ANOTHER year has closed since we presented our friends, and subscribers, and the public in general, with a report of the Home for the Aged, now permanently established in the city, and enrolled among the number of the Benevolent Institutions which adorn the community, and call forth the admiration and praise of every reflecting mind

In sending forth this our Fourth Annual Report, we desire First, to express our unfeigned thanks to Him, the Giver of all good, who has crowned our humble efforts with abundant success, and made the Institution a happy and Christian home. Secondly, to acknowledge the kindness of those friends and benefactors, through whose liberality the Home has been sustained, and many aged members of Christian churches rendered comfortable and happy in declining years.

The Home for the Aged is situated in Gottingen street, opposite the Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb It is an extensive and valuable property, and has cost the Committee, together with repairs and a new addition, £1391 19s. 9d. There remains a mortgage on the premises of £600, which sum we hope ere long to see paid off, by bequest, or otherwise, and the establishment made a self-sustaining institution. It is capable of accommodating comfortably twenty-five inmates, who pay £10 per annum if they reside in the city, and £15 or more per annum, if they reside out of the city. They are provided with every comfort and advantage, temporal and spiritual; and under the kind and judicious management of the Matron, Mrs. McKie, cannot fail to be happy and contented. There are at present residing in the Home fourteen aged and infirm persons, most of whom have seen brighter and more prosperous days, and who might but for this institution, have been subjected to many and great privations.

The Home for the Aged was founded by WILLIAM MURDOCH, Esq., a successful and honorable merchant in this city, who, on rotiting from busindest left towards its endowinent the munificent sun of £1000. It has been in operation four years ; and if the success of the past be a just criterion for the future, the Commitretiring from business, left towards its endowment the munificent sum of £1000. It has been in operation four years ; and if the success of the past be a just criterion for the future, the Committee may well "take courage and go forward," in humble reliance on the guidance and blessing of the Most High.

During the past year we have admitted four into the Home, and we have to record the death of two. And here we desire to pay a tribute of respect to the memory of the late Dr. Hume, the kind and disinterested Medical Visitor of the Home, who from its first institution had gratuitously attended the sick and dying.

The Committee being aware that some misunderstanding exists regarding the class of persons for whom this institution was intended, take the liberty of publishing an extract from a letter written by the first and largest contributor to the establishment: "My attention being called to the benefit of an institution in Halifax for distressed elderly persons, who have seen better days, who are thus left unprovided for, at that time of life when the infirmities of age prevent their doing any thing whereby they could assist themselves, I shall on my part be willing to contribute One Thousand Pounds, to be secured on mortgage approved by the Committee of Management, the interest to go to the support of this landable undertaking."

In concluding this our Fourth Report, we hope a generous community will sustain us in "our labor of love," and enable us to continue to afford a comfortable and happy home to those already entrusted to our care, and also to others, who from unavoidable circumstances, may from time to time seek admission into the Home for the Aged.

The Committee render their sincere thanks to the unknown friend who sent the handsome Reading desk for the convenience of the gentlemen who conduct the Sabbath services.

The thanks of the Committee are also due to the following ladies and gentlemen who have contributed beef, mutton, poultry, sugar, fruit, cake, and pies: Mrs. E. Binney, Mrs. E. K. Brown, Mrs. G. H. Starr, Mrs. Sweet, Mrs. Selden, Mrs. Liddell, Mrs. Liswell, Miss Elder, E. Binney, G. H. Starr, Starr and Co., G. Drillio, &c.
