A HITCH London, March 2.- The Daily Chronicle says there is little doubt that the serious hitch in the concert powers is due, first to the lack of wisdom of the Government, and secondly, to the wrath of Emperor William who, the Unronicle adds, deeply resents the form of Lord Salisbury's announcement of the policy of Great Britain to wards Crete, especially the suggestion that Great Britain had taken the lead in the concert. Continuing, the Chronicle says: "This indiscretion was enhanced by Mr. Curzon's most unfortunate speech, in which he said that the solution was mainly due to Lord Salisbury. It is understood that the Emperor, in retaliation, made himself responsible for the officiar communique from St. Petersburg on Thursday last, and in which Russia threatened the immediate coercion of Greece, failing her instant compliance.'

A good deal of the credit for this is due to Edward Blake, for it was only when he began the cross-examining that Rhodes brightened up. There is that Rhodes brightened up. There is some undefined human quality in Irish lawyers which gives them a great advantage over their English colleagues in cases of this kind. It Would Need an Expenditure of

$5,000,000. London, March 2 .- In regard to the reported Eoston wool corner, the leading London wool brokers ridicule the idea that there is any possibility of cornering wool. They say it would require the purchase of two clips to do so, meaning the cornering of at least 8,000,000 bales, and the expenditure of $500,000,000. As the situation is understood in last sale 45,000 bales of the higher grease wools, and they will probably purchase as much more at the next with the view of making a million dollars out of their deal under the new tariff, in which, however, the London brokers believe they will be disappointed. The Extraordinary Experience of John Santine, a Sober Railroad Man. Alameda, Feb. 27.—John Santine, a well-known brakeman employed on the local narrow-gauge system, formerly for many years under Conductor Robert Owen on the Alameda broad-guage line says that he is the victim of a most extraordinary, relentless, and supernatural enemy, which robs him of rest at night, and for several years has made his life a horrible nightmare. "For about three years and a half I have been fighting ghosts at my house, 2,544 Clement avenue," said he today. "A mysterious, uncanny intruder has kept me in a constant state of nervousness at night when I wanted to sleep. I thought for a long time that it might be some 'varmint,' and set all sorts of pitfalls and snares to catch it. I had my bedroom, where I sleep alone, just filled with traps— mouse traps, rat traps, 'figure 4s,' and deadfalls big enough to kill an alligator, but nothing ever came of it.

"As these singular nocturnal disturbances continued I came to the conclusion finally that I must be af-

"I feel sure now that the creature is a vampire, which comes to my bed and lays itself on my neck, for what purpose II can't tell. "It was only last Monday morning, about 2 o'clock, that I awoke suddenly and felt an object resting on my left shoulder. In a twinkling it flitted away. I heard it pattering along the pillow as it went, and I am certain it was a creature, vampire, or what you will, that has been haunting me so long. It always has the most horrid smell, just like something from the grave, and I think it is the odor as much as anything which wakes me up.

"I have always left my window open at the top to have plenty of fresh air but it never occurred to me that the cause of my continual annoyance might find ingress in that way. Those vampires are awfully cunning creatures, and as soon as they see the least movement they are off like a flash. Sometimes the thing wouldn't come near for a week, so that though I tried to be on the watch all the time I could never catch it. I have fixed up a lot of snares, which hang across my room, and I hope to get it so tangled in them that I can shut the window before it escapes. This is an opportunity seldom offered, and worthy of the serious consideration of those looking for an absolutely safe, yet profitable, investment.

So confident is the Company of its position and future profits, that in subscribing for the number of shares desired it is not necessary to pay the full amount down unless you wish, as we will accept 25c per share, leaving the balance to be deducted from dividends declared until the stock is fully paid for.

We believe the cash and stock dividends declared within the next two years will more than return the present cost of the shares, leaving the fortunate holder with his stock at no cost to himself and greatly enhanced in price.

The body of ore in sight in our Kern County property is enormous in quantity, and by reducing the cost of mining and milling to less than $2.50 per ton, as the improvements about to be undertaken will do, should enable the Company to pay dividends of three times the present rate. There is no guess-work about this, for our product being gold never varies in value, and knowing the cost of production enables us to estimate our profits with an absolute certainty impossible in any other business.

Send for our prospectus. It will interest you and is worthy of a careful perusal, showing, as it does, a company conducted on a business basis, and the most successful of its kind in the Dominion to-day. Personal interviews invited.

I have a little girl two years; when she was one year old the same disease began to show upon her face. It wasn't long before her face became literally covered with it. In order to keep her from scratching it we had to bandage her hands up. I tried s got no relief. Seeing DR. CHASE'S CINTMENT so highly advertised I made up my mind to pur-chase a box, which I did from one of our leading druggists. The first application noticed a change. It was then I began to think about myself. With four or five applications, to my surprise, I am completely cured, no sign of the disease, and my little girl's face to-day is clear of all the scabs. I am only too glad to inform any person what a blessing OR. CHASE'S OINTMENT has proved itself. " HIRAM FREY.

flowed through the veins of man, woman or child.

For years Dr. Radway has been laboring in the vineyard of medical science in improving the process of obtaining the active properties from medicinal substances without heat. This great desideratum he has successfully accomplished, so that every ingredient used in Radway's Sarsaparillian Resolvent and the Ready Relief and Radway's Pills are the pure, unadulterated, active properties. In Radway's Sarsaparillian Resolvent one teasphonful contains more of the pure curative principle of Sarsaparilla than will be found in a quart bottle of the weak decoctions of the advertised Sarsaparillas.

"RADWAY ON OVARIAN TUMORS.

In Tumors, Nodes, Hard Lumps and Syphiloid Ulcers; in Dropsy, in Venereal Sore Throat, Ulcers, and in Tubercles of the Lungs; in Gout, Rheumatism, Heickets; in Morcanial Deposits—it is in these terrible forms of disease, where the human body has become a complete wreck, and where every frour of existence is a torture, wherein this great remedy challenges the astonishment and admiration of the sick. It is in such cases, where all the pleasures of existence appear cut off from the unfortunate, and by its wonderful, almost supernatural agency it restores the hopeless to new life and new existence, where this great remedy stands alone in its might and power.

In the ordinary skin diseases that every one is more or less troubled with, a few doses will, in most cases, and a few bottles in the more aggravated forms, work a permanent cure. TUMOR CURED

Dr. Radway, New York—Dear Sir: For the encouragement of others in similar circumstances to what I have been. I think it right for me to return my heartfelt thanks to you for the benefit I have received from the use of the Radway medicines. I had been afflicted over six years with tumor in the abdomen. Had been to six of the best doctors I could hear of in Iowa. They all told me the same story, that my trouble was out of the reach of medicine, and that it would in time kill me. I happened to see in your Almanac about tumors being cured. I immediately, as a last resort, resolved to try your treatment. To my great surprise I soon experienced good effects, and with only using three bottles of the Resolvent, one of the Ready Relief, and by continuing on with the Pills longer, I was completely cured. I was so enlarged that I was 4 feet 2 inches around, while now I measure 2½ feet around. Before using your medicine I had not laid down in six months. Now, if this sketch will be of any benefit to suffering humanity, I am willing to have is published. Yours with respects.

Sir Neville had no idea of letting his admiration for lell Claris' pretty (ace save her from the terrors of a most rigorous examination. When she had made the admission upon which the whole matter hinged, and had broken down into tears as a conse-quence, he gave her very little time to recover her composure, before he went on in a loud, pompous voice: "Well and so you admit there was a person in the house at the time Mr. King was robbed, of whose presence. there nobody but yourself knew anything. 'Now, my dear Miss Claris, be candid, and tell me all you know." With a deep sigh Nell obeyed. She admitted that, on the morning when her uncle was found in a state of insanity, she had made a careful search of the house, and found out a circum-stance which had escaped her notice, that a spare key of the back door, which had formerly hung on a nail in pered. the passage, had disappeared.

"I am telling you all I know," said Nell simply. She saw that no concealment was possible any longer. And surely, if Miss Bostal were really found guilty of such unlikely crimes, she must have been mad to have committed them. "When did the idea that Miss Bostal committed the thefts come into your mind for the first time?" Even now the remembrance of the terrible sensation she had experienced on that memorable occasion caused a frown of pain and distress to contract Nell's pretty features.
"Jem Stickels—the fisherman, who-Besides, her man-ner, when I told her Jem Stickels had threatened to tell the police, was so cool—she didn't seem to be the least concerned about it. How could I suppose it was because she meant to get him out of the way? Oh. I can't believe it even now—I can't, I can't!"

Why should she do it, unless she was mad? And there never seemed to be a trace of madness about her. I always thought she was clever." Sir Neville smiled a little at her ingenuousness. Nell herself might not be very clever, but assuredly she was a loyal-hearted friend, to bear the oblo quy which the affair had cast upon her, without a thought of clearing her, without a thought of clearing herself by betraying a friend. But this was not, of course, the official view, which was the view he was bound to take. He coughed severely, and gave her a keen look.

"Don't you think," he said, "that you were bound, in the interests of justice, to be more frank?"

If they passed a bylaw against cigarettes, the boys could still buy the tobacco, of which cigarettes were made, and the paper for the same. In this way they could make the cigarettes themselves more cheaply than if bought readymade. The reference to committee should be made to consider this mat-

ALD. COOPER ANGRY. Another clause of the committee's report recommended that the petition of James Shoebottom for permission to peddle whips on the market before 1 p.m. be granted. The clause was referred back to the committee.

The second clause recommende that auctioneers be not allowed on the market until after 3 p.m.

Ald. Cooper was on his feet in a mo-ment. He wanted to know the reason for the clause. He knew whom it was Ald. McCallum said the market clerk did not desire to state his reasons in public, but had sent him (Ald. Mc-Callum) a private letter, in which he said the auctioneers were a nuisance

He did not understand how men could get up and move such injustice. "It is a way of getting even with me, but I will carry it to the bitter end," he declared.

Ald. Hunt was puzzled to know what ex-school trustees were trying to run the city. The market clerk had asked the removal of some tables from the market, as the auctioneers were a nuisance. night the regular semi-annual concert was held, and the programme reflected much credit upon their efficient instructors. The audience was large, and the affair, in every particular, a gratifying success. Piano and vocal numbers, English, French and German recitations comprised the programme, which opened with Mozart's A Major Concerto, played in a charming manner and with precision, by Miss Annie Down. A number worthy of particular mention was Miss Minn Ell Sherley's rendering of Liszt's "eleventh Rhaposdie Hongroise." This composition, with so many technical difficulties. was excellently played, and Miss Sherley heartily applauded. Hiller's F sharp miner concerto was also well rendered by Miss Edith Burgess, and La Morena, by Chaminade, was delightfully played by Miss Miriam Hellmuth (Pura delightfully played by Miss Miriam am Hellmuth. Hunt Ball!

Never in the history of society events has there been such a display of exceedingly rich attires as there were at the Hunt Ball Friday night. Mrs. Pruding wore a beautiful mauve silk skirt, with bodice of quilted perine satin, trimmed with French gilt beaded cord, and her beautiful feet were encased in a pair of Johnston's One Dollar and Ten Cent Dongola Oxfords. Miss Constantiney looked excruciatingly pretty in a lovely train of blue satin, with high Queen Anne collar of crushed tarltan. The skirt was just short enough to expose a pair of beautiful Tan Oxfords (chocolate color), bought at Johnston's for One Dollar and Fifty
