Holding Prices Down

is some job in the face of advancing wholesale and manufacturing costs, but we are trying to do so, and in the effort are making a smaller margin of profit this year than we ever have. But good goods, the best qualities we can secure, cheerful service and prices just as low as we can make them will bring the trade to us in increasing volume, and we feel we can still make a living.

Our show of

Summer Dress Goods
Shirt Waists, Skirts
Dainty Underwear

is very interesting to ladies, and in many cases the prices are surprisingly low, even for this year. Would advise an early call while the selection is good.

TWIN CITIES WELCOMED EDITORS

The Observer man returned on Saturday, "tired but happy," from the magnificent trip through the Great Lakes to Port Arthur and Fort William, the "twin cities" which form the line of division between the east and the west. The whole trip, from Hartland and return, was by courtesy of the C. P. R. who provided every imaginable comfort and luxury, even to boxes of chocolates to the ladies and boutonnieres to the men on their departing for home.

The editor confesses that so rare an outing requires several weeks to digest and assimilate the pen-food the journey afforded and feels he can this week best serve his readers by reprinting from the Fort William Times-Journal, which published a magnificent 48-page edition in honor of the newspaper men's visit, a portion of its welcoming article.

The Times-Journal said:

That the pen is mightier than the sword was evidenced today in Fort William and Port Arthur, when 160 newspaper men and their ladies, members of the Canadian Press association, were the guests of the twin cities at the head of the lakes, and will continue to have the freedom of the city extended to them until they leave again for the east tomorrow afternoon on the Canadian Pacific steamer Keewatin which is their home during the trip.

The party landed at Fort William shortly before nine this morning, after docking at Port Arthur for a few minutes, where members of the reception committee, representing the Port Arthur city council and board of trade, met the steamer and shook hands with some of the officials of the party. No member of the party disembarked at Port Arthur.

On the way over to Fort William, the delegates, amongst whom were 70 ladies, broke up into groups on the upper decks and admired the beautiful landscape which is unexcelled as it is viewed from placid waters of Thunder Bay.

When the visitors arrived at Fort William, after taking many snapshots of the harbor and elevators, they were directed by G. R. Duncan, chairman of the entertainment committee, who had come over on the boat from Port Arthur, and others, to the corner of Donald and Syndicate avenue (south) where the party divided into two parts, those from A to J going to Port Arthur on two special street cars, and those from K to the end of the alphabet remaining in the city, proceeding under the leadership of G. R. Duncan to the city hall where they met in the council chamber.

On behalf of the city of Fort William, Mayor Murphy read an address extending to them a hearty welcome the Canadian Press association, and that he hoped before their visit was over they would be impressed with the evidences of growth and prosperity exhibited on every hand in Fort William.

W. L. Bird, president of the board of trade, spoke of having come up on the boat with the association, and paid a high tribute to the efficiency as second to none in the world. He hoped the visitors would look at the Canadian Pacific docks and elevators and see that the company was as efficient in handling coal and grain as they were in handling the passenger traffic.

The visitors, those who desired to do so, were taken by special street car to elevator "D" where they were conducted over the fine grain handling plant of the Canadian Pacific railway by R. G. Morgan, divisional superintendent of terminals.

A "blanket" pass admitted all the press people past the grim sentries who formed the military guard over the elevator. The remainder of the party took special car over to the west industrial section of the city, visiting west Fort William, and picking up the elevator party down in the business section.

At 12.30 noon the Fort William visitors were entertained to a complimentary luncheon by the city, at which his worship Mayor Murphy presided. Hearty speeches were made by the visitors, expressing delight at what they had seen and heard and foretelling illimitable possibilities for Fort William's future.

In the afternoon the party broke up, most of the visitors going for a sail on the bay in a tug provided by the reception committee, others visiting the Ogilvie Milling company's plant, and some going to the beautiful plant of the Starch works. Private parties, automobile trips, theater visits rounded out an enjoyable day for the Fort William visitors and the members of the party will return late tonight to the Keewatin tired out but pleased with what they had seen, and will sleep on board the boat, to arise tomorrow morning refreshed and ready for another round of pleasure.

In Port Arthur a very similar program was carried out. In the morning, as soon as the contingent arrived by special cars from Fort William, a civic reception was tendered them at the Prince Arthur hotel, after which they were conducted over the Canadian Northern elevator and at noon were given a lunch. Trips on the bay and motor rides round the city and district were the features of the afternoon. The evening was spent in various ways, many visiting old friends and renewing acquaintances of former years.

Many of the visitors expressed satisfaction at the way in which the large numbers were handled and were delighted with the special street cars provided for their accommodation.

King Sol shone all day and the city never looked better, clad in its spring verdure, than it did before.

The members of the Canadian Press association are enjoying a pleasant excursion to Fort William and Port Arthur. The trip from Toronto to Port McNicol was made by special train, leaving Toronto at 2.00 p. m. on Saturday. On reaching Port McNicol the party took the fine steamer, Keewatin, of the Canadian Pacific railway steamship line, on which every provision had been made for their comfort. The weather was ideal and the passengers were all well.

SOLDIERS HAVE GONE

Platoon 15 left Hartland on Monday evening for St. John where the 140th Batt. mobilized preparatory to going to complete training at Valcartier. The boys were becoming a bit restive and when the news came of their going they were like schoolboys unloosed. At one o'clock, when Lieut. McDougal was forming up the platoon for afternoon drill a message came ordering him to prepare immediately for entraining. The boys sent up an uproarious cheer as they set to work to prepare for the special train announced for 6.45.

The women of the Red Cross prepared for each a lunch box filled with good things, not forgetting to tuck in a pair of socks for each, and the band was got together to give a farewell. As the boys stood at the station awaiting the train an immense crowd gathered and the soldiers were busy for 20 minutes receiving farewell handshakes and cheers. They, the khaki lads, eager and brave, laughed, shouted and sang as the train rolled in. "Are we downhearted?" shouted one of the number. "NO!" came the answer from 200 throats. But only the soldiers themselves beamed pleasure. There were mothers and wives and sisters whose hearts were wrung and whose tears flowed unrestrained, while fathers gazed grey-faced and stern upon sons departing to defend country, King and the right. It was an inspiring sight—yet one could not get away from the grimness of it, and the small chance that all would come back. The boys have gone. In the words of Tiny Tim let us pray: "God bless them every one."

Henry D. Kyle

On June 9, at the home of his brother, A. W. Kyle, there passed away Henry D. Kyle, after a year's illness of consumption.

Mr. Kyle was born 35 years ago at Beaufort and lived there for 23 years. The last 12 years of his life was spent in the west, where at Ymir, B. C., he was engaged in mining. He was taken ill a little over a year ago and later came east and remained three months in a sanatorium at St. John, coming here about two months ago to spend his last days with his only living brother. There are four sisters, Mrs. James A. Lyons and Mrs. Joseph Harvey of Fairville, Mrs. J. M. Wiggins of Dorchester, Mass., and Mrs. Charles H. Page of Eastbourne, New Zealand.

On Sunday prayers were said at the house by Rev. George Kincaid and the remains were taken for interment in the Glassville cemetery, beside his parents who both died in one week, 24 years ago, and where also a brother lies buried. At Glassville a service was held in the Presbyterian church by Rev. J. C. Colhoun, assisted by Rev. N. Franchette.

PASSING COMMENT

The appointment of Donald Munro, M. L. A., to the vacant registrar's office can call for no criticism. Mr. Munro was a failure as a politician merely because he was too clean a man for the company he kept. As County Registrar he rises to a position he is thoroughly qualified to fill.

Deacon B. F. Smith is back from Westmorland, whither he hied to offset F. B. Carvell's activities in the interest of the Good Government party. He, the patriot who sold his country a surplus of potatoes to the cool value of $40,000, who sought to enrich himself by stealing the lumber from the reservation of the Tobique Indians, who, but for Frank Carvell's exposure, would have plucked $45,000 from Carleton county farmers on a hay contract, had the effrontery to go up against the same Frank Carvell on a public platform in Moncton and, as though he had not already brought trouble enough, was manifestly responsible for burning against his party what had hitherto been a huge majority in its favor. The net result of Mr. Smith's visit to Westmorland seems to have been that he helped, perhaps as much as any one man, to defeat the Minister of Public Works. And this patriot, with hide as tough and as indelibly spotted as that of a giraffe, comes home by way of Fredericton and seeks to clamber into the office he helped to render vacant.

sengers were delighted with the picturesque beauties of the lake scenery.

W. E. Smallfield, publisher of the Mercury, Renfrew, retiring president of the association, presided over the evening's entertainment which took the form of a celebration of the 31st anniversary of the wedding of Jos. G. Elliott, editor of the Whig, Kingston, the new president. Many congratulatory speeches were made by Mr. Smallfield, John Nelson of the Vancouver World, H. P. Moore of the Acton Free Press, and others. Mr. Elliott replied in a speech sparkling with humor.

The importance of the lake navigation and the vast extent of the traffic passing through the Soo canal were pointed out in a very interesting address by M. McDuff, manager of the great lakes service. Songs and recitations were given by Miss Allen of Carleton Place, Mrs. Wm. McGuire of Tillsonburg, Miss Nixon of St. George, Mrs. Chas. Mundy of Oshawa, and Peter Wilson of Kenora. The accompaniments were given by Miss Irwin of Durham.

On Sunday morning as the vessel approached the St. Mary's river, the visitors were able to form an estimate of the magnitude of the lake shipping by the stream of huge freighters which passed in a continuous procession. Saul Ste. Marie was reached about noon and the party had a good view of the rapids, the canals and the shipping.

In the evening there was a religious service in which Mr. Smallfield, Rev. Mr. Hewitt, of the Observer, Holland, Man., Mr. Elliott, James Acton, of Toronto and Mr. Wagborne, of the Herald, Wallaceburg, took part.

The trip was made in perfect comfort and it was generally agreed that the members of the association and their wives were enjoying one of the most pleasant and profitable excursions in its history.

Bath Breezes

The farmers have finished seeding and the prospect for a very heavy hay crop never looked better. This being one of the newer sections of New Brunswick the soil is good and a large crop of hay means much for the country.

There was no service in the Methodist church Sunday owing to the absence of the pastor, Rev. G. A. Ross, to the Methodist Conference at Summerside.

Rev. J. C. Wilson made this field a call last week and spent some time with Rev. Mr. Henderson in the special meetings being held in the Baptist church.

The Red Cross of this place met at the home of Mrs. D. B. Secord on Thursday when ice cream was served. A goodly sum was realized from the sale which will be devoted to Red Cross work.

C. W. Parlee who has been at Woodstock for several weeks and who has been laid up from work by an accident to his hand spent Sunday here.

Joseph Nixon of Glassville was a caller last week on his son George Nixon and his daughter, Mrs. James Burke.

Sheriff John R. Tompkins, Woodstock, was a caller here on Monday; also J. C. Whitehead.

Fred Giberson of Limestone was a caller here Monday and left for a short fishing trip to the Miramichi.

Mrs. Wilson of Boston, Mass., is visiting her friends here, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hayes.

Frank M. Giberson and family have moved to the H. L. Squires house.

15-Year Old Bride Leaves Her 71-Year Old Husband After Two Months

(Fredericton Gleaner)

The marital bliss of an ill-mated pair, whose marriage here just two months ago created a sensation, has been short-lived.

In the Victoria County News Thomas Hanson has had printed a notice which reads: "Whereas my wife Alice has left my bed and board without any cause, don't give her anything on my account, for I don't pay any of her bills.—Thomas Hanson."

This notice tells the finale of the romance which brought together a groom of 71 years and a bride of only 15 summers, when Thomas Hanson, a wealthy Rowena farmer, and Miss Alice Gallagher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gallagher, of Burt's Corner, were married here. The wedding trip was featured by the marked generosity of the wealthy old groom in his purchases for his girl bride.

WORTHY TRIBUTE TO F. B. CARVELL

(Fredericton Mail)

The result in Westmorland is a great feather in the cap of F. B. Carvell, M. P., the doughty warrior from Carleton county. Mr. Carvell has had a busy time of it at Ottawa during the past five months. He has been hot on the trail of certain patriots who have been exploiting the public treasury for private gain. Granted a brief respite by the adjournment of the Meredith-Duff Commission, he hurried to Westmorland and threw himself into the fight with all his wonderful energy. He met and vanquished B. Franklin Smith in a joint debate at Moncton on Saturday last, and the same evening motored to Port Elgin, where he was the principal speaker of a big meeting. The following day he returned to Ottawa to resume his duties as counsel before the Royal Commission. Mr. Carvell is the deadly foe of grafters and this province owes him a debt which it never can repay.

Others who worked hard and effectively for the cause of good government in Westmorland were E. S. Carter and P. J. Veniot, the efficient Opposition organizers. Mr. Carvell managed the campaign for his party, and seems to have made a splendid job of it.

He was subjected to the vilest kind of abuse from the Government press and speakers, but he did not allow it to disturb his equanimity. He gave them tit for tat, and the people decided that he was right and the other fellows were wrong. It was Mr. Carter who started the ball rolling in Westmorland county, and the Mail heartily congratulates him on the success achieved.

Coldstream Items

Two VanWart girls, Minerva and Mabel have diphtheria. We are glad to hear they are both recovering.

A number of people from this place attended the dedication services of the new Primitive Baptist church at Bannon on Sunday.

Ralph Jones, who belongs to the home guards at St. Leonards, is home for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Estabrooks attended the United Baptist district meetings at Woodstock on the 9th, 10th and 11th.

Miss Florence Clark of Hartland spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. John Swim of this place.

* The United Baptist sewing circle was held at the home of Mrs. Jarvis Hayward, Ashland, on Thursday.

The school is closed on account of the outbreak of diphtheria.

Mrs. Orville Nevers is very ill. Dr. Somerville is in attendance.

Belvea & Estabrooks are repainting their store.

Mrs. Jane Bridges spent Sunday in Woodstock and attended the United Baptist district meetings there.

Last Monday some school children picked a cup of ripe strawberries. The oldest people in the place say they never before saw strawberries ripe the first of June.

Miss Saunders Addresses Women's Institute

Miss Ada Saunders, Asst. Supervisor of Women's Institutes for the province, gave a most enjoyable talk on Home Economics before the Hartland branch of the Women's Institute on Saturday evening last. About 50 ladies were present and Miss Saunders' remarks most enjoyable and instructive. After going into the matter of "Home Economics" in a most practical manner Miss Saunders proceeded to demonstrate ham salad, which looked very inviting, was auctioned off at the close of the meeting and the lucky receiver was Mrs. H. H. Hatfield. The proceeds of the auction are placed with the funds of the Institute.

As there were some outsiders present, and the session was a most interesting one, the officers of the Hartland branch trust that this may be one of the means by which we may reach and interest prospective members.

Death of Mrs. James Lamereaux

Word reached Andover Sunday of the death of Mrs. James Lamereaux of Bairdsville which occurred at twelve o'clock Saturday night June 3. Mrs. Lamereaux has been in failing health for sometime but she had hopes until a short time before her death that surgical aid would cure her. After two serious operations at the Woodstock hospital, and finding that her health did not improve she gave up all hopes and death came to relieve her sufferings. Her age was 48 years, and her years have been well spent. Her death will be regretted by many while the blow to her husband and family is indeed hard to bear. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Scott of Bairdsville. She leaves to mourn a husband, three daughters, Aves, Marie and Hazel and four sons, Corporal Lee Lamereaux of Halifax, Herman, David and Riley at home. The funeral service was conducted Monday afternoon by Rev. J. R. Hopkins of Andover, rector of Trinity Church, interment in St. George cemetery of Bairdsville. Deceased is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Nellie Kilpatrick of Presque Isle, and five brothers, Stephen and Alex. of Bairdsville, James of Andover, George of Presque Isle and Richard of Canterbury. Many extend sympathy to the mourning family.

Cured Them.

"Do your city relatives spend much time with you in the summer?"
"Not so much as they used to."
"Have found other attractions, I suppose."

"I suppose so. When they got to overworking a good thing I got home late about three nights in the week and left them with the chores to do, and they soon found they had a call to the city."

Their Utility.

"He is so pleased with his own good looks."
"Indeed?"
"Dead stuck on them."
"What good does he think they will do him?"
"Well, they may cause his wife to get a divorce."

True.

"It is a dull season."
"Is that so?"
"It is."
"I don't see how you make that out."
"Why?"
"Because everybody is held close down on the grindstone."

Curious.

"Money can buy anything."
"Can it?"
"You bet it can."
"Brains, sure."
"Wonder you wouldn't supply yourself with a few."

Not Enough.

"That man is a thief."
"What did he steal?"
"Ten dollars."
"Hardly enough to make him a financier."

First Jolt.

All is peaches, cream and honey in the storied honeymoon. It's a holiday until pay day; Then there comes a different tune.

Best He Could Do.

"Young man, I began at the bottom of the ladder and worked my way up."
"What could you expect? They didn't have elevators in those days."

OUR PUREBRED Suffolk Stallion

is on the road again this season. This horse has left a large number of fine colts through the county in the two years he has been here. Would advise anyone with a good mare to either look this stallion over or look over your neighbor's colt and be convinced that we have the right type of stallion to breed from. Notice of route next week. Mares from a distance we will try and meet.

THE BANE OF OLD AGE

is not to be cured by harsh purgatives; they rather aggravate the trouble. For a gentle, but sure laxative, use Chamberlain's Tablets. They stir up the liver, tone the nerves and freshen the stomach and bowels just like an internal bath.

Old age should be the most pleasant time of life. You can make it so by using Chamberlain's Tablets, and ensuring regularity and good digestion.

CHAMBERLAIN'S TABLETS

Woman's best friend.

From girlhood to old age, these little red health restorers are an unfailing guide to an active liver and a clean, healthy, normal stomach. Take Chamberlain's Stomach Tablets at night and the sour stomach and fermentation and the headache, have all gone by morning. This old, reliable remedy supplies the gentle natural cleanser that a woman's delicate organism needs. Not harsh, but sure—not habit-forming but Nature-building. Try Chamberlain's Tablets to-day.

Nerve Force is so much like Electricity, and the latter is so much better understood, that we have used this vivid telephone picture to illustrate what takes place in the human system when the connecting nerve fibres are deranged or something goes wrong at Central.

In the nervous system the brain is the Central where the Nerve Force is created, and whence are issued the orders which control the whole human body. Here is consumed one-fifth of the blood in the human body, and when the blood supply is deficient in quality or quantity, the brain and the nervous system are first to feel the effects.

Neuralgic pains and headaches,
inability to rest or sleep or concentrate the mind, dizziness and noises in the ears, are some of the symptoms of a starved nervous system.

Just as machinery lags when the current of electricity fails, so the bodily organs weaken when the supply of nerve force runs low. Digestion is impaired and you lose appetite, the liver, kidneys and bowels are slow in performing their functions, the heart's action weakens, circulation is slow, hands and feet are cold, you are easily tired, lose ambition and grow downhearted and discouraged.

This describes the condition under which Dr. Chase's Nerve Food can prove of greatest assistance to you. Forming new, rich blood it feeds the starved, exhausted nerve and brain cells back to health and vigor. The new vital, nerve force flows out through the intricate system of nerve fibres to every member and every organ of the body, carrying new vigor, energy and strength and driving out pain, weakness and disease.

Gin Pills

FOR THE KIDNEYS
How They Help

ST. RAPHAEL, ONT.
Four years ago I had such pains in my back that I could not work. The pains extended to my arms, sides and shoulders. I used many kinds of medicine for over a year, none of which did me very much good. I read about Gin Pills and sent for a sample and used them, and found the pains were leaving me and that I was feeling better. So I bought one box and before I used them all, the pains were almost gone and I could keep at work.
After I had taken six other boxes of Gin Pills,
I felt as well and strong as I did at the age of
30. I am a farmer, now 61 years old." 25

The people of Waterville Corner were not to be deprived of the privilege of having a "whack" at entertaining the members of the 15th platoon, so, on Friday they prepared a picnic, including a gorgeous "feed." The men marched out in the afternoon, had the time of their lives and came home about 10 o'clock singing the praises of the Waterville people and the excellence of their cooking.

Three columns of Red Cross acknowledgements have been sent in for publication this week. In no case was any mention made about paying for this advertising, and the cost comes to $6. So far as The Observer can learn the only purpose of these acknowledgements is to gratify the vanity of those who have donated something—and it seems the more trifling the gift the greater the noise demanded. Were we in a position to donate $6—which at the moment we are not—we should feel it would do more good if spent for the alleviation of the sufferings of those fighting and wounded and dying and bereft of breadwinners.

James Lewis one of the oldest and best known C. P. R. conductors died at Fredericton last week. For many years he ran a train between Aroostook Jct. and Woodstock and more recently ran one of the Gibson branch trains.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Eva Rideout and Arnold Rideout, both of Somerville. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot B. Rideout, next Wednesday afternoon.

In this section of country total crop failures are unknown: the worst that has ever occurred has been only a partial failure of some one line. This season gives promise of bumper crops of everything. Hay and grain are growing luxuriantly, while potatoes, the great staple product, are coming on finely.

This forenoon at the Royal Hotel the wedding took place of Miss Emma Clark, daughter of the proprietor, and Roy Hall, the popular dispensing clerk at the Estey & Curtis Co. store. After lunch the happy pair departed by automobile for Woodstock, commencing their honeymoon trip. Only immediate relatives and closest friends were present at the ceremony which was performed by Rev. George Kincaid.

Augustus Thornton, a middle aged farmer, was killed almost instantly Saturday afternoon near the Grafton end of the Woodstock bridge. He had been in town on business and was returning to his home in Campbell Settlement seated in a double truck wagon. After leaving the bridge he in some manner fell off the seat and the wheels passed over his head. He was carried into a nearby house and expired in a few minutes.

Clifford Dickinson of Windsor is numbered among the wounded in France.

A. Plummer was a delegate to the Methodist Conference at Summerside.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. McFarland attended the Baptist district meetings at Woodstock over Sunday.

Coun. E. C. Morgan is the owner of a new Briscoe car, while A. F. Campbell and W. D. Keith are running new Buicks. A. R. Foster has acquired a Chevrolet and sold his Ford to James Miller, George Britton has bought a Ford.

Travelling last week through 500 miles of Ontario's farming section the editor was amazed at the evidence of a deluge of rain. While in New Brunswick we have had the driest spring on record, Quebec and Ontario have been suffering from excessive downfall lasting over a period of many weeks. The country is half under water with practically no hope of a spring grain crop, and not a solitary field of potatoes was seen on the whole trip. There never are potato fields in Ontario as we know them. Theirs are "potato patches." But Ontario exhibits an industrial wealth that may well turn New Brunswickers green with envy. Every small village has its big factories, of some kind or another, whose operations create a home market for farm products.

Presentation to Lieut. McDougal

On Friday morning, when the men of the 15th platoon had arrived at the drill ground for physical exercise Sergeant Nixon formed them in a circle and informed Lieut. McDougal that his assistance was required in the centre of the circle. When he had taken his position Corporal Britton was summoned and, in a few words, told the Lieutenant of the feeling of the men under his command. He then produced the evidence in the form of a handsome walking cane and a military dressing case.

It being something rare for a military officer to be so honored by the rank and file, Lieut. McDougal was almost at a loss to find suitable words to express his thanks; but he was, as on military occasions, equal to the demand, and in a brief speech tendered his warmest thanks to the men of the platoon, telling them of his pleasure in being their commanding officer and assuring them that, as far as military regulations would permit, he would be "one of the boys" whether at preparatory drill or in fighting the enemy on the battlefields of Europe.

The parade ground resounded with cheers and the men entered with a zest into their exercises.

Cured Them.
"Do your city relatives spend much time with you in the summer?"
"Not so much as they used to."
"Have found other attractions, I suppose."
"I suppose so. When they got to overworking a good thing I got home late about three nights in the week and left them with the chores to do, and they soon found they had a call to the city."

Their Utility.
"He is so pleased with his own good looks."
"Indeed?"
"Dead stuck on them."
"What good does he think they will do him?"
"Well, they may cause his wife to get a divorce."

True.
"It is a dull season."
"Is that so?"
"It is."
"I don't see how you make that out."
"Why?"
"Because everybody is held close down on the grindstone."

Curious.
"Money can buy anything."
"Can it?"
"You bet it can."
"Brains?"
"Brains, sure."
"Wonder you wouldn't supply yourself with a few."

Not Enough.
"That man is a thief."
"What did he steal?"
"Ten dollars."
"Hardly enough to make him a financier."

First Jolt.
All is peaches, cream and honey in the storied honeymoon. It's a heyday until pay day. Then there comes a different tune.

BUTTER WRAPPERS!

The cost of Vegetable Parchment from which Butter Wrappers are made has more than doubled in price since the war started. Previous to August of this year used in America was imported from France and Germany where it was made by secret process. Since the war the source of supply is completely cut off and the only imported butter paper available since has been the stock that was in hand at the time.

An inferior quality of parchment is now made in the States and imported into Canada under a duty of 37 1/2%.

Needless to say the price of Butter Wrappers has come away up. Plain wrappers today cost only a mere trifle less than the printed ones the law requires.

Fortunately we have still on hand a good supply of the imported stock. This is 6 1/2 inches in size and will wrap a fat of a square brick. The American wrappers are fat and not large enough to wrap a fat brick. Our prices are as follows:

100 printed "Butter Butter"	30
100 "do"	$1.20
100 printed "Butter Butter" and with maker's name and address	50
250 ditto	1.00
500 ditto	1.50
1000 ditto	2.50

Wrappers will be sent prepaid anywhere within Carleton or Victoria Co. on receipt of price.

We can also supply the trade with imported wrappers at less cost than wholesale grocers are doing.

STRANGE STORY OF FREEMAN NADÉAU

There is reason to believe that Freeman Nadeau, the notorious Maine outlaw, who escaped from the Bangor State Hospital last month, has made his way into New Brunswick. Nadeau has kept the people of Aroostook and Upper Penobscot counties in a state of semi-terror for a long time. Nadeau was arrested last winter by assaulting his wife and child at their home near Patten, Me. During the fracas the dwelling was burned, Mrs. Nadeau and children being obliged to seek shelter with her relatives.

Nadeau was indicted by the grand jury in February, but was not brought to trial, the Maine authorities deciding to send him to the State Hospital for observation. Nadeau is a French-Canadian and it is supposed he has been able to cross the border into Madawaska County. During the past few years he has been charged with smuggling, poaching and other offences. A deputy sheriff of Aroostook County, who was on the trail of Nadeau a year or two ago, was never heard of afterwards. The Maine officials were never able to connect the Canadian with the deputy's disappearance, although he was held for a time. Since his last arrest Nadeau is alleged to have attempted suicide.

The latest report concerning Nadeau's wanderings since taking French leave at the Bangor State Hospital has all the semblance of truth and plausibility. It has been suggested as probable that Nadeau was to make his way to Canada in order to get beyond the immediate jurisdiction of the Maine authorities, and if the story is correct this is exactly what he has done. The last heard of him he was within a few miles of the Canadian border and it is likely that he is now in New Brunswick.

It appears that a man who was in charge of a sawmill at Nigger Brook pond, a few miles from Fort Kent, was resting one night recently about 10 o'clock, blissfully unconscious that there was a human being within a mile of him, when the door opened without ceremony and there appeared a man fully armed. He had two guns and a cartridge belt strapped around him.

His first question was: "Are you all alone here?" Receiving an answer in the affirmative he appeared to be much relieved and made himself at home, giving his enforced host a casual bit of advice to the effect that if anyone came to the camp he would do well to seek the inner room and lie down flat as there would be some shooting going on around there, and if he (the host) didn't want to get in the way of a stray bullet or two he would be safer lying low than in any other way.

The intruder further stated that before he would "be taken" he would use up all his ammunition—and he had plenty of it and to spare. He added that he was going to kill just three men and one woman if he had a chance before coming to a sudden end.

He demanded food of the man in the camp, but would not let him prepare it, doing all the cooking himself, evidently being suspicious of any attempts to poison him or make him sick and disabled. He had all the appearance of a desperate man and one who would carry out the threats in which he had indulged.

It is believed by those who have heard the story that the intruder may have been Nadeau. He did not explain who the woman was whom he was anxious to kill, but it was inferred that he was referring to his wife.

When their home was burned Nadeau's family nearly perished in the flames. Nadeau was arrested and was committed to the county jail in Bangor. At the February term of supreme court he was indicted by the grand jury, but was not brought to trial, it be-and deemed best to commit him to the Bangor State Hospital for observation.

At the hospital Nadeau was kept under close scrutiny, but in some way he secured possession of a key which unlocked the door of his room, and he made his escape when the attendants were occupied with other matters. Since that time he has been seen in a number of different places, but none of the stories has been received with a great amount of credulity.

The story printed above is vouched for by reliable persons and is stated in such a complete and circumstantial manner as to leave little doubt of the entire sincerity of the man directly involved in the encounter with the supposed, and real Nadeau. The man in the camp did not hesitate to state that he was thoroughly scared of the intruder, and he said he "took mighty good care not to cross him in any way."

After staying at the camp all night the unwelcome visitor took his departure early the next morning.

FLORENCEVILLE NEWS

Mrs. Eva Leck of Truro has secured the Dr. Ross house and is equipping it for a private hospital. Mrs. Leck is a trained nurse and her home was formerly in Sumnerfield.

Rev. G. A. Ross left Monday for Summerside, P. E. I., where he attended the Methodist conference. The Presbyterian General Assembly meets in Winnipeg this week and Rev. M. H. Mandel, Florenceville, Rev. W. K. Reid, Grand Falls, and Rev. G. C. Pringle of Kincardine left this week to attend this Assembly. Rev. E. C. Jenkins, East Florenceville will address the United Baptist Sunday School, West Side St. John, on Sunday afternoon, June 18, it being the occasion of its seventy-fifth anniversary. Mr. Jenkins is a former pastor of that church.

The home of Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Merrill of Boston, Mass., was burglarized last week and about $500 worth of jewelry and other valuables taken. Mrs. Merrill was formerly Miss Amy Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Ross of Florenceville.

Prospects were never better for a record crop in Carleton County. It has been a perfect spring for seeding. The ground was dry and the weather cool, so the horses could be worked at full capacity. Grass and grain are making rapid growth. The potato crop is quite up to the average acreage in this vicinity, but fertilizers without potash have been used and a smaller yield is anticipated.

The tail of the drive passed Florenceville Monday, May 5. There has not been so many logs as usual pass this year. About half the logs on the Quebec-St. John waters have come out. Frazer's Smoky River drive is hung up, but St. Francis river logs are in safe waters. This operation, consisting of two and a half million, will be sawed at a new mill being now constructed at the foot of the unsplendable lake into which the St. Francis flows, J. F. Murdoch, Hartland, is in charge of both rivers.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

SOME persons rank high in their ability to take care of themselves by reason of their nerve, which permits them to let their friends take entire care of them.

When a man feels that he is quite able to take care of himself he goes out and proceeds to get into all sorts of trouble.

The things we are going to do seldom bear the slightest relation to the things we execute.

When you hear a woman say she hasn't a thing to wear it is a sign that she expects to surprise you by the magnificence of her apparel.

Undoubtedly the wise came by their wisdom through a multitude of errors and mistakes, and cannot feel that they are ever done with them.

A pessimist is a man who has a grudge against himself and wants to transfer the ownership.

It is a game thing to be a good loser, but most of us would rather be game on the other side.

Being satisfied is desirable, but it is not a condition that is attained by a wave of the hand.

The Scrapper.
Jim Terries looks a bold and sees a chap who does not aim to please. Who threatens he will come across and show which color is the boss. Who has a scheme cooked up to tag the honors and the jury swag, and who his way the thing to do will open up a box of tricks.

Jack Johnson, he's the one who looks and all this looked air consume. And what is wanted to the ear of Jack Johnson the atmosphere? Well, nothing much, but just the claim that he will quite forget his name and be so quickly made to quit he will not know where he was hit.

Each claims to be the big surprise as back and forth the language flies. Each claims to have a punch on hand by which the other will be canned. And each is certain that his style will carry off the major pile. The while his victim will remain too broken hearted to explain.

And then each slugs in advance holds pity for the other's chance. While on the air their boasts are tossed. The advertisement isn't lost. For neither knows he has a class. The prize at one fell swoop to finish. That each keeps bragging day and night that they may make more suckers bite.

Brazen.
"You say he is financially embarrassed?"
"Yes."
"Well, well! I am surprised."
"Why are you surprised?"
"Well, I never knew him to get within a thousand miles of any sort of finance and never knew him to be embarrassed by anything."

Poor Fellow!
"Do you think you can manage me when we are married, Edith?"
"Manage you?"
"Yes; I am an awful fellow sometimes, I tell you."
"Are you?"
"I am indeed."
"Well, if I can't I'm sure mother can."

Just Like a Woman.
"What did your wife say she wanted for a birthday present?"
"Guess."
"Oh, I can't."
"Just one of those expensive little things."
"What was it?"
"A slice of ham."

Rescued.
When first the comet wandered pale it gave us some concern. We thought that it had lost its tail, but it has tail to burn. With what expense is now in view it wouldn't miss a mill or two.

A Woman, of Course.
"He is a smart man."
"What is smart about him?"
"He speaks many tongues."
"I know some, one who can beat that."
"How many?"
"Just one."

Narrow Escape.
It is a good thing Christmas doesn't come in the spring.
"Why so?"
"My wife would be sure to give me a lawn mower."

Couldn't.
"I have here a rain check."
"What?"
"Rain check?"
"Then I wish you'd use it."
"Use it?"
"Yes; to check the rain."

Poiled.
"A fool can't be this money."
"Oh, yes, I know all about that."
"—are easily spent."

Free gasoline for thirty-three hundred miles—the Ford owner's saving in one year

The light, economical Ford with its smooth running engine averages about twenty-five miles on a gallon of gasoline.

Compare this with the gasoline consumption of the Sixteen-Miles-to-the-Gallon Car. Then figure the difference, having an eye on the present price of gasoline.

Six thousand miles is a fair season's travel. The Sixteen-Miles-to-the-Gallon car, going six thousand miles, burns up one hundred and thirty-five more gallons of gasoline than does the Ford going the same distance.

This means that the Ford owner saves enough during a single season to pay for his gasoline for an additional thirty-three hundred and seventy-five miles.

You can travel a year and a half in a Ford for what it costs you to travel one year in the Sixteen-Miles-to-the-Gallon car.
