least, statistics of the prefecture of police showing the rate is still sinking. The number of births in this city in recent months has been higher than ever, but this is said to be due to the fact that the population of Paris has been augmented by 500,000 persons during the last year. The percentage of births per thousand of the population is said to be the vital test, and it is lower at present, than it was before the outbreak of the war in 1914.

DEFINITE PLAN WANTED

So That All Construction May Be Done With Whole in View.

Building plans were discussed at the meeting of the governors of Western University, Wednesday afternoon, bu no definite action was decided upon. The majority of the governors favored the erection of two bulluings on the new iniversity site, one for classrooms library and administrative offices, and J. H. Thomas Announces Acthe other for the department of arts and decided to take up this plan architects, and a report on it bmitted within a short time. governors have practically aban The governors have practically abandoned the idea of erecting one large building, to house all departments, offices and the library. Some members of the board well in favor of going ahead with the two-building plan. Others opposed this, stating that it was better opposed this, stating that it was better to have a complete plan of all proposed building, looking well to the future, before proceeding. By this they would avoid any patchwork, and could place every brick and stone with a definite architectural goal in view, tending to the erection of university buildings worthy of the city.

A committee was named to interview the county council, to learn definitely what it was ready to do regarding a memorial to the soldiers. The board is anxious to learn just what Middlesex in-

Ottawa, Jan. 15.—Gen. Sir Edw. Morrison, D. S. O., K. C. M. G., speaking before the Ottawa Women's Canadian Club, scored the action of the Daughters of Canada, and read their resolution adopted at a meeting and contained the Canadian Press dispratch on January in a Canadian Press dispatch on January 13 to the effect that the Daughters of Canada were "emphatically and unalterably opposed to spreading the germ of German militarism in Canada," and that "the treaty concluding the war had not been signed before the insidious propaganda of militarism raised its head and had even dared to urge the preparation for the next war."

The general declared that to mention the militarism of Germany with that of Canada in the same breath was absurd. "I think the city would do well to encourage its citizens to take the arts course at the university," said the mayor. "I am not so anxious about the medical department, because education along that line is more of a direct ivestment, and not much urging is needed to take advantage of it. But we might apply it to the medical school as well. It would be a good investment for the city."

Ald. Harley thought that the tuition fees did not bar pupils from the university so much as the cost of board and clothing.

"Perahps not, but the tuition fees are just another straw on the load," replied the mayor. "In many cases the pupils live at home, and the board and clothing is not such a consideration as if they were boarding in Toronto or some other university centre. If the fees are removed, I think a good many would be encouraged to attend. I don't think we are going to get much more assistance from the government until we do something for the university ourselves."

The chief, however, kept his office door locked, for there stood the pile of booze valued at over $1,400. In the case against Hanney, Mr. Meredith submitted the argument that if he were guilty then a telegraph operator or an employee of his majesty's mail would be guilty if an order were sent to Montreal. The magistrate held that Hanney had received an order and was therefore guilty under the meaning of the act. Mr. Meredith pointed out that the temperance act was so constructed as to prevent agents from working for breweries, etc. It should be used with common sense judgment and not construed so as to create a trap for every private individual. An application from Helen Farncember, who lives outside the city limits, for water, was received. It was decided to provide the water. Commissioner Vining and Mayor Little were opposed to giving any the class of officers and men who are suburbanite water, as there were times in the summer when the citizens had to allow their lawns to be scorched through shortage. A motion to this effect was made, but voted down by the other three members of the commission.

READING RUBBISH. Editor of The Advertiser:

Andrew's Hail.

I am of the opinion much of the juvenile delinquency as reported by Inspector Kelly, is due to the flood of the past year, $1.300 being devoted to missions. Reports from the following organizations were submitted and adopted: The choir, Order of the King's Own, the Girl Guides. Marion Keith Club. Senior Girls' Club, the Junior Congregation, the Chinese Class, the Ross Memorial Bible Class, W. M. S. and the Ladies' Aid.

The givings for missions were increased over 25 per cent as compared with those of last year. Elders of the church present declared this to be the best year in St. Andrew's Church for all organizations concerned.

At a meeting last evening of the board of governors of the Western University, it was stated that hopes were entertained that the erection of the new university buildings would be started this summer, and that they would be ready for occupation in Octowould be ber, 1921.

The meeting was termed by one of the governors the most important in the history of the university. The announcement was made that much important business which came up for discussion could not be divulged at present, but the following was given for publication.

Dean W. Fox presented in detail a report on the needs of the department of arts for next year, providing for the enlarging of the staff and the extension of the courses. If the plans are carried out eight men will be added to the arts staff alone, bringing it up to a total strength of 32. All but five of these will be full-time members.

An outline of the campaign to raise money for the new arts building, and an outline of the campaign to raise money for the new arts building, and for an endowment was discussed. In connection with the securing of funds the board will apply for assistance to the general education board, which is in charge of the Rockefellrr gift of money, for the benefit of education in general. It was pointed out that the money, for the benefit of education in general. It was pointed out that this fund should not be confused with the endowment made to medical schools a few weeks ago. Means to increase the revenue of the schools for the coming year were considered.

The new estate lying to the north of the city, which is to be the site of the new university, has been rented to Sir Adam Beck and John Pringle for pasturage, except that part which is pasturage, except that part which is already rented by the London Hunt Club. Owing to the sudden great influx of students many internal problems have been created which have occupied all the time of the board, so that little outside business could be settled.

soon as need ends, waste begin As soon as need ends, waste begins. This is a summary of information which came before No. 1 committee of the city council at its meeting Wednesday. Thousands of cords of cord wood, cut to relieve the fuel shortage, are rotting at Algonquin Park and the municipalities which paid for it have expended their money to no advantage. The matter came before the committee in a communication offering to the city 15,000 cords of such wood, in four-foot lengths. The matter was referred to the utilities commission, which has charge of the city fuel yard. Ald. Harley stated that thousands Ald. Harley stated that the f cords of wood were lying unclaimed of cords of wood were lying unclaimed in the park.

All of this fuel was cut during the fuel shortage of 1918. Several loads of wood were brought into London, and even stores in the business district were burning wood in the furnaces. The city even contemplated destroying many of its finest shade trees to supply fuel.

Conditions improved greatly by the next winter and all this was forgotten. But thousands of feet of cord wood re-mained to tell the tale of wilful waste, which may help to bring worful want to the country at a later date.

ESTATE PURCHASE UP

It is possible that an effort will be made tonight to place the control of the work under the direction of one man and lay the responsibility for results on his shoulders. At present there are at least three separate divisions in the work and it is impossible to know whether the work is being carried out to the best advantage.

The building policy will also be discussed. The purchase of Pine Lawn estate on the Hamilton road will be another matter for discussion. There is room on this property for about 73 houses and the commission may decide to purchase and erect a number.

For years doctors have been searching for a combination that would enable them to inject into thin blood the elements it lacked. This can now be done, and any weak-blooded person can quickly be made strong and well. Already a small army of ailing people has proved the merit of taking after each meal with a sip or two of water. two chocolate-coated Ferrozone Tablets. This is easily done, and even one week's use of this wonderful blood-food will prove how nourishing and strengthening and flesh-building the treatment is. The British Government was compelled during the war and after the signing of the armistice to pay Canadian wheat producers 75 cents a bushel more for wheat than the Covernment sold it for to the British millers. This was to keep the price of bread down and enable the people of the United Kingdom to live.

Mayor E. S. Little and George M. Reid. of the Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the visiting delegates to the city at the evening session. Both expressed the city's appreciation of the honor conferred upon it by the holding of the convention here. Mr. Reid hoped that in future years the dairymen would gather in Condon.

For two solid hours last night the large musical audience which filled the New York Chamber of Music Society could have wished to be no place else on the globe. There was no destre to be in New York, the hub of the North American musical world, for New York had come nere in the form of a little symphony orchestra, the like of which has never been heard in London. F. L. Willgoose, director of the London Conservatory of Music, under whose management the concert was offered, is being congratulated enthusiastically on the brilliant success of the evening.

ambition, courage and real vital energy into a tired, run-down and shattered nervous system.

Here is a test worth trying. The next time you feel tired, blue, or when your nerves are fairly crying out, take a Ferro-Peptine nerve tablet. Then wait for just ten minutes, and note results. Ferro-Peptine seems to go stright to the nerve cells and starts work the minute it reaches them. It brings a ten-minute change from that awful dull, weak, lazy, don't-give-a-hang feeling, to brightness, strength, clear-headedness and courage. It calms and strengthens the nerves of people who get the "jumps" and fidgets, and gives them poise, power and tremendous reserve energy. Ferro-Peptine Tablets are absolutely harmless, contain no dope or habit-forming drugs, and are always safe, easy pleasant and efficient. Standard Drug Co. and many other leading druggists in London and vicinity sell it in large boxes—42 tablets to a package—on an absolute guarantee of satisfaction, or money back.—Advt,

Better than all the so-called "halr tonics" in the world is a simple, old-fashioned home recipe, consisting of plain Bay Rum, Lavona (de composee) and a little Menthol Crystals. These plain Bay Rum, Lavona (de composee) and a little Menthol Crystals. These three mixed at home in a few minutes, work wonders with any scalp. Try it just one hight and see. Get from your druggist 2 oz. Lavona, 6 oz. Bay Rum and ½ dram Menthol Crystals. Dissolve the Crystals in the Bay Rum and pour in 8-oz. bottle. Then add the Lavona, shake well, and let it stand for an hour before using. Apply it by putting a little of the mixture on a soft cloth. Draw this cloth slowly through the hair, taking just one small strand at a time. This cleanses the hair and scalp of dirt, dust and excessive oil and makes the hair celightfully soft, lustrous and fluffy. To stop the hair from falling and to make it grow again, rub the lotion briskly into the scalp with the finger tips or a medium stiff brush. Apply night and morning. WOODSTOCK, Jan. 14.—More than 1,000 people filled the local armories when Premier Drury addressed the farmers of Oxford County tonight, on the occasion of a public meeting in honor of G. R. Green, district agricultural representative, and Messrs. Burns, McCorquodale, John Blair and MacButcher, winning team at the recent inter-county stock judging contest at Guelph. This team carried off the Duff trophy, which has now been won twice by Oxford County. Mr. Green was given a check and each of the boys a handsome gold watch. A tremendous ovation greeted Mr. Drury as he rose to speak.

Not Class Government.

"This is not and will not be a class government," declared Mr. Drury before proceeding to pay high tribute to his associates, who, he said, could trace their ancestry back to those fine pioneers who first settled in this country.

pioneers who first settled in this country.

The apparent decadence in agricultural life, the premier said, he considered very grave, and that it was obvious that something was necessary for the betterment of rural conditions. He advocated higher standard of living and education as the line of action to take in this matter.

Back Roads Important.

Relative to good roads, he strongly emphasized their need in back townships rather than in localities through which the people wanted speedways. It was only consistent, he said, that these back roads should be fixed up, because it was on these roads that the rural people brought their produce to market. He suggested a method of surfacing for these roads rather than the building of brand new highways, for, he believed, they all had good rock foundations.

"What would be the good of asphalt

Speaking of the first program of the new cabinet, Premier Drury fore-casted the raising of lumbermen's dues, expressing himself at the same time as expecting a strong protest from the interests. He stated that a policy of reforestration would be instituted, and that the young timber would be restored. "The people will get a fair shares of the revenue," he added.

The slogan for the next federal election, said the premier, will be "No man to Parliament that had ever been there before."

Negotiating Committee.

The negotiating committee of the railwaymen's union, together with members of the executive committee, discussed for four hours tonight their new positions. Some of the delegates were emphatic in declaring that mere modification of the details and the removal of some of the anomalies would not meet the demands of their branches and that any acceptance by the Government of the full terms would justify them in voting for a settlement. The fact, however, that there was no abrupt rejection of the Government's compromise was considered as a hopeful sign.

Had Nothing To Say.

Mr. Biggs was asked if he had any statement to make in reply to criticisms which appeared in an Ottawa paper from Mayor Winter to the effect that a water-bound macadam road was not good enough; for the control of the same and the same and the same areas of the same and the same areas as the same

Mr. Biggs said he had nothing to say in particular. When traffic and upkeep cost justified it, more permanent roads would be built. He cited at the conference, he added, that of the sixteen hundred miles of roads it was proposed to build, some 100 miles, would require concrete construction from the first on account of special condition governing these stretches along the provincial highway.

TAKE RUSSELL CASE TO SUPREME COURT IF TRIAL REFUSED

WINNIPEG, Jan. 14. — R. B. Russell's conviction on a seditious conspiracy charge will be carried to the supreme court of Canada if the Manisupreme court of appeals refuses to grant a new trial, and if even one of the Manitoba justices gives a dissenting opinion, the defence committee announced tonight. One dissenting opinion would be ground for appeal, James Law, secretary, said.

MAKES NO MOVE TO RESTRICT SPECULATION

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Rumors current in Wall Street that the directors of the Federai Reserve Bank had taken further steps at the weekly meeting today to restrict speculation in stock market proved to be without foundation. Touching on the matter of a winter fair in this district, Mr. Doherty said that while a large national show was a good thing, he thought such a show could not make good unless smaller shows were held earlier, and in other parts of the province.

continent, gave an illuminating and comprehensive address on the breed-ing, growing, curing and dissemina-tion of pure live strains of seed corr tion of pure live strains of seed corn at the afternoon session. Exceptional Quality.

Prof. Moore declared that Canadian corn last year had been of excep-tionally fine quality, but that Flint corn in Canada was being replaced by the Dent varieties, just as it was in the States. corn in Canada was being replaced by the Dent varieties, just as it was in the States.

Wisconsin, said the speaker, had profited greatly by the Marquis spring wheat developed at the O. A. C. and the pedigree Oderbrucker barley.

The work of bringing Wisconsin to the top of the heap as a corn growing state had taken twenty years and a large expenditure of money, as well as the hearty co-operation of thousands of people, among whom were 27,500 boys, who had assisted wonderfully. It was only through such an organization as the Ontario Corn Growers' Association that great things could be accomplished in Ontario. Seed corn production was growing in importance, as the great livestock industries of Canada and the United States were supported largely by the corn crop. 'Therefore, it is no wonder that the problem which you corn growers have on your hands is of vast economic importance.

Encourage the Bay.

"If we are going to encourage the boy on the farm we have got to put him in a position to make some money," said Prof. Moore, who went on to tell of a young man in Wisconsin who took over the old farm with a mortgage on it and is now selling $3,500 worth of seed corn a year. "You couldn't get this young man to come to town to be a street car motorman or a policeman.

"There is no reason why you in Outario can't raise high in the seed corn market. We are buying seed corn here right now, even although $1,500.

"From the experience I have gained in Wisconsin I would naturally suspect that your great country from Lake Erie on the south extending northward would be so similar to Wisconsin that I am inclined to think the methods of breeding, growing the crop, established. that I am inclined to think the methods of breeding, growing the crop, establishment of seed grain centres, and the proper curing of the corn would be problems that would be identical with those of Wisconsin. Already great work has been accomplished in the province of Ontario and greater work is still before you. There is no doubt in my mind with the persistency of effort which is being display by your Corn Growers' Association that Ontario will take her place with the best of our corn growing states and be a leader in this line of effort," Prof. Moore concluded. in this line of effort," Prof. Moore con-cluded.

John Richardson, a farmer of the vicinity, got up at the conclusion of Prof. Moore's address and told the audience that he had lost a roll of $500 in the building. There was much scraping of chairs and a close search was made for the elusive roll, held to-gether by an elastic band. It was no found.

The speaker said he had accepted the portfolio of agriculture in the hope that he would be able to help the farmers in the solution of their problems.

"I told the president of the agricultural college 25 years ago that the farmers would solve their ordinary problems if the college would show them how to make it prosperous. Show them how to make money, and they would do the rest. I still believe this." This remark was vociferously applauded by the farmers, who felt that the speaker had struck the keynote.

A QUESTION OF ECONOMY. It is rather curious that both Mr. Drury and Mr. Rollo should be so complaisant as to declare at once that the abolition of Government House as a residence for the Lieutenant-Governor is not a plank of the U. F. O. or the Labor party. Mr. Drury qualifies his statement by adding that the U. F. O. had condemned the expense of the structure and its upkeep. The U. F. O. stood strongly for general retrenchment of expenditure and against the exploitation of provincial revenues for the costly amusement of "a few big bugs in Toronto." It is plain that, whatever Mr. Drury may say, Lieutenant-Governor Clarke's speech of Monday night has not pleased a number of prominent farmer-democrats in the Legislature. They see no public calamity in the abolition of Government House.

"Nothing would please the Soviets or the Red Bolshevists more than to abolish Government House and the office of Lieutenant-Governor," says Mr. Clarke. That was about what Sir Robert Borden thought of the abolition of titles in Canada. All over this province there is a strong and growingly passionate feeling against the use of provincial money to create a court at Toronto for the millionaire society that centres there. An important contribution to the general anger against the late rich men's government was made by the Don palace issue. This is undeniable. That palace is as hated as the upstart title-holders who profiteer in the necessities of the people's life. It is as symbolic of rich men's government as the Bastile was of the ancien regime in France. Mr. Clarke makes a charge, playful or serious, against the public opinion of Ontario as "red bolshevist!" What do they know of Ontario who live in luxury in Toronto?

The question of Government House is certain to come up in the Legislature. The U. F. O. is committed to economy. The country expects that the new people's government will do

JESSE JAMES AND THE BOY.

In another column a correspondent complains of the evil effect on the juvenile mind of what is broadly known as the Jesse James novel. He believes that much of the delinquency influence of this trash. Unquestionably, along community as the slacker in war. with a certain type of movie picture the "dime novel" holds an unwholesome sway over the ful avenues by this feverish literature. The best that can be said of it, as of the blood and doners will no doubt respond liberally to the thunder photo play, is that virtue generally call. triumphs and vice catches it hot. In bringing about this happy denouement, however, every body wades through seas of blood. The youthful reader learns to look on murder and massacre as a light, everyday occurrence. Worse still, too frequently the heroes of outlawry "get away with it." The representatives of authority are discomfited, made to appear ridiculous. .The youthful reader of this stuff cannot help but lose respect for law and order.

Recently this city has been flooded with this pernicious type of book. We have laws that if put into force protect the public from immoral literature. It would not be difficult, we imagine. to prove that the "dime novel" comes under this ban. The police report a large increase in crimes by juveniles, such as petty thievery, and the Jesse James trash may have not a little to do with it. We censor the movie pictures. Why not investigate the unwholesome, flashy reading matter that is to be found much too abundantly on some of our news-stands?

ONTARIO CORN SHOW.

The twelfth annual Ontario Corn Show is in full swing at Chatham. The exhibition is a fine educational factor and has brought about decided advantages not only to the adjoining counties, but to the entire province. When the association was organized twelve years ago by Angus McKenny and several other wide-awake farmers who saw the possibilities of Western Ontario as a seed corn centre, only a few bushels of Canadian grown seed were planted within the province. Ensilage growing was not very popular because of the late maturing strains of seed that were supplied by the United States. Today individual dealers in Kent and Essex Counties supply as high as 90,000 bushels. or in other words over 200,000 bushels of seed corn is grown within the province and has proved a big factor in the production of better ensilage in Ontario.

Canadian grown corn, because of its early maturity, produces a superior grade of ensilage. When the corn fair was first organized there were a great many varieties grown. However, through the exhibition of superior varieties the corn men were weaned away from inferior strains of corn and today only half a dozen varieties are grown.

The corn show his been instrumental in advertising Western Ontario and particularly Essex and Kent Counties. American farmers who visited the exhibition in former years were impressed with the type of corn shown and on making inquiries found not only could these countles produce as good an article as Ohio and Illinois, but that the yield if anything was and bought land in Ontario for a much smaller figure. Today land values in the western counties have risen materially and are now on a par with corn land of the States.

The corn show this year, according to the experts, is of higher quality than ever, and this is due in no small measure to the young and energetic farmer who has headed the show for the past three years, Lester Gregory of Chatham. Long may the corn show keep up its good

A MESSAGE FOR CANADIANS.

Clear thinking was predominantly the characteristic of the views expressed by Dr. James W. Robertson before the London Canadian Club in dealing with the economic outlook of this country and such much-discussed matters as the high cost of living. The spirit that seized the whole country during the later years of the war, making us all apostles of greater production, and of thrift and opponents of wastefulness is something that we need today just as much as during the war period. Dr. Robertson gave food for thought by his statements that a large section of Europe would do little more than exist until two good harvests had been garnered. With fifteen million families receiving government aid to meet unemployment conditions, an argument for thrift and against wastefulness was presented that should appeal to every Canadian's conscience.

With want so great and the world's needs so unsatisfied, there is no reason why efforts to stimulate production should be lessened because the war happens to have come to an end. Two years ago every home had its backyard garden, vacant lots were cultivated, children in the schools had their plots and in a sense we were all producers. Somehow this seemed to fall away in 1919. There were fewer home gardens. fewer vacant lots planted, naturally there was a diminished amount of food home-grown, and it may be that this in part contributed to the increased cost of living. This may seem a small matter, but possibly the greatest benefit that came from the practices of 1917 and 1918 was the spirit it put into people, the spirit to produce, to save, to increase the amount of foodstuffs so that others might not want. The influence of this upon the children in the war years was of great value and it is a pity if it should

Dr. Robertson emphasized this idea when he nght home in his peculiarly forceful way the idea that anyone who would deliberately waste food in these days was an offender against our common civilization and against humanity. The children of Europe, starved through the war period, are only now regaining strength through the supplies that come in from outside, and he who would not see a child in Canada suffer from lack of food, must have a stony heart i he would see a child elsewhere perish or be stunted in its growth for lack of necessities of

SOME MOOSE. [London Chronicle.]

Two newly-arrived Scottish immigrants, wandering up a well-known thoroughfare in Montreal were attracted by a magnificent specimen of a moose in the spacious window of the C. P. (It is said that the sites of some of the old French forts on the borders of Lake Champlain and Lake George, long uncertain, have recently been determined by the discovery of garden flowers, natives of France, planted by the French soldiers during their brief respites of peace.)

A sea of woods with swelling hills Lift into billows smooth and green, Divided where the long lake fills The valley calm between.

And here and there a fort of wood, With soldiers clad in white and blue, Prepared to make their footing good Where'er their lilies flew.

And now and then a lurking foe, With cracking burst of border hate. Of the portentous ebb and flow Of armies big with fate.

Probably before long the skins of rats and mice will be in great demand. And when that time comes the frenzied financiers of the family will take their turn at the rat holes as successors to the long-sold cat. And father and brother, and perhaps mother and sister, will pounce daringly upon all rodents that venture into the room. There will be a brief struggle, then a squeak from the victim, and perhaps a squeal from sister. After which, the body of the rodent will be borne in triumph to the family safety vault, where it will be locked securely until a buyer from the fur market can arrive and purchase the treasure.

Dear Miss Grey,—I enjoy reading the letters in your Mail-Box. One often gets on much help on different lines. I saw a few days ago one asking what to do for a leaking pipe. This is what we did, and found it answered all right. Cut a hole in the back of the pipe, either round or square, about one inch across; it allows the air to go up. For Moths.

Dear Miss Grey.—I have been an interested reader of your page for a long time, and now see where I can help. Mrs. J. C. asked how she could get rid of buffalo moths. If she will get a pint of carbon bi-sulphide at the drug store, put some in an old tin and place it in her drawers it will evaporate in a few days, and though it has a very offensive odor, will leave none behind. I also put it on shelves in the clothes room and have not seen a moth since. It must be placed up high, as it will not ascend; it is heavier than air and settles down. I also killed out several ant thills on the lawn with it; it will go down to the deepest run. It must not be handled near a fire or light. Heather Bell asks if any reader remembers Kit's paper in the Mail and Empire. I do, and always enjoyed it very much. I am inclosing an envelope for the much-sought-after stocking foot pattern. Goldie Prodger May Play With Toronto St. Pats on and Prodger Figuring-Canadien Manager Has Suspended Local Boy.

A rumor of Goldie Prodger being traded for Cameron of the Toronto St. Pats, which circulated yesterday, could not be confirmed, owing to the fact that Prodger was in Toronto on busi-ness. It is believed, however, that the local boy will succumb to the offers he has received to go again into pro ranks, and it is entirely possible that he will return today with a contract.

Kennedy, the owner of the Canadiens, wired Prodger the other day, notifying him that he could either report to the club or consider himself suspended by the N. H. A. Included was an offer and a contract. However, the local man did not see his way clear to accept Kennedy's invitation to join him, so officially thus far is on the suspended list.

Prodger would certainly fit in nicely on the St. Pats' line-up, especially in view of recent events, whereby the Queen City pros are not certain of what players they own and those they don't. In any case, Goldie would perhaps furnish the aggressive offensive, which the It is believed, however, that the local

Rumors of Trade With CamerJECUMSEH TROPHY.

Started with Chicago in 1915 and was sent to Cleveland in the trade for Joe Jackson the same season. He remain ed a member of the Cleveland club until a year ago, when Lee Fohl traded him to Philadelphia for Larry Gardner and Elmer Myers. Connie Mack was disappointed in Roth after a few months and sent him and Shannon along to Boston for Outfielder Amos Strunk and Infielder Jack Barry. Barry, however, never reported to Mack. Now Fred Barrow sends the pair he got from Philadelphia along to Washington. It is difficult to say which club got the better of the deal. If Roth plays the kind of ball he did in Cleveland in 1916 and 1917, Washington will be the gainer. It will be getting a pretty fair man for second base, which has been a weak spot in the Nationals' defense for several years. But Griffith has weakened another infield station, for in Eddie Foster he had one of the best third-sackers in the league and absolutely the best hit-and-run batter in the circuit. Possibly Griffith has in mind some other trade whereby he will get a new third-sacker, or it may be he thinks he can develop one from the bunch of youngsters he has picked up.

As for Menoskey, he was a good substitute and had a habit of looking like wonder for a week or so and then slumping.

Roth and Menoskey had the same batting record this year, each hitting By a peculiar concidence, Foster and Shannon also were tied in the patting record, each hitting. 263. Foster, though, is much the more valuable player because of his uncanny pro-

Off the Boards

A joint meeting in Boston of 'varsity athletic directors has decided that an international intercollegiate hockey league is not only practicable, but absolutely necessary to the game in the United States, and have drawn up a tentative schedule involving the big universities of each side.

The annual tours of the Canadian 'varsity teams have made the game what it is in the States, and its popularity now is extending to such a degee that an international league is a necessity. Eight teams are included in the present arrangements.

The juniors are brimful of confidence for tomorrow night's game against Till-sonburg, which team broks their string of victories rather unceremoniously in that town, Monday night. Just what happened after the first period when London had scored two goals is not yet clear to the team themselves or some of the fans that accompanied them down to the den of the Pan Drieds.

The club officials claim two unearned goals, but even at that, it must be admitted that the Pan Drieds won the game. However, the locals figure that with their own home crowd they'll be able to wipe this defeat off the slate entirely. the slate entirely.

The local intermediates stage the only game of that particular series in the O. H. A. Saturday night, when they journey down to Sarnia. After the last game, it's rather doubtful what the result will be, but one thing is certain, and that is if the locals can get their speed working in the right direction. Sarnia with speed working in the right direction, Sarnia will only know by the newspaper ac-counts that they've been in

There are no senior games this week that make much difference to the outlook: Argos appear with the Kitchener six at their own sheet, and it should go to the ex-champs—not on form, but on determination. The ex-champs have fallen down twice now, and another fall down is going to mean a lot to fallen down twice now, and anoth tall down is going to mean a lot them.

Cleghorn later in the even-Cleghorn later in the even-ing turned in a splendid game, and helped ma. wrially in defeating Quebec, scoring two goals and assisting in another.

The other clubs now claim that had no objections to Speck, who been suspended by the N. O. H because of professionalism. Speck sides serving several years overseas, has been a resident of Haileybury for ten years, and the club are going to fight the case before the A. A. U. of Speck's case would seem to be a just one. His worst misdemeanor is a few minutes with the old Toronto pros., according to reports. Had he been faster he would have stayed longer, but Speck shoudn't be punished for his ambitions.

Wiarton's defeat by Owen Sound must be a hard pill for the wearers of the red to swallow. Nimmo, Rock, the two Ashleys, look like four of the team that used to take a lot of attention that used to and beating.

"A DAMSEL IN DISTRESS," WITH JUNE CAPRICE IN STELLAR ROLE, NOW SHOWING AT MAJESTIC

One of the comedy treats of the year is "A Damsel in Distress," the special film adaptation of P. G. Wodehouse's famous Saturday Evening Post story, which is being shown at the Majestic today, tomorrow and Saturday, with June Caprice and an all-star cast.

June is the delightful "Damsel in Distress," in love with a man whom she has not seen for over a year, and whom her family have never seen. The family think the mysterious lover has turned up in a young playwright who family think the mysterious lover has turned up in a young piaywright who has taken a summer home by their big country estate. The playwright is in love with her, but he isn't the mysterious one. Daddy takes steps to protect his daughter's happiness, aided by a romantic young cousin, but their efforts only add to the lovely damsel's distress, and then auntie takes a hand, to add a few more complications. In fact everyone takes a lively interest in the damsel's romances, even fat pompous Reggie, but it takes more than the united efforts of the family and the young playwright to set things right.

Among the extra film attractions on this program will be a special Christle comedy entitled "Go West, Young Woman," starring Fay Tincher; one of Dr. Ditmar's interesting films of strange animals; News Scenic and travel pictures. travel pictures.

An unreliable auto, a wife without a mother to go te, twins, and an unfriendly cop all combine to cause merriment in Charlie Chaplin's latest picture, "A Day's Pleasure," showing at the Grand today, tomorrow and Saturday. The laugh's start before the operator has time to adjust his machine. Chaplin emerges down the cottage steps, the father of a family, gloved and coated, ready to set forth on a day's recreation. The first obstacle arrives when the family auto refuses to respond, to the kicks and cranking of the famous comedian.
