Mr. Coaker Draws Blank.

The amazing spectacle of whole body of men making themselves laughing stocks for the whole island, has occurred at Port Union, where the Fishermen's Protective Union, Supreme Council, in solemn conclave assembled passed a large series of resolutions, rash and verely censuring a clergyman of Bonavista district for writing a letter to which he did not at all set his hand, nor had he any thing to do with either the authorship or dictation. There is a strong inuendo in these resolutions framed by Mr. Coaker and accepted by his servile followers, and if the clerical gentleman so insanely, maliciously and falsely accused of being the writer of the letter signed "Anglican." which appeared in the columns of the Telegram recently, does not take measures to protect his high calling and personality, it will appear passing strange to those who know words. "Be it resolved that this meeting of the delegates of the F.P.U. Councils in Bonavista District, severely condemns and censures the clergyman who wrote that neferious letter, and further, that he should be invited to attend more attentively to the duties of his calling and cease his work as

It will be noticed that only the potent, grave and euridite signiors of Bonavista District signed this resolution; and so cocksure were they of having discovered the identity of "Anglican" that they hesitated not a moment in making a most uncalled for and offensive attack genial District Judge was bern in St. called for and offensive attack genial District Judge was born in St. Morris this morning with attempted on a Minister of the Church. Let Us Help You With Your Problems

The Royal Stores, the Xmas Gift Store for everybody offers many gift suggestions for the family and for the home. This great Store was never more interesting-for the array of gifts or for the attractiveness of the prices. Many people are going to give practical gifts this year and we have provided abundantly for those who wish to buy sensible, practical things, Every section of the Store is filled with them and forehanded people, who do their shopping now, will be delighted with what we have to show them. There will always be friends for whom the less practical things are desired—the things one would not buy for oneself, but which are gladly received as gifts. On this page are a few suggestions that may help you make someone happy this Christmas season.

Yesterday at St. Thomas's.

There was a full choral service at St. Thomas's last night led by Rev. C. A. Moulton, and the splendid music was greatly appreciated by the larga congregation. The preacher was the rector, Rev. E. C. Earp, and his text was, "Go home to thy friends," taken from the St. Mark's gospel, 5th Chapter, 19th verse. The rector showed the tendency of the age to live away from home, and in the course of a splendid discourse declared "how pleased he was to see the manner in which homelife was conserved in Newfoundland." A Carol Service will be held during Christmas week, in which the vocalists will be the Rector and others.

The names of the glorious dead were read slowly and distinctly by His Excellency, following which the Dedicatory Prayer was read by Rev. Dr. Bond. A brief silence followed, only to be broken by the melancholy strains of the "Dead March in Saul," pealed out by the organ. Wreaths were then placed at the base of the Tablet by the ion. Sir R. A. Squires on behalf of the Government, by Mr. J. G. Higgins, RA President on behalf of the Great . C. Peters on behalf of Cochrane St. Centennial Church. The plaintive notes of the Last Post resounding through the building, concluded the Unveiling was then delivered by Rev G. J. Bond. The theme of the address was the savagery of war. In powerful language, Dr. Bond showed up the awcould paint its sights. There was no excuse for war, no apology. He was unable to understand how it could exist in the 20th Century of the Christian Era. He summed it up in the striking phrase of General Sherman. "War is hell." Might an International Council Table, and not the lunacy of war be the final arbiter. The preacher painted a vivid picture of the havoc and desolation wrought in the once smiling lands of France and Belgium. He spoke of the graves of the Newfoundlanders, which, he said, were always known because each cross was decorated with a wreath attached to which was a paper bearing the regimental crest and the words "Lest we forget." The names of all three sons were recorded on the Memorial Tablet. The preacher went on to speak of the frivolity which had given place to the wave of unselfishness which had been apparent during the years of the war. He related the story of the Cochrane Street boy whose dying words, at Beaumont Hamel, were "Push on," and he urged all present to follow that example and to "Carry on." Looking for Fish Food. The valuation of the sea consists determining the quantity of fish food on the sea bottom. A grab with interlocking teeth is used to take samples of the bottom. An area of two square feet of the seabed, to a depth of from three to six inches, with all the animals it contains, is lifted at each operation. It is washed through sieves, and minute details are kept of the numbers and kinds of the animal life it contains. In one area one hundred samples have already been taken and tabula-

The fish food found consists chiefly of various worms, small shell-fish, and hermit crabs.

By taking many samples of the stomach contents of fish it is known what fish eat, and by valuing the seabed it is decided where to put them to get that food in greatest quantity.

FALSE ECONOMY

It is often remarked by customers, "I must try and make my old clothes do for the winter." Perhaps the winter may mean very much longer. To protect your body against our cold winds you want warm woollens. An investment in a good Suit or Overcoat may save you months of illness. Durable material, cut and moulded to your figure by expert workmanship in the garment at MAUNDER'S. Samples and self-measuring cards sent to your address.
