

DOING GREAT WORK FOR THE FARMERS, HE SAYS

Mr. Nunnick Sees Great Usefulness for the Conservation Commission—Has Been in the West.

Friday, July 21.
F. C. Nunnick, B. S. A., connected with the land's department of the conservation commission for the conservation of natural resources, Ottawa, arrived in the city yesterday. He has just returned from a tour of the west and will spend a short time in this province investigating and giving instructions along the line of agricultural work.
Favored with an abundance of rain this season, he said the western farmers were looking forward to a record-breaking wheat crop, at least 200,000,000 bushels being expected.
In speaking of his work Mr. Nunnick said he was paying particular attention to the methods employed by the farmers in the rotation of crops, seed selection, production and care of manure, and also looking into the insect pest and plant diseases, and the fuel, power and water supply on farms.
The more he studies the work, he said, the more he becomes impressed with the great necessity of it. In forming the conservation commission the government certainly did a commendable piece of work. Farming and other conditions were now being closely looked into with excellent results. That there is room for an educational campaign can be seen from the fact that in comparison with other countries Canadian farmers through a lack of knowledge in some of the simplest of agricultural matters were not making the best of the natural resources. From soil that had been worked for centuries the farmers of Great Britain, for example, he said, were getting an average of thirty bushels of wheat to an acre, while here in Canada the best farmers could get only about seventeen bushels to the acre. The conservation work was being carried on very comprehensively at present, he said, and in a few years he hoped to see a complete transformation in farming conditions. Among other things, he was looking forward to the establishment of demonstration farms and also the holding of underground draining tests. Mr. Nunnick is registered as the Royal.

DEALER SAYS FARMER MADE BIG MONEY

North End Man Declares Thousand Dollars Were Collected for Strawberries Raised on Acre of Ground.

Friday, July 21.
Strawberries are still on the market and sell at the remarkably good price of fourteen cents a box. The farmers this year have made a handsome profit on this crop as the price was only about ten cents for a day or two, and throughout the season, which has been a long one, the average has not been lower than twelve cents.

A North End dealer tells of the record made by one of the farmers on the river, who cultivates but one acre of land. This year the farmer has won down, he says, no less than 9,000 boxes, and one day this week he came down and collected for the entire shipment. When he had made his count he found that the berries had averaged twelve cents a box, bringing the handsome return of $1,080. And yet the New Brunswick farms are being abandoned as being too small, for the limitless prices of the West!

RICHIBUCTO NOTES

Richibucto, July 19—Mrs. Harry W. Jakeman, who for several weeks has been a guest of her aunt, Miss B. Finney, left this morning for Halifax to visit the parents of her husband.

John Jardine, of Madison (Me.), arrived here yesterday to spend his vacation at the home of his father, James A. Jardine.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Haines, who were visiting Mr. Haines' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benedict Haines, returned some little time ago to their home in St. John. Mr. Haines shortened their stay here on account of the extreme heat to visit the parents of Mrs. M. F. Keith, of Moncton, having been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Black.

Miss Flora Atkinson is attending the summer school of science at Fredericton.

Mr. Bellevue, of St. John, is visiting friends in town.

D. C. Richardson, the mayor of Richmond (Va.), was talking about a politician whose policy was remarkably obstructive and piecemeal.

"Dash," said Mayor Richardson, "is one of those men who never learn the true difference between perseverance and obstinacy. Perseverance, you know, is a strong will, and obstinacy is a strong won't."

ROYAL ROMANCE BARED IN MONTREAL

Girl Seeks Lover's Release

Grandchild of Austrian Emperor Makes Application

Young Man Placed in an Asylum by His Father Because of His Infatuation for Young Woman Who Has a Husband in New York.

Montreal, July 21—A romance said to involve a morganatic granddaughter of the Emperor Francis Josef of Austria, an American broker, a Montreal man unable to resist the call of a divorce action, two habeas corpus proceedings and a lunatic asylum is revealed by an innocent habeas corpus application which came into the court's today.

The application is for the release of Justin B. McDougall, who is now detained at the St. Joseph, Bonnet Asylum, Longue Pointe, at the instance of his father, who wishes to protect him from the morganatic member of the royal house of Austria, with whom he had to be incarcerated.

The application states that the young man is retained in the asylum against his will and without any legal proceedings. The affidavit in support of it is signed by the young lady, said to constitute the royalty in the case. The case was called today, but as the asylum authorities did not appear by their prosecutor, it was put over until next Wednesday.

The story is that Arch-Duke Rudolph of Austria, eldest son of Emperor Francis Josef, contracted a marriage with an Austrian baroness, which was refused recognition. Both succeeded, but before they did so a child was born. This child was sent to America by the orders of Francis Josef.

As Alma Veera she grew up in New York, until shortly after her sixteenth birthday she met G. Osborne Hayes, an American broker, whom she married. The two went to Austria, seeking reconciliation, but were sent back to America. Mrs. Hayes then alleges that her disappointed husband commenced to ill treat her.

Just at this juncture, Justin B. McDougall appeared and with him she went to New York to consult lawyers concerning a divorce, accompanied by her little son. In New York, the father kidnapped the son and instituted divorce proceedings on his own account. McDougall and Mrs. Hayes returned to Montreal, whereupon the young man's father had him incarcerated.

In the meantime, Mr. McDougall, senior, has talked with Alma Veera and has offered to help her defend in the divorce case which her husband is bringing. Mrs. Hayes, however, seems determined to effect a divorce, and McDougall, who is now in New York, is expected to return to Montreal to take part in the action for securing his release from the asylum.

BOBBY LEACH ELUDES POLICE

Niagara Barrel Navigator Waiting on Navy Island to Slip Through Falls

Toronto Girl Selects a Police Court as Place to Be Married, and a Minister is Found to Tie the Knot.

Toronto, July 21—With the police on both sides of the Niagara river on a search for him, Bobby Leach, the barrel navigator, who announced his intention of going over the Horse Shoe falls this afternoon in a barrel, was forced to find refuge on Navy Island, which is far down towards Cataract. He had his barrel towed to the island and had it tied there ready, he says, to go over the brink as soon as weather conditions are favorable. The wind today is southwest and would blow the barrel into the American channel, where it would undoubtedly be broken on the rocks.

A marriage ceremony took place in the police court this afternoon. In one case it is held in a church. When one thinks of the different places where two people have been made one, it should not be surprising that a bride should elect to be married in a police court. Miss Edda Freda, a fair Russian maid of Ulan, Russia, who has made her home in Canada for some time, came to Jacob Cohen, J. P., and asked him if she could be married to one Alexander Lubinsky. Mr. Cohen said he knew of no objections, and asked her if she had any preference as to where the ceremony should take place. Then the maid expressed her desire to be married in the court room. Ascertaining that the couple were Christians and desired to be married by a Protestant minister, the ceremony was performed and the bride was escorted and promptly at 4 o'clock this afternoon the "athletic parson" made the two one, with the aid of Mr. Cohen, who acted as interpreter.

CONSERVATION WILL BE A MAJOR ISSUE IN THE GENERAL ELECTION

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Serves Notice on the Opposition

Reciprocity Must Pass or An Appeal to the People Will Be Made—Hon. Mr. Fielding Dares Tories to Allow Trade Pact to Be Voted On and Take the Country's Verdict—Hon. Mr. Pugsley Intimates That Closure May Have to Be Adopted.

Special to The Telegraph.

Ottawa, July 21—Parliament's proceedings today were fraught with deep significance. They spell an early crisis to the existing government.

Both Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. Mr. Fielding spoke with candor, clarity and emphasis, and their utterances were heralded by such a storm of applause as told the overwhelming temper of the Liberal party in every province.

The opposition initiated the demonstration of the customary launching of time-lapse at the progress of the country's legislation at five while they talked. Not a single item of the public business has been advanced since the people have grasped the situation. With the week-end many members visited their constituencies, came in contact with their constituents and learned something of the mind of the public.

When the minister of finance, immediately following the preliminaries today, moved the house into committee for the further consideration of reciprocity, there was a change in opposition procedure. Instead of the customary launching of time-lapse, the members of the North Grey rose in a new form of complaint. The opposition, he complained, were being harassed by obstructionists and all the time the government was preparing for an election.

In turn he complained that instructions had been given to the members of the opposition to return to their constituencies and to provide for the preparation of electoral records in the unorganized districts.

The speaker will not be tolerated. "But the position was not maintained long. Mr. Met with the minister that an election is what they had been demanding claiming they desired the watercourse of the country to be opened up, and a complaint against the government was issued upon it. It took place within an hour and was one of the most amusing instances of the 'volcanic' yet persistent character of the opposition."

The premier brushed the cobwebs of misunderstanding and confusion from the situation and immediately appeal to the people. If reciprocity, redistribution, and other public business is to be done, the government and the opposition must make a farce, then, as Sir Wilfrid himself put it, "there are judges over to us to judge between the government and the opposition."

And Hon. Mr. Fielding, following, dealt with the situation in detail. It was the desire of the government to proceed with both reciprocity and redistribution. The former was paramount. Redistribution could not be consummated until the census was completed. It was, moreover, the duty of the government to provide for the approval of house of representatives, senate and president, unite in legislative machinery comprising at present both political parties in the senate.

The minister of finance emphasized the fact that there was nothing binding on the agreement, that the Canadian parliament had the right at any time to terminate it, should such a course be desired.

The United States had proposed that the tariff legislation in the United States had yet been able to take effect. "My honorable friend rose to reply to the question of the tariff legislation in this house by saying that there was nothing new to be said upon this question. That is perfectly true. Yet, his foot three hours or more to say what had been said over and over again."

Mr. Fielding's challenge was greeted by long-continued applause from the Liberal benches.

Both Hon. Mr. Fielding and Hon. Mr. Pugsley gave hints as to the necessity for reciprocity, and the advisability of introducing the closure.

The plain spoken utterances in the house this afternoon will doubtless clear the way for the two parties tomorrow. The situation is the talk of the corridors to-night and the general sentiment is that the crisis cannot now be long delayed. There is no doubt that the Liberals are enthusiastically behind the premier and minister of finance in their determination to continue reciprocity as the first order of business and most continuing obstruction, bringing up public business, with immediate dissolution.

WILD DISORDER IN BRITISH COMMONWEALTHS

Premier Refused a Hearing

Sitting Was Suspended After Two Hours of Pandemonium

Noble Tories Hurl All Sorts of Insults at Asquith as He Tries to Make a Statement in Regard to Veto Bill.

Canadian Press.

London, July 21—The last act of the parliamentary revolution was ushered in today with a revolutionary scene. For the first time in its history the house of commons refused to listen to a speech by the prime minister. For the first time in its history the speaker of the house was compelled to involve the rule which empowers him "in case of grave disorder" to declare the sitting adjourned on his own responsibility.

No such hostile passions have been given free rein in a chamber which traditionally carries on its debates with chivalrous courtesy, since the stormy days of the Gladstone home rule bill. During the three-quarters of an hour Mr. Asquith rose at short intervals and read a sentence or two from a manuscript, only to be overthrown by jeers, hooting and cries, among which "Traitor" was the most frequent, but with "Redmond" "Patrick Ford" and "American Dollars" often distinguishable.

Agas and the prime minister tried to speak, but his voice was drowned in the whirlwind. He gave utterance to a few broken sentences, a word or two of which were heard. Finally his mouth was gagged as he stated at his former torments a loss at bay, an impressive figure with straight-up features flushed with anger and heavy grey hair.

He closed his manuscript and cried: "I am not going to degrade myself. I shall simply state the conclusion at which the government has arrived."

Wild Disorder. Having announced the government's intentions as briefly and as hurriedly as possible, although they were not heard, the prime minister sank back into his seat. The leaders in the outburst against the prime minister were Lord Hugh Cecil, an intensely unpopular member of one of the most patrician families, and a young barrister F. E. Smith, who recently achieved prominence in the Conservative party. The former kept up a constant fire of monotonous cries, and the latter member, Will Crooks, in rough clothes and slouch hat, casting scraps of verse, several times jumped up as if about to assault him, but was pulled back by friendly hands.

The speaker's pleadings to "Observe the decencies of debate" were in vain. The tumult: the wonder was that the crowded house did not come to blows, but the belligerent members were often pulled back by their neighbors.

The political hatred engendered by the veto bill made today's session the stormiest in the memory of the oldest member. Every mouth was open to physical violence, and was successfully used to prevent Mr. Asquith from placing the views of the government before the house and the nation.

Suspended Sitting. So violent were the opposition members and so indignant were the ministerials that the speaker, after two hours, decided to suspend the sitting in order to obviate grave disorders. The members dispersed themselves amid a scene of violent excitement, shouts of "Traitor," "Coward," following the prime minister, as he departed, to which the ministerials hurled back cries of "You're beaten, we will win."

Mr. Asquith's speech in the newspapers was a summary of the speech he was prevented from delivering. In the speech he contended that the principles of the majority of the house should be maintained by two elections. By no form of referendum, desirable could the opinion of the electorate have been more carefully ascertained. The government had achieved the important amendments in the house of commons, the purpose of the Lord's amendments was to set the machinery aside. The government had proposed specifically to describe what were finance bills; the lords proposed to create a committee, which the premier described as a junta, to determine what were finance bills; and what were matters of great gravity whatever that might mean, which should be put before the country by referendum.

There was not a great budget of the last seventy years which could not plausibly have been thrown out by such a junta.

"When you have a Liberal majority in both houses" continued the prime minister, "the whole thing becomes a dead letter. Measures of this most far-reaching effect may be passed in defiance of public opinion and over the heads of the electorate. You live under an unchecked and undiluted single chamber government, but you have the Liberal government in power; you would have a house of commons fettered beyond all its predecessors in control of finance and in all cases where an irresponsible and non-representative body, independent of both houses, should determine, every deadlock will be settled, and settled only by referendum."

These amendments added Mr. Asquith, "take as a whole amount to a rejection of our bill."

He then quoted in detail constitutional writers and the history of the passage of the reform bill by William IV, and said his promise to create enough peers to ensure the passage of the present bill.

TWO CHICAGO YACHTS WRECKED AND ONE MISSING

Eleven Boats Started in Lake Race When Storm Struck Them With Disastrous Results.

Mackinac Island, Mich., July 21—Of the eleven yachts that left Chicago Saturday in the Chicago-Mackinac race, five are anchored in the harbor here, three have put in for shelter at different ports along Lake Michigan, one lies on Mission Point and another has not been heard from since yesterday. This is a result of a storm which reached its height between 5 and 6 o'clock this morning after blowing a gale all day yesterday.

The winner of the race, the Mopac Mavourneen, shortly after capturing the Mackinac cup, fringed her anchor and now lies ponding to pieces on the beach. She was released once by the Valmore, but went ashore again and although lives were gotten to her three times, they have been lost from her since yesterday morning. A tug has been summoned from Chebogue and until it arrives the Mavourneen is helpless. Grave fears are felt for the safety of the Illinois, nothing having been heard from her since yesterday morning, when the Mavourneen passed her.

The Valmore arrived at 5:04.38 this morning, and was followed at 6:30 by the Mopac Mavourneen. The crew, Venetor is ground on Fisherman's Island in the Frenchman. The Capitan is reported at Beaver. The Mopac Mavourneen arrived at 10:12 this forenoon, and the Troop is reported in shelter at South Manitowish. The America and the Shark were the first to arrive in the night. The boats arriving here show much evidence of a terrific battle with the storm.

HONORING JOSEPH HOWE'S MEMORY

Aluminum Tablet Enumerating His Virtues Placed at His Birthplace

NOTABLE MEN PRESENT

Governor McGregor Official and Justice Russell the Orator of the Day—Senator Ross, One of the Distinguished Statesmen's Contemporaries, Also Present.

Special to The Telegraph.

Halifax, N. S., July 21—The Nova Scotia Historical Society are marking notable spots in Halifax where they are placing aluminum tablets signifying the historic events to be commemorated. This afternoon a tablet was placed on the gate post of Hon. B. P. Pearson's residence at Elm-cote, North West Arm, marking the birthplace of Joseph Howe, who first saw the light there in the year 1804.

The tablet describes Howe as patriot, imperialist, statesman, orator, gratefully remembered as Nova Scotia's leader in obtaining responsible government.

The tablet was unveiled by Governor McGregor. The speech of the day was delivered by Justice Russell, who gave a fine and very appreciative eulogy of Howe.

Major Chisholm, who is the editor of two volumes of Howe's speeches, and one of the speakers, followed in a shorter address. Sir John A. Macdonald, of Middleton (N. S.), spoke briefly and read some lines descriptive of the life of Howe. The speaker was Senator William Ross, who is the only living representative from Nova Scotia who was at the time of Howe's death.

As a matter of fact, he said, there were fifty-five members of the opposition who had not yet spoken on reciprocity, and he decided to content North York, the dominion voters' lists in unorganized northern Ontario were in preparation, and printed instructions had been issued for the guidance of returning officers. He said, however, before the house came back, Mr. Middlemore alleged, and signified the intention of the government to go to the country anyway.

He charged that under the circumstances there was no ground for alleging that the opposition by its obstruction to reciprocity was robbing the west of its representative in the house. He intimated that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had been not to hold an election but to hurry up the census, pass redistribution and let reciprocity wait.

Sir Wilfrid Gets Ovation. When Sir Wilfrid Laurier rose to reply he was greeted by a remarkable demonstration of enthusiasm by his supporters, who for days have sat silent while the opposition talked. Members hurried to their places, and even the galleries were filled. He spoke for an hour and a half, and his speech was one of the most interesting of the session.

"My honorable friend rose to reply to the question of the tariff legislation in this house by saying that there was nothing new to be said upon this question. That is perfectly true. Yet, his foot three hours or more to say what had been said over and over again."

Mr. Fielding's challenge was greeted by long-continued applause from the Liberal benches.

MONCTON TO REPEAL UNJUST BYE-LAWS

Livery Stables and Laundries Will Not Be Obligated to Pay License Fees—Petitcodiac Young Men in Trouble.

Special to The Telegraph.

Moncton, N. B., July 21—As a result of the protest by livery stable proprietors and laundries against the action recently taken to compel them to pay license under the bye-laws, the city council tonight decided to take steps to repeal the bye-law complained of.

It seems the bye-law imposing a license fee of $25 on laundries and $20 on livery stables has been on the books many years and regarded as obsolete. At a recent revision of the bye-laws, however, the objectionable regulations were continued, and recently the city council ordered the enforcement of all bye-laws, resulting in action against laundries and livery stables. At a conference between the council and parties prosecuted tonight, it was agreed that taxpayers doing business should not be asked to pay a license, and laundries and livery stable men were assured action would be taken at once to relieve them of the license.

A communication from Peter Clinch, secretary of the insurance underwriters, asking permission to make a test of fire engines, and water pressure, was read to the council tonight. The mayor was instructed to write the secretary of the insurance underwriters to ascertain, if such permission to grant, the fire insurance rates in the tariff companies will be reduced. Some of the aldermen took exception to underwriters ringing the fire alarm and turning out the fire department without notice.

Mr. Claxton, accountant in the Moncton cotton mill, has been transferred to Kingsville, Ont.

I. C. R. Inspector Tingley visited Petitcodiac today and served papers on three men, charged with creating a disturbance on a picnic train last Friday. Inspector Tingley went to Newcastle tonight to prosecute a man named Whalen for alleged forgery in connection with an I. C. R. pass.

No Suffering at Porcupine. Porcupine, Ont., July 21—Belated supplies have been coming in with a rush, and if the relief committee were not a few of a serious shortage would exist now. The relief is being carefully distributed and every applicant for supplies is closely questioned before his requests are granted with. The supply of provisions on hand will last indefinitely.

NEW CUNARD LINER WILL BE WORLD'S LARGEST CRAFT

Aquitania Will Exceed the German 50,000 Ton Steamer in Size and Speed.

London, July 21—The plans for the new steamer Aquitania, which the Cunard company is building at Clyde Bank, have been modified to make the vessel the largest in the world. Her length will exceed 900 feet and be ten feet greater than the length of the 50,000-ton liner Imperator, which the Hamburg-American line put into service in the spring of 1913.

It is also stated that the Aquitania will be one knot faster than her German rival. The original specifications called for a length of 885 feet and a speed of 23 knots an hour. She will accommodate 4,500 passengers.

TRAGIC DEATH OF STEPHEN LEGER

Broke His Neck While Jumping from His Wagon at His Home in Richibucto Village.

Richibucto, N. B., July 21—Stephen Leger, a well known resident of Richibucto village, met his death Saturday evening under particularly sad circumstances.

He had been in town and left for home accompanied by a neighbor, who got out at his own home. When he reached home in jumping from the wagon his foot caught in the wheel and he fell to the ground, breaking his neck.

Rev. Father Martineau was called at once, but Mr. Leger passed away almost immediately. He was 68 years of age and is survived by a widow and six sons. The sons are Zack, of Richibucto; Fred, and John, of the Village; Phileas of Acadville, and two living in the States. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning. As the accident was witnessed by members of his household, an inquest was considered unnecessary.

New Governor of Manitoba. Ottawa, July 21—The appointment of D. C. Cameron, of Winnipeg, to be lieutenant governor of Manitoba, in succession to Sir David McMillan, has been put through by order-in-council.

Semi-Weekly Telegraph and The News ST. JOHN, N. B., JULY 26, 1911.

NATIONAL PROSPERITY: The Conservatives never weary of speaking of the present unexampled prosperity of Canada, and they give it as the chief reason against changing her fiscal relations with other nations.

THE LITTLE CANADIANS: The extreme Conservatives, who argue that there is danger to Canada in the ratification of the proposed trade agreement, have, evidently, a very poor opinion of this country and of their fellow citizens.

LET US ALONE: "Let us alone," as a political cry is somewhat of a novelty in Canadian politics. It is a high compliment to the success of the government and the effect of its general policy on the country.

HOME RULE: The Unionists and the House of Lords are making the claim that Home Rule was not an issue during the last election, and that a referendum is necessary before such legislation can be introduced.

THE FRIENDLY SOCIETIES: Lloyd George's insurance scheme promises to have a most important bearing upon the friendly societies. These societies are well established, and after trying all sorts of experiments they have won success through mistakes and failures.

NEW YORK BOSSES: New York will be the crucial State in the next election as it has been for so long, and at present it must be reckoned as a highly doubtful state.

RATIFICATION: The United States Senate has passed the reciprocity agreement by a fair majority, after long and stubborn opposition by enemies of the measure.

HARVEST EXCURSIONS: The editors of the Maritime Merchant, the Sussex Record, and the Chatham Commercial have for some months past been expanding the idea that it is better to dwell upon the opportunities and advantages of the Maritime Provinces than to "boom" the West.

NOTE AND COMMENT: A subscriber asks why the street railway company uses so many flat-wheeled cars. Presumably because the old, worn cars are cheaper than new ones.

DEFENDERS OF THEIR COUNTRY: The newspapers have been reporting omissions on the part of enumerators of the census, especially in the large cities of the Dominion, and notwithstanding the care of the census office to enforce a performance of accurate and full work on the part of the enumerators, it is possible that in some instances persons and even families have been passed over.

UNCLE WALT: My health is out of sight; I'm always feeling right, with joyous spels I kick my heels, and dance by day and night. I take no pale green pills for any kind of ills; and so escape a wreath of crape and sidestep doctor's bills.

INTERESTING FEEDING RESULTS OF EXPERIMENT Ohio State

A bulletin from the Station entitled "Specifics on the Development of Corn" contains valuable information for this class of live stock. The limitations imposed by nature on the growth of corn are within limits, the corn growth produced.

The mineral elements appear to enter largely in the formation of specific component of animals. Rations of corn based supplements from sources appear to be more palatable to the young of the species and corn products only of corn are all susceptible to the use of supplements, reason why good sound corn, which is a source of strength, is not a source of weakness.

The younger the animal the amount of protein in the corn is a perfect food. In comparing rations of corn supplemented with beans and germ of meal, the corn being composed of more nutritive ratio, was in general, in accordance with the amount of protein in the ration was accompanied by mineral elements, a certain amount of protein in the ration was accompanied by mineral elements, a certain amount of protein in the ration was accompanied by mineral elements.

THE RESULTS OF BOOSTING EAST

Article in Maritime Merchant Deals Plainly With Question

MISTAKES OF THE PAST

Too Much Free Advertising Has Been Given Away, it is Pointed Out, and People Encouraged to Go to Poorer Homes in the West.

(Maritime Merchant.)
 The Merchant observing the efforts of the Kings County Record, of Sussex (N. B.), to discourage New Brunswick farmers going west, asked its editor, James McKenna, to write something for our columns regarding the policy of his journal in a matter of this kind. In responding Mr. McKenna wrote:
 "I think I can almost convey my policy in a single sentence: The Record believes in the East and does not lose an opportunity to say so."
 As editor of the Record I early conceived the idea that there was altogether too much "West" in the columns of the maritime papers, and being convinced of that, I resolved that the columns of the Record would be closed to free advertising for the West, and the space devoted to boosting New Brunswick and the Maritime Provinces. The result has been gratifying. Many expressions of appreciation of our attitude have come to us voluntarily, and we believe that in the county of Kings, at least we have done something to fix upon the minds of our readers the many advantages of their home community. We have endeavored week in and week out to divert attention from the far away green fields and fix it on what we consider to be the more beautiful and greener acres of Kings county.
 "The Record does not discount the West or its possibilities, but it has, and does maintain that a young man who is willing to work has as good opportunities open to him in New Brunswick as he will have on the prairie."
 "We never seek for men who are over-looked in the West, but we are not interested in their views. When a man wishes to talk to us of the West we give him a most attentive hearing and then forget about it. We do not follow the example of some papers and give a lot of free advertising to some absurd misbegotten section somewhere."
 "When a man comes to us and tells us that he has been in the West and that the Maritime Provinces are as far ahead of it as day is ahead of night (and there are many of them), we take in every word he has to say to us and we publish it in the Record. We also feature the interview and give it a prominent place on a good page. We want all of our readers to get as much as that sort of thing as we can give them, and we firmly believe that other papers of the Maritime Provinces can well follow suit."
 "And our policy is not wholly unselfish. Every newspaper man, who, through his advocacy of the West induces a subscriber to locate there, cuts off, sooner or later, a patron of his journal. Moreover, he reduces a good customer from the West to some good advertiser, and a publicity seeker who thrives on sales. Then why build up newspapers in the West at the expense of Eastern journals? The thing is so absurdly foolish to argue that we cannot increase the circulation of our newspapers of the Maritime Provinces to waste so much valuable time and space to defeating their own interests."
 "The latest best excursion for instance, how many young men have been induced to locate in the West through this under-drain on our population? And has there ever been a proposition presented for the consideration of the newspapers of the Maritime Provinces which has been accepted with such apparent joy? Publishers have tumbled over themselves to give the scheme all possible 'free advertising.' Barren in his palmy days never dreamed of such a bonanza, what has been the result in the annals of newspaperdom and without the owners of so many journals of the home and friends have not only been doing it free, but have been paying for the privilege of removing their advertisements to the West, and the result is a mediocre variety of good customers and worthy citizens."
 "Last year the newspapers of New Brunswick would have none of it. Led off by The John Telegraph, and the press advised readers to remain at home. The disadvantages of harvest excursions and their discomforts and dangers were pointed out, forcefully in editorial and news paragraphs. What was the result? There was no harvest excursion from New Brunswick. The days of the "free" boom for emigration are at an end and the Record believes that this is only common sense on the part of publishers."
 "The Record has no quarrel with the C. P. R. It will take off its hat to any man or set of men who can work newspapers to the extent that eastern journals have done in the past. The result was a beautiful one from the railway's standpoint, but it was hard on the newspapers. When the C. P. R. or any other railway wishes to take the business of the Maritime Provinces and apply the same methods to the east as it has to the west, the Record will place at its disposal any amount of space, free of charge. For the present, however, we prefer to look after the section which we serve, and we try to do it 365 days in the year. What is wrong anyway with trying to interest some of the big transportation companies in the Maritime Provinces?"
 "Before concluding, Mr. Editor, let me express my appreciation of your efforts in behalf of an advertising campaign for the east. We want it badly and will do our best to invest it. That is the true province by the sea can make."

ORANGE MEN AT ST. JOHN'S

Present Fine Appearance in March to Service Sunday

Interesting Sermon by Rev. Archdeacon Raymond, the Rector—About Three Hundred Members of Lodge No. 141 Turn Out—Special Music.

Monday, July 24.
 About 300 members of Lovel Orange Lodge No. 141, in parade dress, attended divine service at St. Mary's Anglican church at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The procession was formed at the lodge rooms, Simonds street. Headed by St. Mary's Band, they marched to the church with a very smart appearance. Several ladies representing the Orange Benevolent Association, were ushered to reserved seats at the front of the church. The sermon preached by Archdeacon Raymond was based on the text contained in Ephesians, chap. v, verses 14 to 17, commencing with the statement: "Wherefore be ye not as the world, but be ye as the people of God." The duties of citizenship and the ideals and aims of the order were expounded in an appropriate way.
 The service was an exceedingly hearty one, as many of the old songs were sung with great fervor. E. W. Williams presided very acceptably at the organ.

RECIPROCITY WILL SWEEP CARLETON CO.

George W. Upham, M. P., Says Trade Agreement is a Great Policy on Which to Appeal to the Country

It is finding Supporters Among Independents and Conservatives.
 Saturday, July 22.
 George W. Upham, M. P. P. for Carleton county, who was in the city yesterday, is looking exceedingly cheerful over the election prospects in that county, and, indeed, in Victoria and Madawaska counties as well.
 Mr. Upham, in conversation with a "Telegraph" reporter yesterday, expressed the utmost confidence that reciprocity would sweep Carleton county, and he added that it was equally largely in Victoria and Madawaska. The better this issue is understood, he went on to say, the more fully the people understand the benefits of the proposed trade agreement. "All through our party the country we are trading continually with our neighbors across the line, and this proposal to make natural trade easier is most convincing to a number of men who usually vote as Conservatives, and while they are not talking very loudly, do not hesitate to say that they will vote for reciprocity." They do not think it is a party question, but a question of the best interests of the country.
 "I met a Conservative yesterday," said Mr. Upham, "who used to be quite prominent in Carleton county, and he is now in the course of conversation he said to me very positively that he could not bring himself to vote against this trade agreement. Our people have looked into the issue carefully, largely because the Conservatives started out by misrepresenting it. Everywhere men are convinced that it is simply a matter of good business and that direct benefits will be very large. The Liberal party, who are a better issue upon which to appeal to the country. While it is true that in Carleton county we are divided pretty pretty evenly on the other side, we have not previously had. There is no doubt about it. I feel the utmost confidence that our party this time is in a most happy position, and I find our friends everywhere of the same opinion."
 Mr. Upham mentioned in conversation that Rev. Mr. Ireland, of Woodstock, who recently returned from the West, to which place he is soon to return with his family, had remarked that he met no one in the West on his recent trip who talked against reciprocity unless it was purely for political purposes.
 Mr. Upham, who is one of the most active and useful representatives Carleton county has had in the legislature, keeps very closely in touch with the people of his constituency, and he is in a position to speak with knowledge of the attitude of that part of the country toward reciprocity at this time. Anyone who comes with him soon sees how thoroughly he is convinced that the Liberal party in this campaign is going to win all along the line.

 There is an exhibition in the window of Messrs J. H. Carnall & Son a fine mounted salmon. The fish, caught in the Bay of Fundy, was 19 1/2 inches long, weighed something over twenty pounds, and in mounting it Walter H. Carnall has done a fine piece of work, preserving the natural color of the skin. For the convenience of the town authorities, the window of the firm will be closed on Saturday, July 29, and will be formally taken up at a later date. The extension while unnecessary at present, will have to be made some time in the future, and it is to be hoped that it will be a capital idea to go ahead with it now.
 While the board of health records for last week show five deaths, as a matter of fact the number is but three, the lowest in the history of the local health office. The two cases referred to were late in the previous week, and consequently had to go on the list. Never in the recollection of Secretary Burns has the death rate been so low. The weekly figures have run as high as thirty-five, and the average monthly rate has been sixty, but if the present low rate continues up to July 31, it would be about twenty-five, the lowest ever recorded in one month.
 The scholarship recently won, by Miss Roscoe E. Freeman amounts to $100 a year for two years, and requires attendance at McGill University. She is descended on her mother's side from the old John Whitman Loyalist family, and her father's side from Seth Waterman, a Puritan pioneer. During the last five years she has lived with her aunt, Miss M. S. Whitman, well known as a music teacher in this city.

TEBO HANGED FOR THE MURDER OF MCGREGOR

Digby Man Went to the Gallows Yesterday Without a Tremor

FEW PRESENT AT THE EXECUTION

Condemned Man Bid Officials and Clergyman Good-bye on the Scaffold—Sent Letter and Ring to Sweetheart—Body Buried in His Parents' Farm.

Digby, N. S., July 24—John Tebo paid the penalty for his crime at four minutes past 5 o'clock this morning. Rev. Thomas S. Roy, his spiritual advisor, spent the night with the prisoner, and wrote out his confession as dictated by him. Mr. Roy believed his sins had been forgiven, and that he would go to Heaven.
 The sheriff reminded him about 4 o'clock that he had but another hour yet to live. He appeared very calm, and replied: "All right."
 When he was led to the scaffold by Jaies Hazelton, accompanied by Chief of Police Boyce, he was perfectly calm, and showed no signs of tremor.
 When asked if he had anything to say, he turned to those assembled within the enclosure and said: "I wish to thank the gentlemen good-bye." Jaies Hazelton then placed the black cap over his head. As he did so, Tebo said: "Will you do what I asked you?" Hazelton replied in a kind but firm manner: "Yes, my boy. I will." The request was to give to Anna, daughter Van Tassel, his sweetheart, the ring that he wore while in prison.
 One of his last acts in the cell was to write a note to his sweetheart, which he entrusted to Rev. Mr. Roy for delivery. At 5:04 when all was ready the sheriff cut the rope and Tebo was sent into eternity.
 After Dr. J. E. Jones, the attending physician, pronounced him dead, and Coroner Daley and his jurors had viewed the body, he was placed in the casket and Sheriff Smith allowed the few people who surrounded the court block at this early hour to pass through the hall. The jury brought in the usual verdict on the remains. Extra police officers were in attendance, but everything was exceedingly quiet.
 The remains were conveyed to their last resting place on the Tebo property at an early hour this morning by Undertaker Rice, accompanied by Rev. Thomas S. Roy. The request was to give to Anna, daughter Van Tassel, his sweetheart, the ring that he wore while in prison.
 Tebo ate a hearty supper last night and his mother, who called upon him later, asked if he had anything to say for himself, he told her that he had "killed McGregor." To the sheriff, the jailer, and his spiritual adviser, Rev. Mr. Roy, of Digby Baptist church, the prisoner later confessed the murder. With McGregor he had gone to take some cabbages from a neighbor's garden, and while they were chopping the leaves and he took the axe and struck his friend on the head, stunning him.
 "I was nearly crazed," he said, "and took the pole and struck him on the head. He never moved or spoke. I took his purse and money, but became afraid and threw the purse overboard. There was about $10 in the roll which I kept. I felt crazy after what I had done, and when I was drunk I told all about the crime."
