

CHURCH NOTES FOR BUSY MEN.

ROMAN CATHOLIC THE TWO GREAT ANTAGONISTS.

"In this new land," says the New Freeman, "the two great forces will be the Catholic church on the one hand, and religious indifference on the other. There are other forces, but these will be the two chief antagonists. Is not the Catholic cross-crowned church better for western Canada than the anarchist club or the red flag of Socialism? We venture to say that Canadian statesmen think so at least."

AS IT SHOULD BE.

The Catholic North-West Progress says that the Knights of Columbus of Butte, Mont., celebrated Columbus Day, Oct. 12, by attending Mass in a body, where a special sermon was preached by Bishop Carroll. In the evening the Knights had a banquet. The menu was a good one, splendidly served, and it was thoroughly enjoyed by every one present. It was a temperance banquet, too, for coffee was the strongest drink on the table, the Knights being advocates of temperance.

THE REASON WHY.

Can ever explain the organizing power of the Catholic church in gathering together so many millions of people for so many centuries, except this, that the Catholic church is the church of God; that Christ, His Architect, in God. Rival institutions failed utterly—century after century. They gradually but surely went to dust. The Catholic church has conquered men and devils, for this one but sufficient reason—that it was founded by Christ, the Son of the Living God.

THE ANGLICAN. THE CHURCH CONGRESS.

Swains in Wales was the place of meeting, the attendance was large, and the presiding officer, John Owens, the Bishop of St. David's. Besides the Archbishop of Canterbury and 200 British and colonial bishops were present. The three most noted addresses were those by Dr. Fagun on Christian Science; by the Bishop of London on Socialism; and by the Archbishop of Canterbury on Lay Preaching. Among other striking things he said, "We should never have lost the best of Wesley's followers if we had the courage to appoint local preachers."

BISHOP KYLE ON INSPIRATION.

"I feel no hesitation in avowing that I believe in the 'plenary inspiration' of every word of the original text of Holy Scriptures. I hold that not only the Bible contains the Word of God, but that every jot of it was written or brought forth by divine inspiration and is the Word of God. I am not aware of any discrepancy, inaccuracy, or contradiction to the facts of science and history, such as is expected and do exist in their writings. I consider such a theory a theory. I consider that it practically destroys the whole value of God's Word, and awards an accolade of infidelity and skepticism, and raises far more serious difficulties than it pretends to solve. I have no doubt that the whole question of inspiration, like everything else supernatural, must remain unexplained. I cannot explain. But the difficulties of the plenary view are not insurmountable. My theory appears to be that the Holy Spirit, who inspired the writers of the Bible, could make mistakes, and were not in all things guided by the Spirit, and I know not where I am. I feel nothing certain, nothing solid, nothing trustworthy in the foundation of my faith."

THE PRESBYTERIAN TIMELY.

Discussing the question of Evangelistic Campaigning, the Presbyterian speaks thus: "The success of such endeavor will depend upon God, up on the preparation made for it, the skill and competence of the evangelists in connection with it, the quality of the preaching, and the faithfulness of the personnel who are above all results for the glory of God, and the good of the Church, can only be expected, when the whole enterprise is carried out in the spirit of prayer. No mere method, however brilliant, or novel, can command success. No mere machinery, under whatever patent, can secure the result. The whole matter belongs to the region of spiritual realities. The supreme need is spiritual power. The essential condition is prayer."

KNIGHTING A MINISTER.

Rev. Robinson Nisbet, editor of the British Weekly, has just been created a Knight by His Majesty, and is the second Presbyterian divine who has received such an honor.

REV. DR. FLAGG.

The many friends of Dr. Flagg, formerly of Moncton, will learn with regret that by a mis-step on his stairs, he fell and broke an arm in two places, and was otherwise badly bruised.

SATURDAY SERMONETTE.

GOING BACK TO THE OLD HOME.

If you have been away from the old home for twenty years or more you better not go back again, even for a visit, for if you are the right kind of man or woman you will get more pain than pleasure from the visit. If you are the wrong kind of man or woman it will not matter much where you go, or stay.

away from the old places—after an absence of years—for your heart will ache and ache when you revisit them. A Highland Scotchman I knew, who came to Canada many years ago, and who learned to love his adopted land, and whose eyes would glisten when the children sing the "Maple Leaf," always planned to go back to the Highlands for a visit. He was poor when he came here, but, by industry and the thrift he had become "wait to do." The thought of that visit "some time" made him work harder and economize more to bring it nearer.

The day for which he had so long planned came, when he bade good-bye to his wife and children for a season. And then I think the first afternoon he who had stayed at home so closely for many years could not get away for a month or more without emotion. The sea was wide and sometimes there were storms and shipwrecks. And there might be sickness and accidents at home and if the sea were kind to him and he came back, it might be to find that his wife and children were dead. It took him weeks to come to Canada, it only took days to go back. When he came he was young and strong and hopeful woman and their one child was a bonny boy. Now he was old and grey-headed, his wife was dead, her hair was white. The "bonny boy" was a man now with boys of his own, and the Canadian boys and girls were grown to manhood and womanhood. When he came over his little all was with him on the ship. Now he has a broad farm, many cattle and money in the bank behind him. When he came he was "steerage" and some of his fellow passengers were rough and uncouth and all were poor. Now it was "second cabin" and his fellow passengers were well dressed, well mannered, and none of them were poor.

But Scotland had changed, in spite of her traditions, her history and conservatism, for time goes on and brings changes in the "old" land as well as in the "new."

The old man had once taken advantage of excursion rates to the North-west, and his eyes had looked out on the prairie and Scotland across some of the narrow and compared with them. He had gone through the "backwoods" and had seen the snowy peaks of the mountains and the Highlands seemed as hillocks in comparison.

There was much to impress him, and Canada suffered in comparison with many things he saw as he went to his old home. The solidity of the cities as they said, "I have no doubt of perishable wood to last for a day. We are built of imperishable stone to stand for all time."

His old home he found, but it was in ruins, save for the walls there was nothing left, and they stood like grave-stones he thought in memory of the dead.

Of his old schoolmates he found only three. The rest were dead or had emigrated.

When he asked for an old friend he missed. "In the kirk yard," he was told, until he said "They are all in the kirk yard," and when he went back home after a while he said "It is time I was with them," and not many weeks after his return he was laid away to rest in the kirk yard.

The journey taxed an old man's strength too severely, perhaps, but they always said that he died from loneliness and grief as he lay on his old "meeting house" to find only four or five left. The rest are in the kirk graveyards.

DANCING A SIN, SAYS PREACHER

Rev. W. R. Robinson Strongly Condemns It

Also Bridge Whist—Mentions Theatres, Too, in His Anniversary Sermon.

There were special services in Ludlow Street Baptist church yesterday morning and last evening, when the first anniversary of the Rev. W. R. Robinson, as pastor of the church, was observed. At the evening service Rev. Mr. Robinson strongly condemned the practice of dancing as a sinful waste of time, and liable to bring evil results.

At the morning service the pastor preached a special sermon to the children, and in the afternoon the annual Rally Day Service was held. The superintendent of the school, R. H. Parsons, presided, and after opening devotional exercises had been held the following interesting programme was carried out—Rally Day service by Superintendent Parsons; recitation, Gerald Thompson; solo, Lucinda Brown; exercises by the primary classes; address by Mr. Moore, boy secretary of the Y. M. C. A.; recitation, Kenneth Reid; solo, Francis Lanyon; duet, Masters Harry and Percy Brown; recitation, Miss Dunham; harmonica solo, G. T. Ring.

At the conclusion of the programme, Mr. Robinson was presented with a bouquet of fifty-two white carnations, representing the fifty-two Sundays at which he has conducted the services in the church. The bouquet was the gift of the members of the class in appreciation of the good services rendered by the pastor.

There was a large attendance at the meeting, and a year of activity is looked forward to.

At last evening's services the pastor, Rev. Mr. Robinson, delivered a very forcible and eloquent sermon on Christian Social Life. The Church of the Holy Spirit, he said, must set the example for the social life of any community, and if the church didn't set the standard the young people would go elsewhere to get social life. After speaking along this line at some length, he dealt in particular with some of the phrases of the so-called social life which Christian people must avoid. He strongly condemned dancing as being sinful and a waste of time. The young people, said the speaker, gave an excuse for dancing, that it made them graceful and was good exercise. In this they were sadly mistaken. He thought by many not to be carried out in the dance hall and social dance. Gambling, said the preacher, was thought by many not to be carried out in St. John. But there are many bridge parties held during the year for which people are asked to contribute a small sum, and he hoped none of it was going on among the members of his congregation on the West Side.

Referring to theatre going, the speaker said that the theatre was a term which was used and misused. He condemned many of the plays produced, but some, he said, were in a sense elevating. Personally he could not go to the theatres, he would thought by many not to be carried out in a sense elevating. Personally he could not go to the theatres, he would thought by many not to be carried out in a sense elevating. ### ST. LUKE'S DELEGATES 40TH ANNIVERSARY

Interesting Services Conducted Yesterday in North End Episcopal Church—Eloquent Discourses by the Bishop of Nova Scotia

Perhaps the greatest day of services which St. Luke's church has ever seen fell yesterday, when three great audiences gathered to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the first Anglican service held in Portland parish and to hear the uplifting addresses of their Lordships the Bishops of Nova Scotia and Fredericton. At the morning service, when both bishops spoke, an impressive feature was the unveiling of a brass memorial tablet to Rev. Thos. Woods, the clergyman who conducted the services which are being celebrated. This is placed upon the left wall of the church.

In the afternoon the bishops spoke again to a gathering of the children of the Sunday school. The schoolroom has been profusely decorated for the celebration week. Following is the programme for the balance of the celebration:

Monday—Men's luncheon; the Bishops of Nova Scotia and Fredericton; Churchwarden Hilyard, chairman.

Tuesday—Sunday school and young people's evening. Story of the parish told by the children.

Wednesday—Laymen's missionary conference evening. Addresses by members of the church.

Thursday—Addresses by the clergyman of the city.

Friday—Congregational social gathering.

Sunday, Nov. 28th—The Archbishop of Halifax, 11 a. m. and 7 p. m.

HIS EVENING TEXT.

The history of Nova Scotia took as its evening text: "Now ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellow citizens with the saints, and with the household of God." This message had been for the whole of the world as well as for the Colony, and showed all that what Mr. Moray was vouchsafed to them as well as to the Colony.

His Lordship hoped that next year these who took part in this year's celebration would take part also in the bi-centenary next year. This was hoped to commemorate by something which would stand for years to come. It would be tried at the great church congress next year to make a great living monument of the work done since the Master, which would leave a lasting effect upon the life of the church in Canada. There was a large share of honor to maintain, the up-keep of which it was the duty of the members of the church to work out to the full extent of their powers.

It was hoped that a lasting objective remembrance, too, would be created in the solid structure of all "Saints' churches, and in the hearts of the people of the diocese of Nova Scotia. Thus the memorial of the history of the church in Canada would be made not merely a silent witness of stone, but a great and living thing.

Yesterday Rev. F. C. Farewell, B. ### FREE UNTIL CURED

No man need suffer from the loss of that vitality which makes life worth living. He can be made strong, magnetic, fearless and self-confident in his power both in business and in society, free from spells of despondency, nervousness, lassitude and brain-wasting. I have a certain cure for Nervous Debility, Vertigo, Rheumatism, Lame Back, Stomach, Liver and Kidney complaints, and I will give it absolutely free until a cure is effected. How can I do this? For two reasons. I have the certain knowledge that my 'Zelt' will cure, and I have confidence enough in mankind to wait for my money until I have succeeded in curing thousands every year, and have made a tremendous success doing business on this basis. NOT ONE PENNY IN ADVANCE OR ON DEPOSIT, and if I fail it costs you nothing whatever. All I ask is that you pay me the usual price of the Belt when cured. I will leave you to be the judge, and will take your word for results, or for each I give full wholesale discount. Every year's course success has brought forth many imitators. Beware of them. You can try the original, the standard of the world, free until cured, then pay for it. Call or send for one today, also my two illustrated books giving full information free, sealed, by mail.

One of those tasks was to permeate the new social and economic conditions produced by the introduction of machinery with the principles of Christianity and to act as stewards of the material wealth and forces given the age enforcing the principles of brotherhood and sacrifice. Another duty was to save the cities, which passers seventy-five per cent of the wealth. They might be made great powers for good, but the foreign population constituted a problem difficult of solution. He was about forty years of age, and is survived by three brothers, Herbert, George and T. Corey, all of the West Side.

Mr. Green was well known in the city and his many friends will learn of his sudden death with a profound regret.

105 Passengers and Crew of 78 Have Thrilling Experience

Explosion in the Boiler Room Cause of Fire

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 21.—Faded, nearly exhausted and clad in borrowed clothes, the 105 men, women and children passengers on the steamer St. Croix, which was burned and sank last night off Point Dume, arrived today, with them the 78 members of the crew, likewise exhausted and destitute.

All were brought from Santa Monica by trolley car after the police department and residents of that city had found the boat that broke a fast which for some had lasted 35 hours. The survivors had walked, ridden and made their way to Santa Monica, as best it could be done from the isolated landing place. Mrs. L. A. Wallace remained at the Beach City Hospital with her 8-months-old baby. She was severely injured when a davit rope broke and the boat she was in plunged low into the water. The passenger steamer St. Croix, the West Pacific S. S. Company, burned to the water's edge last night at the mouth of the San Pedro Canal, about eighteen miles north of Santa Monica. The lives of eighty-two passengers and the crew of thirty-six men were saved by vigorous action by the officers of the crew, aided by a calm sea.

All on board escaped in life boats afloat and were landed at Point Dume on the beach. They camped last night in the open air, the greatest difficulty was experienced in launching boat and life-rafts and placing the passengers, who were mostly women, aboard them.

A panic among the passengers was prevented by the officers and crew who gave the passengers a chance to save their personal belongings.

PARTY AND THE MAN

A Tupper voting Grit is a development of Canadian politics that would have earned a copy-right in an asylum for any prophet who would have ventured such a prediction half a dozen years ago. And it is an encouraging development. The party system of government is doubtless the best that has yet been devised to meet democratic conditions. But though it works very satisfactorily in the main, as far as the only real way of affairs in accordance with the popular will is concerned, its effect upon individual independence and upon public honesty has not been good. No party can always be right and the man who votes for his party when it is wrong is either thoughtless or fanatical to his country's interests. It is not those whose loyalty to their own ideas and to the public interests is stronger than their party loyalty, the party system would drop to pieces for very rottenness. And fortunately for Canada the number of those who refuse to wear a political party's party is increasing. It is not those who do not allow it to become a nose for the strangling of their convictions, is growing, and Sir Hilbert Tupper is a very good example of political independence will start many men thinking along similar lines.

THE LABOR LEADERS AND THE LAW

The three labor leaders, Gomers, Atchell and Morrison, are due in a few days to begin their trial for twelve, nine and six months' terms in jail for the crime of contempt of court and the disregard of the injunctions of the court. The trial of the leaders upon the organization is strengthened rather than weakened by this fact. They have been so successful in their defiance of office and eagerly voted full salaries during the period of their incarceration. It is an interesting question to ask whether they are not yet outgrown the caricatures of democracy which springs from the regional salaried because the people are sovereign, every man is a sovereign.

It might be well to remind the highest order of the words written three centuries ago in the cabin of the Mayflower: "to the end that this shall be a government of laws and not of men." These plenary brought over a dual method of administering justice, the common law remedy as to damages and the equitable remedy as to a decree to do that which is right. Long before that in England, equity came in as a supplement to the common law. The system of equity was expanded so as to include injunctive commandments—now called mandatory injunctions—to do things which the common law would not do. These men who are great in the kingdom of labor not only disregarded the injunction themselves, but they have caused an injunction to be disobeyed without the aid of a jury. Thus the law is defied, is the one who passes on the issue of fact created by a denial of the charge, and he is the person who imposes the sentence. He finds the charge to be true.

It is just that the labor leaders who are being tried by a court of law are being tried by a court of law. It is a violation of the Declaration of Independence of the United States. But this is quite understood. It is the jurisdiction of any court to try a man for contempt of court. It is understood that the injunction in American law has its origin historically in the writ of habeas corpus. It is the duty of the state who does anything to break down reverence for law or respect for the court. He who comes into a court of equity with a habeas corpus and a labor leader or a labor follower disregarding a court of equity is presenting the way for the violation of the law. This disregard of law by those who should observe it most carefully is due to a perverted notion of the relation of the citizen to the state. We once heard of an evangelist who was a converted thief. By some means he came into possession of a large sum of money. He was another thief some property for which the police in his city had searched in vain. Ingratitude for this assistance the chief of police told him that although it was contrary to the law to have preaching in the streets, he might use the best corner of the street for his services. He preached for weeks in this corner in contravention of municipal codes. Thanks to police protection his relation to the law was precisely that of the law-keeper who on the opposite side was given police protection through for quite different reasons. He who asks equity must do equity; and tomorrow the appeal to equity may be regarded as one of the most valuable rights of the labor leader. If the injunction was unfair the remedy is not a disregard of it, but the creation of a public opinion which will rightly enforce all laws, civil or criminal, without fear or favor.

NO NEW DOCTRINE

Some Conservative journals are indulging in some truly loyal hysterics over Sir Wilfrid Laurier's relation to the obvious condition that Canada's navy will go to no war unless parliament chooses to send it. Who else could it be? It will be our navy, the same as our militia, and our Conservative friends concede to any other authority that the Canadian Parliament has the right to order our militia into active service. It is a new doctrine for them.

When Sir John A. Macdonald, whose loyalty none questions, was Premier, he asserted Canada's autonomy so strongly that he even refused to send Canadian soldiers to fight for England when England asked for them. It will be remembered that when Britain had a weakness in her hands in the South Atlantic sent a troop of surgeons to take part in the operations. The home authorities thereupon communicated with the Canadian Government, intimating that a similar action in the event of a similar situation would be much appreciated. But the Canadian Government refused to do so. The Conservative Administration replied that Canada would not be bound by the suggestion of the imperial authorities—a decision that drew from the Colonial Secretary of the day the most famous imperial document that ever passed from Downing street to Ottawa.

GOING AHEAD

That the Common Council has, in the circumstances, acted wisely in accepting the amended proposition for the reconstruction of the city is a fact that is not to be denied. The business interests of the city were practically unanimous in endorsing the amended proposition. The reconstruction of the city is a matter of public interest, and it is to be hoped that the reconstruction will be carried out in a manner that will be to the benefit of the city.

MR. EMERSON'S PUBLIC SERVICE

Though the government's announcement of its decision to take action for the acquisition of the inter-colonial branch lines has aroused general approval, there has been a regrettable lack of credit given to the man who originated and carried out the plan. Mr. Emerson's public service is a matter of public interest, and it is to be hoped that the reconstruction will be carried out in a manner that will be to the benefit of the city.

FREEDOM OF SPEECH

The delegates to the Toronto Convention of the American Federation of Labor have expressed their regret that the freedom of speech which they have experienced in the United States, Canada and Great Britain is not fully guaranteed in this country. It is a matter of public interest, and it is to be hoped that the reconstruction will be carried out in a manner that will be to the benefit of the city.

THE FARMER'S SON AND THE FARM

Can the old farm be made to pay? That is the question that faces every farmer who looks on the fields which he has inherited. It is a matter of public interest, and it is to be hoped that the reconstruction will be carried out in a manner that will be to the benefit of the city.

POLITICS IN GREAT BRITAIN

Never since Canada developed a political consciousness of her own has such close attention been paid to the political situation in Great Britain. It is a matter of public interest, and it is to be hoped that the reconstruction will be carried out in a manner that will be to the benefit of the city.

ROOSEVELT AGAIN?

The belief seems to be growing in the United States that Mr. Roosevelt will be the dominant factor in the presidential election of 1924. It is a matter of public interest, and it is to be hoped that the reconstruction will be carried out in a manner that will be to the benefit of the city.

NORTHCLIFFE AND THE I. C. R.

In defence of the Intercolonial against the recent criticism of Lord Northcliffe, it is urged that his engagement with the I. C. R. is a matter of public interest, and it is to be hoped that the reconstruction will be carried out in a manner that will be to the benefit of the city.

THE POLICY FOR THE I. C. R.

Dr. J. B. Black, M. P. for Hants County, N. S., has given notice in the Commons of a resolution favoring the I. C. R. It is a matter of public interest, and it is to be hoped that the reconstruction will be carried out in a manner that will be to the benefit of the city.

than in any other year since 1878. The number of casual paupers has increased by 12 per cent since 1919. The amount of money expended by the Poor Law authorities is a round number of £1,000,000 a year, and the total cost of the Poor Law is £2,000,000 a year. It is a matter of public interest, and it is to be hoped that the reconstruction will be carried out in a manner that will be to the benefit of the city.

It is a remarkable tribute to Mr. Roosevelt's force of character that his name should continue to figure so prominently in the discussion of the situation in the United States. undoubtedly however it will receive strong support. The Minister of Railways himself intimated, in a speech during the last session, his belief that possibly the best fate for the Intercolonial was to be "hooked up" to a passenger line from Montreal to St. John. LONDON, Nov. 22.—Rarely has the inner inwardness of the British navy been exposed more relentlessly than Lord Charles Beresford, its minister, has done to the electors of Portsmouth. NEW LIGHT THROWN ON ROW AT BORDER

Kelly, Alleged Desperado, First Shot in Eye by American Officer

LORD BERESFORD DECREES BRITISH NAVY'S CONDITION

Declares it Has No Proper Organization, is Inadequate in Battle Ships and is Short of Cruisers and Torpedo Craft

MANY PRESENT TO BIDDIEU

Big Meeting in Salvation Army Citadel

MAYOR PRESENT Farewell Meeting for Colonel Turner and Mrs. Turner

The Charlotte street Salvation Army Citadel was the scene of an interesting farewell meeting last evening in honor of Col. and Mrs. Turner.

There was a large crowd present, among whom were His Worship Mayor Bullock, Postmaster Sears and Rev. Dr. C. R. Flinders. After the opening services had been conducted, Col. Gaskin, of Toronto, read the Scriptures. Brigadier Adoby, the newly appointed divisional commanding officer for New Brunswick, then sang in a very pleasing manner, and proved that his musical talents are equally as good as his oratorical talents.

Serjt. Major Wannacott then spoke in behalf of the local officers, and Adj. Carter in a very able manner addressed the meeting in behalf of the social officers. Postmaster Sears was then heard in a neat address in which he congratulated Col. Turner on his new appointment and spoke very highly of the work he accomplished during the three and a half years he has been stationed in St. John. His Worship, the Mayor, then addressed the gathering and paid a high tribute to the departing officer and his wife, and wished them every success in their new field of labor.

Ensign Urquhart, of Moncton, then sang a solo very nicely, and also spoke on behalf of the field officers. Staff Captain Barr spoke, representing the headquarters of the St. John division, and Brigadier Morehen, of Halifax, addressed the meeting on behalf of the division, and also read a farewell letter which had been tastefully prepared for the occasion. This was followed by a stirring and eloquent address by Col. Mapp. Col. Mapp, in the course of an eloquent

MEETING FAILS TO MATERIALIZE

Many Ministers Turn up for Conference BUT DATE IS CHANGED

President of Alliance Not Consulted—Phone Receiver Blocks Explanation

There was considerable confusion and misunderstanding in connection with the meeting of the general committee on the simultaneous evangelistic campaign which has been called for this afternoon in St. Andrew's church at 2.30 o'clock. The meeting was to be held yesterday, but the date was changed somewhat. No wonder that at such short notice that many members of the committee went to St. Andrew's church expecting to attend the meeting only to find that they were a day early.

Rev. James Crisp, president of the Evangelical Alliance, stated last night that he knew nothing of the change in the date until he received notice. He did not know why the change had been made and did not favor it in view of several other religious meetings which are taking place this afternoon.

Many ministers had turned up for the meeting, but the date had been changed. He had several times endeavored to reach Rev. J. C. Appel, the secretary, by telephone, but the receiver was not answered. Mr. Crisp wished it to be understood that he was in no way responsible for the mix-up.

Yesterday's meeting was to have been a most important one and ministers and lay delegates had arranged to attend. Whether it will materialize today remains to be seen. It is believed that the general committee when it does meet will be favorable to the recommendation of a special committee that the plan of campaign be left to the individual churches. It is possible, however, that there may be advocates of groupings in pastoral churches and of bringing in pastoral evangelists.

NO TIN POT NAVY FOR 'JOE' MARTIN

LONDON, Nov. 22.—There is amusement in Anglo-Canadian circles over an unreported incident affecting Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux and Joseph Martin, K. C., former Canadian minister in London, who's dinner in the Liberal Club. There was an influential gathering present, including several members of parliament, and some British ministers.

Mr. Martin being down for a speech, let out in pungent, biting sentences the Canadian government's naval policy. He ridiculed what he called the "tinpot navy" which would be no possible help to England in time of peril, and would only make Canada a laughing stock for the world and serve to fill the pockets of certain Canadian politicians. He said, "I have been fighting graft in the Tory party in Canada. Now I must turn around on my friends in Canada, who's dinner in the Liberal Club. There was an influential gathering present, including several members of parliament, and some British ministers.

IRISH, MADE BUTT OF SATIRE, ENJOY IT

Dublin Audience, at Abbey Theatre, Applauds 'The Image'

DUBLIN, Nov. 22.—The Irish people have been good-natured enough to enjoy thoroughly the most comical satire at their expense that has been produced in recent years. It is a play called "The Image," by Lady Gregory, which was given this week at the Abbey Theatre. Two whales in a fight get stranded, and instead of capturing the treasure the people talk about it until the next tide runs away with one of the whales. The other goes, too, but leaves a sum of money, and the district council decides to put up a statue with it. But to whom? Some are for Daniel O'Connell, some are for Charles Stewart Parnell and some for other great Irishmen, but every body is afraid to mention his choice.

Along comes the village fool and pleads for Hugh O'Leary. Who is he? Nobody knows, not even the fool; but the vote is by ballot, and Hugh O'Leary gets the statue, because every voter is afraid to vote as he thinks. That it turns out that O'Leary is a character in a book which nobody had read, not even the fool. Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

SOCIETY ACTRESSES IN MIRACLE PLAY

LONDON, Nov. 22.—A prospect of memorable beauty, alike for eye, for ear and for the heart, is held forth by the promised production at the Court Theatre on November 23 and December 1, "Miracle Play" by the Hon. Mrs. A. Lyttelton. The performances are in aid of the restoration of Wilkes-Barre Church, Kent, and with Mrs. Patrick Campbell and James Haarn a company of distinguished amateurs will take part. Among the players are Mrs. Ralph Peto, Miss Horatio Seymour, Miss Patricia Stewart, the Hon. Mrs. Vesey, Lady Maud Warrender, Lady Aileen Chelmsley, Allan Campbell and Philip Page.

CLOSELY FOLLOWS A PICTURE. A particularly interesting fact about the miracle play upon the famous old legend of St. Ursula is that in scenes, action and costumes the whole series of "showings" as Mrs. Lyttelton calls her five short scenes—will follow as closely as possible Carpaçcio's famous pictures upon the life of St. Ursula in Italy. There will, in fact, be as little speaking as possible, only enough to make the meaning of the tableaux clear. An important feature, however, will be the music, which Morton Stephenson has specially written for the production, and which members of the London Symphony Orchestra will perform.

MRS. STETSON RESIGNS FROM HER OWN CHURCH

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson, of this city, who has been living in seclusion since her ex-communication recently by the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, generally referred to as the Mother Church, announced tonight that she had resigned her resignation to-night, after referring to the action of the Mother Church. Mrs. Stetson says: "As this may place the members of your board in an embarrassing position, I have decided to resign from membership of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, New York City, and I now request that my name be dropped from the membership roll. I shall continue to make it my sole effort to obey the principles of my beloved lord, Jesus Christ." The address was given in a WARRENTOWN, Va., Nov. 22.—Following a fire which threatened to wipe out the town, Warrentown tonight is under martial law and four blocks of buildings in the heart of the town are smoking ruins. Only by the use of dynamite was the town saved from complete destruction, for the drought of seven weeks which has prevailed in this section had completely exhausted the water supply and even the water needed for drinking had to be shipped here. The dynamiting of four buildings checked the flames, which finally burned out. The damage is reported to-night, despite the extension of the contract, to be $48,000 or $57,000 with insurance of about $50,000. Many wealthy Englishmen have the estates in Warrentown, and have several Washington and New York society people. "What," asked the dreamer, "is the easiest way to get money?" "To neglect it," replied the matter-of-fact person.

THE EXCELLENT FAIRS OPENED MONDAY EVENING

Temple of Honor Fair Attracts Big Crowd as Does Also the Cathedral Fair—Excellent Addresses Delivered—Highly Artistic Booths in Charge of Pretty Girls

No person who visited the North End last evening could be unaware of the fact that the Alexandra Temple of Honor was holding its annual fair. If by any freak of chance one missed the 12-foot high electric sign spelling "Fair," which was visible as far down Main street as Fort Howe, his attention was sure to be attracted by the large sign of colored electric bulbs which illuminated the front of the building. The size of the crowd which thronged the building upstairs and down seemed to indicate not only that all had noticed, but that all had answered the call of the lights.

The gathering was already large at eight o'clock, when addresses by Hon. G. N. Stinson, Wm. Lewis, G. W. T. and W. C. Whittaker, M. W. T. marked the formal opening of the fair and between that and ten o'clock the several rooms were thronged with people moving interestedly past the features of Historic Canada, which the circle of speakers represented. Upstairs a corps of charming Red Cross nurses made eating in a most attractive room so irresistible that they had to make themselves a very busy night of it. After this portion of the ceremonies was attended to, a variety of games and amusements were provided on the same floor to enable the guests to enjoy that forgetfulness of distended stomachs which, according to Dr. Roberts, not conducive to good digestion.

The large rooms both down and upstairs are beautifully decorated with flags and bunting, and this combined with the bright colors employed in trimming the booths, gives the building an extremely festive appearance. Carrying out the historic idea the Indians were represented by a pretty little wigwam in which articles of Indian manufacture were sold by a corps of ladies in Indian costume. A fortune teller also added to the attractions. The ladies in charge were Mrs. MacKane and Mrs. Stanley Williams.

The early French booth which was made up in appropriate colors was devoted to the sale of aprons and other useful articles. Mrs. W. H. White, Mrs. Ethelbert Dykeman and Mrs. Fowler were in charge. In the room of goods and articles which is decorated with the Union Jack and red, white and blue trimmings, candy was offered for sale by Mrs. J. A. Lettice, Mrs. Black and Mrs. White.

The Hudson Bay Company was represented by an energetic committee installed in a log cabin in which fur and woollen goods are displayed. Mrs. R. A. Corbett and Mrs. W. S. Myles are in charge, assisted by Misses McInnis, Maxwell, Etta Bell and Laura Myles. The later commercial life of Canada was represented by a miniature grocery store well stocked with a varied assortment of goods. Mrs. Burdette and Mrs. Herbert Roberts were in charge.

To represent the social life of the country there was a pretty decorated booth arranged like a parlor in which fancy goods were for sale. It was conducted by Mrs. W. F. Roberts and Mrs. Stanley Webb assisted by Mrs. J. R. Fierwallter, Misses Jones, Baseline, Irvine, Maud Cowan and L. Mahoney. The Polar booth was elaborately arranged in a white snow effect and was devoted to the sale of ice cream. Mrs. Howard Prime and Mrs. Fred Miller were in charge, assisted by Miss C. Colwell and Miss M. Purdy.

Another touch of modern commercial life was introduced by the booth devoted to the display of Jello dessert and ice cream powders. The booth was effectively arranged and presented a very attractive appearance. Mrs. Hoyt, of Boston, was in charge and demonstrated the dainties which are made from this concern's products. The Japanese booth, which followed King street, and this was an interesting and novel feature. During the evening a portion of the Artillery Band played from a gallery built at one end of the lower room. The large hall upstairs was divided into several sections, one of the most important of which is the Red Cross dining room. The decorations in this were especially attractive and formed a pretty setting for the substantial dinner served from six to eight and the dainty lunches which followed. Mrs. J. R. Fierwallter was the matron in charge of this hospital for the hungry.

At one end a small amusement hall, seating sixty persons, was arranged for the performances of the Man of Mystery, which were well patronized. A shooting gallery and various other games occupy the balance of the space. The general fair committee which has been in charge of the arrangements consists of Dr. P. W. Roberts, chairman; S. C. Williams, secretary; Fred Gallop, treasurer, and C. H. Richardson, manager. The other men's committees include:

The Cathedral high tea and fancy sale was most successfully opened last evening in Kelt's Theatre assembly room, and will be continued each evening until including Thursday night. Friday afternoon will be children's day and special attractions will be offered for their amusement. The large attendance was a special feature last evening, the rooms being crowded to the utmost capacity. Supper was served from about six o'clock until a late hour and a large number of persons sat down to the tables.

Four large supper tables have been placed in the main upper hall and are very neatly arranged and decorated. The ladies in charge have an efficient corps of assistants. The ante-rooms have been used for the various booths and games. The room to the right contains several pretty booths. On the fancy table may be found almost every article for the home. The table is decorated in pink and is in charge of Mrs. M. L. Peters and Miss Olive Dillon. The candy table is to be found near-by. This booth is a most attractive one. The decorations are of white with red flowers. On the opposite side the cold drinks counter is decorated in scarlet and trimmed with fruits. Lemonade and other cold drinks may be secured. The ice cream parlour occupy a large room, which is also very neatly decorated in red and white. The chancery table has white and green decorations. The House of Mirth at one end of the ante-room is decorated in red. A cloak room has also been provided. The City Cornet Band played several selections last evening in a very acceptable manner, and tonight St. Joseph's orchestra will be in attendance. Many participated last evening in the various games and amusements of which there are many, and all present enjoyed themselves thoroughly. His Lordship Bishop Casey was among those in attendance. The voting contests for the most popular lady on the committee has gained much popularity, and the standing at the close of the fair last evening was as follows: Miss Holland, 42; Miss M. STORM IMPERILS LAKE TRAFFIC

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Rain and sleet driven by a wind which at times reached a velocity of 45 miles an hour, marked the entrance of a storm which has raged all day on Lake Michigan and throughout the region of the great lakes. Only a few vessels braved the wild waves which thundered outside the breakwater and dashed in tons of spray many feet over the government pier. In the morning the government life-saving crews from Evanston and Chicago answered an appeal for help from the crew of the freighter Boston which, after battling all night in the storm on the way from Milwaukee, was thrown rudderless and beyond control upon a sand bar near Wilmette, one of Chicago's north shore suburbs. Eight of the crew of eighteen men elected to leave the vessel, which was fast on the sand, and were taken by the life-savers to shore. Three steamers, the Puritan, the City of Benton, Harbor and the Muscovy left the Chicago harbor during the day, barely escaping serious damage by being dashed against the end of the pier. The average velocity of the wind was 35 to 40 miles an hour, which makes the storm one of the hardest blows on the lake this season. The latest forecast is for a continuation of the storm through the night with no wind colder temperature. Much anxiety is felt for vessels known to be out of reach of safe harbors.

MEMBER OF CONGRESS BURIED TO DEATH

David Dearmond and Grandson Victims of Burning—Early Morning Blaze Spreads With Great Rapidity

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 25.—Representative David A. Dearmond, one of the oldest Democratic members of congress, and his grandson, Wade, aged 6, were burned to death in a fire that destroyed the Dearmonds' home at Butler, Mo., early today. The other members of the family escaped, and it is believed none was hurt.

Neither the body of Congressman Dearmond nor that of his grandson have been recovered, and it is believed they were incinerated. Other occupants of the house at the time of the fire were Mrs. Dearmond and a daughter. The home of Congressman Dearmond was situated across the street from that of his son, James A. Dearmond. James started to rush into the burning house in an attempt to save his father, but was prevented by the younger members of the Dearmond family and neighbors. The cause of the fire is unknown. The house, which was two stories in height, burned fiercely.

Mrs. Dearmond, wife of the congressman, who escaped in her night clothes unhurt, faintly as she reached the ground. When revived later she became hysterical. The first she knew of the fire was when she heard her grandson, Wade, call out that the house was on fire. Dearmond occupied a room on the first floor, while Congressman Dearmond and his grandson were in the room on the second floor. The house was of wood, and by the time Mrs. Dearmond reached the front yard the building was wrapped in flames. Fifteen minutes later it was in ashes.

Mrs. Dearmond said she heard no cry from her husband, and nothing is known of his whereabouts.

Mrs. Hattie Clark, the married daughter of Congressman and Mrs. Dearmond, and the house servant, a woman, also slept in a big room. They both escaped with a minute after the alarm of fire was sounded. Wade Dearmond, the dead boy, was the son of James A. Dearmond and was visiting his grandparents.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—David A. Dearmond was first elected to the house of representatives from the sixth congressional district of Missouri in 1871 and served continuously. He was one of the best known members of the lower. He was a Democrat and a well known lawyer. He was born in Blair county March 15, 1847. His early life was spent on his father's farm, and he attended the common schools and at Williamsport Dickinson Seminary. In young manhood he studied in Butler, Mo., and in 1870 named a presidential member. He had successfully the positions of state attorney and circuit judge.

American Millers Not Shipping, Because They Can't Compete

Boston Hopes to Handle Bulk of Grain Output of Continent

Canada Increasing Its Production by Leaps and Bounds

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 23.—A tremendous traffic from the Canadian West to Boston is indicating that the Canadian ports are now being developed as business they should. The bulk of the traffic is coming from Montreal and Buffalo, by way of the Boston and Maine system. The New York Central is also forwarding heavy shipments.

With regard to the grain situation, a leading shipper says: "The grain coming through Boston is mostly Canadian origin. Canada this year has more than enough grain, and the market on the lakes closed, Boston is the natural outlet, though Portland and St. John are no doubt getting their share of the export trade. American farmers are not shipping grain in any quantities. They are governed in their pricing policy principally by the price made in the wheat pits in Chicago and that price, at present is considerably above what foreign buyers are willing to pay. It is also above prices at which Canadians are selling."

At going prices the American miller cannot compete with the foreign miller. The Canadian movement of wheat, Canada is increasing its surplus production by leaps and bounds. BERLIN, Nov. 25.—The Imperial Bank of Germany today deposited with the Imperial Bank of Germany the sum of $3,000,000 deposited by Abdul Hamid. The money was deposited from the sultanah of Turkey and which, according to the present Ottoman ruler, is to be recovered through a legal action.

It is learned here that the Imperial Bank of Germany is to recover the money for the order for the sultanah of the signature of the former sultan authenticated by the special seal adopted by him when he deposited the money. At that time Abdul Hamid entered into a strict compact with the officers of the bank under which no withdrawal from this account was to be permitted except upon the authority of the special seal. Apparently the Turkish government has no objection to the deposit being used in this way, which is a letter sent to the bank by Abdul Hamid, to the effect that the account was to be used in this way.

Girl Under Arrest Belongs to Arichat, Cape Breton

WALTHAM, Mass., Nov. 23.—Miss Hattie LeBlanc, the seventeen-year-old daughter of a French Canadian, was found in the home of her employer, Clarence F. Glover, in an ante-mortem statement with shooting her. She was found in the Glover home, where the funeral of the dead man was held during the afternoon. Taken to the police station, the girl was questioned and then formally placed under arrest.

The attitude of Mrs. Glover in refusing to visit her husband when he was dying in declining relationship with the LeBlanc girl, although the latter's sister claimed they were cousins and in refusing to submit to a police interview, had caused the authorities to seek an explanation from her. A search of her house, in which Miss LeBlanc was found, resulted tonight.

Laid prostrate and close against the wall, the police found the girl under the bed in the room. She shrunk away as they probed, but when they grabbed her dress, unknowingly, she could not pull or run and was forced to come from under the bed. Questions could not intelligibly be asked or answered between the young woman or the police, as she spoke very little English. Glover in a room above his discovery, the police hurried the girl to the police station. There a watch was set around her.

NO DANGER TO EARTH FROM HALLEY COMET, FATHER SEARLE'S OPINION

About 14,000,000 Miles Away

SOME PHENOMENA World Pretty Certain to be in Tail of the Comet Next May

THE REV. GEORGE M. SEARLE

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Just how close to the earth the much discussed Halley's comet is going to get on its travels is told in a statement made today by the Rev. Father George M. Searle, superior general of the Order of Paulist Fathers in this city. Father Searle, who is acknowledged to be an authority on astronomy and mathematics, scoffed at the idea that either the nebulae or the tail of the comet would come in contact with the earth.

According to predictions made recently the Halley comet is likely to strike the earth enveloping it with gaseous and material substances. While Father Searle admits that the earth and the comet may be near enough to see some phenomena may occur, he declares it impossible for any gaseous or material substance to penetrate the atmosphere. The prediction made by Father Searle is as follows:

"The nearest approach of Halley's comet to the earth will be very nearly on the night of May 13 when it comes between us and the sun. It will then be about fourteen million miles away. As the coma or head will be hardly a million miles in diameter, at the very outside possibility, there is no danger whatever of our coming in contact with it."

THE BRITISH ELECTION AN AMAZON CAMPAIGN

LONDON, Nov. 23.—When one sees flaming news placards on the street reading: "The House of Lords Declares Civil War," and the Radical press shrieks that the revolution has already begun, it begins to appear that there is something doing in Great Britain. The only reason for this hysteria, to be sure, is the announced intention of the leader of the majority in the upper house to refuse assent to the budget until the country has had an opportunity to pass a verdict upon the Radical measure. But the agitation is not as absurd as this fact would lead one to believe. England is more deeply stirred at the present moment than at any time in modern political history. Public opinion, however, can only be defined as chaotic. There is no clearly defined question before the country which must be decided in January among the inextinguishable mass of conflicting issues on which no thinking elector can be one opinion. The government would like to fight the battle on the question of the constitutional rights of the second chamber. They will not succeed in making the parliament. Could they do so their success would be more than doubtful, considering the democratic terms of the Lords' protest. If they had their way, the personal estate consisting mostly of life insurance is placed at $7,000. WILLING TO COMMIT HIMSELF TO A DEFINITE PROPHESY AS TO THE RESULT. IN FACT IT IS GENERALLY CONCEDED THAT THE MAJORITY IN THE NEW PARLIAMENT WILL BE SMALL ON EITHER SIDE. THIS WILL BE UNFORTUNATE, FOR WITH THE IRISH MEMBERS HOLDING THE BALANCE OF POWER NO SETTLED POLICY CAN BE HOPED FOR, AND ANOTHER ELECTION IN THE NEAR FUTURE WILL BE ALMOST INEVITABLE. THERE IS ONE FEATURE OF THE PENDING CAMPAIGN WHICH WILL COMMAND WORLD-WIDE ATTENTION. IT IS TO BE ESSENTIALLY AN AMAZON CAMPAIGN. THE MOMENT PARLIAMENT IS DISSOLVED A GREAT ARMY OF WOMEN WILL PLUNGE INTO THE fray. THE SUFFRAGETTES WILL WORK UNANIMOUSLY AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT. THEIR EFFORTS, THOSE OF THE MILITANT SECTION OF ALL EVENTS, WILL OUT WEIGH. IT IS TRUE, BUT THE QUESTION OF "VOTES FOR WOMEN" MAY PROVE THE DECISIVE FACTOR IN A CLOSE RACE.

POLLEY KILLED IN PULP MILL

Caught in the Shafting HIS CRIES HEARD But Nothing Could Be Done to Save His Life

A particularly sad accident occurred in the St. John Pulp and Paper Mill yesterday when Frank Polley was killed as a result of being caught in the shafting. The lad was whirled about in the shaft for several moments. Finally he was thrown to the floor. Death took place within five or ten minutes. The young man was a general favorite and the accident cast a gloom over the mill and the community at Mispec. Young Polley was working in the paper room at the mill, where he was engaged as a machinist. He became caught in the shaft, which was rapidly in motion. The accident occurred about nine o'clock.

The others in the room were attracted by his cries, but it was found that nothing could be done to assist the lad. Polley was a victim to the shafting. When he was thrown to the floor, the clothing was stripping from his body and he had received a number of bruises. His feet were beaten off. The head and body were suffering from the fall of twenty feet from the shafting to the floor.

Medical aid was summoned from the city. Dr. Baxter and Dr. Levesque rushed to the mill from the city in an automobile, but reached the boy too late to be of service.

Frank Polley had been employed in the mill for the past few years. He was a competent workman and very highly thought of by the entire staff. He also resides at Mispec and is employed in the mill. Sympathy will be extended to the family in the sad bereavement.

The Allan liner Virginia leaves for Liverpool via Halifax tomorrow morning at ten o'clock, making the first sailing of the winter port season. On the first section of the Atlantic express today 32 passengers arrived from Halifax on the second section. The steamer will leave for Liverpool at three o'clock this afternoon. The balance will pass through the city tomorrow.

This steamer carries a large passenger list for the beginning of the season and the passenger traffic is expected to be heavier than usual. The steamer is carrying a large cargo of goods and is expected to return to the old country for the winter.

In addition to the large number of passengers the first shipment of the season will be forwarded. The loading of the Virginia will be completed at Halifax tomorrow. The steamer will take away a large general cargo. The freight will be much heavier than at the opening of former seasons. The grain shipment will consist of 15,000 bushels.

The Allan Line steamer Gramplan is due at Halifax tomorrow. She is bringing out six cattle, six horses and two hundred and thirty-one third class passengers. Captain Johnson is in command. The steamer will reach St. John on Saturday. The Gramplan brings a full cargo.

The Donaldson liners are also carrying heavy freight shipments. The Cassinoid left the other side on Saturday and is due here on Tuesday next. She brings a full cargo and many passengers. The Almora and Salacia of the Donaldson Line are at present in port loading. The Almora sails on Monday while the Salacia will leave on Thursday or Friday of next week.

The Canadian Pacific winter service will be opened tomorrow with the arrival of the Empress of Britain. The boat is carrying several hundred passengers and a large general cargo.

PUTLER ASSURES I. R. C. FREIGHT CLERKS OF RAISE

Acknowledges Brown's Trip Was for Classification—This is Third Attempt, and Many Hundreds Have Been Spent—Quarter of Local Force Has Deserted

The Globe reports as follows from the Montreal Transcript: "So far as can be learned, there is no reason for anticipating that there is to be a general increase in the wages paid to the I. R. C. clerks 30 per cent, more or less. Also, it is not learned that Mr. George C. Brown, who is one of the most expert railway accountants on the continent, in preparing any classification of the I. R. C. R. clerks into two, three or more classes. Mr. Butler states that the Canadian Board at Halifax would not recommend any reduction of the St. John staff.

ONE RECEIVED YESTERDAY.

Only yesterday a communication was received by the Freight Clerks' Association from Mr. Butler which acknowledges that Brown made his trip over the line in connection with the proposed classification of clerks. Continuing, Mr. Butler says that what the government is now trying to determine is the amount of work each man is doing and his capacity, and that when this information is complete the pay increase and the other changes will go into effect. These matters, it is stated, are first to be determined by the satisfaction of the department, but the clerks' association will make suggestions before the changes go into effect.

The employment of Mr. Brown is the third method which the government has taken of settling the clerks' concerns according to the satisfaction of the board award—first the disbursement auditor of the railway and another official toured the road in an attempt to make the classification, and then the palpably ineffectual method of having the terminal agent or other man in charge at the main points each classify the clerks. This latter method brought about were the whole attempt at classification must have cost many hundreds of dollars, and it now seems after all that the old system will have to be dropped if giving each man what he is worth.

A YEAR NOW.

It is a year now since the award was agreed to, as the letters below will show, and the clerks here at least have become weary with waiting. They are fast deserting to seek employment elsewhere. Since June last, just one-quarter of the staff employed here has come out. The letters read:

TO BE GREAT BIG MEETING IN ST. LUKE'S

St. John to Break Record, Says Downie Laymen's Missionary Movement

William Downie, superintendent of the Canadian Pacific railway, which is held by the St. Luke's evening church in connection with the 16th anniversary of the laymen's missionary movement, the subject of his discourse being the Missionary Movement Among Laymen. He referred in a masterly way to the beginning of the movement and how it was originated in 1866 from the strength of a single man. He also enlarged upon its expansion in Canada and the United States, England and Australia.

The next subject, The Great Commission, was taken up by Dr. Downie. He referred to the last coward of thirst and the universal duty binding on every Christian to carry the Gospel to every man.

Willard Smith, the next speaker, gave a carefully prepared discourse on the Call. He showed that the need of the hour was consecration to God, and in the sphere of the life the world would be more and more aroused to carry out the missionary policy of the church.

After the singing of a hymn the chairman called on W. C. Cronk, who gave a very helpful address on "Our Duty to God and Man." The next speaker was Parker A. Hamm, who gave a practical and helpful address on "Our Duty to the North-West." He emphasized the greatness of Canada and said that her future glory lay in the west. And in the face of the fact that the east must help to build up the west.

John McMillin spoke of missions in general and the influence of returned missionaries on the home church.

The next subject was the effect of christianity on heathen countries. This was taken up by Rev. J. H. Fairweather. He pointed out that the non-christian religions were inadequate to meet the demands of life and death and that christianity through the life and death of Jesus Christ could alone satisfy the needs of the race.

James Croft next spoke on "The Reflex Influence of Missions." This he illustrated by a number of cases, and especially from the work done in Portland harbor.

The service was taken by Dr. H. N. Naeve, vicar: "What St. Luke's Church Should Do." He laid before the people the things that shall not return unto me, and in the New Testament he showed, "Jesus Christ gave a great commission and shall not return unto me void," and in the New Testament he showed, "Jesus Christ gave a great commission and shall not return unto me void."

PERJURY CASE ON AT ANOVER TODAY

Witnesses Tell of Actions on Night in Question—Two Boys on the Stand.

ANOVER, N. B., Nov. 25.—The perjury case against Crandall was again taken up with the opening of the court here this morning. Frank McLeod, father-in-law of Green, was called to the stand to testify to the evening in question and no one outside of the family either left or entered the house which has only two rooms and one entrance. He swears he was not drunk that evening. Bernice Green swore to being in a field adjoining the carnival ground all evening helping with the display of fireworks. He was not on the carnival grounds at all. He had no liquor at his house. He did not sell liquor to Geo. nor any other man and he would testify to anyone who says he did. He had no liquor come to the station on more than one occasion in his own name and in other people's. He had asked Herb Bonnell to store liquor for him. He had been convicted for selling liquor last summer.

Wm. Williamson on cross examination said he was the son of Magistrate Williamson who tried Crandall. He did not know if he had a good watch or not. He did not know when Green left the fireworks. He did not know who was the limit man.

Clare Green, the eleven year old brother of Green, gave remarkably good evidence for a child. Judge Car-

Had a Bad Cough For a Number of Years.

Mrs. A. E. Brown, Ottawa, writes: "I have had a very bad cough every winter for a number of years. It would not turn out until I tried a great many remedies but only received temporary relief until I got a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and after taking two bottles my cough was cured. I am never troubled with a cough any more."

Too many people are misled by the fact that when a person catches cold it should be attended to immediately or serious results may follow.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is the medicine you need. It strikes at the foundation of all throat and lung troubles and cures all Coughs, Cold, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, and prevents Pneumonia and Consumption.

So great has been the success of this wonderful remedy it is only natural that numerous persons have tried to imitate it. Don't be imposed upon but insist on getting Dr. Wood's.

LIVELY SCOTT NOT BAD PULLED OFF AT SUSSEX

Inspector and Constable Descend on Harmless Bakery—Other Items of Interest From Flourishing Sussex

SUSSEX, Nov. 24.—A lively Scott Act raid took place in Sussex Tuesday afternoon. The scene of the raid was the Home Bakery, conducted by a Mrs. McDonald, the frequent recipient of visits to Mrs. McDonald's establishment by parties who are generally thought to be rather fond of the "crayfish" of the "Home Bakery" led the inspector to suspect that just a little more than the start of life was being dispensed.

In quest of what was originally supposed to be the "elixir of life," but which proved to be a concoction of the water of death, Inspector Asbell and Constable Geo. L. Slipp went to the Home Bakery, where they found a steady stream of old-time warriors there, many of whom were pouring their strength over the heads of the young in tennis, for who would suspect an onrush from the enemy at such a time and the eternal vigilance that is customary in the opposition camp was at the free and easy.

Constable Slipp approached the fort by way of the front door, with instructions to go right straight through the house and open the kitchen door for the inspector, who had placed himself at a vantage place in the rear. A knock at the front door brought the sentinel to the position of attention. A glance through the peephole was enough to tell the inmates that there would be "something doing" in a short time. A rush of scurrying feet going in the direction of the coal shed gave Inspector Asbell the cue to hasten around in that direction, when he was confronted by a woman carrying one bottle of whiskey and another of gin. The woman was ordered back on her premises, a thorough investigation was conducted and to more of the article already referred to no more of the article could be located. It is said that

National Pride Show Lead Canada to Do Its Share

Eminent Jurist Speaks Before Canadian Club at Amherst

AMHERST, Dec. 1.—The regular meeting of the Canadian Club was held this evening in Parish Hall after partaking of luncheon served by the ladies of Christ's Church. The large number of members present listened to a forceful and eloquent address by His Honor Mr. Justice Longley.

In the absence of the President, Mr. Stewart Jenkin, President of the club, presided, and introduced the learned lecturer. Mr. Longley expressed his pleasure at meeting with the club, and referred to the fact that he was the influence of the Canadian Club and the work they were doing in creating a national spirit throughout Canada. Judge Longley's theme was "shall we have a Canadian navy?" why? He referred to the fact that he was out of the field of party politics and his only object in coming here was to express a spirit of thought in connection with this important question which was occupying the attention of so many of the thinkers of today, and he did not want his opinion to bear any weight. He deplored war and hoped for the time when peace would reign supreme over the world. He referred to the fact that the British Empire was a great empire, but that we must not lose sight of the fact that we were part of a great empire, and that we must be prepared to do our share.
