McIntyre is badly injured, but hopes are entertained for his recovery. Brennan is suffering from a broken collar bone and scalds.

Biffed on the coco.
Busted on the cranium.
Whiffed on the skull.

Dinged on the brain-box.

Do Not Despise our Native Woods.
Too many Canadians in the past have been prone to believe that what comes from abroad is better than what is produced at home. Largely because of this idea imported timber has been used in buildings on the edge of our timberlands. The Forest Products Laboratory of the Department of the Interior, have been investigating this question and have found that some of our Canadian timbers are superior to those imported and just as cheap or cheaper. This means much to us in war time, when every dollar produced or saved makes it by so much the easier to win the war. The results of this investigation have been published in Forestry Branch Bulletin No. 59, entitled "Canadian Woods for Structural Timbers." Lumbermen, builders, manufacturers, or others interested who have not yet received a copy may obtain one free on application to the Director of Forestry, Ottawa.

Married at Almonte.

A charming wedding was solemnized in St. Paul's Church on Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock, when Mr. Alex. Stoddard, of Carleton Place, and Miss Gertrude Whitefield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Whitefield, Almonte, were joined in the bonds of wedlock. The church was crowded to the doors. The groomsmen were Mr. Albert Whitefield, the bride's brother, and Miss Edna Diener, also of town, gracefully performed the duties of bridesmaid. Rev. Chas. Saddington, the rector, tied the nuptial knot. The young couple, who will make their home in Carleton Place, have the good wishes of a host of friends.—Almonte Times

Sudden Death at Smith Falls.
Mr. Thomas Barr, has gone and many in town will remember him with regret, says the Rideau Record. He went down to Montreal on Monday and came up to the midnight train on Tuesday going to his home in Atitonto when he retired to bed never to get up again. He was found dead in bed on Wednesday morning. He was born in Almonte and came here with his mother about 35 years ago. Over twenty years ago he was an employee of the C.P.R. and had both his legs cut off close to the body in an accident at Montreal. He was an expert mechanic and a genius in the automobile and bicycle repair business at which he was kept pretty well employed. He made himself a little cart and had a faithful dog which used to pull him around the town and until recently he had been quite a familiar figure on the streets. He leaves an aged mother. The funeral took place this afternoon to St. Francis de Sales church thence to the R.C. cemetery.

A Bit of Local History.
United Canada, published at Ottawa, says: "Lanark is now one of the big electoral districts of Ontario since the merging of the two ridings into one. It is large in population as well as area. Some of the finest old towns in the province are in Lanark. Smiths Falls, Carleton Place, Almonte, Pakenham, Perth, Clayton, Appleton, Lanark Village and Ferguson Falls. All these communities have legends, traditions and histories that have been recalled in song and story, about the original pioneers who came over in 1820, when Lord Dalhousie was Governor-General of Canada. These pilgrims of early Lanark blazed the trees for guidance from Perth to what is now known as Dalhousie township. The British government of that day loaned to a Scotch community £10 (ten pounds) each and a free passage out. Some of the great-grand sons of these immigrants of 1820 are in Balderson's regiment, the 42nd, who are defending the same old flag to-day. Politically, Lanark has reached that point where the principals won't talk. Where will the Conservatives hold their convention under the new conditions? was the question put to one of the South Lanark county councillors here this week: "If you ask me, there won't be any convention. I am for Balderson, and our man goes in the field. He has been badly treated. He went to the convention in 1911 and he won, but was counted out. It was all planned to have the same thing happen in the bye-election in 1913. You probably don't know that when the election came on all the powers of two governments, with the cabinet ministers, twenty M.P.'s and M.L.A.'s swarming through the county with unlimited funds and patronage to offer, could only claim a majority of a few votes for Hanna. The electors will be given another chance when things are more even, to say if they want Balderson, or who they do want to represent them in the next parliament."

Co-operative Experiments in Weed Eradication.

These co-operative experiments have now been conducted for five successive years. The object of this work is to have carried on by men on their own farms experiments in the eradication of weeds, the results of which will furnish data from which definite statements may be made regarding the best methods of controlling the various injurious weeds. Each year early in the spring circulars are sent out inviting men who have any of the weeds included in the list of experiments on their farms to co-operate in the work. Those who sign the application forms for any of the weed experiments are furnished with detailed information concerning the carrying out of the work, and late in the fall they are supplied with blank forms on which to report the results.

Seven experiments in all have been tried, viz. 1. The use of rape in the destruction of Perennial Sow Thistle. 2. A system of intensive cropping and cultivation for the eradication of Perennial Sow Thistle. 3. The use of rape in the eradication of Twitch Grass. 4. A method of cultivation and cropping for the destruction of Twitch Grass. 5. Spraying with iron sulphate to destroy Mustard in cereal crops. 6. A method of cultivation for the destruction of Ox-eye Daisy. 7. A method for the eradication of Bladder Campion or Cow Bell.

These experiments have been carried on for five successive years in many parts of the Province, on various types of soil and under different climatic conditions. The results therefore should be a safe index for the whole Province. They may be briefly summarized as follows:

First, that good cultivation followed by rape sown in drills provides a means of eradicating both Perennial Sow Thistle and Twitch Grass; second, that rape is a more satisfactory crop to use in the destruction of Twitch Grass than buckwheat; third, that rape gives much better results in the eradication of Twitch Grass and Perennial Sow Thistle when sown in drills and cultivated than it does when sown broadcast; fourth, that thorough deep cultivation in fall and spring followed by a well cared for hoed crop will destroy Bladder Campion; fifth, that Mustard may be prevented from seeding in oats, wheat and barley by spraying with a twenty per cent. solution of iron sulphate without any serious injury to the standing crop or to fresh seedlings of clover.

Points of interest brought out by the experiments in spraying with iron sulphate to destroy Mustard were:

1. The necessity of spraying early, just when the plants are coming into bloom. If the spraying is left too late, the older plants will not be destroyed by the solution, and will form seed, and hence the experiment will not be entirely satisfactory.

2. To spray thoroughly, with a good pressure. In order to spray thoroughly with an ordinary broadcast attachment, it is necessary to keep the horses walking very slowly. If an attempt is made to cover the ground quickly some of the plants will be missed and the results will not be entirely satisfactory.

3. In regard to the cost of spraying with iron sulphate it was found that the cost of material per acre varied from $1.00 to $2.40. Iron Sulphate has advanced in price from $1.00 to $3.00 per cwt., so that it now costs from $2.50 to $3.50 per acre for material to spray Mustard.

These Co-operative Experiments in Weed Eradication will be continued this year (1917), and it is hoped that a large number of men will take part in them in order that sufficient information may be gathered to warrant definite statements being made in regard to the best methods of controlling these pernicious weeds. The experiments for 1917 are as follows:

1. The use of rape in the destruction of Perennial Sow Thistle.
2. A system of intensive cropping and cultivation, using Winter Rye followed by turnips, rape or buckwheat, for eradicating Perennial Sow Thistle.
3. The use of rape in the destruction of Twitch Grass.
4. A method of cultivation and cropping for the destruction of Twitch Grass.
5. A method for the eradication of Bladder Campion or Cow Bell.

6. Spraying with iron sulphate to destroy Mustard in cereal crops.
7. A method of cultivation and cropping for the destruction of Ox-eye Daisy.
8. A method of cultivation and cropping for the suppression of Field Bindweed or Wild Morning Glory. (Requires two years to complete).
9. A method of cultivation and cropping for the eradication of Wild Oats. (Requires two years to complete).
10. A method of cultivation for the destruction of Chess.

Those who are troubled with any of these bad weeds are invited to write to the Director of Co-operative Experiments in Weed Eradication, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, Ont. He will be glad to furnish full information concerning these experiments and to supply application blanks for the same. All experiments will be supplied with full and detailed instructions for carrying out the experiments selected, and with blank forms on which to report the results of the same. All interested in clean farming are asked to co-operate in this work. Address all communications to J. R. Howitt, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.

Says Aeropines Saved Paris.

There is evidence, says an American writer, that Germany, in her under-estimation of the tenacity of Belgium, did not consider it necessary to employ air scouts to find vulnerable spots and offset the advantage gained by Belgium through her able aviators. The Germans started in with a crushing preponderance of men, but played the game with little consideration of the immediate moves of the enemy. Belgium with few men, but employing a score of efficient air scouts, moved as circumstances dictated. The result was a comparatively large loss of men and inestimable loss of time on the part of the Germans. But for that loss the Germans might have gone through Belgium and on to Paris before the French had time to complete their preparations.

THE ONLY MEDICINE FOR LITTLE ONES

Mrs. Timothy Bowes, Blissfield, N.B., writes: "I have always used Baby's Own Tablets for my three children and can speak very highly of them as I could not get along without them. Baby's Own Tablets are the only medicine I would use for my children. The Tablets cure all the minor ills of little ones and the mother who always keeps a box of them in the house may feel reasonably safe against the consequences of sudden attacks of illness. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

Where Work is a Pleasure - For Women.

The entrance of women in England into unaccustomed lines of business prompts this genial bit of humor on the part of the Manchester Guardian: "The lady bank clerk had completed her first week, and a friend asked her how she liked the work. 'Oh, it's beautiful!' said the girl. 'I'm at a branch where nearly all the people we know have accounts, and it's so nice to see how little money some of your friends have in the bank!'"

More than a million dollars were received by the Presbyterian Church last year for special purposes.

The Legislature of Nova Scotia passed the second reading of a measure for the suffrage to women and to allow them to practise law.

The Dominion's revenue from all sources for the year ending March 31 is expected to be about $230,000,000, or $56,000,000 greater than last year's, the record to date.

Serve Save Produce

EVERY ONE CAN do something for his country

Some can bear arms
Some can produce food
Some can make munitions
Some can give money

It is the privilege of all to help.

YOU CAN SERVE by Fighting—Working—Saving—Giving

This is NATIONAL SERVICE

Are YOU doing your part?

ALL EYES turn now to the Canadian Farmer, for he can render the Empire SPECIAL SERVICE in this sternest year of the war.

But—our farms are badly undermanned—25,000 men are needed on the land.

With insufficient help, the Man on the Land fights an uphill fight to meet the pressing need for Food.

CITY and TOWN can help.

Municipal Councils, Churches and Schools, and other organizations, both of men and women, can render National Service by directing all available labour to the Land.

Farmers themselves can exchange labour. School boys can assist.

Were you raised on a farm? Can you drive a team? Can you handle fork or hoe? If you can't fight, you can produce. Spend the Summer working on the Farm.

Let every man, woman and child in the Dominion who has access to Land, no matter how small the plot, make it produce Food in 1917.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

Pleasant Evening Reveries dedicated to tired Mothers as they Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide.

"Is your father rich?" someone asked a five-year-old girl; and the little one replied confidentially, "Why, of course, he's got me." And she was right, too, for the father of a sweet, loving, helpful little daughter is richer than some millionaires whose money cannot buy them the love of a single heart. How about your father! Does he think he is a rich man because of the daughter at home? There are households where "it is hard to make both ends meet," but where there is plenty of that better wealth of love and kindness and loyalty. Is yours one of them?

The true home maker is a happy combination of the "Martha" and the "Mary" sort of women, for while not "troubled about many things," she leaves none of the essential things undone, and yet, "chooses the better part," and gives to love the first best place. Her house is healthfully clean from cellar to attic, but painfully neat nowhere; she is orderly and sympathetic enough to keep the machinery running smoothly, and not so prim that anyone is afraid of incurring reproachful looks or words by misplacing a chair; and if books and papers are now and then left scattered around, one is not told of it next morning at the breakfast table. The meals are well cooked and served on time, the beds thoroughly aired every morning, and sunshine and fresh air coaxed into the farthest corner of every room.

A cheerful, happy home is the sweetest place on earth and the greatest safeguard against temptation for the young. Parents should spare no pains to make home a cheerful place. There should be pictures to adorn the walls, flowers to cultivate the finer sensibilities, entertaining books, instructive newspapers and periodicals. These things, no doubt, cost money, but not a tithe the amount that one of the lesser vices costs, vices which are sure to be acquired away from home, but seldom there. Then there should be social pleasure, a gathering of old and young around the hearth-stone, a warm welcome to the neighbor who drops in to pass a pleasant hour. There should be music and reading. In this way each member of the family looks forward to the hour of reunion as the brightest one of the twenty-four.

Let not the young man, who is living beyond his income, deceive himself with the sophistry that he will retrieve his position. Let him not build air castles of future successes that will redeem the past, only to be crushed beneath their ruins. Out of your present you are building your future, and as surely as night follows day you will reap that which you have sown. Be not deceived. The law is inexorable. You cannot escape the consequences of your case. If you sow tares in the springtime of your life, these will make your harvest.

THE HANDLING OF EGGS.

At the present time when our every energy and effort is being put forward to increase the production of food products and make Canada more than ever before a large factor in the winning of the war, one's attention naturally turns to the food stocks available, and the waste evidenced in their handling. With no commodity is waste so apparent as it is in the handling of eggs.

During the past few years special endeavor has been made to bring this matter to the attention of producers and the wholesale trade. This appeal, however, is addressed more particularly to retailers, many of whom do not seem to realize the extreme perishability of eggs.

It is a common practice at this season of the year for many retailers to advertise the increasing egg supply and the rapidly falling prices, by displaying piles of eggs in their store window. The eggs thus exposed in many cases come under the direct rays of the sun, and are subjected to a temperature behind the plate glass window of about 100 degrees. The excessive heat resulting causes serious deterioration through evaporation accompanied by loss of flavor. Further at this time of the year a large percentage of the eggs marketed are fertilized, and as it is common knowledge that a temperature of 70 degrees is sufficient to start incubation, the possibility of serious deterioration will be readily seen.

It is good business to advertise, but window displays of eggs defeat the aim of the advertiser in that the resulting deterioration of the eggs causes dissatisfaction among consumers, and so retards consumption. Eggs should be kept in the cleanest, coolest, driest place in the store, removed from mustiness, foul odors, or other sources of contamination.

The food value of eggs, their freedom from waste, the saving in time, labour, and fuel in their preparation, and the favorable way they compare in price with other articles of food places them in an important place in the diet of our people. Now, as never before in the history of the Dominion, the conservation of food supplies must be one of our chief considerations, and the waste now apparent in the handling of eggs, that can be eliminated by careful and more up-to-date methods, is a consideration that will appeal to every citizen, his country, and the Empire as a whole.

if good fruit, then will the autumn fill your granaries. Remember, too, that there is but one seed time, and that for you is fraught with weal or woe. There is but one garnering time and it rests with you alone whether you shall garner honor or shame, success or galling poverty, righteousness or unrighteousness.

Our young people must be taught that "all is not gold that glitters," and "that fine dress does not make the man or woman." We must begin right if we expect to rear our children up to contentment and happiness. Teach them to be industrious and not idle away their time. There are so many young people to-day that are living only in the present dancing away golden hours, when they should be thinking, studying and working. Girls should be taught how to manage and keep house while with mother. As she grows older, let the mantle gradually fall from mother's shoulders on to hers, and when she is called to a home of her own she will not feel at a loss. She will know how and where to begin. We know there are mothers now toiling to keep grown girls from work when they are able and would willingly do it, had they not been brought up with the idea instilled into their heads that young ladies must not mar their beauty by work.

Extravagant dress has broken more husbands than it has made model wives.

There is but one way out of poverty for the generality of mankind and that is downright hard work, economy and self-denial. Young man, draw off your coat, roll up your sleeves and wade in. The everlasting waiting for something to turn up—waiting to step into dead men's shoes, will terminate your career as a mere groveling, dependent, subsisting and only existing and filling space without a real or single purpose in life. Wake up! Stir around and send the life blood coursing through your veins. Hold up your head, clean your face, put on a smile, and cast that woe-be-gone look in the rubbish by the wayside, where it belongs. Move forward, clear the track, and the grandest opportunities of life will open up, which you want to seize with a tenacious grip, and they will unfold to you all the hidden treasures you ever imagined or conceived.

Nothing impresses us more than the lack of enjoyment some parents have during the children's happiest days. Either conscience so tyrannizes over them that they have no real pleasure, or they are haughty, so that some evil will befall their darlings, or the excess of life are so clamorous and incessant that they have no respite from their stress and strain. While the children are young and we are young with them, let us take the sweetest which belongs to us.

A. McKIM LIMITED ADVERTISING AGENCY NEW EXECUTIVE.

The new Executive of A. McKim, Limited, Advertising Agency of Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and London, Eng., has been announced.

During the last few years, the late Mr. Anson McKim had gathered around him an executive staff capable of relieving him of all but a general oversight of the rapidly growing business of the advertising agency which he founded nearly thirty years ago, and which now comprises four offices in different cities and over 140 employees.

Since his death, these experienced men have been carrying on the work in the same efficient way that has characterized "McKim's" for so many years.

The personnel of the executive as now organized is J. N. McKim, President and Treasurer; Mrs. Anson McKim, Vice-President; W. B. Somerset, General Manager; H. E. Stephenson, Secretary; C. T. Pearce, Manager at Toronto; Thos. Bell, Manager at Winnipeg; W. Keeble, Manager at London, Eng.

The appreciation of the value of advertising space in local and home papers of modest circulation, always a strong feature of this Agency's policy, will be as marked as ever under the present management.

The new mace for the Canadian Commons was presented to Premier Borden in London.

Patrick Gorman, President of the Board of Trade at Sudbury, died suddenly of heart failure.

R. B. Gamey, member of the legislature for Manitoulin, died at the Toronto general hospital. He was operated upon last week for an abscess on the lung. He was in his 52nd year.

Emerson St. Pierre was committed at Cornwall for trial on the charge of murdering his father, Wm. St. Pierre, near Aulaville, on Feb. 8, and Nettie Richmore was committed for trial as an accessory after the fact.

Sleepy Time Story About a Very Lively Little Fisherman.

HE WEARS A HANDSOME COAT

Small but Fierce Creature That is Much Admired by Indians of British Columbia—Sometimes Steals the Farmers' Chickens.

Well, said Uncle Ben, as this is the season when furs are in fashion, I am going to tell you about A FUR BEARER.

The mink is a little animal that is found most anywhere in the northern part of our country.

The creature is about fifteen or eighteen inches long, a relation to the weasel and the skunk and shaped something like they are.

It lives along brooks and rivers in a burrow or hole in the bank. Its food is fish when it can get fish and frogs or small animals when fish is not to be had.

The mink will take birds, and sometimes it will go for the farmer's poultry.

So when a country boy sees a mink near the farm he is apt to try very hard to catch it.

The mink is a cruel little animal itself and can fight bravely if cornered.

The mink is a very fine fisherman. His way of getting the fish is to trot along the bank of the stream until he sees one; then he will dive after it.

He can swim under water as well as the fish, and if it tries to hide under a log or in a grotto under the water the mink swims right after it and, grabbing it in his strong jaws, soon makes short work of it.

The Indians of British America, way up in the far north, admire the mink very much. Indian mothers have a lullaby which they sing to their little ones, and it goes something like this:

See the merry mink there diving
In the water clear and cool,
For the speckled salmon seeking
In the lily crested pool.

Although the fur of the northern mink is much finer than that of the animals found in milder regions, mink can live in almost any of our northern states.

In winter Mother Nature gives the mink a thick and handsome coat, and it is then that trappers set traps to catch him.

No matter how cruel the mink may be, these traps are more cruel still, for the poor beast is held a living captive, sometimes for several days, till the trapper makes his rounds and puts him out of his misery.

Winter in Florida.

While so many folks in the north are wrapped in furs and woollens, those who are spending the winter in Florida need no such garments. They lose, however, many pleasures that make cold weather very enjoyable to many people—old and young. For instance, they cannot skate because there is no ice, and the only coasting they may do is on a roller coaster. Sleight riding is also an unknown sport where the warm sun shines. The little people here pictured probably don't give a thought to those sports because they are having a jolly time in the sand. No Jack Frost to nip their toes and color their cheeks.

The Hen.

The hen is such a funny bird. She only says a single word, and that sounds just like "Walk, walk, walk!"

Why is it that she cannot talk?

I like to give her lots of grain
At morning and at night again.
She walks in such a dainty way
I often watch her when at play.

And every day she hunts a nest
And tries and tries her very best
To lay a lovely egg for me
That I may have it poached for tea.

The Scrap Book.

"Does your husband keep a scrap book?"

"Not exactly. He keeps a check book and we have a scrap every time it is used for my benefit."—Boston Transcript.

Delayed Appreciation.

"Do you enjoy opera?"
"Yes," replied Mr. Cumrox. "I enjoy an opera first rate after the tunes in it have become sufficiently popular to be played by the brass bands."

TUESDAY, MARCH 27TH, 1917.

The prospect is that the War Loan will be largely over-subscribed, in fact, instead of $150,000,000, the subscriptions may reach a quarter billion.

The government has expropriated the Ross factory and some day will make the Lee-Enfield rifles. The war may be over, however, before the factory can be put in operation as a government enterprise.

Canada's third domestic war loan has proved another great success. When the returns are all in it is expected that the subscriptions will exceed the sum asked by a clear hundred million dollars.

The Regina Province, a conservative paper, has announced its party independence. It is in favor of free trade in wheat, free trade in machinery, aid to milling and packing houses, and federal prohibition in support of provincial prohibition.

THE WEEK IN THE LEGISLATURE.

Toronto, March 24.—Race track gambling, particularly during the war, came in for a goodly amount of criticism in the Legislature.

It was Lambert Wigle, member for South Essex, who brought the matter before the House. He objected particularly to the establishment last year of two more race tracks in the vicinity of Windsor, which makes a total of three in that city alone, operating 42 days in the year.

"In this time of war," said Mr. Wigle, "we need every bit of our energy and strength for the successful prosecution of the war." He thought that the allowing of race track gambling was a crying shame. Professional gamblers and crooks driven out from the States, were finding a place to carry out their designs in Ontario.

Sam Carter, M. P. P. for South Wellington, thought that race track gambling in Ontario was an outrageous scandal. Men sitting in high places were making fortunes through their connection with race tracks. Mr. McGarry declared that the government could not keep these tracks out and that all they had done was to license them to obtain a revenue.

Mr. Carter, however, felt that the government could have prevented this state of affairs by placing the license fee at a prohibitive rate. Mr. McGarry thought that such a proceeding might be declared illegal.

WHAT'S AN "ATRIUM"?

Ordinary every-day citizens of Ontario in their own homes call it a "front hall," but in Government House, which the people of Ontario are paying for with their own money during war time, it is called the "atrium," and the marble alone in the "atrium" cost the province $20,000, and the total expense in this part of the building will run well over $30,000.

This is one of the latest sensational details brought to light in the Public Accounts Committee. Another point brought out is that the government sent its architect to New York to visit homes of some of the great millionaires of the United States to get suggestions for furnishing Government House.

In addition, the former Minister of Public Works, Dr. Reaume, went to Europe to visit the elaborate chateaux of that continent, also to get suggestions for furnishing Ontario's Government House.

As one of the members of the committee pointed out, not only should Ontario not ape the extravagance of American millionaires, but there is also this difference that the New Yorkers at least paid for their own houses, whereas this palace is being built with the money of the people of Ontario, not 1/10 of whom ever visit the place.

BIG SALARY INCREASES: Governmental economy, especially during the war, is being urged vigorously by the Liberals in the Legislature. Not only are they condemning in the warmest kind of way the extravagant expenditures on Government House, but they are also dealing with other aspects of the question.

C. M. Bowman, Chief Liberal Whip, led a debate in the House deprecating the unnecessary multiplication of government officials during the past two years, whereby there are practically two officials in the Inside Service to-day for every one in the year 1904. Mr. Bowman also contended that owing to the prevailing war conditions, the time was inopportune for the general increase being made by the government in the salaries of those employed in the public service, especially of those already in receipt of substantial salaries of $2,000 per year and upwards.

The government voted down his resolution that the cost of civil government should not be further increased at this time except where essential to ensure its efficiency, and that no permanent increases in salaries of $2,000 and upwards should be made at this time.

Mr. Dewar, during the debate, referred particularly to the case of the Deputy Registrar General, who is receiving an increase of $800 or 50% of his present salary. This official, Mr. Dewar said, was the brother-in-law of the Assistant Provincial Secretary, and from another brother-in-law of the same officer in Sarnia, the drugs for government institutions all over the province had been purchased.

ITEMS: Sir Adam Beck made a slashing attack against Mackenzie & Mann and other big railway interests and claimed that water power had been stolen from the people. Mr. Rowell said that the people of Canada hadn't received the transportation facilities they were entitled to, and believed they would not be satisfied with the consolidation of the railways under private ownership.

The whole system of lines would have to be operated for the benefit of the public.

Sam Carter's motion for adequate treatment by the government of the urgent and serious problem of the feeble-minded in Ontario was rejected as in past years. "It makes your blood boil," said Alan Studholme, Independent Labor member of East Hamilton, "when you see how this problem is being allowed to drift by the government."

WAR LOAN WAS A SUCCESS.

Subscriptions May Reach the Quarter Billion Mark.

OTTAWA, March 26.—Canada's third domestic war loan was considerably over-subscribed even without the applications of the chartered banks of the country for sixty million dollars of the bonds or of persons seeking to convert ten-year securities, floated in 1911, or 5 per cent. debenture stock maturing in 1919, into the new twenty-year issue.

It is predicted that the subscriptions for the new loan may be found to have reached $250,000,000, including those of the banks, and excluding those to be paid by conversion of the earlier war issues.

An official statement issued Sunday says: "While the subscription lists of Canada's third war loan closed on Friday, the 23rd of March, several days must yet elapse before the mails from distant points carrying thousands of subscriptions are received. Sufficient applications, however, have come to hand to warrant the Minister of Finance in stating that the loan is an unqualified success. When all the subscriptions have been received it will be found that the loan has been considerably over-subscribed without taking into account the subscriptions of the chartered banks or conversions into this loan of bonds or stock of any other issue. Indeed, the Minister would not be surprised if the total subscriptions, including those of the banks and excluding conversions, would aggregate $250,000,000."

All three domestic loans floated in Canada have been over-subscribed. In 1914, when fifty millions were required, applications for one hundred were received. In 1916, when $100,000,000 of bonds were offered, subscriptions for more than double that amount were received. It is said that in the present case only the original authorized total of $150,000,000 will be issued, that the subscriptions of the banks will probably not be accepted, and that the funds in their hands will thus be left available for carrying on the ordinary business of the country.

Germany Bullies Holland.

LONDON, March 26.—A Berlin telegram transmitted by Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent maintains that the Dutch Government was guilty of an unneutral act in permitting the armed British steamer Princess Melita to leave Dutch waters after her recent visit to them. The despatch declares the steamer ought to have been interned. Referring to the Dutch action, the despatch continues: "This is the more galling to Germany because about the same time the Dutch gave a narrow interpretation of neutrality in the case of two German submarines. Holland's difficult position is appreciated in Germany, but Germany must demand that in a matter so important in naval warfare as the utilization of Dutch waters by warships she shall not be placed at a disadvantage in a completely unjustifiable way."

Sheltered Discharged Soldiers.

LONDON, March 26.—Monsignor Louis Legraive, vicar-general to Cardinal Mercier, Primate of Belgium, has been sentenced to three months imprisonment and deported to Germany for sheltering a discharged French soldier for one night, according to a Central News despatch from Amsterdam.

This information is confirmed by a Reuter despatch from Amsterdam, which adds that Canon Allard, spiritual director of the great seminary of Malines, of which Monsignor Legraive was president, has been sentenced to eight months' imprisonment in Germany for giving shelter to another discharged French soldier.

China has taken steps leading to a rupture with Austria-Hungary.

Much discussion has no doubt taken place during this winter in most homes as to whether they shall buy a Motor Car or not this season. From all sides comes the word, "We are going to buy one."

- BECAUSE— 1. It is the cheapest to buy, and the cheapest to keep up. 2. Dealers who sell Ford Cars are compelled to give service to the buyer. 3. It is the easiest to learn to drive, and to care for.

The Ford Motor Company would not let anyone be their dealer who does not look after their customers. We built last year a Fire-proof Garage, and have placed the Repair Department under the charge of one of the best mechanics to be found in Canada.

Forest Wealth Will Be Much Better Protected Under New Legislation

THE promised bill for the protection of Ontario's forest wealth from fire was introduced into the Legislature by Hon. G. Howard Ferguson and has been adopted in principle. The occasion did not pass, however, without some remarks by captious Liberals, who never lose an opportunity to howl about "patronage." But this time they howled too long, for it gave the Minister of Lands, Forests and Mines an opportunity of stating to the House just what has actually taken place in Ontario under the administration of the present Government.

Speaking of the inside service, Mr. Ferguson said that there were fifty-six employees in his department, thirty of whom were appointees of the late Government. Since the present Government had assumed office he said that only two employees had been removed, and that for "good and sufficient reasons." With regard to the fire rangers and woods service, he declared, that not in one instance had he ever inquired the political feelings of an applicant, but rather his height, weight, and physical fitness for the work, and what experience he had had. Similarly the superintendent in each district in Northern Ontario had all been retained in their positions, except one who had since died.

In explaining the provisions of the legislation, Mr. Ferguson said that a Provincial Forester, Mr. G. A. Zavitz, would have charge of the bureau, and he, by the way, is a son-in-law of the late Minister of Agriculture, Hon. John Dryden, who would have power to control the burning of slash, etc., by settlers and woodmen, and also to step in and clear slash and debris that constituted a fire menace around settlements. The right would also be given municipalities to clear danger spots near their borders, and would co-operate with the lumber companies, so that the great natural heritage in the north would not be further dissipated by fire.

Step by step Ontario is advancing in social legislation. Two years ago the Workmen's Compensation Act was passed, which has since become the model for all countries adopting this proper and wise scheme for the protection of human life and energy. The eight-hour day has been given to miners; factory and shop legislation has been greatly improved, and a fortnight ago the Prime Minister announced the extension of the franchise to women. More recently the Minister of Education introduced a measure to provide pensions for school teachers, and immediately upon the introduction of that bill a deputation from the educational profession from all over the Province met the Cabinet and applauded the action of the Government.

The Bill provides for a contribution by the teachers of 2 1/4 per cent of their salaries, and a similar amount will be provided by the Government. The scale of pensions will range from $350 per year to $1,000. Provision is made for retirement after twenty, thirty, and forty years of service, and, in the cases of sickness and disability after fifteen years. It is also arranged for those who leave the service after contributing to the fund for six years that they may withdraw all they have paid in. This is to meet the cases of those, mostly young women, who leave teaching to get married. It is expected that the amount immediately available for the fund will be $475,000, and will meet many cases of teachers who for years have been anxious to retire into private life. To guard against the experience of other pension schemes, that have collapsed after a few years, this scheme has been considered by an expert actuary, and the bill requires the fund to be revised by an actuary every three years, so that all concerned may be advised as to its stability.

From all sides the Government was complimented upon this legislation, and it was agreed that there was no diminution in the steady line of progress that the present Government was making, following the lines laid down by Sir James Whitney.

Bringing into concrete form the promise that the Government would institute a system of provincial highways, extending from the southwest corner of the Province to the Quebec boundary, Hon. F. G. McDiarmid, Minister of Public Works and Highways, brought down legislation authorizing this to be done. The bill gives power to the Cabinet to lay out such a system of highways under proclamation, after filing plans of the roads to be taken over in the local registry office. For the portion of these roads running through local municipalities, the Province will pay 70 per cent of the cost, and the local municipalities 30 per cent. In cases where the road traverses a suburban area, defined under the Highway Improvement Act, the Province will pay 40 per cent, the cities (that is the municipality defining the suburban area) 30 per cent, and the local municipalities 30 per cent. Where it is necessary to allot the cost in this ratio a clause in the bill provides for a general reference to the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, where all parties interested may be heard and an equitable adjustment made.

Record Jumpers.
The beings that can leap the greatest distance are found to be among insects—the flea and grasshopper. The former can hop over an obstacle 500 times its height, which is the same as if a man could hop over a mountain 3,000 feet high. A grasshopper can jump 200 times its length. How tall are you? Four feet? Well, if you were a grasshopper you could leap 800 feet.

A beautiful complexion is a handsome woman's chief glory and the envy of her less fortunate rivals. Yet a soft, clear skin—glowing with health—is only the natural result of pure blood.

"I was troubled for a considerable time with a very unpleasant, disfiguring Rash, which covered my face and for which I used applications and remedies without relief. After using 'Fruit-a-tives' for one week, the rash is completely gone. I am deeply thankful for the relief and in the future, I will not be without 'Fruit-a-tives'."

In Arctic Siberia.

"Among the strange and little-known peoples dwelling in remote and trackless regions of the far North are the primitive native races of Arctic Siberia. Their vast habitat extends from the extreme corner of north-eastern Asia, for thousands of miles inland and along the Arctic Ocean. Two of these peoples, the Yakuts and Koryaks, are especially interesting.

"The Yakuts are the largest and most cultured of all the primitive races of Siberia. They live in the great province of Kakutsk, a territory five times larger than that of Texas together with all the New England States. The extreme northern part of their country is the coldest region on earth, the temperature falling to eighty and ninety degrees below zero. Here the soil is eternally frozen for hundreds of feet below the surface; even at the height of summer, only a yard of unfrozen soil vepeers the admixture of earth and ice, affording foothold for the gray tundra-moss and occasional patches of grass and dwarf willow.

"The natives live in yourtas, or semi-underground huts, and a few one-story log-cottages, as do the Russian administrative officials. For ten months the country is a dreary, trackless sea of driven snow, with far lower temperatures than the regions about the north and south poles. During the brief summer thaw of two months, the tundra, as the open country is called, is an impassable swamp.

"The Yakuts are the most numerous tribe of eastern Siberia, numbering some 250,000, and are typical representatives of the culture of the Turkish tribes of Central Asia. In spite of their present isolation from the other branches of the Turkish race and their probable mixture with Mongols and others, the Yakuts, in the course of their migrations, have preserved one of the oldest and purest dialects of the language spoken by the Kirghiz, the Tartars, and other Turkish peoples."

Ship Scuttlers Failed.

FLORENCE, S.C., March 12.—Eight officers of the German steamship Liebenfels, sunk in Charleston harbor the night of January 31 last, Saturday were sentenced to a year in the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary and to pay a fine of $500 each. They were convicted Saturday of sinking a vessel in a navigable stream in violation of the navigation laws. Bond was fixed at $6,000 in each case, which the defendants were not immediately able to give. While efforts were being made to arrange for bonds, the prisoners were kept in the Federal Court House under guard.

The defence gave notice of an appeal. Nine officers of the vessel were indicted, but as Captain Klattenhoff was ill in Charleston his case was postponed.

The Government charged that the men not only opened the Liebenfels' sea cocks, causing her to sink, but that they wrecked the machinery and opened the wireless plant officially sealed by United States officers.

Controversy Now Kaging Round Lord John Fisher England's Naval Genius

ONE result of the remarkable Dardanelles campaign will undoubtedly be to renew the clamor for the return of Lord Fisher to the Admiralty. Ever since his resignation Lord Fisher's friends have been working with might and main to reinstate him, on the plea that he is the greatest naval strategist in England and the only man capable of dealing with the submarine menace.

This belief seems to be founded, in so far as it has any foundation, on the tradition that the failure of the submarine campaign of 1915 was due entirely to Lord Fisher's genius and energy. Only the other day a Member of Parliament, at one time Civil Lord of the Admiralty, predicted that in three months' time, "when people's belts were tightening," popular pressure would force the government to take him back, and prayerfully adjured them to take him now, when he could be had on easy terms.

The complaint of these ardent partisans has always been that Lord Fisher was scandalously treated when the failure of the Dardanelles enterprise had been demonstrated, and now that it appears clearly that he never approved of the methods adopted, that he was from the first a more or less active opponent of those methods, they will, of course, be more than ever zealous to increase his power and authority.

LORD JOHN FISHER

But, after all, even his enemies never believed that Lord Fisher was responsible for the experiment so boldly defended by Mr. Winston Churchill on the occasion of his resignation. They never really believed that the attacks which resulted in the fruitless sacrifice of ships and men were conceived by Lord Fisher or that Mr. Churchill's amazing attempt to justify his course reflected the opinion of his naval adviser. "We had seen," said Mr. Churchill, "great fortresses, reputed to be the strongest in Europe, collapsing, fort by fort, under five or ten shells from 15-inch howitzers. Here was the Queen Elizabeth, with eight 15-inch guns on the broadside," and so forth. No one supposed that this absurd comparison was conceived by Lord Fisher, or, indeed, that he ever could have countenanced Mr. Churchill's wild gamble.

The real complaint against Lord Fisher is that he tacitly consented to the scheme. His critics hold that he ought to have resigned when his advice was overruled and not afterward, when the disastrous consequences had already been achieved. The truth appears to be that he did offer to resign, but "reluctantly yielded to Lord Kitchener's entreaty and resumed his seat." Be that as it may, it is evident that his attitude was throughout too passive, and that in effect he allowed Mr. Churchill to carry out what he obviously objected to—a purely naval attack, which he knew to be full of danger and wholly unjustifiable. If he had stuck to his well founded opinion and refused absolutely to allow the adventure his associates would hardly have dared to pursue it further. That is the probable reason why no change is being made in the organization of the Admiralty in spite of the steady clamor of Lord Fisher's friends. That he is a naval genius, no one denies, but he is not any more infallible than other men.

Town to Aid Gardening.
With the idea of inducing citizens generally to aid in food production, Mayor C. W. Hoare, of Walkerville, is urging residents of the town to utilize all available vacant land in the town. The facilities of the corporation, such as horses and plows, will be available for those who desire to make use of them. A nominal charge will be made to those able to pay. Any citizens unable to do so will have the use of the teams free, and in addition will be supplied with free potatoes. The plan promises to meet with instant favor.

A BEARER OF DISPATCHES

His Difficulties in Reaching His Destination

By ALAN HINSDALE

When the pan-European war broke out I offered my services to the war department of Great Britain for secret service.

My fitness to serve the British at this time and in this field was that I am an American and had an American passport.

I made my offer through an official in the office of the foreign secretary who knew something of my antecedents and was in a position to vouch for me.

When he had satisfied himself with regard to my fitness for the work he said to me:

"We wish some one to take certain important instructions to our ambassador at Athens. You are probably aware that there are certain Balkan nations for whose support both the entente and the central allies are struggling."

"The commission was given me, and I accepted it. Had there been no risk attending it I should not have been interested in it."

As to my route, it was uncertain. I might go all the way by sea, but there was some danger of being submarined.

I had scarcely seated myself in the train for Southampton—I proposed to cross the channel from there to Havre.

On reaching Havre I stood holding my baggage, a suit case, in the crowd of passengers waiting to leave the boat for the dock.

My first attempt to outwit my way-layers was a success. They had got a dummy dispatch, and I had the real one sewed in the lining of my vest. However, this did not accord with my plans.

But they did not lose track of me, for the man I had seen observing me on the train from London to Southampton kept me in sight.

I had a trunk with me, and as soon as I could get possession of it I called a fiacre and, putting the trunk in it, got in the cab and told the driver to take me to the station of the railway running eastward along the Mediterranean.

I fell in with a lot of women who received my intrusion so angrily that I concluded to enlist them, if possible, to my service by appealing to their patriotism.

When I departed from the house in which I had taken refuge I did so dressed in the apparel of one of the women after dark and under the guidance of another, for I did not know the way to the dock.

I had succeeded in my maneuver in respect to the man who had been watching me in throwing him off my track. But the enemy had left nothing to chance.

I was sitting in a secluded corner on deck when a man approached me, raised his hat politely and made some passing remark, as though he wished to scrape an acquaintance.

The first thing I did after reaching it was to doff my woman's apparel and put on my own. I knew the man who had spoken to me would be on the look-out for me, and when next I went on deck, seeing him at a distance, I walked toward him.

What he did was this: He went to the captain of the boat and told him that I was an Englishman fleeing from justice. Of course since I had come aboard as a woman and was now a man there was excellent ground for the accusation.

The next day we passed a French man-of-war. I induced the captain to signal her and send me on board of her.

This ended my embarrassments, for I delivered my dispatch, and it was doubtless communicated to the king of Greece.

My first attempt to outwit my way-layers was a success. They had got a

THE WEAR OF COINS.

Chemical Action Has More to Do With It Than Has Abrasion.

In the latest report of the British mint Sir Thomas K. Rose, a well known metallurgical expert, calls attention to the effect of grease derived from the sweat of the fingers or from other sources in accelerating the wear of coins, which is usually attributed entirely to abrasion.

Sir Thomas says that the fatty acids of the grease have a corrosive action upon the metal. Copper in particular, even if present only in small quantity as an alloy for gold or silver, is converted into an oleate, stearate or other salt.

Haagen Smit of the Utrecht mint found by analysis that the dirt on a bronze coin contained 36 per cent of copper in the form of powdered compounds of the fatty acids. When the coin is handled the dirt is in part detached, and the coin undergoes a loss of weight.

Gold or silver is not readily converted into salts, but removing the copper leaves the less easily attacked metals in a spongy form that offers little resistance to abrasion.

In new coins the rapid loss of weight that occurs is doubtless caused at first by abrasion, but when the rough edges have been removed chemical action may prove to be of the first importance in the succeeding deterioration.

Palisades of the Hudson.

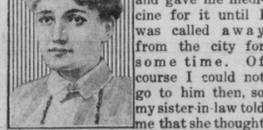

The Palisades are slowly changing. To the traveler of a hundred years ago they were a sheer cliff of clean rock rising in a perpendicular line from the water's edge nearly a thousand feet.

The upward growth of this supporting pile is due to the trees—evergreens of various kinds—which have grown seemingly right out of the rocks.

Text of the Lesson, John ix, 1-38. Memory Verses, 3-5—Golden Text, John ix, 5—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

This is the sixth of the seven miracles in John's gospel before His resurrection from the dead, and He seems to teach us here that all blind people and sick people of every kind and all difficult circumstances were opportunities for Him to work the works of God and to glorify God.

Yet there are people who want an experience just like some one else. Why not let Him work as He sees fit and be content? For his way is always perfect.

Jesus found him and revealed Himself to him as the Son of God, who had healed him, and the man eagerly believed and worshipped Him.

CULTIVATE JUDGMENT.

Without It Intellect and Knowledge Accomplish Little.

Intelligence, Knowledge and Judgment were strolling along one day when they came to a young baby sleeping by the roadside.

"Here's a chance to do some good," said Intelligence. "That youngster appears to be a splendid specimen of humanity. Suppose we serve him during his lifetime."

"All of us?" asked Judgment. "Why not?" said Knowledge. "By combining we shall be able to produce a very superior person. I second the motion."

Some moments later when the baby rubbed his eyes upon a new world he found himself equipped with Intelligence, Knowledge and Judgment.

Many years later the three were again out for a stroll.

"By the way," said Knowledge as they came to a spot at the roadside, "do you remember that long ago we three agreed to serve a certain youngster?"

"Perfectly," said Intelligence. "The curious thing about it all is that, although he is a perfectly good human being and respected by all, he has never amounted to much—has never acquired that supreme distinction which he should have received with us three backing him up."

Judgment was silent. They both turned to him.

"How do you account for it?" they asked. "I account for it quite simply," said Judgment. "I agreed temporarily to go in with you and serve him because there was a majority against me. But it didn't seem to me fair that he should have so much, so I after a little quietly withdrew and left him to be served by only you two."

IN DEFENCE OF PREMIER LOYD GEORGE.

Rev. Mr. Lowry, of Franktown, Answers Hon. Charles Murphy.

At a supper held in the Orange hall at Franktown, on the evening of St. Patrick's Day, to bid farewell to Mr. Denis McCarthy and his son James, who were leaving for a new location in Western Canada, Rev. J. W. S. Lowry spoke at length on the Irish political situation and warmly endorsed Premier Lloyd George's proposed solution of the question. He paid a high compliment to the valor and heroism of the soldier sons of Old Ireland on the battle fields of Europe, and to the whole-souled devotion of Irishmen of all persuasions, to faith, and freedom, and fatherland. Mr. Lowry said that whilst in common with many Irish Protestants, he deplored the dismemberment of Ireland, by dividing North and South from each other, yet he felt that it would be both unwise and impossible to coerce the Ulster minority into allegiance to the new and untried experiment of Irish Home Rule. The Ulster people, who were genuinely patriotic Irishmen, and also enthusiastic citizens of the Empire, could be won to the cause of self-government for Ireland by good legislation, and it was up to the Irish majority to prove that that was possible. He denounced in the strongest manner, the partisan tirade of Hon. Charles Murphy and his bad taste in branding the first citizen of the empire as a "traitor." Mr. Lowry contended that it was Mr. Murphy who had played the game of "traitor" to the principles of true Liberalism, "which he preferred to follow." Conciliation—not Coercion had always been the policy and the slogan, and in fact one of the first principles of Liberalism, but the policy and slogan of some party political leaders was evidently far removed from that. The speaker said that in 1896 he had heartily supported the Liberal policy of "conciliation," against the reactionist Tory policy of "coercion," attempted by the Tupperites, but here was an ex-cabinet minister of the Laurier government, now openly and recklessly playing false to the time-honored doctrine of true Liberalism by advocating the coercion of the Ulster Irish minority. If that course were the proper one, Mr. Murphy should be advocating and agitating, with the vehement nature so eminently characteristic of him, the coercion of Newfoundland into the Confederation of our Canadian Dominion. Mr. Lowry went on to say there were thousands of Irish Protestants at home and abroad, who had no sympathy whatever with Sir Edward Carson's propaganda of Germanism in Ulster, nor with his whole crusade of bluster and arrant hypocrisy and sham, but, at the same time, who realized the difficulties involved in the attempt to force home rule on an intelligent and loyal minority in Ireland. Premier Lloyd George was amply justified in the stand he had taken up, when it was remembered that considerably over one million of the Irish people themselves had stoutly refused to accept at first hand the untried experiment of a Dublin legislature. The Imperial Premier was trying to work out an amicable solution of an extremely perplexing situation, and his conciliatory policy was the one which would ultimately triumph over factionism and folly. Referring to the demand of Hon. Mr. Murphy, that orders should be sent from Canada to Sir R. L. Borden to interfere in the matter of the Irish internal difficulty, Rev. Mr. Lowry stated that Mr. Murphy was here again displaying his utter unacquaintance with truly Liberal principles and playing false to the doctrine of the great Liberal leaders from time immemorial, which was that the colonies were "daughters only in the mother's house, but mistress in their own," and it would therefore be an unwarranted impertinence for our Canadian Prime Minister to assume the role of a dictator of Imperial policy in regard to the internal question of Irish government. The speaker said that he warmly sympathized with the attitude of Premier Lloyd George as a statesman-like course—the only course open to him in fact—he was the greatest living exponent of British democracy and not the tool of the "privileged class," as Mr. Murphy had falsely imputed to him. It was altogether unworthy of any Canadian to bring a railing accusation against the first citizen of the Empire and it would be strongly resented by patriotic Canadians from ocean to ocean.

A resolution in hearty support of Premier Lloyd George and strongly condemnatory of Hon. Charles Murphy's uncalculated attack, was enthusiastically passed by the meeting, and the proceedings concluded by the singing of the national anthem.

The Kaiser is reported to have suffered a nervous breakdown.

The embargo on plows has been lifted as far as Canada is concerned.

JOIN THE ENGINEERS.

Careful consideration is always given to a boy's start in life. A well-known business man stated the other day that to-day the chief business is war. That being so wise young men are considering which branch of the service to join. The question is easily settled, according to a well-known local recruiting officer. The war will not last forever and he advocates joining a corps where one will learn something that will be useful for the rest of one's life.

That corps, he claims, is the Engineers. In that unit a man who has a trade learns much to improve his skill and one who has no trade is taught one as well as many useful arts that will be serviceable in civilian life. Some of the things taught in the Engineers are construction of all kinds, use of explosives, calculations, estimates, bridge building, knots and lashing, handling of spars, derricks, use of lock and tackle draughting, geometry, horsemanship, and in addition telegraphy and electrical line and instrument repairing. The Engineers also learn to ride and drive while swimming is a necessary accomplishment of the sapper.

Men are urgently needed for this branch of the service at present and an active recruiting campaign is proceeding in this district now.

For further information see or write Lieut. H. J. KIRBY, Base Recruiting office, Sparks street, Ottawa.

UNCLE SAM AT WAR.

May Send Small "Sentimental" Force to France.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—President Wilson's plans for the army are more far reaching and elaborate than generally realized, according to General Staff officers who are in a position to predict with some degree of accuracy. It can be stated that the general programme which the President is now considering includes the following salient features: The immediate raising of a volunteer army of 500,000 men, bringing of the National Guard up to its maximum strength, taking into the regular army without delay the second increment of army reserve, thereby raising the military strength to 1,085,000. Recruiting of navy to full authorized war strength of 87,000.
