

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Canifon, Ont.—"I had been a great sufferer for five years. One doctor told me it was ulcers of the uterus, and another told me it was a fibroid tumor. No one knows what I suffered. I would always be worse at certain periods, and never was regular, and the bearing-down pains were terrible. I was very ill in bed, and the doctor told me I would have to have an operation, and that I might die during the operation. I wrote to my sister about it and she advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Through personal experience I have found it the best medicine in the world for female troubles, for it has cured me, and I did not have to have the operation after all. The Compound also helped me while passing through Change of Life."—Mrs. LETITIA BLAIR, Canifon, Ontario.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try, and the result has been worth millions to suffering women.

Canada's Lumber Production.

SOFTWOODS.

Interesting statistical comparisons may be made from the 1910 lumber report prepared by the Dominion Forestry Department. Of the twenty-six native species of wood which together were cut in 1910 to the extent of four billion, nine hundred million board feet worth over seventy seven million dollars, the first nine were coniferous or softwoods. Spruce was the most important, alone forming over one-quarter of the total cut. Spruce and white pine together formed barely one-half of the 1910 cut, while in the year previous, these two species made up nearly three fifths of the total. This decrease in proportion is due not to a smaller cut of the two species, but to a very great increase in the amount of Douglas fir, hemlock, cedar and yellow pine produced in British Columbia. One-quarter of the 1909 cut was formed of these four species while in 1910 the total cut of the four was increased by seventy per cent.

a gradual evolution in its importance to the lumber industry. Up to three years ago, white pine stood at the top of the list when it was supplanted by spruce, although the actual cut of the former had not decreased. The prediction of last year that white pine had nearly reached its maximum cut has proven true this year, the 1909 cut being decreased by four percent, or forty-two million feet. Yellow pine, increased in its cut nearly six hundred percent in British Columbia during one year. This increase of over one hundred and fifty million feet was sufficient to raise it from fourteenth place in the species table to sixth place in importance, thus surpassing in one year, red pine, larch, balsam, and the four most important hardwoods.

No Substitute for Newspaper Advertising.

Advertising pays if the man that has something to sell so regulates his advertisement as to convince the people that it is worth buying.

All the substitutes for newspaper advertising can be easily avoided or disregarded by the people the advertiser tries hardest to attract, the man or woman that can afford to buy.

They do not stand gaping at billboards and they do not bother with circulars in the mail because they are too busy, but their old friend, the newspaper, is taken into inmost privacy of the family circle. It is discussed at the breakfast table and at supper, it is read at leisure in the evening, and its pages are scrutinized with the interest born of long habit and discriminating taste.

An advertisement in that newspaper goes into the family circle and cannot be excluded. It is welcomed because it is a part of something else and it goes there at the very time when the occasional domestic economical council takes place. There is no substitute for the newspaper advertising.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Forestry Branch Press Bulletin.

HARDWOODS.

Canada is dependent for its lumber supply on the soft woods of the forest much more than is the United States, as seen from the 1910 Forest Products report, compiled by the Dominion Forestry Branch and shortly to be published. Of the 1910 Canadian lumber cut amounting to nearly five billion feet, only one-twentieth consisted of hardwoods or broad-leaved trees, worth barely five million dollars; on the other hand almost one quarter of the lumber cut in the United States consists of hardwoods, which country had far greater hardwood forests than ever did Canada. Canada is already feeling a shortage of the hardwood supply and makes up the national deficiency by importing annually from the United States, hardwood lumber to the value of seven and a half million dollars. Thus the value of the hardwoods imported into Canada during 1910 exceeded by 50 per cent. the value of the hardwoods manufactured into lumber. Nearly all of these imports are from the United States and consist of the most valuable species, such as oak, hickory, tulip or yellow poplar, chestnut, gum, walnut, cherry and a large amount of hard pine which is so frequently used as a hardwood. From these above figures it can be seen that we are becoming more and more dependent upon the United States whose available supply for export is surely and rapidly decreasing. Whatever can be done to improve the resources of Canada by the elimination of wood waste, and particularly by the development of the small wood lots of Ontario, Southern Quebec and the Maritime provinces, should be done with all possible speed.

Personal Honor.

I want to say to you, with all the earnestness I can command, that whatever happens, you must guard your personal honor as the dearest of all your possessions. I want you always to remember that, however successful you may be in acquiring riches, your own personal honor is the most precious thing you have. Take it from me—from one who has lived a good many years, and has seen something of life in the Old World and the New—that it matters not how rich a man may be, how splendid his establishments, how vast his possessions, if the man is known to be a dishonorable man, he is despised—if not openly, then in private—by everyone whose good opinion is worth having. But the man of improved integrity, the man "who holds his honor far more precious dear than life," who in good fortune and in bad, in the sunshine and through the storm, has kept this "most intimate jewel of his soul" safe and pure, unflawed and undimmed—such a man, however poor he may be, however humble the cabin he calls his home, is admired and honored by rich and poor, and can command the respect of the king upon his throne.—Extract from an address by Mr. Alexander McNeill, of North Bruce, Canada, to the pupils of Lorne technical classes at the annual prize distribution.

The Cork Industry in Spain.

The cultivation of cork trees forms an important industry in Spain. The cork tree is an oak which grows best in the poorest soil. It cannot endure frost, and must have sea air, and also some altitude. It is found all along the coast of Spain, the northern coast of Africa, and the northern shores of the Mediterranean.

There are two barks to the tree, the outer one being stripped for use. The cork is valuable according as it is soft and velvety.

When the sapling is about ten years old it is stripped at its outer bark for about two feet from the ground; the tree will then be about five inches in diameter and about six feet up to the branches. This stripping is worthless. The inner bark appears blood-red, and if it is split or injured the tree dies.

After eight or ten years more the outer bark has again grown, and then the tree is stripped four feet from the roots. This stripping is very coarse, and is used to make floats for fishing nets. Every ten years thereafter the bark is stripped, each two feet higher up, until the tree is forty or fifty years old, when it is in its prime, and may then be stripped every ten years from the ground to the branches.

The world doesn't owe us a living, or it wouldn't be shipped to us C.O.D. Pleasant as syrup; nothing equal it as a worm medicine; the name is Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator. The greatest worm destroyer of the age.

The huge racing machine shot by at a speed of sixty miles an hour. It's horn played a fanfare as it missed a ditch at the turn of the road by about five inches. "Gee," gasped the first onlooker, "what kind of a tune was that?" "Don't know," said the second, "but it ought to have been 'Nearer, my God to Thee.'"

A DARING WAGER.

The Liberty Major Vaksel Took With the Eccentric Czar, Paul I.

Paul I., the eccentric Czar of Russia, assassinated in 1801, was particularly as to his dress and considered trifling matters as of supreme importance. This peculiarity was once taken advantage of by an officer of the guards, Major Vaksel, to win a wager. The major, the joker of the army, had bet several hundred rubles that he would tweak the tail of the emperor's wig on parade. The next day, the story runs, the emperor happened to be present at early parade and, as chance would have it, took position for a moment immediately in front of the daring major. Breathless with excitement and terror, Vaksel's companions beheld that rash officer's right hand steal slowly from his side, rise to the level of the Czar's neck and give the wig's hanging tail a most decided tweak.

In an instant the emperor's face, pale with fury, was turned upon Vaksel's countenance, which, however, reflected only an expression of childlike innocence, mingled with the most deferential astonishment.

"Who dared do that?" demanded the enraged Czar, his eyes flashing evidence that his most dangerous mood was upon him.

"I did, your majesty," said Vaksel, who, however his heart may have fluttered, managed to preserve outwardly unruffled calm, together with an expression of innocent surprise. "It was crooked, your majesty," he added in a confidential undertone, "and I straightened it for fear the younger officers should see it."

Paul's countenance cleared at once. He stared fixedly, however at Vaksel's innocent-looking face for some seconds. Vaksel admitted afterward that this was the trying moment, but he had said to himself, "If I waver I am lost!" Then the Czar spoke, and spoke so that all might hear: "I thank you, colonel!"

If ever a step in rank was gained by purest effrontery it was so acquired on this occasion, and Vaksel left the field not only promoted to a coveted position in the guards, but richer by many hundred rubles as the result of the wager.

Doctors Condemn Oily Liniments

The Public are Warned to Be Careful of These Strong-Smelling Oily Liniments Containing Harmful Acids, Ammonia, Etc.

Many people have clung to the old-fashioned idea that a thick, greasy liniment is the best kind. Doctors say not—and they know.

Recently a number of these white, oily liniments were analyzed, and they were found to contain an enormously high percentage of harmful acids, and such irritating chemicals as ammonia, etc. For the moment they may cause a warm sensation when first applied, but their continued use never cures rheumatism, and only deteriorates the skin, sets up inflammation and causes endless trouble.

When a doctor warns you to quit using a white, oily liniment—do so. He knows that a thick liniment can't penetrate, can't sink through the pores and reach the seat of the pain.

When asked his opinion a few days ago, Dr. Roberts stated that he considered a strong, penetrating, pain-subduing liniment such as "Nerviline," to be superior to any of the white, ammonia liniments. In his twenty-five years of practice he had witnessed cases of rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago that simply would not respond to ordinary treatment—but Nerviline cured them. The same physician also spoke of the great advantages of keeping a preparation like Nerviline in the house always, because of cramps, diarrhoea, stomach disorders, earache, toothache, headache, and such minor ailments. Nerviline is a first-class cure. There is scarcely an ache or a pain, internal or external, that Nerviline won't cure. In thousands of homes no other pain-relieving medicine is used. Fifty years' continued success and the endorsement of the profession are proof that Nerviline is the liniment for the home.

Their action upon the kidneys is pronounced and beneficial, and by restoring healthy action, they correct impurities in the blood.

Mrs. George Reid, wife of a prosperous farmer, was found by her son, Asher, dead in bed at their home in Maidstone township, Sunday afternoon. The head and face were terribly smashed, the body lay in a pool of blood, and an axe was nearby. The husband is missing and detectives are working on the case. Reid, it is stated, had been drinking heavy recently.

Lying beside her bed for 36 hours, unable to lift a hand to save herself, Mrs. Mary A. Johnson, aged 72 years, one of Port Huron's oldest, most respected and wealthiest residents died at her home, 723 Union street, as the result of a stroke of apoplexy. Mrs. Johnson's reasons for living alone were always a mystery to her friends. With abundant means to hire servants, she did nearly all her housework. She was the widow of the late William Johnson, a member of the firm of Borly & Johnston, which had a store on Huron avenue. Mrs. Johnson was one of the oldest residents of that city, having come to Port Huron when but a child. Her father was a lieutenant in the Canadian navy and was stationed at Nova Scotia, where she was born.

The evening was spent in games and music. During the evening a dainty lunch was served, after which the following address was read and presentation made.

TO MISS BLANCHE HOLBROOK:—
Dear Miss Holbrook—We are assembled here this evening to express our appreciation of your services as organist in our church. Knowing that you must soon sever your connection with Bethesda on account of leaving to attend the University at Toronto, we felt if this were a fitting opportunity to meet and spend a pleasant evening with you in your home and also express our appreciation of your work in the church. You have ever been faithful in the discharge of your duty and we shall miss you from your accustomed place. On behalf of the congregation of Bethesda we accept this pleasure to ask you to accept this purse as a slight token of our esteem. Wishing you every success in your new work we remain your friends.
Signed on behalf of the congregation of Bethesda,
OLIVE CAPER,
CLIFFORD SISON.

Leslie—McKenzie.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G. McKenzie, Warwick, was the scene of a pleasant event at noon on Tuesday, Sept. 12th, when their daughter, Alice Grant, was united in marriage to Walter Alexander Leslie, Phm. B., of Norwood, Man.

On the lawn, beneath an arch of evergreens and autumn leaves, the ceremony was conducted by the Rev. E. B. Horne, M. A., of Watford. The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in white marquisette over silk, and wore a veil of Brussels net with wreath and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lily of the valley. Her only ornament was a pearl necklace, the gift of the groom. She was attended by her sisters, Miss Abnabel as bridesmaid and Miss Margaret as flower girl. Miss Ella Anderson, of "Meadow Land," played the bridal choros. The groom was assisted by his cousin Mr. Elmer Leslie, of Streetsville. After the marriage, luncheon was served and later Mr. and Mrs. Leslie left amid showers of confetti and asters for a short trip east. The bride's going-away gown was of brown chevot serge with hat to match. After Nov. 1st they will be at home in Norwood, Man. The bride's Warwick friends join in hearty congratulations.

Stewart—Calvert.

At two o'clock Thursday afternoon, Anna Christina, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Calvert, and Geo. Shipley Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stewart, Calgary, were married at Brimhurst, Ketrtridge avenue, Strathroy, the residence of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. M. Kannawin, B. A., pastor of St. Andrew's Church, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. After the ceremony the happy couple drove to Caradoc C.P.R. station, and left for Toronto and Montreal on the honeymoon trip.

Farewell Gathering.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Miller, London, Road on Friday, August 27, when about 30 of their friends and neighbors gathered together to bid them farewell on their departure for the northwest. The evening was spent in social chat and addresses from several of the neighbors, among whom was Mr. Morgan, of Sarnia. Then a suitable address was read by Mr. Boynes, after which Mr. Wm. Beatty presented Mr. and Mrs. Miller with a purse of gold. Mr. and Mrs. Miller thanked the friends and neighbors for the presentation and kindness shown them, hoping the years would not be long before they would renew friendship again. A dainty lunch was served, after which the visitors left for their homes, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Miller health and happiness in their new home in the west. The address was as follows:—
TO MR. AND MRS. J. P. MILLER:—
Dear Friends—As you are about to sever your connection with us as neighbors, we as friends have taken this opportunity of showing our appreciation of you and your good wife. We know that this social hour spent together will not soon be forgotten. We regret the ties that have bound us together as friends and neighbors for these few short years are about to be severed. You have at all times shown yourselves to be true and sincere in your quiet and kindly manner and always ready to give a hand to those in need, and words cannot express how much we will miss your presence here among us. Our earnest wish and prayer is that you may be spared for many years to come. We hope that the day will not be far distant when we will have the pleasure of seeing your face amongst us again, renewing old friendships. We now ask you to accept this purse of gold as a slight token of the regard and esteem in which we have always held you and your good wife. Wishing you a safe and profitable journey we now bid you farewell for the present.
Signed on behalf of friends and neighbors of London road west:—
ROBT. BEATTY, JOHN BOYNES, WM. BEATTY.

New Regulations and Course of Studies.

Copies of the new regulations and courses of study for Public and High Schools have been distributed by the Education Department. An examination of them reveals a number of important changes. Grammar is no longer on the course of study for the Third Classes of our Public Schools, and the course in this subject for Fourth Classes has been considerably simplified.

The course in Geography for all classes in the Public Schools has been radically changed, physical commercial and economic Geography is to receive much greater attention than it has received in the past.

An effort is to be made to adapt the course of study in each school to the needs and the special conditions of the locality. In schools with only one teacher the trustees may substitute for Art and Nature study one or more of the following subjects: Domestic Science, Manual Training, Elementary Agriculture.

Physical Culture is obligatory in all classes of the Public schools, and a manual will shortly be issued by the Education Department for the guidance of the teacher in taking up this subject.

A two years' course of study is outlined for Fifth Classes. On completing the first year's course a pupil may take an examination which will entitle him to a Junior Graduation Diploma, and at the end of the second year's course an examination for a Senior Graduation Diploma. Both these examinations will be conducted by the Education Department and either Diplomas will admit the pupil to a High School.

The character and scope of the Entrance Examination is unchanged, but in future it will be known as the Junior High School Entrance Examination. This examination loses much of its importance from the fact that there are now three other ways of securing admission to a High School, namely: (1) By means of a Junior Graduation Diploma, (2) By means of a Senior Graduation Diploma, and (3) By passing the Senior High School Entrance Examination. The latter examination admits the candidate to the middle school of the High School.

With a view to securing more favorable weather conditions, the foregoing examinations and also the examinations for admission to the Faculties of Education and the Normal Schools are to be completed by the 30th of June.

Any Chump Can Knock.

Don't criticize your neighbors' faults, no matter what they do;
Don't ridicule the masses, or malign the chosen few;
Don't think yourself a censor of the silly humen flock—
And just remember as you go that any chump can knock.
Don't laugh at those that make mistakes, or stumble by the way.
For you are apt to follow them—and almost any day.
Don't think the other's shifting sand while you are solid rock—
And don't forget, for heaven's sake, that any chump can knock.
Don't be a puller-down of fame on other men conferred;
Don't give a parting kick to one who fell because he erred.
Don't think that you are perfect and the only size in stock—
And now, once more, just bear in mind that any chump can knock!

Dr. Hamilton's Pills Cured

"I think it should be the duty of the schools to teach children how to keep well," writes Miss Nannie E. Naydon, a well-known and highly esteemed resident of Bristol. "Ignorance of the laws of health and the use of improper remedies destroyed my vigor, and led me to the verge of invalidism. I was as a girl ruddy and strong. Nothing seemed to affect me until I was about thirty. Then gas began to form in the stomach. I suffered with bloating and a general failure in strength set in. If I went upstairs my breath hurt. My system was very irregular, and until I grew pretty bad I didn't pay much heed to my condition. Then I got blue, worried all the time, wakened in the night, and couldn't get to sleep again. None of the medicine I took helped me. One day I was reading of a very interesting case like mine cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I took the same treatment. It was just right—didn't physic me to death, but took hold of the weak, sick parts of my system, and set things right. It seems as if Dr. Hamilton's Pills have made me young again, and health of former days have returned to stay." "Every girl and woman should use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly. They help a woman in many ways. Beware of the dealer who asks you to take an inferior pill on which his profit is larger than on Dr. Hamilton's. Sold in yellow boxes, 25c per box, all dealers, or The Catarthozone, Co., Kingston, Ont.

MAGISTRATE CURED OF PILES & ECZEMA

One of the latest prominent gentlemen to speak highly in Zam-Buk's favour is Mr. C. E. Sanford of Weston, King's Co., N.S. Mr. Sanford is a Justice of the Peace for the County, and a member of the Board of School Commissioners. He is also Deacon of the Baptist Church in Berwick. Indeed it would be difficult to find a man more widely known and more highly respected. Here is his opinion of Zam-Buk. He says—
"I never used anything that gave me such satisfaction as Zam-Buk. I had a patch of Eczema on my ankle which had been there for over 20 years. Sometimes also the disease would break out on my shoulders. I had applied various ointments, but in vain. Zam-Buk, unlike everything else I had tried, proved highly satisfactory and cured the ailment. I have also used Zam-Buk for itching piles, and it has cured them completely also. I am content in helping my fellow men, and if the publication of my opinion of the healing value of Zam-Buk will lead other sufferers to try it, I should be glad. For the relief of suffering caused by Piles or Skin Diseases I know of nothing to equal Zam-Buk.
Zam-Buk cures ulcers, abscesses, blood-poison, ring-worm, festering or running sores, bad leg, various ulcers, salt rheum, psoriasis, cuts, burns, bruises, baby's sores, etc. Purely herbal, 50c box, druggists and stores. Refuse imitations."

The Weekly Payment Plan.

The weekly payment plan affords wage-earners an easy and sure way of making provision for the time when their earning powers have ceased. For example, if a man at present aged 40 years were to deposit with the Canadian Government $1 a week until he was 65 for the purpose of buying a Canadian Government Annuity, he would receive $261 a year for the remainder of his days. And if he died before he was 65 what he had paid in accumulated at 3% compound interest would be refunded to his heirs. Full particulars concerning the scheme may be had by any one over the age of five years if he or she will apply to the Superintendent of Canadian Government Annuities, Ottawa. State age, last birthday, the age at which Annuity is desired to begin, and the amount which you want to pay each week, and the Superintendent will tell you what amount of Annuity the payments will buy. Write tonight.

FOR CONSTIPATION. A Medicine that Does Not Cost Anything Unless It Cures. The active medicinal ingredients of Rexall Orderlies, which is odorless, tasteless and colorless, is an entirely new discovery. Combined with other extremely valuable ingredients, it forms a perfect bowel regulator, intestinal invigorator and strengthener. Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy and are notable for their agreeableness to the palate and gentleness of action. They do not cause griping or any disagreeable effect or inconvenience. Unlike other preparations for a like purpose, they do not create a habit, but instead they overcome the cause of habit acquired through the use of ordinary laxatives, cathartics and harsh physic, and permanently remove the cause of constipation or irregular bowel action. We will refund your money without argument if they do not do as we say they will! Two sizes, 5c and 10c. Sold only at our store - The Rexall Store. J. W. McLAREN, WATFORD.

An Old Time Fourth. A Story For Independence Day. By ESTHER B. HAWTHORNE. Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

A number of children were playing about the grounds of a country house; a white headed old man was sitting on a porch reading a newspaper. The children were looking forward to the morrow—the anniversary of American Independence. Finally they gathered in a knot, discussing with evident interest some (to them) important problem, casting occasional glances at the old man on the porch. "You ask him, Lucy," said one of the boys to a girl of seven. "He'll do anything for you." "Yes," chimed in the others, "Lucy is the one to do it. She'll get more than any of us." Lucy, thus urged, started for the porch, evidently losing courage as she proceeded, for the nearer she approached the old man the more she seemed disposed to hang back. "What is it, Lucy?" he asked, looking aside at her from the newspaper. "Please, grandpa, won't you give us some money for the Fourth of July?" Grandpa put his hand in his pocket, drew forth several silver coins and gave them to her. She was going away without a word when he asked: "Don't you think I should have a kiss for that?" She went to him, put up her lips, kissed him and ran away to the children. A consultation took place among them as to how they should the next day burn the money they had received, after which one of the older ones suggested that they thank grandpa for the gift. So they moved in a body to the porch, and their spokesman offered the thanks. "You're welcome, children," he replied. "Your sending Lucy to me took me back to when I was a kid and my brothers and sisters sent me on a similar errand to my father." "Did you have as good times on the Fourth then as we have now, grandpa?" asked one of the boys. "I'm inclined to think we had better times. We were not so far then as we are now from that Declaration of Independence which— But sit down and I'll tell you about it." The children gathered round, some sitting in wicker chairs, some on the steps, while Lucy perched herself on the arm of grandpa's rocker. When they were all comfortably settled he continued: "We always had processions in those days, and in our processions we had something that we don't have now—several carriage loads of white headed Catarrhal Deafness Successfully Treated By Catarrhozone. Deafness is not so common as blindness, yet thousands are more or less afflicted by it, and their comfort seriously interfered with. Catarrhal deafness manifests itself but slowly; yet it must be acknowledged that the great majority of those who become totally deaf might have averted this unfortunate condition if they had treated the catarrhal inflammation at its beginning. The only remedy that can be safely employed for all forms of catarrhal deafness is Catarrhozone. You simply charge the air you breathe with this healing, soothing agent, and by forcing it gently through the ears destroy the germ life which keeps up the inflammation, and at the same time by the soothing, healing action it heals the inflamed surfaces of the middle ear. CATARRHOZONE, to those who are just a little deaf, and are growing increasingly deaf, is an agent capable of affording the utmost satisfaction, and its use is attended without danger, and as the treatment can be carried on at home no person threatened with the affliction of deafness should postpone one moment in beginning its use. From every part of the Dominion glowing accounts of the beneficial action it exerts upon catarrhal conditions of the middle ear have been sent in, and you will be resorting to the only method of cure, and the simplest method too, if you try Catarrhozone. Dealers everywhere sell it, 25c, 50c, and $1.00. By mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Ont.

old men who had fought in the war that brought about the independence we are to celebrate tomorrow. I remember just how they looked and with what veneration we regarded them. Next came the veterans of the war of 1812. There were more of them, and they were younger than the Revolutionary soldiers. But today we have not these survivors of the Revolution to keep us in touch with the great struggle which evolved a nation. "We children usually took part in the processions, the boys marching as soldiers, the girls making up groups on floats decorated with flowers. I remember marching myself with a dozen boys, all of us in white shirts and white duck trousers, drawing a little banner. One of the boys marched at our head bearing aloft the stars and stripes. When we were tired we turned out of the line. Our standard bearer, not being notified, went proudly on with the flag till laughter among the spectators caused him to look behind him, when he discovered that he was marching alone. When he rejoined us he was the maddest boy I ever saw. "In that procession we marched behind a hay wagon that had been fitted up for a float. It was covered with white sheets and both with flowers and the wheels decorated with flowers, while the harness was covered with a profusion of red, white and blue rosettes and streamers. In the center on a raised dais stood a girl personating the Goddess of Liberty. The rest of the wagon was covered with little girls from six to twelve or thirteen years old. I was one of two front boys who held the rope attached to our cannon, and I noticed especially one of the girls on the rear of the float. Her golden hair hung over her shoulders, and her eyes were great big blue ones. I straightway picked her out to fall in love with. "Have any of you boys ever been in love?" There was no reply to this, and the speaker continued: "A boy's love, as I remember it, is very funny. He is seized with a desire to 'show off' before the girl to whom he is attracted. When I saw the girl on the float looking at me I walked as if I was stepping on springs, holding my head up in the air as if I thought I was mighty proud of myself. I must have marched an hour behind the float on which the blue eyed girl sat. When we left the procession I looked back at her, but girls of her age are apt to be offish with boys, and she turned her glance away. I supposed she had no use for me." "She didn't make a face at you, did she?" remarked one of the boys. "Oh, no, she didn't do that! But to proceed with my story—of course we were just like boys nowadays—firing our crackers and our cannon, keeping up an incessant din all the afternoon. We couldn't wait till dark to set off our fireworks any more than you boys will be able to wait tomorrow night. When the last piece had been burned and we had eaten a watermelon or some ice cream we went to bed mourning that a whole year must pass before another Fourth of July would come around. "Of course as we grew older our way of spending the day changed. When we reached the youth period we would get together at the country home of some one of our set of young fellows and girls. I remember that when I was eighteen years old I was invited to one of these Fourth of July parties composed of youngsters about my own age. I met there for the first time a girl about sixteen. She was called by a nickname which had been given her by her father when she was a baby. It was Tottie. The moment I looked at her I felt sure that I had seen her somewhere before. But when I saw that she didn't appear to regard me as a former acquaintance I made up my mind that I must have been mistaken. Of course we were now too old, the boys to fire crackers and cannons, the girls to peddle, and we were obliged to find other means of amusement. The place where we were spending the day was partly a country home and partly a farm. Our hosts, who were the sons and daughters of the owner, got out a wagon used for carrying grain, and covering its bed with straw, took us all on the afternoon of Independence day for a long ride. "We sang songs and shouted and laughed loudly at the poorest jokes, just as boys and girls of that age have always done on such occasions and will always do to the end of time. But there was no harm in it, for the Fourth is a day devoted to noise, and we had the open country in which to do our singing and shouting. At every farmhouse we passed urchins who waved little flags at us, and we waved a return with our own flags and handkerchiefs. "Men off here!" cried the driver as we came to a steep ascent, and we jumped from all parts of the wagon like startled frogs from a log. I was

OBITUARY.
At Wyoming, on August 31st, 1911, one of Plympton's oldest and highly respected citizens passed away in the person of Ephraim A. Jones, in his 84th year. Mr. Jones was born on North Street, Westminster Township, October 22, 1827, his parents being U. E. Loyalists of a large family and when a boy assisted his father on the farm. London at that time had only a few buildings. At the age of 21 years he secured a position as stage driver on the London and Sarnia stage route and drove it for a year or two. During that time he met his wife, Evelina Myrick, who still survives him. After their marriage they settled in Plympton township, lot 25, con. 5, where they lived continuously for 55 years, after which they moved to Wyoming, where they have since resided. While on the farm there were born to them five sons and one daughter, of whom three survive, viz: Melvin, Akron, Mich.; Willard B., Regina, Sask.; and Marion, Mrs. J. F. Dickson, of Arkona, Ont. The deceased children are Zenas B., who died in infancy; Leonard, who died in Petrolia, and Ephraim at Kertch. Mr. Jones was widely known and had a great many friends and was always spoken of as an excellent neighbor, always ready and willing to assist and give a helping hand to all who required aid and his home was always open to the weary traveller who required a meal or night's lodging. He owned the first separator in the township of Plympton and was engaged in threshing for a number of years. He was also known as the Bee King. He kept bees for a great many years and was one of the directors of the Bee Keepers' Association. Mr. and Mrs. Jones celebrated their golden wedding on April 17th, 1901, and would have celebrated their diamond Anniversary April last, but owing to Mr. Jones' ill health it was postponed. Mr. Jones was a staunch Liberal and was always in the front ranks of many a hard fought political contest. He was a member of the South Plympton Presbyterian church. The funeral was conducted by Rev. J. W. Ross, of Wyoming, who spoke very highly of the deceased. The funeral took place on Sunday, Sept. 3rd, at South Plympton cemetery, and was followed by a large circle of friends and relatives.
