WILL CONSIDER A MUNICIPAL SYSTEM

Ald. Mitchell Will Bring Question of Telephones Before City Council on Monday Night.

BELIEVES THE INITIAL COST WILL NOT BE LARGE
Would be Maintained From the Beginning by the Citizens of Calgary.

At the meeting of the council on Monday night, Ald. Mitchell will ask that a committee be appointed to enquire into the cost of installing an independent telephone system into Calgary and to report to the council on the wisdom of the same.

Ald. Mitchell brought the matter before the council last year, but through some enquiries were made no action was taken. Ald. Mitchell is of the opinion that an up-to-date system could be installed for a moderate amount and that the history of the electric light plant would be repeated as far as maintenance

YOUNG ARE THE HOPE

Vast Majority Turn to God at Early Age Says Evangelist

TEST MADE IN SERVICE LAST NIGHT

Two Thirds of Congregation Converted Between Ages of 10 and 20 Years

The Methodist church was crowded last night when Messrs. Crossley and Hunter continued their series of revival meetings. Rev. Mr. McWilliams, the new minister at Grace Church, was on the platform and he was heartily greeted by the evangelists.

Mr. Hunter said "All good people come from Ontario." Mr. McWilliams looked like a priest but there was no sin in that. He (Mr. Hunter) looked like a priest himself.

Some persons would not speak to him here in Calgary. They would not have the opportunity of speaking to him in Heaven.

Superintendent Niblock had been kind enough to allow the members of the C.P.R., who were under his control, to attend a special meeting, which was held yesterday afternoon.

"Pray for railroad men," said Mr. Hunter.

Mr. Hunter's address was more than usually interesting.

Hunter was the surgeon, Crossley was the physician. Hunter had to remove a piece of meat from the back of the neck of Mr. Hunter or Mr. Crossley to discontinue an ailment.

"I pity the rich," said Mr. Hunter. "For the rich are poor and the poor are rich. Rich men could not see Jesus. Jesus was passing by. Hail Him. Make preparation for the Lord's coming. When Earl Grey came to Calgary did you make preparations?"

Christ had no use for cardrooms. Christ had no use for dance rooms. "The devil says to buy a suit, arms around women. Here I am using the knife. If a man put his arm around your wife in the parlor what would happen? You would shoot him. Then what is the difference?"

TRYING TO SAVE LIFE

Advocate for the Condemned Man Gilbert, Appeals to Court

ASKS FOR A NEW TRIAL FOR CLIENT

At the sitting of the Court en Banc which was held yesterday the first case which came up was the appeal in connection with the condemned murderer, Gilbert, of Regina.

Mr. Martin, who appeared for the condemned man, contended that the evidence of the man Henderson was not admissible. The direction of the judge to the jury that they had to believe the evidence which had been produced before the judge at Regina was not correct. He contended that the evidence of Henderson which Gilbert did not hear was not admissible. The evidence of Henderson was not obtained in the course of the examination-in-chief of the accused. The counsel referred to the state of mind of the deceased.

Why is the state of mind of the deceased material? Mr. Martin, "Because if I can show the state of mind of the deceased I can arrive at the state of mind of the accused. What I am trying to prove is that the murder was committed by the accused by accident and not by intent."

Mr. Justice Harvey, if the murdered man had been living, the statement which Gilbert had made, but I cannot see the connection between the state of mind of the accused and the state of mind of the deceased.

Quotations innumerable followed and cases of all sorts were quoted and it was late before Mr. Martin finished his speech. The court for the crown did not reply and the court proceeded to the next case. It is probable that the case will be argued on the fact that the date of the execution of Gilbert is fixed for the 18th.

The case of the King v. Mulligan occupied the attention of the court for a very short time. Peter Mulligan was found guilty of a criminal assault on the person of six persons at the last assizes which were held at Red Deer. Mr. Justice Scott, who tried the case, allowed an appeal on a point that was not sufficient evidence to justify the verdict.

The court quashed the conviction and Peter Mulligan, who has been in the barracks since he was discharged immediately. Mulligan did not appear at the court but he was released from the barracks within a few moments of the decision of the court.

NO TRACE OF VESSEL

The Ponce is Still Abroad and no Word From Her.

SHE IS NOW EIGHT DAYS OVERDUE

New York, Jan. 9.—For the first time since anxiety became acute over the steamer Ponce, which sailed from Ponce, Port Rico, Dec. 20th, and should have reached this port six days later, the offices of the owners, the New York & Port Rico Steamship Co., were closed tonight.

At a late hour, General Manager Franklin Mooney left for home. Up to that time, no tidings upon which the company placed credence had been received.

The vessel, which carried a crew of fifty-two, and seven passengers is still missing. Innumerable rumors have been investigated. One of the latest reports was that southern wireless coast stations received a wireless communication from the Ponce Jan. 1st.

The Ponce is not equipped with the wireless apparatus, though it was suggested that a message concerning the Ponce might have been sent by some other craft having wireless equipment and the message was misread.

The officials of the line not only refuse to abandon hope, but reiterate tonight that they confidently expect that the Ponce will be heard from within the next twenty-four hours. There is no reason, Mr. Mooney said, to believe that the vessel has foundered, while there are many ways of accounting for the delay. The assurance of the company rests upon the fact that the steamer Maracas, of the Trinidad Shipping & Trading Co. is three days ahead of the Ponce, and Mr. Mooney believes that she is towing the disabled Ponce to port.

CONSIDERING THE QUESTION OF FUEL

Unions of Municipalities Ask the Railway Commission to Investigate Freight Charges.

ASK PROVINCE TO CONSIDER SYSTEM OF PRODUCTION

The Question of Assessment Was Carefully Considered at Meeting Held Yesterday.

Red Deer, Jan. 9.—At this morning's session of the convention of the Alberta union of municipalities the delegates pronounced in favor of municipal hospitals managed by trustees elected by the people. They objected to bonusing by way of payment of cash, the granting of land, or the exemption for taxation, and declared in favor of the single tax on land as the main basis of municipal taxation with taxes on business' income and special franchises. The convention requested the government to institute a thorough investigation into the methods and practice of municipal assessment and taxation.

At this afternoon's session, the principle of transferring the executive powers of the city council to commissioners was advocated in Wm. Short's speech.

The council should provide the funds and say what should be done with them, and should leave the commission to carry out the plan the council adopted. Edmonton's executive work was now being handled by a mayor and two paid commissioners who had oversight of all the departments, the commissioners could not be removed except by a two thirds vote of the council. Calgary too had had success with a limited commission.

The union endorsed the principle of allowing a municipality to defer for five years payment of principle on debentures for constructing rate works, etc.

On the coal question the convention passed a resolution that the railway commission should immediately investigate the transporting charges for coal and the car shortage. That the government of Alberta should immediately investigate the whole system of the production of coal and the supply of the same, and that the federal government should not in the future allocate coal land to private persons or corporations within the province of Alberta.

The convention affirmed a number of last year's resolutions regarding having local telephone systems controlled by the municipality and the long distance lines by the government regarding the case of indigents.

Some matters of auditing in small municipalities were discussed and Mayor Gaetz, Red Deer, brought forward a somewhat novel proposal to have the municipality loan poorhouse soldiers installing sewerage rate lighting, the repayments to be secured against the property.

A banquet was given the visiting delegates by the town of Red Deer on Wednesday evening.

WORK FOR LEGISLATURE

Lieutenant Tells of Task Before the Alberta Members

Lethbridge, Jan. 9.—Hon. G. H. V. Bulyea, lieutenant governor of Alberta, speaking of the coming session of the Alberta legislature which convenes on Jan. 24, said: "You know I know nothing about politics; I may say, however, that the coming legislative session, the second since the erection of Alberta into a province, will be quite a heavy one and that the time of the members will be engrossed mainly with re-stamping and amending old Territorial statutes and re-enacting them in an improved form under the new constitution."

"Of the strictly new pieces of legislation, one of the most important will undoubtedly be the proposed provincial railway act, under which the province will exercise its power of granting charters for railways and of regulating them. The Territories possessed no powers with respect to railways."

"It is extremely unlikely that the commission appointed to enquire into the question of a beef combine will have any report for this year's session, as the British Columbia government has not appointed its representative. The representatives of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba have, however, met informally, though the taking of evidence has not yet begun."

His honor said a spirit of harmony and co-operation characterized the members and parties in the legislature in dealing with the measures, which gained added importance from being enacted when the institutions are yet in a plastic condition.

This Man Has No Excuse At All

Senator Perley Makes a Lamentable Tale of His Recent Slanders.

I think the Telegram said Mr. Hill was a land inspector, so much worse if he was a grain man. It was all right for you that Mr. Hill should publish the superiority of Alberta oats, over Manitoba and Saskatchewan; but when I defend Saskatchewan in the matter, then it is all wrong. I may say that I did not wish to reflect on Alberta, I wanted to draw it mild.

I was told by a man who had to do it that a few years ago, the Board of Trade at Edmonton sent to Dr. Saunders, nearly 300 samples of oats to test their growing qualities, and none of them averaged over fifty per cent of fertility, and half of them not 20, and as a result the seed for that year was bought in Ontario and Manitoba. Treating on so delicate a subject Mr. Hill should have been mum. I have nothing to apologise for. I was mild. In future let your government officials and other objects as much as they wish on their own part of the province, but do not make comparisons.

Yours truly,
N. PERLEY

THE FAMINE STORIES ARE APPALLING

Latest News From the Hungry Millions in China

Victoria, Jan. 9.—Advice regarding the appalling famine in China received by steamer Shinano Maru today show that the famine area covers 40,000 square miles with a population of 100 millions, of whom four millions are in want, mostly starving. There were from 20 to 30 large walled cities within the area and thousands of refugees are hurrying into these cities from the countryside. It is estimated that 800,000 starving refugees have reached nine walled cities just outside the famine area seeking relief. It is estimated that $20,000 a day for many months will be required to supply the famine stricken.

Municipal Ownership By Edmonton Mayor

Interesting and Instructive Paper Read at Red Deer by W. A. Griesbach.

The following is one of the papers read yesterday afternoon at Red Deer. It is on Municipal Ownership and was read by Mayor Griesbach of Edmonton.

Municipal ownership under conditions prevailing in this country is such a new thing that it is a matter of difficulty in the limited time at my disposal to secure any authorities on the question. I am therefore obliged to give you the result of my observations in the city which I represent here today, and of the condition prevailing elsewhere and my conclusions therefrom.

Question of Efficiency

The first question to be considered is: What utilities should the municipality own? My answer to that is, that all undertakings which may be described as natural monopolies should be owned and operated by municipalities. The telephone is a natural monopoly because its value to the user consists in communication with the greatest possible number of people and because it is a necessity. The same may be said of street railways, gas, water, sewerage, and as new conditions arise there will be others. The first general argument in support of this contention is this: A private corporation operates one of these undertakings for a profit. It must pay working expenses, it must pay interest on the money invested, and finally it must pay a profit to the promoters. There may be watered stock, and dividends must also be paid on that. Contrasting this with municipal ownership, three advantages are apparent. There is no watered stock, no dividends, and less interest to pay as a municipality is generally borrowing money cheaper than a private corporation, and in view of the fact

A MUNICIPAL TELEPHONE

The people of Calgary are taking the question of municipal telephones seriously and very seriously. Some seem to be of the opinion that the nature of a bluff and that nothing will be done. The same thing was said when it was first suggested that Calgary should install a system of electric light. It soon passed beyond the joke and became reality.

What position would Calgary be in without its electric light plant?
The citizen would be paying 25 per cent. more for light. Besides that there is to be a decrease in the amount of light at an early date.
Calgary people are getting a good lighting service which Calgary did not have until it was decided to install the electric light service.

It will be the same with the telephone service. In cities with a population about the size of Calgary the telephone charges under municipal system is less than Calgary is paying at the present time. The service in Calgary is getting now is the worst that could be given.

The cost of a new telephone system would not be very great and it would have at least 500 subscribers on the very day that it is opened. With that the system with the prices less than we are now paying would be self-supporting.

The time for action is now, and the city should not lose this opportunity of active co-operation of the board of trade, and encouragement from the Dominion Government in putting this idea into fact.

THE BUILDING RETURNS

The building inspector of Calgary estimates the building done in Calgary last year at $2,400,000.

The building inspector of Edmonton estimates the building done in Edmonton at $1,868,000.

The building inspector, if they have such a person there, or the publicity agent, or some person else estimates the building at Regina at $1,982,350.

And the people of Calgary accept it at that. They may have their suspicions of the figures at other points, but they admit that the building inspectors know more about these things than they know.

But the newspapers in Edmonton place the building done in Calgary at $1,800,000, or some such figure.
Because the cement works are in Ekalow, and Regina at quite another figure.

The Edmonton paper admits that its own building inspector is honest but the other building inspectors are liars.

The Regina papers place Calgary still lower, at less than half the amount in fact that the Calgary inspector places them at, and puts Edmonton below Regina. The Regina paper believes that the Regina building inspector is honest, but that the Calgary and Edmonton building inspectors are liars.

As a matter of fact, the figures of one, two or three cities may be wrong, but they are the nearest right that we have, and they show that Calgary leads in building in the west.

NO TALL HATS HERE

A jovial person residing in Calgary who makes a living by adding up long columns of hard figures has been in St. John and informs the newspapers there that really this western country is spicily crude after all. It has many drawbacks and one never sees a top hat or a frock coat.

To a highly cultured person who has been reared in the lap of St.
John business college, the absence of these emblems of a high state of civilization are not only very much felt. The biting loneliness one feels when separated from such close pals cannot be understood by ordinary persons who have never known the delights of such associations.

The cultured St. John person expresses his absolute disgust with the uncouthness and roughness of the old pioneer and intimates that all the loyalty for the flag in the entire west is compressed into the one head which so yearns for its silk covering, and within the heart which is never embraced any more by the frock coat.

As long as we have no worse knockers of this country than this cultured person, we are in very good fortune.

People who cannot live here because it is not a frock coat and silk hat country are of no value to us. We do not particularly need the man who is worrying about the loyalty of our old time pioneer.

The Albertan does not mean by this that the country is crude, or its people vulgar, or that we despise refinement, far from it. What we do mean is that we are not particularly anxious to get many of the class of people, whose longing for the high hat and frock coat is an overbearing one. In this country people dress decently and comfortably and with propriety. But a man can dress as he pleases and as long as he follows the ordinary rules of propriety he will neither attract attention nor be censured, nor ridiculed. The high hat and frock coat are not very popular for the reason that they are somewhat conspicuous, but more for the reason that they are not a comfortable and work in.

Mr. Mullin says that the oldtimer is so uncouth and rough that he does not care under which flag he is sleeping. If he means that the oldtimer raises no sentimental rump about trifles he is right. But if he means that the hearts of the old veterans are not in the right place, this person is slandering the noblest type of men who ever pioneered in any country. They have little to say about the flag they are sleeping under. To the cultured St. Johnnonan this sleeping feature seems to be the test of loyalty. But these stalwart pioneers have something to say under which flag they will fight, and the records of Canada's wars and Britain's wars show the kind of stuff they are made of. If we have to choose for settlers between the sturdy old timers and the cultured person who cannot live without his silk hat and his frock coat, we shall pick out the uncouth pioneer with some character about him every time, and know that we have made a good choice.

SENATOR PERLEY'S SLANDER

Senator Perley dies hard. Having made a slanderous attack upon Alberta, he is going to stay by it to the end, at whatever cost. And to think of it, for years the same person represented Alberta in the Dominion senate.

He says that Mr. Craig told him that he was collecting specimens for the Alberta Government, when in Wolsley. Of course, Mr. Craig told him no such thing, because he was not in the employ of the government and besides Mr. Craig says quite positively that he made no such statement.

In the second place this person slanders the province of Alberta by reflecting upon the statements of certain grain men who show that our oats are superior to those in the other provinces of Canada. He makes these allegations on the strength of the fact that a man (name not stated) told him once that some years ago some oats were grown in Edmonton which were not up to sample.

These are the facts. The conduct of Senator Perley is unheard of.
He went out wilfully, intentionally, and maliciously to slander this province. He has proved a second time that he is no friend of Western Canada. The excuse which he gives for his scandalous conduct is much worse than the original offence.

SHADEY ARISTOCRACY

A Brandon senator with a Russian name is asking for special favors from the Government of Manitoba and the government of the Dominion in establishing for himself a large game preserve on the banks of Lake Manitoba.

The gentleman with the Russian name is evidently of the Russian type, believing that the hands of the people were created for the purpose of giving pleasure to himself and his friends, and to them exclusively.

As might be expected the province of Manitoba came in at once and gave up to the czar without any great amount of opposition. But strange to say, the Dominion Government seems to be angling with the proposition too.

The Winnipeg Free Press, which cannot be described as a very harsh critic of the Dominion Government, in discussing this matter says:
"Senator Kirchoff's lands safely bagged, but we venture the property that he will never get possession of the Dominion lands. We find it difficult to understand why the Ottawa Government did not throw the proposal out of the window the moment it was made; but in view of the unmistakable revelation of Western opinion it will, perhaps, be satisfied to go no further with the project. The sentiment of the west is dead against game preserves, and all that they imply. We want no shady aristocracy in this country. The experience of Western Ontario with the St. Clair flats ought to be warning enough against giving houses of public merriment lands to private sportsmen even where the most plausible representations are made. The marshes along the shores of Lake Manitoba will probably never be good for anything but duck shooting; and we have no reason why they should not continue to be open to all sportsmen."

EDITORIAL NOTES

The greatest climate in the world:
You can't tell by the length of a man's hat how warm his heart is.

Calgary seems to be the keystone to the provincial telephone system.

So far no person has harpooned the west because we insist upon spelling culture with an r.

The latest report of the casualty list of the bloody battle in Morocco is that one man caught cold.

After reading this senator's letter one would surmise that he is some distance from the pearly gates.

We may be a little shy in the west on the frock coat, but we are long in producing the stuff that buys the baby a frock.

The experience of the last few weeks has shown us that it is only when the council meets that the municipal trouble begins.

Senator Perley, when cornered about his attack on Alberta, replies
"He told me so" and "He told me that some person told him so."

According to the argument of the Calgary Herald, if Calgary had been situated at the equator there would have been no coal famine at all.

The coronation of the Shah of Persia is fixed for February, 2—plenty of time being given for the mourners to switch and get in shape as rejoicers.

If the visiting evangelists had a little more experience with the Calgary telephone system they would have a little more sympathy with the violators of the third commandment.

No one is surprised that Edmonton and Regina papers should lie about our building returns, but the bed point about it is that they do not agree in their falsehoods.

Toronto people are so keen in showing their money in Cobalt that they have no thought of investment in the Canadian west, which is another result of removing the good old story about the dog and the shadow from the authorized school books.

Think of a man saying that we are rudd in the west, and a Canadian senator is asking for a game preserve, with all the arrogance and pomposness of a Russian autocrat.

Servians say that the reports of coming trouble in an Austrian being dictated that the recent trouble in France would make Pope Leo turn
in his grave.

A despatch in today's paper gives plans of moving the body of the late Pope, which bears out the prediction that the recent trouble in France would make Pope Leo turn
in his grave.

If Messrs. Crossley and Hunter are attracting as much interest in their services in the church as their sermons in the church are attracting, they have no reason to complain.

The Calgary Herald argues that the shortage in coal was caused by an inconsiderate demand for coal, which is quite true, for the Herald might have pointed out, there was no coal famine last summer.

The lion and the unicorn fighting for the crown did not kick up more of a shindy than Calgary and Edmonton fighting to displace Regina from fifth place in last year's building operations. But what does it matter? We HAVE the buildings.

Mr. Hunter and Bar Keepers.
The following is a copy of a letter sent Rev. Mr. Hunter about his sermons a copy of which was sent to the Albertan. It is:

Dear Sir, Calgary, 7th January 1937
I observe in your address on Sunday night you made the statement that the bar-rooms were not used by a man and the bar-keepers, no use to a man, men on earth. I would not wipe my feet on them, and which to my mind are sufficient evidence to prove that it was the intention of Jesus that the bar-keepers should be driven out for those who believe in Him would be here on this earth, brought about by the resurrection, and not in space for the ages and after death. I have mentioned in reference to dreadful. Here are the quotations from the New Testament submitted to the club and which to my mind
are sufficient evidence to prove that
it was the intention of Jesus that

CALGARY HOCKEYISTS WIN BY BIG SCORE

Home Team Scores 17 Goals Against 3 for Red Deer

The Calgary city hockey team defeated a strong Red Deer seven last evening in decisive fashion by a score of 17 to 3.

The locals showed surprisingly good form considering it was the first time they were out together, and with a little more practice should be about the strongest in the province.

Red Deer turned up with a strong team, reinforced by a couple of former Calgary players in Chalk and King, who, although putting up a fair game, neither played their usual hustling game.

McLeod, Housh, McKenzie and Hensworth made a strong forward line, and at times these players showed some pretty combination. The Calgary defence kept them from scoring with a good clean game, and the score by no means represented the play, as the puck at times travelled up and down the ice at a fast clip.

The game started punctual at the advertised time and it was soon seen that the locals were in merry vein, as good combination work ended in Rouleau opening the scoring after about three minutes play. The face of Chalk went down but Flummerfelt returned up the ice. King came down and after Anderson had saved he went round the net and scored with a side shot. After this Calgary scored on several occasions and at half time were leading by seven to one.

On resuming the game became a little tame, but both sides soon got together and Red Deer made several trips to the locals' end but finally shooting kept them from scoring. What did go anywhere near the net Anderson always saved. McKenzie started the scoring for Calgary in the second half and this was quickly followed by goals from Rouleau, Hensworth, McLeod and McHugh. King scored for the visitors, but further points were added for Calgary by Rouleau, McKenzie and McLeod. Good work by Chalk resulted in Sherman scoring Red Deer's last goal. Before the close Calgary added two more and time was called with the locals easy winners.

Referee Scott handled the game throughout to the satisfaction of both teams and on only three occasions did he hand out any penalties, one when he sent off both McKenzie and King for two minutes, and later King went off. McHugh also took the count for slashing at Chalk.

For Calgary Anderson put up a good game between the nets, while Flummerfelt in front of him was as safe as a church. McHugh put in some useful work and at times used his weight to advantage.

The forwards were in great form, and with a little practice in combination should make a great line. Red Deer's defence was not good. They changed goalies in the second half which made matters very little better. Chalk, King and Sherman were the pick of the bunch.

YOUNG CORBETT WAS A MARK

Young Murphy Put it Over Ex-champion in Six Round Bout Philadelphia, Jan. 9.—Tommy Murphy of New York, gave Young Corbett a severe beating in a six round bout before the National Athletic Club tonight. From the first to the sixth round Murphy out-fought the former champion at all stages. In the second round only the sound of the bell saved Corbett from a knockout. Murphy simply rained blows on the former Denver fighter and near the close of the round sent Corbett to the floor with a right to the jaw. When Corbett rose Murphy kept after him sending lefts and rights to the face and body. When the gong sounded, Corbett was hanging on the ropes in practically a helpless condition. The one minute rest brought him back in fairly good condition, but Murphy gave him no opportunity to rest and drove Corbett from one side of the ring to the other, landing on the face and body almost at will. Corbett got in an occasional blow to the kidneys and neck, but they lacked force.

In the third round Corbett tried the tactics he worked on McGovern so successfully in their two championship fights. He began to hurl epithets at the New Yorker, which were intended to rattle Murphy. The latter simply smiled and drove two rights to the jaw with such force that Corbett forgot to talk.

The fourth, fifth and sixth rounds were repetitions of the third. Corbett tired perceptibly in the closing rounds and was simply a mark for the younger and better conditioned fighter.

Murphy's condition was perfect, but it is probable that Corbett would have tipped the beam close to 140 pounds. He was slow and wild and outclassed in boxing, hitting and ring generalship.

The following were the results of the games played last evening in the Brewery curling trophy at the Alberta rink:

Press, 15; Turner, 6.
 Press, 15; Archer, 7.
 Terrant, 12; Fletcher, 9.

COMMISSION

Want Provincial Telephone System Placed out of Reach of Party Politics

HOMESTEADER SHOULD HAVE HIS GOAL

Important Suggestions Made by the Alberta Farmers Association

The Alberta Farmers association opened its three days convention yesterday.

Those present were: D. W. Warner, president, Edmonton; W. F. Stevens, secretary treasurer, Cloverbar; Messrs. Heartly, Fletcher and Whillans, directors, and the following delegates: God. Heatherhew, W. L. Thompson, Margrath; John O. Panneton, Cloverbar; Wm. Heaton, Beaumont Branch; H. Martin, Dolchester; S. S. Bragdon, A. G. Wolley-Dod, Jas. Williamson, Geo. Wannacott, Midnapore; A. H. Gunn, Calgary; L. H. Woolford, E. N. Barker, Cardston; S. Ottowal, East Cloverbar; Wm. Lang, G. Ball, D. S. Fulton, D. W. Warner, I. Fletcher, Strathcona; S. W. Hamis, Raymond; Henry Jamieson, Red Deer; Geo. Rand, Geo. McDonald, Olds.

The day was passed in routine work and the reports of committees, also the following resolutions were passed:

That the provincial government should place scales to be controlled by the provincial government at all points where grain is sold or shipped in bulk; the weights made by the government scale to be binding on buyer and seller alike. And that in case any fraud is discovered to have been perpetrated by buyer or seller, either before or after weighing, in regard to weights registered on the government scales, the penalty inflicted upon the guilty party should be as severe as the law will allow.

That in the opinion of this convention the provincial government should compel all public elevators to put in cleaning apparatus, and that all grain should be clean before being graded or weighed.

That this meeting request the legislative committee to go thoroughly into the interest question and make representations to the local legislature and Dominion government and respectfully and earnestly seek same at the hands of those in proper authority.

Whereas the provincial government is proposing to inaugurate a trunk line telephone system throughout the province, we are strongly of the opinion that the management and control of such system be placed in the hands of an independent and competent commission, capable of handling any telephone system; and that this commission be beyond or above the influence of party politics in so far as who is installed government patronage is concerned, and that a copy of this resolution be placed in the hands of each and every representative in the provincial legislature at the coming session.

That the government should give the homesteader prior right or right of first refusal in the purchase of the coal or other mineral rights under his homesteaded, so that another person or other persons or company cannot purchase the mineral rights of the homesteader's land without the government first having referred the matter to the homesteader.

That this convention recognizes the advisability of the legislature restricting the bonusing of railways, corporations and industries by cities, towns and municipalities.

The convention endorsed the action of the government in the preservation of forest reserves and allowing 50 acres for reforesting on settlers' farms.

The association will meet in Nolan's hall this morning at nine o'clock.

DETAILS OF STETTLE FIRE

Town at One Time in Great Danger of Destruction.

DELAY IN GETTING APPARATUS WORKING

Two Hotels Completely Destroyed by the Flames

Stettler, Jan. 9.—A very serious outbreak of fire occurred in Stettler on Monday evening at about 9 p.m. Nearly all the inhabitants were enjoying an ice carnival at the rink when suddenly the word fire was whispered among the men. In a few minutes the place was deserted and a hurrying crowd toward the Royal Hotel opposite the station to find it in flames.

There was little to be done except to try and prevent the fire from spreading and save the Albert hotel which is next door, a very narrow space intervening between them.

The water everywhere was frozen, sheets of snow were but of little avail, the gasoline fire engine had been left out of doors and was also frozen, and it took a long time to get it working order. Consequently the fire was not kept under control until it had burned fiercely. A few daring spirits headed by a prominent Scotchman in Stettler and Mr. Puffer of local M.P.P., dashed in and succeeded in saving various valuable pieces of furniture. There was a vast number of lookers-on who no doubt enjoyed their perogative of seeing most of the game. It would have been more useful if they had played it.

Very soon the second hotel was seen to be doomed and extraordinary precautions were taken to prevent the flames spreading to the Dominion hotel, which is close by. Had the workers not succeeded here there is but little doubt but that Stettler itself would have presented the same spectacle as to its two oldest houses, the hotels that were burnt, a heap of moulding timber and twisted scrap iron.

The flames blazed all the night through and a number of watchers kept a careful lookout for the chance ignition by sparks of neighboring buildings.

Happily no further accident occurred.

The fire arose in a small storehouse at the back of the Royal hotel, though from what cause is not at present ascertainable. However, a most careful investigation will be made, a detective from Edmonton having been telegraphed for. One of the hotels was insured, but the other was believed to have no insurance on it. Luckily the fire began just too early for any of the guests to be in bed or there might have been some alarming loss of life. As a matter of fact there were no personal injuries of a serious nature.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST.

(3) If the settler has his residence upon farming, and owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirement may be satisfied by residence upon such land.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

Spring is Coming!

SELF-RAISED

BY EMMA D. M. SOUTHWORTH

Twilight was deepening into dark when he reached that point in the road where the little footpath diverged from it and led up to the Hill Hut.

Not! he could not pass this by. He turned up it, and rode on until he came in sight of the hut.

It was but little changed. It is astonishing how long these little lonely dilapidated houses hold on if left alone.

He alighted, tied his horse to a tree, and walked up behind the house, where, under the old elm, he saw the low headstone bleaching dimly in the starlight.

He knelt and bowed his head over it for a little while. Then he arose and stood with folded arms, gazing thoughtfully down upon it. Finally he murmured to himself, "Not here, but risen;" and turned and left the spot.

He went to the tree where he had tied his horse, remounted, and rode on his way.

Again he passed down the narrow path leading to the broad turnpike road that wound around the brow of the hills to Brudenell Hall.

Here also every yard of the road was replete with past associations.

How often, while self-appropriated to the Professor of Odd Jobs, he had passed up and down this road carrying a basket of tools behind his master.

At length he came to the cross-roads, and to the turnstile, where he had once seen and been accused by the beautiful Countess of Hurstmonceaux.

He rode past this spot, and taking the lower arm of the road, entered upon the Brudenell grounds.

A very short ride brought him to the semi-circular avenue leading to the house.

It was now quite dark, but the front of the house was lighted up, holding forth, as it were, its hands of welcome.

As he rode up and dismounted a servant took his horse.

And as he walked up the front steps Mr. Brudenell came out of the front door, and holding out his hand said cordially:

"You are welcome my dear Ishmael! I received your letter this morning, and have been looking for you all afternoon!"

"And I am very glad to get here at last, sir," said Ishmael, returning the fervent pleasure of his father's hands.

"Come up, my boy! Felix go before us with the light to the room prepared for Mr. Worth," he said.

to a mulatto boy who was waiting in the hall.

Felix immediately led the way upstairs to a large back room, whose windows overlooked the star-lit dew-splunged garden, and which Ishmael at once recognized as the happy school room of his boyhood, now transferred into his bedroom. He welcomed the old familiar walls with all his heart; he was glad to be in them.

Mr. Brudenell took care himself that Ishmael had everything he was likely to want, and then he left him.

When Ishmael had changed his dress he went below to the drawing room, where he found his father waiting. The late dinner was immediately served.

Old Jovial, who on account of his age and infirmity had been left to vegetate on the estate, waited on the table.

He stole wistful glances at the strange young man who was his master's guest, and who somehow or other reminded him of somebody whom he thought he ought to remember, but knew he could not.

At length Ishmael, attracted by his covert regards, looked at him in return, and in spite of his bowed and shrunken form, and thinned and whitened hair, recognized the old friend of his boyhood, and exclaimed, as he offered his hand:

"Why, Jovial, it is never you!"

"Mr. Ishmael, sir, it's never you," returned the old man with a grin of joyful recognition.

They shook hands there and then. And old Jovial showed his increased regard for the guest by continually proffering bread, vegetables, meat, poultry, pepper, salt, in short everything in succession over and over again, thereby effectually preventing Ishmael from eating his dinner, by compelling his constant attention to those offerings; until at length Mr. Brudenell interfered and brought him to reason.

The next morning Mr. Brudenell proposed to Ishmael to go out for a day's shooting. And accordingly they took their fowling pieces, called the dogs and started for the wooded valley where most game abounded.

They spent the day pleasantly and bagged many birds and returned home to a late dinner; and the evening closed as before.

"What would you like to do with yourself this morning, Ishmael?" inquired Mr. Brudenell as they were seated at breakfast on Thursday.

"I wish to go in search of a valued old friend of mine, known in this neighborhood as the Professor of Odd Jobs," was the reply.

"Oh Morris. Yes. You will find him I fancy in the old 'plago, just on the edge of the estate," replied Mr. Brudenell.

And when they arose from the table the latter went out and mounted his horse to ride to the post office, for Herman Brudenell's establishment was now reduced to so small a number of servants that he was compelled to be his own postman. To be plain with you, there were but two servants—old Jovial, who was gardener, coachman and waiter; and old Dinah, his wife, who was cook, laundress and chambermaid.
