RETIRING RULE GOES BACK TO COMMITTEE

Education Board, After Hearing More Protests Against Superannuation Refer the Question to Reconsideration of Special Body—Senior High School Principalship is Abolished.

With the gallery crowded and many spectators on the council chamber floor, the board of education had another evening of speech making last night on the cast-iron superannuation age limit rule.

Miss Knowlton for the local council of women, made an impressive address in support of the contention that it was an injustice alike to the teacher and public to retire a competent member of the staff if a woman at 60 or a man at 65, regardless of the special circumstances which might be involved.

Mrs. Robert Glasgow and the 58 societies affiliated in two local councils of women, with 7000 members, were strongly opposed to the arbitrary age rule. This was especially the case with regard to Miss Gray, principal of the Hester Howe School, Elizabeth street. Miss Gray had done a wonderful work among the foreign children there since her appointment a year ago, and no one knew of an efficient successor. The council of women are considered an injustice to retire lady teachers at 60, five years sooner than men.

Miss Zeinfelot of the Central Neighborhood Home, said: "We, as citizens of the ward, protest against a change." Miss Gray should be retained for at least another five years. (Laughter and applause.)

A. R. Williams and J. S. Dean also spoke against enforced superannuation. A letter was read from Principal Falconer against a fixed age for the retirement of teachers.

The superannuation question was referred for reconsideration to the special superannuation committee.

The question of appointing a successor to Dr. Embree was referred back to the management committee.

The position of senior principal of high schools was abolished. In future the principals will act as seniors for a school term each in rotation, according to seniority.

MOOSE SEEN IN STREETS OF SAULT STE. MARIE

Residents Watched Its Movements and Its Swimming of River Unmolested.

Special to The Toronto World.
SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., May 21.—A most unusual sight was witnessed at an early hour this morning by a few residents of this city, when a full grown cow moose evidently forced out of the woods by bush fires, was seen strolling thru the streets, making its way to the river. After swimming across the St. Mary's River it travelled thru the streets of the Michigan side, going upwards past the locks, where it took to the water again, returning to the Canadian side. The animal then sought refuge again in the woods, a short distance away.

MURDERER RUTTAN VENTED SPITE BY BURNING BARN OF NEIGHBORS POSSE, HEAVILY ARMED, ON ALERT

Inspector Greer, With 12 Men, Lay in Wait Last Night in Expectation That "Black Bill" Would Repeat Incendiary Acts—Ruttan Told Wife He Would Not Be Taken Alive.

By a Staff Reporter.
GRAY'S EXTERMINATOR, Ont., May 21.—Black Bill Ruttan, who on Wednesday shot Mrs. Alfred Coutherman and killed his daughter and George Coutherman, and then attempted the life of his son-in-law, 14 miles east of here, is still at large in the Muskoka wilds. The murderer continued his vengeful tactics last night by firing the barn and outhouses of three of his neighbors with whom he was on bad terms.

Henry Cook, one of the pioneers of Muskoka, lay in wait on Ruttan's house until 2 o'clock in the morning, and then returned to his home, three hundred yards distant. Scarcely had Cook dozed than the flames of his new barn shot skyward, and, despite the efforts of a dozen helpers, the structure was shortly reduced to ashes. Three of his best horses and one cow were burned to death, bringing Cook's total loss of $2000, of which insurance covered only $400.

Others Lost Heavily.
Half an hour after the firing of Cook's barn, F. J. Brazeo's barn and storehouse at Housey's Rapids were

Want Free Service on Provincial Radials

Local 1799, Carpenters, asked the Trades Council last night to adopt the following resolution: "That the Ontario Government enact that all merchandise, goods and passengers be carried free on radial railways throughout the Province of Ontario which are subsidized by the provincial government. Cost of operation to be met by a tax on all incomes of $1000 and over."
This drastic socialist scheme was referred to the legislative committee for a report.

REPRESENTATIVE OF CARRANZA NOW IN MONTREAL IS LIKELY TO ATTEND PEACE CONFERENCE

Jose Vasconcel, in Canada on Financial Mission, Understood to Be Man Chosen—Constitutionalists Will Not Be Committed to Plan for Pacifying Mexico.

Canadian Press Despatch.
WASHINGTON, May 21.—The constitutionalists are preparing to send a representative of Niagara Falls to confer with the South American mediators, who are endeavoring to settle the Mexican problem. This will be done with the distinct understanding that the representative is to give information as to Carranza's purposes without committing the constitutionalists to any plan for the pacification of Mexico that the mediators may determine upon.

Jose Vasconcel, now at Montreal on a financial mission for Gen. Carranza, is understood to be the man chosen to go to Niagara Falls. It was said tonight by men in close touch with the constitutionalists that he would arrive there within the next few days.

ESCAPED FROM COURT BUT WAS BROUGHT BACK

Ten Year Old Lad Went to Peterboro and Spent Two Weeks There.

The freedom gained by Joseph Liborwich, aged 10, of 14 Block avenue, when he escaped from the juvenile court two weeks ago was brought to an end when he was brought in from Peterboro last night. He and another boy had been charged with stealing newspapers from doorways, but when his turn came to face the charge he had disappeared from the court.
After making his escape he made his way to the Union Station and managed to get aboard a train for Peterboro. He told the conductor that his father lived there and the train official let him off at that place. For two weeks he lived a gay, free, open life in the vicinity of the town, but finally came under the eye of the authorities and was placed on board the train for Toronto by the sheriff of Peterboro.

NIAGARA FALLS, May 21.—Immediately after the receipt of press despatches from Washington, telling of the intention of the constitutionalists to send a representative here, the three mediators went into informal conference shortly before midnight to discuss the new development.

GOVERNMENT TO OWN RAILWAYS

Mellen, Former President of New Haven, Says Monopoly Must Be Made Absolute.

Canadian Press Despatch.
WASHINGTON, May 21.—An absolute monopoly of transportation, under government regulation and control, was suggested by Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New Haven Railroad, to the Interstate Commerce Commission today as the solution of the American railroad problem. "To get efficiency and economy," declared Mr. Mellen, "there must be a monopoly, and that monopoly is certain to be the United States Government."

A little later he remarked, "Every time a railroad official comes to Washington he has to take off his hat to some government official."

CANADA'S DESIRE FOR PEACE IMPRESSED UPON MEDIATORS

Hon. Mr. Burrell Expressed Earnest Hope That Wise Counsel and Mutual Sympathy Would Solve Problem Over Which Whole World is Deeply Concerned.

By a Staff Reporter.
NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 21.—The banquet tendered the peace mediators and representatives by the federal government of Canada at the Chateau House late this evening resolved itself into a pleasant little love feast during which conversation on non-contentious topics flowed smoothly and enterprisingly at all times.

On behalf of Canada, Hon. Martin Burrell extended the regrets of H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught, Rr. Hon. R. L. Borden, Sir John Gibson and Sir James Whitney at their unavoidable absence. The united hopes conveyed were that the outcome of the conference would be to drive the war clouds forever from American shores.

The minister referred to the hundred years of peace between the two English-speaking peoples on the continent and to the occasion, a century ago, when a similar peace conference had been held in Niagara. The two long steel bridges across the river he spoke of as representing the links of friendship, admiration and respect which bound the two countries together. By a happy augury Niagara had been chosen as the scene of a peace seeking assembly. The world was coming to recognize this location where the forces of nature were apparently at war as the most promising place to bind up in friendship the elemental forces of nations.

Reign of Sword Passing.

The spirit which prompted the offer of mediation and its acceptance was reflective of the increasing desire of all civilized people to refer the settlement of international troubles to the calm and reasoned decision of national intelligence rather than to the dread arbitrament of the sword.

"It is neither our duty nor our desire to touch on these grave complications which have led to your assembling," declared Mr. Burrell. "But it is both a duty and a high privilege to express our earnest hope that from wise counsel and mutual sympathy there will come a solution which will not only make for an honorable settlement of this dispute, but strengthen the cause of liberty and peace throughout this vast continent."

BROTHERS ARE SENT TO TRIAL

Peter and Andrew Moreau Committed in Connection With Murder of Honey Harbor Grocer.

By a Staff Reporter.
HONEY HARBOR, May 21.—Peter and Andrew Moreau were today committed for trial on the charge of murdering Robert Hayde, a Honey Harbor grocer, in March.

Evidence was produced to show that Peter Moreau was seen and recognized in the neighborhood where the crime was committed and also that he was known to have been spending money freely about that time, most of his money being in one-dollar bills.

Annie Boneau, a little girl who worked for the family at the time of the murder and before the body was found, said that some days after the disappearance of Hayde Peter Moreau came home and said, "Well, I have stepped on the head of the old man."

Thomas Johnston acted as crown attorney, while the prisoners were defended by Edwin F. McDonald of Toronto.

WIOLENT TACTICS TO PRECIPITATE AN ELECTION

Demonstration by Unionist "Die Hards" in Commons Yesterday Not Approved by Large Section of Party—Rioting in Belfast Expected Next Week.

Special to The Toronto World.
NEW YORK, May 21.—A special London cable to The New York World says:

The tumultuous scene in the house of commons this evening was carefully planned by the Unionists. It is to be continued Monday unless cooler counsels prevail. At present the Unionist party is being run by an extreme section, hoping to wreck the parliamentary machine as the means of precipitating a general election. When the Unionists trooped out of the house today, after the Speaker was unable to restore order and suspended the session, they shouted to the Liberals: "Get ready your election addresses," revealing the true motive of their conduct. The Liberals believe, however, that a couple of sessions of organized disorder will produce a split in the Unionist party, of which a large influential section disapproves these violent tactics.

Expect Belfast Riots.

If Premier Asquith had acceded to the Unionist demand and explained the provisions of the amending bill to be introduced in the house of lords, the Unionists would have rioted all the same. That bill will not satisfy them, because it merely embodies a scheme of county plebiscite for Ulster, which Asquith already has offered and Carson rejected. It is considered highly probable when the home rule bill passes the commons for the third and last time, on Tuesday, rioting will follow in Belfast. It is significant that Carson's wedding to 15-year-old Ruby Frewen, set for the end of next week, has been postponed till the end of July.

May Resort to Closure.

LONDON, May 21.—Tomorrow is private members day, so that the home rule debate will not be resumed until Monday, and the general opinion in the lobby tonight was that the interval would give opportunity for passions to subside and calmer counsels to prevail, especially as it is known that Arthur J. Balfour and the older members of the party disapprove of today's scene.

Should the disorderly tactics be repeated, however, it is believed that the premier will move closure, and the third reading division will be taken forthwith.

CONSIDERED FIRST TAMPICO CLASH

U. S. Will Demand Reparation for Arrest of Bluejackets and Later Happenings.

Canadian Press Despatch.
NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 21.—The mediators learned from the American delegates in an hour's conference late today that the Washington government had approved the course of procedure outlined last night by Justice Lamar and Frederick W. Lehman, covering, it is understood, the consideration, first of all, of the series of incidents growing out of the arrest at Tampico of American blue jackets.

While it is realized that the United States will demand reparation for the Tampico and subsequent incidents, it is believed here that the substitution for the terms of a new government of able of observing international obligations, would be acceptable to the Washington government.

KINGSTON, May 21.—Sir William Mackenzie said in an interview in this city today, that the Canadian Northern Railway, despite what has been said to the contrary, would continue to place orders with the Kingston Locomotive Works. He said that he entertained no resentment or petty anger against this city and that all the trouble in connection with the railway company, had been caused by shortness of money. He also said that the company would be running its trains in and out of Kingston in the near future.

BURNED BARN OF NEIGHBORS

Greer, at Head of Posse, Lay in Wait Last Night.

fired in two places. These also were burned to the ground. Brace kept a general store at the Rapids and had a large quantity of merchandise when his storehouse was destroyed. His loss will be $1500.

Thomas Fletcher's barn at Housey's Rapids was fired almost at the same time. Fletcher's loss, including one horse, is about $1000.

Still in Neighborhood.
Provincial Detective Greer arrived on the scene on the morning train and with County Constable Cook at Cook's farm made a thorough search of the murderer's barn and house, with one man on guard outside, the other two searched every nook and corner of the house. In the barn the detective turned over all the hay with a pitchfork, as the suspect last stated was being underneath.

The searchers believe the murderer is still in the immediate vicinity of his hideout. It is interesting to note the northern bush, they reason, he would have done so immediately after the shooting.

Printed at Suicide.
His wife admitted yesterday that her husband had his dinner at home on the day of the shooting. She said he walked in at dinner time, but only ate a very little and appeared restless and worried. He said they would not get into bed until after midnight, then picked up his hat and went out and then the three children were sleeping.

According to her, which is very sorry for his action and that he was dressed with grief over the arrest of his two sons a year ago. She said she had no idea where her husband was going, and stated that if she knew she would tell the detectives, which she is ready to do. Her daughter and her present trouble was extended, she broke into tears again, but brightened up considerably when it was suggested that her husband had a chance of escaping the full penalty of his crime of premeditated murder.

Up the hill, about the surrounding woods had not been searched, nor had any armed posse been sworn in at any time as has at first been reported. Owing to some hitch in the arrival of a warrant, according to Chief Constable Smith, these men were not sent to the house until the afternoon of the 21st.

Today, however, Inspector Greer arrived with the warrant, and after going through over the scene of the murder, swore in a dozen armed men who commenced a search of the bush about 7 o'clock at night. It is thought that he will continue his necessary tactics and by lying in wait tonight they hope to catch him.

Disapproved Marriage.
The true story of the cause of the murder is that Alfred Couermeanche had married Rutan's 18-year-old daughter a month ago against Rutan's wishes. "Black Bill," a week ago, when Alfred Couermeanche came to him and threatened to lay a serious charge against him, unless he gave him a deed of his farm, Rutan threw him out of his house. He is said to have told the son-in-law that he would not turn his wife and family out to starve for any person. Two days later Couermeanche swore out a warrant against Rutan and after that "Black Bill" was a mad man.

Barricaded Kitchen.
George Couermeanche and his wife were cleaning fish within one yard of the front door of their little house when Rutan fired the first shot. It struck him in the heart and he died instantly. His wife ran screaming into the house to Alfred Couermeanche and his wife and the three barred the kitchen door against Rutan. His third shot thru the door killed his own daughter and Alfred and Mrs. Couermeanche jumped thru the back window to safety. The woman ran for a woodpile directly behind the house and received a shot thru the leg in her flight. Alfred, who turned and ran to the bush, was missed twice.

A Relentless Search.
County Crown Attorney Johnston, interviewed on his way back from the murder trial at Honey Harbor, said that he would take no further hand in the proceedings until the capture of Rutan.

The funeral of Mrs. Alfred and Geo. Couermeanche will take place today from J. Tryon's residence, where the inquest was held, to Barkway Cemetery. If Rutan is not caught tonight Inspector Greer stated that the search will go on relentlessly till either Rutan is captured or shot down, or his dead body is found.

GREAT INCREASE IN FARMING AREA

Aggregate Acreages of Nine Canadian Provinces Larger by Half.

By a Staff Reporter.
OTTAWA, May 21.—The total land area of the nine provinces of Canada, says the Census and Statistics Monthly, has increased from 886,532,000 acres in 1901 to 1,401,816,418 acres in 1911, the increase being due to the extension of the boundaries of Quebec, Ontario and Manitoba, less a decrease in British Columbia arising chiefly out of the Alaskan boundary award of 1903. The area of farm land occupied has grown from 78,426,586 acres in 1901, to 108,777,085 acres in 1911, and has changed the proportion of the land occupied from 7.95 to 7.18 per cent of the total area. It is estimated that within the boundaries of the nine provinces an area of 440,951,000 acres is of value for agriculture. This is only 31 per cent of the total area, and the estimation takes no account of the forest and swamp lands, which may ultimately be tilled, nor of the northern areas which are unexplored and unsurveyed.

propos of "Modern Dancing"—The Volume Now Being Distributed by This Paper.

In dancing, as in poetry, there must be rhythm, music, measure. As poetry is the language of the heart and senses, so is dancing the language of the body; it is, as in social dancing, the exponent par excellence of the joy of living. It is the natural and contagious outlet for a hilarious and youthful spirit.

TORONTO FROM THE SKY PICTURED FOR THE FIRST TIME RIGHT in line with THE SUNDAY WORLD idea of reproducing the most graphic and interesting photos to be obtained is the series of seven unusual pictures in next Sunday's paper. These pictures would be really remarkable even if they were not the first made of the roof of the city. But The Sunday World has accomplished something that very few newspapers in the world have accomplished—the taking of pictures from an airship. Every photo is clear, in some the buildings are as distinct as if the photographer had carefully set up a camera and painstakingly photographed the objects. Sunday World staff men snapped those unique pictures from an aerial yacht speeding sixty miles an hour 500 to 3300 feet over the city.

MOTION PICTURE STORIES

Nina of the Theatre

The first of the Kalem Alice Joyce Series.

Continued From Yesterday. Dr. Brent, the house surgeon, had become aware of Nina's devotion to Paul, but the girl's superb offer filled him with amazement.

Paul was kept in ignorance of the price Nina was about to pay for the trip to the mountains which was to give him back his strength. He was puzzled when Nina called to see him just prior to her operation, and why she wept as she left him.

Nina entered Dr. Brent's office on the all-important day. A cheque for $1,000 was handed to the brave girl, and she immediately placed it in the disposal of her sweetheart.

During the period which followed the operation, Paul returned from the country, his health completely restored. His first act was to come to the hospital. With grave face, Dr. Brent informed him that the operation had left Nina disfigured for life.

Paul's heart was ached with the knowledge that it was not Nina's beauty alone that he worshipped. Even so he spoke, a Danish inspiration dawned upon Brent's mind.

Nina caught the look in her lover's eyes, and his step backward when he had seen her face. With a heart-rending sob, the girl dropped her face into the pillow and wept bitterly.

Paul shrank back when Brent handed her a mirror with the suggestion that she gaze into it. Remembering Paul's start of horror, she feared lest a horribly mutilated countenance confront her.

WHAT are pralines? Ah, you never "lived south" or you would know, but in that case you would be asking about maple sugar, for that is a northern dainty for sure.

Maple frosting is always a well liked filling on any white cake. Nuts are usually added but they are not needed. Crush a half a pound of maple sugar and put it in a sauce pan with one cup of granulated sugar and a cup of cream.

Maple hard sauce is used upon puddings or any sort of cake. Boil thick maple syrup until it is reduced one-half. Do not stir or shake it while boiling.

Proceeding the conferring of awards Sir John Gibson spoke of his interest in hospitals generally, and expressed the opinion that it is the duty of men in office such as he to use the honor of holding, to express their approval and approbation of the work done by men and women in such institutions.

Dr. Clouse spoke eloquently of the efficiency and fine service of Miss Bell, one of the most generous benefactors of the hospital.

Rival Chiffons in Favor

By MADGE MARVEL

SOME of the best shops are showing new and attractive foulards, which prove that in spite of all the new and gorgeous silks and crepes and chiffons and other materials that have caused us fairly to live in a succession of gasps at their sheer loveliness, the time-honored and respected silk has not finished its term of usefulness.

I know this will be glad news to many women to whom there is no fabric which quite takes the place of this soft and unassuming silk. The newest patterns are inclined to be small and cover the ground closely. One smart brown silk has tiny nosegays of yellow and blue thickly sprinkled over it. A dark blue ground is patterned in single yellow roses with green leaves. One of the new lighter and brighter blues has pale violet and rose figures.

Dark green silk is strewn with pale yellow. A white background throws into relief tiny red rosebuds and still little dark green leaves. This could be used with good effect over a white silk or crepe skirt for the Dolly Varden style of drapery.

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

Dear Annie Laurie: I am from the country and visiting a wealthy aunt in the city. Everything is so strange, especially so many pieces of silverware at the table. When I am invited out in the presence of young men I become embarrassed. Please advise me what to do. I am 18. LUCILE

Now, Lucile, don't you fret about the spoons and the forks and the teapoon and the soup spoon and the ice cream ladies and the salad fork and all the rest of the fancy silver which is used on some tables. Look at your aunt and see what spoon she takes first; watch your cousin and observe which fork he takes for fish and which for birds. Then follow suit. If you should make a mistake the heavens won't fall, and neither will the dining room floor open and swallow you up.

Irene Fenwick, of the "Along Came Ruth" Company.

"Women Should Share Husbands' Secrets," Says Actress

By ELEANOR AMES

HOW much do you know about your husband's business? That is the question which Irene Fenwick would see working in every wife's brain. For, in her opinion, it is the wife's duty to know the essential details of her husband's business life. Otherwise she is working in the dark and is apt to make a fatal financial blunder at a critical time.

"I believe every wife should be admitted to the business secrets of the partnership in which she enjoys a profit," said Miss Fenwick to me. "I think it is the duty as well as the right of every wife to know how the money which she spends is earned. When women are kept in the dark regarding their husband's affairs they are done an injustice instead of a kindness. When they are purposely uninformed about the manner in which the money is earned which they spend carelessly, they are shirking responsibility. That is where the wife of the laboring man has the advantage of her sister who is better off in a financial sense.

When the Cherries Are Ripe at Home

By Winifred Black

CHERRIES are ripe in California. To be sure, they are $25 a box, and not such a brightly big box at that, but they're ripe—and the first box was sold before it had been in the market quite five minutes.

And, whisper, sisters—it was a woman who raised those cherries. So much of the fruit in California is raised and picked and marketed by the women that it makes you feel like selling out your interest in the type-writing business and going out there and being a fruit raiser.

Do you remember when cherries used to get ripe where you lived—when you really lived and it made a difference to you whether things were right at home or not?

I do. There were lots and lots of cherry trees in the place where I lived when I wore my hair shingled and striped stockings.

There was one particular tree where the cherries always ripened first. It was an Early Richmond. My mother was a gentle woman of shy and modest ways. She didn't know what it was to brag—but, little as I was, I used to notice that my mother always had occasion to say something about the cherry pie we had for dinner when the cherries came off that particular tree and were the first ones ripe in town.

It was a little, old, spreading tree, this particular one, and there was a knothole in the trunk, and every spring the bluebirds built their nest in that knothole. We children would have it that it was the same pair of birds every year, and we called them Mr. and Mrs. Bluebell and watched for their coming as if they were old and valued friends.

And, oh, the white, white blossoms on that tree; and, oh, the sweet, sweet fragrance of them; and when the wind blew and the sun shone, oh, the dancing shadows on the spring grass.

I used to sit under that tree for hours at a time and think I was thinking—and I was only being happy, just as happy as the brown puppy who rolled over and over in the grass beside me.

Once when I sat all night in a dismantled city and saw the smoke rise from the dreadful fires where they were burning the dead, to avoid the pestilence, I shut my eyes and saw the old cherry tree, all a-blossom, and watched the shadow of the boughs playing lid and seek on the green grass beneath. In the morning when it was time to go to work in the awful place of desolation, the people help you pick and eat them.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

How Your Blood Pressure Shows Need of New Habits

By Dr. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins).

DO you know how a pump works? Does it pull or push the water? Physiologists now teach that there is no such thing as "pull," despite the convictions in the minds of many.

When a lot of wood, an iron safe, a railroad car, or anything else, is ostensibly "pulled," actually it is pushed by the rope, coupling, chain or what not which passes to the back of the thing "pulled."

Even the excellence of muscular strength in all its tyranny comes from the pushing power or pumping power, which is the same thing, of the heart and arteries.

A hydraulic pump yields water from the push of the air behind the water, which sends it into the vacated space. Streams of water push and pursue the track of sinuous or straight paths. They may be rapid or they may be slow, soft murmuring brooks or roaring cascades, yet they push themselves forward.

The scarlet flood of your animal texture is pushed forward through the elastic channels of artery and tissue in the same way. Most of the push is due to the inherent irritability of the muscles of the heart and the elastic tissues of the arteries.

This is a simple enough matter today, yet when Harvey, the English doctor who discovered this in 1616, was black-balled by medical societies and called a quack, the very fact that he had a large number of followers, and had Sir Francis Bacon, the lord chancellor, as a patient, made his announcement of the discovery of the circulation of the blood all the more obnoxious to the medical organizations.

The drop of blood which leaves your heart at any moment returns to it three times in an hour and four seconds. Between 22 and 23 minutes the blood makes a whole round-trip with stop-over privileges through the body. Aeroplanes now rise to heights of 12,000 and 15,000 feet high. The push pressure from your own heart in a day's work will lift your body one-third as high.

To measure the push or pressure of your blood nowadays there are several different kinds of instruments. Most of these measure the push of the pulse, the "open" or "closed" pressure of the heart and the squeeze or full force of the heart beat at its maximum. This last is called the "systole" pressure.

Your heart, you may recall, is a double-chambered, two-story, muscular cavity. The left chamber of the lower story squeezes the fresh blood into the whole body, except the lungs. The first floor back—the right chamber—sends the waste and used blood back to the lungs for retrenchments and reinforcements.

In healthful middle life, your "full force" blood pressure may average somewhere around 120—this means that a thin tube of mercury rises this much in millimeters, much as a thermometer rises when heated—or rises for women and more for those above 45.

The raised pressure, or the "diastolic" minimum, is that force of the blood, when the arteries are collapsed, and the pulse pressure is the difference between the two.

Muscular exertion, excessive exercise, food, habits, the time of day, sleeplessness, and ill health all raise or lower the blood pressure. The "pulse pressure" should never be above 35 or below 20 without arousing suspicion.

The difference between the two pulse pressures is the difference between the two.

Avoid hot drinks, coffee, soups, gravies, seasoned diet and sweets. You should not drink little, but certainly you are not discreet in your eating. When you eat cheese-cottage cheese—milk with lime water in it, loss, swiweak, simple cereals, stewed fruits in moderation, carrots, cresses and cold tender meats with careful exercise will help you. Plenty of charcoal also.

No. 81

Fanatical Housekeeping.

OUR quarrel merely served to exaggerate Mary's notions of housewifely duty, which is incidentally, a very different thing from wifely duty. Housewifely duty is, of course, to see that the house is dustless and immaculate at any moment, disregarding one's husband entirely. Wifely duty is seeing that one's husband is quite comfortable at any expense, if the house does suffer to the extent of a crushed cushion or so and some slight suggestion of tobacco ashes where they ought not to be.

I've developed a positive and contrary passion for disorder lately. I want to leave things about; I want to strew papers on the dining room table; I long immensely to upstage the cushion; and I have the wildest desire to scoff at every decent principle of neatness. And I was the very neatest of boys! It's chiefly, I think, because I detest sudden and persistent manias of any sort, and Mary's new penchant for neatness at any cost is nothing short of absolute and uncontrollable mania. Our quarrels have had one startling result.

Last night I spilled considerable ashes on a little mahogany table, and instantly I glanced at Mary with a feeling of intense guilt, for all I was prepared to be antagonistic and even argumentative if she said anything. She didn't. She merely stared straight ahead. I was pretty sure she had furtively witnessed my ash catastrophe, so I spoke. "I'm sorry, dear," I conceded. "What for?" inquired Mary elaborately. "Why?" I finished lamely. "I did spill ashes again." Here my paper fluttered to the floor and lay sprawling there in tantalizing disorder. I hurriedly gathered it up.

"It's all right, Peter," exclaimed Mary with the air of a martyr. "Leave it there by all means. I don't mind in the least."

I stared.

"Of course you mind," I stammered. "You hate things lying around in disorder—you say so."

"I know," said Mary. "But we've taken it up in our Domestic Club, and now I know just what to do—"

"Taken what up in the Domestic Club?" I demanded.

"The way you leave ashes and papers around," said Mary.

"Great heavens!" I burst forth. "do you women actually dangle your husbands' petty faults before a club court of inquiry?"

"I don't see anything so very terrible in that," defended Mary. "All men have some conspicuous faults at home, and we're merely making a study of how to remedy those faults—use the good of everybody. It's really a very good idea."

Imagine a crowd of men meeting to discuss the faults of their wives and how to modify them.

"Mary," I exclaimed heatedly, "positively will not have you getting up in your fool club and stating that I leave clear ashes around. It's the most posterior thing I ever heard of. If it should ever get out to any of my men friends I'd be the laughing stock of the town."

Mary's eyes flashed indignantly. "Well, I don't see why," she exclaimed. "Just when we've figured out the way you'd be most comfortable, Mrs. Wayne said just let you do as you please and never let you see how bothersome it is even if I feel like screaming—the ashes and papers, I mean. Then when you get out of the house it's very simple to straighten things out, the house will be perfectly neat, and you won't be uncomfortable. I— I thought it was an awfully good idea, and I don't see why you want to quarrel with me."

I said nothing. I see my way with terrible clearness. In order that I may not be hated up before the Domestic Club again, I shall have to walk a chalk line, never depart from the precept of neatness, never forget a cigar or a paper, never crush a cushion! I must do all this for my self-respect. Mary and I have quarrelled more over this small housekeeping of hers than I imagined possible.

Put that New Home in KINGSDALE. The Model Suburban Centre of NORTH YONGE STREET. For years retarded by the abominable railroad service, inferior roads and lack of public utilities, today we find the mayor, controllers and council unanimous in their declaration for immense developments for North Yonge St. The East may be good, the West, too, but the North is the logical residential district of the future. Many fortunes have been made in North Toronto realty. The development is now surging ahead. Builders are active—the march of progress is on. North Toronto comes into its own. Kingsdale adjoins the city boundaries. Knocking at the doors of Toronto is a community unequalled in suburban beauty and unequalled in its record of past accomplishments. Beautiful homes are being built; churches and schools have secured locations. Steady growth and increase in population will now be evidenced. Kingsdale is the place where you will eventually desire to live. Buy Now While Prices Are Low and Terms Easy. GRACEFUL AND CORRECT DANCING IS TAUGHT ONLY IN "MODERN DANCING" BY VERNON AND IRENE CASTLE. A MARVELOUS DANCE INSTRUCTION BOOK NOW OFFERED TO ITS READERS BY The Toronto World. The Latest and Newest One-Step. Up to the present moment by far the most popular of all dances is the One Step. There are many reasons for its popularity, the chief being that it can be learned in a very little time by anyone, old or young, who is able to walk in time to music—and, in fact, by many who cannot. Another reason is because the music is rag-time. The waltz is beautiful, the Tango is graceful, the Brazilian Maxixe is unique. One can sit quietly and listen with pleasure to them all; but when a good orchestra plays a "rag" one has simply GOT to move! The One Step is the dance for rag-time music. THE ONLY CORRECT WAY TO DANCE THE ONE-STEP IS IN The Castle Book. The Refined Way Is Just as Easy as The Other Way WHEN YOU LEARN. MAKE NO MISTAKE! CLIP THE FAMOUS "CASTLE COUPON" IN TODAY'S PAPER.

VATERLAND BROKE FROM TOWING TUGS

Navigation Held Up in New York Harbor for a Time.

TIDE WAS TOO STRONG

Four Attempts Made to Dock Her—Floated With Stream a Mile.

Canadian Press Despatch.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Navigation in the North River, between New York and Hoboken, stood still today while the Vaterland, the biggest ship afloat, defied all efforts to dock her and swept broadside down the stream for more than a mile.

When the liner arrived at her pier after her maiden voyage her great length and a strong ebb tide proved too strong a combination for the fleet of willing little tugs that urged her toward her berth. For more than two hours the tugs pulled and hauled at the gigantic liner without success. At the end of that time she lay heading up the river against the heads of three piers, while the tugs, clustering like dolphins about a whale, laid their noses against her stern and started to swing it out into the river, so that the steamer could slide bow first into her slip.

Three Attempts to Dock.

The Vaterland had made three attempts to dock before this. Once she was almost ready to tie up, when the tide gripped her and dragged her out of the slip. Ferryboats and small craft scurried to safety as the leviathan floated broadside down the river with twenty tugs circling frantically around. She floated a mile before the tugs got her straightened out, and then she returned under her own steam. Two more trials failed, but by this time the fleet of tugs had been reinforced and they caught the liner and headed her back before she had gone far down the river.

Three thousand persons aboard, impatient to land, watched the manoeuvres without showing any alarm, although there were moments when the steamer narrowly missed crumpling the end of the pier. A crowd gathered on the Hamburg-American line's Hoboken pier, while thousands watched the struggle from the sky-scrapers facing the river.

The fourth attempt to dock the ship proved successful. Hawseers had been attached to the bow and donkey engines ashore pulled while the tugs pushed against her stern. The great ship was swung in her berth at 11:10 p. m., three and a half hours after she came abreast of her pier.

The superliner S.S. Vaterland of the Hamburg-American Line is the largest steamer in the world. While closely resembling her former sister ship, the Imperator, in construction and equipment, the Vaterland is of greater dimension and presents many original features. The Vaterland measures 950 feet in length, 100 feet in beam, and has a tonnage of 56,000. In her trial trip the Vaterland developed a speed of 24.3 knots per hour.

Safety Construction.

The Vaterland is built of the best Siemens-Martin steel and conforms to the latest rulings of the German, English and American laws governing ship building. She is constructed with a double skin extending well above the waterline. Her hull is divided by steel bulkheads, both longitudinal and transverse, of exceptional strength.

The hull contains five steel decks, which, with four superimposed, gives her nine decks above the waterline. The Vaterland is equipped with Frhm anti-rolling tanks, which, with her natural stability, render her one of the steadiest boats afloat.

Manned by Big Crew.

The Vaterland is manned by a crew of 1234 men. She is commanded by a commodore, four captains and seven officers. The boilers are operated by 12 chief firemen, 35 others, 187 stokers and 139 trimmers.

Big Bath Equipment.

A new attraction is lent to ocean travel by the luxurious baths, enjoyed in such variety on the Vaterland, which rival those of a great spa or bathing resort. The swimming Roman bath, which has proven so popular on the Imperator, has its counterpart on the Vaterland.

Every conceivable precaution has been taken in the construction and equipment of the Vaterland to assure safety. The Vaterland carries life belts for every passenger and members of the crew, with many life buoys and illuminated night buoys. Her lifeboat equipment includes 83 lifeboats, which carry special wireless apparatus.

The wireless telegraph equipment of the Vaterland is the most powerful ever installed on shipboard.

SAVED YOUNG BOY FROM BEING DROWNED

Inspector P. Legge of the city sewer department, assisted by Sidney Brown, foreman for Jennings & Ross, yesterday afternoon effected the rescue of a six-year-old boy who had fallen into ten feet of mud and slimy water in Small's pond, East Toronto. The little fellow had been fishing in the pond from the top of a concrete sewer, and in some way lost his balance and fell in. Tho he escaped with nothing more serious than a wet suit, The World was told that but for Mr. Legge's plucky action the boy would have met his death.

C. P. R. WILL BENEFIT.

MONTREAL, May 21.—J. S. Dennis, assistant president, C. P. R., also conceding a genuine oil strike at Calgary, says he hopes people will not lose their heads and indulge in the usual land boom. There were 2000 feet of high grade oil in the 10-inch hole at the last measure. "The railway will benefit not only in traffic receipts, but also in royalties," he said.

GLEBE MANOR

THE MAGNET THAT ATTRACTS THE BUILDER AND THE INVESTOR TO-DAY WHY?

Because Glebe Manor is selling at less than half the price of other and Yonge than Glebe Manor, centre of the city. For instance, High Park district is a mile and a half further away from Bloor and Yonge than Glebe Manor, and it is hard to find building land out there for less than $100 per foot, while Glebe Manor is selling at

$32.00 per Foot Up

Builders and Investors Have Bought Over 80,000 Dollars' Worth During This Month

This is surely convincing proof that Glebe Manor is of exceptional value. The buyers satisfied themselves that no land in the city was as good or as cheap as Glebe Manor. Already about thirty houses are erected, and a number of others will be started within the next few weeks. Glebe Manor has all improvements; deep lots, wide streets, broad sidewalks, etc., etc. Our automobiles are at your service. See Glebe Manor on Saturday or on Monday, the holiday. You will find the builders and the investors who have already bought were wise in their choice.

PEACE CONFERENCE NOT ALL HARMONY

American Delegates' Tactics in Remaining on U.S. Soil Resented.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 21.—There are two things which, the small in themselves, have already threatened to cause some friction to the foreign delegates at the Mexican-American peace conference. The first of these is that the two American representatives, Lehmann and Lamar, have chosen to remain on American soil. This action, which has come as a total surprise to the delegates here, is in danger of being unappreciated by the Mexican envoys. The fact that the original arrangement provided for a meeting on neutral ground and that the American representatives are the first to depart from it, is regarded in general as an instance of poor taste, if not of questionable policy. The suggestion has already been made that a piece of assembly might as well have been chosen in the far south, and the long journey consequently avoided. There is a possibility that the American envoys may yet shift their quarters to the Canadian side as in case of international negotiation, such apparently trivial matters are frequently magnified into intentional insult. Delegates Pay Tolls. The second thorn in the flesh of the visitors is the toll rate levied by the International Railway Company. As a matter of fact, delegates cannot cross the bridge even on official business without the railway demanding its dime for every passenger. As the guests at the Clifton House, including newspaper representatives, are subjected daily to this expense, the harvest of the railway corporation may be easily guessed. As one New York man put it: "if the conference lasts for three weeks they will have paid in tolls more than their total railway passage cost." These matters are understood to be gaining the consideration of official authorities and something may be done to alleviate the conditions.

GIRL GUIDES TO HOLD A UNITED SERVICE

This is the first occasion in which all the corps of girl guides have held a service. A collection will be taken up for the Hospital for Sick Children, and the galleries will be open to the public. Rev. W. A. Cameron will preach the sermon and Rev. Dr. Aiken of the Metropolitan Church will assist in the services. Ernest McMillan will preside at the organ. CAPT. DION DIED ON DUTY. STRAWBERRIES TO BE DEAR

Guelph, May 21.—Prof. J. E. Hays of the Ontario Agricultural College who took a trip thru the Niagara district yesterday, said today that the alarmist stories about the failure of the peach crop were not exaggerated. The peach crop, he said, looks like being a good one. Plums look fairly promising. It is too soon to say much about grapes, while strawberries may be a good crop, but will bring high prices. Cannons are offering two dollars a crate. United Cigar Stores, Limited, several per cent. preferred stock is to be publicly offered. The company is capitalized at $600,000 in common and $250,000 in preferred shares, having a par value of five dollars.
