I have much pleasure in testifying to the value of the Fertilizers sold by you. I used last year five tons of Bradley's Potato Manure on twenty acres of potatoes, with a good deal of satisfaction, averaging nearly 200 bushels per acre from the whole field. Its dryness and mechanical condition seem to me to be perfect. I used it in the Planter without clogging, while other fertilizers that I used were too damp to be used at all in the machine. A Dream of Poor Children

Poetru.

I had a dream, so sad, so sad it was
It hurts my heart to tell that dream again.
I thought I stood above the life that draws
Its weary breath in crowded street and Above the hot, rough pavements, and the glare From blinding roof and wall, and sunscorch-

I looked, as might a spirit from on high, Not strong, but trembling, and I saw—oh, God, The children's poor, sweet faces, bold or nor glad; heard their songs and cries, their restless feet, And their wild, longing hearts that beat and Then, as a spirit might, I turned my eyes.

Out to the broad blue waters of the bay,
To all the widespread loveliness that lies
Within the reaches of God's glorious day
The hills, the fields, the streams that laugh and move, And the kind, happy Heaven that smiled

I saw fresh daisies in the cool, deep grass, And bending boughs that shook their blos-soms down, I watched the birds on sun-swept pinions pass
And then I saw again the crowded town—
The pale young children, where they waked and slept,
Their eager, pleading faces—and I wept.

The toilsome streets were round them, everywhere
Discord and greed, and want and shameful sin.

"Well, I guess," cried Jeannette. talk where you came from!" scornfully said Brother Fred, who was somewhat critical of the conduct and speech of girls. Jeannette was too busy with her dinner to reply. "Well, I know something of how you feel, Net," said Mr. Goodwin, as he spread another slice of bread and helped himself to a second dish of strawberries. "I know how 'twas when I went to Boston for three weeks last winter. Of course everything was real nice at your Uncle Will's, but land!

'Twa'nt like mother's cooking. And the first night I came back mother took away all the johnny cake before I had near enough." A pleased expression flashed across Mrs. Goodwin's worn face. She was a little woman, slender and with bent shoulders. The expression of determination and nervous The middle of summer is a bad time for a force in her eyes and mouth told plainly why it was that she was habitually able to do more than seemed possible from her frail

"Yes," ruminatingly went on Mr. Goodwin, "we're all glad to get home again-except Fred." Net," said Fred. "Getting a fine one, aren't you?"

This was accompanied with a very expresive chuckle and significant exchange of glances. Fred blushed with annoyance as e always did when he was thus reminded of an experience of his own about a year before. Having at that time come to the conclusion that farming was a somewhat slow way to make a fortune, he had prevailed upon his father to allow him to try the city, where he was sure he would meet with the most glorious success. In a short time he was at home again, trunk and all, and forthwith settled down to study and farmwork in a truly adnirable manner. Since that time Farmer Goodwin has enthusiastically prescribed this formula for keeping boys on the farm:

"Just let 'em go off to the city to seek their fortune. Don't be too set against it, because that 'll make 'em want to go all the more, and might make 'em too proud to come back if they fail. Just tell 'em you don't mind their trying what they can do, and if they don't succeed, why, they can come right back to the old farm again." "We have all tried going off and coming

"Guess ma never spent a night away from ome in all her life." said Fred. "Did too!" said ma, stoutly, "Five years ago I went to Norwich to visit Sue's folks. Stayed two days and nights, and you couldn't get me to leave home again." A little later Jeannette went out in the field, where her father and Fred were at work, and told them of a little plan that she had been thinking about for some time. Her father smiled incredulously.

"It couldn' be done," he said. "She wouldn't go. Even if she would, twouldn't pay. Twenty-five dollars for a single week!

"Besides, twouldn't do mother any good," said Fred, softly. "She'd be miserable all the while she was gone." "But you don't understand," protested cannette. "Mother has never known what it was to be free from care for a single night. Whenever she has been visiting, it has been to help somebody else. See how worn she looks! The things that fill us with worn she looks: The uning shaulines while interest and enthusiasm she cares nothing for. It's because her mind is o tired, with never any change in her life. "I don't see how I can make her cor early nd went to work. She wasn't so "fretty" as usual, and even laughed a good ous of it if I'm not conscious of it myself," Fred sniffed.

"I'll tell you what I'll do," said her father, presently. "To begin with, I guess you are wrong. Mother's about old enough to know what she wants, and what'll do her good. But if you can make her do what you say for a single week, and you'll pay all her expenses-you want to pay half anyway, you say—why, I'll pay the whole amount right back to you when I find out if it's done her good. But you'll have to take the risk. Besides there musn't be any imaginations that it's done her good, or anything half way; she must tell her own self, right out,

"You wait and see!" called back Jeanette, going into the house. That night at supper-table mother was to speak when Jeannette placed her fingers tray was a big plum cake. The dog wagged almost ill-natured. "Why, mother!" protested Mr Goodwin.

FOR NERVOUS WOMEN.

Nerve action is so intimately connected with all the processes of life, that it is absolutely essential to health to have the nervous aystem always in a state of healthy action. Weakness and depression of the nervous system reveals itself in symptoms that are very often mistaken for those of such diseases as dyspepsia, heart trouble, kidney diseases and many others, and the patient is perhaps treated for these, when in reality the whole trouble lies in nerve exhaustion. There is no disease so common among women and none so variable in symptoms or so distressing, the finer physical organization of women making her an easier prey.

The greatest skill of medical science has been directed to the solution of the problem: How shall diseased nerves be made strong, active and healthy? After years of careful attudy the originator of Hawker's nerve and stomach tonic presented his remedy to the public confident that he had produced one that would effect a complete cure of all diseases of the nervous system. The subsequent history of Hawker's nerve and stomach tonic has completely proved that he was right. Thousands upon thousands of men and women who were the victims of shattered nerves have been by its agency restored to women who were the victims of shattered nerves have been by its agency restored to perfect health. Hawker's nerve and Stomach Tonic is a great blood and flesh-builder as well as nerve restorer, invigorator and aid to digestion. It is a certain cure for diseases peculiar to women, giving tone to the nerves and stomach, vigor to the mind and body, and strength to the blood, restoring the bloom of health to the pale and delicate. women who were the victims of shattere

This estimate will hold good throughout the United States, where there is as much snow as we have here. The ragmen whose voices are so often neard in our streets, go from house to house picking these rubbers and bringing them in. They are then pressed into a bale containing about 900 pounds, and shipped to the manufacturers of rubber goods. All the dirt, iron nails and cloth are removed from them, and they are then ground up and reduced to a soft or pulpy substance somewhat like caout-chouc, or rubber, the latter of which, as is well known, comes principally from South America, and is obtained from the sap of a ertain kind of tree there. The old and new rubber are then mixed, the proportion of each varying with the stock they are intended to be used for. This mixture is then used for the manufacture of rubber footwear of all kinds, belting, hose, wearing apparel,

The Weekly Monitor.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 197H, 1895.

The agricultural committee of the Canadian House of Commons has recently been giving some attention to the matter of governmental assistance in the shipment of fruit to the English market. After discussing the question for some time the committee passed a resolution, with but one dissenting vote, expressing the opinion that the government would be justified in adopting some method of assisting our growers in placing their fruit upon the English market. The opposition of this resolution came from the representative of Digby, who thought that the government might as well be asked to place lobsters on the market. As that gentleman does not represent a fruit growing grants be expressed to realize the man does not represent a fruit growing grants be expressed to realize the man does not represent a fruit growing grants be expressed to realize the man does not represent a fruit growing grants be expressed to realize the man does not represent a fruit growing grants be expressed to realize the man the form the thorough and careful manner in which the juries discharged their various functions whether or not Annapolis county would continue to enjoy her present notoriety for crime. man does not represent a fruit growing county he cannot be expected to realize the great importance of this matter to the fruit growing the cannot be expected to realize the great importance of this matter to the fruit growing the conding the conding to the condition to the conding to the condition to county he cannot be expected to realize the great importance of this matter to the fruit growers of the Annapolis Valley. That it is such admits of no question. To a very large number of the people of this county the question of cheaper and better shipping facilities to the other side is of vastly more importance than either free trade or protection, or any of the other questions which politicians spend so much time in discussing. Every year our fruit growers are becoming more dependent upon the English market, and without that market our fruit would some years scarcely market our fruit would some years scarcely the county of the protection of the protection of the people of this county the question of the grand jury found a true bill on both counts, and on being arraigned the prisoner pleaded guilty. net proceeds of a consignment to the extent of ten per cent. at least. The government has, during recent years been spending a good deal of money in assisting to place Canadian cheese on the English market, and in consequence, largely, of this aid an enormous quantity of cheese is annually exported. More recently an attempt has been made to do for the butter industry of the dominion what has already been don for the cheese trade. At public expense cold storage has been or is about being provided for the steamers, and at both ends of the voyage, so that the butter shipped may be put on the market in first class condition. Having done this much for the butter and cheese trade of the dominion, from which the farmers of the upper provinces have mainly benefitted, it is fit and proper that the government should spend an equal amount at least in attempting to remove the grievances under which our fruit-growers labor. What our fruit-growers want and what they have a right to expect after so much has been done for the butter and cheese

This last is an evil of comparatively recent growth. To charge a farmer ninety cents a barrel freight, keep seventy or at most eighty of it, and hand the balance over to some

-Manitoba's reply to the famous remedial order of the dominion government has at last been given. It politely but firmly declines to accede to the request of that order to re-establish the system of separate schools such as existed previous to the legislation of 1890. In giving its reasons for this refusal the Manitoba government certainly makes out a pretty strong case. The great extent of the province and the sparseness of its population makes it a heavy burden upon the people to keep up even one system of schools.

"It will be obvious that the establishmer "It will be obvious that the establishment of a set of Roman Catholic schools followed by a set of Anglican schools, and, possibly, Mennonite and Icelandic schools would so emasculate our present system that any approach to even our present general standard of efficiency would be quite impossible. We contemplate the inauguration of such a state of affairs with very grave apprehension. We have no hesitation in saving that there cannot be suggested any measure which to our minds would more seriously imperil the development of our province.

There is very much force in this reasoning It would doubtless be of great advantage to the people of that province if all classes and ould unite in maintaining one system of schools, just as it would be of great advantage, from a financial and business point of view, if all the people of our towns and villages would unite in keeping up one church—the church of the majority of whatever sect that might be. We could have tter churches, pay our clergymen better stipends and expend more in missionary and other philanthropic work under a system of that kind. But an attempt to bring about such a condition of things by legislation would create an endless amount of opposition and trouble no matter how beneficial the result might promise to be in the end. The Manitoba legislature has been attempting to do something of this kind, educationally, to a very small extent, it is true, and the result is what might be expected where questions

The answer suggests the advisability of the dominion government making a full investigation of the whole matter before taking further action and promises from the Manitaba government all the information necessary on the subject. It also offers to reimburse the Roman Catholics for any injustice done in the matter of private church

Upon the whole the answer of the Manitoba government strengthens the case of the

It is now quite probable that nothing further will be done, except it may be the appointment by the dominion government of a the matter, until after the approaching gen-

Under present conditions the expense of getting it to market is nearly double what it should be, and much greater than it now costs upper province and American growers. More than this, a considerable proportion of the apples shipped is injured on the way across, owing to the heat or want of proper ventilation of the steamer. Every shipper has grown familiar with the terms "slack," "open," "injured," etc., which so frequently occur on account of Bridgetown Cheese and Butter Factory.

The Bridgetown Cheese and Butter Fac-The Bridgetown Cheese and Butter Factory, which commenced operations on Monday, June 3rd, is doing a good business, and the outlook is favorable. The building, though not large is very conveniently arranged for handling a large quantity of milk, and the quantity received daily has averaged about one and one-half tons, with the prospect of a large increase before the end of the month. Mr. Sanford, the manager, says he can handle three tons of milk daily with the machinery already in position and has room machinery already in position and has room for another milk vat which will double the

The whey and skimmed milk are all returned to the patrons to be utilized on the farm, and the bright new cheese are placed on the tables of the curing room, there to be got ready for the market, either Canadian or English.

Mr. Sanford is an experienced cheese and butter maker and shows great care in the handling and testing of milk and keeping everything sweet and clean about the factory.

There is every prospect of the enterprise proving a success, and we hope ere long to see the factory taxed to its fullest capacity.

Impressive Memorial Service.

The many friends of our former resident. Rev. J. H. Balcom, of Lawrencetown, will read the following extract, taken from a late issue of the Templeton Recorder, published at Templeton, Mass., with great pleasure:

issue of the Templeton Recorder, published at empleton and the balance over to some speculator or agent whom perhaps the farmer never saw or heard tell of, might very properly be made a crime or misdemeanor by act of parliament. It is a discrimination against the man whose labor creates the traffic and without whom there would be neither carrier nor speculator. If we mistake not laws to prevent such discrimination have been enacted in the United States. If the railway and steamship companies can afford to carry freight at the cheaper rates for speculators and large shippers they might very properly be made to do it for others at the same rate.

Again, it would seem that the $750,000 voted to assist in establishing a fast line of steamers might be spent to much greater advantage in giving our farmers and fruit growers cheaper freight rates than in the way proposed. The carrying of passengers and mails, while important of course, is a matter of but secondary importance when compared with the advantage it would be to the pospole of this valley to have cheaper and some compared with the advantage it would be to the pospole of this valley to have cheaper and some compared with the advantage it would be to the pospole of this valley to have cheaper and some compared with the advantage it would be to the pospole of this valley to have cheaper and some compared with the advantage it would be to the pospole of this valley to have cheaper and some compared with the advantage it would be to the pospole of this valley to have cheaper and some compared with the advantage it would be to the pospole of this valley to have cheaper and some compared with the advantage it would be to the pospole of this valley to have cheaper and some compared with the advantage it would be to the pospole of this valley to have cheaper and some compared with the advantage it would be to the pospole of this valley to have cheaper and some compared with the advantage it would be to the pospole of this valley to have cheaper and some compared with

JONES—DODGE.

The wedding of Miss Edith Blanche Dodge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Dodge, of Orchard street, North Cambridge, and Frederick George Jones, sou of Alderman Jones, of Somerville, took place Wednesday evening, June 5th, at 8 o'clock at St. James' Episcopal church, North Cambridge. There was a large attendance of friends and relatives.

was a large attendance of friends and relatives.

The church was prettily decorated. The ceremony was performed by the rector, Rev. Edward Abbott, D. D., assisted by Rev. Edward P. Lee, rector of St. James' church, West Somerville. Organist Forsyth rendered Lohengrin's wedding march as the bridal party entered the church, and Mendelssohn's march following the ceremony.

The bride was given away at the altar by her father. The bride was attired in white satin with pearl trimmings, and carried brideroses. Miss Minnie Gertrude Dodge, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and was attired in pink lansdowne, trimmed with chiffon lace and carried pink roses.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Orchard street. The couple were remembered with many handsome gifts, and on their return from their honeymoon will live in Sharon, Mass.

Our Sabbath-school concert was a decided success. Our school teacher deserves great praise for her energy and the manner in which it was arranged. The young folks deserve great praise for the able manner in which its Sunday I in cach the report sev. A. Mr. Russell E. Brown, of Brockton, paid his many friends a flying visit one day last week.

Mr. D. H. Armstrong and wife and Mrs. Joshua S. Miller are attending the association at Digby.

Before the writer had finished reading the report every seat in the church was coupled and the standing room began to fill up with the crowd, eager to hear what would be said on this often discussed, but always popular question. The report was spoken to by E. C. Simonson, who took for his subject:

"THE VOTING DUTY OF CHURCH MEMBERS IN THE MATTER OF PROHIBITION."

Mr. Simonson took the ground that no one would be a consistent member of a Baptist church who would vote for a candidate who was not a prohibition aleading issue, regardless of party ties.

Mr. D. H. Armstrong and wife and Mrs. Joshua S. Miller are attending the association at Digby.

Among the visitors of late may be mentioned Mr. Harry and Fletcher Hines, of Roxbury.

Miss Delemer held her examination in the school room on Friday afternoon, June 14th. A large number of visitors were present and all seemed to be well satisfied that the young minds had been trained well. Miss Delemer has given good satisfaction as a teacher in this place, and her departure from here will be much regretted by her many friends.

In the evening, a congregation much too large for comfort, listened to the carefully prepared report on missions by Rev. W. H. Jenkins, which was followed by powerful speeches by Rev. A. Cohoon, Rev. J. W. Manning and Rev. Dr. Boggs. The address of Boggs, who is a returned missionary, proved to be among the finest of this association, which has produced more displays of real oratory than any like gathering for several years. Fifty clergymen were present and most of them on Sunday were scattered goodly sum of four dollars was collected for mission purposes.

What might have been a fatal accident occurred here last Thursday. As Mrs. James Marshall and two daughters from Clarence were driving down the Shore road, some way, quite unexplainable, the horse stopped suddenly and fell, causing the waggon and its occupants to be thrown forward over the horse's head, which motion scattered them promiscuously amongst the rocks. over the norse's nead, which motion scattered them promiscuously amongst the rocks. Mrs. M. was badly cut about the head and face, one of the daughters received bruises on the knees, and the other escaped with a hurt in one side. Fortunately no bones were broken. They were at once conveyed to the home of Mr. Thomas Burton where every needful assistance was rendered. Mrs. M. was not able to be moved until Sunday.

Mr. Frank Jones, of Boston, made his friends here a brief visit last week.

Mrs. Lawrence Delap and Miss Annie W. Robblee have gone to Boston to make a visit. We regret to hear that Mr. Joseph Haynes, post master at Victoria Beach, is in poor health. health.

Quite a number of our folks went over to Digby on Sunday to take in the Baptist Association.

Wm. J. Croscup, Esq., and wife, of Berwick, spent a few days-this week with friends and relatives here.

The Rev. Mr. Jenkins administered the rite of baptism to four candidates at the as follows:—

Beginning on the main post road by lands of Benjamin Brooks and following said lands terrods the course of the lines southwardly; then eastwardly across said lands eleven rods and fourteen feet; thene enorthwardly ten rods to the main post road aforesaid; thence westwardly along said road thirteen rods and nin feet to the place of beginning, the same bein that lot of land formerly owned by Elizabet Stephens, now Mrs. Elizabeth Caldwell. The Rev. Mr. Jenkins administered the rite of baptism to four candidates at the Anthony wharf on Sabbath last.

Several of our neighbors drove up to Stoney Beach on Thursday evening to hear a Mr. Isidor of Halifax, who was billed to lecture on "Single Tax," but the orator did not show up.

To the Editor of the Monitor:

DEAR SIE,—An article over the signature of J. Gactz in your last issue seems to call for some answer from me. In answer to the first part of his article I wish to call his attention to the Messenger and Visitor under date of April 24th, in which he will find a short article from me, from which I make the following extract, viz.: "We have lately held a few special services at Torbrook where Rev. Mr. Gates, Methodist, has been for some time engaged in special work. On Sunday April 7th, it was my privilege to baptize a brother there, and on Sunday April 14th two more believing ones followed their Saviour in the same sacred ordinance." I considered that statement a sufficient recognition of any human instrumentality in connection with the Lord's work. Surely he would not have me say that the work of grace proceeded from him. I did not even consider it necessary to repeat that statement in my subsequent articles to the same paper.

It is true that the Baptists shared largely ment in my subsequent articles to the same paper.

It is true that the Baptists shared largely in that work, and also bear testimony to the blessings which they received. They were then without a pastor, and harmony did prevail while they remained in his services as helpers. When they secured a pastor of their own, and having been informed by Bro. Gaetz that his special work was about to be concluded, they began work in their own church, he suddenly became conscious of a lack of harmony. So far as I am able to judge the exact point of time when the uneasiness began, was at a baptismal service, when, according to the custom of Baptist ministers, a few passages from the Bible were read showing our reasons for believing that immersion is the baptism taught in the New Testament, and asked the people to judge for themselves whether we are right in our belief. The reading of those passages, repeated on a subsequent occasion, with the addition of giving the definition of the Greek word "baptizo" from a few standard lexicons has fallen like a bomb-shell in some quarters, and since then the air has been decidedly smoky from the discharge of great and small guns.

However, else, you are positive that the foregoing is who give up in despair while there is still with watering them too much, and boldly hope, as her own words will denote. "It was a terrible time," she said. "We had been told again and again that nothing not do such a thing. Just reason for a mocould be done to save Sophie, and bad almost been forced by appearance to believe it. I have now to say that but for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills she would have been in her grave instead of attending school every day the liveliest of the lively. It began like this; es his worn-out, half-curried, half-fed and the poor girl was coming to me three or four times a day exclaiming, "Oh, ma; I have the pain of it." This went on for a long time, weeks in fact, until we began to look at it in a very serious light. We had almost every French doctor in the city called in. but with no result. Sophie got worse and orse. Her face was small and yellow while her lips were as white as your collar tless and apathetic, and so weak she could not raise her hand to her head. A apply the coarse stuff, then oyster shells, if leading doctor forced her to take a certain you have any on hand, small stones, glass, kind of powders, which seemed to be taking or pieces of bricks, and top-dress with the the flesh from her bones. She was watched day and night, but we could detect no change unless for the the garden will be complete. Then, each worse. All hope had gone. I had read of spring after, give them a slight top-dressing the cures by the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills, and about this time I noticed a description published in the Free Press somewhat similar to Sophie's case. Something seemed to urge me to give them a trial, and now I thank God I did. I sent for some and began giving them to her one at a time. ### How to Retain Health.

If you wish to have health it is necessary that you should be regular in your habits, the I use sweet oil, and it is a sure cure. The have a stated time for your meals, eat sparingly of plain, nourishing food and leave pastry alone, abstain from ardent spirits and the head, spine, root of tail, and anywhere tobacco, retire from the dinner table feeling the lice are found. It is a sure cure and a little hungry; bath often and exercise in perfectly safe. It not only kills the lice, the open air when you can, as breathing the pure air gives life and strength; retire to hair nice and clean." bed early, as a good night's rest gives the lost during the waking hours. The duration of the human life may be ascertained by pulcific the human life may be ascertained by the h of the human life may be ascertained by pulsation of the body. Say a man lives to 70 years, his heart beating 60 to the minute, the pulsations in that time foot up, 2,207,520,000. If by intemperance or any other cause he raises pulsation to 75 a minute, the same number of pulsations is less in a sleeping than waking state; it stands to reason that a long sleeper has a much better prospect of long life than a person who is satisfied with naps. It is well known that the great cause of our bodily ailments is replepletion—that is, eating a larger quantity of food than is wanted to supply the necessaries of the system.

Agricultural.

Business Methods in Farming.

Every crop planted on the farm, every animal bought, and every hired man, is an in-BROUGHT HER TO THE VERGE OF THE vestment, involving sound business judgment in both the planning and the management, to insure a profitable outcome. Too often crops are planted or stock raised simply because other farmers raise them, with-out regard to the cost, the market, or the adaptability to the particular farm and its equipments. When planted no account is kept of the expense, and not even an estimate is made of the cost, but the crop is sold as soon as harvested for what it will bring, and the crop repeated next season. While it would sometimes cost more than the crops estimates made for one year or field would a "mind cure" for fifteen minutes on the not answer for other years and fields.

Whether accounts are kept with particular

Anoth fields or crops or not, there should be an account opened with the farm, and others with the household and personal expenses. By taking stock each year it can be determined whether the farm has been profitable; whether the improvements have exceeded the repairs; whether personal pleasures have | way that the ship will run down if the box een too extravagant, and whether the ount for every person with whom a credit usiness is transacted, for memory utterly ails in keeping an accurate record of such Treat the farm as a person, and see whether it can be credited with a farming is a busines, then the keeping of farm accounts will pay.

Feeding a horse principally on grain and driving it five hours is like giving a man salt mackerel for dinner and not allowing him to fell sick and rapidly wasted away. Points on Pastry Making. Here are a few points usually overlooked in regard to pastry making. First of all it my left a cigar. - Yours ever, Adolphe." should be prepared in a cool place; in winter and early spring, or at times when the temperature is decidedly low, it is not imperative to be very careful, but as soon as the hermometer rises, in nine cases out of ten, failure is the result of too great heat. The flour, too, should always be absolutely dry, and the butter well pressed and freed from all the surplus moisture. To this end it is advisable, especially in summer, to wash the butter that is needed for the preparation of the pastry in fresh water over night, to roll it tightly in a clean dry cloth, to beat it gently with a wooden roller, and to place it on a slab in a cool larder till the time when it is to be used. The knife or cutter must be perfectly sharp, to avoid jagged, untidy edges; and, when the pastry is brushed over with egg or water, as the case may be, care should be taken that none is dropped on any ther part of the pastry than that on which it is needed as a gloss; for experience diswith an earnest appeal for contributions tinctly teaches that even a little thing is etrimental to the proper rising of the dough.
