Garage. Mr. Hooper is one of the best known auto drivers in British Columbia and has the reputation of being one of the province's best drivers. The big car will carry ten people.

STORSTAD ENTERS A COUNTER CLAIM

Montreal, Que., June 3.—The reply of the owners of the Storstad to the action of the C.P.R. to recover two million dollars for the loss of the Empress is a counter claim for fifty thousand dollars for damages to the Storstad, and costs. They claim that the Empress of Ireland was at fault and allege negligence in her navigation.

Reports of an agreement between the owners of the Storstad and the C.P.R. over the bond to be furnished by the former are denied.

"There has been no agreement between us," said C. A. Ducios, counsel for the owners of the Storstad today. "So far as we are concerned the case proceeds tomorrow."

MISS SHAUGHNESSY WEDS

Montreal, June 3.—The marriage of Miss Edith Shaughnessy, daughter of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, to Rene Martin Redmond, son of W. H. Redmond, took place at 11 o' clock at St. James Cathedral by Bishop Zanthier.

POPULAR YOUNG PEOPLE MARRIED

McKenzie-Wilson Wedding at High Noon Yesterday Was Pretty Affair—Principals to Reside Here.

Two of Nanaimo's most popular young people were the principals in a pretty marriage ceremony which was solmenized yesterday afternoon in St Paul's church, the contracting parties being Mr. William, Edward McKenzie, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McKenzie of Victoria Crescent and Selby street, and Miss Bessie Wilson, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs. P. Wilson, Milton street.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. E. Cockshott, in the presence of relatives and a number of friends of the contracting parties. The young couple entered the church to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin played by Mr. Chas. Pawlett, the church organist, who rendered Andante in G (Batiste) while the newly wedded couple and their attendants waited in the vestry and as they retired from the church at the close of the ceremony Mendelssohn's Wedding March was beautifully played.

The bride, who looked charming in a novelty suit in Saxe sapphire blue, with cream trimmings, wearing a lace cream hat trimmed with plumes, was given away by her father and attended by her sister, Miss Catharine Wilson, tastefully gowned in becoming cream cloth, the groom being supported by his brother, Victor, Christie McKenzie.

Immediately after the ceremony the newly married couple retired to the home of the bride-s parents on Milton street where a reception was held in their honor, the health of the bride and groom being toasted, as was also that of the bridesmaid and other relatives of the contracting parties.

Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie left on the S. S. Princess Patricia for Vancouver en route to Medicine Hat, Alta., on a visit to Mrs. W. Foster, sister of the groom, and will return in about a month's time to take up their residence on Selby street.

Both bride and groom have a host of friends in Nanaimo with whom The Herald join in wishing them a long and happy married life.

After making a tour of the Vancouver Island districts which are being opened up by the East Coast extensions of the E. & N. Railway, Mr. D. C. Alexander, of the C. P. R. natural resources department, has returned deeply impressed. Through the sections known as Nanoose, Cameron Alberni, Newcastle and a part of Comox, he says that there is a valley of an average width of five miles which has all the virtues of a magnificent agricultural country in the making. With the opening of the road through to Courtenay, thus giving the settlers the best of transportation facilities, Mr. Alexander is confident that this part of Vancouver Island will become one of the richest from an agricultural standpoint, in the Northwest.

PRESENTATION TO REV. THOMPSON

Congregation of the Wallace Street Methodist Church Farewelled Pastor and His Wife Last Evening.

The congregation of the Wallace Street Methodist church met in large numbers last evening to tender a farewell reception to their pastor of the past four years, Rev. S. J. Thompson, and Mrs. Thompson who will leave Friday afternoon to take up their residence in Victoria, Mr. Thompson having been appointed by the recent conference of the church, pastor of the Wesley church, McPherson Avenue, Victoria.

The reception tendered last night to Rev. Thompson, was one of the most interesting events of its kind ever held in connection with the church.

During the course of the evening, a program of vocal and instrumental selections was rendered and a splendid supper served. The most interesting parts of the entire proceedings were the several presentations made to the retiring pastor and his estimable wife, who during their four years residence in Nanaimo have made many friends who will regret their departure.

The gift of the congregation of the church was a beautiful silver tea service engraved with the following inscription "Presented to Rev. S. J. and Mrs. Thompson by the congregation of Wallace Street Methodist Church, Nanaimo, B. C., June 3rd, 1914." Accompanying the presentation which was made by Mr. S. Gough, was the following address:

To Rev. S. J. Thompson:

Dear Sir and Brother,—It is with feelings of regret that our people have met this evening, to say goodbye to you as Pastor of this congregation, and to Mrs. Thompson and your family, and we wish to assure you of our esteem and regard.

We review with pleasure the work you have been able to accomplish during the four years that it has been our privelege to enjoy the ministry of the Word at your hands, the results of which will follow us through our lives. Many have been helped as the days have gone by, and we beg to assure you that your work has been appreciated.

While we have been pleased to note the spiritual growth of our congregation, and the interest that has been shown in the services of the church by the people of our city, it has been a matter of congratulation, that while conditions have been unfavorable in many respects, our people have loyally supported the financial side of the various branches of our church work.

We are pleased to know that you have been appointed to the pastorate of a church in an important section of the city of Victoria, and we shall be glad to hear of success following you, and shall pray that the presence of the Master may be with you.

In parting we ask you to accept the accompanying gift as a small token of our esteem, and we trust that the future now bright with promise, may be fully realized.

On behalf of the Members and Congregation,

S. GOUGH,
Recording Steward.
LAWRENCE MANSON,
Secretary of Trustee Board.
J. FEE,
Secretary of Epworth League.
J. E. T. POWERS,
Superintendent of Sunday School

Nanaimo, B.C., 3rd June, 1914.

Mr. Thompson replied to the address and gift in a few well chosen remarks in which he recounted the many kindnesses shown Mrs. Thompson and himself during his pastorate and he assured them he parted with them with the deepest regrat.

The retiring pastor was presented with a Fountain Pen by Mr. John Fee, president, on behalf of the Adult Bible Class, the members of which also gave their class leader a cheque of handsome proportions, both of which it is not necessary to say were quite acceptable.

On behalf of the Ladies Aid of the church, Mrs. M. A. Powers, president and Mrs. M. G. Bennett, secretary, presented Mrs. Thompson with a Salad Bowl, together with an address which reads as follows:

Nanaimo, B. C., June 3, 1914.

Dear Mrs. Thompson,—We, the members of the Ladies' Aid Society feel that we cannot let you take

INQUIRY INTO BIG DISASTER

Revised Statement of Empress Dead Issued by C.P.R. Show that Over One Thousand Persons Perished.

Montreal, June 3.—The news that Lord Mersey, who presided over the British inquiry into the loss of life on the Titanic, is to be a member of the royal commission appointed to investigate the Empress of Ireland disaster, was received here with satisfaction. As Lord Mersey was president of the Titanic court it is assumed that he will be similarly honored when the Empress commission meet. The Canadian members of the commission are Chief Justice Meikel McLeod, of New Brunswick, and Sir Adolphe Routhier, of Quebec. The commission will be assisted by two nautical assessors, a marine engineer and a naval architect. Appointments for those positions have not yet been made.

Just when the commission can begin its work still is undetermined, but it will probably not be for ten days. The enquiry will be of the widest scope, and the government will be represented by counsel. It is probable there will be a discussion of rules of navigation in Canadian waters.

Another change has been made in the number of dead. The latest figures given out in an official statement, by the C.P.R. show that 1,024 persons perished. The company has learned that there were 1,476 persons aboard the Empress instead of 1,387, as heretofore stated; hence he increase in the death list.

The total saved is now given as 452.

Captain Walsh, marine superintendent of the C. P. R. arrived here to-day, and issued this statement: "The C.P.R. will not relax one iota in doing everything in its power in looking after all the bodies it may be able to get.

"With regard to the possibility of raising the Empress of Ireland, the best possible expert opinion is being sought."

Captain Ove Lang, Montreal agent of the Maritime Steamship Company owners of the Storstad, in a statement declared that of about 450 persons who survived the disaster, 350 were cared for on the Storstad. Of these 225 were rescued by the Storstad, and 30 others rescued by the storstad's men were placed on the government steamer Eureka. The lifeboats of the Empress of Ireland were credited with saving one hundred and twenty-five and bringing them on board the Storstad.

"The Storstad's small boats," Captain Lang said were loaded to the limit of their capacity and they ceased their efforts only when there were no more to be saved."

MILL AND BAKERY BURNT.

Hammersville, Ont., June 3.—Fire at 2 a. m. destroyed R. J. Rank's mill and bakery. The loss is $30,000.

CARSON MAKES FIERY SPEECH

Ulster Leader Says He is Going to Have More Guns Despite Presence of Whole British Navy.

London, June 3—The rumor that conversations on Home Rule between the leaders of the opposition and members of the government were to be resumed upon Irish soil was picturesque but improbable. The truth seems to be that leaders of both sides are at the moment sufficiently occupied with their own followers in consultation, and upon the results of these the future inter-party negotiations must necessarily turn.

The parliamentary recess has afforded a desirable opportunity for a dispassionate survey of the later developments of the situation in Ireland. There are indications that this has been and still is absorbing the members of both front benches.

There were some dramatic moments at the great gathering of women which Sir Edward Carson addressed at East Belfast.

"Ulster is unconquerable, I tell the government," he declared with passion. "They may put what they like into the act of parliament, but Ulster, in spite of them will remain free."

With marked deliberation, Sir Edward looked towards the nurses, asked why they were there, and answered the question by stating that they were to attend to the sick and wounded who would be made so because they had been loyal and true where others had been false and treacherous.

Then speaking with characteristic force he added: "But I do not believe it will ever come to that, for I believe in the manhood of the British race."

Referring to the gun-running exploit, the speaker raised his audience to the highest pitch of enthusiasm when he said: "There was a time when I bore many sneers about wooden guns.

"The reproach is now that I have wooden guns, but they say to me, 'How dare you have Mausers behind you?'

"I can only say that this is what I always intended to have. I tell them that with all their fleet and other preventative measures I am going to have more guns.

"We want peace," he proceeded, "but it is peace with honor."

OF INTEREST TO LOCAL SHAREHOLDERS

There are a number of Nanaimoites who own shares in the Blue Bear Oil Company and who will be interested in the appended article which appeared in the Morning Tribune, of San Luis Obispo, Cal., under the date of May 22.

The five actions pending in the Superior Court of this County since September of last year between Blue Bear Oil Company and Lopez Canon Oil Company and its de facto directors, were amicably adjusted in open caurt yesterday, Attorneys O. G. Hopkins of Sacramento and S. V. Wright, of this city representing the Blue Bear Oil Company and T. A. Norton the Lopez Canon Oil Co., and others. Walter Gould Lincoln who also represented the latter company, having returned to Los Angeles Wednesday night on account of business.

The action of B. B. Marlett, a stockholders of the Lopez Canon Oil Co., to enjoin the transfer of the stock purchased by the Blue Bear Oil Co. in said company was denied.

In the action by Blue Bear Oil Co. against Lopez Canon Oil Company and R. W. Nuttall, B. B. Marlett and C. J. McGovern as officers of said company elected at a special meeting of the stockholders held September, 1913, to have such meeting declared illegal, the election of officers declared void, the origional officers of the company restored and the Blue Bear Company stock transferred, judgment was for the plaintiff and as a result all acts of the stockholders and directors meeting of September were declared void and the stock ordered transferred at once.

In the action to cancel the working agreement of the Blue Bear Company judgment was for plaintiffs, cancelling the agreement. This however was formality, since the Blue Bear had already purchased a three-eighth interest in the land and the agreement had no further virtue. All other actions were dismissed. The Blue Bear Company now owns a large block of shares in the Lopez Canon Oil Company and the virtual owner of the land on which its rig has been erected and the adjustment is generally satisfactory.

The Blue Bear has already erected a fully equipped first-class rig on the property in question, and is ready to drop its drill. All sales of stock were stopped when the above litigation was started, but now that the atmosphere has cleared the company will at once prepare to begin operations.

O. G. Hopkins, the attorney from Sacramento, who has been representing the Blue Bear Oil Company in its litigation was a classmate of S. V. Wright, Paul Gregg and C. P. Kaetzel, attorneys of this city and Mrs. Josephine Bernard at the Stanford University and has gained considerable prominence in the Progressive party in Sasramento county and also served a term as city trustee. Mr. Hopkins is one of the leading attorneys of the Capital City.

VENDOME HOTEL CHANGED HANDS

The Vendome Hotel, one of Nanaimo's leading hostelries changed hands yesterday, the business being transferred from Mr. Fisher, recently of Victoria, to Mr. John Aitken, one of the most popular and best known young men of the city.

The new proprietor is better known to all the boys about town as "Mush" Aitken, at present official umpire for the Nanaimo Baseball club, and several years ago one of the best baseball players on the team. While connected with the team he was most popular, his popularity continuing to the present term and there is no doubt the Vendome under his management will continue to hold and even increase in the confidence it enjoyed during the past with the travelling public.

"Jack" is already in possession at the Vendome and will be on hand today to extend a welcome to his many Nanaimo friends.

RESCUED IN LOCAL HARBOR

Willie Martin Rescued From Drowning by Willie Philpott and Mr. George Adam—Was Paddling on a Raft.

Through the efforts of Master Willie Philpott, a member of the Boy Scouts, and Mr. George Adam, a member of the provincial police force in Vancouver, and son of Mr. Robt. Adams of this city, the life of Willie, the eight-year-old son of Mr. Thos. Martin, Prideaux street, was saved yesterday afternoon.

The young lad was playing on a raft in the inlet behind the Bijou Theatre when he fell off into a deep hole. Young Philpott, who is a good swimmer, and has figured in more than one such escapade recently, jumped in and grabbed him.

He had difficulty in bringing him to shore when his predicament was perceived by Mr. Adams, who was walking on Commercial street with his wife. Without a moment's hesitation Mr. Adams ran down to the water and plunged in, bringing the youngster to shore. The Martin boy had bobbed up and down in the water considerably during the exciting moments and it was some minutes before he was revived sufficiently to be taken home by his boy companions.

According to the latest reports from Antigua the condition of the British steamer Croydon, previously reported ashore at Barbuda, West Indies, is critical, but not hopeless. It is expected that she will float after lightening if moved the snip's length. The worst damage is forward There is no distortion of the side plating, but her decks are buckled. The most serious item of mutilation is her machinery.

IN HONOR OF THE KING

London, June 3.—Salutes were fired today in honor of King George's birthday. The official celebrations, with the accompanying list of honors, will be held June 22. His Majesty is 49 years old today.

WEDDED IN THE ROYAL CITY

Mr. Albert Sampson of Nanaimo and Miss Grace Bailey of New Westminster United in Marriage Yesterday.

Nanaimo and New Westminster were brought into closer social relationship yesterday when a native son of the one city and a native daughter of the other were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, the ceremony which was performed in the Royal City, being one of the most beautiful weddings of the present season.

The principals in the interesting event were Mr. Albert James Sampson, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sampson, of Nanaimo, and Miss Grace Bailey, daughter of Mrs. Howell Roberts, of New Westminster The marriage ceremony was performed in the Anglican church, New Westminster at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon by the Rev. Dunlop. The young bride, who looked beautiful in a tan tailored suit, trimmed with satin and chatel lace, and wearing a hat of New Blue, trimmed with flowers and white airgrette, was given away by her step-father, Mr. Howell Roberts, and was attended by Miss Jean Smith, of Vancouver as bridesmaid, who was gowned in a black and white tailored suit, trimmed with black satin and wore a hat of new blue trimmed with flowers.

The groom was supported by his brother, William, the church being beautifully decorated for the occasion with white roses and orange blossoms, the church organist playing Mendellssohn's Wedding March as the newly-married couple left the edifice.

The marriage ceremony ended, the wedding party repaired to "Rose Villa" the beautiful home of the bride's parents, where a reception was held, attended by some fifty friends of the contracting parties, among those present at the wedding and reception from outside points, being Mr. and Mrs. John Sampson, and Miss Sampson, of Nanaimo, parents and sister of the groom.

At the close of the reception the party autoed to Vancouver at which point they took passage on the S.S. Princess Patricia for Nanaimo, arriving here at 8:30 last evening. At the wharf Mr. Sampson and his bride were given a right royal welcome. A gaily decorated auto was in waiting, and as it whirled away the newly wedded couple were given a rousing cheer and showered with rice and confetti. Last evening a reception awaited them at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sampson, Prideaux street where a large number of friends gathered with relatives to extend congratulations and a welcome to groom and bride. A splendid supper was spread and much enjoyed, the choicest of delicacies being provided in the preparation and serving of which responsibility rested with and credit is due Mrs. J. Sampson, Mrs. Chas. Wilson, Mrs. George Wilson, Mrs. Percy Scott and Miss Sampson relatives of the groom. The evening was one of enjoyment and it was a merry gathering which broke up at a late hour after toasting the health of Mr. and Mrs. Sampson and wishing them every happiness. The young couple were the recipients of many costly and beautiful wedding presents, both from friends and admirers in New Westminster and Nanaimo the gift of the groom to the bride being a cameo and pearl pennant, to the bridesmaid a pearl brooch and to the groomsman a pearl stick pin.

Mr. and Mrs. Sampson will take up housekeeping on Kennedy street, in a beautiful new home which Mr. Sampson has recently had erected for his Royal City bride.

MOJI COAL TRADE.

The shipments of coal from Moji to foreign countries during March last amounted to 65,135 tons, including 29,900 tons to Hongkong, 18,300 tons to Manila, 11,700 tons to Bombay and 11,500 tons to Singapore; that for bunkers of foreign and Japanese steamers 67,807 tons; that for home ports 30,315 tons; being a total increase of 9000 tons on the quantity for the previous month but a decrease of 37,000 tons on that for the same month of last year, principally in shipments abroad.

The stocks of coal at Moji on March 31 comprised 68,717 tons of lump, 39,669 tons of mixed and 11,781 tons of dust; a total increase of 21,531 tons on the quantity on March 15.

ALBERT STREET EXTENSION.

Residents of the Five Acres are taking steps to have Albert street continued from the city limits to an avenue leading on to the Harewood Road. Of course the continuation of the street is contingent upon the present regrading scheme being carried out. No doubt the ratepayers will find in this proposed action an additional reason for going ahead with the regrading of the street. At present there are no buildings in the way to prevent the extension of the street as proposed. It will mean some rearrangement of the lots in the Brookside subdivision, but the owners are all willing to accept the necessary readjustment. The provincial road superintendent has also been over the ground and is very favorably impressed with the scheme. He can get a straight road and an easy grade and everything now depends upon the action of the Albert street ratepayers. With such a weighty inducement to vote the improvement there is little doubt that they will endorse the proposal. It will make Albert street the main artery from the city to the south eastern section of the Five Acres. The centre of the city, Albert street itself, and the Five Acres will all benefit from the carrying out of the scheme. If the extension is not carried out now it may be impossible to do so later. Certainly the same opportunity will never occur again, and no doubt the Albert street ratepayers will act on it.

THE CHECK-OFF

In briefly discussing the solidarity of labor in relation to the check-off system the other day one rather important point was overlooked. It was very easy to demonstrate that any solidarity that existed was compulsory. It is entirely devoid of the voluntary principle, and there is a very old saying that one volunteer is worth twenty pressed men. It might even be argued that it is a misuse of words to talk of solidarity in a union which is held together by the check-off system. The very reason for its creation and adoption is that unless union dues are forcibly collected they would never be paid. In other words it presupposes that the very men concerning whose solidarity we hear so much cannot be trusted to remain with the union except by the operation of the check-off system. Another point is that it requires the cooperation of the operators. This means on the confession of the inventors of the system that there can only be a union with the help of the operators, that the union only exists in and through the operators themselves. It is an amazing confession of weakness from an organization such as the United Mine Workers of America. So it comes that its leaders try to cover it up with this cry of solidarity. This word has been made the shibboleth of their order. And herein lies the point we omitted in our last reference to this subject. With the leaders the check-off is naturally the great desideratum. It is the first object of all their pioneer work, and their adventures in fresh fields. It is their way of making good for the chances and risks they take. They may profess entirely disinterested motives, but they are working for the check-off. With them the end justifies the means, and they have cast out all scruples. All these things have been sufficiently exemplified on the Island. First of all there is a 'holiday' on false pretenses. Thus were the men inveigled into a strike the object of which was to establish the United Mine Workers of America an the Island by means of the check-off. Then came the turn of Nanaimo. A strike was ordered by the officers of the organization which did not represent a tenth of the men affected. There was no general call or demand for this organization on the Island. Its coming was an unwarrantable invasion, but no doubt the invasion was inspired by the thoughts that here was a rich field ready for the picking. Once having adventured, the check-off is naturally set up as security or idemnification against possible losses. It is their reward for success, but they prefer to give it any other description. Thus having set up an instrument of compulsion, through the cooperation of the operators, they boast of solidarity and keep the game agoing. At least there is no denying the leaders are solid enough.

Mr. Pugsley has joined the chorus of ex-Liberal ministers in their denunciation of the extension of the Canadian Northern Railway to British Columbia. Mr. Pugsley had perforce to admit that his government was the first to give subsidies and guarantees to this railway. But this assistance he was careful to state was intended only for "a prairie railway with eastern connections." It made no difference that British Columbia was contributing its share of these loans and guarantees. The Pugsley conception of British Columbia, as was that of Graham, Oliver and the others, is that the province is merely a contributor to eastern expansion. It was a happy accident that we were here to contribute, it is a huge blunder that, having contributed, we should demand to share in the country's development. It's a great chorus.

It is to be deplored that so many charges and counter-charges should have been made and published regarding the St. Lawrence disaster. Nobody imagines that the scenes following such an appalling disaster, coming so unexpectedly and occurring with such suddenness, would reflect the orderliness and quiet of a parade. There was really no time for discipline to make itself felt, and the swift listing of the great liner before it was known what had happened, must have caused inconceivable horror and confusion. But all these things are no justification for the sensational stories of panic and stolid brutality, for the condemnation of the design and construction of the boat for the reckless charges of poor seamanship. No boat built of man could be expected to float after being rammed as the Empress of Ireland was by a tramp carrying a cargo of ten thousand tons. For the rest an impartial commission is to conduct a searching inquiry into the disaster, when the truth so far as it is possible will be brought to light. When the report of the inquiry is made public we feel sure that the instances of self-sacrifice and heroism will lighten the story of the whole dark tragedy.

LUMBER BROKER IS SUICIDE

Seattle, June 3.—Wm. G. Wilson, a well-known wholesale lumber broker, ended his life yesterday afternoon in his apartments at the Prince Rupert hotel, 1515 Boren avenue, by firing a bullet through his heart. Business depression is believed to have been the cause. Wilson leaves a son, Herbert W. Wilson of Roseburn, Sask., and one daughter, Bernice Wilson of Los Angeles. The wife of the dead broker is also in Los Angeles.

BOY SURVIVES 22,000 VOLTS OF ELECTRICITY

New York, June 3.—After swimming in Bronx River, thirteen-year old George Kernstock, of West Mount Vernon, and several boy companions were walking along the Harlem railway, when they spied a birds nest at the top of a thirty-five-foot steel pole. On the pole were two high tension wires, one carrying 11,000 and the other 22,000 volts, which supply electricity for the third rail system.

"Betcher won't climb that pole and get the eggs out of the nest," young Kernstock was dared.

"Betcher I will", replied George, and up the pole he went.

When he was at the top of the pole, his head brushed against the most heavily charged wire, and he dropped into a sand pile, unconscious.

The boy was hurried to Mount Vernon hospital, with all his hair burned off and his left foot, which was against the steel pole when he touched the wire, charred. The fall had broken his spine.

From the time he was shocked he has been in a state of coma. Physicians marvel that the boy lived after the 22,000 volts passing through his body, even though he could have survived the fall.

SAD PLIGHT OF TWO LITTLE GIRLS

When Rev. E. G. Eaton and Mrs. Eaton of the Penticostal Church of the Nazarene left Calcutta for Vancouver with two little Hindu girls in their charge they did not take into account the rigid immigration laws which bar their protegees from entering the United States. They arrived on the Empress of Russia last Saturday morning with the intention of proceeding to Pasadena, Cal., to place the two children in the university maintained by their church in that city in order to train them for service in the missionary field in India.

The local branch of the United States immigration service refused to allow the children, aged 7 and 14 respectively, to cross the international border and an application directed to the secretary of state in Washington has also been turned down. They have addressed another appeal to the authorities in the American capital and are eagerly awaiting a reply.

Pathetic stories of the child wife and infant marriage customs which obtain in India are related by Rev. Mr. Eaton and his wife. The youngest of the two girls was rescued from a Hindu temple in Calcutta, where she had been held for eighteen months for immoral purposes. The case of the other child is similar. The 7 1-2-year-old child has undergone some terrible experiences. She is only a tiny tot, quite small for her age, and it seems incredible to believe the revolting stories that are related about her life of degredation.

Practical Fashion Hints

By Alice Gibson

The little mother will have to begin soon to think of dolly's summer wardrobe.

No. 8009 is a set of patterns consisting of a gathered dress with round yoke that may hang loose or be shirred in to give the effect of a little French dress, a princess slip, with straight gathered ruffle, an underwaist closing in the back, petticoat and drawers.

The dress may be made from a small piece of flowered crepe left from the pretty frock made for the little mother herself and the underwear may be made from bits of lace and embroidery left overs.

If desired a touch of handwork may be added to the underwear or the yoke of the little dress with good effect.

The pattern is cut in 3 sizes; 14, 18 and 22.

This Is a Perfect Pattern.

Be sure to state right size, taking the measure from the crown of the head to the sole of the foot.

The pattern may be obtained by sending name and address, pattern No. and size and fifteen cents to DAVID SPENCER, LIMITED.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining right of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-west Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Applications for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-agent in the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or sub-agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

CUP CANDIDATE, DEFIANCE ON HER FIRST TRIAL

The cup defender candidate, Defiance, on her first trial recently cut the water perfectly, though all her sails did not work well and she heeled considerably, although the breeze was not heavy. There was scarcely any wake as she went out to Stamford, tacked fast and beat back. The mast is the only thing any one has found fault with. With the topmast, telescoping into it, the height is 153 feet. There are spreaders half way up that are 32 feet across. They extend far out over the deck, the extreme beam being over 23 feet 6 inches.

WELLS NOT ANXIOUS TO MEET CARPENTIER.

A wealthy yacht owner, whose name is not disclosed will spend nearly $25,000 for the purpose of entertaining a party of friends at the Cowes regatta with contests between English and French boxers.

He believes that Bombardier Wells could defeat Georges Carpentier, the French champion, in a private bout. Wells was offered $6,250 to meet Carpentier, the latter receiving an offer of a sum believed to be approximately $10,000. Carpentier accepted, but Wells declined. The yacht owner also offered $2,500 for a match between the Frenchman, Ledoux, and the Englishman, "Curly" Walker, but whilst the Frenchman was willing the Englishman wanted a bigger purse.

Wilfy Low, Shepherd and Higgins have not yet added their names to the list of players signed for Newcastle United.

NANAIMO GARRISON BEAT LOCAL C. C.

The Garrison cricket eleven wiped off all old scores yesterday afternoon when they administered an awful lacing to the local club. They completely turned the tables on the home sides piling up 205 runs for 7 wickets and retiring the home batsmen for only 37 runs. For this good work Williams, who made his first appearance for the Garrison on the Caledonign grounds, was chiefly responsible. The first three men were dismissed cheaply enough both Captain Cooper and Foote unluckily tipping the ball into the wickets. Then came Williams, and he rapidly altered the aspect of the game. Driving, hooking, and cutting he hammered the ball all over the field, and had 128 to his credit when finally he was bowled. Although only credited with 3 sixes, he really hit more, one of his best hits being a clean straight drive into the tennis court. With the score at 205 for 7 wickets the innings was declared and Williams then proved himself just as effective with the ball. In all he took six wickets for 20 runs. Hobday also came through with a fine analysis taking 4 wickets for 17 runs.

Another match will be played this afternoon when an earlier start will be made. All the players are requested to be down on the ground so as to start at 2 p. m. prompt.

The following were the scores of yesterday's match:

FLANAGAN WILL BE AT JOHNSON'S SIDE

Montreal, June 3.—Tom Flanagan is on his way to Paris.

He is very true to his friends, and that is the reason that he is going to visit the French capital to be at the side of Jack Johnson, whom he managed some years ago in the latter's fight against Jeffries, when Johnson meets Moran for the world's championship title in France.

Flanagan always maintained that if Johnson had been a white man there would not have been one-fifth the trouble and hullabaloo about his martial misadventures as there have been.

CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF NANAIMO, B. C.

A BYLAW.
NO.—

To authorize the borrowing of the sum of Thirty thousand dollars for the purpose of improving and extending the distribution system of the Water-works of this city, and to reimburse the general revenue of the City for advances made during the year 1913 for water-works construction account in anticipation of a loan being raised, and

Whereas the proposed extension of the distribution system will materially increase the revenue for the said Water-works, and

Whereas in order to carry out the proposed extension and improvements, it will be necessary to raise by way of debentures upon the credit of the City of Nanaimo, the sum of Thirty Thousand Dollars, repayable in twenty-five years from the date hereinafter fixed for this Bylaw to take effect, with interest in the meantime payable half yearly at the rate of 5½ per cent per annum, and

Whereas it will be necessary to raise in each year, during the currency of any or all said debentures, by special rate for the purpose of paying the said debt and interest, the sum of $2472.81, whereof the sum of $1650.00 is to be raised annually for payment of interest during the currency of the said debentures, and $822.81 is to be raised annually for the purpose of creating a sinking fund for the payment of the debt secured by the said debentures, and

Whereas the whole rateable property of the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo, according to the revised assessment roll for the year 1913 is $4,907,555.00, and the total existing debenture debt of the said city is $599,500.00, exclusive of works of local improvement and for school purposes, and

Whereas this bylaw may not be altered or repealed except with the consent of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

Be it therefore enacted by the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo as follows:

1. For the purpose of improving and extending the distribution system of the City of Nanaimo within the corporate limits, and the repayment of certain expenditures on water works construction account, it shall be lawful for the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo to raise or cause to be raised by way of loan from any person or persons, body or bodies corporate who may be willing to advance the same upon the credit of the debentures hereinafter mentioned, a sum of money not exceeding in the whole the sum of Thirty Thousand Dollars, and cause the same to be paid into the hands of the Treasurer of the said City for the purpose and object before recited.

2. It shall be lawful for the said corporation to cause any number of debentures to be made, executed and issued, not exceeding in the whole the sum of Thirty Thousand Dollars for such sums of money of not less than $100.00 each, as may be required, and all such debentures shall be sealed with the seal of the said Corporation of the City of Nanaimo, and be signed by the Mayor of the said City and countersigned by the City Clerk.

3. The said debentures shall bear date of the 2nd. July, 1914, and shall be payable in twenty-five years from said date, at the office of the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo, and shall have attached to them Coupons for the payment of interest and the signature or signatures to the said coupons may be either written, stamped, printed or lithographed.

4. The said debentures shall bear interest at the rate of 5½ per cent. per annum from the date thereof which interest shall be payable half yearly on the second day of January and July, in each and every year during the currency of said debentures at the office of the Corporation in the said City of Nanaimo.

5. There shall be raised and levied in each year during the currency of the said debentures the sum of $1650.00 for the payment of interest, and the sum of $822.81 for the purpose of creating a sinking fund for the payment of the debt due under the said debentures, making in all the sum of $2472.81.

6. There shall be levied and raised in each and every year until the said debentures and interest thereon shall be paid, a special rate on all rateable land or improvements or real property of the City, in addition to all other rates, sufficient to pay the interest and create a sinking fund for the payment of the debentures.

7. It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the said Corporation to dispose of the said debentures at a rate below par, and to authorize the Treasurer to pay out of the sums so raised by the sale of the said debentures all expenses connected with the preparation of the debentures and coupons, or any discount or commission or other charges incidental to the sale of said debentures.

8. This Bylaw shall take effect on the 2nd. day of July, 1914.

9. This Bylaw may be cited as the Water Works Loan Bylaw, 1914.

10. This Bylaw before the final passing thereof, shall receive the assent of the electors of the City of Nanaimo, in the manner provided by the Municipal Act.

Passed on the 18th May, 1914.

NOTICE

Take notice that the above is a true copy of the proposed Bylaw, upon which the vote of the municipality will be taken at the Old Court House, Front street, Nanaimo, on Monday the 8th day of June, 1914, from 9 o'clock a. m., to 7 o'clock, p. m.

your departure from our midst without giving you a slight token in remembrance of your kindly interest in our society, and other work in connection with our church.

We know that in accordance with the rules governing the Methodist Church, we are now called on to part and so must bow to the inevitable.

We can assure you that you will have our heartfelt prayers for your prosperity in your new field of labor.

We give you this offering not for its intrinsic value, but because we wish you to have something tangible as a remembrance of the many friends you have made during your stay here.

We pray that God will bless you and give you a full measure of health to enable you to continue to work in His service for the cause so dear to your heart, also we hope you will make many true and loyal friends in your new home.

Signed on behalf of the Ladies' Aid Society,

M. A. POWERS, President.
M. G. BENNETT, Secretary.

Mrs. Thompson was also presented with a Silver Card Case and Purse by the members of the Young Ladies Club, and with a beautiful decorated cake, the handiwork of Mrs. Kenny.

With all the presentations, Miss M. Thompson, the daughter of the popular pastor and his wife was not forgotten, for her Sunday School class presented her with a gold watch fob, the presentation being made by Miss Lizzie Robertson and Miss Elsie McNeil, president and secretary respectively of the class.

During the course of the evening, Rev. Dr. McLennan, pastor of St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, spoke on behalf of other church congregations and assured the members of the Wallace Street Church that the congregation of St. Andrews was sorry to see Rev. Thompson leave the city.

As the large gathering left the church Mr. and Mrs. Thompson stood at the door and bade farewell to the members of the congregation and many of the friends they had made during their four years residence in the city.

CANNOT RAISE WRECKED LINER

Executive Official of C. P. R. Says Company Will be Unable to Raise S. S. Empress Ireland From River Bottom.

Quebec, June 4.—That the Canadian Pacific company will not be able to raise the sunken steamer Empress of Ireland now at the bottom of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, where she sank last Friday morning in collision with the Norwegian steamer Storstad, is practically certain from a statement made by an important executive official of the C.P.R. here today. Having applied his knowledge of the position of the ship to the prospect of raising her the official announced that the Canadian Pacific company has neither the equipment nor the means of raising the vessel.

Captain Walsh, of the company, when asked his opinion regarding raising the ship said: We have a great and solemn duty just before us. We must bury the dead we have recovered. This is our first work. When that is finished we will think of these other problems.

The sunken Empress has aboard over one million dollars in value of silver bars and there is no doubt some operation will be taken to get this from the hulk. Also there are thought to be some hundreds of bodies trapped in the hulk, those who never had time to get from their cabins after the ships struck and those who were killed by the impact.

Yesterday afternoon some persons visited the cruiser Essex and endeavored to obtain the services of divers but were unsuccessful. A tug was later reported to have gone down the river with a barge and divers and apparatus bound for the scene of the wreck. They would reach there today.

Local experts maintain that operations by these people, should they attempt anything and should the company allow them to continue their work, cannot be started before Friday. No further word of the tug and barge have been received.

Mr. Justice Boutheir, of the Quebec admiralty court, in discussing the work which is before the commission which will investigate the wreck of the Empress of Ireland, stated that it would be practically impossible for the commission to be ready by Tuesday next, which is the date set for the first hearing.

Twelve of the crew of the Empress of Ireland who perished in the St. Lawrence river disaster were buried here today with fitting ceremony. The funeral procession moving to the music of the military bands, passed between double rows of sorrowing spectators. Everywhere flags were half-mast. Services were held in two churches, a Roman Catholic, where five of the bodies lay, and the Anglican cathedral, where there were seven dead. The Duke of Connaught was represented by Captain Bullon, his aide-de-camp.

Sir. Francois Langelier, lieutenant governor; Sir Lomer Gouin, the premier, and members of the cabinet, attended in person. Mayor Drouin and the council followed the cortege in the ranks, of which were several Canadian Pacific railway officials.

JAPAN SWEPT BY DISASTROUS STORM

Tokio, June 4.—A disastrous storm swept over the western and southern Japan coast today. Several hundred small craft have been wrecked and hundreds of lives lost. One hundred houses at Nagasaki were destroyed, the storm being one of the worst in the history of the city.

Nanaimo Temple of Pythian Sisters met in regular session last evening at the close of which the members adjourned to "The Oasis" where a banquet was held in honor of the delegates to the recent sessions of the Grand Temple, and Mrs. Chas. Wilson and Mrs. Chas. Rawlinson, members of the Temple who are leaving the city on an extended visit to the Old Country.

A report of the Interstate Commerce Commission gives 1,699,213 as the total number of men and women employed by the steam railways of the United States.

MEMORIAL SERVICE BY LOCAL ARMY CORPS

The Nanaimo Corps of the Salvation Army will hold a Memorial service Sunday in honor of those of the Empress of Ireland wreck victims, who belonged to that organization.

It is expected that about 2,700,000 people will gather in all the citadels and buildings of the Army to mourn for the one hundred and thirty-eight of the Army who went down in the waters of the St. Lawrence last Friday with the Empress of Ireland.

In Nanaimo during the month of May the sun shone for 271 hours and in Vancouver 269 hours and 18 minutes.

London, June 4.— Lord Provost Stevenson of Glasgow was adopted last night as prospective Liberal candidate for Leith Burghs. Mr. Stevenson is an ardent Home Ruler on federal lines and is a very advanced Liberal. Leith Burghs went Unionist at the recent bye-election.

PRESENTATION TO MRS. DRYSDALE

Popular Member of St. Andrews' Choir Given a Purse of Gold Last Night—Principal of Social Gathering.

Mrs. (Dr.) Drysdale was the principal in a very happy event last night when a number of her friends from the Presbyterian church assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Coburn, and made her a presentation of a purse of gold in recognition of her very valuable services to the choir of St. Andrew's church. There were thirty-six people represented in the presentation and each contributed a gold piece to the presentation. Mrs. Drysdale has been connected with the choir of St. Andrew's for about fifteen years and during all of that period has been unsparing of her time and services to the choir. She has never failed to respond when called upon and it was in recognition of her unselfish assistance that the idea originated with some of the members of the church to make some tangible appreciation of her work. The affair was a complete surprise to the popular singer but she made a very neat reply. The address was read by Mr. J. H. Good and the presentation made by Miss McLennan. Following this a very pleasant evening of games and music was held.

The address read as follows:

"For a period of several years you have largely and cheerfully contributed to the delight and enjoyment of the music-loving citizens of Nanaimo by your rare and splendid musical gifts and although no special recognition had been given, everyone who believes in the uplifting and refining influence of song deeply appreciated your cheerful, voluntary service. A short time ago it came into the minds of a few of the friends of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church to give some formal recognition of their goodwill towards you, and of their hearty appreciation of your efforts, and this social gathering marks the practical issue and consummation of this thought. We have frequently been inspired by your rendering of the heart's deepest yearnings, and emotions expressed in sacred song, and we now embrace this opportunity of giving some tangible expression to our feelings toward you and our recognition of your splendid musical talent. We wish you to accept this slight gift as a visible expression of our appreciation and good will. Think not so much of the intrinsic value of the gift, as of the esteem and affection which prompted it. Service, such as you render, will not fail to call forth feelings of the strongest commendation, and in this presentation of this token of our esteem rest assured that the gift embodies our best wishes, and our most earnest prayers that God may long spare you to use your splendid voice in the sacred ministry of song.

"Not infrequently has God used the service of song to open and meet the heart, and subdue the will when the preaching of the Gospel has failed to reach the heart and influence the life.

"I breathed a song into the air,
It fell to earth, I know not where;
And the song from beginning to end
I found again in the heart of a friend."

Signed by 36 friends.

AMERICAN AND MEXICAN ENVOYS TO SETTLE DIFFICULTIES

Here seated in the auto are the American commissioners. From left to right they are, Robert F. Rose, of the state department, who has the party in charge; H. R. Dodge, secretary of the American commission; Judge Joseph Lamar, of the Supreme Court, and Frederick W. Lebmann, of St. Louis, the two mediators. Below from left to right are: F. ROOSEVELT TO LECTURE.

London, June 4.—Colonel Roosevelt will lecture on his South American expedition before the Royal Geographical Society in London on June 16. He will deliver the lecture in the society theatre, where the accommodation is limited, and only fellows of the society will be admitted. Colonel Roosevelt does not desire to address a large audience in a public hall.

RUSSIA NEEDS CAPITAL.

London, June 4.—A St. Petersburg despatch to the Times says business on the bourse was at a standstill owing to the cessation of foreign investments. In order to attract capital to the country, the despatch adds, the emperor is in favor of removing certain disabilities affecting the participation of Jews in joint stock companies.

DEATH OF MRS. MARGARET RITCHIE

Resident of Nanaimo For Upwards of Twenty Years Passed Away Last Evening After Lengtny Illness.

The death occured last evening of Mrs. Margaret Ritchie, Milton street, relict of the late John Ritchie who died in Nanaimo in 1892. The deceased, had she lived till the twelfth of next month, would have been 80 years of age, has resided in Nanaimo since 1891, coming here from Ontario, being a native of the town of Anncester in that province.

Being an old time resident of the city the deceased was well known by many of its residents. Early last Fall she met with an accident which forced her to her bed and hastened the end which came after months of suffering which she bore with a fortitude seldom seen in a person of her advanced years. She is survived by three sons, William (Nanaimo), Walter (Vancouver), and James (Ontario), and five daughters. Mrs. Arnold (Alberta), Mrs. Dunn (Vancouver), Mrs. Pollard (Victoria) Mrs. T. Horne (Cumberland), and Mrs. W. McKinney (Nanaimo), a brother residing on Owen Sound and a sister in Washington also survive.

Funeral arrangements which are in the hands of Mr. McAdie are not yet complete.

STRIKE COMMISSION PROPOSED.

Washington, June 4.—A federal commission to settle the Colorado strike troubles was proposed to President Wilson today by Senator Owen who announced his intention of introducing a bill for such a body.

Tacoma, June 4.—J. Katu, a Japanese who entered a local hospital last week supposing to be suffering from erysipeles is now found to be a leper and consternation exists throughout the city.

"MOTHER" JONES IS DEBARRED

Immigration Authorities Will Not Allow Woman Speaker to Enter Canada to Make a Speech at Nanaimo.

"Mother" Mary Jones, organizer of the United Mine Workers of America, was not permitted to board a Canadian Pacific steamer bound for Vancouver today, says yesterday's Vancouver Province, being stopped at the gangplank by a Canadian Pacific official. The United Mine Workers have filed a protest with Secretary of Labor, Wilson, at Washington.

"Mother" Jones was on her way to speak to the miners at Nanaimo Saturday. The police thought that for the best interests of all, she should be debarred from making her talk. The Nanaimo miners have sent a deputation to Seattle in an attempt to get her through.

A despatch to The Herald last night states "Mother" Jones had left Seattle for Denver where she will continue the fight on behalf of the striking miners of Colorado. Before leaving Seattle she despatched a wire to Secretary of Labor Wilson at Washington requesting him to take up the matter with the Canadian authorities at Ottawa and obtain permission for her to enter Canada and address the strikers at Nanaimo.

Vancouver, June 4.—At a meeting of the Trades and Labor Council this evening a resolution was passed which will be forwarded to H. H. Stevens M.P. in reference to the refusal of the immigration authorities to allow "Mother" Jones to enter Canada. The resolution states that the authorities had better devote their attention to Orientals and other undesirables as there was no danger of a woman 80 years of age inflaming the populace of British Columbia.

HUNDREDS ARE STILL ENTOMBED

More Than Eight Hundred Bodies Still Remain Entombed in Sunken Steamer Empress of Ireland.

Quebec, June 4.—Over eight hundred bodies are entombed in the sunken Empress of Ireland. Interest here now centres in the disposition of the submerged liner. The official announcement of the names of the saved and the lost, and the report late last night of Captain Pouliot, of the government steamer, Lady Evelyn that careful cruising of the waters for miles below the scene of the disaster has failed to find further dead, has been followed with public anxiety to learn the plans of the authorities as to the disposition of the ill-fated vessel. Many relatives here, who have failed to identify their lost among the bodies already taken from the waters will remain here until the C.P.R. decides what action it will take.

The remains of a little girl who was washed ashore at Metis Beach, some eighteen miles below Father Point, reached here this morning. The child is a beautiful girl. There are no bruises on the body. The ruddiness of her appearance is in striking contrast to the pallor of the other bodies recovered. The officials believe the remains to be those of the daughter of Frank Brooks, a Salvation Army officer of Toronto. When the little coffin was opened it was found that a boquet of forget-me-nots had been placed in the dead child's hand, with a card written in a round girlish hand:

"Kindly accept my kindest and sincerest sympathy. May she rest in peace. If identified, I would like to know."

It was signed by Eileen Tuggy, the 13-year-old girl who found the body on the beach. Across the tiny form, too, there was a wreath of lilies of the valley, evidently woven by sympathetic amateur hands, attached to which was a note penciled; "As a token of respect from those who found her."

YOUNG LADIES CLUB MAKES PRESENTATION

At the farewell reception tendered Wednesday evening by the congregation of the Wallace street Methodist church to the retiring pastor. Rev. S. J. Thompson and his wife. Mrs. Thompson was presented by the members of the Young Ladies Club with a silver card case and purse, together with an address, worded as follows:

Dear Mrs. Thompson:-

On this, the eve of your departure for a new field of work, we, The Young Ladies' Club of Wallace street Methodist church feel that we cannot let you go without showing, in some measure our appreciation of your valued assistance and ever ready advice to us, a body of young christian workers. We ask you to kindly accept this little remembrance accompanied by the best wishes of the club. We trust that in issuing same you will be reminded of the friends and co-workers at Nanaimo. It is the desire of the Club that you may feel assured of the earnest prayers following you and that the labors of Mr. Thompson and yourself may be greatly honored and blessed by Him, the God and Father of us all.

Signed on behalf of the Club,
F. BRADFIELD, Pres.
ENA. IRVINE. Secy.

GAINED ADMITTANCE TO ROYAL DRAWING ROOM

London, June 4.—Despite the extra precautions taken, a suffragette gained admittance to the drawing room of Buckingham Palace tonight and falling upon her knees before the King shouted: "Your Majesty! Won't you stop torturing women"? The woman was seized and carried from the room. She refused to disclose her identity.

Mr. Harry Harvey and orchestra gave a very enjoyable dance in the Assembly Hall Wednesday night. It was well attended and dancing was kept up till 2 o'clock.

FORCIBLE ATTEMPT TO HOLD-UP THE KING

London, June 4.—An attempt forcibly to "hold up" King George at tonight's court at Buckingham Palace is the latest conspiracy laid to the suffragettes. The Evening Standard, who is responsible for the story, says the police discovered elaborate plans for obtaining access to the court, including forged cards of admission. The alleged plot is credited to Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst. Precautions have been taken, it is believed, which will make it impossible to carry out the plan.

Police arrangements at the court are likely to prove irksome for the King's guests. The procession of carriages arriving at the palace will have to run the gauntlet of a cordon of plain clothes detectives and police stationed at the approaches.

Every carriage will be held up and every woman will have to produce credentials. Detectives acquainted with the features of the leading militants will scrutinize the moving throng.

REV. HEDLEY IS GIVEN FAREWELL

Gathering at Haliburton Street Methodist Church Say Farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Hedley Who Leave For Armstrong.

There was a large attendance of the members and friends of the Haliburton Street Methodist Church on Wednesday evening to bid farewell to the Rev. and Mrs. Hedley, who have completed their period of ministerial service in connection with the above church.

A purse of gold amounting to $65 was presented to them by Mrs. Rowe and an address reviewing the work done was read and heartily endorsed by those assembled.

After the reading of the address, several present gave expression to their regret at Mr. Hedley's removal and their well wishes for his success in his new sphere of work. Mr. Hedley replied, thanking the friends for their kind remembrances of him and his work and expressing the hope that he might be privileged to pay them a visit at some future time. The audience was then served with refreshments and dispersed to their homes after the singing of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

The following address was read:

To the Rev. J. W. Hedley, M. A.,

Dear Sir,—We are met together tonight for the express purpose of bidding yourself and Mrs. Hedley goodbye, at the expiration of a unique pastorate in many respects. It has been unique in exceeding in its duration that of any previous one, demonstrating, amongst other things, the earnestness and devotion which you have evinced, and the qualities of mind and heart which have shone so brightly in the discharge of your ministry, during the most successful period in the history of this church.

It has been unique in its brilliant financial record. Independent altogether of the fact that during the first two years of your pastorate, you were able to command a larger stipend than had been paid to any previous pastor, through your tactful stimulus there has been raised for trust purposes during your pastorate about one half of the total amount raised during the whole of the last fifteen years, so that at the present time, exclusive of the value of the land, we have property estimated at over $7000. During the three years that have just elapsed, a new parsonage has been built at a cost of over $2000. You came amongst us at a time too, when there was absolutely no provision for a married minister, and little possibility of any provision being available, owing to the scarcity of houses, and we cannot forget the discomfort you willingly put up with for some months in your humble basement home. Neither can we overlook the very laborious physical labor, which you have more than once undertaken, personally, in doing needful repairs to the church property and grounds, disguised as a shingler or janitor.

It has been unique too, in the expedients to which you have resorted in accomplishing spiritual results. Whilst you have never ignored old methods, so far as they could be

FAVORS LLOYD GEORGE'S SCHEME

Millionaire Soap Manufacturer Says Lloyd George's Scheme is Ideal System of Taxation Both Local and Imperial

London, June 4.—Under the new scheme of taxation introduced by David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, in his budget for 1914-15 a man having an income from a capital of five million dollars will have to pay one-third of his income in taxes.

In the first place he has to pay twenty-eight cents on every five dollars income tax; then he has to pay a similar amount in super-tax, and when he dies one dollar on every five of what is left has to be paid for death and estate duties. The total is figured at just under one-third of the income.

This calculation has been made by Sir William Lever, one of the millionaires who will have to pay, but who does not object.

"I like it," he said. "In my view the ideal system of taxation, both local and imperial, is through the income tax, the super-tax, death duties land tax, site value tax, and taxation upon luxuries, such as alcohol, tobacco, etc. Everything else free."

While Mr. Lloyd George has followed his predecessors in his system of taxation, except that he has increased the rate of income and super-tax and death duties, so that the wealthy have to pay the lion's share, he has gone to other countries for some of his ideas. His taxation of site values is based on the law now in vogue in British Columbia, while he has gone to the American income tax law for the idea of making money accruing to British subjects from investments abroad pay its share of taxation.

In recent years British capitalists have made immense investments in foreign countries. When the income from these investments was brought home to be spent, the government, under the old law, levied income tax on it; that is, when the government could discover it. But when the income was re-invested abroad, the old law did not touch it. Now Lloyd George says all income of British subjects resident in the United Kingdom must contribute to the imperial revenue. These foreign investments are estimated at over a billion and a half dollars, and from this the chancellor hopes to secure $1,250,000 this year, and double that amount next year. The total increase of revenue from income tax and death duties this year will amount to something like $44,000,000.

In spite of these increases, Sir George Paish, editor of The Statist, says the burden of taxation is much smaller than it has been in modern history. In 1880, when the expenditure came to $415,000,000, it was raised out of a national income of five

"There are good grounds," he says "for believing that the income and wealth of this country will double again in another thirty years. When it reaches twenty-five billion dollars and I have no doubt that it will within a generation, a budget of two and a half billion dollars will be borne more easily than the burden of a billion dollars in 1914."

STRIKING COLORADO MINERS ARRESTED

Canon City, Colo., June 4—Twenty-seven striking miners were arrested here today on indictments charging grand larceny in connection with the capture of the Chandler mine of the Victor American Fuel Co. several weeks ago. The men are in jail in default of $2,500 cash bail in each case.

Thirty seven others are to be arrested tomorrow on a similar charge.

CANNOT RAISE WRECKED LINER

Executive Official of C. P. R. Says Company Will be Unable to Raise S. S. Empress Ireland From River Bottom.

Quebec, June 4.—That the Canadian Pacific company will not be able to raise the sunken steamer Empress of Ireland now at the bottom of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, where she sank last Friday morning in collision with the Norwegian steamer Storstad, is practically certain from a statement made by an important executive official of the C.P.R. here today. Having applied his knowledge of the position of the ship to the prospect of raising her the official announced that the Canadian Pacific company has neither the equipment nor the means of raising the vessel.

Captain Walsh, of the company, when asked his opinion regarding raising the ship said: We have a great and solemn duty just before us. We must bury the dead we have recovered. This is our first work. When that is finished we will think of these other problems.

The sunken Empress has aboard over one million dollars in value of silver bars and there is no doubt some operation will be taken to get this from the hulk. Also there are thought to be some hundreds of bodies trapped in the hulk, those who never had time to get from their cabins after the ships struck and those who were killed by the impact.

Yesterday afternoon some persons visited the cruiser Essex and endeavored to obtain the services of divers but were unsuccessful. A tug was later reported to have gone down the river with a barge and divers and apparatus bound for the scene of the wreck. They would reach there today.

Local experts maintain that operations by these people, should they attempt anything and should the company allow them to continue their work, cannot be started before Friday. No further word of the tug and barge have been received.

Mr. Justice Boutheir, of the Quebec admiralty court, in discussing the work which is before the commission which will investigate the wreck of the Empress of Ireland, stated that it would be practically impossible for the commission to be ready by Tuesday next, which is the date set for the first hearing.

Twelve of the crew of the Empress of Ireland who perished in the St. Lawrence river disaster were buried here today with fitting ceremony. The funeral procession moving to the music of the military bands, passed between double rows of sorrowing spectators. Everywhere flags were half-mast. Services were held in two churches, a Roman Catholic, where five of the bodies lay, and the Anglican cathedral, where there were seven dead. The Duke of Connaught was represented by Captain Bullon, his aide-de-camp.

Sir. Francois Langelier, lieutenant governor; Sir Lomer Gouin, the premier, and members of the cabinet, attended in person. Mayor Drouin and the council followed the cortege in the ranks, of which were several Canadian Pacific railway officials.

JAPAN SWEPT BY DISASTROUS STORM

Tokio, June 4.—A disastrous storm swept over the western and southern Japan coast today. Several hundred small craft have been wrecked and hundreds of lives lost. One hundred houses at Nagasaki were destroyed, the storm being one of the worst in the history of the city.

Nanaimo Temple of Pythian Sisters met in regular session last evening at the close of which the members adjourned to "The Oasis" where a banquet was held in honor of the delegates to the recent sessions of the Grand Temple, and Mrs. Chas. Wilson and Mrs. Chas. Rawlinson, members of the Temple who are leaving the city on an extended visit to the Old Country.

A report of the Interstate Commerce Commission gives 1,699,213 as the total number of men and women employed by the steam railways of the United States.

MEMORIAL SERVICE BY LOCAL ARMY CORPS

The Nanaimo Corps of the Salvation Army will hold a Memorial service Sunday in honor of those of the Empress of Ireland wreck victims, who belonged to that organization.

It is expected that about 2,700,000 people will gather in all the citadels and buildings of the Army to mourn for the one hundred and thirty-eight of the Army who went down in the waters of the St. Lawrence last Friday with the Empress of Ireland.

In Nanaimo during the month of May the sun shone for 271 hours and in Vancouver 269 hours and 18 minutes.

TO CONTEST LEITH

London, June 4.— Lord Provost Stevenson of Glasgow was adopted last night as prospective Liberal candidate for Leith Burghs. Mr. Stevenson is an ardent Home Ruler on federal lines and is a very advanced Liberal. Leith Burghs went Unionist at the recent bye-election.

PRESENTATION TO MRS. DRYSDALE

Mrs. (Dr.) Drysdale was the principal in a very happy event last night when a number of her friends from the Presbyterian church assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Coburn, and made her a presentation of a purse of gold in recognition of her very valuable services to the choir of St. Andrew's church. There were thirty-six people represented in the presentation and each contributed a gold piece to the presentation. Mrs. Drysdale has been connected with the choir of St. Andrew's for about fifteen years and during all of that period has been unsparing of her time and services to the choir. She has never failed to respond when called upon and it was in recognition of her unselfish assistance that the idea originated with some of the members of the church to make some tangible appreciation of her work. The affair was a complete surprise to the popular singer but she made a very neat reply. The address was read by Mr. J. H. Good and the presentation made by Miss McLennan. Following this a very pleasant evening of games and music was held.
