THE BLOOD IS THE STREAM OF LIFE
Pure Blood Is Absolutely Necessary To Health
"FRUIT-A-TIVES" PURIFIES
These Wonderful Tablets, Made of Fruit Juices, Are The Best Of All Tonics To Purify And Enrich The Blood.

Pure, rich blood can flow only in a clean body. Now, a clean body is one in which the waste matter is regularly and naturally eliminated from the system. The blood cannot be pure when the skin action is weak, when the stomach does not digest the food properly, when the bowels do not move regularly, when the kidneys are strained or overworked.

Pure blood is the result of perfect health and harmony of stomach, liver, bowels, kidneys and skin.

"Fruit-a-tives", by their wonderful action on all these organs, keeps the whole system as clean as Nature intended our bodies to be clean.

"Fruit-a-tives" tones up, invigorates, strengthens, purifies, cleans and gives pure, rich, clean blood that is, in truth, the stream of life.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50 trial size 25c. or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Praises Canadian Exhibit.
The Los Angeles Evening Herald says: "Citizens of the United States who go to the exposition at San Francisco will return with increased respect for Canada and the Canadian government, thanks to the great building and the extraordinarily fine exhibit that represent Canada's power. There never was seen a more complete, inspiring exhibit of the wonders of a great country."
The Canadians have gone at the thing thoroughly, they have eclipsed completely the exhibits of every one of our individual states, and that is putting it very mildly.
Every Canadian certainly should visit the Panama-Pacific exposition, if only to confirm the opinion he probably holds that Canada is a wonderful place and its government a magnificent and capable government.
In addition to Canadians, representatives of every state and every county in the United States should make it a point to spend a thoughtful day in the Canada building.

They will learn there that it is possible for a people not afraid of "paternalism or government influence" to do wonders for the building up of a country.
And they will see private corporations, railroads and others, under proper and efficient control by the people.
The Canada building is a magnificent, dignified structure; its employees are intelligent, courteous, well-chosen men.
Marvelously ingenious and striking exhibits tell the story of the great nation that lies north of us. Canada is an empire of strength, beauty, prosperity and unlimited possibilities.
Intelligent citizens of this nation will rejoice in that Canadian exhibition, with its many proofs of Canadian intelligence, energy, good government and good citizenship.

Every citizen of the United States should be glad to know that we have as our brother on the north a people so powerful, a realm so vast and prosperous.
Forever there can be between the United States and Canada only friendly feeling and brotherly rivalry.
The Canadians, at great expense and great intelligence, have sent to our exposition a demonstration of their power and ability. Every American should make it a point to study it. And every one who knows the difficulty of developing and governing a new country will bow reverently to the power that Canada displays.
The exhibition made cannot properly be described. It is your duty TO SEE IT.
It shows the beginning of man's work in a wild country; the forest, the animals, the wilderness. And it shows man conquering the earth, making his home of the forest, his fertile fields of the rough plains, his servants of the waterfalls and of all his happiness in independence and free government.
A wonderful empire is Canada, not a PART of England, but a greater England. The people of this country should be grateful for the exhibition that Canada has sent to us.

A woman who was going out for a while locked everything up carefully, then stuck a card on the back door for the information of the grocer, reading "All out, don't leave anything." On her return she found her house ransacked and her choicest possessions gone. To the card on the door was added "Thanks, we haven't left much."

Johnston-Innes.
The marriage of Miss May Innes, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Innes, to Mr. John A. Johnston, of Mildmay, was celebrated at 6 o'clock on Thursday evening, May 20th. Rev. Geo. Weir performed the ceremony. The bride, who was unattended, was given away by her father and was handsomely gowned in white satin trimmed with oriental lace and seed pearls, and wore the customary veil of white tulle and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and carnations. After the ceremony about 30 guests sat down to a dairy wedding dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Johnston left on the night train for Toronto and other eastern cities, where they will spend their honeymoon. On their return they will take up their residence in Mildmay. The bride travelled in a suit of navy blue gaberdine. Many handsome and useful presents were received by the young couple. The groom is one of Mildmay's prominent young men and was chosen by the South Bruce Liberals for their candidate at the last provincial election.

Glencoe Horse Show.
The annual horse show and races at Glencoe on Thursday next, June 3rd, will be more than ever attractive, and the prospects are that there will be a very large gathering of people. Engagement has been made for the day of the celebrated Chatham Boy Scout Pipe Band, and there will be good music aplenty.
There will be ten classes for horses on exhibition, ten dollars to be awarded in each class, with a special prize of a $5 watch for best horse on the grounds. A prize will also be awarded for the best gentlemanly rider, a novelty feature. "Bringing in the Dead Soldier," will be interesting. The speed events will be a 2.50 class, a free for all and a green race, the purses totalling $30.
Fifteen floats will be awarded in prizes for floats in a calisthumpian procession.

The parade will be at 10 a. m., to be followed immediately by a baseball match. In the afternoon the horse show and speed programme will take place at the show grounds. Music will be furnished by a good brass band. A concert will be held at the Town Hall in the evening.
Full information may be had by applying to the president, T. Henderson, or the secretary, R. W. McKellar.

An Artistic Treat.
(London Free Press.)
In spite of the inclement weather a large and appreciative audience was present at the First Presbyterian church last evening when Mr. George Lethbridge gave his complimentary organ recital, assisted by his pupil, Miss Grace Elliott, of Galt. Mr. Lethbridge opened the recital with Fantasia and Fugue in G Minor (J. S. Bach), showing in this number the correct conception of the subjects, they being clearly brought out and carried throughout the number in a masterly way. At the conclusion of the number the audience showed their appreciation of his skill by hearty applause. Mr. Lethbridge has indeed reason to be proud of his pupil, Miss Elliott, of Galt, whose complete training has been under the guidance of Mr. Lethbridge. Miss Elliott displays a marvelous musical temperament, with a purely developed technique, which was displayed to particular advantage in the closing movement of Concerto Op. 23 (F. Tschakowsky). Her skill throughout the complete concerto was of an exceptionally high order, rarely to be heard, excepting by the best artists. The orchestral parts were taken on the organ by Mr. Lethbridge in his own imitative manner. The audience compelled Miss Elliott and Mr. Lethbridge to return a third time, giving ample proof of their appreciation of their excellent effort. The magnificent possibilities of the organ were brought out splendidly under Mr. Lethbridge's touch in the two movements from the Fifth Symphony by C. M. Widor. Mr. Lethbridge's teacher in Paris, France, in Mr. Lethbridge's Widor has one who will always give his works a faithful and magnificent rendering. In the two lighter numbers, "Minuet in A" (Boccherini) and "In Springtime" (Alfred Hollins), Mr. Lethbridge displayed his further ability as one who can do full justice to all that is best in the different styles of organ music. The closing number, "Fantasia Dialogues" (L. Boellmann), was one of the finest efforts of the evening, showing, as it did, the many possible effects obtainable from the organ under the touch of the master artist.

The entire recital was a great credit to Mr. Lethbridge and his pupil, and First Presbyterian church is to be congratulated on their magnificent organ and the fact that they have Mr. Lethbridge as organist. The musical profession in the city is fortunate indeed in having Mr. Lethbridge, who will always work for what is best in music. Mr. Lethbridge will be heard on Friday, the 28th inst., in a joint recital with Mrs. Agnes Knox-Black at the First Presbyterian church.

Methodist Church.
REV. W. G. BOWSON, MINISTER
"Freemasonry, its origin, history and interpretations," will be the subject of Mr. Bowson's address next Sunday evening. Having made a special study of this subject, he will endeavor to throw some light on its mystery and remove some misconceptions as to its spirit and intentions. The public are invited; ladies most welcome. Especially those whose relatives belong to the order. Morning subject, "The real, strong, practical side of Christian mysticism." Good music by the choir. Everybody welcome.

ITALIAN PARLIAMENT ACTS

A Vote of 407 to 74 on Bill Authorizing War Measures

A despatch from Rome says: Italy took the first definite step toward her entry into the European war on the side of the allies Thursday when, by a vote of 407 to 74 of the deputies present at the reopening of Parliament, full power was granted to the Government to deal with all public matters after the declaration of war against Austria, and authorizing the necessary extraordinary expenditure. It was reported from Milan that the Austrian fleet at Pola, the Austrian naval base in the Adriatic, is under steam and waiting only the actual outbreak of hostilities to proceed to Venice and bombard that ancient city. In anticipation of such an action the authorities for several weeks have been engaged in removing the art treasures from the galleries and churches of Venice.

BOMBS DROPPED UPON PEREMYSL

Great Battle in the East Is Centered Around the Galician Fortress.

A despatch from London says: Fighting of the greatest intensity is continuing at almost every point on the 200-mile section of the Russian battle front in South Poland and Middle Galicia. The region of Jaroslau, on the San to the north of Peremyshl, continues, however, to be the principal storm center. At this point strong forces of Germans have swarmed across the river and established themselves along the former Russian fortified line. Peremyshl has been bombarded from the air.

The communications of Peremyshl with Lemberg and the main Russian army appear to be still intact, according to the latest official information from Petrograd; the Germans not having succeeded so far in carrying the apex of their wedge across the San into the territory to the east of the fortress. South of Jaroslau, according to the Russian communication, the forces of Grand Duke Nicholas "have pressed the enemy somewhat on both banks of the San," showing that the Russians at least are holding their own in this section. Before Peremyshl itself, and further south, incessant attacks have been made by the enemy, who succeeded in taking several advanced Russian trenches at one point in the northern foothills of the Carpathians.

France Will Settle For Cargo of Dacia

A despatch from Paris says: A law has been promulgated, according to the Temps, opening a credit for the payment of the cargo of the steamship Dacia, formerly of the Hamburg-American line, but later under American register, which was seized by a French warship on February 27. The cargo of cotton, however, was not confiscated, owing to an agreement existing between the French and British naval authorities.

LEFT AUTOS A TRIFLE TOO SOON

Heavy Shell Burst Among the Machines, Killing Kaiser's Chauffeur and Destroying Motors

A despatch from Geneva says: The German Emperor and his staff had a narrow escape while watching the operations in a village near the River San, in Galicia. According to a despatch from Budapest, a heavy shell burst 500 yards away. It fell among some automobiles,

GERMANS BRING UP RESERVES

All the Big Guns of the Enemy on the Belgian Coast Transferred to the Canal

A despatch from London says: The Daily Mail's correspondent at Amsterdam cables that the Germans have held the allies in check just beyond the east bank of the Yser Canal by bringing up large reserves of men and artillery. He Cadorna, the chief of staff, is at Vienna to take full command of the 1,700,000 soldiers now in the northern zone. Passenger traffic on the railroads leading to the Austrian frontiers has been reduced to a minimum. Fifty express and slow trains have been suppressed in the South, while in Central and Northern Italy not even freight trains are running, the lines being devoted exclusively to military transport.

Italian refugees from Pola report that the Austrian police broke into their houses and seized their furniture. Practically the entire male population of the port, the refugees said, has been pressed into military service, and the women and children of Italian nationality fear they will be placed in detention camps or in the martial law has been proclaimed all along the littoral. Italian citizens who left Fiume for Venice on May 11 were seen off by a large crowd, who shouted, "Come back soon."

GOOD PROGRESS IN DARDANELLES

Strong Positions Still Bar Allies' Way to the Narrows, However.

A despatch from London says: Steady progress by the allied troops on the Gallipoli Peninsula is reported, although they apparently have not yet captured the Turkish positions which bar their way to the Narrows of the Dardanelles.

An unofficial despatch reports the landing of fresh troops on the Asiatic side of the straits—a move designed, doubtless, to prevent the Turks from sending any more reinforcements from the eastern to the western side. The despatch reads: "The allies disembarked fresh troops near Kum Kale, on the Asiatic coast of the Dardanelles. It also has been learned there that the Turks on the Gallipoli Peninsula, who for weeks have lacked artillery ammunition, have obtained an abundant supply of shells in the past few days."

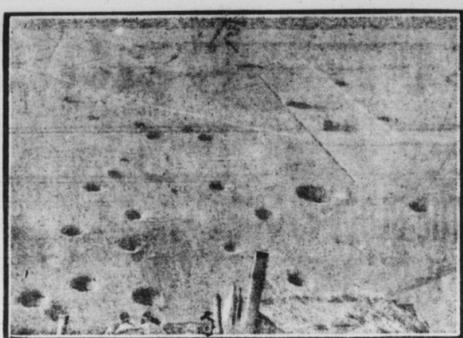

The following has been received from the Mediterranean force: "General Cox's brigade repulsed with heavy loss an attack on his position made on May 12. A double company of Garikas advanced over half a mile. The ground thus won was consolidated during the night in spite of very strong counterattacks."

The Lancashire territorial division have made considerable progress. Our howitzer battery, with the aid of aeroplanes, blew up the ammunition wagons of the Turkish heavy howitzers, and later made a direct hit on one of the guns in front of the Australian and New Zealand army corps. The enemy trenches and a new gun emplacement were demolished by howitzer fire.

Every day sees an improvement in the Anglo-French position. The enemy are reported as having lost very heavily."

Willie Barked.

Willie was struggling through the story in his reading lesson. "No," said the captain," he read, "it was not a sloop. It was a larger vessel. By the rig I judged her to be a—a—a—a—" The word was new to him. "Barque," supplied the teacher. Still Willie hesitated. "Barque!" repeated the teacher, this time sharply. Willie looked as though he had not heard aright. Then, with an apprehensive glance around the class, he shouted, "Bow-wow!"

Like a Lunar Landscape? Shell-Holes.

Craters made in the ground by the explosion of projectiles of various sizes in a mining district of Northern France. Craters like these are used as graves and as pits for observation officers, and sometimes they are linked together to form parts of trenches.

ENEMY'S CAMPAIGN IN GALICIA

Has No Reserves to Support Gen. Eichorn's Army in Extreme North, it Has Been Driven Back

A despatch from Petrograd says: Germany's chief difficulty is lack of men and this now threatens failure of the entire campaign against Russia. She has no reserves to support Gen. Eichorn's army in the extreme north and it has been steadily driven back until now the Russians are fighting near the frontier station of Wirhallen. Matters are even worse in the extreme south, near Bukovina, where the Austrian attempt to outflank the Russians and approach Lemberg from the east has been itself outflanked. The Russians are pursuing the enemy, who is making a disorderly retreat across the woods of the lower Carpathians into the flat lands of Eastern Hungary. Moreover, Dimitrieff's army, which successfully holds the west bank of the San from Peremyshl southward to the woody swamps of the Dniester and has Germany there on the defensive, has enabled Ivanoff to extend his line unbroken from Opatow in South Poland to Kolomea in East Galicia.

Over this 200-mile line the enemy has probably 25 corps, of which 15 are German, which are operating here in a frontal attack. They failed and lost large numbers on the San while attempting to establish themselves on the right bank, they have brought heavy artillery by motor traction against the western sector guns of Peremyshl.

ESTIMATED WHEAT YIELD

LIKELIHOOD OF AN ENORMOUSLY INCREASED CROP.

May Have Value of $375,000,000 or More and Will Tend to Stimulate Trade.

Canadian financiers are unanimous in the belief that the greatest "bull" factor in the Dominion at present is the likelihood of an enormously increased grain crop.

Crop conditions alone, they assert, would warrant a spirit of optimism even though the volume of war orders and the increasing supply of money were negligible influences, which, of course, is not the case.

Current estimates place the 1915 wheat yield at 250,000,000 bushels, and at a market price of even $1.50 a bushel, the value to the Dominion would be something like $375,000,000.

The increased wealth of the Dominion in consequence of the raising of record cereal crops in 1915 combined with the wealth reverting to the Dominion from general trade expansion, will have a decidedly beneficial effect upon Canada's internal commerce and upon the maintenance of this country's imperial and foreign trade positions.

"The Purchasing Power of the people will be enormously increased if the crop is as big as the authorities expect," declared a prominent Toronto banker. "It will mean a great impetus for the West, which, after a two-year period of retrenchment has adjusted itself almost to normal conditions, so far as values are concerned. There is no wild speculation going on there, but the ability of the farmer to lift his mortgages and buy much-needed implements and supplies will bring an abundance of money to us in the east and will accelerate our manufactures."

Word from all parts of the West is to the effect that a greatly increased acreage has been sown and that a big crop is expected. The Government has just issued a crop bulletin, showing that the condition of the crops on May 1st was exceptionally good. The figures show that there are 972,000 acres in Ontario and 215,000 acres in Alberta under fall wheat, while the fall wheat sown in the other provinces brings the total up to 1,208,000 acres. The report also shows that more spring wheat was sown this year than in any previous year, while weather conditions and an earlier season are very favorable factors.

Canada undoubtedly will have a largely increased acreage under crop this year, with a corresponding increase in the total yield.

Just what difference there is between the actual yield and the possible yield is shown by comparing the average yield in Canada for a number of years with the average yield obtained at the experimental farms.

A table indicating the average and possible yields follows:

	Average.	Possible.
Fall wheat	20.43	52.
Spring wheat	14.84	33.
Barley	16.15	69.
Oats	36.30	91.
Corn, grain	70.	200.
Corn, ensilage
(tons)	12	19.
Peas	15.33	37.
Beans	18.79	50.
Potatoes	119.40	450.
Turnips	421.81	1,000.

It is estimated that the increased use of fertilizers, intensive cultivation, good seed, and in brief, better farming methods would result in increasing the value of Canada's crops in a single year $150,000,000 to $200,000,000.

U.S. Instruments in War Zone.

Surgeons in European hospitals are using a machine for removing splinters of iron and steel from wounds incidental to the war. It is a magnetic machine that has met with great success in some of the industrial plants of Pittsburgh for more than a year.

The machine is really an electromagnet. Four thousand watts are required for its operation. The enough power to supply 100 thirty-two candle power Mazda lamps.

It was necessary to probe for a steel splinter before this machine was installed. The magnet removes such particles instantly and painlessly. One of the workmen at East Pittsburgh tried to drill one of his own teeth; says Dr. C. A. Dauffer. The drill broke off about half an inch from the end and remained stuck in the cavity. It looked as if the only way to remove the drill would be to pull the tooth. But the magnetic machine drew out the drill instantly.

Answered.
"Dad, what do they call a man who eats only vegetables?"
"A vegetarian, son."
"And one who eats people?"
"A humanitarian. Now run along and play."

The more flattery a man hands his wife the less pin money he will have to dig up.

STARVATION OR MERCILESS TORTURE

A choice between starvation or merciless torture is the dismal prospect before all victims of indigestion, for although they are in need of food to nourish the body, they are afraid to eat because of the long periods of pain and discomfort that follow even the lightest of meals.

The urgent need of all who suffer from indigestion is to gain strength so that the stomach can extract nourishment from the food taken. Pain after eating is the way the stomach signifies its protest that it is too weak to do nature's work. To take purgatives is only to aggravate the trouble. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give new strength to weak stomachs because they enrich and purify the blood supply, thus enabling the stomach to digest food naturally. Almost from the first the appetite revives; then food can be taken without pain and the burden of indigestion disappears. The following cases prove the truth of these statements. Mr. W. H. Silver, a well-known farmer living in the vicinity of Hemford, N.S., says: "For upwards of seven years I was tortured with indigestion; sometimes I was so bad that I would not taste a bit of hearty food, but would have to content myself with a bit of stale bread. At times I suffered excruciating pains in my stomach, and could hardly sleep at night. I tried various prescriptions, but got no benefit from them and naturally I was in a very reduced state of health. I had come to believe that I was doomed for the balance of my life to this most constant torture, when I read of a case similar to my own cured through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This gave me new courage, and I decided to try them. To make a long story short, the use of the Pills for a couple of months completely cured me. This is some two years ago, and I have had no return of the trouble, and am able to eat as hearty a meal as anyone."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through your medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box of six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"Safety First" Candle. Candles can be easily fixed with attachments to extinguish the light at a set time. To determine the length of time it is necessary to mark a candle of the size used and time how long a certain length of it will burn. Then it is enough to suspend a small metal dome or cap to which a string is attached directly over the flame and run the opposite end of the string over nails or through screw eyes, so that it can be tied around the candle such a distance from the flame and the part between the flame and the string will be consumed in the time desired for the light to burn. When this point is reached the string slips off the candle and the cap drops on the flame.

Colicky Children. Colicky children can be promptly cured by Baby's Own Tablets because these Tablets act directly on the stomach and bowels and cleanse them of all impurities. Concerning them Mrs. Jas. C. Slater, Summerville, N.S., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets and am glad to say I have found them an excellent medicine for colic and loss of sleep." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

By the Tomato Route

"Oh, dear, I wish I could go on a mountain trip this summer," sighed Alice as she and her mother sat sewing carpets.

"Why don't you try to earn some money," said her mother. "I've heard of girls raising chickens and doing other things to earn money."

"But, mother," said Alice, "you know I could never earn enough money. Why, it would take almost $15, and besides, I would want spending money."

"Well, it's up to you, suit yourself about it," said Mrs. Miller as she left the room to get supper. But her mother's words had made Alice see things in a different light, and the rest of the day she planned ways of earning money. Many plans presented themselves, but they were rejected. Finally she picked up a catalogue that had fallen off the book-stand, and was just going to replace it when her eyes were attracted by the words, "A girl's way of making money." Eagerly she read the item. It was about a poor girl who had raised tomatoes and sold them. From half an acre of land she had cleared $25 in this way.

Alice's eyes shone with joy when she finished reading the item. "Just what I can do," she exclaimed, "that half acre of worn-out pasture will be just the thing! I'll go and ask father if I can use it."

Mr. Miller immediately gave his consent to his daughter's plan and she went off very happy. The day following, after much planning and thinking, she decided to raise tomatoes. She had heard that they would be in demand about the first of August, and made her plans accordingly. For the next few days one of the hired men was busy manuring and plowing the half acre of pasture under Alice's direction.

"She's got funny ideas about raising tomatoes," he grumbled to Mr. Miller later. "I believe she has been reading that trash the experiment stations are giving out."

A week later Alice proudly surveyed her patch of ground which she had just finished planting with the plants her father had given her. Patiently and faithfully Alice worked through the spring and part of the summer until at last she was rewarded by seeing blossoms here and there on her tomato vines.

By the last of July Alice was ready to begin harvesting her crop. Every afternoon she picked three or four bushels of tomatoes and sold them in the city at fancy prices.

"Breeds" Pearl Buttons. The United States has gone into the business of "breeding" pearl buttons—at least that is what it amounts to.

A short time ago it was discovered that the mussel beds of the rivers and streams tributary to the Mississippi, from the inhabitants of which we get the shells from which pearl buttons are made, were giving out. The government stepped in and established limitations to the dredging of mussels in certain streams. But this did not help.

A more careful scientific study was made by biological experts employed by the government. It resulted in the discovery of some interesting facts about the life history of the mussel. Among them was that which proved that the diminution in the supply of pearl button material was not due to the taking out of mussels, but to the destruction of the fish in the waters.

It was learned that in its early stages of development the freshwater mussel is a parasite, its existence depending largely upon its ability to fasten itself to the gills or fins of a fish. Certain kinds of the mussels attach themselves to a particular kind of fish. The "niggerhead" mussel, for instance, one of the most prolific and valuable varieties, is parasite to red herring almost exclusively, and the partial extermination of this fish has had a material effect upon the natural reproduction of mussels.

With this and similar information as a guide the bureau of fisheries has now established a research laboratory a few miles from Muscatine and has gone into the business of mussel farming.

Message of Hope For All Women

MISS MARY SABOURIN TELLS HOW SHE FOUND HEALTH.

Suffered for Three Years and Could Find No Lasting Relief Till She Used Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Thurso, Que., May 24th (Special). Tired, run-down women can read a message of hope in the statement of Miss Mary Sabourin, an estimable lady living here. In a statement to the public Miss Sabourin says: "I was a sufferer for three years. I was always tired and nervous. My sleep was broken and unrefreshing. I was troubled with headaches and pains in my back. I had heart flutterings to add to my anxiety."

"I was treated by a doctor and a specialist, but nothing seemed to do me any lasting good till I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I took just three boxes of them. Nine-tenths of women's troubles come from sick kidneys. Sick kidneys are the cause of straining the impurities out of the blood. That means that poison and disease is carried to all parts of the body. The remedy is to cure the kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills. If you haven't used them ask your neighbor about them. Nearly every family in Canada is using or has used Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Salutes and Salutations. During the last few months we have grown so accustomed to seeing the military salute given and returned, as scarcely to notice it. If we have a thought about the matter it is probably to the effect that a walk through the streets must be rather fatiguing to those in uniforms. Yet the soldier's salute has many advantages over the less graceful and definite forms of greeting in use among civilians. The soldier has or ought to have, no qualms on the subject; not only does he know whom to salute, but he is also taught exactly how to do it. At a stated time he is to raise the right hand with a circular movement to a stated spot, and after a stated interval he is to cut the hand smartly away.

The civilian has no such straight and simple path marked out for him, but must learn to greet his fellows as best he can. Some people never achieve anything but a frozen glare of recognition; others compel themselves to "grin horribly" at a ghostly smile, but it is so mechanical a contortion as to defeat its comparatively genial purpose. Others again begin smiling at such long range that when they come to close quarters their nod has prematurely spent its force.

A really good nod is one of the richest gifts of Nature. It diffuses so jolly and comfortable a glow that, if we spy the happy possessor in the distance, we cross the road just for the pleasure of meeting him. But this is a rare case, and we are more likely to plunge recklessly into a cab in order to avoid an acquaintance. There are embarrassments enough in the matter of nodding without mentioning our horrid doubts as to whether or not we shall be recognized. Yet those doubts will cause men to pass each other with averted eyes, or with a jouty unconsciousness that never deceived anybody from the beginning of time.

When Dinner Comes

One Ought to Have a Good Appetite. A good appetite is the best sauce. It goes a long way toward helping in the digestive process, and that is absolutely essential to health and strength.

Many persons have found that Grape-Nuts food is not only nourishing but is a great appetizer, and children like the taste of it and grow strong and rosy from its use. It is especially the food to make a weak stomach strong and create an appetite for dinner.

"I am 57 years old," writes a grandmother, "and have had a weak stomach from childhood. By great care as to my diet I enjoyed a reasonable degree of health, but never found anything to equal Grape-Nuts as a standby."

"When I have no appetite for breakfast and just eat to keep up my strength, I take 4 teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts with good rich milk, and when dinner comes I am hungry. While if I go without any breakfast I never feel like eating dinner. Grape-Nuts for breakfast seem to make a healthy appetite for dinner."

"My little grandson was sick with stomach trouble during the past summer, and finally we put him on Grape-Nuts. Now he is growing plump and well. When asked if he wants his nurse or Grape-Nuts, he brightens up and points to the cupboard. He was no trouble to wean at all—thanks to Grape-Nuts."

COOK WELL AND SAVE. Too many cooks add to the high cost of living by not knowing that the way means are cooked may add much to their cost.

Nearly every cook knows that meats shrink in cooking, but not all of them are aware that boiled beef or broiled steak has more weight than a roast. An investigation has shown that 15 per cent. of the weight of the meat is lost when it is fried or steamed; in boiling, 20 per cent; in baking, 25 per cent; and in roasting 30 per cent. of the weight is lost.

When you roast, broil or bake you may obtain the best results by having the intense heat combined with free action of the hot air which approaches the nearest to roasting before an open fire, which is what the makers of modern stoves aim for.

When the meat has been in a hot oven for fifteen minutes allow another fifteen minutes for each pound of meat while it is cooking. If the meat is boiled, a longer time is necessary, and pork requires ample time.

A Nova Scotia Case of Interest to All Women

Halifax Sends Out a Message of Help to Many People. Halifax, N.S., Dec. 15.—When interviewed at her home at 194 Argyle St., Mrs. Haverstock was quite willing to talk of her peculiarly unfortunate case.

"I was always 'blue' and depressed, felt weak, languid and utterly unfit for any work. My stomach was so disordered that I had no appetite. What I did eat disagreed. I suffered greatly from dizziness and sick headache and feared a nervous breakdown. Upon my druggist's recommendation I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

"I felt better at once. Every day I improved. In six weeks I was a well woman, cured completely after different physicians had failed to help me. It is for this reason that I strongly urge sufferers with stomach or digestive troubles to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Dr. Hamilton's Pills strengthen the stomach, improve digestion, strengthen the nerves and restore debilitated systems to health. By cleansing the blood of long-standing impurities, by bringing the system to a high point of vigor, they effectually chase away weariness, depression and disease. Good for young or old, for men, for women, for children. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut.

Russia Makes Biggest Bell.

Russia is in the lead in the line of bells, some of her manufacture being the most famous in the world. It is said that in Moscow alone, before the great fire, there were no fewer than 1,706 large bells. One called the Giant, which was cast in the sixteenth century and broken by falling from its support and recast in 1654, was so large that it required twenty-four men to ring it. Its weight was estimated at 288,000 pounds.

The Giant was suspended from an immense beam at the foot of a bell tower, but it again fell during the fire of June 19, 1796, and was a second time broken to fragments, which were used with additional material in 1732 in casting the King of Bells, also a product of Moscow. The value of metal put into it was $300,000.

REPUTATION ESTABLISHED - - YEARS AGO FOR - - HIGH QUALITY STANDARD

TODAY we are establishing another reputation for values and greater assortment. The outlook affords much ground for satisfaction and confidence. The present will go on record as being one of the most interesting and surprising seasons in the history of merchandising. Manufacturers and merchants started in very gingerly, hardly knowing what or how much to provide for. Having confidence in our increasing trade, we bought heavily, with the result that we have ample stocks of desirable goods to meet the splendid trade we are having while those who hesitated buying early are caught, having to buy what they can now get at the advance prices.

THURSDAY, MAY 27, 1915.

Prominent events of the week in the European struggle are the entrance of Italy into the war and the formation of a coalition government in Britain.

Italy's step must, it seems, hasten the end of the war. Austria will no longer draw supplies from Italy, and her sea ports on the Adriatic will be closed. The commercial isolation of Germany and Austria is, therefore, almost complete. Against that, organization and efficiency, we may be sure, will not long prevail.

The new British cabinet is absolutely non-partisan, all the important Unionist leaders having places in it. The savage criticism of the past few weeks will cease, now that the ablest men of both parties are doing everything possible to gain decisive victories which will end the war.

One of the most scathing rebukes administered to the foolish women who met recently at The Hague for an ill-timed discussion of means for bringing the war to an end was administered by a famous French writer, Mme. Juliette Adam. In answering a letter inviting her to attend the congress she stated of the Germans:—

"They lie, they loot, they burn, they kill women and children, they take hostages, they assassinate wounded, stretcher-bearers and doctors, they set fire to ambulances, they violate women, young girls and nuns. They destroy, for the sake of destroying, objects which more barbarous centuries have respected. It would be treachery to those I have lost to seek anything but what is, and ought to be, if God of right and justice, the enemy of the demon, of brute force, of mad pride, is the true God."

And although Mme. Adam did not recount all of the indictment against the enemy of civilization her denunciation should be remembered if again there should be talk of ending the war before Germany can be forced to accept terms which will prevent that nation from again endeavoring to gain world dominion through a path of blood and tears and "irritability."

While committees of the Hospital Ship funds are asked to close their funds at their own discretion, for the benefit of distant places where collections are still actively being made for this purpose, the general fund will not be closed till early in September. Contributions to date show with "Flag Day" a total of $137,680.70, so it may reach the splendid sum of half over what was the original amount aimed at.

G. A. McAlpine, Glencoe

The happy, happy days are come,
The gladdest of the year,
For round and rosy, juicy, sweet,
The strawberries are here.

Have you ever noticed that when one man starts to fix up his place by planting flowers and keeping his lawn clean and tidy the fashion soon spreads to the whole block and sometimes the whole street? Get the habit.

It is stated in answer to an enquiry that promissory notes do not require a war stamp unless the notes are to be taken to a bank for collection or for negotiation. When the bank figures in the transaction in any way a war stamp is required.

Victoria Day was quietly observed in Glencoe, there being no public celebration. Many of the townspeople took advantage of the holiday to visit relatives at a distance, while others enjoyed the celebrations at the neighboring towns of West Lorne, Rodney, Alvinston or Appin.

The G. T. R. start this month to pay their employees in cash instead of the old cheque system owing to the necessity of putting a two cent war stamp on the cheque. It is estimated that the war stamp would cost the company $20,000 per year by fixing them to the salary cheques.

Glencoe students of Toronto University were successful in their examinations, Miss Moss winning the Trinity first year scholarship in English and History, J. W. McAlpine passing the first year Faculty of Art and Miss Florence Walker the Victoria College first year general course.

The marriage was solemnized at Toronto on Wednesday evening, May 19, of Miss Bessie M. Shaw, only daughter of Frank A. Shaw, formerly of Glencoe, to Earl Vernon Hatch, of Toronto. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. A. J. Vining, of College Baptist Church, Toronto, formerly of Windsor, who officiated at the marriage of the bride's parents.

A. E. Cantelon, who conducts photo studios in St. Thomas, Dutton and other places, has reopened the Glencoe gallery, which for the present will be open every Tuesday only; but for excursions or other special work Mr. Cantelon will come any day if notified at Dutton by letter or phone No. 574. We have seen some of Mr. Cantelon's work and it is decidedly good.

An exchange says John Johnston, who has conducted hotels at Sarnia and Dresden, has bought the Hotel Anderson property in Ridgetown from Dr. Anderson, of Galt, and bought out Samuel Hart. If transfer of license is made—Mr. Johnston takes possession the 1st of June. Mr. Hart has conducted the Hotel Anderson for nearly a year, during which he made many improvements.

The roof of the warehouse at the Woodburn Mills caught fire Friday afternoon, supposed from a spark from a locomotive. Fortunately the fire was discovered before it had made much headway and it was put out by the mill hands and the fire department with the use of chemical fire extinguishers. Some 1500 barrels of flour were stored in the building awaiting shipment.

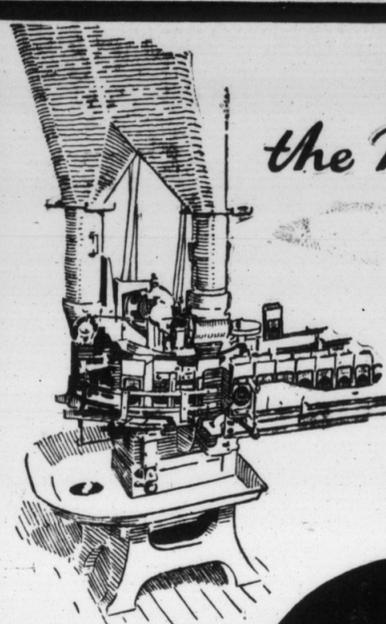

A correspondent writes:—Now, as the farmers are starting their roadwork, there are many places where the roads are high and a good winter road can be easily made which would greatly benefit the teaming such times as the sleighing is poor. On the L. W. R. near Strathroy is one of these places where the road is quite bare and the rest of the sleighing is good. By a little trouble a good winter road has been made which will save many capes and hats during the winter.

A young man from Ekfrid township was up before Police Magistrate McKenzie at Glencoe on Tuesday afternoon, charged with disturbing the moving picture show at the Opera House last Wednesday evening. The complaint was laid by Constable Weaver, who had placed the man and a companion, who was alleged to be under the influence of liquor, in the lockup and subsequently released them on the evening referred to. There being nothing in the criminal code to define the disturbing of a picture show, the case was dismissed.

New time tables will go into effect on the Grand Trunk, the Wabash and the Canadian Pacific railways next Sunday. Among other changes on the Grand Trunk will be a later hour for both the eastbound and westbound limited trains in the evening. On the Wabash, trains Nos. 5 and 28 will be replaced, the former arriving at Glencoe from Buffalo shortly after 8 o'clock p. m., and the latter leaving Glencoe for the east about 5 o'clock p. m. Two passenger trains on the C. P. R. which now are scheduled no farther than Chatham will make their run as far as Windsor.

Rev. George William Wye died at his home in Neponset, Long Island, on May 10th and the funeral took place at Brantford, Ont. Mr. Wye was one of the first rectors of the Glencoe, Wardsville and Newbury parish of the Church of England. He was born in London, England, in 1820, and in 1843 came with his parents to Brantford, Ont. He was graduated in 1850 from Huron College, and was admitted to Holy Orders in the same year. His active life as a clergyman extended over forty years, in Ontario, Michigan and Maryland. His wife, two sons, George V. and the Rev. Lionel A., one daughter, Theodora F., and a grandson, George F., survive him.

Rev. John Griffith, missionary from Honan, China, addressed the Glencoe Presbyterian congregation on Sunday evening. He gave an interesting and lucid account of the general conditions and life of the people in Honan. Density of population, superstition and suspicion were the chief factors which militated against the progress of civilization, Christianity and the development of the country's resources. The country was so thoroughly cultivated that scarcely a weed or a thistle was to be seen, yet there were so many people to be fed that the great middle classes were no better off than the poorest people in the slums of our large cities, their daily food being with rare exception a mixture of millet seed and straw or chaff. Tradesmen, such as carpenters and bricklayers, received a daily wage equal to only 12 1/2 cents of our money, and yet the cost of food-stuffs and other commodities was but little less than in this country. While the country was so rich in iron ore and coal, the superstitious nature of the Chinese forbade them developing these resources. Suspicion as to the objects of the missionary was a great hindrance to his work.

About the Household

Serving Rhubarb.

Baked Rhubarb.—Wash and wipe dry the rhubarb. Cut into inch lengths without peeling. Arrange a layer of the rhubarb in the bottom of a buttered earthen baking dish, covering with sugar, repeat this process until a sufficient quantity has been used. Cover tightly; do not add water. Bake for one hour and serve cold.

Rhubarb Puffs.—Cream together one cup of sugar and two tablespoons of butter, add two well beaten eggs, one-fourth of a cup of milk, one teaspoon of baking powder and flour enough to make a stiff batter; then stir in one cup of finely chopped rhubarb; half fill well buttered molds with the mixture, and steam for half an hour. Serve with any preferred pudding sauce.

Rhubarb Dumplings.—Wash and cut the rhubarb into inch pieces, and stew with a little more than half its weight in sugar, adding a very little water. Make a batter by using a scant cup of sweet milk, a pint of flour into which has been sifted two teaspoons of baking powder, and a little salt. Drop this batter by spoonfuls into the boiling rhubarb, and cook for ten minutes. The result is a delicious pudding, which should be served hot, with or without cream.

Rhubarb Snowballs.—Boil half a cup of rice until soft; wring small pudding cloths out of hot water, and spread the cooked rice about half an inch thick over the centre of the cloths. Spread about half a cup of chopped rhubarb on each, sweeten well, tie up the cloths closely, and steam for 20 minutes. Then turn out of the cloths carefully and serve with rich cream.

Rhubarb Fritters.—Peel young rhubarb and cut into three-inch lengths. Make a batter of two well beaten eggs, one pint of milk, a little salt, and six large tablespoons of flour, beating until smooth. Dip each piece of rhubarb in the batter and fry to a golden brown. Serve very hot, piled high on a napkin lined plate, and well powdered with sugar.

Rhubarb Custard.—Make a custard by using the yolks of two eggs, a pint of sweet milk, and two tablespoons of sugar. Line a deep pudding dish with pastry, and cover the bottom with a layer of chopped rhubarb which has been rolled in sugar. Pour over this the custard and bake. Make a meringue of the whites of the eggs, spread over the baked custard, and set in the oven to brown.

Rhubarb Souffle.—Put the rhubarb, cut fine, into a double boiler with plenty of sugar to sweeten, and steam until tender; then press through a sieve. To three cups of this sauce add the well-beaten yolks of three eggs, then fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs and bake in a well buttered dish until it begins to crack open on top. Serve hot.

Rhubarb Pie.—One cup of finely chopped rhubarb, one-half cup of sugar, one heaping teaspoon of flour, the yolk of one egg, a small lump of butter, and a drop or two of lemon juice. Bake with one crust, and cover with a meringue made of the white of an egg, beaten stiffly, and to which has been added one large tablespoon of granulated sugar. Brown in a warm oven, and serve hot.

White Oilcloth.—White oilcloth can work a transformation in the darkest, dingiest kitchen and add to the charm of the brightest. A yard for 5c. will save you from facing the indifferent or worn paint at the base of the dish closet shelving, and besides, make cleaning easy and gratifying. The inside window ledge of the kitchen and the bathroom treated in this way will be conducive to beauty and cleanliness.

A strip along the wall beside the sink will catch splattered drops of dish water or drainings and may be readily cleaned with a lightly soaped cloth rubbed over the surface. A stretch of oilcloth above the japaning about the range will catch any spattering grease, the vapor of steam or the blackest of escaping smoke, which can then be wiped off, though here one of the coarser cleansers may be necessary to restore the pristine whiteness.

A yard of wide oilcloth at 18 or 20c will cover the top of a kitchen table with some to spare. A length of a few inches more of the scalloped kind will render the tops of the washbasins slightly and convertible table uses for a hasty meal for one or two. The top of the refrigerator or covered in this way will be taken as a pledge of the sweet, clean interior below.

Three Sewing Hints.

In sewing in hot weather use an emery "strawberry" frequently. Passing the needle in and out through it removes moisture, all danger of rust and insures much easier manipulation. Never allow a needle to squeak.

Wax the thread thoroughly before attempting to string beads, or to sew them on any material. This makes the work easier, as well as stronger and the thread or sewing silk will never knot.

Instead of binding or felling seams on lingerie, use narrow lace insertion, one piece on each side of the raw edges; stitch on both sides with the sewing machine. Lace braids, also, the bought, ready-made lawn folds are admirable for the purpose and are easy of manipulation.

Useful Hints.

If one or two teaspoonfuls of sugar are added to turnips when cooking they will be improved.

When frying eggs try adding a spoonful of flour to the fat; it will prevent them from breaking or sticking to the pan.

Chamois leathers should be washed in tepid water and dried with the soap in them; they will then be nice and soft.

To make flypapers, boil linseed oil with a little resin till it forms a stringy paste when cold. Spread this on paper, using a large brush. This is inexpensive and makes one of the best traps for flies.

When making a pie, the juice from the fruit very often soaks through the under-crust, and spoils the appearance of it. This can be prevented by brushing the under-crust over with the white of an egg.

To clean oil painting, peel a potato and halve it. Rub carefully over the painting with the flat side. Cut a new surface each time the moisture is exhausted. Sponge afterwards with clean tepid water.

Paint marks on glass may be removed by rubbing with a paste of whiting and ammonia, thinned with water to the consistency of cream. Leave the paste on, and when it is dry, wash off with soap and warm water.

Before using a new saucepan fill it with water with a lump of soda and some potato peelings, and let it boil for some hours. Then wash out thoroughly, and all danger from poisoning from the tinned lining will be gone.

A few drops of castor oil will be found most beneficial to drooping ferns in a pail of water all night. In a week a marked improvement will be noticeable.

Place a week's tea leaves in a pail and pour over them a quart of boiling water. Leave for one hour, then strain and bottle. The liquor is excellent for cleaning varnished wood and linoleum, and when used for cleaning windows or mirrors makes them shine like crystal.

The Modern Method.

"Your new novel is in some ways a bit out of date."
"How, for example?"
"Well, you make the heroine sweep the room with a glance, when to-day everybody is using vacuum cleaners."

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

INTERNATIONAL LESSON,
MAY 30.

Lesson IX.—David Brings the Ark To Jerusalem. 2 Sam. 6. 1-19; Psa. 24. G.T.—Psa. 122. 1.

I. The Ark Brought to Jerusalem (Verses 12-15).

Verses 12. Obed-edom—The Gittite, a Levite (see 1 Chron. 15. 18, 21, 24). He was called a "Gittite" because a native of Gath-rimmon (see Josh. 21. 24, 25). He belonged to the family which originally had been appointed to carry the ark from place to place (Num. 4. 15). He was also a player on the harp, and designated as one of the players to take part in the music services on the occasion of bringing up the ark and to minister before it (1 Chron. 15. 16, 18, 19-21; 16. 4, 5, 37, 38).

13. He sacrificed—Read 1 Chron. chapter 15, for the necessary observations on this occasion.

14. David Danced—The usual expressions of rejoicing (Exod. 15. 20, 21; Judg. 11. 34; Psa. 149. 3; 150. 4) were made by women.

A linen ephod—The royal garments had been laid aside and the priest's dress put on.

II. His Chosen Dwelling Place (Psa. 24).

1. The earth is Jehovah's—The reader's attention is at once fixed on Jehovah, to whom approach is to be made.

2. For he—The "he" is especially emphasized. "It was he, and no other, who laid the foundation of the world" (Psa. 104. 5; Job 38. 4). Read Psa. 104. the great "Psalm of Creation."

3-6. Only those who can ascend unto God's dwelling who have clean hands, and a pure heart; that is, clean in thought as well as in deed (see Psa. 73. 1; Matt. 5. 8), who have not lifted up his soul unto falsehood; that is, put self in preference to God, hence chosen the transitory, false, and unreal, and hath not sworn deceitfully; that is, has been true to his neighbor as well as to God.

Even Jacob—Jacob is the type of the true people of God. The generation of those who truly seek after God and his likeness, seek him as the "ideal Jacob," the true people of God, would seek him.

7-10. The procession is now represented as having reached the gates of the city.

Lift up your heads—Be opened wide for the high and Holy One, now that all opposition to his entrance has ceased.

Ye everlasting doors—The doors which from the beginning had been destined to receive the King of kings.

And the King of glory—See 2 Sam. 6. 2; 1 Sam. 4. 21.

Who is this King of glory?—The watchers at the gate raise this cry for select trade it is absolutely necessary that the eggs should be candled. The blood clots are caused by a rupture of the small arteries, but the bad eggs are the result of a disease of the ovaries, and the manager of the flock should endeavor to find out which bird or birds are producing them, and they should be killed."

Jehovah Sabaoth is not only the conquering warrior; he is the ruler of the universe (see 1 Sam. 17. 48; 1 Kings 22. 19).

Place a week's tea leaves in a pail and pour over them a quart of boiling water. Leave for one hour, then strain and bottle. The liquor is excellent for cleaning varnished wood and linoleum, and when used for cleaning windows or mirrors makes them shine like crystal.

The first answer to our question, How to live! is to live cheerfully. This world is "a thing of beauty," and, therefore, as Keats reminds us, "a joy forever." This human existence is filled with myriads of happy experiences, each one open to us through the channels of our tracing sense, and therefore a privilege of which the fabled gods might well be envious. Shut a man in the vilest slum of a great city and he can still look upon the quiet stars, behold the glory of the mounting sun and feel the cool breath of morning. Rob him of every comfort that money can provide and he can still know the ecstasy of love, guide the innocence of childhood and walk the ways of worship and meditation. It is this irreducible minimum of happiness which justified, and still justifies, the philosophy of Epicurus, who had men enjoy the things of life as they passed by and forget the problems of the whence and where.

Life is "full of rewards and pleasures," said Stevenson, "so that to see the day break or the moon rise or to meet a friend" fills a man with surprising joys."

We must first of all, therefore, live gladly. But this is only the beginning of our lesson, for "a man is not to expect happiness," as Stevenson says again, "only profit by it when it shall arise." The world is beautiful, but now and again it is shocked with earthquakes, blasted with hurricanes and swept with floods. Life is good, but its occasional agonies of pain, disappointment, loss, death, are terrible. All of which means that we must live not only gladly but bravely. "Profit by happiness when it shall arise" we must. But if happiness fails to arise or is swallowed up in pangs of misery we must profit still by that which is denied us or is lost. We must have the iron of stoicism in our blood. No terror must be able to daunt us, no darkness blind us, no blow break us. We must know, with Epictetus, that "difficulties are things which show what men are." We must understand, with Marcus Aurelius, that "external things touch not the soul." We must proclaim with Henley:—

"It matters not how strait the gate,
How charged with punishments
the scroll;
I am the master of my fate,
I am the captain of my soul."

Nor is this the end. For cheer and courage are single virtues, and we live not on desert islands like Robinson Crusoe, but in the crowded ways of men. Not a moment are we alone by ourselves; always, everywhere, are we caught up with our fellows in the tangled skein of social relationships. Our happiness belongs to others; the sorrows of other men intrude upon our own. Wherefore is it not enough to be happy and brave ourselves. We have a responsibility which reaches beyond ourselves to the lives of those who live with us and about us. We must give them joy that their cheer may not die for lack of sustenance. We must save them sorrow that their courage may not be strained and broken.

To our epicureanism and stoicism we must add Christianity. Which means that we must live not only cheerfully and bravely but serviceably. To serve is the crowning rule of life. It is itself the secret of happiness, the source of courage, the way to God. He who serves saves—saves others and therewith saves himself! "He that findeth his life," said Jesus, "shall lose it, but he that loseth his life for my sake shall find it."

Here, then, is the answer to our question. We must be first cheerful, then courageous, then serviceable. "Hear and your soul shall live."

Rev. John Haynes Holmes.

Hens That Lay Bad Eggs.

Mr. Robertson, of the Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa, writes as follows with reference to tainted eggs:

"If the flock in general is laying tainted eggs, the cause is no doubt with the feed, but if it is just one individual bird, it is probably due to ovarian trouble. This is one of the reasons why it is absolutely necessary that eggs for strictly high-class trade should be candled."

Putrid when laid, and it seems hard to get people to realize that such is the case. It is not only that eggs of this kind will at times be produced, but blood clots are very common, especially at this season of the year when the fowl are laying heavily. Blood clots will often run as high as 2 per cent, so that for select trade it is absolutely necessary that the eggs should be candled. The blood clots are caused by a rupture of the small arteries, but the bad eggs are the result of a disease of the ovaries, and the manager of the flock should endeavor to find out which bird or birds are producing them, and they should be killed."

The Court of Exchequer is so named from a chequered cloth which anciently covered the table where the judges and chief officers used to sit.

Eradication of Cough. The following is a very effective method of cleaning fields of cough. After the hay or grain crop is cut the field should be ploughed the necessary depth to turn over the roots, and, when thoroughly dry, harrowed with a spring tooth harrow. Then all the roots that come to the surface should be gathered up and carted to a well-tramped road or barn yard that is grazed over during the growing season. The field should be then ribbed up and when available next spring harrowed and gone over as in the previous autumn. After the harrow the horse rake used in the same manner is so effective that potato and other root crops make the ground thoroughly clean for cereals the next year, and for a good heavy crop of clover the year after.

Bonds and Their Yields

They Are a Particularly Good Buy Just Now—Prices Are Cheap.

There are many good reasons why the present is an especially opportune time to buy municipal bonds. In the first place, they are cheap, that is, cheap in comparison with prices which have obtained during the past few years. It is not so very long since borrowing municipalities were able to secure at four and a half or five per cent. sums of money for which they now have to pay five and five and a half and even six per cent. interest. This is to the advantage of the bond buyer, who can now get many low-yield bonds considerably below par, or high-yield, gilt-edged securities at about the same price as he formerly paid for low-yield debentures.

Prices Steadily Advancing. But conditions governing the money market cannot be expected to keep so for very much longer. In fact, there has been quite a noticeable change in the past few months. Bond prices have stiffened considerably since the first of the year, and municipalities are able to strike a little better bargain with the bond houses than was the case three or four months ago. Comparison of issues recently made with those made in January shows a firming-up in prices which the bond buyer has to pay; and a still further comparison with November and August prices shows a substantial advance in prices of Canadian municipal bonds within these periods.

There is no reason to suppose that this advancing trend will change; rather the omens point to a smarter recovery in prices of these securities which have been considerably dearer in the past. This reason alone would induce present purchasing of municipal bonds, because the price is very reasonable just now, and the market is favoring higher prices with their consequent speculative profits without corresponding speculative risks, as these securities are practically at their low now and will not likely go any lower.

A Good Selling Market. Apart from the fact that municipal bonds are cheap and offer good opportunities to the shrewd investor, they are also a good buy at the present time because of the steady demand which always exists for this class of security. Certain institutions, holders of trust funds and other corporations, are bound by law to invest their funds in only certain absolutely safe classes of securities. Municipal bonds come within this category, and offer the ideal investment for trust funds, as well as coming within the restrictions imposed by Canadian laws.

This constant demand for municipals for investment of trust funds is greater to-day than ever before, and is bound to increase as time goes on. General financial conditions affect quickly all other security markets, but inasmuch as municipals are necessities for the trustee, there will always be a steady, stable market for the best grade bonds of this class.

Security Is Worth While. The sound security of the municipal bond makes a strong appeal to every careful investor. No matter what conditions prevail, the buyer of a municipal bond is reasonably certain that he will get back his principal at the appointed time; and that his interest will be regular, too. This will appeal to many people at the present time, when certain branches of trade have not been quite so good as usual, and the securities issued against such enterprises—in some cases at least—are not so well secured, due to depreciation of plant and property and other unavoidable causes.

No Time Like the Present. Taken all round, municipals are an excellent buy just now. The yield is large, and the present prices cheap, though they are steadily going up. There is the best of security behind such bonds; and there is a good market, quite apart from the demands of the ordinary investing public. In good times or bad times the municipal is a safe investment, and at the present time a particularly attractive buy because of its three-fold advantages of price, market and security of principal and interest.

Eradication of Cough. The following is a very effective method of cleaning fields of cough. After the hay or grain crop is cut the field should be ploughed the necessary depth to turn over the roots, and, when thoroughly dry, harrowed with a spring tooth harrow. Bad Roads are Costly

The question is often asked, "What do good roads cost?"

If this question were put in another form, viz., "What do bad roads cost?" the answer would bring home to the people of Canada what they are paying as a sacrifice to poor transportation facilities—this, in addition to the discomfort and dissatisfaction of having to travel over them.

One of the chief causes of young people leaving the farm is the lack of good roads. Rough and muddy roads retard social life, especially when, associated with the unpleasantness of driving, is the fact that the equipment becomes mud-spattered and requires constant washing. To avoid these and other inconveniences, farmers and their families remain at home, more or less in isolation, and when the first opportunity arises, many of them leave the farm. There is but one remedy for this isolated condition—by means of good roads, farmers and their families must be placed in touch with the social advantages of the larger communities. Just as soon as this condition is reached, the drain of population from the farm will decrease.

Of the economic losses due to bad roads separating the farmer from his market, that of cost of transportation is most important. A comparison of the load one horse can haul on good and bad roads, respectively, shows that, on a muddy earth road, the amount varies from nothing to a maximum of 900 pounds; on a smooth, dry earth road, from 1,000 to 2,000 pounds; on a gravel road in bad condition, from 1,000 to 1,500 pounds; on a gravel road in good condition about 3,300 pounds; on a macadam road, from 2,000 to 5,000 pounds; and on a brick or concrete road, from 5,000 to 8,000 pounds.

How to Live

"Hear and your soul shall live."
—Isaiah, lv. 3.

The first answer to our question, How to live! is to live cheerfully. This world is "a thing of beauty," and, therefore, as Keats reminds us, "a joy forever." This human existence is filled with myriads of happy experiences, each one open to us through the channels of our tracing sense, and therefore a privilege of which the fabled gods might well be envious. Shut a man in the vilest slum of a great city and he can still look upon the quiet stars, behold the glory of the mounting sun and feel the cool breath of morning. Rob him of every comfort that money can provide and he can still know the ecstasy of love, guide the innocence of childhood and walk the ways of worship and meditation. It is this irreducible minimum of happiness which justified, and still justifies, the philosophy of Epicurus, who had men enjoy the things of life as they passed by and forget the problems of the whence and where.

Life is "full of rewards and pleasures," said Stevenson, "so that to see the day break or the moon rise or to meet a friend" fills a man with surprising joys."

We must first of all, therefore, live gladly. But this is only the beginning of our lesson, for "a man is not to expect happiness," as Stevenson says again, "only profit by it when it shall arise."

The world is beautiful, but now and again it is shocked with earthquakes, blasted with hurricanes and swept with floods. Life is good, but its occasional agonies of pain, disappointment, loss, death,
