AN EPISCOPAL LETTER

Right Rev. Bishop Crige to Congregation of Reformed Episcopal Church

A letter from the venerable Bishop Crige was read on Sunday morning to the congregation of the Church of Our Lord by the rector, Rev. T. W. Gladstone. It commemorated the thirty-first anniversary of the foundation of the church, which was celebrated the previous Sunday by the congregation. The letter follows:

To the Congregation of the Church of Our Lord: Dearly Beloved Brethren—For thirty-six years has the Lord permitted and enabled you to continue steadfast in your testimony and has permitted me notwithstanding my many shortcomings and failures, to continue associated with you in the work from the beginning unto the present day.

It has come into my heart to write you a few lines in connection with your celebration by way of reminding you of the truth for which you stand for the truth, that salvation is of grace from first to last, and that we must have the living water straight from the wells of salvation, as if we were beginning our Christian life in the days of the apostles, who spoke with divine authority of the things of God. From them we learn that the grace of God which bringeth salvation hath appeared unto all men teaching and enabling them to serve God with reverence and Godly fear.

This grace appeared unto men when Christ was made manifest in the flesh. He was proclaimed to shepherds as the promised Saviour, which is Christ the Lord, and afterwards by John the Baptist when he said to the multitude, "Behold the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world." The Scriptures teach also that every man who believeth shall be saved, and that he who believeth shall be saved by grace. It is clearly taught by the Apostle Paul, who in his epistle from a certain church exhorted them by his letter to work out their salvation, saying a reason that it was God that was working in them both to will and to do of His good pleasure.

This is a two-fold manifestation of grace: first in the sacrifice, which Christ made to take away the sin of the world, and secondly, the grace which empowered men to believe and walk in accordance with that grace.

But there is another aspect to which John, his forerunner, referred, namely, how the grace which bringeth salvation appeared in person, before Christ appeared in the flesh, namely, the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world. To this the Apostle John, writing as a prophet, says, "Fear of His fulness have we all received, and grace for grace." And the grace of faith and obedience for the gift of salvation.

These things were personally, thought and Moore and McIntyre came down on the train, believing that McIntyre had decided to stay out for the night. Yesterday, when he did not come into the city, the provincial police were notified. In the meantime McIntyre, who has a fair idea of the country in that section, wandered along until he reached Sooke Lake, and finally managed to get across to Wm. Healey's place, where he stayed all night. Yesterday morning he started out on foot for Goldstream, where he arrived in the afternoon. He returns to town by today's train.

HUNTSMAN WANDERED

Being a Huntsman, McIntyre, Who Sought Police Aid in Sooke

The friends of Joseph McIntyre, a barber employed in Russell's barber shop, who was believed to have been lost while on a hunting trip in the neighborhood of the H. H. Post on Sunday, were relieved late yesterday afternoon when a telephone message from Colwood told of his arrival at that town, nearly but little the worse for his experience.

McIntyre, in company with F. R. Moore and D. McIntyre, went to the 17-Mile Post on Sunday morning. After getting over the hills they separated, and nothing more was seen of McIntyre. When the other two returned to the train in the afternoon their companion was still absent.

BLACKMAILERS BUSY AT PRINCE RUPERT

Demanded $800 From Manager For Foley, Welsh & Stewart—Letter Asked Him to Leave Money in Rock Cut

Ald. V. W. Smith, of Prince Rupert, manager for Foley, Welsh & Stewart, last Wednesday received a laconic letter demanding that he deposit $800 in a rock cut off Pullen street, in the northern city, or the "boss" would expect to enjoy his very much longer. The letter bore a Prince Rupert post mark. It was emphatic, urging haste, and stated that the longer the yielding up of the cash was delayed, the greater the personal risk he would be running. It explained, in terse, crisp English, that the sender would expect to find the eight hundred bucks behind a boulder, in a small cutting off the left hand side of Pullen street, going toward Sixth avenue. There is such a cut, it being just around the bend behind the first station. It is upwards of six feet in depth, and a convenient spot for the purpose aimed at by the writer, whoever he may be. Mr. Smith replied the mixture in its envelope, and had a little conference with Chief McClellan. Subsequently, the recipient of this cheerful letter, having authority to do so by reason of the unusual circumstances which had arisen, slipped a reliable gun into his pistol pocket.

On Thursday evening, Mr. Smith, who is a busy man in hand, approached the cutting, placed the envelope behind a boulder, and strode away. Hidden in the immediate neighborhood were a couple of constables, who waited to see if any one might appear to claim what the alderman had left. In reality, the contents of the envelope amounted to nothing. It was a decoy, but it didn't work. The officers waited and watched long after the alderman's departure. Their patience and vigilance were unrewarded.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—At the close of today's polling, the complexion of the Government coalition parties and the Unionists. The pendulum swung slightly toward the government...

A Surprise. The turning of the tide toward Liberalism is a surprise and a great disappointment to the Unionists, who counted upon capturing half a dozen seats from the enemy.

The Liberals hardly expected to win Burnley, because the Socialist, Hyndman, was in the fight and hoped to take part of the Liberal vote.

The betting on the Stock Exchange before election was that the coalition majority would drop to 45. As the election progressed, the betting favored eighty, then ninety. It is now conceded that the government will have 106 majority.

GAIN OF FIVE FOR UNIONISTS

Net Result of Two Days' Polling in British Elections—Returns Show Little Change in Sentiment

GOVERNMENT 117 OPPOSITION 116

Unionists Gain Two London and Two Liverpool Seats, and Liberals Two—Mr. Joseph Martin Elected

LONDON, Dec. 8.—The position of the parties tonight after the second day's polling in the general election is: Government coalition: Liberals 37, Labor 14, Nationalists 16—Total 117. Opposition: Unionists 116.

The result merely confirms the opinion formed that as the results of Saturday's contest the Unionists now have no possible hope of replacing the Liberal government in power. The only question remaining is whether the Liberals will return with a larger or smaller majority.

To gain a bare majority in the new parliament the Unionists must make a net gain of 62 seats. So far, with 130 pollings, they have a net gain of only five seats. They have gained eleven and the Liberals six seats.

But Little Change
 The gain by the Unionists on Saturday was seven, while the Liberals gained four. Today the Unionists gained four and the Liberals two. A continuation at this rate would fulfill the Unionist prediction that the Asquith cabinet would be more than ever defeated on the Irish and Labor bills.

It must be remarked, however, that the Liberals lost at the January election more seats through three-cornered contests. Such contests are largely eliminated in the present election, and this may give them sufficient gains to balance those of the Unionists.

On the whole, it seems likely the new House of Commons will meet with the position of parties practically unchanged. The question is whether the King will feel justified in giving guarantees for the creation of a Liberal peers to force the veto bill through the House.

In Liverpool, a strong campaign by the Unionist champion, F. E. Smith, had the result of greatly improving the Unionist position. Such contests are the seat for the Exchange Division of Liverpool, as well as that for Birkenhead. In the latter case the Liberal candidate was attributed to the absence of Henry Vivian on a free trade mission in Canada.

The two seats the Liberals lost in London today, Islington North and St. Pancras West were held by very small majorities in the previous parliament. Apparently, therefore, the metropolis is much more divided in its attitude toward the contending parties.

Joseph Martin held St. Pancras East in spite of the triangular contest.

Each Interest Shown
 London tonight is displaying much enthusiasm, and the successful candidates are being borne in torchlight processions through the streets. As the returns come in, showing the closeness of the contest, interest is greatly increased, and vast crowds gathered in the street, Trafalgar Square, and other places where the results were shown, cheering and holding torches to their political affiliations.

pendent suffrage candidate, Jacob, who contested the seat for St. Pancras East against the Canadian, Joseph Martin, receiving only 24 votes.

The prime minister, speaking at Bury last night said: "The veto of the crown, still a technical part of the law of the land, is as dead as Queen Anne, and nobody laments or is the worse for its disappearance, while the crown stands on a much firmer foundation of the affection and loyalty of the British people than when it was last used. We propose that the veto follow it."

Manitoba Boundary Correspondence
 Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Premier Roblin Unable to Agree—Drydock Application Not According to Statute

OTTAWA, Dec. 8.—Several questions arising out of incidents in connection with the Eucharistic Congress were asked in the House this afternoon by Dr. Sproule (U), Minister of the Interior. Dr. Sproule asked about the telegram of welcome to Cardinal Van Rensburg sent by Mr. Justice Groulx as administrator of the government of Canada during Earl Grey's absence.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied: "When the question of a disorderly house for the East Grey appeared in the votes and proceedings of the 21st November last, Justice Groulx's attention was called to it in a view of the fact that it was a violation of the Statute. The facts appear to be as follows: On the 7th of September the following marconigram was published in the Montreal newspapers as having been sent to Cardinal Van Rensburg by Mr. Justice Groulx: 'Welcome to His Excellency the Legat Papal (sur le bateau) 'administrateur gouvernement de Canada pendant l'absence de Son Excellence, et lui souhaite la bienvenue.' (Signed) Groulx."

"On the face of it, this marconigram was sent during the month of August. During that month Justice Groulx did not act in the capacity of administrator, as during the whole of August His Excellency was in Canada, but on the first of August he accepted the Governor-General before leaving for his trip to Hudson Bay, appointed Justice Groulx administrator. Mr. Justice Groulx, therefore, did not consult the minister of the Crown, and received no advice from any of them."

Manitoba Boundary.
 Sir Wilfrid Laurier then read correspondence between himself and Premier Roblin on the question of the extension of Manitoba's boundaries. Roblin on October 17th, wrote that he would meet Sir Wilfrid Laurier and consider any alternative proposition, adding: "Anything that would mean placing Manitoba in a subordinate position towards her sister provinces in confederation. Possibly you may think I do not represent public opinion in this province in asking for this equality of treatment. Let me go a step further and say that if you will make your proposition and it turns out to be such as I cannot accept, I will, with your approval, undertake to submit the proposition directly to the people of this province for their consideration and decision on the principle of the initiative and referendum. If, however, you are prepared to offer us terms of equality with the other provinces, which we have so repeatedly urged, I will at once accept. Both parliaments, all these matters might be agreed to and confirmed by legislation."

Further correspondence shows that Mr. Roblin came to Ottawa, but further negotiations were postponed owing to the absence of Mr. Fielding. Sir Wilfrid Laurier said in reply to further questions: "If the province of Manitoba still continues to be a post-poned question, the blame is not with the present federal government. The Prime Minister is prepared to discuss with the government of Manitoba terms of the boundary extension upon the lines adopted by this House on the 13th of July, 1908."

Eucharistic Congress Again.
 In reference to the parade of the 5th Regiment at the time of the Eucharistic Congress, Sir Frederick Borden stated: "The 5th Regiment did parade at the Eucharistic Congress during the carrying of the Host, and was equipped with rifles and bayonets. They paraded voluntarily under the authority of the commanding officer of the regiment, Lieut.-Col. Labelle. In this connection it might be stated that it has been customary for many years past in Montreal, Quebec and elsewhere for French Canadian regiments of militia to attend the feast of Corpus Christi and parade with arms. Sir Wilfrid Laurier asked a question in regard to the action of the Speaker, Hon. Charles Macell. He stated that there is no rule or practice of the House of Commons in regard to the wearing of official robes by the Speaker during recess, but that he can be accompanied by his staff only when parliament is in session, or when specially authorized to do so by the House of Commons.

"The government is informed by His Honor the Speaker," said Sir Wilfrid Laurier, "that he did take part in the solemn religious procession in September last in the city of Montreal, but that he did not do so in his official capacity and was not accompanied by the mace, which is the emblem of his office. The government is not aware of any precedents in the matter, although there may have been occasions when Speakers of Canadian legislatures have in similar circumstances in the past attended such processions. The Speaker, holding rank as a magistrate, would consider a suggestion that he should wear judicial robes on such occasions as referred to, as a mark of respect for the solemnity of the occasion."

MANY QUESTIONS FOR MINISTERS

Incidents in Connection With Eucharistic Congress Lead to Inquiries From Dr. Sproule and Others

Various Questions.
 Ralph Smith introduced a bill to provide for the incorporation of cooperative societies to carry on wholesale and retail business.

Mr. Hughes was informed that no official request had yet been received to send a military contingent to the King's coronation. When the proper time came he would consider a suggestion to send representatives of the cadet corps and the Royal Military College.

"These will be of little assistance to the rebels, as the soldiers took the breech-loading rifles and shotguns. The towns of San Andreas and Santa Isabel are at present without local troops, but conditions in both are reported tranquil. The revolutionaries have retreated from these towns. Advice received today from Mazamora, state of Chihuahua, says that the revolutionists are in control of that city.

FILE PLANS FOR FIRST SECTION

Canadian Northern Pacific Railway Touches Tidewater on Young Property At Seaside Harbor

NORMAL CURVATURE AND GRADE NOT EXCESS

Profiles for First Section of Island Division Entered Provincial Government Department

Plans and profiles for the first section of the Canadian Northern Pacific Railway were yesterday filed by Divisional Engineer G. Hughes with the Hon. W. R. F. Provincial Minister of Lands, who returned from a flying visit to the island only the night before. The plans bring the located line of the railway to Cooper Cove—more generally known as the lagoon in which Mr. Young of the New England Hotel is well-known operator—farm—a of twenty-five miles distant from the Victoria terminal, and twenty from starting point outside the city. The profile accompanying the plans, submitted to the government, previously had been approved by the provincial staff, the curvatures, being but normal at any point and the maximum gradient being kept below one and one-half per cent, compensated for curve. A word of explanation as to the character of the plan may be of interest to those who are not familiar with the work of a professional engineer. It is to be understood that a straight piece of track, no matter how long, is not a straight line, but a curve, the radius of which would be impossible to determine. The curvature of the track, the latter section, is gradually increasing the resistance of the track.

No Extreme Difficulties.
Generally speaking, the location of the new line as shown by the plans filed does not involve any exceptional engineering, and therefore, there being no deep ravines to be traversed, no mountains of a formidable character to be surmounted. This section, however, involves from the construction to be undertaken, and construction to be undertaken, perhaps twelve miles will be necessary. The mileage expenditure doubtless more than doubling the amount of the proportionate mileage guarantee, as is understood that the rock in its character is fairly easily shattered but exceedingly hard to drill.
With the exception of this particular section, the rest of the line as indicated by the plans just filed is medium earth work and rock, there being no high work anywhere and none in which steam shovels can be successfully employed. The making of the roadbed will call for the construction of numerous short trestles, as in most of the existing roads, and these will be subsequently filled in as the years go by, giving the operation of the road an air of perfection of the permanent right-of-way.

The plans, by Provincial railway law, must be filed thirty days for inspection if desired by the public and the entire of protests (if any) on the part of property owners whose lands must be traversed, it is, therefore, impossible for the company to formally invite tenders for construction until January. It will be advertised in a matter of days, and the interested company to decide that there will be exceptionally keen competition for the work is, however, a certainty, there being at present a greater number of disengaged construction plants "across the line" than at any time for years past, if there has never been such a number before, and the owners having no desire to keep such equipment in idleness. Inquiries for the work have been pouring in from contractors desirous of tendering during past weeks in a steady stream, and not merely Provincial or North-western, but from all parts of America, from Florida in the South to Pennsylvania in the East.

Beginning at Glen Lake, a small pond in what is known as the Luxton estate, the C. N. P. line, as indicated in the plans filed yesterday traverses successively the properties of A. P. Luxton, C. E. Four, sliding drawers, containing fifty envelopes and 2 quires of linen paper. Price $2.00
A. Dunsmuir, H. Halgerson, C. Doering, Mrs. Watt, Dr. A. T. Watt, G. D. Reid, A. Blockley, George Gillespie, A. Farberry, F. Kaye, and the R. E. Jackson estate. The right of way is of the standard ninety-foot width, excepting in the T. G. Stothard property, where 200 feet must be secured in order to provide for station facilities at Metcoshin.
In all approximately 245 acres are required for right of way purposes on
