Hartford, Conn., Oct. 22.—Charles Dudley Warner, of literary fame, one of the owners of the Hartford Courant, ied suddenly Saturday evening. Warner had a very severe attack of pneumonia two years ago while in New Orleans, and never fully recovered from it. Mr. Warner's great abilities and his charming personal qualities won for him a great circle of friends, including probably most of the leaders in literature. He was a man of delightful temperament, and as his many published works show, of a fine wit and humor. Among his special friends were his pastor, Rev. Joseph H. Twitchell and Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain).

THEY ADVERTISE THEMSELVES -Immediately they were offered to the public, Parmlee's Vegetable Pills became popular because of the good report they made for themselves. That reputation has grown, and they now rank among the first medicines for use in attacks of dyspepsia and billousness, complaints of the liver and kidneys, rheumatism, fever and ague and the innumerable complications to which these ailments give rise.

Mems of the Merry War.

The Toronto Star correspondent, who was at the Wallaceburg meeting, says: "Mr. Mills got a very hearty hand, and his old constituency of Bothwell mightily admires him."

In Ontario we have the method of one man one vote. In Quebec men vote wherever they have property, as Ontario used to do. Yet Quebec does not get any more members of Parliament because its people vote as they do. Up here in Ontario we prefer the one man one vote method. If some other province prefers some other way, no harm is thereby done to us in On-

Hon. David Mills, who has got back from his Western Ontario tour, says the meetings were splendidly attended and greatly enthusiastic. He thinks Western Ontario will do grandly for the Liberal cause.

Laurier is the Lord Roberts of this general election. Sir Oom Paul Tupper is not in it this time. La Presse, of Montreal, an independent Conservative journal of immense circulation, has become so disgusted with Tupper's two-faced policy that it now speaks out in frank and independent fashion in favor of the Laurier candidates. The Mail does not approve of noise in political meetings. It should whis-per to Sir Charles Tupper that he speak with baited breath.—Kingston Whig.

Hon. David Mills will speak at Aylmer on Wednesday evening; Sparta, Thursday; St. Marys, Friday, and Glencoe on Nov. 5.

Sir Charles at Toronto has been again prophesying victory. If Sir Charles will descend into the cistern of his memory, he will find that he said something very similar in 1896. And we know how it turned out.

Tonight's Meeting.

All arrangements have been completed for the big Liberal mass meeting tonight, and the city hall has been appropriately decorated for the occasion. Hon. Senator David Mills, minister of justice; Hon. Wm. Mulock, postmaster general and minister of labor, and Mr. C. S. Hyman, the Liberal candidate, are to be the principal speakers of the evening. Mr. Mulock will speak especially to the workingmen of London, and no one is better qualified to speak on questions concerning the toiler than is the minister of labor, he having been interested in and advocated many reforms in their behalf, such as the non-sweating system and the fair-wage laws affecting government work. The north end gallery will be reserved for ladies. The meeting will be opened promptly at 8 o'clock by the president of the London Liberal Association, Geo. C Gibbons, Q.C. Be on hand early and secure a good seat.

Has Silenced All Talk of His Retirement.

The Cabinet Makers, However, Keep Busy Talking-Plot to Kill Emperor Nicholas.

New York, Oct. 22.-Lord Salisbury's diplomatic success in making terms with Germany and intervening in the China negotiations with authority silences all talk about his retirement from the foreign office, says the Tribune's London correspondent. The most industrious cabinet-makers now admit that he cannot be spared from that office, and that he must be allowed to hold it and the premiership as long as possible. Lord Lansdowne is as great as "President" Steyn's chances now relegated by the rumormongers of defeating General Kitchener in to Dublin. Lord Balfour of Burleigh is named for the war office, and Mr. Richie for the admiralty. Mr. Wyndham and Mr. Brodrick are promoted to Sir Wilfrid Laurier made effective the cabinet. Each day produces a new bitious or restless statesmen. The admiralty, according to the London Daily Mail, is about to organize an additional reserve squadron under Rear Admiral Sir Gerard Henry Noel for home waters. LORD ROSEBERY'S NEW BOOK. London, Oct. 22.-Lord Rosebery has for some time been engaged in writing a book dealing with Napoleon, chiefly with his life at St. Helena, but including a general estimate of the man. It will be published under the title of "Napoleon: The Last Phase."

"HOOLIGANISM."

Though the reports to the effect that the plague had broken out in London are incorrect, another species of scourge is rife. This is "Hooliganism," which is considered by some to be more fatal than the plague. Hold-ups, assaults and murders, committed chiefly H. J. Macdonald who had the baited by youthful offenders, are of frequent occurrence. The Spectator suggests as a remedy that all murderers should be blessed a large congregation of hanged regardless of tender years. The Lancet advokates flogging.

TO KILL EMPEROR NICHOLAS. The Sebastopol correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph sends details of an alleged plot a month ago against pears that about a fortnight before the czar and czarina began their journey to the Crimea, a student of Moscow University was arrested for acting in a suspicious manner in the vicinity of a railway tunnel near Sebastopol. The police, after the arrest. found a large quantity of explosives deposited where they would have evitably wrecked the tunnel when the imperial train was passing. The plot is credited to the Bresci group of Anarchists.

FIVE BLOODY DAYS. Paris, Oct. 22.-A special dispatch from Constantinople to the Petit Bleu says new and frightful massacres of Armenians have just occurred in the district of Diarbekir. The Mussulmans, it is asserted, pillaged, outraged, and killed during five days, without the intervention of Turkish troops. Eight villages, it is added, were entirely destroyed and burned.

PARNELLITE SPLIT ENDED. London, Oct. 22. - John Redmond, M.P., chairman of the Irish Parliamentary Party, has issued a manifesto to the Nationalists, in which he says he finds that the results of the elections his associates play ducks and drakes show that the Parnellite split is end-with the prosperity now smiling on ed, and that there is a universal desire for a united movement, based on Mr. Parnell's plan of holding aloof from all English parties. He thinks the Conservative majority is unwieldy and contains seeds for early disruption.Mr. Redmond therefore urges the maintenance of unity and discipline in the Nationalist ranks and the adoption of a fearless and aggressive policy to combat the Conservatives in and out of parliament. Mr. Redmond also indorsed the United Irish League, saying the elections proved that the Nationalists were overwhelmingly in sympathy with it. John J. Clancy has given notice that he will move at the next meeting of the Dublin corporation that the freedom of the city be conferred upon ex-President Kruger. WILLIAM TO WILHELMINA. ed, Duke Henry of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, accompanied by the queen-mother, arrived at The Hague on Sat-mules, 20,000 cattle, 2,800 sheep, 900 mother, arrived at The Hague on Sat-urday morning and were enthusias-hogs, total, $490,000. tically welcomed. The following tele-gram of congratulation was received by the duke from Emperor William of Germany: "The task you have taken upon yourself is arduous, but by the side of the Orange Princess, who discharges her duties with steadfastness and clear insight, you will, with God's help, succeed in giving happiness to the sturdy people of the Netherlands.

My thoughts and best wishes attend you and the dear queen."

ASHLEY WILL GET A WEALTHY BRIDE.

The most interesting engagement in several months is that of the daugh-ter of Sir Ernest Cassal, a well-known merchant, to Mr. Wilfred Ashley, son of the Hon. Evelyn Ashley, official verderer of the New Forest, heir of the ninth earl of Shaftesbury. The bride gets a settlement of many thousands of pounds a year, and she wil eventually inherit a fortune estimated at £13.000.000.

Sir Charles will return to Toronto by tomorrow night's train, and will hold a series of meetings in Ontario, which is now being arranged for him. The dates and places of the meetings have not yet been definitely decided.

FRONTENAC LIBERALS.

Dr. Sands, Liberal candidate, in Frontenac, has retired to prevent the Conservatives winning the seat in a three-cornered fight. Dr. Sands was heartily indorsed in the position he has taken. The situation is not unfavorable to the government, which is so strong that Mr. Calvin and Mr. Rogers will alike give the Laurier Government a fair support.

JAWS FIXED IN A YAWN.

Logansport, Ind., Oct. 22.-Extending her reading hour until after her usual retiring time, pretty 16-year-old Alma Morris began to yawn, and suddenly found her mouth wide open, and, regardless of all efforts, she was unable to close it. Her jaws were set, and she was in terrible agony. Physicians chloroformed the young woman, and after two hours' hard work were successful in loosening her jaws.

LONDON 9. OTTAWA 7. Toronto, Oct. 20.-The O. R. F. U. semi-final in the intermediate series between London and Ottawa II., played at Rosedule this afternoon, was twon by the former by 9 to 7. The halftime score was 4 to 1. Thus the Lon-tion team go into the final with Peterboro. The match was not a good one from a spectator's standpoint, as it was rough at times, Ottawa having three men ruled off and London two, Field and Switzer being off on two occasions for fouling.

London won the toss, and the ball was dribbled down the field towards Ottawa's line, where followed a number of scrimmages. Bice, of London, breaking through the line, went over for a touch. Taylor failed to convert the try. Score, 4 to 0.

From the kick-off the play was fairly even for some time. Ottawa was awarded a free kick. Doyle punted over the line, the ball going to touch-In-goal. Score, 4 to 1. The rest of the half was spent in scrimmaging and punting. On reversing ends, Ottawa kicked off. and for some time the play was at London's end. O'Gara, of Ottawa, got the ball and went over for a touch, and converted the try. Scbre, Ottawa 7,

For the next few minutes the play was at Ottawa's end. Macfie punted over the line.Doyle was forced to rouge nd London had one more. Ottawa kicked off at the quarter, and Taylor Colbert, The returned, when Hobbs followed up. A Nancy Till. series of scrimmages followed, when Hobbs and Taylor pierced through the line for a touch. Taylor again failed to convert the try, and this finished the scoring for the day, for shortly after that the whistle sounded for time with the ball well at Ottawa's line. During the game the Ottawas had the best of the official's decisions, but still they clamered against him. The teams were: London-Back, Macfie; halves, Hobbs, Peel, Taylor; quarter, Labatt; scrimmage, S. Taylor, Fisher, Bice; wings, Kerrigan, Carrothers, A. Bice, Hennessey, Screaton, Gibbons (captain), WHEEL. Toronto, Oct. 20.-The great annual road riding contest of the year for the Dunlop trophy was run off this afternoon on the Kingston road. About 5.000 people witnessed the struggle from different points of vantage along the course, no fee being charged for viewing the race, as it was ridden all through on the road, from the top of Norway Hill to 71/2 miles out on the Kingston road and return. Four teams entered the race, the Royal Camadians of Toronto, the Queen Citys of Toronto, the Ramblers of Toronto, and a team from Belleville. The trophy put up by the trustees of the race is the third one offered by the Dunlop people for road racing, the Royals having won the first two. The race as a contest of speed was not up to the mark, the weather being rather chilly and not at all propitious for racing. The roads being in a wretched state also had something to do with the men not exerting themselves up to the point of first-class racing. The official time for the leading riders follows: Smath, Q. C. B. C., 45:21%; Vennels, R. C. B. C., 45:44%; Elliott, R. C. B. C., 45:58%. The teams scored on points as follows: R.C.B.C., 10; Q.C.B.C., 15; Belleville B. C., 28; Ramblers, 39.

Between Great Britain CAUGHT THE CROWD and Germany

Viewed With Satisfaction at Washington.

Commended by the German Press-Bitter Comments of the Paris Eclair.

London, Oct. 22.-The agreement between Great Britain and Germany to maintain the territorial integrity of China, while it savors of independent action and would doubtless be adhered to, despite the protest of any other power, is not looked upon here as forming an obstacle to the progress of negotiations on the basis laid down in the last French note, or, indeed, upon any propositions which will not infringe upon the essential principle of the Angio-German compact.

There as no effort to conceal the fact that the new compact is practically a repetition of Secretary Hay's "open door" note to the powers, though it is pointed out that general assent to a principle differs greatly from the publicly expressed determination of two great powers to uphold it at all costs. POSITION OF AUSTRIA AND ITALY That Lord Salisbury should have selected Germany, of vice versa, to be a party to this pronouncement is taken to be highly significant of the close relation between the two powers in question, and may almost be said to constitute an alliance, which, for purposes of the immediate future, bids fair to bring Germany into even closer touch with Great Britain than she is with the other members of the triple alliance, though it can safely be asserted that Austria and Italy will readily accept an invitation to concur in the Hatzfeldt agreement. That the United States will follow suit is taken here as a forgone conclusion, while the British foreign office expects Japan and hopes France will do the same. Russia, of course, is a difficult factor in the situation, but it is not believed she will stand out against the world, especially in the face of such a patiently aggressive alliance as was announced this morning. REASSURING SIGN.

Berlin, Oct. 22.-An inspired article in the North German Gazette regards the Anglo-German agreement as a "reassuring sign for the peace of the world," and says that Great Britain, just as Germany does, expressly de-nounces all idea of making use of the complications in China for her special advantages, and in economic aims adhere to the principle of equal rights for all. Germany, it is added, does not take upon herself the obligation of asserting her influence where other powers have already acquired special rights. She regards the agreement "as an important step towards the early since 1170. establishment of a settled condition in as a protection against the exclusive claims of Great Britain in the Yang

Tse Valley. With the exception of a few notoriously anti-British journals, the entire German press approves the Anglo-German agreement. Its effect on Russia excites keen curiosity, it being no secret that the relations between Germany and Russia have already become cooler.

FEELING IN WASHINGTON. Washington, Oct. 22.-The state department here has not yet been advised officially of the terms of the alli-ance reported from London to have been reached between Germany and England to maintain the territorial integrity of China, and to keep ports open. The move gives general satisfaction here, as this government has held this view right along, as shown by the note of Secretary Hay of July 3 defining the position of the United States. The United States will probably adhere to the principles contained in this agreement, and if Russia can brought to accept it's terms as binding upon herself, there can be no doubt, according to the official view here, that a substantial movement will have been achieved toward a final settlement of the Chinese trouble.

A PARIS PAPER'S SNARL Paris, Oct. 22.-The Eclair, in an article on the Anglo-Saxon agreement, points out the previously antagonistic attitude of England and Germany in China. The paper says: "Berlin de-nounced the monopolist schemes of England, and Londoners predicted an invasion of the Yang Tse Kiang valley by Germany. Now the two nations embrace and constitute themselves the champions of Chinese integrity. It is curious to see two knaves adopt this

WILLIAM'S LATEST.

Berlin, Oct. 22 .- "I believe," said Emperor William recently, "that it is to Germany's advantage for England to have the Boer republics." The remark was made in the course of a conversation between the emperor and one of the leading Germans, whose advice in matters of commercial policy his majesty greatly relies upon, and who, by the way, is not a lover of Great Britain and her works.

THE PAPERS WERE "OFF."

For several days the English and continental papers had contained hints, and even assertions, that Russia France and Germany were contemplating joint action with the idea of coercing Great Britain into granting at least a degree of independence to the Boers. Several correspondents have adduced the most circumstantial details to prove the existence of this undercurrent of projected diplomacy between the powers mentioned, and this reiterated statement has even affected the markets. Whether Russia and France ever contemplated such action is not known but the circumstances under which Emperor William spoke effectually and definitely disposed of all possibility of any European intervention. for it is acknowledged on all sides that Russia and France would not act without Germany.

There is even further significance in interviewer has conferred with the would be hopeless to expect any aid changes of temperature. tervention campaign planned to synchronize with Mr. Kruger's arrival in Europe. His majesty's conviction that it would be to Germany's advantage to have the British control the Boer republic sprang, apparently, not from any idea of gaining counter-concessions, or from a general policy of friendship, but from a distinct idea that Germany's commerce would be immensely benefited thereby, and that the adjacent German territory would

Enthusiastic Reception Given John G. Woolley at Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 22.—John G. Woolley, prohibition candidate for president, spoke to an audience of 3,000 persons at the Academy of Music here on Saturday. The reception accorded Candidate Woolley was probably the most enthusiastic which he has encountered since the special train left Chicago on Sept. 19. The entire audience rose to its feet when the presidential nominee was introduced at 9:45 o'clock, and it was over five minutes before the cheering subsided and he was permitted to begin his address. He made a 30-minute speech, which seemed to express the sentiments of his audience, giving much advice to the individual Christian voters.

Samuel Dickie, of Albion, Mich., spoke for twenty minutes, criticising the friendly attitude of the present administration toward the liquor powers. The concluding address was supplied by Oliver W. Stewart, national chairman.

In the afternoon a side trip was made into New Jersey. At Millville Mr. Woolley spoke to over 2,000 persons in Persons advanced in life often suffer from indigestion, and from paralysis or inability to evacuate from the bowels; likewise from urinary difficulties. We have the evidence of a large number of aged persons from 60 to 80 years of age who had daily been compelled to recort to injections to empty the bowels, have been cured by the use of Radway's Pills. Two or three pills every night in all cases insure a natural evacuation from the bowels and the regular flow of urine. In cases where there is irritation of the bladder, Radway's Hesolvent should be used with the Pills. If these organs are kept regular, life may be extended to a much longer period. By keeping the Liver, Stomach, Bowels and Kidneys in a healthy condition the blood will continue pure and dissolution checked. If Radway's Pills and Resolvent are used by the aged, life will be prolonged to the full measure of time. Another great end is secured by nourishing the body with these remedies—the faculties will remain in a healthy condition. A weak, feeble and decaying body enfeebles the intellect and clouds the brain. Persons advanced in life often suffer from in-

A Royal Reception

The Premier Tendered a Magnificent Ovation at Parkhill.

Was Greeted by Thousands Enthusiastic Electors.

The Largest Political Gathering Ever Assembled in Rural Middlesex--- A Monster Procession --- Thousands Unable to Gain Entrance to the Rink, So Great Was the Crowd---Stirring and Eloquent Addresses by Sir Wilfrid, Hon. David Mills, the Candidate, V. Ratz, W. S. Calvert and George C. Gibbons.

Parkhill on Saturday afternoon, judged as a purely political gathering, was undoubtedly the largest, the most spontaneously enthusiastic, that has ever been held in rural Middlesex. The demonstration was one that the Liberals of North Middlesex might well be proud of, a demonstration that will never be forgotten by those who participated in it; one that will remain as an abundant attestation of the faith of the electorate in the Liberal Government, and the marvelous popularity of its leader. The journey of Sir others. Wilfrid and his party was interrupted at St. Marys, at Lucan, and at Ailsa Craig, where he made short speeches to the awaiting crowds, from the rear platform of the car. At each of these places the utmost enthusiasm prevailed, and his bright, pithy addresses elicited much applause.

The crowd on the train was augmented at each station. Indeed, it was a noticeable fact that the ovation that was tendered the premier in Parkhill was given for the most part by farmers and tradesmen who had traveled many miles, on a market day, to pay tribute to the man whose sagacious administration of affairs had done so much towards making prosperous times for all classes in Canada

Early on Saturday morning Parkhill was a village, and the people there could be counted by hundreds; when noontime came, its numbers had swollen to thousands, and in the crowd were the representative men of the rich country of the north of Middlesex, who appreciate the efforts of a progressive government, and were anxious to show their allegiance to it. When Sir Wilfrid alighted from the car, the welcoming music of the band was drowned by thousands of voices, cheering excitedly, vociferously, unrestrainedly. No man in public life had ever received such a welcome in those parts. As quickly as possible, the prime minister and his party made their way through the turbulent crowd that was expressing such extravagant admiration for him. A MONSTER PROCESSION. A monster procession of carriages and horsemen had been formed, under the direction of Marshal T. S. Wurtz, and, headed by the Exeter Brass Band, it paraded to the large rink, where the meeting was held. Although it would hold several thousands, it was utterly inadequate to accommodate the great throngs who sought admittance. presence of scores of ladies, for whom a space had been reserved, gave a charm, an additional animation and brightness to the scene, that would have been sadly missed.

THE MOTTOES. The rink was gay with mottoes.

Among others were: "The Tail Chimneys Smoke More Than Ever.' "All Liberal Leaders Keep Their

> The proceedings were enlivened by the capital singing of the Laurier Male Quartet, Messrs. Stewart Huntington, Newton Large, Edward Gardner and Ruthven McDonald. They were encored again and again. But without speaking disparagingly about their endeavors, or those of the other speakers, it was apparent that the crowd was waiting for the premier. When he spoke, his splendid personal appear ance commanded attention, and the great audience fell under the charm of his voice, and was enthralled by the beauty of his diction and the majesty of the sentiments he expressed.

bert Brewer, Reuben Allison and many

BRIEF INTRODUCTORY ADDRESS The chairman, Mr. Wm. Lewis, president of the North Middlesex Reform Association, opened the meeting in a concise speech, by which he made it clearly apparent that he, in common with all who had anything to do in arranging the meeting, were not only gratified with the result. but were delighted beyond measure. While speaking of the great pleasure that he had in looking upon such an immense gathering, he naturally came to the conclusion that the meeting's great success, judged by the number present alone, augured well for the Liberal victory in North Middlesex. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, he said, must be pleased at the splendid reception that had been accorded him in Parkhill, but the pleasure that he might have was not to be compared with the pleasure that they had in meeting him. Before introducing the other speakers, he once more expressed his pleasure in the magnificent gathering that had come to welcome the premier, and hear discussed the questions that are now before the

The Candidate. The chairman's mention of the name of the present popular member of the riding, Mr. Valentine Ratz, and his appearance on the platform, was greeted with long continued and enthusiastic cheering. The spontaneity of the ovation that was tendered him, if it may be taken to indicate the desires and intentions of the electorate, would form abundant proof of its determination to return Mr. Ratz to Ottawa, so that he may assist the prime minister and his colleagues in all their plans for a united empire, for a united and prosperous Canada. When the cheering had subsided, and Mr. Ratz was permitted to speak, his opening words were like those of the chairman. He, too, was glad, indeed, to appear before such a meeting, and, in his opinion, also, its splendid proportions, and its enthusiasm, augured well for his success, and for Sir Wilfrid's success. He had been told by some of his Conservative friends, as doubtless they had, that not many would gather there, it was too small a place, and the people would rather go to the cities to hear Sir Wilfrid; but in these predictions, as in so many others, the Conservatives were wrong, and the immense crowd that he saw before him had gathered to meet Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the greatest statesman that ever stood on Canadian soil. (Applause.) When he went to Great Britain in 1897, how was he honored, how acclaimed on the streets during the jubilee procession? "Was he not the 'white-headed boy,'" said the speaker, "and was he not the first that followed the prime minister of Britain, and acknowledged as the greatest leaded outside of England? (Applause.) For the past four years the Liberal Government has been in power. Be fore that time were the people of Canada better off or not? Was not the country more prosperous? "Yes! Yes!") The farmers know that they are better off. Workingmen know that work is much more plentiful; that they get increased pay: that their dinner pail is always filled. We meet no tramps now. In fact, people complain that they cannot get laboring men. No one would like to go back to the old times of 1895, and if you do not wish that, support Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Schlowers. I ask you, whalt you expected me to do? If I have, I ask your support now. Has the Laurier Government done what you expected them to do? You are the judges," continued Mr. Ratz. "You can elect them or discharge them. Weigh your own interests, and if you do this, I do not fear the result when I ask you to support the Laurier Government and myself on the 7th of November.' (Loud applause.)

Mr. W. S. Calvert.

The chairman espied Mr. W. S. Calvert, the brilliant young candidate in the west riding, seated in the crowd. and his request that Mr. Calvert would address the meeting met with the instant approval of the audience. Mr. Calvert's reception was warm and sincere. His congratulations to Mr. Ratz and the committee in charge upon the magnificent success of their reception bore with them an acknowledgment of the excellent effect produced upon the electors by the presence of the prime minister, for he told of his own eager desire to have Sir Wilfrid address his own people in Strathroy, a wish that it was impossible to have filled, as his friend. Ratz seemingly had the inside track. Then Mr. Calvert reverted to the bombastic statements of Sir Chas. Tupper. His statement that the Conservative party would sweep the country from end to end, the speaker considered in a jocular vein that seemed to coincide with the manner in which his hearers viewed it. Sir Charles' contention reminded him of a tale told of two Irishmen who met one day, and became friendly, as Irishmen will. After some talk, one asked the other his occupation. "I am a soldier in the dragoons," he was told. "And what are you?" "A soldier of the Lord," was the reply. "Well," said his friend, "I think it'll be a long time before you reach your barracks." The laughter that greeted the conclusion of the story became heartier than before, and was mingled with cries of "Hear, hear," when the speaker suggested that it would be a long time before Sir Chas. Tupper would have success in reaching his barracks. Resuming a serious tone, Mr. Calvert said that it could easily be seen by a perusal of the daily papers, Conservative as well as Liberal, where public sentiment lies. It had been shown, not only in French Montreal, but also in English Toronto, where the Liberal leader had met such demonstrations as must satisfy the most ardent Liberal. It had been shown by a comparison of the hundreds that attended the meeting of the Conservative leaders in Strathroy, and the thousands who attended the splendid meeting of the Liberal leader in Parkhill. The Conservatives say that the old policy has gone, that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had stolen it. If that were so, it left them with no policy at all. (Laughter.) The opposition had brought Hugh John Macdonald into the arena. Without desiring to say anything against Hugh John, who, personally was a very fine man, Mr. Calvert asked, Had Hugh John the qualities that were necessary in the leader of a great party? Could he ever comwith Sir Charles Tupper himself, or Mr. Foster, much less the Liberal chieftain? (Applause.) Mr. Calvert referred to the contest in Brandon, where Hon. Mr. Sifton, a Middlesex boy-(cheers)—was running against John Macdonald. He had challenged him to combat, to debate in public. the questions of the day. What had happened? Had Hugh John met him? Not at all. They sent for young Sir Hibbert Tupper to discuss the questions, instead of Hugh John. They met in the city of Brandon at a great tics, you gave us the benefit of the meeting. The Liberal press was perfeetly willing to publish the proceedings, the Conservative press ignored them, for the simple reason that Mr. Sifton had so signally defeated Sir Hibbert. Mr. Calvert referred humorously to the egotism of the leader of the opposition, to his assumption of personal achievements in the upbuilding of Canada. Judging by his own words, Sir Charles laid the corner-stone of Canada. His self-satisfaction suggested the story of a traveler, who, passing through a village, saw a hen fly out across the road, cackling loudly, and making a great fuss. He inquired of a gentleman near the meaning of its agitation. "Oh," said he, "they've just laid the corner-stone of a church over there, and the hen thinks she laid it." The inference was thinks she laid it." The inference was laughingly accepted by the crowd. The Conservative party, he continued, was led by a man, of whom scarcely a word of favor is heard, whose principles were such as would permit him to say to the people of Quebec, "Laurier is too British for me," and in Ontario say that Laurier was a man of the French nation, working against British insti-The sentiment of the country was that the Laurier Government should be supported, and in concluding he urged the electors of the north riding to rally around Mr. Ratz, and and the development of cold storage the last, help to continue the Liberal Government in power. PRESENTATION OF ADDRESSES. The programme of speeches was varied by the presentation to Sir Wilfrid of two addresses, one from the Liberal Club of Parkhill, an association of the old campaigners, the other from the young Liberals, whose support in the north riding, as all through Canada, is being given to the leader of the most progressive government that the country has ever had. The first was read by Mr. A. A. McTavish.

To the Right Honorable Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Premier of Canada: Sir,-The electoral district of North Middlesex, comprising English, Irish, Scotch, French and German, but all loyal Canadians, takes this opportunity of extending to you a right royal welcome. We deem it no small matter that the prime minister of Canada should today honor us with his presence. It is with unbounded pleasure we welcome you, not only as premier of Canada but as the best Canadian exponent of those principles essential to statesmanship. In these days of marvelous trade expansion, in these days when the industries of the country are enjoying a prosperity without a precedent, when the farmer and the artisan are reaping the fruit of your government's wise legislation, in these days when the Liberal administration is called upon to render an account of stewardship, we are not forgetful of the conditions which prevailed prior to Those indeed were dark days in the history of Canada; but out of the gloom and depression which then enshrouded the land, we beheld a star arise in the east, and the dawn of a brighter day was ushered in on the 23rd of June, with a joy which filled the land.

The hopes and expectations we entertained in 1896 have been more than realized. The mantle of the great Liberal leaders of the past had fallen upon your shoulders, and we believed you worthy of all honor. Having called to your aid men thoroughly trained in the problems of federal poli-best administrative ability to be found in the Liberal party. Under such an administration we expected much. You gave us more than we had dared to hope for. We believed that in entrusting you with the reins of government you fully realized the greatness of our national inheritance, and that under a Liberal Government, with you as it chosen leader, Canada would shake itself free from the trammels with which it was fettered, and enter upon a new era of development. We believed that under your administration Canada would need to ask no favors, but that in a fair field it would hold its own against the world. It affords us very much pleasure to be able to say today that the history of

In the matter of your imperial policy, which has given Canada a position in the eyes of the empire and the world such as she has never before occupied-in the matter of the British preferential tariff, which has done so much to promote the unification of the empire-in the matter of your settlement of the Manitoba school question, which four years ago threatened this country with differences of a religious character, in the matter of the abolition of the quarantine on Canadian cattle exported to the United States, by giving him a bigger majority than facilities which have proved such a boon to the farming community; in the matter of these and the many other beneficial reforms, inaugurated by the Liberal Administration, we recognize the guidance of a master

Under your leadership this fair Canadian land has been made to throb with a new life. The hum of industry is heard from Sydney to Vancouver. The development of the work of confederation has received a new impulse. Your efforts to promote unity, peace, friendship and fraternity among classes and creeds receive our hearty approval. Under your leadership we have seen Canada step forth in the pride of manhood to play its part in the grand arena of nations, and through your wise statesman-like policy, in respect of the South African war, the world has realized that a new power has arisen in the west, and we have learned to realize that no one is more competent to lead us on to greater achievements than the Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier. We bespeak you a glorious victory on the 7th of November, and that you may long live to enjoy the highest honors at our disposal is the wish of a truly grateful people. Signed on behalf of the Liberals of North Middlesex, WM. LEWIS.

The address of the Young Liberals, which is given below, was read by Dr. D. C. Wilson. It clearly expresses the views of the young voters of the land. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Premier of Canada:

Sir,-We, the Young Liberals North Middlesex, desire to extend to you, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, our heartfelt welcome. In you we find our ideal statesman and patriot. The story of your triumphs of statesmanship, your love of country, your devotion to empire, inspire us with zeal to do the best of our great opportunities. We appreciate your efforts to manage the affairs of this country upon national rather than upon sectional lines. We appreciate your efforts to inspire unity and fraternity. In short, we have learned to believe that Sir Wilfrid Laurier makes no mistakes. The young men of the Liberal Club of Parkhill are grateful to you for giving us the right to vote-the right to play our part in shaping the destiny of Canada, the land of our nativity.

Chicago, Oct. 22.-Within a few feet of his wife, and in the same room where she was sewing and singing, John Pfeiffer hanged himself to a hook in the door casing. It was nearly a half-hour later before the woman arose to leave the room, and saw her husband hanging by the neck and dead. She uttered a scream and tried to revive him after cutting the rope, but he had been dead for several minutes. His two children were at school when he committed suicide. For some time he had been out of employment and had been despond-that I owe so much to this wonderful medicine (Clarke's Kola Compound). that I should express my gratitude for benefits derived from it. I had suffered very much from Asthma, in its most disagreeable form, for years, so much so that I was afraid to venture from home. Hearing of Clarke's Kola Compound, I decided to try it. I used in all three bottles, and it has effected a complete cure in my case. I have not had the slightest symptom since the winter of 1899, and can cheerfully recommend it to any person suffering from this dreadful disease." With the Enemy Near Bloemfontein.

Mosquito Warfare" Holds the Field in South Africa-Convalescent Canadians Return to Duty.

London, Oct. 21 .- A Cape Town dispatch says: Lord Methuen has reoccupied Zeerust and captured numerous wagons, a large quantity of stores and many cattle and sheep.

Kelly-Kenny reports Capt. C. G. Henty, 16th (London Irish) Rifle Brigade, endeavored to surprise a party of Beers near Bloemfontein, but the party turned out to be stronger than was expected, and our little force had to retire, which it did unmolested after three hours' fighting. Our losses were nine wounded, including Lieut. Slater, 57th company, Imperial Yeomanry (leg). Lieut. Thomas, Ceylon Mounted Intantry, reported missing, is believed to be dead. Henty states that the Boers suffered heavily.

Full particulars of the mishap to the British converse.

British convoy near De Jager's Drift have been received. They show that the earlier reports rather under-estimated the extent of the unfortunate affair. The Boers numbered 450, and were under the command of Com-mandant Chris Botha. Our men-all Durban volunteers-were taken completely by surprise. They were out-spanned when the attack commenced. All our natives in charge of the oxen were shot in cold blood by the Boers. Our losses were an officer and six men wounded, and 53 men taken prisoners. The latter were subsequently released. The Boers also captured a Hotchkiss gun, which had only an hour previously been handed over to the composite corps composing the convoy's escort. The Boers burned 24 of our wagons, and took away all the stores, with oxen, mules and all the provisions. They left one mule wagon, in which to take away our wounded men.

BURIED GUNS FOUND. Lorenzo Marquez, Oct.21.-The search for buried arms has resulted in the unearthing at Hector Spruit of two pompoms and two Creusot guns. The remainder of the 15-pounders and Krupp side the Crocodile River. LIEUT. ROBERTS' GRAVE.

Pietermaritzburg, Oct. 21.-A loyal Dutchman, named Hattin, residing near Frere, has made a graceful offer to Lord and Lady Roberts. The re-mains of their son, Lieut. Roberts, who fell at Colenso, lie on this man's farm, and he offers to make over to the parents of the deceased officer two acres of land round the grave. Hatting is one of the very few Natal Dutch who refused to join the enemy when they appeared in his neighborhood.

STRATHCONA'S HORSE. Strathcona's Horse have recently had some startling experiences in the Selati district, and they have greatly distinguished themselves upon every occasion. While patroling the Sand River they gained intelligence that there was a Boer convoy ahead. They immediate-16c; Kings, 18s to 20s; Baldwins, 14s ly started in pursuit, and by a forced to 18s; Spys, 12s to 17s. The market march along a circuitous route sucmarch along a circuitous route suc-ceeded in reaching a drift just as the convoy was preparing to cross. Believing that another British patrol was, as arranged, supporting them, Strathcona's Horse attacked the Boers. Unfortunately, the other patrol did not arrive in time to help, and the attack failed. Had the support acted as arthe whole convoy would cerranged. tainly have been captured. As it was, caped with difficulty.

KILLED BY LIONS.

Subsequent to this adventure a trooper of Strathcona's Horse and a native attached to the corps were killed by lions.

WINDING UP.

What is described by military men as "mosquito warfare," is still in progress, but the departure of Mr. Kruger is hailed as an indication that the struggle has practically ended, and elaborate preparations are being made for the reception in London of the volunteers a week hence. The importance of the reception of the colonial contingent in London will be magnified. Mr. Chamberlain has become master of the imperial revels a post which was vacant after Lord Beaconsfield's death.

Attempts of the half-penny press to revive alarm over continental intrigues for the intervention of Russia France on behalf of Mr. Kruger have failed. Intervention would not be practicable unless those powers were prepared to send 300.000 troops across the seas and protect the transports and convoys with their combined fleets. CANADIANS RETURNED TO DUTY.

London, Oct. 20 .- The following Canadian officers, who have been ill in hospitals, were discharged on the 14th. and are now on duty again: Lieut. J. Moodie, C squadron, Canadian Mounted Rifles, late inspector N. W. M. P.; Major V. A. S. Williams, B squadron, Canadian Mounted Rifles, late captain R. C. D.; Major J. A. G. Hudon, C battery, Royal Canadian Artillery, formerly major, R. C. A.

The Salvation Army.

Yesterday afternoon the funeral service of the late Sergt. Mrs. Butler took place in the S. A. Citadel, Major Mc-Millan conducted the service, and Sergt. Mrs. Jarvis and Mrs. Andrews were called on to speak of their departed comrade. They were both very much affected as they spoke of the faithfulness of the one who had been called to her reward. Staff-Capt. Cowan, matron of the Rescue Home, was then called upon, and rendered a beautiful solo, entitled "Fading Away." Ensign Wakefield, officer in charge of the London corps, stated that the Sunday afternoon previous he handed Sister Butler her commission as sergeant for the coming year, little thinking that the following Sunday afternoon her funeral service would be conducted. Continuing, he spoke of her faithfulness, and claimed her life was worthy of imitation. Major McMillan knew Mrs. Butler when stationed in London eleven years ago, and had always found her to be faithful. The remains were interred in Mount Pleasant Cemetery. The brass band and soldiers turned out in full force, and many citizens witnessed the funeral march. Staff-Capt. Phillips gave his farewell address in the citadel last night. There was a large attendance. Washington, Oct. 22. - Hon. John Sherman, who for a period of 40 years occupied a prominent place in the legislative and administrative branches of public affairs in the United States, died here at 6:45 o'clock this morning of brain exhaustion. Death came to the aged sufferer peacefully after almost 36 hours of nearly complete unconsciousness. John Sherman was born in Lancaster, Ohio, May 10, 1823. In 1844 he was admitted to the bar. He was elected to congress, where he took his seat on Dec. 3, 1855. He was pre-sident of the first Republican convention in Ohio. Mr. Sherman was a United States senator from 1861 to 1877 and again from 1881 to 1897. In 1880 he was a candidate for the presidency, James A. Garfield presenting his name in the national convention. A second time he was a candidate for chief executive, when in 1884 Joseph B. Foraker presented his name. The author of many important laws, he has long been known as a famous statesman. In 1896, President McKinley appointed him secretary of state, but soon after taking up the portfolio ill-health compelled him to resign.

Annual Meeting of Westminster and Delaware Sunday School

Convention Scottsville, Oct. 22.-The Sabbath School Association of the Townships of Westminster and Delaware held their thirteenth annual convention in Sha-Methodist Church, Delaware, Wednesday, Oct. 17. The convention was opened by Rev. T. W. Cosens. The president, Mr. Charles Carrotners, then took charge of programme, and gave a very nice address. The North Street choir and orchestra supplied the music, which was appreciated very much.

Rev. F. Ballantyne gave an excellent address. Subject: "The best way to reach the ingathered children and secure the regular attendance of absen-

Mr. Thomas Baty spoke on "The effect of the teacher's daily life and regular attendance upon his class." Mr. W. M. Baker gave a paper on 'How best to take care of child converts." The committee on resolutions passed the following: "Whereas, in the providence of Almighty God our esteemed brother, Gideon Decker, has been called to his reward since our last convention. We therefore wish to give expression to and place on record our appreciation of his Christian character and influence. He was a member of this association since its inception, having filled the position of president for a term, and always discharged faithfully any duty assigned to him. As a man, as a teacher, as a Christian, he is missed; but we feel assured that the influence of his life is abiding with us, and will bring forth fruit in years to come.' We desire to express our sense of loss in the death of Brother David Ryckman, who was a practical Sunday school worker, a member of our executive committee for a number of years, and always took a deep interest in our conventions. We feel persuaded in his case also, that divine assurance will be made good. "He that goeth forth weeping, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again, with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with We express our Christian sympathy with the families bereaved, and commend them, with confidence, to the God of all consolation."

Horrible Murder and Suicide at Corry. Pa.-Two Lovers the Victims.

Buffalo, Oct. 22 .- A special to the News from Corry, Pa., says: A horrible murder and suicide occurred here early this morning. About 1 o'clock two shots were heard in the park. No attention was paid to them, however, until this morning, when the dead bodies of Harry Bettis and Daisy Blydenourg were found on a seat under a tree. Both were shot through the temple. The revolver with which the deed was done was clenched in Bettis' right hand. It is thought by many that the deed was premeditated.

The young couple attended church last night, and spent a pleasant even-ing together at Miss Blydenburg's home, and later called on friends. When bidding them good-bye, they said: "Well, good-bye. You will never see us again.'

A letter was found on Mr. Bettis, addressed to his mother, the contents of which are as yet unknown. Harry Bettis, who was 22 years old, and Miss Blydenburg, who was 19, moved in the best society, and were highly respected.

"B" COMPANY STAYS IN AFRICA

to Remain.

Company, Also, Stays - Will Go to England-Others on Their Way Home.

Letters received from Africa this morning state positively that the original A and B Companies of the first Canadian contingent, will remain in the south until the war is over. Although the news will bring disappointment to many homes in No. 1 military district, the first regret will be more than counterbalanced by the feelings of pride in the members of the London Company who have decided to "be in at the finish." The letters state that when the Canadians' time was up, it was the great wish of Lord Roberts that they would stay and see the end, take part in the annexation ceremonies, and go to England and be in the great march past the Queen. The commanders of the companies were ordered to learn the opinions of the men. A AND B COM-PANIES VOLUNTEERED TO A MAN TO STAY, and the remaining companies demanded to be sent home. The two companies that stay, from the northwestern and London districts, were to take part in the annexation ceremonies, and when Lord Roberts returns to England they will go with him and participate in the march past the Queen before coming to Canada.

The B Company men, whose letters were received today, expressed astonishment and regret that the other companies had decided to return before the end.

YEARLY JAIL REPORT

Interesting Facts and Figures About the Offenders Incarcerated During the Past Year.

Gov. Boston, of the county jail, has compiled his annual report of the prisoners under his charge for the past year, and from it the following interesting extracts are taken:

The number of prisoners in custody Oct. 1, 1899, was 20 males and 1 female; the number committed during the year ending Sept. 30, 1900, was 442 males and 43 females, making a total of 462 males and 44 females in custody during the year. Of this number 38 of the male prisoners were under 16 years of age. The number acquitted on trial and discharged was 165 males and 17 females. and the number discharged by order of the court or judge without trial was 27 males and 1 female. The greatest number of prisoners confined at any one time was 31 males and 4 females; the least being 10 males and 2 females. The number of prisoners committed subject to government maintenance was 193 males and 9 females, and the number maintained by the municipalifirms the evidence as to the growth and development of the past four novelty, in the shape of a new rothe municipal prisoners served 3.993 days. THE STRIKE

London District Men Volunteered In Pennsylvania Shows Little Change.

> The Working Collieries Make No Gain in the Number of Men Employed-Hostile Demonstration,

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 22.-Reports from the few collieries that are still in operation in this region showed that the number of men at work today was not greater than last week. Today was looked upon by some mine officials as one that would witness a break in the ranks of the strikers, but it did not

In regard to the Reading Company, the United Mine Workers would be ready to call the strike off against that organization if the miners from the different regions had not bound themselves to stand together. This company has all along been selling powder at $150 a keg, so it is not concerned in that question, but must wait until the miners and other operators come to some agreement. Scranton, Oct. 22.—The first hostile demonstration of the miners' strike in the Lackawanna region was made this morning at Olyphant, near here, where it was determined to close down the Grassy Island coal washery, operated by the Delaware and Hudson Company. The place has been working a force of 30 men during the past two weeks, and was daily turning out 1,000 tons of the smaller sizes of fuel for the market. This morning several hundred strikers gathered along the road near the washery, and when the workmen appeared circled around them and gave them to understand they must not work until the strike should be settled.

Mount Carmel, Pa., Oct. 22.-The miners' relief committee of this place has issued a circular letter, asking for contributions in aid of the striking miners of this district. The committee asserts that while it is hoped that the strike will be ended within a few days, this will not materially change the de-plorable condition of the miners. It will be at least four weeks before those returning to work will receive any pay, and their families must be cared for in the interval. The committee is not connected in any way with the United Mine Works of America.

VERY GOOD FOR THE SEASON

Eradstreet's Review of Trade in the Dominion.

Business at London is very good for this season. The grain deliveries have been rather light, but are expected to be more liberal soon. Payments are satisfactory. Reports of trade at the coast cities Notwithstanding the interruption in business caused by the holiday last week there has been a very fair movement in wholesale trade Travelers report the outlook for business very encouraging. At Winnipeg trade has been rather quiet, although the prospects are more promising since the bad weather has allowed the farmers to continue threshing and the marketings of wheat have increased. A general improvement in the condition of fall and winter lines is expected very soon. A more confident tone is apparent in trade. Collections might be better. Money is in General trade at Montreal was rather quiet up to the holiday and for the balance of the week trade did not develop any special features. There is great activity in shipping circles. Values of staple goods continue firm. Remittances are fair.

Colder weather has caused a little more activity in wholesale circles at Toronto the past week. The increased inquiry is especially noticeable in heavy winter goods. The fall shipments to interior water points not connected with the large distributing centers by railroads are very large just now. The market here is firm for various lines of domestic goods. People who postponed purchases in the hope of getting the goods at lower prices have in most cases been disappointed.

CONFLICT GOES ON

Boers Released Their Men Held as Prisoners at Jagersfontein-Several Engagements.

London, Oct. 22 .- Lord Roberts reports from Pretoria, under date of Oct. 21, that the Boers who attacked Jagersfontein succeeded in releasing the Boer prisoners in the town before they were repulsed. Their loss was twenty, including Commandant Visser. The Boer sympathizers inside the town assisted the Boers. Lord Roberts adds that they will be heavily punished for it. Lord Methuen has arrived at Zeerust, in the Western Transvaal, and reports the loss of six men killed and ten wounded.

Gen. Knox announces that the Mounted Infantry attacked the Boers near Kroonstadt, driving them off and inflicting considerable loss. A determined attack was made by the Boers on Fauresmith, west of Jagersfontein. The Boers were repulsed. The British lost two killed and

Gen. Barton fought at Frederickstadt, capturing several positions. He lost two killed and four wounded.

NO ONE KNOWS THEM ALL. The growth of the English language is so enormous that it would be practically impossible for the most learned man to be acquainted with every word, says the Chicago Chronicle. gent persons, even those engaged in the learned professions, do not make use of more than from 6,000 to 8,000 words all told, although there properly belong to our language over 200,000. The famous writer or authority of today, whether he uses words to express nice shades of meaning or as technical tools of thought in his own department, must have at his command a vocabulary of from 30,000 to 40,000 words, the latter being the maximum acquired by any man now living. There is a large number of words which until recently have escaped the attention of lexicographers. In the text of the 'Encyclopedia Britannica' there are 10.000 words which have never been formally entered and defined in any dictionary. In the Century Dictionary there are 70,000 words found in no other, and b has been said that there is not today any man living who is sufficiently learned to write one average page of 7,000 pages of this dictionary. To give some idea of the tremendous growth of the language the words and phrases under the letter A have increased in 50 years from 7,000 to 60,000.

I am well pleased." "You have not added to it, you have made it," she declared. "And now, Sir Karl, with the fear of all the offended proprieties, I must go.' Still she held his hand fondly clasped in her own. "I am so glad I came," she added. "I hesitated long about it. It was I who persuaded mamma that those books must be of importance to you. She said the servants could take them; but I told her that as I was passing the lodge I might leave them, and then I did not think that there would be any harm in seeing you for a few minutes to say farewell. I shall always be so glad that I came."

She looked so happy that he could not find it in his heart to reproach her.

"How long will you be away from England?" she asked. His heart turned with loyal allegiance to Dolores, for whose sweet sake and for love of whom he was going into exile. He would come back when he had ceased to love her, but not un-

"The kindest words I have for you," he answered, "are the title you have given yourself-my true friend Lola."
"When you return will you promise to come and see me before you see any one else, Sir Karl?"
"Yes, I will, Lola, I can easily promise that."

"And now it must indeed be goodbye," she said. "Good-bye!" Her hand lingered in his; the beautiful face was upraised to his; the dark eyes and fresh sweet lips invited a caress; but he was resolved that there should never be more than friendship between them. He did not touch with his fips either the white brow or

She lingered with him as long as she could; the arrangement of the rugs and wrappers afforded an excuse for keeping him by her side. It was so sweet and pleasant to her that he could interest himself in her comfort. Then the groom took his place, and there was no further excuse for delay.

"Good-bye once more," she said. The little popies started off, and she had seen the last of him.

"He will be mine yet," she soliloquiz-"I shall win him. How many a heart is caught in the rebound! Who was it that he loved, and loved in vain? I wish I had been in that woman's place. Why, it is the strongest of human passions.

When she came to think over her inerview with him, she was not dissatisfied. She felt a certain hope that when he returned it would be to her. She smiled at her own beautiful image in the glass.

CHAPTER XI.

Sir Karl Allanmore had gone, leaving Scarsdale to the care of servants; and the one topic of conversation in the country now was the wedding at White Cliffe. Lord Rhysworth had made great preparations at Deeping Hurst. A beautiful suite of rooms had been redecorated and refurnished for his young wife, containing everything that taste could suggest and money

The day fixed for the wedding came at last—a fine bright day near the close of autumn. The little church at Deeping was prettily decorated for the occasion, and the school children were there with flowers to throw before the bride. The Squire, in the pride of his heart, had invited almost more guests than the White Cliffe could accommodate. The elite of the country were present at the ceremony. The bridesmaids were costumes of cream color and pale blue, and were remarkable for their beauty. The Squire, erect and handsome, seemed to have grown twenty years younger—so all declared; the bridegroom's appearance was highbred and aristocratic; but the bride attracted most attention. Dolores had never looked so lovely. The fair flowerlike face was not rosy with blushes; it was pale, with a calm, steadfast expression; the violet eyes did not droop, nor did her voice falter when the solemn words were uttered which bound her heart, life and love to another.

Many present never forgot the tall, slender, graceful girl, robed in white satin, trimmed with priceless lace, a magnificent veil covering her from head to foot, while a wreath of orange blossoms and white lilies rested on her golden hair. All agreed that Miss Cliefden was a perfect bride, faultless in face, figure, dress and manner. They talked about the diamonds she wore; they were struck with the great devotion of the bridegroom; but among them not one woman spoke of the happiness of the bride. No one said, "How fond she seems of him!" "How dearly she loves him."

Sir Wilfrid.

When the further outbreak of enthusiasm which followed the reading of the addresses had died away, Sir Wilfrid began the address to hear which the citizens of Parkhill and the residen'ts of the surrounding county had turned out in such numbers. He referred to the privilege he four years ago enjoyed of indorsing the candidature of Mr. Ratz at a meeting in Ailsa Craig, a meeting which would live long in his memory, for its size and entinusiasm. His appeal on that occasion, he said, had not been in vain, and he believed that the enthusiasm displayed on the present occasion was an evidence that the Liberals of North Middlesex would return Mr. Ratz again. (Cheers.) Victory was in the air. It was to be heard in the foliage of the trees, in the murmur of running water; it was to be seen in the beaming faces of the girls and women before him. "The women are with us, God is with us, victory is with us. (Cheers.) Where woman is, God is. In my native province of Quebec-(cheers)—the women have no vote themselves, but they control the vote." Sir Wilfrid then said victory for the been provided. Sir Wilfrid appealed Liberal party could also be felt in the to the farmers of North Middlesex to underhand manner in which the Tories were fighting. He warned his hearers to beware of the Tory in false garment. He produced a sample of the Tory weapons in the shape of the publication masquerading as a reprint of the Globe, but really emanating from the office of the Montreal Star, and went on to recall the fable of the ass who donned the "ton's skin, but was revealed in his true character by his long ears and his bray. The Montreal Star, said Sir Wilfrid, ashamed of its own character, was trying to masquerade in the Mon's skin of the Globe, under the lion's skin it was not difficult to see the long ears of the ass protruding. (Cheers and laughter.)

Sir Wilfrid displayed the pseudopublication, which contained cartoon, representing himself standing before the jury of public opinion and being charged by Sir Charles Tupper with certain political offenses. These charges Sir Wilfrid proceeded to take up and answer. He was charged, first, he said, with violating the independence of parliament by appointing sitting members to office. He was a British subject, he said, he knew British law as well as Sir Charles Tupper, and he denied that the appointment of members of parliament to office was a violation of the parliamentary act. It was done every day in England. Even Gladstone himself had done it more than once, as was instanced in his appointment of his attorney-general, Sir Charles Russell, as chief justice of England. (Cheers.) Sir Wilfrid defied the Conservatives to when he had given any pledge that he would not appoint members of parliament to office. Mr. Mulock had once introduced a bill in the house advocating such a provision, but the bill never reached its second reading. Sir Wilfrid said neither he nor the leading members of the party had supported the bill, and Mr. Mulock had dropped it. Could such an act on the part of an individual member of the party be called a pledge? Nothing would suit the Tories better than to have Tories appointed to fill vacancies in the senate or on the bench; but Sir Wilfrid would not consider such action just, fair or reasonable. He held that that charge of Sir Charles Tupper had not been proven. (Cheers.) The second charge was that the Liberals had enormously increased the expenditure. The stupidity and positive insanity of such a charge could be illistrated in a simple way. If a farmer spends $1,000 on his farm and gets only $600 return for it, that is bad policy. If his neighbor, however, spends $1,500 and gets in return $2,000, that is very good policy. The Liberals spent more than did the Conservatives, but that does not mean that they take more from the people. The increased expenditure means increased revenue. This was illustrated in the Liberal Government's conduct of the Intercolonial Railway. Under Conservative management there was always a deficit in the finances of the road, but under Liberal administration the revenue was considerably in excess of the outlay. In 1896 the terminus of the railway was in a barren field; but the Liberals had secured the Drummond County Railway, extended the Intercolonial Railway to Montreal, and had so increased the revenue of the road more than 50 per cent, while its administration does not now cost the country one cent. (Cheers.) The postoffice department was another instance, Hon. Wm. Mulockan able man, if ever there was one, said Sir Wilfrid-on entering the department in 1896, had found a deficit of $781,000, which in 1898 he had reduced to $47,000. (Cheers.) In 1898 Mr. Mulock told the cabinet that the time was ripe for the boon of penny ostage within the empire. His felow-members asked Mr. Mulock if he was not hasty, but he said no; and enny postage was inaugurated. Events had justified his course, for the premier assured his hearers, on the word of the postmaster-general, that the postoffice department is now being run without a deficit of a single cent. As he had been charged with these offenses, said Sir Wilfrid, it was the part of a good lawyer to bring counter-charges against his accusers. He would charge Sir Charles Tupper, not with such picayune offenses as he himself had been charged with, but with treason against his country, with disloyalty to the best interests of Can-(Cheers.) The policy of Sir Charles and his party was not national but sectional. Hugh John Macdonald had been brought into federal politics, presumably as a Moses, to his party out of Egypt, but Sir Wilfrid feared they would have to remain in bondage yet if they trusted to his leadership. (Cheers.) Hugh John said he came to uphold a policy of protection as held by his father. Yet what had he done? Hugh John was a rotectionist in Ontario and Quebec, where the manufacturing interests were so important; but in Manitoba, where he spoke only to farmers, he had said he was in favor of so modifying the policy of protection as to admit cultural implements free. If Hugh John Macdonald had, been the statesman that all-Liberals and Conservatives-admitted his father to be, he would not have listened to proposals of a sectional policy. But Hugh John was not built that way. (Laughter.) He had not the courage to resist a popular clamor. What qualities of leadership is Hugh John showing? stead of leading he is being led; the tail is wagging the dog instead of the dog wagging the tail. (Cheers and laughter.)

Sir Wilfrid charged the Conservative party with having a double policy on national questions. The Liberals had introduced the preferential tariff in 1897. The Conservatives had refused to either approve or condemn it until last session, when they mustered sufficient courage to attack it. Sir Charles Tupper moved in the house a resolution, that no measure of preferential relations short of free trade could be satisfactory to Canada. That was the Conservative policy-an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth, a benefit for a benefit. The Conservative party's loyalty came not from the heart, but from the stomach, (Cheers and laughter.) If such a resolution had been moved. not by Sir Charles Tupper, but by the speaker himself, what a howl of indignation would have rent the air from the Conservatives. (Cheers.) That party had shown its loyalty to be not a matter of instinct but of profession. Tupper says that in trade matters business and not sentimental considerations should prevail. Judged even by such a standard, the Liberal policy had been a success. The preferential tariff had given relief to the people of Canada without injuring manufac turing interests. The taxation had been decreased and better markets had say if it was not a fact that they were receiving better prices for their produce than ever before. (Cheers.) The sympathy of the British people was enlisted in Canada's favor by rential tariff. Sir Wilfrid said he knew John Bull well, or better than Tupper did, and he knew that, practical John Bull is, he has a heart. This heart the people of Canada had reached by their offer of preferential trade, not as a bargain but as a free-will offering. (Cheers.) The speaker said he was proud to boast that he had sucin reaching John Bull's Every business man in Engheart. land is an agent for Canada, and he favors Canada in his buying every time he gets the opportunity. Tupper not satisfied, but wants free entry to the British markets as a concession, and wants Great Britain to impose a duty on all but Canadian imports, while at the same time maintaining protection against British exports to

Sir Wilfrid went on to illustrate the reception Sir Charles would meet if he went to the British mechanics and asked them to be taxed in favor of Canada, while receiving no benefit in the way of a Canadian market. Tupper would be asking them to turn the other ion was satisfactory; there was no cheek after being slapped on one. grumbling; every one admitted that the (Laughter.) During the four dream worthy of a great statesman, but England is not yet ready for it, and Canada is not ready for it. only national policy for the present is preferential trade with Great Britain. (Cheers.)

On every question Tupper has a dif- of affairs. (Hear, hear.) ferent policy. He has one for Ontario, another for Quebec. The Liberal policy on the sending of the Canadian contingent had been asasiled, and Sir Wilfrid charged with hesitation and vacillation. This Sir Wilfrid denied. The reason the government acted as they did in the matter was because they did not feel justified in plunging into the treasury and taking the $2,000,000 necessary for the sending of the contingent without first obtaining the sanction of the people's representatives. If such a policy suited Tupper, it did not suit the speaker. (Cheers.) He knew his English history as well as Tupper did, and he knew the English people had fought for three centuries to show their king that the people were supreme in money matters. As soon as the government were assured that the people were behind them, the order in council was passed, and in less than three weeks the brave Can- any other. The raw material was adian boys were on the ocean. (Cheers.)

But when in Quebec, Tupper did not assail Sir Wilfrid for hesitation in sending the contingent. On the contrary. Tupper charged that on Laurier's head rested the blood of the Canadians slain at Paardeberg. In Quebec, Tupper said Laurier was too British for him, but when Tupper came to Ontario then Laurier was not half British enough. It was not his fault, said Sir Wilfrid, but his pride, that he was a French-Canadian. (Cheers.) He had not been consulted on the subject-(laughter)-but if he had been he would have chosen to be born as he was, on French-Canadian soil. (Cheers.) He stood upon the broad ground that he was a British subject, and in so doing he accepted the duties and responsibilities of a British subject. (Cheers.) He believed there was only one way for the Canadian nation to pursue, and that was to stand for the right of equal civil liberty to all.

(Cheers.) There was still another reason why the Liberal Government should be sus- their advertisements for tenders and tained. The country is prosperous as seid to any who would offer. The renever before. (Cheers.) The Conservatives say that not the government, but Providence, is responsible for sold to manufacturers of cordage so speak for the Conservatives of this province, but he knew the Conservatives of Quebec were very religious around election time, if at no other time. (Laughter.) They bring in Providence and give it all the credit. (Laughter.) Well, Sir Wilfrid said, he

It prevents chafing, redness, and roughness of the skin, soothes inflammation, allays itching and irritation, and when followed by gentle applications of CUTICURA Cintment, the great skin cure, speedily cures all forms of skin and scaly humours and restores the hair.

(Cheers.) But the Tories say, whom Providence loves the Tories, they claim, and it has been chastising them. Well, here again the speaker would agree with them, and more than that, he would place himself with Providence. and assist in chastising them again on (Cheers and laughter.)

Sir Wilfrid appealed to the young la-dies in the audience to lend their support to the Liberal Administration, because of what it was doing in their especial behalf. The country was so prosperous under Liberal rule that the increase in number of marriages during the four years of Liberal government had been nearly as great as in the whole eighteen years of Conservative administration. (Cheers.) Sir Wilfrid then quoted the following statistics of marriages in Ontario, remarking that he had not the corresponding statistics for Quebec, but he was sure his countrymen were no laggards in the same respect. (Laughter.) In 1899, 16,514; in 1898, 15,375; in 1897, 15,293; in 1896, 14,-904; in 1878, 12,729. Will the young man, he asked, not take advantage of the glorious opportunities afforded by the prosperity of the country under the Liberals, and take unto thems lves brides from among the young women of Canada, who for beauty and intelligence had no superiorfis in the world. (Cheers.)

In conclusion, Sir Willfrid said he had been asked to give a short ad-dress in Gaelic. He would do so, he said, not in the Highland Gaelic of the present day, but in the ancient language of the Gauls, who once inhabited not only France, but all Britain. He then delivered a few happy sentences in French, urging upon his hearers who understood that language the expediency of supporting his friend, Mr.Ratz. At the conclusion of his address the premier was again greeted by long and continued cheering.

Hon. David Mills.

The warmth of the reception that was accorded the minister of justice was second only to that of the premier's. His speech was not lengthy, but logical. The quiet that pervaded the entire hall during its delivery was the best evidence of the interest that was taken in his statements. Sir Wilfrid had pointed out the great progress made by the people during the past four years, and if the people were contented with the prosperity of the country they would give their support to those who had worked for it. Sir Wilfrid had industriously and assiduously worked for good government. (Applause.) The efforts that he had put forward during the past four years assuredly met with the people's approval, and he was sure, also, that they would return him to power with a larger majority than Everywhere the state of public opincountry was more prosperous than it years of Liberal government Canada had made more progress than during the eighteen years before. He knew that they would not do themselves the injustice of stopping the growing time, but would continue the present state

The honorable gentleman devoted a considerable portion of his time to the binder twine question, and his remarks upon that subject were listened to with close attention. He mentioned the establishment of the binder twine industry in the penitentiaries. The object, of course, was to make these institutions self-supporting. The more they produced of a marketable value the less would be taken out of the public treasury. If honest people had to work hard to support themselves, there surely was no object in making it easy for those criminals whose actions had placed them in prison to live. It was with this object in view that the predecessors of the present government had introduced into the prisons the machinery that was necessary for the production of the binder twine. This article had been chosen because it would interfere with bought, the twine made and sold when it was most needed. The annual production was about 500 tons, or onetwentieth of all that was consumed by Canadian farmers. The twine was usually sold, after advertising for tenders in all the big papers, in wholesale lots, to dealers who resold to the consumer. Similar manufacturing operations were carried on in the States, where it was advertised and sold di-rect, with the result that not onefortieth of the twine was bought by the farmers. While in power the op-position had sold directly to the farmers, and a large portion of the twine had not been paid for. The present government had sued and obtained judgments, and the money would soon be in the treasury. That was a policy that the present administration would not follow. But since the American war in the Philippines the cost of raw materials had materially increased, so that what had formerly cost less than 5 cents was valued at 14 cents. Because of the high price at which the twine was sold by wholesale dealers the government was asked by a number of supporters in parliament to withdraw sult was the same as in the Western States. The bulk of the output was Sir Wilfrid said he could not that loss was prevented. All efforts to sell direct had resulted in failure. order that the burden on the public treasury might be less than would be the case if other arrangements were made, the government sold to the highest bidder in wholesale lots, and they, in turn, sold to the people when the twine was needed.

Mention of trusts and combines had been made in connection with the binder twine question. The speaker had taken the trouble to ascertain the average price in a number of other countries during 1898-99. For retail dealers it was 6 cents per pound. The government's price ranged from 51/2 to 7½ cents. The charges would show that in Canada the government had sold for one cent per pound less than was offered by other parties. When the war broke out the cost of raw materials had increased, and, naturally the price of the finished product was The government had undertaken to secure such a rate as would protect the public treasury from loss, and he thought that it had succeeded in so far as it had gone in meeting the reason-able demands of the people. (Hear, hear.)

Continuing, Mr. Mills spoke of the difficulties that the government had necessarily overcome owing to the efforts of the opposition to protract the sessions and prohibit the passage of supplies, so as to prevent an election. They doubtless hoped that something might turn up that would improve all dealers their condition, which they knew was Toronto.

Geo. C. Gibbons, Q. C.

In beginning his remarks, Mr. George C. Gibbons, Q.C., recalled the day four years ago, when he addressed a North Middlesex audience at Ailsa Craig. That day was dark and raining, the present day was bright and shiny, and Mr. Gibbons said that there was in this an apt parallel of the condition of the country then and now. The Conservatives claimed that they and they only could give good government, yet Sir Wilfrid Laurier, a true and loyal citizen, had been returned, and what was the result? Is there a Conservative who can truthfully say that Canada does not today stand higher in the empire than ever before-(cheers)-and this largely because of Sir Wilfrid's course during his four years' tenure of power? If a government can show more progress in four years than was experienced in eighteen years under the previous administration, what grounds could there be for throwing it out? Whose was the prominent figure three years ago at the Queen's jubilee, second only to that of the revered monarch herself? Sir Wilfrid Leu rier's. (Cheers.) In the British Empire today there are three men who stand highest in the eyes of all, and they are Chamberlain, Roberts and Laurier. (Cheers.) The young people before him would some day be proud to tell their sons and drughters that they had seen and heard or Wilfrid Laurier, (Cheers.) His accession to power had marked Canada's assumption of a dignity and independence never known before (Cheers.) What had Tupper done for Canada when in England except draw his salary and eat good dinners? (Laughter.) Did anybody ever know a man who made so much noise and accomplished so little? (Cheers.) Mr. Gibbons told an amusing story of a man who, hearing that he could get 20 cents a dozen for frogs' legs, thought of the racket made by the fregs in a pond near his house, and considered that his fortune was made. After hunting all day he returned with only two old bullfrogs, yet the silence that night told him that those two frogs had made all the racket. That was Tupper's case exactly. (Laughter.)
The voters of North Middlesex knew their duty, and on election night they need only send out the telegram they sent last election night, with the single word "Ratz." (Cheers and laughter.) They were too large-minded to listen to Tory talk against Sir Wilfrid's race and religion. He had never shown undue favor to his own people or his own The electors would never church. make the mistake of sending back to power Tupper and the "nest of trait-(Cheers.) On Nov. 7, he felt sure, there would be a tremendous majority rolled up for Ratz. (Cheers.) THE CLOSE.

The list of speakers having been concluded, the chairman called for cheers for her Majesty the Queen, and they were given with a fervor that testified to the patriotic devotion of the loyal citizens of North Middlesex. The mention of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's name was the signal for another ova-tion to the premier. Mr. Ratz was cheered with a heartiness that augured well for his success on Nov. 7. Then the vast throng trooped out into the sunshine of the October afternoon. and the great Laurier meeting was over. THE DEPARTURE.

Entering their waiting carriages, and escorted again by their mounted attendants, the premier and his party drove to the station, through streets lined with applauding spectators. A short wait ensued at the depot, during which hundreds pressed forward to shake the hand of the Liberal leader. As the train moved off, assembled thousands cheered again and again in farewell. And so ended an afternoon that will live long in the memory of the citizens of Parkhill and its vicinity.

Chafing and Itehing Skin

Exasperated by Summer Heat. Became Intolerable-Relief Is Prompt and Cure Certain When Dr. Chase's Ointment Is Used.

To many fleshy people summer is the time of much misery from chafing and skin irritation. Some complain particularly of sore feet, caused by perspiration while walking. Others suffer from itching skin diseases, such as eczema, salt rheum, rash or hives. Persons who have tried Dr. Chase's Ointment for itching or irritated skin are enthusiastic in recommending it to their friends, because it is the only preparation which affords instant relief, and speedily brings about a thorough cure.

As a matter of fact, Dr. Chase's Ointment has come to be considered the standard preparation for itching skin diseases, and has by far the largest sale of any similar remedy.

Try it when the feet are chafed, and sore with walking. Try it when the skin is chafed, inflamed and irritated. Try it for pimples, blackheads, hives, eczema, salt rheum, and every form of itching skin diseases, It cannot fail

Mr. M. A. Smith, Brockville, Ont., writes: "I suffered many years with chafing, burning, and itching of the skin, and never found anything to do me good, or even give relief, until I used Dr. Chase's Cintment. I would advise all sufferers, and especialy biriders, to always have it on hand.'

This is a copy of the letter from Mrs. James Bradley, Amberley, Huron county, Ontario:

"I was afflicted with eczema for over six months, and it was so bad that my head was a solid mass of scabs, and would ulcerate when scratched. The itching was intense. I could not stand it. I had doctored for four months, and it did not do me any good. I had to give up housework and go home to my mother. I tried nearly everything, but could get no relief. Seeing your advertisement in one of the Toronto papers I decided to try Dr. Chase's Ointment.

"I got relief from the first application, and it only required one box and part of another to cure me. I am sure that Dr. Chase's Ointment is worth its weight in gold."

Dr. Chase's Ointment has never yet been known to fail to cure piles. It is the only remedy guaranteed to cure piles of every form. 60 cents a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co.,

TOWN DESTROYED BY A CLOUD-BURST.

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 22.—The town of Guadialoupe, Mexico, 40 miles below El Paso, in the Rio Grande basin, has been destroyed by a cloudburst. Guadaloupe was a village of 500 people, and depended solely upon the crops and domestic animals for subsistence. So suddenly did the torrent of waters come down from the hills that everything they possessed was swept away. and the inhabitants were only able to save their lives by flying to the foothttls. One old man and two children, besides cattle and horses, were lost.

Almira, the wife of Mr. Henry Swartz, concession 8 of London township, died yesterday afternoon at the family residence, after a lingering illness from heart trouble. She was in her 74th year, and was very highly esteemed by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. She leaves a husband and four daughters to mourn her death. The daughters are: Sarah wife of Ald. Cooper, of this city; Emily. wife of J. W. Mitchell, Linden, Mich.; Levina, wife of James Anderson, of London township, and Carrie Maria, at home. The funeral takes place to St. Johns cemetery tomorrow, at 1 p.m. Rev. Canon Richardson will officiate. THE BLACK KNIGHT.

The Auditorium was crowded yesterday afternoon to her the Rev. J. H. Hector, the Black Knight. It is four years since this well-known evangelist last visited London, and Father Time has dealt kindly with him during that period. He has still a pleasant smile, a hearty handshake and cheery word for all, while his deep, resonant voice has lost none of its sweetness.

Rev. Mr. Hector's address was a simple but eloquent gospel message to men, based on Isaiah lv., 7, admonishing sinners to forsake their evil ways, accept Christ as their savior and heaven as their home. He said he was thankful to God for having brought him safely through so many perils and dangers of the sea, so that he was once more in London, where he had so many warm friends. What was wanted in the Christian religion today was sincerity and honesty. People had also to learn that they had to conform to God's ways and not their own ideas if they were to be saved. What a blessing it would be, he said, concluding, if every sinner could be taught to realize that if he would "return unto the Lord, he will have mercy upon him."

The address was interspersed with song and story and was a very interesting one. Secretary Sayer presided. While the offering was being taken up, Mr. Newton Large sang a solo very

REGISTRATION

Over 2,000 Names Added to the Voters' List for the City.

Liberal Workers Highly Pleased With the Result.

The figures for the registration which closed on Saturday night show that 2,-031 names were added during the week. The Liberal committees are more than pleased with the result, being satisfied that they have by far the big end of the names added. The result has in fact, far exceeded the expectations of the most sanguine of the Liberal workers. Supplementary sittings will be held on Thursday and Friday of this week for those who were out of the city, ill, or can give satisfactory reasons for not registering previously.

OPEN SWITCH NEAR GLENCOE

Engine and Baggage Car Went to the Ditch-Firemen Crittenden, of Wingsor, Was Injured.

An open switch near Glencoe was the cause of a railroad wreck Saturday evening, which might have resulted seriously had the train been going at its usual rate of speed. Wabash train No. 5, consisting of four coaches, a baggage car, and drawn by engine No. 1,313, manned by a Grand Trunk crew, was running at a fifteen-mile gait at about 9 o'clock, when the open switch was met, and before the engineer had time to do anything the engine and baggage cars were piled in a promiscuous heap in the ditch, with the first coach dangerously near the toppling point. Fortunately for the train crew the ditch was not a very deep one, or there might have been fatalities. Fireman Ernest 'Crittenden, of Windsor, received several painful injuries, but it was not believed that they would result fatally. As soon as help could be gained another engine was fastened on to the coaches, and after a delay of 40 minutes the train proceeded on its way. Fireman Crittenden was put aboard and taken to Windsor, where he was conveyed to his home. The doctor who attended him stated that he might be injured internally, and if so his chances of recovery would be greatly lessened.

The train was in charge of Conductor Pitcher, who, when seen by a reporter, refused to say anything further than that the number of the engine was 1.313. The engine and baggage car are not damaged to any great extent.

Sabbath School Anniversary,

Yesterday was the Sabbath school anniversary of the Colborne Street

Methodist Church, and the services were of an interesting nature. Rev. G. Cobbledick, M.A., B.D., of Bothwell, occupied the pulpit. His evening discourse was an eloquent and appropriate one, having as its text Daniel i., 8-"Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the portion of the king's meat nor with the wine he drank." The book of The book of Daniel, said Rev. Mr. Cobbledick, affords material for a number of excellent pictures. One might have a statesman at prayer; another a prophet condemning his king to eat grass as an ox; third, a seer with vision to discern amid earthly kings a coming King and Prince of Peace. But if I were an artist I would prefer to paint a picture of a boy of Jewish descent, dark eye and clean cut countenance, declining his first proffered meal of rich wines and costly viands, and I would call that picture "A Holy Purpose." I prefer this picture because it explains all the others. It represented the clash of two forces—the boy's opposing pose and the king's purpose. The lat-ter was aided by every advantage of position and environment, while former was saved by his cultured conscience, resulting from his early years of religious training. Though only 16 years of age, he had been for eleven years the subject of instruction in the Jewish religion and schooled in faith pertained to idol worship. purpose is the religion in chief of life's forces, and the lapsed masses are the product of purposelessness. Many lives are gambled away through irresolution. Lives of such holy purpose will always reproduce themselves in streams of ever widening helpfulness. The great work of the Sabbath school, said the reverend gentleman in conclusion, is the forming of characters that will stand the strain of after

FORESTERS PARADE

Large Turnout of the C. O. F. to Hear Rav. Thos. Wilson Preach the Annual Sermon to the Order.

The annual church parade of the Canadian Order of Foresters, of this city, was held yesterday afternoon to King Street Presbyterian Church, where the pastor, Rev. Thos. Wilson, preached an instructive and absorbing sermon. The turnout was a splendid one, every court in the city being well represented in the procession, which was headed by the Seventh Regiment Band. The route of the procession was from Sherwood, along Dundas street to the church.

During the course of his remarks, Rev. Mr. Wilson argued that the Christian duty of every man was to provide for those of his household, and quoted the words of the Apostle Paul, as found in I. Timothy, v, 8. He spoke in terms of the highest praise of the Canadian Order of Foresters. pointed out that they were a purely Canadian society, and gave reasons why Canadians should feel proud of their country and themselves. order, in point of age, had attained to manhood, having been established 21 years ago. The time was ample in which to demonstrate the stability of the order; of its plans and promises. He urged the members not to place the order before the church of God, and not to forget the interests of the soul, for what should it profit a man to gain the whole world and lose his own soul.
